The Diſciples had aſk'd concerning the Times when theſe Things ſhould be? And Chriſt gives them no Anſwer to that, after what Number of Days and Years his Prediction ſhould be accompliſh'd; for it is not for us to know the Times, Acts 1. 7. But they had aſk'd, What ſhall be the Sign? And that Queſtion he anſwers fully; for we are concern'd to underſtand the Signs of the Times, Mat. 16. 3. Now the Prophecy primarily reſpects the Events near at Hand, the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, the Period of the Jewiſh Church and State, the Calling of the Gentiles, and the Setting up of Chriſt's Kingdom in the World. But as the Prophecies of the Old Teſtament, which have an immediate Reference to the Affairs of the Jews, and the Revolutions of their State, yet, under the Figure of them, do certainly look further to the Goſpel-Church, and the Kingdom of the Meſſiah, and are ſo expounded in the New Teſtament; and ſuch Expreſſions are found in thoſe Predictions as are peculiar thereto, and not applicable otherwiſe; ſo this Prophecy, under the Type of Jeruſalem's Deſtruction, looks as far forward as the General Judgment: And, as is uſual in Prophecies, ſome Paſſages are moſt applicable to the Type, and others to the Antitype; and towards the Cloſe, as uſual, it points more particularly to the latter. And it is obſervable, that what Chriſt here ſaith to his Diſciples, tends more to engage their Caution, than to ſatisfy their Curioſity; more to prepare them for the Events that ſhould happen, than to give them a diſtinct Idea of the Events themſelves. This is that good Underſtanding of the Times we ſhould all covet, from thence to infer what Iſrael ought to do. And ſo this Prophecy is of ſtanding, laſting Uſe to the Church, and will be ſo to the End of Time; for the Thing that has been, is that which ſhall be, Eccl. 1. 5, 6, 7, 9. And the Series, Connexion, and Preſages of Events, are much the ſame ſtill that they were then; ſo that upon the Prophecy of this Chapter pointing at that Event, Moral Prognoſtications may be made; and ſuch Conſtructions of the Signs of the Times, as the wiſe Man's Heart will know how to improve.

Firſt, Chriſt here foretels the going forth of Deceivers. He begins with a Caution, Take heed that no Man deceive you. They expected to be told when theſe Things ſhould be, to be let into that Secret; but this Caution is a Check to their Curioſity, What is that to you? Mind you your Duty; follow me, and be not ſeduced from following me. Thoſe that are moſt inquiſitive concerning the ſecret Things which belong not to them, are eaſieſt impos'd upon by Seducers, 2 Theſ. 2. 3. The Diſciples, when they heard that the Jews, their moſt inveterate Enemies, ſhould be deſtroy'd might, be in Danger of falling into Security; Nay, ſaith Chriſt, you are more expos'd other ways. Seducers are more dangerous Enemies to the Church than Perſecutors.

Three times in this Diſcourſe he mentions the falſe Prophets appearing; which was (1.) A Preſage of Jeruſalem's Ruin. Juſtly were they that killed the true Prophets left to be enſnar'd by falſe Prophets, and that crucified the true Meſſiah, left to be deceiv'd and broken by falſe Chriſts, and pretended Meſſiahs. The appearing of theſe, was the Occaſion of dividing that People into Parties and Factions, which made their Ruin the more eaſy and ſpeedy: And the Sin of the many that were led aſide by them, help'd to fill the Meaſure. (2.) It was a Trial to the Diſciples of Chriſt, and therefore agreeable to their State of Probation, that they which are perfect may be made manifeſt.

Now concerning theſe Deceivers, obſerve here,

1. The Pretences they ſhould come under: Satan acts moſt miſchievouſly, when he appears as an Angel of Light. The Colour of the greateſt Good, is oft the Cover of the greateſt Evil.

(1.) There ſhould appear falſe Prophets, v. 11, 24. The Deceivers would pretend to Divine Inſpiration, an immediate Miſſion, and a Spirit of Prophecy, when it was all a Lye. Such there had been formerly, Jer. 23. 16. Ezek. 13. 6. as was foretold, Deut. 13. 3. Some think the Seducers here pointed to, were ſuch as had been ſettled Teachers in the Church, and had gain'd a Reputation as ſuch, but afterwards betray'd the Truth they had taught, and revolted to Error; and from ſuch the Danger is the greater, becauſe leaſt ſuſpected. One falſe Traytor in the Gariſon, may do more Miſchief than a Thouſand avow'd Enemies without.

(2.) There ſhould appear falſe Chriſts, coming in Chriſt's Name, v. 5. aſſuming to themſelves the Name peculiar to him, and ſaying, I am Chriſt, Pſeudo-Chriſts, v. 24. There was at that Time a general Expectation of the Appearing of the Meſſiah; they ſpoke of him, as he that ſhould come; but when he did come, the Body of the Nation rejected him, which thoſe who were ambitious of making themſelves a Name, took advantage of, and ſet up for Chriſts. Joſephus ſpeaks of ſeveral ſuch Impoſtors between this and the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem; one Theudas, that was defeated by Cuſpius Fadus, another by Felix, another by Feſtus. Doſetheus ſaid he was the Chriſt foretold by Moſes; Origen adv. Celſ. See Acts 5. 36, 37. 21. 28. Simon Magus pretended to be the great Power of God, Acts 8. 10. In After-Ages there have been ſuch Pretenders; one about 100 Years after Chriſt, that call'd himſelf Bar-Cochobas, the Son of a Star, but prov'd Bar-Coſba, the Son of a Lye. And about 50 Years ago, Sabbati-Levi ſet up for a Meſſiah in the Turkiſh Empire, and was hugely careſs'd by the Jews, but in a ſhort Time his Folly was made manifeſt. See Sir Paul Rycaut's Hiſtory, ſtory. The Popiſh Religion doth in Effect ſet up a falſe Chriſt: The Pope comes in Chriſt's Name, as his Vicar, but invades and uſurps all his Offices, and ſo is a Rival with him, and, as ſuch, an Enemy to him, a Deceiver and an Antichriſt.

(3.) Theſe falſe Chriſts and falſe Prophets would have their Agents and Emiſſaries buſy in all Places to draw People in to them, v. 23. Then when publick Troubles are great and threatning, and People will be catching at any Thing that looks like Deliverance, then Satan will take the Advantage of impoſing on them; then they will ſay, Lo, here is a Chriſt, or there is one; but do not mind them. The true Chriſt did not ſtrive or cry, nor was it ſaid of him, Lo here, or Lo there, Luke 17. 21. Therefore if any Man ſay ſo concerning him, look upon it as a Temptation. The Hermits, that place Religion in a Monaſtical Life, ſay, He is in a Deſart; the Prieſts, who make the Conſecrated Wafare to be Chriſt, ſay, he is, ἐν τοῖς ταμείοις, in the Cupboards, in the ſecret Chambers; Lo, he is in this Shrine, in that image. Thus ſome appropriate Chriſt's Spiritual Preſence to one Party or Perſuaſion, as if they had the Monopoly of Chriſt and Chriſtianity; and the Kingdom of Chriſt muſt ſtand and fall, muſt live and dye with them. Lo, he is in this Church, in that Council: Whereas Chriſt is all in all; not here or there, but meets his People with a Bleſſing in every Place where he records his Name.

2. The Proofs they ſhould offer, for the making good of theſe Pretences; They ſhall ſhew great Signs and Wonders, v. 24. Not true Miracles; thoſe are a Divine Seal, and with thoſe the Doctrine of Chriſt ſtands confirm'd; and therefore if any offer to draw us from that by Signs and Wonders, we muſt have recourſe to that Rule given of old, Deut. 13. 1, 2, 3. If the Sign or Wonder come to paſs, yet follow not him that would draw you to ſerve other Gods, or believe in other Chriſts; for the Lord your God proveth you. But theſe were lying Wonders, wrought by Satan, (God permitting him) who is the Prince of the Power of the Air, 2 Theſſ. 2. 9. It is not ſaid they ſhall work Miracles, but they ſhall ſhew great Signs: They are but a Shew; either they impoſe upon Men's Credulity, by falſe Narratives, or deceive their Senſes by Tricks of Legerdemain, or Arts of Divination, as the Magicians of Egypt by their Enchantments.

3. The Succeſs they ſhould have in theſe Attempts:

(1.) They ſhall deceive many, v. 5. and again, v. 11. Note, The Devil and his Inſtruments may prevail far in deceiving poor Souls. Few find the ſtrait Gate, but many are drawn into the broad Way: Many will be impos'd upon by their Signs and Wonders, and many drawn in by the Hopes of Deliverance from their Oppreſſions. Note, Neither Miracles nor Multitudes are certain Signs of a true Church; for all the World wonders after Beaſt, Rev. 13. 3.

(2.) They ſhall deceive, if it were poſſible, the very Elect, v. 24. This ſpeaks, (1.) The Strength of the Deluſion; 'tis ſuch as many ſhall be carry'd away by; (ſo ſtrong ſhall the Stream be) even thoſe that were thought to ſtand faſt. Men's Knowledge, Gifts, Learning, eminent Station, and long Profeſſion, will not ſecure them, but notwithſtanding theſe, many will be deceived: Nothing but the Almighty Grace of God, purſuant to his Eternal Purpoſe, will be a Protection. (2.) The Safety of the Elect, in the midſt of this Danger, which is taken for granted in that Parentheſis, if it were poſſible; plainly implying, that it is not poſſible, for they are kept by the Power of God, that the Purpoſe of God, according to the Election, may ſtand. 'Tis poſſible for thoſe that have been enlighten'd to fall away, Heb. 6. 4, 5, 6. but not for thoſe that were Elect. If God's Choſen ones ſhould be deceiv'd, God's Choice would be defeated; which is not to be imagin'd; for whom he did predeſtinate, he call'd, juſtified, and glorified, Rom. 8. 30. They were given to Chriſt, and of all that were given to him, he will loſe none, Joh. 10. 28. Grotius will have this to be meant of the great Difficulty of drawing the Primitive Chriſtians from their Religion, and quotes it as us'd proverbially by Galen, when he would expreſs a Thing very difficult, and morally impoſſible; he ſaith, You may ſooner draw away a Chriſtian from Chriſt.

4. The repeated Cautions which our Saviour gives to his Diſciples, to ſtand upon their Guard againſt them: Therefore he gave them Warning, that they might watch, v. 25. Behold, I have told you before. He that is told before where he will be aſſaulted, may ſave himſelf, as the King of Iſrael did, 2 Kings 6. 9, 10. Note, Chriſt's Warnings are deſign'd to engage our Watchfulneſs: And tho' the Elect ſhall be preſerved from Deluſion, yet they ſhall be preſerv'd by the Uſe of appointed Means, and a due Regard to the Cautions of the Word: We are kept thro' Faith; Faith in Chriſt's Word, which he has told us before.

(1.) We muſt not believe thoſe that ſay; Lo, here is Chriſt, or, Lo, he is there, v. 23. We believe that the true Chriſt is at the right Hand of God, and that his Spiritual Preſence is where Two or Three are gather'd together in his Name. Believe not thoſe therefore who would draw you off from a Chriſt in Heaven, by telling you he is any where on Earth, or draw you off from the Catholick Church on Earth, by telling you he is here, or he is there; believe it not. Note, There is not a greater Enemy to true Faith, than vain Credulity: The Simple believeth every Word, and runs after every Cry; Μέμνησο ἀπιστεῖν.

(2.) We muſt not go forth after thoſe that ſay, He is in the Deſart, or he is in the ſecret Chambers, v. 26. We muſt not hearken to every Empirick and Pretender, nor follow every one that puts up the Finger to point us to a new Chriſt, and a new Goſpel: Go not forth, for if you do, you are in danger of being taken by them; therefore keep out of Harm's way. Be not carry'd about with every Wind: Many a Man's vain Curioſity to go forth, hath led him into a fatal Apoſtacy: Your Strength at ſuch a Time is to ſit ſtill, to have the Heart eſtabliſhed with Grace.

Secondly, He foretels Wars and great Commotions among the Nations, v. 6, 7. When Chriſt was born, there was an Univerſal Peace in the Empire, the Temple of Janus was ſhut; but think not that Chriſt came to ſend or continue ſuch a Peace, Luk. 12. 5. No; his City and his Wall are to be built even in troubleſome Times, and even Wars ſhall forward his Work. From the Time that the Jews rejected Chriſt, and he left their Houſe deſolate, the Sword did never depart from their Houſe: The Sword of the Lord was never quiet, becauſe he had given it a Charge againſt an hypocritical Nation, and the People of his Wrath, and by it brought Ruin upon them.

Here's, 1. A Prediction of the Event of the Day: You will now ſhortly hear of Wars and Rumours of Wars. When Wars are, they will be heard, for every Battel of the Warrior is with confuſed Noiſe, Iſa. 9. 5. See how terrible it is, Jer. 4. 19. Thou haſt heard, O my Soul, the Alarm of Wars. Even the Quiet in the Land, and the leaſt inquiſitive after new Things, cannot but hear the Rumours of War. See what comes of refuſing the Goſpel: Thoſe that will not hear the Meſſengers of Peace, ſhall be made to hear the Meſſengers of War. God has a Sword ready to revenge the Quarrel of his Covenant, his new Covenant. Nation ſhall riſe up againſt Nation; i. e. one Part or Province of the Jewiſh Nation againſt another, one City againſt another, 2 Chron. 15. 5, 6. And in the ſame Province and City, one Party or Faction ſhall riſe up againſt another, ſo that they ſhall be devour'd by, and daſh'd in Pieces againſt one another, Iſa. 9. 19, 21.

2. A Preſcription of the Duty of the Day: See that ye be not troubled. Is that poſſible? To hear ſuch ſad News, and not be troubled? Yet where the Heart is fixed, truſting in God, 'tis kept in Peace, and is not afraid; no, not of the evil Tidings of Wars, and Rumours of War; no, not the noiſe of Arm, Arm. Be not troubled; Μὴ θροεῖσθε, be not put into Confuſion or Commotion, not put into Throws, as a Woman with Child by a Fright. See that ye be not, ὁρᾶτε. Note, There is need of conſtant Care and Watchfulneſs, to keep Trouble from the Heart, when there are Wars abroad; and it is againſt the Mind of Chriſt, that his People ſhould have troubled Hearts even in troublous Times.

We muſt not be troubled, for two Reaſons:

1. Becauſe we are bid to expect this. The Jews muſt be puniſh'd, Ruin muſt be brought upon them; by this the Juſtice of God, and the Honour of the Redeemer muſt be aſſerted, and therefore all theſe things muſt come to paſs: The Word is gone out of God's Mouth, and it ſhall be accompliſh'd in its Seaſon. Note, The Conſideration of the Unchangeableneſs of the Divine Counſels, which govern all Events, would compoſe and quiet our Spirits, whatever happens. God is but performing the Thing that is appointed for us; and our inordinate Trouble is an interpretative Quarrel with that Appointment. Let us therefore acquieſce, becauſe theſe Things muſt come to paſs, not only neceſſitate Decreti, as the Product of the Divine Counſel, but neceſſitate Medij, as a Means in order to a further End. The old Houſe muſt be taken down, (tho' it cannot be done without Noiſe, and Duſt and Danger) e'er the new Fabrick can be erected: The Things that are ſhaken (and ill ſhaken they were) muſt be removed, that the Things which cannot be ſhaken may remain, Heb. 12. 27.

2. Becauſe we are ſtill to expect worſe; The End is not yet. The End of Time is not, and while Time laſts we muſt expect Trouble, and that the End of one Affliction will be but the Beginning of another: Or, the End of theſe Troubles is not yet: there muſt be more Judgments than one made uſe of, to bring down the Jewiſh Power. More Viols of Wrath muſt yet be poured out, there is but one Woe paſt, more Woes are yet to come, more Arrows are yet to be ſpent upon them out of God's Quiver: Therefore be not troubled; do not give way to Fear and Trouble, ſink not under the preſent Burthen, but rather gather in all the Strength and Spirit you have, to encounter what is yet before you. Be not troubled to hear of Wars and Rumours of Wars; for then what will become of you when the Famines and Peſtilences come? If it be to us a Vexation but to underſtand the Report, Iſa. 28. 19. what will it be to feel the Stroke, when it toucheth the Bone and the Fleſh? If running with the Footmen weary us, how ſhall we contend with Horſes? And if we be frighted at a little Brook in our way, what ſhall we do in the Swellings of Jordan? Jer. 12. 5.

Thirdly, He foretels other Judgments more immediately ſent of God; Famines, Peſtilences and Earthquakes. Famine is often the Effect of War, and Peſtilence of Famine. Theſe were the three Judgments which David was to chooſe one out of; and he was in a Strait, for he knew not which was the worſt. But what dreadful Deſolations will they make, when they all pour in together upon a People? Beſides War, and that's enough, there ſhall be,

1. Famine, ſignified by the black Horſe under the Third Seal, Rev. 6. 5, 6. We read of a Famine in Judæa, not long after Chriſt's Time, which was very impoveriſhing, Acts 11. 28, 29. But the foreſt Famine was in Jeruſalem, during the Siege. See Lam. 4. 9, 10.

2. Peſtilence, ſignified by the pale Horſe, and Death upon him, and the Grave at his Heels, under the Fourth Seal, Rev. 6. 7, 8. This deſtroys without Diſtinction, and in a little time lays Heaps upon Heaps.

3. Earthquakes in divers Places, or from Place to Place, purſuing thoſe that flee from them, as they did from the Earthquake in the Days of Uzziah, Zech. 14. 5. Great Deſolations have ſometimes been made by Earthquakes, of late and formerly; they have been the Death of many, and the Terror of more. In the Apocalyptick Viſions, it is obſervable, that Earthquakes bode Good, and no Evil to the Church, Rev. 6. 12. Compare v. 15.—11, 12, 13, 19.—16. 17, 18, 19. When God ſhakes terribly the Earth, Iſa. 2. 21. 'tis to ſhake the wicked out of it, Job 38. 13. and to introduce the Deſire of all Nations, Hag. 2. 6, 7. But here they are ſpoken of as dreadful Judgments, and yet but the beginning of Sorrows, ὠδίνων, of travailing Pains, which grow even the longer, the more quiet and violent. Note, When God judgeth, he will overcome; when he begins in Wrath, he will make a full End, 1 Sam. 3. 12. When we look forward to the Eternity of Miſery, that is before the obſtinate Refuſers of Chriſt and his Goſpel, we may truly ſay concerning the greateſt Temporal Judgments, they are but the Beginning of Sorrows. As bad as Things are with them, there's worſe behind.

Fourthly, He fortels the Perſecution of his own People and Miniſters, and a general Apoſtacy, and Decay in Religion thereupon, v. 9, 10, 12, 13. Obſerve,

1. The Croſs it ſelf foretold, v. 9. Note, Of all future Events, we are as much concern'd, tho' commonly as little deſirous to know of our own Sufferings, as of any Thing elſe. Then when Famines and Peſtilences prevail, then they ſhall impute them to the Chriſtians, and make that a Pretence for perſecuting them; Chriſtianos ad Leones. Chriſt had told his Diſciples, when he firſt ſent them out, what hard things they ſhould ſuffer; but they had hitherto experienc'd little of it, and therefore he minds them of it again, that the leſs they had ſuffer'd, the more was behind to be fill'd up, Col. 1. 24.

(1.) They ſhall be afflicted with Bonds and Impriſonments, cruel Mockings and Scourgings, as bleſſed Paul, 2 Cor. 11. 23, 24, 25. Not kill'd outright, but kill'd all the Day long, in Deaths oft; kill'd ſo as to feel themſelves dye, made a Spectacle to the World, 1 Cor. 4. 9, 11.

(2.) They ſhall be kill'd: So cruel are the Church's Enemies, that nothing leſs will ſatisfy them than the Blood of the Saints, which they thirſt after, ſuck, and ſhed like Water.

(3.) They ſhall be hated of all Nations for Chriſt's Name's Sake, as he had told them before, Chap. 10. 22. The World was generally leaven'd with an Enmity and Malignity to Chriſtians. The Jews, tho' ſpiteful to the Heathen, yet were never perſecuted by them, ſo as the Chriſtians were: They were hated by the Jews, that were diſperſed among the Nations, were the common Butt of the World's Malice. What ſhall we think of this World, when the beſt Men had the worſt Uſage in it? 'Tis the Cauſe that makes the Martyr, and comforts him; 'twas for Chriſt's Sake that they were thus hated. Their Profeſſing and Preaching his Name, incens'd the Nations ſo much againſt them; the Devil finding a fatal Shock thereby given to his Kingdom, and that his Time was likely to be ſhort, came down, having great Wrath.

2. The Offence of the Croſs, v. 10, 12. Satan thus carries on his Intereſt by Force of Arms, tho' Chriſt at the length will bring Glory to himſelf out of the Sufferings of his People and Miniſters. Three ill Effects of Perſecution are here foretold:

(1.) The Apoſtacy of ſome: When the Profeſſion of Chriſtianity begins to coſt Men dear, then ſhall many be offended; ſhall firſt fall out with, and then fall off from their Profeſſion: They will begin to pick Quarrels with their Religion, ſit looſe to it, grow weary of it, and at length revolt from it. Note, (1.) 'Tis no new Thing, (tho' 'tis a ſtrange Thing) for thoſe that have known the Way of Righteouſneſs, to turn aſide out of it. Paul often complains of Deſerters, who began well, but ſomething hinder'd them; they were with us, but go out from us, becauſe never truly of us, Joh. 2. 19. We are told of it before. (2.) Suffering Times are ſhaking Times, and thoſe fall in the Storm, that ſtood in fair Weather; like the ſtony Ground, Mat. 13. 21. Many will follow Chriſt in the Sun-ſhine, that will ſhift for themſelves, and leave him to do ſo too in the cloudy, dark Day. They like their Religion, while they can have it cheap, and ſleep with it in a whole Skin; but if their Profeſſion coſt them any Thing, quit it preſently.

(2.) The Malignity of others: When Perſecution is in Faſhion, Envy, Enmity and Malice are ſtrangely diffus'd into the Minds of Men by Contagion; and Charity, Tenderneſs and Moderation, are look'd upon as Singularities, which make a Man like a ſpeckled Bird: Then they ſhall betray one another; i.e. Thoſe that have treacherouſly deſerted their Religion, ſhall hate and betray thoſe who adhere to it, for whom they have pretended Friendſhip. Apoſtates have commonly been the moſt bitter and violent Perſecutors. Note, Perſecuting Times are diſcovering Times: Wolves in Sheep's Cloathing will then throw off their Diſguiſe, and appear Wolves: They ſhall betray one another, and hate one another. The Times muſt needs be perilous, when Treachery and Hatred, Two of the worſt Things that can be, (becauſe directly contrary to Two of the beſt, Truth and Love) ſhall have the Aſcendant. This ſeems to refer to the barbarous Treatment, which the ſeveral contending Factions among the Jews gave to one another; and juſtly were they, who eat up God's People as they eat Bread, left thus to bite and devour one another, till they were conſumed one of another: Or it may refer to the Miſchiefs done to Chriſt's Diſciples, by thoſe that were neareſt to them, as Mat. 10. 21. the Brother ſhall deliever up the Brother to Death.

(3.) The general declining and cooling of moſt, v. 12. In ſeducing Times, when falſe Prophets ariſe, in perſecuting Times, when the Saints are hated, expect theſe Two Things:

1. The Abounding of Iniquity. Tho' the World always lies in Wickedneſs, yet there are ſome Times, in which it may be ſaid, that Iniquity doth in a ſpecial manner abound: As, when it is more extenſive than ordinary, as in the old World, when all Fleſh had corrupted their Way; and when it is more exceſſive than ordinary, when Violence is riſen up to a Rod of Wickedneſs, Ezek. 7. 11. ſo that Hell ſeems to be broke looſe in Blaſphemies againſt God, and Enmities to the Saints.

2. The Abating of Love: This is the Conſequence of the former; Becauſe Iniquity ſhall abound, the Love of many ſhall wax cold. Underſtand it in general, of true, ſerious Godlineſs, which is all ſumm'd up in Love. 'Tis too common for Profeſſors of Religion to grow cool in their Profeſſion, when the Wicked are hot in their Wickedneſs; as the Church of Epheſus, in bad Times, left her firſt Love, Rev. 2. 2, 4. Or more particularly, of brotherly Love: When Iniquity abounds, ſeducing Iniquity, perſecuting Iniquity, this Grace commonly waxes cold; Chriſtians begin to be ſhy and ſuſpicious one of another; Affections are alienated, Diſtances created, Parties made, and ſo Love comes to nothing. The Devil is the Accuſer of the Brethren, not only to their Enemies, which makes perſecuting Iniquity abound, but one to another; which makes the Love of many to wax cold.

This gives a melancholy Proſpect of the Times, that there ſhall be ſuch a great Decay of Love. But, (1.) It is of the Love of many, not of all. In the worſt of Times, God has his Remnant that hold faſt their Integrity, and retain their Zeal; as in Elijah's Days, when he thought himſelf left alone. (2.) This Love is grown cold, but not dead; it abates, but is not quite caſt off. There is Life in the Root, which will ſhew it ſelf when the Winter is paſt. The new Nature may wax cold, but ſhall not wax old, for then 'twould decay and vaniſh away.

3. Comfort adminiſter'd in reference to this Offence of the Croſs, for the Support of the Lord's People under it, v. 13. He that endures to the End, ſhall be ſaved. (1.) It is comfortable to thoſe who wiſh well to the Cauſe of Chriſt in general, that tho' many are offended, yet ſome ſhall endure to the End. When we ſee ſo many drawing back, we are ready to fear, that the Integrity of Chriſt will ſink for want of Supporters, and his Name be left and forgotten for want of ſome to make Profeſſion of it; but even at this Time there is a Remnant, according to the Election of Grace, Rom. 11. 5. 'Tis ſpoken of the ſame Time that this Prophecy has Reference to; a Remnant, who are not of them that draw back unto Perdition, but believe and perſevere to the Saving of the Soul: They endure to the End, to the End of their Lives, to the End of their preſent State of Probation, or to the End of theſe ſuffering, trying Times, to the laſt Encounter, tho' they ſhould be called to reſiſt unto Blood. (2.) It is comfortable to thoſe who do thus endure to the End, and ſuffer for their Conſtancy, that they ſhall be ſaved. Perſeverance wins the Crown thro' free Grace, and ſhall wear it. They ſhall be ſaved: Perhaps they may be deliver'd out of their Troubles, and comfortably ſurvive them in this World; but it is the Eternal Salvation that is here intended. They that endure to the End of their Days, ſhall then receive the End of their Faith and Hope, even the Salvation of their Souls, 1 Pet. 1. 9. Rom. 2. 7. Rev. 2. 20. The Crown of Glory will make amends for all; and a believing Regard to that, will enable us to chuſe rather to dye at a Stake with the Perſecuted, that to live in a Palace with the Perſecutors.

Fifthly, He foretels the Preaching of the Goſpel in all the World, v. 14. This Goſpel ſhall be preach'd, and then ſhall the End come. Obſerve here, (1.) 'Tis call'd the Goſpel of the Kingdom, becauſe it reveals the Kingdom of Grace, which leads to the Kingdom of Glory; ſets up Chriſt's Kingdom in this World, and ſecures ours in t'other World. (2.) This Goſpel, ſooner or later, is to be preach'd in all the World, to every Creature, and all Nations diſcipled by it; for in it, Chriſt is to be Salvation to the Ends of the Earth; for this End, the Gift of Tongues was the Firſt-Fruits of the Spirit. (3.) The Goſpel is preach'd for a Witneſs to all Nations; i. e. a faithful Declaration of the Mind and Will of God, concerning the Duty which God requires from Man, and the Recompence which Man may expect from God. It is a Record, Joh. 5. 11. 'Tis a Witneſs for thoſe who believe, that they ſhall be ſaved; and againſt thoſe who perſiſt in Unbelief, that they ſhall be damned. See Mark 16. 16. But how doth this come in here?

1. It is intimated, that the Goſpel ſhould be, if not heard, yet at leaſt heard of throughout the then known World, before the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem; that the Old-Teſtament Church ſhould not be quite diſſolv'd, till the New Teſtament was pretty well ſettled, and got conſiderable Footing, and began to make ſome Figure. Better's the Face of a corrupt, degenerate Church, than none at all. Within Forty Years after Chriſt's Death, the Sound of the Goſpel was gone forth to the Ends of the Earth, Rom. 10. 18. St. Paul fully preach'd the Goſpel from Jeruſalem, and round about unto Illyricum; and the other Apoſtles were not idle. The Perſecuting of the Saints at Jeruſalem, help'd to diſperſe them, ſo that they went every where preaching the Word, Acts 1. 4. And when the Tidings of the Redeemer was ſent over all Parts of the World, then ſhall come the End of the Jewiſh State. Thus that which they thought to prevent, by putting Chriſt to Death, they thereby procur'd; all Men believed on him, and the Romans came and took away their Place and Nation, Joh. 11. 48. Paul ſpeaks of the Goſpel being come to all the World, and preach'd to every Creature, Col. 1. 6, 23.

2. It is likewiſe intimated, that even in Times of Temptation, Trouble and Perſecution, the Goſpel of the Kingdom ſhall be preach'd and propagated, and ſhall force its Way thro' the greateſt Oppoſition: Tho' the Enemies of the Church grow very hot, and many of her Friends very cool, yet the Goſpel ſhall be preached. And even then when many fall by the Sword, and by Flame, and many do wickedly, and are corrupted by Flatteries, yet then the People that do know their God, ſhall be ſtrengthen'd to do the greateſt Exploits of all, in inſtructing many. See Dan. 11. 32, 33. And ſee an Inſtance, Phil. 1. 12,—14.

3. That which ſeems chiefly intended here, is, That the end of the World ſhall be then, and not till then, when the Goſpel has done its Work in the World. The Goſpel ſhall be preached, and that Work carried on when you are dead: So that all Nations, firſt or laſt, ſhall have either the enjoyment or the refuſal of the Goſpel; and then cometh the End, when the Kingdom ſhall be delivered up to God, even the Father: When the Myſtery of God ſhall be finiſhed, the myſtical Body compleated, and the Nations either converted and ſav'd, or convicted and ſilenc'd by the Goſpel, and then ſhall the End come, which he had ſaid before, v. 6, 7. not yet, not till thoſe intermediate Counſels be fulfilled. The World ſhall ſtand as long as any of God's choſen Ones remain uncall'd, but when they are all gather'd in, it will be ſet on Fire preſently.

Sixthly, He foretels more particularly the Ruin that was coming upon the People of the Jews, their City, Temple and Nation, v. 15, &c. Here he comes more cloſely to anſwer their Queſtion concerning the Deſolation of the Temple, and what he ſaid here would be of uſe to his Diſciples, both for their Conduct, and for their Comfort, in reference to that great Event; and here he deſcribes the ſeveral Steps of their Calamity, ſuch as is uſual in War.

1. The Romans ſetting up the Abomination of Deſolation in the Holy Place, v. 15. Now (1.) ſome underſtand by this an Image or Statue, ſet up in the Temple by ſome of the Roman Governors, which was very offenſive to the Jews, provoked them to rebel, and ſo brought the Deſolation upon them. The Image of Jupiter Olympius, which Antiochus caus'd to be ſet up upon the Altar of God, is call'd Βδέλυγμα ἐρημώσεως, the Abomination of Deſolation, the very Word here us'd by the Hiſtorian, 1 Maccab. 1. 54. Since the Captivity in Babylon, nothing was or could be more diſtaſteful to the Jews than an Image in the Holy Place, as appear'd by the mighty Oppoſition they made when Caligula offer'd to ſet up his Effigies there, which had been of fatal Conſequence if it had not been prevented, and the Matter accommodated by the Conduct of Petronius; but Herod did ſet up an Eagle over the Temple-Gate, and ſome ſay, the Effigies of Titus was ſet up in the Temple. (2.) Others chuſe to expound it by the parallel Place, Luke 21. 20. when ye ſhall ſee Jeruſalem compaſſed with Armies. Jeruſalem was the Holy City, Canaan the Holy Land; the Mount Moriah, which lay about Jeruſalem, for its nearneſs to the Temple, was, they thought, in a particular manner Holy Ground; on the Country lying round about Jeruſalem the Roman Army was encamp'd, that was the Abomination that made deſolate. The Land of an Enemy is ſaid to be the Land which thou abhorreſt, Iſa. 7. 16. ſo an Enemies Army to a weak but wilful People, may be called the Abomination. Now this is ſaid to be ſpoken of by Daniel the Prophet, who ſpoke more plainly of the Meſſiah and his Kingdom, than any of the Old Teſtament Prophets did; he ſpeaks of an Abomination making deſolate, which ſhould be ſet up by Antiochus, Dan. 11. 31.— 12. 11. but this that our Saviour refers to, we have in the Meſſage that the Angel brought him, Dan. 9. 27. of what ſhould come at the end of ſeventy Weeks, long after the former, for the overſpreading of Abominations, or as the Margin reads it, with the abominable Armies (which comes home to this here) he ſhall make it deſolate. Armies of Idolaters may well be called abominable Armies; and ſome think the Tumults, Inſurrections, and abominable Factions and Seditions in the City and Temple, may at leaſt be taken in as part of the Abomination making deſolate. Chriſt refers them to that Prophecy of Daniel, that they might ſee how the Ruin of their City and Temple was ſpoken of in the Old Teſtament, which would both confirm his Prediction, and take off the Odium of it. They might likewiſe from thence gather the Time of it, ſoon after the cutting off of Meſſiah the Prince; the Sin that procur'd it, their rejecting him, and the Certainty of it, 'tis a Deſolation determin'd. As Chriſt by his Precepts confirm'd the Law, ſo by his Predictions he confirm'd the Prophecies of the Old Teſtament, and 'twill be of good uſe to compare both together.

Reference being here had to a Prophecy, which is commonly dark and obſcure, Chriſt inſerts this Memorandum, Whoſo readeth, let him underſtand; whoſo readeth the Prophecy of Daniel, let him underſtand that it is to have its accompliſhment now ſhortly in the Deſolations of Jeruſalem. Note, Thoſe that read the Scriptures ſhould labour to underſtand the Scriptures, elſe their reading is to little Purpoſe, we cannot uſe that which we do not underſtand. See Joh. 5. 39. Acts 8. 30. The Angel that deliver'd this Prophecy to Daniel, ſtirr'd him up to know and underſtand, Dan. 9. 25. And we muſt not deſpair of underſtanding even dark Prophecies; the great New Teſtament Prophecy is call'd a Revelation, not a Secret. Now Things revealed belong to us, and therefore muſt be humbly and diligently ſearch'd into: Or, let him underſtand, not only the Scriptures, which ſpeak of thoſe Things, but by the Scriptures let him underſtand the Times, 1 Chron. 12. 32. Let him obſerve, and take notice, ſo ſome read it; let him be aſſured, that notwithſtanding the vain Hopes with which the deluded People feed themſelves, the abominable Armies will make deſolate.

2. The means of Preſervation which thinking Men ſhould betake themſelves to, v. 16, 20. Then let them which be in Judea flee. Then conclude there's no other way to help your ſelves but by flying for the ſame. We may take this,

1. As a Prediction of the Ruin it ſelf, that it ſhould be irreſiſtable; that it would be impoſſible for the ſtouteſt Hearts to make Head againſt it, or contend with it, but they muſt have recourſe to the laſt Shift of getting out of the Way. It ſpeaks that which Jeremiah ſo much inſiſted upon, but in vain, when Jeruſalem was beſieg'd by the Chaldeans, that it would be to no purpoſe to reſiſt, but it was their Wiſdom to yield and capitulate: ſo Chriſt here, to ſhew how fruitleſs it would be to ſtand it out, bids every one make the beſt of his way.

(2.) We may take it as a Direction to the Followers of Chriſt what to do; not to ſay a Confederacy with thoſe who fought and warr'd againſt the Romans for the Preſervation of their City and Nation, only that they might conſume the Wealth of both upon their Luſts, (for to this very Affair, the Struggles of the Jews againſt the Roman Power, ſome Years before their final Overthrow, the Apoſtle refers, Jam. 4. 1, 2, 3.) But let them acquieſce in the Decree that was gone forth, and with all ſpeed quit the City and Country, as they would quit a falling Houſe, or a ſinking Ship, as Lot quitted Sodom, and Iſrael the Tents of Dathan and Abiram. He ſhews them,

1. Whither they muſt flee, from Judea to the Mountains, not the Mountains round about Jeruſalem, but thoſe in the remote Corners of the Land, which would be ſome Shelter to them, not ſo much by their Strength, as by their Secrecy. Iſrael is ſaid to be ſcattered upon the Mountains, 2 Chron. 18. 16. and ſee Heb. 11. 28. It would be ſafer among the Lions Dens, and the Mountains of the Leopards, than among the ſeditious Jews, or the enraged Romans. Note, In Times of imminent Peril and Danger, 'tis not only lawful, but Duty, to ſeek our own Preſervation by all good and honeſt Means, and if God opens a Door of Eſcape, we ought to make our Eſcape, otherwiſe we do not truſt God, but tempt him. There may be a Time when even thoſe that are in Judea, where God is known, and his Name is great, muſt flee to the Mountains; and while we only go out of the way of Danger, not out of the way of Duty, we may truſt God to provide a Dwelling for his Out-caſts, Iſa. 16. 4, 5. In Times of publick Calamity, when 'tis manifeſt we cannot be ſerviceable at home, and may be ſafe abroad, Providence calls us to make our eſcape: He that flees may fight again.

2. What haſte they muſt make, v. 17, 18. The Life will be in danger, in imminent Danger, the Scourge will ſlay ſuddenly; and therefore he that is on the Houſe-top when Alarm comes, let him not come down into the Houſe to look after his Effects there, but go the next way down to make his Eſcape; and ſo he that ſhall be in the Field will find it his wiſeſt Courſe to take to his Heels immediately, and not return to fetch his Cloaths, or the Wealth of his Houſe; for two Reaſons. (1.) Becauſe the time which would be taken up in packing up his Things, would delay his Flight. Note, When Death is at the Door, Delays are dangerous; 'twas the Charge to Lot, Look not behind thee. Thoſe that are convinc'd of the Miſery of a ſinful State, and the Ruin that attends them in that State, and conſequently of the neceſſity of their fleeing to Chriſt, muſt take heed, leſt after all theſe Convictions they periſh eternally by Delays. (2.) Becauſe the carrying of his Cloaths, and other his Moveables and Valuables with him, would but burthen him, and clog his flight. The Syrians in their Flight caſt away their Garments, 2 Kings 7. 15. At ſuch a time we muſt be thankful, if our Lives be given us for a Prey, tho' we can ſave nothing, Jer. 45. 4, 5. for the Life is more than Meat, Mat. 6. 25. Thoſe who carry'd off leaſt were ſafeſt in their Flight, Cantabit vacuus coram Latrone viator. 'Twas to his own Diſciples that Chriſt recommended this forgetfulneſs of their Houſe and Cloaths, who had an Habitation in Heaven, Treaſure there, and durable Cloathing, which the Enemy could not plunder them of; Omnia mea mecum porto, ſaid Bias the Philoſopher in his Flight empty-handed. He that has Grace in his Heart carries his All along with him, when ſtript of all.

Now thoſe to whom Chriſt ſaid this immediately, did not live to ſee this diſmal Day, none of all the Twelve, but John only; they needed not be hid in the Mountains, Chriſt hid them in Heaven, but they left the Direction to their Succeſſors in Profeſſion who purſu'd it, and it was of uſe to them; for when the Chriſtians in Jeruſalem and Judea ſaw the Ruin coming on, they all retir'd to a Town call'd Pella, on the other ſide Jordan, where they were ſafe; ſo that of the many Thouſands that periſhed in the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, there was not ſo much as one Chriſtian. See Euſeb. Ecleſ. Hiſt. l. 3. c. 5. Thus the prudent Man foreſees the Evil, and hides himſelf, Prov. 22. 3. Heb. 11. 7. This Warning was not kept private. St. Matthew's Goſpel was publiſh'd long before that Deſtruction, ſo that others might have taken the Advantage of it; but their periſhing thro' their unbelief of this, was a Figure of their eternal periſhing through their unbelief of the Warnings Chriſt gave concerning the Wrath to come.

3. Whom it would go hard with at that time, v. 19. Woe to them that are with Child, and to them that give ſuck. To this ſame Event that Saying of Chriſt at his Death refers, Luke 23. 29. they ſhall ſay, Bleſſed are the Wombs that never bare, and the Paps that never gave ſuck. Happy are they that have no Children to ſee the Murther of, but moſt unhappy they whoſe Wombs are then bearing, their Paps then giving Suck: They of all other will be in the moſt melancholy Circumſtances. (1.) To them the Famine would be moſt grievous, when they ſhould ſee the Tongue of the ſucking Child cleaving to the Root of his Mouth for thirſt, and themſelves by the Calamity made more cruel than the Sea-monſters, Lam. 4. 3, 4. (2.) To them the Sword would be moſt terrible, when 'tis in the Hand of worſe than brutal Rage. 'Tis a direful Midwifery, when the Women with Child come to be ript up by the enraged Conqueror, 2 Kings 15. 16. Hoſ. 13. 16. Amos 1. 13. or the Children brought forth to the Murtherers, Hoſ. 9. 13. (3.) To them alſo the Flight would be moſt afflictive; the Woman with Child cannot make haſte, or go far; the ſucking Child cannot be left behind, or if it ſhould, can a Woman forget it, that ſhe ſhould not have Compaſſion on it? And if it be carry'd along, it retards the Mother's Flight, and ſo expoſeth her Life, and is in danger of Mephiboſheth's Fate, who was lamed by a Fall he got in his Nurſe's Flight, 2 Sam. 4. 4.

4. What they ſhould pray againſt at that time, that your Flight be not in the Winter, or on the Sabbath Day, v. 20. Obſerve in general, it becomes Chriſt's Diſciples in Times of publick Trouble and Calamity to be much in Prayer; that's a Salve for every Sore, never out of Seaſon, but in a ſpecial manner ſeaſonable when we are diſtreſſed on every ſide. There's no Remedy, but you muſt flee, the Decree is gone forth, ſo that God will not be intreated to take away his Wrath, no, not if Noah, Daniel and Job ſtood before him: Let it ſuffice thee, ſpeak no more of that Matter, but labour to make the beſt of that which is, and when you cannot in Faith pray that you may not be forc'd to flee, yet pray that the Circumſtances of it may be graciouſly ordered; that tho' the Cup may not paſs from you, yet the extremity of the Judgment may be prevented. Note, God has the diſpoſing of the Circumſtances of Events, which ſometimes make a great Alteration one way or other; and therefore in thoſe our Eyes muſt be ever towards him. Chriſt's bidding them pray for this Favour, intimates his Purpoſe of granting it to them; and in a general Calamity we muſt not overlook a circumſtantial Kindneſs, but ſee, and own wherein it might have been worſe. Chriſt bids his Diſciples now and ſtill to pray for themſelves and their Friends, that whenever they were forc'd to flee, it might be in the moſt convenient time. Note, When Trouble is in proſpect, at a great diſtance, 'tis good to lay in a Stock of Prayers before-hand: They muſt pray (1.) That their Flight, if it were the Will of God, might not be in the Winter, when the Days are ſhort, the Weather cold, the Ways dirty, and therefore travelling very uncomfortable, eſpecially for whole Families. Paul haſtens Timothy to come to him before Winter, 2 Tim. 4. 21. Note, Tho' the Eaſe of the Body is not to be mainly conſulted, it ought to be duly conſider'd; tho' we muſt take what God ſends, and when he ſends it, yet we may pray againſt bodily Inconveniencies, and are encourag'd to do ſo, in that the Lord is for the Body. (2.) That it might not be on the Sabbath Day; not on the Jewiſh Sabbath, becauſe travelling then would give Offence to them, who were angry with the Diſciples for plucking the Ears of Corn on that Day; not on the Chriſtian Sabbath, becauſe being forc'd to travel on that Day, would be a Grief to themſelves. This intimates Chriſt's Deſign, that a Weekly Sabbath ſhould be obſerv'd in his Church, after the preaching of the Goſpel to all the World. We read not of any of the Ordinances of the Jewiſh Church, which were purely Ceremonial, that Chriſt ever expreſſed any Care about, becauſe they were all to vaniſh; but for the Sabbath he oft ſhew'd a Concern. It intimates likewiſe that the Sabbath is ordinarily to be obſerv'd as a Day of Reſt from Travel, and worldly Labour; but that, according to his own Explication of the fourth Commandment, Works of Neceſſity were lawful on the Sabbath-Day, as this of fleeing from an Enemy, to ſave our Lives; had it not been lawful, he would have ſaid, whatever becomes of you, do not flee on the Sabbath-Day, but abide by it, tho' you dye by it, for we muſt not commit the leaſt Sin to eſcape the greateſt Trouble; but it intimates likewiſe, that it is very uneaſy, and uncomfortable to a good Man, to be taken off by any Work of Neceſſity, from the ſolemn Service and Worſhip of God on the Sabbath-Day. We ſhould pray that we may have quiet undiſturb'd Sabbaths, and may have no other Work but Sabbath Work to do on Sabbath-Days; that we may attend upon the Lord without Diſtraction. 'Twas deſirable, that if they muſt flee, they might have the Benefit and Comfort of one Sabbath more, to help to bear their Charges. To flee in the Winter is uncomfortable to the Body, but to flee on the Sabbath-Day, is ſo to the Soul, and the more ſo when it remembers former Sabbaths, as Pſal. 42. 4.

3. The greatneſs of the Troubles which ſhould immediately enſue, v. 21. Then ſhall be great Tribulation; then when the Meaſure of Iniquity is full; then when the Servants of God are ſeal'd, and ſecur'd, then comes the Troubles; nothing can be done againſt Sodom till Lot is enter'd into Zoar, and then look for Fire and Brimſtone preſently. There ſhall be great Tribulations; Great indeed, when within the City Plague and Famine rag'd, and (worſe than either,) Faction and Diviſion, ſo that every Man's Sword was againſt his Fellow; then, and there it was that the Hands of the pitiful Women fed their own Children: Without the City was the Roman Army ready to ſwallow them up with a particular Rage againſt them, not only as Jews, but as Rebellious Jews. War was the only one of the three ſore Judgments that David excepted againſt; but that was it by which the Jews were ruin'd, and Famine and Peſtilence in Extremity beſides. Joſephus's Hiſtory of the Wars of the Jews has in it more Tragical Paſſages, than perhaps any Hiſtory whatſoever.

1. It was a Deſolation unparallel'd; ſuch as was not ſince the beginning of the World, nor ever ſhall be; many a City and Kingdom has been made deſolate, but never any with a Deſolation like this. Let not daring Sinners think that God has done his worſt, he can heat the Furnace ſeven times, and yet ſeven times hotter, and will, when he ſees greater, and ſtill greater Abominations. The Romans when they deſtroy'd Jeruſalem, were degenerated from the Honour and Virtue of their Anceſtors, which had made even their Victories eaſy to be vanquiſh'd. And the Wilfulneſs and Obſtinacy of the Jews themſelves contributed much to the increaſe of the Tribulation. No wonder the Ruin of Jeruſalem was an unparallel'd Ruin, when the Sin of Jeruſalem was an unparallel'd Sin, even their Crucifying Chriſt. The nearer any People are to God in Profeſſion and Privileges, the greater and heavier will his Judgments be upon them, if they abuſe thoſe Privileges, and be falſe to that Profeſſion, Amos 3. 2.

2. It was a Deſolation, which if it ſhould continue long, would be intolerable, ſo that no Fleſh ſhould be ſaved, v. 22. So triumphantly would Death ride, in ſo many diſmal Shapes, and with ſuch Attendants, that there would be no eſcaping, but firſt or laſt all would be cut off: He that eſcaped one Sword, would fall by another, Iſa. 24. 17, 18. The Computation which Joſephus makes of thoſe that were ſlain in ſeveral Places amount to above two Millions: No fleſh ſhall be ſaved; he doth not ſay, no Soul ſhall be ſav'd, for the Deſtruction of the Fleſh may be for the ſaving of the Spirit in the Day of the Lord Jeſus; but temporal Lives will be ſacrificed ſo profuſely, that one would think, if it laſt a while, 'twould make a full End.

But here's one Word of Comfort in the midſt of all this Terror, that for the Elect's Sake theſe Days ſhall be ſhortned, not ſhorter than what God had determined, for that determined ſhall be poured upon the Deſolate, Dan. 9. 27. but ſhorter than what he might have decreed, if he had dealt with them according to their Sins; ſhorter than what the Enemy deſign'd, who would have cut all off, if God, who made uſe of them to ſerve his own Purpoſe, had not ſet Bounds to their Wrath. Shorter than one that judged by human Probabilities would have imagin'd. Note (1.) In Times of common Calamity, God manifeſts his Favour to the elect Remnant; his Jewels whom he will then make up; his peculiar Treaſure, which he will ſecure when the Lumber is abandoned to the Spoiler. (2.) The ſhortening of Calamities is a Kindneſs God often grants for the Elect's Sake. Inſtead of complaining that our Afflictions laſt ſo long, if we conſider our Defects, we ſhall ſee Reaſon to be thankful that they do not laſt always; when 'tis bad with us, it becomes us to ſay, Bleſſed be God it is no worſe; Bleſſed be God it is not Hell, endleſs and remedileſs Miſery: 'Twas a lamenting Church that ſaid, It is of the Lord's Mercies that we are not conſum'd; and it is for the Sake of the Elect, leſt their Spirit ſhould fail before them, if he ſhould contend for ever, and leſt they ſhould be tempted to put forth, if not their Heart, yet their Hand to Iniquity.

And now comes in the repeated Caution, which was open'd before, to take heed of being enſnar'd by falſe Chriſts, and falſe Prophets, v. 23, &c. who would promiſe them Deliverance, as the lying Prophets in Jeremiah's time, Jer. 14. 13.—23. 16, 17.—27. 19.—28. 2. but would delude them. Times of great Trouble us'd to be Times of great Temptation, and therefore we have need to double our Guard then. If they ſhall ſay, Here is a Chriſt, or there is one, that ſhall deliver us from the Romans, do not heed them, 'tis all but Talk; ſuch a Deliverance is not to be expected, and therefore not ſuch a Deliverer.

Seventhly, He foretels the ſudden ſpreading of the Goſpel in the World, about the time of theſe great Events, v. 27, 28. as the Lightning comes out of the Eaſt, ſo ſhall the coming of the Son of Man be. It comes in here as an Antidote againſt the Poyſon of thoſe Seducers, that ſaid, Lo, here is Chriſt, or, Lo, he is there; compare Luke 17. 23, 24. Hearken not to them, for the coming of the Son of Man will be as the Lightning.

1. It ſeems primarily to be meant of his coming, to ſet up his ſpiritual Kingdom in the World; where the Goſpel came in its Light and Power, there the Son of Man came, and in a way quite contrary to the faſhion of the Seducers and falſe Chriſts, who came creeping in the Deſart, or the ſecret Chambers, 2 Tim. 3. 6. no, Chriſt comes not with ſuch a Spirit of Fear, but of Power, and of Love, and of a ſound Mind. The Goſpel would be remarkable for two things (1.) Its ſwift ſpreading; it ſhall fly as the Lightning, ſo ſhall the Goſpel be preached and propagated. The Goſpel is Light, Joh. 3. 19. and it is not in this as the Lightning, that it is a ſudden Flaſh, and away; for it is Sun-Light, and Day-Light; but it is as Lightning in theſe Reſpects;

1. It is Light from Heaven, as the Lightning: 'Tis God, and not Man, that ſends the Lightnings, and ſummons them that they may go and ſay, Here we are, Job 38. 35. 'tis God that directs it, Job 37. 3. To Man 'tis one of Nature's Miracles, above his Power to effect, and one of Nature's Myſteries, above his Skill to account for, but it is from above: His Lightnings lightned the World, Pſal. 97. 4.

2. 'Tis viſible and conſpicuous as the Lightning. The Seducers carry'd on their Depths of Satan in the Deſart, and the ſecret Chambers, ſhunning the Light. Hereticks were call'd Lucifugæ. But Truth ſeeks no Corners, however it may ſometimes be forc'd into them, as the Woman in the Wilderneſs, tho' cloathed with the Sun, Rev. 12. 1, 6. Chriſt preach'd his Goſpel openly, Joh. 18. 20. and his Apoſtles on the Houſe top, Mat. 10. 27. not in a Corner, Acts 26. 26. See Pſal. 98. 2.

3. 'Twas ſudden and ſurprizing to the World, as the Lightning; the Jews indeed had Predictions of it, but to the Gentiles it was altogether unlook'd for, and came upon them with an unaccountable Energy, or ever they were aware: 'Twas Light out of Darkneſs, Mat. 4. 16. 2 Cor. 4. 6. We read of the diſcomfiting of Armies by Lightning, 2 Sam. 22. 15. Pſal. 144. 6. The Powers of Darkneſs were diſpers'd and vanquiſh'd by the Goſpel-Lightning.

4. It ſpread far and wide, and that quickly, and irreſiſtibly, like the Lightning, which comes (ſuppoſe) out of the Eaſt, (Chriſt is ſaid to aſcend from the Eaſt, Rev. 7. 2. Iſa. 41. 2.) and lightneth to the Weſt. The propagating of Chriſtianity to ſo many diſtant Countries of divers Languages, by ſuch unlikely Inſtruments, deſtitute of all ſecular Advantages, and in the face of ſo much Oppoſition, and this in ſo ſhort a time was one of the greateſt Miracles that was ever wrought for the Confirmation of it; here was Chriſt upon his White Horſe, noting Speed as well as Strength, and going on conquering and to conquer, Rev. 6. 2. Goſpel-Light roſe with the Sun, and went with the ſame, ſo that the Beams of it reach'd to the Ends of the Earth, Rom. 10. 18. compare with Pſal. 19. 3, 4. Tho' it was fought againſt, it would never be coop'd up in a Deſart, or in a ſecret Place, as the Seducers were, but by this, according to Gamaliel's Rule, prov'd it ſelf to be of God, that it could not be overthrown, Acts 5. 38, 39. Chriſt ſpeaks of ſhining into the Weſt, becauſe it ſpread moſt effectually into thoſe Countries, which lay Weſt from Jeruſalem, as Mr. Herbert obſerves in the Church-Militant. How ſoon did the Goſpel-Lightning reach this Iſland of Great-Britain; Tertullian, who wrote in the ſecond Century, takes Notice of it, Britannorum inacceſſa Romanis Loca Chriſto tamen ſubdita. This was the Lord's doing.

(2.) Another Thing remarkable concerning the Goſpel, was its ſtrange Succeſs in thoſe Places, to which it was ſpread; it gather'd in Multitudes, not by external Compulſion, but as it were by ſuch a natural Inſtinct and Inclination, as brings the Birds of Prey to their Prey, for where the Carcaſs is, there will the Eagles be gathered together, v. 28. where Chriſt is preach'd, Souls will be gathered in to him: The lifting up of Chriſt from the Earth, i. e. the preaching of Chriſt crucified, which one would think ſhould drive all Men from him, will draw all Men to him, Joh. 12. 32. according to Jacob's Prophecy, that to him ſhall the gathering of the People be, Gen. 49. 10. See Iſa. 60. 8. The Eagles will be where the Carcaſs is, for it's Food for them, 'tis a Feaſt for them, where the Slain are, there is ſhe, Job 39. 30. And Eagles are ſaid to have a ſtrange Sagacity and Quickneſs of Scent to find out the Prey, and they fly ſwiftly to it, John. 9. 26. So thoſe whoſe Spirits God ſhall ſtir up, will be effectually drawn to Jeſus Chriſt to feed upon him; whither ſhould the Eagle go but to the Prey? Whither ſhould the Soul go but to Jeſus Chriſt, who has the Words of Eternal Life? The Eagles will diſtinguiſh what is proper for them from that which is not; ſo thoſe who have ſpiritual Senſes exerciſed, will know the Voice of the good Shepherd from that of a Thief and a Robber. Saints will be where the true Chriſt is, not the falſe Chriſts. This is applicable to the Deſires that are wrought in every gracious Soul after Chriſt, and Communion with him. Where he is in his Ordinances, there will his Servants chuſe to be. A living Principle of Grace is a kind of natural Inſtinct in all the Saints, drawing them to Chriſt, to live upon him.

2. Some underſtand theſe Verſes of the coming of the Son of Man to deſtroy Jeruſalem, Mal. 3. 1, 2, 5. So much was there of an extraordinary diſplay of Divine Power and Juſtice in that Event, that 'tis call'd the coming of Chriſt.

Now here are two things intimated concerning it.

(1.) That to the moſt it would be as unexpected, as a Flaſh of Lightning, which indeed gives Warning of the Clap of Thunder which follows, but is it ſelf ſurprizing? The Seducers ſay, Lo here is Chriſt to deliver us, or there is one, a Creature of their own Fancies, but e'er they are aware, the Wrath of the Lamb, the true Chriſt, will arreſt them, and they ſhall not eſcape.

(2.) That yet it might be as juſtly expected, as that the Eagles ſhould fly to the Carcaſſes; tho' they put far from them the Evil Day, yet the Deſolation will come as certainly as the Birds of Prey to a dead Carcaſs that lies expos'd in the open Field. (1.) The Jews were ſo corrupt and degenerate, ſo vile and vitious, that they were become a Carcaſs, obnoxious to the righteous Judgment of God; they were alſo ſo factious and ſeditious, and every way provoking to the Romans, that they had made themſelves obnoxious to their Reſentments, and an inviting Prey to them. (2.) The Romans were as an Eagle, and the Enſign of their Armies was an Eagle. The Army of the Chaldeans is ſaid to fly as the Eagle that haſteth to eat, Hab. 1. 8. The Ruine of the New Teſtament Babylon is repreſented by a Call to the Birds of Prey, to come feaſt upon the Slain, Rev. 19. 17, 18. Notorious Malefactors have their Eyes eaten out by the young Eagles, Prov. 30. 17. The Jews were hung up in Chains, Jer. 7. 3.—16. 4. (3.) The Jews can no more preſerve themſelves from the Romans than the Carcaſs can ſecure it ſelf from the Eagles. (4.) The Deſtruction ſhall find out the Jews wherever they are, as the Eagle ſcents the Prey. Note, When a People do by their Sin make themſelves Carcaſſes, putrid and loathſome, no other can be expected but that God ſhould ſend Eagles among them to devour and deſtroy them.

3. It is very applicable to the Day of Judgment, the coming of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt in that Day, and our gathering together unto him, 2 Theſ. 2. 1. Now ſee here,

1. How he ſhall come; as the Lightning. The Time was now at hand, when he ſhould depart out of the World to go to the Father. Therefore thoſe that enquire after Chriſt muſt not go into the Deſart, or the ſecret Place, nor liſten to every one that will put up the Finger to invite them to a ſight of Chriſt, but let them look upwards, for the Heavens muſt contain him, and thence we look for the Saviour, Phil. 3. 20. he ſhall come in the Clouds, as the Lightning doth, and every Eye ſhall ſee him, as they ſay 'tis natural for all living Creatures to turn their Faces towards the Lightning, Rev. 1. 7. Chriſt will appear to all the World, from one end of Heaven to the other; nor ſhall any Thing be hid from the Light and Heat of that Day.

2. How the Saints ſhall be gathered to him, as the Eagles are to the Carcaſs, by natural Inſtinct, and with the greateſt Swiftneſs and Alacrity imaginable: Saints when they ſhall be fetch'd to Glory will be carry'd as on Eagles Wings, Exod. 19. 4. as on Angels Wings. They ſhall mount up with Wings like Eagles, and like them renew their youth.

Eighthly, He foretels his ſecond coming at the End of Time, v. 29, 30, 31. The Sun ſhall be darkned, &c.

1. Some think this is to be underſtood only of the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, and the Jewiſh Nation; the darkening of the Sun, Moon and Stars notes the Eclipſe of the Glory of that State, its Convulſions, and the general Confuſion that attended that Deſolation. Great Slaughter and Devaſtation is in the Old Teſtament thus ſet forth, as Iſa. 13. 10.—34. 4. Ezek. 32. 7. Joel. 2. 31. or, by the Sun, Moon, and Stars, may be meant the Temple, Jeruſalem, and the Cities of Judah, which ſhould all come to Ruin: And the Sign of the Son of Man, v. 30. means a ſignal Appearance of the Power and Juſtice of the Lord Jeſus in it, avenging his own Blood on them that imprecated the Guilt of it upon them and their Children; and the gathering of the Elect, v. 31. ſignifies the delivering of a Remnant from this Sin and Ruin.

2. It ſeems rather to refer to Chriſt's ſecond coming. The Deſtruction of the particular Enemies of the Church was typical of the compleat Conqueſt of them all, and therefore what will be done really at the Great Day may be apply'd metaphorically to thoſe Deſtructions; but ſtill we muſt attend to the principal Scope of them; and while we are all agreed to expect Chriſt's ſecond coming, what need we put ſuch ſtrained Conſtructions, as ſome do, upon theſe Verſes, which ſpake of it ſo clearly, and ſo agreeably to other Scriptures, eſpecially when Chriſt is here anſwering an Enquiry concerning his coming at the end of the World, which Chriſt was never ſhy of ſpeaking of to his Diſciples?

The only Objection againſt this, is, that 'tis ſaid to be immediately after the Tribulation of thoſe Days. But as to that, (1.) It is uſual in the prophetical Style to ſpeak of Things great and certain, as near and juſt at hand, only to expreſs the Greatneſs and Certainty of them. Enoch ſpoke of Chriſt's ſecond coming as within Ken, Behold the Lord cometh, Jude 14. (2.) A thouſand years are in God's ſight but as one Day, 2 Pet. 3. 8. 'Tis there urg'd, with reference to this very Thing, and ſo it might be ſaid to be immediately after. The Tribulation of thoſe Days includes not only the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, but all the other Tribulations which the Church muſt paſt through, not only its ſhare in the Calamities of the Nations, but the Tribulations peculiar to it ſelf. While the Nations are torn with Wars, and the Church with Schiſms, Deluſions and Perſecutions, we cannot ſay that the Tribulation of thoſe Days is over; the whole State of the Church on Earth is Militant, we muſt count upon that; but when the Church's Tribulation is over, her Warfare accompliſhed, and what is behind of the Sufferings of Chriſt fill'd up, then look for the End.

Now concerning Chriſt's ſecond coming, 'tis here foretold;

1. That there ſhall be then a great and amazing change of the Creatures, and particularly the Heavenly Bodies, v. 29. The Sun ſhall be darkened, and the Moon not give her Light; the Moon ſhines with a borrow'd Light, and therefore if the Sun from whom ſhe borrows her Light is turn'd into Darkneſs, ſhe muſt fail of Courſe, and become Bankrupt. The Stars ſhall fall, i. e. they ſhall loſe their light, and diſappear, and be as if they were fallen, and the Powers of Heaven ſhall be ſhaken. This intimates,

(1.) That there ſhall be a great Change; in order to the making of all things new; then ſhall be the reſtitution of all Things, when the Heavens ſhall not be caſt away as a Rag, but chang'd as a Veſture, to be worn in a better faſhion, Pſal. 102. 26. They ſhall paſs away with a great Noiſe, that there may be new Heavens, 2 Pet. 3. 10, 13.

(2.) It ſhall be a viſible Change, and ſuch as all the World muſt take notice of, for ſo the darkening of the Sun and Moon cannot but be; and it will be an amazing Change, for the Heavenly Bodies are not ſo liable to alteration as the Creatures of this lower World are. The Days of Heaven, and the continuance of the Sun and Moon, are us'd to expreſs that which is laſting and unchangeable; as Pſal. 89. 29, 36, 37. yet they ſhall thus be ſhaken.

(3.) It ſhall be a univerſal Change; if the Sun be turn'd into Darkneſs, and the Powers of Heaven ſhaken, the Earth cannot but be turn'd into a Dungeon, and its Foundation made to tremble: Howl Fir trees, if the Cedars be ſhaken; when the Stars of Heaven drop, no marvel if the everlaſting Mountains melt, and the perpetual Hills bow. Nature ſhall ſuſtain a general Shock and Convulſion, which yet ſhall be no hindrance to the Joy and rejoycing of Heaven and Earth, before the Lord, when he cometh to judge the World, Pſal. 96. 11, 13. They ſhall as it were glory in the Tribulation.

(4.) The darkning of the Sun, Moon and Stars, which were made to rule over the Day, and over the Night, (which is the firſt Dominion we find of any Creature, Gen. 1. 16, 18.) ſignifies the putting down of all Rule, Authority and Power, (even that which ſeems of the greateſt Antiquity and Uſefulneſs) that the Kingdom may be delivered up to God, even the Father, and he may be all in all, 2 Cor. 15. 24, 28. The Sun was darkned at the Death of Chriſt, for then was in one Senſe one Judgment of this World, John 12. 31. an Indication what would be at the general Judgment.

(5.) The glorious Appearance of our Lord Jeſus, who will then ſhew himſelf as the Brightneſs of his Father's Glory, and the expreſs Image of his Perſon, will darken the Sun and Moon, as a Candle is darkned in the Beams of the Noon-Day Sun; they will have no Glory, becauſe of the Glory that excelleth, 2 Cor. 3. 10. Then the Sun ſhall be aſhamed, and the Moon confounded, when God ſhall appear, Iſa. 24. 23.

(6.) The Sun and Moon ſhall then be darkened, becauſe there will be no more occaſion for them: To Sinners that chuſe their Portoin in this Life, all Comfort will be eternally deny'd, as they ſhall not have a Drop of Water, ſo not a Ray of Light. Now God cauſeth his Sun to riſe on the Earth, but then interdico tibi Sole & Lunâ, Darkneſs muſt be their Portion; And to the Saints that had their Treaſure above, ſuch Light of Joy and Comfort will be given, as ſhall ſuperſede that of the Sun and Moon, and render it uſeleſs. What need we Veſſels of Light when we come to the Fountain and Father of Lights? See Iſa. 60. 19. Rev. 22. 5.

2. That then ſhall appear the Sign of the Son of Man in Heaven, v. 30. i. e. The Son of Man himſelf, as it follows here, they ſhall ſee the Son of Man coming in the Clouds. At his firſt coming he was ſet for a Sign that ſhould be ſpoken againſt, Luke 2. 34. but at his ſecond coming, a Sign that ſhould be admired. Ezekiel was a Son of Man, ſet for a Sign, Ezek. 12. 6. Some make this a Prediction of the Harbingers and Fore-runners of his coming, giving notice of his approach; a Light ſhining before him, and the Fire devouring, Pſal. 50. 3. 1 Kings 19. 11, 12. The Beams coming out of his Hand, where had long been the hiding of his Power, Hab. 3. 4. 'Tis a groundleſs Conceit of ſome of the Ancients, that this Sign of the Son of Man will be the Sign of the Croſs, diſplay'd as a Banner. It will certainly be ſuch a clear convincing Sign, as will daſh Infidelity quite out of Countenance, and fill their Faces with Shame, who ſaid, Where is the Promiſe of his coming?

3. That then all the Tribes of the Earth ſhall mourn, v. 30. See Rev. 1. 7. All the Kindred of the Earth ſhall then wail becauſe of him; ſome of all the Tribes and Kindreds of the Earth ſhall mourn, for the greater part will tremble at his approach, while the choſen Remnant, one of a Family, and two of a Tribe, ſhall lift up their Heads with Joy, knowing that their Redemption draws nigh, and their Redeemer. Note, Sooner or later all Sinners will be Mourners; Penitent Sinners look to Chriſt, and mourn after a godly Sort, and they who ſow in thoſe Tears, ſhall ſhortly reap in Joy; impenitent Sinners ſhall look unto him whom they have pierced, and tho' they laugh now, ſhall mourn and weep, after a deviliſh ſort, in endleſs Horror and Deſpair.

4. That then they ſhall ſee the Son of Man coming in the Clouds of Heaven, with Power and great Glory. Note, (1.) The Judgment of the Great Day will be committed to the Son of Man, both in purſuance, and in recompence of his great Undertaking for us as Mediator, Joh. 5. 22, 27. (2.) The Son of Man will at that Day come in the Clouds of Heaven. Much of the ſenſible Intercourſe between Heaven and Earth is by the Clouds, they are betwixt them as it were the Medium participationis, drawn by Heaven from the Earth, diſtill'd by Heaven upon the Earth; Chriſt went to Heaven in a Cloud, and will in like manner come again, Acts 1. 9, 11. Behold he comes in the Clouds, Rev. 1. 7. A Cloud will be the Judge's Chariot, Pſal. 104. 3. his Robe, Rev. 10. 1. his Pavilion, Pſal. 18. 11. his Throne, Rev. 14. 14. when the World was deſtroyed by Water, the Judgment came in the Clouds of Heaven, for the Windows of Heaven were opened; ſo when it ſhall be deſtroy'd by Fire. Chriſt went before Iſrael in a Cloud, which had a bright ſide, and a dark ſide; ſo will the Cloud have in which Chriſt will come at the great Day, 'twill bring both Comfort and Terror. (3.) He will come with Power and great Glory; his firſt coming was in weakneſs and great meanneſs, 2 Cor. 13. 4. but his ſecond coming will be with Power and Glory, agreeable both to the Dignity of his Perſon, and to the Purpoſes of his coming. (4.) He will be ſeen with bodily Eyes in his coming: Therefore the Son of Man will be the Judge that he may be ſeen, that Sinners thereby may be the more confounded, who ſhall ſee him as Balaam did, but not nigh, Numb. 24. 17. ſee him, but not as theirs. It added to the Torment of that damned Sinner, that he ſaw Abraham afar off: Is this he whom we have ſlighted and rejected, and rebell'd againſt? Whom we have crucified to our ſelves afreſh? Who might have been our Saviour, but is our Judge, and will be our Enemy for ever. The Deſire of all Nations will then be their Dread.

5. That he ſhall ſend his Angels with a great ſound of a Trumpet, v. 31. Note, 1. The Angels ſhall be Attendants upon Chriſt at his ſecond coming; they are call'd his Angels, which proves him to be God, and Lord of the Angels, they ſhall be obliged to wait upon him. 2. Theſe Attendants ſhall be employed by him as Officers of the Court, in the Judgment of that Day: They are now miniſtring Spirits ſent forth by him, Heb. 1. 14. and will be ſo then. 3. Their Miniſtration will be uſher'd in with a great ſound of a Trumpet, to awaken and alarm a ſleeping World. This Trumpet is ſpoken of, 1 Cor. 15. 52. and 1 Theſ. 4. 16. At the giving of the Law on Mount Sinai, the ſound of the Trumpet was remarkably terrible, Exod. 19. 13, 16. but much more will it be ſo in the great Day. By the Law, Trumpets were to be ſounded for the calling of Aſſemblies, Numb. 10. 2. in praiſing God, Pſal. 81. 3. in offering Sacrifices, Numb. 10. 10. and in proclaiming the Year of Jubilee, Lev. 25. 9. very fitly therefore ſhall there be the ſound of a Trumpet at the laſt Day, when the general Aſſembly ſhall be called, when the Praiſes of God ſhall be glorioully celebrated, when Sinners ſhall fall as Sacrifices to Divine Juſtice, and when the Saints ſhall enter upon their Eternal Jubilee.

6. That they ſhall gather together his Elect, from the four Winds. Note, At the ſecond coming of Jeſus Chriſt there will be a general meeting of all the Saints. (1.) The Elect only will be gathered, the choſen Remnant, who are but few in compariſon with the many that are only call'd. This is the Foundation of the Saint's Eternal Happineſs, that they are God's Elect: The Gifts of Love to Eternity follow the Thoughts of Love from Eternity, and the Lord knows them that are his. (2.) The Angels ſhall be employ'd to bring them together, as Chriſt's Servants, and as the Saint's Friends; we have the Commiſſion given them, Pſal. 50. 5. Gather my Saints together unto me; nay, 'twill be ſaid to them, Habetis Fratres, for the Elect will then be equal to the Angels, Luke 20. 36. (3.) They ſhall be gathered from one end of Heaven to the other; the Elect of God are ſcatter'd abroad, Joh. 11. 52. there are ſome in all Places, in all Nations, Rev. 7. 9. but when that great gathering Day comes, there ſhall not one of them be miſſing. Diſtance of Place ſhall keep none out of Heaven, if diſtance of Affection do not, Undique ad Cælos tantundem eſt via. See Matt. 8. 11. Iſa. 43. 6.—49. 12.

32 Now learn a parable of the fig-tree: When his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that ſummer is nigh: 33 So likewiſe ye, when ye ſhall ſee all theſe things, know that it is near, even at the doors. 34 Verily I ſay unto you, This generation ſhall not paſs, till all theſe things be fulfilled.
35 Heaven and earth ſhall paſs away, but my words ſhall not paſs away. 36 But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only. 37 But as the days of Noe were, ſo ſhall alſo the coming of the Son of man be. 38
For as in the days that were before the flood, they were eating and drinking, marrying, and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entred into the Ark, 39 And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; ſo ſhall alſo the coming of the Son of man be. 40 Then ſhall two be in the field, the one ſhall be taken, and the other left. 41 Two women ſhall be grinding at the mill, the one ſhall be taken, and the other left. 42 Watch therefore, for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come. 43 But know this, that if the good-man of the Houſe had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have ſuffered his houſe to be broken up. 44 Therefore be ye alſo ready: for in ſuch an hour as you think not, the Son of man cometh. 45 Who then is a faithful and wiſe ſervant, whom his Lord hath made ruler over his houſhold, to give them meat in due ſeaſon? 46 Bleſſed is that ſervant, whom his Lord when he cometh, ſhall find ſo doing. 47 Verily I ſay unto you, that he ſhall make him ruler over all his goods. 48 But and if that evil ſervant ſhall ſay in his heart, My Lord delayeth his coming, 49 And ſhall begin to ſmite his fellow-ſervants, and to eat and drink with the drunken: 50 The Lord of that ſervant ſhall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of; 51 And ſhall cut him aſunder, and apppoint him his portion with the hypocrites: there ſhall be weeping and gnaſhing of teeth.

We have here the practical Application of the foregoing Prediction in general, we muſt expect and prepare for the Events here foretold.

Firſt, We muſt expect them. Now learn a Parable of the Fig-tree, v. 32, 33. Now learn what uſe to make of the Things you have heard; ſo obſerve and underſtand the Signs of the Times, and compare them with the Predictions of the Word, as from thence to foreſee what is at the Door, that you may provide accordingly. The Parable of the Fig-tree is no more but this, that its budding and bloſſoming is a Preſage of Summer coming; for as the Stork in the Heaven, ſo the Trees of the Field know their appointed Time. The Beginning of the working of Second Cauſes, aſſures us of the Progreſs and Perfection of it. Thus when God begins to fulfil Prophecies, he will make an End. There is a certain Series in the Works of Providence, as there is in the Works of Nature. The Signs of the Times are compar'd with the Prognoſticks of the Face of the Sky, Matt. 16. 3. ſo here with thoſe of the Face of the Earth, when that is renew'd, we foreſee that Summer is coming, not immediately, but at ſome diſtance. After the Branch grows tender, we expect the March Winds, and the April Showers, before the Summer comes, however we are ſure it is coming; ſo likewiſe ye, when the Goſpel Day is broke, count upon it that, through this variety of Events that I have told you of, the perfect Day will come: The Things revealed muſt ſhortly come to paſs, Rev. 1. 1. they muſt come in their own Order, in the order appointed for them, Know that it is near; he doth not here ſay what, but it is that which your Hearts are upon, and which you are inquiſitive after, and long for; the Kingdom of God is near, ſo it is expreſſed in the parallel Place, Luke 21. 31, Note, When the Trees of Righteouſneſs begin to bud and bloſſom, when God's People promiſe Faithfulneſs, 'tis a happy Preſage of good Times. In them God begins his Work, firſt prepares their Heart, and then he will go on with it; for as for God, his Work is perfect, and he will revive it in the midſt of their Years.

Now touching the Events foretold here, which we are to expect;

1. Chriſt doth here aſſure us of the Certainty of them, v. 35. Heaven and Earth ſhall paſs away: They continue this Day indeed according to God's Ordinance, but they ſhall not continue for ever, Pſal. 102. 25, 26. See 2 Pet. 3. 10. But my Words ſhall not paſs away. Note, The Word of Chriſt is more ſure and laſting than Heaven and Earth. Hath he ſpoken? And ſhall he not do it? We may build with more Aſſurance upon the Word of Chriſt, than we can upon the Pillars of Heaven, or the ſtrong Foundations of the Earth; for when they ſhall be made to tremble and totter, and ſhall be no more, the Word of Chriſt ſhall remain, and be in full Force, Power and Virtue. See 1 Pet. 1. 24, 25. 'Tis eaſier for Heaven and Earth to paſs, than the Word of Chriſt; ſo 'tis expreſs'd, Luk. 16. 17. Compare Iſa. 54. 10. The Accompliſhment of theſe Prophecies might ſeem to be delay'd, and intervening Events might ſeem to diſagree with them; but do not think that therefore the Word of Chriſt is fallen to the Ground, for that ſhall never paſs away. Tho' it be not fulfill'd, either in the Time, or in the Way that we have preſcrib'd, yet in God's Time, which is the beſt Time, and in God's Way, which is the beſt Way, it ſhall certainly be fulfill'd. Every Word of Chriſt is very pure, and therefore very ſure.

2. He here inſtructs us as to the Time of them, v. 34, 36. And as to this, 'tis well obſerv'd by the Learned Grotius, that there is a manifeſt Diſtinction made between the ταῦτα, v. 34. and the ἐκείνη, v. 36. Theſe Things, and that Day and Hour; which will help to clear this Prophecy.

1. As to theſe Things, the Wars, Seductions, and Perſecutions here foretold, and eſpecially the Ruin of the Jewiſh Nation. This Generation ſhall not paſs away, till all theſe things be fulfill'd, v. 34. There are thoſe now alive that ſhall ſee Jeruſalem deſtroy'd, and the Jewiſh Church brought to an End. And becauſe it might ſeem ſtrange, he backs it with a ſolemn Aſſeveration, Verily, I ſay unto you: You may take my Word for it, theſe Things are at the Door. Chriſt oft ſpeaks of the Nearneſs of that Deſolation, the more to affect People, and quicken them to prepare for it. Note, There may be greater Tryals and Troubles yet before us, in our own Day, than we are aware of. They that are old, know not what Sons of Anak may be reſerv'd for their laſt Encounters.

2. But as to that Day and Hour, which will put a Period to Time, that knows no Man, v. 36. Therefore take heed of confounding theſe Two, as they did, who, from the Words of Chriſt, and the Apoſtles Letters, inferr'd, that the Day of Chriſt was at hand, 2 Theſſ. 1. 2. No, it was not; This Generation, and many another, ſhall paſs, before that Day and Hour comes. Note, (1.) There is a certain Day and Hour fix'd for the Judgment to come; 'tis call'd the Day of the Lord, becauſe ſo unalterably fix'd. None of God's Judgments are adjourn'd ſine Die. (2.) That Day and Hour is a great Secret: Temporis exitum caliginosâ nocte premit Deus; Hor. No Man knows it; not the Wiſeſt, by their Sagacity; not the Beſt, by any Divine Diſcovery. We all know there ſhall be ſuch a Day, but none knows when it ſhall be: No, not the Angels; Tho' their Capacities for Knowledge are great, and their Opportunities of knowing this advantageous: They dwell at the Fountain-Head of Light; and tho' they are to be employ'd in the Solemnity of that Day, yet they are not told when it ſhall be: None knows, but my Father only. This is one of thoſe ſecret Things which belong to the Lord our God. The Uncertainty of the Time of Chriſt's Coming, is to thoſe who are watchful, a Savour of Life unto Life, and makes them more watchful; but to thoſe who are careleſs, it is a Savour of Death unto Death, and makes them more careleſs.

Secondly, To this End we muſt expect theſe Events, that we may prepare for them: And here we have a Caution againſt Security and Senſuality, which will make it a diſmal Day indeed to us, v. 37,—41. In which Verſes, we have ſuch an Idea given us of the Judgment Day, as may ſerve to ſtartle and awaken us, that we may not ſleep, as do others.

It will be a ſurprizing Day, and a ſeparating Day.

1. It will be a ſurprizing Day, as the Deluge was to the old World, v. 37, 38, 39. That which he here intends to deſcribe, is the Poſture of the World at the Coming of the Son of Man: Beſides his firſt Coming to Save, he has other Comings to Judge. He ſaith, John 10. 39. For Judgment I am come, and for Judgment he will come; for all Judgment is committed to him, both that of the Word, and that of the Sword.

Now this here is applicable,

(1.) To Temporal Judgments, particularly that which was now haſtening upon the Nation and People of the Jews: Tho' they had fair Warning given them of it, and there were many Prodigies that were Preſages of it, yet it found them ſecure, crying, Peace and Safety, 1 Theſſ. 5. 3. The Siege was laid to Jeruſalem by Titus Veſpaſian, when they were met at the Paſſover, in the Midſt of their Mirth. Like the Men of Laiſh, they dwelt careleſs when the Ruin arreſted them, Judg. 18. 7, 27. The Deſtruction of Babylon, both that in the Old Teſtament, and that in the New, comes, when ſhe ſaith, I ſhall be a Lady for ever, Iſa. 47. 7, 8, 9. Rev. 18. 7. Therefore the Plagues come in a Moment, in one Day. Note, Men's Unbelief ſhall not make God's Threatnings of none Effect.

(2.) To the Eternal Judgment; ſo the Judgment of the great Day is call'd, Heb. 6. 2. Tho' Notice has been given of it from Enoch, yet when it comes, it will be unlook'd for by the moſt of Men: The latter Days, which are neareſt to that Day, will produce Scoffers, that ſay, Where is the Promiſe of his Coming? 2 Pet. 3. 3, 4. Luke 18. 8. Thus it will be when the World, that now is, ſhall be deſtroy'd by Fire; for thus it was when the old World, being overflow'd by Water, periſh'd, 2 Pet. 3. 6, 7. Now Chriſt here ſhews, what was the Temper and Poſture of the old World, when the Deluge came.

1. They were Senſual and Worldly; they were Eating and Drinking, Marrying, and giving in Marriage. It is not ſaid, they were Killing, and Stealing, and Whoring, and Swearing; theſe were indeed the horrid Crimes of ſome of the worſt of them, the Earth was full of Violence; but they were all of them, except Noah, over Head and Ears in the World, and regardleſs of the Word of God, and this ruin'd them. Note, Univerſal Neglect of Religion is a more dangerous Symptom to any People, than particular Inſtances here and there of daring Irreligion. Eating and Drinking is neceſſary to the Preſervation of Man's Life; Marrying and giving in Marriage is ſo to the Preſervation of Mankind: But licitis premus omnes, theſe lawful Things undo us, unlawfully managed. (1.) They were unreaſonable in it; inordinate and entire in the Purſuit of the Delights of Senſe, and the Gains of the World; they were wholly taken up with theſe Things, ἦσαν τρώγοντες, they were eating; they were in theſe Things as in their Element, as if they had their Being for no other End but to eat and drink, Iſa. 56. 12. (2.) They were unſeaſonable in it; they were entire and intent upon the World and the Fleſh, when Deſtruction was at the Door, which they had had ſuch fair Warning of. They were Eating and Drinking, when they ſhould have been Repenting and Praying; when God, by the Miniſtry of Noah, call'd to Weeping and Mourning, then Joy and Gladneſs. This was to them, as 'twas to Iſrael afterwards, the unpardonable Sin, Iſa. 22. 12, 14. Eſpecially becauſe it was in Defiance of thoſe Warnings by which they ſhould have been awaken'd; Let us eat and drink, for to morrow we dye: If it muſt be a ſhort Life, let it be a merry one. The Apoſtle James ſpeaks of this as the general Practice of the wealthy Jews before the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem; when they ſhould have been weeping for the Miſeries that were coming upon them, they were living in Pleaſure, and nouriſhing their Hearts as in a Day of Slaughter, James 5. 1, 5.

2. They were Secure and Careleſs: They knew not, until the Flood came, v. 39. Knew not? Surely they could not but know. Did not God, by Noah, give them fair Warning of it? Did he not call them to Repentance, while his Long-ſuffering waited? 1 Pet. 3. 19, 20. But they knew not, i. e. they believed not; they might have known, but would not know. Note, What we know of the Things that belong to our Everlaſting Peace, if we do not mix Faith with it, and improve it, 'tis all one as if we did not know it at all. Their not knowing is join'd with their Eating, and Drinking, and Marrying: For, (1.) Therefore they were ſenſual, becauſe they were ſecure. Note, The Reaſon why People are ſo eager in the Purſuit, and ſo entangled in the Pleaſures of this World, is, becauſe they do not know and believe, and conſider the Eternity which they are upon the Brink of. Did we know aright, that all theſe Things muſt ſhortly be diſſolv'd, and we muſt certainly ſurvive them, we would not ſet our Eyes and Hearts ſo much upon them as we do. (2.) Therefore they were ſecure, becauſe they were ſenſual: Therefore they knew not that the Flood was coming, becauſe they were Eating and Drinking; were ſo taken up with Things ſeen and preſent, that they had neither Time nor Heart to mind the Things not ſeen as yet, which they were warn'd of. Note, As Security bolſters Men up in their brutal Senſuality, ſo Senſuality rocks them aſleep in their carnal Security; They knew not until the Flood came. (1.) The Flood did come, tho' they would not foreſee it. Note, Thoſe that will not know by Faith, ſhall be made to know by feeling the Wrath of God reveal'd from Heaven againſt their Ungodlineſs and Unrighteouſneſs. The Evil Day is never the further off, for Men's putting it far off from them. (2.) They did not know it till it was too late to prevent it, as they might have done if they had known it in Time, which made it ſo much the more grievous. Judgments are moſt terrible and amazing to the Secure, and thoſe that have made a Jeſt of them.

The Application of this concerning the old World, we have in theſe Words, So ſhall the Coming of the Son of Man be. That is, (1.) In ſuch a Poſture ſhall he find People, Eating and Drinking, and never expecting him. Note, Security and Senſuality are likely to be the Epidemical Diſeaſes of the latter Days: All Slumber and Sleep, and at Midnight the Bridegroom comes. All off their Watch, and at their Eaſe. (2.) With ſuch a Power, and for ſuch a Purpoſe will he come upon them: As the Flood took away the Sinners of the old World, irreſiſtibly and irrecoverably; ſo ſhall ſecure Sinners, that mock'd at Chriſt and his Coming, be taken away by the Wrath of the Lamb, when the great Day of his Wrath comes, which will be like the coming of the Deluge, a Deſtruction which there's no fleeing from.

2. It will be a ſeparating Day, v. 40, 41. Then ſhall Two be in the Field. Two ways this may be apply'd:

1. We may apply it to the Succeſs of the Goſpel, eſpecially at the firſt Preaching of it, it divided the World: Some believed the Things which were ſpoken, and were taken to Chriſt; others believed not, and were left to periſh in their Unbelief. Thoſe of the ſame Age, Place, Capacity, Employment, and Condition in the World, grinding at the ſame Mill, thoſe of the ſame Family, nay, thoſe that were join'd in the ſame Bond of Marriage, yet one effectually call'd, the other paſſed by, and left in the Gall of Bitterneſs. This is that Diviſion, that ſeparating Fire which Chriſt came to ſend, Luke 12. 49, 51. This renders free Grace the more obliging, that it is diſtinguiſhing; to us, and not to the World, John 14. 22. Nay, to us, and not to thoſe in the ſame Field, the ſame Mill, the ſame Houſe.

When Ruin came upon Jeruſalem, a Diſtinction was made by Divine Providence, according to that which had been before made by Divine Grace; for all the Chriſtians among them were ſav'd from periſhing in that Calamity, by the ſpecial Care of Heaven. If Two were at work in the Field together, and one of them was a Chriſtian, he was taken into a Place of Shelter, and had his Life given him for a Prey, while the other was left to the Sword of the Enemy. Nay, if but Two Women were grinding at the Mill, if one of them belong'd to Chriſt, (tho' but a Woman, a poor Woman, a Servant) yet ſhe was taken to a Place of Safety, and the other abandon'd. Thus the Meek of the Earth are hid in the Day of the Lord's Anger, Zeph. 2. 3. either in Heaven, or under Heaven. Note, Diſtinguiſhing Preſervations, in Times of general Deſtruction, are ſpecial Tokens of God's Favour, and ought ſo to be acknowledg'd. If we are ſafe, when Thouſands fall on our Right-hand, and on our Left; are not conſum'd, when others are conſum'd round about us, ſo that we are as Brands pluck'd out of the Fire; we have Reaſon to ſay, It is of the Lord's Mercies, and it is a great Mercy.

2. We may apply it to the Second Coming of Jeſus Chriſt, and the Separation which will be made in that Day. He had ſaid before, v. 31. that the Elect will be gather'd together: Here he tells us, in order to that, they will be diſtinguiſh'd from thoſe that were neareſt to them in this World; the choice and choſen ones taken to Glory, the other left to periſh eternally. Thoſe that ſleep in the Duſt of the Earth, Two in the ſame Grave, their Aſhes mix'd, yet ſhall ariſe, one to be taken to Everlaſting Life, the other left to Shame and Everlaſting Contempt, Dan. 12. 2. Here 'tis apply'd to them who ſhall be found alive. Chriſt will come unlook'd for, will find People buſy at their uſual Occupations, in the Field, at the Mill; and then, according as they are veſſels of Mercy, prepar'd for Glory, or Veſſels of Wrath, prepar'd for Ruin, accordingly it will be with them, the one taken to meet the Lord and his Angels in the Air, to be for ever with him and them; the other left to the Devil and his Angels, who, when Chriſt has gather'd out his own, will ſweep up the Reſidue. This will aggravate the Condemnation of Sinners, that others ſhall be taken from the midſt of them to Glory, and they left behind. And it ſpeaks Abundance of Comfort to the Lord's People. (1.) Are they mean and deſpiſed in the World, as the Man-ſervant in the Field, or the Maid at the Mill? Exod. 11. 5. yet they ſhall not be forgotten, or over-look'd in that Day. The Poor in the World, if rich in Faith, are Heirs of the Kingdom. (2.) Are they diſpers'd in diſtant and unlikely Places, where one would not expect to find the Heirs of Glory, in the Field, at the Mill? Yet the Angels will find them there hid, as Saul among the Stuff, when they are to be enthron'd, and fetch them thence: And well may they be ſaid to be chang'd, for a very great Change it will be, to go to Heaven from Plowing and Grinding. (3.) Are they weak and unable of themſelves to move Heaven-ward? They ſhall be taken, or laid hold on, as Lot was taken out of Sodom, by a gracious Violence, Gen. 19. 16. Thoſe whom Chriſt has once apprehended and laid hold on, he will never loſe his Hold of. (4.) Are they intermix'd with others, link'd with them in the ſame Habitations, Societies, Employments? Let not that diſcourage any true Chriſtian: God knows how to ſeparate between the Precious and the Vile, the Gold and Droſs in the ſame Lump, the Wheat and Chaff in the ſame Floor.

Thirdly, Here is a general Exhortation to us to watch, and be ready againſt that Day comes, enforc'd by divers weighty Conſiderations, v. 42, &c. Obſerve, Firſt, The Duty requir'd: Watch, and be ready, v. 42, 44.

1. Watch therefore, v. 42. Note, It is the great Duty and Intereſt of all the Diſciples of Chriſt to watch, to be awake, and keep awake, that they may mind their Buſineſs. As a ſinful State and Way is compar'd to ſleep, ſenſeleſs and unactive, 1 Theſ. 5. 4. ſo a gracious State and Way is compar'd to Watching and Waking. We muſt watch for our Lord's Coming, to us in particular at our Death, after which is the Judgment; that's the great Day with us, the End of our Time; and his Coming at the End of all Time to judge the World, the great Day with all Mankind. To watch for this, is not only to believe that our Lord will come, but to deſire that he would come; to be often thinking of his Coming, and always looking for it, as ſure, and near, and the Time of it uncertain. To watch for Chriſt's Coming, is to maintain that gracious Temper and Diſpoſition of Mind, which we would be willing our Lord when he comes ſhould find us in. To watch, is to beware of the firſt Notices of his Approach, that we may immediately attend his Motions, and addreſs our ſelves to the Duty of meeting him. Watching is ſuppos'd to be in the Night, which is Sleeping-time: While we are in this World, 'tis Night with us, and we muſt take pains to keep our ſelves awake.

2. Be ye alſo ready. We wake in vain, if we do not get ready. 'Tis not enough to look for ſuch Things, but we muſt therefore give diligence, 2 Pet. 3. 11, 14. We have then our Lord to attend upon, and we muſt have our Lamps ready trimm'd; a Cauſe to be try'd, and we muſt have our Plea ready drawn and ſign'd by our Advocate; a Reckoning to make up, and we muſt have our Accounts ready ſtated and ballanc'd: There's an Inheritance which we hope then to enter upon, and we muſt have our ſelves ready, made meet to partake of it, Col. 1. 12.

Secondly, The Reaſons to induce us to this Watchfulneſs, and diligent Preparation for that Duty; which are Two:

1. Becauſe the Time of our Lord's Coming is very uncertain. This is the Reaſon immediately annex'd to the double Exhortation, v. 42, 44. and it is illuſtrated by a Compariſon, v. 43. Let us conſider then,

1. That we know not what Hour he will come, v. 42. We know not the Day of our Death, Gen. 27. 2. We may know that we have but a little Time to live; 2 Tim. 4. 6. The Time of my Departure is at hand; but we cannot know that we have a long Time to live, for our Souls are continually in our Hands; nor can we know how little a Time we have to live, for it may prove leſs than we expect. Much leſs do we know the Time fix'd for the General Judgment. Concerning both we are kept at an Uncertainty, that we might expect that every Day, which may come any Day; may never boaſt of a Year's Continuance, James 4. 13. no, nor of To-morrow's Return, as if it were ours, Prov. 27. 1. Luke 12. 20.

2. That he may come at ſuch an Hour as we think not, v. 44. Tho' there be ſuch Uncertainty in the Time, there is none in the Thing it ſelf: Tho' we know not when he will come, we are ſure he will come. His parting Word was, Surely I come quickly: His ſaying, I come ſurely, obligeth us to expect him; his ſaying, I come quickly, obligeth us to be always expecting him; for it keeps us in a State of Expectancy. In ſuch an Hour as you think not; i. e. ſuch an Hour as they which are unready and unprepar'd think not, v. 50. Nay, ſuch an Hour as the moſt lively Expectants, perhaps, thought leaſt likely. The Bridegroom came when the Wiſe were ſlumbering. It is agreeable to our preſent State, that we ſhould be under the Influence of a conſtant and general Expectation, rather than that of particular Preſages and Prognoſtications, which we are ſometimes tempted vainly to deſire and wiſh for.

3. The Children of this World are thus wiſe in their Generation, that when they know of a Danger approaching, they will keep awake, and ſtand on their Guard againſt it. This he ſhews in a particular Inſtance, v. 43. If the Maſter of a Houſe had notice that a Thief would come ſuch a Night, and ſuch a Watch of the Night, (for they divided the Night into Four Watches, allowing Three Hours to each) and would make an Attempt upon his Houſe, tho' it were the Midnight Watch, when he was moſt ſleepy, yet he would be up, and liſten to every Noiſe in every Corner, and be ready to give him a warm Reception. Now, tho' we know not juſt when our Lord will come, yet knowing that he will come, and come quickly, and without any other Warning than what he hath given in his Word, it concerns us to watch always. Note, (1.) We have every one of us a Houſe to keep, that lies expos'd, in which all we are worth is laid up; and that Houſe is our own Souls, which we muſt keep with all Diligence. (2.) The Day of the Lord comes by Surprize, as a Thief in the Night. Chriſt chuſeth to come when he is leaſt expected, that the Triumphs of his Enemies may be turn'd into the greater Shame, and the Fears of his Friends into the greater Joy. (3.) If Chriſt, when he comes, finds us aſleep and unready, our Houſe will be broken up, and we ſhall loſe all we are worth; not as by a Thief, unjuſtly, but as by a juſt and legal Proceſs: Death and Judgment will ſeize upon all we have, to our irreparable Damage, and utter Undoing. Therefore be ready, be ye alſo ready; as ready at all Times as the good Man of the Houſe would be at the Hour when he expected the Thief; muſt put on the Armour of God, that we may not only ſtand in that evil Day, but, as more than Conquerors, may divide the Spoil.

2. Becauſe the Iſſue of the Lord's Coming will be very happy and comfortable to thoſe that ſhall be found ready, but very diſmal and dreadful to thoſe that are not, v. 45, &c. This is repreſented by the different State of good and bad Servants, when their Lord comes to reckon with them. 'Tis likely to be well or ill with us to Eternity, according as we are found ready, or unready at that Day; for Chriſt comes to render to every Man according to his Works. Now this Parable, with which the Chapter cloſeth, is applicable to all Chriſtians, who are in Profeſſion and Obligation God's Servants; but it ſeems eſpecially intended as a Warning to Miniſters, for the Servant ſpoken of is a Steward. Now obſerve what Chriſt here ſaith, Firſt, Concerning the good Servant; He ſhews here what he is, a Ruler of the Houſhold; what, being ſo, he ſhould be Faithful and Wiſe; and what, if he be ſo, he ſhall be eternally Bleſſed. Here's good Inſtructions and Encouragements to the Miniſters of Chriſt.

(1.) Here's his Place and Office: He is one whom his Lord has made Ruler over his Houſhold, to give them Meat in due Seaſon. Note, (1.) The Church of Chriſt is his Houſhold, or Family, ſtanding in Relation to him, as the Father and Maſter of it. 'Tis the Houſhold of God, a Family named from Chriſt, Eph. 3. 15. (2.) Goſpel Miniſters are appointed Rulers in this Houſhold: Not as Princes, (Chriſt has enter'd a Caveat againſt that) but as Stewards, or other ſubordinate Officers; not as Lords, but as Guides; not to preſcribe new Ways, but to ſhew and lead in the Ways that Chriſt has appointed; that's the Signification of the ἡγούμενοι, which we tranſlate, having Rule over you, Heb. 13. 17. And as Overſeers, not to cut out new Work, but to direct in, and quicken to the Work which Chriſt has order'd; that's the Signification of ἐπίσκοποι, Biſhops. They are Rulers by Chriſt; what Power they have is derived from him, and none may take it from them, or abridge it to them. He is one whom the Lord has made Ruler: Chriſt has the making of Miniſters. They are Rulers under Chriſt, and act in Subordination to him; and Rulers for Chriſt, for the Advancement of his Kingdom. (3.) The Work of Goſpel-Miniſters, is to give to Chriſt's Houſhold their Meat in due Seaſon, as Stewards, and therefore they have the Keys deliver'd to them. (1.) Their Work is to give; not take to themſelves, Ezek. 34. 8. but give to the Family what the Maſter has bought, to diſpenſe what Chriſt has purchas'd. And to Miniſters it is ſaid, That it is more bleſſed to give, than to receive, Acts 20. 35. (2.) 'Tis to give Meat, not to give Law, that's Chriſt's Work; but to deliver thoſe Doctrines to the Church, which, if duly digeſted, will be Nouriſhment to Souls. They muſt not give the Poyſon of falſe Doctrines, not the Stones of hard and unprofitable Doctrines, but the Meat that is ſound and wholeſome. (3.) It muſt be given in due Seaſon, ἐν καιρῷ, while there is Time for it; when Eternity comes, it will be too late: We muſt work while it is Day. Or, in Time, i. e. whenever any Opportunity offers it ſelf; or, in the ſtated Time, Time after Time; according as the Duty of every Day requires.

2. His right Diſcharge of this Office: The good Servant, if thus preferr'd, will be a good Steward. For,

1. He is faithful. Stewards muſt be ſo, 1 Cor. 4. 2. He that is truſted, muſt be truſty: And the greater the Truſt is, the more is expected from them. 'Tis a great good Thing that is committed to Miniſters, 2 Tim. 2. 2. and they muſt be faithful, as Moſes was, Heb. 3. 2. Chriſt counts thoſe Miniſters, and thoſe only, that are faithful, 1 Tim. 1. 12. A faithful Miniſter of Jeſus Chriſt, is one that ſincerely deſigns his Maſter's Honour, not his own; delivers the whole Counſel of God, not his own Fancies and Conceits; follows Chriſt's Inſtitutions, and adheres to them; regards the meaneſt, reproves the greateſt, and doth not reſpect Perſons.

2. He is wiſe to underſtand his Duty, and the proper Seaſon of it: And the guiding of the Flock, there's need not only of the Integrity of the Heart, but the Skilfulneſs of the Hands. Honeſty may ſuffice for a good Servant, but Wiſdom is neceſſary to a good Steward; for it is profitable to direct.

3. He is doing, ſo doing as his Office requires. The Miniſtry is a good Work, and they whoſe Office it is, have always ſomething to do: They muſt not indulge themſelves in Eaſe, nor leave the Work undone, or careleſly turn it off to others, but be doing, and doing to the Purpoſe. So doing, giving Meat to the Houſhold; minding their own Buſineſs, and not meddling with that which is foreign: So doing, as the Maſter has appointed, as the Office imports, and as the Caſe of the Family doth require: Not talking, but doing. 'Twas the Motto Mr. Perkins us'd, Miniſter verbi es, (not only Age, but) Hoc age.

4. He is found doing when his Maſter comes: Which intimates, (1.) Conſtancy at his Work. At what Hour ſoever his Maſter comes, he is found buſy, at the Work of the Day. Miniſters ſhould not leave empty Spaces in their Time, leſt their Lord ſhould come in one of thoſe empty Spaces. As with a good God, the End of one Mercy is the Beginning of another; ſo with a good Man, a good Miniſter, the End of one Duty is the Beginning of another. When Salvin was perſuaded to remit his Miniſterial Labours, he anſwer'd with ſome Reſentment, What, would you have my Maſter find me idle? (2.) Perſeverance in his Work, till his Lord doth come: Hold faſt till then, Rev. 2. 25. Continue in theſe Things, 1 Tim. 4. 16.—6. 14. Endure to the End.

3. The Recompence of Reward intended him for this, in Three Things:

1. He ſhall be taken notice of. This is intimated in theſe Words, Who then is that faithful and wiſe Servant? Which ſuppoſe that there are but few who anſwer this Character: Such an Interpreter is One of a Thouſand, ſuch a faithful and wiſe Steward. Thoſe who thus diſtinguiſh themſelves now by Humility, Diligence and Sincerity, in their Work, Chriſt will, in the Great Day, both dignify and diſtinguiſh by the Glory confer'd on them.

2. He ſhall be bleſſed; Bleſſed is that Servant; and Chriſt's pronouncing him bleſſed, makes him ſo. All the Dead that dye in the Lord are bleſſed, Rev. 14. 13. But there is a peculiar Bleſſedneſs ſecur'd to them that approve themſelves faithful Stewards, and are found doing. Next to the Honour of thoſe who dye in the Field of Battel, ſuffering for Chriſt as the Martyrs, is the Honour of thoſe that dye in the Field of Service, Plowing, and Sowing, and Reaping for Chriſt.

3. He ſhall be preferr'd, v. 47. He ſhall make him Ruler over all his Goods. Alluding to the Way of great Men, who, if the Stewards of their Houſe carry themſelves well in that Place, commonly prefer them to be the Managers of their Eſtates; thus Joſeph was preferr'd in the Houſe of Potiphar, Gen. 39. 4, 6. But the greateſt Honour which the kindeſt Maſter ever did to his moſt try'd Servants in this World, is nothing to that Weight of Glory which the Lord Jeſus will confer upon his faithful, watchful Servants in the World to come. What is here ſaid by a Similitude, is the ſame that is ſaid more plainly, John 12. 26. Him will my Father honour. And God's Servants, when thus preferr'd, ſhall be perfect in Wiſdom and Holineſs to bear that Weight of Glory; ſo that there's no Danger from theſe Servants when they reign.

Secondly, Concerning the Evil Servant. Here we have,

1. His Deſcription given, v. 48, 49. Where we have the Wretch drawn in his own Colours. The vileſt of Creatures is a wicked Man, the vileſt of Men is a wicked Chriſtian, and the vileſt of them a wicked Miniſter. Corruptio optimi eſt peſſima: Wickedneſs in the Prophets of Jeruſalem is a horrible Thing indeed, Jer. 23. 14. Here is,

(1.) The Cauſe of his Wickedneſs, and that is a practical Disbelief of Chriſt's Second coming. He hath ſaid in his Heart, My Lord delays his Coming; and therefore he begins to think he will never come, but has quite forſaken his Church. Obſerve, (1.) Chriſt knows what they ſay in their Hearts, who with their Lips cry, Lord, Lord, as this Servant here. (2.) The Delay of Chriſt's Coming, tho' it's a gracious Inſtance of his Patience, yet is greatly abuſed by wicked People, whoſe Hearts are thereby harden'd in their wicked Ways. When Chriſt's Coming is look'd upon as doubtful, or a Thing at a mighty Diſtance, the Hearts of Men are fully ſet to do evil, Eccl. 8. 11. See Ezek. 12. 27. They that walk by Senſe, are ready to ſay of the unſeen Jeſus, as the People did of Moſes when he tarry'd in the Mount upon their Errand; We wot not what's become of them; and therefore up, make us gods; the World a god, the Belly a god, any Thing but he that ſhould be.

(2.) The Particulars of his Wickedneſs, and they are Sins of the firſt Magnitude; He is a Slave to his Paſſions and his Appetites.

1. Perſecution is here charg'd upon him: He begins to ſmite his Fellow-ſervants. Note, (1.) Even the Stewards of the Houſe are to look upon all the Servants of the Houſe as their Fellow-ſervants, and therefore are forbidden to lord it over them. If the Angel call himſelf Fellow-ſervant to John, Rev. 19. 10. no marvel if John have learn'd to call himſelf Brother to the Chriſtians of the Churches of Aſia, Rev. 1. 9. (2.) It is no new Thing to ſee evil Servants ſmiting their Fellow-ſervants; both private Chriſtians, and faithful Miniſters. He ſmites them, either becauſe they reprove him, or becauſe they will not bow and do him Reverence; will not ſay as he ſaith, and do as he doth againſt their Conſciences. Smites them with the Tongue, as they ſmote the Prophet, Jer. 18. 18. And if he get Power into his Hand, or can preſs thoſe into his Service that have, as the Ten Horns upon the Head of the Beaſt, it goes farther. Paſhur the Prieſt ſmote Jeremiah, and put him in the Stocks, Jer. 20. 1. The Revolters have many times been, of all others, moſt profound to make Slaughter, Hoſ. 5. 2. The Steward, when he ſmites his Fellow-ſervants, doth it under Colour of his Maſter's Authority and in his Name; he ſaith, Let the Lord be glorified, Iſa. 66. 5. But he ſhall know that he could not put a greater Affront upon his Maſter.

2. Profaneneſs and Immorality; He begins to eat and drink with the drunken. (1.) He aſſociates with the worſt of Sinners, hath Fellowſhip with them, is intimate with them: He walks in their Counſel, ſtands in their way, ſits in their Seat, and ſings their Songs. The Drunken are the merry, jovial Company, and thoſe he is for; and thus he hardens them in their Wickedneſs. (2.) He doth like them, eats, and drinks, and is drunken; ſo it in is Luke. And this is an Inlet to all manner of Sin. Drunkenneſs is a leading Wickedneſs, they who are Slaves to that, are never Maſters of themſelves in any Thing elſe. The Perſecutors of God's People have commonly been the moſt vicious and immoral Men. Perſecuting Conſciences, whatever the Pretenſions be, are commonly the moſt profligate and debauch'd Conſciences. What will not they be drunk with, that will be drunk with the Blood of the Saints? Well, this is the Deſcription of a wicked Miniſter, who yet may have the common Gifts of Learning and Utterance above others, and (as hath been ſaid of ſome) may preach ſo well in the Pulpit, that 'tis pity he ſhould ever come out; and yet live ſo ill out of the Pulpit, that 'tis pity he ſhould ever come in.

2. His Doom read, v. 50, 51. The Coat and Character of wicked Miniſters, will not only not ſecure them from Condemnation, but will greatly aggravate it. They can plead no Exemption from Chriſt's Juriſdiction, whatever they pretend to in the Church of Rome from that of the Civil Magiſtrate; no Benefit of Clergy at Chriſt's Bar. Obſerve,

1. The Surprizingneſs of his Doom, v. 50. The Lord of that Servant will come. Note, (1.) Our putting off the Thoughts of Chriſt's Coming, will not put off his Coming. Whatever Fancy he deludes himſelf with, his Lord will come. The Unbelief of Man ſhall not make that great Promiſe, or Threatning, (call it which you will) of none Effect. (2.) The Coming of Chriſt will be a moſt dreadful Surprize to ſecure and careleſs Sinners, eſpecially to wicked Miniſters: He ſhall come in a Day when he looketh not for him. Note, Thoſe that have ſlighted the Warnings of the Word, and ſilenc'd thoſe of their own Conſciences concerning the Judgment to come, cannot expect any other Warnings: Thoſe will be adjudg'd ſufficient legal Notice given, whether taken or no; and no Unfairneſs can be charg'd on Chriſt, if he come ſuddenly, without giving other Notice. Behold, he has told us before.

2. The Severity of his Doom, v. 51. 'Tis not more ſevere than righteous; but it is a Doom that carries in it utter Ruin, wrapt up in Two dreadful Words, Death and Damnation.

1. Death. His Lord ſhall cut him aſunder, διχοτομήσει αὐτὸν, he ſhall cut him off from the Land of the Living, from the Congregation of the Righteous; ſhall ſeparate him unto Evil, which is the Definition of a Curſe, Deut. 29. 21. Shall cut him down, as a Tree that cumbers the Ground. Perhaps it alludes to the Sentence often us'd in the Law, That Soul ſhall be cut off from his People; noting an utter Extirpation. Death cuts off a good Man, as a choice Imp is cut off, to be grafted in a better Stock; but it cuts off a wicked Man, as a wither'd Branch is cut off for the Fire. Cut him off from this World, which he ſet his Heart ſo much upon, and was as it were one with. Or, as we read it, ſhall cut him aſunder, i. e. part Body and Soul: ſend the Body to the Grave, to be a Prey for Worms, and the Soul to Hell, to be a Prey for Devils; and there's the Sinner cut aſunder. The Soul and Body of a godly Man at Death part fairly, the one chearfully lifted up to God, the other left to the Duſt; but the Soul and Body of a wicked Man at Death are cut aſunder, torn aſunder, for to them Death is the King of Terrors, Job 18. 14. The wicked Servant divided himſelf between God and the World, Chriſt and Belial, his Profeſſion and his Luſts; juſtly therefore will he thus be divided.

2. Damnation. He ſhall appoint him his Portion with the Hypocrites; and a miſerable Portion it will be, for there ſhall be weeping. Note, (1.) There is a Place and State of Everlaſting Miſery in the other World, where there is nothing but Weeping and Gnaſhing of Teeth; which ſpeaks the Soul's Tribulation and Anguiſh under God's Indignation and Wrath. (2.) The Divine Sentence will appoint this Place and State, as the Portion of thoſe, who by their own Sin were fitted for it. Even he of whom he ſaid, that he was his Lord, ſhall thus appoint him his Portion. He that is now the Saviour, will then be the Judge; and the everlaſting State of the Children of Men will be as he appoints. They that chuſe the World for their Portion in this Life, will have Hell for their Portion in the other Life. This is the Portion of a wicked Man from God, Job 20. 29. (3.) Hell is the proper Place of Hypocrites: This wicked Servant has his Portion with the Hypocrites. They are, as it were, the Free-holders; other Sinners are but as Inmates with them, and have but a Portion of their Miſery. When Chriſt would expreſs the moſt ſevere Puniſhment in the other World, he calls it the Portion of Hypocrites. If there be any Place in Hell hotter than other, as 'tis like there is, it will be the Allotment of thoſe that have the Form, but hate the Power of Godlineſs. (4.) Wicked Miniſters will have their Portion in the other World with the worſt of Sinners, even with the Hypocrites; and juſtly, for they are the worſt of Hypocrites. The Blood of Chriſt, which they have by their Profaneneſs trampled under their Feet, and the Blood of Souls, which they have by their Unfaithfulneſs brought upon their Heads, will bear hard upon them in that Place of Torment. Son, remember, will be as cutting a Word to a Miniſter, if he periſh, as to any other Sinner whatſoever: Let them, therefore, who preach to others, fear, leſt they themſelves ſhould be Caſt-aways.

CHAP. XXV.

This Chapter continues, and concludes our Saviour's Diſcourſe, which began in the foregoing Chapter, concerning his Second Coming, and the End of the World. This was his Farewel-Sermon of Caution, as that, John 14, 15, and 16, was of Comfort to his Diſciples; and they had need of both in a World of ſo much Temptation and Trouble as this is. The Application of that Diſcourſe was, Watch therefore, and, Be ye therefore ready. Now in Proſecution of theſe ſerious awakening Cautions, in this Chapter we have Three Parables, the Scope of which is the ſame, to quicken us all with the utmoſt Care and Diligence, to get ready for Chriſt's Second Coming, which, in all his Farewels to his Church, mention was made of; as, that before he died, Joh. 14. 2. at his Aſcenſion, Acts 1. 11. and at the ſhutting up of the Canon of the Scripture, Rev. 22. 20. Now it concerns us to prepare for Chriſt's Coming: (1.) That we may then be ready to attend upon him; and this is ſhew'd in the Parable of the Ten Virgins, v. 1,--13. (2.) That we may then be ready to give up our Accounts to him; and this is ſhew'd in the Parable of the Three Servants, v. 14,--30. (3.) That we may then be ready to receive from him our final Sentence, and that it may be to Eternal Life; and this is ſhew'd in a more plain Deſcription of the Proceſs of the Laſt Judgment, v. 31,--46. Theſe are Things of awful Conſideration, becauſe of everlaſting Concern to every one of us.

THen ſhall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom. 2 And five of them were wiſe, and five were fooliſh. 3 They that were fooliſh took their lamps, and took no oyl with them: 4 But the wiſe took oyl in their veſſels with their lamps. 5 While the bridegroom tarried, they all ſlumbered and ſlept. 6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him. 7 Then all thoſe virgins aroſe, and trimmed their lamps. 8 And the fooliſh ſaid unto the wiſe, Give us of your oyl, for our lamps are gone out. 9 But the wiſe anſwered, ſaying, Not ſo; leſt there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that ſell, and buy for your ſelves. 10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and they that were ready, went in with him to the marriage, and the door was ſhut. 11 Afterward came alſo the other virgins, ſaying, Lord, Lord, open to us. 12 But he anſwered and ſaid, Verily I ſay unto you, I know you not. 13 Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour, wherein the Son of man cometh.

Here, 1. That in general which is to be illuſtrated, is the Kingdom of Heaven, the State of Things under the Goſpel, the External Kingdom of Chriſt, and the Adminiſtration and Succeſs of it. Some of Chriſt's Parables had ſhew'd us what it is like now, in the preſent Reception of it; as Mat. 13. This tells us what it ſhall be like, when the Myſtery of God ſhall be finiſh'd, and that Kingdom deliver'd up to the Father. The Adminiſtration of Chriſt's Government towards the Ready and the Unready in the Great Day, may be illuſtrated by this Similitude. Or, The Kingdom is put for the Subjects of the Kingdom: The Profeſſors of Chriſtianity ſhall then be liken'd to theſe Ten Virgins, and ſhall be thus diſtinguiſh'd.

2. That by which it is illuſtrated is a Marriage Solemnity: 'Twas a Cuſtom ſometimes us'd among the Jews on that Occaſion, that the Bridegroom came, attended with his Friends, late in the Night, to the Houſe of the Bride, where ſhe expected him, attended with her Bride-Maids; who, upon Notice given of the Bridegroom's Approach, were to go out with lamps in their Hands, to light him into the Houſe with Ceremony and Formality, in order to the Celebrating of the Nuptials with great Mirth. And ſome think, on theſe Occaſions they had uſually Ten Virgins: For the Jews never held a Synagogue, Circumcis'd, kept the Paſſover, or contracted Marriage, but Ten Perſons at leaſt were preſent. Boaz, when he marry'd Ruth, had Ten Witneſſes, Ruth 4. 2. Now in this Parable, Firſt, The Bridegroom is our Lord Jeſus Chriſt; he is ſo repreſented in the 45th Pſalm, Solomon's Song, and often in the New Teſtament. It ſpeaks his ſingular and ſuperlative Love to us, and his faithful and inviolable Covenant with his Spouſe the Church. Believers are now betrothed to Chriſt, Hoſ. 2. 19. but the Solemnizing of the Marriage is reſerv'd for the Great Day, when the Bride, the Lamb's Wife, will have made her ſelf compleatly ready, Rev. 19. 7, 9.

Secondly, The Virgins are the Profeſſors of Religion, Members of the Church, but here repreſented as her Companions, Pſal. 45. 14. as elſewhere, her Children, Iſa. 54. 1. her Ornaments, Iſa. 49. 18. They that follow the Lamb, are ſaid to be Virgins, Rev. 14. 4. noting their Beauty and Purity; They are to be preſented as Chaſte Virgins to Chriſt, 2 Cor. 11. 2. The Bridegroom is a King, ſo theſe Virgins are Maids of Honour; Virgins without Number, Cant. 6. 8. yet here ſaid to be Ten.

Thirdly, The Office of theſe Virgins is to meet the Bridegroom, which is as much their Happineſs as their Duty: They come to wait upon the Bridegroom when he appears, and in the mean time to wait for him. See here the Nature of Chriſtianity. As Chriſtians, we profeſs our ſelves to be, (1.) Attendants upon Chriſt, to do him Honour, as the Glorious Bridegroom, to be to him for a Name, and a Praiſe; eſpecially then, when he ſhall come to be glorified in his Saints. We muſt follow him as Honorary Servants do their Maſters, John 12. 26. Hold up the Name, and hold forth the Praiſe of the Exalted Jeſus: This is our Buſineſs. (2.) Expectants of Chriſt, and of his Second Coming. As Chriſtians, we profeſs not only to believe and look for, but to love and long for, the Appearing of Chriſt, and to act in our whole Converſation with a Regard to it. The Second Coming of Chriſt is the Centre in which all the Lines of our Religion meet, and to which the whole of the Divine Life hath a conſtant Reference and Tendency.

Fourthly, Their chief Concern is to have Lights in their Hands when they attend the Bridegroom; thus to do him Honour, and do him Service. Note, Chriſtians are Children of Light. The Goſpel is Light; and they who receive it, muſt not only be enlighten'd by it themſelves, but muſt ſhine as Lights, muſt hold it forth, Phil. 2. 15, 16. This in general.

Now concerning theſe Ten Virgins, we may obſerve, Firſt, Their different Character, with the Proof and Evidence of it.

1. Their Character was, that Five were wiſe, and Five fooliſh, v. 2. And Wiſdom excelleth Folly, as far as Light excelleth Darkneſs; ſo ſaith Solomon, a competent Judge, Eccl. 2. 13. Note, Thoſe of the ſame Profeſſion and Denomination among Men, may yet be of Characters very different in the Sight of God. Sincere Chriſtians are the wiſe Virgins, and Hypocrites the fooliſh ones; as, in another Parable, they are repreſented by wiſe and fooliſh Builders. Note, Thoſe are wiſe, or fooliſh indeed, that are ſo in the Affairs of their Souls. True Religion is true Wiſdom; Sin is Folly, but eſpecially the Sin of Hypocriſy; for thoſe are the greateſt Fools, that are wiſe in their own Conceit; and thoſe the worſt of Sinners, that feign themſelves juſt Men. Some obſerve, from the equal Number of the wiſe and fooliſh, what a Charitable Decorum ('tis Archbiſhop Tillotſon's Expreſſion) Chriſt obſerves, as if he would hope that the Number of true Believers were near equal to that of Hypocrites; or at leaſt teach us to hope the beſt concerning thoſe that profeſs Religion, and to think of them with a Bias to the charitable Side. Tho' in judging of our ſelves, we ought to remember that the Gate is ſtrait, and few find it; yet in judging of others, we ought to remember that the Captain of our Salvation brings many Sons to Glory.

2. The Evidence of this Character was in the very Thing which they were to attend to; by that they are judg'd of.

1. It was the Folly of the fooliſh Virgins, that they took their Lamps, and took no Oyl with them, v. 3. They had juſt Oyl enough to make their Lamps burn for the preſent, to make a Shew with, as if they intended to meet the Bridegroom; but no Cruſe, or Bottle of Oyl with them, for a Recruit if the Bridegroom tarried. Thus Hypocrites.

(1.) They have no Principle within. They have a Lamp of Profeſſion in their Hands, but have not in their Hearts that Stock of ſound Knowledge, rooted Diſpoſitions, and ſettled Reſolutions, which are neceſſary to carry them thro' the Services and Tryals of the preſent State. They act under the Influence of External Inducements, but are void of Spiritual Life: Like a Tradeſman that ſets up without a Stock, or the Seed on the ſtony Ground that wanted Root.

(2.) They have no Proſpect of, nor make Proviſion for, what is to come: They took Lamps for a preſent Shew, but not Oyl for After-Uſe. This Incogitancy is the Ruin of many Profeſſors; all their Care is to recommend themſelves to their Neighbours, whom they now converſe with, not to approve themſelves to Chriſt, whom they muſt hereafter appear before; as if any Thing will ſerve, provided it will but ſerve for the preſent. Tell them of Things not ſeen as yet, and you are like Lot to his Sons-in-Law, as one that mock'd. They do not provide for hereafter, as the Ant doth, nor lay up for the Time to come, 2 Cor. 4. 18.

2 It was the Wiſdom of the wiſe Virgins, that they took Oyl in their Veſſels with their Lamps, v. 4. They had a good Principle within, which would maintain and keep up their Profeſſion. (1.) Their Heart is the Veſſel, which it is our Wiſdom to get furniſh'd; for out of a good Treaſure there good Things muſt be brought; but if that Root be Rottenneſs, the Bloſſom will be Duſt. (2.) Grace is the Oyl which we muſt have in this Veſſel: In the Tabernacle there was conſtant Proviſion made of Oyl for the Light, Exod. 35. 14. Our Light muſt ſhine before Men, in good Works; but this cannot be, or not long, unleſs there be a fix'd, active Principle in the Heart, of Faith in Chriſt, and Love to God and our Brethren; from which we muſt act in every Thing we do in Religion, with an Eye to what is before us. They that took Oyl in their Veſſels, did it upon Suppoſition, that perhaps the Bridegroom might tarry. Note, In looking forwards, 'tis good to prepare for the worſt, to lay in for a Siege. But remember, that this Oyl which keeps the Lamps burning, is deriv'd to the Candleſtick from Jeſus Chriſt, the great and good Olive, by the golden Pipes of the Ordinances, as 'tis repreſented in that Viſion, Zech. 4. 2, 3, 12. which is explain'd, John 1. 16. Of his Fulneſs have all we receiv'd, and Grace for Grace.

Secondly, Their common Fault, during the Bridegroom's Delay, They all ſlumber'd and ſlept, v. 25. Obſerve here,

1. The Bridegroom tarried; i.e. he did not come out ſo ſoon as they expected. What we look for as certain, we are apt to think is very near: Many, in the Apoſtles Times, imagin'd that the Day of the Lord was at Hand; but it is not ſo. Chriſt, as to us, ſeems to tarry, and yet really doth not, Hab. 2. 3. There is good Reaſon for the Bridegroom's tarrying; there are many intermediate Counſels and Purpoſes to be accompliſh'd, the Elect muſt all be call'd in, God's Patience muſt be manifeſted, and the Saints Patience try'd; the Harveſt of the Earth muſt be ripen'd, and ſo muſt the Harveſt of Heaven too. But tho' Chriſt tarry paſt our Time, he will not tarry paſt the due Time.

2. While he tarried, thoſe that waited for him grew careleſs, and forgot what they were attending, they all ſlumber'd and ſlept; as if they had given over looking for him; for when the Son of Man comes, he will not find Faith, Luk. 18. 8. Thoſe that inferr'd the Suddenneſs of it from its Certainty, when that anſwer'd not their Expectation, were apt from the Delay to infer its Uncertainty. The wiſe Virgins ſlumber'd, and the fooliſh ſlept; ſo ſome diſtinguiſh it: However, they were both faulty. The wiſe Virgins kept their Lamps burning, but did not keep themſelves awake. Note, Too many good Chriſtians, when they have been long in Profeſſion, grow remiſs in their Preparations for Chriſt's Second Coming: They intermit their Care, abate their Zeal; their Graces are not lively, nor their Works found perfect before God; and tho' all Love be not loſt, yet the firſt Love is left. If 'twas hard to the Diſciples to watch with Chriſt one Hour, much more to watch with him an Age. I ſleep, (ſaith the Spouſe) but my Heart wakes. Obſerve, Firſt, They ſlumber'd, and then they ſlept. Note, One Degree of Careleſneſs and Remiſneſs makes way for another. Thoſe that allow themſelves in Slumbering, will ſcarce keep themſelves from Sleeping; therefore dread the Beginning of Spiritual Decays; Venienti occurrite Morbo. The Ancients generally underſtood the Virgins Slumbering and Sleeping of their Dying; they all dy'd, wiſe and fooliſh, (Pſal. 49. 10.) before Judgment-Day. So Ferus; Antequam veniat Sponſus, omnibus obdormiſcendum eſt, h. e. moriendum; and ſo Calvin. But I think 'tis rather to be taken as we have open'd it.

Thirdly, The ſurprizing Summons given them to attend the Bridegroom, v. 6. At Midnight there was a Cry made, Behold, the Bridegroom cometh. Note, (1.) Tho' Chriſt tarry long, he will come at laſt; tho' he ſeem ſlow, he is ſure. In his firſt coming he was thought long by thoſe that waited for the Conſolation of Iſrael, yet in the Fulneſs of Time he came; ſo his Second Coming, tho' long deferr'd, is not forgotten: His Enemies ſhall find to their Coſt, that Forbearance is no Acquittance; and his Friends ſhall find to their Comfort, that the Viſion is for an appointed Time, and at the End it ſhall ſpeak, and not lye. The Year of the Redeemed is fix'd, and it will come. (2.) Chriſt's Coming will be at our Midnight, when we leaſt look for him, and are moſt diſpos'd to take our Reſt. His coming for the Relief and Comfort of his People, often is when the Good intended ſeems to be at the greateſt diſtance: And his coming to reckon with his Enemies, is when they put the evil Day furtheſt from them. 'Twas at Midnight that the Firſt-born of Egypt were deſtroy'd, and Iſrael deliver'd, Exod. 12. 22. Death often comes when 'tis leaſt expected; the Soul requir'd this Night, Luke 12. 20. Chriſt will come when he pleaſeth, to ſhew his Sovereignty; and will not let us know when, to teach us our Duty. (3.) When Chriſt comes, we muſt go forth to meet him. As Chriſtians, we are bound to attend all the Motions of the Lord Jeſus, and meet him in all his Out-goings. When he comes to us at Death, we muſt go forth out of the Body, out of the World, to meet him with Affections and Workings of Soul, ſuitable to the Diſcoveries we then expect him to make of himſelf. Go ye forth to meet him, is a Call to thoſe who are habitually prepar'd, to be actually ready. (4.) The Notice given of Chriſt's Approach, and the Call to meet him, will be awakening: There was a Cry made. His firſt Coming was not with any Obſervation at all, nor did they ſay, Lo, here is Chriſt, or, Lo, he is there: He was in the World, and the World knew him not: But his Second Coming will be with the Obſervation of all the World; Every Eye ſhall ſee him. There will be a Cry from Heaven, for he ſhall deſcend with a Shout, Ariſe ye Dead, and come to Judgment; and a Cry from the Earth too, a Cry to Rocks and Mountains, Rev. 6. 16.

Fourthly, The Addreſs they all made to anſwer this Summons, v. 7. They all aroſe, and trimmed their Lamps; ſnuff'd them, and ſupply'd them with Oyl, and went about with all Expedition to put themſelves in a Poſture to receive the Bridegroom. Now, (1.) This in the wiſe Virgins, ſpeaks an actual Preparation for the Bridegroom's Coming. Note, Thoſe that are beſt prepar'd for Death, yet upon the immediate Arreſts of it, have Work to do to get themſelves actually ready, that they may be found in Peace, 2 Pet. 3. 14. found doing, Mat. 24. 46. and not found naked, 2 Cor. 5. 3. 'Twill be a Day of Search and Enquiry, and it concerns us to think how we ſhall then be found. When we ſee the Day approaching, we muſt addreſs our ſelves to our dying Work with all Serioufneſs, renewing our Repentance for Sin, our Conſent to the Covenant, our Farewels to the World; and our Souls muſt be carry'd out towards God in ſuitable Breathings. (2.) In the fooliſh Virgins, it notes a vain Confidence and Conceit of the Goodneſs of their State, and their Readineſs for another World. Note, Even counterfeit Graces will ſerve a Man to make a ſhew of when he comes to dye, as well as they have done all his Life long. The Hypocrites Hopes blaze when they are juſt expiring, like a Lightning before Death.

Fifthly, The Diſtreſs which the fooliſh Virgins were in for want of Oyl, v. 8, 9. This ſpeaks, (1.) The Apprehenſions which ſome Hypocrites have of the Miſery of their State, even on this ſide Death, when God opens their Eyes to ſee their Folly, and themſelves periſhing with a Lye in their Right-hand. Or however, (2.) The real Miſery of their State on the other ſide Death, and in the Judgment; how far their fair, but falſe Profeſſion of Religion, will be from availing them any Thing in the Great Day. See what comes of it!

1. Their Lamps are gone out. The Lamps of Hypocrites often go out in this Life; when they who have begun in the Spirit, end in the Fleſh, and the Hypocriſy breaks out in an open Apoſtacy, 2 Pet. 2. 20. The Profeſſion withers, and the Credit of it is loſt; the Hopes fail, and the Comfort of them is gone: How oft is the Candle of the Wicked thus put out? Job 21. 17. Yet many an Hypocrite keeps up both the Credit and the Comfort of his Profeſſion, ſuch as it is, to the laſt; but what is it when God takes away his Soul? Job 27. 8. If his Candle be not put out before him, 'tis put out with him, Job 18. 5, 6. He ſhall lye down in Sorrow, Iſa. 50. 11. The Gains of an hypocritical Profeſſion will not follow a Man to Judgment, Mat. 7. 22, 23. The Lamps are gone out, when the Hypocrites Hope proves like the Spider's Web, John 8. 11, &c. and like the giving up of the Ghoſt, Job 11. 20. Like Abſalom's Mule, that left him in the Oak.

2. They wanted Oyl to ſupply them when they were going out. Note, Thoſe that take up ſhort of true Grace, will certainly find the want of it one Time or other. An External Profeſſion well humour'd, may carry a Man far, but it will not carry him through; may light him along this World, but the Damps of the Valley of the Shadow of Death will put it out.

3. They would gladly be beholden to the wiſe Virgins for a Supply out of their Veſſels: Give us of your Oyl. Note, The Day is coming, when carnal Hypocrites would gladly be found in the Condition of true Chriſtians. Thoſe who now hate the Strictneſs of Religion, will at Death and Judgment wiſh for the ſolid Comforts of it. Thoſe who care not to live the Life, yet would dye the Death of the Righteous. The Day is coming, when thoſe who now look with Contempt upon humble, contrite Saints, would gladly get an Intereſt in them, and would value thoſe as their beſt Friends and Benefactors, whom now they ſet with the Dogs of their Flock. Give us of your Oyl; that is, ſpeak a good Word for us; ſo ſome. But there's no Occaſion for Vouchers in the Great Day; the Judge knows what's every Man's true Character. But is it not well that they are brought to ſay, Give us of your Oyl? It is ſo: But, (1.) This Requeſt was extorted by ſenſible Neceſſity. Note, Thoſe will ſee their Need of Grace hereafter, when it ſhould ſave them, that will not ſee their Need of Grace now, when it ſhould ſanctify and rule them. (2.) It comes too late. God would have given them Oyl, had they ask'd in Time; but there's no buying when the Market's over, no bidding when the Inch of Candle is dropp'd.

4. They were deny'd a Share in their Companions Oyl. 'Tis a ſad Preſage of a Repulſe with God, when they were thus repuls'd by good People. The Wiſe anſwer'd, Not ſo: That peremptory Denial is not in the Original, but ſupply'd by the Tranſlators. Theſe wiſe Virgins would rather give a Reaſon without a poſitive Refuſal, than (as many do) give a poſitive Refuſal without a Reaſon. They were well inclin'd to help their Neighbours in Diſtreſs; but we muſt not, we cannot, we dare not do it, leſt there be not enough for us and you. Charity begins at Home; but, go and buy for your ſelves. Note, (1.) Thoſe that would be ſaved, muſt have Grace of their own. Tho' we have Benefit by the Communion of Saints, and the Faith and Prayers of others may now redound to our Advantage, yet our own Sanctification is indiſpenſibly neceſſary to our own Salvation. The Juſt ſhall live by his Faith. Every Man ſhall give Account of himſelf, and therefore let every Man prove his own Work; for he cannot get another to Muſter for him in that Day. (2.) Thoſe that have moſt Grace have none to ſpare; all we have is little enough for our ſelves to appear before God in. The beſt have need to borrow from Chriſt, but they have none to lend to any of their Neighbours. The Church of Rome, that dreams of Works of Supererogation, and the Imputation of the Righteouſneſs of Saints, forgets that it was the Wiſdom of the wiſe Virgins to underſtand that they had but Oyl enough for themſelves, and none for others. But obſerve, theſe wiſe Virgins did not upbraid the Fooliſh with their Neglect, nor boaſt of their own Forecaſt, nor torment them with Suggeſtions tending to Deſpair, but give them the beſt Advice the Caſe will bear. Go ye rather to them that Sell. Note, Thoſe that deal fooliſhly in the Affairs of their Souls are to be pitied, and not inſulted over; for who made thee to differ? When Miniſters attend ſuch as have been mindleſs of God and their Souls all their Days, but are under Death-bed Convictions, and becauſe true Repentance is never too late, direct them to repent, and turn to God, and cloſe with Chriſt; yet becauſe late Repentance is ſeldom true, they do but as theſe wiſe Virgins did by the Fooliſh, even make the beſt of bad. They can but tell them what is to be done, if it be not too late; but whether the Door may not be ſhut before it is done, is an unſpeakable hazard. 'Tis good Advice now, if it be taken in time, Go to them that ſell, and buy for your ſelves. Note, Thoſe that would have Grace, muſt have recourſe to, and attend upon the means of Grace. See Iſa. 55. 1.

Sixthly, The coming of the Bridegroom, and the Iſſue of all this different Character of the wiſe and fooliſh Virgins. See what came of it.

1. While they went out to buy, the Bridegroom came. Note, Thoſe that put off their great Work to the laſt, 'tis a thouſand to one they have not time to do it then. Getting Grace is a Work of Time, and cannot be done in a hurry. While the poor awakened Soul addreſſeth it ſelf upon a Sick-bed to Repentance and Prayer, in a mighty Confuſion, it ſcarce knows which end to begin at, or what to do firſt, and preſently Death comes, Judgment comes, and the Work is undone, and the poor Sinner undone for ever. This comes of having Oyl to buy, when we ſhould burn it, and Grace to get, when we ſhould uſe it.

The Bridegroom came. Note, Our Lord Jeſus will come to his People at the great Day, as a Bridegroom will come in Pomp, and rich Attire, attended with his Friends; now the Bridegroom is taken away from us, we Faſt, Mat. 9. 15. But then will be an Everlaſting Feaſt. Then the Bridegroom will fetch home his Bride, to be where he is, John 17. 24. and will rejoice over his Bride, Iſa. 62. 5.

2. They that were ready went in with him to the Marriage. Note, (1.) To be eternally Glorified, is to go in with Chriſt to the Marriage, to be in his immediate Preſence, and in the moſt intimate Fellowſhip and Communion with him in a State of Eternal Reſt, Joy, and Plenty. (2.) Thoſe, and thoſe only ſhall go to Heaven hereafter, that are made ready for Heaven here, that are wrought to the ſelf ſame thing, 2 Cor. 5. 5. (3.) The Suddenneſs of Death, and of Chriſt's coming to us then, will be no Obſtruction to our Happineſs, if we have been habitually prepared.

3. The Door was ſhut, as is uſual, when all the Company is come that are to be admitted. The Door was ſhut, (1.) to ſecure thoſe that were within; that being now made Pillars in the Houſe of our God, they may go no more out, Rev. 3. 12. Adam was put into Paradiſe, but the Door was left open, and ſo he went out again; but when glorified Saints are put into the Heavenly Paradiſe, they are ſhut in. (2.) To Seclude thoſe that were out. The State of Sants and Sinners will then be unalterably fix'd, and thoſe that are ſhut out then, will be ſhut out for ever. Now the Gate is ſtrait, yet it is open, but then it will be ſhut and bolted, and a great Gulf fixed. This was like the ſhutting of the Door of the Ark when Noah was in, as he was thereby preſerv'd, ſo all the reſt were finally abandoned.

4. The fooliſh Virgins came when it was too late, v. 11. afterwards came alſo the other Virgins. Note, 1. There are many that will ſeek Admiſſion into Heaven when it is too late; as prophane Eſau, who afterwards would have inherited the Bleſſing. God and Religion will be glorified by thoſe late Sollicitations, tho' Sinners will not be ſaved by them; 'tis for the Honour of, Lord, Lord, that is, of fervent and importunate Prayer, that thoſe who ſlight it now will flee to it ſhortly, and 'twill not be called Whining and Canting then. 2. The vain Confidence of Hypocrites will carry them very far in their Expectations of Happineſs. They go to Heaven-gate, and demand Entrance, and yet are ſhut out; lifted up to Heaven in a fond Conceit of the Goodneſs of their State, and yet thruſt down to Hell.

5. They were rejected, as Eſau was, v. 12. I know you not. Note, We are all concern'd to ſeek the Lord while he may be found; for there is a Time coming, when he will not be found. Time was when, Lord, Lord, open to us, would have ſped well by Virtue of that Promiſe, Knock, and it ſhall be open'd unto you; but now it comes too late. The Sentence is ſolemnly bound on, with, Verily, I ſay unto you, which amounts to no leſs than Swearing in his Wrath, that they ſhould never enter into his Reſt. It ſpeaks him reſolv'd, and them ſilenc'd by it.

Laſtly, Here's a Practical Inference drawn from this Parable, v. 13. Watch therefore. We had it before, Chap. 24. 42. and here 'tis repeated as the moſt needful Caution. Note, 1. Our great Duty is to Watch, to attend to the Buſineſs of our Souls with the utmoſt Diligence and Circumſpection. Be awake, and be wakeful. 2. 'Tis a good Reaſon for our watching, that the Time of our Lord's coming is very uncertain; we know neither the Day, nor the Hour. Therefore every Day, and every Hour we muſt be ready, and not off our Watch any Day in the Year, or any Hour in the Day; be thou in the Fear of the Lord every Day, and all the Day long.

14 For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far Countrey, who called his own ſervants, and delivered unto them his goods: 15 And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one, to every man according to his ſeveral ability, and ſtraitway took his journey. 16 Then he that had received the five talents, went and traded with the ſame, and made them other five talents. 17 And likewiſe he that had received two, he alſo gained other two. 18 But he that had received one, went and digged in the earth, and hid his lords money. 19 After a long time, the Lord of thoſe Servants cometh, and reckoneth with them. 20 And ſo he that had received five talents, came and brought other five talents, ſaying, Lord, thou deliveredſt unto me five talents: behold, I have gained beſides them five talents more. 21 His lord ſaid unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful ſervant, thou haſt been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. 22 He alſo that had received two talents, came and ſaid, Lord, thou deliveredſt unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents beſides them. 23 His lord ſaid unto him, Well done, good and faithful ſervant; thou haſt been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord. 24 Then he which had received the one talent, came and ſaid, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou haſt not ſown, and gathering where thou haſt not ſtrawed: 25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou haſt that is thine. 26 His lord anſwered and ſaid unto him, Thou wicked and ſlothful ſervant, thou kneweſt that I reap where I ſowed not, and gather where I have not ſtrawed: 27 Thou oughteſt therefore to have put my money to the Exchangers, and then at my coming I ſhould have received mine own with uſury. 28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents. 29 For unto every one that hath ſhall be given, and he ſhall have abundance: but from him that hath not, ſhall be taken away, even that which he hath. 30 And caſt ye the unprofitable ſervant into outer darkneſs: there ſhall be weeping and gnaſhing of teeth.

We have here the Parable of the Talents committed to three Servants, and this ſpeaks us in a State of Work and Buſineſs, as the former in a State of Expectancy. That ſhew'd the neceſſity of habitual Preparation, this of actual Diligence in our preſent Work and Service. In that we were ſtirr'd up to do well for our own Souls; in this to lay out our ſelves for the Glory of God, and the Good of others.

In this Parable, (1.) The Maſter is Chriſt, who is the abſolute Owner and Proprietor of all Perſons and Things, and in a ſpecial manner of his Church, into his Hands all Things are delivered. (2.) The Servants are Chriſtians, his own Servants, ſo they are call'd, born in his Houſe, bought with his Money, devoted to his Praiſe, and employed in his Work. 'Tis likely Miniſters are eſpecially intended here, who are more immediately attending on him, and ſent by him. St. Paul often calls himſelf a Servant of Jeſus Chriſt. See 2 Tim. 2. 24.

We have three Things in general in this Parable.

Firſt, The Truſt committed to theſe Servants: Their Maſter delivered to them his Goods; having appointed them to Work, (for Chriſt keeps no Servants to be idle) he left them ſomething to work upon. Note, 1. Chriſt's Servants have and receive their All from him; for they are of themſelves worth nothing, nor any Thing they can call their own but Sin. (2.) Our receiving from Chriſt is in order to our working for him. Our Privileges are intended to find us with Buſineſs: The manifeſtation of the Spirit is given to every Man to profit withal. (3.) Whatever we receive to be made uſe of for Chriſt, ſtill the Property is veſted in him; we are but Tenants upon his Land, Stewards of his manifold Grace, 1 Pet. 4. 10. Now obſerve here,

1. On what occaſion this Truſt was committed to theſe Servants; The Maſter was travelling into a far Countrey: This is explain'd, Eph. 4. 8. when he aſcended on high, he gave Gifts unto Men. Note, (1.) When Chriſt went to Heaven, he was as a man travelling into a far Countrey, i. e. He went with a Purpoſe to be away a great while. (2.) When he went, he took care to furniſh his Church with all Things neceſſary for it, during his perſonal Abſence. For, and in conſideration of his Departure, he committed to his Church Truths, Laws, Promiſes, and Powers; theſe were the παρακαταθήκη, the great Depoſitum, as it is called, 1 Tim. 6. 20. 2 Tim. 1. 14. The good thing that is committed to us; and he ſent his Spirit to enable his Servants to teach and profeſs thoſe Truths, to preſs and obſerve thoſe Laws, to improve and apply thoſe Promiſes, and to exerciſe and employ thoſe Powers, ordinary or extraordinary. Thus Chriſt at his Aſcenſion left his Goods to his Church.

2. In what proportion this Truſt was committed. (1.) He gave Talents; A Talent of Silver is computed to be in our Money 353*l*. 11*s*. 10*d*. ob. ſo the Learned Biſhop Cumberland. Note, Chriſt's Gifts are rich and valuable, the Purchaſes of his Blood ineſtimable, and none of them mean. (2.) He gave to ſome more, to others leſs; to one five Talents, to another two, to another one; to every one according to his ſeveral Ability. When Divine Providence has made a difference in Men's Ability, as to Mind, Body, Eſtate, Relation, Intereſt, Divine Grace diſpenſeth Spiritual Gifts accordingly, but ſtill the Ability it ſelf is from him. Obſerve, (1.) Every one had ſome, one Talent at leaſt, and that's not a deſpicable Stock for a poor Servant to begin with. A Soul of our own is the one Talent we are every one of us intruſted with, and it will find us with Work. Hoc nempe ob Homine exigitur, ut proſit Hominibus; ſi fieri poteſt multis, ſi minus paucis, ſi minus proximis, ſi minus ſibi, nam cum ſe utilem ceteris efficit, commune ait negotium. Et ſi quis bene de ſe meretur, hoc ipſo aliis prodeſt quod aliis profuturum parat. Seneca de otio Sapient. (2.) All had not alike, for they had not all like Abilities and Opportunities; God is a free Agent, dividing every Man ſeverally as he will: ſome are cut out for Service in one kind, others in another, as the Members of the Natural Body: When the Houſholder had thus ſettled his Affairs, he ſtraitway took his Journey. Our Lord Jeſus when he had given Commandments to his Apoſtles, as one in haſte to be gone, he went to Heaven.

Secondly, The different management and improvement of this Truſt, which we have an account of, v. 16, 17, 18.

1. Two of the Servants did well.

(1.) They were diligent and faithful; they went and traded, they put the Money they were intruſted with to the uſe for which it was intended, laid it out in Goods, and made Returns of it; as ſoon as ever their Maſter was gone, they immediately applied themſelves to their Buſineſs: Thoſe that have ſo much Work to do, as every Chriſtian has, have need to ſet about it quickly, and loſe no time. They went and traded. Note, A true Chriſtian is a ſpiritual Tradeſman: Trades are called Myſteries, and without Controverſy great is the Myſtery of Godlineſs; 'Tis a Manufacture Trade; there is ſomething to be done by us upon our own Hearts, and for the good of others. 'Tis a Merchant Trade, Things of leſs Value to us are parted with for Things of greater Value; Wiſdom's Merchandiſe, Prov. 3. 5. Mat. 13. 45. A Tradeſman is one that having made his Trade his Choice, and taken Pains to learn it, made it his Buſineſs to follow it, lays out all he hath for the advancement of it, makes all other Affairs truckle to it, and lives upon the Gain of it. Thus doth a true Chriſtian in the Work of Religion; we have no Stocks of our own to trade with, but trade as Factors with our Maſter's Stock. The Endowments of the Mind, Reaſon, Wit, Learning, muſt be us'd in ſubſerviency to Religion; the Enjoyments of the World, Eſtate, Credit, Intereſt, Power, Preferment, muſt be improv'd for the Honour of Chriſt. The Ordinances of the Goſpel, and our Opportunities of attending them, Bibles, Miniſters, Sabbaths, Sacraments, muſt be improv'd for the End for which they were inſtituted, and Communion with God kept up by them; and the Gifts and Graces of the Spirit muſt be exerciſed: And this is Trading with our Talents.

(2.) They were ſucceſsful; they doubled their Stock, and in a little Time made Cent. per Cent. of it: He that had Five Talents, ſoon made them other Five. Trading with our Talents is not always ſucceſsful with others, but however, it ſhall be ſo to our ſelves, Iſa. 49. 4. Note, the Hand of the Diligent makes rich in Graces and Comforts, and Treaſures of good Works. There's a great deal to be got by Induſtry in Religion.

Obſerve, The Returns were in Proportion to the Receivings. (1.) From thoſe to whom God hath given Five Talents, he expects the Improvement of Five, and to reap plentifully where he ſows plentifully. The greater Gifts any have, the more Pains they ought to take, as thoſe muſt that have a large Stock to manage. (2.) From thoſe to whom he has given but Two Talents, he expects only the Improvement of Two; which may encourage thoſe who are plac'd in a lower and narrower Sphere of Uſefulneſs, if they lay out themſelves to do good according to the beſt of their Capacity and Opportunity, they ſhall be accepted, tho' they do not ſo much good as others.

2. The Third did ill, v. 18. He that had received one Talent, went and hid his Lord's Money. Tho' the Parable repreſents but One in Three unfaithful, yet in a Hiſtory that anſwers this Parable, we find the Diſproportion quite the other way; when Ten Lepers were cleanſed, Nine of the Ten hid the Talent, and only One returned to give Thanks, Luke 17. 17, 18. The unfaithful Servant was he that had but One Talent; doubtleſs there are many that have Five Talents, and bury them all; great Abilities, great Advantages, and yet do no good with them; But Chriſt would hint to us, (1.) That if he that had but One Talent, be reckon'd with thus for burying that one, much more will they be accounted Offenders, that have more, that have many, and bury them. If he that was but of ſmall Capacity, was caſt into utter Darkneſs, becauſe he did not improve what he had as he might have done; of how much ſorer Puniſhment, ſuppoſe ye, ſhall he be thought worthy, that tramples under foot the greateſt Advantages? (2.) That many Times thoſe who have leaſt to do for God, do leaſt of what they have to do. Some make it an Excuſe for their Lazineſs, that they have not the Opportunities of ſerving God that others have; and becauſe they have not wherewithal to do what they ſay they would, they will not do what we are ſure they can, and ſo ſit down and do nothing: It is really an Aggravation of their Sloth, that when they have but One Talent to take care about, they neglect that one.

He digg'd in the Earth, and hid the Talent, for fear it ſhould be ſtolen: He did not miſ-ſpend or miſ-employ it, did not embezzle it, or ſquander it away; but he hid it. Money is like Muck, (ſo my Lord Bacon us'd to ſay) good for nothing in the Heap, but it muſt be ſpread; yet 'tis an Evil we have often ſeen under the Sun, Treaſure heaped together, Jam. 5. 3. Eccl. 6. 1, 2. which doth good to no body. And ſo it is in Spiritual Gifts; many have them, and make no uſe of them, for the End for which they were given them. Thoſe that have Eſtates, and do not lay out in Works of Piety and Charity, that have Power and Intereſt, and do not with it promote Religion in the Places where they live; Miniſters that have Capacities and Opportunities of doing good, but do not ſtir up the Gift that is in them; are thoſe ſlothful Servants, that ſeek their own Things more than Chriſt's.

He hid his Lord's Money: Had it been his own, he might have done as he pleas'd; but whatever Abilities and Advantages we have, they are not our own; we are but Stewards of them, and muſt give Account to our Lord, whoſe Goods they are. 'Twas an Aggravation of his Slothfulneſs, that his Fellow-Servants were buſy, and ſucceſsful in Trading, and their Zeal ſhould have provok'd his. Are others active; and ſhall we be idle?

Thirdly, The Account of this Improvement, v. 19. (1.) The Account is deferr'd; 'tis not till after a long Time that they are reckon'd with: Not that the Maſter neglects his Affairs, or that God is ſlack concerning his Promiſe, 2 Pet. 3. 9. No, he is ready to judge, 1 Pet. 4. 5. but every Thing muſt be done in its Time and Order. (2.) Yet the Day of Account comes at laſt, The Lord of thoſe Servants reckoneth with them. Note, The Stewards of the manifold Grace of God muſt ſhortly give Account of their Stewardſhip: We muſt all be reckon'd with, what Good we have got to our own Souls, and what Good we have done to others, by the Advantages we have enjoy'd. See Rom. 14. 10, 11. Now here is,

(1.) The good Account of the faithful Servants: And there obſerve, 1. The Servants giving up the Account, v. 20, 22. Lord, thou deliveredſt to me five Talents, and to me Two; Behold, I have gained Five Talents, Two Talents more.

(1.) Chriſt's faithful Servants acknowledge with Thankfulneſs his Vouchſafements to them; Lord, thou deliveredſt to me ſuch and ſuch Things. Note, 1. It is good to keep a particular Account of our Receivings from God, to remember what we have received, that we may know what is expected from us, and may render according to the Benefit. 2. We muſt never look upon our Improvements but with a general mention of God's Favour to us, and the Honour he has put upon us, in intruſting us with his Goods, and that Grace which is the Spring and Fountain of all the Good that is in us, or is done by us. For the Truth is, the more we do for God, the more we are indebted to him for making uſe of us, and enabling us for his Service.

(2.) They produce, as an Evidence of their Faithfulneſs, what they have gained. Note, God's good Stewards have ſomething to ſhew for their Diligence: Shew me thy Faith by thy Works. He that is a good Man, let him ſhew it, Jam. 3. 13. If we be careful in our Spiritual Trade, it will ſoon be ſeen by us, and our Works will follow us, Rev. 14. 13. Not that the Saints will in the Great Day make mention of their own good Deeds; no, Chriſt will do that for them, v. 35. But it intimates, that they who faithfully improve their Talents, ſhall have Boldneſs in the Day of Chriſt, 1 Joh. 2. 28.—4. 17. And it is obſervable, that he that had but Two Talents, gave up his Account as chearfully as he that had Five: For our Comfort in the Day of Account will be according to our Faithfulneſs, not according to our Uſefulneſs; our Sincerity, not our Succeſs; according to the Uprightneſs of our Hearts, not according to the Degree of our Opportunities.

2. The Maſter's Acceptance and Approbation of their Account, v. 21, 23.

(1.) He commended them; Well done good and faithful Servant; Note, The Diligence and Integrity of thoſe who approve themſelves the good and faithful Servants of Jeſus Chriſt, will certainly be found to Praiſe and Honour and Glory at his appearing, 1 Pet. 1. 7. Thoſe that own and honour God now, he will own and honour them ſhortly. (1.) Their Perſons will be accepted; thou good and faithful Servant. He that knows the Integrity of his Servants now, will witneſs to it, in the Great Day, and they that are found faithful ſhall be call'd ſo. Perhaps they were cenſur'd by Men, as righteous overmuch, but Chriſt will give them their juſt Characters, of Good and Faithful. (2.) Their Performances will be accepted, Well done: Chriſt will call thoſe, and thoſe only, good Servants that have done well; for it is by patient continuance in well-doing, that we ſeek for this Glory and Honour; and if we ſeek we ſhall find; if we do that which is good, and do it well, we ſhall have praiſe of the ſame. Some Maſters are ſo moroſe, that they will not commend their Servants, tho' they do their Work never ſo well, 'tis thought enough not to chide, but Chriſt will commend his Servants that do well; whether their Praiſe be of Men or no, it is of him; and if we have the good Word of our Maſter, the Matter is not great what our Fellow-Servants ſay of us; if he ſaith Well done, we are happy, and it ſhould then be a ſmall thing to us to be judg'd of Men's Judgment; as on the contrary, not he that commendeth himſelf, or whom his Neighbours commend, is approved, but whom the Lord commends.

(2.) He rewardeth them: The faithful Servants of Chriſt ſhall not be put off with bare Commendations, no, all their Work and Labour of Love ſhall be rewarded.

Now this reward is here expreſſed two ways.

1. In one Expreſſion agreeable to the Parable, Thou haſt been faithful over a few things, I will make thee Ruler over many things. 'Tis uſual in the Courts of Princes, and Families of Great Men, to advance thoſe to higher Offices, that have been faithful in lower. Note, Chriſt is a Maſter that will prefer his Servants, who acquit themſelves well. Chriſt has Honour in Store for thoſe that honour him; a Crown, 2 Tim. 4. 8. a Throne, Rev. 3. 21. a Kingdom, Mat. 25. 34. Here they are Beggars, in Heaven they ſhall be Rulers. The Upright ſhall have Dominion: Chriſt's Servants are all Princes.

Obſerve the Diſproportion between the Work and the Reward: They are but few Things in which the Saints are ſerviceable to the Glory of God, but many Things wherein they ſhall be glorified with God. What Charge we receive from God, what Work we do for God in this World is but little, very little, compar'd with the Joy ſet before us. Put together all our Services, all our Sufferings, all our Improvements, all the Good we do to others, all we get to our ſelves, and they are but a few Things, next nothing; not worthy to be compar'd, not fit to be nam'd the ſame Day with the Glory to be reveal'd.

2. In another Expreſſion which ſlips out of the Parable into the Thing ſignified by it; Enter thou into the Joy of thy Lord. Note, (1.) The State of the Bleſſed is a State of Joy; not only becauſe all Tears ſhall then be wiped away, but all the Springs of Comfort ſhall be open'd to them, and the Fountains of Joy broken up; where there's the Viſion and Fruition of God, a Perfection of Holineſs, and the Society of the Bleſſed, there cannot but be Fulneſs of Joy. (2.) This Joy is the Joy of our Lord; the Joy which he himſelf has purchaſed, and provided for them: The Joy of the Redeemer, bought with the Sorrow of the Redeemer. 'Tis the Joy which he himſelf is in the Poſſeſſion of, and which he had his Eye upon when he endur'd the Croſs, and deſpis'd the Shame, Heb. 12. 2. 'Tis the Joy which he himſelf is the Fountain and Centre of; 'tis the Joy of our Lord, for it is Joy in the Lord, who is our exceeding Joy. Abraham was not willing that the Steward of his Houſe, tho' faithful, ſhould be his Heir, Gen. 15. 23. But Chriſt admits his faithful Stewards into his own Joy, to be Joint-Heirs with him. (3.) Glorified Saints ſhall enter into this Joy, i. e. ſhall have a full and compleat Poſſeſſion of it; as the Heir, when he comes to Age, enters upon his Eſtate, as they that were ready went in to the Marriage-Feaſt. Here the Joy of our Lord enters into the Saints, in the Earneſt of the Spirit; ſhortly they ſhall enter into it, ſhall be in it to Eternity, as in their Element.

(2.) The bad Account of the ſlothful Servant. Obſerve,

1. His Apology for himſelf, v. 24, 25. Tho' he had received but One Talent, for that One he is call'd to Account. The Smalneſs of our Receiving will not excuſe us from Reckoning. None ſhall be call'd to an Account for more than they have received; but for what we have, we muſt all account.

Obſerve, 1. What he confides in: He comes to the Account with a deal of Aſſurance, relying on the Plea he had to put in, that he was able to ſay, Lo, there thou haſt that is thine: If I have not made it more, as the others have done, yet this I can ſay, I have not made it leſs. And this he thinks may ſerve to bring him off, if not with Praiſe, yet with Safety.

Note, Many a one goes very ſecurely to Judgment, preſuming upon the Validity of a Plea that will be over-rul'd as vain and frivilous. Slothful Profeſſors, that are afraid of doing too much for God, yet hope to come off as well as thoſe that take ſo much Pains in Religion. Thus The Sluggard is wiſer in his own Conceit than ſeven Men that can render a Reaſon, Prov. 26. 16. This Servant thought his Account would paſs well enough, becauſe he could ſay, There thou haſt that is thine: Lord, I was no Spend-thrift of my Eſtate, no Prodigal of my Time, no Profaner of my Sabbaths, no Oppoſer of good Miniſters, and good Preaching: Lord, I never ridicul'd my Bible, nor ſet my Wits on Work to banter Religion, nor abus'd my Power to perſecute any good Man: I never drown'd my Parts, nor waſted God's good Creatures in Drunkenneſs and Gluttony nor ever to my Knowledge did Injury to any body. Many that are called Chriſtians, build great Hopes for Heaven, upon their being able to make ſuch an Account; and yet all this amounts to no more, but, there thou haſt that is thine; as if no more were requir'd, or could be expected.

2. What he confeſſeth: He owns the burying of his Talent; I hid thy Talent in the Earth. He ſpeaks as if that were no great Fault; nay, as if he deſerv'd Praiſe for his Prudence, in putting it in a ſafe Place, and running no Hazards with it. Note, 'Tis common for People to make a very light matter of that which will be their Condemnation in the great Day. Or, if he was conſcious to himſelf that it was his Fault, it intimates how eaſily ſlothful Servants will be convicted in the Judgment; there will need no great ſearch for Proof, for their own Tongues ſhall fall upon them.

3. What he makes his Excuſe; I knew that thou waſt a hard Man, and I was afraid. Good Thoughts of God would beget Love, and that Love would make us diligent and faithful, but hard Thoughts of God beget Fear, and that Fear makes us ſlothful and unfaithful. His Excuſe ſpeaks,

1. The Sentiments of an Enemy; I knew thee that thou art an hard Man. This was like that wicked Saying of the Houſe of Iſrael, The Way of the Lord is not equal, Ezek. 18. 25. Thus his Defence is his Offence; the fooliſhneſs of Man perverteth his way, and then, as if that would mend the Matter, his Heart fretteth againſt the Lord. This is covering the Tranſgreſſion, as Adam, who implicitly laid the Fault on God himſelf, the Woman which thou gaveſt me. Note, Carnal Hearts are apt to conceive falſe and wicked Opinions concerning God, and with them to harden themſelves in their evil Ways. Obſerve how confidently he ſpeaks, I knew thee to be ſo: How could he know him to be ſo? What Iniquity have we or our Fathers found in him? Jer. 2. 5. wherein has he wearied us with his Work, or deceiv'd us in his Wages? Mic. 6. 3. Hath he been a Wilderneſs to us, or a Land of Darkneſs? Thus long God has govern'd the World, and may ask with more reaſon than Samuel himſelf could, whom have I defrauded? Or, whom have I oppreſſed? Doth not all the World know the contrary, that he is ſo far from being a hard Maſter, that the Earth is full of his Goodneſs? So far from reaping where he ſowed not, that he ſows a great deal where he reaps nothing, for he cauſeth the Sun to ſhine, and his Rain to fall upon the Evil and Unthankful, and fills their Hearts with Food and Gladneſs, who ſay to the Almighty, Depart from us. This Suggeſtion ſpeaks the common Reproach wicked People caſt upon God, as if all the Blame of their Sin and Ruin lay at his Door, for denying them his Grace; whereas it is certain, never any that faithfully improv'd the common Grace they had, periſhed for want of ſpecial Grace; nor can any ſhew what could in reaſon have been done more for an unfruitful Vineyard than God has done in it. God doth not demand Brick and deny Straw; no, whatever is required in the Covenant, is promiſed in the Covenant; ſo that if we periſh 'tis long of our ſelves.

2. The Spirit of a Slave; I was afraid. This ill Affection towards God aroſe from his falſe Notions of him; and nothing is more unworthy of God, nor more hinders our Duty to him, than ſlaviſh Fear: This has Bondage and Torment, and is directly oppoſite to that entire Love which the great Commandment requires. Note, Hard Thoughts of God drive us from, and cramp us in his Service: Thoſe who think it impoſſible to pleaſe him, and in vain to ſerve him, will do nothing to purpoſe in Religion.

2. His Lord's Anſwer to this Apology; His Plea will ſtand him in no ſtead, 'tis over-rul'd, nay, it is made to turn againſt him, and he is ſtruck ſpeechleſs with it, for here is his Conviction, and his Condemnation.

1. His Conviction, v. 26, 27. Two Things he is convicted of.

1. Slothfulneſs; Thou wicked and ſlothful Servant. Note, Slothful Servants are wicked Servants, and will be reckon'd with as ſuch by their Maſter; for he that is ſlothful in his Work, and neglects the Good that God has commanded, is Brother to him that is a great Waſter, by doing the Evil that God has forbidden, Prov. 11. 9. He that is careleſs in God's Work is near a-kin to him that is buſy in the Devil's Work; Satis eſt mali nihil feciſſe boni. Omiſſions are Sins, and muſt come into Judgment; Slothfulneſs makes way for Wickedneſs, all becomes filthly, for there's none that doth good, Pſal. 14. 3. When the Houſe is empty, the unclean Spirit takes poſſeſſion. Thoſe that are idle in the Affairs of their Souls, are not only idle, but ſomething worſe, 1 Tim. 5. 13. When Men ſleep, the Enemy ſows Tares.

2. Self-contradiction, v. 26, 27. Thou kneweſt that I reap where I ſowed not: Thou oughteſt therefore to have put my Money to the Exchangers. Note, The hard Thoughts which Sinners have of God, tho' Falſe and Unjuſt, will be ſo far from juſtifying their Wickedneſs and Slothfulneſs, that they will rather aggravate, and add to their Guilt. Three ways this may be taken; (1.) Suppoſe I had been ſo hard a Maſter, ſhould'ſt not thou therefore have been the more diligent and careful to pleaſe me, if not for Love, yet for Fear, and for that Reaſon thou oughteſt to have minded thy Work: If our God be a conſuming Fire, in conſideration of that let us ſtudy how to ſerve him. (2.) Or thus; If thou didſt think me to be a hard Maſter, and therefore durſt not trade with the Money thy ſelf, for fear of loſing by it, and being made to ſtand to the loſs, yet thou mighteſt have put in into the Hands of the Exchangers, or Goldſmiths, might have brought it into the Bank, and then at my coming, if I could not have had the greater Improvement, by Trade and Merchandiſe (as of the other Talents) yet I might have had the leſſer Improvement of bare Intereſt, and ſhould have received my own with Uſury, which it ſeems was a common Practice at that Time, and not diſallow'd by our Saviour. Note, If we could not, or durſt not do what we would, yet that Excuſe will not ſerve, when it will be made to appear, that we did not do what we could and durſt. If we could not find in our Hearts to venture upon more difficult and hazardous Services, yet will that juſtify us in baulking thoſe that were more ſafe and eaſy? Something is better than nothing; if we fail of ſhewing our Courage in bold Enterprizes, yet we muſt not fail to teſtify our Good-will in honeſt Endeavours, and our Maſter will not deſpiſe the Day of ſmall Things. Or thus, (3.) Suppoſe I did reap where I ſowed not, yet that's nothing to thee, for I had ſowed upon thee, and the Talent was my Money which thou waſt entruſted with, not only to keep, but to improve. Note, In the Day of Account wicked and ſlothful Servants will be left quite without Excuſe; frivolous Pleas will be overrul'd, and every Mouth will be ſtopp'd; and thoſe who now ſtand ſo much upon their own Juſtification, will not have one Word to ſay for themſelves.

2. His Condemnation; The ſlothful Servant is ſentenc'd:

1. To be deprived of his Talent, v. 28, 29. Take therefore the Talent from him. The Talents were firſt diſpos'd of by the Maſter, as an abſolute Owner; but this was now diſpos'd of by him, as a Judge; he takes it from the unfaithful Servant to puniſh him, and gives it to him that was eminently faithful to reward him. And the Meaning of this Part of the Parable we have in the Reaſon of the Sentence, v. 29. To every one that hath ſhall be given. This may be apply'd (1.) To the Bleſſings of this Life, worldly Wealth and Poſſeſſions. Theſe we are entruſted with to be us'd for the Glory of God, and the Good of thoſe about us: Now he that hath theſe Things, and uſeth them for theſe Ends, he ſhall have Abundance, perhaps abundance of the Things themſelves; however, abundance of Comfort in them, and of better Things; but from him that hath not, i. e. that hath theſe Things, as if he had them not, had not Power to eat of them, or to do Good with them (Avaro deeſt, tam quod habet, quam quod non habet) they ſhall be taken away. Solomon explains this, Prov. 11. 24. There is that ſcattereth, and yet increaſeth, and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, and it tendeth to Poverty. Giving to the Poor is trading with what we have, and the Returns will be rich, 'twill multiply the Meal in the Barrel, and the Oil in the Cruſe; but thoſe that are ſordid, and niggardly, and uncharitable, will find that thoſe Riches which are ſo got periſh by evil Travel, Eccl. 5. 13, 14. Sometimes Providence ſtrangely transfers Eſtates from thoſe that do no Good with them, to thoſe that do; they are gathered for him that will pity the Poor, Prov. 28. 8. See Prov. 13. 22. Job 27. 16, 17. Eccl. 2. 26. (2.) We may apply it to the Means of Grace: They who are diligent in improving the Opportunities they have, God will enlarge them, will ſet before them an open Door, Rev. 3. 8. But they who know not the Day of their Viſitation, ſhall have the Things that belong to their Peace hid from their Eyes. For Proof of this, go ſee what God did to Shiloh, Jer. 7. 12. (3.) We may apply it to the common Gifts of the Spirit. He that hath theſe, and doth Good with them, ſhall have Abundance; theſe Gifts improve by Exerciſe, and brighten by being us'd: The more we do, the more we may do in Religion; but thoſe who ſtir not up the Gift that is in them, who do not exert themſelves according to their Capacity, their Gifts ruſt and decay, and go out like a neglected Fire. From him that has not a living Principle of Grace in his Soul, ſhall be taken away the common Gifts which he hath, as the Lamps of the fooliſh Virgins went out for want of Oil, v. 8. Thus the Arm of the Idol-Shepherd, which he had ſluggiſhly folded up in his Boſom, comes to be dried up; and his Right Eye, which he had careleſly or wilfully ſhut, becomes utterly darkned, as it is threaten'd, Zech. 11. 17.

2. He is ſentenc'd to be caſt into utter Darkneſs, v. 30. Here, 1. His Character is, that of an unprofitable Servant. Note, Slothful Servants will be reckon'd with as unprofitable Servants, who do nothing to the Purpoſe of their coming into the World, nothing to anſwer the End of their Birth or Baptiſm, who are no way ſerviceable to the Glory of God, the Good of others, or the Salvation of their own Souls. A Slothful Servant is a wither'd Member in the Body, a barren Tree in the Vineyard, an idle Drone in the Hive, is good for nothing. In one Senſe we are all unprofitable Servants, Luke 17. 10. we cannot profit God, John 22. 2. But to others, and to our ſelves, it is required that we be profitable; if we be not, Chriſt will not own us as his Servants; it is not enough not to do Hurt, but we muſt do Good, muſt bring forth Fruit; and tho' thereby God is not profited, yet he is glorified, John 15. 8.

2. His Doom is to be caſt into utter Darkneſs. Here, as in what was ſaid to the faithful Servants, our Saviour ſlides inſenſibly out of the Parable into the Thing intended by it, and it ſerves as a Key to the whole; for utter Darkneſs, where there is weeping and gnaſhing of Teeth, is in Chriſt's Diſcourſes the common Periphraſis of the Miſeries of the Damned in Hell. Their State is, (1.) Very Diſmal; it is the outer Darkneſs. Darkneſs is uncomfortable and frightful; 'twas one of the Plagues of Egypt: In Hell there are Chains of Darkneſs, 2 Pet. 2. 4. In the Dark no Man can Work, a fit Puniſhment for a ſlothful Servant. It is utter Darkneſs, out from the Light of Heaven, out from the Joy of their Lord, into which the faithful Servants were admitted; out from the Feaſt. Compare Mat. 18. 12.—22. 13. (2.) Very Doleful; there is Weeping, which ſpeaks great Sorrow; and gnaſhing of Teeth, which ſpeaks great Vexation and Indignation. This will be the Portion of the ſlothful Servant.

31 When the Son of man ſhall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then ſhall he ſit upon the throne of his glory. 32 And before him ſhall be gathered all nations; and he ſhall ſeparate them one from another, as a ſhepherd divideth his ſheep from the goats: 33 And he ſhall ſet the ſheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left. 34 Then ſhall the King ſay unto them on his right hand, Come, ye bleſſed of my father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world. 35 For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirſty, and ye gave me drink: I was a ſtranger, and ye took me in: 36 Naked, and ye cloathed me: I was ſick, and ye viſited me: I was in priſon, and ye came unto me. 37 Then ſhall the righteous anſwer him, ſaying, Lord, when ſaw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirſty, and gave thee drink? 38 When ſaw we thee a ſtranger, and took thee in? or naked, and cloathed thee? 39 Or when ſaw we thee ſick, or in priſon, and came unto thee? 40 And the king ſhall anſwer, and ſay unto them, Verily I ſay unto you,
In as much as ye have done it unto one of the leaſt of theſe my brethren, ye have done it unto me.
41 Then ſhall he ſay alſo unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye curſed, into everlaſting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels. 42 For I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirſty, and ye gave me no drink: 43 I was a ſtranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye cloathed me not:
ſick, and in priſon, and ye viſited me not. 44 Then ſhall they alſo anſwer him, ſaying, Lord, when ſaw we thee an hungred, or athirſt, or a ſtranger, or naked, or ſick, or in priſon, and did not miniſter unto thee? 45 Then ſhall he anſwer them, ſaying, Verily I ſay unto you, In as much as ye did it not to one of the leaſt of theſe, ye did it not to me.
46 And theſe ſhall go away into everlaſting puniſhment:
but the righteous into life eternal.

We have here a Deſcription of the Proceſs of the laſt Judgment in the Great Day: Some Paſſages there are in it that are Parabolical, as the ſeparating between the Sheep and the Goats, and the Dialogue between the Judge and the Perſon judg'd; but there is no Thread of Similitude carry'd thro' the Diſcourſe, and therefore 'tis rather to be call'd a Draught or Delineation of the final Judgment, than a Parable; it is as it were the Reddition of the former Parables. And here we have,

Firſt, The placing of the Judge upon the Judgment-Seat, v. 30. When the Son of Man ſhall come. Obſerve here,

1. That there is a Judgment to come, in which every Man ſhall be determin'd to a State of everlaſting Happineſs or Miſery in the World of Recompence and Retribution, according to what he did in this World of Trial and Probation, which is to be judg'd of by the Rule of the everlaſting Goſpel.

2. The Adminiſtration of the Judgment of the Great Day is committed to the Son of Man, for by him God will judge the World, Acts 17. 31. and to him all Judgment is committed, and therefore the Judgment of that Day, which is the Centre of all. Here, as elſewhere, when the laſt Judgment is ſpoken of, Chriſt is call'd the Son of Man, becauſe he is to judge the Sons of Men; and being himſelf of the ſame Nature, he is the more unexceptionable; and becauſe his wonderful Condeſcenſion to take upon him our Nature, and to become the Son of Man, will be recompens'd by his Exaltation in that Day, and an Honour put upon the Human Nature.

3. Chriſt's appearing to judge the World will be ſplendid and glorious. Agrippa and Bernice came to the Judgment-Seat with great Pomp, Acts 25. 3. but that was (as the original Word is) great Fancy; Chriſt will come to the Judgment-Seat in real Glory: The Sun of Righteouſneſs ſhall then ſhine in his Meridian Luſtre, and the Prince of the Kings of the Earth ſhall ſhew the Riches of his glorious Kingdom, and the Honours of his Excellent Majeſty; and all the World ſhall ſee what the Saints only do now believe, that he is the Brightneſs of his Father's Glory; he ſhall come not only in the Glory of his Father, but in his own Glory, as Mediator: His firſt coming was under a black Cloud of Obſcurity, his ſecond will be in a bright Cloud of Glory. The Aſſurance Chriſt gave his Diſciples of his future Glory, might help to take off the Offence of the Croſs, and his approaching Diſgrace and Suffering.

4. When Chriſt comes in his Glory to judge the World, he will bring all his Holy Angels with him. This glorious Perſon will have a glorious Retinue, his holy Myriads, who will be not only his Attendants, but Miniſters of his Juſtice; they ſhall come with him both for State and Service. They muſt come to call the Court, 1 Theſſ. 4. 16. to gather the Elect, Matt. 24. 31. to bundle the Tares, Matt. 13. 40. to be Witneſſes of the Saints Glory, Luke 12. 8. of Sinners Miſery, Rev. 19. 10.

5. He will then ſit upon the Throne of his Glory; He is now ſet down with the Father upon his Throne, and it is a Throne of Grace, to which we may come boldly; 'tis a Throne of Government, the Throne of his Father David; he is a Prieſt upon that Throne, but then he will ſit upon the Throne of Glory, the Throne of Judgment. See Dan. 7. 9, 10. Solomon's Throne, tho' there was not its like in any Kingdom, was but a Dunghil to it. Chriſt, in the Days of his Fleſh, was arraign'd as a Priſoner at the Bar; but at his Second Coming he will ſit as a Judge upon the Bench.

Secondly, The appearing of all the Children of Men before him, v. 32. Before him ſhall be gather'd all Nations. Note, The Judgment of the Great Day will be a general Judgment. All muſt be ſummon'd before Chriſt's Tribunal; all of every Age of the World, from the Beginning to the End of Time; all of every Place on Earth, even from the remoteſt Corners of the World, moſt obſcure, and diſtant from each other; all Nations, all thoſe Nations of Men that are made of one Blood, to dwell on all the Face of the Earth.

Thirdly, The Diſtinction that will then be made between the Precious and the Vile; he ſhall ſeparate them one from another, as the Tares and Wheat are ſeparated at the Harveſt, the good Fiſh and bad at the Shore, the Corn and Chaff in the Floor. Wicked and Godly here dwell together in the ſame Kingdoms, Cities, Churches, Families, and are not certainly diſtinguiſhable one from another; ſuch are the Infirmities of Saints, ſuch the Hypocriſies of Sinners, and one Event to both; but in that Day they will be ſeparated, and parted for ever, Then ſhall ye return and diſcern between the Righteous and the Wicked, Mal. 3. 18. They cannot ſeparate themſelves one from another in this World, 1 Cor. 5. 10. nor can any one elſe ſeparate them, Matt. 13. 29. But the Lord knows them that are his, and he can ſeparate them. This Separation will be ſo exact, that the moſt inconſiderable Saints ſhall not be loſt in the Crowd of Sinners, nor the moſt plauſible Sinner hid in the Crowd of Saints, Pſal. 1. 5. but every one ſhall go to his own Place.

This is compar'd to a Shepherd's dividing between the Sheep and the Goats; 'tis taken from Ezek. 34. 17. Behold I judge between Cattle and Cattle. Note, 1. Jeſus Chriſt is the Great Shepherd, he now feeds his Flock like a Shepherd, and will ſhortly diſtinguiſh between thoſe that are his, and thoſe that are not, as Laban divided his Sheep from Jacob's, and ſet three Days Journey between them, Gen. 30. 35, 36. 2. The Godly are like Sheep, Innocent, Mild, Patient, Uſeful: The Wicked are like Goats, a baſer Kind of Animal, unſavoury and unruly. Theſe Sheep and Goats are here feeding all Day in the ſame Paſture, but will be coted at Night in different Folds.

Being thus divided, he will ſet the Sheep on his Right Hand, and the Goats on his Left, v. 33. Chriſt puts Honour upon the Godly, as we ſhew Reſpect to thoſe we ſet on our Right Hand, but the Wicked ſhall riſe to everlaſting Shame, Dan. 12. 2. 'Tis not ſaid, He ſhall put the Rich on his Right Hand, and the Poor on his Left; the Learned and Noble on his Right Hand, and the Unlearned and Deſpiſed on his Left; but the Godly on his Right Hand, and the Wicked on his Left; all other Diviſions and Subdiviſions will then be aboliſhed; but the great Diſtinction of Men into Saints and Sinners, Sanctified and Unſanctified, will remain for ever, and Men's Eternal State will be determined by it. The Wicked took up with Left-Hand Bleſſings, Riches and Honour, and ſo ſhall their Doom be.

Fourthly, The Proceſs of the Judgment concerning each of theſe; 1. Concerning the Godly, on the Right Hand. Their Cauſe muſt be firſt diſpatch'd, that they may be Aſſeſſors with Chriſt in the Judgment of the Wicked, whoſe Miſery will be aggravated by their ſeeing Abraham, and Iſaac, and Jacob admitted into the Kingdom of Heaven, Luke 13. 28. Obſerve here,

(1.) The Glory conferr'd upon them; the Sentence by which they ſhall be not only acquitted, but preferr'd and rewarded, v. 34. The King ſhall ſay unto them. He that was the Shepherd, which ſpeaks the Care and Tenderneſs wherewith he will make this Diſquiſition, is here the King, which ſpeaks the Authority wherewith he will then pronounce the Sentence; where the Word of this King is, there is Power. Here are two Things in this Sentence;

1. The acknowledging of the Saints to be the Bleſſed of the Lord; Come ye Bleſſed of my Father. (1.) He pronounceth them Bleſſed, and his ſaying they are Bleſſed, makes them ſo; the Law curſeth them for their many Diſcontinuances, but Chriſt having redeemed them from the Curſe of the Law, and purchaſed a Bleſſing for them, commands a Bleſſing on them. (2.) Bleſſed of his Father, reproached and curſed by the World, but bleſſed of God: As the Spirit glorifies the Son, Joh. 16. 14. ſo the Son glorifies the Father, by referring the Salvation of the Saints to him as the firſt Cauſe; all our Bleſſings in Heavenly Things flow to us from God, as the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, Eph. 1. 3. (3.) He calls them to come; this come is in effect welcome, ten thouſand welcomes to the Bleſſed of my Father; Come to me, come to be for ever with me; you that follow'd me, bearing the Croſs, now come along with me wearing the Crown. The Bleſſed of my Father are the Beloved of my Soul, that have been too long at a Diſtance from me; come now, come into my Boſom, come into my Arms, come into my deareſt Embraces. O with what Joy will this fill the Hearts of the Saints in that Day! We now come boldly to the Throne of Grace, but we ſhall then come boldly to the Throne of Glory; and this Word holds out the Golden Sceptre, with an Aſſurance that our Requeſt ſhall be granted to more than the Half of the Kingdom: Now the Spirit ſaith, Come in the Word, and the Bride ſaith, Come in Prayer, and the Reſult hereof is a ſweet Communion, but the Perfection of Bliſs will be when the King ſhall ſay, Come.

2. The Admiſſion of the Saints into the Bleſſedneſs and Kingdom of the Father; Inherit the Kingdom prepared for you.

(1.) The Happineſs they ſhall be poſſeſs'd of is very rich; we are told what it is by him who had reaſon to know it, having purchaſed it for them, and poſſeſs'd it himſelf.

1. It is a Kingdom, which is reckon'd the moſt valuable Poſſeſſion on Earth, and includes the greateſt Wealth and Honour. Thoſe that inherit Kingdoms wear all the Glories of the Crown, enjoy all the Pleaſures of the Court, and command all the peculiar Treaſures of the Provinces; yet this is but a faint Reſemblance of the Felicities of the Saints in Heaven. They that here are Beggars, Priſoners, accounted as the Off-ſcouring of all Things, ſhall then inherit a Kingdom, Pſal. 113. 7. Rev. 2. 26, 27.

2. It is a Kingdom prepared: The Happineſs muſt needs be great, for it is the Product of the Divine Counſels. Note, There is great Preparation made for the Entertainment of the Saints in the Kingdom of Glory. The Father deſign'd it for them in his Thoughts of Love, and provided it for them in the Greatneſs of his Wiſdom and Power. The Son purchaſed it for them, and is enter'd as the Fore-runner to prepare a Place, John 14. 2. And the bleſſed Spirit, in preparing them for the Kingdom, in effect is preparing it for them.

3. It is prepar'd for them. This ſpeaks (1.) The Suitableneſs of this Happineſs, it is in all Points adapted to the Nature of a Soul, and to the new Nature of a ſanctified Soul. (2.) Their Property and Intereſt in it. 'Tis prepar'd on purpoſe for them, not only for ſuch as you, but for you, you by Name, you perſonally and particularly, who were choſen to Salvation through Sanctification.

4. It is prepar'd from the Foundation of the World. This Happineſs was deſign'd for the Saints, and they for it, before Time began, from all Eternity, Eph. 1. 4. The End which is laſt in Execution, is firſt in Intention; infinite Wiſdom had an Eye to the Eternal Glorification of the Saints from the firſt founding of the Creation; All Things are for your Sakes, 2 Cor. 4. 15. or, it notes the Preparation of the Place of this Happineſs, which is to be the Seat and Habitation of the Bleſſed in the very Beginning of the Work of Creation, Gen. 1. 1. There in the Heaven of Heavens, the Morning Stars were ſinging together, when the Foundations of the Earth were faſtned, Job 38. 4, 6, 7.

(2.) The Tenure by which they ſhall hold and poſſeſs it is very good, they ſhall come and inherit it; what we come to by Inheritance, is not got by any Procurement of our own, but purely as the Lawyers expreſs it, by the Act of God. 'Tis God that makes Heirs, Heirs of Heaven. We come to an Inheritance by virtue of our Sonſhip, our Adoption; if Children, then Heirs: A Title by Inheritance is the ſweeteſt and ſureſt Title, it alludes to Poſſeſſions in the Land of Canaan, which paſs'd by Inheritance, and would not be alienated longer than to the Year of Jubilee: Thus is the Heavenly Inheritance indefeaſible, and unalienable. Saints in this World are as Heirs under Age, tutor'd and govern'd till the Time appointed of the Father, Gal. 4. 1. and then they ſhall be put in full Poſſeſſion of that which now thro' Grace they have a Title to, Come and inherit it.

(2.) The Ground of this, v. 35, 36. For I was an hungred, and ye gave me Meat. We cannot hence infer that any good Works of ours merit the Happineſs of Heaven, by any intrinſick Worth or Excellency in them, our Goodneſs extendeth not unto God; but it is plain that Jeſus Chriſt will judge the World by the ſame Rule by which he governs it, and therefore will reward thoſe that have been obedient to that Law, and mention will be made of their Obedience, not as their Title, but as their Evidence of an Intereſt in Chriſt, and his Purchaſe. This Happineſs will be adjudg'd to obedient Believers, not upon a Quantum meruit, which ſuppoſeth a Proportion between the Work and the Reward, but upon the Promiſe of God purchaſed by Jeſus Chriſt, and the Benefit of it ſecur'd under certain Proviſo's and Limitations; and 'tis the Purchaſe and Promiſe that gives the Title, the Obedience is only the Qualification of the Perſon deſign'd. An Eſtate made by Deed or Will upon Condition, when the Condition is perform'd according to the true Intent of the Donor or Teſtator, becomes Abſolute; and then tho' the Title be built purely upon the Deed or Will, yet the performing of the Condition muſt be given in Evidence; and ſo it comes in here, for Chriſt is the Author of Eternal Salvation to thoſe only that obey him, and who patiently continue in well doing.

Now the good Works here mention'd are ſuch as we commonly call Works of Charity to the Poor; not but that many will be found on the Right Hand who never were in a Capacity to feed the Hungry, or cloath the Naked, but were themſelves fed and cloathed by the Charity of others; but one Inſtance of ſincere Obedience is put for all the reſt, and it teaches us this in general, That Faith working by Love is all in all in Chriſtianity; Shew me thy Faith by thy Works: and nothing will abound to a good Account hereafter but the Fruits of Righteouſneſs in a good Converſation now. The good Works here deſcrib'd do imply three things, which muſt be found in all that are ſav'd.

1. Self-Denial, and Contempt of the World, reckoning the Things of the World no further good Things, than as we are enabled to do Good with them; and thoſe who have not wherewithal to do Good, muſt ſhew the ſame Diſpoſition by being contentedly, and chearfully poor. Thoſe are fit for Heaven that are mortified to the Earth.

2. Love to our Brethren, which is the Second great Commandment, the fulfilling of the Law, and an excellent Preparative for the World of everlaſting Love. We muſt give Proof of this Love by our Readineſs to do Good, and to communicate; good Wiſhes are but Mockeries without good Works, Jam. 2. 15, 16. 1 John 3. 17. Thoſe that have not to give, muſt ſhew the ſame Diſpoſition ſome other way.

3. A believing Regard to Jeſus Chriſt. That which is here rewarded, is their Relieving the Poor for Chriſt's Sake, out of Love to him, and with an Eye to him. This puts an Excellency upon the good Work, when in it we ſerve the Lord Chriſt; which thoſe may do that work for their own Living, as well as thoſe that help to keep others alive. See Eph. 6. 5, 6, 7. Thoſe good Works ſhall then be accepted, which are done in the Name of the Lord Jeſus, Col. 3. 17.

I was hungry; i. e. my Diſciples and Followers were ſo, either by the Perſecutions of Enemies for Well-doing, or by the common Diſpenſations of Providence; for in theſe Things there is one Event to the Righteous and Wicked; and you gave them Meat. Note, 1. Providence doth ſo variouſly order and diſpoſe of the Circumſtances of his People in this World, as that while ſome are in a Condition to give Relief, others need it. 'Tis no new Thing for thoſe that are feaſted with the Dainties of Heaven, to be hungry and thirſty, and to want daily Food; for thoſe that are at Home in God, to be Strangers in a ſtrange Land; for thoſe that have put on Chriſt, to want Cloaths to keep them warm; for thoſe that have healthful Souls, to have ſickly Bodies; and for thoſe to be in Priſon, that Chriſt has made free. 2. Works of Charity and Beneficence, according as our Ability is, are neceſſary to Salvation, and there will be more Streſs laid upon them in the Judgment of the Great Day, than is commonly imagin'd: Theſe muſt be the Proofs of our Love, and of our profeſs'd Subjection to the Goſpel of Chriſt, 2 Cor. 9. 13. But they that ſhew no Mercy, ſhall have Judgment without Mercy.

Now this Reaſon is modeſtly excepted againſt by the Righteous, but is explain'd by the Judge himſelf.

1. It is queſtion'd by the Righteous, v. 37, 38, 39, not as if they were loth to inherit the Kingdom, or were aſham'd of their good Deeds, or had not the Teſtimony of their own Conſciences concerning them: But, (1.) The Expreſſions are Parabolical, deſign'd to introduce and impreſs theſe great Truths, That Chriſt has a mighty Regard to Works of Charity, and is eſpecially pleas'd with Kindneſſes done to his People for his Sake. Or, (2.) They ſpeak the humble Admiration which glorified Saints will be fill'd with, to find ſuch poor and worthleſs Services as theirs are, ſo highly celebrated, and richly rewarded. Lord, when ſaw we thee a hungred, and fed thee? Note, Gracious Souls are apt to think meanly of their own good Deeds; eſpecially as unworthy to be compar'd with the Glory that ſhall be reveal'd. Far from this is the Temper of thoſe, who ſaid, Wherefore have we faſted, and thou ſeeſt not? Iſa. 58. 3. Saints in Heaven will wonder what brought them thither, and that God ſhould ſo regard them and their Services. It even put Nathaniel to the Bluſh, to hear Chriſt's Encomium of him; Whence knoweſt thou me? John 1. 47, 48. See Epheſ. 3. 20. When ſaw we thee a hungred? We have ſeen the Poor in Diſtreſs many a Time, but when ſaw we thee? Note, Chriſt is more among us than we think he is: Surely the Lord is in this Place, by his Word, his Ordinances, his Miniſters, his Spirit, yea, and his Poor, and we know it not: When thou waſt under the Fig-tree, I ſaw thee, John 1. 48.

2. It is explain'd by the Judge himſelf, v. 40. Inaſmuch as you have done it to theſe my Brethren, to the leaſt, to one of the leaſt of them, ye have done it unto me. The good Works of the Saints, when they are produc'd in the great Day, (1.) ſhall all be remember'd, and not the leaſt, not one of the leaſt over-look'd; no, not a Cup of cold Water. (2.) They ſhall be interpreted moſt to their Advantage, and the beſt Conſtruction that can be put upon them. As Chriſt makes the beſt of their Infirmities, ſo he makes the moſt of their Services.

We ſee what Recompence Chriſt has for thoſe that fed the Hungry, and cloath the Naked; but what will become of the Godly Poor that had not wherewithal to do ſo? Muſt they be ſhut out? No; (1.) Chriſt will own them, even the leaſt of them, as his Brethren; he will not be aſham'd, nor think it any Diſparagement to him to call them Brethren, Heb. 2. 11. In the Height of his Glory, he will not diſown his poor Relations: Lazarus is there laid in his Boſom, as a Friend, as a Brother. Thus he will confeſs them, Mat. 10. 31. (2.) He will take the Kindneſſes done to them, as done to himſelf; Ye have done it to me: Which ſhews a Reſpect to the Poor that were reliev'd, as well as to the Rich that did relieve them. Note, Chriſt eſpouſeth his People's Cauſe, and intereſts himſelf in their Intereſts, and reckons himſelf receiv'd, and lov'd, and own'd in them. If Chriſt himſelf were among us in Poverty, how readily would we relieve him? In Priſon, how frequently would we viſit him? We are ready to envy the Honour they had, who miniſter'd to him of their Subſtance, Luke 8. 3. Where-ever poor Saints and poor Miniſters are, there Chriſt is ready to receive our Kindneſſes in them, and they ſhall be put to his Account.

2. Here's the Proceſs concerning the Wicked, thoſe on the Left-hand: And in that we have,

1. The Sentence paſs'd upon them, v. 41. 'Twas a Diſgrace to be ſet on the Left-hand; but that's not the worſt of it, he ſhall ſay to them, Depart from me, ye Curſed. Every Word has Terror in it; like that of the Trumpet at Mount Sinai, waxing louder and louder; every Accent more and more doleful, and excluſive of Comfort.

(1.) To be ſo near to Chriſt, was ſome Satisfaction, tho' under his Frowns; but that will not be allow'd, Depart from me. In this World they were often call'd to come to Chriſt, to come for Life and Reſt, but they turn'd a deaf Ear to his Calls; juſtly therefore are they bid to depart from Chriſt, that would not come to him. Depart from me the Fountain of all Good, from me the Saviour, and therefore from all Hope of Salvation: I'll never have any thing more to ſay to you, or do with you. Here they ſaid to the Almighty, Depart from us; then he will chuſe their Deluſions, and ſay to them, Depart from me. Note, It is the Hell of Hell to depart from Chriſt.

(2.) If they muſt depart, and depart from Chriſt, might not they be diſmiſs'd with a Bleſſing; with one kind and compaſſionate Word at leaſt? No; Depart, ye Curſed. They that would not come to Chriſt to inherit a Bleſſing, muſt depart from him under the Burthen of a Curſe, that Curſe of the Law on every one that breaks it, Gal. 3. 10. As they loved Curſing, ſo ſhall it come unto them. But obſerve, The Righteous are call'd the Bleſſed of my Father; for their Bleſſedneſs is owing purely to the Grace of God, and his Bleſſing; but the Wicked are call'd only, ye Curſed, for their Damnation is of themſelves. Hath God ſold them? No, they have ſold themſelves, have laid themſelves under the Curſe, Iſa. 50. 1.

(3.) If they muſt depart, and depart with a Curſe, may they not go into ſome Place of Eaſe and Reſt? Will it not be Miſery enough for them to bewail their Loſs? No, there is a Puniſhment of Senſe, as well as Loſs; they muſt depart into Fire, i. e. into a Torment as grievous as that of Fire is to the Body, and much more. This Fire is the Wrath of the Eternal God, faſtening upon the guilty Souls and Conſciences of Sinners, that have made themſelves Fuel for it. Our God is a conſuming Fire, and Sinners fall immediately into his Hands, Heb. 10. 31. Rom. 2. 8, 9.

(4.) If into Fire, may it not be ſome light or gentle Fire? No, it is prepared Fire; 'tis a Torment ordained of old, Iſa. 30. 33. The Damnation of Sinners is oft ſpoken of as an Act of the Divine Power; He is able to caſt into Hell. In the Veſſels of Wrath he makes his Power known; it is a Deſtruction from the Preſence of the Lord, and from the Glory of his Power. In it ſhall be ſeen what a provok'd God can do, to make a provoking Creature miſerable.

(5.) If into Fire, prepared Fire, O let it be but of ſhort Continuance; let them but paſs thro' Fire. No, the Fire of God's Wrath will be an Everlaſting Fire; a Fire that, faſtening and preying upon immortal Souls, can never go out for want of Fuel; and being kindled and kept burning by the Wrath of an immortal God, can never go out for want of being blown and ſtirr'd up; and the Streams of Mercy and Grace being for ever excluded, there is nothing to extinguiſh it. If a Drop of Water be deny'd to cool the Tongue, Buckets of Water will never be granted to quench this Flame.

(6.) If they muſt be doom'd to ſuch a State of endleſs Miſery, yet may they not have ſome good Company there? No, none but the Devil and his Angels, their ſworn Enemies, that help'd to bring them to this Miſery, and will triumph over them in it. They ſerv'd the Devil while they liv'd, and therefore are juſtly ſentenc'd to be where he is, as thoſe that ſerv'd Chriſt, are taken to be with him where he is. 'Tis terrible to lye in a Houſe haunted with Devils; what will it be then to be Companions with them for ever? Obſerve here, (1.) Chriſt intimates, that there is one that is the Prince of the Devils, the Ring-leader of the Rebellion; and the reſt are as his Angels, his Meſſengers, by whoſe Agency he ſupports his Kingdom. Chriſt and his Angels will in that Day triumph over the Dragon and his, Rev. 12. 7. (2.) The Fire is ſaid to be prepar'd, not primarily for the Wicked, as the Kingdom is prepar'd for the Righteous; but 'twas originally intended for the Devil and his Angels. If Sinners make themſelves Aſſociates with Satan, by indulging their Luſts, they may thank themſelves if they become Sharers in that Miſery which was prepar'd for him and his Aſſociates. Calvin notes upon this, That therefore the Torment of the Damned is ſaid to be prepar'd for the Devil and his Angels, to cut off all Hope of eſcaping it. The Devil and his Angels are already made Priſoners in that Pit; and can Worms of the Earth think to eſcape?

2. The Reaſon of this Sentence aſſign'd. God's Judgments are all juſt, and he will be juſtified in them: He is Judge himſelf, and therefore the Heavens ſhall declare his Righteouſneſs.

Now, 1. All that is charg'd upon them, on which the Sentence is grounded, is Omiſſion: As before, the Servant was condemn'd not for waſting his Talent, but for burying it; ſo here, he doth not ſay, I was hungry and thirſty, for you took my Meat and Drink from me; I was a Stranger, for you baniſh'd me; Naked, for you ſtript me; in Priſon, for you laid me there: But when I was in theſe Diſtreſſes, you were ſo ſelfiſh, ſo taken up with your own Eaſe and Pleaſure, made ſo much of your Labour, and were ſo loth to part with your Money, that you did not miniſter as you might have done to my Relief and Succour. You were like thoſe Epicures that were at Eaſe in Zion, and were not grieved for the Affliction of Joſeph, Amos 6. 4, 5, 6. Note, Omiſſions are the Ruin of Thouſands.

2. It is the Omiſſion of Works of Charity to the Poor. They are not ſentenc'd for omitting their Sacrifices and Burnt-Offerings; they abounded in theſe, Pſal. 50. 8. but for omitting the weightier Matters of the Law, Judgment, Mercy and Faith. The Ammonites and Moabites were excluded the Sanctuary, becauſe they met not Iſrael with Bread and Water, Deut. 23. 3, 4. Note, Uncharitableneſs to the Poor is a damning Sin. If we will not be brought to Works of Charity by the Hope of Reward, let us be influenc'd by Fear of Puniſhment; for they ſhall have Judgment without Mercy, that have ſhewed no Mercy. Obſerve, He doth not ſay, I was ſick, and ye did not cure me; in Priſon, and you did not releaſe me; perhaps that was more than they could do; but you viſited me not, which you might have done. Note, Sinners will be condemn'd at the great Day, for the Omiſſion of that Good which it was in the Power of their Hand to do. But if the Doom of the Uncharitable be ſo dreadful, how much more intolerable will the Doom of the Cruel be, the Doom of Perſecutors? Now this Reaſon of the Sentence is,

1. Objected againſt by the Priſoners, v. 44. Lord, when ſaw we thee an hungred and thirſt? Condemned Sinners, tho' they have no Plea that will bear them out, yet will in vain offer at Excuſes. Now (1.) the manner of their Pleading ſpeakss their preſent Precipitation. They cut it ſhort, as Men in haſte; when ſaw we thee hungry, or thirſty, or naked? They care not to repeat the Charge, as conſcious to themſelves of their own Guilt, and unable to bear the Terrors of the Judgment. Nor will they have Time allow'd them to inſiſt upon ſuch frivolous Pleas; for it's all, (as we uſe to ſay) but trifling with the Court. (2.) The Matter of their Plea ſpeaks their former Inconſideration of that which they might have known, but would not till now, that it was too late. They that had ſlighted and Perſecuted poor Chriſtians, would not own that they had Slighted and Perſecuted Chriſt: No, they never intended any Affront to him, nor expected that ſo great a Matter would have been made of it. They imagin'd it was only a Company of poor, weak, ſilly, and contemptible People, who made more ado than they needed about Religion, that they put thoſe Slights upon; but they who do ſo, will be made to know, either in the Day of their Converſion, as Paul, or of their Condemnation, as theſe here, That it was Jeſus whom they Perſecuted. And, if they ſay, Behold, we knew it not, doth not he that pondereth the Heart conſider it? Prov. 24. 11, 12.

2. Juſtified by the Judge, who will convince all the Ungodly of the hard Speeches ſpoken againſt him in thoſe that are his, Jude 15. He goes by this Rule, v. 45. Inaſmuch as ye did it not to one of the leaſt of theſe, ye did it not to me. Note, What is done againſt the faithful Diſciples, and Followers of Chriſt, even the leaſt of them, he takes as done againſt himſelf. He is reproached, and Perſecuted in them, for they are Reproached and Perſecuted for his ſake, and in all their Afflictions he is Afflicted. He that touches them, touches him in a Part no leſs tender than the Apple of his Eye.

Laſtly, Here is the Execution of both theſe Sentences, v. 46. Execution is the Life of the Law, and Chriſt will take care that it be done according to the Sentence.

1. The Wicked ſhall go away into Everlaſting Puniſhment. Sentence will then be executed ſpeedily, and no Reprieve granted, nor any Time allow'd to move in Arreſt of Judgment. The Execution of the Wicked is firſt mentioned; for firſt the Tares are gather'd and burn'd. Note, (1.) The Puniſhment of the Wicked in the future State, will be an Everlaſting Puniſhment, for the State is an unalterable State. It can neither be thought that Sinners ſhould change their own Natures; nor that God ſhould give his Grace to change them, when in this World the Day of Grace was miſ-ſpent, the Spirit of Grace reſiſted, and the Means of Grace abus'd and baffled. (2.) The Wicked ſhall be made to go away into that Puniſhment; not that they will go voluntarily, no, they are driven from Light into Darkneſs; but it ſpeaks an irreſiſtible Conviction of Guilt, and a final Deſpair of Mercy.

2. The Righteous ſhall go away into Life Eternal, i. e. they ſhall inherit the Kingdom, v. 34. Note, 1. Heaven is Life, it is all Happineſs. The Life of the Soul reſults from its Union with God by the Mediation of Jeſus Chriſt, as that of the Body from its Union with the Soul, by the Animal Spirit. The Heavenly Life conſiſts in the Viſion and Fruition of God, in a perfect Conformity to him, and an immediate uninterrupted Communion with him. 2. It is Eternal Life. There's no Death to put a Period to the Life it ſelf, nor old Age to put a Period to the Comfort of it, or any Sorrow to embitter it. Thus Life and Death, Good and Evil, the Bleſſing and the Curſe are ſet before us, that we may chuſe our Way, and ſo ſhall our End be. Even the Heathen had ſome Notion of theſe different States of Good and Bad in the other World. Cicero in his Tuſculan Queſtions, lib. 1. brings in Socrates thus ſpeaking, Duæ ſunt viæ, duplicesque curſus è corpore exeuntium; nam qui ſe vitiis humanis contaminarunt, & libidinibus ſe tradiderunt, iis devium quoddam iter eſt, ſecluſum à Conſilio Deorum: Qui autem ſe integros caſtoſque ſervarunt, quibuſque fuerit minima cum corporibus Contagio, ſuntque in corporibus humanis vitam imitati deorum, iis ad illos a quibus ſunt profecti facile patet reditus.

CHAP. XXVI.

The Story of the Death and Sufferings of Chriſt, is more particularly and fully Recorded by all the four Evangeliſts, than any other part of his Story; for what ſhould we determine, and deſire to know but Chriſt, and him Crucified. And this Chapter begins that famous Story. The Year of the Redeemed was now come, the ſeventy Weeks determin'd were now accompliſhed, when Tranſgreſſion muſt be finiſh'd, Reconciliation made, and an Everlaſting Righteouſneſs brought in, by the cutting off of the Meſſiah the Prince, Dan. 9, 24, 26. That awful Scene is here introduc'd, to be read with Reverence and holy Fear. In this Chapter we have, (1.) The Preliminaries, or Prefaces to Chriſt's Sufferings. 1. The previous notice given by him of it to his Diſciples, v. 1, 2. 2. The Ruler's Conſpiracy againſt him, v. 3,—5. 3. The Anointing of his Head at a Supper in Bethany, v. 6,—13. 4. Judas's Bargain with the Prieſts to betray him, v. 14,—16. 5. Chriſt's eating the Paſſover with his Diſciples, v. 17,—25. 6. His Inſtituting the Lord's Supper, and his Diſcourſe with his Diſciples after it, v. 26,—35. (2.) His entrance upon them, and ſome of the Particulars of them. (1.) His Agony in the Garden, v. 36,—46. (2.) The ſeizing of him by the Officers with Judas's Help, v. 47,—56. (3.) His Arraignment before the chief Prieſt, and his Condemnation in his Court, v. 57,—68. (4.) Peter's denying him, v. 69,—75.

AND it came to paſs, when Jeſus had finiſhed all theſe ſayings, he ſaid unto his diſciples, 2 Ye know that after two days is the feaſt of the paſſover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified. 3 Then aſſembled together the chief prieſts, and the ſcribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high prieſt, who was called Caiaphas, 4 And conſulted that they might take Jeſus by ſubtilty, and kill him. 5 But they ſaid, Not on the feaſt-day, leſt there be an uprore among the people.

Here's 1. The Notice Chriſt gave his Diſciples of the near Approach of his Sufferings, v. 1, 2. While his Enemies were preparing Trouble for him, he was preparing himſelf and his Followers for it. He had often told them of his Sufferings at a diſtance, now he ſpeaks of them as at the Door, after two Days. Note, After many former Notices of Trouble, we ſtill have need of freſh ones. Obſerve,

1. The Time when he gave this Alarm, when he had finiſhed all theſe Sayings. (1.) Not till he had finiſhed all he had to ſay. Note, Chriſt's Witneſſes die not till they have finiſhed their Teſtimony. When Chriſt had gone through his Undertaking as a Prophet, he enter'd upon the Execution of his Office as a Prieſt. (2.) After he had finiſhed theſe Sayings, which go immediately before; he had bid his Diſciples expect ſad Times, Bonds and Afflictions, and then tells them the Son of Man is betrayed; to intimate, that they ſhould fare no worſe than he ſhould, and that his Sufferings ſhould take the Sting out of theirs. Note, Thoughts of a Suffering Chriſt are great Supports to a ſuffering Chriſtian, ſuffering with him, and for him.

2. The Thing it ſelf he gave them notice of, The Son of Man is betray'd. The Thing was not only ſo ſure, but ſo near, that it was as good as done. Note, 'Tis good to make Sufferings that are yet to come as preſent to us. He is betray'd; for Judas was then contriving and deſigning to betray him.

2. The Plot of the Chief Prieſts, and Scribes, and Elders of the People againſt the Life of our Lord Jeſus, v. 3, 4, 5. Many Conſults had been held againſt the Life of Chriſt, but this Plot was laid deeper than any yet; for the Grandees were all engag'd in it. The Chief Prieſts, who preſided in Eccleſiaſtical Affairs; the Elders, that were Judges in Civil Matters; and the Scribes, that, as Doctors of the Law, were Directors to both. Theſe compos'd the Sanhedrim, or great Council that govern'd the Nation, and theſe were confederate againſt Chriſt. Obſerve, 1. The Place where they met, in the Palace of the High Prieſt, who was the Center of their Unity in this wicked Project. 2. The Plot it ſelf, to take Jeſus by Subtilty, and kill him; nothing leſs than his Blood, his Life-blood, would ſerve their turn. So Cruel and Bloody have been the Deſigns of Chriſt's and his Churches Enemies. 3. The Policy of the Plotters. Not on the Feaſt-day; Why not? Was it in regard to the Holineſs of the Time, or becauſe they would not be diſturb'd in the Religious Services of the Day; no, but leſt there ſhould be an Uproar among the People. They knew Chriſt had a great Intereſt in the common People, of whom there was a great Concourſe on the Feaſt-Day, and they would be in danger of taking up Arms againſt their Rulers, if they ſhould offer to lay violent Hands on Chriſt, whom all held for a Prophet. They were not aw'd by the Fear of God, but by the Fear of the People; all their Concern was for their own Safety, not God's Honour: they would have it done at the Feaſt; for it was a Tradition of the Jews, that Malefactors ſhould be put to Death at one of the three Feaſts, eſpecially Rebels and Impoſtors, that all Iſrael might ſee and fear, but not on the Feaſt-day.

6 Now when Jeſus was in Bethany, in the houſe of Simon the leper, 7 There came unto him a woman having an alabaſter box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head, as he ſat at meat. 8 But when his diſciples ſaw it, they had indignation, ſaying, To what purpoſe is this waſte? 9 For this ointment might have been ſold for much, and given to the poor. 10 When Jeſus underſtood it, he ſaid unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for ſhe hath wrought a good work upon me. 11 For ye have the poor always with you, but me ye have not always. 12 For in that ſhe hath poured this ointment on my body, ſhe did it for my burial. 13 Verily I ſay unto you, Whereſoever this goſpel ſhall be preached in the whole world, there ſhall alſo this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

In this Paſſage of Story, we have,

Firſt, The ſingular Kindneſs of a good Woman to our Lord Jeſus, in anointing his Head, v. 6, 7. 'Twas in Bethany, a Village hard by Jeruſalem, and in the Houſe of Simon the Leper. Probably, he was one who had been miraculouſly cleanſed from his Leproſy by our Lord Jeſus, and he would expreſs his Gratitude to Chriſt, by entertaining him; nor did Chriſt diſdain to converſe with him, to come into him, and ſup with him. Tho' he was cleanſed, yet he was call'd Simon the Leper. Thoſe who are guilty of ſcandalous Sins, tho' the Sin be pardon'd, yet the Reproach will ſtick by them, and will hardly be wiped away. The Woman that did this is ſuppos'd to have been Mary, the Siſter of Martha and Lazarus: And Dr. Lightfoot thinks 'twas the ſame that was call'd Mary Magdalen. She had a Box of Ointment, very precious, which ſhe pour'd upon the Head of Chriſt as he ſat at Meat. This, among us, would be an odd ſort of Compliment: But it was then accounted the higheſt Piece of Reſpect; for the Smell was very grateful, and the Ointment it ſelf refreſhing to the Head. David had his Head anointed, Pſal. 23. 5. Luke 7. 46. Now this may be look'd upon,

1. As an Act of Faith in our Lord Jeſus, the Chriſt, the Meſſiah, i. e. the Anointed: To ſignify that ſhe believed in him as God's Anointed, whom he had ſet King, ſhe anointed him, and made him her King. They ſhall appoint themſelves one Head, Hoſ. 1. 11. This is kiſſing the Son.

2. As an Act of Love and Reſpect to him. Some think this was ſhe that loved much at firſt, and waſhed Chriſt's Feet with her Tears, Luke 7. 47. and ſhe had not left her firſt Love, but was now as affectionate in the Devotions of a grown Chriſtian, as ſhe was in thoſe of a young Beginner. Note, Where there is true Love in the Heart to Jeſus Chriſt, nothing will be thought too good, no, nor good enough, to beſtow upon him.

Secondly, The Offence which the Diſciples took at this: They had Indignation, v. 8, 9. were vex'd to ſee this Ointment thus ſpent, which they thought might have been better beſtow'd.

1. See how they expreſs'd their Offence at it: They ſaid, To what Purpoſe is this Waſte? Now this ſpeaks,

1. Want of Tenderneſs towards this good Woman, in interpreting her Over-kindneſs (ſuppoſe it was ſo) to be Waſtfulneſs. Charity teacheth us to put the beſt Conſtruction upon every Thing that it will bear, eſpecially upon the Words and Actions of thoſe that are zealouſly affected in a good Thing; tho' we may think them not altogether ſo diſcreet in it as they might be. 'Tis true, there may be over-doing in well-doing; but thence we muſt learn to be cautious our ſelves, leſt we run into Extreams; but not to be Cenſorious of others; becauſe that which we may impute to the want of Prudence, God may accept as an Inſtance of abundant Love. We muſt not ſay, Thoſe do too much in Religion, that do more than we do, but rather aim to do as much as they.

2. Want of Reſpect to their Maſter: The beſt we can make of it, is, that they knew their Maſter was perfectly dead to all the Delights of Senſe: He that was ſo much grieved for the Affliction of Joſeph, cared not for being anointed with he chief Ointments, Amos 6. 6. And therefore they thought ſuch Pleaſures ill beſtow'd upon one, who took ſo little Pleaſure in them. But ſuppoſing that, it did not become them to call it waſte, when they perceiv'd that he admitted and accepted it as a Token of his Friend's Love. Note, We muſt take heed of thinking any Thing waſte, which is beſtow'd upon the Lord Jeſus, either by others, or by our ſelves. We muſt not think that Time waſte that is ſpent in the Service of Chriſt, or that Money waſte which is laid out in any Work of Piety; for tho' it ſeem to be caſt upon the Waters, to be thrown down the River, yet we ſhall find it again to Advantage after many Days, Eccl. 11. 1.

2. See how they excus'd their Offence at it, and what Pretence they made for it: This Ointment might have been ſold for much, and given to the Poor. Note, It is no new Thing for bad Affections to ſhelter themſelves under ſpecious Covers; for People to ſhift off Works of Piety, under Colour of Works of Charity.

Thirdly, The Reproof Chriſt gave to his Diſciples for the Offence at this good Woman, v. 10, 11. Why trouble ye the Woman? Note, It is a great Trouble to good People, to have their good Works cenſur'd and miſconſtrued; and it is a Thing that Jeſus Chriſt takes very ill. He here took part with a good, honeſt, zealous, well-meaning Woman, againſt all his Diſciples, tho' they ſeem'd to have ſo much Reaſon on their ſide: So heartily doth he eſpouſe the Cauſe of the offended Little ones, Mat. 18. 10.

Obſerve his Reaſon, You have the Poor always with you. Note, 1. There are ſome Opportunities of doing, and getting Good, which are conſtant, and which we muſt give conſtant Attendance to the Improvement of: Bibles we have always with us, Sabbaths always with us, and ſo the Poor we have always with us. Note, Thoſe who have a Heart to do good, never need to complain for want of Opportunity. The Poor never ceaſed, even out of the Land of Iſrael, Deut. 15. 11. Some or other we cannot but ſee in this World, that call for our charitable Aſſiſtance, who are as God's Receivers; ſome poor Members of Chriſt, to whom he will have Kindneſs ſhewn, as to himſelf.

2. There are other Opportunities of doing and getting Good, which come but ſeldom, which are ſhort and uncertain, and require a more peculiar Diligence in the Improvement of them, and which ought to be preferr'd before the other: Me ye have not always; therefore uſe me while ye have me. Note, 1. Chriſt's conſtant, bodily Preſence, was not to be expected here in this World; 'twas expedient he ſhould go away: His real Preſence in the Euchariſt is a fond and groundleſs Conceit, and contradicts what he here ſaid, Me ye have not always. 2. Sometimes ſpecial Works of Piety and Devotion ſhould take place of common Works of Charity. The Poor muſt not rob Chriſt: We muſt do good to all, but eſpecially to the Houſhold of Faith.

Fourthly, Chriſt's Approbation and Commendation of the Kindneſs of this good Woman: The more his Servants and their Services are cavill'd at by Men, the more he manifeſts his Acceptance of them. He calls it a good Work, v. 10. and ſaith more in Praiſe of it, than could have been imagin'd. Particularly,

1. That the Meaning of it was myſtical, v. 12. She did it for my Burial. (1.) Some think ſhe intended it ſo, and that the Women better underſtood Chriſt's frequent Predictions of his Death and Sufferings, than the Apoſtles did; for which they were recompens'd with the Honour of being the firſt Witneſſes of his Reſurrection. (2.) However, Chriſt interpreted it ſo; and he is always willing to make the beſt, to make the moſt of his People's well-meant Words and Actions. This was as it were the Embalming of his Body; becauſe the doing of that after his Death would be prevented by his Reſurrection, it was therefore done before; for it was fit it ſhould be done ſome Time, to ſhew that he was ſtill the Meſſiah, even when he ſeem'd to be triumph'd over by Death. The Diſciples thought the Ointment waſted, which was pour'd upon his Head. But, ſaith he, If ſo much Ointment were poured upon a dead Body, according to the Cuſtom of your Country, you would not grudge it, or think it worſe. Now this is in Effect ſo; the Body ſhe anoints is as good as dead, and her Kindneſs is very ſeaſonable for that Purpoſe; therefore rather than call it waſte, put it upon that Score.

2. That the Memorial of it ſhould be honourable, v. 13. This ſhall be held for a Memorial. This Act of Faith and Love was ſo remarkable, that the Preachers of Chriſt crucified, and the inſpired Writers of the Hiſtory of his Paſſion, could not chuſe but take notice of this Paſſage, proclaim the Notice of it, and perpetuate the Memorial of it: And being once enroll'd in theſe Records, 'twas graven as with an Iron Pen, and laid in the Rock for ever, and could not poſſibly be forgotten. None of all the Trumpets of Fame found ſo loud, and ſo long, as the Everlaſting Goſpel. Note, 1. The Story of the Death of Chriſt, tho' a Tragical one, is Goſpel, glad Tidings, becauſe he dy'd for us. 2. This Goſpel was to be preach'd in the whole World; not in Judea only, but in every Nation, to every Creature. Let the Diſciples take notice of this for their Encouragement, that their Sound ſhould go to the Ends of the Earth. 3. Tho' the Honour of Chriſt is principally deſign'd in the Goſpel, yet the Honour of his Saints and Servants is not altogether overlook'd. The Memorial of this Woman was to be preſerv'd, not by dedicating a Church to her, or keeping an Annual Feaſt in Honour of her, or preſerving a Piece of her broken Box for a ſacred Relick; but by mentioning her Faith and Piety in the Preaching of the Goſpel for Example to others, Heb. 6. 12. And hereby Honour redounds to Chriſt himſelf, who in this World, as well as in that to come, will be glorified in his Saints, and admir'd in all them that believe.

14 Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iſcariot, went unto the chief prieſts, 15 And ſaid unto them, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of ſilver. 16 And from that time he ſought opportunity to betray him.

Immediately after an Inſtance of the greateſt Kindneſs done to Chriſt, follows an Inſtance of the greateſt Unkindneſs: Such Mixture is there of Good and Bad among the Followers of Chriſt; he hath ſome faithful Friends, and ſome falſe and feigned ones. What could be more baſe, than this Agreement which Judas here made with the Chief Prieſts to betray Chriſt to them?

1. The Traitor was Judas Iſcariot; he is ſaid to be one of the Twelve, as an Aggravation of his Villany. When the Number of the Diſciples was Multiplied, Acts 6. 1. no marvel if there were ſome among them that were a Shame and Trouble to them; but when there were but Twelve, and one of them was a Devil, ſurely we muſt never expect any Society perfectly pure on this ſide Heaven. The Twelve were Chriſt's choſen Friends, that had the Privilege of his ſpecial Favour; they were his conſtant Followers, that had the Benefit of his moſt intimate Converſe, that upon all Accounts had Reaſon to love him, and be true to him; and yet one of them betray'd him. Note, No Bonds of Duty or Gratitude will hold thoſe that have a Devil, Mark 5. 3, 4.

2. Here's the Proffer which he made to the Chief Prieſts; He went to them, and ſaid, What will ye give? v. 15. They did not ſend for him, nor make the Propoſal to him; they could not have thought that one of Chriſt's own Diſciples ſhould be falſe to him. Note, There are thoſe even among Chriſt's Followers, that are worſe than any one can imagine them to be, and want nothing but Opportunity to ſhew it.

Obſerve, 1. What Judas promis'd, I will deliver him unto you; i. e. I'll let you know where he is, and undertake to bring you to him, at ſuch a convenient Time and Place, that you may ſeize him without Noiſe, or Danger of an Uproar. In their Conſpiracy againſt Chriſt, this was it they were at a Loſs about, v. 4, 5. They durſt not meddle with him in Publick, and knew not where to find him in Private. Here the Matter ſtuck, and the Difficulty was inſuperable till Judas come, and offer'd them his Service. Note, Thoſe that give up themſelves to be led by the Devil, find him readier than they imagine to help them at a dead Lift, as Judas did the Chief Prieſts. Tho' the Rulers, by their Power and Intereſt, when they have him in their Hands could kill him, yet none but a Diſciple could betray him. Note, The greater Profeſſion Men make of Religion, and the more they are employ'd in the Study and Service of it, the greater Opportunity they have of doing Miſchief, if their Hearts be not right with God: If Judas had not been an Apoſtle, he could not have been a Traytor; if Men had not known the Way of Righteouſneſs, they could not have abus'd it.

I will deliver him unto you: He did not offer himſelf, nor did they tamper with him to be a Witneſs againſt Chriſt, tho' they wanted Evidence, v. 59. And if there had been any Thing to be alledg'd againſt him, which had but the Colour of Proof that he was an Impoſtor, Judas was the likelieſt Perſon to have atteſted it: But this is an Evidence of the Innocency of our Lord Jeſus, that his own Diſciple, who knew ſo well his Doctrine and Manner of his Life, and was falſe to him, yet could not charge him with any Thing criminal, tho' it would have ſerv'd to juſtify his Treachery.

2. What he ask'd in Conſideration of this Undertaking: What will ye give me? This was the only Thing that made Judas betray his Maſter, he hop'd to get Money by it. His Maſter had not given him any Provocation; tho' he knew from the firſt that he had a Devil, yet, for ought appears, he ſhew'd the ſame Kindneſs to him that he did to the reſt, and put no Mark of Diſgrace upon him, that might diſoblige him. He had plac'd him in a Poſt that pleas'd him, had made him Purſe-bearer; and tho' he had embezzled the common Stock, for he is call'd a Thief, John 12. 6. yet we do not find he was in any Danger to be call'd to Account for it. Nor doth it appear he had any Suſpicion that the Goſpel was a Cheat: No, it was not the Hatred of his Maſter, nor any Quarrel with him, but purely the Love of the Money; that, and nothing elſe, made Judas a Traytor.

What will ye give me? Why, what did he want? Neither Bread to eat, nor Raiment to put on; neither Neceſſaries nor Conveniencies. Was not he welcome where-ever his Maſter was? Did he not fare as he far'd? Had he not been but juſt now nobly entertain'd at a Supper in Bethany, in the Houſe of Simon the Leper; and a little before at another, where no leſs a Perſon than Martha her ſelf waited at Table? And yet this covetous Wretch could not be content, but comes baſely cringing to the Prieſts, with, What will ye give me? Note, It is not the Lack of Money, but the Love of Money, that is the Root of all Evil, and particularly of Apoſtacy from Chriſt; witneſs Demas, 2 Tim. 4. 10. Satan tempted our Saviour with this Bait, All this will I give thee, Mat. 4. 9. But Judas offer'd himſelf to be tempted with it; he asks, What will ye give me? As if his Maſter were a Commodity that ſtuck on his Hands.

3. Here's the Bargain which the Chief Prieſts made with him; They covenanted with him for Thirty Pieces of Silver; Thirty Shekels, which in our Money is about 3*l.* 8*s.* ſo ſome; 3*l.* 15*s.* ſo others. It ſhould ſeem, Judas referr'd himſelf to them, and was willing to take what they were willing to give: He catches at the firſt Offer, leſt the next ſhould be worſe. Judas had not been wont to trade high, and therefore a little Money went a great way with him. By the Law, Exod. 21. 32. Thirty Pieces of Silver was the Price of a Slave, a goodly Price, at which Chriſt was valued, Zech. 11. 13. No wonder Sion's Sons, tho' comparable to fine Gold, are eſteem'd as Earthen Pitchers, when Sion's King himſelf was thus undervalued. They covenanted with him; ἔστησαν, appenderunt, they paid it down, ſo ſome; gave him his Wages in Hand, to ſecure him, and to encourage him.

4. Here's the Induſtry of Judas, in Purſance of his Bargain, v. 16. He ſought Opportunity to betray him; his Head was ſtill working to find out how he might do it effectually. Note, 1. It is a very wicked Thing to ſeek Opportunity to ſin, and to deviſe Miſchief; for it argues the Heart fully ſet in them to do Evil, and a Malice prepenſe. 2. Thoſe that are in, think they muſt on, tho' the Matter be never ſo bad. After he had made that wicked Bargain, he had Time to repent, and to revoke it; but now, by his Covenant, the Devil has one Hank more upon him than he had, and tells him he muſt be true to his Word, tho' never ſo falſe to his Maſter; as Herod muſt behead John for his Oath's ſake.

17 Now the firſt day of the feaſt of unleavened bread, the diſciples came to Jeſus, ſaying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the paſſover?
18 And he ſaid, Go into the city to ſuch a man, and ſay unto him, The maſter ſaith, My time is at hand,
I will keep the paſſover at thy houſe with my diſciples.
19 And the diſciples did as Jeſus had appointed them, and they made ready the paſſover. 20 Now when the even was come, he ſat down with the twelve. 21 And as they did eat, he ſaid, Verily I ſay unto you, that one of you ſhall betray me. 22 And they were exceeding ſorrowful, and began every one of them to ſay unto him, Lord, is it I? 23 And he anſwered and ſaid, He that dippeth his hand with me in the diſh, the ſame ſhall betray me. 24 The Son of man goeth as it written of him: but wo unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed: it had been good for that man, if he had not been born. 25 Then Judas, which betrayed him, anſwered, and ſaid, Maſter, is it I? He ſaid unto him, Thou haſt ſaid.

We have here an Account of Chriſt's keeping the Paſſover; being made under the Law, he ſubmitted to all the Ordinances of it, and to this among the reſt: 'Twas kept in Remembrance of Iſrael's Deliverance out of Egypt, the Birth-day of that People. It was a Tradition of the Jews, that in the Days of the Meſſiah, they ſhould be redeemed on the very Day of their coming out of Egypt; and it was exactly fulfill'd, for Chriſt dy'd the Day after the Paſſover, in which Day they began their March.

1. The Time when Chriſt eat the Paſſover, was the uſual Time appointed by God, and obſerved by the Jews, v. 17. The firſt Day of the Feaſt of unleavened Bread; which that Year happen'd on the Fifth Day of the Week, which is our Thurſday. Some have advanc'd a Suggeſtion, that our Lord Jeſus celebrated the Paſſover at this Time of Day ſooner than other People did; but the Learned Dr. Whitby has largely diſprov'd it.

2. The Place where, was particularly appointed by himſelf to the Diſciples, upon their Enquiry; v. 17. They asked, Wherewith wilt thou that we prepare the Paſſover? Perhaps Judas was one of thoſe that ask'd this Queſtion, where he would eat the Paſſover, that he might know the better how to lay his Train; but the reſt of the Diſciples ask'd it as uſual, that they might do their Duty.

1. They took it for granted, that their Maſter would eat the Paſſover, tho' he was at this Time perſecuted by the Chief Prieſts, and his Life ſought; they knew he would not be put by his Duty, either by Frightnings without, or Fears within. Thoſe do not follow Chriſt's Example, who make it an Excuſe for their not attending on the Lord's-Supper, our Goſpel-Paſſover, that they have many Troubles and many Enemies, are full of Care and Fear; and if ſo, they have the more need of that Ordinance, to help to ſilence their Fears, and comfort them under their Troubles; to help them in forgiving their Enemies, and caſting all their Cares upon God.

2. They knew very well there muſt be Preparation made for it, and it was their Buſineſs as his Servants to make Preparation: Where wilt thou that we prepare? Note, Before ſolemn Ordinances, there muſt be ſolemn Preparation.

3. They knew he had no Houſe of his own wherein to eat the Paſſover; in this, as in other Things, for our Sakes he became poor. Among all Sion's Palaces, there was none for Sion's King; but his Kingdom was not of this World. See John 1. 11.

4. They would not pitch upon a Place without Direction from him, and from him they had Direction; he ſent them to ſuch a Man, v. 18. who probably was a Friend and Follower of his; and to his Houſe he invited himſelf and his Diſciples.

(1.) Tell him, My Time is at hand: He means the Time of his Death, elſwhere call'd his Hour, John 8. 20.—13. 1. The Time, the Hour fix'd in the Counſel of God, and which his Heart was upon, and which he had ſo oft ſpoken of. He knew when 'twas at hand, and was buſy accordingly: We know not our Time, Eccl. 9. 12. and therefore muſt never be off our Watch; Our Time is always ready, John 7. 6. and therefore we muſt be always ready. Obſerve, Becauſe his Time was at hand, he would keep the Paſſover. Note, The Conſideration of the near Approach of Death ſhould quicken us to a diligent Improvement of all Opportunities for our Souls. Is our Time at hand, and an Eternity juſt before us? Let us then keep the Feaſt with the unleavened Bread of Sincerity. Obſerve, When our Lord Jeſus invited himſelf to this good Man's Houſe, he ſent him this Intelligence, that his Time was at hand. Note, Chriſt's Secret is with them that entertain him in their Hearts. Compare John 14. 21. with Rev. 3. 20.

(2.) Tell him, I will keep the Paſſover at thy Houſe: This was an Inſtance of his Authority, as the Maſter, which 'tis likely this Man acknowledg'd: He did not beg, but command the Uſe of his Houſe for this Purpoſe. Thus, when Chriſt by his Spirit comes into the Heart, he demands Admiſſion, as one whoſe own the Heart is, and cannot be denied; and gains Admiſſion, as one who has all Power in the Heart, and cannot be reſiſted: If he ſaith, I will keep a Feaſt in ſuch a Soul, he will do it; for he works, and none can hinder. His People ſhall be willing, for he makes them ſo. I will keep the Paſſover with my Diſciples. Note, Where-ever Chriſt is welcome, he expects that his Diſciples ſhould be welcome too: When we take God for our God, we take his People for our People.

3. The Preparation was made by the Diſciples, v. 19. They did as Jeſus had appointed. Note, Thoſe who would have Chriſt's Preſence with them in the Goſpel-Paſſover, muſt ſtrictly obſerve his Inſtructions, and do as he directs. They made ready the Paſſover; they got the Lamb kill'd in the Court of the Temple, got it roaſted, the bitter Herbs provided, Bread and Wine, the Cloth laid, and every Thing ſet in Readineſs for ſuch a ſacred, ſolemn Feaſt.

4. They eat the Paſſover according to the Law, v. 20. He ſat down in the uſual Table-Geſture; not lying on one ſide, for it was not eaſy to eat, nor poſſible to drink in that Poſture; but ſitting upright, tho' perhaps ſitting low. 'Tis the ſame Word that is us'd for his Poſture at other Meals, Mat. 9. 10. Luke 7. 37. Mat. 26. 7. 'Twas only the firſt Paſſover in Egypt, as moſt think, that was eaten with their Loins girded, Shoes on their Feet, and Staff in their Hand, tho' all that might be in a ſitting Poſture. His ſitting down, notes the Compoſedneſs of his Mind, when he addreſs'd himſelf to this Solemnity: He ſat down with the Twelve, Judas not excepted. By the Law they were to take a Lamb for a Houſhold, Exod. 12. 3, 4. which were to be not leſs than ten, or more than twenty; Chriſt's Diſciples were his Houſhold. Note, They whom God has charged with Families, muſt have their Houſes with them in ſerving the Lord.

5. We have here Chriſt's Diſcourſe with his Diſciples at the Paſſover Supper: The uſual Subject of Diſcourſe at that Ordinance, was the Deliverance of Iſrael out of Egypt, Exod. 12. 26, 27. but the great Paſſover is now ready to be offered, and the Diſcourſe of that ſwallows up all Talk of the other, Jer. 16. 14, 15. Here is,

1. The general Notice Chriſt gives his Diſciples of the Treachery that ſhould be among them, v. 21. One of you ſhall betray me: Obſerve (1.) Chriſt knew it; we know not what Troubles will befal us, nor whence they will ariſe, but Chriſt knew all his, which as it proves his Omniſcience, ſo magnifies his Love, that he knew all Things that ſhould befal him, and yet did not draw back: He foreſaw the Treachery and Baſeneſs of a Diſciple of his own, and yet went on; took care of thoſe that were given him, tho' he knew there was a Judas among them; would pay the Price of our Redemption, tho' he foreſaw ſome would deny the Lord that bought them; and ſhed his Blood, tho' he knew it would be trodden under foot, as an unholy Thing. (2) When there was occaſion he let thoſe about him know it. He had often told them that the Son of Man ſhould be betray'd, now he tells them that one of them ſhould do it, that when they ſaw it they might not only be the leſs ſurpriz'd, but have their Faith in him confirm'd, Joh. 13. 19.—14. 29.

2. The Diſciples Reſentment of this, v. 22. How did they take it?

(1.) They were exceeding ſorrowful. (1.) It troubled them much to hear that their Maſter ſhould be betray'd: When Peter was firſt told of it, he ſaid, Be it far from thee; and therefore it muſt needs be a great Trouble to him, and the reſt of them, to hear that it was very near to him. (2.) It troubled them more to hear that one of them ſhould do it. It would be a Reproach to the Fraternity, for an Apoſtle to prove a Traitor, and this griev'd them; gracious Souls grieve for the Sins of others, eſpecially of thoſe that have made a more than ordinary Profeſſion of Religion, 2 Cor. 11. 29. (3.) It troubled them moſt of all, that they were left at uncertainty which of them it was, and each of them was afraid for himſelf, leſt, as Hazael ſpeaks, 2 Kings 8. 13. he was the Dog that ſhould do this great Thing. Thoſe that know the Strength and Subtilty of the Tempter, and their own Weakneſs and Folly, cannot but be in pain for themſelves, when they hear that the Love of many will wax cold.

(2.) They began every one of them to ſay; Lord, Is it I?

(1.) They were not apt to ſuſpect Judas, tho' he was a Thief, yet it ſeems he had carry'd it ſo plauſibly, that thoſe who were intimate with him, were not jealous of him: None of them ſo much as look'd upon him, much leſs ſaid, Lord, Is it Judas? Note, It is poſſible for an Hypocrite to go through the World, not only undiſcovered, but unſuſpected, like bad Money ſo ingeniouſly counterfeited, that no Body queſtions it.

(2.) They were apt to ſuſpect themſelves, Lord, Is it I? Tho' they were not conſcious to themſelves of any Inclination that way, no ſuch Thought had ever enter'd into their Mind, yet they fear'd the worſt, and ask'd him, who knows us better than we know our ſelves, Lord, Is it I? Note, It well becomes the Diſciples of Chriſt always to be jealous over themſelves with a godly Jealouſy, eſpecially in trying Times. We know not how ſtrongly we may be tempted, nor how far God may leave us to our ſelves, and therefore have Reaſon not to be high-minded, but fear. It is obſervable, that our Lord Jeſus, juſt before he inſtituted the Lord's Supper, put his Diſciples upon this Tryal, and Suſpicion of themſelves, to teach us to examine and judge our ſelves, and ſo to eat of that Bread, and drink of that Cup.

3. Further Information given them concerning this Matter, v. 23, 24. where Chriſt tells them, (1.) That the Traitor was a familiar Friend; He that dippeth his Hand with me in the Diſh, i. e. one of you that are now with me at the Table. He mentions this to make the Treachery appear the more exceeding ſinful. Note, External Communion with Chriſt in holy Ordinances is a great Aggravation of our Falſeneſs to him. 'Tis baſe Ingratitude to dip with Chriſt in the Diſh, and yet betray him. (2.) That this was according to the Scripture, which would take off the Offence at it. Was Chriſt betray'd by a Diſciple, ſo it was written, Pſal. 41. 9. He that did eat Bread with me, has lift up the Heel againſt me. The more we ſee of the fulfilling of the Scripture in our Troubles, the better we may bear them. (3.) That it would prove a very dear Bargain to the Traitor; Woe to that Man by whom the Son of Man is betray'd. This he ſaid, not only to awaken the Conſcience of Judas, and bring him to repent, and revoke his Bargain, but for warning to all others to take heed of ſinning like Judas; tho' God can ſerve his own Purpoſes by the Sins of Men, that doth not make the Sinners Condition the leſs woful. It had been good for that Man if he had not been born. Note, The Ruin that attends thoſe who betray Chriſt is ſo great, that it were more eligible by far not to be at all, than to be thus miſerable.

4. The Conviction of Judas, v. 25. (1.) He ask'd, Is it I? to avoid coming under the Suſpicion of Guilt by his Silence: He knew very well it was he, and yet made thus ſtrange of it. Note, Many whoſe Conſciences condemn them, yet are very induſtrious to juſtify themſelves before Men, and put a good Face on it, with, Lord, Is it I? He could not but know that Chriſt knew, and yet truſted ſo much to his Courteſy, becauſe he had hitherto conceal'd it, that he had the Impudence to challenge him to tell: Or perhaps, he was ſo much under the Power of Infidelity, that he imagin'd Chriſt did not know it, as thoſe who ſaid, The Lord ſhall not ſee, Pſal. 94. 7. And he asked, Can he judge through the dark Clouds? (2) Chriſt ſoon anſwer'd his Queſtion, Thou haſt ſaid, i. e. it is as thou haſt ſaid; this is not all out ſo plain as Nathan's, Thou art the Man; but it was enough to convict him, and if his Heart had not been wretchedly hardned, to have broke the Neck of his Plot, when he ſaw it diſcover'd to his Maſter, and diſcover'd by him. Note, They who are contriving to betray Chriſt, will ſometime or other betray themſelves, and their own Tongues will fall upon them.

26 And as they were eating, Jeſus took bread, and bleſſed it, and brake it, and gave it to the diſciples, and ſaid, Take, eat; this is my body. 27 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, ſaying, Drink ye all of it: 28 For this is my blood of the new teſtament, which is ſhed for many for the remiſſion of ſins. 29 But I ſay unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Fathers kingdom. 30 And when they had ſung an hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

We have here the Inſtitution of the great Goſpel-Ordinance of the Lord's Supper, which was received of the Lord. Obſerve,

1. The Time when it was inſtituted, as they were eating. At the latter end of the Paſſover, before the Table was drawn, becauſe as a Feaſt upon a Sacrifice it was to come in the room of that Ordinance. Chriſt is to us the Paſſover Sacrifice, by which Atonement is made, 1 Cor. 5. 8. Chriſt our Paſſover is ſacrificed for us; this Ordinance is to us the Paſſover-Supper, by which Application is made, and a Commemoration celebrated of a much greater Deliverance than that of Iſrael out of Egypt. All the legal Sacrifices of Propitiation being ſumm'd up in the Death of Chriſt, and ſo aboliſh'd.

2. The Inſtitution it ſelf. A Sacrament muſt be inſtituted; 'tis no part of Moral Worſhip, nor is it dictated by natural Light, but has both its Being and Significancy from the Inſtitution, from a Divine Inſtitution; 'tis his Prerogative who eſtabliſh'd the Covenant to appoint the Seals of it. Hence the Apoſtle, 1 Cor. 11. 23, &c. in that Diſcourſe of his concerning this Ordinance, all along calls Jeſus Chriſt the Lord, becauſe as Lord, as Lord of the Covenant, Lord of the Church, he appointed this Ordinance. In which,

Firſt, The Body of Chriſt is ſignified and repreſented by Bread; he had ſaid formerly, John 6. 35. I am the Bread of Life, upon which Metaphor this Sacrament is built; as the Life of the Body is ſupported by Bread, which is therefore put for all bodily Nouriſhment, Matt. 4. 4.—6. 11. ſo the Life of the Soul is ſupported and maintained by Chriſt's Mediation.

1. He took Bread, τὸν ἄρτον, the Loaf, ſome Loaf that lay ready at hand, fit for the Purpoſe; 'tis likely 'twas unleavened Bread; but that Circumſtance not being taken notice of, we are not to bind our ſelves to that, as ſome of the Greek Churches do. His taking the Bread was a ſolemn Action, and 'tis like was done in ſuch a manner as to be obſerv'd by them that ſat with him, that they might expect ſomething more than ordinary to be done with it. Thus was the Lord Jeſus ſet apart in the Counſels of Divine Love for the working out of our Redemption.

2. He bleſſed it, ſet it apart for this Uſe by Prayer and Thankſgiving. We do not find any ſet Form of Words us'd by him upon this Occaſion, but what he ſaid, no doubt, was accommodated to the Buſineſs in hand, that New Teſtament, which by this Ordinance was to be ſealed and ratified. This was like God's bleſſing the ſeventh Day, Gen. 2. 3. by which it was ſeparated to God's Honour, and made to all that duly obſerve it, a bleſſed Day: Chriſt could command the Bleſſing, and we in his Name are embolden'd to beg the Bleſſing.

3. He brake it; which notes (1.) The breaking of Chriſt's Body for us, that it might be fitted for our uſe; he was bruiſed for our Iniquities, as Bread-Corn is bruiſed, Iſa. 28. 28. tho' a Bone of him was not broken, for all his breaking did not weaken him, yet his Fleſh was broken with breach upon breach, and his Wounds multiplied, John 16. 14.——9. 17. and that pain'd him. God complains that he is broken with the whoriſh Heart of Sinners, Ezek. 6. 9. his Law broken, our Covenants with him broken; now Juſtice requires Breach for Breach, Lev. 24. 20. and Chriſt was broken to ſatisfy that Demand. (2.) The breaking of Chriſt's Body to us, as the Father of the Family breaks the Bread to the Children: The breaking of Chriſt to us, is to facilitate the Application; every Thing is made ready to us, by the Grants of God's Word, and the Operations of his Grace.

4. He gave it to his Diſciples, as the Maſter of the Family, and the Maſter of this Feaſt; it is not ſaid, he gave it to the Apoſtles, tho' they were ſo, and had been often call'd ſo before this, but to the Diſciples, becauſe all the Diſciples of Chriſt have a right to this Ordinance, and thoſe ſhall have the Benefit of it, who are his Diſciples indeed, yet he gave it to them, as he did the multiplied Loaves by them to be handed to all other his Followers.

5. He ſaid, Take, eat, this is my Body. He here tells them,

1. What they ſhould do with it, take, eat; accept of Chriſt as he is offer'd to you, receive the Atonement, approve of it, conſent to it, come up to the Terms on which the Benefit of it is propos'd to you; ſubmit to his Grace and to his Government: Believing on Chriſt is expreſs'd by Receiving him, John 1. 12. and feeding upon him, John 6. 57, 58. Meat look'd upon, or the Diſh never ſo well garniſh'd, will not nouriſh us, it muſt be fed upon, ſo muſt the Doctrine of Chriſt.

2. What they ſhould have with it; This is my Body, not οὗτος, this Bread, but τοῦτο, this eating and drinking, i. e. Believing carries all the Efficacy of Chriſt's Death to our Souls; This is my Body, i. e. Spiritually and Sacramentally; this ſignifies and repreſents my Body, that is Sacramental Language, like that, Exod. 12. 11. It is the Lord's Paſſover. Upon a carnal and much miſtaken Senſe of theſe Words, the Church of Rome builds the monſtrous Doctrine of Tranſubſtantiation, which makes the Bread to be changed into the Subſtance of Chriſt's Body, only the Accidents of Bread remaining, which affronts Chriſt, deſtroys the Nature of a Sacrament, and gives the Lye to our Senſes: We partake of the Sun, not by having the Bulk and Body of the Sun put into our Hands, but the Beams of it darted down upon us; ſo we partake of Chriſt, by partaking of his Grace, and the bleſſed Fruits of the breaking of his Body.

Secondly, The Blood of Chriſt is ſignified and repreſented by the Wine; to make it a compleat Feaſt, here is not only Bread to ſtrengthen, but Wine to make glad the Heart, v. 27, 28. He took the Cup, the Grace-Cup, which was ſet ready to be drank, after Thanks return'd, according to the Cuſtom of the Jews, at the Paſſover; this Chriſt took and made the Sacramental Cup, and ſo alter'd the Property. 'Twas intended for a Cup of Bleſſing, ſo the Jews call'd it, and therefore St. Paul ſtudiouſly diſtinguiſh'd between the Cup of Bleſſing which we bleſs, and that which they bleſs. He gave Thanks, to teach us, not only in every Ordinance, but in every part of the Ordinance, to have our Eyes up to God.

This Cup he gave to the Diſciples.

1. With a Command, Drink ye all of it: Thus he welcomes his Gueſts to his Table, obligeth them all to drink of his Cup. Why ſhould he ſo expreſly command them all to drink, and to ſee that none let it paſs them, and preſs that more expreſly in this than in the other part of the Ordinance; ſurely it was becauſe he foreſaw how in after Ages this Ordinance would be diſmember'd by the Prohibition of the Cup to the Laity, with an expreſs non obſtante to the Command.

2. With an Explication; For this is my Blood of the New Teſtament; Therefore drink it with Appetite, Delight, becauſe it is ſo rich a Cordial. Hitherto the Blood of Chriſt had been repreſented by the Blood of Beaſts, real Blood, but after it was actually ſhed, it was repreſented by the Blood of Grapes, metaphorical Blood; ſo Wine is call'd in an Old Teſtament Prophecy of Chriſt, Gen. 49. 10, 11.

Now obſerve what Chriſt ſaith of his Blood repreſented in the Sacrament.

1. 'Tis my Blood of the New Teſtament: the Old Teſtament was confirm'd by the Blood of Bulls and Goats, Heb. 9. 16, 17. Exod. 24. 8. But the New Teſtament with the Blood of Chriſt, which is here diſtinguiſh'd from that, 'tis my Blood of the New Teſtament. The Covenant God is pleaſed to make with us, and all the Benefits and Privileges of it are owing to the Merits of Chriſt's Death.

2. It is ſhed; It was not ſhed till next Day, but it was now upon the Point of being ſhed, it is as good as done. Before you come to repeat this Ordinance your ſelves, it will be ſhed; he was now ready to be offer'd, and his Blood to be poured out, as the Blood of the Sacrifices which made Atonement.

3. It is ſhed for many; Chriſt came to confirm a Covenant with many, Dan. 9. 27. and the Intent of his Death agreed. The Blood of the old Teſtament was ſhed for a few, it confirm'd a Covenant, which, ſaith Moſes, the Lord has made with you, Exod. 24. 8. The Atonement was made only for the Children of Iſrael, Lev. 16. 34. but Jeſus Chriſt is a Propitiation for the Sins of the whole World, 1 Joh. 2. 2.

4. It is ſhed for the Remiſſion of Sins, i. e. to purchaſe Remiſſion of Sins for us. The Redemption we have through his Blood is the Remiſſion of Sins, Eph. 1. 7. The New Covenant which is procur'd and ratified by the Blood of Chriſt, is a Charter of Pardon, an Act of Indemnity, in order to a Reconciliation between God and Man, for Sin was the only Thing that made the Quarrel, and without ſhedding of Blood is no Remiſſion, Heb. 9. 22. The Pardon of Sin is that great Bleſſing which is in the Lord's Supper conferr'd upon all true Believers, it is the Foundation of all other Bleſſings, and the Spring of everlaſting Comfort, Mat. 9. 2, 3. with a Farewel to the Fruit of the Vine, v. 29. Chriſt and his Diſciples had now feaſted together with a deal of Comforts in both an Old Teſtament and a New Teſtament Feſtival, (Fibula utriuſque Teſtamenti.) How amiable were theſe Tabernacles? How good to be here? Never ſuch a Heaven upon Earth, as was at this Table, but was not intended for a Perpetuity; he now told them, Joh. 16. 17. that yet a little while and they ſhould not ſee him, and again, a litle while and they ſhould ſee him, which explains this here.

1. He takes leave of ſuch Communion; I will not drink henceforth of this Fruit of the Vine, that is, Now I am no more in the World, John 17. 11. I have had enough of it, and am glad to think of leaving it, glad to think this is the laſt Meal. Farewel this Fruit of the Vine, this Paſſover-Cup, this Sacramental Wine; dying Saints take their leave of Sacraments, and other the Ordinances of Communion, which they enjoy in this World with Comfort, for the Joy and Glory they enter into ſuperſedes them all; when the Sun riſeth, farewel the Candles.

2. He aſſures them of a happy Meeting again at laſt: 'Tis a long, but not an everlaſting Farewel, until that Day when I drink it new with you. (1.) Some underſtand it of the Interviews he had with them after his Reſurrection, which was the firſt Step of his Exaltation into the Kingdom of his Father; and tho' during thoſe Forty Days he did not converſe with them ſo conſtantly as he had done, yet he did eat and drink with them, Acts 10. 41. which as it confirm'd their Faith, ſo doubtleſs it greatly comforted their Hearts, for they were over-joy'd at it, Luke 24. 41. (2.) Others underſtand it of the Joys and Glories of the future State, which the Saints ſhall partake of in everlaſting Communion with the Lord Jeſus, repreſented here by the Pleaſures of a Banquet of Wine. That will be the Kingdom of his Father, for unto him ſhall the Kingdom be then deliver'd up, the Wine of Conſolation, (16. 7.) will there be always new, never flat or ſowre, as Wine with long keeping; never nauſeous or unpleaſant, as Wine to thoſe that have drank much; but ever freſh. Chriſt will himſelf partake of thoſe Pleaſures, 'twas the Joy ſet before him, which he had in his Eye, and all his faithful Friends and Followers ſhall partake with him.

Laſtly, Here's the Cloſe of the Solemnity with a Hymn, v. 30. They ſung a Hymn, or a Pſalm; whether the Pſalms which the Jews uſually ſung at the cloſe of the Paſſover-Supper, which they call'd the great Hallel, viz. Pſal. 113. and the five that follow it; or whether ſome new Hymn more cloſely adapted to the Occaſion, is uncertain. I rather think the former; had it been new, John would not have omitted to record it. Note, 1. Singing of Pſalms is a Goſpel-Ordinance. Chriſt's removing the Hymn from the cloſe of the Paſſover to the cloſe of the Lord's Supper, plainy ſpeaks, that he intended that Ordinance ſhould continue in his Church; that as it had not its Birth with the Ceremonial Law, ſo it ſhould not dye with it. 2. 'Tis very proper after the Lord's Supper, as an Expreſſion of our Joy in God through Jeſus Chriſt, and a thankful Acknowledgment of that great Love, wherewith God has loved us in him. 3. It is not unſeaſonable, no, not in Times of Sorrow and Suffering; the Diſciples were in Sorrow, and Chriſt entering upon his Sufferings, and yet they could ſing a Hymn together. Our Spiritual Joy ſhould not be interrupted by outward Afflictions.

When this was done, they went out into the Mount of Olives; he would not ſtay in the Houſe to be apprehended, leſt he ſhould bring the Maſter of the Houſe into trouble; nor would he ſtay in the City, leſt it ſhould occaſion an Uproar; but he retir'd into the adjacent Country, the Mount of Olives, the ſame Mount that David, in his Diſtreſs, went up the Aſcent of weeping, 2 Sam. 15. 30. They had the benefit of Moon-light for this Walk, for the Paſſover was always at the Full Moon. Note, After we have received the Lord's Supper, it is good for us to retire for Prayer and Meditation, and to be alone with God.

31 Then ſaith Jeſus unto them, All ye ſhall be offended becauſe of me this night: for it is written, I will ſmite the ſhepherd, and the ſheep of the flock ſhall be ſcattered abroad. 32 But after I am riſen again, I will go before you into Galilee. 33 Peter anſwered and ſaid unto him, Though all men ſhall be offended becauſe of thee, yet will I never be offended. 34 Jeſus ſaid unto him, Verily I ſay unto thee, that this night, before the cock crow, thou ſhalt deny me thrice. 35 Peter ſaid unto him, Though I ſhould die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewiſe alſo ſaid all the diſciples.

We have here Chriſt's Diſcourſe with his Diſciples upon the Way, as they were going to the Mount of Olives. Obſerve, Firſt, A Prediction of the Tryal which both he and his Diſciples were now to go through. He here foretels,

1. A diſmal ſcattering Storm juſt ariſing, v. 31.

(1.) That they ſhould all be offended becauſe of Chriſt that very Night, i. e. They would all be ſo ill frightened with his Sufferings, that they would not have the Courage to ſtick to him in them, but would all baſely deſert him; Becauſe of me this Night, ἐν ἐμοὶ ἐν τῇ νυκτὶ ταύτῃ, Becauſe of me, even becauſe of this Night, ſo it might be read, i. e. Becauſe of what happens to me this Night, Note. (1.) Offences will come among the Diſciples of Chriſt in an Hour of Trial and Temptation; it cannot be but they ſhould, for they are weak. Satan is buſy, God permits Offences, even they whoſe Hearts are upright, may ſometimes be overtaken with an Offence. (2.) There are ſome Temptations and Offences, the Effects of which are general and univerſal among Chriſt's Diſciples; All you ſhall be offended. Chriſt had lately diſcovered to them the Treachery of Judas, but let not the reſt be ſecure, tho' there will be but one Traytor, they will be all Deſerters: This he ſaith to alarm them all, that they might all watch. (3.) We have need to prepare for ſudden Tryals, which may come to Extremity in a very little time. Christ and his Diſciples had eaten their Supper well together in Peace and Quietneſs, yet that very Night prov'd ſuch a Night of Offence. How ſoon may a Storm ariſe? We know not what a Day, or a Night may bring forth, nor what great Event may be in the teeming Womb of a little Time, Prov. 27. 1. (4.) The Croſs of Chriſt is the great Stumbling block to many that paſs for his Diſciples; both the Croſs he bore for us, 1 Cor. 1. 23. and that which we are call'd out to bear for him, Mat. 13. 21.

(2.) That herein the Scripture would be fulfill'd, I will ſmite the Shepherd. 'Tis quoted from Zech. 13. 7. (1.) Here's the Smiting of the Shepherd in the Sufferings of Chriſt. God awakens the Sword of his Wrath againſt the Son of his Love, and he is ſmitten. (2.) The ſcattering of the Sheep thereupon in the Flight of the Diſciples. When Chriſt fell into the Hands of his Enemies, his Diſciples run, one, one way, and another, another; 'twas each one's Care to ſhift for himſelf, and happy he that could get furtheſt from the Croſs.

2. He gives them the Proſpect of a comfortable gathering together again after this Storm, v. 32. After I am riſen again I will go before you. Tho' you'll forſake me, I will not forſake you; tho' you fall, I'll take care you ſhall not fall finally, we ſhall have a Meeting again in Galilee, I'll go before you, as the Shepherd before the Sheep. Some make the laſt Words of that Prophecy, Zech. 13. 7. a Promiſe equivalent to this here; And I will bring my Hand again to the little Ones. There's no bringing them back but by bringing his Hand to them. Note, The Captain of our Salvation knows how to rally his Troops, when through their Cowardice they have been put into Diſorder.

Secondly, The Preſumption of Peter, that he ſhould keep his Integrity whatever happen'd, v. 33. Tho' all Men be offended, yet will I never be offended. Peter had a great Stock of Confidence, and was upon all Occaſions forward to ſpeak, eſpecially to ſpeak for himſelf, and ſometimes it did him a Kindneſs, but at other times it betray'd him, as it did here. Where obſerve,

1. How he bound himſelf with a Promiſe, that he would never be offended in Chriſt; not only not this Night, but at no time: And if this Promiſe had been made in an humble Dependance upon the Grace of Chriſt, it had been an excellent good Word. Before the Lord's Supper, Chriſt's Diſcourſe led his Diſciples to examine themſelves with, Lord, Is it I? For that's our preparatory Duty; after the Ordinance, his Diſcourſe leads them to an engaging of themſelves to cloſe walking; for that's the ſubſequent Duty.

2. How he fancied himſelf better arm'd againſt Temptation than any one elſe, and this was his Weakneſs and Folly; tho' all Men ſhall be offended, yet not I. This was worſe than Hazael's, What? Is thy Servant a Dog? For he ſuppos'd the thing ſo ill, that no Man would do it. But Peter ſuppoſeth it poſſible that ſome, nay, that all Men might be offended, and yet he eſcape better than any. Note, It argues a great Degree of Self-conceit, and Self-confidence, to think our ſelves, either ſafe from the Temptations, or free from the Corruptions that are common to Men. We ſhould rather ſay, If it be poſſible others may be offended, there is danger that I may be ſo. But 'tis common for thoſe that think too well of themſelves, eaſily to admit Suſpicions of others. See Gal. 6. 1.

Thirdly, The particular Warning Chriſt gave Peter of what he would do, v. 34. He imagin'd, That in the Hour of Temptation he ſhould come off better than any of them, and Chriſt tells him he ſhould come off worſe. The Warning is introduc'd with a ſolemn Aſſeveration, Verily, I ſay unto thee, Take my Word for it, who know thee better than thou knoweſt thy ſelf. He tells him,

1. That he ſhould deny him. Peter promis'd he would not be ſo much as offended in him, not deſert him; but Chriſt tells him he will go further, he will diſown him. He ſaid, Tho' all Men, yet not I, and he did it ſooner than any.

2. How quickly he ſhould do it, this Night before to morrow, nay, before Cock-crowing. Satan's Temptations are compar'd to Darts, Eph. 6. 16. which wound e'er we are aware, ſuddenly doth he ſhoot. As we know not how near we may be to Trouble, ſo we know not how near we may be to Sin, if God leaves us to our ſelves, we are always in danger.

3. How often he ſhould do it, thrice. He thought he ſhould never once do ſuch a thing, but Chriſt tells him, he would do it again, and again; for when once our Feet begin to ſlip, it's hard to recover our Standing again. The Beginnings of Sin are as the letting forth of Water.

Fourthly, Peter's repeated Aſſurances of his Fidelity, v. 35. Though I ſhould dye with thee. He ſuppos'd the Temptation ſtrong, when he ſaid, Though all Men do it, yet will not I: But here he ſuppoſeth it ſtronger when he puts it to the Peril of Life, though I ſhould dye with thee. He knew what he ſhould do, rather dye with Chriſt than deny him, 'twas the Condition of Diſcipleſhip, Luke 14. 26. And he thought what he would do, never be falſe to his Maſter, whatever it coſt him, yet it prov'd he was. It's eaſie to talk boldly and careleſly of Death at a Diſtance; I'll rather dye than do ſuch a thing. But it's not ſo ſoon done as ſaid when it comes to the ſetting to, and Death ſhews its ſelf in its own Colours.

What Peter ſaid, the reſt ſubſcrib'd to; likewiſe alſo ſaid all the Diſciples. Note, 1. There is a Proneneſs in good Men to be over-confident of their own Strength and Stability. We are ready to think our ſelves able to grapple with the ſtrongeſt Temptations, to go through the hardeſt and moſt hazardous Services, and to bear the greateſt Afflictions for Chriſt; but 'tis becauſe we do not know our ſelves: 2. Thoſe often fall ſooneſt and fouleſt that are moſt confident of themſelves. Thoſe are leaſt ſafe that are moſt ſecure. Satan is moſt active to ſeduce ſuch, they are moſt off their Guard, and God leaves them to themſelves to humble them. See 1 Cor. 10. 12.

36 Then cometh Jeſus with them unto a place called Gethſemane, and ſaith unto the diſciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder. 37 And he took with him Peter, and the two ſons of Zebedee, and began to be ſorrowful, and very heavy. 38 Then ſaith he unto them, My ſoul is exceeding ſorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and watch with me. 39 And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and prayed, ſaying, O my Father, if it be poſſible, let this Cup paſs from me: nevertheleſs, not as I will, but as thou wilt. 40 And he cometh unto the Diſciples, and findeth them aſleep, and ſaith unto Peter, What, could ye not watch with me one hour? 41 Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the ſpirit indeed is willing, but the fleſh is weak. 42 He went away again the ſecond time, and prayed, ſaying, O my Father, if this cup may not paſs away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done. 43 And he came and found them aſleep again: for their eyes were heavy. 44 And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, ſaying the ſame words. 45 Then cometh he to his diſciples, and ſaith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your reſt; behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of ſinners. 46 Riſe, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

Hitherto were the Preparatives for Chriſt's Sufferings, now we enter upon the bloody Scene. In theſe Verſes we have the Story of his Agony in the Garden. This was the beginning of Sorrows to our Lord Jeſus. Now the Sword of the Lord began to awake againſt the Man that was his Fellow, and how ſhould it be quiet when the Lord had given it a Charge? The Clouds had been gathering a good while, and look'd black; he had ſaid ſome Days before, Now is my Soul troubled, John 12. 27. But now the Storm began in good earneſt. He put himſelf into this Agony, before his Enemies gave him any trouble, to ſhew that he was a Free-will Offering, that his Life was not forc'd from him, but he laid it down himſelf, John 10. 18. Obſerve,

1. The Place where he underwent this mighty Agony; it was in a Place called Gethſemane. The Name ſignifies, Torculi Olei, an Olive-Mill, a Preſs for Olives, like a Wine-preſs, where they trod the Olives, Mic. 6. 15. And this was the proper Place for ſuch a thing, at the foot of the Mount of Olives. There our Lord Jeſus began his Paſſion, there it pleaſed the Lord to bruiſe him, and cruſh him, that freſh Oyl might flow to all Believers from him; that we might partake of the Root and Fatneſs of that good Olive. There he trod the Wine-preſs of his Father's Wrath, and trod it alone.

2. The Company he had with him, when he was in this Agony.

(1.) He took all the Eleven Diſciples with him to the Garden, except Judas, who was at this time otherwiſe employ'd. Tho' it was late in the Night, near Bed-time, yet they ſtuck to him, and took this Walk by Moon-light with him, as Eliſha, who, when he was told that his Maſter ſhould ſhortly be taken from his Head, profeſs'd he would not leave him, tho' he led him about; ſo theſe follow the Lamb whereſoever he goes.

(2.) He took only Peter, and James, and John with him into that Corner of the Garden, where he ſuffer'd his Agony, He left the reſt at ſome diſtance, perhaps at the Garden-door, with this Charge, Sit ye here, while I go pray yonder; like that of Abraham to his young Men, Gen. 22. 5. Abide ye here, and I will go yonder and Worſhip. (1.) Chriſt went to Pray alone, tho' he had lately Pray'd with his Diſciples, John 17. 1. Note, Our Prayers with our Families muſt not excuſe us from our ſecret Devotions. (2.) He order'd them to ſit here. Note, We muſt take heed of giving any Diſturbance, or Interruption to thoſe who retire for ſecret Communion with God. He took theſe three with him, becauſe they had been the Witneſſes of his Glory in his Transfiguration, Mat. 17. 1, 2. and that would prepare them to be the Witneſſes of his Agony. Note, Thoſe are beſt prepar'd to ſuffer with Chriſt, that have by Faith beheld his Glory, and have convers'd with the glorified Saints upon the holy Mount. If we ſuffer with Chriſt, we ſhall reign with; him and if we hope to reign with him, why ſhould we not expect to ſuffer with him?

3. The Agony it ſelf that he was in. He began to be ſorrowful, and very heavy. 'Tis call'd an Agony, Luke 22. 44. a Conflict. 'Twas not any bodily Pain or Torment that he was in, nothing occurr'd to hurt him; but whatever it was, 'twas from within; he troubled himſelf, John 11. 33. The words here us'd are very emphatical, he began λυπεῖσθαι καὶ ἀδημονεῖν, to be ſorrowful and in a Conſternation. The latter word ſignifies ſuch a Sorrow as makes a Man neither fit for Company, nor deſirous of it. He had, like a Weight of Lead upon his Spirits. Phyſicians uſe a Word near a-kin to it, to ſignifie the Diſorder a Man is in, in a Fit of an Ague, or beginning of a Fever. Now was fulfill'd, Pſal. 22. 14. I am pour'd out like Water, my Heart is like Wax, it is melted; and all thoſe Paſſages in the Pſalms, where David complains of the Sorrow of his Soul, Pſal. 18. 4, 6.—42. 7.—55. 4, 5.—69. 1, 2, 3.—88. 3.—116. 3. And Jonah's Complaint, Chap. 2. 4, 5.

But what was the Cauſe of all this? what was it that put him into this Agony? Why art thou caſt down, Bleſſed Jeſus? And why diſquieted? Certainly 'twas nothing of Deſpair, or Diſtruſt of his Father, much leſs any Conflict or Struggle with him. As the Father lov'd him, becauſe he laid down his Life for the Sheep, ſo he was entirely ſubject to his Father's Will in it. But,

1. He engag'd in an Encounter with the Powers of Darkneſs; ſo he intimates, Luke 22. 52. This is your Hour, and the Power of Darkneſs; and he ſpoke of it juſt before, John 14. 30, 31. The Prince of this World comes. I ſee him rallying his Forces, and preparing for a general Aſſault; but he has nothing in me, no Garriſons in his Intereſt, none that ſecretly hold Correſpondence with him; and therefore his Attempts, tho' fierce, will be fruitleſs; but as the Father gave me Commandment, ſo I do; however it be, I muſt have a Struggle with him, the Field muſt be fairly fought, and therefore, ariſe, let us go hence, let us haſten to the Field of Battle, and meet the Enemy. Now [illegible] the cloſe Engagement in ſingle Combat between Michael and the Dragon, hand to hand; now is the Judgment of this World, the great Cauſe is now to be determin'd, the deciſive Battle fought, in which the Prince of this World will certainly be beaten, and caſt out, John 12. 31. Chriſt when he works Salvation, is deſcrib'd like a Champion taking the Field, Iſa. 59. 16, 17, 18. Now the Serpent makes his fierceſt Onſet on the Seed of the Woman, and directs his Sting, the Sting of Death, to his very Heart; animamque in vulnere ponit.

2. He was now bearing the Iniquities, which the Father laid upon him, and by this Sorrow and Amazement he accommodated himſelf to his Undertaking. The Sufferings he was entring upon were for our Sins, they were all made to meet upon him, and he knew it. And therefore, as we are oblig'd to be ſorry for our particular Sins, ſo was he griev'd for the Sins of us all. So Biſhop Pearſon, p. 191. Now, in the Valley of Jehoſaphat, where Chriſt now was, God gather'd all Nations, and pleaded with them in his Son, Joel 3. 2, 12. He knew the Malignity of the Sins that were laid upon him, how provoking to God, how ruining to Man, and theſe being all ſet in order before him, and charg'd upon him, he was ſorrowful and very heavy. Now it was that Iniquities took hold on him; ſo that he was not able to look up, as was foretold concerning him, Pſal. 40. 7, 12.

3. He had a full and clear Proſpect of all the Sufferings that were before him: He foreſaw the Treachery of Judas, the Unkindneſs of Peter, the Malice of the Jews, and their baſe Ingratitude. He knew that he ſhould now in a few Hours be ſcourged, ſpit upon, crown'd with Thorns, nail'd to the Croſs, Death in its moſt dreadful Appearances; Death in Pomp attended with all its Terrors, look'd him in the Face, and this made him ſorrowful, eſpecially becauſe it was the Wages of our Sin, which he had undertaken to ſatisfie for. It is true, the Martyrs that have ſuffer'd for Chriſt, have entertain'd the greateſt Torments, and the moſt terrible Death, without any ſuch Sorrow and Conſternation, have call'd theirs Priſons their delectable Orchards, and a Bed of Flames, a Bed of Roſes: But then (1.) Chriſt was now denied the Supports and Comforts which they had, i. e. he denied them to himſelf, and his Soul refuſed to be comforted, not in Paſſion, but in Juſtice to his Undertaking. Their Chearfulneſs under the Croſs was owing to the Divine Favour, which for the preſent was ſuſpended from the Lord Jeſus. (2.) His Sufferings were of another Nature from theirs. St. Paul, when he is to be offered upon the Sacrifice and Service of the Saints Faith, can joy and rejoyce with them all; but to be offer'd a Sacrifice to make Atonement for Sin, is quite a different Caſe. On the Saints Croſs there is a Bleſſing pronounc'd, which enables them to rejoice under it, Mat. 5. 10, 12. But to Chriſt's Croſs there was a Curſe annex'd, which made him ſorrowful, and very heavy under it. And his Sorrow under the Croſs was the Foundation of their Joy under it.

4. His Complaint of this Agony. Finding himſelf under the Arreſts of his Paſſion, he goes to his Diſciples, v. 38. And,

1. He acquaints them with his Condition, My Soul is exceeding ſorrowful, even unto Death. It gives ſome little Eaſe to a troubled Spirit, to have a Friend ready to unboſom it ſelf to, and give vent to its Sorrows. Chriſt here tells them (1.) what was the Seat of his Sorrow. It was his Soul that was now in an Agony. This proves that Chriſt had a true human Soul; for he ſuffered not only in his Body, but in his Soul. We had ſinn'd both againſt our own Bodies, and againſt our Souls, both us'd in Sin, and both wrong'd by it, and therefore Chriſt ſuffered in Soul as well as in Body. (2.) What was the Degree of his Sorrow. He was exceeding ſorrowful, περίλυπος, compaſſed about with Sorrow on all hands. 'Twas Sorrow in the higheſt Degree, even unto Death; it was a killing Sorrow, ſuch Sorrow as no mortal Man could bear and live. He was ready to dye for Grief, they were Sorrows of Death. (3.) The Duration of it, it will continue, even unto Death. My Soul will be ſorrowful as long as it is in this Body; I ſee no other Out-let but Death. He now began to be ſorrowful, and never ceas'd to be ſo till he ſaid, It is finiſhed; that Grief is now finiſhed which began in the Garden: 'Twas propheſy'd of Chriſt, that he ſhould be a Man of Sorrows, Iſa. 53. 3. he was ſo all along, we never read that he laughed; but all his Sorrows hitherto were nothing to this.

2. He beſpeaks their Company and Attendance; Tarry ye here, and watch with me. Sure he was deſtitute indeed of Help, when he intreated theirs, whom he knew would be but miſerable Comforters; but he would hereby teach us the Benefit of the Communion of Saints. 'Tis good to have, and therefore good to ſeek the Aſſiſtance of our Brethren, when at any time we are in an Agony; for two is better than one. What he ſaid to them, he ſaith to all, watch, Mark 13. ult. not only watch for him, in expectation of his future coming, but watch with him, in application to our preſent Work.

5. What paſſed between him and his Father when he was in this Agony. Being in an Agony he pray'd. Prayer is never out of Seaſon, but eſpecially ſeaſonable in an Agony.

1. Obſerve the Place where he pray'd. He went a little further, withdrew from them, that the Scripture might be fulfill'd, I have trod the Wine-preſs alone; he retir'd for Prayer; a troubled Soul finds moſt eaſy when it is alone with God, who underſtands the broken Language of Sighs and Groans. Calvin's devout Remarks upon this is worth tranſcribing, Utile eſt ſeorſim Orare, tunc enim magis familiariter ſeſe denudat fidelis animus, & ſimplicius ſua vota, gemitus, curas, pavores, ſpes, & gaudia in Dei ſinum exonerat. Chriſt has hereby taught us, that ſecret Prayer muſt be made ſecretly. Yet ſome think, that even the Diſciples whom he left at the Garden-door overheard him; for 'tis ſaid Heb. 5. 7. they were ſtrong Cries.

2. His Poſture in Prayer. He fell on his Face; his lying proſtrate notes, (1.) the Agony he was in, and the Extremity of his Sorrow. Job in great Grief fell on the Ground, and great Anguiſh is expreſs'd by rolling in the Duſt, Mich. 1. 10. (2.) His Humility in Prayer. This Poſture was an Expreſſion of his εὐλάβεια, his reverential Fear, ſpoken of Heb. 5. 7. with which he offer'd up theſe Prayers: And it was in the Days of his Fleſh, in his Eſtate of Humiliation, to which he hereby accommodated himſelf.

3. The Prayer it ſelf; wherein we may obſerve three Things.

1. The Title he gives to God; O my Father. As thick as the Cloud was, he could ſee God as a Father through it. Note, In all our Addreſſes to God, we ſhould eye him as a Father, as our Father, and 'tis in a ſpecial manner comfortable to do ſo when we are in an Agony. 'Tis a pleaſing String to harp upon at ſuch a Time, my Father; whither ſhould the Child go when any thing grieves him but to his Father.

2. The Favour he begs; If it be poſſible let this Cup paſs from me. He calls his Sufferings a Cup, not a River, not a Sea, but a Cup, which we ſhall ſoon ſee the bottom of. When we are under Troubles, we ſhould make the beſt, the leaſt of them, and not aggravate them. A Cup, becauſe allotted him, as at Feaſts a Cup was ſet to every Meſs. He begs this Cup might paſs from him, i. e. that he might avoid the Sufferings now at hand; or at leaſt that they might be ſhorten'd. This ſpeaks no more but that he was really and truly Man, and as a Man, he could not but be averſe to Pain and Sufferings: This is the firſt and ſimple Act of Man's Will, to ſtart back from that which is ſenſibly grievous to us, and to deſire the Prevention and Removal of it. The Law of Self-preſervation is impreſs'd upon the innocent Nature of Man, and rules there 'till over-rul'd by ſome other Law; therefore Chriſt admitted, and expreſs'd a Reluctancy to Sufferings, to ſhew that he was taken from among Men, Heb. 5. 1. was touch'd with the feelings of our Infirmities, Heb. 4. 15. and tempted as we are, yet without Sin. Note, A Prayer of Faith againſt an Affliction, may very well conſiſt with the Patience of Hope under an Affliction. When David had ſaid, I was dumb, I open'd not my Mouth, becauſe thou didſt it; yet his very next Words, Remove thy Stroke away from me, Pſal. 39. 9, 10. But obſerve the Proviſo, If it be poſſible. If God may be glorify'd, Man ſav'd, and the Ends of his Undertaking anſwered without his drinking of this bitter Cup, he deſires to be excus'd, otherwiſe not. What we cannot do with the ſecuring our great End, we muſt reckon to be in effect impoſſible, Chriſt did ſo. Id poſſimus, quod jure poſſimus. We can do nothing, not only we may do nothing againſt the Truth.

3. His intire Submiſſion to, and Acquaintance in the Will of God however. Nevertheleſs, not as I will, but as thou wilt. Not that the human Will of Chriſt was adverſe, or averſe to the Divine Will, only in its firſt Act divers from it; to which in the ſecond Act of the Will, which compares and chuſes, he freely ſubmits himſelf. Note, (1.) Our Lord Jeſus, tho' he had a quick Senſe of the extreme Bitterneſs of the Sufferings he was to undergo, yet was freely willing to ſubmit to them for our Redemption and Salvation, and offer'd himſelf, and gave himſelf for us. (2.) The Reaſon of Chriſt's Submiſſion to his Sufferings, was his Father's Will, as thou wilt; as thou wilt, v. 39. He grounds his own Willingneſs upon the Father's Will, and reſolves the Matter wholly into that; therefore he did what he did, and did it with Delight, becauſe it was the Will of God, Pſal. 40. 7. This he had often referr'd to as that which put him upon, and carry'd him thro' his whole Undertaking; this is the Father's Will, John 6. 39, 40. This he ſought, John 5. 30. 'twas his Meat and Drink to do it, John 4. 39. (3.) In Conformity to this Example of Chriſt, we muſt drink of the bitter Cup which God puts into our Hands, be it never ſo bitter; tho' Nature ſtruggle, Grace muſt ſubmit. We then are Spirited as Chriſt was, when our Wills are in every thing melted into the Will of God, tho' never ſo diſpleaſing to Fleſh and Blood; the Will of the Lord be done, Acts 21. 14.

4. 'The Repetition of the Prayer. He went away again the ſecond time and prayed, v. 42. and again, the third Time, v. 44. and all to the ſame purpoſe; only, as it is related here, he did not in the ſecond and third Prayer expreſly ask that the Cup might paſs from him, as he had done in the firſt. Note, Tho' we may pray to God to prevent and remove an Affliction; yet our chief Errand, and that which we ſhould moſt inſiſt upon, muſt be, that he will give us Grace to bear it well. It ſhould be more our care to get our Troubles ſanctified, and our Hearts ſatisfied under them, than to get them taken away. He pray'd, ſaying, Thy Will be done. Note, Prayer is the offering up, not only of our Deſires, but of our Reſignations to God. It amounts to an acceptable Prayer, when at any time we are in Diſtreſs, to refer our ſelves to God, and to commit our Way and Work to him. Thy Will be done. The third time he ſaid the ſame Words, τὸν αὐτὸν λόγον, the ſame word, i. e. the ſame Matter or Argument; he ſpoke to the ſame purpoſe; we have reaſon to think this was not all he ſaid, for it ſhould ſeem by v. 40. that he continued an hour in his Agony and Prayer; but whatever more he ſaid, it was to this effect, reſenting his approaching Sufferings, and yet reſigning himſelf to God's Will in them. In the Expreſſions of which, we may be ſure he was not ſtraiten'd.

But what Anſwer had he to this Prayer? for certain 'twas not made in vain; he that heard him always, did not deny him now: 'Tis true the Cup did not paſs from him, for he withdrew that Petition, and did not inſiſt upon it, (if he had, for ought I know, the Cup had paſs'd away) but he had an Anſwer to his Prayer, for (1.) he was ſtrengthned with Strength in his Soul, in the Day when he cried, Pſal. 138. 3. and that was a real Anſwer, Luke 22. 43. (2.) He was deliver'd from that which he fear'd, which was, leſt by Impatience and Diſtruſt he ſhould offend his Father, and ſo diſable himſelf to go on with his Undertaking, Heb. 5. 7. In anſwer to his Prayer, God provided that he ſhould not fail, or be diſcouraged.

6. What paſs'd between him and his Three Diſciples at this time; and there we may obſerve,

1. The Fault they were guilty of; that when he was in his Agony, Sorrowful and Heavy, Sweating, and Wreſtling, and Praying, they were ſo little concern'd that they could not keep awake; he comes and finds them aſleep, v. 40. The ſtrangeneſs of the thing ſhould have rouz'd their Spirits to turn aſide now and ſee this great Sight, the Buſh burning, and yet not conſum'd; much more ſhould their Love to their Maſter, and their Care concerning him, have oblig'd them to a more cloſe and vigilant Attendance on him; yet they were ſo dull that they could not keep their Eyes open. What had become of us, if Chriſt had been now as ſleepy as his Diſciples were? 'Tis well for us that our Salvation is in the hand of one who neither ſlumbers nor ſleeps. Chriſt beſpoke them to watch with him, as if he expected ſome Succour from them, and yet they ſlept; ſurely 'twas the unkindeſt thing that could be. When David wept at this Mount of Olives, all his Followers wept with him, 2 Sam. 15. 30. But when the Son of David was here in Tears, his Followers were aſleep. His Enemies that watch'd for him were wakeful enough, Mark 14. 12. but his Diſciples that ſhould have watch'd with him were aſleep. Lord, what is Man? what are the beſt of Men when God leaves them to themſelves? Note, Careleſneſs, and carnal Security, eſpecially when Chriſt is in his Agony, is a great Fault in any, but eſpecially in thoſe who profeſs to be neareſt in Relation to him. The Church of Chriſt, which is his Body, is often in an Agony, Fightings without, and Fears within, and ſhall we be aſleep then? like Gallio, that cared for none of thoſe things; or thoſe, Amos, 6. 6. that lay at eaſe, and were not grieved for the affliction of Joſeph.

2. Chriſt's Favour to them notwithſtanding. Perſons in Sorrow are too apt to be croſs and peeviſh with thoſe about them, and to take it very heinouſly if they but ſeem to neglect them; but Chriſt in his Agony is as meek as ever, and carries it as patiently towards his Followers, as towards his Father, and is not apt to take things ill.

When Chriſt's Diſciples put this Slight upon him,

1. He came to them, as if he expected to receive ſome Comfort from them; and if they had put him in mind of what they had heard from him concerning his Reſurrection and Glory, perhaps it might have been ſome help to him; but inſtead of that, they added Grief to his Sorrow, and yet he came to them; more careful for them than they were for themſelves; when he was moſt engag'd, yet he came to look after them, for thoſe that were given him were upon his Heart living and dying.

2. He gave them a gentle Reproof, for as many as he loves he rebukes; he directed it to Peter, who us'd to ſpeak for them; let him now hear for them. The Reproof was very melting, What, Could ye not watch with me one hour? He ſpeaks as one amaz'd to ſee them ſo ſtupid; every word is aggravating, if it were proſecuted. Conſider, (1.) who they were, could not ye watch? ye my Diſciples and Followers; no wonder if others neglect me, if the Earth ſit ſtill and be at reſt, Zech. 1. 11. But from you I expected better things. (2.) Who he was? watch with me: If one of your ſelves were ill, and in an Agony, it would be very unkind not to watch with him; but 'tis undutiful not to watch with your Maſter, who has long watch'd over you for good, has led you, and fed you, and taught you, born you, and born with you; Do you thus requite him? He awoke out of his Sleep to help them when they were in diſtreſs, Matt. 8. 26. and could not they keep awake, at leaſt to ſhew their Goodwill to him? eſpecially conſidering that he was now ſuffering for them, in an Agony for them; Jam tua res agitur. (3.) How ſmall a thing it was that he expected from them, only to watch with him: If he had bid them do ſome great thing, had bid them be in an Agony with him, or dye with him, they thought they could have done it, and yet they could not do it when he only deſir'd them to watch with him, 2 Kings 5. 13. (4.) How ſhort a time it was that he expected it, but one Hour; they were not ſet upon the Guard whole Nights, as the Prophet was, Iſa. 21. 8. only one hour. Sometimes he continued all Night in Prayer to God, but did not then expect his Diſciples ſhould watch with him; only now, when he had but one Hour to ſpend in Prayer.

3. He gave them good Counſel; Watch and Pray, that ye enter not into Temptation, v. 41. (1.) There was an Hour of Temptation drawing on, and very near; The Troubles of Chriſt were Temptations to his Followers to disbelieve and diſtruſt him, to deny, and deſert him, and renounce all Relation to him. (2.) There was danger of their entring into the Temptation, as into a Snare, or Trap, of their entring into a Parley with it, or a good Opinion of it, of their being influenced by it, and inclining to comply with it, which is the firſt ſtep towards being overcome by it. (3.) He therefore exhorts them to Watch and Pray. Watch with me, and Pray with me; while they were ſleeping they loſt the benefit of joyning in Chriſt's Prayer. Watch your ſelves, and Pray your ſelves. Watch and Pray againſt this preſent Temptation to Drowſineſs and Security; Pray that you may watch. Beg of God by his Grace to keep you awake now there is occaſion. When we are drowſie in the Worſhip of God, we ſhould Pray, as a good Chriſtian once did, The Lord deliver me from this ſleepy Devil! Lord, quicken thou me in thy Way. Or, Watch and Pray againſt the further Temptation you will be aſſaulted with; Watch and Pray, leſt this Sin prove the Inlet of many more. Note, When we find our ſelves entering into Temptation, we have need to Watch and Pray.

4. He kindly excus'd for them. The Spirit indeed is willing, but the Fleſh is weak. We do not read of one word they had to ſay for themſelves, ſenſe of their own Weakneſs ſtop'd their Mouth; but then he had a tender word to ſay on their behalf, for 'tis his Office to be an Advocate; in this he ſets us an Example of that Love, which covers a multitude of Sins. He conſider'd their Frame, and did not chide them, for he remember'd that they were but Fleſh, and the Fleſh is weak, tho' the Spirit be willing, Pſal. 78. 38. Note, (1) Chriſt's Diſciples, as long as they are here in this World, have Bodies as well as Souls, and a Principle of remaining Corruption, as well as of reigning Grace, like Jacob and Eſau in the ſame Womb, Canaanites and Iſraelites in the ſame Land, Gal. 5. 17, 24. (2.) It is the Unhappineſs and Burthen of Chriſt's Diſciples, that their Bodies cannot keep pace with their Souls in Works of Piety and Devotion; but are many a time a Cloud, and Clog to them. That when the Spirit is free, and diſpos'd to that which is good, the Fleſh is averſe and indiſpos'd. This St. Paul laments, Rom. 7. 22. With my Mind I ſerve the Law of God, but with my Fleſh the Law of Sin. Our Impotency in the Service of God, is the great Iniquity and Infidelity of our Nature, and it ariſeth from theſe ſad Remainders of Corruption, which are the conſtant Grief and Burthen of God's People. (3.) Yet it is our comfort that our Maſter graciouſly conſiders this, and accepts the Willingneſs of the Spirit, and pities and pardons the Weakneſs and Infirmity of the Fleſh; for we are under Grace, and not under the Law.

(5.) Tho' they continu'd dull and ſleepy, he did not any further rebuke them for it; for tho' we daily offend, yet he will not always chide. (1.) When he came to them the ſecond time, we do not find that he ſaid any thing to them, v. 43. he findeth them aſleep again. One would have thought he had ſaid enough to them to keep them awake, but it's hard to recover from a Spirit of Slumber. Carnal Security, when once it prevails, is not eaſily ſhaken off. Their Eyes were heavy, which intimates that they ſtrove againſt it as much as they could, but were overcome by it, like the Spouſe; I ſleep, but my Heart awakes, Cant. 5. 2. and therefore their Maſter look'd upon them with Compaſſion. (2.) When he came the third time he left them to be alarm'd with the approaching Danger, v. 45, 46. Sleep on now, and take your reſt. This is ſpoken ironically now ſleep if you can, ſleep if you dare; I would not diſturb you, if Judas and his Band of Men would not. See here how Chriſt deals with thoſe that ſuffer themſelves to be overcome by Security, and will not be awaken'd out of it. (1.) Sometimes he gives them up to the Power of it; Sleep on now. He that will ſleep, let him ſleep ſtill. The Curſe of Spiritual Slumber is the juſt Puniſhment of the Sin of it, Rom. 11. 8. Hoſ. 4. 17. (2.) Many times he ſends ſome ſtartling Judgment to awaken thoſe that would not be wrought upon by the Word; and thoſe who will not be alarm'd by Reaſons and Arguments, had better be alarm'd by Swords and Spears, than left to periſh in their Security. Let thoſe that would not believe be made to feel.

As to the Diſciples here, (1.) Their Maſter gave them notice of the near Approach of his Enemies, who, 'tis, likely were now within ſight or hearing, for they came with Candles and Torches, and 'tis likely made a great noiſe. The Son of Man is betray'd into the Hands of Sinners. And again, He is at hand that doth betray me. Note, Chriſt's Sufferings were no ſurprize to him, he knew what and when he was to ſuffer. By this time the Extremity of his Agony was pretty well over, or at leaſt diverted; while with an undaunted Courage he addreſſeth himſelf to the next Encounter, as a Champion to the Combat. (2.) He call'd them to riſe and be going. Not riſe, and let us flee from the Danger, but riſe, and let us go meet it; before he had pray'd, he fear'd his Sufferings, but now has got over his Fears, Eph. 4. 16. But (3.) he intimates to them their Folly in ſleeping away the Time which they ſhould have ſpent in Preparation, and now it found them unready, and was a Terror to them.

47 And while he yet ſpake, lo, Judas one of the twelve came, and with him a great multitude with ſwords and ſtaves from the chief prieſts and elders of the people. 48 Now he that betrayed him, gave them a ſign, ſaying, Whomſoever I ſhall kiſs, that ſame is he, hold him faſt. 49 And forthwith he came to Jeſus, and ſaid, Hail maſter; and kiſſed him. 50 And Jeſus ſaid unto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and laid hands on Jeſus, and took him. 51 And behold, one of them which were with Jeſus, ſtretched out his hand, and drew his ſword, and ſtruck a ſervant of the high prieſts, and ſmote off his ear. 52 Then ſaid Jeſus unto him, Put up again thy ſword into his place: for all they that take the ſword, ſhall periſh with the ſword. 53 Thinkeſt thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he ſhall preſently give me more than twelve legions of angels? 54 But how then ſhall the Scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it muſt be? 55 In that ſame hour ſaid Jeſus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as againſt a thief with ſwords and ſtaves for to take me? I ſat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me. 56 But all this was done, that the Scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the diſciples forſook him, and fled.

We are here told how the bleſſed Jeſus was ſeized, and taken into Cuſtody; this follow'd immediately upon his Agony, while he yet ſpake; for from the beginning to the cloſe of his Paſſion, he had not the leaſt Intermiſſion, or Breathing-time, but Deep call'd unto Deep. His Trouble hitherto was rais'd within himſelf; but now the Scene is chang'd, now the Philiſtines are upon thee, thou bleſſed Sampſon; the Breath of our Noſtrils, the Anointed of the Lord is taken in their Pits, Lam. 4. 20.

Now concerning the apprehending of the Lord Jeſus: Obſerve,

1. Who the Perſons were that were employ'd in it. (1.) Here was Judas, one of the Twelve, in the Head of this Black-guard. He was Guide to him that took Jeſus, Acts 1. 16. without his help they could not have found him in this Retirement. Behold, and wonder; the firſt that appear'd with his Enemies is one of his own Diſciples, that an hour or two ago was eating Bread with him. (2.) Here was with him a great Multitude, that the Scripture might be fulfilled, Lord, how are they increaſed that trouble me? Pſal. 3. 1. This Multitude was made up partly of a Detachment out of the Guards, that were poſted in the Tower of Antonia by the Roman Governour; theſe were Gentiles, Sinners as Chriſt calls them, v. 45. partly of the Servants and Officers of the High-prieſt, and they were Jews; they that were at variance with each other, agreed againſt Chriſt.

2. How they were arm'd for this Enterprize.

1. What Weapons they were arm'd with; they came with Swords and Staves. The Roman Soldiers, no doubt, had Swords; the Servants of the Prieſts, thoſe of them that had not Swords, brought Staves, or Clubs. Furor arma miniſtrat. They were not regular Troops, but a tumultuous Rabble. But wherefore is this ado? If they had been ten times as many, they could not have taken him, had he not yielded himſelf; and his hour being come for him to give up himſelf, all this Force was needleſs. When a Butcher goes into the Field to take out a Lamb for the Slaughter, doth he uſe to raiſe the Militia, and come arm'd? No, he needs not, yet is there all this Force us'd to ſeize the Lamb of God.

2. What Warrant they were arm'd with; they came from the Chief Prieſts, and Elders of the People; this armed Multitude was ſent by them upon this Errand. He was taken up by a Warrant from the great Sanhedrin, as a Perſon obnoxious to them. Pilate the Roman Governour gave them no Warrant to ſearch for him, he had no jealouſie of him; but they were Men who pretended to Religion, and preſided in the Affars of the Church, that were active in this Proſecution, and were the moſt ſpiteful Enemies Chriſt had. 'Twas a Sign he was ſupported by a Divine Power, for by all Earthly Powers he was not only deſerted, but oppos'd; Pilate upbraided him with it, Thine own Nation, and the Chief Prieſts deliver'd thee to me, John 18. 34.

3. The manner how it was done, and what paſs'd at that time.

1. How Judas betray'd him; he did his Buſineſs effectually, and his Reſolution in this Wickedneſs may ſhame us who fail in that which is Good. Obſerve,

1. The Inſtructions he gave to the Soldiers, v. 48. he gave them a Sign; as Commander of the Party in this Action he gives the Word, or Signal. He gave them a Sign, leſt by miſtake they ſhould ſeize one of the Diſciples inſtead of him, who had ſo lately ſaid in Judas's hearing, they would be willing to dye for him. What abundance of Caution was here not to miſs him, that ſame is he, and when they had him in their hands, not to loſe him, hold him faſt; for he had ſometimes eſcaped from thoſe who thought to ſecure him; as Luke 4. 30. Tho' the Jews who frequented the Temple could not but know him, yet the Roman Soldiers perhaps had never ſeen him, and the Sign was to direct them; and Judas by his Kiſs, intended not only to diſtinguiſh him, but to detain him while they came behind him, and laid hands on him.

2. The diſſembling Compliment he gave his Maſter. He came cloſe up to Jeſus; ſure now, if ever, his wicked Heart will relent; ſure when he comes to look him in the Face, he will either be aw'd by the Majeſty, or charm'd by the Beauty of it. Dare he come into his very Sight and Preſence to betray him? Peter deny'd Chriſt, but when the Lord turn'd and look'd upon him, he relented preſently; but Judas comes up to his Maſter's Face and betrays him. Me mihi (perfide) prodis? me mihi prodis? He ſaid, Hail Maſter, and kiſſed him. It ſhould ſeem our Lord Jeſus had been wont to admit his Diſciples to ſuch a degree of Familiarity with him, as to give them his Cheek to kiſs, after they had been any while abſent, which Judas villainouſly us'd to facilitate his Treaſon. A Kiſs is a Token of Allegiance and Friendſhip, Pſal. 2. 12. But Judas, when he broke all the Laws of Love and Duty, profan'd this ſacred Sign to ſerve his Purpoſe. Note, There are many that betray Chriſt with a Kiſs, and Hail Maſter; who, under Pretence of doing him honour, betray and undermine the intereſts of his Kingdom. Mel in Ore, Fel in Corde. καταφιλεῖν οὐκ ἔστι φιλεῖν, Philo. Jud. Joab's Kiſs and Judas's were much alike.

3. The Entertainment his Maſter gave him, v. 50.

1. He calls him Friend. If he had call'd him Villain and Traytor, Raca, and thou Fool and Child of the Devil, he had not miſcall'd him; but he would teach us under the greateſt Provocation to forbear Bitterneſs and evil Speaking, and to ſhew all Meekneſs. Friend, for a Friend he had been, and ſhould have been, and ſeem'd to be: Thus he upbraids him, as Abraham, when he call'd the rich Man in Hell Son. He calls him Friend, becauſe he further'd his Sufferings, and ſo befriended him, whereas he call'd Peter Satan, for attempting to hinder them.

2. He asks him, Wherefore art thou come? Is it Peace, Judas? explain thy ſelf; if thou come as an Enemy, what means this Kiſs? If as a Friend, What mean theſe Swords and Staves? Wherefore art thou come? What harm have I done thee? Wherein have I wearied thee? ἐφ' ᾧ πάρει. Wherefore art thou preſent? Why hadſt thou not ſo much Shame left thee as to keep out of ſight, which thou mighteſt have done, and yet have given the Officers notice where I was? This was an Inſtance of great Impudence for him to be ſo forward and bare-fac'd in this ill thing. But it is uſual for Apoſtates from Religion to be the moſt bitter Enemies to it; witneſs Julian. Thus Judas did his part.

2. How the Officers and Soldiers ſecur'd him. Then came they and laid hands on Jeſus, and took him; they made him their Priſoner. How! were they not afraid to ſtretch forth their Hands againſt the Lord's Anointed? We may well imagine what rude and cruel Hands they were which this barbarous Multitude laid on Chriſt; and now 'tis probable they handled him the more roughly for their being ſo often diſappointed, when they ſought to lay hands on him. They could not have taken him, if he had not ſurrender'd himſelf, and been delivered by the determined Counſels and Foreknowledge of God, Acts 2. 23. He who ſaid concerning his Anointed Servants, Touch them not, and do them no harm, Pſal. 105. 14, 15. ſpared not his Anointed Son, but delivered him up for us all; and again, gave his Strength into Captivity, his Glory into the Enemies hands, Pſal. 78. 61. See what was the Complaint of Job, Chap. 16. 11. God hath delivered me to the Ungodly, and apply that, and other Paſſages in that Book to Job, as a Type of Chriſt.

Our Lord Jeſus was made a Priſoner, becauſe he would in all things be treated as a Malefactor, puniſhed for our Crime, and as a Surety under Arreſt for our Debt. The Yoke of our Tranſgreſſions was bound by the Father's Hand upon the Neck of the Lord Jeſus, Lam. 1. 14. He became a Priſoner, that he might ſet us at liberty; for he ſaid, If ye ſeek me, let theſe go their way, John 18. 8. And thoſe are free indeed whom he makes ſo.

3. How Peter fought for Chriſt, and was check'd for his pains. 'Tis here only ſaid to be one of them that was with Jeſus in the Garden, but, John 18. 10. we are told, it was Peter who ſignaliz'd himſelf upon this Occaſion.

1. Peter's Raſhneſs, v. 51. He drew his Sword. They had but two Swords among them all, Luke 22. 38. and one of them, it ſeems, fell to Peter's ſhare; and now he thought 'twas time to draw it, and he laid about him as if he would have done ſome great Matters, but all the Execution he did was the cutting off an Ear from a Servant of the High-prieſts, deſigning, 'tis likely, to cleave him down the head, becauſe he ſaw him more forward than the reſt in laying hands on Chriſt, he miſs'd his Blow. But if he would be ſtriking, in my mind, he ſhould rather have aim'd at Judas, and have mark'd him for a Rogue. Peter had talk'd much, and more what he would do for his Maſter, he would lay down his Life for him; yea, that he would, and now he will be as good as his word, and venture his Life to reſcue his Maſter; and thus far was commendable, that he had a great Zeal for Chriſt, and his Honour and Safety; but it was not according to Knowledge, nor guided by Diſcretion; for (1.) he did it without Warrant; ſome of the Diſciples ask'd indeed, Shall we ſmite with the Sword, Luke 22. 49. But Peter ſtruck before they had an Anſwer. We muſt ſee, not only our Cauſe good, but our Call clear, before we draw the Sword, and be able to ſhew by what Authority we do it, and who gave us that Authority. (2.) He indiſcreetly expos'd himſelf and his fellow Diſciples to the Rage of the Multitude; for what could they with two Swords do againſt a Band of Men?

2. The Rebuke which our Lord Jeſus gave him, v. 52. Put up again thy Sword into his place: He doth not command the Officers and Soldiers to put up the Swords that were drawn againſt him, he left them to the Judgment of God, who judges them that are without, but commands Peter to put up his Sword, doth not chide him for what he had done, becauſe done out of good Will, but ſtops the progreſs of his Arms, and provides that it ſhould not be drawn into a Precedent. Chriſt's Errand into the World was to make Peace. Note, The Weapons of our Warfare are not Carnal, but Spiritual, and Chriſt's Miniſters, tho' they are his Soldiers, yet do not war after the Fleſh, 2 Cor. 10. 3, 4. Not that the Law of Chriſt overthrows either the Law of Nature, or the Laws of Nations, as far as thoſe warrant Subjects to ſtand up in defence of their Civil Rights and Liberties, and their Religion, when 'tis incorporated with them; but it provides for the Preſervation of publick Peace and Order, by forbidding private Perſons, quà tales, to reſiſt the Powers that be; nay, we have a general Precept, that we reſiſt not Evil, Mat. 5. 39. nor will Chriſt have his Miniſters propagate his Religion by Force and Arms, Religio cogi non poteſt, & defendenda non occidendo ſed moriendo. Lactant. Inſt. As Chriſt forbad his Diſciples the Sword of Juſtice, Mat. 20. 25, 26. ſo here the Sword of War. Chriſt bid Peter put up his Sword, and never bid him draw it again; yet that which Peter is here blam'd for, is his doing it unſeaſonable; the Hour was come for Chriſt to ſuffer and dye, he knew, Peter knew it, the Sword of the Lord was drawn againſt him, Zech. 13. 7. and for Peter to draw his Sword for him, was like Maſter, ſpare thy ſelf.

Three Reaſons Chriſt gives to Peter for this Rebuke.

(1.) His drawing the Sword would be dangerous to himſelf, to his Fellow-Diſciples: They that take the Sword ſhall periſh with the Sword; they that uſe Violence, fall by Violence, and Men haſten and increaſe their own Troubles, by bluſtring bloody Methods of Self-defence: They that take the Sword, before it's given them, that uſe it without Warrant or Call, expoſe themſelves to the Sword of War, or publick Juſtice. Had it not been for the ſpecial Care and Providence of the Lord Jeſus, Peter and the reſt of them had, for ought I know, been cut in pieces preſently. Grotius gives another and a probable Senſe of this Blow, making thoſe that take the Sword to be not Peter, but the Officers and Soldiers that came with Swords to take Chriſt, they ſhall periſh with the Sword: Peter, thou need'ſt not draw thy Sword to puniſh them, God will certainly, ſhortly and ſeverely, reckon with them. They took the Roman Sword to ſeize Chriſt with, and by the Roman Sword, not long after, they and their Place and Nation were deſtroy'd. Therefore we muſt not avenge our ſelves, becauſe God will repay, Rom. 12. 19. and therefore ſuffer with Faith and Patience, becauſe Perſecutors will be paid in their own Coin. See Rev. 13. 10.

(2.) It was needleſs for him to draw his Sword in Defence of his Maſter, who, if he pleas'd, could ſummon into his Service all the Hoſts of Heaven, v. 53. Thinkeſt thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he ſhall ſend from Heaven effectual Succours. Peter, If I would put by theſe Sufferings, I could eaſily do it without thy Hand or thy Sword. Note, God has no need of us, of our Services, much leſs of our Sins, to bring about his Purpoſes; and it argues our Diſtruſt and Disbelief of the Power of Chriſt, when we go out of the way of our Duty to ſerve his Intereſts. God can do his Work without us: If we look into the Heavens, and ſee how he is attended there, we may eaſily infer, That, tho' we be Righteous, he is not beholden to us, Job 35. 5, 7. Tho' Chriſt was crucified thro' Weakneſs, 'twas a voluntary Weakneſs; he ſubmitted to Death, not becauſe he could not, but becauſe he would not contend with it. This takes off the Offence of the Croſs, and proves Chriſt crucified the Power of God, even now in the depth of his Sufferings he could call in the Aid of Legions of Angels. Now, ἄρτι, yet, tho' the Buſineſs is ſo far gone, I could yet with a Word ſpeaking turn the Scale. Chriſt here lets us know,

(1.) What a great Intereſt he had in his Father; I can pray to my Father, and he will ſend me help from the Sanctuary: I can, παρακαλέσαι, demand of my Father theſe Succours; Chriſt pray'd as one having Authority. Note, It is a great Comfort to God's People, when they are ſurrounded with Enemies on all Hands, that they have a Way open Heaven-wards; if they can do nothing elſe, they can pray to him that can do every thing: And they who are much in Prayer at other Times, have moſt Comfort in Prayer when troubleſome Times come. Obſerve, Chriſt ſaith, not only that God could ſend him ſuch a Number of Angels, but that, if he inſiſted upon it, he would do it; Tho' he had undertaken the Work of our Redemption, yet if he had deſir'd to be releas'd, it ſhould ſeem by this the Father would not have held him to it: He might yet have gone out free from the Service, but he lov'd it, and would not; ſo that 'twas only with the Cords of his own Love that he was bound to the Altar.

(2.) What a great Intereſt he had in the Heavenly Hoſts; He ſhall preſently give me more than twelve Legions of Angels, amounting to above ſeventy two thouſand. Obſerve here, (1.) There is an innumerable Company of Angels, Heb. 12. 22. A Detachment of more than twelve Legions might be ſpared for our Service, and yet no miſs of them from about the Throne. See Dan. 7. 10. They are marſhal'd in exact Order, like the well-diſciplin'd Legions; not a confuſed Multitude, but regular Troops, all know their Poſt, and obſerve the Word of Command. (2.) This innumerable Company of Angels are all at the diſpoſe of our Heavenly Father, and do his Pleaſure, Pſal. 103. 20, 21. (3.) Theſe Angelick Hoſts were ready to come in to the Aſſiſtance of our Lord Jeſus in his Sufferings, if he had needed or deſir'd it. See Heb. 1. 6, 14. They would have been to him as they were to Eliſha, Chariots of Fire, and Horſes of Fire, not only to ſecure him, but to conſume thoſe that ſet upon him. (4.) Our heavenly Father is to be ey'd and acknowledg'd in all the Services of the Heavenly Hoſts; He ſhall give them me: Therefore Angels are not to be pray'd to, but the Lord of the Angels, Pſal. 91. 11. (5.) It is Matter of Comfort to all that wiſh well to the Kingdom of Chriſt; that there is a World of Angels always at the Service of the Lord Jeſus, that can do Wonders. He that has the Armies of Heaven at his Beck, can do what he pleaſes among the Inhabitants of the Earth; he ſhall preſently give them me. See how ready his Father was to hear his Prayer, and how ready the Angels were to obſerve Orders; they are willing Servants, winged Meſſengers, they fly ſwiftly. This is very encouraging to thoſe that have the Honour of Chriſt, and the Welfare of his Church much at Heart: Think they that they have more Care and Concern for Chriſt and his Church, than God and the Holy Angels have?

(3.) It was no time to make any Defence at all, or to offer to put by the Stroke, for, how then ſhall the Scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it muſt be? v. 54. It was written that Chriſt ſhould be led as a Lamb to the Slaughter, Iſa. 53. 7. Should he ſummon the Angels to his Aſſiſtance, he would not be led to the Slaughter at all; ſhould he permit his Diſciples to fight, he would not be led as a Lamb, quietly, and without Reſiſtance; therefore he and his Diſciples muſt yield to the Accompliſhment of the Predictions. Note, In all difficult Caſes the Word of God muſt be concluſive againſt our own Counſels, and nothing muſt be done, nothing attempted againſt the fulfilling of the Scripture. If the eaſing of our Pains, the breaking of our Bonds, the ſaving of our Lives, will not conſiſt with the fulfilling of the Scripture, we ought to ſay, Let God's Word and Will take place, let his Law be magnified and made honourable, whatever becomes of us. Thus Chriſt check'd Peter, when he ſet up for his Champion, and Captain of his Life-Guard.

(4.) We are next told how Chriſt argued the Caſe with them that came to take him, v. 55. tho' he did not reſiſt them, yet he did reaſon with them. Note, It will conſiſt with Chriſtian Silence under our Sufferings, calmly to expoſtulate with our Enemies and Perſecutors, as David with Saul, 1 Sam. 24. 14.—26. 18. Are ye come out, (1.) with Rage and Enmity, as againſt a Thief, as if I were an Enemy to the publick Safety, and deſervedly ſuffer'd this. Thieves draw upon themſelves the common Odium, every one will lend a hand to ſtop a Thief: And thus they fell upon Chriſt as the Off-ſcouring of all Things. If he had been the Plague of his Country, he could not have been proſecuted with more Heat and Violence. (2.) With all this Power and Force, as againſt the worſt of Thieves, that dare the Law, bid Defiance to publick Juſtice, and add Rebellion to their Sin; you are come out as againſt a Thief, with Swords and Staves, as if there were danger of Reſiſtance; whereas you have killed the juſt one, and he doth not reſiſt you, Jam. 5. 6. If he had not been willing to ſuffer, 'twas Folly to come with Swords and Staves, for they could not conquer him; had he been minded to reſiſt, he would have eſteemed their Iron as Straw, and their Swords and Staves would have been as Briers before a conſuming Fire; but being willing to ſuffer, 'twas Folly to come thus arm'd, for he would not contend with them.

He further expoſtulates with them, by minding them how he had behaved himſelf hitherto towards them, and they towards him. (1.) Of his publick Appearance; I ſat daily with you in the Temple, teaching. And (2.) of their publick Connivance, Ye laid no hold on me; How comes then this Change? They were very unreaſonable in treating him as they did; (1.) He had given them no Occaſion to look upon him as a Thief, for he had taught in the Temple: And ſuch was the matter and ſuch the manner of his teaching, that he was manifeſted in the Conſciences of all that heard him, no not to be an ill Man. Such gracious Words as came from his Mouth, were not the Words of a Thief, or of one that had a Devil. (2.) Nor had he given them occaſion to look upon him as one that abſconded or fled from Juſtice, that they ſhould come in the Night to ſeize him; if they had any thing to ſay to him, they might find him every Day in the Temple, ready to anſwer all Challenges, all Charges, and there they might do as they pleas'd with him; for the chief Prieſts had the Cuſtody of the Temple, and the Command of the Guards about it; but to come upon him thus clandeſtinely in the Place of his Retirement, was baſe and cowardly. Thus the greateſt Hero may be villainouſly aſſaſſinated in a Corner, by one that in open Field would tremble to look him in the Face.

But all this was done (ſo it follows, v. 56.) that the Scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled. 'Tis hard to ſay, whether theſe are the Words of the ſacred Hiſtorian as a Comment upon this Story, and a Direction to the Chriſtian Reader to compare it with the Scriptures of the Old Teſtament, which pointed at it: or, whether they are the Words of Chriſt himſelf, as a Reaſon why, tho' he could not but reſent this baſe Treatment, yet he ſubmitted to it, that the Scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled, to which he had juſt now referr'd himſelf, v. 54. Note, The Scriptures are in the fulfilling every Day, and all thoſe Scriptures which ſpake of the Meſſiah, had their full Accompliſhment in our Lord Jeſus.

5. How he was in the midſt of this Diſtreſs ſhamefully deſerted by his Diſciples; They all forſook him and fled.

1. This was their Sin, and it was a great Sin for them who had left all to follow him, now to leave him for they know not what: There was Unkindneſs in it, conſidering the Relation they ſtand in to him, the Favours they had received from him, and the melancholy Circumſtances he was now in. There was Unfaithfulneſs in it, for they had ſolemnly promis'd to ſtick to him, and never to forſake him. He had indented for their ſafe Conduct, John 18. 18. yet they could not rely upon that, but ſhifted for themſelves by an inglorious Flight. What Folly was this, for fear of Death to flee from him whom they themſelves knew, and had acknowledg'd to be the Fountain of Life? John 6. 67, 68. Lord, what is Man?

2. It was a part of Chriſt's Suffering, it added Affliction to his Bonds, to be thus deſerted, as it did to Job, chap. 19. 13. He hath put my Brethren far from me, and to David, Pſal. 38. 11. Lovers and Friends ſtand aloof from my Sore: They ſhould have ſtaid with him to miniſter to him, to countenance him, and if need were, to be Witneſſes for him at his Tryal, but they treacherouſly deſerted him, as at St. Paul's firſt Anſwer, no Man ſtood with him: But there was a Myſtery in this; 1. Chriſt as a Sacrifice for Sins ſtood thus abandon'd. The Deer that by the Keeper's Arrow is mark'd out to be hunted and run down, is immediately deſerted by the whole Herd. In this he was made a Curſe for us, being left as one ſeparated to Evil. 2. Chriſt as the Saviour of Souls ſtood thus alone; as he needed not, ſo he had not the Aſſiſtance of any other in working out our Salvation, he bore all, and did all himſelf: He trod the Wine-preſs alone, and when to Admiration there was none to uphold, then his own Arm wrought Salvation, Iſa. 63. 3, 5. So the Lord alone did lead his Iſrael, and they ſtand ſtill and only ſee this great Salvation, Deut. 32. 12.

57 And they that had laid hold on Jeſus, led him away to Caiaphas, the high prieſt, where the ſcribes and the elders were aſſembled. 58 But Peter followed him afar off, unto the high prieſts palace, and went in, and ſat with the ſervants to ſee the end. 59 Now the chief prieſts and elders, and all the council, ſought falſe witneſs againſt Jeſus to put him to death, 60 But found none: yea, though many falſe witneſſes came, yet found they none. At the laſt came two falſe witneſſes, 61 And ſaid, This fellow ſaid, I am able to deſtroy the Temple of God, and to build it in three days. 62 And the high prieſt aroſe, and ſaid unto him, Anſwereſt thou nothing? what is it which theſe witneſs againſt thee? 63 But Jeſus held his peace. And the high prieſt anſwered and ſaid unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us, whether thou be the Chriſt the Son of God. 64 Jeſus ſaith unto him, Thou haſt ſaid: nevertheleſs I ſay unto you, Hereafter ſhall ye ſee the Son of man ſitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven. 65 Then the high prieſt rent his clothes, ſaying, He hath ſpoken blaſphemy; what further need have we of witneſſes? behold, now ye have heard his blaſphemy. 66 What think ye? They anſwered and ſaid, He is guilty of death. 67 Then did they ſpit in his face, and buffeted him, and others ſmote him with the palms of their hands, 68 Saying, Propheſie unto us, thou Chriſt, who is he that ſmote thee?

We have here the Arraignment of our Lord Jeſus in the Eccleſiaſtical Court, before the great Sanhedrin. Obſerve, Firſt, The ſitting of the Court; the Scribes and the Elders were aſſembled; tho' it was in the dead time of the Night, when other People were faſt aſleep in their Beds; yet to gratifie their Malice againſt Chriſt, they deny'd themſelves that natural Reſt, and ſate up all Night to be ready to fall upon the Prey which Judas and his Men, they hoped, would ſeize.

See 1. Who they were that were aſſembled, the Scribes, the principal Teachers, and the Elders, the principal Rulers of the Jewiſh Church: Theſe were the moſt bitter Enemies to Chriſt our great Teacher and Ruler, on whom therefore they had a jealous Eye, as one that eclipſed them; perhaps ſome of theſe Scribes and Elders were not ſo malicious at Chriſt, as ſome others of them were, yet in Concurrence with the reſt they made themſelves guilty. Now the Scripture was fulfilled, Pſal. 22. 16. The Aſſembly of the Wicked have incloſed me. Jeremiah complains of an Aſſembly of treacherous Men; and David, of his Enemies gathering themſelves together againſt him, Pſal. 35. 15.

2. Where they were aſſembled, in the Palace of Caiaphas the High-Prieſt; there they were aſſembled two Days before to lay the Plot, v. 3. and there they now conven'd again to proſecute it. The High Prieſt was Ab-beth-din, the Father of the Houſe of Judgment, but is now the Patron of Wickedneſs, his Houſe ſhould have been the Sanctuary of oppreſſed Innocency, but is become the Throne of Iniquity, and no Wonder, when even God's Houſe of Prayer was made a Den of Thieves.

Secondly, The ſetting of the Priſoner to the Bar; they that had laid hold on Jeſus, led him away, hurry'd him, no doubt, with Violence, led him as a Trophy of their Victory, led him as a Victim to the Altar; he was brought into Jeruſalem through that which was call'd the Sheep Gate, for that was the Way into Town from the Mount of Olives, and 'twas ſo call'd, becauſe the Sheep appointed for Sacrifice were brought that way to the Temple; very fitly therefore is Chriſt led that way, who is the Lamb of God that takes away the Sin of the World. Chriſt was led firſt to the High-Prieſt, for by the Law all Sacrifices were to be firſt preſented to the Prieſt, and deliver'd into his Hand, Lev. 17. 5.

Thirdly, The Cowardice and Faint-heartedneſs of Peter, v. 58. But Peter follow'd afar off: This comes in here with an Eye to the following Story of his denying him. He forſook him as the reſt did when he was ſeiz'd, and what is here ſaid of his following him, is eaſily reconcileable with his forſaking him; ſuch following was no better than forſaking him; for,

1. He follow'd him, but it was afar off: Some Sparks of Love and Concern for his Maſter there were in his Breaſt, and therefore he follow'd him, but Fear and Concern for his own Safety prevail'd, and therefore he follow'd afar off. Note, It looks ill, and bodes worſe, when thoſe that are willing to be Chriſt's Diſciples, yet are not willing to be known to be ſo. Here began Peter's denying him, for to follow him afar off, is by little and little to go back from him. There is danger in drawing back, nay, in looking back.

2. He follow'd him, but he went in and ſat with the Servants: He ſhould have gone up to the Court, and attended on his Maſter, and appear'd for him, but he went in where there was a good Fire, and ſat with the Servants, not to ſilence their Reproaches, but to ſcreen himſelf. 'Twas Preſumption in Peter thus to thruſt himſelf into Temptation; he that doth ſo, throws himſelf out of God's Protection. Chriſt had told Peter he could not follow him now, and had particularly warn'd him of his Danger this Night, and yet he would venture into the midſt of this Wicked Crew; it help'd David to walk in his Integrity, that he hated the Congregation of evil Doers, and would not ſit with the Wicked.

3. He follow'd him, but it was only to ſee the end, led more by his Curioſity than by his Conſcience; he attended as an idle Spectator, rather than a Diſciple, a Perſon concern'd: He ſhould have gone in to do Chriſt ſome Service, or to get ſome Wiſdom and Grace to himſelf, by obſerving Chriſt's Behaviour under his Sufferings, but he went in only to look about him; 'tis not unlikely that Peter went in, expecting that Chriſt would have made his Eſcape miraculouſly out of the Hands of his Perſecutors; that having ſo lately ſtruck them down who came to ſeize him, he would now have ſtruck them dead who ſate to judge him, and this he had a mind to ſee; if ſo, 'twas Folly for him to think of ſeeing any other End than what Chriſt had foretold, that he ſhould be put to Death. Note, It is more our Concern to prepare for the End, whatever it may be, than curiouſly to enquire what the End will be. The Event is God's, but the Duty is ours.

Fourthly, The Trial of our Lord Jeſus in this Court.

1. They examin'd Witneſſes againſt him; tho' they were reſolv'd, right or wrong to condemn him, yet to put the better Colour upon it, they would produce Evidence againſt him. The Crimes properly conuſable in their Court were Falſe Doctrine and Blaſphemy; theſe they endeavour'd to prove upon him. And obſerve here,

(1.) Their Search for Proof; They ſought falſe Witneſs againſt him; they had ſeiz'd him, bound him, abus'd him, and after all are to ſeek for ſomething to lay to his Charge, and can ſhew no Cauſe for his Commitment: They try'd if any of them could alledge ſeemingly from their own Knowledge any thing againſt him; and ſuggeſted one Calumny, and then another, which, if true, might touch his Life. Thus Evil Men dig up Miſchief, Prov. 16. 27. Here they trod in the Steps of their Predeceſſors, who deviſed Devices again Jeremiah, Jer. 18. 18.—20. 10. They made Proclamation, that if any one could give Information againſt the Priſoner at the Bar, they were ready to receive it; and preſently many bare falſe Witneſs againſt him, v. 60. for if a Ruler hearken to Lies, all his Servants are wicked, and will carry falſe Stories to him, Prov. 29. 12. This is an Evil often ſeen under the Sun, Eccleſ. 10. 5. If Naboth muſt be taken off, there are Sons of Belial to ſwear againſt him.

2. Their Succeſs in this Search; in ſeveral Attempts they were baffled, they ſought falſe Teſtimonies among themſelves, others came in to help them, and yet they found none; they could make nothing of it, could not tack the Evidence together, or give it any colour of Truth or conſiſtency with it ſelf, no not they themſelves being Judges. The Matters alledg'd were ſuch palpable Lies, as carry'd their own Confutation along with them. This redounded much to the Honour of Chriſt now, when they were loading him with Diſgrace.

But at laſt they met with two Witneſſes, who it ſeems agreed in their Evidence, and therefore were hearken'd to, in hopes that now the Point was gain'd: The Words they ſwore againſt him were, that he ſhould ſay, I am able to deſtroy the Temple of God, and to build it in three Days, v. 61. Now by this they deſign'd to accuſe him, (1.) As an Enemy of the Temple, and one that ſought for the Deſtruction of it, which they could not bear to hear of; for they valued themſelves by the Temple of the Lord, Jer. 7. 4. and when they abandon'd other Idols, made a perfect Idol of that. Stephen was accus'd for ſpeaking againſt this holy Place, Acts 6. 13, 14. (2.) As one that dealt in Witchcraft, or ſome ſuch unlawful Arts, by the help of which he could rear ſuch a Building in three Days. They had oft ſuggeſted that he was in League with Beelzebub; now as to this (1.) the Words were miſ-recited, he ſaid, Deſtroy ye this Temple, John 2. 19. plainly intimating, that he ſpoke of a Temple which his Enemies would ſeek to deſtroy; they come and ſwear that he ſaid, I am able to deſtroy this Temple, as if the Deſign againſt it were his: He ſaid, In three Days I will raiſe it up, ἐγερῶ ἀυτὸν, a Word properly us'd of a living Temple, I will raiſe it to Life. They come and ſwear that he ſaid I am able, οικοδομήσαι, to build it, which is properly us'd of a Houſe-Temple. (2.) The Words were miſunderſtood; he ſpake of the Temple of his Body, John 2. 21. And perhaps when he ſaid this Temple, pointed to, or laid his Hand upon his own Body; but they ſwear that he ſaid the Temple of God, meaning this Holy Place. Note, There have been, and ſtill are ſuch as wreſt the Sayings of Chriſt to their own Deſtruction, 2 Pet. 3. 16. (3.) Make the worſt they could of it, it was no capital Crime, even by their own Law; if it had, no queſtion but he had been proſecuted for it when he ſpoke the Words, in a publick Diſcourſe ſome Years ago; nay, the Words were capable of a laudable Conſtruction, and ſuch as ſpoke a Kindneſs for the Temple; if it were deſtroy'd, he would exert himſelf to the utmoſt to rebuild it. But any thing that look'd Criminal, would ſerve to give Colour to their malicious Proſecution. Now the Scriptures were fulfilled, which ſaid, Falſe Witneſſes are riſen up againſt me, Pſal. 27. 13. and ſee Pſal. 35. 11. Tho' I have redeemed them, they have ſpoken Lyes againſt me, Hoſ. 7. 13. We ſtand juſtly accus'd, the Law accuſeth us, Deut. 27. 26. Joh. 5. 45. Satan and our own Conſciences accuſe us, 1 John 3. 20. The Creatures cry againſt us: Now to diſcharge us from all theſe juſt Accuſations, our Lord Jeſus ſubmitted to this, to be unjuſtly and falſly accus'd, that in the virtue of his Sufferings, we may be enabled to triumph over all Challenges, who ſhall lay any thing to the Charge of God's Elect? Rom. 8. 33, 34. He was accus'd, that we might not be condemn'd; and if at any time we ſuffer thus, have all manner of Evil, not only ſaid, but ſwore againſt us falſly; let us remember that we cannot expect to fare better than our Maſter.

(3.) Chriſt's Silence under all theſe Accuſations, to the Amazement of the Court, v. 62. The High Prieſt, the Judge of the Court, aroſe in ſome Heat, and ſaid, Anſwereſt thou nothing? Come, you the Priſoner at the Bar, you hear what is ſworn againſt you, what have you now to ſay for your ſelf? What Defence can you make? Or what Pleas have you to offer in anſwer to this Charge? But Jeſus held his Peace, v. 63. not as one ſullen, or as one ſelf-condemn'd, or as one aſtoniſhed, and in Confuſion; not becauſe he wanted ſomething to ſay, or knew not how to ſay it, but that the Scripture might be fulfilled, Iſa. 53. 7. as the Sheep is dumb before the Shearer, and before the Butcher, ſo he open'd not his Mouth; and that he might be the Son of David, who when his Enemies ſpake miſchievous things againſt him, was as a deaf man that heard not, Pſal. 38. 12, 13, 14. He was ſilent, becauſe his Hour was come; he would not deny the Charge, becauſe he was willing to ſubmit to the Sentence, otherwiſe he could as eaſily have put them to Silence and Shame now, as he had done many a time before. If God had enter'd into Judgment with us, we had been ſpeechleſs, Matt. 22. 12. not able to anſwer for one of a thouſand, Job 9. 3. Therefore when Chriſt was made Sin for us, he was ſilent, and left it to his Blood to ſpeak, Heb. 12. 24. He ſtood mute at this Bar, that we might have ſomething to ſay at God's Bar.

Well, this way will not do, aliâ aggrediendum eſt viâ.

2. They examin'd our Lord Jeſus himſelf, upon an Oath, like that ex officio, and ſince they could not accuſe him, they'll try, contrary to the Law of Equity, to make him accuſe himſelf.

1. Here's the Interrogatory put to him by the High Prieſt. Obſerve (1.) The Queſtion it ſelf, Whether thou be the Chriſt the Son of God? i. e. Whether thou pretend to be ſo, for they will by no means admit it into Conſideration, whether he really be ſo or no; tho' the Meſſiah was to be the Conſolation of Iſrael, and glorious things were ſpoken concerning him in the Old Teſtament, yet ſo ſtrangely beſotted were they with a Jealouſy of any thing that threaten'd their exorbitant Power and Grandeur, that they would never enter into the Examination of the Matter, whether Jeſus were the Meſſiah or no, never once put the Caſe, ſuppoſe he ſhould be ſo, only would have him confeſs that he call'd himſelf ſo, that they might on that indict him as a Deceiver. What will not Pride and Malice carry Men to?

(2.) The Solemnity of the Propoſal of it: I adjure thee by the living God that thou tell us: Not that he had any Regard to the living God, but took his Name in vain, only thus he hop'd to gain his Point with our Lord Jeſus; If thou haſt any value for the bleſſed Name of God, and reverence for his Majeſty, tell us this; If he ſhould refuſe to anſwer when he was thus adjur'd, they would charge him with Contempt of the bleſſed Name of God. Thus the Perſecutors of good Men often take advantage againſt them by their Conſciences, as Daniel's Enemies did againſt him in the Matters of his God.

2. Chriſt's Anſwer to this Interrogatory, v. 64. in which,

1. He owns himſelf to be the Chriſt the Son of God. Thou haſt ſaid, i. e. it is as thou haſt ſaid, for in Mark it is, I am. Hitherto he ſeldom profeſs'd himſelf expreſly to be the Chriſt, the Son of God; the Tenor of his Doctrine ſpoke it, and his Miracles prov'd it, but now he would not omit to make a Confeſſion of it (1.) Becauſe that would have look'd like a diſowning of that Truth, which he came into the World to bear witneſs to. (2.) It would have look'd like declining his Sufferings, when he knew the Acknowledgment of this would give his Enemies all the Advantage they deſir'd againſt him. He thus confeſſed himſelf, for Example and Encouragement to his Followers, when they are call'd to it, to confeſs him before Men, whatever Hazards they run by it. And according to this Pattern the Martyrs readily confeſs'd themſelves Chriſtians, tho' they knew they muſt dye for it, as the Martyrs at Thebais, Euſeb. Hiſt. l. 8. c. 9. That Chriſt anſwer'd out of a Regard to the Adjuration which Caiaphas had profanely us'd by the living God, I cannot think, any more than that he had any Regard to the like Adjuration in the Devil's Mouth, Mark 5. 7.

2. He refers himſelf for the Proof of this to his ſecond coming, and indeed to his whole Eſtate of Exaltation; 'Tis probable they look'd upon him with a ſcornful diſdainful Smile, when he ſaid, I am; a likely Fellow, thought they, to be the Meſſiah, who is expected to come in ſo much Pomp and Power; and in that this nevertheleſs refers. Tho' now you ſee me in this low and abject State, and think it a ridiculous thing for me to call my ſelf the Meſſiah, nevertheleſs the Day is coming when I ſhall appear otherwiſe. Hereafter ἀπ' ἄρτι, a modo, ſhortly; for his Exaltation began in a few Days, now ſhortly his Kingdom began to be ſet up; and hereafter ye ſhall ſee the Son of Man ſitting on the right Hand of Power, to judge the World, of which his coming ſhortly to judge and deſtroy the Jewiſh Nation, would be a Type and Earneſt. Note, The Terrors of the Judgment-Day will be a ſenſible Conviction to the moſt obſtinate Infidelity, not in order to Converſion, that will be then too late, but in order to an Eternal Confuſion. Obſerve (1.) Whom they ſhould ſee, the Son of Man. Having own'd himſelf the Son of God, even now in his Eſtate of Humiliation, he ſpeaks of himſelf as the Son of Man, even in his Eſtate of Exaltation; for he had theſe two diſtinct Natures in one Perſon. The Incarnation of Chriſt has made Son of God, and Son of Man, for he is Immanuel, God with us. (2.) In what Poſture they ſhould ſee him. (1.) Sitting on the right Hand of Power, according to the Prophecy of the Meſſiah, Pſal. 110. 1. Sit thou at my right Hand; which denotes both the Dignity and the Dominion he is exalted too: Tho' now he ſtood at the Bar, they ſhould ſhortly ſee him ſit on the Throne. (2.) Coming in the Clouds of Heaven; this refers to another Prophecy concerning the Son of Man, Dan. 7. 13, 14. which is apply'd to Chriſt, Luke 1. 33. when he came to deſtroy Jeruſalem; ſo terrible was the Judgment, and ſo ſenſibly the Indications of the Wrath of the Lamb in it, that it might be call'd a viſible Appearance of Chriſt, but doubtleſs it has reference to the general Judgment; to this Day he appeals, and ſummons them to an Appearance then, and there to anſwer for what they were now doing: He had ſpoken of this Day to his Diſciples a while ago, for their Comfort, and had bid them lift up their Heads for Joy in the Proſpect of it, Luke 21. 27, 28. Now he ſpeaks of it to his Enemies for their Terror; for nothing more comfortable to the Righteous, nor more terrible to the Wicked, than Chriſt's judging the World at the laſt Day.

Fifthly, His Conviction upon this Trial; The High Prieſt rent his Clothes, according to the Cuſtom of the Jews, when they heard or ſaw any thing done or ſaid, which they look'd upon to be a Reproach to God; as Iſa. 36. ult. — 37. 1. Acts 14. 14. Caiaphas would be thought extremely tender of the Glory of God, Come ſee his Zeal for the Lord of Hoſts; but while he pretended an Abhorrence of Blaſphemy, he was himſelf the greateſt Blaſphemer; he now forgot the Law, which forbad the High Prieſt in any Caſe to rent his Clothes, unleſs we will ſuppoſe this an excepted Caſe.

Obſerve 1. The Crime he was found guilty of, Blaſphemy: He hath ſpoken Blaſphemy, i. e. he hath ſpoken reproachfully of the living God; that's the Notion we have of Blaſphemy; becauſe we by Sin had reproached the Lord, therefore Chriſt when he was made Sin for us, was condemned as a Blaſphemer, for the Truth he told them.

2. The Evidence upon which they found him guilty, we have heard the Blaſphemy, what need we trouble our ſelves to examine Witneſſes any further? He own'd the Fact, that he did profeſs himſelf the Son of God, and then they made Blaſphemy of it, and convicted him upon his Confeſſion. The high Prieſt triumphs in the Succeſs of the Snare he had laid; now I think I have done his Buſineſs for him, Aha, ſo would we have it. Thus was he judg'd out of his own Mouth at their Bar, becauſe we were liable to be ſo judg'd at God's Bar. No need of Witneſſes againſt us, our own Conſciences are againſt us inſtead of a thouſand Witneſſes.

Sixthly, His Sentence paſs'd upon this Conviction, v. 66.

Here's 1. Caiaphas's Appeal to the Bench; What think ye? See his baſe Hypocriſy and Partiality; when he had already prejudg'd the Cauſe, and pronounc'd him a Blaſphemer, then, as if he were willing to be adviſ'd, he asks the Judgment of his Brethren; but hide Malice never ſo cunningly under the Robe of Juſtice, ſome way or other it will break out: If he would have dealt fairly, he ſhould have collected the Votes of the Bench Seriatim, and begun with the Junior, and have deliver'd his own Opinion laſt; but he knew by the Authority of his Place, he could ſway the reſt, and therefore declares his Judgment, and preſumes they are all of his Mind; he takes the Crime as to Chriſt, pro confeſſo, and the Judgment as to the Court, pro conceſſo.

2. Their Concurrence with him; they ſaid, He is guilty of Death; perhaps they did not all concur, 'tis certain, Joſeph of Arimathea, if he was preſent, diſſented, Luke 23. 51. ſo did Nicodemus, and 'tis likely others with them, however, the Majority carry'd it that way; but perhaps this being an extraordinary Council, or Cabal, rather none had notice to be preſent, but ſuch as they knew would concur, and ſo it might be Voted nemine contradicente. The Judgment was, He is guilty of Death, by the Law he deſerves to dye. Tho' they had not Power now to put any Man to Death, yet by ſuch a Judgment as this they made a Man an Out-law among his People, (qui caput gerit lupinum, ſo our old Law deſcribes an Out-law) and ſo expoſe him to the Fury, either of a popular Tumult, as Stephen was, or to be clamour'd againſt before the Governour, as Chriſt was. Thus was the Lord of Life condemn'd to dye, that through him there may be no Condemnation to us.

Seventhly, The Abuſes and Indignities done to him after Sentence paſs'd, v. 67, 68. Then, when he was found guilty, they ſpit in his Face. Becauſe they had not Power to put him to Death, and could not be ſure they ſhould prevail with the Governour to be their Executioner, they would do him all the Miſchief they could, now they had him in their Hands. Condemned Priſoners are taken under the ſpecial Protection of the Law, which they are to make Satisfaction to, and by all civiliz'd Nations have been treated with Tenderneſs; ſufficient is this Puniſhment. But when they had paſs'd Sentence upon our Lord Jeſus, he was treated as if Hell had broke looſe upon him, as if he were not only worthy of Death, but that were too good for him, and he were unworthy of the Compaſſion ſhew'd to the worſt Malefactors. Thus he was made a Curſe for us. But who were they that were thus barbarous? It ſhould ſeem the very ſame that had paſs'd Sentence upon him. They ſaid, he is guilty of Death, and then did they ſpit in his Face. The Prieſts began, and then, no wonder, if the Servants, who would do any thing to make Sport to themſelves, and curry Favour with their wicked Maſters, carry'd on the Humour. See how they abus'd him.

1. They ſpit in his Face, thus the Scripture was fulfill'd, Iſa. 50. 6. He hid not his Face from Shame and Spitting. Job complain'd of this Indignity done to him, and herein was a Type of Chriſt, Job 3. 10. they ſpare not to ſpit in my Face; 'tis an Expreſſion of the greateſt Contempt and Indignation poſſible; looking upon him as more deſpicable than the very Ground they ſpit upon. When Miriam was under the Leproſie, it was look'd upon as a Diſgrace to her, like that of her Father, ſpitting in her Face, Num. 12. 14. He that refus'd to raiſe up Seed to his Brother, was to undergo this Diſhonour, Deut. 25. 9. Yet Chriſt, when he was repairing the Decays of the great Family of Mankind, ſubmitted to it. That Face which was fairer than the Children of Men, which was white and ruddy, and which Angels Reverence, was thus filthily abus'd by the baſeſt and vileſt of the Children of Men. Thus was Confuſion pour'd upon his Face, that ours might not be fill'd with everlaſting Shame and Contempt. They who now profane his bleſſed Name, abuſe his Word, and hate his Image on his Sanctified Ones; what do they better than ſpit in his Face? And would do that if it were in their reach.

2. They Buffeted him, and Smote him with the Palms of their Hands: this added Pain to the Shame, for both came in with Sin. Now the Scripture was fulfill'd, Iſa. 50. 6. I gave my Cheek to them that plucked off my Hair; and Lam. 3. 30. He giveth his Cheek to him that ſmiteth him, he is filled with Reproach, and yet keepeth Silence, v. 28. and Mic. 5. 1. They ſhall ſmite the Judge of Iſrael with a Rod upon the Cheek; and here the Margin reads it, they Smote him with Rods; for ſo ἐῤῥάπισαν ſignifies, and this he ſubmitted to.

3. They challeng'd him to tell who ſtruck him, having firſt Blindfolded him; Prophecy unto us, thou Chriſt, who is he that Smote thee? (1.) They made Sport with him, as the Philiſtines did with Sampſon; 'tis grievous to thoſe that are in Miſery, for People to make merry about them, but much more to make Merry with them and their Miſery. Here was an Inſtance of the greateſt Pravity and Degeneracy of the human Nature that could be, to ſhew that there was need of a Religion that ſhould recover Men to Humanity. (2.) They made Sport with his Prophetical Office. They had heard him call'd a Prophet, and that he was fam'd for wonderful Diſcoveries; this they upbraid him with, and pretend to make tryal of; as if the Divine Omniſcience muſt lacquey it to a piece of Childrens Play. They put a like Affront upon Chriſt, who profanely jeſt with the Scripture, and make themſelves merry with holy Things; like Belſhazzar's Revels in the Temple-bowls.

69 Now Peter ſat without in the Palace: and a damſel came unto him, ſaying, Thou alſo waſt with Jeſus of Galilee. 70 But he denied before them all, ſaying, I know not what thou ſayeſt. 71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid ſaw him, and ſaid unto them that were there, This fellow was alſo with Jeſus of Nazareth. 72 And again he denied with an Oath, I do not know the man. 73 And after a while came unto him they that ſtood by, and ſaid to Peter, Surely thou alſo art one of them, for thy ſpeech bewrayeth thee. 74 Then began he to curſe and to ſwear, ſaying, I know not the man. And immediately the Cock crew. 75 And Peter remembred the Words of Jeſus, which ſaid unto him, Before the Cock crow, thou ſhalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

We have here the Story of Peter's denying his Maſter, and it comes in as a part of Chriſt's Sufferings. Our Lord Jeſus was now in the High-prieſt's Hall, not to be Tryed, but Baited rather, and then it would have been ſome Comfort to him to ſee his Friends near him: But we do not find any Friend he had about the Court, ſave Peter only, and better he had been at a Diſtance. Obſerve how he fell, and how he got up again by Repentance.

Firſt, His Sin, which is here impartially related, to the Honour of the Pen-men of Scripture, who dealt faithfully. Obſerve,

1. The immediate Occaſion of Peter's Sin. He ſat without in the Palace, among the Servants of the High-prieſt. Note, Bad Company is to many an Occaſion of Sin; and thoſe who needleſly thruſt themſelves into it, go upon the Devil's Ground, venture into his Crowds, and may expect either to be Tempted and Enſnared, as Peter was, or to be Ridicul'd and Abus'd as his Maſter was, and ſcarce can come out of ſuch Company without Guilt, or Grief, or both. He that would keep God's Commandments, and his own Covenants, muſt ſay to Evil-doers, Depart from me, Pſal. 119. 115. Peter ſpoke of his own Experience, when he warn'd his new Converts to ſave themſelves from that untoward Generation; for he had like to have ruin'd himſelf by but going once among them.

2. The Temptation to it. He was challeng'd as a Retainer to Jeſus of Galilee; firſt one Maid, and then another, and then the reſt of the Servants charg'd it upon him, Thou alſo waſt with Jeſus of Galilee, v. 69. And again, This Fellow was with Jeſus of Nazareth, v. 71. And again, v. 37. Thou alſo art one of them, for thy Speech bewrayeth thee, to be a Galilean; whoſe Dialect and Pronunciation differ'd from that of the other Jews. Happy he whoſe Speech bewrays him to be a Diſciple of Chriſt, by the Holineſs and Serious neſs of whoſe Diſcourſe it appears that he has been with Jeſus. Obſerve how ſcornfully they ſpeak of Chriſt, Jeſus of Galilee, and of Nazareth, upbraiding him with the Country he was of; and how diſtainfully they ſpeak of Peter, This Fellow; as if they thought it a Reproach to them to have ſuch a Man in their Company; and he was well enough ſerv'd for coming among them; yet they had nothing to accuſe him of, but that he was with Jeſus, which they thought was enough to render him both a ſcandalous and a ſuſpected Perſon.

3. The Sin it ſelf. When he was charg'd as one of Chriſt's Diſciples, he deny'd it, was aſham'd, and afraid to own himſelf ſo, and would have all about him to believe that he had no Knowledge of him, nor any Kindneſs or Concern for him.

1. Upon the firſt mention of it he ſaid, I know not what thou ſayeſt. This was a ſhuffling Anſwer he took on him, he did not underſtand the Charge, that he knew not who ſhe meant by Jeſus of Galilee, or what ſhe meant by being with him; ſo making ſtrange of that which his Heart was now as full of as it could. (1.) It is a Fault thus to miſrepreſent our own Apprehenſions, Thoughts and Affections to ſerve a Turn; to take on us, we do not underſtand, or did not think of, or remember that which yet we do apprehend, and did think of, and remember; this is a Species of Lying, which we are more prone to than any other, becauſe in this a Man is not eaſily diſprov'd; for who knows the Spirit of a Man, ſave he himſelf? But God knows it, and we muſt be reſtrain'd from this Wickedneſs by a Fear of him, Prov. 24. 12. (2.) It is yet a greater Fault to be ſhy of Chriſt, to diſſemble our Knowledge of him, and to ſhift off a Confeſſion of him, when we are call'd to it, 'tis in Effect to deny him.

2. Upon the next Attack, he ſaid flat and plain, I know not the Man, and back'd it with an Oath, v. 72. This was in Effect to ſay, I will not own him, I am no Chriſtian, for Chriſtianity is the Knowledge of Chriſt Why, Peter? Canſt thou look upon yonder Priſoner at the Bar, and ſay, thou doſt not know him? Didſt thou not quit all to follow him? And haſt thou not been the Man of his Counſel? Haſt thou not known him better than any one elſe? Didſt thou not confeſs him to be the Chriſt, the Son of the Bleſſed? Haſt thou forgot all the kind and tender Looks thou hadſt had from him, and all the intimate Fellowſhip thou haſt had with him? Canſt thou look him in the Face, and ſay, Thou doſt not know him?

3. Upon the third Aſſault he began to Curſe and Swear, ſaying, I know not the Man, v. 74. 'This was worſt of all, for the Way of Sin is down-hill. He Curs'd and Swore (1.) to back what he ſaid and to gain Credit to it, that they might not any more call it in queſtion; he did not only ſay it, but ſwear it, and yet what he ſaid was falſe. Note, We have reaſon to ſuſpect the Truth of that which is back'd with raſh Oaths and Imprecations. None but the Devil's Sayings need the Devil's Proofs. He that will not be reſtrain'd by the Third Commandment from mocking his God, will not be kept by the Ninth from deceiving his Brother. (2.) He deſign'd it to be an Evidence for him, that he was none of Chriſt's Diſciples, for this was none of their Language. Curſing and Swearing is enough to prove a Man no Diſciple of Chriſt; for 'tis the Language of his Enemies thus to take his Name in vain.

This is written for warning to us, that we Sin not after the Similitude of Peter's Tranſgreſſion; that we never, either directly or indirectly deny Chriſt, the Lord that bought us, by rejecting his Offers, reſiſting his Spirit, diſſembling our Knowledge of him, and being aſham'd of him and his Words, or afraid of ſuffering for him, and with his ſuffering People.

4. The Aggravations of this Sin, which it may be of uſe to take Notice of, that we may obſerve the like Tranſgreſſions in our own Sins. Conſider (1.) who he was, an Apoſtle, one of the firſt three, that had been upon all Occaſions the moſt forward to ſpeak to the Honour of Chriſt. The greater Profeſſion we make of Religion, the greater is our Sin, if in any thing we walk unworthily. (2.) What fair warning his Maſter had given him of his Danger; which, if he had regarded as he ought to have done, he would not have run himſelf into the Temptation. (3.) How ſolemnly he had promis'd to adhere to Chriſt in this Night of Trial; he had ſaid again and again, I'll never deny thee, no, I'll die with thee firſt, yet he broke theſe Bonds in ſunder, and his Word was, Yea and Nay. (4.) How ſoon he fell into this Sin after the Lord's-Supper. There to receive ſuch an ineſtimable Pledge of Redeeming Love, and yet the ſame Night, before Morning, to diſown his Redeemer, was indeed turning aſide quickly. (5.) How weak, comparatively, the Temptation was; 'twas not the Judge, or any of the Officers of the Court that charg'd him with being a Diſciple of Jeſus, but a ſilly Maid or two, that probably deſign'd him no Hurt, nor would have done him any, if he had own'd it. This was but running with the Footmen, Jer. 12. 5. (6.) How often he repeated it; even after the Cock had crow'd once, he continued in the Temptation, and a ſecond, and third time relaps'd into the Sin. Is this Peter? How art thou fallen?

Thus was his Sin aggravated; but on the other hand there's this to extenuate it, that what he ſaid, he ſaid in his haſte, Pſal. 116. 11. He fell into the Sin by ſurprize, not as Judas, with deſign; his Heart was againſt it; he ſpoke very ill, but it was unadviſedly, and before he was aware.

Secondly, Peter's Repentance for this Sin, v. 75. The former is written for our Admonition, that we may not ſin; but if at any time we be overtaken, this is written for our Imitation, that we may make Haſte to repent. Now obſerve,

1. What it was that brought Peter to Repentance.

(1.) The Cock crew, v. 74. a common Contingency; but Chriſt having mention'd the Crowing of the Cock in the warning he gave him, that made it a means of bringing him to himſelf. The Word of Chriſt can put a Significancy upon whatever Sign he ſhall pleaſe to chuſe, and by Virtue of that Word he can make it very beneficial to the Souls of his People. The Crowing of a Cock is to Peter inſtead of a John Baptiſt, the Voice of one calling to Repentance. Conſcience ſhould be to us as the Crowing of the Cock, to put us in mind of what we had forgotten. When David's Heart ſmote him, the Cock crew. Where there is a living Principle of Grace in the Soul, tho' for the preſent overpower'd by Temptation, a little Hint will ſerve only for a Memorandum, when God ſets in with it to recover it from a By-path. Here was the Crowing of a Cock made a happy Occaſion of the Converſion of a Soul. Chriſt comes ſometimes in Mercy, at Cock crowing.

(2.) He remembred the Words of the Lord; this was that brought him to himſelf, and melted him into Tears of godly Sorrow; a Senſe of his Ingratitude to Chriſt, and the ſlight Regard he had had to the gracious Warning Chriſt had given him. Note, A ſerious Reflection upon the Words of the Lord Jeſus, will be a powerful Inducement to Repentance, and will help to break the Heart for Sin. Nothing grieves a Penitent more, than that he has ſinn'd againſt the Grace of the Lord Jeſus, and the Tokens of his Love.

2. How his Repentance was expreſs'd; He went out and wept bitterly. 1. His Sorrow was ſecret, he went out, out of the High-Prieſt's Hall, vext at himſelf that ever he came into it; now he found what a Snare he was in, and got out of it as faſt as he could. He went out into the Porch before, v. 71. and if he had gone quite off then, his ſecond and third Denial had been prevented; but then he came in again, now he went out, and came in no more. He went out to ſome Place of Solitude and Retirement, where he might bemoan himſelf, like the Doves of the Valleys, Ezek. 6. 9. Jer. 9. 1, 2. He went out that he might not be diſturb'd in his Devotions on this ſad Occaſion. We may then be moſt free in our Communion with God, when we are moſt free from the Converſe and Buſineſs of this World. In mourning for Sin, we find the Families apart, and their Wives apart, Zech. 12. 11, 12.

3. His Sorrow was ſerious. He wept bitterly. Sorrow for Sin muſt not be ſlightly, but great and deep, like that for an only Son. Thoſe that have ſinn'd ſweetly, muſt weep bitterly, for ſooner or later Sin will be Bitterneſs. This deep Sorrow is requiſite, not to ſatisfie Divine Juſtice, a Sea of Tears would not do that; but to evidence that there is a real change of Mind, which is the Eſſence of Repentance, to make the Pardon the more welcome, and Sin for the future the more loathſome. Peter that wept ſo bitterly for denying Chriſt, never deny'd him again, but confeſs'd him often, and openly, and in the Mouth of Danger; ſo far from ever ſaying, I know not the Man; that he made all the Houſe of Iſrael know aſſuredly, that this ſame Jeſus was Lord and Chriſt. True Repentance for any Sin, will be beſt evidenced by our abounding in the contrary Grace and Duty; that's a ſign of our weeping, not only bitterly, but ſincerely. Some of the Ancients ſay, That as long as Peter lived, he never heard a Cock crow but it ſet him a weeping. Thoſe that have truly ſorrow'd for Sin, will ſorrow upon every Remembrance of it; yet not ſo as to hinder, but rather to increaſe their Joy in God, and in his Mercy and Grace.

CHAP. XXVII.

It is a very affecting Story which is recorded in this Chapter, concerning the Sufferings and Death of our Lord Jeſus. Conſidering the thing it ſelf, there cannot be a more Tragical Story told us, common Humanity would melt the Heart to find an innocent and excellent Perſon thus miſus'd. But conſidering the Deſign and Fruit of Chriſt's Sufferings, 'tis Goſpel, 'tis good News that Jeſus Chriſt was thus deliver'd for our Offences; and there is nothing we have more reaſon to glory in than the Croſs of Chriſt. In this Chapter, obſerve, (1.) how he was Proſecuted. (1.) The delivering of him to Pilate, v. 1, 2. (2.) The Deſpair of Judas, v. 3,—10. (3.) The Arraignment and Trial of Chriſt before Pilate, v. 11—14. (4.) The Clamours of the People againſt him, v. 15—25. (5.) Sentence paſs'd, and the Warrant ſign'd for his Execution, v. 26. (2.) How he was Executed. (1.) He was barbarouſly us'd, v. 27—30. (2.) Led to the Place of Execution, v. 31—33. (3.) There he had all poſſible Indignities done him, and Reproaches caſt upon him, v. 34—44. (4.) Heaven frown'd upon him, v. 45—49. (5.) Many remarkable things attended his Death, v. 50—56. (6.) He was buried, and a Watch ſet on his Grave, v. 57—66.

WHEN the morning was come, all the chief prieſts and elders of the people took counſel againſt Jeſus to put him to death. 2 And when they had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governour. 3 Then Judas which had betrayed him, when he ſaw that he was condemned, repented himſelf, and brought again the thirty pieces of ſilver to the chief prieſts and elders, 4 Saying, I have ſinned, in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they ſaid, What is that to us? ſee thou to that. 5 And he caſt down the pieces of ſilver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himſelf. 6 And the chief prieſts took the ſilver pieces, and ſaid, It is not lawful for to put them into the treaſury, becauſe it is the price of blood. 7 And they took counſel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury ſtrangers in. 8 Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood unto this day. 9 (Then was fulfilled that which was ſpoken by Jeremy the prophet, ſaying, And they took the thirty pieces of ſilver, the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Iſrael did value: 10 And gave them for the potters field, as the Lord appointed me).

We left Chriſt in the Hands of the Chief Prieſts and Elders, condemn'd to die, but they could only ſhew their Teeth; about two Years before this, the Romans had taken from the Jews the Power of capital Puniſhment, they could put no Man to Death, and therefore early in the Morning another Counſel is held, to conſider what's to be done. And here we are told what was done in that Morning Counſel, after they had been for two or three Hours conſulting with their Pillows.

1. Chriſt is deliver'd up to Pilate, that he might execute the Sentence they had paſt upon him. Judea having been almoſt 100 Years before this conquer'd by Pompey, had ever ſince been tributary to Rome, and was lately made part of the Province of Syria, and ſubject to the Government of the Preſident of Syria; under whom there were ſeveral Procurators, who chiefly attended the Buſineſs of the Revenues; but ſometimes, as Pilate particularly, had the whole Power of the Preſident lodg'd in them. This was a plain Evidence that the Sceptre was departed from Judah, and therefore now the Shiloh muſt come, according to Jacob's Prophecy, Gen. 49. 10. Pilate is characteriz'd by the Roman Writers of that Time, to be a Man of a rough and haughty Spirit, wilful and implacable, and extremely Covetous and Oppreſſive; the Jews had a great Enmity to his Perſon, and were weary of his Government, and yet they made uſe of him as the Tool of their Malice againſt Chriſt.

(1.) They bound Jeſus. He was bound when he was firſt ſeiz'd; but either they took off theſe Bonds when he was before the Council, or now they added to them. Having found him guilty, they ty'd his Hands behind him, as they uſually do with convicted Criminals. He was already bound with the Bonds of Love to Man, and of his own Undertaking, elſe he had ſoon broke theſe Bonds, as Sampſon did his. We were fetter'd with the Bond of Iniquity, held in the Cords of our Sins, Prov. 5. 22. but God had bound the Yoke of our Tranſgreſſions upon the Neck of the Lord Jeſus, Lam. 1. 14. that we might be looſ'd by his Bonds, as we are heal'd by his Stripes.

(2.) They led him away in a ſort of Triumph, led him as a Lamb to the Slaughter; ſo was he taken from Priſon, and from Judgment, Iſa. 53. 7, 8. 'Twas near a Mile from Caiaphas's Houſe to Pilate's. All that way they led him through the Streets of Jeruſalem, when in the Morning they began to fill, to make him a Spectacle to the World.

(3.) They deliver'd him to Pontius Pilate, according to that which Chriſt had often ſaid, that he ſhould be deliver'd to the Gentiles. Both Jews and Gentiles were obnoxious to the Judgment of God, and concluded under Sin, and Chriſt was to be the Saviour both of Jews and Gentiles, and therefore Chriſt was brought into the Judgment both of Jews and Gentiles, and both had a hand in his Death. See how theſe corrupt Church Rulers abus'd the civil Magiſtrate, making uſe of him to execute their unrighteous Decrees, and inflict the Grievance which they had preſcrib'd, Iſa. 10. 1. Thus have the Kings of the Earth been wretchedly impos'd upon by the Papal Powers, and condemn'd to the Drudgery of extirpating with the Sword of War, as well as that of Juſtice, thoſe whom they have mark'd for Hereticks, right or wrong, to the great Prejudice of their own Intereſts.

2. The Money which they had paid to Judas for betraying Chriſt, is by him deliver'd back to them, and Judas in deſpair hangs himſelf. The Chief Prieſts and Elders ſupported themſelves with this, in proſecuting Chriſt, that his own Diſciples betray'd him to them; but now in the midſt of the Proſecution that String fail'd them, and even he is made to them a Witneſs of Chriſt's Innocency, and a Monument of God's Juſtice, which ſerv'd (1.) for Glory to Chriſt in the midſt of his Sufferings, and a Specimen of his Victory over Satan, who had enter'd into Judas. (2.) For Warning to his Perſecutors, and to leave them the more inexcuſable. If their Heart had not been fully ſet in them to do this Evil, what Judas ſaid and did, one would think, ſhould have ſtopp'd the Proſecution.

1. See here how Judas repented, not like Peter, who repented, believ'd, and was pardon'd; no, he repented, deſpair'd, and was ruin'd Now obſerve here,

(1.) What induced him to repent. 'Twas when he ſaw that he was condemned. It's very likely Judas expected, that either Chriſt would have made his Eſcape out of their Hands, or would ſo have pleaded his own Cauſe at their Bar, as to have come off, and then Chriſt would have had the Honour, the Jews the Shame, and he the Money, and no Harm done: This he had no reaſon to expect, becauſe he had ſo often heard his Maſter ſay, he muſt be crucified; yea, 'tis probable he did expect it, and when the Event did not anſwer his vain Fancy, then he fell into this Horror; when he ſaw the Stream ſtrong againſt Chriſt, and him yielding to it. Note, Thoſe who meaſure Actions by the Conſequences of them, rather than by the Divine Law, will find themſelves miſtaken in their Meaſures. The Way of Sin is down-hill, and if we cannot eaſily ſtop our ſelves, much leſs can we ſtop others whom we have ſet a going in a ſinful way. He repented himſelf, i. e. he was fill'd with Grief, Anguiſh, and Indignation at himſelf, in reflection upon what he had done. When he was tempted to betray his Maſter, the thirty pieces of Silver look'd very fine and glittering, like the Wine when it is red, and gives its colour in the Cup. But when the thing was done, and the Money paid, the Silver was become Droſs, it bit like a Serpent, and ſtung like an Adder. Now his Conſcience flew in his Face; "What "have I done? What a Fool? What a Wretch am I, to ſell my "Maſter, and all my Comfort and Happineſs in him, for ſuch a "Trifle? All theſe Abuſes and Indignities done him are chargeable "upon me; 'tis long of me that he is bound and condemn'd, ſpit "upon and buffetted; I little thought 'twould have come to this, "when I made that wicked Bargain; ſo fooliſh was I, and igno"rant, and ſo like a Beaſt." Now he curſeth the Bag he carry'd, the Money he coveted, the Prieſts he dealt with, and the Day that he was born. The Remembrance of his Maſter's Goodneſs to him, which he had ſo baſely requited; the Bowels of Mercy he had ſpurn'd at, and the fair Warnings he had ſlighted, ſteel'd his Convictions, and made them the more piercing. Now he found his Maſter's Words true; 'Twere better for that Man he had never been born. Note, Sin will ſoon change its taſte. Tho' it be roll'd under the Tongue as a ſweet Morſel, in the Bowels 'twill be turn'd into the Gall of Aſps, Job 20. 12, 13, 14. like John's Book, Rev. 10. 9.

(2.) What were the Indications of his Repentance.

1. He made Reſtitution. He brought again the thirty pieces of Silver to the Chief Prieſts, when they were all together publickly. Now the Money burn'd in his Conſcience, and he was ſick of it, as ever he had been fond of it. Note, That which is ill gotten, will never do good to thoſe that get it, Jer. 13. 10. Job 20. 15. If he had repented, and brought the Money back before he had betray'd Chriſt, he might have done it with Comfort, then he had agreed, while yet in the way; but now 'twas too late, now he cannot do it without Horror, wiſhing ten thouſand times he had never meddled with it. See Jam. 5. 3. He brought it again. Note, What is unjuſtly gotten muſt not be kept; for that's a continuance in the Sin by which it was got, and ſuch an avowing of it as is not conſiſtent with Repentance. He brought it to thoſe from whom he had it, to let them know that he repented his Bargain. Note, Thoſe who have ſerv'd, and harden'd others in their Sin, when God gives them Repentance, ſhould let them know it, whoſe Sins they have been partakers in, that it may be a Means to bring them to Repentance.

2. He made Confeſſion, v. 4. I have ſinned in that I have betray'd innocent Blood. (1.) To the Honour of Chriſt he pronounceth his Blood Innocent. If he had been guilty of any ill Practices, Judas as his Diſciple would certainly have known it, and as his Betrayer, would certainly have diſcover'd it; but he freely, and without being urg'd to it, pronounces him innocent to the Face of thoſe who had now pronounc'd him guilty. (2.) To his own Shame he confeſſeth, that he had ſinned in betraying this Blood. He doth not lay the Blame on any one elſe, doth not ſay, you have ſinn'd in hiring me to do it, but takes it all to himſelf, I have ſinned in doing it. Thus far Judas went towards his Repentance, yet it was not to Salvation. He confeſſed, but not to God, did not go to him, and ſay, I have ſinned, Father, againſt Heaven. He confeſs'd the betraying of innocent Blood, but did not confeſs that wicked Love of Money, which was the Root of this Evil. Yet there are thoſe who betray Chriſt, and yet juſtifie themſelves in it, and ſo come ſhort of Judas.

2. See here how the Chief Prieſts and Elders entertain'd Judas's Penitential Confeſſion; they ſaid, What is that to us? ſee thou to that. He made them his Confeſſors, and that was the Abſolution they gave him; more like the Prieſts of Devils, than like the Prieſts of the Holy Living God.

1. See here how careleſly they ſpeak of the betraying of Chriſt. Judas had told them, that the Blood of Chriſt was innocent Blood, and they ſay, What is that to us? Was it nothing to them, that they had thirſted after this Blood, and hir'd Judas to betray it, and had now condemn'd it to be ſhed unjuſtly? Is this nothing to them? Doth it give no Check to the Violence of the Proſecution, no warning to take heed what they do to this juſt Man? Thus do Fools make a Mock at Sin, as if no Harm were done, no Hazard run by the Commiſſion of the greateſt Wickedneſs. Thus light do many make of Chriſt crucified, what is it to them that he ſuffer'd ſuch things?

2. See here how careleſly they ſpeak of the Sin of Judas, he ſaid, I have ſinned, and they ſaid, What's that to us? What are we concern'd in thy Sin, that thou telleſt us of it? Note, It is Folly for us to think, that the Sins of others are nothing to us, eſpecially thoſe Sins that we are any way acceſſary, or partakers in. Is it nothing to us that God is diſhonour'd, Souls wounded, Satan gratified, and his Intereſts ſerv'd? And that we have aided and abetted it? If the Elders of Jezreel, to pleaſe Jezebel, murther Naboth, is that nothing to Ahab? Yes, he has kill'd, for he has taken poſſeſſion, 1 Kings 21. 19. The Guilt of Sin is not ſo eaſily transferr'd, as ſome People think it is. If there were Guilt in the Matter, they tell Judas he muſt look to it, he muſt bear it. (1.) Becauſe he had betray'd him to them. His was indeed the greater Sin, John 19. 11. But it did not therefore follow that theirs was no Sin. It is a common Inſtance of the Deceitfulneſs of our Hearts, to extenuate our own Sin by the Aggravation of other People's Sins. But the Judgment of God is according to Truth, not according to Compariſon. (2.) Becauſe he knew and believ'd him to be innocent. If he be innocent, ſee thou to it, that's more than we know, we have adjudg'd him guilty, and therefore may juſtly proſecute him as ſuch. Wicked Practices are buoy'd up by wicked Principles, and particularly by this, That Sin is Sin only to thoſe that think it to be ſo; that 'tis no Harm to perſecute a good Man, if we take him to be an ill Man; but thoſe who thus think to mock God, will but deceive and deſtroy themſelves.

3. See how careleſly they ſpeak of the Conviction, Terror, and Remorſe that Judas was under. They were glad to make uſe of him in the Sin, and were then very fond of him; none more welcome to them than Judas, when he ſaid, What will ye give me, and I will betray him to you? They did not ſay, What is that to us? But now his Sin had put him into a Fright, now they ſlighted him, had nothing to ſay to him, but turn'd him over to his own Terrors; what did he come to trouble them with his melancholy Fancies, they had ſomething elſe to do than to heed him; but why ſo ſhy? (1.) Perhaps they were in ſome Fear leſt the Sparks of his Conviction brought too near, ſhould kindle a Fire in their own Conſciences, and leſt his Moans liſten'd to ſhould give an Alarm to their own Conſciences. Note, Obſtinate Sinners ſtand upon their Guard againſt Convictions; and thoſe that are reſolvedly impenitent, look with diſdain upon the Penitent. (2.) However, they were in no concern to ſuccour Judas; when they had brought him into the Snare, they not only left him, but laugh'd at him. Note, Sinners under Convictions will find their old Companions in Sin but miſerable Comforters. It is uſual for thoſe that love the Treaſon to hate the Traitor.

3. Here's the utter Deſpair that Judas was hereby driven into. If the Chief Prieſts had promis'd him to ſtay the Proſecution, it would have been ſome Comfort to him; but ſeeing no Hopes of that, he grew deſperate, v. 5.

1. He caſt down the Pieces of Silver in the Temple. The Chief Prieſts would not take the Money, for fear of taking thereby the whole Guilt to themſelves, which they were willing Judas ſhould bear the load of; Judas would not keep it, 'twas too hot for him to hold, he therefore threw it down in the Temple, that whether they would or no, it might fall into the Hands of the Chief Prieſts. See what a Drug Money was, when the Guilt of Sin was tack'd to it, or was thought to be ſo.

2. He went and hang'd himſelf. (1.) He retir'd ἀνεχώρησε, he withdrew into ſome ſolitary Place, like the poſſeſſed Man that was drawn by the Devil into the Wilderneſs, Luke 8. 29. Woe to him that is in Deſpair, and is alone. If Judas had gone to Chriſt, or to ſome of the Diſciples, perhaps he might have had Relief, as bad as the Caſe was; but miſſing of it with the Chief Prieſts, he abandon'd himſelf to Deſpair. And the ſame Devil, that with the help of the Prieſts drew him to the Sin, with their help drove him to Deſpair. (2.) He became his own Executioner; he hang'd himſelf, he was ſuffocated with Grief: So Dr. Hammond; but Dr. Whitby is clear that our Tranſlation is right. Judas had a Sight, and Senſe of Sin, but no apprehenſion of the Mercy of God in Chriſt, and ſo he pin'd away in his Iniquity. His Sin, we may ſuppoſe, was not in its own nature unpardonable, there were ſome of thoſe ſav'd that had been Chriſt's Betrayers and Murtherers; but he concluded as Cain, that his Iniquity was greater than could be forgiven, and would rather throw himſelf on the Devil's Mercy than God's. And ſome have ſaid, That Judas ſin'd more in deſpairing of the Mercy of God than in betraying his Maſter's Blood. Now the Terrors of the Almighty ſet themſelves in Array againſt him. All the Curſes written in God's Book now come into his Bowels like Water, and like Oyl into his Bones, as was foretold concerning him, Pſal. 109. 18, 19. and drove him to this deſperate Shift, for the eſcaping of a Hell within him, to leap into that before him, which was but the Perfection and Perpetuity of this Horror and Deſpair. He throws himſelf into the Fire, to avoid the Flame, but miſerable is the Caſe when a Man muſt to Hell for eaſe.

Now in this Story, (1.) we have an Inſtance of the wretched End of thoſe into whom Satan enters, and particularly thoſe that are given up to the Love of Money. This is the Deſtruction in which many are drown'd by it, 1 Tim. 6. 9, 10. Remember what came of the Swine into which, and of the Traitor, into whom the Devil enter'd, and give not place to the Devil. (2.) We have an Inſtance of the Wrath of God reveal'd from Heaven againſt the Ungodlineſs, and Unrighteouſneſs of Men, Rom. 1. 18. As in the Story of Peter, we behold the Goodneſs of God, and the Triumphs of Chriſt's Gaace in the Converſion of ſome Sinners; ſo in the Story of Judas, we behold the Severity of God, and the Triumphs of Chriſt's Power and Juſtice in the Confuſion of other Sinners. When Judas, into whom Satan enter'd, was thus hung up; Chriſt made an open ſhew of the Principalities and Powers he undertook the ſpoiling of, Col. 2. 15. (3.) We have an Inſtance of the direful Effects of Deſpair, it often ends in Self-murther. Sorrow, even that for Sin, if not according to God, worketh Death, 2 Cor. 7. 10. the worſt kind of Death; for a wounded Spirit, who can bear? Let us think as bad as we can of Sin, provided we do not think it unpardonable, and deſpair of Help in our ſelves, but not of help in God. He that thinks to eaſe his Conſcience by deſtroying his Life, doth in effect dare God Almighty to do his worſt: And Self-murther, tho' preſcrib'd by ſome of the Heathen Moraliſts, is certainly a Remedy worſe than the Diſeaſe, how bad ſoever the Diſeaſe may be. Let us watch againſt the Beginnings of Melancholy, and pray, Lord, Lead us not into Temptation.

4. The Diſpoſal of the Money which Judas brought back, v. 6.—10. 'Twas laid out in the Purchaſe of a Field, call'd the Potter's Field; becauſe ſome Potter either had own'd it, or occupied it, or liv'd near it, or becauſe broken Potters Veſſels were thrown into it. And this Field was to be a Burying place for Strangers, i. e. Proſelites to the Jewiſh Religion, who were of other Nations, and coming to Jeruſalem to worſhip, happen to dye there. (1.) It looks like an Inſtance of their Humanity, that they took care for the Burying of Strangers; and it intimates, that they themſelves allow'd, as St. Paul ſaith, Acts 24. 15. That there ſhall be a Reſurrection of the Dead, both of the Juſt, and of the Unjuſt; for we therefore take care of the dead Body, not only becauſe it has been the Habitation of a rational Soul, but becauſe it muſt be ſo again. But (2.) It was no Inſtance of their Humility that they bury Strangers in a Place by themſelves, as if they were not worthy to be laid in their Burying-place; Strangers muſt keep their Diſtance, alive and dead, and that Principle muſt go down to the Grave, ſtand by thy ſelf, come not near me, I am holier than thou, Iſa. 65. 5. The Sons of Heth were better affected toward Abraham, tho' a Stranger among them, when they offer'd him the choiceſt of their own Sepulchres, Gen. 22. 6. But their Sons of the Strangers that have joyn'd themſelves to the Lord, tho' bury'd by themſelves, ſhall riſe with all that are dead in Chriſt.

This buying of the Potter's Field was not done that Day that Chriſt dy'd, they were then too buſie to mind any thing elſe but hunting him down, yet it was done not long after; for Peter ſpeaks of it ſoon after Chriſt's Aſcenſion; yet 'tis here recorded,

1. To ſhew the Hypocriſie of the Chief Prieſts and Elders: They were maliciouſly perſecuting the Bleſſed Jeſus, and now,

(1.) They ſcruple to put that Money into the Treaſury, or Corban of the Temple, with which they had hir'd the Traytor. Tho' perhaps they had taken it out of the Treaſury, pretending it was for the publick Good, and tho' they were great Sticklers for the Corban, and labour'd to draw all the Wealth of the Nation into it, yet they would not put that Money into it which was the Price of Blood. The Hire of a Traytor they thought parallel to the Hire of a Whore, and the Price of a Malefactor, (ſuch a one they made Chriſt to be) equivalent to the Price of a Dog, neither of which was to be brought into the Houſe of the Lord, Deut. 23. 18. They would thus ſave their Credit with the People, by poſſeſſing them with an Opinion of their great Reverence for the Temple. Thus they that ſwallowed a Camel, ſtrain'd at a Gnat.

(2.) They think to attone for what they had done by this publick good Act, of providing a Burying-place for Strangers, tho' not at their own Charge. Thus in Times of Ignorance People were made to believe, that Building Churches, and Endowing Monaſteries, would make amends for Immoralities.

2. To ſignifie the Favour intended by the Blood of Chriſt, to Strangers, and Sinners of the Gentiles. Through the Price of his Blood a Reſting-place is provided for them after Death. Thus many of the Antients apply this Paſſage. The Grave is the Potter's Field, where the Bodies are thrown, as deſpiſed, broken Veſſels: but Chriſt by his Blood purchaſed it, for thoſe who by confeſſing themſelves Strangers on Earth, ſeek the better Country, he has alter'd the Property of it, (as a Purchaſer doth) ſo that now Death is ours, the Grave is ours, a Bed of Reſt for us. The Germans in their Language call Burying-places God's Fields; for in them God ſows his People as a Corn of Wheat, John 12. 24. See Hoſ. 2. 23. Iſa. 26. 19.

3. To perpetuate the Infamy of thoſe that bought and ſold the Blood of Chriſt. This Field was commonly call'd Aceldama, the Field of Blood; not by the Chief Prieſts, they hoped in this Burying-place to bury the Remembrance of their own Crime; but by the People, who took notice of Judas's Acknowledgement that he had betray'd the innocent Blood, tho' the Chief Prieſts made nothing of it. They faſten'd this Name upon the Field, In perpetuam rei memoriam. Note, Divine Providence has many ways of entailing Diſgrace upon the wicked Practices, even of great Men, who, tho' they ſeek to cover their Shame, are put to a perpetual Reproach.

4. That we may ſee how the Scripture was fulfill'd, v. 9, 10.

Then was fulfilled that which was ſpoken by Jeremy the Prophet: The words quoted are found in the Prophecy of Zechary, Chap. 11. 12. how they are here ſaid to be ſpoken by Jeremy, is a difficult Queſtion; but the Credit of Chriſt's Doctrine doth not depend upon it; for that proves it ſelf perfectly Divine, tho' there ſhould appear ſomething human, as to ſmall Circumſtances in the Pen-men of it. The Syriack Verſion, which is antient, reads only, it was ſpoken by the Prophet, not naming any, whence ſome thought Jeremy was added by ſome Scribe; ſome think the whole Volume of the Prophets, being in one Book, and the Prophecy of Jeremiah put firſt, it might not be improper, currente Calamo, to quote any Paſſage out of that Volume under his Name. The Jews us'd to ſay, The ſpirit of Jeremiah was in Zechariah, and ſo they were as one Prophet: Some ſuggeſt that it was ſpoken by Jeremiah, but written by Zechariah: Or, that Jeremiah wrote the 9th, 10th, and 11th Chapters of Zechariah. Now this Paſſage in the Prophet is a Repreſentation of the great Contempt of God that was found among the Jews, and the poor Returns they made to him for rich Receivings from him. But here that is really acted, which was there but figuratively expreſs'd. The Sum of Money is the ſame, Thirty pieces of Silver, this they weigh'd for his Price, at this rate they valued him, a goodly Price, and this caſt to the Potter in the Houſe of the Lord; which was here literally accompliſh'd. Note, We ſhould better underſtand the Events of Providence, if we were better acquainted, even with the Language and Expreſſions of the Scripture; for even thoſe alſo are ſometimes written upon the Diſpenſations of Providence ſo plain that he that runs may read them. What David ſpoke figuratively, Pſal. 42. 7. Jonah made a literal Application of. All thy Waves and thy Billows are gone over me, Jon. 2. 3.

The giving of the Price of him that was valued, not for him, but for the Potter's Field, ſpeaks (1.) the high value that ought to be put upon Chriſt. The Price was given, not for him, no, when 'twas given for him, it was ſoon brought back again with Diſdain, as infinitely below his Worth; he cannot be valued with the Gold of Ophir, nor this unſpeakable Gift bought with Money. (2.) The low value that was put upon him. They of the Children of Iſrael did ſtrangely undervalue him, when his Price did but reach to buy a Potter's Field, a pitiful ſorry ſpot of Ground, not worth looking upon. It added to the Reproach of his being Bought and Sold, that it was at ſo low a rate. Caſt it to the Potter, ſo it is in Zechary, a contemptible, petty Chapman, not the Merchant that deals in things of Value. And, obſerve, they of the Children of Iſrael thus undervalued him. They that were his own People, that ſhould have known better, what Eſtimate to put upon him: They to whom he was firſt ſent, whoſe Glory he was, and whom he had valued ſo highly, and bought ſo dear. He gave Kings Ranſoms for them, and the richeſt Countries, ſo precious were they in his ſight, Iſa. 43. 3, 4. Egypt, and Ethiopia, and Seba; but they gave a Slave's Ranſom for him, (ſee Exod. 21. 32.) and valued him but at the rate of a Potter's Field; ſo was that Blood trodden under foot, which bought the Kingdom of Heaven for us. But all this was as the Lord appointed; ſo the Prophetick Viſion was which typified this Event, and ſo the Event it ſelf, as other the Inſtances of Chriſt's Sufferings was by the determinate Counſel and Fore-knowledge of God.

11 And Jeſus ſtood before the governour; and the governour asked him, ſaying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jeſus ſaid unto him, Thou ſayeſt.
12 And when he was accuſed of the chief prieſts and elders, he anſwered nothing. 13 Then ſaith Pilate unto him, Heareſt thou not how many things they witneſs againſt thee? 14 And he anſwered him to never a word, inſomuch that the governour marvelled greatly. 15 Now at that feaſt the governour was wont to releaſe unto the people a priſoner, whom they would. 16 And they had then a notable priſoner, called Barabbas. 17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate ſaid unto them, Whom will ye that I releaſe unto you? Barabbas, or Jeſus which is called Chriſt? 18 For he knew that for envy they had delivered him. 19 When he was ſet down on the judgment ſeat, his wife ſent unto him, ſaying, Have thou nothing to do with that juſt man: for I have ſuffered many things this day in a dream, becauſe of him. 20 But the chief prieſts and elders perſwaded the multitude that they ſhould ask Barabbas, and deſtroy Jeſus. 21 The Governour anſwered and ſaid unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I releaſe unto you? They ſaid, Barabbas. 22 Pilate ſaith unto them, What ſhall I do then with Jeſus, which is called Chriſt? They all ſay unto him, Let him be crucified. 23 And the govenour ſaid, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, ſaying, Let him be crucified. 24 When Pilate ſaw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and waſhed his hands before the multitude, ſaying, I am innocent of the blood of this juſt perſon: ſee ye to it. 25 Then anſwered all the people, and ſaid, His blood be on us, and on our children.

We have here an Account of what paſs'd in Pilate's Judgment-hall, when the Bleſſed Jeſus was brought thither betimes in the Morning: Tho' twas no Court-day, Pilate immediately took his Caſe before him. We have here, Firſt, The Tryal Chriſt had before Pilate.

1. His Arraignment. Jeſus ſtood before the Governour, as the Priſoner before the Judge. We could not ſtand before God, becauſe of our Sins, nor lift up our Face in his Preſence, if Chriſt had not been thus made Sin for us. He was Arraign'd that we might be diſcharg'd. Some think this ſpeaks his Courage and Boldneſs, he ſtood undaunted, unmov'd by all their Rage. He thus ſtood in this Judgment, that we might ſtand in God's Judgment. He ſtood for a Spectacle, as Naboth, when he was Arraign'd, was ſet on high among the People.

2. His Indictment. Art thou the King of the Jews? The Jews were now not only under the Government, but under the very jealous Inſpection of the Roman Powers; which they were themſelves to the higheſt degree diſaffected to, and yet now pretend a Concern for to ſerve this Turn; accuſing Jeſus as an Enemy to Cæſar, Luke 23. 2. which they could produce no other Proof of, but that he himſelf had newly own'd he was the Chriſt. Now they thought, that whoever was the Chriſt muſt be the King of the Jews, and muſt deliver them from the Roman Power, and reſtore to them a temporal Dominion, and enable them to trample upon all their Neighbours. And according to this Chimæra of their own they accus'd our Lord Jeſus, as making himſelf King of the Jews, in Oppoſition to the Roman Yoke; whereas tho' he ſaid he was the Chriſt, he meant not ſuch a Chriſt as this. Note, Many oppoſe Chriſt's holy Religion upon a Miſtake of the Nature of it; they dreſs it up in falſe Colours, and then fight againſt it. They aſſuring the Governour, that if he made himſelf Chriſt, he made himſelf King of the Jews, the Governour takes it for granted, that he goes about to ſubvert the Nation, and ſubvert the Government. Art thou a King? 'Twas plain he was not ſo de facto, but doſt thou lay any Claim to the Government, or pretend a Right to Rule the Jews? Note, It has often been the hard Fate of Chriſt's holy Religion unjuſtly to fall under the Suſpicions of the Civil Powers, as if it were hurtful to Kings and Provinces, whereas it tends mightily to the Benefit of both.

3. His Plea. Jeſus ſaid unto him, Thou ſayeſt, i. e. It is as thou ſayeſt, tho' not as thou meaneſt; I am a King, but not ſuch a King as thou doſt ſuſpect me to be. Thus before Pilate he witneſſed a good Confeſſion, and was not aſham'd to own himſelf a King, tho' it look'd ridiculous, nor afraid, though at this Time it was dangerous.

4. The Evidence, v. 12. He was accus'd of the Chief Prieſts. Pilate found no fault in him; whatever was ſaid, Nothing was prov'd, and therefore what was wanting in Matter, they made up in Noiſe and Violence, and follow'd him with repeated Accuſations, the ſame they had given in before; but by the Repetition they thought to force a Belief from the Governour. They had learn'd not only calumniari, but fortiter calumniari. The beſt Men have often been accus'd of the worſt Crimes.

5. The Priſoner's Silence as to the Proſecutor's Accuſations. He anſwer'd nothing, (1.) becauſe it did not need, Nothing was alledg'd but what carried its own Confutation along with it. (2.) He was now taken up with the great Concern that lay between him and his Father, to whom he was offering up himſelf a Sacrifice, to anſwer the Demands of his Juſtice, which he was ſo intent upon, that he minded not what they ſaid againſt him. (3.) His hour was come, and he ſubmitted to his Father's Will, not as I will, but as thou wilt; he knew what his Father's Will was, and therefore ſilently committeth himſelf to him that judgeth Righteouſly. We muſt not thus by our Silence throw away our Lives, becauſe we are not Lords of our Lives, as Chriſt was of his; nor can we know as he did, when our Hour is come. But hence we muſt learn, not to render Railing for Railing, 1 Pet. 2. 23.

Now (1.) Pilate preſs'd him to make ſome Reply, v. 13. Heareſt thou not how many things they witneſs againſt thee? what theſe things were may be gathered from Luke 23. 3, 5. and John 19. 7. Pilate having no Malice at all againſt him, was deſirous he ſhould clear himſelf, urgeth him to it, and believes he could do it. Heareſt thou not? Yes, he did hear, and ſtill he hears all that is witneſſed unjuſtly againſt his Truths and Ways; but he keeps Silence, becauſe 'tis the Day of his Patience, and doth not anſwer, as he will ſhortly, Pſal. 50. 3. (2.) He wonders at his Silince; which was not interpreted ſo much a Contempt of the Court, as a Contempt of himſelf. And therefore Pilate is not ſaid to be angry at it, but to have marvelled greatly at it, as a thing very unuſual. He believ'd him to be innocent, and had heard perhaps that never Man ſpake like him, and therefore thought it ſtrange that he had not one word to ſay for himſelf. Now, Secondly, The Outrage and Violence of the People, in preſſing the Governour to Crucifie Chriſt. The Chief Prieſts had a great Intereſt in the People, they call'd them Rabbi, Rabbi, made Idols of them, and Oracles of all they ſaid, and they made uſe of this to incenſe them againſt him, and by the Power of the Mob gain'd the Point, which they could not otherwiſe carry. Now here are two Inſtances of their Outrage.

1. Their preferring Barabbas before him, and chuſing to have him releaſed rather than Jeſus.

(1.) It ſeems it was grown into a Cuſtom with the Roman Governours, for the humouring of the Jews, to grace the Feaſt of the Paſſover with the Releaſe of a Priſoner, v. 15. This they thought did Honour to the Feaſt, and was agreeable to the Commemoration of their Deliverance, but it was an Invention of their own, and no Divine Inſtitution; tho' ſome think it was antient, and kept up by the Jewiſh Princes, before they became a Province of the Empire. However, it was an ill Cuſtom, an Obſtruction to Juſtice, and an Encouragement to Wickedneſs. But our Goſpel-Paſſover is Celebrated with the Releaſe of Priſoners, by him who hath Power on Earth to forgive Sins.

(2.) The Priſoner put in competition with our Lord Jeſus, was Barabbas, a notable Priſoner he is here call'd, v. 16. Either becauſe by Birth and Breeding he was of ſome Note and Quality, or becauſe he had ſignaliz'd himſelf by ſomething remarkable in his Crimes; whether he was ſo notable as to recommend himſelf the more to the Favours of the People, and ſo the more likely to be begg'd; or whether ſo notable as to make himſelf more liable to their Rage, is uncertain. Some think the latter, and therefore Pilate mention'd him, as taking it for granted, they would have deſir'd any one's Releaſe rather than his. Treaſon, Murther, and Felony, are the three moſt enormous Crimes that are uſually puniſh'd by the Sword of Juſtice, and Barabbas was guilty of them all three, Luke 23. 17. John 18. 40. A notable Priſoner indeed, whoſe Crimes were ſo complicated.

(3.) The Propoſal was made by Pilate the Governour, v. 17. Whom will ye that I releaſe unto you? 'Tis probable, the Judge had the Nomination of two, one of which the People were to chuſe: Pilate propos'd to them to have Jeſus releaſed; he was convinced of his Innocency, and that the Proſecution was Malicious, yet had not the Courage to acquit him, as he ought to have done by his own Power; but would have him releas'd by the People's Election, and ſo he hoped to ſatisfie both his own Conſcience, and the People too; whereas finding no fault in him, he ought not to have put him upon the Country, or brought him into Peril of his Life. But ſuch little Tricks and Artifices as theſe to trim the Matter, and to keep in with Conſcience, and the World too, are the common Practice of thoſe that ſeek more to pleaſe Men than God. What ſhall I do, ſaith Pilate, with Jeſus, which is called Chriſt? He puts the People in mind of this, that this Jeſus, whoſe Releaſe he propos'd, was look'd upon by ſome among them as the Meſſiah, and had given pregnant Proofs of his being ſo; do not reject one whom your Nation has profeſs'd ſuch an Expectation of.

The Reaſon why Pilate labour'd thus to get Jeſus diſcharg'd, was becauſe he knew that for Envy the Chief Prieſts had deliver'd him up, v. 18. That it was not his Guilt, but his Goodneſs, that they were provoked at; and for this Reaſon he hoped to bring him off by the People's Act, and that they would be for his Releaſe; when David was envied by Saul, he was the Darling of the People, and any one that heard the Hoſanna's with which Chriſt was but a few Days ago brought into Jeruſalem, would have thought that he had been ſo, and that Pilate might ſafely have referr'd this Matter to the Commonalty, eſpecially when ſo notorious a Rogue was ſet up as a Rival with him for their Favours. But it prov'd otherwiſe.

(4.) While Pilate was thus labouring the Matter, he was confirm'd in his Unwillingneſs, to condemn Jeſus, by a Meſſage ſent him from his Wife, v. 19. by way of Caution, have thou nothing to do with that juſt Man, together with the Reaſon, for I have ſuffered many things this Day in a Dream becauſe of him. Probably this Meſſage was deliver'd to Pilate publickly, in the hearing of all that were preſent, for it was intended to be a Warning, not to him only, but to the Proſecutors. Obſerve,

1. The ſpecial Providence of God in ſending this Dream to Pilate's Wife; it is not likely that ſhe had heard any thing before concerning Chriſt, at leaſt, not ſo as to occaſion her dreaming of him, but it was immediately from God: Perhaps ſhe was one of the devout and honourable Women, and had ſome Senſe of Religion; yet God revealed himſelf by Dreams to ſome that had not, as to Nebuchadnezzar. She ſuffered many things in this Dream; whether ſhe dream'd of the cruel Uſage of an innocent Perſon, or of the Judgments that would fall upon thoſe that had any Hand in his Death, or both, it ſeems it was a frightful Dream, and her Thoughts troubled her, as Dan. 2. 1.—4. 5. Note, The Father of Spirits has many ways of acceſs to the Spirits of Men, and can ſeal their Inſtruction in a Dream, or Viſion of the Night, Job 33. 15. yet to thoſe who have the written Word, God more ordinarily ſpeaks by Conſcience on a waking Bed, than by Dreams, when deep Sleep falls upon Men.

2. The Tenderneſs and Care of Pilate's Wife in ſending this Caution thereupon to her Husband, Have nothing to do with that juſt Man. (1.) This was an honourable Teſtimony to our Lord Jeſus, witneſſing for him that he was a juſt Man even then when he was perſecuted as the worſt of Malefactors; when his Friends were afraid to appear in Defence of him, God made even thoſe that were Strangers and Enemies to ſpeak in his Favour: when Peter deny'd him, Judas confeſs'd him: when the Chief Prieſts pronounc'd him guilty of Death, Pilate declar'd he found no Fault in him: when the Women that lov'd him ſtood afar of, Pilate's Wife, that knew little of him, ſhew'd a Concern for him. Note, God will not leave himſelf without Witneſſes to the Truth and Equity of his Cauſe, even then when it ſeems to be moſt ſpitefully run down by its Enemies, and moſt ſhamefully deſerted by its Friends. (2.) It was a fair Warning to Pilate, Have nothing to do with him. Note, God has many ways of giving Checks to Sinners in their ſinful Purſuits, and it is a great Mercy to have ſuch Checks from Providence, from faithful Friends, and from our own Conſciences, and our great Duty to hearken to them. O do not this abominable thing which the Lord hates, is what we may hear ſaid to us, when we are entring into Temptation, if we will but regard it. Pilate's Lady ſent him this Warning, out of the Love ſhe had to him, ſhe fear'd not a Rebuke from him for meddling with that which belong'd not to her, but let him take it how he would, ſhe would give him the Caution. Note, It is an Inſtance of true Love to our Friends and Relations to do what we can to keep them from Sin; and the nearer any are to us, and the greater Affection we have for them, the more ſollicitous we ſhould be not to ſuffer Sin to come, or lie upon them, Lev. 19. 17. The beſt Friendſhip is Friendſhip to the Soul; We are not told how Pilate turn'd this off, 'tis like with a Jeſt; but by his proceeding againſt this juſt Man, it appears he did not regard it. Thus faithful Admonitions are made light of when they are given as Warnings againſt Sin, but will not be ſo eaſily made light of, when they ſhall be reflected upon as Aggravations of Sin.

5. The Chief Prieſts and the Elders were buſy all this while to influence the People in favour of Barabbas, v. 20. They perſwaded the Multitude, both by themſelves, and their Emiſſaries, whom they ſent abroad among them, that they ſhould ask Barabbas, and deſtroy Jeſus; ſuggeſting that this Jeſus was a Deceiver, in League with Satan, an Enemy to their Church and Temple, that if he were let alone, the Romans would come and take away their Place and Nation; that Barabbas, tho' an ill Man, yet having not the Intereſt that Jeſus had, could not do ſo much Miſchief. Thus they manag'd the Mob, who otherwiſe were well affected to Jeſus; and if they had not been ſo much at the Beck of their Prieſts, would never have done ſuch a prepoſterous Thing, as to prefer Barabbas before Jeſus. Here, (1.) we cannot but look upon theſe wicked Prieſts with Indignation; by the Law in Matter of Controverſy between Blood and Blood, the People were to be guided by the Prieſts, and to do as they inform'd them, Deut. 17. 18. This great Power put into their Hands, they wretchedly abus'd, and the Leaders of the People caus'd them to err. (2.) We cannot but look upon the deluded People with Pity; I have Compaſſion on the Multitude to ſee them hurry'd thus violently to ſo great Wickedneſs, to ſee them thus Prieſt-ridden, and falling into the Ditch with their blind Leaders.

(6.) Being thus over-rul'd by the Prieſts, at length they made their Choice, v. 21. Whether of the Twain (ſaith Pilate) will ye that I releaſe unto you? hoping he had gain'd his Point to have Jeſus releas'd. But to his great Surprize they ſaid Barabbas, as if his Crimes were leſs, and therefore he leſs deſerv'd to dye, or if his Merits were greater, and therefore he better deſerv'd to live: The Cry for Barabbas was ſo univerſal, One and All, that there was no Colour to demand a Poll between the Candidates. Be aſtoniſh'd O Heavens, at this, and thou Earth be horribly afraid; Were ever Men that pretended to Reaſon or Religion guilty of ſuch prodigious Madneſs, ſuch horrid Wickedneſs? This was it that Peter charg'd ſo home upon them, Acts 3. 14. Ye deſir'd a Murtherer to be granted you; yet Multitudes, who chooſe the World rather than God, for their Ruler and Portion, thus chuſe their own Deluſions.

2. Their preſſing earneſtly to have Jeſus crucified, v. 22, 23. Pilate being amaz'd at their Choice of Barabbas, was willing to hope it was rather from a Fondneſs for him, than from an Enmity to Jeſus, and therefore puts it to them, What ſhall I do then with Jeſus? Shall I releaſe him likewiſe, for the greater Honour of your Feaſt? Or will you leave it to me? No; they all ſaid, let him be crucified. That Death they deſir'd he might dye, becauſe it was look'd upon as the moſt ſcandalous and ignominious, and they hop'd thereby to make his Followers aſham'd to own him, and their Relation to him. 'Twas abſurd for them to preſcribe to the Judge what Sentence he ſhould paſs, but their Malice and Rage made them forget all Rules of Order and Decency, and turn'd a Court of Juſtice into a riotous, routous, and ſeditious Aſſembly. Now was Truth fallen in the Street, and Equity could not enter, where one look'd for Judgment, behold Oppreſſion, the worſt kind of Oppreſſion, for Righteouſneſs behold a Cry, the worſt Cry that ever was, Crucify, Crucify the Lord of Glory; tho' they that cry'd thus, perhaps were not the ſame Perſons that the other Day had cry'd Hoſanna, yet ſee what a Change was made upon the face of the Populacy in a little time: when he rode in triumph into Jeruſalem, ſo general were the Acclamations of Praiſe, that one would have thought he had no Enemies; but now when he was led in triumph to Pilate's Judgment-Seat, ſo general were the Out-cries of Enmity, that one would think he had no Friends. Such Revolutions are there in this changeable World, through which our Way to Heaven lies, as our Maſter's did, by Honour and Diſhonour, by evil Report and good Report counter-chang'd, 2 Cor. 6. 8. that we may not be lifted up by Honour, as if when we were applauded and careſs'd, we had made our Neſt amongſt the Stars, and ſhould dye in that Neſt; nor yet be dejected or diſcourag'd by Diſhonour, as if when we were deſpiſed and trampled upon, we were trodden to the loweſt Hell, from which there is no Redemption. Vides tu iſtos qui te laudant; Omnes aut ſunt Hoſtes, aut (quod in æquo eſt) eſſe poſſunt. Seneca de V. B.

Now as to this Demand we are further told,

1. How Pilate objected againſt it; Why, what Evil has he done? A proper Queſtion to ask before we cenſure any in common Diſcourſe, much more for a Judge to ask before he paſs a Sentence of Death. Note, 'Tis much for the Honour of the Lord Jeſus, that tho' he ſuffer'd as an evil Doer, yet neither his Judge nor his Proſecutors could find that he had done any Evil. Had he done any Evil againſt God? No, he always did thoſe things that pleaſed him: Had he done any Evil againſt the Civil Government? No, as he did himſelf, ſo he taught others, to render to Cæſar the things that were Cæſars: Had he done any Evil againſt the publick Peace? No, he did not ſtrive or cry, nor did his Kingdom come with Obſervation: Had he done any Evil to particular Perſons? Whoſe Ox had he taken, or whom had he defrauded? No, ſo far from that, that he went about doing good. This repeated Aſſertion of his unſpotted Innocency, plainly intimates that he dy'd to ſatisfy for the Sins of others; for if it had not been for our Tranſgreſſions that he was thus wounded, and for our Offences that he was deliver'd up, and that upon his own voluntary Undertaking to atone for them, I ſee not how theſe extraordinary Sufferings of a Perſon that had never thought, ſaid, or done any thing amiſs, could be reconciled with the Juſtice and Equity of that Providence that governs the World, and at leaſt permitted this to be done in it.

2. How they inſiſted upon it; They cry'd out the more, let him be crucified. They do not go about to ſhew any Evil he had done, but right or wrong he muſt be crucified; quitting all Pretenſions to the Proof of the Premiſes, they reſolve to hold the Concluſion; and what was wanting in Evidence to make up in Clamour, this unjuſt Judge was wearied by Importunity into an unjuſt Sentence, as he in the Parable into a juſt one, Luke 18. 4. and the Cauſe carry'd purely by Noiſe.

Thirdly, Here's the devolving of the Guilt of Chriſt's Blood upon the People and Prieſts.

1. Pilate endeavours to transfer it from himſelf, v. 24.

1. He ſees it to no Purpoſe to contend: What he ſaid, (1.) would do no good, he could prevail nothing; he could not convince them what an unjuſt, unreaſonable thing it was for him to condemn a Man whom he believ'd Innocent, and whom they could not prove Guilty. See how ſtrong the Stream of Luſt and Rage ſometimes is, neither Authority nor Reaſon will prevail to give Check to it. Nay, (2.) It was more likely to do hurt, he ſaw that rather a Tumult was made; this rude and brutiſh People fell to high Words, and began to threaten Pilate what they would do if he did not gratify them; and how great a Matter might this Fire kindle, eſpecially when the Prieſts, thoſe great Incendiaries, blew the Coals. Now this turbulent tumultuous Temper of the Jews, by which Pilate was aw'd to condemn Chriſt againſt his Conſcience, contributed more than any thing to the Ruin of the Nation not long after; for their frequent Inſurrections provok'd the Romans to deſtroy them, tho' they had reduc'd them, and their inveterate Quarrels among themſelves made them an eaſy Prey to the common Enemy; Thus their Sin was their Ruin.

Obſerve how eaſily we may be miſtaken in the Inclination of the common People; the Prieſts were apprehenſive that their Endeavours to ſeize Chriſt would have cauſed an Uproar, eſpecially on the Feaſt Day, but it prov'd that Pilate's Endeavour to ſave him caus'd an Uproar, and that on the Feaſt Day; ſo uncertain are the Sentiments of the Croud.

2. This puts him into a great Strait, betwixt the Peace of his own Mind, and the Peace of the City; he is loth to condemn an innocent Man, and yet loth to diſoblige the People, and raiſe a Devil that would not be ſoon laid; had he ſteadily and reſolutely adher'd to the ſacred Laws of Juſtice, as a Judge ought to do, he had not been in any Perplexity, the Matter was plain and paſt Diſpute, that a Man in whom was found no Fault, ought not to be crucify'd, upon any Pretence whatſoever; nor muſt an unjuſt thing be done to gratify any Man, or Company of Men in the World; the Cauſe is ſoon decided, let Juſtice be done, tho' Heaven and Earth come together, Fiat Juſtitia ruat Cælum; if Wickedneſs proceed from the Wicked, tho' they be Prieſts, yet my Hand ſhall not be upon him.

3. Pilate thinks to trim the Matter, and to pacify both the People and his own Conſcience too, by doing it, and yet diſowning it, acting the thing, and yet acquitting himſelf from it at the ſame time. Such Abſurdities and Self-contradictions do they run upon, whoſe Convictions are ſtrong, but their Corruptions ſtronger; Happy is he (ſaith the Apoſtle) Rom. 14. 22. that condemneth not himſelf in that thing which he allows, or, which is all one, that allows not himſelf in that thing which he condemns.

Now Pilate endeavours to clear himſelf from the Guilt;

1. By a Sign: He took Water and waſhed his Hands before the Multitude, not as if he thought thereby to cleanſe himſelf from any Guilt contracted before God, but to acquit himſelf before the People, from ſo much as contracting any Guilt in this Matter; q. d. If it be done, bear Witneſs it's none of my doing; he borrow'd the Ceremony from that Law, which appointed it to be us'd for the clearing of the Country from the Guilt of an undiſcover'd Murther, Deut. 21. 6, 7. and he us'd it the more to affect the People with the Conviction he was under of the Priſoner's Innocency, and probably ſuch was the Noiſe of the Rabble, that if he had not us'd ſome ſuch ſurprizing Sign in the View of them all, he could not have been heard.

2 By a Saying; in which, (1.) He clears himſelf, I am innocent of the Blood of this juſt Perſon: What Nonſenſe was this to condemn him, and yet proteſt he is innocent of his Blood; but for Men to proteſt againſt a thing, and yet to practiſe it, is only to proclaim that they ſin againſt their Conſciences; and tho' Pilate profeſs'd his Innocency, God chargeth him with Guilt, Acts 4. 27. Some think to juſtify themſelves, by pleading that their Hands were not in the Sin; but David kills by the Sword of the Children of Ammon, and Ahab by the Elders of Jezreel; Pilate here thinks to juſtify himſelf, by pleading that his Heart was not in the Action; but that's an Averment which will never be admitted; Proteſtatio non valet contra Factum. (2.) He caſt it upon the Prieſts and People, See ye to it; if it muſt be done, I cannot help it, do you anſwer it before God and the World. Note, Sin is a Brat that no Body is willing to own; and many deceive themſelves with this, that they ſhall bear no Blame if they can but find any to lay the Blame upon; but it is not ſo eaſy a thing to transfer the Guilt of Sin as many think it is. The Condition of him that is infected with the Plague is not the leſs dangerous, either for his catching the Infection from others, or his communicating the Infection to others; we may be tempted to Sin, but cannot be forc'd. The Prieſts threw it upon Judas, See thou to it; and now Pilate throws it upon them, See ye to it; for with what meaſure ye mete, it ſhall be meaſured to you.

2. The Prieſts and People conſented to take the Guilt upon themſelves; they all ſaid, His Blood be on us, and on our Children; We are ſo well aſſur'd that there is neither Sin nor Danger in putting him to Death, that we are willing to run the hazard of it; as if the Guilt would do no harm to them or theirs: They ſaw that it was the Dread of Guilt that made Pilate heſitate, and that he was getting over this Difficulty, by a Fancy of transferring it; to prevent the return of his Heſitation, and to confirm him in that Fancy, they in the Heat of their Rage agreed to it, rather than loſe the Prey they had in their Hands, and cry'd, His Blood be upon us. Now,

1. By this they deſign'd to indemnify Pilate, that is, to make him think himſelf indemnify'd, by becoming bound to Divine Juſtice to ſave him harmleſs. But thoſe that are themſelves Bankrupts and Beggars will never be admitted Security for others, nor taken as a Bail for them. None could bear the Sin of others, but he that had none of his own to anſwer for; 'tis a bold Undertaking, and too big for any Creature to become bound for a Sinner to Almighty God.

2. But they did really imprecate Wrath and Vengeance upon themſelves and their Poſterity; What a deſperate Word was this, and how little did they think what was the direful Import of it; nor to what an Abyſs of Miſery it would bring them and theirs? Chriſt had lately told them, that upon them would come all the righteous Blood ſhed upon the Earth, from that of righteous Abel; but as if that were too little, they here imprecate upon themſelves the Guilt of that Blood, which was more precious than all the reſt, and the Guilt of which would lie heavier. O the daring Preſumption of wilful Sinners, that run upon God, upon his Neck, and defy his Juſtice, John 15. 25, 26. Obſerve,

1. How cruel they were in their Imprecation; they not only imprecated the Puniſhment of this Sin upon themſelves, but upon their Children too, even thoſe that were yet unborn, without ſo much as limiting the Entail of the Curſe, as God himſelf had been pleas'd to limit it to the third and fourth Generation. 'Twas Madneſs to pull it upon themſelves, but the height of Barbarity, to entail it on their Poſterity. Sure, they were like the Oſtrich, harden'd againſt their young ones, as tho' they were not theirs: What a dreadful Conveyance was this of Guilt and Wrath to them and their Heirs for ever, and this deliver'd by Joint-conſent, nemine contradicente, as their own Act and Deed, which certainly amounted to a Forfeiture and Defeaſance of that ancient Charter, I will be a God to thee, and to thy Seed; their entailing the Curſe of the Meſſiah's Blood upon their Nation cut off the Entail of the Bleſſings of that Blood from their Families, that, according to another Promiſe made to Abraham, in him all the Families of the Earth might be bleſſed. See what Enemies wicked Men are to their own Children and Families; thoſe that damn their own Souls, care not how many they take to Hell with them.

2. How righteous God was in his Retribution according to this Imprecation; they ſaid, His Blood be on us, and on our Children, and God ſaid Amen to it, ſo ſhall thy Doom be; as they loved Curſing, ſo it came upon them. The wretched Remains of that abandon'd People feel it to this Day; from the time they imprecated this Blood upon them, they were follow'd with one Judgment after another, till they were quite laid waſte, and made an Aſtoniſhment, a Hiſſing, and a By-Word; yet on ſome of them, and ſome of theirs, this Blood came not to condemn them, but to ſave them; Divine Mercy, upon their repenting and believing, cut off this Entail, and then the Promiſe was again to them, and to their Children: God is better to us and ours than we are.

26 Then releaſed he Barabbas unto them: and when he had ſcourged Jeſus, he delivered him to be crucified. 27 Then the ſoldiers of the governour took Jeſus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of ſoldiers. 28 And they ſtripped him, and put on him a ſcarlet robe. 29 And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, ſaying, Hail King of the Jews. 30 And they ſpit upon him, and took the reed, and ſmote him on the head. 31 And after that they had mocked him, they took the Robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucifie him. 32 And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to bear his croſs.

In theſe Verſes we have the Preparatives for, and Preface to the Crucifixion of our Lord Jeſus. Here is, Firſt, The Sentence paſt, and the Warrant ſign'd for his Execution, and this immediately, the ſame Hour.

1. Barabbas was releas'd, that notorious Criminal; if he had not been put in Competition with Chriſt for the Favour of the People, 'tis likely he had dy'd for his Crimes, but that prov'd the Means of his Eſcape, to intimate that Chriſt was condemn'd for this Purpoſe, that Sinners, even the chief of Sinners, might be releas'd; he was deliver'd up, that we might be deliver'd; whereas the common Inſtance of Divine Providence is, That the Wicked is a Ranſom for the Righteous, and the Tranſgreſſor for the Upright, Prov. 21. 18.—11. 18. In this unparallel'd Inſtance of Divine Grace the Upright is a Ranſom for the Tranſgreſſor, the Juſt for the Unjuſt.

2. Jeſus was ſcourged; this was an ignominious cruel Puniſhment, eſpecially as it was inflicted by the Romans, who were not under the Moderation of the Jewiſh Law, which forbad Scourgings above forty Stripes, and moſt unreaſonably inflicted on one that was ſentenc'd to dye; the Rods were not to introduce the Axes, but ſuperſede them. Thus the Scripture was fulfill'd, The Plowers plowed on my Back, Pſal. 129. 3. and Iſa. 50. 6. I gave my Back to the Smiters; and Iſa. 53. 5. by his Stripes we are healed; he was chaſtiſed with Whips, that we might not be for ever chaſtiſed with Scorpions.

3. He was then delivered to be crucified; tho' his Chaſtiſement was in order to our Peace, yet there's no Peace made but by the Blood of his Croſs, Col. 1. 20. therefore the Scourging is not enough, he muſt be crucified, a kind of Death us'd only among the Romans; the manner of it ſuch, as that it ſeems to be the Reſult of Wit and Cruelty in Combination, each putting forth it ſelf to the utmoſt, to make Death in the higheſt Degree terrible and miſerable. A Croſs was ſet up in the Ground, to which the Hands and Feet were nail'd, on which Nails the Weight of the Body hung, till it dy'd of the Pain. This was the Death to which Chriſt was condemn'd, that he might anſwer the Type of the brazen Serpent lifted up upon a Pole: 'Twas a bloody Death, painful, ſhameful, curſed Death; 'twas ſo miſerable a Death, that merciful Princes appointed thoſe who were condemn'd to it by the Law to be ſtrangled firſt, and then nail'd to the Croſs; ſo Julius Cæſar did by ſome Pirates, Sueton. lib. 1. Conſtantine the firſt Chriſtian Emperor, by an Edict aboliſhed the Uſe of that Puniſhment among the Romans, Sozomen, Hiſt. l. 1. c. 8. Ne ſalutare Signum ſubſerviret ad perniciem.

Secondly, The barbarous Treatment which the Soldiers gave him, while things were getting ready for his Execution. When he was condemn'd, he ought to have had ſome time allow'd him to prepare for Death; there was a Law made by the Roman Senate in Tiberius's Time, perhaps upon Complaint of this and the like Precipitation, that the Execution of Criminals ſhould be deferr'd at the leaſt ten Days after Sentence. Sueton. in Tiber. cap. 25. but there were ſcarce allow'd ſo many Minutes to our Lord Jeſus; nor had he any breathing time during thoſe Minutes; it was a Criſis, and there were no lucid Intervals allow'd him, Deep call'd unto Deep, and the Storm continu'd without any Intermiſſion.

When he was deliver'd to be crucified, that was enough; they that kill the Body, yield there is no more that they can do, but Chriſt's Enemies will do more, and if it be poſſible wrap up a thouſand Deaths in one. Tho' Pilate pronounc'd him innocent, yet his Soldiers, his Guards ſet themſelves to abuſe him, being ſway'd more by the Fury of the People againſt him, than by their Maſter's Teſtimony for him; the Jewiſh Rabble infected the Roman Soldiery; or perhaps it was not ſo much in Spite to him, as to make Sport for themſelves, that they thus abus'd him. They underſtood that he pretended to a Crown, and to taunt him with that, gave them ſome Diverſion, and an Opportunity to make themſelves and one another merry. Note, It is an Argument of a baſe ſervile ſordid Spirit, to inſult over thoſe that are in Miſery, and to make the Calamities of any, matter of Sport and Merriment.

Obſerve 1. Where this was done, in the Common-Hall. The Governour's Houſe, which ſhould have been a Shelter to the wrong'd and abus'd, is made the Theatre of this Barbarity. I wonder the Governour, who was ſo deſirous to acquit himſelf from the Blood of this juſt Perſon, would ſuffer this to be done in his Houſe. Perhaps he did not order it to be done, but he connived at it; and thoſe in Authority will be accountable not only for the Wickedneſs which they do, or appoint; but for that which they do not reſtrain, when 'tis in the Power of their Hands. Maſters of Families ſhould not ſuffer their Houſes to be Places of Abuſe to any, nor their Servants to make Sport with the Sins, or Miſeries, or Religion of others.

2. Who were concern'd in it: They gather'd the whole Band: The Soldiers that were to attend the Execution, would have the whole Regiment (at leaſt five hundred, ſome think twelve or thirteen hundred) to ſhare in the Diverſion. If Chriſt was thus made a Spectacle, let none of his Followers think it ſtrange to be ſo us'd, 1 Cor. 4. 9. Heb. 10. 33.

3. What particular Indignities were done him.

1. They ſtripp'd him, v. 28. The Shame of Nakedneſs came in with Sin, Gen. 3. 7. and therefore Chriſt, when he came to ſatisfy for Sin, and take it away, was made naked, and ſubmitted to that Shame, that he might prepare for us white Raiment to cover us, Rev. 3. 18.

2. They put on him a ſcarlet Robe, ſome old red Cloak, ſuch as the Roman Soldiers wore, in imitation of the ſcarlet Robes, which Kings and Emperors wore; thus upbraiding him with his being called a King. This Sham of Majeſty they put upon him in his Dreſs, when nothing but Meanneſs and Miſery appeared in his Countenance, only to expoſe him to the Spectators as the more ridiculous; yet there was ſomething of Myſtery in it: This was he that was red in his Apparel, Iſa. 63. 1, 2. that waſhed his Garments in Wine, Gen. 49. 10. therefore he was dreſs'd in a ſcarlet Robe. Our Sins were as ſcarlet and crimſon, Chriſt's being clad in a ſcarlet Robe, ſignified his bearing our Sins, to his Shame, in his own Body upon the Tree; that we might waſh our Robes, and make them white in the Blood of the Lamb.

3. They platted a Crown of Thorns, and put it upon his Head, v. 29. This was to carry on the Humour of making him a Mock King; yet had they intended it only for a Reproach, they might have platted a Crown of Straw, or Ruſhes, but they deſign'd it to be painful to him, and to be literally, what Crowns are ſaid to be figuratively, lin'd with Thorns; he that invented this Abuſe, 'tis likely valued himſelf upon the Wit of it, but there was a Myſtery in it. (1.) Thorns came in with Sin, and were part of the Curſe that was the Product of Sin, Gen. 3. 18. Therefore Chriſt being made a Curſe for us, and dying to remove the Curſe from us, felt the Pain and Smart of thoſe Thorns, nay, and binds them as a Crown to him, Job 31. 36. for his Sufferings for us were his Glory. (2.) Now he anſwered the Type of Abraham's Ram that was caught in the Thicket, and ſo offer'd up inſtead of Iſaac, Gen. 22. 13. (3.) Thorns ſignify Afflictions, 2 Chron. 33. 11. Theſe Chriſt put into a Crown, ſo much did he alter the Property of them to them that are his, and give them cauſe to glory in Tribulation, and made it to work for them a weight of Glory. (4.) Chriſt was crown'd with Thorns, to ſhew that his Kingdom was not of this World, nor the Glory of it worldly Glory, but is attended here with Bonds and Afflictions, while the Glory of it is to be revealed. (5.) It was the Cuſtom of ſome Heathen Nations to bring their Sacrifices to the Altars crown'd with Garlands; theſe Thorns were the Garlands with which this great Sacrifice was crown'd. (6.) Theſe Thorns 'tis likely fetch'd Blood from his bleſſed Head, which trickled down his Face, like the precious Ointment, (typifying the Blood of Chriſt with which he conſecrated himſelf) upon the Head, which ran down upon the Beard, even Aaron's Beard, Pſal. 133. 2. Thus when he came to eſpouſe to himſelf his Love, his Dove, his undefiled Church, his Head was filled with Dew, and his Locks with the Drops of the Night, Cant. 5. 2.

4. They put a Reed in his right Hand; this was intended for a Mock-Sceptre, another of the Inſignia of the Majeſty they jeer'd him with, as if this were a Sceptre good enough for ſuch a King as was like a Reed ſhaken with the Wind, Matt. 11. 7. like Sceptre, like Kingdom, both weak and wavering, and withering and worthleſs, but they were quite miſtaken, for his Throne is for ever and ever, and the Sceptre of his Kingdom is a right Sceptre, Pſal. 45. 6.

5. They bow'd the Knee before him, and mocked him, ſaying, Hail King of the Jews. Having made him a Sham King, they thus make a Jeſt of doing Homage to him, thus ridiculing his Pretenſions to Sovereignty, as Joſeph's Brethren, Gen. 37. 8. Shalt thou indeed reign over us? But as they were afterwards compell'd to do Obeiſance to him, and enrich his Dreams, ſo theſe here bow'd the Knee in Scorn to him, who was ſoon after this exalted to the right Hand of God, that in his Name every Knee might bow, or break before him; it is ill jeſting with that which ſooner or later will come in earneſt.

6. They ſpit upon him; thus he had been abus'd in the High Prieſt's Hall, chap. 26. 27. In doing Homage the Subject kiſs'd the Sovereign in Token of his Allegiance; thus Samuel kiſſed Saul, and we are bid to kiſs the Son, but they in this Mock-Homage, inſtead of kiſſing him, ſpit in his Face; that bleſſed Face which out-ſhines the Sun, and before which the Angels cover theirs, was thus polluted. 'Tis ſtrange that the Sons of Men ſhould ever do ſuch a piece of Villany, and that the Son of God ſhould ever ſuffer ſuch a piece of Ignominy.

7. They took the Reed, and ſmote him on the Head. That which they had made the Mock-Enſign of his Royalty, they now make the real Inſtrument of their Cruelty, and his Pain: They ſmote him, 'tis probable, upon the Crown of Thorns, and ſo ſtruck them into his Head, that they might wound it the deeper, which made the more Sport for them, to whom his Pain was the greateſt Pleaſure. Thus was he deſpis'd and rejected of Men, a Man of Sorrows, and acquainted with Grief. All this Miſery and Shame he underwent, that he might purchaſe for us everlaſting Life, and Joy, and Glory.

Thirdly, The conveying of him to the Place of Execution; after they had mock'd and abus'd him, as long as they thought fit, they then took the Robe off from him; to ſignify their diveſting him of all that Kingly Authority they had inveſted him with, by putting it on him; and they put his own Raiment on him, becauſe that was to fall to the Soldiers Share that were employ'd in the Execution. They took off the Robe, but no mention is made of their taking off the Crown of Thorns, whence it is commonly ſuppos'd, (tho' there's no Certainty of it) that he was crucified with that on his Head; for as he is a Prieſt upon his Throne, ſo he was a King upon his Croſs. Chriſt was led to be crucified in his own Raiment, becauſe he himſelf was to bear our Sins in his own Body upon the Tree. And here,

1. They lead him away to be crucified; he was led as a Lamb to the Slaughter, as a Sacrifice to the Altar; we may well imagine how they hurry'd him on, and dragg'd him along with all the Speed poſſible, leſt any thing ſhould intervene to prevent the glutting of their cruel Rage with his precious Blood. 'Tis likely they now loaded him with Taunts and Reproaches, and treated him as the Off-ſcouring of all things. They led him away out of the City; for Chriſt, that he might ſanctify the People with his own Blood, ſuffer'd without the Gate, Heb. 13. 12. as if he that was the Glory of them that waited for Redemption in Jeruſalem, were not worthy to live among them. To this he himſelf had an Eye, when in the Parable he ſpeaks of his being caſt out of the Vineyard, Matt. 22. 39.

2. They compell'd Simon of Cyrene to bear his Croſs, v. 30. It ſeems at firſt he carry'd the Croſs himſelf, as Iſaac carry'd the Wood for the Burnt-Offering, which was to burn him. And this was intended, as other Things, both for Pain and Shame to him. But after a while they took the Croſs off from him, either, (1.) in Compaſſion to him, becauſe they ſaw it was too great a Load for him. We can hardly think they had any Conſideration of that, yet it teaches us, that God conſiders the Frame of his People, and will not ſuffer them to be tempted above what they are able; he gives them ſome breathing-time, but they muſt expect that the Croſs will return, and the lucid Intervals only give them Space to prepare for the next fit. But (2.) Perhaps 'twas becauſe he could not with the Croſs on his Back go forward ſo faſt as they would have him. Or (3.) they were afraid, leſt he ſhould faint away under the Load of his Croſs, and dye, and ſo prevent what their Malice further intended to do againſt him: Thus even the tender Mercies of the Wicked, which ſeem to be ſo, are really cruel; taking the Croſs off from him, they compell'd one Simon of Cyrene, preſſing him to the Service by the Authority of the Governour, or the Prieſts. 'Twas a Reproach, and none would do it but by Compulſion. Some think this Simon was a Diſciple of Chriſt, at leaſt a Well-wiſher to him, and they knew it, and therefore put this upon him. Note, All that will approve themſelves Diſciples indeed, muſt follow Chriſt, bearing his Croſs, Matt. 16. 14. bearing his Reproach, Heb. 3. 13. we muſt know the Fellowſhip of his Sufferings for us, and patiently ſubmit to all the Sufferings for him we are call'd out to; for thoſe only ſhall reign with him, that ſuffer with him, ſhall ſit with him in his Kingdom, that drink of his Cup, and are baptized with his Baptiſm.

33 And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to ſay, a place of a ſcull. 34 They gave him vinegar to drink, mingled with gall: and when he had taſted thereof, he would not drink. 35 And they crucified him, and parted his garments, caſting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by the prophet, They parted my garments among them, and upon my veſture did they caſt lots. 36 And ſitting down, they watched him there: 37 And ſet up over his head, his accuſation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS. 38 Then were there two thieves crucified with him: one on the right hand, and another on the left. 39 And they that paſſed by, reviled him, wagging their heads, 40 And ſaying, Thou that deſtroyeſt the temple, and buildeſt it in three days, ſave thy ſelf: if thou be the Son of God, come down from the croſs. 41 Likewiſe alſo the chief prieſts mocking him, with the ſcribes and elders, ſaid, 42 He ſaved others, himſelf he cannot ſave: if he be the king of Iſrael, let him now come down from the croſs, and we will believe him. 43 He truſted in God; let him deliver him now if he will have him: for he ſaid, I am the Son of God. 44 The Thieves alſo which were crucified with him, caſt the ſame in his teeth. 45 Now from the ſixth hour there was darkneſs over all the land unto the ninth hour. 46 And about the ninth hour, Jeſus cried with a loud voice, ſaying, Eli, Eli, lama ſabachthani? that is to ſay, My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? 47 Some of them that ſtood there, when they heard that, ſaid, This man calleth for Elias. 48 And ſtraightway one of them ran, and took a ſpunge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink. 49 The reſt ſaid, Let be, let us ſee whether Elias will come to ſave him.

We have here the Crucifixion of our Lord Jeſus:

Firſt, The Place where our Lord Jeſus was put to Death.

1. They came to a Place called Golgotha, near adjoyning to Jeruſalem, probably the common Place of Execution. If he had had a Houſe of his own in Jeruſalem, probably for his greater Diſgrace they would have Crucified him before his own Door. But now in the ſame Place where Criminals were ſacrificed to the Juſtice of the Government, was our Lord Jeſus ſacrificed to the Juſtice of God. Some think 'tis call'd the Place of a Scull, becauſe it was the common Charnel Houſe, where the Bones and Sculls of dead Men were laid together out of the way, leſt People ſhould touch them, and be defil'd thereby. Here lay the Trophies of Death's Victory over Multitudes of the Children of Men; and when by dying Chriſt would deſtroy Death, he added this Circumſtance of Honour to his Victory, that he triumph'd over Death upon his own Dunghil.

2. There they Crucified him, v. 35. nail'd his Hands and Feet to the Croſs, and then rear'd it up, and him hanging on it; for ſo the manner of the Romans was to Crucifie. Let our Hearts be touch'd with the feeling of that exquiſite Pain which our bleſſed Saviour now endur'd, and let us look upon him who was thus pierced, and mourn. Was ever Sorrow like unto his Sorrow? And when we behold what manner of Death he died, let us in that behold with what manner of Love he loved us.

Secondly, The barbarous and abuſive Treatment they gave him, in which their Wit and Malice vy'd, which ſhould excel. As if Death, ſo great a Death, were not bad enough, they contriv'd to add to the Bitterneſs and Terror of it.

1. By the Drink they provided for him before he was nail'd to the Croſs, v. 34. 'Twas uſual to have a Cup of ſpiced Wine for thoſe to drink of that were to be put to Death, according to Solomon's Direction, Prov. 31. 6, 7. Give ſtrong Drink to him that is ready to periſh; but with that Cup which Chriſt was to drink of, they mingled Wormwood and Gall, to make it ſower and bitter. This ſignified (1.) the Sin of Man, which is a Root of Bitterneſs, bearing Gall and Wormwood, Deut. 29. 18. The Sinner perhaps rolls it under his Tongue as a ſweet Morſel, but to God 'tis Grapes of Gall, Deut. 32. 32. 'Twas ſo to the Lord Jeſus when he bore our Sins, and ſooner or later 'twill be ſo to the Sinner himſelf, Bitterneſs at the latter end, more bitter than Death, Eccl. 7. 26. (2.) It ſignified the Wrath of God, that Cup which his Father put into his Hand, a bitter Cup indeed, like the bitter Water which cauſed the Curſe, Num. 5. 18. This Drink they offer'd him, as was literally foretold Pſal. 69. 21. And (1) he taſted thereof, and ſo had the worſt of it, took the bitter taſte into his Mouth; he let no bitter Cup go by him untaſted, when he was making Atonement for all our ſinful taſting of forbidden Fruit, now he was taſting Death in its full Bitterneſs. (2.) He would not drink it, becauſe he would not have the beſt of it; would have nothing like an Opiate to leſſen his Senſe of Pain, for he would dye ſo as to feel himſelf dye, becauſe he had ſo much work to do, as our High-Prieſt in his ſuffering Work.

2. By the dividing of his Garments, v. 35. when they nail'd him to the Croſs, they ſtript him of his Garments, at leaſt his upper Garment; for by Sin we were made naked to our Shame, and thus he purchas'd for us white Raiment to cover us. If we be at any time ſtript of our Comforts for Chriſt, let us bare it patiently; he was ſtript for us: Enemies may ſtrip us of our Clothes, but cannot ſtrip us of our beſt Comforts; cannot take from us the Garments of Praiſe. The Clothes of thoſe that are executed are the Executioner's Fee; four Soldiers were employ'd in Crucifying Chriſt, and they muſt each of them have a Share. His upper Garment, if it were divided, would be of no uſe to any of them, and therefore they agreed to caſt Lots for it. (1.) Some think the Garment was ſo fine and rich, that it was worth contending for; but that agreed not with the Poverty Chriſt appear'd in. (2.) Perhaps they had heard of thoſe that had been cur'd by touching the Hem of his Garment, and they thought it valuable for ſome Magick Virtue in it. Or, (3.) they hoped to get Money of his Friends for ſuch a ſacred Relick. Or, (4.) becauſe in Deriſion they would ſeem to put a Value upon it as Royal Clothing. Or (5.) it was for Diverſion, to paſs away the Time while they waited for his Death, they would play a Game at Dice for the Clothes; but whatever they deſign'd, the Word of God was herein accompliſh'd. In that famous Pſalm, the firſt words of which Chriſt made uſe of upon the Croſs, it was ſaid, They parted my Garments among them, and caſt Lots upon my Veſture, Pſal. 22. 18. Which was never true of David, but looks primarily at Chriſt, of whom David in Spirit ſpake. Then is the Offence of this part of the Croſs ceas'd; for it appears to have been by the determinate Counſel and Foreknowledge of God. Chriſt ſtript himſelf of his Glories to divide them among us.

They now ſate down and watched him, v. 36. The Chief Prieſts were careful, no doubt, in ſetting this Guard, leſt the People, whom they ſtill ſtood in Awe of, ſhould riſe and reſcue him. But Providence ſo order'd it, that thoſe who were appointed to watch him, thereby became unexceptionable Witneſſes for him; having the Opportunity to ſee and hear that which extorted from them that noble Confeſſion, v. 54. Truly this was the Son of God.

3. By the Title ſet up over his Head, v. 37. It was uſual for the vindicating of publick Juſtice, and putting the greater Shame upon Malefactors that were executed, not only by a Cryer to proclaim before them, but by a Writing alſo over their Heads, to notifie what was the Crime for which they ſuffer'd; ſo they ſet up over Chriſt's Head, his Accuſation written, to give publick Notice of the Charge againſt him, This is Jeſus the King of the Jews. This they deſign'd for his Reproach, but God ſo over-rul'd it, that even his Accuſation redounded to his Honour. For (1.) Here was no Crime alledg'd againſt him. It is not ſaid that he was a pretended Saviour, or a uſurping King, tho' they would have it thought ſo, John 19. 21. But this is Jeſus a Saviour, to be ſure that was no Crime, and this is the King of the Jews, nor was that a Crime; they expected that the Meſſiah ſhould be ſo; ſo that his Enemies themſelves being Judges, he did no Evil. Nay, (2.) here was a very glorious Truth aſſerted concerning him, That he is Jeſus the King of the Jews, that King whom the Jews expected, and ought to have ſubmitted to; ſo that his Accuſation amounts to this, That he was the true Meſſiah and Saviour of the World; as Balaam, when he was ſent for to curſe Iſrael, bleſſed them altogether, and that three times, Num. 24. 10. So Pilate, inſtead of accuſing Chriſt as a Criminal, proclaim'd him a King, and that three times, in three Inſcriptions. Thus God makes Men to ſerve his Purpoſes quite beyond their own.

4. By his Companions with him in ſuffering, v. 38. There were two Thieves crucified with him at the ſame Time; in the ſame Place, under the ſame Guard. Two Highway-men, or Robbers upon the Road, as the word properly ſignifies. 'Tis probable this was appointed to be Execution-day, and therefore they hurry'd the Proſecution of Chriſt in the Morning, that they might have him ready to be executed with the other Criminals. Some think Pilate order'd it thus, that this piece of neceſſary Juſtice in Executing theſe Thieves, might atone for his Injuſtice in condemning Chriſt: others, that the Jews contriv'd it to add to the Ignominy of the Sufferings of our Lord Jeſus; however it was, the Scripture was fulfill'd in it, Iſa. 53. 11. He was was numbered with Tranſgreſſors.

1. It was a Reproach to him that he was Crucified with them. Tho' while he liv'd he was ſeparate from Sinners, yet in their Death they were not divided; but he was made to partake of the vileſt Malefactors in their Plagues, as if he had been a Partaker with them in their Sins; for he was made Sin for us, and took upon him the Likeneſs of ſinful Fleſh. He was at his Death number'd among the Tranſgreſſors, and had his Lot with the Wicked, that we at our Death might be numbered among the Saints, and have our Lot among the Choſen.

2. It was an additional Reproach that he was Crucified in the midſt between them, as if he had been the worſt of the three, the principal Malefactor; for among three the middle is the Place for the chief. Every Circumſtance was contriv'd to his Diſhonour, as if the great Saviour were of all other the greateſt Sinner. It was alſo intended to ruffle and diſcompoſe him in his laſt Moments with the Shrieks, and Groans, and Blaſphemies of theſe Malefactors, who, 'tis likely, made a hideous Outcry when they were nail'd to the Croſs; but thus would Chriſt affect himſelf with the Miſeries of Sinners, when he was ſuffering for their Salvation. Some of Chriſt's Apoſtles were afterwards Crucified, as Peter and Andrew, but none of them were Crucified with him, leſt it ſhould have look'd as if they had been Joynt-Undertakers with him in ſatisfying for Man's Sin, and Joynt-purchaſers of Life and Glory; therefore he was Crucified between two Malefactors, who could not be ſuppos'd to contribute any thing to the Merit of his Death; for he himſelf bore our Sins in his own Body.

5. By the Blaſphemies and Revilings, with which they loaded him when he was hanging upon the Croſs; tho' we read not that they caſt any Reflections on the Thieves that were Crucified with him. One would have thought when they had nail'd him to the Croſs, they had done their worſt, and Malice it ſelf had been exhauſted: Indeed if a Criminal be put in the Pillory, or Carted, becauſe 'tis a Puniſhment leſs than Death, 'tis uſually attended with ſuch Expreſſions of Abuſe; but a dying Man, tho' an ill Man, ſhould be treated with Compaſſion. 'Tis an inſatiable Revenge indeed which will not be ſatiſfied with Death, ſo great a Death. But to compleat the Humiliation on of the Lord Jeſus, and to ſhew that when he was dying, he was bearing Iniquity, he was then loaded with Reproach, and for ought appears, not one of his Friends, who t'other Day cry'd Hoſanna to him, durſt be ſeen to ſhew him any Reſpect.

1. The common People that paſſed by reviled him. His extreme Miſery, and exemplary Patience under it, did not mollifie them, or make them to relent; but they who by their Outcries brought him to this, now think to juſtifie themſelves in it by their Reproaches, as if they did well to condemn him. They revil'd him; ἐβλασφήμουν, they Blaſphem'd him, and Blaſphemy it was in the ſtricteſt Senſe, ſpeaking Evil of him who thought it not Robbery to be equal with God. Obſerve here,

1. The Perſons that Reviled him. They that paſſed by, the Travellers that went along the Road, and it was a great Road, leading from Jeruſalem to Gibeon; they were poſſeſs'd with Prejudices againſt him by the Reports and Clamours of the High-Prieſt's Creatures. It's a hard thing, and requires more Application and Reſolution than is ordinarily met with, to keep up a good Opinion of Perſons and Things that are every where run down, and ſpoken againſt. Every one is apt to ſay as the moſt ſay, and to throw a Stone at that which is put into an ill Name. Turba Remi ſequitur fortunam ſemper & odit Damnatos. Juv.

2. The Geſture they us'd in Contempt of him. Wagging their Heads, which ſignifies their Triumph in his Fall, and their inſulting over him, Iſa. 37. 22. Jer. 18. 16. Lam. 2. 15. The Language of it was Aha, ſo would we have it, Pſal. 35. 25. Thus they inſulted over him that was the Saviour of their Country, as the Philiſtines did over Sampſon the Deſtroyer of their Country. This very Geſture was propheſied of, Pſal. 22. 8. They ſhake the Head at me. And Pſal. 109. 25.

3. The Taunts and Jeers they utter'd. Theſe are here recorded.

(1.) They upbraided him with his Deſtroying the Temple. Tho' the Judges themſelves were ſenſible, that what he had ſaid of that was miſrepreſented, as appears, Mark 14. 19. yet they induſtriouſly ſpread it among the People, to bring an Odium upon him, that he had a Deſign to deſtroy the Temple; than which nothing would more incenſe the People againſt him. And this was not the only time that the Enemies of Chriſt had labour'd to make others believe that ill of Religion and the People of God, which they themſelves have known to be falſe, and the Charge unjuſt. Thou that deſtroyeſt the Temple, that vaſt and ſtrong Fabrick; try thy Strength now in plucking up that Croſs, and drawing thoſe Nails, and ſo ſave thy ſelf; if thou haſt the Power thou haſt boaſted of, this is a proper Time to exert it, and give Proof of it; for 'tis ſuppos'd every Man will do his utmoſt to ſave himſelf. This made the Croſs of Chriſt ſuch a Stumbling-block to the Jews, that they look'd upon it to be inconſiſtent with the Power of the Meſſiah; he was Crucified in Weakneſs, 2 Cor. 13. 4. ſo it ſeem'd to them, but indeed Chriſt Crucified is the Power of God.

(2.) They upbraid him with his ſaying that he was the Son of God; if thou be ſo, ſay they, Come down from the Croſs. Now they take the Devil's Words out of his Mouth, with which he tempted him in the Wilderneſs, Mat. 3. 3, 6. and renew the ſame Aſſault, If thou be the Son of God. They think now, or never, he muſt prove himſelf to be the Son of God; forgetting that he had prov'd it by the Miracles he wrought, particularly his raiſing the Dead; nor willing to wait for the compleat Proof of it by his own Reſurrection, to which he had ſo often referr'd himſelf and them; which, if they had obſerv'd it, would have anticipated the Offence of the Croſs. This comes of judging things by the preſent Aſpect of them, without a due Remembrance of what is paſt, and a patient Expectation of what may further be produced.

2. The Chief Prieſts and Scribes, the Church-Rulers, and the Elders, the State-Rulers, they mock'd him, v. 41. They did not think it enough to invite the Rabble to do it, but gave Chriſt the Diſhonour, and themſelves the Diverſion of Reproaching him in their own proper Perſons. They ſhould have been in the Temple at their Devotion; for it was the firſt Day of the Feaſt of Unleavened Bread, when there was to be a Holy Convocation, Lev. 23. 7. but they were here at the Place of Execution, ſpitting their Venom at the Lord Jeſus. How much below the Grandeur and Gravity of their Character was this? Could any thing tend more to make them Contemptible and Baſe before the People? One would have thought, tho' they neither fear'd God, nor regarded Man, yet common Prudence ſhould have taught them, who had ſo great a hand in Chriſt's Death, to keep as much as might be behind the Curtain, and to play leaſt in ſight; but nothing is ſo mean as that Malice may ſtick at it. Did they diſparage themſelves thus to do deſpite to Chriſt, and ſhall we be afraid of diſparaging our ſelves by joyning with the Multitude to do him Honour, and not rather ſay, If this be to be Vile, I will be yet more Vile?

Two things the Prieſts and Elders upbraided him with.

(1.) That he could not ſave himſelf, v. 42. He had been before abus'd in his Prophetical and Kingly Office, and now in his Prieſtly Office as a Saviour. (1.) They take it for granted, he could not ſave himſelf, and therefore had not the Power he pretended to, when really he would not ſave himſelf, becauſe he would die to ſave us. They ſhould have argued, he ſaved others, therefore he could ſave himſelf, and if he do not, 'tis for ſome good Reaſon. But (2.) they would inſinuate, that becauſe he did not now ſave himſelf, therefore all his Pretence to ſave others was but Sham and Deluſion, and was never really done; tho' the Truth of his Miracles was demonſtrated beyond Contradiction. (3.) They upbraid him with being the King of Iſrael. They dream'd of the external Pomp and Power of the Meſſiah, and therefore thought the Croſs altogether diſagreeable to the King of Iſrael, and inconſiſtent with that Character. Many People could like the King of Iſrael well enough, if he would but come down from the Croſs, if they could have his Kingdom without the Tribulation, through which they muſt enter into it. But the Matter is ſettled, If no Croſs, then no Chriſt, no Crown: Thoſe that would reign with him, muſt be willing to ſuffer with him, for Chriſt and his Croſs are nail'd together in this World. (4.) They challeng'd him to come down from the Croſs. And what had become of us then, and the Work of our Redemption and Salvation? If he had been provok'd by theſe Scoffs to come down from the Croſs, and ſo to have left his Undertaking unfiniſh'd, we had been for ever undone. But his unchangeable Love and Reſolution ſet him above, and fortified him againſt this Temptation, ſo that he did not fail, nor was diſcouraged. (5.) They promis'd, That if he would come down from the Croſs, they would believe him. Let him give them that Proof of his being the Meſſiah, and they would own him to be ſo. When they had formerly demanded a Sign, he told them the Sign he would give them, ſhould be not his coming down from the Croſs, but, which was a greater Inſtance of his Power, his coming up from the Grave, which they had not Patience to wait two or three Days for. If he had come down from the Croſs, they might with as much Reaſon have ſaid, that the Soldiers had juggled in nailing him to it, as they ſaid, when he was raiſed from the Dead, That the Diſciples came by Night and ſtole him away. But to promiſe our ſelves, that we would believe, if we had ſuch and ſuch Means and Motives of Faith, as we our ſelves would preſcribe, when we do not improve what God has appointed, is not only a groſs Inſtance of the Deceitfulneſs of our Hearts, but the ſorry Refuge, or Subterfuge rather, of an obſtinate deſtroying Infidelity.

(2.) That God his Father would not ſave him, v. 43. He truſted in God, i. e. he pretended to do ſo; for he ſaid, I am the Son of God. Thoſe who call God Father, and themſelves his Children, thereby profeſs to put a Confidence in him, Pſal. 9. 10. Now they ſuggeſt, that he did but deceive himſelf and others, when he made himſelf ſo much the Darling of Heaven; for if he had been the Son of God, (as Job's Friends argued concerning him) he would not have been abandon'd to all this Miſery, much leſs abandon'd in it. This was a Sword in his Bones, as David complains of the like, Pſal. 42. 10. and it was a two-edged Sword; for it was intended (1.) to vilifie him, and to make the Standers by think him a Deceiver, and an Impoſtor; as if his ſaying that he was the Son of God were now effectually diſprov'd. (2.) To terrifie him, and drive him to diſtruſt and deſpair of his Father's Power and Love; which ſome think was the thing he fear'd, Religiouſly fear'd, pray'd againſt, and was deliver'd from, Heb. 5. 7. David complain'd more of the Endeavours of his Perſecutors to ſhake his Faith, and drive him from his Hope in God, than of their Attempts to ſhake his Throne, and drive him from his Kingdom; their ſaying, there is no Help for him in God, Pſal. 3. 2. and God has forſaken him, Pſal. 71. 11. In this, as in other things, he was a Type of Chriſt. Nay, theſe very words David, in that famous Prophecy of Chriſt, mentions as ſpoken by his Enemies, Pſal. 22. 8. He truſted on the Lord that he would deliver him. Sure theſe Prieſts and Scribes had forgot their Pſalter, or they would not have us'd theſe ſame Words, ſo exactly to anſwer the Type and Prophecy. But the Scriptures muſt be fulfilled.

3. To compleat the Reproach, the Thieves alſo that were Crucified with him, were not only not revil'd as he was, as if they had been Saints, compar'd with him; but tho' Fellow-ſufferers with him, joyn'd in with his Proſecutors, and caſt the ſame in his Teeth; that is, one of them did, who ſaid, If thou be the Chriſt, ſave thy ſelf and us, Luke 23. 39. One would think of all People, this Thief had leaſt Cauſe, and ſhould have had leaſt Mind to banter Chriſt. Partners in ſuffering, tho' for different Cauſes, uſually commiſerate one another; and few, whatever they have done before, will breath their laſt in Revilings: But it ſeems the greateſt Mortifications of the Body, and the moſt humbling Rebukes of Providence, will not of themſelves mortifie the Corruptions of the Soul, nor ſuppreſs the Wickedneſs of the Wicked, without the Grace of God.

Well, Thus our Lord Jeſus having undertaken to ſatisfie the Juſtice of God for the Wrong done him in his Honour by Sin, he did it by ſuffering in his Honour; not only by diveſting himſelf of that which was due to him as the Son of God; but by ſubmitting to the utmoſt Indignity that could be done to the worſt of Men; becauſe he was made Sin for us, he was thus made a Curſe for us, to make Reproach eaſie to us, if at any time we ſuffer it, and have all manner of Evil ſaid againſt us falſly for Righteouſneſs ſake.

Thirdly, We have here the Frowns of Heaven which our Lord Jeſus was under, in the midſt of all theſe Injuries and Indignities from Men. Concerning which obſerve,

1. How this was ſignified by an extraordinary and miraculous Eclipſe of the Sun, which continued for three Hours, v. 45. There was Darkneſs ἐπὶ πᾶσαν τὴν γῆν, over all the Earth; ſo moſt Interpreters underſtand it, tho' our Tranſlation confines it to that Land: Some of the Ancients appeal'd to the Annals of the Nations concerning this extraordinary Eclipſe at the Death of Chriſt, as a thing well known, and which gave Notice to thoſe Parts of the World of ſome-thing great then in doing; as the Sun's going back in Hezekiah's time did. 'Tis reported that Dionyſius at Heliopolis in Egypt, took notice of this Darkneſs, and ſaid, Aut Deus Naturæ patitur, aut mundi machina diſſolvitur. An extraordinary Light gave Intelligence of the Birth of Chriſt, Mat. 2. 2. and therefore 'twas proper an extraordinary Darkneſs ſhould notifie his Death, for he is the Light of the World. The Indignities done to our Lord Jeſus, made the Heavens aſtoniſh'd, and horribly afraid, and even put into Diſorder and Confuſion; ſuch Wickedneſs as this, the Sun never ſaw before, and therefore withdrew, and would not ſee this. This ſurprizing amazing Darkneſs was deſign'd to ſtop the Mouths of thoſe Blaſphemers, who were reviling Chriſt as he hung on the Croſs; and it ſhould ſeem for the preſent to have ſtruck ſuch a Terror upon them, that tho' their Hearts were not chang'd, yet they were ſilent, and ſtood doubting what this ſhould mean, till after three Hours the Darkneſs ſcatter'd, and then, as appears by v. 47. like Pharaoh when the Plague was over, they harden'd their Hearts. But that which was principally intended in this Darkneſs, was (1.) Chriſt's preſent Conflict with the Powers of Darkneſs: Now the Prince of this World, and his Forces, the Rulers of the Darkneſs of this World, were to be caſt out, to be ſpoil'd, and vanquiſh'd, and to make his Victory the more illuſtrious, he fighteth them on their own ground; gives them all the Advantages they could have againſt him by this Darkneſs, lets them take the Wind and Sun, and yet baffles them, and ſo becomes more than a Conqueror. (2.) His preſent want of Heavenly Comforts. This Darkneſs ſignified that dark Cloud which the human Soul of our Lord Jeſus was now under. God makes his Sun to ſhine upon the Juſt, and upon the Unjuſt, but even the Light of the Sun was with-held from our Saviour when he was made Sin for us. A pleaſant thing it is for the Eyes to behold the Sun; but becauſe now his Soul was exceeding ſorrowful, and the Cup of Divine Diſpleaſure was fill'd to him without mixture, even the Light of the Sun was ſuſpended. When Earth denied him a Drop of cold Water, Heaven deny'd him a Beam of Light; being to deliver us from utter Darkneſs, he did himſelf in the depth of his Sufferings walk in Darkneſs, and had no Light, Iſa. 50. 10. During the three Hours that this Darkneſs continued, we do not find that he ſaid one word, but paſs'd this Time in a ſilent Retirement into his own Soul, which was now in an Agony, Wreſtling with the Powers of Darkneſs, and taking in the Impreſſions of his Father's Diſpleaſure, not againſt himſelf, but the Sin of Man, which he was now making his Soul an Offering for. Never were there three ſuch Hours ſince the Day that God Created Man upon the Earth, never ſuch a dark and awful Scene; the Criſis of that great Affair of Man's Redemption and Salvation.

2. How he complain'd of it, v. 46. About the ninth hour, when it began to clear up, after a long and ſilent conflict, Jeſus cried, Eli, Eli, lama Sabachthani? The words are related in the Syriack Tongue, in which they were ſpoken, becauſe worthy of double Remark, and for the ſake of the perverſe Conſtruction which his Enemies put upon them, in putting Elias for Eli. Now obſerve here,

1. Whence he borrow'd this Complaint, from Pſal. 22. 1. 'Tis likely he did not (as ſome have thought) repeat the whole Pſalm; yet hereby he intimated, that the whole was to be apply'd to him, and that David in Spirit there ſpake of his Humiliation and Exaltation. This, and that other Word, Into thy Hands I commit my Spirit, he fetch'd from David's Pſalms, (tho' he could have expreſs'd himſelf in his own Words) to teach us of what uſe the Word of God is to teach us to direct us in Prayer, and to recommend to us the uſe of Scripture Expreſſions in Prayer, which will help our Infirmities.

2. How he utter'd it, with a loud Voice; which ſpeaks the Extremity of his Pain and Anguiſh, the Strength of Nature remaining in him, and the great Earneſtneſs of his Spirit in this Expoſtulation. Now the Scripture was fulfilled, Joel 3. 15, 16. The Sun and the Moon ſhall be darkned. The Lord ſhall alſo roar out of Zion, and utter his Voice from Jeruſalem. David often ſpeaks of his crying aloud in Prayer, Pſal. 55. 17.

1. What the Complaint was; My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? A ſtrange Complaint to come from the Mouth of our Lord Jeſus, who we are ſure was God's Elect, in whom his Soul delighted, Iſa. 42. 1. and one in whom he was always well pleas'd. The Father now lov'd him, nay, he knew that therefore he lov'd him, becauſe he laid down his Life for the Sheep; what, and yet forſaken of him, and in the midſt of his Sufferings too? Sure never Sorrow was like unto that Sorrow, which extorted ſuch a Complaint as this from one who being perfectly free from Sin, could never be a Terror to himſelf; but the Heart knows its own Bitterneſs: No wonder that ſuch a Complaint as this made the Earth to quake, and rent the Rocks; for it is enough to make both the Ears of every one that hears it to tingle, and ought to be ſpoken of with great Reverence.

Note (1.) That our Lord Jeſus was in his Sufferings for a Time forſaken by his Father. So he ſaith himſelf, who we are ſure was under no Miſtake concerning his own Caſe. Not that the Union between the divine and human Nature was in the leaſt weaken'd or ſhock'd; no, he was now by the Eternal Spirit Offering himſelf. Nor, as if there were any Abatement of his Father's Love to him, or his to his Father; we are ſure there was upon his Mind no Horror of God, or Deſpair of his Favour, nor any thing of the Torments of Hell; but his Father forſook him, that is, (1.) he deliver'd him up into the Hands of his Enemies, and did not appear to deliver him out of their Hands. He let looſe the Powers of Darkneſs againſt him, and ſuffer'd them to do their worſt, worſe than againſt Job. Now was that Scripture fulfill'd, Job 16. 9. God has turn'd me over into the Hands of the Wicked, and no Angel is ſent from Heaven to deliver him, no Friend on Earth rais'd up to appear for him. (2.) He withdrew from him the preſent comfortable Senſe of his Complacency in him. When his Soul was firſt troubled, he had a Voice from Heaven to comfort him, John 12. 27, 28. When he was in his Agony in the Garden, there appear'd an Angel from Heaven ſtrengthning him, but now he had neither the one nor the other. God hid his Face from him, and for a while withdrew his Rod and Staff in the darkſome Valley. God forſook him, not as he forſook Saul, leaving him to an endleſs Deſpair; but as ſometimes he forſook David, leaving him to a preſent Deſpondency. (3.) He let out upon his Soul an afflicting Senſe of his Wrath againſt Man for Sin, Chriſt was made Sin for us, a Curſe for us; and therefore tho' God lov'd him as a Son, he frown'd upon him as a Surety: Theſe Impreſſions he was pleas'd to admit, and to wave that Reſiſtance of them which he could have made; becauſe he would accommodate himſelf to this part of his Undertaking, as he had done to all the reſt, when it was in his Power to have avoided it.

(2.) That Chriſt's being forſaken of his Father, was the moſt grievous of his Sufferings, and that which he complain'd moſt of. Here he laid the moſt doleful Accents; he did not ſay, Why am I ſcourg'd? And why ſpit upon? And why nail'd to the Croſs? nor did he ſay to his Diſciples when they turn'd their Back upon him, Why have ye forſaken me? But when his Fatehr ſtood at a Diſtance, he cried out thus; for this was it that put Wormwood and Gall into the Affliction and Miſery. This brought the Waters into the Soul, Pſal. 69. 1, 2, 3.

(3.) That our Lord Jeſus, even when he was thus forſaken of his Father, yet he kept hold of him as his God notwithſtanding; My God, my God; tho' forſaking me, yet mine. Chriſt was God's Servant in carrying on the Work of Redemption, to him he was to make Satisfaction, and by him to be carry'd through and crown'd, and upon that account he calls him his God; for he was now doing his Will. See Iſa. 49. 4, 9. This ſupported him, and bore him up, that even in the depth of his Sufferings God was his God, and this he reſolves to keep faſt hold of.

3. See how his Enemies impiouſly banter'd and ridicul'd this Complaint, v. 47. They ſaid, This Man calleth for Elias. Some think this was the ignorant Miſtake of the Roman Soldiers, who had heard talk of Elias, and of the Jews Expectation of the coming of Elias, but knew not the Signification of Eli, Eli, and ſo made this blundering Comment upon theſe words of Chriſt, perhaps not hearing the latter part of what he ſaid, for the Noiſe of the People. Note, Many of the Reproaches caſt upon the Word of God, and the People of God, take riſe from groſs Miſtakes. Divine Truths are oft corrupted by Ignorance, or the Language and Style of the Scripture. Thoſe that hear by the halves, pervert what they hear. But others think it was the wilful Miſtake of ſome of the Jews, who knew very well what he ſaid, but were minded to abuſe him, and make themſelves and their Companions merry, and to miſrepreſent him as one that being forſaken of God, was driven to truſt in Creatures; perhaps hinting alſo, that he who had pretended to be himſelf the Meſſiah, would now be glad to be beholden to Elias, who was expected to be only the Harbinger and Forerunner of the Meſſiah. Note, It is no new thing for the moſt pious Devotions of the beſt Men to be ridicul'd and abus'd by profane Scoffers; nor are we to think it ſtrange, if what is well ſaid in Praying and Preaching be miſconſtrued, and turn'd to our Reproach; Chriſt's Words were ſo, tho' he ſpake as never Man ſpake.

Fourthly, The cold Comfort which his Enemies miniſter'd to him in this Agony, which was like all the reſt.

1. Some gave him Vinegar to drink, v. 48. inſtead of ſome Cordial-water to revive and refreſh him under this heavy Burthen, they tantaliz'd him with that which did not only add to the Reproach they were loading him with, but did too ſenſibly repreſent that Cup of Trembling which his Father had put into his hand. One of them run to fetch it, ſeeming to be officious to him, but really glad of an Opportunity to abuſe and affront him, and afraid, leſt any one ſhould take it out of his hands.

2. Others with the ſame Purpoſe of diſturbing and abuſing him, refer him to Elias, v. 49. Let be, let us ſee whether Elias will come to ſave him. Come, let him alone, his Caſe is deſperate, neither Heaven nor Earth can help him; let us do nothing either to haſten his Death, or to retard it; he has appealed to Elias, and to Elias let him go.

50 Jeſus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghoſt. 51 And behold, the vail of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent, 52 And the graves were opened, and many bodies of ſaints which ſlept, aroſe, 53 And came out of the graves after his reſurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many. 54 Now when the Centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jeſus, ſaw the Earthquake, and thoſe things that were done, they feared greatly, ſaying, Truly this was the Son of God. 55 And many women were there (beholding a far off) which followed Jeſus from Galilee, miniſtring unto him. 56 Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the Mother of James and Joſes, and the mother of Zebedee's children.

We have here at length an account of the Death of Chriſt, and ſeveral remarkable Paſſages that attended it.

Firſt, The manner how he breath'd his laſt, v. 5. between the third and the ſixth Hour; that is, between nine and twelve a Clock, as we reckon, he was nail'd to the Croſs, and ſoon after the ninth Hour, that is, between three and four a Clock in the Afternoon he died. That was the Time of the Offering of the Evening Sacrifice, and the Time when the Paſchal Lamb was killed, and Chriſt our Paſſover is ſacrificed for us, and offer'd himſelf in the Evening of the World a Sacrifice to God, of a ſweet ſmelling Savour. 'Twas at that time of the Day that the Angel Gabriel deliver'd to Daniel that glorious Prediction of the Meſſiah, Dan. 9. 21, 24. And ſome think, that from that very time when the Angel ſpoke it, to this time when Chriſt dy'd, was juſt ſeventy Weeks, that is, four hundred and ninety Years, to a Day, to an Hour; as the Departure of Iſrael out of Egypt was at the end of the four hundred and thirty Years, even the ſelf-ſame Day, Exod. 12. 41.

Two things are here noted concerning the manner of Chriſt's Dying.

1. That he cried with a loud Voice, as before, v. 46. Now,

(1.) This was a Sign, that after all his Pains and Fatigues, yet his Life was whole in him, and Nature ſtrong. The Voice of dying Men is one of the firſt things that fails; with a panting Breath, and a faltring Tongue, a few broken words are hardly ſpoken, and more hardly heard: But Chriſt juſt before he expir'd, ſpoke like a Man in his full Strength, to ſhew that his Life was not forc'd from him, but was freely deliver'd by him into his Father's hands, as his own Act and Deed. He that had ſtrength to cry thus when he died, could have got looſe from the Arreſt he was under, and have bid Defiance to the Powers of Death, but to ſhew that by the Eternal Spirit he offer'd himſelf, being the Prieſt as well as the Sacrifice, he cried with a loud Voice.

(2.) It was ſignificant. This loud Voice ſhews that he attack'd our Spiritual Enemies with an undaunted Courage, and ſuch a Bravery of Reſolution as ſpeaks him hearty in the Cauſe, and daring in the Encounter. He was now ſpoiling Principalities and Powers, and in this loud Voice he did as it were ſhout for Maſtery, as one mighty to ſave, Iſa. 63. 1. and compare with this Iſa. 42. 13, 14. He now bow'd himſelf with all his might, as Sampſon did, when he ſaid, Let me dye with the Philiſtines, Jud. 16. 30. Animamque in vulnere ponit. His crying with a loud Voice when he dy'd, ſignified that his Death ſhould be publiſh'd and proclaim'd to all the World; all Mankind being concern'd in it, and oblig'd to take notice of. Chriſt's loud Cry was like a Trumpet blown over the Sacrifices.

2. That when he yielded up the Ghoſt. This is the uſual Periphraſis of Dying; to ſhew that the Son of God upon the Croſs did truly and properly dye by the Violence of the Pain he was put to. His Soul was ſeparated from his Body, and ſo his Body was left really and truly dead. 'Twas certain he did dye, for it was requiſite he ſhould dye; thus it was written, both in the cloſe Rolls of the Divine Counſels, and in the Letters Patent of the Divine Predictions, and therefore thus it behoved him to ſuffer. Death being the Penalty for the Breach of the firſt Covenant, thou ſhalt ſurely dye; the Mediator of the new Covenant muſt make Atonement by means of Death, otherwiſe no Remiſſion, Heb. 9. 15. He had undertaken to make his Soul an Offering for Sin, and he did it when he yielded up the Ghoſt, and voluntarily reſign'd it.

Secondly, The Miracles that attended his Death. So many Miracles being wrought by him in his Life, we might well expect ſome to be wrought concerning him at his Death, for his Name was call'd Wonderful. Had he been fetch'd away as Elijah in a fiery Chariot, that had it ſelf been Miracle enough; but being ſent for away by an ignominious Croſs, 'twas requiſite that his Humiliation ſhould be attended with ſome ſignal Emanations of the Divine Glory.

1. Behold the Vail of the Temple was rent in twain. This Relation is uſher'd in with Behold, turn aſide and ſee this great ſight, and be aſtoniſhed at it. Juſt as our Lord Jeſus expir'd, at the time of the Offering of the Evening Sacrifice, and upon a ſolemn Day, when the Prieſts were Officiating in the Temple, and might themſelves be Eye-witneſſes of it, the Vail of the Temple was rent by an inviſible Power; that Vail which parted between the holy Place, and the moſt Holy. They had condemn'd him for ſaying, I will deſtroy this Temple, underſtanding it literally, now by this Specimen of his Power he let them know, that if he had pleas'd, he could have made his Words good. In this, as in other of Chriſt's Miracles, there was a Myſtery.

1. It was in Correſpondence with the Temple of Chriſt's Body, which was now in the diſſolving. That was the true Temple, in which dwelt the Fulneſs of the Godhead; when Chriſt cried with a loud Voice, and gave up the Ghoſt, and ſo diſſolv'd that Temple; the literal Temple did as it were eccho to that Cry, and anſwer the Stroke by rending its Vail. Note, Death is the rending of the Vail of Fleſh which interpoſeth between us and the Holy of Holies; the Death of Chriſt was ſo, the Death of true Chriſtians is ſo.

2. It ſignified the revealing and unfolding of the Myſteries of the Old Teſtament. The Vail of the Temple was for Concealment, as was that on the Face of Moſes, therefore 'twas call'd the Vail of the Covering; for 'twas highly penal for any Perſon to ſee the Furniture of the moſt holy Place, except the High Prieſt, and he but once a Year, with great Ceremony, and through a Cloud of Smoke: all which ſignified the Darkneſs of that Diſpenſation, 2 Cor. 3. 13. But now at the Death of Chriſt all was laid open, the Myſteries unvail'd, ſo that now he that runs may read the meaning of them. Now we ſee that the Mercy-ſeat ſignified Chriſt the great Propitiation, the Pot of Manna ſignified Chriſt the Bread of Life. Thus we all with open face, behold as in a Glaſs, which helps the ſight, as the Vail hinder'd it, the Glory of the Lord, Our Eyes ſee the Salvation.

3. It ſignified the uniting of Jew and Gentile by the removing of the Partition-wall between them, which was the Ceremonial Law, by which the Jews were diſtinguiſh'd from all other People, as a Garden encloſed; were brought near to God, whilſt others were made to keep their Diſtance; Chriſt in his Death repeal'd the Ceremonial Law, cancell'd that Hand-writing of Ordinances, took it out of the way, nail'd it to his Croſs, and ſo broke down the middle Wall of Partition; and by aboliſhing thoſe Inſtitutions, aboliſhed the Enmity, and made in himſelf of twain one new Man, (as two Rooms are made one, and that large and lightſome, by taking down the Partition) ſo making Peace, Eph. 2. 14, 15, 16. Chriſt dy'd to rend all dividing Vails, and to make all his one, John 17. 21.

4. It ſignified the Conſecrating, and laying open of a new and living Way to God. The Vail kept People off from drawing near to the moſt holy Place, where the Shechinah was. But the rending of it ſignified, that Chriſt by his Death open'd a Way to God (1.) for himſelf. This was the great Day of Atonement, when our Lord Jeſus, as the great High-Prieſt, not by the Blood of Goats and Calves, but by his own Blood, enter'd once for all into the Holy Place; in token of which the Vail was rent, Heb. 9. 7, &c. Having offer'd his Sacrifice in the outer Court, the Blood of it was now to be ſprinkled upon the Mercy-ſeat within the Vail; wherefore lift up your Heads, O ye Gates, and be ye lift up, ye everlaſting Doors; for the King of Glory, the Prieſt of Glory, ſhall come in. Now was he cauſed to draw near, and made to approach, Jer. 30. 21. Tho' he did not Perſonally aſcend into the holy Place, not made with Hands, till above forty Days after, yet he immediately acquir'd a Right to enter, and had a virtual Admiſſion (2.) for us in him. So the Apoſtle applies it, Heb. 10. 19, 20. We have boldneſs to enter into the Holieſt by that new and living Way which he has conſecrated for us through the Vail. He dy'd to bring us to God, and in order thereunto to rend that Vail of Guilt and Wrath which interpos'd between us and him, to take away the Cherubim, and flaming Sword, and to open the Way to the Tree of Life. We have free Acceſs through Chriſt to the Throne of Grace, or Mercy-ſeat now, and to the Throne of Glory hereafter, Heb. 4. ult.—6. ult. The rending of the Vail ſignified, (as that antient Hymn excellently expreſſeth it) that when Chriſt had overcome the ſharpneſs of Death, he open'd the Kingdom of Heaven to all Believers. Nothing can obſtruct, or diſcourage our Acceſs to Heaven, for the Vail is rent; a Door is open'd in Heaven, Rev. 4. 1.

2. The Earth did quake; not only Mount Calvary, where Chriſt was Crucified, but the whole Land, and the adjacent Countries. This Earthquake ſignified two things.

(1.) The horrible Wickedneſs of Chriſt's Crucifiers. The Earth, by trembling under ſuch a Load, bore its Teſtimony to the Innocency of him that was perſecuted, and againſt the Impiety of thoſe that perſecuted him. Never did the whole Creation before groan under ſuch a Burthen as the Son of God Crucified, and the guilty Wretches that crucified him. The Earth quaked, as if it feared to open its Mouth to receive the Blood of Chriſt, ſo much more precious than that of Abel, which it had received, and was curſed for it, Gen. 4. 11, 12. And as if it fain would open its Mouth to ſwallow up thoſe Rebels that put him to Death, as it had ſwallow'd up Dathan and Abiram for a much leſs Crime, when the Prophet would expreſs God's great Diſpleaſure againſt the Wickedneſs of the Wicked, he asks, Shall not the Land tremble for this? Amos 8. 8.

(2.) The glorious Atchievements of Chriſt's Croſs. This Earthquake ſignified the mighty Shock; nay, the fatal Blow now given to the Devil's Kingdom. So vigorous was the Aſſault Chriſt now made upon the infernal Powers; that (as of old, when he went out of Seir, when he march'd through the Field of Edom) the Earth trembled, Judges 5. 4. Pſal. 68. 7, 8. God ſhakes all Nations, when the Deſire of all Nations is to come, and there is a yet once more, which perhaps refers to this ſhaking, Hag. 2. 7, 21.

3. The Rocks rent; the hardeſt and firmeſt part of the Earth was made to feel this mighty Shock. Chriſt had ſaid, that if the Children ſhould ceaſe to cry Hoſanna, the Stones would immediately cry out, and now in Effect they did ſo, proclaiming the Glory of the Suffering Jeſus, and themſelves more ſenſible of the Wrong done him, than the hard-hearted Jews were, who yet will ſhortly be glad to find a Hole in the Rocks, and a Cleft in the ragged Rocks, to hide them from the Face of him that ſitteth on the Throne. See Rev. 6. 16. Iſa. 2. 21. But when God's Fury is pour'd out like Fire, the Rocks are thrown down by him, Nah. 1. 6. Jeſus Chriſt is the Rock, and the rending of theſe Rocks ſignified the rending of that Rock: (1.) That in the Clefts of it we may be hid, as Moſes in the Cleft of the Rock at Horeb, that there we may behold the Glory of the Lord, as he did, Exod. 33. 22. Chriſt's Dove is ſaid to be hid in the Clefts of the Rock, Cant. 2. 14. that is, as ſome make the Alluſion, ſhelter'd in the Wounds of our Lord Jeſus, the Rock rent. (2.) That from the Clefts of it, Rivers of living Water may flow, and follow us in this Wilderneſs, as from the Rock which Moſes ſmote, Exod. 17. 6. and which God clave, Pſal. 78. 15. and that Rock was Chriſt, 1 Cor. 10. 4. When we celebrate the Memorial of Chriſt's Death, our hard and rocky Hearts muſt be rent, the Heart and not the Garments. That Heart is harder than a Rock that will not yield, that will not melt, where Jeſus Chriſt is evidently ſet forth Crucified.

4. The Graves were opened. This Matter is not related ſo fully as our Curioſity would wiſh; for the Scripture was not intended to gratifie that; it ſhould ſeem the ſame Earthquake that rent the Rocks, open'd the Graves, and many Bodies of Saints which ſlept aroſe; Death to the Saints is but the Sleep of the Body, and the Grave the Bed it ſleeps in; they awoke by the Power of the Lord Jeſus; and v. 53. came out of the Graves after his Reſurrection, and went into Jeruſalem, the Holy City, and appeared unto many. Now here,

1. We may raiſe many Enquiries concerning it, which we cannot reſolve. As (1.) Who theſe Saints were that did ariſe. Some think the antient Patriarchs, that were in ſuch care to be buried in the Land of Canaan, perhaps in the believing Foreſight of the Advantage of this early Reſurrection. Chriſt had lately prov'd the Doctrine of the Reſurrection from the Inſtance of the Patriarchs, Mat. 22. 32. and here was a ſpeedy Confirmation of his Arguments. Others think, theſe that roſe were modern Saints, ſuch as had ſeen Chriſt in the Fleſh, but dy'd before him; as his Father Joſeph, Zecharias, Simeon, John Baptiſt, and others, that had been known to the Diſciples while they liv'd, and therefore were the fitter to be Witneſſes to them in an Apparition after. What if we ſhould ſuppoſe that they were the Martyrs, who in the Old Teſtament Times had ſeal'd the Truths of God with their Blood, that were thus dignified and diſtinguiſh'd? Chriſt particularly points at them, as his Fore-runners, Mat. 23. 35. And we find, Rev. 20. 4, 5. that thoſe who were Beheaded for the Teſtimony of Jeſus, roſe before the reſt of the Dead. Sufferers with Chriſt ſhall firſt reign with him. (2.) 'Tis uncertain whether, (as ſome think) they roſe to Life now at the Death of Chriſt, and diſpos'd of themſelves elſewhere, but did not go into the City 'till after his Reſurrection; or, whether, (as others think) tho' their Sepulchres, (which the Phariſees had built and garniſh'd, Mat. 23. 29. and ſo made remarkable) were ſhatter'd now by the Earthquake, (ſo little did God matter that hypocritical Reſpect) yet they did not revive and riſe 'till after his Reſurrection; only for brevity ſake 'tis mention'd here upon the mention of the opening of the Graves, which ſeems more probable. (3.) Some think they roſe only to bear witneſs of Chriſt's Reſurrection to thoſe to whom they appear'd, and having finiſhed their Teſtimony, retir'd to their Graves again: But it is more agreeable, both to Chriſt's Honour, and theirs, to ſuppoſe, tho' we cannot prove, that they roſe as Chriſt did, to dye no more, and therefore aſcended with him to Glory. Sure they who did partake of this firſt Reſurrection, on them a ſecond Death had no Power. (4) To whom they appear'd, (not to all the People, 'tis certain, but too many) whether Enemies or Friends, in what manner they appear'd, how often, what they ſaid and did, and how they diſappear'd, are ſecret things which belong not to us; we muſt not covet to be wiſe above what is written. The relating of this matter ſo briefly, is a plain intimation to us, that we muſt not look that way for the Confirmation of our Faith, we have a more ſure Word of Prophecy. See Luke 16. ult.

2. Yet we may learn many good Leſſons from it. (1.) That even thoſe who liv'd and dy'd before the Death and Reſurrection of Chriſt had ſaving Benefit thereby, as well as thoſe that have liv'd ſince; for he was the ſame yeſterday that he is to day, and will be for ever, Heb. 13. 8. (2.) That Jeſus Chriſt by dying conquer'd, diſarm'd, and diſabled Death. Theſe Saints that roſe were the preſent Trophies of the Victory of Chriſt's Croſs over the Powers of Death, which he thus made a ſhew of openly. Having by Death deſtroy'd him that had the Power of Death, he thus led Captivity Captive, and gloried in theſe re-taken Prizes, in them fulfilling that Scripture, I will ranſom them from the Power of the Grave. (3.) That in the Virtue of Chriſt's Reſurrection, the Bodies of all the Saints ſhall in the fulneſs of Time riſe again. This was an Earneſt of the General Reſurrection at the laſt Day, when all that are in the Graves ſhall hear the Voice of the Son of God. And perhaps Jeruſalem is therefore call'd here the Holy City, becauſe the Saints at the General Reſurrection, ſhall enter into the New Jeruſalem; which will be indeed what the other was, in Name, and Type only, the Holy City, Rev. 21. 2. (4.) That all the Saints do by the Influence of Chriſt's Death, and in conformity to it, riſe from the Death of Sin to the Life of Righteouſneſs. They are raiſed up with him to a Divine and Spiritual Life; they go into the Holy City, become Citizens of it, have their Converſation in it, and appear to many as Perſons not of this World.

Thirdly, The Conviction of his Enemies that were employ'd in the Execution, v. 54. which ſome make no leſs than another Miracle, all things conſider'd. Obſerve,

1. The Perſons convinced; the Centurion, and they that were with him watching Jeſus; a Captain and his Company, that were ſet on the Guard on this Occaſion. (1.) They were Soldiers, whoſe Profeſſion is commonly hardening, and whoſe Breaſts are commonly not ſo ſuſceptible as ſome others of the Impreſſions, either of Fear or Pity. But there's no Spirit too big, too bold for the Power of Chriſt to break and humble. (2.) They were Romans, Gentiles, who knew not the Scriptures that were now fulfilled, yet they only were convinced. A ſad Preſage of the Blindneſs that ſhould happen to Iſrael, when the Goſpel ſhould be ſent to the Gentiles to open their Eyes. Here were the Gentiles ſoftened, and the Jews hardened. (3.) They were the Perſecutors of Chriſt, and thoſe that but juſt before had revil'd him, as appears, Luke 23. 36. How ſoon can God, by the Power he has over Men's Conſciences, alter their Language, and fetch Confeſſions of his Truths to his own Glory, out of the Mouths of thoſe that have breath'd nothing but Threatnings, and Slaughters, and Blaſphemies.

2. The Means of their Conviction; they perceiv'd the Earthquake, which frighten'd them, and ſaw the other things that were done. Theſe were deſign'd to aſſert the Honour of Chriſt in his Sufferings, and had their End on theſe Soldiers, whatever they had on others. Note, The dreadful Appearances of God in his Providence, ſometimes work ſtrangely for the Conviction and awakening of Sinners.

3. The Expreſſions of this Conviction, in two things:

1. The Terror that was ſtruck upon them, they fear'd greatly; feared leſt they ſhould have been buried in the Darkneſs, or ſwallow'd up in the Earthquake. Note, God can eaſily frighten the moſt daring of his Adverſaries, and make them know themſelves to be but Men. Guilt puts Men into Fear. He that when Iniquity abounds, doth not fear always with a Fear of Caution, when Judgments are abroad, cannot but fear greatly with a Fear of Amazement; whereas there are thoſe who will not fear, though the Earth be removed, Pſal. 46. 1, 2.

2. The Teſtimony that was extorted from them. They ſaid, Truly this was the Son of God; a noble Confeſſion, Peter was bleſſed for it, Mat. 16. 16, 17. 'Twas the great Matter now in diſpute, the Point upon which he and his Enemies had joyn'd Iſſue, Mat. 26. 63, 64. His Diſciples believ'd it, but at this time durſt not confeſs it; our Saviour himſelf was tempted to queſtion it, when he ſaid, Why haſt thou forſaken me? The Jews, now he was dying upon the Croſs, look'd upon it as plainly determined againſt him, that he was not the Son of God, becauſe he did not come down from the Croſs. And yet now this Centurion, and the Soldiers make this voluntary Confeſſion of the Chriſtian Faith, Truly this was the Son of God. The beſt of his Diſciples could not have ſaid more at any time, and at this time they had not Faith and Courage enough to ſay thus much. Note, God can maintain and aſſert the Honour of a Truth then, when it ſeems to be cruſh'd, and run down; for great is the Truth, and will prevail.

Fourthly, The Attendance of his Friends that were Witneſſes of his Death, v. 55, 56. Obſerve,

1. Who they were, many Women which followed him from Galilee. Not his Apoſtles (only elſewhere we find John by the Croſs, John 19. 26.) Their Hearts fail'd them, they durſt not appear, for fear of coming under the ſame Condemnation. But here were a Company of Women, ſome would have call'd them ſilly Women, that boldly ſtuck to Chriſt when the reſt of his Diſciples had baſely deſerted him. Note, Even thoſe of the weaker Sex are often by the Grace of God made ſtrong in Faith, that Chriſt's Strength may be made perfect in Weakneſs. There have been Women Martyrs, famous for Courage and Reſolution in Chriſt's Cauſe. Now of theſe Women, it is ſaid, (1.) That they had follow'd Jeſus from Galilee, out of the great Love they had to him, and a deſire to hear him Preach; otherwiſe the Males only were oblig'd to come up to Worſhip at the Feaſt. Now having follow'd him ſuch a long Journey, as from Galilee to Jeruſalem, Eighty, or an Hundred Miles, they reſolv'd not to forſake him now. Note, Our former Services and Sufferings for Chriſt ſhould be an Argument with us faithfully to perſevere to the end in our Attendance on him. Have we follow'd him ſo far, and ſo long, done ſo much, and laid out ſo much for him, and ſhall we forſake him now? Gal. 3. 3, 4. (2.) That they Miniſter'd to him of their Subſtance for his neceſſary Subſiſtence. How gladly would they have Miniſter'd to him now, if they might have been admitted; but being forbidden that, they reſolv'd to follow him. Note, When we are reſtrain'd from doing what we would, we muſt do what we can in the Service of Chriſt. Now he is in Heaven, tho' he is out of the reach of our Miniſtration, yet he is not out of the reach of our believing Views. (3.) Some of them are particularly nam'd; for God will honour thoſe that honour Chriſt. They were ſuch as we have ſeveral times met with before, and it was their Praiſe that we meet with them to the laſt.

2. What they did, they were beholding afar off.

1. They ſtood afar off. Whether their own Fear, or their Enemies Fury kept them at a diſtance, is not certain; however it was an Aggravation of the Sufferings of Chriſt, that his Lovers and Friends ſtood aloof from his Sore, Pſal. 38. 11. Job 19. 13. Perhaps they might have come nearer if they would; but good People when they are in Sufferings muſt not think it ſtrange, if ſome of their beſt Friends be ſhy of them. When Paul's Danger was imminent, no Man ſtood by him, 2 Tim. 4. 16. If we be thus look'd ſtrangely upon, remember our Maſter was ſo before us.

2. They were there beholding; in which they ſhew'd a Concern and Kindneſs for Chriſt, when they were debarr'd from doing any other Office of Love to him, they look'd a Look of Love towards him. (1.) It was a ſorrowful Look, they look'd unto him who was now pierc'd and mourn'd, and no doubt were in bitterneſs for him. We may well imagine how it cut them to the Heart to ſee him in this Torment; and what Floods of Tears it fetch'd from their Eyes: Let us with an Eye of Faith behold Chriſt and him crucified, and be affected with that great Love wherewith he loved us. But (2.) It was no more but a Look; they beheld him, but they could not help him. Note, When Chriſt was in his Sufferings, the beſt of his Friends were but Spectators, and Lookers on, even the Angelic Guards ſtood trembling by, ſaith Mr. Norris, for he trod the Wine-preſs alone, and of the People there was none with him; ſo his own Arm wrought Salvation.

57 When the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joſeph, who alſo himſelf was Jeſus diſciple: 58 He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jeſus: then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered. 59 And when Joſeph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth, 60 And laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a great ſtone to the door of the ſepulchre, and departed. 61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, ſitting over againſt the ſepulchre. 62 Now the next day that followed the day of the preparation, the chief prieſts and Phariſees came together unto Pilate, 63 Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver ſaid, while he was yet alive, After three days I will riſe again. 64 Command therefore that the ſepulchre be made ſure until the third day, leſt his diſciples come by night, and ſteal him away, and ſay unto the people, He is riſen from the dead: ſo the laſt error ſhall be worſe than the firſt. 65 Pilate ſaid unto them, Ye have a watch, go your way, make it as ſure as you can. 66 So they went and made the ſepulchre ſure, ſealing the ſtone, and ſetting a watch.

We have here an Account of Chriſt's Burial, and the Manner and Circumſtances of it, concerning which, obſerve (1.) The Kindneſs and Good Will of his Friends that laid him in the Grave. (2.) The Malice and Ill Will of his Enemies, that were very ſollicitous to keep him there.

Firſt, His Friends gave him a decent Burial. Obſerve,

1. In general that Jeſus Chriſt was buried; when his precious Soul was gone to Paradiſe, his bleſſed Body was depoſited in the Chambers of the Grave, that he might anſwer the Type of Jonas, and fulfil the Prophecy of Iſaias, he made his Grave with the Wicked. Thus in all things he muſt be made like unto his Brethren, Sin only excepted, and like us, unto Duſt he muſt return: He was buried, to make his Death the more certain, and his Reſurrection the more illuſtrious. Pilate would not deliver his Body to be buried till he was well aſſur'd he was really dead; while the Witneſſes lay unburied, there was ſome Hopes concerning them, Rev. 11. 8. But Chriſt the great Witneſs is as one free among the Dead, like the Slain that lie in the Grave. He was buried, that he might take off the Terror of the Grave, and make it eaſy to us, might warm and perfume that cold noiſome Bed for us, and that we might be buried with him.

2. The particular Circumſtances of his Burial here related.

1. The Time when he was buried; when the Even was come, the ſame Evening that he dy'd, before Sun-ſet, as is uſual in burying Malefactors. It was not deferr'd till the next Day, becauſe it was the Sabbath; for burying the Dead is not proper Work either for a Day of Reſt, or for a Day of Rejoycing, as the Sabbath is.

2. The Perſon that took Care of the Funeral was Joſeph of Arimathea. The Apoſtles were all fled, and none of them appear'd to ſhew this reſpect to their Maſter, which the Diſciples of John ſhew'd to him after he was beheaded, they took up his Body and buried it, Mat. 14. 12. The Women that follow'd him durſt not move in it, then did God ſtir up this good Man to do it; for what Work God has to do, he will find out Inſtruments to do it. Joſeph was a fit Man; for (1.) He had wherewithal to do it, being a rich Man; moſt of Chriſt's Diſciples were poor Men, ſuch were moſt fit to go about the Countrey to preach the Goſpel, but here was one that was a rich Man, ready to be employ'd in a piece of Service which requir'd a Man of Eſtate. Note, Worldly Wealth, tho' it is to many an Obſtruction in Religion's way, yet in ſome Services to be done for Chriſt, it is an Advantage and an Opportunity, and it's well for thoſe who have it, if withal they have a Heart to uſe it for God's Glory. (2.) He was well-affected to our Lord Jeſus, for he was himſelf his Diſciple, believed in him, tho' he did not openly profeſs it. Note, Chriſt has more ſecret Diſciples than we are aware of; Seven thouſand in Iſrael, Rom. 11. 4.

3. The Grant of the dead Body procur'd from Pilate, v. 53. Joſeph went to Pilate, the proper Perſon to be apply'd to on this Occaſion, who had the Diſpoſal of the Body; for in things wherein the Power of the Magiſtrate is concern'd, due regard muſt be had to that Power, and nothing done to break in upon it. What we do that is good, muſt be done peaceably, and not tumultuouſly. Pilate was willing to give the Body to one that would interr it decently, that he might do ſomething towards atoning for the Guilt his Conſcience charg'd him with, in condemning an innocent Perſon. In Joſeph's Petition, and Pilate's ready Grant of it, Honour was done to Chriſt, and a Teſtimony born to his Integrity.

The dreſſing of the Body in its Grave-clothes, v. 59. Tho' he was an honourable Counſellor, yet he himſelf took the Body, as it ſhould ſeem, into his own Arms, from the infamous and accurſed Tree, (Acts 13. 29.) for where there is true Love to Chriſt, no Service will be thought too mean to ſtoop to for him: Having taken it, he wrapt it in a clean Linnen Cloth, for burying in Linnen was then the common Uſage, which Joſeph comply'd with. Note, Care is to be taken of the dead Bodies of good Men, for there is a Glory intended for them at the Reſurrection, which we muſt hereby teſtify our Belief of, and wind up the dead Body as deſign'd for a better Place. This common Act of Humanity, if done after a godly ſort, may be made an acceptable piece of Chriſtianity.

5. The depoſiting of it in the Sepulchre, v. 60. Here was nothing of that Pomp and Solemnity, with which the Grandees of the World are brought to the Grave, and laid in the Tomb, Job 21. 32. A private Funeral did beſt befit him, whoſe Kingdom came not with Obſervation.

(1.) He was laid in a borrow'd Tomb, in Joſeph's Burying-Place; as he had not a Houſe of his own wherein to lay his Head while he liv'd, ſo he had not a Grave of his own wherein to lay his Body when he was dead, which was an Inſtance of his Poverty, yet in this there might be ſomewhat of a Myſtery: The Grave is the peculiar Heritage of a Sinner, Job 24. 19. There is nothing we can truly call our own but our Sins, and our Graves; he returneth to his Earth, Pſal. 146. 4. When we go to the Grave, we go to our own Place, but our Lord Jeſus, that had no Sin of his own, had no Grave of his own, dying under imputed Sin, 'twas fit he ſhould be bury'd in a borrow'd Grave; the Jews deſign'd that he ſhould have made his Grave with the Wicked, ſhould have been bury'd with the Thieves with whom he was crucified, but God over-rul'd it, ſo as that he ſhould make it with the Rich in his Death, Iſa. 53. 9.

(2.) He was laid in a new Tomb, which Joſeph, 'tis likely, deſign'd for himſelf, but it would be never the worſe for his lying in it, who was to riſe ſo quickly, but a great deal the better for his lying in it, who has alter'd the Property of the Grave, and made it anew indeed, by turning it into a Bed of Reſt, nay, into a Bed of Spices for all the Saints.

(3.) In a Tomb that was hewn out of a Rock; the Ground about Jeruſalem was generally Rocky: Shebna had his Sepulchre hewn out thereabouts in a Rock, Iſa. 22. 16. Providence order'd it, that Chriſt's Sepulchre ſhould be in a ſolid intire Rock, that no room might be left to ſuſpect his Diſciples to have had acceſs to it by ſome under-ground Paſſage, or to have broke through the Back-Wall of it to ſteal the Body; for there is no acceſs to it but by the Door which was watched.

(4.) A great Stone was rolled to the Door of the Sepulchre; this alſo was according to the Cuſtom of the Jews, in burying their Dead, as appears by the Deſcription of the Grave of Lazarus, John 11. 38. ſignifying that thoſe who are dead are ſeparated, and cut off from all the living; if the Grave were his Priſon, now was the Priſon-Door lock'd and bolted. The rolling of the Stone to the Grave's Mouth, was with them as filling up the Grave is with us, it compleated the Funeral. Having thus in Silence and Sorrow depoſited the precious Body of our Lord Jeſus in the Grave, the Houſe appointed for all the living, they departed without any further Ceremony. 'Tis the moſt melancholy Circumſtance in the Funerals of our Chriſtian Friends, when we have laid their Bodies in the dark and ſilent Grave, to go home and leave them behind; but alas, it is not we that go home and leave them behind, no, 'tis they that are gone to the better home, and have left us behind.

6. The Company that attended the Funeral, and that was very ſmall and mean; Here were none of the Relations in Mourning to follow the Corps, no Formalities to grace the Solemnity, but ſome good Women that were true Mourners, Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, v. 6. Theſe, as they had attended him to the Croſs, ſo they follow'd him to the Grave, as if they compos'd themſelves to Sorrow, they ſate over againſt the Sepulchre, not ſo much to fill their Eyes with the Sight of what was done, as to empty them in Rivers of Tears. Note, True Love to Chriſt will carry us through to the utmoſt in following him. Death it ſelf cannot quench that Divine Fire, Cant. 8. 6, 7.

Secondly, His Enemies did what they could to prevent his Reſurrection; what they did herein was the next Day that follow'd the Day of the Preparation, v. 62. That was the ſeventh Day of the Week, the Jewiſh Sabbath, yet not expreſly call'd ſo, but deſcrib'd by this Periphraſis; becauſe it was now ſhortly to give way to the Chriſtian Sabbath, which began the Day after. Now, (1.) All that Day Chriſt lay dead in the Grave; having for ſix days labour'd and done all his Work, on the ſeventh day he reſted, and was refreſhed. (2.) On that day the Chief Prieſts and Phariſees, when they ſhould have been at their Devotions, asking Pardon for the Sins of the Week paſt, were dealing with Pilate about ſecuring the Sepulchre, and ſo adding Rebellion to their Sin: They that had ſo often quarrell'd with Chriſt for Works of the greateſt Mercy on that Day, were themſelves buſied in a Work of the greateſt Malice. Obſerve here,

1. Their Addreſs to Pilate; they were vexed that the Body was given to one that would bury it decently, but ſince it muſt be ſo, they deſire a Guard may be ſet on the Sepulchre.

(1.) Their Petition ſets forth, that that Deceiver (ſo they call him, who is Truth it ſelf) had ſaid, After three Days I will riſe again: He had ſaid ſo, and his Diſciples remember'd thoſe very Words, for the confirmation of their Faith, but his Perſecutors remember them for the Provocation of their Rage and Malice. Thus the ſame Word of Chriſt to the one was a ſavour of Life unto Life, to the other of Death unto Death. See how they compliment Pilate with the Title of Sir, while they reproach Chriſt with the Title of Deceiver: Thus the moſt malicious Slanderers of good Men are commonly the moſt ſordid Flatterers of great Men.

(2.) It further ſets forth their Jealouſy, leſt his Diſciples come by Night and ſteal him away, and ſay, He is riſen.

1. That which really they were afraid of was his Reſurrection: That which is moſt Chriſt's Honour and his People's Joy, is moſt the Terror of his Enemies. That which exaſperated Joſeph's Brethren againſt him was the Preſages of his Riſe, and of his having Dominion over them, Gen. 37. 8. and all they aim'd at in what they did againſt him was to prevent that. Come, ſay they, let us ſlay him, and ſee what will become of his Dreams; ſo the Chief Prieſts and Phariſees here labour'd to defeat the Predictions of Chriſt's Reſurrection, ſaying as David's Enemies of him, Pſal. 41. 8. Now that he lieth he ſhall riſe up no more, if he ſhould, that would break all their Meaſures. Note, Chriſt's Enemies, even when they have gain'd their Point, yet are ſtill in fear of loſing it again. Perhaps the Prieſts were ſurpriz'd at the Reſpects ſhew'd to Chriſt's dead Body by Joſeph and Nicodemus, two honourable Counſellors, and look'd upon it as an ill Preſage; nor can they forget his raiſing Lazarus from the Dead, which ſo confounded them.

2. That which they took on them to be afraid of, was, leſt his Diſciples ſhould come by Night and ſteal him away, which was a very improbable thing; for (1.) They had not the Courage to own him while he liv'd, when they might have done him and themſelves real Service, and 'twas not likely that his Death ſhould have put Courage into ſuch Cowards. (2.) What could they promiſe themſelves by ſtealing away his Body, and making People believe he was riſen; when if he ſhould not riſe, and ſo prove himſelf a Deceiver, his Diſciples that had left all for him in this World in dependance upon a Recompence in t'other World, would of all others ſuffer moſt by the Impoſture, and would have had Reaſon to throw the firſt Stone at his Name? What good would it do them to carry on a Cheat upon themſelves, to ſteal away his Body, and ſay, He is riſen, when if he were not riſen their Faith was vain, and they were of all Men the moſt miſerable? The Chief Prieſts apprehend, that if the Doctrine of Chriſt's Reſurrection be once preach'd and believ'd, the laſt Error will be worſe than the firſt; a proverbial Expreſſion ſpeaking no more of this, That we ſhall be routed, all undone; they think it was their Error that they had ſo long connived at his Preaching and Miracles, which Error they thought they had rectified, by putting him to Death; but if People ſhould be perſwaded of his Reſurrection, that would ſpoil all again, his Intereſt would revive with him, and theirs muſt needs ſink who had ſo barbarouſly murther'd him. Note, Thoſe that oppoſe Chriſt and his Kingdom, will ſee, not only their Attempts baffled, but themſelves miſerably plung'd and embarraſs'd, their Errors each worſe than other, and the laſt worſt of all, Pſal. 2. 4, 5.

(3.) In conſideration hereof they humbly move to have a Guard ſet upon the Sepulchre till the third Day; command that the Sepulchre be made ſure. Pilate muſt ſtill be their Drudge, his Civil and Military Power muſt both be engag'd to ſerve their Malice; one would think Death's Priſoners needed no other Guard, and that the Grave were Security enough to it ſelf; but what will not thoſe fear that are conſcious to themſelves, both of Guilt and Impotency, in oppoſing the Lord and his Anointed?

2. Pilate's Anſwer to this Addreſs, v. 65. Ye have a Watch, make it ſure, as ſure as you can; He was ready to gratify Chriſt's Friends, in allowing them the Body, and his Enemies in ſetting a Guard upon it, being deſirous to pleaſe all Sides, whiles perhaps he laugh'd in his Sleeve at both, for making ſuch a do, pro and con, about the dead Body of a Man, looking upon the Hopes of one Side, and the Fears of t'other, to be alike ridiculous. You have a Watch; he means the conſtant Guard that was kept in the Tower of Antonia, out of which he allows them to detach as many as they pleas'd for that purpoſe, but as if aſham'd to be himſelf ſeen in ſuch a thing, he leaves the Management of it wholly to them. Methinks that Word, Make it as ſure as you can, looks like a Banter, either (1.) Of their Fears; beſure to ſet a ſtrong Guard upon the dead Man; or rather (2.) Of their Hopes; do your worſt, try your Wit and Strength to the utmoſt, but if he be of God, he will riſe in ſpite of you, and all your Guards. I am apt to think that by this time Pilate had had ſome Talk with the Centurion, his own Officer, of whom he would be apt to enquire how that juſt Man dy'd, whom he had condemn'd with ſuch Reluctancy; and he would give him an Account of thoſe things, which made him conclude that truly he was the Son of God, and Pilate would give more Credit to him than to a Thouſand of thoſe ſpiteful Prieſts that call'd him a Deceiver; and if ſo, no Marvel that he tacitly derides their Project, in thinking to ſecure the Sepulchre upon him, that had ſo lately rent the Rocks, and made the Earth to quake. Tertullian ſpeaking of Pilate, ſaith, Ipſe jam pro ſuâ Conſcientiâ Chriſtianus; and it was poſſible he might be under ſuch Convictions at this time, upon the Centurion's Report, and yet never be throughly perſwaded, no more than Agrippa or Felix was, to be a Chriſtian.

3. The wonderful Care they took hereupon to ſecure the Sepulchre, v. 66. They ſealed the Stone, probably with the Great Seal of their Sanhedrin, whereby they interpos'd their Authority, for who durſt break the publick Seal? But not truſting too much to that, withal they ſet a Watch, to keep his Diſciples from coming to ſteal him away, and if poſſible, to hinder him from coming out of the Grave. So they intended, but God brought this Good out of it, that they who were ſet to oppoſe his Reſurrection, thereby had an Opportunity to obſerve it, and did ſo, and told the Chief Prieſts what they obſerv'd, who were thereby render'd the more inexcuſable. Here was all the Power of Earth and Hell combined to keep Chriſt a Priſoner, but all in vain; when his hour was come, Death, and thoſe Sons and Heirs of Death, could then no longer hold him, no longer have Dominion over him. To guard the Sepulchre againſt the poor weak Diſciples, was Folly, becauſe needleſs; but to think to guard it againſt the Power of God, was Folly, becauſe fruitleſs, and to no purpoſe, and yet they thought they had dealt wiſely.

CHAP. XXVIII.

In the foregoing Chapters we ſaw the Captain of our Salvation engag'd with the Powers of Darkneſs, attack'd by them, and vigorouſly attacking them; Victory ſeem'd to hover between the Combatants, nay, at length it inclin'd to the Enemies ſide, and our Champion fell before them; behold God has deliver'd his Strength into Captivity, and his Glory into the Enemies Hand. Chriſt in the Grave is like the Ark in Dagon's Temple; the Powers of Darkneſs ſeem'd to ride Maſters, but Then the Lord awaked as one out of Sleep, and like a mighty Man that ſhouteth by Reaſon of Wine, Pſal. 78. 61, 65. The Prince of our Peace is in this Chapter rallying again, coming out of the Grave a Conqueror, yea, more than a Conqueror, leading Captivity Captive; tho' the Ark be a Priſoner, Dagon falls before it, and it proves that none is able to ſtand before the Holy Lord God. Now the Reſurrection of Chriſt being one of the main Foundations of our Religion, it is requiſite that we ſhould have infallible Proofs of it; four of which Proofs we have in this Chapter, which are but a few of many, for Luke and John give a larger Account of the Proofs of Chriſt's Reſurrection than Matthew and Mark do. Here is (1.) The Teſtimony of the Angel to Chriſt's Reſurrection, v. 1.—8. (2.) His Appearance himſelf to the Women, v. 9, 10. (3.) The Confeſſion of the Adverſaries that were upon the Guard, v. 11.—15. (4.) Chriſt's Appearance to the Diſciples in Galilee, and the Commiſſion he gave them, v. 16.—20.

IN the end of the ſabbath, as it began to dawn towards the firſt day of the week, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, to ſee the ſepulchre.
2 And behold there was a great earthquake; for the angel of the Lord deſcended from heaven, and came and rolled back the ſtone from the door, and ſat upon it. 3 His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as ſnow. 4 And for fear of him the keepers did ſhake, and became as dead men. 5 And the angel anſwered and ſaid unto the women, Fear not ye: For I know that ye ſeek Jeſus, which was crucified. 6 He is not here: for he is riſen, as he ſaid:
come, ſee the place where the Lord lay. 7 And go quickly, and tell his Diſciples that he is riſen from the dead; and behold, he goeth before you into Galilee, there ſhall ye ſee him, lo, I have told you. 8 And they departed quickly from the ſepulchre, with fear and great joy, and did run to bring his diſciples word.
9 And as they went to tell his diſciples, behold, Jeſus met them, ſaying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worſhipped him.
10 Then ſaid Jeſus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there ſhall they ſee me.

For the Proof of Chriſt's Reſurrection, we have here the Teſtimony of the Angel, and of Chriſt himſelf concerning his Reſurrection. Now we may think it would have done better, if the Matter had been ſo order'd, that a competent Number of Witneſſes ſhould have been preſent,and have ſeen the Stone roll'd away by the Angel, and the dead Body reviving, as People ſaw Lazarus come out of his Grave, and then the Matter had been paſt diſpute; but let not us preſcribe to infinite Wiſdom, which order'd that the Witneſſes of his Reſurrection ſhould ſee him riſen, but not ſee him riſe. His Incarnation was a Myſtery, ſo was this ſecond Incarnation, (if we may ſo call it) this new making of the Body of Chriſt for his exalted State, it was therefore made in Secret; Bleſſed are they that have not ſeen, and yet have believed. Chriſt gave ſuch Proofs of his Reſurrection as were corroborated by the Scriptures, and by the Word which he had ſpoken, Luke 24. 6, 7, 44. Mark 16. 7. for here we muſt walk by Faith, not by Sight. We have here,

Obſerve, 1. When they came, In the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn towards the firſt Day of the Week, v. 1. This fixeth the Time of Chriſt's Reſurrection.

1. He roſe the third day after his Death, that was the Time which he had often prefixed, and he kept within it: He was bury'd in the Evening of the ſixth Day of the Week, and roſe in the Morning of the firſt Day of the following Week, ſo that he lay in the Grave about thirty ſix or thirty eight Hours. He lay ſo long to ſhew that he was really and truly dead, and no longer, that he might not ſee Corruption. He roſe the third Day,to anſwer the Type of the Prophet Jonas, Mat. 12. 40. and to accompliſh that Prediction, Hoſ. 6. 2. The third Day he will raiſe us up, and we ſhall live in his ſight.

2. He roſe after the Jewiſh Sabbath, and it was the Paſſover-Sabbath, all that Day he lay in the Grave, to ſignify the aboliſhing of the Jewiſh Feaſts, and other the Parts of the Ceremonial Law, and that his People muſt be dead to ſuch Obſervances, and take no more notice of them than he did when he lay in the Grave. Chriſt on the ſixth Day finiſhed his Work, he ſaid, It is finiſhed, on the ſeventh Day he reſted, and then on the firſt Day of the next Week did as it were begin a new World, and enter upon new Work, Let no Man therefore judge us now in reſpect of the new Moons, or of the Jewiſh Sabbaths, which were indeed a Shadow of good Things to come, but the Subſtance is of Chriſt. We may further obſerve, that the Time of the Saints lying in the Grave, is a Sabbath to them (ſuch as the Jewiſh Sabbath was, which conſiſted chiefly in bodily reſt) for there they reſt from their Labours, Job 3. 17. and it is owing to Chriſt.

3. He roſe upon the firſt Day of the Week; on the firſt Day of the firſt Week God commanded the light to ſhine out of darkneſs; on this Day therefore did he, who was to be the Light of the World, ſhine out of the Darkneſs of the Grave; and the ſeventh Day Sabbath being buried with Chriſt, it roſe again in the firſt Day Sabbath, call'd the Lord's Day, Rev. 1. 10. and no other Day of the Week is from henceforward mentioned in all the New Teſtament but this, and this often, as the Day which Chriſtians religiouſly obſerv'd in ſolemn Aſſemblies, to the Honour of Chriſt, John 20. 19, 26. Acts 20. 7. 1 Cor. 16. 2. If the Deliverance of Iſrael out of the Land of the North ſuperſeded the Remembrance of that out of Egypt, Jer. 23. 7, 8. much more doth our Redemption by Chriſt eclipſe the Glory of God's former Works. The Sabbath was inſtituted in remembrance of the perfecting of the Work of Creation, Gen. 2. 1. Man by his Revolt made a Breach upon that perfect Work, which was never perfectly repair'd till Chriſt roſe from the Dead, and the Heavens and the Earth were again finiſhed, and the diſorder'd Hoſts of them modell'd anew, and the Day on which this was done was juſtly bleſſed and ſanctified, and the ſeventh Day from that. He who on that Day roſe from the Dead, is the ſame, by whom, and for whom all things were at firſt created, and now anew created.

4. He roſe as it began to dawn towards that Day; as ſoon as it could be ſaid that the third Day was come, the Time prefix'd for his Reſurrection, he roſe; after his withdrawing from his People, he returns with all convenient ſpeed, and cuts the Work as ſhort in Righteouſneſs as may be. He had ſaid to his Diſciples, that tho' within a little while they ſhould not ſee him, yet again a little while, and they ſhould ſee him, and accordingly he made it as little a while as poſſible, Iſa. 54. 7, 8. Chriſt roſe when the Day began to dawn, becauſe then the Day-ſpring from on high did again viſit us, Luke 1. 78. His Paſſion begun in the Night, when he hung on the Croſs, the Sun was darkned, he was laid in the Grave in the Duſk of the Evening, but he roſe from the Grave when the Sun was near riſing, for he is the bright and morning Star, Rev. 22. 16. the true Light. Thoſe who addreſs themſelves early in the Morning to the religious Services of the Chriſtian Sabbath, that they may take the Day before them, therein follow this Example of Chriſt, and that of David, early will I ſeek thee.

2. Who they were that came to the Sepulchre, Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, the ſame that attended the Funeral, and ſate over againſt the Sepulchre, as before they ſate over againſt the Croſs; ſtill they ſtudied to expreſs their Love to Chriſt, ſtill they were enquiring after him. Then ſhall we know, if we thus follow on to know. No mention is made of the Virgin Mary being with them, 'tis likely the beloved Diſciple, who had taken her to his own home, hinder'd her from going to the Grave to weep there. Their Attendance on Chriſt, not only to the Grave, but in the Grave, repreſents his like care for thoſe that are his, when they have made their Bed in the Darkneſs. As Chriſt in the Grave was beloved of the Saints, ſo the Saints in the Grave are beloved of Chriſt, for Death and the Grave cannot ſlacken that Bond of Love which is between them.

3. What they came to do; the other Evangeliſts ſay they came to anoint the Body; Matthew ſaith they came to ſee the Sepulchre, whether it was as they left it; hearing perhaps, but not being ſure that the Chief Prieſts had ſet a Guard upon it. They went, to ſhew their Good-will in another Viſit, to the dear Remains of their beloved Maſter, and perhaps not without ſome thoughts of his Reſurrection, for they could not have quite forgot all he had ſaid of it. Note, Viſits to the Grave are of great Uſe to Chriſtians, and will help to make it familiar to them,and to take off the Terror of it, eſpecially Viſits to the Grave of our Lord Jeſus, where we may ſee Sin buried out of ſight, the Pattern of our Sanctification,and the great Proof of redeeming Love ſhining illuſtriouſly even in that Land of Darkneſs.

Secondly, The appearance of the angel of the Lord to them, v. 2, 3, 4. We have here an Account of the manner of the Reſurrection of Chriſt, as far as 'twas fit we ſhould know.

1. There was a great Earthquake; when he dy'd, the Earth that receiv'd him, ſhook for fear; now he roſe, the Earth that reſign'd him, leap'd for Joy in his Exaltation. This Earthquake did as it were looſe the Bond of Death, and ſhake off the Fetters of the Grave, and introduc'd the Deſire of all Nations, Hag. 2. 6, 7. 'Twas the Signal of Chriſt's Victory, notice was hereby given of it, that when the Heavens rejoyc'd, the Earth alſo might be glad. 'Twas a Specimen of the Shake that will be given to the Earth at the general Reſurrection, when Mountains and Iſlands ſhall be remov'd, that the Earth may no longer cover her Slain. There was a noiſe and a ſhaking in the Valley, when the Bones were to come together, Bone to his Bone, Ezech. 37. 7. The Kingdom of Chriſt, which was now to be ſet up, made the Earth to quake, and terribly ſhook it: Thoſe that are ſanctified, and thereby rais'd to a Spiritual Life, while 'tis in the doing, find an Earthquake in their own Boſom, as Paul who trembled and was aſtoniſhed.

2. The Angel of the Lord deſcended from Heaven: The Angels frequently attended our Lord Jeſus, at his Birth, in his Temptation, in his Agony, but upon the Croſs we find no Angel attending him; when his Father forſook him, the Angels withdrew from him, but now he is reſuming the Glory he had before the Foundation of the World, now behold the Angels of God worſhip him.

3. He came and roll'd back the Stone from the Door, and ſat upon it: Our Lord Jeſus could have rolled back the Stone himſelf, by his own Power,but he choſe to have it done by an Angel, to ſignify that having undertaken to make ſatisfaction for our ſin, as ſuch was imputed to him, and being under Arreſt purſuant to that Imputation, he did not break Priſon, but had a fair and legal Diſcharge, obtain'd from Heaven; he did not break Priſon, but an Officer was ſent on purpoſe to roll away the Stone, and ſo to open the Priſon-door, which would never have been done if he had not made a full Satisfaction. But being deliver'd for our Offences, to compleat the Deliverance, he was raiſed again for our Juſtification; he dy'd to pay our Debt, and roſe again to take out our Acquittance. The Stone of our Sins was roll'd to the Door of the Grave of our Lord Jeſus, (and we find the rolling of a great Stone to ſignify the contracting of guilt, 1 Sam. 14. 33.) But to demonſtrate that Divine Juſtice was ſatisfied, an Angel was commiſſioned to roll back the Stone, not that the Angel rais'd him from the Dead, no more than thoſe that took away the Stone from Lazarus's Grave rais'd him, but thus he intimated the Conſent of Heaven to his Releaſe, and the Joy of Heaven in it. The Enemies of Chriſt had ſeal'd the Stone, reſolving, like Babylon, not to open the Houſe of his Priſoners, ſhall the Prey be taken from the Mighty? For this was their hour, but all the Powers of Death and Darkneſs are under the controul of the God of Light and Life. An Angel from Heaven has Power to break the Seal, tho' it were the great Seal of Iſrael, and is able to roll away the Stone, tho' never ſo great: Thus the Captives of the Mighty are taken away. The Angel's ſitting upon the Stone when he had rolled it away, is very obſervable, and ſpeaks a ſecure Triumph over all the Obſtructions of Chriſt's Reſurrection. There he ſate defying all the Powers of Hell to roll the Stone to the Grave again. Chriſt erects his Seat of Reſt, and Seat of Judgment upon the Oppoſition of his Enemies; the Lord ſitteth upon the Floods: The Angel ſate as a Guard to the Grave, having frightned away the Enemies black Guard; he ſate expecting the Women, and ready to give them an account of his Reſurrection.

4. That his Countenance was like Lightning, and his Raiment white as Snow, v. 3. This was a viſible Repreſentation by that which we call ſplendid and illuſtrious, of the Glories of the inviſible World, which know no difference of Colours. His look upon the Keepers was like Flaſhes of Lightning, he caſt forth Lightning and ſcatter'd them, Pſal. 144. 6. The whiteneſs of his Raiment was an Emblem, not only of Purity but of Joy and Triumph. When Chriſt dy'd, the Court of Heaven went into deep Mourning, ſignified by the darkning of the Sun; but when he roſe, they again put on the Garments of Praiſe; the Glory of this Angel repreſented the Glory of Chriſt, to which he was now riſen, for it is the ſame Deſcription that was given of him in his Transfiguration, Mat. 17. 2. but when he convers'd with his Diſciples after his Reſurrection, he drew a Vail over it, and it ſpoke the Glory of the Saints in their Reſurrection, when they ſhall be as the Angels of God in Heaven.

5. That for fear of him the Keepers did ſhake, and became as dead Men, v. 4. They were Soldiers, that thought themſelves harden'd againſt Fear, yet the very ſight of an Angel ſtruck them with Terror. Thus when the Son of God aroſe to Judgment, the ſtout-hearted were ſpoiled, Pſal. 76. 5, 9. Note, The Reſurrection of Chriſt, as it is the Joy of his Friends, ſo it is the Terror and Confuſion of his Enemies. They did ſhake; the Word ἐσείσθησαν, is the ſame with that which was uſed for the Earthquake, v. 2. σεισμὸς, when the Earth ſhook, theſe Children of the Earth, that had their Portion in it, ſhook too; whereas thoſe that have their Happineſs in things above, tho' the Earth be removed, yet are without fear. The Keepers become as dead Men, when he whom they kept guard upon became alive, and they whom they kept guard againſt reviv'd with him. It ſtruck a Terror upon them, to ſee themſelves baffled in that which was their Buſineſs here. They were poſted here to keep a dead Man in his Grave, as eaſy a piece of Service ſure as ever was aſſign'd them, and yet it proves too hard for them. They were told that they muſt expect to be aſſaulted by a Company of feeble faint-hearted Diſciples, who for fear of them would ſoon ſhake, and become as dead Men, but are amaz'd when they find themſelves attack'd by a mighty Angel, whom they dare not look in the Face. Thus doth God fruſtrate his Enemies, by frightning them, Pſal. 9. ult.

Thirdly, The Meſſage which this Angel deliver'd to the Women, v. 5, 6, 7.

1. He encourageth them againſt their Fears, v. 5. To come near to Graves, and Tombs, eſpecially in Silence and Solitude, has ſomething in it frightful, much more was it ſo to thoſe Women to find an Angel at the Sepulchre, but he ſoon makes them eaſy with the Word, Fear not ye: The Keepers ſhook, and became as dead Men, but fear not ye. Let the Sinners in Zion be afraid, for there is Cauſe for it, but fear not Abraham, nor any of the faithful Seed of Abraham. Why ſhould the Daughters of Sarah, that do well, be afraid with any Amazement? 1 Pet. 3. 6. Fear not ye. Let not the News I have to tell you be any ſurprize to you, for you were told before your Maſter would riſe, let it be no Terror to you, for his Reſurrection will be your Conſolation; Fear not any Hurt, that I'll tell you, nor any evil Tydings I have to tell you. Fear not ye, for I know that ye ſeek Jeſus: I know you are Friends to the Cauſe, I do not come to frighten you, but to encourage you. Note, Thoſe that ſeek Jeſus have no reaſon to be afraid, for if they ſeek him diligently, they ſhall find him, and ſhall find him their bountiful Rewarder. All our believing Enquiries after the Lord Jeſus are obſerv'd, and taken notice of in Heaven; I know that ye ſeek Jeſus, and ſhall certainly be anſwer'd as theſe were, with good Words, and comfortable Words: Ye ſeek Jeſus that was crucified. He mentions his being crucified, the more to commend their Love to him; ye ſeek him ſtill, tho' he was crucified; you retain your Kindneſs for him notwithſtanding. Note, True Believers love and ſeek Chriſt, not only tho' he was crucified, but becauſe he was ſo.

2. He aſſures them of the Reſurrection of Chriſt, and there was enough in that to ſilence their Fears, v. 6. He is not here, for he is riſen. To be told, He is not here, would have been no welcome News to thoſe who ſought him, if it had not been added, He is riſen. Note, It is Matter of Comfort to thoſe who ſeek Chriſt, and miſs of finding him where they expected, that He is riſen: If we find him not in ſenſible Comfort, yet he is riſen. We muſt not hearken to thoſe who ſay, Lo, here is Chriſt, or, Lo, he is there, for he is not here, he is not there, he is riſen. In all our Enquiries after Chriſt, we muſt remember that he is riſen; and we muſt ſeek him as one riſen, (1.) Not with any groſs carnal Thoughts of him: There were thoſe that knew Chriſt after the Fleſh, but now henceforth know we him ſo no more, 2 Cor 5. 16. 'Tis true he had a Body, but 'tis now a glorified Body: They that make Pictures and Images of Chriſt, forget that he is not here, he is riſen; our Communion with him muſt be Spiritual, by Faith in his Word, Rom. 10. 6, 7, 8. (2.) We muſt ſeek him with great Reverence and Humility, and an awful Regard to his Glory, for he is riſen; God has highly exalted him, and given him a Name above every Name, and therefore every Knee and every Soul muſt bow before him. (3.) We muſt ſeek him with a Heavenly Mind, when we are ready to make this World our Home, and to ſay, It is good to be here, let us remember our Lord Jeſus is not here, he is riſen, and therefore let not our Hearts be here, but let them riſe too, and ſeek the things that are above, Col. 3. 1, 2, 3. Phil. 3. 20.

Two things the Angel refers theſe Women to for the Confirmation of their Faith, touching Chriſt's Reſurrection.

(1.) To his Word now fulfilled, which they might remember; He is riſen, as he ſaid. This he voucheth as the proper Object of Faith; he ſaid he would riſe, and you know he is the Truth it ſelf, and therefore have reaſon to expect he ſhould riſe; Why ſhould you be backward to believe that which he told you would be? Let us never think ſtrange at that which the Word of Chriſt has raiſed our Expectations of, whether the Sufferings of this preſent time, or the Glory that is to be revealed. If we remember what Chriſt has ſaid to us, we ſhall be the leſs ſurpriz'd at what he doth with us. This Angel, when he ſaid, He is not here, he is riſen, makes it to appear, that he preaches no other Goſpel than what they had already receiv'd, for he refers himſelf to the Word of Chriſt, as ſufficient to bear him out; He is riſen, as he ſaid.

(2.) To his Grave now empty, which they might look into, Come ſee the Place where the Lord lay. Compare what you have heard with what you ſee, and putting both together you will believe. You ſee he is not here, and remembring what he ſaid, you may be ſatisfied, he is riſen, come ſee the Place, and you'll ſee he is not there, you'll ſee he could not be ſtollen thence, and therefore muſt conclude he is riſen. Note, It may be of uſe to affect us, and may have a good Influence upon us, to come, and with an Eye of Faith ſee the Place where the Lord lay. See the Marks he has there left of his Love, in condeſcending ſo low for us; ſee how eaſy he has made that Bed, and how lightſome for us, by lying in it himſelf: when we look into the Grave, where we expect we muſt lie, to take off the Terror of it, let us look into the Grave where the Lord lay; the Place where our Lord lay, ſo the Syriack. The Angels own him for their Lord, as well as we; for the whole Family both in Heaven and Earth is nam'd from him.

3. He directs them to go carry the Tidings of it to his Diſciples, v. 7. Go quickly and tell his Diſciples; 'Tis probable they were for entertaining themſelves with the ſight of the Sepulchre, and diſcourſe with the Angels: 'Twas good to be here, but they have other Work appointed them; this is a Day of good Tydings, and tho' they have the primer ſeiſin of the Comfort, the firſt taſte of it, yet they muſt not have the Monopoly of it, muſt not hold their Peace, no more than thoſe Lepers, 2 King 7. 9. They muſt go tell the Diſciples. Note, Publick uſefulneſs to others muſt be preferr'd before the Pleaſure of ſecret communion with God our ſelves; for it is more bleſſed to give than to receive. Obſerve,

1. The Diſciples of Chriſt muſt firſt be told the News, not go tell the Chief Prieſts and the Phariſees, that they may be confounded; but tell the Diſciples that they may be comforted. God anticipates the Joy of his Friends more than the Shame of his Enemies, tho' the Perfection of both is reſerv'd for hereafter. Tell his Diſciples, it may be they will believe your Report, however tell them. (1.) That they may encourage themſelves under their preſent Sorrows and Diſperſions. 'Twas a diſmal time with them, between Grief and Fear, what a Cordial would this be to them now, to hear their Maſter is riſen. (2.) That they may enquire further into it themſelves. This Alarm was ſent them to awaken them from that ſtrange Stupidity which had ſeiz'd them, and to raiſe their Expectations: This was to ſet them on ſeeking him, and to prepare them for his Appearance to them. General Hints excite to cloſer Searches. They now ſhall hear of him, but ſhall very ſhortly ſee him. Chriſt diſcovers himſelf gradually.

2. The Women are ſent to tell it them, and ſo are made as it were the Apoſtles of the Apoſtles. This was an Honour put upon them, and a Recompence for their conſtant affectionate Adherence to him, at the Croſs, and in the Grave, and a Rebuke to the Diſciples who forſook him. Still God chooſeth the weak Things of the World to confound the Mighty, and puts the Treaſure, not only into earthen Veſſels, but here into the weaker Veſſels; as the Woman, being deceiv'd by the Suggeſtions of an evil Angel, was firſt in the Tranſgreſſion, 1 Tim. 2. 14. So theſe Women being duly inform'd by the Inſtructions of a good Angel, were firſt in the Belief of the Redemption from Tranſgreſſion by Chriſt's Reſurrection, that that Reproach of their Sex might be roll'd away, by putting this in the Balance againſt it, which is their perpetual Praiſe.

3. They were bid to go quickly upon this Errand; Why, what haſt was there? Would not the News keep cold, and be welcome to them at any time? Yes, but they were now overwhelm'd with Grief, and Chriſt would have this Cordial haſten'd to them; when Daniel was humbling himſelf before God for Sin, the Angel Gabriel was cauſed to fly ſwiftly with a Meſſage of Comfort, Dan. 9. 21. We muſt always be ready and forward; (1.) To obey the Commands of God, Pſal. 119. 60. (2.) To do good to our Brethren, and to carry Comfort to them, as thoſe that tell from their Afflictions; Say not, go and come again, and to morrow I will give; but now quickly.

4. They were directed to appoint the Diſciples to meet him in Galilee. There were other appearances of Chriſt to them before that in Galilee, which were ſudden and ſurprizing, but he would have one to be ſolemn and publick, and gave them notice of it before. Now this general Rendezvouz was appointed in Galilee, Eighty or a Hundred Miles from Jeruſalem; (1.) In Kindneſs to thoſe of his Diſciples that remained in Galilee, and did not, perhaps they could not, come up to Jeruſalem, and therefore into that Country he would go to manifeſt himſelf to his Friends there: I know thy Works, and where thou dwelleſt; Chriſt knows where his Diſciples dwell, and will viſit there. Note, The Exaltation of Chriſt doth not make him forget the meaner and poorer ſort of his Diſciples, but even to them that are at a Diſtance from the Plenty of the Means of Grace he will graciouſly manifeſt himſelf. (2.) In conſideration of the weakneſs of his Diſciples that were now at Jeruſalem, who as yet were afraid of the Jews, and durſt not appear publickly, and therefore this Meeting was adjourn'd to Galilee. Chriſt knows our Fears, and conſiders our Frame, and made his Appointment where there was leaſt danger of Diſturbance.

Laſtly, The Angel ſolemnly affirms upon his Word, the Truth of what he had related to them, Lo, I have told you, you may be aſſur'd of it, and depend upon it; I have told you, who dare not tell a Lye. The Word ſpoken by Angels was ſtedfaſt, Heb. 2. 2. God had been wont formerly to make known his Mind to his People by the Miniſtration of Angels, as at the giving of the Law, but intending in Goſpel-times to lay aſide that way of Communion, (for unto the Angels hath he not put in Subjection the World to come, nor appointed them to be the Preachers of the Goſpel) this Angel was now ſent to certifie the Reſurrection of Chriſt to the Diſciples, and ſo leave it in their hands to be publiſh'd to the World, 2 Cor. 4. 7. In ſaying, Lo, I have told you, he doth as it were diſcharge himſelf from the Blame of their Unbelief, if they ſhould not receive this Record, and throw it upon them; I have done my Errand, I have faithfully deliver'd my Meſſage, now look you to it, believe it at your Peril, whether you will hear, or whether you will forbear, I have told you. Note, Thoſe Meſſengers from God that diſcharge their Truſt faithfully, may take the Comfort of that, whatever the Succeſs be, Acts 20. 26, 27.

Fourthly, The Womens Departure from the Sepulchre, to bring notice to the Diſciples, v. 8. And obſerve,

1. What Frame and Temper of Spirit they were in; they departed with Fear and great Joy; a ſtrange Mixture, Fear and Joy at the ſame time in the ſame Soul. To hear that Chriſt was riſen, was Matter of Joy; but to be led into his Grave, and to ſee, and talk with an Angel about it, could not but cauſe Fear. 'Twas good News, but they were afraid it was too good to be true. But obſerve, 'tis ſaid of their Joy, it was great Joy, it is not ſaid ſo of their Fear. Note, (1.) Holy Fear has Joy attending it. They that ſerve the Lord with Reverence, ſerve him with Gladneſs. (2.) Spiritual Joy is mix'd with Trembling, Pſal. 2. 11. 'Tis only perfect Love and Joy that will caſt out all Fear.

2. What haſte they made, they did run. The Fear and Joy together quicken'd their Pace, and added Wings to their Motion; the Angel bid them go quickly, and they ran. Thoſe that are ſent on God's Errand, muſt not loiter, or loſe Time; where the Heart is enlarged with the glad Tidings of the Goſpel, the Feet will run the Way of God's Commandments.

3. What Errand they went upon. They did run to bring his Diſciples word. Not doubting but it would be joyful News to them, they run to comfort them with the ſame Comforts wherewith they themſelves were comforted of God. Note, The Diſciples of Chriſt ſhould be forward to communicate to each other their Experiences of ſweet Communion with Heaven; ſhould tell others what God has done for their Souls, and ſpoken to them. Joy in Chriſt Jeſus, like the Ointment of the Right-hand, will betray it ſelf, and fill all Places within the Lines of its Communication with its Odours. When Sampſon found Honey, he brought it to his Parents.

Fifthly, Chriſt's appearing to the Women, to confirm the Teſtimony of the Angel, v. 9, 10. Theſe zealous good Women, not only heard the firſt Tidings of him, but had the firſt Sight of him after his Reſurrection. The Angel directed thoſe that would ſee him to go to Galilee, but before that time came, even here alſo they looked after him that lives and ſees them. Note, Jeſus Chriſt is often better than his Word, but never worſe; often anticipates, but never fruſtrates the believing Expectations of his People.

Here's 1. Chriſt's ſurprizing appearance to the Women. As they went to tell his Diſciples, behold Jeſus met them. Note, God's gracious Viſits uſually meet us in the way of Duty, and to thoſe who uſe what they have for others Benefit, more ſhall be given. This Interview with Chriſt was unexpected, or ever they were aware, Cant. 6. 12. Note, Chriſt is nearer to his People than they imagine. They needed not deſcend into the Deep to fetch Chriſt thence; he was not there, he was riſen; nor go up to Heaven, for he was not yet aſcended, but Chriſt was nigh them, and ſtill Chriſt in the Word is nigh us.

2. The Salutation wherewith he accoſted them; All Hail, χάιρετε. We uſe the old Engliſh Form of Salutation, wiſhing all Health to thoſe we meet; for ſo, All hail ſignifies, and is expreſſive of the Greek Form of Salutation here us'd, anſwering to that of the Hebrew, Peace be unto you. And it ſpeaks (1.) the Good-will of Chriſt to us, and our Happineſs, even ſince he enter'd upon his State of Exaltation. Tho' he be advanc'd, he wiſheth us as well as ever, and is as much concern'd for our Comfort. (2.) The Freedom and holy Familiarity which he us'd in his Fellowſhip with his Diſciples; for he called them Friends. But the Greek word ſignifies, Rejoyce ye. They were affected both with Fear and Joy; what he ſaid to them tended to encourage their Joy, v. 9. Rejoyce ye; and to ſilence their Fear, v. 10. Be not afraid. Note, 'Tis the Will of Chriſt that his People ſhould be a chearful joyful People, and his Reſurrection furniſheth them with abundant Matter for Joy.

3. The affectionate Reſpect they paid him. They came and held him by the Feet, and worſhipped him. Thus they expreſs'd (1.) the Reverence and Honour they had for him, they threw themſelves at his Feet, put themſelves into a Poſture of Adoration, and worſhipped him with Humility and godly Fear, as the Son of God, and now exalted. (2.) The Love and Affection they had to him; they held him, and would not let him go, Cant. 3. 4. How beautiful were the feet of the Lord Jeſus to them, Iſa. 52. 7. (3.) The Tranſport of Joy they were in, now they had this further Aſſurance of his Reſurrection; they welcom'd it with both Arms. Thus we muſt embrace Jeſus Chriſt offer'd us in the Goſpel, with Reverence caſt our ſelves at his Feet, by Faith take hold of him, and with Love and Joy lay him near our Hearts.

4. The encouraging Words Chriſt ſaid to them, v. 10. We do not find they ſaid any thing to him, their affectionate Embraces and Adorations ſpoke plainly enough; and what he ſaid to them was no more than what the Angel had ſaid, v. 5, 7. for he will confirm the Word of his Meſſengers, Iſa. 44. 26. and his way of comforting his People is by his Spirit, to ſpeak over again to their Hearts, the ſame that they had heard before from his Angels the Miniſters. Now obſerve here,

1. How he rebukes their Fear. Be not afraid. They muſt not fear being impos'd upon by theſe repeated Notices of his Reſurrection, nor fear any hurt by the Appearance of one from the Dead; for the News, tho' ſtrange, was both true and good. Note, Chriſt roſe from the Dead to ſilence his People's Fears, and there is enough in that to ſilence them.

2. How he repeats their Meſſage, Go tell my Brethren, that they muſt prepare for a Journey into Galilee, and there they ſhall ſee me. If there be any Communion between our Souls and Chriſt, 'tis he that appoints the Meeting, and we will obſerve the Appointment. Jeruſalem had forfeited the Honour of Chriſt's Preſence, 'twas a tumultuous City, therefore he adjourns the Meeting to Galilee. Come my Beloved, let us go forth, Cant. 7. 11. But that which is eſpecially obſervable here is, that he calls the Diſciples his Brethren. Go tell my Brethren, not only thoſe of them that were akin to him, but all the reſt, for they are all his Brethren, Mat. 12. 50. but he never call'd them ſo till after his Reſurrection, here, and John 20. 17. Being by the Reſurrection himſelf declar'd to be the Son of God with Power, all the Children of God were thereby declar'd to be his Brethren. Being the firſt begotten from the Dead, he is become the Firſt-born among many Brethren, even of all that are planted together in the likeneſs of his Reſurrection. Chriſt did not now converſe ſo conſtantly and familiarly with his Diſciples as he had done before his Death; but leſt they ſhould think him grown ſtrange to them, he gives them this endearing Title, Go to my Brethren, that the Scripture might be fulfill'd, which ſpeaking of his Entrance upon his exalted State, ſaith, I will declare thy Name unto my Brethren. They had ſhamefully deſerted him in his Sufferings, but to ſhew that he could forgive and forget, and to teach us to do ſo, he not only continues his Purpoſe to meet them, but calls them Brethren. Being all his Brethren, they were Brethren one to another, and muſt love as Brethren. His owning them for his Brethren put a great Honour upon them, but withal gave them an Example of Humility in the midſt of that Honour.

11 Now when they were going, behold, ſome of the watch came into the city, and ſhewed unto the chief prieſts all the things that were done. 12 And when they were aſſembled with the elders, and had taken counſel, they gave large money unto the ſoldiers, 13 Saying, Say ye, His diſciples came by night, and ſtole him away while we ſlept. 14 And if this come to the governour's ears, we will perſwade him, and ſecure you. 15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this ſaying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.

For the further Proof of the Reſurrection of Chriſt, we have here the Confeſſion of the Adverſaries that were upon the Guard; and there are two Things which ſtrengthen this Teſtimony; that they were Eye-witneſſes, and did themſelves ſee the Glory of the Reſurrection, which none elſe did; and that they were Enemies, ſet there to oppoſe and obſtruct his Reſurrection. Now obſerve here,

1. How this Teſtimony was given in to the Chief Prieſts, v. 11. when the Women were going to bring that News to the Diſciples, which would fill their Hearts with Joy; the Soldiers went to bring the ſame News to the Chief Prieſts, which would fill their Faces with Shame. Some of the Watch, probably thoſe of them that commanded in chief, they came into the City, and brought to thoſe who employ'd them, the Report of their Diſappointment. They ſhew'd to the Chief Prieſts all the Things that were done; told them of the Earthquake, the Deſcent of the Angel, the rolling of the Stone away, and the coming of the Body of Jeſus alive out of the Grave. Thus the ſign of the Prophet Jonas was brought to the Chief Prieſts, with the moſt clear and unconteſtable Evidence that could be; and ſo the utmoſt Means of Conviction were afforded them; we may well imagine what a Mortification it was to them, and that, like the Enemies of the Jews, they were much caſt down in their own Eyes, Neh. 6. 16. It might juſtly have been expected, that they ſhould now have believ'd in Chriſt, and repented their putting him to Death; but they were obſtinate in their Infidelity, and therefore ſeal'd up under it.

2. How it was baffled and ſtifled by them. They call'd an Aſſembly, and conſider'd what was to be done. For their own parts they were reſolv'd not to believe that Jeſus was riſen, but their Care was to keep others from believing, and themſelves from being quite ſhamed from their Disbelief of it. They had put him to Death, and there was no way of ſtanding to what they had done, but by confronting the Evidence of his Reſurrection. Thus they who have ſold themſelves to work Wickedneſs, find that one Sin draws on another, and they have plung'd themſelves into a wretched Neceſſity of adding Iniquity to Iniquity, which is part of the Curſe of Chriſt's Perſecutors, Pſal. 69. 27.

The Reſult of their Debate was, That thoſe Soldiers muſt by all Means be brib'd off, and hir'd not to tell Tales.

1. They put Money into their Hands; and what Wickedneſs is it which Men will not be brought to by the love of Money. They gave large Money, 'tis likely, a great deal more than they gave to Judas, unto the Soldiers. Theſe Chief Prieſts lov'd their Money as well as moſt People did, and were as loth to part with it; and yet to carry on a malicious Deſign againſt the Goſpel of Chriſt, they were very prodigal of it; they gave the Soldiers, 'tis likely, as much as they ask'd, and they knew how to improve their Advantages. Here was large Money given for the advancing of that, which they knew to be a Lye, yet many grudge a little Money for the Advancement of that which they know to be the Truth; tho' they have a Promiſe of being re-imburs'd in the Reſurrection of the Juſt. Let us never ſtarve a good Cauſe, when we ſee a bad one ſo liberally ſupported.

2. They put a Lye into their Mouths, v. 13. Say ye, his Diſciples came by Night, and ſtole him away while we ſlept; a ſorry Shift is better than none, but this is a ſorry one indeed. (1.) The Sham was ridiculous, and carry'd along with it its own Confutation; if they ſlept, how could they know any thing of the matter, or ſay, who came: If any one of them were awake to obſerve it, no doubt, he would awake them all to oppoſe it; for that was the only thing they had in charge. 'Twas altogether improbable, that a Company of poor, weak, cowardly, diſpirited Men ſhould expoſe themſelves for ſo inconſiderable an Atchievement as the Reſcue of the dead Body. Why were not the Houſes where they lodg'd diligently ſearch'd, and other Means us'd to diſcover the dead Body; but this was ſo thin a Lye as one might eaſily ſee through. But had it been never ſo plauſible, (2.) it was a very wicked thing for theſe Prieſts and Elders to hire theſe Soldiers to tell a deliberate Lye, (if it had been in a Matter of never ſo ſmall Importance) againſt their Conſciences: Thoſe know not what they do, that draw others to commit one wilful Sin; for that may debauch Conſcience, and be an inlet to many. But (3.) Conſidering this as intended to overthrow the great Doctrine of Chriſt's Reſurrection, this was a Sin againſt the laſt Remedy, and was in Effect a Blaſphemy againſt the Holy Ghoſt, imputing that to the Roguery of the Diſciples, which was done by the Power of the Holy Ghoſt.

But leſt the Soldiers ſhould object the Penalty they incurr'd by the Roman Law, for ſleeping upon the Guard, which was very ſevere, Acts 12. 19. They promis'd to interpoſe with the Governour, we will perſwade him, and ſecure you. We will uſe our own Intereſt in him to get him not to take Notice of it, and they had lately found how eaſily they could manage him. If really theſe Soldiers had ſlept, and ſo ſuffer'd the Diſciples to ſteal him away, as they would have the World believe; 'tis certain the Prieſts and Elders would have been the forwardeſt to ſollicit the Governour to puniſh them for their Treachery; ſo that their Care for the Soldiers Safety, plainly gives the Lye to the Story. They undertook to ſecure the Sword of Pilate's Juſtice, but could not ſecure them from the Sword of God's Juſtice, which hangs over the Head of thoſe that love and make a Lye. They promiſe more than they can perform, who undertake to ſave a Man harmleſs in the Commiſſion of a wilful Sin.

Well: Thus was the Plot laid; now, what Succeſs had it?

1. Thoſe that were willing to deceive took the Money, and did as they were taught. They car'd as little for Chriſt and his Religion, as the Chief Prieſts and Elders did; and Men that have no Religion at all, can be very well pleas'd to ſee Chriſtianity run down, and lend a hand to it, if need be, to ſerve a Turn. They took the Money, that was it they aim'd at, and nothing elſe. Note, Money is a Bait for the blackeſt Temptation; mercenary Tongues will ſell the Truth for it.

The great Argument to prove Chriſt to be the Son of God, is his Reſurrection, and none could have more convincing Proofs of the Truth of that than theſe Soldiers had; they ſaw the Angel deſcend from Heaven; ſaw the Stone roll'd away; ſaw the Body of Chriſt come out of the Grave, unleſs the Conſternation they felt hinder'd them; and yet were ſo far from being convinced by it themſelves, that they were hir'd to bely him, and to hinder others from believing in him. Note, The moſt ſenſible Evidences will not convince Men without the concurring Operation of the Holy Spirit.

2. Thoſe that were willing to be deceived, not only credited, but propagated the Story. This Saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this Day. The Sham took well enough, and anſwer'd the End. The Jews, who perſiſted in their Infidelity, when they were preſs'd with the Argument of Chriſt's Reſurrection, had this ſtill ready to reply, His Diſciples came and ſtole him away. To this Purpoſe was the ſolemn Narrative, which (as Juſtin Martyr relates in his Dialogue with Trypho the Jew) the great Sanhedrin ſent to all the Jews of the Diſperſion, concerning this Affair, exciting them to a vigorous Reſiſtance of Chriſtianity, that when they had Crucified, and Buried him, the Diſciples came by Night and ſtole him out of the Sepulchre, deſigning thereby not only to overthrow the Truth of Chriſt's Reſurrection, but to render his Diſciples odious to the World, as the greateſt Villains in Nature. When once a Lye is rais'd, none knows how far it will ſpread, nor how long it will laſt, nor what Miſchief it will do. Some give another Senſe of this Paſſage, this ſaying is commonly reported, i. e. notwithſtanding the Artifice of the Chief Prieſts thus to impoſe upon the People, yet the Colluſion that was between them and the Soldiers, and the Money that was given to ſupport the Cheat, was commonly reported and whiſper'd among the Jews; for one way or other, Truth will out.

16 Then the eleven diſciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jeſus had appointed them. 17 And when they ſaw him, they worſhipped him: but ſome doubted. 18 And Jeſus came, and ſpake unto them, ſaying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. 19 Go ye therefore and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghoſt: 20 Teaching them to obſerve all things whatſoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

This Evangeliſt paſſeth over ſeveral other Appearances of Chriſt, recorded by Luke and John, and haſtens to this, which was of all other the moſt ſolemn, as being promis'd and appointed, again and again, before his Death, and after his Reſurrection.

Obſerve (1.) How the Diſciples attended this Appearance according to the Appointment, v. 16. They went into Galilee, a long Journey to go for one Sight of Chriſt, but it was worth while: They had ſeen him ſeveral Times at Jeruſalem, and yet they went into Galilee to ſee him there.

(1.) Becauſe he appointed them to do ſo. Tho' it ſeem'd a needleſs thing to go into Galilee, to ſee him whom they might ſee at Jeruſalem, eſpecially when they muſt ſo ſoon come back again to Jeruſalem, before his Aſcenſion, yet they had learn'd to obey Chriſt's Commands, and not object againſt them. Note, Thoſe who would maintain Communion with Chriſt, muſt attend him there where he has appointed. Thoſe that have met him in one Ordinance, muſt attend him in another, that have ſeen him at Jeruſalem, muſt go to Galilee.

(2.) Becauſe that was to be a publick and general Meeting. They had ſeen him themſelves, and convers'd with him in private, but that ſhould not excuſe their Attendance in a ſolemn Aſſembly, where many were to be gather'd together to ſee him. Note, Our Communion with God in ſecret muſt not ſuperſede our Attendance on publick Worſhip, as we have Opportunity; for God loves the Gates of Zion, and ſo muſt we. The Place was a Mountain in Galilee, probably the ſame Mountain on which he was transfigured. There they met for Privacy, and perhaps to ſignifie the exalted State, into which he was enter'd, and his Advances towards the upper World.

(3.) How they were affected with the Appearance of Chriſt to them, v. 17. Now was the Time that he was ſeen of above five hundred Brethren at once, 1 Cor. 15. 6. Some think they ſaw him at firſt at ſome diſtance, above in the Air, ὤφθη ἐπάνω, He was ſeen above of five hundred brethren, ſo they read it; which gave occaſion to ſome to doubt till he came nearer, v. 18. and then they were ſatisfied. We are told,

1. That they worſhipped him; many of them did ſo, nay it ſhould ſeem they all did that, they gave Divine Honour to him, which was ſignified by ſome outward Expreſſions of Adoration. Note, All that ſee the Lord Jeſus with an Eye of Faith are oblig'd to worſhip him.

But ſome doubted, ſome of thoſe that were then preſent. Note, Even among thoſe that worſhip, there are ſome that doubt. The Faith of thoſe that are ſincere, may yet be very weak and wavering They doubted, ἐδίστασαν, they hung in ſuſpence, as the Scales of the Ballance, when 'tis hard to ſay which preponderates. Theſe Doubts were afterwards removed, and their Faith grew up to a full Aſſurance, and it tended much to the Honour of Chriſt, that the Diſciples doubted before they believed; ſo that they cannot be ſaid to be credulous, and willing to be impos'd upon, for they firſt queſtion'd, and prov'd all things, and then held faſt that which was true, and they found to be ſo.

(3.) What Jeſus Chriſt ſaid to them, v. 18, 19, 20. Jeſus came and ſpake unto them. Tho' there were thoſe that doubted, yet he did not therefore reject them; for he will not break the bruiſed Reed. He did not ſtand at a diſtance, but came near, and gave them ſuch convincing Proofs of his Reſurrection, as turn'd the wavering Scale, and made their Faith to triumph over their Doubts. He came and ſpake familiarly to them, as one Friend ſpeaks to another, that they might be fully ſatisfied in the Commiſſion he was about to give them. He that drew near to God to ſpeak for us to him, draws near to us to ſpeak from him to us. Chriſt now deliver'd to his Apoſtles the great Charter of his Kingdom in the World, was ſending them out as his Embaſſadours, and here gives them their Credentials.

In opening this great Charter, we may obſerve two things:

Firſt, The Commiſſion which our Lord Jeſus received himſelf from the Father; being about to authorize his Apoſtles, if any ask, by what Authority he doth it, and who gave him that Authority? here he tells us, All Power is given unto me in Heaven and in Earth; a very great Word, and which none but he could ſay. Hereby he aſſerts his univerſal Dominion as Mediator, which is the great Foundation of the Chriſtian Religion. He has all Power. Obſerve 1. Whence he hath this Power. He did not aſſume it, or uſurp it, but it was given him, he was legally entitled to it, and inveſted in it by a Grant from him who is the Fountain of all Being, and conſequently of all Power. God ſet him King, Pſal. 2. 6. inaugurated, and inthron'd him, Luke 1. 32. As God, equal with the Father, all Power was originally and eſſentially his; but as Mediator, as God-Man, all Power was given him; partly in Recompence of his Work, becauſe he humbled himſelf, therefore God thus exalted him, and partly in purſuance of his Deſign; he had this Power given him over all Fleſh, that he might give Eternal Life to as many as were given him, John 17. 2. for the more effectual carrying on, and compleating our Salvation. This Power he was now more ſignally inveſted in upon his Reſurrection, Acts 13. 33. He had Power before, Power to forgive Sins, Mat. 9. 6. but now all Power is given him. He is now going to receive for himſelf a Kingdom, Luke 19. 12. to ſit down at the right-hand, Pſal. 110. 1. Having purchas'd it, nothing remains but to take Poſſeſſion, 'tis his own for ever.

2. Where he has this Power, in Heaven and Earth, comprehending the Univerſe. Chriſt is the ſole univerſal Monarch, he is Lord of all, Acts 10. 36. He hath all Power in Heaven; he has Power of Dominion over the Angels, they are all his humble Servants, Eph. 1. 20, 21. He has Power of Interceſſion with his Father, in the Virtue of his Satisfaction and Atonement; he intercedes, not as a Suppliant, but as a Demandant, Father, I will. He hath all Power on Earth too; having prevail'd with God by the Sacrifice of Atonement, he prevails with Men, and deals with them as one having Authority by the Miniſtry of Reconciliation. He is indeed in all Cauſes, and over all Perſons Supreme Moderator and Governour. By him Kings Reign. All Souls are his, and to him every Heart and Knee muſt bow, and every Tongue confeſs him to be Lord. This our Lord Jeſus tells them, not only to ſatisfie them of the Authority he had to Commiſſion them, and to bring them out in the Execution of their Commiſſion, but to take off the Offence of the Croſs; they had no reaſon to be aſham'd of Chriſt Crucified, when they ſaw him thus Glorified.

Secondly, The Commiſſion he gives to thoſe whom he ſent forth. Go ye therefore. This Commiſſion is given (1.) to the Apoſtles primarily, the chief Miniſters of State in Chriſt's Kingdom, the Architects that laid the Foundation of the Church. Now thoſe that had follow'd Chriſt in the Regeneration were ſet on Thrones, Luke 22. 30. Go ye. 'Tis not only a word of Command, like that, Son, go work, but a word of Encouragement, Go, and fear not, Have not I ſent you? Go and make a Buſineſs of this Work. They muſt not take State, and iſſue out Summons to the Nations to attend upon them; but they muſt go, and bring the Goſpel to their Doors. Go ye. They had doted on Chriſt's Bodlily Preſence, and hung upon that, and built all their Joys and Hopes upon that; but now Chriſt diſchargeth them from further Attendance on his Perſon, and ſends them abroad about other Work. As an Eagle ſtirs up her Neſt, flutters over her Young, to excite them to fly, Deut. 32. 11. So Chriſt ſtirs up his Diſciples to diſperſe themſelves into all the World. (2.) 'Tis given to their Succeſſors, the Miniſters of the Goſpel, whoſe Buſineſs it is to tranſmit the Goſpel from Age to Age, to the end of the World in time, as it was theirs to tranſmit it from Nation to Nation, to the end of the World in place, and no leſs neceſſary. The Old Teſtament Promiſe of a Goſpel-Miniſtry is made to a Succeſſion, Iſa. 59. 21. and this here muſt be underſtood, otherwiſe how could Chriſt be with them always to the Conſummation of the World. Chriſt at his Aſcenſion gave, not only Apoſtles and Prophets, but Paſtors and Teachers, Eph. 4. 11. Now obſerve,

1. How far his Commiſſion is extended, to all Nations. Go, and Diſciple all Nations; not that they muſt go all together into every place, but by conſent diſperſe themſelves in ſuch manner as might beſt diffuſe the Light of the Goſpel. Now this plainly ſignifies it to be the Will of Chriſt, (1.) That the Covenant of Peculiarity made with the Jews ſhould now be cancell'd and diſannull'd. This Word broke down the middle Wall of Partition, which had ſo long excluded the Gentiles from a viſible Church-ſtate; and whereas the Apoſtles, who firſt ſent out, were forbidden to go into the Way of the Gentiles; now they were ſent to all Nations. (2.) That Salvation by Chriſt ſhould be offer'd to all, and none excluded that did not by their own Unbelief and Impenitence exclude themſelves. The Salvation they were to Preach is a common Salvation, whoever will, let him come and take the benefit of the Act of Indemnity; for there is no Difference of Jew or Greek in Chriſt Jeſus. (3.) That Chriſtianity ſhould be twiſted in with National Conſtitutions, that the Kingdoms of the World ſhould become Chriſt's Kingdoms, and their Kings the Churches Nurſing Fathers.

2. What is the principal Intention of this Commiſſion to Diſciple all Nations. Μαθητεύσατε. Admit them Diſciples, do your utmoſt to make the Nations Chriſtian Nations; not go to the Nations, and denounce the Judgments of God againſt them, as Jonah againſt Nineveh, and the Old Teſtament Prophets; tho' they had reaſon enough to expect it for their Wickedneſs, but go, and Diſciple them. Chriſt the Mediator is ſetting up a Kingdom in the World, bring the Nations to be his Subjects; ſetting up a School, bring the Nations to be his Scholars; raiſing an Army for the carrying on of the War againſt the Powers of Darkneſs, liſt the Nations of the Earth under his Banner. The Work which the Apoſtles had to do, was to ſet up the Chriſtian Religion in all Places, and it was honourable Work; the Atchievements of the mighty Heroes of the World was nothing to it. They conquer'd the Nations for themſelves, and made them miſerable, the Apoſtles conquer'd them for Chriſt, and made them happy.

3. Their Inſtructions for executing this Commiſſion.

1. They muſt admit Diſciples by the Sacred Right of Baptiſm; Go into all Nations, Preach the Goſpel to them, work Miracles among them, and perſuade them to come in themſelves, and bring their Children with them into the Church of Chriſt, and then admit them and theirs into the Church, by waſhing them with Water; either dipping them in the Water, or by pouring or ſprinkling Water upon them, which ſeems the more proper, becauſe the thing is moſt frequently expreſs'd ſo, as Iſa. 44. 3. I will pour my Spirit on thy Seed. And Tit. 3. 5, 6. Which he ſhed on us abundantly. And Ezek. 36. 25. I will ſprinkle clean Water upon you. And Iſa. 52. 15. So ſhall he ſprinkle many Nations, which ſeems a Prophecy of this Commiſſion to Baptize the Nations.

2. This Baptiſm muſt be Adminiſter'd, In the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghoſt. That is, (1.) by Authority from the Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt; the Baptiſm of Jeſus is from Heaven, and not of Man; for his Miniſters act by Authority from the three Perſons in the Godhead, who all concur as to our Creation, ſo to our Redemption; they have their Commiſſion under the Great Seal of Heaven, which puts an Honour upon the Ordinance, tho' to a carnal Eye, like him that inſtituted it, it has no Form of Comelineſs. (2.) Calling upon the Name of the Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt. Every thing is Sanctified by Prayer, and particularly the Waters of Baptiſm. The Prayer of Faith obtains the Preſence of God with the Ordinance, which is its Luſtre and Beauty, its Life and Efficacy. But (3.) it is into the Name (εἰς τὸ ὄνομα) of Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt; this was intended as the Summary of the firſt Principles of the Chriſtian Religion, and of the new Covenant, and according to it the antient Creeds were drawn up. By our being baptiz'd, we ſolemnly profeſs (1.) our Aſſent to the Scripture Revelation concerning God the Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt. We confeſs our Belief that there is a God, that there is but one God; that in the Godhead there is a Father that begets, a Son that is begotten, and a holy Spirit of both. We are Baptized, not into the Names, but into the Name of Father, Son, and Spirit, which plainly ſpeaks that theſe three are One, and their Name One. The diſtinct mentioning of the Three Perſons in the Trinity, both in the Chriſtian Baptiſm here, and in the Chriſtian Bleſſing, 2 Cor. 13. ult. as it is a full Proof of the Doctrine of the Trinity, ſo it has done much towards the preſerving of it pure and entire through all Ages of the Church; for nothing is more great and awful in Chriſtian Aſſemblies than theſe two. (2.) Our Conſent to a Covenant Relation to God the Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt. Baptiſm is a Sacrament, that is, it is an Oath, (Super Sacramentum dicere, is to ſay upon Oath.) It is an Oath of Abjuration, by which we renounce the World and the Fleſh, as Rivals with God for the Throne in our Hearts: And an Oath of Allegiance, by which we reſign, and give up our ſelves to God, to be his, our own ſelves, our whole ſelves, Body, Soul, and Spirit, to be govern'd by his Will, and made happy in his Favour; we become his Men, ſo the Form of Homage in our Law runs. Therefore Baptiſm is applied to the Perſon, as Livery and Seiſin is given of the Premiſes, becauſe it is the Perſon that is dedicated to God. (1.) 'Tis into the Name of the Father, believing him to be the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt (for that is principally intended here) by Eternal Generation, and our Father as our Creator, Preſerver, and Benefactor, to whom therefore we reſign our ſelves, as our abſolute Owner and Proprietor, to act for us, and diſpoſe of us; as our Supreme Rector and Governour, to rule us as free Agents by his Law, and as our chief Good, and higheſt End. (2.) 'Tis into the Name of the Son, the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, the Son of God, and correlate to the Father. Baptiſm was in a particular manner Adminiſter'd in the Name of the Lord Jeſus, Acts 8. 16.---19. 5. In Baptiſm we aſſent as Peter did, Thou art Chriſt, the Son of the Living God, Mat. 16. 16. And conſent, as Thomas did, My Lord, and my God, John 20. 28. We take Chriſt to be our Prophet, Prieſt, and King, and give up our ſelves to be taught, and ſav'd, and rul'd by him. (3.) 'Tis into the Name of the Holy Ghoſt. Believing the Godhead of the Holy Spirit, and his Agency in carrying on our Redemption, we give up our ſelves to his Conduct and Operation as our Sanctifier, Teacher, Guide, and Comforter.

3. Thoſe that are thus baptiz'd, and enroll'd among the Diſciples of Chriſt muſt be taught, v. 20. Teaching them to obſerve all things whatſoever I have commanded you. This ſpeaks two Things;

1. The Duty of Diſciples, of all Baptized Chriſtians; they muſt obſerve all things whatſoever Chriſt has commanded, and in order to that, muſt ſubmit to the Teaching of thoſe whom he ſends. Our Admiſſion into the viſible Church is in order to ſomething further; when Chriſt hath Diſcipled us, he hath not done with us; he liſts Soldiers, that he may train them up for his Service.

All that are Baptiz'd, are thereby oblig'd (1.) to make the Command of Chriſt their Rule; there is a Law of Faith, and we are ſaid to be under the Law to Chriſt; we are by Baptiſm bound, and muſt obey. (2.) To obſerve what Chriſt has commanded. Due Obedience to the Commands of Chriſt requires a diligent Obſervation; we are in danger of miſſing, if we take not good heed. And in all our Obedience, we muſt have an Eye to the Command, and do what we do as unto the Lord. (3.) To obſerve all things that he hath commanded, without Exception; all the Moral Duties, and all the inſtituted Ordinances. Our Obedience to the Laws of Chriſt is not ſincere, if it be not univerſal; we muſt ſtand compleat in his whole Will. (4.) To confine themſelves to the Commands of Chriſt, and as not to diminiſh from them, ſo not to add to them. (5.) To learn their Duty according to the Law of Chriſt, for thoſe whom he has appointed to be Teachers in his School; for therefore we were enter'd into his School.

2. The Duty of the Apoſtles of Chriſt, and his Miniſters, and that is, to teach the Commands of Chriſt, to expound them to his Diſciples, to preſs upon them the Neceſſity of Obedience, and to aſſiſt them in applying the general Commands of Chriſt to particular Caſes. They muſt teach them, not their own Inventions, but the Inſtitutions of Chriſt; to them they muſt religiouſly adhere, and in the knowledge of them Chriſtians muſt be trained up. A ſtanding Miniſtry is hereby ſettled in the Church, for the edifying of the Body of Chriſt, till we all come to the perfect Man, Eph. 4. 11, 12, 13. The Heirs of Heaven, till they come to Age, muſt be under Tutors and Governours.

Thirdly, Here's the Aſſurance he gives them of his Spiritual Preſence with them in the Execution of this Commiſſion. And lo, I am with you always even unto the end of the World. This exceeding great and precious Promiſe is uſher'd in with a behold, to ſtrengthen their Faith, and engage their Obſervation of it. Take notice of this, 'tis what you may aſſure your ſelves of, and venture upon. Obſerve here,

1. The Favour promis'd them, I am with you. Not, I will be with you, but I am. ἐγώ εἰμι. As God ſent Moſes, ſo Chriſt ſent his Apoſtles, by this Name, I am; for he is God, to whom paſt, preſent, and to come, are the ſame. See Rev. 1. 8. He was now about to leave them, his bodily Preſence was now to be removed from them, and this griev'd them; but he aſſures them of his Spiritual Preſence, which was more expedient for them than his bodily Preſence could be. I am with you, i. e. my Spirit is with you, the Comforter ſhall abide with you, John 16. 7. I am with you, and not againſt you; with you to take your part, to be on your ſide, and to hold with you, as Michael our Prince is ſaid to do, Dan. 10. 21. I am with you, and not abſent from you, not at a Diſtance; I am a very preſent help, Pſal. 46. 1. Chriſt was now ſending them to ſet up his Kingdom in the World, which was a great Undertaking; And then doth he ſeaſonably promiſe them his Preſence with them, (1.) to carry them on through the Difficulties they were likely to meet with. I am with you to bear you up, to plead your Cauſe; with you in all your Services, in all your Sufferings, to bring you through them with Comfort and Honour. When you go through the Fire, or Water, I will be with you. In the Pulpit, in the Priſon, lo, I am with you. (2.) To ſucceed this great Undertaking; Lo, I am with you, to make your Miniſtry effectual for the Diſcipling of the Nations, for the pulling down of the Strong-holds of Satan, and the ſetting up of ſtronger for the Lord Jeſus. 'Twas an unlikely thing that they ſhould unhinge National Conſtitutions in Religion, and turn the Stream of ſo long a Uſage, that they ſhould eſtabliſh a Doctrine ſo directly contrary to the Genius of the Age, and perſuade People to become the Diſciples of a Crucified Jeſus; but lo, I am with you, and therefore you ſhall gain your Point.

2. The continuance of the Favour, always, even unto the end of the world.

1. They ſhall have his conſtant Preſence always, πάσας τὰς ἡμέρας all Days, every Day; I'll be with you on Sabbath-days, on Week-days, fair Days and foul Days, Winter-days and Summer-days. There is no Day, no Hour of the Day, in which our Lord Jeſus is not preſent with his Churches, and with his Miniſters, if there were, that Day, that Hour, they were undone. Since his Reſurrection he had appear'd to them now and then, once a Week it may be, and ſcarce that. But he aſſures them they ſhall have his Spiritual Preſence continued to them without Intermiſſion. Wherever we are, the Word of Chriſt is nigh us, even in our Mouth, and the Spirit of Chriſt nigh us, even in our Hearts. The God of Iſrael the Saviour, is ſometimes a God that hideth himſelf, Iſa. 45. 15. but never a God that abſenteth himſelf; ſometimes in the dark, but never at a diſtance.

2. They ſhall have his perpetual Preſence, even to the end of World. There is a World before us that will never have an end, but this is haſtening towards its Period, and even till then the Chriſtian Religion ſhall in one part of the World or other be kept up, and the Preſence of Chriſt continued with his Miniſters; I am with you to the end of the World, not with your Perſons, they died quickly, but with you and your Writings: There is a Divine Power going along with the Scriptures of the New Teſtament, not only preſerving them in being, but producing ſtrange Effects by them, which will continue to the end of Time, (2.) with you and your Succeſſors; with you, and all the Miniſters of the Goſpel in the ſeveral Ages of the Church; with all to whom this Commiſſion extends, with all that being duly called and ſent, thus Baptize, and thus Teach. When the end of the World is come, and the Kingdom deliver'd up to God, even the Father; there will then be no further need of Miniſters, and their Miniſtration, but till then they ſhall continue, and the great Intentions of the Inſtitution ſhall be anſwer'd. This is an encouraging word to all the faithful Miniſters of Chriſt, that what was ſaid to the Apoſtles, was ſaid to them all, I will never leave thee, nor forſake thee.

Two ſolemn Farewels we find our Lord Jeſus giving to his Church, and his parting word at both of them is very encouraging; one was here when he clos'd up his perſonal Converſe with them, and then his parting word was, Lo, I am with you always; I leave you, and yet ſtill I am with you; the other was when he clos'd up the Canon of the Scripture by the Pen of his beloved Diſciple, and then his parting word was, Surely, I come quickly. I leave you for a while, but I'll be with you again ſhortly, Rev. 22. 20. By this it appears he did not part in Anger, but in Love, and that it is his Will we ſhould keep up both our Communion with him, and our Expectation of him.

There is one Word more remaining, which muſt not be overlook'd, and that's Amen; which is not a Cypher, intended only for a concluding word, like Finis at the end of a Book, but it has its Significancy. (1.) It ſpeaks Chriſt's Confirmation of this Promiſe, Lo, I am with you. 'Tis his Amen, in whom all the Promiſes are Yea, and Amen. Verily I am and will be with you; I, the Amen, the faithful Witneſs, do aſſure you of it. Or, (2.) it ſpeaks the Churches Concurrence with it in their Deſire, and Prayer, and Expectation. It is the Evangeliſt's Amen, ſo be it, bleſſed Lord. Our Amen to Chriſt's Promiſes turns them into Prayers. Hath Chriſt promiſed to be preſent with his Miniſters, preſent in his Word, preſent in the Aſſemblies of his People, tho' but two or three are gathered together in his Name, and this always even to the end of the World? Let us heartily ſay, Amen to it; believe that it ſhall be ſo, and pray that it may be ſo: Lord, Remember this Word unto thy Servants, upon which thou haſt cauſed us to hope.

OF THE
Goſpel according to St. MARK.
WITH PRACTICAL OBSERVATIONS.

We have heard the Evidence given in by the firſt Witneſs to the Doctrine and Miracles of our Lord Jeſus; and now here is another Witneſs produc'd, who calls for our Attention. The ſecond Living Creature ſaith, Come and See, Rev. 6. 3. Now let us enquire a little, (1.) Concerning this Witneſs. His Name is Mark. Marcus was a Roman Name, and a very common one, and yet we have no Reaſon to think, but that he was by Birth a Jew; but as Saul when he went among the Nations took the Roman Name of Paul, ſo he of Mark, his Jewiſh Name perhaps being Mardocai, ſo Grotius. We read of John, whoſe Sirname was Mark, Siſter's Son to Barnabas, whom Paul was diſpleas'd with, Acts 15. 37, 38. But afterwards had a great Kindneſs for, and not only order'd the Churches to receive him, Col. 4. 10. but ſent for him to be his Aſſiſtant, with this Encomium, He is profitable to me for the Miniſtry, 2 Tim. 4. 11. And he reckons him among his Fellow-Labourers, Philem. 24. We read of Marcus whom Peter calls his Son, having been an Inſtrument of his Converſion, 1 Pet. 5. 13. Whether that was the ſame with the other; and if not, which of them was the Penman of this Goſpel, is altogether uncertain. 'Tis a Tradition very current among the Ancients, that St. Mark wrote this Goſpel under the Direction of St. Peter, and that it was confirm'd by his Authority; ſo Hieron. Catal. Script. Eccleſ. Marcus Diſcipulus & Interpres Petri, juxta quod Petrum referentem audierat, legatus Roma à Fratribus, breve ſcripſit Evangelium; and Tertullian ſaith, Adv. Marcion. lib. 4. cap. 5. Marcus quod edidit, Petri affirmetur, cujus Interpres Marcus. But as Dr. Whitby very well ſuggeſts, What need we have Recourſe to the Authority of Peter for the Support of this Goſpel, or to ſay with St. Jerom, that Peter approv'd it, and recommended it by his Authority to the Church to be read, when, tho' 'tis true Mark was no Apoſtle, yet we have all the Reaſon in the World to think, that both He and Luke were of the Number of the Seventy Diſciples, who companied with the Apoſtles all along, Acts 1. 21. Who had a Commiſſion like that of the Apoſtles, Luke 10. 19. compar'd with Mark 16. 18. And who, 'tis highly probable, received the Holy Ghoſt when they did, Acts 1. 15. 2. 1. So that it is no Diminution at all to the Validity or Value of this Goſpel, that Mark was not one of the Twelve, as Matthew and John were. St. Jerom ſaith, that after the writing of this Goſpel he went into Egypt, and was the firſt that preached the Goſpel at Alexandria, where he founded a Church, to which he was a Great Example of Holy Living. Conſtituit Eccleſiam tantâ Doctrinâ & vitæ continentiâ, ut omnes Sectatores Chriſti ad Exemplum ſui cogeret.

(2.) Concerning this Teſtimony. Mark's Goſpel (1.) is but ſhort, much ſhorter than Matthew's, not giving ſo full an Account of Chriſt's Sermons as that did, but inſiſting chiefly on his Miracles. (2.) It is very much a Repetition of what we had in Matthew, many remarkable Circumſtances being added to the Stories there related, but not many new Matters. When many Witneſſes are call'd to prove the ſame Fact, upon which Judgment is to be given, it is not thought tedious, but highly neceſſary, that they ſhould each of them relate it in their own Words, again and again, that by the Agreement of the Teſtimony the Thing may be eſtabliſhed; and therefore we muſt not think this Book of Scripture needleſs; for it is written not only to confirm our Belief that Jeſus is the Chriſt the Son of God, but to put us in mind of Things which we have read in the foregoing Goſpel, that we may give the more earneſt heed to them, leſt at any Time we let them ſlip; and even pure Minds have need to be thus ſtirr'd up by way of remembrance. 'Twas fit that ſuch great Things as theſe ſhould be ſpoken and written, once, yea, twice, becauſe Man is ſo unapt to perceive them, and ſo apt to forget them. There is no ground for the Tradition, that this Goſpel was written firſt in Latin, tho' it was written at Rome; it was written in Greek, as was St. Paul's Epiſtle to the Romans, the Greek being the more univerſal Language.

CHAP. I.

Mark's Narrative takes not riſe ſo early as thoſe of Matthew and Luke do, from the Birth of our Saviour, but from John's Baptiſm, from which he preſently paſſeth to Chriſt's publick Miniſtry. Accordingly in this Chapter, we have, (1.) The Office of John Baptiſt, illuſtrated by the Prophecy of him, v. 1.---3. and the Hiſtory of him, v. 4.---8. (2.) Chriſt's Baptiſm, and his being own'd from Heaven, v. 9.---11. (3.) His Temptation, v. 12, 13. (4.) His Preaching, v. 14, 15, 21, 22, 38, 39. (5.) His calling Diſciples, v. 16.---20. (6.) His Praying, v. 35. (7.) His working Miracles. (1.) His rebuking an unclean Spirit, v. 23.---28. (2.) His curing Peter's Mother-in-Law, that was ill of a Fever, v. 29.---31. (3.) His healing all that came to him, v. 32, 34, 35. (4.) His cleanſing a Leper, v. 40.---45.

THE beginning of the Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt the Son of God, 2 As it is written in the Prophets, Behold, I ſend my meſſenger before thy face, which ſhall prepare thy way before thee. 3 The voice of one crying in the wilderneſs, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths ſtraight. 4 John did baptize in the wilderneſs, and preach the Baptiſm of repentance, for the remiſſion of ſins. 5 And there went out unto him all the land of Judea, and they of Jeruſalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confeſſing their ſins. 6 And John was cloathed with camels hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins: and he did eat locuſts and wild honey; 7 And preached, ſaying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whoſe ſhoes I am not worthy to ſtoop down and unlooſe. 8 I indeed have baptized you with water: but he ſhall baptize you with the holy Ghoſt.

We may obſerve here,

Firſt, What the New Teſtament is; The Divine Teſtament, to which we adhere above all that is human. The New Teſtament, to which we advance above that which was Old. It is the Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt the Son of God, v. 1. (1.) It is Goſpel; it is God's Word, and is faithful and true, ſee Rev. 19. 9. 21. 5. 22. 6. it is a good Word, and well worthy of all Acceptation, it brings us glad Tidings. (2.) It is the Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt, the anointed Saviour, the Meſſiah promis'd and expected. The foregoing Goſpel began with the Generation of Jeſus Chriſt, that was but Preliminary, this comes immediately to the Buſineſs, the Goſpel of Chriſt. 'Tis call'd his, not only becauſe he is the Author of it, and it comes from him, but becauſe he is the Subject of it, and it treats wholly concerning him. (3.) This Jeſus is the Son of God. That Truth is the Foundation on which the Goſpel is built, and which it is written to demonſtrate, for if Jeſus be not the Son of God, our Faith is vain.

Secondly, What the reference of the New Teſtament is to the Old, and its Coherence with it. The Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt begins, and ſo we ſhall find it goes on, juſt as it is written in the Prophets, v. 2. for it ſaith no other Thing, than thoſe which the Prophets and Moſes ſaid ſhould come, Acts 26. 22. which was moſt proper and powerful for the Conviction of the Jews, that believ'd the Old Teſtament Prophets to be ſent of God, and ought to evidence, that they did ſo by welcoming the Accompliſhment of their Prophecies in its Seaſon; but is of uſe to us all, for the Confirmation of our Faith both in the Old Teſtament and in the New; for the exact Harmony that there is between both, ſhews that they both have the ſame Divine Original.

Quotations are here borrow'd from two Prophecies. That of Iſaiah, which was the longeſt, and That of Malachi, which was the lateſt, (and there were above Three Hundred Years between them) that both ſpoke to the ſame Purpoſe concerning the Beginning of the Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt, in the Miniſtry of John.

1. Malachi, in whom we had the Old Teſtament Farewel, ſpoke very plainly, Chap. 3. 1. concerning John Baptiſt, who was to give the New Teſtament Welcome, Behold, I ſend my Meſſenger before thy Face, v. 2. Chriſt himſelf had taken Notice of this, and applied it to John, Mat. 11. 10. who was God's Meſſenger ſent to prepare Chriſt's way.

2. Iſaiah, the moſt-Evangelical of all the Prophets, begins the Evangelical Part of his Prophecy with this, which points to the beginning of the Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt, Iſa. 40. 3. The Voice of him that crieth in the Wilderneſs, v. 3. Matthew had taken notice of this, and applied it to John, Chap. 3. 3. But from theſe Two put together here, we may obſerve, (1.) That Chriſt in his Goſpel comes among us, bringing with him a Treaſure of Grace, and a Sceptre of Government. (2.) Such is the Corruption of the World, that it is ſomething to do to make room for him, and to remove that which gives not only Obſtruction, but Oppoſition to his Progreſs. (3.) When God ſent his Son into the World he took Care, and when he ſends him into the Heart, he takes Care, effectual Care, to prepare his way before him; for the Deſigns of his Grace ſhall not be fruſtrated; nor may any expect the Comforts of that Grace, but ſuch as by Conviction of Sin, and Humiliation for it, are prepar'd for thoſe Comforts, and diſpos'd to receive them. (4.) When the Paths that were crooked are made ſtraight, the Miſtakes of the Judgment rectified, and the crooked Ways of the Affections, then way is made for Chriſt's Comforts. (5.) 'Tis in a Wilderneſs, for ſuch this World is, that Chriſt's Way is prepar'd, and theirs that follow him, like that which Iſrael paſſed through to Canaan. (6.) The Meſſengers of Conviction and Terror, that come to prepare Chriſt's way, are God's Meſſengers, whom he ſends and will own, and muſt be receiv'd as ſuch. (7.) They that are ſent to prepare the Way of the Lord, in ſuch a vaſt howling Wilderneſs as this is, have need to cry aloud, and not ſpare, and to lift up their Voice like a Trumpet.

Thirdly, What the Beginning of the New Teſtament was. The Goſpel began in John Baptiſt; for the Law and the Prophets were until John the only Divine Revelation, but the Kingdom of God began to be preach'd, Luke 16. 16. Peter begins from the Baptiſm of John, Acts 1. 22. The Goſpel did not begin ſo ſoon as the Birth of Chriſt, for he took Time to increaſe in Wiſdom and Stature, nor ſo late as his entring upon his Publick Miniſtry, but half a Year before, when John began to preach the ſame Doctrine that Chriſt afterwards preach'd. His Baptiſm was the dawning of the Goſpel-Day; for,

1. In John's way of living there was the Beginning of a Goſpel Spirit, for it ſpoke great Self-Denial, Mortification of the Fleſh, a Holy Contempt of the World, and Nonconformity to it, which may truly be call'd the Beginning of the Goſpel of Chriſt in any Soul, v. 6. He was clothed with Camels Hair, not with ſoft Raiment, was girt, not with a golden but a Leathern Girdle; and in contempt of Dainties and delicate Things, his Meat was Locuſts and wild Honey. Note, The more we ſit looſe to the Body, and live above the World, the better we are prepar'd for Jeſus Chriſt.

2. In John's Preaching and Baptizing there was the beginning of the Goſpel Doctrine and Ordinances, and the firſt Fruits of them. (1.) He preach'd the Remiſſion of Sins, which is the great Goſpel Privilege, ſhew'd People their need of it, that they were undone without it, and that it might be obtain'd. (2.) He preach'd Repentance in order to it; he told People that there muſt be a Renovation of their Hearts, and a Reformation of their Lives, that they muſt forſake their Sins and turn to God, and upon thoſe Terms, and no other, their Sins ſhould be forgiven. Repentance for the Remiſſion of Sins, was what the Apoſtles were commiſſion'd to preach to all Nations, Luke 24. 47. (3.) He preach'd Chriſt, and directed his Hearers to expect him ſpeedily to appear, and to expect great Things from him. The Preaching of Chriſt is pure Goſpel, and that was John Baptiſt's Preaching, v. 7, 8. Like a true Goſpel Miniſter he preacheth, (1.) The great Preheminence Chriſt is advanced to; ſo high, ſo great is Chriſt, that John, tho' one of the greateſt that was born of Women, yet thinks himſelf unworthy to be employ'd in the meaneſt Office about him, even to ſtoop down and untie his Shoes. Thus induſtrious is he to give Honour to him, and brings others to do ſo too. (2.) The great Power Chriſt is inveſted in. He comes after me in Time, but he is mightier than I, mightier than the mighty Ones of the Earth, for he is able to baptize with the Holy Ghoſt; He can give the Spirit of God, and by him govern the Spirits of Men. (3.) The great Promiſe Chriſt makes in his Goſpel to thoſe who have repented, and have had their Sins forgiven them; they ſhall be baptized with the Holy Ghoſt, ſhall be purified by his Graces, and refreſh'd by his Comforts. And, laſtly, All thoſe who received his Doctrine, and ſubmitted to his Inſtitution, he baptized with Water, as the manner of the Jews was to admit Proſelytes, in Token of their cleanſing themſelves by Repentance and Reformation, which was the Duty requir'd; and of God's cleanſing them both by Remiſſion and by Sanctification, which were the Bleſſings promis'd. Now this was afterwards to be advanc'd into a Goſpel Ordinance, which John's uſing it was a Preface to.

3. In the Succeſs of John's Preaching, and the Diſciples he admitted by Baptiſm, there was the Beginning of a Goſpel Church. He baptiz'd in the Wilderneſs, and declin'd going into the Cities, but there went out unto him all the Land of Judea, and they of Jeruſalem, Inhabitants both of City and Country, Families of them, and were all baptiz'd of him: They enter'd themſelves his Diſciples, and bound themſelves to his Diſcipline; and in Token of that they confeſs'd their Sins; he admitted them his Diſciples, and in Token of that baptiz'd them. Here were the Stamina of the Goſpel Church, the Dew of its Youth from the Womb of the Morning, Pſal. 110. 3. Many of theſe afterwards became Followers of Chriſt, and Preachers of his Goſpel, and this Grain of Muſtard-ſeed became a Tree.

9 And it came to paſs in thoſe days, that Jeſus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan. 10 And ſtraightway coming up out of the water, he ſaw the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a Dove deſcending upon him. 11 And there came a voice from heaven, ſaying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleaſed. 12 And immediately the Spirit driveth him into the wilderneſs. 13 And he was there in the wilderneſs forty days tempted of Satan, and was with the wild beaſts, and the Angels miniſtred unto him.

We have here a brief Account of Chriſt's Baptiſm, and Temptation, which were largely related, Mat. 3. and 4.

Firſt, His Baptiſm, which was his firſt publick Appearance, after he had long liv'd obſcurely in Nazareth. O how much hidden worth is there, which in this World is either loſt in the Duſt of Contempt, and cannot be known, or wrapt up in the Veil of Humility, and will not be known. But ſooner or later it ſhall be known, as Chriſt's was.

1. See how humbly he own'd God, by coming to be baptized of John, and thus it became him to fulfil all Righteouſneſs. Thus he took upon him the Likeneſs of ſinful Fleſh, that tho' he was perfectly pure and unſpotted, yet he was waſhed, as if he had been polluted; and thus for our ſakes he ſanctified himſelf, that we alſo might be ſanctified, and be baptized with him, John 17. 19.

2. See how honourably God own'd him, when he ſubmitted to John's Baptiſm. Thoſe who juſtifie God, as they are ſaid to do who were baptized with the Baptiſm of John, he will glorifie them, Luke 7. 29, 30.

1. He ſaw the Heavens open'd; thus he was own'd to be the Lord from Heaven, and had a Glimpſe of the Glory and Joy that was ſet before him, and ſecur'd to him as the Recompence of his Undertaking. Matthew ſaith, the Heavens were open'd to him. Mark ſaith, he ſaw them open'd; many have the Heavens open'd to receive them, but they do not ſee it; Chriſt had not only a clear Foreſight of his Sufferings, but of his Glory too.

2. He ſaw the Spirit like a Dove deſcending upon him. Note, Then we may ſee Heaven open'd to us, when we perceive the Spirit deſcending and working upon us. God's good Work in us is the ſureſt Evidence of his good Will towards us, and his Preparations for us. Juſtin Martyr ſaith, that when Chriſt was baptiz'd, a Fire was kindled in Jordan: And it is an ancient Tradition, that a great Light ſhone round the Place, for the Spirit brings both Light and Heat.

3. He heard a Voice which was intended for his Encouragement to proceed in his Undertaking, and therefore 'tis here expreſs'd, as directed to him, Thou art my Beloved Son. God lets him know, (1.) That he lov'd him never the leſs for that low and mean Eſtate to which he had now humbled himſelf; tho' thus emptied and made of no Reputation, yet my beloved Son ſtill. (2.) That he lov'd him much the more for that glorious and kind Undertaking, in which he had now engag'd himſelf. God is well pleaſed in him, as Referee of all Matters in Controverſie between him and Man; and ſo well pleas'd in him, as to be well pleas'd with us in him.

Secondly, His Temptation. The good Spirit that deſcended upon him, led him into the Wilderneſs, v. 12. Paul mentions it as a Proof, That he had his Doctrine from God, and not from Man, that as ſoon as he was call'd, he went not to Jeruſalem, but went into Arabia, Gal. 1. 17. Retirement from the World is an Opportunity of more free Converſe with God, and therefore muſt ſometimes be choſen for a while, even by thoſe that are call'd to the greateſt Buſineſs. Mark obſerves this Circumſtance of his being in the Wilderneſs, that he was with the wild Beaſts. It was an Inſtance of his Father's Care of him, that he was preſerv'd from being torn in Pieces by the wild Beaſts, which encouraged him the more, that his Father would provide for him when he was hungry. Special Protections are Earneſts of ſeaſonable Supplies. It was likewiſe an Intimation to him of the Inhumanity of the Men of that Generation, whom he was to live among, no better than wild Beaſts in the Wilderneſs, nay abundantly worſe. In that Wilderneſs,

1. The Evil Spirits were buſie with him; He was tempted of Satan; not by any inward Injections: the Prince of this World had nothing in him to faſten upon, but by outward Sollicitations. Solitude often gives Advantage to the Tempter, therefore two is better than one. Chriſt himſelf was tempted, not only to teach us, that it is no Sin to be tempted, but to direct us whither to go for Succour when we are tempted, even to him that ſuffer'd being tempted; that he might experimentally ſympathize with us when we are tempted.

2. The Good Spirits were buſie about him; the Angels miniſter'd to him, ſupply'd him with what he needed, and dutifully attended him. Note, The Miniſtration of the good Angels about us, is Matter of great Comfort in Reference to the malicious Deſigns of the evil Angels againſt us; but much more doth it befriend us to have the Indwelling of the Spirit in our Hearts, which they that have, are ſo born of God, that as far as they are ſo the Evil One toucheth them not, much leſs ſhall he Triumph over them.

14 Now after that John was put in Priſon, Jeſus came into Galilee, preaching the Goſpel of the kingdom of God; 15 And ſaying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye and believe the Goſpel. 16 Now as he walked by the ſea of Galilee, he ſaw Simon, and Andrew his brother, caſting a net into the Sea (for they were fiſhers) 17 And Jeſus ſaid unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fiſhers of men. 18 And ſtraightway they forſook their nets, and followed him. 19 And when he had gone a little further thence, he ſaw James the ſon of Zebedee, and John his brother, who alſo were in the ſhip mending their nets. 20 And ſtraightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ſhip, with the hired ſervants, and went after him. 21 And they went into Capernaum, and ſtraightway on the ſabbath day he entered into the Synagogue, and taught. 22 And they were aſtoniſhed at his Doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the ſcribes.

Here's 1. A general Account of Chriſt's Preaching in Galilee. John gives an Account of his Preaching in Judea before this, Chap. 2 and 3. which the other Evangeliſts had omitted, who chiefly relate what occurr'd in Galilee, becauſe that was leaſt known at Jeruſalem. Obſerve,

1. When Jeſus began to preach in Galilee. After that John was put in priſon. When he had finiſhed his Teſtimony, then Jeſus began his. Note, The ſilencing of Chriſt's Miniſters ſhall not be the ſuppreſſing of Chriſt's Goſpel; if ſome be laid aſide, others ſhall be raiſed up, perhaps mightier than they, to carry on the ſame Work.

2. What he preach'd; The Goſpel of the Kingdom of God; Chriſt came to ſet up the Kingdom of God among Men, that they might be brought into Subjection to it, and might obtain Salvation in it; and he ſet it up by the preaching of his Goſpel, and a Power going along with it.

Obſerve (1.) The great Truths Chriſt preach'd. The Time is fulfilled, and the Kingdom of God is at hand. This refers to the Old Teſtament, in which the Kingdom of the Meſſiah was promis'd, and the Time fix'd for the introducing of it; they were not ſo well vers'd in thoſe Prophecies, nor did they ſo well obſerve the Signs of the Times, as to underſtand it themſelves, and therefore Chriſt gives them Notice of it. The Time prefix'd is now at hand; glorious Diſcoveries of Divine Light, Life and Love, are now to be made, a New Diſpenſation, far more ſpiritual and heavenly than that which you have hitherto been under, is now to commence. Note, God keeps Time; when the Time is fulfill'd, the Kingdom of God is at hand, for the Viſion is for an appointed Time, which will be punctually obſerv'd, tho' it tarry paſt our Time.

(2.) The great Duties inferr'd from thence; Chriſt gave them to underſtand the Times, that they might know what Iſrael ought to do; they fondly expected the Meſſiah to appear in external Pomp and Power, not only to free the Jewiſh Nation from the Roman Yoke, but to make it have Dominion over all its Neighbours, and therefore thought when that Kingdom of God was at hand, they muſt prepare for War, and for Victory and Preferment, and great Things in the World; but Chriſt tells them, in the Proſpect of that Kingdom approaching, they muſt repent, and believe the Goſpel. They had broken the Moral Law, and could not be ſav'd by a Covenant of Innocency, for both Jew and Gentile are concluded under Guilt: They muſt therefore take the Benefit of a Covenant of Grace, muſt ſubmit to a Remedial Law, and this is it, Repentance towards God, and Faith towards our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. They had not made uſe of the preſcribed Preſervatives, and therefore muſt have Recourſe to the preſcribed Reſtoratives. By Repentance we muſt lament and forſake our Sins, and by Faith we muſt receive the Forgiveneſs of them. By Repentance we muſt give Glory to our Creator, whom we have offended; by Faith we muſt give Glory to our Redeemer, who came to ſave us from our Sins. Both theſe muſt go together; we muſt not think either that reforming our Lives will ſave us, without truſting in the Righteouſneſs and Grace of Chriſt; nor that truſting in Chriſt will ſave us, without the Reformation of our Hearts and Lives. Chriſt hath join'd theſe Two together, and let no Man think to put them aſunder. They will mutually aſſiſt and befriend each other. Repentance will quicken Faith, and Faith will make Repentance Evangelical; and the Sincerity of both together muſt be evidenced by a diligent conſcientious Obedience to all God's Commandments. Thus the Preaching of the Goſpel began, and thus it continues; ſtill the Call is, Repent and Believe, and live a Life of Repentance, and a Life of Faith.

2. Chriſt appearing as a Teacher, here is next his calling of Diſciples, v. 16—20. Obſerve (1.) Chriſt will have Followers. If he ſet up a School he will have Scholars; if he ſet up his Standard he will have Soldiers; if he preach, he will have Hearers. He has taken an effectual Courſe to ſecure this, for all that the Father has given him ſhall without fail come to him. (2.) The Inſtruments Chriſt choſe to employ in ſetting up his Kingdom were the weak and fooliſh things of the World: not call'd from the Great Sanhedrin, or the Schools of the Rabbins, but pick'd up from among the Tarpaulins by the Sea-ſide, that the Excellency of the Power might appear to be wholly of God, and not at all of them. (3.) Tho' Chriſt needs not the Help of Man, yet he is pleas'd to make uſe of it in ſetting up his Kingdom, that he might deal with us, not in a formidable but a familiar Way, and that in his Kingdom the Nobles and Governours may be of our ſelves, Jer. 30. 21. (4.) Chriſt puts Honour upon thoſe, who, tho' mean in the World, are diligent in their Buſineſs, and loving to one another; ſo thoſe were whom Chriſt call'd. He found them employ'd, and employ'd together. Induſtry and Unity are good and pleaſant, and there the Lord Jeſus commands the Bleſſing, even this Bleſſing, Follow me. (5.) The Buſineſs of Miniſters is to fiſh for Souls, and win them to Chriſt. The Children of Men in their natural Condition are loſt, and wander endleſly in the great Ocean of this World, and are carry'd down the Stream of its Courſe and Way, they are unprofitable. Like Leviathan in the Waters, they play therein; and often, like the Fiſhes of the Sea, they devour one another. Miniſters in preaching the Goſpel, caſt the Net into the Waters, Mat. 13. 47. Some are incloſ'd and brought to Shore, but far the greater Number eſcape. Fiſhermen take great Pains, and expoſe themſelves to great Perils, ſo do Miniſters; and they have need of Wiſdom. If many a Draught brings home nothing, yet they muſt go on. (6.) Thoſe whom Chriſt calls, muſt leave all to follow him; and by his Grace he inclines them to do ſo. Not that we muſt needs go out of the World preſently, but we muſt ſit looſe to the World, and forſake every Thing that is inconſiſtent with our Duty to Chriſt, and which cannot be kept without Prejudice to our Souls. Mark takes notice of James and John, that they left not only their Father; ther, which we had in Matthew, but the hired Servants, whom perhaps they lov'd as their own Brethren, being their Fellow-Labourers, and pleaſant Comrades; not only Relations but Companions, muſt be left for Chriſt, and old Acquaintance. Perhaps it is an Intimation of their Care for their Father, they did not leave him without Aſſiſtance, they left the hir'd Servants with him. Grotius thinks 'tis mention'd as an Evidence that their Calling was gainful to them, for it was worth while to keep Servants in pay to help them in it, and their Hands would be much miſs'd, and yet they left it.

3. Here's a particular Account of his Preaching in Capernaum, one of the Cities of Galilee; for tho' John Baptiſt choſe to preach in a Wilderneſs, and did well, and did good, yet it doth not therefore follow that Jeſus muſt do ſo too; the Inclinations and Opportunities of Miniſters may very much differ, and yet both be in the way of their Duty, and both uſeful. Obſerve, (1.) When Chriſt came into Capernaum, he ſtraightway applied himſelf to his Work there, and took the firſt Opportunity of Preaching the Goſpel. Thoſe will think themſelves concern'd not to loſe Time, who conſider what a deal of Work they have to do, and what a little Time to do it in. (2.) Chrtſt religiouſly obſerv'd the Sabbath Day, tho' not by tying himſelf up to the Tradition of the Elders in all the Niceties of the Sabbath Reſt, yet (which was far better) by applying himſelf to, and abounding in the Sabbath-work, in order to which the Sabbath-Reſt was inſtituted. (3.) Sabbaths are to be ſanctified in Religious Aſſemblies, if we have Opportunity; it is a Holy Day, and muſt be honour'd with a Holy Convocation; this was the good old Way, Acts 13. 27. 15. 21. On the Sabbath-Day, τοῖς σαββασιν, on the Sabbath-Days; every Sabbath-Day, as duly as it returned, he went into the Synagogue. (4.) In Religious Aſſemblies on Sabbath-Days the Goſpel is to be preached, and thoſe to be taught, who are willing to learn the Truth as it is in Jeſus. (5.) Chriſt was a Non-ſuch Preacher; he did not preach as the Scribes, who expounded the Law of Moſes by rote, as a School-boy ſaith his Leſſon, but were neither acquainted with it (Paul himſelf when a Phariſee was ignorant of the Law) nor affected with it; it came not from the Heart, and therefore came not with Authority. But Chriſt taught as one that had Authority, as one that knew the Mind of God, and was commiſſion'd to declare it. (6) There is much in the Doctrine of Chriſt that is aſtoniſhing; the more we hear it, the more Cauſe we ſhall ſee to admire it.

23 And there was in their Synagogue a man with an unclean ſpirit, and he cried out, 24 Saying, Let us alone, what have we to do with thee, thou Jeſus of Nazareth? Art thou come to deſtroy us? I know thee who thou art, the holy One of God? 25 And Jeſus rebuked him, ſaying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. 26 And when the unclean ſpirit had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him. 27 And they were all amazed, inſomuch that they queſtioned among themſelves, ſaying, What thing is this? What new doctrine is this? For with Authority commandeth he even the unclean ſpirits, and they do obey him. 28 And immediately his fame ſpread abroad throughout all the region round about Galilee.

As ſoon as Chriſt began to preach, he began to work Miracles for the Confirmation of his Doctrine; and they were ſuch as intimated the Deſign and Tendency of his Doctrine, which was to conquer Satan, and cure ſick Souls.

In theſe Verſes we have,

Firſt, Chriſt's caſting the Devil out of a Man that was poſſeſs'd, in the Synagogue at Capernaum. This Paſſage was not related in Matthew, but is afterwards in Luke, v. 23. There was in the Synagogue a Man with an unclean Spirit, ἐν πνεύματι ἀκαθάρτῳ. In an unclean Spirit; for the Spirit had the Man in his Poſſeſſion, and led him Captive at his Will. So the whole World is ſaid to lie ἐν τῷ πονηρῷ, in the wicked One. And ſome have thought it more proper to ſay the Body is in the Soul, becauſe it is govern'd by it, than the Soul in the Body. He was in the unclean Spirit, as a Man is ſaid to be in a Fever, or in a Frenzy, quite overcome by it. Obſerve, The Devil is here call'd an unclean Spirit, becauſe he has loſt all the Purity of his Nature, becauſe he acts in direct Oppoſition to the Holy Spirit of God, and becauſe with his Suggeſtions he pollutes the Spirits of Men. This Man was in the Synagogue, he did not come either to be taught or to be healed, but as ſome think to confront Chriſt and oppoſe him, and hinder People from believing on him. Now here we have,

1. The Rage which the unclean Spirit expreſs'd at Chriſt. He cried out, as one in an Agony, at the Preſence of Chriſt, and afraid of being diſlodg'd; thus the Devils believe and tremble, have a Horror of Chriſt, but no Hope in him, nor Reverence for him. We are told what he ſaid, v. 24. where he doth not go about to capitulate with him, or make Terms, ſo far was he from being in League or Compact with him; but ſpeaks as one that knew his Doom. (1) He calls him Jeſus of Nazareth, and for ought appears, he was the firſt that call'd him ſo, and he did it with Deſign to poſſeſs the Minds of the People with low Thoughts of him, becauſe no good Thing was expected out of Nazareth, and with Prejudice againſt him as a Deceiver, becauſe every Body knew the Meſſiah muſt be of Bethlehem. (2) Yet a Confeſſion is extorted from him, that he is the Holy One of God, as was from the Damſel that had the Spirit of Divination concerning the Apoſtles, that they were the Servants of the moſt High God, Acts 16. 16, 17. Thoſe who have only a Notion of Chriſt, that he is the Holy One of God, and have no Faith in him, or Love to him, go no further than the Devil doth. (3.) He in Effect acknowledgeth that Chriſt was too hard for him, and that he could not ſtand before the Power of Chriſt; let us alone, for if thou take us to Task we are undone, thou canſt deſtroy us. This is the Miſery of thoſe wicked Spirits, that they perſiſt in their Rebellion, and yet know it will end in their Deſtruction. (4.) He deſires to have nothing to do with Jeſus Chriſt, for he deſpairs of being ſaved by him, and dreads being deſtroy'd by him. What have we to do with thee? If thou wilt let us alone, we will let thee alone. See whoſe Language they ſpeak that ſay to the Almighty depart from us. This being an unclean Spirit, therefore hated and dreaded Chriſt, becauſe he knew him to be a Holy One; for the carnal Mind is Enmity againſt God, eſpecially againſt his Holineſs.

2. The Victory which Jeſus Chriſt obtain'd over the unclean Spirit; for this Purpoſe was the Son of God manifeſted, that he might deſtroy the Works of the Devil, and ſo he makes it to appear; nor will he be turned back from proſecuting this War, either by his Flatteries or by his Menaces. 'Tis in vain for Satan to beg and pray, Let us alone, his Power muſt be broken, and the poor Man muſt be relieved, and therefore (1.) Jeſus commands: As he taught, ſo he heal'd with Authority. Jeſus rebuked him, He chid him, and threaten'd him, impos'd Silence upon him. Hold thy Peace; φιμώθητι, Be muzzled; Chriſt has a Muzzle for that unclean Spirit when he fawns, as well as when he barks; ſuch Acknowledgments of him as this was, Chriſt diſdains, ſo far is he from accepting them. Thoſe that confeſs Chriſt to be the Holy One of God, that under the Cloak of that Profeſſion, they may carry on malicious, miſchievous Deſigns, their Confeſſion is doubly an Abomination to the Lord Jeſus, as it ſues in his Name for a Licenſe to Sin, and ſhall therefore be put to Silence and Shame. But this is not all, he muſt not only hold his Peace, but he muſt come out of the Man; this was it he dreaded, his being reſtrain'd from doing farther Miſchief. But, (2.) The unclean Spirit yields, for there's no Remedy, v. 26. He tore him, put him into a ſtrong Convulſion; that one could have thought he had been pull'd in Pieces; when he would not touch Chriſt, in Fury at him he grievouſly diſturb'd this poor Creature. Thus when Chriſt by his Grace delivers poor Souls out of the Hands of Satan, it is not without a grievous Toſs and Tumult in the Soul; for that ſpiteful Enemy will diſquiet thoſe whom he cannot deſtroy. He cried with a loud Voice, to frighten the Spectators, and make himſelf ſeem terrible, as if he would have it thought, that tho' he was conquer'd, he was but juſt conquer'd, and that he hoped to rally again, and recover his Ground.

Secondly, The Impreſſions which this Miracle made upon the Minds of the People, v 27, 28.

1. It aſtoniſh'd them that ſaw it. They were all amaz'd. 'Twas evident beyond Contradiction that the Man was poſſeſs'd, witneſs the tearing of him, and the loud Voice with which the Spirit cried, 'twas evident he was forced out by the Authority of Chriſt; this was ſurprizing to them, and put them upon conſidering with themſelves, and enquiring of one another, What is this new Doctrine? for it muſt certainly be of God which is thus confirm'd. He hath certainly an Authority to command us, who hath Ability to command even the unclean Spirits, and they cannot reſiſt him, but are forc'd to obey him. The Jewiſh Exorciſts pretended by Charm or Invocation to drive away evil Spirits, but this was quite another Thing; with Authority he commands them. Surely it is our Intereſt to make him our Friend, who has the Controul of infernal Spirits.

2. It rais'd his Reputation among all that heard it. Immediately his Fame ſpread abroad into the whole adjacent Region of Galilee, which was a Third Part of the Land of Canaan. The Story was preſently got into every one's Mouth, and People wrote it to their Friends all the Country over, together with the Remark made upon it. What new Doctrine is this? So that it was univerſally concluded, that he was a Teacher come from God, and under that Character he ſhone more bright, than if he had appear'd in all the external Pomp and Power, which the Jews expected their Meſſiah to appear in; and thus he prepar'd his own Way; now John, who was his Harbinger, was clapt up; and the Fame of this Miracle ſpread the further, becauſe as yet the Phariſees, who envy'd his Fame, and labour'd to eclipſe it, had not advanc'd their blaſphemous Suggeſtion, that he caſt out Devils by Compact with the Prince of the Devils.

29 And forthwith when they were come out of the Synagogue, they entred into the houſe of Simon and Andrew, with James and John. 30 But Simon's wives mother lay ſick of a fever: and anon they tell him of her. 31 And he came and took her by the hand, and lift her up, and immediately the fever left her, and ſhe miniſtred unto them. 32 And at even, when the Sun did ſet, they brought unto him all that were diſeaſed, and them that were poſſeſſed with devils. 33 And all the city was gathered together at the door. 34 And he healed many that were ſick of divers diſeaſes, and caſt out many devils, and ſuffered not the devils to ſpeak, becauſe they knew him. 35 And in the morning, riſing up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a ſolitary place, and there prayed. 36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him. 37 And when they had found him, they ſaid unto him, All men ſeek for thee. 38 And he ſaid unto them, Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there alſo: For therefore came I forth. 39 And he preached in their Synagogues throughout all Galilee, and caſt out devils.

In theſe Verſes we have,

Firſt, A particular Account of one Miracle that Chriſt wrought in the Cure of Peter's Wife's Mother, that was ill of a Fever. This Paſſage we had before in Matthew. Obſerve,

1. When Chriſt had done that which ſpread his Fame throughout all Parts, he did not then ſit ſtill, as ſome think they may lie in Bed when their Name's up. No, he continued to do good, for that was it he aim'd at, and not his own Honour. Nay, thoſe who are in Reputation had need be buſie and careful to keep it up.

2. When he came out of the Synagogue, where he had taught and heal'd with a Divine Authority, yet he convers'd familiarly with the poor Fiſhermen that attended him, and did not think it below him. Let the ſame Mind, the ſame lowly Mind be in us, that was in him.

3. He went into Peter's Houſe, probably invited thither to ſuch Entertainment as a poor Fiſherman could give him, and he accepted of it. The Apoſtles left all for Chriſt, ſo far as that what they had ſhould not hinder them from him, yet not ſo, but that they might uſe it for him.

4. He cur'd his Mother-in-law that was ſick; wherever Chriſt comes, he comes to do Good, and will be ſure to pay richly for his Entertainment. Obſerve, how compleat the Cure was, when the Fever left her, it did not as uſually leave her weak, but the ſame Hand that heal'd her ſtrengthen'd her, ſo that ſhe was able to miniſter to them: The Cure is in order to that, to fit for Action, that we may miniſter to Chriſt, and to thoſe that are his, for his ſake.

Secondly, A general Account of many Cures he wrought. Diſeaſes heal'd, Devils expell'd; 'twas at the Even of the Sabbath, when the Sun did ſet, or was ſet; perhaps many ſcrupled bringing their ſick to him, till the Sabbath was over, but their Weakneſs therein was no Prejudice to them in applying to Chriſt. Tho' he prov'd it lawful to heal on the Sabbath-Days, yet if any ſtumbled at it, they were welcome at another time. Now obſerve,

1. How numerous the Patients were; All the City was gather'd at the Door, as Beggars at a Dole. That one Cure in the Synagogue occaſion'd this crowding after him. Others ſpeeding well with Chriſt, ſhould quicken us in our Enquiries after him. Now the Sun of Righteouſneſs riſeth with healing under his Wings; to him ſhall the gathering of the People be. Obſerve, how Chriſt was flock'd after in a private Houſe, as well as in the Synagogue; where-ever he is, there let his Servants, his Patients be. And in the Evening of the Sabbath, when the Publick Worſhip is over, we muſt continue our Attendance upon Jeſus Chriſt; He heal'd, as Paul preach'd, publickly, and from Houſe to Houſe.

2. How powerful the Phyſician was; He heal'd all that were brought to him, tho' never ſo many. Nor was it ſome one particular Diſeaſe, that Chriſt ſet up for the Cure of, but he heal'd thoſe that were ſick of divers Diſeaſes, for his Word was a Panpharmacon, a Salve for every Sore. And that Miracle particularly which he wrought in the Synagogue, he repeated in the Houſe at Night, for he caſt out many Devils, and ſuffer'd not the Devils to ſpeak, for he made them know who he was, and that ſilenc'd them. Or, he ſuffer'd them not to ſay that they knew him, ſo it may be read; He would not permit any more of them to ſay as they did, v. 24. I know thee, who thou art.

Thirdly, His Retirement to his private Devotion, v. 35. He pray'd, pray'd alone; to ſet us an Example of ſecret Prayer. Tho' as God he was pray'd to, as Man he pray'd. Tho' he was glorifying God, and doing Good in his publick Work, yet he found Time to be alone with his Father; and thus it became him to fulfil all Righteouſneſs. Now obſerve,

1. The Time when Chriſt pray'd. (1.) It was in the Morning, the Morning after the Sabbath-Day. Note, When a Sabbath-Day is over and paſt, we muſt not think that we may intermit our Devotion till the next Sabbath: No, tho' we go not to the Synagogue, we muſt go to the Throne of Grace, every Day in the Week; and the Morning after the Sabbath particularly, that we may preſerve the good Impreſſions of the Day. This Morning was the Morning of the firſt Day of the Week, which afterwards he ſanctified, and made remarkable by another ſort of riſing early. (2.) It was early, a great while before Day. When others were aſleep in their Beds he was praying, as a genuine Son of David, who ſeeks God early, and directs his Prayer in the Morning; nay, and at Midnight will riſe to give Thanks. It has been ſaid that the Morning is a Friend to the Muſes (Aurora Muſis amica) and 'tis no leſs ſo to the Graces. When our Spirits are moſt freſh and lively, then we ſhould take Time for devout Exerciſes. He that is the firſt and beſt, ought to have the firſt and beſt.

2. The Place where he pray'd: He departed into a ſolitary Place, either out of Town, or ſome remote Garden or Out-building. Tho' he was in no Danger of Diſtraction, or of Temptation to Vain-glory, yet he retir'd, to ſet us an Example to his own Rule, When thou prayeſt enter into thy Cloſet. Secret Prayer muſt be made ſecretly. Thoſe that have the moſt Buſineſs in Publick, and of the beſt Kind, yet muſt ſometimes be alone with God; muſt retire into ſolitude, there to converſe with God, and keep up Communion with him.

Fourthly, His Return to his publick Work. The Diſciples thought they were up early, but found their Maſter was up before them, and they enquir'd which way he went, follow'd him to his ſolitary Place, and there found him at Prayer, v. 36, 37. and told him, he was much wanted, there were a great many Patients waiting for him: All Men ſeek for thee. They were proud that their Maſter was become ſo popular already, and would have him appear in Publick, yet more in that Place, becauſe it was their own City; and we are apt to be partial to the Places we know, and are intereſted in. No, ſaith Chriſt, Capernaum muſt not have the Monopoly of the Meſſiah's Preaching and Miracles. Let us go into the next Towns, the Villages that lie about here, that I may preach there alſo, and work Miracles there, for therefore came I forth, not to be conſtantly reſident in one Place, but to go about doing Good. Even the Inhabitants of the Villages in Iſrael, ſhall rehearſe the righteous Acts of the Lord, Judg. 5. 11. Obſerve, Chriſt had ſtill an Eye to the End wherefore he came forth, and cloſely purſu'd that; nor will he be drawn by Importunity, or the Perſuaſions of his Friends, to decline from that; for v. 39. He preached in their Synagogues throughout all Galilee, and to illuſtrate and confirm his Doctrine, he caſt out Devils. Note, Chriſt's Doctrine is Satan's Deſtruction.

40 And there came a leper to him, beſeeching him, and kneeling down to him, and ſaying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canſt make me clean. 41 And Jeſus moved with compaſſion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and ſaith unto him, I will, be thou clean. 42 And aſſoon as he had ſpoken, immediately the leproſie departed from him, and he was cleanſed. 43 And he ſtraightly charged him, and forthwith ſent him away; 44 And ſaith unto him, See thou ſay nothing to any man: But go thy way, ſhew thy ſelf to the prieſt, and offer for thy cleanſing thoſe things which Moſes commanded, for a teſtimony unto them. 45 But he went out, and began to publiſh it much, and to blaze abroad the matter; inſomuch that Jeſus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in deſert places: And they came to him from every quarter.

We have here the Story of Chriſt's cleanſing of a Leper, which we had before Mat. 8. 2. And it teaches us,

1. How to apply our ſelves to Chriſt; come as this Leper did, (1.) With great Humility; this Leper came beſeeching him, and kneeling down to him; v. 40. Whether giving Divine Honour to him as God, or rather a leſs Degree of Reſpect as a Great Prophet, it teaches us, That thoſe who would receive Grace and Mercy from Chriſt, muſt aſcribe Honour and Glory to Chriſt, and approach to him with Humility and Reverence. (2.) With a firm Belief of his Power; thou canſt make me clean. Tho' Chriſt's outward Appearance was but mean, yet he had this Faith in his Power, which implies his Belief that he was ſent of God. He believes it with Application, not only in general, thou canſt do every Thing, as John 11. 22. but thou canſt make me clean. Note, What we believe of the Power of Chriſt, we muſt bring home to our particular Caſe; thou canſt do this for me. (3.) With Submiſſion to the Will of Chriſt; Lord, if thou wilt. Not as if he had any doubt of Chriſt's Readineſs in general to help the Diſtreſſed, but with the Modeſty that became a poor Petitioner, he refers his own particular Caſe to him.

2. What to expect from Chriſt; that according to our Faith it ſhall be to us. His Addreſs is not in the Form of Prayer, yet Chriſt anſwer'd it as a Requeſt. Note, Affectionate Profeſſions of Faith in Chriſt, and Reſignations to him, are the moſt prevailing Petitions for Mercy from him, and ſhall ſpeed accordingly. (1.) Chriſt was moved with Compaſſion. This is added here in Mark, to ſhew that Chriſt's Power is employ'd by his Pity for the Relief of poor Souls. That his Reaſons are fetch'd from within himſelf, and we have nothing in us to recommend us to his Favour, but our Miſery makes us the Objects of his Mercy. And what he doth for us, he doth with all poſſible Tenderneſs. (2.) He put forth his Hand, and touched him. He exerted his Power, and direĉted it to this Creature. In healing Souls Chriſt toucheth them, 1 Sam. 20. 26. When the Queen toucheth for the Evil, ſhe ſaith, I touch, God heals, but Chriſt toucheth and heals too. (3.) He ſaid, I will, be thou clean. Chriſt's Power was put forth in and by a Word, to ſignifie in what Way Chriſt would ordinarily work ſpiritual Cures, He ſends his Word and heals, Pſal. 107. 20. John 17. 17. 15. 3. The poor Leper put an if upon the Will of Chriſt, if thou wilt? but that Doubt is ſoon put out of doubt, I will. Chriſt moſt readily wills Favours to thoſe that moſt readily refer themſelves to his Will. He was confident of Chriſt's Power, thou canſt make me clean, and Chriſt will ſhew how much his Power is drawn out into Aĉt by the Faith of his People, and therefore ſpeaks the Word as one having Authority, Be thou clean. And Power accompanied this Word, and the Cure was perfeĉt in an Inſtant, immediately his Leproſy vaniſhed, and there remain'd no more Sign of it, v. 42.

3. What to do when we have receiv'd Mercy from Chriſt; We muſt with his Favours receive his Commands. When Chriſt had cur'd him, he ſtriĉtly charged him; The Word here is very ſignificant, ἐμβριμησάμενος, graviter interminatus. I am apt to think this refers not to the Direĉtions he gave him to conceal it, v. 44. for thoſe are mentioned by themſelves; but that this was ſuch a Charge as he gave to the impotent Man whom he cur'd, John 5. 14. Go, ſin no more, leſt a worſe thing come to thee; for the Leproſy was ordinarily the Puniſhment of ſome particular Sinners in Miriam's, Gehazi's, and Uzziah's Caſe; now when Chriſt heal'd him, he warn'd him, he threaten'd him with the fatal Conſequence of it, if he ſhould return to ſin again. He alſo appointed him (1.) To ſhew himſelf to the Prieſt, that the Prieſt by his own Judgment of this Leper, might be a Witneſs for Chriſt, that he was the Meſſiah, Mat. 11. 5. (2.) Till he had done that, not to ſay any thing of it to any Man: This is an Inſtance of the Humility of Chriſt, and his Self-denial, that he did not ſeek his own Honour, did not ſtrive or cry, Iſa. 42. 2. And it is an Example to us not to ſeek our own Glory, Prov. 25. 27. He muſt not proclaim it, becauſe that would much increaſe the Crowd that follow'd Chriſt, which he thought was too great already; nor as if he were unwilling to do good to all, to as many as came; but he would do it with as little Noiſe as might be, would have no Offence given to the Government, no Diſturbance of the publick Peace, nor any thing done that look'd like Oſtentation, or an Affeĉtation of popular Applauſe. What to think of the Leper's publiſhing it, and blazing it abroad, I know not; the Concealment of the good Charaĉters, and good Works of good Men, better become them than their Friends; nor are we always bound by the modeſt Commands of humble Men. The Leper ought to have obſerv'd his Orders, yet no doubt it was with a good Deſign that he proclaim'd the Cure, and it had no other ill Effeĉt, but that it increas'd the Multitudes that follow'd Chriſt, to that Degree, that he could no more openly enter into the City; not upon the Account of Perſecution, there was no Danger of that yet; but becauſe the Crowd was ſo great, that the Streets would not hold them, which oblig'd him to go into deſart Places, to a Mountain, Chap. 3. 13. to the Sea ſide, Chap. 4. 1. This ſhews how expedient it was for us, that Chriſt ſhould go away, and ſend the Comforter, for his Bodily Preſence could be but in one Place at a Time; and thoſe that came to him from every Quarter could not get near him; but by his ſpiritual Preſence, he is with his People wherever they are, and comes to them to every Quarter.

CHAP. II.

In this Chapter we have (1.) Chriſt's healing a Man that was ſick of a Palſy, v. 1—12. (2.) His calling Matthew from the Receipt of Cuſtom, and his eating, upon that Occaſion, with Publicans and Sinners, and juſtifying himſelf in ſo doing, v. 13—17. (3.) His juſtifying his Diſciples in not faſting ſo much as thoſe of the Phariſees did, v. 18—22. (4.) His juſtifying them in plucking the Ears of Corn on the Sabbath Day, v. 23—28. All which Paſſages we had before, Matt. 9 and 12.

AND again he entred into Capernaum after ſome days, and it was noiſed that he was in the houſe. 2 And ſtraightway many were gathered together, inſomuch that there was no room to receive them, not ſo much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them. 3 And they come unto him, bringing one ſick of the palſy, which was born of four. 4 And when they could not come nigh unto him for the preſs, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the ſick of the palſy lay. 5 When Jeſus ſaw their faith, he ſaid unto the ſick of the palſy, Son, thy ſins be forgiven thee. 6 But there were certain of the ſcribes ſitting there, and reaſoning in their hearts, 7 Why doth this man thus ſpeak blaſphemies? Who can forgive ſins, but God only? 8 And immediately when Jeſus perceived in his ſpirit, that they ſo reaſoned within themſelves, he ſaid unto them, Why reaſon ye theſe things in your hearts? 9 Whether is it eaſier to ſay to the ſick of the palſy, Thy ſins be forgiven thee: or to ſay, Ariſe, and take up thy bed, and walk? 10 But that ye may know that the ſon of man hath power on earth to forgive ſins, (he ſaith to the ſick of the palſy,) 11 I ſay unto thee, Ariſe, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine houſe. 12 And immediately he aroſe, took up the bed, and went forth before them all, inſomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, ſaying, We never ſaw it on this faſhion.

Chriſt having been for ſome Time preaching about in the Country, here returns to Capernaum his Head-Quarters, and makes his Appearance there, in hopes by this Time, the Talk and Crowd would be ſomewhat abated. Now obſerve,

1. The great Reſort there was to him. Tho' he was in the Houſe, either Peter's Houſe, or ſome Lodgings of his own which he had taken, yet People came to him as ſoon as it was noiſed that he was in Town; they did not ſtay till he appear'd in the Synagogue, which they might be ſure he would do on the Sabbath-Day, but ſtraightway many were gathered together to him. Where the King is, there is the Court; where Shiloh is, there ſhall the gathering of the People be. In improving Opportunities for our Souls, we muſt take Care not to loſe Time. One invited another, come let us go ſee Jeſus, ſo that his Houſe could not contain his Viſitants. There was no room to receive them, they were ſo numerous, no, not ſo much as about the Door. A bleſſed Sight to ſee People thus flying like a Cloud to Chriſt's Houſe, tho' it was but a poor one, and as the Doves to the Windows.

2. The good Entertainment Chriſt gave them, the beſt his Houſe would afford, and better than any other could, he preached the Word unto them, V. 2. Many of them, perhaps, came only for Cures, and many, perhaps, only for Curioſity, to get a Sight of him; but when he had them together he preached to them: Tho' the Synagogue Door was open to him at proper Times, he thought it not at all amiſs to preach in a Houſe, on a Week Day; tho' ſome might reckon it both an improper Place and an improper Time. Bleſſed are ye that ſow beſide all Waters, Iſa. 32. 20.

3. The preſenting of a poor Cripple to him to be help'd by him. The Patient was one ſick of the Palſy, it ſhould ſeem not as that, Mat. 8. 6. grievouſly tormented, but perfeĉtly diſabled, ſo that he was born of four, was carried upon a Bed, as if he had been upon a Bier by four Perſons: It was his Miſery that he needed to be ſo carried, and ſpeaks the calamitous State of human Life; it was their Charity who did ſo carry him, and ſpeaks the Compaſſion that 'tis juſtly expeĉted ſhould be in the Children of Men towards their Fellow-Creatures in Diſtreſs, becauſe we know not how ſoon the Diſtreſs may be our own. Theſe kind Relations or Neighbours thought, if they could but carry this poor Man once to Chriſt, they ſhould not need to carry him any more; and therefore made hard ſhift to get him to him; and when they could not otherwiſe get to him, they uncover'd the Roof where he was, V. 4. I ſee no Neceſſity to conclude, that Chriſt was preaching in an upper Room, tho' in ſuch the Jews that had ſtately Houſes had their Oratories; for then to what Purpoſe ſhould the Crowd ſtand before the Door, as Wiſdom's Clients us'd to do, Prov. 8. 34. But I rather conjeĉture, that the Houſe he was in was ſo little and mean, (agreeable to his preſent State) that it had no upper Room, but the Ground-floor was open to the Roof: And theſe Petitioners for the poor Paralytick, reſolving not to be baulk'd when they could not get through the Crowd at the Door, get their Friend by ſome Means or other to the Roof of the Houſe, took off ſome of the Tiles, and ſo let him down upon his Bed, with Cords into the Houſe where Chriſt was preaching. This ſpoke both their Faith, and their Fervency in this Addreſs to Chriſt. Hereby it appear'd, they were in Earneſt, and would not go away, nor let Chriſt go without a Bleſſing, Gen. 32. 26.

4. The kind word Chriſt ſaid to this poor Patient. He ſaw their Faith; perhaps not ſo much his, for his Diſtemper hinder'd him from the Exerciſe of Faith, but theirs that brought him. In curing the Centurion's Servant, Chriſt took Notice of it, as an Inſtance of his Faith, that he did not bring him to Chriſt, but believ'd he could cure him at a Diſtance; here he commended their Faith, becauſe they did bring their Friend through ſo much Difficulty. Note, True Faith and ſtrong Faith may work variouſly, conquering ſometimes the Objeĉtions of Reaſon, ſometimes thoſe of Senſe but it ſhall be accepted and approved by Jeſus Chriſt however. Chriſt ſaid, Son, thy Sins be forgiven thee. The Compellation is very tender, Son, intimating a fatherly Care of him, and Concern for him; Chriſt owns true Believers as his Sons: A Son, and yet ſick of the Palſie. Herein God deals with you as with Sons. The Cordial is very rich; thy Sins be forgiven thee. Note (1.) Sin is the procuring Cauſe of all our Pains and Sickneſſes. This Word of Chriſt was to take his Thoughts off from the Diſeaſe, which was the Effeĉt, and to lead them to the Sin, the Cauſe, that he might be more concern'd about that, to get that pardon'd. (2.) God doth then graciouſly take away the ſting and malignity of Sickneſs, when he forgives Sin; recovery from Sickneſs is then a Mercy indeed, when way is made for it by the Pardon of Sin. See Iſa. 38. 17. Pſalm 103. 3. The way to remove the Effect, is to take away the Cauſe. Pardon of Sin ſtrikes at the root of all Diſeaſes, and either cures them or alters their Property.

5. The Cavil of the Scribes at that which Chriſt ſaid, and a Demonſtration of the Unreaſonableneſs of their Cavil. They were Expoſitors of the Law, and their Doctrine was true, that it is Blaſphemy for any Creature to undertake the Pardon of Sin; 'tis God's Prerogative, Iſa. 43. 25. But, as is uſual with ſuch Teachers, their Application was falſe, and was the Effect of their Ignorance and Enmity to Chriſt. 'Tis true, none can forgive Sins but God only; but it is falſe, that therefore Chriſt cannot, who had abundantly prov'd himſelf to have a Divine Power. But, Chriſt perceived in his Spirit, that they ſo reaſon'd within themſelves; this proves him to be God, and therefore confirm'd what was to be prov'd, that he had Authority to forgive Sins; for he ſearched the Heart, and knew what was in Man, Rev. 2. 23. God's Royalties are inſeparable, and he that could know Thoughts, could forgive Sins. And this magnifies the Grace of Chriſt in pardoning Sin, that he knew Men's Thoughts, and therefore knows more than any other can know, both of the ſinfulneſs of their Sins, and the particulars of them, and yet is ready to pardon. Now he proves his Power to forgive Sin, by demonſtrating his Power to cure the Man ſick of the Palſie, v. 9, 10, 11. He would not have pretended to do the one, if he could not have done the other. That ye may know that the Son of Man, the Meſſiah, has Power on Earth to forgive Sin, that I have that Power, Thou that art Sick of the Palſie, ariſe, take up thy Bed. Now, (1.) This was a ſuitable Argument in it ſelf. He could not have cur'd the Diſeaſe, which was the Effect, if he could not have taken away the Sin, which was the Cauſe. And beſides, his curing Diſeaſes was a Figure of his pardoning Sin, for Sin is the Diſeaſe of the Soul; when 'tis pardon'd 'tis heal'd. He that could by a Word accompliſh the ſign, could doubtleſs perform the Thing ſignified. (2.) It was ſuited to them. Theſe carnal Scribes would be more affected with ſuch a ſenſible Effect of a Pardon, as the Cure of the Diſeaſe, and be ſooner convinc'd by it, than by any other more ſpiritual Conſequences; therefore it was proper enough to appeal, whether it is eaſier to ſay, Thy Sins be forgiven thee, or to ſay, Ariſe and walk. The removing of the Puniſhment as ſuch, was the remitting of the Sin; he that could go ſo far in the Cure, no doubt could perfect it. See Iſa. 33. ult.

6. The Cure of the ſick Man, and the Impreſſion it made upon the People, v. 12. He not only aroſe out of his Bed, perfectly well, but to ſhew that he had perfect Strength reſtor'd to him, he took up his Bed, becauſe it lay in the way, and went forth before them all; and they were all amazed, as well they might, and glorified God, as indeed they ought; Saying, We never ſaw it on this Faſhion, never were ſuch Wonders as theſe done before in our Time. Note, Chriſt's Works were without Precedent. When we ſee what he doth in healing Souls, we muſt own we never ſaw the like.

13 And he went forth again by the ſea-ſide, and all the multitude reſorted unto him, and he taught them. 14 And as he paſſed by, he ſaw Levi the ſon of Alpheus, ſitting at the receipt of cuſtom, and ſaid unto him, Follow me. And he aroſe and followed him. 15 And it came to paſs, that as Jeſus ſate at meat in his houſe, many Publicans and Sinners ſate alſo together with Jeſus and his diſciples: for there were many, and they followed him. 16 And when the Scribes and Phariſees ſaw him eat with Publicans and Sinners, they ſaid unto his diſciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with Publicans and Sinners? 17 When Jeſus heard it, he ſaith unto them, They that are whole, have no need of the Phyſician, but they that are ſick: I came not to call the righteous, but ſinners to repentance.

Here's, 1. Chriſt's preaching by the Sea-ſide, v. 3. Whither he went for Room, becauſe he found upon ſecond Trial, no Houſe or Street large enough to contain his Auditory; but upon the Strand there might come as many as would. It ſhould ſeem by this, that our Lord Jeſus had a ſtrong Voice, and could, and did ſpeak loud; for Wiſdom crieth without, in the Place of Concourſe. Where-ever he goes, tho' it be to the Sea-ſide, Multitudes reſort to him. Where-ever the Doctrine of Chriſt is faithfully preach'd, tho' it be driven into Corners, or into Deſarts, we muſt follow it.

2. His calling Levi, the ſame with Matthew, who had a Place in the Cuſtom-houſe at Capernaum, from which he was denominated a Publican; his Place fix'd him by the Water-ſide, and thither Chriſt went to meet with him, and to give him an Effectual Call. This Levi is here ſaid to be the Son of Alpheus, or Cleophas, Husband to that Mary, who was Siſter or near Kinſwoman to the Virgin Mary: and if ſo, he was own Brother to James the Leſs, and Jude, and Simon the Canaanite, ſo that there were four Brothers of them Apoſtles. 'Tis probable, that Matthew was but a looſe extravagant young Man, or elſe being a Jew, he would never have been a Publican. However, Chriſt call'd him to follow him. Paul, tho' a Phariſee, had been one of the chief of Sinners, and yet was call'd to be an Apoſtle. With God, through Chriſt, there is Mercy to pardon the greateſt Sins, and Grace to ſanctifie the greateſt Sinners. Matthew, that had been a Publican, became an Evangeliſt, the firſt that put Pen to Paper, and the fulleſt in writing the Life of Chriſt. Great Sin and Scandal before Converſion, is no Bar to great Gifts, Graces and Advancements after; nay, God may be the more glorified, Gal. 1. 6. Chriſt prevented him with this Call; in bodily Cures ordinarily he was ſought unto, but in theſe ſpiritual Cures, he was found of them that ſought him not. For this is the great Evil and Peril of the Diſeaſe of Sin, that thoſe that are under it, deſire not to be made whole.

3. His familiar Converſe with Publicans and Sinners, v. 15. We are here told, (1.) That Chriſt ſate at Meat in Levi's Houſe, who invited him and his Diſciples to the Farewel Feaſt he made to his Friends, when he left all to attend on Chriſt: Such a Feaſt he made, as Eliſha did, 1 Kings 19. 21. to ſhew not only with what Chearfulneſs in himſelf, but with what Thankfulneſs to God, he quitted all in Compliance with Chriſt's Call. Fitly did he make the Day of his Eſpouſals to Chriſt a Feſtival Day. This was alſo to teſtifie his Reſpects to Chriſt, and the grateful Senſe he had of his Kindneſs in ſnatching him from the Receipt of Cuſtom, as a Brand out of the Burning. (2.) That many Publicans and Sinners ſate with Chriſt in Levi's Houſe; for there were many belonging to that Cuſtom-Houſe, and they followed him. They follow'd Levi, ſo ſome underſtand it, ſuppoſing that like Zaccheus he was chief among the Publicans, and was rich; and for that Reaſon, the inferior ſort of them attended him, for what they could get. I rather take it, that they followed Jeſus, becauſe of the Report they had heard of him. They did not for Conſcience ſake leave all to follow him, but for Curioſity ſake they came to Levi's Feaſt to ſee him; whatever brought them there, they were ſitting with Jeſus and his Diſciples. The Publicans are here and elſewhere rank'd with Sinners, the worſt of Sinners: (1.) Becauſe commonly they were ſuch; ſo general were the Corruptions in the Execution of that Office, oppreſſing, exacting, and taking Bribes or Fees to Extortion, and accuſing falſly, Luke 3. 13.—19. A faithful fair-dealing Publican was ſo rare, even at Rome, that one Sabinus, who kept a clean Reputation in that Office, was after his Death honour'd with this Inſcription, καλῶς τελωνήσαντι. Here lies an Honeſt Publican. (2.) Becauſe the Jews had a particular Antipathy to them, and their Office, as an Affront to the Liberty of their Nation, and a Badge of their Slavery, and therefore put them into an ill Name, and thought it ſcandalous to be ſeen in their Company. Such as theſe our bleſſed Lord was pleas'd to converſe with, when he appeared in the Likeneſs of ſinful Fleſh.

4. The Offence, which the Scribes and Phariſees took at this, v. 16. They would not come to hear him preach, which they might have been convinc'd and edify'd by, but they would come themſelves to ſee him ſit with Publicans and Sinners, which they would be provok'd by. They endeavour'd to put the Diſciples out of Conceit with their Maſter, as a Man not of that Sanctity and ſevere Morals that became his Character; and therefore put the Queſtion to them, How is it, that he eateth and drinketh with Publicans and Sinners? Note, It is no new Thing, for that which is both well done, and well deſign'd, to be miſrepreſented, and turn'd to the Reproach of the wiſeſt and beſt of Men.

5. Chriſt's Juſtification of himſelf in it, v. 17. He ſtood to what he did, and would not withdraw, tho' the Phariſees were offended; as Peter afterwards did, Gal. 2. 12. Note, Thoſe are too tender of their own good Name, who to preſerve it with ſome nice People will decline a good Work. Chriſt would not do ſo. They thought the Publicans were to be hated: No, ſaith Chriſt, they are to be pity'd, they are ſick, and need a Phyſician; they are Sinners, and need a Saviour. They thought Chriſt's Character ſhould ſeparate him from them; no, ſaith Chriſt, my Commiſſion directs me to them; I came not to call the Righteous, but Sinners to Repentance. If the World had been Righteous, there had been no occaſion for my coming either to preach Repentance, or to purchaſe Remiſſion. 'Tis to a ſinful World that I am ſent, and therefore my Buſineſs lies moſt with thoſe that are the greateſt Sinners in it. Or thus; I am not come to call the Righteous, the proud Phariſees that think themſelves Righteous, that ask, wherein ſhall we return, Mal. 3. 7. of what ſhall we repent? But poor Publicans, that own themſelves to be Sinners, and are glad to be invited, and encourag'd to repent. It's good Dealing with thoſe that there is hopes of; now there's more Hope of a Fool, than of one that is wiſe in his own Conceit, Prov. 26. 12.

18 And the diſciples of John and of the Phariſees uſed to faſt; and they come, and ſay unto him, Why do the diſciples of John and of the Phariſees faſt, but thy diſciples faſt not? 19 And Jeſus ſaid unto them, Can the children of the Bride-chamber faſt, while the bridegroom is with them? As long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot faſt. 20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom ſhall be taken away from them, and then ſhall they faſt in thoſe days. 21 No man alſo ſeweth a piece of new cloth on an old garment:

elſe the new piece that filled it up, taketh away from the old, and the rent is made worſe. 22 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles, elſe the new wine doth burſt the bottles, and the wine is ſpilled, and the bottles will be marred: But new wine muſt be put into new bottles. 23 And it came to paſs, that he went through the corn-fields on the Sabbath-day, and his diſciples began as they went, to pluck the ears of corn. 24 And the Phariſees ſaid unto him, Behold, why do they on the Sabbath-day that which is not lawful? 25 And he ſaid unto them, Have ye never read what David did when he had need, and was an hungred, he, and they that were with him? 26 How he went into the houſe of God in the days of Abiathar the high Prieſt, and did eat the Shew-bread, which is not lawful to eat but for the prieſts, and gave alſo to them which were with him? 27 And he ſaid unto them, The Sabbath was made for man, and not man for the Sabbath: 28 Therefore the Son of man is Lord alſo of the Sabbath.

Chriſt had been put to juſtifie himſelf in converſing with Publicans and Sinners: Here he is put to juſtifie his Diſciples; and in what they do according to his Will, he will juſtifie them and bear them out.

Firſt, He juſtifies them in their not faſting, which was turn'd to their Reproach by the Phariſees; why do the Phariſees and the Diſciples of John faſt? They uſe to faſt, the Phariſees faſted twice in the Week, Luke 18. 12. and probably the Diſciples of John did ſo too; and it ſhould ſeem this very Day, when Chriſt and his Diſciples were feaſting in Levi's Houſe, was their Faſt-Day, for the Word is νηστεύουσι, they do faſt, or are faſting, which aggravated the Offence. Thus apt are ſtrict Profeſſors to make their own Practice a Standard, and to cenſure and condemn all that do not fully come up to it. They inviduouſly ſuggeſt, that if Chriſt went among Sinners to do them good, as he had pleaded, yet the Diſciples went to indulge their Appetites, for they never knew what it was to faſt or to deny themſelves. Note, Ill Will always ſuſpects the worſt.

Two Things Chriſt pleads in excuſe of his Diſciples not faſting.

1. That theſe were early Days with them, and Faſting was not ſo ſeaſonable now as it would be hereafter, v. 19, 20. There is a Time for all Things. Thoſe that enter into the married State muſt expect Care, and trouble in the Fleſh, and yet during the Nuptial Solemnity they are merry, and think it becomes them to be ſo; it was very abſurd for Sampſon's Bride to weep before him during the Days that the Feaſt laſted, Judg. 14. 17. Chriſt and his Diſciples were but newly married, the Bridegroom was yet with them, the Nuptials were yet in the celebrating; Matthew's particularly; when the Bridegroom ſhould be remov'd from them to the far Country about his Buſineſs, then would be a proper Time to ſit as a Widow, in ſolitude and faſting.

2. That theſe were early Days with them, and they were not ſo able for the ſevere Exerciſe of Religion, as hereafter they would be. The Phariſees had long accuſtom'd themſelves to ſuch Auſterities; and John Baptiſt himſelf, neither eating nor drinking. His Diſciples from the firſt inur'd themſelves to Hardſhip, and came the eaſier to bear ſtrict and frequent Faſting, but it was not ſo with Chriſt's Diſciples; their Maſter came eating and drinking, and had not bred them up to the difficult Services of Religion as yet, for it was all in good Time. To put them upon ſuch frequent Faſting at firſt would be a Diſcouragement to them, and perhaps drive them off from following Chriſt; would be of as ill Conſequence as putting new Wine into old Casks, or ſowing new cloth to that which is worn thin and thread-bare, v. 21, 22. Note, God graciouſly conſiders the Frame of young Chriſtians, that are weak and tender, and ſo muſt we; nor muſt we expect more, but the Work of the Day in its Day, and that Day according to the Strength, becauſe it is not in our Hands to give Strength according to the Day. Many contract an Antipathy to ſome kind of Food, otherwiſe good, by being ſurfeited with it when they are young; ſo many entertain Prejudices againſt the Exerciſes of Devotion by being burthen'd with them; and made to ſerve with an Offering, at their ſetting out. Weak Chriſtians muſt take heed of over-tasking themſelves, and of making the Yoke of Chriſt otherwiſe than as it is, eaſie, and ſweet, and pleaſant.

Secondly, He juſtifies them in plucking the Ears of Corn on the Sabbath-Day, which I'll warrant you a Diſciple of the Phariſees would not dare to have done; for it was contrary to an expreſs Tradition of their Elders. In this Inſtance, as in that before, they reflect upon the Diſcipline of Chriſt's School, as if it were not ſo ſtrict as that of theirs: So common is it for thoſe that deny the Power of Godlineſs, to be zealous for the Form, and cenſorious of thoſe who affect not their Form.

Obſerve, (1.) What a poor Breakfaſt Chriſt's Diſciples had on a Sabbath-Day Morning, when they were going to Church, v. 23. they pluck'd the Ears of Corn, and that was the beſt they had. They were ſo intent upon ſpiritual Dainties, that they forgot even their neceſſary Food; and the word of Chriſt was to them inſtead of that; and their Zeal for it even eat them up. The Jews made it a piece of Religion to eat dainty Food on Sabbath-Days, but the Diſciples were content with any Thing.

2. How even this was grudg'd them by the Phariſees, upon Suppoſition that it was not lawful to pluck the Ears of Corn on the Sabbath-Day, that that was as much a ſervile Work as Reaping, v. 24. Why do they on the Sabbath-Day that which is not lawful? Note, If Chriſt's Diſciples do that which is unlawful, Chriſt will be reflected upon, and upbraided with it, as he was here, and Diſhonour will redound to his Name. 'Tis obſervable, that when the Phariſees thought Chriſt did amiſs, they told the Diſciples, v. 16. and now when they thought the Diſciples did amiſs, they ſpoke to Chriſt; as Make-bates, that did what they could to ſow Diſcord between Chriſt and his Diſciples, and make a Breach in the Family.

3. How Chriſt defended them in what they did.

1. By Example. They had a good Precedent for it in David's eating the Shew-Bread, when he was hungry, and there was no other Bread to be had, v. 25, 26. Have ye never read? Note, Many of our Miſtakes would be rectified, and our unjuſt Cenſures of others corrected, if we would but recollect what we have read in the Scripture; Appeals to that are moſt convincing. You have read that David, the Man after God's own Heart, when he was hungry, made no Difficulty of eating the Shew-Bread, which by the Law none might eat of, but the Prieſts and their Families. Note, Ritual Obſervances muſt give way to Moral Obligations; and that may be done in a Caſe of Neceſſity, which otherwiſe may not be done. This 'tis ſaid David did in the Days of Abiathar the High-Prieſt; or, juſt before the Days of Abiathar, who immediately ſucceeded Abimelech his Father in the Pontificate; and 'tis probable, was at that Time his Father's Deputy, or Aſſiſtant in the Office; and he it was that eſcap'd the Maſſacre, and brought the Ephod to David.

2. By Argument. To reconcile them to the Diſciples plucking the Ears of Corn. Let them conſider,

1. Who the Sabbath was made for, v. 27. It was made for Man, and not Man for the Sabbath. This we had not in Matthew. The Sabbath is a Sacred and Divine Inſtitution, but we muſt receive and embrace it as a Privilege and a Benefit, not as a Task and a Drudgery. (1.) God never deſign'd it to be an Impoſition upon us, and therefore we muſt not make it ſo to our ſelves; Man was not made for the Sabbath, for he was made a Day before the Sabbath was inſtituted. Man was made for God, and for his Honour and Service, and he muſt rather die than deny him; but he was not made for the Sabbath, ſo as to be ty'd up by the Law of it, from that which is neceſſary to the Support of his Life. (2) God did deſign it to be an Advantage to us, and ſo we muſt make it, and improve it. He made it for Man. 1. He had ſome regard to our Bodies in the Inſtitution, that they might reſt, and not be tir'd out with the conſtant Buſineſs of this World, Deut. 5. 14. That thy Man-ſervant, and thy Maid-ſervant may reſt. Now he that intended the Sabbath-Reſt for the Repoſe of our Bodies, certainly never intended it ſhould reſtrain us in a Caſe of Neceſſity from fetching in the neceſſary Supports of the Body; it muſt be conſtru'd, ſo as not to contradict it ſelf, for Edification, and not for Deſtruction. 2. He had much more regard to our Souls; the Sabbath was made a Day of Reſt, only in order to its being a Day of Holy Work, a Day of Communion with God, a Day of Praiſe and Thankſgiving; and the reſt from worldly Buſineſs is therefore neceſſary, that we may cloſely apply our ſelves to this Work, and ſpend the whole Time in it, in Publick, Private, and Secret; but then Time is allow'd us for that which is neceſſary to the fitting of our Bodies for the Service of our Souls in God's Service; and the enabling of them to keep Pace with them in their Work. See here, (1.) What a good Maſter we ſerve, all whoſe Inſtitutions are for our own Benefit, and if we be ſo wiſe as to obſerve them, we are wiſe for our ſelves; 'tis not he, but we that are Gainers by our Service. (2.) What we ſhould aim at in our Sabbath Work, even the Good of our own Souls. If the Sabbath was made for Man, we ſhould then aſk our ſelves at Night, what am I the better for this Sabbath-Day? (3.) What care we ought to take, not to make thoſe Exerciſes of Religion, Burthens to our ſelves or others, which God ordain'd to be Bleſſings; not only not by unreaſonable Strictneſs added to the Command, but not by indulging thoſe Corruptions which are adverſe to the Command, for thereby we make thoſe devout Exerciſes a Penance to our ſelves, which otherwiſe would be a Pleaſure.

2. Who the Sabbath was made by, v. 28. The Son of Man is Lord alſo of the Sabbath; and therefore he will not ſee the kind Intentions of the Inſtitution of it fruſtrated by your Impoſitions. Note, The Sabbath-Days are Days of the Son of Man: He is the Lord of the Day, and to his Honour it muſt be obſerv'd; By him God made the Worlds, and ſo it was by him that the Sabbath was firſt inſtituted; by him God gave the Law at Mount Sinai, and ſo the Fourth Commandment was his Law; and that little Alteration, ration that was ſhortly to be made by the ſhifting of it, one Day forward to the firſt Day of the Week, was to be in remembrance of his Reſurrection, and therefore the Chriſtian Sabbath was to be call'd the Lord's Day, Rev. 1. 10. the Lord Chriſt's Day; and the Son of Man, Chriſt as Mediator, is always to be look'd upon as Lord of the Sabbath. This Argument he largely inſiſts upon in his own Juſtification, when he was charg'd with having broken the Sabbath, John 5. 16.

CHAP. III.

In this Chapter we have, (1.) Chriſt's healing the Man that had a wither'd Hand on the Sabbath-Day, and the Combination of his Enemies againſt him for it, v. 1.---6. (2.) The univerſal Reſort of People to him from all Parts to be heal'd, and the Relief they all found with him, v. 7.--- 12. (3.) His ordaining his Twelve Apoſtles to be Attendants on him, and the Preachers of his Goſpel, v. 13.--- 21. (4.) His Anſwer to the blaſphemous Cavil of the Scribes, who imputed his Power to caſt out Devils, to a Confederacy with the Prince of the Devils, v. 22.---30. (5.) His owning his Diſciples for his neareſt and deareſt Relations, v. 31.--- 35.

AND he entred again into the Synagogue, and there was a man there which had a withered hand: 2 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the Sabbath-day, that they might accuſe him. 3 And he ſaith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth. 4 And he ſaith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the Sabbath-days, or to do evil? to ſave life, or to kill? but they held their peace. 5 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardneſs of their hearts, he ſaith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he ſtretched it out: and his hand was reſtored whole as the other. 6 And the Phariſees went forth, and ſtraightway took counſel with the Herodians againſt him, how they might deſtroy him. 7 But Jeſus withdrew himſelf with his diſciples to the ſea: and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from Judea, 8 And from Jeruſalem, and from Idumea, and from beyond Jordan; and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him. 9 And he ſpake to his diſciples, that a ſmall ſhip ſhould wait on him, becauſe of the multitude, leſt they ſhould throng him. 10 For he had healed many, inſomuch that they preſſed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues. 11 And unclean ſpirits, when they ſaw him, fell down before him, and cried, ſaying, Thou art the Son of God. 12 And he ſtraightly charged them, that they ſhould not make him known.

Here, as before, we have our Lord Jeſus buſie at work in the Synagogue firſt, and then by the Sea-ſide, to teach us that his Preſence ſhould not be confin'd either to the one or to the other; but where-ever any are gather'd together in his Name, whether in the Synagogue, or any where elſe, there is he in the midſt of them. In every Place where he records his Name, he will meet his People and bleſs them; 'tis his Will that Men pray every where. Now here we have ſome Account of what he did.

Firſt, When he enter'd again into the Synagogue, he improv'd the Opportunity he had there of doing Good, and having no doubt preached a Sermon there, he wrought a Miracle for the Confirmation of it, or at leaſt for the Confirmation of this Truth, that it is lawful to do good on the Sabbath-Day. We had the Story, Mat. 12. 9.

1. The Patient's Caſe was piteous; he had a wither'd Hand, by which he was diſabled to work for his Living, and thoſe that are ſo are the moſt proper Objects of Charity; let thoſe be help'd that cannot help themſelves.

2. The Spectators were very unkind both to the Patient and to the Phyſician, who, inſtead of interceding for a poor Neighbour, did what they could to hinder his Cure. For they intimated, that if Chriſt cur'd him now on the Sabbath-Day, they would accuſe him as a Sabbath-breaker; it had been very unreaſonable, if they ſhould have oppos'd a Phyſician or Surgeon in helping any poor Body in Miſery by ordinary Methods; but much more abſurd was it to oppoſe him, that cur'd without any labour, but by a Word ſpeaking.

3. Chriſt dealt very fairly with the Spectators, and dealt with them firſt, if poſſible to prevent the Offence. (1.) He labour'd to convince their Judgment. He bid the Man ſtand forth, v. 3. that by the ſight of him they might be mov'd with Compaſſion towards him, and might not for ſhame account his Cure a Crime. And then he appeals to their own Conſciences; tho' the Thing ſpeaks it ſelf, yet he is pleaſed to ſpeak it, Is it lawful to do good on the Sabbath-Days, as I deſign to do, or to do Evil, as you deſign to do? Whether is better, to ſave Life, or to kill? What fairer Queſtion could he put? And yet becauſe they ſaw it would turn againſt them, they held their Peace. Note, Thoſe are obſtinate indeed in their Infidelity, who, when they can ſay nothing againſt a Truth, will ſay nothing to it; and when they cannot reſiſt, yet will not yield.

(2.) When they rebell'd againſt the Light, he lamented their Stubbornneſs, v. 5. He looked round about on them with Anger, being griev'd for the hardneſs of their Hearts. The Sin he had an Eye to was the hardneſs of their Hearts, their unſenſibleneſs of the Evidence of his Miracles, and their inflexible Reſolution to perſiſt in Unbelief. We hear what is ſaid amiſs, and ſee what is done amiſs, but Chriſt looks at the Root of Bitterneſs in the Heart; the Blindneſs and Hardneſs of that. Obſerve, (1.) How he was provok'd by the Sin. He look'd round upon them, for they were ſo many, and had ſo plac'd themſelves, that they ſurrounded him. And he look'd with Anger; 'tis likely his Anger appear'd in his Countenance; his Anger was like God's, without the leaſt Perturbation to himſelf, but not without great Provocation from us. Note, The Sin of Sinners is very diſpleaſing to Jeſus Chriſt; and the way to be angry, and not to Sin, is to be angry, as Chriſt was, at nothing but Sin. Let hard-hearted Sinners tremble to think of the Anger with which he will look round upon them ſhortly, when the Great Day of his Wrath comes. (2.) How he pitied the Sinners; He was griev'd for the hardneſs of their Hearts; as God was griev'd Forty Years for the hardneſs of the Hearts of their Fathers in the Wilderneſs: Note, It is a great Grief to our Lord Jeſus to ſee Sinners bent upon their own Ruin, and obſtinately ſet againſt the Methods of their Conviction and Recovery, for he would not that any ſhould periſh. This is a good Reaſon, why the Hardneſs of our own Hearts, and of the Hearts of others, ſhould be a grief to us.

4. Chriſt dealt very kindly with the Patient. He bid him ſtretch forth his Hand, and it was immediately reſtor'd. Now (1.) Chriſt has hereby taught us to go on with Reſolution in the way of our Duty, how violent ſoever the Oppoſition is, that we meet with in it. We muſt deny our ſelves ſometimes in our Eaſe, Pleaſure and Convenience, rather than give Offence even to thoſe who cauſeleſly take it; but we muſt not deny our ſelves the Satisfaction of ſerving God and doing Good, tho' Offence may be unjuſtly taken at it. None could be more tender of giving Offence than Chriſt; yet rather than ſend this poor Man away uncur'd, he would venture offending all the Scribes and Phariſees that encompaſſed him about. (2.) He hath hereby given us a Specimen of the Cures wrought by his Grace upon poor Souls; our Hands are ſpiritually wither'd; the Powers of our Souls weaken'd by Sin, and diſabled for that which is good. The great Healing Day is the Sabbath, and the Healing Place the Synagogue; the Healing Power is that of Chriſt. The Goſpel Command is like this here; and the Command as rational and juſt as this; tho' our Hands are wither'd, and we cannot of our ſelves ſtretch them forth, we muſt attempt it, muſt as well as we can lift them up to God in Prayer, lay hold on Chriſt, and eternal Life, and employ them in good Works; and if we do our Endeavour, Power goes along with the Word of Chriſt, he effects the Cure. Tho' our Hands be wither'd, yet if we will not offer to ſtretch them out, 'tis our own Fault that we are not heal'd; but if we do, and are heal'd, Chriſt, and his Power and Grace, muſt have all his Glory.

5. The Enemies of Chriſt dealt very barbarouſly with him. Such a Work of Mercy ſhould have engag'd their Love to him, and ſuch a Work of Wonder their Faith in him. But inſtead of that, the Phariſees, that pretended to be Oracles in the Church, and the Herodians, that pretended to be the Supporters of the State, tho' of oppoſite Intereſts one to another, yet took council together againſt him how they might deſtroy him. Note, They that ſuffer for doing good, do but ſuffer as their Maſter did.

Secondly, When he withdrew to the Sea, he did good there. Whilſt his Enemies ſought to deſtroy him, he quitted the Place, to teach us in troubleſome Times to ſhift for our own Safety; but, ſee here,

1. How he was follow'd into his Retirement. When ſome had ſuch an Enmity to him, that they drove him out of their Country, others had ſuch a Value for him, that they followed him where ever he went; and the Enmity of their Leaders to Chriſt did not cool their Reſpects to him. Great Multitudes followed him from all Parts of the Nation; as far North, as from Galilee: as far South, as from Judea and Jeruſalem; nay, and from Idumea; as far Eaſt, as from beyond Jordan; and Weſt, as from about Tyre and Sydon.— v. 7, 8. Obſerve, (1.) What induced them to follow him; 'twas the Report they had of the Great Things he did for all that applied themſelves to him: ſome wiſhed to ſee one that had done ſuch great things, and others hop'd he would do great things for them. Note, The Conſideration of the Great Things Chriſt has done, ſhould engage us to come to him. (2.) What they followed him for, v. 10. They preſſed upon him for to touch him, as many as had Plagues. Diſeaſes are here call'd Plagues, μάστιγας, Corrections, Chaſtiſements. So they are deſign'd to be, to make us ſmart for our Sins, that thereby we may be made ſorry for them, and may be warned not to return to them. Thoſe that were under theſe ſcourgings came to Jeſus; this is the Errand on which Sickneſs is ſent, to quicken us to enquire after Chriſt, and apply our ſelves to him as our Phyſician. They preſs'd upon him, each ſtriving which ſhould get neareſt him, and which ſhould be firſt ſerv'd. They fell down before him. So Dr. Hammond, as Petitioners for his Favour; they deſir'd Leave but to touch him, having Faith to be heal'd not only by his touching them, but by their touching him; which no doubt they had many Inſtances of. (3.) What Proviſion he made to be ready to attend them, v. 9. he ſpake to his Diſciples, who were Fiſhermen, and had Fiſher-boats at command, that a ſmall Ship ſhould conſtantly wait on him, to carry him from place to place on the ſame Coaſt, that when he had diſpatched the neceſſary Buſineſs he had to do in one place, he might eaſily remove to another, where his Preſence was requiſite, without preſſing thro' the Crowds of People that follow'd him for Curioſity. Wiſe Men, as much as they can, decline a Crowd.

2. What abundance of Good he did in his Retirement; he did not withdraw to be idle, nor did he ſend back thoſe who rudely crowded after him when he withdrew, but took it kindly, and gave them what they came for; for he never ſaid to any that ſought him diligently, ſeek ye me in vain. (1.) Diſeaſes were effectually cur'd. He healed many; divers ſorts of Patients, ill of divers ſorts of Diſeaſes, tho' numerous, tho' various, he healed them. (2.) Devils were effectually conquer'd. Thoſe whom unclean Spirits had got Poſſeſſion of, when they ſaw him, trembled at his Preſence, and they alſo fell down before him, not to ſupplicate his Favour, but to deprecate his Wrath, and by their own Terrors were compell'd to own, that he was the Son of God, v. 11. 'Tis ſad that this great Truth ſhould be denied by any of the Children of Men, who may have the Benefit of it, when a Confeſſion of it has ſo often been extorted from Devils, who are excluded from having Benefit by it.—(3.) Chriſt ſought not Applauſe to himſelf in doing thoſe great things, for he ſtrictly charged thoſe for whom he did them, that they ſhould not make him known, v. 12. That they ſhould not be induſtrious to ſpread the Notice of his Cures, as it were by Advertiſements in the News-Papers, but let them leave his own Works to praiſe him, and let the Report of them diffuſe it ſelf, and make its own way. Let not thoſe that were cur'd be forward to divulge it, leſt it ſhould feed their Pride, who were ſo highly favour'd, but let the Standards-by carry away the Intelligence of it. When we do that which is praiſe-worthy, and yet covet not to be praiſed of Men for it, then the ſame Mind is in us, which was in Chriſt Jeſus.

13 And he goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him. 14 And he ordained twelve, that they ſhould be with him, and that he might ſend them forth to preach: 15 And to have Power to heal ſickneſſes, and to caſt out devils. 16 And Simon he ſirnamed Peter, 17 And James the Son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James (and he ſirnamed them Boanerges, which is, the ſons of thunder.) 18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the Son of Alpheus, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Canaanite, 19 And Judas Iſcariot, which alſo betrayed him: and they went into an houſe. 20 And the multitude cometh together again, ſo that they could not ſo much as eat bread. 21 And when his friends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they ſaid, He is beſide himſelf.

In theſe Verſes we have,

Firſt, The Choice Chriſt made of the twelve Apoſtles to be his conſtant Followers and Attendants, and to be ſent abroad as there was occaſion to preach the Goſpel. Obſerve,

1. The Introduction to this Call, or Promotion of Diſciples. He goes up into a mountain, and his Errand thither was to pray. Miniſters muſt be ſet apart with ſolemn Prayer, for the pouring out of the Spirit upon them; tho' Chriſt had Authority to confer the Gifts of the Holy Ghoſt, yet to ſet us an Example, he prayed for them.

2. The Rule he went by in his Choice, and that was his own good Pleaſure; he called unto him whom he would. Not ſuch as we would have thought fitteſt to be called, looking upon the Countenance and the Height of the Stature: But ſuch as he thought fit to call, and determin'd to make fit for the Service to which he call'd them: Even ſo, bleſſed Jeſus, becauſe it ſeemed good in thine Eyes. Chriſt calls whom he will, for he is a Free Agent, and his Grace is his own.

3. The Efficacy of the Call. He call'd them, to ſeparate themſelves from the Crowd, and ſtand by him, and they came unto him; Chriſt calls thoſe who were given him, Joh. 17. 6. and all that the Father gave him ſhall come to him, Joh. 6. 37. Thoſe whom it was his Will to call, he made willing to come; his People ſhall be willing in the Day of his Power. Perhaps they came to him readily enough, becauſe they were in Expectation of reigning with him in temporal Pomp and Power, but when afterwards they were undeceived in that Matter, yet they had ſuch a Proſpect given them of better things, that they would not ſay they were deceiv'd in their Maſter, nor repented their leaving all to be with him.

4. The End and Intention of this Call; he ordain'd them (probably by the Impoſition of Hands, which was a Ceremony us'd among the Jews) that they ſhould be with him conſtantly, to be Witneſſes of his Doctrine, manner of Life, and Patience, that they might fully know it, and be able to give an Account of it; and eſpecially that they might atteſt the Truth of his Miracles; they muſt be with him, to receive Inſtructions from him, that they might be qualified to give Inſtructions to others. 'Twould require time to fit them for that which he deſign'd them for; for they muſt be ſent forth to preach; not to preach till they were ſent, and not to be ſent, till by a long and intimate Acquaintance with Chriſt, they were fitted. Note, Chriſt's Miniſters muſt be much with him.

5. The Power he gave them to work Miracles; and hereby he put a very great Honour upon them, beyond that of the great Men of the Earth. He ordain'd them to heal Sickneſſes, and to caſt out Devils. They ſhew'd that the Power which Chriſt had to work theſe Miracles, was an Original Power; that he had it not as a Servant, but as Son in his own Houſe, in that he could confer it upon others, and inveſt them with it: They have a Rule in the Law, Deputatus non poteſt Deputare, He that is only deputed himſelf, cannot depute another; but our Lord Jeſus had Life in himſelf, and the Spirit without Meaſure, for he could give this Power even to the weak and fooliſh things of the World.

6. Their Number and Names; he ordain'd twelve, according to the Number of the twelve Tribes of Iſrael. They are here nam'd, not juſt in the ſame Order as they were in Matthew, nor by Couples, as they were there; but as there, ſo here Peter is put firſt, and Judas laſt. Here Matthew is put before Thomas; 'tis likely, being called in that Order, but in that Catalogue which Matthew himſelf drew up, he puts himſelf after Thomas; ſo far was he from inſiſting upon the Precedency of his Conſecration. But that which Mark only takes notice of in this Liſt of the Apoſtles, is, that Chriſt called James and John Boanerges, which is, The Sons of Thunder; perhaps they were remarkable for a loud commanding Voice, they were thundering Preachers; or rather, it notes the Zeal and Fervency of their Spirits, which would make them active for God above their Brethren. Theſe two (ſaith Dr. Hammond) were to be ſpecial eminent Miniſters of the Goſpel, which is called a Voice ſhaking the Earth, Heb. 12. 26. yet John, one of thoſe Sons of Thunder, was full of Love and Tenderneſs, as appears by his Epiſtles, and was the beloved Diſciple.

7. Their Retirement with their Maſter, and cloſe Adherence to him, they went into an Houſe. Now this Jury was impannell'd, they ſtood together to hearken to their Evidence. They went together into the Houſe to ſettle the Orders of their Infant College, and now 'tis likely the Bag was given to Judas, which pleas'd him, and made him eaſy.

Secondly, The continual Crowds that attended Chriſt's Motions; v. 20. The multitude cometh together again unſent for, and unſeaſonably, preſſing upon him, ſome with one Errand, and ſome with another; ſo that he and his Diſciples could not get time ſo much as to eat Bread, much leſs for a ſet and full Meal. Yet he did not ſhut his Doors againſt the Petitioners, but bid them welcome, and gave to each of them an Anſwer of Peace. Note, They whoſe Hearts are enlarged in the Work of God, can eaſily bear with great Inconveniencies to themſelves in the Proſecution of it, and will rather loſe a Meal's Meat at any time, than let ſlip an Opportunity of doing good. 'Tis happy when zealous Hearers and zealous Preachers thus meet, and encourage one another. Now the Kingdom of God was preach'd, and Men preſs'd into it, Luke 16. 16. This was a Gale of Opportunity worth improving, and the Diſciples might well afford to adjourn their Meals to lay hold on it. 'Tis good ſtriking while the Iron is hot.

Thirdly, The Care of his Relations concerning him, v. 21. When his Friends in Capernaum heard how he was followed, and what Pains he took, they went out to lay hold on him, and fetch him home, for they ſaid, He is beſides himſelf. (1.) Some underſtand it of an abſurd, prepoſterous Care, which had more in it of Reproach to him, than of Reſpect; and ſo we muſt take it as we read it, He is beſide himſelf; either they ſuſpected it themſelves, or it was ſuggeſted to them, and they gave Credit to the Suggeſtion, that he was gone diſtracted, and therefore his Friends ought to bind him, and put him in a dark Room, to bring him to his right Mind again. His Kindred many of them had mean Thoughts of him, Joh. 6. 4. 7. 5. and were willing to hearken to this ill Conſtruction which ſome put upon his great Zeal, and to conclude him craz'd in his Intellectuals, and under that Pretence, to take him off from his Work. The Prophets were call'd mad Fellows, 2 Kings 9. 11. (2.) Others underſtand it of a well-meaning Care, and then they read ἐξέστη, He fainteth; he has no time to eat bread, and therefore his Strength will fail him; he will be ſtifled with the Crowd of People, and will have his Spirits quite exhauſted with conſtant ſpeaking, and the Virtue that goes out of him in his Miracles; and therefore let us uſe a friendly Violence with him, and get him a little breathing-time. In his Preaching-work, as well as his Suffering-work, he was attack'd with, Maſter, ſpare thy ſelf. Note, They who go on with Vigour and Zeal in the Work of God, muſt expect to meet with Hindrances, both from the groundleſs Diſaffection of their Enemies, and the miſtaken Affections of their Friends, and they have need to ſtand upon their Guard againſt both.

22 And the Scribes which came down from Jeruſalem, ſaid, He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the devils caſteth he out devils. 23 And he called them unto him, and ſaid unto them in parables, bles, How can Satan caſt out Satan? 24 And if a kingdom be divided againſt it ſelf, that kingdom cannot ſtand. 25 And if a houſe be divided againſt it ſelf, that houſe cannot ſtand. 26 And if Satan riſe up againſt himſelf, and be divided, he cannot ſtand, but hath an end. 27 No man can enter into a ſtrong man's houſe, and ſpoil his goods, except he will firſt bind the ſtrong man, and then he will ſpoil his houſe. 28 Verily I ſay unto you, All ſins ſhall be forgiven unto the ſons of men, and blaſphemies wherewith ſoever they ſhall blaſpheme: 29 But he that ſhall blaſpheme againſt the Holy Ghoſt, hath never forgiveneſs, but is in danger of eternal damnation. 30 Becauſe they ſaid, He hath an unclean ſpirit.

Here's 1. The impudent impious Brand which the Scribes faſten'd upon Chriſt's caſting out Devils, that they might evade and invalidate the Conviction of it, and have a poor Excuſe for not yielding to it. Theſe Scribes came down from Jeruſalem, v. 22. It ſhould ſeem they came this long Journey on purpoſe to hinder the Progreſs of the Doctrine of Chriſt: Such Pains did they take to do Miſchief; and coming from Jeruſalem, where were the moſt polite and learned Scribes, and where they had Opportunity of conſulting together againſt the Lord and his Anointed, they were in the greater Capacity to do Miſchief: The Reputation of Scribes from Jeruſalem, would have an Influence not only upon the Country People, but upon the Country Scribes; They had never thought of this baſe Suggeſtion concerning Chriſt's Miracles, till the Scribes from Jeruſalem put it in their Heads. They could not deny but that he caſt out Devils, which plainly ſpoke him ſent of God; but they inſinuated he had Beelzebub on his Side, was in League with him, and by the Prince of the Devils caſt out Devils. There is a Trick in the Caſe, Satan is not caſt out, he only goes out by conſent. There was nothing in the Manner of Chriſt's caſting out Devils, that gave any Cauſe to ſuſpect this; he did it as one having Authority; but ſo they will have it who reſolve not to believe him.

2. The rational Anſwer which Chriſt gave to this Objection, demonſtrating the Abſurdity of it.

(1.) Satan is ſo ſubtile, that he will never voluntarily quit his Poſſeſſion. If Satan caſt out Satan, his Kingdom is divided againſt it ſelf, and it cannot ſtand, v. 23, 24, 25. He called them to him, as one deſirous they ſhould be convinc'd, he treats them with all the Freedom, Friendlineſs and Familiarity that could be; he vouchſafes to reaſon the Caſe with them, that every Mouth may be ſtopp'd. 'Twas plain that the Doctrine of Chriſt made War upon the Devil's Kingdom, and had a direct Tendency to break his Power, and cruſh his Intereſt in the Souls of Men; and 'twas as plain that the caſting him out of the Bodies of People confirm'd that Doctrine, and gave it the ſetting on; and therefore it cannot be imagin'd that he ſhould come into ſuch a Deſign: every one knows Satan is no Fool, nor will act ſo directly againſt his own Intereſt.

(2.) Chriſt is ſo wiſe, that being engag'd in a War with him, he will attack his Forces wherever he meets them, whether in the Bodies or Souls of People, v. 27. 'Tis plain Chriſt's Deſign is to enter into the ſtrong Man's Houſe, to take Poſſeſſion of the Intereſt he has in the World, and to ſpoil his Goods, and convert them to his own Service, and therefore 'tis natural to ſuppoſe that he will thus bind the ſtrong Man; will forbid him to ſpeak when he would, and to ſtay where he would, and thus ſhew that he has gain'd a Victory over him.

3. The awful Warning Chriſt gave them to take heed how they ſpoke ſuch dangerous Words as theſe; however they might make light of them, as only Conjectures and the Language of Free-Thinking, if they perſiſted in it, 'twould be of fatal Conſequence to them; it would be found a Sin againſt the laſt Remedy, and conſequently unpardonable; for what could be imagin'd poſſible to bring them to Repentance for their Sin in blaſpheming Chriſt, that wou'd ſet aſide ſuch a ſtrong Conviction with ſuch a weak Evaſion? It is true the Goſpel promiſeth, becauſe Chriſt hath purchaſed Forgiveneſs for the greateſt Sins and Sinners, v. 28. thoſe who reviled Chriſt on the Croſs, which was a blaſpheming of the Son of Man, aggravated to the higheſt Degree, yet many of them found Mercy, and Chriſt himſelf pray'd, Father, forgive them; but this was blaſpheming the Holy Ghoſt, for it was by the Holy Spirit that he caſt out Devils, and they ſaid it was by the unclean Spirit, v. 30. And by this Method they would out-face the Conviction of all the Gifts of the Holy Ghoſt after Chriſt's Aſcenſion, and defeat them all, after which there remain'd no more Proof, and therefore they ſhould never have Forgiveneſs, but were liable to eternal Damnation. They were in imminent Danger of that everlaſting Puniſhment, from which there was no Redemption, and in which there was no Intermiſſion, no Remiſſion.

31 There came then his brethren and his mother, and ſtanding without, ſent unto him, calling him.
32 And the multitude ſate about him, and they ſaid unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without ſeek for thee. 33 And he anſwered them, ſaying, Who is my mother, or my brethren? 34 And he looked round about on them which ſate about him, and ſaid, Behold, my mother and my brethren. 35 For whoſoever ſhall do the will of God, the ſame is my brother, and my ſiſter, and mother.

Here's 1. The Diſreſpect which Chriſt's Kindred according to the Fleſh ſhew'd to him, when he was preaching, (and they knew very well that he was then in his Element) they not only ſtood without, having no Deſire to come in and hear him, but they ſent in a Meſſage to call him out to them, v. 31, 32. as if he muſt leave his Work to hearken to their Impertinencies; 'tis likely they had no Buſineſs with him, only ſent for him on purpoſe to oblige him to break off, leſt he ſhould kill himſelf. He knew how far his Strength would go, and preferr'd the Salvation of Souls before his own Life, and ſoon after made it to appear with a Witneſs; it was therefore an idle Thing for them, under Pretence of his ſparing himſelf, to interrupt him; and it was worſe, if really they had Buſineſs with him, when they knew he preferr'd his Buſineſs as a Saviour, ſo much before any other Buſineſs.

2. The Reſpect which Chriſt ſhew'd to his ſpiritual Kindred upon this Occaſion. Now as at other Times, he put a comparative Neglect upon his Mother, which ſeem'd purpoſely deſign'd to obviate and prevent the extravagant Reſpect which Men in after Times would be apt to pay her. Our Reſpects ought to be guided and govern'd by Chriſt's; now the Virgin Mary, or Chriſt's Mother, is not equall'd with, but poſtpon'd to ordinary Believers, on whom Chriſt here puts a ſuperlative Honour. He look'd upon thoſe who ſat about him, and pronounced thoſe of them that not only heard, but did the Will of God, to be to him as his Brother and Siſter and Mother; as much eſteem'd, lov'd and car'd for as his neareſt Relations, v. 33, 34, 35. This is a good Reaſon why we ſhould honour thoſe that fear the Lord, and chuſe them for our People; why we ſhould be not hearers of the Word only, but doers of the Work, that we may ſhare with the Saints in this Honour. Surely it is good to be akin to thoſe who are thus nearly ally'd to Chriſt, and to have Fellowſhip with thoſe that have Fellowſhip with Chriſt; and woe to thoſe who hate and perſecute Chriſt's Kindred, that are his Bone and his Fleſh, every one reſembling the Children of a King, ſee Jude 8, 18, 19. for he will with Jealouſie plead their Cauſe, and avenge their Blood.

CHAP. IV.

In this Chapter we have (1.) The Parable of the Seed, and the four Sorts of Ground, v. 1—9, with the Expoſition of it, v. 10—20. and the Application of it, v. 21—25. (2.) The Parable of the Seed growing gradually, but inſenſibly, v. 26—29. (3.) The Parable of the Grain of Muſtard-Seed, and a general Account of Chriſt's Parables, v. 30—34. (4.) The Miracle of Chriſt's ſudden ſtilling a Storm at Sea, v. 35—41.

1 AND he began again to teach by the ſea ſide:
and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, ſo that he entred into a ſhip, and ſate in the ſea, and the whole multitude was by the ſea on the land. 2 And he taught them many things by parables, and ſaid unto them in his doctrine, 3 Hearken, Behold, there went out a Sower to ſow: 4 And it came to paſs as he ſowed, ſome fell by the way ſide, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up. 5 And ſome fell on ſtony ground, where it had not much earth, and immediately it ſprang up, becauſe it had no depth of earth. 6 But when the Sun was up, it was ſcorched, and becauſe it had no root, it withered away. 7 And ſome fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choaked it, and it yielded no fruit. 8 And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that ſprang up and increaſed, and brought forth ſome thirty, and ſome ſixty, and ſome an hundred. 9 And he ſaid unto them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear. 10 And when he was alone, they that were about him, with the twelve, asked of him the parable. 11 And he ſaid unto them, Unto you it is given to know the myſtery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all theſe things are done in parables: 12 That ſeeing they may ſee, and not perceive, and hearing they may hear, and not underſtand; leſt at any time they ſhould be converted, and their ſins ſhould be forgiven them.
13 And he ſaid unto them, Know ye not this parable?
And how then will you know all parables? 14 The Sower ſoweth the Word. 15 And theſe are they by the way ſide, where the word is ſown: but when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was ſown in their hearts. 16 And theſe are they likewiſe which are ſown on ſtony ground, who when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladneſs: 17 And have no root in themſelves, and ſo endure but for a time: afterward when affliction or perſecution ariſeth for the words ſake, immediately they are offended: 18 And theſe are they which are ſown among thorns: ſuch as hear the word, 19 And the cares of this World, and the deceitfulneſs of riches, and the luſts of other things entring in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful. 20 And theſe are they which are ſown on good ground, ſuch as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, ſome thirty fold, ſome ſixty, and ſome an hundred.

The foregoing Chapter began with Chriſt's entring again into the Synagogue, v. 1. This Chapter begins with Chriſt's teaching again by the Sea-ſide. Thus he chang'd his Method, that, if poſſible, all might be reach'd and wrought upon. To gratifie the nice and more genteel Sort of People that had Seats, chief Seats in the Synagogue, and did not care for hearing a Sermon any where elſe, He did not preach always by the Sea-ſide, but having Liberty went oft into the Synagogue, and taught there; yet to gratifie the Poor, the Mob that could not get room in the Synagogue, he did not always preach there, but began again to teach by the Sea-ſide, where they could come within hearing. Thus are we Debtors both to the wiſe and to the unwiſe, Rom. 1. 14.

Here ſeems to be a new convenience found out, which had not been us'd before, tho' he had before preach'd by the Sea-ſide, Chap. 2.—13. and that was his ſtanding in a Ship, while his Hearers ſtood upon the Land; and that inland Sea of Tiberius having no Tide, there was no ebbing and flowing of the Waters to diſturb them. Methinks Chriſt's carrying his Doctrine into a Ship, and preaching it thence, was a Preſage of his ſending of the Goſpel to the Iſles of the Gentiles, and the ſhipping off of the Kingdom of God, (that rich Cargo) from the Jewiſh Nation, to be ſent to a People that would bring forth more of the Fruits of it. Now obſerve here,

1. The Way of teaching that Chriſt us'd with the Multitude, v. 2. He taught them many Things, but it was by Parables, or Similitudes, which would tempt them to hear, for People love to be ſpoken to in their own Language, and careleſs Hearers will catch at a plain Compariſon, borrow'd from common Things, and will retain and repeat that, when they have loſt, and perhaps never took the Truth which it was deſign'd to explain and illuſtrate: But unleſs they would take Pains to ſearch into it, it would but amuſe them, ſeeing they would ſee and not perceive, v. 12. and ſo while it gratify'd their Curioſity, it was the Puniſhment of their Stupidity; they wilfully ſhut their Eyes againſt the Light, and therefore juſtly did Chriſt put it into the dark Lanthorn of a Parable, which had a bright Side towards thoſe who apply'd it to themſelves, and were willing to be guided by it; but to thoſe who were only willing for a Seaſon to play with it, it only gave a Flaſh of Light now and then, but ſent them away in the dark. It is juſt with God to ſay of thoſe that will not ſee, that they ſhall not ſee, and to hide from their Eyes, who only look about them with a great deal of careleſneſs, and never look before them with any concern upon the Things that belong to their Peace.

2. The Way of expounding that he us'd with his Diſciples. When he was alone by himſelf, not only the twelve, but others that were about him with the twelve, took the Opportunity to aſk him the Meaning of the Parables, v. 10. They found it good to be about Chriſt; the nearer him the better; good to be with the twelve, to be converſant with thoſe that are intimate with him: And he told them what a diſtinguiſhing Favour it was to them, that they were made acquainted with the Myſtery of the Kingdom of God, v. 11. The Secret of the Lord was with them. That inſtructed them which others were only amuſed with, and they were made to increaſe in Knowledge by every Parable, and underſtood more of the Way and Method in which Chriſt deſign'd to ſet up his Kingdom in the World, while others were diſmiſs'd never the wiſer. Note, Thoſe who know the Myſtery of the Kingdom of Heaven, muſt acknowledge that it is given to them; they receive both the Light and the Sight from Jeſus Chriſt, who, after his Reſurrection, both open'd the Scriptures, and open'd the Underſtanding, Luke 24. 27—45.

In particular, we have here,

1. The Parable of the Sower, as we had it, Mat. 13. 3, &c. He begins v. 3. with Hearken, and concludes, v. 9. with, He that hath Ears to hear let him hear. Note, The Words of Chriſt demand Attention, and thoſe who ſpeak from him may command it, and ſhould ſtir it up; even that which as yet we do not throughly underſtand, or not rightly, yet we muſt carefully attend to it, believing it to be both intelligible and weighty, that at length we may underſtand it; we ſhall find more in Chriſt's Sayings than at firſt there ſeem'd to be.

2. The Expoſition of it to the Diſciples. Here is a Queſtion Chriſt put to them before he expounded it, which he had not in Matthew, v. 13. Know ye not this parable? Know ye not the Meaning of it? How then will ye know all Parables? (1.) If ye know not this, which is ſo plain, how will you underſtand other Parables that will be more dark and obſcure? If you are gravell'd and run aground with this, which ſpeaks ſo plainly, the different Succeſs of the Word preached upon thoſe that hear it, which you your ſelves may ſee eaſily, how will you underſtand the Parables which hereafter will ſpeak of the Rejection of the Jews, and the Calling of the Gentiles, which is a Thing you have yet no Idea of? Note, This ſhould quicken us both to Prayer and Pains, that we may get Knowledge; that there are a great many Things we are concern'd to know, and if we underſtand not the plain Truth of the Goſpel, how ſhall we maſter thoſe that are more difficult? Vita brevis, Ars longa. If we have run with the Footmen, and they have wearied us, and run us down, then how ſhall we contend with Horſes? Jer. 12. 5. (2.) If you know not this which is intended for your Direction in hearing the Word, that ye may profit by it; how ſhall ye profit by what you are further to hear? This Parable is to teach you to be attentive to the Word, and affected with it, that you may underſtand it. If you receive not this, you'll not know how to uſe the Key by which you muſt be let into all the reſt. If we underſtand not the Rules we are to obſerve in Order to our profiting by the Word, how ſhall we profit by any other Rules? Obſerve, Before Chriſt expounds the Parable, (1.) He ſhews them how ſad their Caſe was who were not let into the Meaning of the Doctrine of Chriſt. To you it is given, but not to them. Note, It will help us to put a Value upon the Privileges we enjoy as Diſciples of Chriſt, to conſider the deplorable State of thoſe who want ſuch Privileges; eſpecially that they are out of the ordinary Way of Converſion, leſt they ſhould be converted, and their Sins ſhould be forgiven them, v. 12. Thoſe only who are converted have their Sins forgiven them: And it is the Miſery of unconverted Souls, that they lie under unpardon'd Guilt. (2.) He ſhews them what a Shame it was that they needed ſuch particular Explanations of the Word they heard, and did not apprehend it at firſt. Thoſe that would improve in Knowledge muſt be made ſenſible of their Ignorance.

Having thus prepar'd them for it, he gives them the Reddition of the Parable of the Sower, as we had it before in Matthew. Let us only obſerve here,

1. That in the great Field of the Church, the Word of God is diſpenced to all promiſcuouſly. The Sower ſoweth the Word, v. 14. ſows it at a venture, beſide all Waters, upon all ſorts of Ground, Iſa. 32. 20. not knowing where it will alight, or what Fruit it will bring forth. He ſcatters it in Order to the increaſe of it. Chriſt was a while ſowing himſelf, when he went about teaching and preaching; now he ſends his Miniſters, and ſows by their Hand: Miniſters are Sowers; they have need of the Skill and Diſcretion of the Husbandman, Iſa 28. 24,—26. They muſt not obſerve Winds and Clouds, Eccleſ. 11. 4, 6. and muſt look up to God, who gives Seed to the Sower, 2 Cor. 9. 10.

2. That of the many that hear the Word of the Goſpel, and read it, and are converſant with it, there are, comparatively, but few that receive it ſo as to bring forth the Fruits of it; here's but one in four that comes to good. 'Tis ſad to think, how much of the precious Seed of the Word of God is loſt, and ſown in vain; but there is a Day coming when loſt Sermons muſt be accounted for: Many that have heard Chriſt himſelf preach in the Streets, yet will hereafter be bidden to depart from him: thoſe therefore who place all their Religion in Hearing, as if that alone would ſave them, do but deceive themſelves, and build their Hope upon the Sand, Jam. 1. 22.

3. Many are much affected with the Word for the preſent, that yet receive no abiding Benefit by it. The Motions of Soul they have, anſwerable to what they hear, are but a meer Flaſh, like the crackling of Thorns under a Pot. We read of Hypocrites that delight to know God's Ways, Iſa. 58. 2. of Herod, that he heard John gladly, Mark 6. 20. and of others, that they rejoyced in his Light, John 5. 35. and of thoſe to whom Ezekiel was a lovely Song, Ezek. 32. 32. and thoſe repreſented here by the ſtony Ground, received the Word with Gladneſs, and yet came to nothing.

4. The Reaſon why the Word doth not leave commanding, abiding Impreſſions upon the Minds of People is, becauſe their Hearts are not duly diſpos'd and prepar'd to receive it: the Fault is in themſelves, not in the Word; ſome are careleſs forgetful Hearers, and theſe get no good at all by the Word; it comes in at one Ear, and goes out at t'other; others have their Convictions over-power'd by their Corruptions, and they loſe the good Impreſſions the Word has made upon them, ſo that they get no abiding Good by it.

5. The Devil is very buſy about looſe, careleſs Hearers; as the Fowls of the Air go about Seed that lies above Ground; when the Heart, like the High-way, is unplow'd, unhumbled, when it lies common, to be trodden on by every Paſſenger, as theirs that are great Company-Keepers, then the Devil is like the Fowls, he comes ſwiftly and carries away the Word e'er we are aware: When therefore theſe Fowls come down upon the Sacrifices, we ſhould take Care, as Abram did, to drive them away, Gen. 15. 11. that tho' we cannot keep them from hovering over our Heads, we may not let them neſtle in our Hearts.

6. Many that are not openly ſcandaliz'd, ſo as to throw off their Profeſſion, as they on the ſtony Ground did, yet have the Efficacy of it ſecretly choaked and ſtifled, ſo that it comes to nothing; they continue in a barren hypocritical Profeſſion, which brings nothing to paſs, and ſo go down as certainly, tho' more plauſibly, to Hell.

7. Impreſſion

7. Impreſſions that are not deep, will not be durable, but will wear off in ſuffering, trying Times; like Footſteps on the Sand of the Sea, which are gone the next high Tide of Perſecution; when that Iniquity doth abound, the Love of many to the Ways of God waxeth cold; many that keep their Profeſſion in fair Days, loſe it in a Storm; and do as thoſe that go to Sea only for Pleaſure, come back again when the Wind riſes. 'Tis the Ruin of Hypocrites that they have no Root; they do not act from a living fixed Principle; they do not mind Heart-work, and without that, Religion is nothing; for he is the Chriſtian that is one inwardly.

8. Many are hindred from profiting by the Word of God, by their Abundance of the World: Many a good Leſſon of Humility, Charity, Self-denial, and heavenly Mindedneſs is choak'd and loſt by that prevailing Complacency in the World, which they are apt to have on whom it ſmiles. Thus many Profeſſors, that otherwiſe might have come to ſomething, prove like Pharaoh's lean Kine and thin Ears.

9. Thoſe that are not encumber'd with the Cares of the World, and the deceitfulneſs of Riches, yet may loſe the Benefit of their Profeſſion by the Luſts of other Things; this is added here in Mark, By the Deſires which are about other Things; ſo Dr. Hammond: An inordinate Appetite towards thoſe Things that are pleaſing to Senſe, or to the Fancy. Thoſe that have but little of the World, may yet be ruin'd by an Indulgence of the Body.

10. Fruit is the Thing that God expects and requires from thoſe that enjoy the Goſpel: Fruit according to the Seed; a Temper of Mind and a Courſe of Life agreeable to the Goſpel; Chriſtian Graces daily exercis'd, Chriſtian Duties duly perform'd. This is Fruit, and it will abound to our Account.

Laſtly, No good Fruit is to be expected but from good Seed. If the Seed be ſown on good Ground; if the Heart be humble and holy and heavenly, there will be good Fruit, and it will abound; ſometime even to an Hundred fold, ſuch a Crop as Iſaac reap'd, Gen. 26. 12.

21 And he ſaid unto them, Is a Candle brought to be put under a buſhel, or under a bed, and not to be ſet on a candleſtick? 22 For there is nothing hid, which ſhall not be manifeſted: neither was any thing kept ſecret, but that it ſhould come abroad. 23 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear. 24 And he ſaid unto them, Take heed what you hear: With what meaſure ye mete, it ſhall be meaſured to you: And unto you that hear, ſhall more be given. 25 For he that hath, to him ſhall be given: and he that hath not, from him ſhall be taken even that which he hath. 26 And he ſaid, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man ſhould caſt ſeed into the ground, 27 And ſhould ſleep, and riſe night and day, and the ſeed ſhould ſpring and grow up, he knoweth not how. 28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of her ſelf, firſt the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear. 29 But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the ſickle, becauſe the harveſt is come. 30 And he ſaid, Whereunto ſhall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what compariſon ſhall we compare it? 31 It is like a grain of muſtard ſeed, which, when it is ſown in the earth, is leſs than all the ſeeds that be in the earth. 32 But when it is ſown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and ſhooteth out great branches, ſo that the fowls of the air may lodge under the ſhadow of it. 33 And with many ſuch parables ſpake he the word unto them as they were able to hear it. 34 But without a parable ſpake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his diſciples.

The Leſſons which our Saviour deſigns to teach us here, by Parables and figurative Expreſſions, are theſe:

Firſt, That thoſe that are good, ought to conſider the Obligations they are under to do good; that is, as in the Parable before, to bring forth Fruit—God expects a grateful Return of his Gifts to us, and a uſeful Improvement of his Gifts in us; for v. 21. Is a Candle brought to be put under a Buſhel, or under a Bed? No, but that it may be ſet on a Candleſtick. The Apoſtles were ordain'd to receive the Goſpel, not for themſelves only, but for the good of others, to communicate it to them. All Chriſtians, as they have received the Gifts, muſt miniſter the ſame. Note, (1.) Gifts and Graces make a Man as a Candle; the Candle of the Lord, Prov. 20. 27 lighted by the Father of Lights; the moſt eminent are but Candles, poor Lights, compar'd with the Sun of Righteouſneſs. A Candle gives Light but a little Way, and but a little while, and is eaſily blown out, and continually burning down and waſting. (2) Many that are lighted as Candles, put themſelves under a Bed, or under a Buſhel: They do not manifeſt Grace themſelves, nor miniſter Grace to others: They have Eſtates, and do no good with them; have their Limbs and Senſes, Wit and Learning, perhaps, but no body is the better for them: They have ſpiritual Gifts, but do not uſe them; like a Taper in an Urn, they burn to themſelves. (3.) Thoſe who are lighted as Candles ſhould ſet themſelves on a Candleſtick; that is, ſhould improve all Opportunities of doing good, as thoſe that were made for the Glory of God, and the Service of the Communities they are Members of; we are not born for our ſelves.

And the Reaſon given for this, is, becauſe there is nothing hid which ſhall not be manifeſted, which ſhould not be made manifeſt, ſo it might better be read, v 22. There is no Treaſure of Gifts and Graces lodg'd in any but with deſign to be communicated; nor was the Goſpel made a Secret to the Apoſtles to be concealed, but that it ſhould come abroad and be divulg'd to all the World. Tho' Chriſt expounded the Parables to his Diſciples privately, yet it was with Deſign to make them the more publickly uſeful; they were taught that they might teach; and it is a general Rule, That the Miniſtration of the Spirit is given to every Man to profit withal, not himſelf only, but others alſo.

Secondly, It concerns thoſe that hear the Word of the Goſpel to mark what they hear, and to make a good uſe of it, becauſe their Weal or Woe depends upon it; what he had ſaid before he ſaith again, If any Man hath Ears to hear, let him hear, v. 23. Let him give the Goſpel of Chriſt a fair hearing; but that is not enough, 'tis added, v. 24. Take heed what you hear, and give a due Regard to that which you do hear — Conſider what you hear, ſo Dr. Hammond reads it. Note, What we hear doth us no good unleſs we conſider it; thoſe eſpecially that are to teach others, muſt themſelves be very obſervant of the Things of God; muſt take Notice of the Meſſage they are to deliver, that they may be exact. We muſt likewiſe take heed what we hear, by proving all Things, that we may hold faſt that which is good: We muſt be cautious, and ſtand upon our Guard, leſt we be impos'd upon. To enforce this Caution, conſider,

1. As we deal with God, God will deal with us. So Dr. Hammond explains theſe Words, With what Meaſure you mete, it ſhall be meaſur'd to you. If you be faithful Servants to him, he will be a faithful Maſter to you: With the upright he will ſhew himſelf upright.

2. As we improve the Talents we are intruſted with, we ſhall increaſe them; if we make uſe of the Knowledge we have for the Glory of God and the Benefit of others, it ſhall ſenſibly grow as Stock in Trade doth by being turn'd. Unto you that hear, ſhall more be given; to you that have, it ſhall be given, v. 25. If the Diſciples deliver that to the Church which they have received of the Lord, they ſhall be led more into the Secret of the Lord—Gifts and Graces multiply by being exercis'd; and God has promis'd to bleſs the Hand of the diligent.

3. If we do not uſe, we loſe what we have—from him that has not, that doth no good with what he has, and ſo has it in vain, is as if he had it not, ſhall be taken even that he has. Burying a Talent is the betraying of a Truſt, and amounts to a Forfeiture; and Gifts and Graces ruſt for want of wearing.

Thirdly, The good Seed of the Goſpel ſown in the World, and ſown in the Heart, doth by Degrees produce wonderful Effects, but without Noiſe, v. 26. &c. So is the Kingdom of God; ſo is the Goſpel, when it is ſown, and receiv'd a Seed in good Ground.

(1.) It will come up; tho' it ſeem loſt and bury'd under the Clods, it will find or make its way through them. The Seed caſt into the Ground will ſpring. Let but the Word of Chriſt have the place it ought to have in a Soul, and it will ſhew it ſelf, as the Wiſdom from above doth in a good Converſation. After a Field is ſown with Corn, how ſoon is the Surface of it alter'd, how gay and pleaſant doth it look when 'tis cover'd with Green?

(2.) The Husbandman cannot deſcribe how it comes up; 'tis one of the Myſteries of Nature; it ſprings and grows up he knows not how; v. 27. He ſees it has grown, but he cannot tell in what manner it grew, or what was the Cauſe and Method of its growth. Thus we know not how the Spirit by the Word makes a change in the Heart, no more than we can account for the blowing of the Wind, which we hear the ſound of, but cannot tell whence it comes, or whither it goes. Without Controverſie, great is the Myſtery of Godlineſs, how God manifeſted in the Fleſh came to be believed on in the World, 1 Tim. 3. 16.

(3.) The Husbandman, when he hath ſown the Seed, doth nothing towards the ſpringing of it up. He ſleeps and riſes Night and Day; goes to ſleep at Night, gets up in the Morning, and perhaps never ſo much as thinks of the Corn he hath ſown, or ever looks upon it, but follows his Pleaſures or other Buſineſs, and yet the Earth brings forth fruit of it ſelf, according to the ordinary Courſe of Nature, and by the concurring Power of the God of Nature. Thus the Word of Grace, when it is received in Faith, is in the Heart a Work of Grace, and the Preachers contribute nothing to it. The Spirit of God is carrying it on when they ſleep, and can do no Buſineſs, Job 3. 15, 16. or when they riſe to go about other Buſineſs. The Prophets do not live for ever, but the Word which they preached is doing its work, when they are in their Graves; Zech 1. 5, 6. The Dew by which the Seed is brought up tarryeth not for Man, nor waiteth for the Sons of Men, Mich. 5. 7.

(4.) It grows gradually, firſt the blade, then the Ear, after that the full Corn in the Ear, v. 28. when it is ſprung up it will go forward, Nature will have its courſe, and ſo will Grace; Chriſt's Intereſt both in the World, and in the Heart, is and will be a growing

Intereſt; and tho' the beginning be ſmall, the latter end will greatly increaſe. Tho' thou ſoweſt not that Body that ſhall be but bare Grain, yet God will give to every Seed its own Body; tho' at firſt it is but a tender Blade, which the Froſt may nip, or the Foot may cruſh, yet it will increaſe to the Ear, to the full Corn in the Ear. Natura nil facit per ſaltum. God carries on his Work inſenſibly and without noiſe, but inſuperably and without fail.

5. It comes to Perfection at laſt, v. 29. When the Fruit is brought forth, i. e. when it is ripe, and ready to be delivered into the Owner's Hand; then he puts in the Sickle. This intimates, (1.) That Chriſt now accepts the Services which are done to him by an honeſt Heart from a good Principle; from the Fruit of the Goſpel taking Place and working in the Soul: Chriſt gathers in a Harveſt of Honour to himſelf. See John 4. 35. (2.) That he will reward them in Eternal Life. When thoſe that receive the Goſpel aright, have finiſhed their Courſe, the Harveſt comes when they ſhall be gather'd, as Wheat into God's Barn, Mat. 13. 30. as a ſhock of Corn in his Seaſon.

Fourthly, The Work of Grace is ſmall in its beginning, but comes to be great and conſiderable at laſt, v. 30, 31, 32. Whereunto ſhall I liken the Kingdom of God, as now to be ſet up by the Meſſiah? How ſhall I make you to underſtand the deſigned Method of it? Chriſt ſpeaks as one conſidering, and conſulting with himſelf, how to illuſtrate it with an apt Similitude. With what Compariſon ſhall we compare it? Shall we fetch it from the Motions of the Sun, or the Revolutions of the Moon! No, the Compariſon is borrowed from this Earth, it is like a Grain of Muſtard Seed; he had compar'd it before to Seed ſown, here to that Seed, intending thereby to ſhew,

1. That the Beginnings of the Goſpel Kingdom would be very ſmall, like that which is one of the leaſt of all Seeds. When a Chriſtian Church was ſown in the Earth for God, it was all contain'd in one Room, and the Number of the Names was but 120, Acts 1. 15. as the Children of Iſrael when they went down into Egypt were but Seventy Souls. The Work of Grace in the Soul, is at firſt but the Day of ſmall Things; a Cloud no bigger than a Man's Hand. Never were there ſuch great Things undertaken by ſuch an inconſiderable handful, as that of the Diſcipling of the Nations by the Miniſtry of the Apoſtles; nor a Work that was to end in ſuch great Glory, as the Work of Grace, rais'd from ſuch weak and unlikely Beginnings. Who hath begotten me theſe?

2. That the Perfection of it will be very great. When it grows up, it becomes greater than all Herbs. The Goſpel Kingdom in the World ſhall increaſe, and ſpread to the remoteſt Nations of the Earth, and ſhall continue to the lateſt Ages of Time. The Church hath ſhot out great Branches, ſtrong ones, ſpreading far, and fruitful. The Work of Grace in the Soul hath mighty Products, now while it is in its growth: But what will it be when 'tis perfected in Heaven? The Difference between a Grain of Muſtard Seed, and a great Tree, is nothing to that between a young Convert on Earth, and a glorified Saint in Heaven. See John 12. 24.

After theſe Parables thus inſtanc'd in, the Hiſtorian concludes with this general Account of Chriſt's preaching, that with many ſuch Parables he ſpake the Word unto them, v. 33. probably deſigning to refer us to the larger Account of the Parables of this kind, which we had before, Mat. 13. He ſpake in Parables, as they were able to bear them; he fetch'd his Compariſons from thoſe Things that were familiar to them, and level to their Capacity, and deliver'd them in plain Expreſſions, in Condeſcenſion to their Capacity; tho' he did not let them into the Myſtery of the Parables, yet his manner of Expreſſion was eaſie, and ſuch as they might hereafter recollect to their Edification. But for the preſent without a Parable ſpake he not unto them, v. 34. The Glory of the Lord was cover'd with a Cloud, and God ſpeaks to us in the Language of the Sons of Men, that tho' not at firſt, yet by Degrees, we may underſtand his meaning; the Diſciples themſelves underſtood thoſe Sayings of Chriſt afterwards, which at firſt they did not rightly take the Senſe of. But theſe Parables he expounded to them, when they were alone. We cannot but wiſh we had had that Expoſition, as we had of the Parable of the Sower; but it was not ſo needful, becauſe when the Church ſhould be enlarg'd, that would expound theſe Parables to us without any more ado.

35 And the ſame day when the even was come, he ſaith unto them, Let us paſs over unto the other ſide. 36 And when they had ſent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ſhip, and there were alſo with him other little ſhips. 37 And there aroſe a great ſtorm of wind, and the waves beat into the ſhip, ſo that it was now full. 38 And he was in the hinder part of the ſhip, aſleep on a pillow: And they awake him, and ſay unto him, Maſter, careſt thou not that we periſh? 39 And he aroſe, and rebuked the wind, and ſaid unto the Sea, Peace, be ſtill: And the wind ceaſed, and there was a great calm. 40 And he ſaid unto them, Why are ye ſo fearful? How is it that you have no faith? 41 And they feared exceedingly, and ſaid one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the Wind and the Sea obey him?

This Miracle which Chriſt wrought for the Relief of his Diſciples in ſtilling the Storm, we had before Mat 8. 23, &c. but 'tis here more fully related. Obſerve,

1. It was the ſame Day that he had preach'd out of a Ship, when the even was come, v. 35. When he had been labouring in the Word and Doctrine all Day, inſtead of repoſing himſelf, he expoſeth himſelf, to teach us not to think of a conſtant remaining Reſt, till we come to Heaven. The end of a Toil may perhaps be but the beginning of a Toſs. But obſerve, the Ship that Chriſt made his Pulpit, is taken under his ſpecial Protection, and tho' in danger, cannot ſink. What is us'd for Chriſt, he will take particular care of.

2. He himſelf propos'd putting to Sea at Night, becauſe he would loſe no Time. Let us paſs over to the other ſide, for we ſhall find in the next Chapter he has Work to do there. Chriſt went about doing Good, and no Difficulties in his way ſhould hinder him; thus induſtrious we ſhould be in ſerving him, and our Generation according to his Will.

3. They did not put to Sea till they had ſent away the Multitude, i. e. had given to each of them that which they came for, and anſwer'd all their Requeſts; for he ſent none home complaining, that they had attended him in vain. Or, they ſent them away with a ſolemn Bleſſing, for Chriſt came into the World not only to pronounce, but to command, and to give the Bleſſing.

4. They took him even as he was, i. e. in the ſame Dreſs that he was in when he preach'd, without any Cloak to throw over him, which he ought to have had to keep him warm, when he went to Sea at Night, eſpecially after Preaching. We muſt not from hence infer, that we may be careleſs of our Health, but we may learn hence not to be over-nice and ſollicitous about the Body.

5. The Storm was ſo great that the Ship was full of Water, v. 37. not by ſpringing a Leak, but perhaps partly with the Shower, for the Word here us'd ſignifies a Tempeſt of Wind with Rain, however, the Ship being little, the Waves beat into it, ſo that it was full. Note, It is no new Thing for that Ship to be greatly hurry'd and endanger'd, in which Chriſt and his Diſciples, Chriſt and his Name and Goſpel are embark'd.

6. There were with him other little Ships, who no doubt ſhar'd in the Diſtreſs and Danger. Probably thoſe little Ships carry'd thoſe, who were deſirous to go along with Chriſt, for the Benefit of his Preaching and Miracles on the other ſide. The Multitude went away when he put to Sea, but ſome there was that would venture upon the Water with him. Thoſe follow the Lamb aright, that follow him where-ever he goes. And thoſe that hope for a Happineſs in Chriſt, muſt be willing to take their Lot with him, and run the ſame Riſques that he runs. One may boldly and chearfully put to Sea in Chriſt's Company, yea, tho' we foreſee a Storm.

7. Chriſt was aſleep in this Storm, and here we are told, that it was in the hinder part of the Ship, the Pilot's place, he lay at the Helm, to intimate that, as Mr. George Herbert expreſſeth it,

When Winds and Waves aſſault my Keel,
He doth preſerve it, he doth ſteer,
Even when the Boat ſeems moſt to reel,
Storms are the Triumph of his Art;
Tho' he may cloſe his Eyes, yet not his Heart.

He had a Pillow there, ſuch a one as a Fiſherman's-ſhip would furniſh him with. And he ſlept, to try the Faith of his Diſciples, and to ſtir up Prayer: And upon the Trial their Faith appear'd weak, and their Prayers ſtrong. Note, Sometimes when the Church is in a Storm, Chriſt ſeems as if he were aſleep, unconcerned in the troubles of his People, and regardleſs of their Prayers, and doth not preſently appear for their Relief. Verily he is a God that hideth himſelf, Iſa. 45. 15. But as when he tarries, he doth not tarry, Hab. 2. 3. So when he ſleeps, he doth not ſleep; the Keeper of Iſrael doth not ſo much as ſlumber, Pſalm 121. 3, 4. he ſlept, but his Heart was awake, as the Spouſe, Cant. 5. 2.

8. His Diſciples encourag'd themſelves with their having his Preſence, and thought it the beſt way to improve that, and appeal to that, and ply the Oar of Prayer, rather than their other Oars. Their Confidence lay in this, that they had their Maſter with them; and the Ship that has Chriſt in it, tho' it may be toſt, it cannot ſink: the Buſh that has God in it, tho' it may burn, ſhall not conſume. Cæſar encourag'd the Maſter of the Ship that had him on Board with this, Cæſarem vehis & Fortunam Cæſaris. They awoke Chriſt. Had not the Neceſſity of the Caſe call'd for it, they would not have ſtirred up or awoke their Maſter till he had pleas'd, Cant. 2. 7. But they knew he would forgive them this wrong. When Chriſt ſeems as if he ſlept in a Storm, he is awaked by the Prayers of his People; when we know not what to do, our Eye muſt be to him, 2 Chron. 20. 12. at our Wit's end, but not at our Faith's end, while we have ſuch a Saviour to go to. Their Addreſs to Chriſt is here expreſs'd very emphatically, Maſter, careſt thou not that we periſh? I confeſs this ſounds ſomewhat harſh, rather like chiding him for ſleeping, than begging him to awake; I know no excuſe for it, but the great Familiarity which he was pleas'd to admit them into, and the Freedom he allow'd them; and the preſent Diſtreſs they were in, which put them into ſuch a Fright, that they knew not what they ſaid. They do Chriſt a deal of wrong, who ſuſpect him to be careleſs of his People in Diſtreſs. The Matter is not ſo! He is not willing that any ſhould periſh, much leſs any of his little ones, Mat. 18. 14.

9. The Word of Command with which Chriſt rebuked the Storm we have here, and had not in Matthew, v. 39. He ſays, Peace, be ſtill, σιώπα, πεφίμωσο, be ſilent, be dumb. Let not the Wind any longer roar, nor the Sea rage. Thus he ſtills the Noiſe of the Sea, the Noiſe of her Waves; a particular Emphaſis is laid upon the Noiſineſs of them, Pſalm 65. 7. and Pſalm 93. 3, 4. The Noiſe is threatning and terrifying, let us hear no more of it. This is, (1.) A Word of Command to us, when our wicked Hearts are like the troubled Sea, which cannot reſt, Iſa. 57. 20. When our Paſſions are up, and are unruly, think we hear the Law of Chriſt, ſaying, be ſilent, be dumb. Think not confuſedly, ſpeak not unadviſedly; but be ſtill. (2.) A Word of Comfort to us, that be the Storm of Trouble never ſo loud, never ſo ſtrong, Jeſus Chriſt can lay it with a Word's ſpeaking. When without are fightings, and within are fears, and the Spirits are in a tumult, Chriſt can create the Fruit of the Lips Peace. If he ſay, Peace, be ſtill, there is a great Calm preſently. 'Tis ſpoken of as God's Prerogative to command the Seas, Iſa. 57. 15. Jer. 31. 35. By this therefore Chriſt proves himſelf to be God. He that made the Seas can make them quiet.

10. The Reproof Chriſt gave them for their Fears, is here carry'd further than in Matthew; there it is, Why are ye fearful? Here, Why are ye ſo fearful? Tho' there may be cauſe for ſome fear, yet not for fear to ſuch a Degree as this. There it is, O ye of little Faith; here it is, How is it that ye have no Faith? Not that the Diſciples were without Faith. No: They believed that Jeſus is the Chriſt the Son of God, but at this Time their Fears prevailed ſo, that they ſeem'd to have no Faith at all. 'Twas out of the Way, when they had occaſion for it, and ſo it was, as if they had not had it. How is it, that in this Matter ye have no Faith? That you think I would not come in with ſeaſonable, and effectual Relief. Thoſe may ſuſpect their Faith, who can entertain ſuch a Thought as that Chriſt careth not, tho' his People periſh, and Chriſt juſtly takes it ill.

Laſtly, The Impreſſion this Miracle made upon the Diſciples is here differently expreſs'd. In Matthew 'tis ſaid, the Man marvelled; here 'tis ſaid, They feared greatly. They feared a great fear; ſo the Original reads it. Now their Fear was rectified by their Faith. When they feared the Winds and the Seas, it was for want of the Reverence they ought to have for Chriſt: But now they ſaw a Demonſtration of his Power over them, they feared them leſs and him more. They feared leſt they had offended Chriſt by their unbelieving Fears, and therefore ſtudy'd now to give him Honour. They had feared the Power and Wrath of their Creator in the Storm, and that Fear had Torment, and Amazement in it; but now they feared the Power and Grace of the Redeemer in the Calm, they feared the Lord and his Goodneſs, and it had Pleaſure and Satisfaction in it, and by it they gave Glory to Chriſt, as Jonah's Mariners, who when the Sea ceaſed from raging, feared the Lord exceedingly, and offer'd a Sacrifice unto the Lord, Jon. 1. 16. This Sacrifice they offer'd to the Honour of Chriſt, they ſaid, What manner of Man is this? Surely more than a Man, for even the Winds and the Seas obey him.

CHAP. V.

In this Chapter, we have, (1.) Chriſt's caſting the Legion of Devils out of the Man poſſeſs'd, and ſuffering them to enter into the Swine, v. 1—20. (2.) Chriſt's healing the Woman with the Bloody Iſſue in the way, as he was going to raiſe Jairus*'s Daughter to Life*, v. 21—43. Theſe three Miracles we had the Story of before, Mat. 8. 28, &c. and Mat. 9. 18, &c. but more fully related here.

AND they came over unto the other ſide of the Sea, into the country of the Gadarenes. 2 And when he was come out of the ſhip, immediately there met him out of the tombs, a man with an unclean ſpirit, 3 Who had his dwelling among the tombs, and no man could bind him, no not with chains: 4 Becauſe that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked aſunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: Neither could any man tame him. 5 And always night and day he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himſelf with ſtones. 6 But when he ſaw Jeſus afar off, he ran and worſhipped him, 7 And cryed with a loud voice, and ſaid, What have I to do with thee, Jeſus, thou Son of the moſt high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not. 8 (For he ſaid unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean ſpirit.) 9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he anſwered, ſaying, My name is Legion: for we are many. 10 And he beſought him much, that he would not ſend them away out of the country. 11 Now there was there nigh unto the mountains, a great herd of ſwine feeding. 12 And all the devils beſought him, ſaying, Send us into the ſwine, that we may enter into them. 13 And forthwith Jeſus gave them leave. And the unclean ſpirits went out, and enter'd into the ſwine, and the herd ran violently down a ſteep place into the ſea (they were about two thouſand) and were choaked in the Sea. 14 And they that fed the ſwine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to ſee what it was that was done. 15 And they come to Jeſus, and ſee him that was poſſeſſed with the devil, and had the Legion, ſitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: And they were afraid. 16 And they that ſaw it, told them how it befel to him that was poſſeſſed with the devil, and alſo concerning the ſwine. 17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coaſts. 18 And when he was come into the ſhip, he that had been poſſeſſed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him. 19 Howbeit, Jeſus ſuffered him not, but ſaith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compaſſion on thee. 20 And he departed, and began to publiſh in Decapolis, how great things Jeſus had done for him: And all men did marvel.

We have here an Inſtance of Chriſt's diſpoſſeſſing the ſtrong Man armed, and diſpoſing of him as he pleaſed, to make it appear he was ſtronger than he. This he did when he was come to the other ſide, whither he went through a Storm, and his Buſineſs there was to reſcue this poor Creature out of the Hands of Satan, and when he had done that he returned. Thus he came from Heaven to Earth, and returned in a Storm to redeem a Remnant of Mankind out of the Hands of the Devil, tho' but a little Remnant, and did not think his Pains ill beſtowed.

In Matthew they were ſaid to be two poſſeſſed with Devils, here 'tis ſaid to be a Man poſſeſſed with an unclean Spirit. If there were two there was one, and Mark doth not ſay there was but one, ſo that this Difference cannot give us any juſt Offence; 'tis likely one of them was much more remarkable than the other, and ſaid what was ſaid. Now obſerve here,

1. The miſerable Condition that this poor Creature was in; he was under the Power of an unclean Spirit, the Devil got Poſſeſſion of him, and the Effect of it was not as in many a ſilent Melancholy, but a raging Frenzy; he was raving Mad; his Condition ſeems to have been worſe than any of thoſe that were poſſeſſed that were Chriſt's Patients.

1. He had his dwelling among the Tombs, among the Graves of dead People. Their Tombs were out of the Cities in deſolate Places, Job 3. 14. which gave the Devil great Advantage: For woe to him that is alone. Perhaps the Devil drove him to the Tombs, to make People fanſie that the Souls of the Dead were turn'd into Dæmons, and did what miſchief was done, ſo to excuſe themſelves from it. The Touch of a Grave was polluting, Numb. 19. 16. The unclean Spirit drives People into that Company that is defiling, and ſo keeps Poſſeſſion of them. Chriſt, by reſcuing Souls out of Satan's Power, ſaves the living from among the dead.

2. He was very ſtrong and ungovernable. No Man could bind him, as it is requiſite both for their Good, and for the Safety of others, that thoſe who are diſtracted ſhould be. Not only Cords would not hold him, but Chains and Fetters of Iron would not, v. 3, 4. The Caſe of ſuch is very deplorable, that need to be thus bound, and of all miſerable People in this World, they are moſt to be pitied; but his Caſe was worſt of all, in whom the Devil was ſo ſtrong that he could not be bound. This ſets forth the ſad Condition of thoſe Souls in which the Devil has Dominion; thoſe Children of Diſobedience, in whom that unclean Spirit works; ſome notoriouſly wilful Sinners are like this Mad-man; all are herein like the Horſe and the Mule, that they need to be held in with Bit and Bridle, but ſome are like the wild Aſs, that will not be ſo held. The Commands and Curſes of the Law are as Chains and Fetters, to reſtrain Sinners from their wicked Courſes, but they break thoſe Bands in ſunder; and it is an Evidence of the Power of the Devil in them.

3. He was a Terror and Torment to himſelf, and to all about him, v. 5. The Devil is a cruel Maſter to thoſe that are led Captive by him, a perfect Tyrant; this wretched Creature was Night and Day in the Mountains, and in the Tombs, crying, and cutting himſelf with Stones, either bemoaning his own deplorable Caſe, or in Rage and Indignation againſt Heaven. Men in Frenzies often wound and deſtroy themſelves; what is a Man when Reaſon is dethron'd, and Satan enthron'd? The Worſhippers of Baal in their Fury cut themſelves, like this Mad-man in his. The Voice of God is, Do thy ſelf no harm; the Voice of Satan is, Do thy ſelf all the harm thou canſt; yet God's Word is deſpiſed, and Satan's regarded. Perhaps his cutting himſelf with Stones, was only cutting his Feet with the ſharp Stones he ran bare-foot upon.

2. His Application to Chriſt, v. 6. When he ſaw Jeſus afar off coming a Shore, he ran and worſhipped him. He uſually ran upon others with Rage, but he ran to Chriſt with Reverence. That was done by an inviſible Hand of Chriſt, which could not be done with Chains and Fetters, his Fury was all on a ſudden curb'd : Even the Devil in this poor Creature was forced to tremble before Chriſt, and bow to him : Or rather the poor Man came and worſhipped Chriſt, in a Senſe of the need he had of his Help, the Power of Satan in and over him being for this inſtant ſuſpended.

3. The Word of Command Chriſt gave to the unclean Spirit to quit his Poſſeſſion, v. 8. Come out of him, thou unclean Spirit. He made the Man deſirous to be reliev'd, when he enabled him to run and worſhip him, and then put forth his Power for his Relief : If Chriſt work in us heartily to pray for a Deliverance from Satan, he will work for us that Deliverance. Here's an Inſtance of that Power and Authority with which Chriſt commanded the unclean Spirits, and they obey'd him, chap. 1. 27. He ſaid, Come out of the Man. The Deſign of Chriſt's Goſpel is to expel unclean Spirits out of the Souls of People ; come out of the Man, thou unclean Spirit, that the Holy Spirit may enter, may take Poſſeſſion of the Heart, and have Dominion in it.

4. The Dread which the Devil had of Chriſt. The Man ran and worſhipped Chriſt, but it was the Devil in the Man that cried with a loud Voice (making uſe of the poor Man's Tongue) What have I to do with thee? v. 7. juſt as that other unclean Spirit, chap. 1. 24. (1) He calls God the moſt High God, above all other Gods. By the Name Elion, the moſt High, God was known among the Phœnicians, and other the Nations that border'd upon Iſrael, and by that Name the Devil calls him. (2.) He owns Jeſus to be the Son of God. Note, It is no ſtrange thing to hear the beſt Words drop from the worſt Mouths. There is ſuch a way of ſaying this, as none can attain to, but by the Holy Ghoſt, 1 Cor. 12. 3. yet it may be ſaid after a ſort by the unclean Spirit. There's no judging of Men by their looſe Sayings, but by their Fruits ye ſhall know them. Piety from the Teeth outward, is an eaſie Thing. The moſt fair ſpoken Hypocrite, cannot ſay better than to call Jeſus the Son of God, and yet that the Devil did. (3.) He diſowns any Deſign againſt Chriſt, what have I to do with thee? I have no need of thee ; I pretend to none ; I deſire to have nothing to do with thee ; I cannot ſtand before thee, and would not fall. (4.) He deprecates his Wrath. I adjure thee, that is, I earneſtly beſeech thee, by all that's Sacred, I beg of thee for God's ſake, by whoſe Permiſſion I have got Poſſeſſion of this Man, that tho' thou drive me out hence, yet that thou torment me not, that thou do not reſtrain me from doing Miſchief ſomewhere elſe ; tho' I know I am ſentenc'd, yet let me not be ſent to the Chains of Darkneſs, or hinder'd from going to and fro to devour.

5. The Account Chriſt took from this unclean Spirit of his Name. This we had not in Matthew. Chriſt ask'd him, what is thy Name? not but that Chriſt could call all the fallen Stars, as well as the Morning-Stars, by their Names ; but he demands this, that the Standers by might be affected with the vaſt Numbers and Powers of thoſe malignant infernal Spirits ; as they had reaſon to be when the Anſwer was, My Name is Legion, for we are many. A Legion of Soldiers among the Romans conſiſted, ſome ſay, of ſix Thouſand Men, others of twelve Thouſand and five Hundred ; but the number of a Legion with them, no more than of a Regiment with us, was not always the ſame. Now this intimates, that the Devils, the infernal Powers, are (1.) Military Powers; a Legion is a number of Soldiers in Arms. The Devils war againſt God and his Glory, Chriſt and his Goſpel, Men and their Holineſs and Happineſs. They are ſuch as we are to reſiſt, and wreſtle againſt, Eph. 6. 12. (2.) That they are numerous he owns, or rather he boaſts, that we are many, as if he hoped to be too many for Chriſt himſelf to deal with. What Multitudes of Apoſtate Spirits were there, and all Enemies to God and Man, when here were a Legion poſted to keep Garriſon in one poor wretched Creature againſt Chriſt. Many there be that riſe up againſt us. (3.) That they are unanimous ; they are many Devils, and yet but one Legion, engaged in the ſame wicked Cauſe ; and therefore that Cavil of the Phariſees, which ſuppos'd Satan to caſt out Satan, and to be divided againſt himſelf, was altogether groundleſs. It was not one of this Legion that betrayed the reſt, for they all ſaid as one Man, What have I to do with thee? (4.) That they are very powerful ; who can ſtand before a Legion? We are not a Match for our ſpiritual Enemies in our own Strength ; but in the Lord, and in the Power of his Might, we ſhall be able to ſtand againſt them, tho' there are Legions of them. (5.) That there is Order among them, as there is in a Legion ; there are Principalities and Powers, and Rulers of the Darkneſs of this World, which ſuppoſeth there are thoſe of a lower Rank : The Devil and his Angels ; the Dragon and his ; the Prince of the Devils and his Subjects ; which makes thoſe Enemies the more formidable.

6. The Requeſt of this Legion, that Chriſt would ſuffer them to go into a Herd of Swine, that was feeding nigh unto the Mountains, v. 11. thoſe Mountains which the Demoniacks haunted, v. 5. Their Requeſt was, (1.) That he would not ſend them away out of the Country, v. 10. Not only that he would not commit them, or confine them to their infernal Priſon, and ſo Torment them before their Time ; but that he would not baniſh them that Country, as juſtly he might, becauſe in this poor Man they had been ſuch a Terror to it, and done ſo much Miſchief. They ſeem to have had a particular Affection for that Country ; or rather, a particular Spite to it ; and to have Liberty to walk to and fro through the reſt of the Earth, will not ſerve (Job 1. 7.) unleſs the Range of theſe Mountains be allow'd them for their Paſture, (Job 39. 8.) But why would they abide in that Country? Grotius ſaith, Becauſe in that Country there were many Apoſtate Jews, who had thrown themſelves out of the Covenant of God, and had thereby given Satan Power over them. And ſome ſuggeſt, that having by Experience got the Knowledge of the Diſpoſitions and Manners of the People of that Country, they could the more effectually do them Miſchief by their Temptations. (2.) That he would ſuffer them to enter into the Swine ; by deſtroying which they hoped to do more Miſchief to the Souls of all the People of the Country, than they could by entering into the Body of any particular Perſon, which therefore they did not ask leave to do, for they knew Chriſt would not grant it.

7. The Permiſſion Chriſt gave them to enter into the Swine, and their immediate Deſtruction thereby. He gave them leave, v. 13. he did not forbid or reſtrain them, but let them do as they had a mind. Thus he would let the Gadarenes ſee, what powerful ſpiteful Enemies Devils are, that they might thereby be induced to make him their Friend, who alone was able to controul and conquer them, and had made it appear he was ſo. Immediately the unclean Spirits enter'd into the Swine, which by the Law were unclean Creatures, and naturally love to wallow in the Mire, and therefore the fitteſt place for them. Thoſe that, like the Swine, delight in the Mire of ſenſual Luſts, are fit Habitations for Satan, and are like Babylon, the Hold of every foul Spirit, and a Cage of every unclean and hateful Bird, Rev. 18. 2. as pure Souls are Habitations of the Holy Spirit. The Conſequent of the Devils entering into the Swine was, that they all ran mad preſently, and run headlong into the adjoining Sea, where they were all drown'd, to the number of Two thouſand. The Man they poſſeſs'd did only cut himſelf, for God had ſaid, He is in your Hands, only ſave his Life. But thereby it appeared, that if he not been ſo reſtrain'd, the poor Man would have drown'd himſelf. See how much we are indebted to the Providence of God, and the Miniſtration of good Angels, for our Preſervation from malignant Spirits.

8. The Report of all this diſpers'd thro' the Country immediately. They that fed the Swine, haſten'd to the Owners to give an Account of their Charge, v. 14. This drew the People together to ſee what was done: And (1.) When they ſaw how wonderfully the poor Man was cur'd, they from thence conceiv'd a Veneration for Chriſt, v. 15. They ſaw him that was poſſeſſed with the Devil, and knew him well enough, by the ſame Token that they had many a Time been frighten'd at the ſight of him ; and were now as much ſurpriz'd to ſee him ſitting clothed, and in his right Mind: when Satan was caſt out he came to himſelf, and was his own Man preſently. Note, Thoſe who are grave and ſober, and live by Rule, and with Conſideration, thereby make it appear, that by the Power of Chriſt, the Devil's Power is broken in their Souls. The ſight of this made them afraid, i. e. it aſtoniſh'd them, and forc'd them to own the Power of Chriſt, and that he is worthy to be feared. But, (2.) When they found that their Swine were loſt, they thence conceiv'd a Diſlike of Chriſt, and wiſh'd to have rather his Room than his Company ; they pray'd him to depart out of their Coaſts ; for they think not any Good he can do them, ſufficient to make them amends for the loſs of ſo many Swine, fat Swine it may be, and ready for the Market. Now the Devils had what they would have, for by no handle do thoſe evil Spirits more effectually manage ſinful Souls, than by that of the Love of the World. They were afraid of ſome further Puniſhment, if Chriſt ſhould tarry among them, whereas if they would but part with their Sins, he had Life and Hapineſs for them ; but being loth to quit either their Sins or their Swine, they choſe rather to abandon their Saviour. Thus they do, who rather than let go a baſe Luſt, will throw away their Intereſt in Chriſt, and their Expectations from him. They ſhould rather have argued, if he has ſuch Power as this over Devils and all Creatures, 'tis good having him our Friend ; If the Devils have leave to tarry in our Country, (v. 10.) let us intreat him to tarry in it too, who alone can controul them. But inſtead of this, they wiſh'd him further off ; ſuch ſtrange Miſconſtructions do carnal Hearts make of the juſt Judgments of God ; inſtead of being by them driven to him, as they ought, they ſet him at ſo much a greater Diſtance ; tho' he hath ſaid, Provoke me not, and I'll do ye no hurt, Jer. 25. 6.

9. An Account of the Carriage of the poor Man that was deliver'd, after his Deliverance. (1.) He deſir'd, that he might go along with Chriſt, v. 18. perhaps for fear, leſt the evil Spirit ſhould again ſeize him, or rather, that he might receive Inſtruction from him, being unwilling to ſtay among thoſe Heatheniſh People that deſir'd him to depart. Thoſe that are freed from the evil Spirit, cannot but covet Acquaintance and Fellowſhip with Chriſt. (2.) Chriſt would not ſuffer him to go with him, leſt it ſhould ſavour of Oſtentation, and to let him know, that he could both protect and inſtruct him at a Diſtance. And beſides, he had other work for him to do, he muſt go home to his Friends, and tell them what great Things the Lord had done for him, the Lord Jeſus had done, that Chriſt might be honour'd, and his Neighbours and Friends might be edified, and invited to believe in Chriſt. He muſt take particular Notice, rather of Chriſt's Pity than of his Power, for that's it which eſpecially he glories in ; he muſt tell them what Compaſſion the Lord had had on him in his Miſery. (3.) The Man in a tranſport of Joy proclaimed it all the Country over, what great Things Jeſus had done for him, v. 20. This is a Debt we owe both to Chriſt and to our Brethren, that he may be glorified, and they edified. And ſee what was the Effect of it, all Men did marvel, but few went any further. Many that cannot chuſe but wonder at the Work of Chriſt, yet do not as they ought wonder after him.

21 And when Jeſus was paſſed over again by ſhip unto the other ſide, much people gathered unto him, and he was nigh unto the Sea. 22 And behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the Synagogue, Jairus by name, and when he ſaw him, he fell at his feet, 23 And beſought him greatly, ſaying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death, I pray thee come and lay thy hands on her, that ſhe may be healed, and ſhe ſhall live. 24 And Jeſus went with him, and much people followed him, and thronged him. 25 And a certain woman which had an iſſue of blood twelve years, 26 And had ſuffered many things of many Phyſicians, and had ſpent all that ſhe had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worſe, 27 When ſhe had heard of Jeſus, came in the preſs behind, and touched his garment. 28 For ſhe ſaid, If I may touch but his clothes, I ſhall be whole. 29 And ſtraightway the fountain of her blood was dried up: And ſhe felt in her body that ſhe was healed of that plague. 30 And Jeſus immediately knowing in himſelf, that virtue was gone out of him, turned him about in the preſs, and ſaid, Who touched my clothes? 31 And his diſciples ſaid unto him, Thou ſeeſt the multitude thronging thee, and ſayeſt thou, Who touched me? 32 And he looked round about, to ſee her that had done this thing. 33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth. 34 And he ſaid unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole, go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

The Gadarenes having deſir'd Chriſt to leave their Country, he did not ſtay to trouble them long, but preſently went by Water, as he came, back to the other ſide, v. 21. and there much People gather'd to him. Note, If there be ſome that reject Chriſt, yet there are others that receive him, and bid him welcome. A deſpiſed Goſpel will croſs the Water, and go where it will have better Entertainment. Now among the many that applied themſelves to him,

1. Here's one that comes openly to beg a cure for a ſick Child; and 'tis no leſs a Perſon than one of the Rulers of the Synagogue, one that preſided in the Synagogue Worſhip, or as ſome think, one of the Judges of the Conſiſtory Court, which was in every City, conſiſting of Twenty Three. He was not nam'd in Matthew. He is here Jairus, or Jair, (Judg. 10. 3.) He addreſs'd himſelf to Chriſt, tho' a Ruler, with great Humility and Reverence; when he ſaw him he fell at his Feet, giving Honour to him as one really greater than he appear'd to be; and with great Importunity, he beſought him greatly, as one in earneſt, as one that not only valued the Mercy he came for, but that knew he could obtain it no where elſe. The Caſe is this, He has a little Daughter about Twelve Years old, the Darling of the Family, and ſhe lies a dying; but he believes if Chriſt will but come and lay his Hands upon her, ſhe will return even from the Gates of the Grave. He ſaid at firſt when he came, ſhe lies a dying, ſo Mark; but afterwards, upon freſh Information ſent him, he ſaith, ſhe is even now dead, ſo Matthew; but ſtill proſecutes his ſuit; ſee Luke 8. 42, 49. Chriſt readily agreed and went with him, v. 24.

2. Here's another that comes clandeſtinely to ſteal a Cure (if I may ſo ſay) for her ſelf, and ſhe got the Relief ſhe came for. This Cure was wrought by the way, as he was going to raiſe the Rulers Daughter, and was follow'd by a Crowd. See how Chriſt improv'd his Time, and loſt none of the precious Moments of it. Many of his Diſcourſes, and ſome of his Miracles, are dated by the way-ſide; we ſhould be doing Good, not only when we ſit in the Houſe, but when we walk by the way, Deut. 6. 7. Now obſerve,

1. The piteous Caſe of this poor Woman. She had a conſtant Iſſue of Blood upon her for Twelve Years, which had thrown her, no doubt, into great weakneſs, had embitter'd the Comfort of her Life, and threatned to be her Death in a little Time. She had had the beſt Advice of Phyſicians ſhe could get, and had made uſe of the many Medicines and Methods they preſcrib'd; as long as ſhe had any thing to give them, they had kept her in hopes they could cure her, but now ſhe had ſpent all ſhe had among them, they gave her up as incurable. See here, (1.) That Skin for Skin, and all that a Man has, will he give for Life and Health; ſhe ſpent all ſhe had upon Phyſicians. (2.) 'Tis ill with thoſe Patients, whoſe Phyſicians are their worſt Diſeaſe; that ſuffer by their Phyſicians, inſtead of being reliev'd by them. (3.) Thoſe that are not better'd by Medicines, commonly grow worſe, and the Diſeaſe gets the more ground. (4.) 'Tis uſual, that People do not apply themſelves to Chriſt, till they have try'd in vain all other Helpers; and find them, as certainly they will, Phyſicians of no value: And He will be found a ſure Refuge, even to thoſe who make him their laſt Refuge.

2. The ſtrong Faith that ſhe had in the Power of Chriſt to heal her; ſhe ſaid within her ſelf, tho' it doth not appear ſhe was encourag'd by any preceding Inſtance to ſay it, If I may but touch his clothes, I ſhall be whole, v. 28. She believ'd he cur'd not as a Prophet by Virtue derived from God, but as the Son of God by a Virtue inherent in himſelf. Her Caſe was ſuch, as ſhe could not in Modeſty tell him publickly, as others did, their Grievances, and therefore a private Cure was what ſhe wiſh'd for, and her Faith was ſuited to her Caſe.

3. The wonderful Effect produced by it. She came in the Crowd behind him, and with much ado got to touch his Garment, and immediately ſhe felt the Cure wrought, v. 29. The Flux of Blood was dried up, and ſhe felt herſelf perfectly well all over her, as well as ever ſhe was in her Life, in an Inſtant; by this it appears, that the Cure was altogether miraculous; for thoſe that in ſuch Caſes are cur'd by natural Means, recover their Strength ſlowly, and gradually, and not per Saltum, but as for God his Work is perfect. Note, Thoſe whom Chriſt heals of the Diſeaſe of Sin, that bloody Iſſue, cannot but Experience in themſelves an univerſal Change for the better.

4. Chriſt's Enquiry after his concealed Patient, and the Encouragement he gave her upon the Diſcovery of her. Chriſt knew in himſelf that Virtue had gone out of him, v. 30. He knew it not by any Deficiency of Spirits through the exhauſting of this Virtue, but rather by an Agility of Spirits in the exerting of it, and the innate and inſeparable Pleaſure he had in doing Good. And being deſirous to ſee his Patient, he ask'd not in Diſpleaſure as one affronted, but in Tenderneſs as one concern'd, Who touched my Clothes? The Diſciples, not without a Shew of Rudeneſs and Indecency, almoſt ridicul'd his Queſtion, v. 31. The Multitudes throng thee, and ſayſt thou, Who touched me? as if it had been an improper Queſtion. Chriſt paſs'd by the Affront, and looks round to ſee her that had done this Thing, not that he might blame her for her Preſumption, but that he might commend and encourage her Faith; and by his own Act and Deed might warrant and confirm the Cure; and ratifie to her, that which ſhe had ſurreptitiouſly obtain'd. He needed not that any ſhould inform him, for he had preſently his Eye upon her. Note, As ſecret Acts of Sin, ſo ſecret Acts of Faith are known to the Lord Jeſus, and are under his Eye. If Believers derive Virtue from Chriſt never ſo cloſely, he knows it, and is pleas'd with it. The poor Woman hereupon preſented her ſelf to the Lord Jeſus, v. 33. fearing and trembling, not knowing how he would take it. Note, Chriſt's Patients are often trembling, when they have reaſon to be triumphing. She might have come boldly, knowing what was done in her, yet knowing that, ſhe fears and trembles. It was a ſurprize, and was not yet, as it ſhould have been, a pleaſing Surprize. However, ſhe fell down before him. Note, There is nothing better for thoſe that fear and tremble, than to throw themſelves at the Feet of the Lord Jeſus; to humble themſelves before him, and refer themſelves to him. And ſhe told him all the Truth. Note, We muſt not be aſham'd to own the ſecret Tranſactions between Chriſt and our Souls, but when call'd to it, mention to his Praiſe, and others Encouragement, what he has done for our Souls, and the Experience we have had of healing Virtue derived from him. And the Conſideration of this, that nothing can be hid from Chriſt, ſhould engage us to confeſs all to him. And ſee what an encouraging Word he gave her, v. 34. Daughter, thy Faith hath made thee whole. Note, Chriſt puts Honour upon Faith, becauſe Faith gives Honour to Chriſt. But ſee how, what is done by Faith on Earth, is ratify'd in Heaven; Chriſt ſaith, be whole of thy Diſeaſe. Note, If our Faith ſets the Seal of its Amen to the Power and Promiſe of God, ſaying, ſo it is, and ſo let it be to me, God's Grace will ſet the Seal of its Amen to the Prayers and Hopes of Faith, ſaying, ſo be it, and ſo it ſhall be to thee. And therefore, Go in Peace; be well ſatisfied, that thy Cure is honeſtly come by, is effectually wrought, and take Comfort of it. Note, They that by Faith are heal'd of their ſpiritual Diſeaſes, have reaſon to go in Peace.

35 While he yet ſpake, there came from the Ruler of the Synagogue's houſe, certain which ſaid, Thy daughter is dead, why troubleſt thou the Maſter any further. 36 As ſoon as Jeſus heard the word that was ſpoken, he ſaith unto the Ruler of the Synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe. 37 And he ſuffered no man to follow him, ſave Peter, and James, and John the brother of James. 38 And he cometh to the houſe of the Ruler of the Synagogue, and ſeeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly. 39 And when he was come in, he ſaith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damſel is not dead, but ſleepeth. 40 And they laughed him to ſcorn: but when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damſel, and them that were with him, and entreth in where the damſel was lying. 41 And he took the damſel by the hand, and ſaid unto her, Talitha cumi, which is, being interpreted, Damſel (I ſay unto thee) ariſe. 42 And ſtraightway the damſel aroſe, and walked; for ſhe was of the age of twelve years: and they were aſtoniſhed with a great aſtoniſhment. 43 And he charg'd them ſtraitly, that no man ſhould know it: and commanded that ſomething ſhould be given her to eat.

Diſeaſes and Death came into the World by the Sin and Diſobedience of the firſt Adam; but by the Grace of the ſecond Adam, both are conquer'd; Chriſt having heal'd an incurable Diſeaſe, here goes on to triumph over Death, as in the beginning of the Chapter he had triumphed over an outragious Devil.

1. The melancholy News is brought to Jairus that his Daughter is dead, and therefore if Chriſt be as other Phyſicians, he comes too late; while there's Life there's Hope, and room for the Uſe of Means; but when Life is gone 'tis paſt recal, Why troubleſt thou the Maſter any further? v. 35. Ordinarily the proper Thought in this Caſe is, The Matter is determin'd, the Will of God is done, and I ſubmit, I acquieſce. The Lord gave, and the Lord hath taken away. While the Child was alive, I faſted and wept; for I ſaid, who can tell but God will yet be gracious to me, and the Child ſhall live; but now 'tis dead, wherefore ſhould I weep; I ſhall go to it, but it ſhall not return to me: And with ſuch Words we ſhould quiet our ſelves at ſuch a Time, that our Souls may be as a Child that is weaned from his Mother: But here the Caſe was extraordinary; the Death of the Child doth not, as uſually, put an End to the Narrative.

2. Chriſt encourageth the afflicted Father yet to hope, that his Application to Chriſt on the behalf of this Child ſhould not be in vain. Chriſt had ſtay'd to work a Cure by the Way, but he ſhall be no ſufferer by that, nor loſer by others Gain. Be not afraid, only believe. We may ſuppoſe Jairus at a Pauſe whether he ſhould ask Chriſt to go on or no; but have we not as much occaſion for the Grace of God, and his Conſolations, and conſequently of the Prayers of our Miniſters and Chriſtian Friends when Death is in the Houſe, as when Sickneſs is, Chriſt therefore ſoon determines this Matter, Be not afraid that my coming will be to no Purpoſe, only believe that I'll make it turn to a good Account. Note, (1.) We muſt not deſpair concerning our Relations that are dead, nor ſorrow for them as thoſe that have no hope. See what is ſaid to Rachel, that refuſed to be comforted concerning her Children, upon Preſumption that they were not; Refrain thy Voice from weeping, and thine Eyes from Tears, for there is hope in thine End that thy Children ſhall come again, Jer. 31. 16, 17. Therefore fear not, faint not. (2.) Faith is the only Remedy againſt diſquieting Grief and Fear at ſuch a Time; Let that Silence them, only believe. Keep up a Confidence in Chriſt, and a Dependance upon him, and he will do what is for the beſt. Believe the Reſurrection, and then be not afraid.

3. He went with a ſelect Company to the Houſe where the dead Child was. He had by the Crowd that attended him, given Advantage to the poor Woman he laſt heal'd, and having done that, now he ſhook off the Crowd; and ſuffered no Man to follow him, to follow him, ſo the Word is, but his three boſom Diſciples, Peter, and James, and John, a competent Number to be Witneſſes of the Miracle, but not ſuch a Number as that his taking them with him might look like vain Glory.

4. He rais'd the dead Child to Life; the Circumſtances of the Narrative here, are much the ſame as we had them in Matthew; only here we may obſerve,

1. That the Child was extreamly well beloved, for the Relations and Neighbours wept and wailed greatly. 'Tis very afflictive when that which is come forth like a Flower is ſo ſoon cut down, and withereth before it is grown up; when that grieves us of which we ſaid, This ſame ſhall comfort us.

2. That it was evident beyond Diſpute, that the Child was really and truly dead. Their laughing Chriſt to ſcorn, for ſaying, She is not Dead, but ſleepeth, tho' an ill thing, ſerves for the Proof of this.

3. That Chriſt put thoſe out as unworthy to be Witneſſes of the Miracle, who were noiſy in their Sorrow, and were ſo ignorant in the things of God, as not to underſtand him when he ſpoke of Death as a Sleep, or ſo ſcornful as to ridicule him for it.

4. That he took the Parents of the Child to be Witneſſes of the Miracle, becauſe in it he had an Eye to their Faith, and deſign'd it for their Comfort who were the true, for they were the ſilent Mourners.

5. That Chriſt rais'd the Child to Life by a Word of Power, which is recorded here, and recorded in Syriac, the Language in which Chriſt ſpoke, for the greater certainty of the Thing, Talitha cumi, Damſel, I ſay unto thee, ariſe. Dr. Lightfoot ſaith, it was cuſtomary with the Jews, when they gave Phyſick to one that was ſick, they ſaid, Ariſe from thy Diſeaſe, meaning, we wiſh thou may'ſt ariſe; but to one that was dead, Chriſt ſaid, Ariſe from the dead, meaning, I command that thou ariſe; nay, there is more in it, the Dead have not Power to ariſe, therefore Power goes along with this Word to make it effectual. Da quod jubes, & jube quod vis. Chriſt works while he commands, and works by the Command, and therefore may command what he pleaſeth, even the Dead to ariſe. Such is the Goſpel Call to thoſe that are by Nature dead in Treſpaſſes and Sins, and can no more riſe from that Death by their own Power, than this Child could; and yet that Word, Awake, and ariſe from the dead, is neither vain, nor in vain, when it follows immediately, Chriſt ſhall give thee Life, Epheſ. 5. 14. 'Tis by the Word of Chriſt that ſpiritual Life is given, I ſaid unto thee, live, Ezek. 16. 6.

6 That the Damſel, as ſoon as Life return'd, aroſe and walked, v. 42. Spiritual Life will appear by our riſing from the Bed of Sloth and Careleſneſs, and our walking in a religious Converſation; our walking up and down in Chriſt's Name and Strength; even from thoſe that are of the Age of twelve Years, it may be expected that they ſhould walk as thoſe whom Chriſt has rais'd to Life, otherwiſe than in the native Vanity of their Minds.

7. That all who ſaw it and heard of it admir'd the Miracle, and him that wrought it, They were aſtoniſhed with a great Aſtoniſhment. They could not but acknowledge that there was ſomething in it extraordinary and very great, and yet they knew not what to make of it, or infer from it. Their Wonder ſhould have work'd to a lively Faith, but it reſted in a Stupor or Aſtoniſhment.

8. That Chriſt endeavour'd to conceal it. He charg'd them ſtraitly that no Man ſhould know it: 'Twas ſufficiently known to a competent Number, but he would not have it as yet proclaim'd any further, becauſe his own Reſurrection was to be the great Inſtance of his Power over Death, and therefore the divulging of other Inſtances muſt be reſerv'd till that great Proof was given: Let one Part of the Evidence be kept private, till the other Part, on which the main Streſs lies, be made ready.

9. That Chriſt took Care ſomething ſhould be given her to eat. By this it appear'd that ſhe was rais'd not only to Life, but to a good State of Health, that ſhe had an Appetite to her Meat; even the new born Babes in Chriſt's Houſe deſire the ſincere Milk, 1 Pet. 2. 1, 2. And it is obſervable, that as Chriſt, when at firſt he had made Man, preſently provided Food for him, and Food out of the Earth of which he was made, Gen. 1. 29. So now when he had given a new Life, he took care that ſomething ſhould be given to eat; for if he have given Life, he may be truſted to give Livelihood, becauſe the Life is more than Meat, Mat. 6. 25. Where Chriſt hath given Spiritual Life, he will provide Food for the Support and Nouriſhment of it unto Life Eternal, for he will never forſake, or be wanting to the Work of his own Hands.

CHAP. VI.

A great Variety of obſervable Paſſages we have in this Chapter concerning our Lord Jeſus, the Subſtance of all which we had before in Matthew, but divers Circumſtances we have, which we did not there meet with. Here's (1.) Chriſt contemned by his Countrymen, becauſe he was one of them, and they knew, or thought they knew his Original, v. 1, — 6. (2.) The juſt Power he gave his Apoſtles over unclean Spirits, and an Account given of their Negotiation, v. 7, --- 13. (3.) A ſtrange Notion which Herod and others had of Chriſt, upon which Occaſion, we have the Story of the Martyrdom of John Baptiſt, v. 14, --- 29. (4.) Chriſt's Retirement into a deſart Place with his Diſciples; the Crowds that follow'd him thither to receive Inſtruction from him, and his feeding five thouſand of them with five Loaves and two Fiſhes, v. 30, --- 44. (5.) Chriſt's walking upon the Sea to his Diſciples, and the abundance of Cures he wrought on the other Side the Water, v. 45, --- 56.

AND he went out from thence, and came into his own country, and his diſciples follow him. 2 And when the Sabbath-day was come, he began to teach in the Synagogue: and many hearing him, were aſtoniſhed, ſaying, From whence hath this man theſe things? and what wiſdom is this which is given unto him, that even ſuch mighty works are wrought by his hands? 3 Is not this the carpenter, the ſon of Mary, the brother of James and Joſes, and of Juda and Simon? And are not his ſiſters here with us? And they were offended at him. 4 But Jeſus ſaid unto them, A Prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own houſe. 5 And he could there do no mighty work, ſave that he laid his hands upon a few ſick folk, and healed them. 6 And he marvelled becauſe of their unbelief. And he went round about the villages teaching.

Here 1. Chriſt makes a Viſit to his own Country, the Place not of his Birth, but of his Education; that was Nazareth, where his Relations were. He had been in danger of his Life among them, Luke 4. 29. and yet he came among them again; ſo ſtrangely doth he wait to be gracious, and ſeek the Salvation of his Enemies; whither he went, tho' it was into danger, his Diſciples followed him, v. 1. for they had left all to follow him, whitherſoever he went.

2. There he preach'd in their Synagogue on the Sabbath-Day, v. 2. It ſeems there was no ſuch flocking to him there as in other Places, ſo that he had not Opportunity of preaching till they came together on the Sabbath-Day; and then he expounded a Portion of Scripture with great clearneſs. In religious Aſſemblies on Sabbath-Days, the Word of God is to be preach'd, according to Chriſt's Example. We give Glory to God by receiving Inſtruction from him.

3. They could not but own that which was very honourable concerning him. (1.) That he ſpoke with great Wiſdom, and that Wiſdom was given to him, for they knew he had no learned Education. (2.) That he did mighty Works, did them with his own Hands, for the confirming of the Doctrine he taught; they acknowledged the two great Proofs of the divine Original of his Goſpel, the Divine Wiſdom that appears in the Contrivance of it, and the Divine Power that was exerted for the ratifying and recommending of it; and yet, tho' they could not deny the Premiſes, they would not admit the Concluſion.

4. They ſtudy'd to diſparage him, and to raiſe Prejudices in the Minds of People againſt him notwithſtanding: All this Wiſdom, and all theſe mighty Works, ſhall be of no Account, becauſe he had had a Home-Education, had never travell'd, nor been at any Univerſity, or bred up at the Feet of any of their Doctors, v. 3. Is not this the Carpenter? In Matthew they upbraid him with being the Carpenter's Son, his ſuppoſed Father Joſeph being of that Trade: But it ſeems they could ſay further, Is not this the Carpenter? Our Lord Jeſus, 'tis probable, employing himſelf in that Buſineſs with his Father before he enter'd upon his publick Miniſtry, at leaſt ſometimes in Journey-Work. (1.) He would thus humble himſelf, and make himſelf of no Reputation, as one that had taken upon him the Form of a Servant, and came to miniſter. Thus low did our Redeemer ſtoop, when he came to redeem us out of our low Eſtate. (2.) He would thus teach us to abhor Idleneſs, and to find our ſelves ſomething to do in this World; and rather to take up with mean laborious Employments, and ſuch as no more is to be got by but a bare Livelihood, than indulge our ſelves in Sloth. Nothing is more pernicious for young People, than to get a Habit of Sauntering. The Jews had a good Rule for this, that their young Men who were deſign'd for Scholars, yet were bred up to ſome Trade, as Paul was a Tent-maker, that they might have ſome Buſineſs to fill up their Time with; and if need were, to get their Bread with. (3.) He would thus put an Honour upon deſpiſed Mechanicks, and encourage thoſe who eat the Labour of their Hands, tho' great Men look upon them with Contempt.

Another thing they upbraided him with was the Meanneſs of his Relations; He is the Son of Mary; his Brethren and Siſters are here with us; we know his Family and Kindred; and therefore tho' they were aſtoniſhed at his Doctrine, v. 2. yet they were offended at his Perſon, v. 2. were prejudiced againſt him; and look'd upon him with Contempt, and for that Reaſon would not receive his Doctrine, tho' never ſo well recommended. May we think that if they had not known his Pedigree, but he had dropt among them from the Clouds, without Father, without Mother, and without Deſcent, they would have entertain'd him with any more Reſpect? Truly, no; for in Judea where this was not known, that was made an Objection againſt him, John 9. 29. As for this Fellow, we know not from whence he is. Obſtinate Unbelief will never want Excuſes.

5. Let us ſee how Chriſt bore this Contempt.

1. He partly excus'd it, as a common Thing, and what might be expected, tho' not reaſonably or juſtly, v. 4. A prophet is not deſpiſed any where but in his own Country. Some Exceptions there may be to this Rule; doubtleſs many have got over this Prejudice, but ordinarily it holds good, That Miniſters are ſeldom ſo acceptable and ſucceſsful in their own Country as among Strangers; Familiarity in the younger Years breeds a Contempt, and the Advancement of one that was an inferior, begets Envy, and Men will hardly ſet thoſe among the Guides of their Soul, whoſe Fathers they were ready to ſet with the Dogs of their Flock; in ſuch a Caſe therefore it muſt not be thought hard; 'tis common Treatment, 'twas Chriſt's, and Wiſdom is profitable to direct to other Soil.

2. He did ſome good among them, notwithſtanding the Slights they put upon him, for he is kind even to the evil and unthankful; he laid his Hands upon a few ſick Folks, and healed them. Note, It is generous and becoming the Followers of Chriſt, to content themſelves with the Pleaſure and Satisfaction of doing good, tho' they be unjuſtly deny'd the Praiſe of it.

3. Yet he could there do no ſuch mighty Works, at leaſt not ſo many as in other Places, becauſe of the Unbelief that prevail'd among the People, by Reaſon of the Prejudices which their Leaders inſtill'd into them againſt Chriſt, v. 5. 'Tis a ſtrange Expreſſion, as if Unbelief ty'd the Hands of Omnipotence it ſelf: he would have done as many Miracles there as he had done elſewhere, but he could not, becauſe People would not make Application to him, nor ſue for his Favours; he could have wrought them, but they forfeited the Honour of having them wrought for them. Note, By Unbelief and Contempt of Chriſt, Men ſtop the Current of his Favours to them, and put a Bar in their own Door.

4. He marvelled becauſe of their Unbelief, v. 6. We never find Chriſt wondring but at the Faith of the Gentiles that were Strangers, as the Centurion, Matt. 8. 10. and the Woman of Samaria, and at the Unbelief of the Jews that were his own Countrymen. Note, The Unbelief of thoſe that enjoy the Means of Grace, is a moſt amazing Thing.

5. He went round about the Villages teaching. If we cannot do good where we would, we muſt do it where we can, and be glad if we may have any Opportunity, tho' but in the Villages, of ſerving Chriſt and Souls. Sometimes the Goſpel of Chriſt finds better Entertainment in the Country Villages, where there is leſs Wealth, and Pomp, and Mirth, and Subtilty, than in the populous Cities.

7 And he calleth unto him the twelve, and began to ſend them forth by two and two, and gave them power over unclean ſpirits. 8 And commanded them that they ſhould take nothing for their journey, ſave a ſtaff only: no ſcrip, no bread, no money in their purſe: 9 But be ſhod with ſandals, and not put on two coats. 10 And he ſaid unto them, In what place ſoever ye enter into an houſe, there abide till ye depart from that place. 11 And whoſoever ſhall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, ſhake off the duſt under your feet, for a teſtimony againſt them: Verily I ſay unto you, It ſhall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city. 12 And they went out, and preached that men ſhould repent. 13 And they caſt out many devils, and anointed with oil many that were ſick, and healed them.

Here's 1. The Commiſſion given to the twelve Apoſtles to go preach and work Miracles; 'Tis the ſame which we had more largely Mat. 10. Mark doth not name them here, as Matthew doth, becauſe he had nam'd them before, when they were firſt call'd into Fellowſhip with him, Chap. 3. 16. Hitherto they had been converſant with Chriſt, and had ſitten at his feet, had heard his Doctrine, and ſeen his Miracles; and now he determines to make ſome uſe of them; they received that they might give, had learn'd that they might teach; and therefore now he began to ſend them forth. They muſt not always be ſtudying in the Academy to get Knowledge, but they muſt go preach in the Country, to do good with the Knowledge they have got. Tho' they were not as yet ſo well accompliſh'd as they will be hereafter, yet according to their preſent Ability and Capacity they muſt be ſet to work, and make further Improvements afterwards. Now obſerve here,

1. That Chriſt ſent them forth by two and two; this Mark takes Notice of: They went two and two to a Place, that out of the Mouth of two Witneſſes every Word might be eſtabliſh'd; and that they might be Company for one another when they were among Strangers, and might ſtrengthen the Hands, and encourage the Hearts one of another; might help one another if any thing ſhould be amiſs, and keep one another in Countenance: Every common Soldier has his Comrade; and it's an approved Maxim, Two is better than One. Chriſt would thus teach his Miniſters to aſſociate, and both lend and borrow Help.

2. That he gave them Power over unclean Spirits: He commiſſion'd them to attack the Devil's Kingdom, and empower'd them, as a Specimen of their breaking his Intereſt in the Souls of Men by their Doctrine, to caſt him out of the Bodies of thoſe that were poſſeſs'd. Dr. Lightfoot ſuggeſts, That they cur'd Diſeaſes and caſt out Devils by the Spirit, but preach'd that only which they had learn'd from the Mouth of Chriſt.

3. That he commanded them not to take Proviſions along with them, neither Victuals nor Money, that they might appear where-ever they came, to be poor Men, Men not of this World, and therefore might with the better Grace call People off from it to another World: When afterwards he bid them take Purſe and Scrip, Luke 22. 36. that did not intimate (as Dr. Lightfoot obſerves) that his Care of them was abated to what it had been; but that they ſhould meet with worſe Times and worſe Entertainment than they met with at their firſt Miſſion. In Matthew and Luke they are forbidden to take Staves with them, i. e. fighting Staves; but here in Mark they are bid to take nothing ſave a Staff only, i. e. a Walking-Staff; ſuch as Pilgrims carried — They muſt not put on Shoes, but Sandals only, which were only the Soles of Shoes ty'd under their Feet; or like Pumps or Slippers; they muſt go in the readieſt, plaineſt Dreſs they could, and muſt not ſo much as have two Coats; for their Stay abroad would be ſhort, they muſt return before Winter; and what they wanted, thoſe they preach'd to would cheerfully accommodate them with.

4. He directed them whatever City they came to, to make that Houſe their Head-Quarters, which happen'd to be their firſt Quarters, v. 10. there abide till ye depart from that Place. And ſince you know you come on an Errand ſufficient to make you welcome, have that Charity for your Friends that firſt invited you, as to believe they do not think you burthenſome.

5. He pronounceth a very heavy Doom upon thoſe that rejected the Goſpel they preached, v. 11. Whoſoever ſhall not receive you, or will not ſo much as hear you, depart thence, if one will not, another will, and ſhake off the Duſt under your Feet for a Teſtimony againſt them. Let them know that they have had a fair Offer of Life and Happineſs made them, witneſs that Duſt; but that ſince they have

refuſed it, they cannot expect ever to have another; let them take up with their own Duſt, for ſo ſhall their Doom be. That Duſt like the Duſt of Egypt, Exod. 9. 9. ſhall turn into a Plague to them, and their Condemnation in the great Day will be more intolerable than that of Sodom; for the Angels were ſent to Sodom, and were abuſed there, yet that would not bring on ſo great a Guilt and ſo great a Ruin as the Contempt and Abuſe of the Apoſtles of Chriſt, that bring with them the Offers of Goſpel Grace.

2. The Apoſtles Actings in purſuance of their Commiſſion: Tho' they were conſcious to themſelves of great Weakneſs, and expected no ſecular Advantage by it, yet, in Obedience to their Maſter's Order, and in Dependance upon his Strength, they went out, as Abraham, not knowing whither they went. Obſerve here,

1. The Doctrine they preach'd; they preach'd that Men ſhould repent, v. 12. That they ſhould change their Minds and reform their Lives, in Conſideration of the near Approach of the Kingdom of the Meſſiah. Note, The great Deſign of Goſpel-Preachers, and the great Tendency of Goſpel-Preaching, ſhould be to bring People to Repentance, to a new Heart, and a new Way. They did not amuze People with curious Speculations, but told them they muſt repent of their Sins and turn to God.

2. The Miracles they wrought. The Power Chriſt gave them over unclean Spirits, was not ineffectual, nor did they receive it in vain, but us'd it, for they caſt out many Devils, v. 13. And they anointed with Oil many that were ſick, and healed them: Some think this Oil was us'd medicinally, according to the Cuſtom of the Jews: but I rather think it was us'd as a Sign of miraculous Healing, by the Appointment of Chriſt, tho' not mention'd; and it was afterwards us'd by thoſe 'Elders of the Church, to whom by the Spirit was given the Gift of Healing, Jam. 5. 14. 'Tis certain here, and therefore probable there, that Anointing the Sick with Oil, is appropriated to that extraordinary Power which is long ceas'd, and therefore that Sign muſt ceaſe with it.

14 And king Herod heard of him (for his Name was ſpread abroad:) and he ſaid, That John the Baptiſt was riſen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do ſhew forth themſelves in him. 15 Others ſaid, That it is Elias. And others ſaid, That it is a Prophet, or as one of the Prophets. 16 But when Herod heard thereof, he ſaid, It is John, whom I beheaded, he is riſen from the dead. 17 For Herod himſelf had ſent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in priſon, for Herodias ſake, his brother Philip's wife; for he had married her. 18 For John had ſaid unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife. 19 Therefore Herodias had a quarrel againſt him, and would have killed him, but ſhe could not: 20 For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a juſt man, and an holy, and obſerved him: and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly. 21 And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birth-day made a ſupper to his lords, high captains, and chief eſtates of Galilee: 22 And when the daughter of the ſaid Herodias came in, and danced, and pleaſed Herod, and them that ſate with him, the king ſaid unto the damſel, Ask of me whatſoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee. 23 And he ſwear unto her, Whatſoever thou ſhalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom. 24 And ſhe went forth, and ſaid unto her mother, What ſhall I ask? And ſhe ſaid, The head of John the Baptiſt. 25 And ſhe came in ſtraightway with haſte unto the king, and asked, ſaying, I will that thou give me by and by in a charger, the head of John the Baptiſt. 26 And the king was exceeding ſorry, yet for his oaths ſake, and for their ſakes which ſate with him, he would not reject her. 27 And immediately the king ſent an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the priſon; 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damſel: and the damſel gave it to her mother. 29 And when his diſciples heard of it, they came and took up his corps, and laid it in a tomb.

Here's, 1. The wild Notions that the People had concerning our Lord Jeſus, v. 15. His own Countrymen could believe nothing great concerning him, becauſe they knew his poor Kindred; but others that were not under the Power of that Prejudice againſt him, yet were willing to believe any Thing rather than the Truth, that he was the Son of God, and the true Meſſias: They ſaid, He is Elias, whom they expected, or, He is a Prophet, one of the Old Teſtament Prophets rais'd to Life, and return'd to this World: Or, as one of the Prophets, a Prophet now newly rais'd up equal to thoſe under the Old Teſtament.

2. The Opinion of Herod concerning him. He heard of his Name and Fame, of what he ſaid and what he did; and he ſaid, It is certainly John Baptiſt, v. 14. As ſure as we are here, It is John whom I beheaded, v. 16. He is riſen from the Dead; and tho' while he was with us he did no Miracle, yet having remov'd for a while to another World, he is come again with greater Power, and now mighty Works do ſhew forth themſelves in him.

Note (1.) Where there is an idle Faith, there is commonly a working Fancy. The People ſaid, it is a Prophet riſen from the Dead; Herod ſaid, It is John Baptiſt riſen from the Dead. It ſeems by this, that the riſing of a Prophet from the Dead, to do mighty Works, was a Thing expected, and was thought neither impoſſible nor improbable, and it was now readily ſuſpected when it was not true; but afterwards when it was true concerning Chriſt, and a Truth undeniably evidenc'd, yet then it was obſtinately gain-ſaid and deny'd. Thoſe who moſt wilfully diſbelieve the Truth, are commonly moſt credulous of Errors and Fancies.

(2.) They who fight againſt the Cauſe of God, will find themſelves baffled, even when they think themſelves Conquerors; they cannot gain their Point, for the Word of the Lord endures for ever. They who rejoyced when the Witneſſes were ſlain, fretted as much, when in three or four days they roſe again in their Succeſſors, Rev. 11. 10, 11. The impenitent unreformed Sinner, that eſcapeth the Sword of Jehu, ſhall Eliſha ſlay.

(3.) A guilty Conſcience needs no Accuſer or Tormentor but it ſelf. Herod charges himſelf with the Murther of John, which perhaps no one elſe durſt charge him with, I beheaded him; and the Terror of it made him imagine that Chriſt was John riſen: He fear'd John while he liv'd, and now when he thought he had got clear of him, fears him ten times worſe when he is dead: One had as good be haunted with Ghoſts and Furies, as with the Horror of an accuſing Conſcience; thoſe therefore who would keep an undiſturbed Peace, muſt keep an undefiled Conſcience, Acts 24. 16.

(4.) There may be the Terrors of ſtrong Conviction, where there is not the Truth of a ſaving Converſion. This Herod, that had this Notion concerning Chriſt, afterwards ſought to kill him, Luke 13. 31. and did ſet him at nought, Luke 13. 11. So that he will not be perſwaded, tho' it be by one riſen from the dead; no, not by a John the Baptiſt riſen from the Dead.

3. A Narrative of Herod's putting John Baptiſt to Death, which is brought in upon this Occaſion, as it was in Matthew: And here we may obſerve,

1. The great Value and Veneration which Herod had ſometimes had for John Baptiſt, which is related only by this Evangeliſt, v. 20. Where we ſee what a great Way a Man may go towards Grace and Glory, and yet come ſhort of both, and periſh eternally.

(1.) He feared John, knowing that he was a juſt Man and a holy. It is poſſible that a Man may have a great Reverence for good Men, and eſpecially for good Miniſters; yea, and for that in them that is good, and yet himſelf be an ill Man. Obſerve (1.) John was a juſt Man and a holy; to make a compleat good Man, there is neceſſary both Juſtice and Holineſs; Holineſs towards God, and Juſtice towards Men. John was mortify'd to this World, and that's a good Friend both to Juſtice and Holineſs. (2.) Herod knew this, not only by common Fame, but by perſonal Acquaintance with him. Thoſe that have but little Juſtice and Holineſs themſelves, may yet diſcern it with reſpect in others. And (3.) He therefore fear'd him, he honour'd him. Holineſs and Juſtice command Veneration, and many that are not good themſelves, yet have Reſpect for thoſe that are.

(2) He obſerv'd him; he ſhelter'd him from the Malice of his Enemies; ſo ſome underſtand it: Or rather, he had a Regard to his exemplary Converſation, and took Notice of that in him that was Praiſe-worthy, and commended it in the Hearing of thoſe about him; he made it appear that he obſerv'd what John ſaid and did.

(3.) He heard him preach; which was great Condeſcenſion, conſidering how mean John's Appearance was. To hear Chriſt himſelf preach in our Streets, will be but a poor Plea in the Great Day, Luke 13. 26.

(4.) He did many of thoſe Things which John in his preaching taught him. He was not only a Hearer of the Word, but in part a Doer of the Work. Some Sins which John in his preaching reprov'd, he forſook, and ſome Duties he bound himſelf to; but it will not ſuffice to do many Things, unleſs we have reſpect to all the Commandments.

(5.) He heard him gladly. He did not hear him with Terror, as Felix heard Paul, but heard him with Pleaſure. There is a flaſhy Joy, which an Hypocrite may have in hearing the Word; Ezekiel was to his Hearers a lovely Song; Ezek. 33. 32. and the ſtony Ground received the Word with Joy, Luke 8. 13.

2. John's Faithfulneſs to Herod, in telling him of his Faults. Herod had marry'd his Brother Philip's Wife, v. 17. All the Country, no doubt, cry'd ſhame on him for it, and reproach'd him for it; but John reprov'd him, told him plainly, It is not lawful for thee to have thy Brother's Wife. This was Herod's own Iniquity which he could not leave, when he did many Things that John taught him; and therefore John tells him of this particularly. Tho' he were a King, he would not ſpare him, no more than Elijah did Ahab when he ſaid, Haſt thou kill'd, and alſo taken Poſſeſſion? Tho' John had an Intereſt in him, and he might fear this plain dealing would loſe him his Intereſt, yet he reprov'd him; for faithful are the wounds of a Friend, Prov. 27. 6. and tho' there are ſome Swine, that will turn again and rend thoſe that caſt Pearls before them, yet ordinarily, he that rebuketh a Man (if the Perſon reprov'd has any Thing of the Underſtanding of a Man) afterwards ſhall find more Favour, than he that flattereth with his Tongue, Prov. 28. 23. Tho' it was dangerous to offend Herod, and much more to offend Herodias, yet John would run the Hazard, rather than be wanting in his Duty. Note, Thoſe Miniſters that would be found faithful in the Work of God, muſt not be afraid of the Face of Man. If we ſeek to pleaſe Men, further than is for their ſpiritual Good, we are not the Servants of Chriſt.

3. The Malice which Herodias bore to John for this, v. 19. She had a quarrel with him, and would have killed him; but when ſhe could not obtain that, ſhe got him committed to Priſon, v. 17. Herod reſpected him, till he touch'd him in his Herodias. Many that pretend to honour prophecying, are for ſmooth Things only, and love good Preaching, if it keeps far enough from their beloved Sin; but if that be touch'd, they cannot bear it. No marvel if the World hate thoſe who teſtifie of it, that its Works are Evil. But Miniſters had better that Sinners ſhould perſecute them now for their Faithfulneſs, than curſe them eternally for their Unfaithfulneſs.

4. The Plot laid to take off John's Head; and I am apt to think Herod was himſelf in the Plot, notwithſtanding his Pretences to be diſpleas'd and ſurpriz'd, and that the Thing was concerted between him and Herodias, for it is ſaid to be, when a convenient Day was come, v. 21. fit for ſuch a Purpoſe. (1.) There muſt be a Ball at Court upon the King's Birth-Day, and a Supper prepar'd for his Lords, high Captains, and chief Eſtates of Galilee. (2.) To grace the Solemnity, the Daughter of Herodias muſt dance publickly, and Herod muſt take on him to be wonderfully charm'd with her dancing: And if he be, they that ſit with him cannot but in Complement to him be ſo too. (3.) The King hereupon muſt make her an extravagant Promiſe, to give her whatever ſhe would ask, even to the half of the Kingdom; and yet that, if rightly underſtood, would not have reach'd the End deſign'd, for John Baptiſt's Head was worth more than his whole Kingdom. This Promiſe is bound with an Oath, that no room might be left to fly off from it; He ſware to her, whatſoever thou ſhalt ask, I will give. I can ſcarce think, he would have made ſuch an unlimited Promiſe, but that he knew what ſhe would ask. (4.) She being inſtructed by Herodias her Mother, ask'd the Head of John Baptiſt; and ſhe muſt have it brought her in a Charger, as a pretty Thing for her to play with, v. 24, 25. And there muſt be no Delay, no Time loſt, ſhe muſt have it by and by. (5.) Herod granted it, and the Execution was done immediately, while the Company were together; which we can ſcarce think the King would have done, if he had not determin'd the Matter before. But he takes on him, (1.) To be very backward to it, and that he would not for all the World have done it, if he had not been ſurpriz'd into ſuch a Promiſe. The King was exceeding ſorry; that is, he ſeem'd to be ſo, he ſaid he was ſo, he look'd as if he had been ſo: But it was all Sham and Grimace, he was really pleas'd, that he had found a Pretence to get John out of the Way. Qui neſcit diſſimulare neſcit regnare. And yet he was not without Sorrow for it; he could not do it but with great Regret and Reluctancy; natural Conſcience will not ſuffer Men to ſin eaſily; the very Commiſſion of it is vexatious, what then will the Reflection upon it be? (2.) He takes on him to be very ſenſible of the Obligation of his Oath; whereas if the Damſel had ask'd but a fourth part of his Kingdom, I doubt not but he would have found out a way to evade his Oath. The Promiſe was raſhly made, and could not bind him to do an unrighteous Thing. Sinful Oaths muſt be repented of, and therefore not perform'd, for Repentance is the undoing of what we have done amiſs, as far as it is in our Power. When Theodoſius the Emperor was urg'd by a Suitor with a Promiſe; he anſwer'd, I ſaid it, but did not promiſe it, if it be unjuſt. If we may ſuppoſe, that Herod knew nothing of the Deſign when he made that raſh Promiſe, 'tis likely he was hurry'd into the doing of it by thoſe about him, only to carry on the Humour; for he did it for their ſakes who ſate with him, whoſe Company he was proud of, and therefore would do any Thing to gratifie them. Thus do Princes make themſelves Slaves to thoſe whoſe Reſpects they covet, and both value and ſecure themſelves by. None of Herod's Subjects ſtood in more Awe of him, than he did of his Lords, high Captains, and chief Eſtates. The King ſent an Executioner, a Soldier of his Guard. Bloody Tyrants have Executioners ready to obey their moſt cruel and unrighteous Decrees. Thus Saul had a Doeg at hand, to fall upon the Prieſts of the Lord, when his own Footmen declin'd it.

5. The Effect of this is, (1.) That Herod's wicked Court is all in Triumphs, becauſe this Prophet tormented them; the Head is made a Preſent of to the Damſel, and by her to her Mother, v. 28. (2.) That John Baptiſt's ſacred College is all in Tears; the Diſciples of John little thought of this, but when they heard of it, they came and took up the neglected Corps, and laid it in a Tomb; where Herod, if he had pleas'd might have found it, when he frighten'd himſelf with the Fancy, that John Baptiſt was riſen from the Dead.

30 And the Apoſtles gathered themſelves together unto Jeſus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught. 31 And he ſaid unto them, Come ye your ſelves apart into a deſert place, and reſt a while. For there were many coming and going, and they had no leiſure ſo much as to eat. 32 And they departed into a deſert place by ſhip privately. 33 And the people ſaw them departing, and many knew him, and ran a foot thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him. 34 And Jeſus, when he came out, ſaw much people, and was moved with compaſſion toward them, becauſe they were as ſheep not having a ſhepherd: and he began to teach them many things. 35 And when the day was now far ſpent, his diſciples came unto him, and ſaid, This is a deſert place, and now the time is far paſſed: 36 Send them away, that they may go into the countrey round about, and into the villages, and buy themſelves bread: for they have nothing to eat. 37 He anſwered and ſaid unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they ſay unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred penny-worth of bread, and give them to eat? 38 He ſaith unto them, How many loaves have ye? Go and ſee. And when they knew, they ſay, Five, and two fiſhes. 39 And he commanded them to make all ſit down by companies upon the green graſs. 40 And they ſat down in ranks by hundreds, and by fifties. 41 And when he had taken the five loaves, and the two fiſhes, he looked up to heaven, and bleſſed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his diſciples to ſet before them, and the two fiſhes divided he among them all. 42 And they did all eat, and were filled. 43 And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fiſhes. 44 And they that did eat of the loaves, were about five thouſand men.

In theſe Verſes we have,

Firſt, The Return of the Apoſtles to Chriſt whom he had ſent forth, v. 7. to preach and work Miracles. They had diſpers'd themſelves into ſeveral Quarters of the Country for ſome time, but when they had made good their ſeveral Appointments, by conſent they gather'd themſelves together to compare Notes, and came to Jeſus, the Centre of their Unity, to give him an Account of what they had done purſuant to their Commiſſion, as the Servant that was ſent to invite to the Feaſt, and had received Anſwers from the Gueſts, came and ſhewed his Lord all theſe things; ſo did the Apoſtles here, they told him all Things both what they had done, and what they had taught. Miniſters are accountable both for what they do, and for what they teach; and muſt both watch over their own Souls, and watch for the Souls of others, as thoſe that muſt give Account, Heb. 13. 17. Let them not either do any Thing, or teach any Thing, but they are willing ſhould be related and repeated to the Lord Jeſus. It is a Comfort to faithful Miniſters, when they can appeal to Chriſt concerning their Doctrine and Manner of Life, both which perhaps have been miſrepreſented by Men; and he gives them leave to be free with him, and to lay open their Caſe before him, to tell him all Things, what Treatment they have met with, what Succeſs, and what Diſappointment.

Secondly, The tender Care Chriſt took for their Repoſe, after the Fatigue they had had, v. 31. He ſaid unto them, perceiving them to be almoſt ſpent, and out of breath, Come ye your ſelves apart into a deſart place, and reſt a while. It ſhould ſeem that John's Diſciples came to Chriſt with the mournful Tidings of their Maſter's Death, much about the ſame Time that his own Diſciples came to him with the Report of their Negotiation. Note, Chriſt takes Cognizance of the Frights of ſome, and the Toils of others of his Diſciples, and provides ſuitable Relief for both, Reſt for thoſe that are tir'd, and Refuge for thoſe that are terrified. With what Kindneſs and Compaſſion doth Chriſt ſay to them, come and reſt. Note, The moſt active Servants of Chriſt cannot be always upon the ſtretch of Buſineſs, but have Bodies that require ſome Relaxation, ſome Breathing-time; we ſhall not be able to ſerve God without ceaſing, Day and Night, till we come to Heaven, where they never reſt from praiſing him, Rev. 4. 8. And the Lord is for the Body, conſiders its Frame, and not only allows it time to reſt, but puts it in mind of reſting. Come, my People, enter thou into thy Chambers. Return to thy Reſt. And thoſe that work diligently and faithfully, may chearfully retire to Reſt. The Sleep of the labouring Man is ſweet. But obſerve, (1.) Chriſt calls them to come themſelves apart; for if they had any Body with them, they would have ſomething to ſay, or ſomething to do for their Good; if they muſt reſt, they muſt be alone. (2.) He invites them not to ſome pleaſant Country Seat where there were fine Buildings, and fine Gardens, but into a deſert place, where the Accommodations were very poor, and which was fitted by Nature only, not by Art, for Quietneſs and Reſt. But it was of a piece with all the other Circumſtances he was in; no wonder that he who had but a Ship for his preaching Place, had but a Deſart for his reſting Place. (1.) He calls them only to reſt a while, they muſt not expect to reſt long, only to get Breath, and then go to work again. There is no remaining Reſt for the People of God, till they come to Heaven. (4.) The Reaſon given for this, is not ſo much, becauſe they had been in conſtant Work, but becauſe they now were in a conſtant hurry; ſo that they had not their Work in any Order, for there were many coming and going, and they had no leiſure ſo much as to eat. Let but proper Time be ſet and kept for every Thing, and a great deal of Work may be done with a great deal of eaſe; but if People are continually coming and going, and no Rule or Method be obſerv'd, a little Work will not be done without a deal of Trouble. (5.) They withdrew accordingly by Ship, not croſſing the Water, but making a coaſting Voyage to the Deſart of Bethſaida, v. 32. Going by Water was much leſs toilſome, than going by Land would have been. They went away privately, that they might be by themſelves. The moſt publick Perſons, cannot but wiſh to be private ſometimes.

Thirdly, The Diligence of the People to follow him. 'Twas rude to do ſo, when he and his Diſciples were deſirous for ſuch good Reaſon to retire, and yet they are not blam'd for it, nor bid to go back, but bid welcome: Note, A failure in good Manners, will eaſily be excus'd in thoſe who follow Chriſt, if it be but made up in a Fulneſs of good Affections. They follow'd him of their own Accord, without being call'd upon. Here's no Time ſet, no Meeting appointed, no Bell toll'd, yet they thus fly like a Cloud, and as the Doves to their Windows. They follow'd him out of the Cities, quitted their Houſes and Shops, their Callings and Affairs, to hear him preach. They followed him afoot, tho' he was gone by Sea; and ſo to try them, ſeem'd to put a ſlight upon them, and to endeavour to ſhake them off, yet they ſtuck to him. They ran afoot, and made ſuch haſte, as that they out-went the Diſciples, and came together to him, with an Appetite to the Word of God. Nay, they follow'd him, tho' it were into a deſart place, deſpicable, and inconvenient. The Preſence of Chriſt will turn a Wilderneſs into a Paradiſe.

Fourthly, The Entertainment Chriſt gave them, v. 34. When he ſaw much People, inſtead of being moved with Diſpleaſure, becauſe they diſturb'd him when he deſir'd to be private, as many a Man, many a good Man would have been, he was moved with Compaſſion towards them, and look'd upon them with Concern, and becauſe they were, as Sheep having no Shepherd, they ſeem'd to be well inclin'd, and manageable as Sheep, and willing to be taught, but they had no Shepherd; none to lead and guide them in the right way, none to feed them with good Doctrine: And therefore in Compaſſion to them, he not only healed their ſick, as 'tis in Matthew, but he taught them many Things, and we may be ſure they were all true and good, and fit for them to learn.

Fifthly, The Proviſion he made for them all; all his Hearers he generouſly made his Gueſts, and treated them at a ſplendid Entertainment: So it might truly be call'd, becauſe a miraculous one.

1. The Diſciples mov'd, that they ſhould be ſent home. When the Day was now far ſpent, and Night drew on, they ſaid, This is a deſert Place, and much Time is now paſſed, ſend them away to buy Bread, v. 35, 36. This the Diſciples ſuggeſted to Chriſt, but we do not find that the Multitude themſelves did. They did not ſay, ſend us away, no not tho' they could not but be hungry; for they eſteemed the Words of Chriſt's Mouth, more than their neceſſary Food, and forgat themſelves when they were hearing him; but the Diſciples thought it would be a Kindneſs to them to diſmiſs them. Note, Willing Minds will do more, and hold out longer in that which is Good, than one would expect from them.

2. Chriſt order'd that they ſhould all be fed, v. 37. Give ye them to eat. Tho' their crowding after him, and his Diſciples hinder'd them from eating, v. 31. yet he would not therefore, to be even with them, ſend them away Faſting; but to teach us to be Kind to thoſe who are Rude to us, he order'd Proviſion to be made for them; that Bread which Chriſt and his Diſciples took with them into the Deſart, that they might make a quiet Meal of it for themſelves, he will have them to partake of. Thus was he given to Hoſpitality. They attended on the ſpiritual Food of his Word, and then he took Care they ſhould not want corporal Food. The way of Duty, as it is the way of Safety, ſo it is the way to Supply. Let God alone to fill the Pools with Rain from Heaven, and ſo to make a Well even in the Valley of Baca, for thoſe that are going Sion-wards from Strength to Strength, Pſalm 84. 6, 7. Providence not tempted, but duly truſted, never yet fail'd any of God's faithful Servants, but has refreſh'd many with ſeaſonable and ſurprizing Relief. It has often been ſeen in the Mount of the Lord, Jehovah Jireh, that the Lord will provide for thoſe that wait on him.

3. The Diſciples objected againſt it as impracticable; ſhall we go and buy two hundred penny-worth of Bread, and give them to eat? Thus through the weakneſs of their Faith, inſtead of waiting for Directions from Chriſt, they perplex the Cauſe with Projects of their own. 'Twas a Queſtion, whether they had Two hundred Pence with them, and whether the Country would of a ſudden afford ſo much Bread if they had, and whether that would ſuffice ſo great a Company; but thus Moſes objected, Numb. 11. 22. Shall the Flocks or Herds be ſlain for them? Chriſt would let them ſee their Folly in fore-caſting for themſelves, that they might put the greater Value upon his Proviſion for them.

4. Chriſt effected it to univerſal Satisfaction. They had brought with them Five Loaves, for the Victualling of their Ship, and Two Fiſhes, perhaps they had caught as they came along, and that's the Bill of Fare. This was but little for Chriſt and his Diſciples, and yet this they muſt give away, as the Widow her Two Mites, and the Churches of Macedonia's deep Poverty abounded to the Riches of their Liberality. We often find Chriſt entertain'd at other Peoples Tables, dining with one Friend, and ſupping with another, but here we have him ſupping a great many at his own Charge, which ſhews, that when others miniſter'd to him of their Subſtance, it was not, becauſe he could not ſupply himſelf otherwiſe: If he were Hungry he needed not tell them, but it was a piece of Humiliation he was pleas'd to ſubmit to, nor was it agreeable to the Intention of Miracles, that he ſhould work them for himſelf. Obſerve,

1. The Proviſion was ordinary. Here were no Rarities, no Varieties, tho' Chriſt if he had pleaſed could have furniſh'd his Table with them: But thus he would teach us to be content with Food convenient for us, and not to be deſirous of Dainties. If we have for Neceſſity, 'tis no matter tho' we have not for Delicacy and Curioſity. God in love gives Meat for our Hunger, but in Wrath gives Meat for our Luſts, Pſal. 78. 18. The Promiſe to them that fear the Lord is, That verily they ſhall be fed; he doth not ſay they ſhall be feaſted. If Chriſt and his Diſciples took up with mean Things, ſure we may.

2. The Gueſts were orderly; for they ſat down by Companies upon the green Graſs, v. 39. they ſat down in Ranks, by Hundreds and by Fifties, v. 40. that the Proviſion might the more eaſily, and regularly be diſtributed among them; for God is the God of Order, and not of Confuſion. Thus Care was taken that every one ſhould have enough, and none be over-look'd, nor any have more than was fitting.

3. A Bleſſing was crav'd upon the Meat. He look'd up to Heaven, and bleſſed. Chriſt did not call one of his Diſciples to crave a Bleſſing, but did it himſelf, v. 41. And by virtue of this Bleſſing, the Bread ſtrangely multiplied, and ſo did the Fiſhes, for they did all eat and were filled, tho' they were to the Number of Five Thouſand, v. 42, 44. This Miracle was ſignificant, and ſhews that Chriſt came into the World to be the great Feeder, as well as the great Healer; not only to reſtore, but to preſerve and nouriſh ſpiritual Life; and in him there's enough for all that come to him, enough to fill the Soul, to fill the Treaſures; none are ſent empty away from Chriſt, but thoſe that come to him full of themſelves.

4. Care was taken of the Fragments that remained, with which they fill'd Twelve Baskets. Tho' Chriſt had Bread enough at Command, he would hereby teach us not to make waſte of any of God's good Creatures; remembring how many there are that do want, and that we know not, but we may ſome Time or other want ſuch Fragments as we throw away.

45 And ſtraightway he conſtrained his diſciples to get into the ſhip, and to go to the other ſide before unto Bethſaida, while he ſent away the people. 46 And when he had ſent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray. 47 And when Even was come, the ſhip was in the midſt of the ſea, and he alone on the land. 48 And he ſaw them toyling in rowing, (for the wind was contrary unto them:) and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the ſea, and would have paſſed by them. 49 But when they ſaw him walking upon the ſea, they ſuppoſed it had been a ſpirit, and cried out, 50 (For they all ſaw him, and were troubled) and immediately he talked with them, and ſaith unto them, Be of good cheer, it is I, be not afraid. 51 And he went up unto them into the ſhip, and the wind ceaſed: and they were ſore amazed in themſelves beyond meaſure, and wondered. 52 For they conſidered not the miracle of the loaves: For their heart was hardened. 53 And when they had paſſed over, they came into the land of Geneſareth, and drew to the ſhore. 54 And when they were come out of the ſhip, ſtraightway they knew him, 55 And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds thoſe that were ſick, where they heard he was. 56 And whitherſoever he entred into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the ſick in the ſtreets, and beſought him that they might touch, if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched him, were made whole.

The Paſſage or Story we had Mat. 14. 22, &c. only what was there related concerning Peter is omitted here. Here we have,

Firſt, The diſperſing of the Aſſembly. Chriſt conſtrain'd his Diſciples to go before by Ship to Bethſaida, intending to follow them, as they ſuppos'd by Land. The People were loth to ſcatter, ſo that it coſt him ſome time and Pains to ſend them away. Fow now they had got a good Supper, they were in no haſte to leave him. But as long as we are here in this World, we have no continuing City, no not in Communion with Chriſt. The Everlaſting Feaſt is reſerv'd for the future State.

Secondly, Chriſt departed into a Mountain to pray. Obſerve, (1.) He pray'd; tho' he had ſo much preaching Work upon his Hands, yet he was much in Prayer; he prayed often, and prayed long, which is an Encouragement to us to depend upon that Interceſſion, he is making for us at the right Hand of the Father, that continual Interceſſion. (2.) He went alone to pray; tho' he needed not to retire for the avoiding either of Diſtraction or of Oſtentation, yet to ſet us an Example, and to encourage us in our ſecret Addreſſes to God, he pray'd alone; and for want of a Cloſet, went up into a Mountain to pray. A good Man is never leſs alone, than when alone with God.

Thirdly, The Diſciples were in Diſtreſs at Sea; the Wind was contrary, v. 48. So that they toil'd in rowing, and could not get forward. This was a Specimen of the Hardſhips they were to expect, when hereafter he ſhould ſend them abroad to preach the Goſpel; 'twould be like ſending them to Sea at this Time with the Wind in their Teeth, they muſt expect to toil in rowing, they muſt work hard to ſtrive againſt ſo ſtrong a Stream; they muſt likewiſe expect to be toſſed with Waves, to be perſecuted by their Enemies, and by expoſing them now, he intended to train them up for ſuch Difficulties; that they might learn to endure hardneſs. The Church is often like a Ship at Sea, toſſed with Tempeſts, and not comforted, we may have Chriſt for us, and yet Wind and Tide againſt us; but it is a Comfort to Chriſt's Diſciples in a Storm, that their Maſter is in the heavenly Mount interceeding for them.

Fourthly, Chriſt made them a kind Viſit upon the Water. He could have check'd the Winds where he was, or have ſent an Angel to their Relief, but he choſe to help them in the moſt endearing manner poſſible, and therefore came to them himſelf.

1. He did not come 'till the fourth Watch of the Night, not 'till after three a Clock in the Morning; but then he came. Note, If Chriſt's viſits of his People be deferr'd long, yet at length he will come; and their Extremity is his Opportunity to appear for them ſo much the more ſeaſonably. Tho' the Salvation tarry, yet we muſt wait for it; at the end it ſhall ſpeak, in the fourth Watch of the Night, and not lye.

2. He came walking upon the Waters. The Sea was now toſſed with Waves, and yet Chriſt came walking upon it; for tho' the Floods lifted up their Voice, the Lord on high is mightier; Pſalm 93. 3, 4. No Difficulties can obſtruct Chriſt's gracious Appearances for his People, when the ſet Time is come. He will either find or force a way through the moſt tempeſtuous Sea for their Deliverance, Pſal. 42. 7, 8.

3. He would have paſſed by them; i. e. He ſet his Face, and ſteer'd his Courſe, as if he would have gone further, and took no notice of them; this he did to awaken them to call to him. Note, Providence, when 'tis acting deſignedly and directly for the Succour of God's People, yet ſometimes ſeems as if he were giving them the Go-by, and regarded not their Caſe. They thought he would, but we may be ſure he would not have paſſed by them.

4 They were frighten'd at the Sight of him, ſuppoſing him to have been an Apparition; they all ſaw him and were troubled, v. 50. thinking it had been ſome Dæmon, or evil Genius, that haunted them, and rais'd the Storm. We often perplex and frighten our ſelves with Phantaſms, the Creatures of our own fancy and imagination.

5. He encouraged them, and ſilenced their Fears by making himſelf known to them, He talk'd familiarly with them, ſaying, Be of good chear, it is I, Be not afraid. Note, 1. We know not Chriſt, 'till he is pleaſed to reveal himſelf to us. It is I. I your Maſter, I your Friend, I your Redeemer and Saviour. It is I, that came to a troubleſome Earth, and now to a tempeſtuous Sea, to look after you. 2. The Knowledge of Chriſt as he is in himſelf and near to us is enough to make the Diſciples of Chriſt chearful even in a Storm, and no longer fearful. If it be ſo, why am I thus? If 'tis Chriſt that is with thee, Be of good chear, Be not afraid. Our Fears are ſoon ſatisfy'd, if our Miſtakes be but rectified, eſpecially our Miſtakes concerning Chriſt. See Gen. 21. 19. 2 Kings 6. 15, 16, 17. Chriſt's Preſence with us in a ſtormy Day is enough to make us of good chear, tho' Clouds and Darkneſs be round about us. He ſaid; It is I. He doth not tell them who he was, that needed not, they knew his Voice, as the Sheep know the Voice of their own Shepherd, John 10. 4. How readily doth the Spouſe ſay once and again, It is the Voice of my Beloved, Cant. 2. 8. 5. 2. He ſaid ἐγώ εἰμι, I am he. Or, I Am; 'tis God's Name when he comes to deliver Iſrael, Exod. 3. 14. So 'tis Chriſt's, now he comes to deliver his Diſciples. When Chriſt ſaid to thoſe that came to apprehend him by force, I am he, they were ſtruck down by it, John 18. 6. When he ſaith to thoſe that come to apprehend him by Faith, I am he, they are rais'd up by it, and comforted.

6. He went up to them into the Ship, embark'd in the ſame Bottom with them, and ſo made them perfectly eaſie. Let them but have their Maſter with them, and all is well. And as ſoon as he was come into the Ship, the Wind ceaſed. In the former Storm that they were in, 'tis ſaid, he aroſe and rebuked the Winds, and ſaid to the Sea, Peace, be ſtill, Chap. 4. 39. but here we read of no ſuch formal Command given, only the Wind ceas'd all of a ſudden. Note, Our Lord Jeſus will be ſure to do his own Work always effectually, tho' not always alike ſolemnly, and with Obſervation. Tho' we hear not the Command given, yet if thus the Wind ceaſe, and we have the Comfort of a Calm, ſay, It is becauſe Chriſt is in the Ship, and his Decree is gone forth, or ever we are aware, Cant. 6. 12. When we come with Chriſt to Heaven, the Wind ceaſeth preſently; there are no Storms in the upper Region.

7. They were more ſurpriz'd and aſtoniſh'd at this Miracle than did become them, and there was that at the bottom of their Aſtoniſhment which was really culpable. They were ſore amazed in themſelves, were in a perfect Extaſie, as if 'twere a new and unaccountable Thing, as if Chriſt had never done the like before, and they had no Reaſon to expect he ſhould do it now; they ought to admire the Power of Chriſt, and to be confirm'd hereby in their Belief of his being the Son of God: But what needed all this Confuſion about it? It was, becauſe they conſider'd not the Miracle of the Loaves; had they given that its due Weight, they would not have been ſo much ſurpriz'd at this; for his multiplying the Bread was as great an Inſtance of his Power, as his walking upon the Water. They were ſtrangely ſtupid and unthinking, and their Heart was harden'd, or elſe they would not have thought it a Thing incredible, that Chriſt ſhould command a Calm. It is for want of a right Underſtanding of Chriſt's former Works, that we are tranſported at the thought of his preſent Works, as if there never were the like before.

Fifthly, When they came to the Land of Geneſareth, which lay between Bethſaida and Capernaum, the People bid them very welcome. The Men of that Place preſently knew Jeſus, v. 54. and knew what mighty Works he did where-ever he came, what an univerſal Healer he was; they knew likewiſe that he us'd to ſtay but a little while at a place, and therefore they were concern'd to improve the Opportunity of this kind Viſit he made them; they ran through that whole Region round about, with all poſſible Expedition, and began to carry about in Beds thoſe that were ſick, and not able to go themſelves, there was no danger of their getting cold when they hoped to get a Cure; v. 55. Let him go where he would he was crouded with Patients. In the Towns, in the Cities, in the Villages about the Cities, they laid the Sick in the Streets to be in his way, and begg'd leave for them to touch, if it were but the border of his Garment, as the Woman with the bloody Iſſue did, by whom it ſhould ſeem this Method of Application was firſt brought in, and as many as touched were made whole. We do not find that they were deſirous to be taught by him, only to be heal'd. If Miniſters could now cure People's bodily Diſeaſes, what Multitudes would attend them; but it is ſad to think, how much more concern'd the moſt of Men are about their Bodies, than about their Souls.

CHAP. VII.

In this Chapter; we have (1.) Chriſt's diſpute with the Scribes and Pharisees about eating Meat with unwaſhen Hands, v. 1,—13. And the needful Inſtructions he gave to the People upon that Occaſion, and further explained to his Diſciples, v. 14,—23. (2.) His curing the Woman of Canaan's Daughter, that was poſſeſs'd, v. 24.—30. (3.) The Relief of a Man that was deaf, and had an Impediment in his Speech, v. 31,—37.

THen came together unto him the Phariſees, and certain of the Scribes, which came from Jeruſalem. 2 And when they ſaw ſome of his diſciples eat bread with defiled (that is to ſay, with unwaſhen hands,) they found fault. 3 For the Phariſees and all the Jews, except they waſh their hands oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the Elders. 4 And when they come from the market, except they waſh, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the waſhing of cups and pots, braſen veſſels, and of tables. 5 Then the Phariſees and Scribes asked him, Why walk not thy diſciples according to the tradition of the Elders, but eat bread with unwaſhen hands? 6 He anſwered and ſaid unto them, Well hath Eſaias propheſied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. 7 Howbeit, in vain do they worſhip me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men. 8 For laying aſide the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the waſhing of pots and cups: and many other ſuch like things ye do. 9 And he ſaid unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition. 10 For Moſes ſaid, Honour thy father and, thy mother: and whoſo curſeth father or mother, let him die the death. 11 But ye ſay, If a man ſhall ſay to his father or mother, It is Corban, that that is to ſay, a gift, by whatſoever thou mighteſt be profited by me: he ſhall be free. 12 And ye ſuffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother: 13 Making the word of God of none effect, through your tradition, which ye have deliver'd: And many ſuch like things do ye. 14 And when he had called all the people unto him, he ſaid unto them, Hearken unto me every one of you, and underſtand. 15 There is nothing from without a man, that entring into him, can defile him: but the things which come out of him, thoſe are they which defile the man. 16 If any man have ears to hear, let him hear. 17 And when he was entred into the houſe from the people, his diſciples asked him concerning the parable. 18 And he ſaith unto them, Are ye ſo without underſtanding alſo? Do ye not perceive, that whatſoever thing from without entreth into the man, it cannot defile him, 19 Becauſe it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats? 20 And he ſaid, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth a man. 21 For from within, out of the heart of man, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murthers, 22 Thefts, covetouſneſs, wickedneſs, deceit, laſciviouſneſs, an evil eye, blaſphemy, pride, fooliſhneſs: 23 All theſe evil things come from within, and defile the man.

One great Deſign of Chriſt's coming, was to ſet aſide the Ceremonial Law, which God made, and to put an end to it, to make way for which he begins with the Ceremonial Law which Men had made, and added to the Law of God's making, and diſchargeth his Diſciples from the Obligation of that; which here he doth fully upon occaſion of the Offence, which the Phariſees took at them for the Violation of it. Theſe Phariſees and Scribes with whom he had this Argument are ſaid to come from Jeruſalem, down to Galilee, fourſcore or a hundred Miles to pick Quarrels with our Saviour there, where they ſuppos'd him to have the greateſt Intereſt and Reputation. Had they come ſo far to be taught by him, their Zeal had been commendable, but to come ſo far to oppoſe him, and to check the Progreſs of his Goſpel, was great wickedneſs. It ſhould ſeem that the Scribes and Phariſees at Jeruſalem pretended not only to a Preheminence above, but to an Authority over the Country Clergy, and therefore kept up their Viſitations, and ſent Inquiſitors among them; as they did to John when he appeared, John 1. 19.

Now in this Paſſage we may obſerve,

Firſt, What the Tradition of the Elders was; by it all were enjoin'd to waſh their Hands before Meat; a cleanly Cuſtom and no harm in it, and yet as ſuch to be over-nice in it, diſcovers too great a Care about the Body, which is of the Earth; but they plac'd Religion in it, and would not leave it indifferent, as it was in its own Nature; People were at their Liberty to do it, or not to do it; but they interpos'd their Authority, and commanded all to do it upon pain of Excommunication. This they kept up as a Tradition of the Elders: The Papiſts pretend a Zeal for the Authority and Antiquity of the Church and its Canons, and talk much of Councils and Fathers, when really it is nothing but a Zeal for their own Wealth, Intereſt and Dominion that governs them; and ſo it was with the Phariſees.

We have here an Account of the Practice of the Phariſees, and all the Jews, v. 3, 4. (1.) They waſh'd their Hands oft; they waſh'd them, πυγμῆ; the Criticks find a great deal of work about that Word, ſome making it to Note the frequency of their Waſhing, ſo we render it; others think it ſignifies the Pains they took in waſhing their Hands; they waſh'd with great Care, they waſh'd their Hands to their wriſts; ſo ſome; they lifted up their Hands when they were wet, that the Water might run to their Elbows. (2.) They particularly waſh'd before they eat Bread, i. e. before they ſate down to a ſolemn Meal; for that was the Rule; they muſt be ſure to waſh before they eat the Bread on which they begg'd a Bleſſing. Whoſoever eats the Bread over which they recite the Benediction, Bleſſed be he that produceth Bread, muſt waſh his Hands before and after, or elſe he was thought to be defil'd. (3.) They took ſpecial Care when they came in from the Markets to waſh their Hands; from the Judgment Halls, ſo ſome; it ſignifies any place of Concourſe, where there were People of all ſorts; and it might be ſuppos'd ſome Heathen or Jews under a Ceremonial Pollution, by coming near to whom they thought themſelves polluted; ſaying, ſtand by thy ſelf, come not near me, I am holier than thou, Iſa. 65. 5. They ſay the Rule of the Rabbins was, that if they waſh'd their Hands well in the Morning the firſt thing they did, that would ſerve for all Day, provided they kept alone; but if they went into Company, they muſt not at their Return either eat or pray, till they had waſh'd their Hands; thus the Elders gain'd a Reputation among the People for Sanctity, and thus they exercis'd and kept up an Authority over their Conſciences. (4.) They added to this, the waſhing of Cups and Pots, and brazen Veſſels, which they ſuſpected had been made uſe of by Heathens, or Perſons polluted; nay, and the very Tables on which they eat their Meat. There were many Caſes in which by the Law of Moſes Waſhings were appointed, but they added to them, and enforc'd the Obſervation of their own Impoſitions, as much as of God's Inſtitutions.

Secondly, What the Practice of Chriſt's Diſciples was; they knew what the Law was, and the common Uſage; but they underſtood themſelves ſo well, that they would not be bound up by it: They eat Bread with defiled, that is, with unwaſhen Hands, v. 2. Eating with unwaſhen Hands, they call'd eating with defiled Hands; thus Men keep up their ſuperſtitious Vanities, by putting every Thing into an ill Name, that contradicts them. The Diſciples knew ('tis probable) that the Phariſees had their Eyes upon them, and yet they would not humour them by a Compliance with their Traditions, but took their Liberty as at other Times, and eat Bread with unwaſhen Hands; and herein their Righteouſneſs, however it might ſeem to come ſhort, did really exceed that of the Scribes and Phariſees, Matt. 5. 20.

Thirdly, The Offence which the Phariſees took at this. They found fault, v. 2. they cenſur'd them as profane, and Men of a looſe Converſation, or rather as Men that would not ſubmit to the Power of the Church, to decree Rites and Ceremonies, and were therefore Rebellious, Factious, and Schiſmatical. They brought a complaint againſt them to their Maſter, expecting that he ſhould check them, and order them to conform, for they that are fond of their own Inventions and Impoſitions are commonly ready to appeal to Chriſt, as if he ſhould countenance them, and as if his Authority muſt interpoſe for the enforcing of them, and the rebuking of thoſe that do not comply with them. They do not ask, Why do not thy Diſciples do as we do? Tho' that was it they meant, coveting to make themſelves the Standard; but why do not they walk according to the Tradition of the Elders? v. 5. To which it was eaſie to anſwer, that by receiving the Doctrine of Chriſt, they had more underſtanding than all their Teachers, yea, more than the Ancients, Pſ. 119. 99, 100.

Fourthly, Chriſt's Vindication of them; in which,

1. He argues with the Phariſees, concerning the Authority by which the Ceremony was impos'd; and they were the fitteſt to be diſcours'd with concerning that, who were the great Sticklers for it: But this he did not ſpeak of publickly to the Multitude (as appears by his calling the People to him, v. 14.) leſt he ſhould have ſeem'd to ſtir them up to Faction and Diſcontent at their Governours, but addreſs'd it, as a Reproof to the Perſon concern'd, for the Rule is, Suum cuique.

(1.) He reproves them for their Hypocriſie in pretending to Honour God, when really they had no ſuch Deſign, in their religious Obſervances, v. 6, 7. They honour me with their Lips, they pretend it is for the Glory of God, that they impoſe thoſe Things, to diſtinguiſh themſelves from the Heathen, but really their Heart is far from God, and is govern'd by nothing but Ambition and Covetouſneſs. They would be thought hereby to appropriate themſelves, as a Holy People to the Lord their God, when really 'tis the furtheſt Thing in their Thought. They reſted in the outſide of all their Religious Exerciſes, and their Hearts were not right with God in them, and this was worſhipping God in vain, for neither was he pleas'd with ſuch Sham-Devotions, nor were they profited by them.

(2.) He reproves them for placing Religion in the Inventions and Injunctions of their Elders and Rulers. They taught for Doctrines the Traditions of Men; when they ſhould have been preſſing upon People the great Principles of Religion, they were inforcing the Canons of their Church, and judg'd of the Peoples being Jews or no, according as they did or did not conform to them, without any Conſideration had, whether they liv'd in Obedience to God's Laws or no. 'Twas true, there were divers Waſhings impos'd by the Law of Moſes, Heb. 9. 10. which were intended to ſignifie that inward Purification of the Heart from worldly fleſhly Luſts, which God requires as abſolutely neceſſary to our Communion with him; but inſtead of providing the Subſtance, they preſumptuouſly added to the Ceremony, and were very nice in waſhing Pots and Cups, and obſerve, he adds, many other ſuch like Things ye do, v. 8. Note, Superſtition is an endleſs Thing. If one human Invention and Inſtitution be admitted, tho' ſeemingly never ſo innocent, as this of waſhing of Hands, Behold, a Troop comes, a Door is open'd for many other ſuch Things.

(3.) He reproves them for laying aſide the Commandment of God, and over-looking that, not urging that in their Preaching, and in their Diſcipline conniving at the Violation of that, as if it were no longer of Force, v. 8. Note, It is the Miſchief of Impoſitions, that too often they who are Zealous for them, have little Zeal for the eſſential Duties of Religion, but can contentedly ſee them laid aſide. Nay, They rejected the Commandment of God, v. 9. You do fairly diſanul and aboliſh the Commtndment of God; and even by your Traditions make the Word of God of none Effect, v. 13. God's Statutes ſhall not only lie forgotten, as antiquated, obſolete Laws, but they ſhall in effect ſtand repeal'd, that their Traditions may take Place. They were intruſted to expound the Law, and to enforce it, and under pretence of uſing that Power they violated the Law, and diſſolv'd the Bonds of it; deſtroying the Text with the Comment.

This he gives them a particular Inſtance of, and a flagrant one: God commanded Children to honour their Parents, not only by the Law of Moſes, but antecedent to that by the Law of Nature; and whoſo reviletb, or ſpeaketh Evil of Father or Mother, let him die the Death, v. 4. From whence it is eaſie to inferr, that it is the Duty of Children, if their Parents be poor, to relieve them according to their Ability; and if thoſe Children are worthy to die that Curſe their Parents, much more thoſe that Starve them. But if a Man will but conform himſelf in all Points to the Tradition of the Elders, they will find him out an Expedient by which he may be diſcharg'd from this Obligation, v. 11. If his Parents be in Want, and he has wherewithal to help them, but has no Mind to do it, let him Swear by the Corban, that is by the Gold of the Temple, and the Gift upon the Altar, that his Parents ſhall not be profited by him, that he will not relieve them; and if they ask any Thing of him, let him tell them this, and it is enough; as if by the Obligation of this wicked Vow, he had diſcharged himſelf from the Obligation of God's Holy Law, thus Dr. Hammond underſtands it: And it is ſaid to be an ancient Canon of the Rabbins, That Vows take Place in Things commanded by the Law, as well as in Things indifferent; ſo that if a Man makes a Vow which cannot be ratified without breaking a Commandment, the Vow muſt be ratified, and the Commandment violated; ſo Dr. Whitby. Such Doctrine as this the Papiſts teach, diſcharging Children from all Obligation to their Parents by their Monaſtical Vows, and their entrance into Religion as they call it: He concludes, and many ſuch like Things do ye. Where will Men ſtop when once they have made the Word of God give way to their Tradition? Theſe eager Impoſers of ſuch Ceremonies, at firſt only made light of God's Commandments in Compariſon with their Traditions, but afterwards made void God's Commandments, if they ſtood in competition with them. And all this in Effect Iſaiah propheſied of them; what he ſaid of the Hypocrites of his own Day was applicable to the Scribes and Phariſees, v. 6. Note, When we ſee and complain of the Wickedneſs of the preſent Times, yet we do not enquire wiſely of that Matter, if we ſay that all the former Days were better than theſe, Eccleſ. 7. 10. The worſt of Hypocrites and evil Doers have had their Predeceſſors.

2. He inſtructs the People concerning the Principles upon which this Ceremony was grounded: And it was requiſite that this Part of his Diſcourſe ſhould be publick, for it related to daily Practice, and was deſign'd to ratifie a great Miſtake which the People were led into by their Elders; he therefore called the People unto him, v. 14. and bid them hear and underſtand. Note, It is not enough for the common People to hear, but they muſt underſtand what they hear. When Chriſt would run down the Tradition of the Phariſees about waſhing before Meat, he ſtrikes at the Opinion which was the Root of it. Note, Corrupt Cuſtoms are beſt cur'd by rectifying Corrupt Notions.

Now that which he goes about to ſet them right in is, what the Pollution is, which we are in Danger of being damag'd by, v. 15. (1.) Not by the Meat we eat, tho' it be eaten with unwaſhen Hands, that's but from without, and goes through a Man. But (2.) 'Tis by the breaking out of the Corruption that is in our Hearts; the Mind and Conſcience is defiled, Guilt is contracted, and we become Odious in the Sight of God by that which comes out of us; our wicked Thoughts and Affections, Words and Actions, theſe defile us, and theſe only: Our Care muſt therefore be to waſh our Hearts from Wickedneſs.

3. He gives his Diſciples in private an Explication of the Inſtructions he gave the People. They ask'd him when they had him by himſelf concerning the Parable, v. 17. for to them it ſeems it was a Parable. Now in Anſwer to their Enquiry: (1.) He reproves their Dulneſs. Are ye ſo without Underſtanding alſo? Are you Dull alſo? As Dull as the People that cannot Underſtand, as Dull as the Phariſees that will not? Are ye ſo Dull? He doth not expect they ſhould underſtand every Thing, but are you ſo weak as not to underſtand this? (2.) He explains this Truth to them, that they might perceive it, and then they would believe it, for it carry'd its own Evidence along with it. Some Truths prove themſelves, if they be but rightly explained and apprehended. If we underſtand the Spiritual Nature of God, and of his Law, and what it is that is Offenſive to him, and diſfits us for Communion with him, we ſhall ſoon perceive, (1.) That that which we Eat and Drink cannot defile us ſo as to call for any religious Waſhing; it goes into the Stomach, and paſſeth the ſeveral Digeſtions and Secretions that Nature has appointed, and what there may be in it that is defiling, 'tis voided and gone; Meats for the Belly, and the Belly for Meat, but God ſhall deſtroy both it and them. But (2.) 'Tis that which comes out from the Heart, the corrupt-Heart, that defiles us: As by the Ceremonial Law, whatſoever (almoſt) comes out of a Man defiles him, Lev. 15. 2. Deut. 23. 13. So what comes out from the Mind of a Man is that which defiles him before God, and calls for a religious Waſhing, v. 21. from within, out of the Heart of Men which they boaſt of the goodneſs of, and think is the beſt Part of them; thence that which defiles doth proceed, thence comes all the Miſchief; as a corrupt Fountain ſends forth corrupt Streams, ſo doth a corrupt Heart ſend forth corrupt Reaſonings, corrupt Appetites and Paſſions, and all thoſe wicked Words and Actions which are produced by them. Divers Particulars are inſtanc'd in, as in Matthew, we had one there which is not here, and that's falſe Witneſs bearing; but here are Seven mention'd here to be added to thoſe we had there. (1.) Covetouſneſſes, for it is Plural: πλεονεξίαι, immoderate Deſires of more of the Wealth of the World, and the Gratifications of Senſe, and ſtill more, ſtill crying, give, give. Hence we read of a Heart exercis'd with covetous Practices, 2 Pet. 2. 14. (2.) Wickedneſs, πονηρίαι, Malice and Hatred, and Ill-Will, a Deſire to do Miſchief, and a Delight in Miſchief done. (3.) Deceit; which is Wickedneſs cover'd and diſguis'd, that it may be the more ſecurely and effectually committed. (4.) Laſciviouſneſs; that Filthineſs and fooliſh talking which the Apoſtle condemns: The Eye full of Adultery, and all wanton Dalliances. (5.) The evil Eye; i. e. the envious Eye, and the covetous Eye, grudging others the Good we give them, or do for them, Prov. 23. 6. or grieving at the good they do or enjoy (6.) Pride; ὑπερηφανία, exalting our ſelves in our own Conceit above others, and looking down with Scorn and Contempt upon others. (7.) Fooliſhneſs; ἀφροσύνη, Imprudence, Inconſideration; ſome underſtand it eſpecially of vain-glorious Boaſting, which St. Paul calls Fooliſhneſs, 2 Cor. 11. 1, 19. becauſe it is here join'd with Pride; I rather take it for that Raſhneſs in ſpeaking and acting, which is the Cauſe of ſo much Evil. Ill thinking is put firſt, as that which is the Spring of all our Commiſſions. And unthinking put laſt, as that which is the Spring of all our Omiſſions. Of all theſe he concludes, v. 23. (1.) That they come from within, from the corrupt Nature, the carnal Mind, the evil Treaſure in the Heart; juſtly is it ſaid, That the inward Part is very Wickedneſs, it muſt needs be ſo when all this comes from within. (2.) That they defile the Man, they render a Man unfit for Communion with God, they bring a Stain upon the Conſcience; and if not mortified and rooted out, will ſhut Men out of the New Jeruſalem, into which no unclean Thing ſhall enter.

24 And from thence he aroſe, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entred into an houſe, and would have no man know it, but he could not be hid: 25 For a certain woman whoſe young daughter had an unclean ſpirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet. 26 (The woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by nation:) and ſhe beſought him that he would caſt forth the devil out of her daughter. 27 But Jeſus ſaid unto her, Let the children firſt be filled: for it is not meet to take the childrens bread, and to caſt it unto the dogs. 28 And ſhe anſwered, and ſaid unto him, Yes, Lord, yet the dogs under the table eat of the childrens crumbs. 29 And he ſaid unto her, For this ſaying, go thy way, the devil is gone out of thy daughter. 30 And when ſhe was come to her houſe, ſhe found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.

See here, 1. How humbly Chriſt was pleas'd to conceal himſelf. Never Man was ſo cry'd up as he was in Galilee, and therefore to teach us, tho' not to decline any Opportunity of doing good, yet not to be fond of popular Applauſe, he aroſe from thence, and went into the Borders of Tyre and Sidon, where he was little known; and there he enter'd not into a Synagogue, or Place of Concourſe, but into a private Houſe, and he would have no Man know it, becauſe it was foretold concerning him, he ſhall not ſtrive nor cry, neither ſhall his Voice be heard in the Streets. Not but that he was willing to Preach and Heal here as well as in other Places, but for this he would be ſought unto. Note, As there is a Time to appear, ſo there is a Time to retire: Or he would not be known, becauſe he was upon the Borders of Tyre and Sidon, among Gentiles, to whom he would not be ſo forward to ſhew himſelf, as to the Tribes of Iſrael, whoſe Glory he was to be.

2. How graciouſly he was pleas'd to manifeſt himſelf notwithſtanding. Tho' he would not carry a Harveſt of miraculous Cures into thoſe Parts, yet it ſhould ſeem he came on Purpoſe to drop a Handful, to let fall this one which we have here an Account of. He could not be hid; for tho' a Candle may be put under a buſhel, the Sun cannot. Chriſt was too well known to be long Incognito any where; the Oyl of Gladneſs which he was anointed with, like the Oyntment of the right Hand, would betray it ſelf, and fill the Houſe with its Odour. Thoſe that had only heard his Fame could not Converſe with him, but they would ſoon ſay, This muſt be Jeſus. Now obſerve,

1. The Application made to him by a poor Woman in Diſtreſs and Trouble. She was a Gentile, a Greek, a Stranger to the Common-Wealth of Iſrael, an Alien to the Covenant of Promiſe; ſhe was by Extraction a Syrophenician, and not in any degree proſelyted to the Jewiſh Religion; ſhe had a Daughter, a young Daughter that was poſſeſs'd with the Devil. How many and grievous are the Calamities that young Children are ſubject to? Her Addreſs was, (1.) very humble, preſſing and importunate; ſhe heard of him, and came and fell at his Feet. Note, Thoſe that would obtain Mercy from Chriſt muſt throw themſelves at his Feet, i. e. muſt refer themſelves to him, humble themſelves before him, and give up themſelves to be rul'd by him. Chriſt never put any from him that fell at his Feet, which a poor trembling Soul may do that has not Boldneſs and Confidence to throw it ſelf into his Arms. (2.) It was very particular, ſhe tells him what ſhe wanted; Chriſt gave poor Supplicants leave to be thus free with him, ſhe beſought him that he would caſt forth the Devil out of her Daughter, v. 26. Note, The greateſt

Bleſſing we can ask of Chriſt for our Children, is, that he would break the Power of Satan, that is the Power of Sin in their Souls, and particularly, that he would caſt forth the unclean Spirit, that they may be Temples of the Holy Ghoſt, and he may dwell in them.

2. The Diſcouragement he gave to this Addreſs, v. 27. He ſaid unto her, Let the Children firſt be fill'd; Let the Jews have all the Miracles wrought for them that they have Occaſion for, who are in a particular manner God's choſen People, and let not that which was intended for them be thrown to thoſe who are not of God's Family, and who have not that Knowledge of him, and Intereſt in him which they have; and who are as Dogs in Compariſon of them, Vile and Profane, and who are as Dogs to them, ſnarling at them, ſpiteful towards them, and ready to worry them. Note, Where Chriſt knows the Faith of poor Supplicants to be ſtrong, he ſometimes delights to try it, and put it to the Stretch. But his ſaying, Let the Children firſt be fill'd, intimates that there was Mercy in reſerve for the Gentiles, and not far off; for the Jews began already to be ſurfeited with the Goſpel of Chriſt, and ſome of them had deſired him to depart out of their Coaſts. The Children begin to play with their Meat, and their Leavings, their Loathings would be a Feaſt for the Gentiles. The Apoſtles went by this Rule, Let the Children firſt be fill'd, let the Jews have the firſt Offer, and if their full Souls loth this Honey-comb, Lo, we turn to the Gentiles!

3. The turn ſhe gave to this Word of Chriſt which made againſt her, and her Improvement of it to make for her, v. 28. She ſaid, yes Lord, I own it is true that the Children's Bread ought not to be caſt to the Dogs, but they were never deny'd the Crumbs of that Bread; nay, it belongs to them, and they are allow'd a Place under the Table, that they may be ready to receive them; I ask not for a Loaf, no, nor for a Morſel, only for a Crumb, do not refuſe me that. This ſhe ſpeaks not as undervaluing the Mercy, or making light of it in it ſelf, but magnifying the abundance of miraculous Cures with which ſhe heard the Jews were feaſted, in Compariſon with which a ſingle Cure was but as a Crumb. Gentiles do not come in Crowds, as the Jews do; I come alone. Perhaps ſhe had heard of Chriſt's feeding five Thouſand lately at once, after which, even when they had gather'd up the Fragments, there could not but be ſome Crumbs left for the Dogs.

4. The Grant Chriſt thereupon made of her Requeſt, is, ſhe thus humble, thus earneſt, for this Saying, go thy way, thou ſhalt have what thou cameſt for, the Devil is gone out of thy Daughter, v. 29. This encourageth us to Pray, and not to Faint, to continue inſtant in Prayer, not doubting but to prevail at laſt; the Viſion at the end ſhall ſpeak and not lye. Chriſt's ſaying it was done did it effectually, as at other Times his ſaying, Let it be done; for v. 30. She came to her Houſe depending upon the Word of Chriſt that her Daughter was heal'd, and ſo ſhe found it, the Devil was gone out. Note, Chriſt can conquer Satan at a diſtance; and it was not only when the Dæmoniacks ſaw him that they yielded to his Power, as Chap. 3. 11. but when they ſaw him not, for the Spirit of the Lord is not bound, or bounded. She found her Daughter not in any Toſs or Agitation, but very quietly laid on the Bed, and repoſing her ſelf, waiting for her Mother's return to rejoice with her, that ſhe was ſo finely well.

31 And again departing from the coaſts of Tyre and Sidon, he came unto the ſea of Galilee, through the midſt of the coaſts of Decapolis. 32 And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his ſpeech, and they beſeech him to put his hand upon him. 33 And he took him aſide from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and he ſpit, and touched his tongue. 34 And looking up to heaven, he ſighed, and ſaith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. 35 And ſtraightway his ears were opened, and the ſtring of his tongue was looſed, and he ſpake plain. 36 And he charged them that they ſhould tell no man: but the more he charged them, ſo much the more a great deal they publiſhed it, 37 And were beyond meaſure aſtoniſhed, ſaying, He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to ſpeak.

Our Lord Jeſus ſeldom ſtaid long in a Place, for he knew where his Work lay, and attended the changes of it. When he had cur'd the Woman of Canaan's Daughter, he had done what he had to do in that Place, and therefore preſently left thoſe Parts, and return'd to the Sea of Galilee, whereabout his uſual Reſidence was; yet did not come directly thither, but fetch'd a compaſs through the midſt of the Coaſts of Decapolis, which lay moſtly on the other ſide Jordan; ſuch long Walks did our Lord Jeſus take, when he went about doing Good.

Now here we have the Story of a Cure that Chriſt wrought, which is not recorded by any other of the Evangeliſts; 'tis of one that was Deaf and Dumb.

1. His Caſe was ſad, v. 32. There were thoſe that brought to him one that was Deaf, ſome think born Deaf, and then he muſt be Dumb of courſe; others think, by ſome Diſtemper or Diſaſter he was become Deaf, or at leaſt thick of Hearing; and he had an Impediment in his Speech. He was μογιλάλος; ſome think he was quite Dumb, others that he could not ſpeak but with great Difficulty to himſelf, and ſo ſcarcely to be underſtood by thoſe that heard him: He was Tongue-tied, ſo that he was perfectly unfit for Converſation, and depriv'd both of the Pleaſure and of the Profit of it; he had not the Satisfaction either of hearing other People talk, or of telling his own Mind. Let us take Occaſion from hence to give Thanks to God, for preſerving to us the Senſe of Hearing, eſpecially that we may be capable of hearing the Word of God; and the Faculty of Speech, eſpecially that we may be capable of ſpeaking God's Praiſes; and let us look with Compaſſion upon thoſe that are Deaf or Dumb, and treat them with great Tenderneſs. They that brought this poor Man to Chriſt, beſought him that he would put his Hand upon him, as the Prophets did upon thoſe whom they bleſſed in the Name of the Lord. 'Tis not ſaid they beſought him to Cure him, but to put his Hand upon him, to take Cognizance of his Caſe, and put forth his Power to do to him as he pleaſed.

2. His Cure was Solemn, and ſome of the Circumſtances of it were ſingular.

1. Chriſt took him aſide from the Multitude, v. 33. Ordinarily he wrought his Miracles publickly before all the People, to ſhew that they would bear the ſtricteſt Scrutiny and Inſpection; but this he did privately, to ſhew that he did not ſeek his own Glory, and to teach us to avoid every Thing that ſavours of Oſtentation: Let us learn of Chriſt to be humble, and to do good where no Eye ſees, but his that is all Eye.

2. He us'd more ſignificant Actions in the doing of this Cure than uſual. (1.) He put his Fingers into his Ears, as if he would Syringe them, and fetch out that which ſtopped them up. (2.) He ſpit upon his own Finger, and then touched his Tongue, as if he would moiſten his Mouth, and ſo looſen that with which his Tongue was ty'd; theſe were no Cauſes that could in the leaſt contribute to his Cure, but only Signs of the exerting of that Power which Chriſt had in himſelf to Cure him, for the encouraging his Faith, and theirs that brought him. The Application was all from himſelf, it was his own Fingers that he put into his Ears, and his own Spittle that he put upon his Tongue; for he alone Heals.

3. He look'd up to Heaven, to give his Father the Praiſe of what he did; for he ſought his Praiſe, and did his Will, and as Mediator acted in Dependance on him, and with an Eye to him. Thus he ſignified that it was by a Divine Power, a Power he had as the Lord from Heaven, and brought with him thence, that he did this; for the hearing Ear, and the ſeeing Eye the Lord has made, and can remake, even both of them. He alſo hereby directed his Patient, who could ſee, tho' he could not hear, to look up to Heaven for Relief. Moſes with his ſtammering Tongue is directed to look that way, Exod. 4. 11. Who hath made Man's Mouth? Or who maketh the Dumb or Deaf, or the Seeing, or the Blind? Have not I the Lord?

4. He ſighed; not as if he found any Difficulty in working this Miracle, or obtaining Power to do it from his Father; but thus he expreſſeth his Pity of the Miſeries of Human Life, and his Sympathy with the Afflicted in their Afflictions, as one that was himſelf touched with the feeling of their Infirmities. And as to this Man, he ſighed, not becauſe he was loth to do him this Kindneſs, or did it with Reluctancy; but becauſe of the many Temptations which he would be expos'd to, and the Sins he would be in Danger of, the Tongue Sins, after the reſtoring of his Speech to him, which before he was free from. He had better be Tongue-tied ſtill, unleſs he have Grace to keep his Tongue as with a Bridle, Pſal. 39. 1.

5. He ſaid Ephphatha, that is, Be opened. This was nothing that look'd like Spell, or Charm, ſuch as they us'd that had familiar Spirits, who peep'd and mutter'd, Iſa. 8. 9. Chriſt ſpeaks as one having Authority, and Power went along with the Word. Be open'd ſerved both Parts of the Cure; let the Ears be open'd, let the Lips be open'd, let him hear and ſpeak freely, and let the Reſtraint be taken off, and the Effect was anſwerable, v. 35. ſtraightway his Ears were open'd, and the ſtring of his Tongue looſed, and all was well; and happy he, who, as ſoon as he had his Hearing and Speech, had the bleſſed Jeſus ſo near him to Converſe with.

Now this Cure was, (1.) A Proof of Chriſt's being the Meſſiah, for it was foretold that by his Power the Ears of the Deaf ſhould be unſtopped, and the Tongue of the Dumb ſhould be made to Sing, Iſa. 35. 5, 6. (2.) It was a Specimen of the Operations of his Goſpel upon the Minds of Men. The great Command of the Goſpel, and the Grace of Chriſt to poor Sinners, is Ephphatha, Be open'd. Grotius applies it thus, That the internal Impediments of the Mind are remov'd by the Spirit of Chriſt, as thoſe bodily Impediments were by the Word of his Power. He opens the Heart, as he did Lydia's, and thereby opens the Ear to receive the Word of God, and opens the Mouth in Prayer and Praiſes.

6. He order'd it to be kept very private, but it was made very publick. (1.) It was his Humility, that he charged them they ſhould tell no Man, v. 36. Moſt Men will proclaim their own Goodneſs, or at leaſt deſire that others ſhould proclaim it: but Chriſt, tho' he was himſelf in no danger of being puffed up with it; yet knowing that we are, would thus ſet us an Example of Self-denial, as in other things, ſo eſpecially in Praiſe and Applauſe. We ſhould take Pleaſure in doing good, but not in its being known. (2.) It was their Zeal, that tho' he charged them to ſay nothing of it, yet they publiſhed it, before Chriſt would have had it publiſhed: But they meant Honeſtly, and therefore it is to be reckon'd rather an Act of Indiſcretion, than an Act of Diſobedience, v. 37. But they that told it, and they that heard it, were beyond Meaſure aſtoniſh'd, ὑπερπερισσῶς, more than above Meaſure; they were exceedingly affected with it, and this was ſaid by every body, 'twas the common Verdict, He has done all Things well, v. 37. whereas there were thoſe that hated and perſecuted him as an Evil-doer; they are ready to witneſs for him, not only that he has done no Evil, but that he has done a great deal of Good, and has done it well, modeſtly and humbly, and very devoutly, and all gratis, without Money and without Price, which added much to the Luſtre of his good Works. He maketh both the Deaf to hear, and the Dumb to ſpeak, and that's well, 'tis well for them, 'tis well for their Relations, to whom they had been a Burthen; and therefore they are inexcuſable who ſpeak Ill of him.

CHAP. VIII.

In this Chapter we have (1.) Chriſt's miraculous Feeding four thouſand with ſeven Loaves and a few ſmall Fiſhes, v. 1—9. (2.) His refuſing to give the Phariſees a Sign from Heaven, v. 10—13. (3.) His cautioning his Diſciples to take heed of the Leaven of Phariſaiſm and Herodianiſm, v. 14—21. (4.) His giving Sight to a blind Man at Bethſaida, v. 22—26. (5.) Peter's Confeſſion of him, v. 27—30. (6.) The Notice he gave his Diſciples of his own approaching Sufferings, v. 31—33. and the Warning he gave them to prepare for Sufferings likewiſe, v. 34—38.

IN thoſe days the multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Jeſus called his diſciples unto him, and ſaith unto them, 2 I have compaſſion on the multitude, becauſe they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat: 3 And if I ſend them away faſting to their own houſes, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from far. 4 And his diſciples anſwered him, From whence can a man ſatisfie theſe men with bread here in the wilderneſs? 5 And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they ſaid, Seven. 6 And he commanded the people to ſit down on the ground: and he took the ſeven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his diſciples to ſet before them: and they did ſet them before the people: 7 And they had a few ſmall fiſhes: and he bleſſed, and commanded to ſet them alſo before them. 8 So they did eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left, ſeven baskets. 9 And they that had eaten were about four thouſand, and he ſent them away.

We had the Story of a Miracle very like this before in this Goſpel, Chap. 6. 35. and of this ſame Miracle, Mat. 15. 32. and here is little or no Addition, or Alteration, as to the Circumſtances. Yet obſerve,

1. That our Lord Jeſus was mightily followed. The Multitude was very great, v. 1. notwithſtanding the wicked Arts of the Scribes and Phariſees to blemiſh him, and to blaſt his Intereſt, the common People, who had more Honeſty, and therefore more true Wiſdom than their Leaders, kept up their high Thoughts of him. We may ſuppoſe this Multitude were generally of the meaner ſort of People; with ſuch Chriſt convers'd and was familiar; for thus he humbled himſelf, and made himſelf of no Reputation, and thus encourag'd the meaneſt to come to him for Life and Grace.

2. Thoſe that follow'd him underwent a great deal of Difficulty in following him. They were with him three Days, and had nothing to eat, that was hard Service: Never let the Phariſees ſay, That Chriſt's Diſciples faſt not. 'Tis likely there were thoſe that brought ſome Food with them from Home, but by this Time it was all ſpent, and they had a great way Home, and yet they continued with Chriſt, and did not ſpeak of leaving him, till he ſpoke of diſmiſſing them. Note, True Zeal makes nothing of Hardſhips in the way of Duty. They that have a full Feaſt for their Souls, may be content with ſlender Proviſion for their Bodies. 'Twas an old Saying among the Puritans, Brown Bread and the Goſpel is good Fare.

3. As Chriſt has a Compaſſion for all that are in Wants and Straits, ſo he has a ſpecial Concern for thoſe that are reduc'd to Straits by their Zeal and Diligence in attending on him. Chriſt ſaid, I have Compaſſion on the Multitude; whom the proud Phariſees look'd upon with Diſdain, the humble Jeſus look'd upon with Pity and Tenderneſs, and thus muſt we honour all Men: But that which he chiefly conſiders, is, They have been with me Three Days, and have nothing to eat. Whatever Loſſes we ſuſtain, or Hardſhips we go through for Chriſt's ſake, and in Love to him, he will take Care they ſhall be made up to us one way or other. They that ſeek the Lord, ſhall not long want any good thing, Pſal. 34. 10. Obſerve with what Sympathy Chriſt ſaith, v. 3. If I ſend them away Faſting to their own Houſes, they will Faint by the way for Hunger. Chriſt knows and conſiders our Frame; and he is for the Body, if with it we glorifie him, verily we ſhall be fed. He conſider'd that many of them came from far, and had a great way Home. When we ſee Multitudes attending upon the Word preach'd, it is comfortable to think that Chriſt knows whence they all come, tho' we do not. I know thy Works, and where thou dwelleſt, Rev. 2. 13. Chriſt would by no Means have them go Home faſting, for he doth not uſe to ſend thoſe empty away from him, that in a right manner attend on him.

4. The Doubts of Chriſtians are ſometimes made to work for the magnifying of the Power of Chriſt. The Diſciples could not imagine whence ſo many Men ſhould be ſatisfied with Bread here in this Wilderneſs, v. 4. That therefore muſt needs be wonderful, and appear ſo much the more ſo, which the Diſciples look'd upon as impoſſible.

5. Chriſt's Time to act for the Relief of his People is, when Things are brought to the laſt Extremity, when they were ready to Faint Chriſt provided for them; that he might not invite them to follow him for the Loaves, he did not ſupply them, but when they were utterly reduc'd, and then he ſent them away.

6. The Bounty of Chriſt is inexhauſtible, and to evidence that, Chriſt repeated this Miracle, to ſhew that he is ſtill the ſame for the Succour and Supply of his People that attend upon him. His Favours are renewed, as our Wants and Neceſſities are. In the former Miracle Chriſt us'd all the Bread he had, which were five Loaves, and fed all the Gueſts he had, which were five thouſand, and ſo he did now; tho' he might have ſaid, if five Loaves would feed five thouſand, four may feed four thouſand; he took all the ſeven Loaves, and fed with them the four thouſand, for he would teach us to take Things as they are, and accommodate our ſelves to them; to uſe what we have, and make the beſt of that which is: Here it was as in the diſpenſing of the Manna, he that gather'd much had nothing over, and he that gather'd little had no lack.

7. In our Father's Houſe, in our Maſter's Houſe there is Bread enough and to ſpare, there is a Fulneſs in Chriſt, which he communicates to all that paſſeth through his Hands; ſo that from it we receive, and Grace for Grace, John 1. 16. Thoſe need not fear wanting that have a Chriſt to live upon.

8. It's good for thoſe that follow Chriſt to keep together; theſe Followers of Chriſt continu'd in a Body, four thouſand of them together, and Chriſt fed them all; Chriſt's Sheep muſt abide by the Flock, and go forth by their Footſteps, and verily they ſhall be fed.

10 And ſtraightway he entered into a ſhip with his diſciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha. 11 And the Phariſees came forth, and began to queſtion with him, ſeeking of him a ſign from heaven, tempting him. 12 And he ſighed deeply in his ſpirit, and ſaith, Why doth this generation ſeek after a ſign? Verily I ſay unto you, There ſhall no ſign be given to this generation. 13 And he left them, and entring into the ſhip again, departed to the other ſide. 14 Now the diſciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ſhip with them more than one loaf. 15 And he charged them, ſaying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Phariſees, and of the leaven of Herod. 16 And they reaſoned among themſelves, ſaying, It is becauſe we have no bread. 17 And when Jeſus knew it, he ſaith unto them, Why reaſon ye, becauſe ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither underſtand? have ye your hearts yet hardened? 18 Having eyes, ſee ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember? 19 When I brake the five loaves among five thouſand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? they ſay unto him, Twelve. 20 And when the ſeven among four thouſand: how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? and they ſaid, Seven? 21 And he ſaid unto them, how is it that ye do not underſtand?

Still Chriſt is upon Motion, now he viſits the parts of Dalmanutha, that no Corner of the Land of Iſrael might ſay, but that they had had his Preſence with them. He came thither by Ship, v. 13. but meeting with Occaſions of Diſpute there, and not with Opportunities of doing Good, he enter'd into the Ship again, v. 13. and came back. In theſe Verſes we are told,

1. How he refus'd to gratifie the Phariſees, who challenged him to give them a Sign from Heaven. They came forth on purpoſe to queſtion with him, not to propoſe Queſtions to him that they might learn of him, but to croſs Queſtions with him that they might enſnare him. (1.) They demanded of him a Sign from Heaven, as if the Signs he gave them on Earth, which were more familiar to them, and were more capable of being examin'd, and enquir'd into, were not ſufficient. There was a Sign from Heaven at his Baptiſm, in the deſcent of the Dove, and the Voice, Matt. 3. 16, 17. 'twas publick enough; and if they had attended John's Baptiſm as they ought to have done, they might themſelves have ſeen

it. Afterwards, when he was nail'd to the Croſs, they preſcrib'd a new Sign, Let him come down from the Croſs, and we will believe him; thus obſtinate Infidelity will ſtill have ſomething to ſay, tho' never ſo unreaſonable. They demanded this Sign, tempting him, not in Hopes he would give it them that they might be ſatisfied, but in Hopes he would not, that they might imagine themſelves to have a Pretence for their Infidelity.

(2.) He deny'd them their Demand. He ſighed deeply in his Spirit, v. 12. He groan'd, ſo ſome, being griev'd for the Hardneſs of their Hearts, and the little Influence that his Preaching and Miracles had had upon them. Note, The Infidelity of thoſe that have long enjoy'd the Means of Conviction, is a great Grief to the Lord Jeſus; it troubles him that Sinners ſhould thus ſtand in their own Light, and put a Bar on their own Door. (1.) He expoſtulates with them upon this Demand; why doth this Generation ſeek after a Sign? This Generation, that is ſo unworthy to have the Goſpel brought to it, and to have any Sign accompanying it. This Generation, that ſo greedily ſwallows the Traditions of the Elders without the Confirmation of any Sign at all. This Generation, into which, by the calculating of the Times prefix'd in the Old Teſtament, they might eaſily perceive that the coming of the Meſſiah muſt fall: This Generation, that has had ſuch Plenty of ſenſible and merciful Signs given them in the Cure of their Sick, what an Abſurdity is it for them to deſire a Sign? (2.) He refuſeth to anſwer their Demand; verily I ſay unto you, there ſhall no Sign, no ſuch Sign, be given to this Generation. When God ſpoke to particular Perſons in a particular Caſe, out of the Road of his common Diſpenſation, they were encourag'd to ask a Sign, as Gideon and Ahaz; but when he ſpeaks in general to all, as in the Law and Goſpel, ſending each with their own Evidence, 'tis Preſumption to preſcribe other Signs than what he has given. Shall any teach God Knowledge? He deny'd them, and then left them, as Men not fit to be talk'd with; if they will not be convinc'd, they ſhall not; leave them to their ſtrong Deluſions.

2. How he warn'd his Diſciples againſt the Leaven of the Phariſees and of Herod. Obſerve here,

1. What the Caution was, v. 15. take heed, beware leſt you partake of the Leaven of the Phariſees, leſt ye embrace the Tradition of the Elders which they are ſo wedded to, leſt you be Proud, and Hypocritical, and Ceremonious, like them; Matthew adds, and of the Sadduces; Mark adds, and of Herod; whence ſome gather, that Herod and his Courtiers were generally Sadduces, that is, Deiſts, Men of no Religion. Others give this Senſe, the Phariſees demanded a Sign from Heaven; and Herod, he was long deſirous to ſee ſome Miracle wrought by Chriſt, Luke 23. 7. ſuch as he ſhould preſcribe, ſo that the Leaven of both was the ſame; they were unſatisfy'd with the Signs they had, and would have others of their own deviſing; take heed of this Leaven, ſaith Chriſt, be convinc'd by the Miracles you have ſeen, and covet not to ſee more.

2. How they miſunderſtood this Caution. It ſeems at their putting to Sea this Time, they had forgotten to take Bread, and had not in their Ship more than one Loaf, v. 14. When therefore Chriſt bid them beware of the Leaven of the Phariſees, they underſtood it as an Intimation to them not to apply themſelves to any of the Phariſees for Relief when they came to the other Side, for they had lately been offended at them for eating with unwaſhen Hands. They reaſoned among themſelves what ſhould be the Meaning of this Caution, and concluded, it is becauſe we have no Bread; he ſaith this to reproach us for being ſo careleſs as to go to Sea, and go among Strangers, with but one Loaf of Bread; he doth in Effect tell us we muſt be brought to ſhort Allowance, and muſt eat our Bread by Weight. They reaſon'd it, διελογίζοντο, they diſputed about it; one ſaid 'twas long of you, and t'other ſaid it was long of you, that we are ſo ill provided for this Voyage; thus Diſtruſt of God makes Chriſt's Diſciples quarrel among themſelves.

3. The Reproof Chriſt gave them for their Uneaſineſs in this Matter, as it argued a Disbelief of his Power to ſupply them, notwithſtanding the abundant Experience they had had of it. The Reproof is given with ſome Warmth, for he knew their Hearts, and knew they needed to be thus ſoundly chidden; perceive ye not yet? Neither underſtand that which you have had ſo many Demonſtrations of? Have ye your Hearts yet harden'd, ſo as that nothing will make any Impreſſion upon them, or bring them to Compliance with your Maſter's Deſigns? Having Eyes, ſee you not that which is plain before your Eyes? Having Ears, hear you not that which you have been ſo often told? How ſtrangely ſtupid and ſenſeleſs are you? Do ye not remember that which was done but t'other Day, when I break the five Loaves among the five thouſand, and ſoon after the ſeven Loaves among the four thouſand? Do ye not remember how many Baskets full ye took up of the Fragments? Yes, they did remember, and could tell that they took up Twelve Baskets full one Time, and Seven another; why then, ſaith he, How is it that ye do not underſtand? As if he that multiplied five Loaves, and ſeven, could not multiply One; they ſeem'd to ſuſpect that that One was not Matter enough to work upon, if he ſhould have a mind to entertain his Hearers a third Time: And if that was their Thought, it was indeed a very ſenſeleſs one, as if it were not all alike to the Lord to ſave by many or few, and as eaſie to make one Loaf to feed five thouſand as five. It was therefore proper to mind them not only of the Sufficiency, but of the Overplus of the former Meals; and juſtly were they chidden for not underſtanding what Chriſt therein deſign'd, and what they from thence might have learned. Note, (1.) The Experiences we have had of God's Goodneſs to us in the way of Duty greatly aggravate our Diſtruſt of him, which is therefore very provoking to the Lord Jeſus. (2.) Our not underſtanding the true Intent and Meaning of God's Favours to us, is equivalent to our not remembring them. (3.) We are therefore overwhelm'd with preſent Cares and Diſtruſts, becauſe we do not underſtand, and remember what we have known and ſeen of the Power and Goodneſs of our Lord Jeſus. It would be a great Support to us to conſider the Days of Old, and we are wanting both to God and our ſelves if we do not. (4.) When we thus forget the Works of God, and diſtruſt him, we ſhould chide our ſelves ſeverely for it, as Chriſt doth his Diſciples here; Am I thus without Underſtanding? How is it that my Heart is thus harden'd?

22 And he cometh to Bethſaida, and they bring a blind man unto him, and beſought him to touch him.
23 And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the town; and when he had ſpit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him, if he ſaw ought.
24 And he looked up and ſaid, I ſee men as trees walking.
25 After that, he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up: and he was reſtored, and ſaw every man clearly. 26 And he ſent him away to his houſe, ſaying, Neither go into the town, nor tell it to any in the town.

This Cure is related only by this Evangeliſt, and there is ſomething ſingular in the Circumſtances.

1. Here's a blind Man brought to Chriſt by his Friends, with a Deſire that he would touch him, v. 22. Here appears the Faith of thoſe that brought him, they doubted not but one touch of Chriſt's Hand would recover him his Sight, but the Man himſelf ſhew'd not that Earneſtneſs for, or Expectation of a Cure, that other blind Men did. If thoſe that are ſpiritually blind do not pray for themſelves, yet let their Friends and Relations pray for them, that Chriſt would be pleas'd to touch them.

2. Here's Chriſt leading this blind Man, v. 23. He did not bid his Friends lead him, but (which ſpeaks his wonderful Condeſcenſion) he himſelf took him by the Hand and led him, to teach us to be as Job was, Eyes to the Blind, Job 29. 15. Never had poor blind Man ſuch a Leader. He led him out of the Town: Had he herein only deſign'd Privacy, he might have led him into a Houſe, into an inner Chamber, and have cur'd him there; but he intended hereby to upbraid Bethſaida with the mighty Works that had in vain been done in her, Matt. 11. 21. and was telling her in Effect ſhe was unworthy to have any more done within her Walls. Perhaps Chriſt took the blind Man out of the Town, that he might have a larger Proſpect in the open Fields to try his Sight with, than he could have in the cloſe Streets.

3. Here's the Cure of the blind Man, by that bleſſed Oculiſt who came into the World to preach the recovering of Sight to the blind, Luke 4. 18. and to give what he preach'd. In this Cure we may obſerve, (1.) That Chriſt us'd a Sign; he ſpit on his Eyes, (ſpit into them, ſo ſome) and put his Hands upon him. He could have cured him, as he did others, with a Word ſpeaking, but thus he was pleaſed to aſſiſt his Faith, which was very weak, and to help him againſt his Unbelief. And this Spittle ſignified the Eye-Salve wherewith Chriſt anoints the Eyes of thoſe that are ſpiritually blind, Rev. 3. 18. (2.) That the Cure was wrought gradually, which was not uſual in Chriſt's Miracles. He asked him if he ſaw ought, v. 23. Let him tell what Condition his Sight was in, for the Satisfaction of thoſe about him. And he looked up; ſo far he recovered his Sight, that he could open his Eyes, and he ſaid, I ſee Men as Trees walking, he could not diſtinguiſh Men from Trees, otherwiſe than that he could diſcern them to move. He had ſome glimmerings of Sight, and betwixt the Earth and the Sky could perceive a Man erect like a Tree, but could not diſcern the Form thereof. But, (3.) It was ſoon compleated: Chriſt never doth his Work by the halves, nor leaves it till he can ſay, It is finiſhed. He puts his Hands again upon his Eyes, to diſperſe the remaining Darkneſs, and then bid him look up again, and he ſaw every Man clearly, v. 25. Now Chriſt took this Way, (1.) Becauſe he would not tye himſelf to a Method, but would ſhew with what Liberty he acted in all he did. He did not cure by rote, as I may ſay, and in a road, but vary'd as he thought fit. Providence gains the ſame End in different ways, that Men may attend its Motions with an implicit Faith. (2.) Becauſe it ſhould be to the Patient according to his Faith; and perhaps this Man's Faith was at firſt very weak, but afterwards gather'd Strength, and accordingly his Cure was. Not that Chriſt always went by this Rule, but thus he would ſometimes put a Rebuke upon thoſe who came to him doubting. (3.) Thus Chriſt would ſhew how, and in what Method thoſe are heal'd by his Grace, who by Nature are ſpiritually blind; at firſt their Knowledge is confus'd, they ſee Men as Trees walking, but like the Light of the Morning, it ſhines more and more to the perfect Day, and then they ſee all things clearly, Prov. 4. 18. Let us enquire then if we ſee ought of thoſe Things which Faith is the Subſtance and Evidence of; and if through Grace we ſee any thing of them, we may hope that we ſhall ſee yet more and more, for Jeſus Chriſt will perfect for ever thoſe that are ſanctified.

4. The Directions Chriſt gave the Man he had cur'd not to tell it to any in the Town of Bethſaida, not ſo much as to go into the Town where probably there were ſome expecting him to come back, who had ſeen Chriſt lead him out of the Town; but having been Eye-Witneſſes of ſo many Miracles, had not ſo much as the Curioſity to follow him: Let not ſuch be gratified with the ſight of him when he was cur'd, that would not ſhew ſo much Reſpect to Chriſt as to go a Step out of Town to ſee this Cure wrought. Chriſt doth not forbid him to tell it to others, but he muſt not tell it to any in the Town. Slighting Chriſt's Favours is forfeiting them; and Chriſt will make thoſe know the worth of their Privileges by the want of them, that would not know them otherwiſe. Bethſaida, in the Day of her Viſitation, would not know the Things that belong'd to her Peace, and now they are hid from her Eyes. They will not ſee, and therefore ſhall not ſee.

27 And Jeſus went out, and his diſciples, into the towns of Ceſarea Philippi: and by the way he asked his diſciples, ſaying unto them, Whom do men ſay that I am? 28 And they anſwered, John the Baptiſt: but ſome ſay, Elias; and others, One of the prophets. 29 And he ſaith unto them, But whom ſay ye that I am? And Peter anſwereth and ſaith unto him, Thou art the Chriſt. 30 And he charged them that they ſhould tell no man of him. 31 And he began to teach them, that the Son of man muſt ſuffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief prieſts and ſcribes, and be killed, and after three days riſe again. 32 And he ſpake that ſaying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him. 33 But when he had turned about, and looked on his diſciples, he rebuked Peter, ſaying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou ſavoureſt not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men. 34 And when he had called the people unto him, with his diſciples alſo, he ſaid unto them, Whoſoever will come after me, let him deny himſelf, and take up his croſs, and follow me. 35 For whoſoever will ſave his life, ſhall loſe it; but whoſoever ſhall loſe his life for my ſake and the goſpels, the ſame ſhall ſave it. 36 For what ſhall it profit a man, if he ſhall gain the whole world, and loſe his own ſoul? 37 Or what ſhall a man give in exchange for his ſoul? 38 Whoſoever therefore ſhall be aſhamed of me, and of my words, in this adulterous and ſinful generation, of him alſo ſhall the ſon of man be aſhamed when he cometh in the glory of his Father, with the holy angels.

We have read a great deal of the Doctrine that Chriſt preach'd, and the Miracles he wrought, which were many, and ſtrange, and well atteſted, of various kinds, wrought in ſeveral Places, to the aſtoniſhment of the many that were Eye-witneſſes of them. It is now time for us to pauſe a little, and to conſider what theſe Things mean; the wondrous Works which Chriſt then forbad the publiſhing of, being recorded in theſe ſacred Writings, are thereby publiſh'd to all the World, to us, to all Ages; Now, what ſhall we think of them? Is the Record of thoſe Things deſign'd only for an Amuſement, or to furniſh us with Matter for Diſcourſe? No, certainly theſe Things are written that we may believe that Jeſus is the Chriſt the Son of God, John 20. 31. and this Diſcourſe Chriſt had with his Diſciples, will aſſiſt us in making the neceſſary Reflections upon the Miracles of Chriſt, and a right Uſe of them. Three things we are here taught to inferr from the Miracles Chriſt wrought.

Firſt, They prove that he is the true Meſſiah, the Son of God, and Saviour of the World; This the Works he did witneſſed concerning him, and this his Diſciples, who were the Eye-witneſſes of thoſe Works, here profeſs their Belief of, which cannot but be a Satisfaction to us in making the ſame Inference from them.

1. Chriſt enquir'd of them what the Sentiments of the People were concerning him. Whom do Men ſay that I am? v. 27. Note, Tho' it is a ſmall thing for us to be judg'd of Man's Day, yet it may ſometimes do us good to know what People ſay of us, not that we may ſeek our own Glory, but may hear of our Faults. Chriſt ask'd them not that he might be inform'd, but that they might obſerve it themſelves, and inform one another.

2. The Account they gave him was ſuch as plainly ſpeaks the high Opinion the People had of him. Tho' they came ſhort of the Truth, yet they were convinc'd by his Miracles that he was an extraordinary Perſon, ſent from the inviſible World with a Divine Commiſſion. 'Tis probable they would have acknowledg'd him to be the Meſſiah, if they had not been poſſeſs'd by their Teachers with a Notion, That the Meſſiah muſt be a temporal Prince, appearing in external Pomp and Power, which the Figure Chriſt made would not comport with; yet (whatever the Phariſees ſaid, whoſe Copy-hold was touch'd by the ſtrictneſs and ſpirituality of his Doctrine) none of the People ſaid he was a Deceiver, but ſome ſaid he was John Baptiſt, others Elias, others one of the Prophets, v. 28. All agree he is one riſen from the dead.

3. The Account they gave him of their own Sentiments concerning him, ſpeak their abundant Satisfaction in him, and in their having left all to follow him, which now, after ſome time of Tryal, they ſee no Reaſon to repent. But whom ſay ye that I am? To this they have an anſwer ready, Thou art the Chriſt, the Meſſiah often promis'd, and long expected, v. 29. To be a Chriſtian indeed is ſincerely to believe that Jeſus is the Chriſt, and to act accordingly; and that he is ſo, plainly appears by his wondrous Works. This they knew, and muſt ſhortly publiſh and maintain; but for the preſent they muſt keep in ſecret, v. 30. till the Proof of it was compleated, and they were compleatly qualified to maintain it by the pouring out of the Holy Ghoſt, and then let all the Houſe of Iſrael know aſſuredly that God has made this ſame Jeſus, whom ye crucified, both Lord and Chriſt, Acts 2. 36.

Secondly, Theſe Miracles of Chriſt take off the Offence of the Croſs, and aſſure us, That Chriſt was in it not conquer'd, but a Conqueror. Now the Diſciples are convinc'd that Jeſus is the Chriſt, they may bear to hear of Sufferings, which Chriſt now begins to give them Notice of, v. 31.

1. Chriſt taught his Diſciples that he muſt ſuffer many things; tho' they had got over the vulgar Error of the Meſſiah's being a temporal Prince, ſo far as to believe their Maſter to be the Meſſiah, notwithſtanding his preſent Meanneſs, yet ſtill they retain'd it, ſo far as to expect that he would ſhortly appear in outward Pomp and Grandeur, and reſtore the Kingdom to Iſrael; and therefore to rectifie that Miſtake, Chriſt here gives them a proſpect of the contrary, that he muſt be rejected of the Elders, and the chief Prieſts, and the Scribes, who they expected ſhould be brought to own and prefer him; that inſtead of being crown'd, he muſt be kill'd, he muſt be crucified, and after three Days he muſt riſe again to a heavenly Life, and to be no more in this World. This he ſpake openly, v. 32. παῤῥησίᾳ. He ſaid it freely and plainly, and did not wrap it up in ambiguous Expreſſions. The Diſciples might eaſily underſtand it, if they had not been very much under the Power of Prejudice: Or it intimates, That he ſpoke as Chearfully, and without any Terror, and would have them to hear it ſo: He ſpake that Saying boldly, as one that not only knew he muſt ſuffer and die, but was reſolv'd he would, and made it his own Act and Deed.

2. Peter oppos'd it: He took him, and began to rebuke him. Here Peter ſhewed more Love than Diſcretion, a Zeal for Chriſt and his Safety, but not according to Knowledge. He took him, προσλαβόμενος αὐτὸν. He took hold of him, as it were to ſtop and hinder him, took him in his Arms, and embraced him, ſo ſome underſtand it; he fell on his Neck as impatient to hear that his dear Maſter ſhould ſuffer ſuch hard Things; or he took him aſide privately, and began to rebuke him. This was not the Language of the leaſt Authority, but of the greateſt Affection of that Jealouſie for the Welfare of thoſe we love, which is ſtrong as Death. Our Lord Jeſus allow'd his Diſciples to be free with him, but Peter here took too great a Liberty.

3. Chriſt check'd him for his Oppoſition, v. 33. He turn'd about as one offended, and look'd on his Diſciples, to ſee if the reſt of them were of the ſame Mind; and concurr'd with Peter in this, that if they did, they might take the Reproof to themſelves, which he was now about to give to Peter; and he ſaid, Get thee behind me, Satan. Peter little thought to have had ſuch a ſharp Rebuke for ſuch a kind Diſſwaſive, but perhaps expected as much Commendation now for his Love, as he had lately had for his Faith. Note, Chriſt ſees that amiſs in what we ſay and do, which we our ſelves are not aware of, and knows what manner of Spirit we are of, when we our ſelves do not. (1.) Peter ſpoke as one that did not rightly underſtand, nor had duly conſider'd the Purpoſes and Counſels of God. When he ſaw ſuch Proofs as he every Day ſaw of the Power of Chriſt, he might conclude that he could not be compell'd to ſuffer; the moſt potent Enemies could not overpower him, whom Diſeaſes and Death, whom Winds and Waves, and Devils themſelves were forc'd to obey and yield to: And when he ſaw ſo much of the Wiſdom of Chriſt every Day, he might conclude that he would not chuſe to Suffer, but for ſome very great and glorious Purpoſes; and therefore he ought not thus to have contradicted him, but to have acquieſc'd. He look'd upon his Death only as a Martyrdom, like that of the Prophets, which he thought might be prevented, if either he would take a little Care not to provoke the Chief Prieſts, or to keep out of the way; but he knew not that the Thing was neceſſary for the Glory of God, the Deſtruction of Satan, and the Salvation of Man, that the Captain of our Salvation muſt be made perfect through Sufferings, and ſo muſt bring many Sons to Glory. Note, The Wiſdom of Man is perfect Folly, when it pretends to give Meaſures to the Divine Counſels: The Croſs of Chriſt, the greateſt Inſtance of God's Power and Wiſdom, was to ſome a ſtumbling Block, and to others Fooliſhneſs. (2.) Peter ſpoke as one that did not rightly underſtand, nor had duly conſider'd the Nature of Chriſt's Kingdom; he took it to be Temporal and Humane, whereas it is Spiritual and Divine. Thou ſavoureſt not the things that be of God, but thoſe that be of Men; ȣ̓ φρονεῖς, thou mindeſt not, ſo the Word is render'd, Rom. 8. 5. Peter ſeem'd to mind more the things that relate to the lower World, and the Life that now is, than thoſe which relate to the upper World, and the Life to come.

Minding the things of Men more than the things of God; our own Credit, Eaſe and Safety, more than the things of God and his Glory, and Kingdom, is a very great Sin, and the Root of much Sin, and very common among Chriſt's Diſciples; and it will appear in Suffering-times, thoſe times of Temptation, when thoſe in whom the things of Men have the aſcendant, are in danger of falling off. Non ſapis, thou art not Wiſe (ſo it may be read) in the things of God, but in the things of Men. It is conſiderable what Generation we appear Wiſe in, Luke 16. 8. It ſeems Policy to ſhun Trouble, but if with that we ſhun Duty, 'tis fleſhly Wiſdom, 2 Cor. 1. 12. and it will be Folly in the end.

Thirdly, Theſe Miracles of Chriſt ſhould engage us all to follow him whatever it coſt us, not only as they were Confirmations of his Miſſion, but as they were Explications of his Deſign, and the Tendency of that Grace which he came to bring; plainly intimating, that by his Spirit he would do that for our Blind, Deaf, Lame, Leprous, Diſeaſed, poſſeſſed Souls, which he did for the Bodies of thoſe many who in thoſe Diſtreſſes applied themſelves to him. Frequent Notice had been taken of the great Flocking that there was to him for Help in various Caſes: Now this is written, that we may believe that he is the great Phyſician of Souls, and may become his Patients, and ſubmit to his Regimen; and here he tells us upon what Terms we may be admitted, and he call'd all the People to him to hear this, who modeſtly ſtood at ſome diſtance when he was in private Converſation with his Diſciples. This is that which all are concern'd to know, and conſider, if they expect Chriſt ſhould heal their Souls.

1. They muſt not be indulgent of the Eaſe of the Body, for v. 34. Whoſoever will come after me for ſpiritual Cures, as theſe People do for bodily Cures, let him deny himſelf, and live a Life of Self-denial, Mortification and Contempt of the World; let him not pretend to be his own Phyſician, but renounce all Confidence in himſelf, and his own Righteouſneſs and Strength, and let him take up his Croſs, conforming himſelf to the Pattern of a crucified Jeſus, and accommodating himſelf to the Will of God in all the Afflictions he lies under, and thus let him continue to follow me, as many of thoſe did whom Chriſt heal'd: Thoſe that will be Chriſt's Patients muſt attend on him, Converſe with him, receive Inſtruction and Reproof from him, as thoſe did that follow'd him, and muſt reſolve they will never forſake him.

1. They muſt not be ſollicitous, no not for the Life of the Body, when they cannot keep it without quitting Chriſt, v. 35. Are we invited by the Words and Works of Chriſt to follow him, let us ſit down and count the Coſt, whether we can prefer our Advantages by Chriſt before Life it ſelf, whether we can bear to think of loſing our Life for Chriſt's ſake and the Goſpel's. When the Devil is drawing away Diſciples and Servants after him, he conceals the worſt of it, tells them only the Pleaſure, but nothing of the Peril of his Service, ye ſhall not ſurely die; but what there is of Trouble and Danger in the Service of Chriſt, he tells us of it before, tells us we ſhall ſuffer, perhaps we ſhall die in the Cauſe; and repreſents the Diſcouragement not leſs, but greater than commonly they prove, that it may appear he deals fairly with us; and he is not afraid we ſhould know the worſt, becauſe the Advantages of his Service abundantly ſuffice to balance the Diſcouragements, if we will but impartially ſet the one over againſt the other. In ſhort,

1. We muſt not dread the Loſs of our Lives, provided it be in the Cauſe of Chriſt, v. 35. Whoſoever will ſave his Life by declining Chriſt, and refuſing to come to him, or by diſowning and denying him after he has in Profeſſion come to Chriſt, he ſhall loſe it, ſhall loſe the Comfort of his natural Life, the Root and Fountain of his ſpiritual Life, and all his hopes of eternal Life, ſuch a bad Bargain will he make for himſelf: But whoſoever ſhall loſe his Life, ſhall be truly willing to loſe it, ſhall venture it, ſhall lay it down when he cannot keep it without denying Chriſt, he ſhall ſave it, i. e. he ſhall be an unſpeakable Gainer; for the Loſs of this Life ſhall be made up to him in a better Life. 'Tis look'd upon to be ſome kind of Recompence to thoſe who loſe their Lives in the Service of their Prince and Country, to have their Memories honour'd, and their Families provided for; but what's that to the Recompence which Chriſt makes in Eternal Life to all that die for him.

2. We muſt dread the Loſs of our Souls, yea, tho' we ſhould gain the whole World by it, v. 36, 37. For what ſhall it profit a Man if he ſhould gain the whole World, and all the Wealth, Honour and Pleaſure in it by denying Chriſt, and loſe his own Soul? True it is, ſaid Biſhop Hooper, the night before he ſuffer'd Martyrdom, That Life is ſweet, and Death is bitter, but Eternal Death is more bitter, and Eternal Life is more ſweet; ſo that as the Happineſs of Heaven with Chriſt is enough to countervail the Loſs of Life it ſelf for Chriſt, ſo the Gain of all the World in Sin, is not ſufficient to countervail the Ruin of the Soul by Sin.

What that is that Men do to ſave their Lives, and gain the World, he tells us, v. 38. and of what fatal Conſequence it will be to them; Whoſoever therefore ſhall be aſhamed of me, and of my Words, in this adulterous and ſinful Generation, of him ſhall the Son of Man be aſhamed. Something like this we had, Matt. 10. 33. but 'tis here expreſs'd more fully. Note, (1.) The Diſadvantage that the Cauſe of Chriſt labours under in this World is, that it is to be own'd and profeſs'd in an adulterous and ſinful Generation; ſuch the Generation of Mankind is, gone a Whoring from God, in the impure Embraces of the World and the Fleſh, lying in Wickedneſs; ſome Ages, ſome Places are more-eſpecially adulterous and ſinful, as that was in which Chriſt liv'd: In ſuch a Generation the Cauſe of Chriſt is oppos'd and run down, and thoſe that own it are expos'd to Reproach and Contempt, and every where ridicul'd and ſpoken againſt. (2.) There are many, who tho' they cannot but own that the Cauſe of Chriſt is a righteous Cauſe, yet are aſham'd of it, becauſe of the Reproach that attends the profeſſing of it; they are aſham'd of their Relation to Chriſt, and aſham'd of the Credit they cannot but give to his Words; they cannot bear to be frown'd upon and deſpis'd, and therefore throw off their Profeſſion, and go down the Stream of a prevailing Apoſtaſie. (3.) There is a Day coming when the Cauſe of Chriſt will appear as bright and illuſtrious as now it appears mean and contemptible; when the Son of Man comes in the Glory of his Father with his Holy Angels, as the true Shechinah, the brightneſs of his Father's Glory, and the Lord of Angels. (4.) Thoſe that are aſham'd of Chriſt in this World, where he is deſpis'd, he will be aſham'd of them in that World where he is eternally ador'd. They ſhall not ſhare with him in his Glory then, that were not willing to ſhare with him in his Diſgrace now.

CHAP. IX.

In this Chapter we have, (1.) Chriſt's Transfiguration upon the Mount, v. 1,--13. (2.) His caſting the Devil out of a Child, when the Diſciples could not do it, v. 14,--29. (3.) His Prediction of his own Sufferings and Death, v. 30,--32. (4.) The Check he gave to his Diſciples for diſputing who ſhould be greateſt, v. 33,--37. And to John, for rebuking one who caſt out Devils in Chriſt's Name, and did not follow with them, v. 38,--41. (5.) Chriſt's Diſcourſe with his Diſciples of the Danger of offending one of his little ones, v. 42. And of indulging that in our ſelves which is an Offence, and an Occaſion of Sin to us, v. 43,--50. moſt of which Paſſages we had before, Matt. 17, and 18.

AND he ſaid unto them, Verily I ſay unto you, that there be ſome of them that ſtand here, which ſhall not taſte of death, till they have ſeen the kingdom of God come with power. 2 And after ſix days, Jeſus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into an high mountain apart by themſelves: and he was transfigured before them. 3 And his raiment became ſhining, exceeding white as ſnow; ſo as no fuller on earth can white them. 4 And there appeared unto them Elias, with Moſes: and they were talking with Jeſus. 5 And Peter anſwered and ſaid unto Jeſus, Maſter, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles; one for Thee, and one for Moſes, and one for Elias. 6 For he wiſt not what to ſay, for they were ſore afraid. 7 And there was a cloud that overſhadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, ſaying, This is my beloved Son: hear him. 8 And ſuddenly when they had looked round about, they ſaw no man any more, ſave Jeſus only with themſelves. 9 And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them that they ſhould tell no man what things they had ſeen, till the Son of man were riſen from the dead. 10 And they kept that ſaying with themſelves, queſtioning one with another what the riſing from the dead ſhould mean. 11 And they asked him, ſaying, Why ſay the ſcribes that Elias muſt firſt come? And he anſwered and told them, Elias verily comes firſt, and reſtoreth all things, and how it is written of the Son of man, that he muſt ſuffer many things, and be ſet at nought. 13 But I ſay unto you, that Elias is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatſoever they liſted, as it is written of him.

Here's, 1. A Prediction of Chriſt's Kingdom now near approaching, v. 1. That which is foretold is, (1.) That the Kingdom of God would come, and would come ſo as to be ſeen; the Kingdom of the Meſſiah ſhall be ſet up in the World by the utter Deſtruction of the Jewiſh Polity, which ſtood in the way of it; this was the reſtoring of the Kingdom of God among Men, which had been in a manner loſt by the woful Degeneracy both of Jews and Gentiles. (2.) That it would come with Power, ſo as to make its own way, and bear down the Oppoſition that was given to it. It came with Power, when Vengeance was taken on the Jews for crucifying Chriſt, and when it conquer'd the Idolatry of the Gentile World. (3.) That it would come while ſome now preſent were alive. There are ſome ſtanding here that ſhall not taſte of Death till they ſee it; This ſpeaks the ſame with Mat. 24. 34. This Generation ſhall not paſs till all thoſe things be fulfilled. Thoſe that were ſtanding here with Chriſt ſhould ſee it, when the others could not diſcern it to be the Kingdom of God, for it came not with Obſervation.

2. A Specimen of that Kingdom in the Transfiguration of Chriſt, ſix Days after Chriſt ſpoke that. He had begun to give Notice to his Diſciples of his Death and Sufferings; and to prevent their Offence at that, he gives them this glimpſe of his Glory, to ſhew that his Sufferings were voluntary, and what a Vertue the Dignity and Glory of his Perſon would put into them, and to prevent the Offence of the Croſs.

1. It was on the top of a high Mountain, like the Converſe Moſes had with God, which was on the top of Mount Sinai, and his Proſpect of Canaan from the top of Mount Piſgah. Tradition ſaith 'twas on the top of Mount Tabor that Chriſt was transfigured; and if ſo, that Scripture was fulfilled, Tabor and Hermon ſhall rejoyce in thy Name, Pſal. 89. 12, 13. Dr. Lightfoot obſerving that the laſt Place we find Chriſt, was in the Coaſts of Cæſarea Philippi, which was far from Mount Tabor, rather thinks it was a high Mountain which Joſephus ſpeaks of near Cæſarea.

2. The Witneſſes of it were Peter, James and John, theſe were Three that were to bear record on Earth, anſwering to Moſes, Elias, and the Voice from Heaven, the three that were to bear record from above. Chriſt did not take all the Diſciples with him, becauſe the Thing was to be kept very private. As there are diſtinguiſhing Favours which are given to Diſciples, and not to the World, ſo there are to ſome Diſciples and not to others. All the Saints are a People near to Chriſt, but ſome lie in his Boſom. James was the firſt of all the twelve that dy'd for Chriſt, and John ſurviv'd them all to be the laſt Eye-witneſs of this Glory; he bore Record, Joh. 1. 14. We ſaw his Glory, and ſo did Peter, 2 Pet. 1. 16, 17, 18.

3. The Manner of it. He was transfigur'd before them: He appear'd in another Manner than he us'd to do. This was a change of the Accidents, the Subſtance remaining the ſame, and it was a Miracle: But Tranſubſtantiation, the change of the Subſtance, all the Accidents remaining the ſame, is not a Miracle, but a Fraud and Impoſture, ſuch a Work as Chriſt never wrought. See what a great change Human Bodies are capable of when God is pleas'd to put an Honour upon them, as he will upon the Bodies of the Saints at the Reſurrection. He was transfigur'd before them; 'tis likely the change was gradual, from Glory to Glory, ſo that the Diſciples, who had their Eye upon him all the while, had the cleareſt and moſt certain Evidence they could have, that this glorious Appearance was no other than the Bleſſed Jeſus himſelf, and there was no Illuſion in it. John ſeems to refer to this, 1 John 1. 1. when he ſpeaks of the Word of Life, as that which they had ſeen with their Eyes, and look'd upon. His Raiment became ſhining; ſo that tho' probably it was ſad colour'd, if not black, yet it was now exceeding white as Snow, beyond what the Fuller's Art could do towards whitening it.

4. His Companions in this Glory were Moſes and Elias, v. 4. They appear'd talking with him, not to teach him, but to teſtifie to him, and to be taught by him; by which it appears there is Converſe and Intercourſe between glorified Saints, they have ways of talking one with another which we underſtand not. Moſes and Elias liv'd at a great diſtance of Time one from another, but that breaks no ſquares in Heaven, where the firſt ſhall be laſt, and the laſt firſt, that is all one in Chriſt.

5. The great Delight that the Diſciples took in ſeeing this Sight, and hearing this Diſcourſe, is expreſs'd by Peter, the Mouth of the reſt. He ſaid, Maſter, it is good for us to be here, v. 5. Tho' Chriſt was transfigur'd, and was in Diſcourſe with Moſes and Elias, yet he gave Peter leave to ſpeak to him, and to be as free with him as he us'd to do. Note, Our Lord Jeſus in his Exaltation and Glory, doth not at all abate of his condeſcending Kindneſs to his People. Many when they are in their Greatneſs oblige their Friends to keep their Diſtance, but even to the glorified Jeſus true Believers have acceſs with Boldneſs, and Freedom of Speech with him. Even in this heavenly Diſcourſe there was room for Peter to put in a word; and this is it, Lord, It is good to be here, 'tis good for us to be here: Here let us make Tabernacles; let this be our Reſt for ever. Note, Gracious Souls reckon it good to be in Communion with Chriſt, good to be near him, good to be in the Mount with him, tho' it be a cold and ſolitary Place; it's good to be here retir'd from the World, and alone with Chriſt: And if it is good to be with Chriſt transfigur'd, only upon a Mountain with Moſes and Elias, how good will it be to be with Chriſt glorified in Heaven with all the Saints? But obſerve, while Peter was for ſtaying here he forgot what need there was of the Preſence of Chriſt, and the Preaching of his Apoſtles among the People. At this very time the other Diſciples wanted them greatly, v. 14. Note, When it is well with us, we are apt to be mindleſs of others, and in the fulneſs of our Enjoyments to forget the Neceſſities of our Brethren; 'twas a weakneſs in Peter to prefer private Communion with God before publick Uſefulneſs. Paul is willing to abide in the Fleſh, rather than depart to the Mountain of Glory, ('tho' that be far better) when he ſees it needful for the Church, Phil. 1. 24, 25. Peter talk'd of making three diſtinct Tabernacles for Moſes, Elias, and Chriſt, which was not well contriv'd; for ſuch a perfect Harmony there is between the Law, the Prophets, and the Goſpel, that one Tabernacle will hold them all: they dwell together in Unity. But whatever was incongruous in what he ſaid, he may be excus'd, for they were all ſore afraid; and he for his part wiſt not what to ſay, v. 6. not knowing what would be the end thereof.

6. The Voice that came from Heaven was an atteſtation of Chriſt's Mediatorſhip, v. 7. There was a Cloud that overſhadow'd them, and was a ſhelter to them: Peter had talk'd of making Tabernacles for Chriſt and his Friends, but while he yet ſpake, ſee how his Project was ſuperſeded; this Cloud was unto them inſtead of Tabernacle for their ſhelter, Iſa. 4. 5. while he ſpake of his Tabernacles, God created his Tabernacles not made with hands. Now out of this Cloud (which was but a Shade to the excellent Glory Peter ſpeaks of from whence this Voice came) it was ſaid, This is my beloved Son, hear him. God owns him, and accepts him as his beloved Son, and is ready to accept of us in him; we muſt then own and accept him as our beloved Saviour, and muſt give up our ſelves to be rul'd by him.

7. The Viſion being deſign'd only to introduce this Voice, when that was deliver'd, diſappear'd, v. 8. Suddenly when they had looked round about, as Men amaz'd to ſee where they were, all was gone, they ſaw no Man any more, Elias and Moſes were vaniſh'd out of ſight, and Jeſus only remain'd with them, and he not transfigur'd, but as he us'd to be. Note, Chriſt doth not leave the Soul when extraordinary Joys and Comforts leave it. Tho' more ſenſible and raviſhing Communions may be withdrawn, Chriſt's Diſciples have, and ſhall have his ordinary Preſence with him always even to the end of the World, and that's it we muſt depend upon. Let us thank God for daily Bread, and not expect a continnual Feaſt on this ſide Heaven.

8. We have here the Diſcourſe between Chriſt and his Diſciples, as they came down from the Mount.

1. He charg'd them to keep this Matter very private 'till he was riſen from the Dead, which would compleat the Proof of his Divine Miſſion, and then this muſt be produc'd with the reſt of the Evidence, v. 9. And beſides, he being now in a ſtate of Humiliation, would have nothing publickly taken Notice of that might ſeem diſagreeable to ſuch a State; for to that, he would in every Thing accommodate himſelf. This enjoining of Silence to the Diſciples, would likewiſe be of Uſe to them to prevent their boaſting of the Intimacy they were admitted to, that they might not be puffed up with the abundance of the Revelations. 'Tis a Mortification to a Man to be ty'd up from telling of his Advancements, and may help to hide Pride from him.

2. The Diſciples were at a loſs what the riſing from the Dead ſhould mean; they could not form any Notion of the Meſſiah's dying, Luke 18. 34. and therefore were willing to think that the Riſing he ſpeaks of was Figurative, his riſing from his preſent mean and low Eſtate to the Dignity and Dominion they were in expectation of. But if ſo, here's another Thing that embarraſſeth them, v. 11. Why, ſay the Scribes, that before the appearing of the Meſſiah in his Glory, according to the Order ſettled in the Prophecies of the Old Teſtament, Elias muſt firſt come; but Elias was gone, and Moſes too: Now that which rais'd this Difficulty was, that the Scribes taught them to expect the Perſon of Elias, whereas the Prophecy intended one in the Spirit and Power of Elias. Note, The miſunderſtanding of Scripture is a great Prejudice to the entertainment of Truth.

3. Chriſt gave them a Key to the Prophecy concerning Elias, v. 17, 18. It is indeed propheſied that Elias will come, and will reſtore all Things, and ſet them to rights; And (tho' you will not underſtand it) 'tis alſo propheſied of the Son of Man that he muſt ſuffer many Things, and be ſet at naught, muſt be a reproach of Men, and deſpiſed of the People: And tho' the Scribes do not tell you ſo, the Scriptures do, and you have as much Reaſon to expect that as the other, and ſhould not make ſo ſtrange of it; but as to Elias, I tell you, he is come; and if you conſider a little, you will underſtand who I mean, 'tis one to whom they have done whatſoever they liſted, which was very applicable to the ill uſage they had given John Baptiſt. Many of the Ancients, and the Popiſh Writers generally think, that beſides the coming of John Baptiſt in the Spirit of Elias, himſelf in his own Perſon is to be expected, with Enoch, before the ſecond Appearance of Chriſt, wherein the Prophecy of Malachi will have a more full Accompliſhment than it had in John Baptiſt. But it is a groundleſs Fancy; the true Elias, as well as the true Meſſiah promiſed, is come, and we are to look for no other. Theſe Words, as it is written of him, refer not to their doing to him whatever they liſted, that comes in in a Parentheſis, but only to his coming. He is come, and hath been, and done according as was written of him.

14 And when he came to his diſciples, he ſaw a great multitude about them, and the ſcribes queſtioning with them. 15 And ſtraightway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him, ſaluted him. 16 And he asked the ſcribes, What queſtion ye with them? 17 And one of the multitude anſwered and ſaid, Maſter, I have brought unto thee my ſon, which hath a dumb ſpirit: 18 And whereſoever he taketh him, he teareth him; and he foameth, and gnaſheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I ſpake to thy diſciples, that they ſhould caſt him out, and they could not. 19 He anſwered him, and ſaith, O faithleſs generation, how long ſhall I be with you?

how long ſhall I ſuffer you? bring him unto me.
20 And they brought him unto him: and when he ſaw him, ſtraightway the ſpirit tare him, and he fell on the ground, and wallowed, foaming. 21 And he asked his father, How long is it ago ſince this came unto him? and he ſaid, Of a child. 22 And ofttimes it hath caſt him into the fire, and into the waters to deſtroy him: but if thou canſt do any thing, have compaſſion on us, and help us. 23 Jeſus ſaid unto him, If thou canſt believe, all things are poſſible to him that believeth. 24 And ſtraightway the father of the child cried out, and ſaid with tears, Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief.
25 When Jeſus ſaw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul ſpirit, ſaying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf ſpirit, I charge thee, Come out of him, and enter no more into him. 26 And the ſpirit cried, and rent him ſore, and came out of him; and he was as one dead, inſomuch that many ſaid, He is dead. 27 But Jeſus took him by the hand, and lifted him up, and he aroſe. 28 And when he was come into the houſe, his diſciples asked him privately, Why could not we caſt him out? 29 And he ſaid unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and faſting.

We have here the Story of Chriſt's caſting the Devil out of a Child, ſomewhat more fully related than it was Matt. 17. 14. &c. Obſerve here,

1. Chriſt's Return to his Diſciples, and the Perplexity he found them in. He laid aſide his Robes of Glory, and came to look after his Family, and to enquire what was become of them. Chriſt's Glory above doth not make him forget the Concerns of his Church below, which he viſits in great Humility, v. 14. And he came very ſeaſonably, when the Diſciples were embarraſs'd and run a-ground; the Scribes, who were ſworn Enemies both to him and them, had gain'd an Advantage againſt them: A Child poſſeſs'd with a Devil was brought to them, and they could not caſt out the Devil, whereupon the Scribes inſulted over them, and reflected upon their Maſter, and triumph'd as if the Day were their own. He found the Scribes queſtioning with them, in the hearing of the Multitude, ſome of whom perhaps began to be ſhock'd by it. Thus Moſes when he came down from the Mount, found the Camp of Iſrael in great diſorder, ſo ſoon were Chriſt and Moſes miſs'd. Chriſt's Return was very welcome, no doubt, to the Diſciples, and unwelcome to the Scribes. But particular Notice is taken of its being very ſurprizing to the People, who perhaps were ready to ſay, As for this Jeſus, we wot not what's become of him; but when they beheld him coming to them again, they were greatly amazed: ſome Copies; add, καὶ ἐξεφοβήθησαν, and they were afraid, and running to him; ſome Copies for προστρέχοντες read προσχαίροντες, congratulating him, or bidding him Welcome they ſaluted him. 'Tis eaſie to give a Reaſon why they ſhould be glad to ſee him; but why were they amaz'd, greatly amaz'd when they beheld him? Probably there might remain ſomething unuſual in his Countenance; as Moſes's Face ſhone when he came down from the Mount, which made the People afraid to come nigh him, Exod. 34. 30. So perhaps did Chriſt's Face in ſome meaſure; at leaſt, inſtead of ſeeming fatigu'd, there appear'd a wonderful Briskneſs, and Sprightlineſs in his Looks, which amaz'd them.

2. The Caſe which perplex'd the Diſciples brought before him. He ask'd the Scribes, who he knew were always vexatious to his Diſciples, and teazing them upon every Occaſion, What queſtion ye with them? What's the Quarrel now? The Scribes made no Anſwer, for they were confounded at his Preſence; the Diſciples made none, for they were comforted, and now left all to him. But the Father of the Child open'd the Cauſe, v. 17, 18. (1.) His Child is poſſeſs'd with a dumb Spirit. He has the Falling-Sickneſs, and in his Fits is Speechleſs; his Caſe is very ſad, for whereſoever the Fit takes him, the Spirit tears him, throws him into ſuch violent Convulſions as almoſt pull him to Pieces; and which is very grievous to himſelf, and frightful to thoſe about him, he foams at the Mouth, and gnaſheth with his Teeth, as one in Pain and great Miſery; and tho' the Fits go off preſently, yet they leave him ſo weak that he pines away, is worn to a Skeleton; his Fleſh is dry'd away, ſo the Word ſignifies, Pſalm 102. 3, 4, 5. This was a conſtant Affliction to a tender Father. (2.) The Diſciples cannot give him any Relief. I deſir'd they would caſt him out, as they had done many, and they would willingly have done it, but they could not; and therefore thou couldſt never have come in better time, Maſter, I have brought him to thee.

3. The Rebuke he gave to them all, v. 19. O faithleſs Generation, how long ſhall I be with you? How long ſhall I ſuffer you? Dr. Hammond underſtands this as ſpoken to the Diſciples, reproving them for not exerting the Power he had given them, and becauſe they did not Faſt and Pray, as in ſome Caſes he had directed them to do. But Dr. Whitby takes it as a Rebuke to the Scribes, who gloried in this Balk that the Diſciples met with, and hop'd to run them down with it. Them he calls a faithleſs Generation, and ſpeaks as one weary of being with them, and of bearing with them. We never hear him complaining how long ſhall I be in this low Condition, and ſuffer that? But how long ſhall I be among theſe faithleſs People, and ſuffer them?

4. The deplorable Condition that the Child was actually in, when he was brought to Chriſt, and the doleful Repreſentation which the Father made of it. When the Child ſaw Chriſt, he fell into a Fit, the Spirit ſtraightway tore him, boyl'd within him, troubled him, ſo Dr. Hammond; as if the Devil would ſet Chriſt at defiance, and hop'd to be too hard for him to, and to keep Poſſeſſion in ſpite of him. The Child fell on the Ground and wallow'd foaming. We may put another Conſtruction upon it, that the Devil rag'd, and had ſo much the greater Wrath, becauſe he knew that his Time was ſhort, Rev. 12. 12. Chriſt ask'd, How long ſince this came to him? And it ſeems the Diſeaſe was of long ſtanding, it came to him of a Child, v. 21. which made the Caſe the more ſad, and the Cure the more difficult. We are all by Nature Children of Diſobedience, and in ſuch the evil Spirit works, and has done ſo from our Childhood; for Fooliſhneſs is bound in the Heart of a Child, and nothing but the mighty Grace of Chriſt can caſt it out.

5. The preſſing Inſtances which the Father of the Child makes with Chriſt for a Cure, v 22. Oft-times it has caſt him into the Fire, and into the Waters, to deſtroy him. Note, The Devil aims at the Ruin of thoſe in whom he Rules and Works, and ſeeks whom he may devour. But if thou canſt do any Thing, have Compaſſion on us, and help us. The Leper was confident of Chriſt's Power, but put an If upon his Will, Mat. 8. If thou wilt, thou canſt. This poor Man referr'd himſelf to his Good-Will, but put an If upon his Power, becauſe his Diſciples, who caſt out Devils in his Name, had been Non-plus'd in this Caſe. Thus Chriſt ſuffers in his Honour, by the Difficulties and Follies of his Diſciples.

6. The Anſwer Chriſt gave to his Addreſs, v. 23. If thou canſt believe, all Things are poſſible to him that believeth. Here (1.) He tacitly checks the weakneſs of his Faith. He put it upon Chriſt's Power, If thou canſt do any thing, and reflected on the want of Power in the Diſciples; but Chriſt turns it upon him, and puts him upon queſtioning his own Faith, and will have him impute the Diſappointment to the want of that; if thou canſt believe. (2.) He graciouſly encourageth the Strength of his Deſire; all things are poſſible, i. e. will appear poſſible to him that believes the Almighty Power of God, to which all Things are poſſible, or, that all be done by the Grace of God, for them that believe in the Promiſe of God, which ſeem'd utterly impoſſible. Note, In dealing with Chriſt very much is put upon our Believing, and very much promis'd to it. Canſt thou believe? i. e. Dareſt thou believe? Art thou willing to venture thy All in the Hands of Chriſt? To venture all thy Spiritual Concerns with him, and all thy Temporal Concerns for him? Canſt thou find in thy Heart to do this? If ſo, it is not impoſſible, but that tho' thou haſt been a great Sinner, thou may'ſt be reconcil'd; tho' thou art very mean and unworthy, thou may'ſt get to Heaven. If thou canſt believe it is poſſible that thy hard Heart may be ſoften'd, thy Spiritual Diſeaſes may be cur'd; and that weak as thou art, thou may'ſt be able to hold out to the End.

7. The Profeſſion of Faith which the poor Man made hereupon, v. 24. he cry'd out, Lord, I believe, I am fully perſuaded both of thy Power, and of thy Pity; and it ſhall never ſtick at that, Lord, I believe: And the Prayer he made for Grace to enable him more firmly to rely upon the Aſſurances he had of the Ability, and willingneſs of Chriſt to ſave, Help thou my Unbelief. Note, 1. Even thoſe who through Grace can ſay, Lord, I believe, yet have reaſon to complain of their Unbelief; that they cannot ſo readily apply to themſelves, and their own Caſe, the word of Chriſt as they ſhould, nor ſo chearfully depend upon it. 2. Thoſe that complain of Unbelief, muſt look up to Chriſt for Grace to help them againſt it, and his Grace ſhall be ſufficient for them. Help mine Unbelief, help me to a Pardon for it, help me with Power againſt it; help out what is wanting in my Faith, with thy Grace, the Strength of which is perfected in our Weakneſs.

8. The Cure of the Child, and the Conqueſt of this raging Devil in the Child. Chriſt ſaw the People come running together, expecting to ſee the iſſue of this Trial of Skill, and therefore kept them in ſuſpence no longer, but rebuked the foul Spirit, the unclean Spirit, ſo it ſhould be render'd, as in other Places. Obſerve, (1.) What the Charge was which Chriſt gave to this unclean Spirit: Thou dumb and deaf Spirit, that makeſt the poor Child dumb and deaf, but ſhalt thy ſelf be made to hear thy doom, and not be able to ſay any Thing againſt it, come out of him immediately, and enter no more into him. Let him not only be brought out of this Fit, but let his Fits never return. Note, Whom Chriſt cures, he cures effectually; Satan may go out himſelf, and yet recover Poſſeſſion, but if Chriſt caſt him out, he will keep him out. (2.) How the unclean Spirit took it; he grew yet more outragious, he cried and rent him ſore, gave him ſuch a Twiſt at parting, that he was as one dead; ſo loth was he to quit his hold, and ſo exaſperated at the ſuperiour Power of Chriſt, and ſo malicious to the Child, and ſo fain he would have kill'd him, Many ſaid, He is dead. Thus the Toſs that a Soul is in at the breaking of Satan's Power in it, may perhaps be frightful for the preſent, but opens the Door to laſting Comfort. (3.) How the Child was perfectly reſtor'd; v. 27. Jeſus took him by the Hand, κρατήσας, took faſt hold of him, and ſtrongly bore him up, and he aroſe and recover'd, and all was well.

9. The Reaſon he gave to the Diſciples, why they could not caſt out this Devil: They enquir'd of him privately, why they could not, that wherein they were defective might be made up another Time, and they might not be again thus publickly ſhamed; and he told them, v. 29. This Kind can come forth by nothing, but by Prayer and Faſting. Whatever other Difference there really might be, none appears between this and other Kinds, but that the unclean Spirit had had Poſſeſſion of this poor Patient from a Child, and that ſtrengthen'd his Intereſt, and confirm'd his Hold. When vitious Habits are rooted by long Uſage, and begin to plead Preſcription, like Chronical Diſeaſes, they are hardly cur'd. Can the Æthiopian change his Skin? The Diſciples muſt not think to do their work always with a like Eaſe; ſome Services call them to take more than ordinary Pains; but Chriſt can do that with a Word ſpeaking, which they muſt prevail for the doing of by Prayer and Faſting.

30 And they departed thence, and paſſed through Galilee; and he would not that any man ſhould know it. 31 For he taught his diſciples, and ſaid unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they ſhall kill him, and after that he is killed, he ſhall riſe the third day. 32 But they underſtood not that ſaying, and were afraid to aſk him. 33 And he came to Capernaum, and being in the houſe, he aſked them, What was it that ye diſputed among your ſelves by the way? 34 But they held their peace: for by the way they had diſputed among themſelves, who ſhould be the greateſt. 35 And he ſat down and called the twelve, and ſaith unto them, If any man deſire to be firſt, the ſame ſhall be laſt of all, and ſervant of all. 36 And he took a child, and ſet him in the midſt of them: and when he had taken him in his arms, he ſaid unto them, 37 Whoſoever ſhall receive one of ſuch children in my name, receiveth me: and whoſoever ſhall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that ſent me. 38 And John anſwered him, ſaying, Maſter, we ſaw one caſting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us; and we forbad him, becauſe he followeth not us. 39 But Jeſus ſaid, Forbid him not: for there is no man which ſhall do a miracle in my name, that can lightly ſpeak evil of me. 40 For he that is not againſt us, is on our part.

Here, 1. Chriſt foretels his own approaching Sufferings. He paſſed through Galilee with more Expedition than uſual, and would not that any Man ſhould know it, v. 30. becauſe he had done many mighty and good Works among them in vain, they ſhall not be invited to ſee them, and have the Benefit of them as they have been. The Time of his Sufferings drew nigh, and therefore he was willing to be private a while; and to converſe only with his Diſciples, to prepare them for the approaching Trial, v. 31. He ſaid to them, The Son of Man is deliver'd, by the determinate Counſel and Fore-knowledge of God, into the Hands of Men, v. 31. and they ſhall kill him. Had he been deliver'd into the Hands of Devils, and they had worried him, it had not been ſo ſtrange, but that Men, who have Reaſon, and ſhould have Love, that they ſhould be thus ſpiteful to the Son of Man, who came to redeem and ſave them, is unaccountable. But ſtill it is obſervable, that when Chriſt ſpoke of his Death, he always ſpoke of his Reſurrection, which took away the Reproach of it from himſelf, and ſhould take away the Grief of it from his Diſciples. But they underſtood not that ſaying, v. 32. The Words were plain enough, but they could not be reconcil'd to the Thing, and therefore would ſuppoſe them to have ſome myſtical Meaning which they did not underſtand; and they were afraid to aſk him; not becauſe he was difficult of Acceſs, or ſtern to thoſe who conſulted him, but either becauſe they were loth to know the Truth, or becauſe they expected to be chidden for their backwardneſs to receive it. Many remain ignorant, becauſe they are aſham'd to enquire.

2. He rebukes his Diſciples for magnifying themſelves. When he came to Capernaum, he privately ask'd his Diſciples, what it was that they diſputed among themſelves by the way: v. 33. He knew very well what the Diſpute was, but he would know it from them, and would have them to confeſs their Fault and Folly in it. Note, (1.) We muſt all expect to be call'd to an Account by our Lord Jeſus, concerning what paſſeth while we are in the Way, in this State of Paſſage and Probation. (2.) We muſt in a particular Manner be call'd to an Account about our Diſcourſes among our ſelves, for by our Words we muſt be juſtified or condemn'd. (3.) As other our Diſcourſes among our ſelves by the Way, ſo eſpecially our Diſputes will be all call'd over again, and we ſhall be call'd to an Account about them. (4.) Of all Diſputes, Chriſt will be ſure to reckon with his Diſciples for their Diſputes about Precedency, and Superiority: That was the Subject of the Debate here, who ſhould be the greateſt, v. 34. Nothing could be more contrary to the two greateſt Laws of Chriſt's Kingdom, Leſſons of his School, and Inſtructions of his Example, which are Humility and Love, than deſiring Preferment in the World, and diſputing about it. This ill Temper he took all Occaſions to check, both becauſe it aroſe from a miſtaken Notion of his Kingdom, as if it were of this World; and becauſe it tended ſo directly to the debaſing of the Honour, and the corrupting of the Purity of his Goſpel, and he foreſaw would be ſo much the Bane of the Church.

Now, 1. They were willing to cover this Fault, v. 34. they held their Peace. As they would not ask, v. 32. becauſe they were aſham'd to own their Ignorance, ſo here they would not anſwer, becauſe they were aſham'd to own their Pride. (2.) He was willing to amend this Fault in them, and to bring them to a better Temper; and therefore ſat down, that he might have a ſolemn and full Diſcourſe with them about this Matter; He call'd the Twelve to him, and told them, (1.) That Ambition and Affectation of Dignity and Dominion, inſtead of gaining them Preferment in his Kingdom, would but poſtpone their Preferment; If any Man deſire and aim to be firſt, he ſhall be laſt; he that exalteth himſelf ſhall be abaſed, and Men's Pride ſhall bring them low. (2.) That there is Preferment to be had under him, but an Opportunity for, and an Obligation to ſo much the more Labour and Condeſcenſion. If any Man deſire to be firſt, when he is ſo, he muſt be ſo much the more buſie, and ſerviceable to every Body; he that deſires the Office of a Biſhop, deſires a good Work, for he muſt, as St. Paul did, labour the more abundantly, and make himſelf the Servant of all. (3.) That thoſe who are moſt humble and ſelf-denying do moſt reſemble Chriſt, and ſhall be moſt tenderly owned by him. This he taught them by a Sign, he took a Child in his Arms, that had nothing of Pride and Ambition in it, Look you, ſaith he, whoſoever ſhall receive one like this Child, receives me. Thoſe of a humble, meek, mild Diſpoſition, are ſuch as I will own and countenance, and encourage every Body elſe to do ſo too, and will take what's done to them as done to my ſelf; and ſo will my Father too, for he who thus receiveth me, receiveth him that ſent me, and it ſhall be plac'd to his Account, and repaid with Intereſt.

3. He rebukes them for villifying all but themſelves; while they are ſtriving which of them ſhould be greateſt, they will not allow thoſe who are not in Communion with them to be any Thing. Obſerve,

1. The Account which John gave him, of the Reſtraint they had laid upon one from making uſe of the Name of Chriſt, becauſe he was not of their Society. Tho' they were aſham'd to own their Conteſts for Preferment, they ſeem to boaſt of this Exerciſe of their Authority, and expected their Maſter ſhould not only juſtifie them in it, but commend them for it: and hoped he would not blame them for deſiring to be great, when they would thus uſe their Power for the maintaining of the Honour of the Sacred College. Maſter, ſaith John, we ſaw one caſting out Devils in thy Name, but he follow'd not us, v. 38. (1.) It was ſtrange, that one that was not a profeſs'd Diſciple and Follower of Chriſt, ſhould yet have Power to caſt out Devils in his Name, for that ſeem'd to be peculiar to thoſe whom he call'd, Chap. 6. 7. But ſome think, that he was a Diſciple of John, who made uſe of the Name of the Meſſiah, not as come, but as near at Hand, not knowing that Jeſus was he; it ſhould rather ſeem he made uſe of the Name of Jeſus, believing him to be the Chriſt, as the other Apoſtles did: And why might not he receive that Power from Chriſt, whoſe Spirit like the Wind blows where it liſteth, without ſuch an outward Call as the Apoſtles had, and perhaps there were many more ſuch: Chriſt's Grace is not ty'd to the viſible Church. (2.) It was ſtrange, that one who caſt out Devils in the Name of Chriſt, did not joyn himſelf to the Apoſtles, and follow Chriſt with them, but ſhould continue to act in Separation from them. I know of nothing that could hinder him from following them, unleſs becauſe he was loth to leave all to follow them; and if ſo, that was an ill Principle. The Thing did not look well, and therefore the Diſciples forbad him to make uſe of Chriſt's Name as they did, unleſs he would follow him as they did. This was like the Motion Joſhua made concerning Eldad and Medad, that propheſied in the Camp, and went not up with the reſt to the Door of the Tabernacle, My Lord Moſes, forbid them, Numb. 11. 28. Reſtrain them, ſilence them, for it is a Schiſm. Thus apt are we to imagine, that thoſe do not follow Chriſt at all, that do not follow him with us; and that thoſe do nothing well, who do not juſt as we do. But the Lord knows them that are his, however they are diſpers'd; and this Inſtance gives us a needful Caution, to take heed leſt we be carry'd by an exceſs of Zeal for the Unity of the Church, and for that which we are ſure is right and good, to oppoſe that which yet may tend to the Enlargement of the Church, and the Advancement of its true Intereſts another Way.

2. The Rebuke he gave to them for this, v. 39. Jeſus ſaid, forbid him not, nor any other that do likewiſe. This was like the check Moſes gave to Joſhua, Envieſt thou for my ſake? Note, That which is good and doth good muſt not be prohibited, tho' there may be ſome Defect or Irregularity in the manner of doing it. Caſting out Devils, and ſo deſtroying Satan's Kingdom, doing this in Chriſt's Name, and ſo owning him to be ſent of God, and giving Honour to him as the Fountain of Grace, preaching down Sin, and preaching up Chriſt, are good Things, very good Things, which ought not to be forbidden to any, meerly becauſe they follow not with us. If Chriſt be preach'd, Paul therein doth and will rejoice, tho' he be eclips'd by it, Phil. 1. 18. Two Reaſons Chriſt gives, why ſuch ſhould not be forbidden. (1.) Becauſe we cannot ſuppoſe, that any Man that makes uſe of Chriſt's Name in working Miracles, ſhould blaſpheme his Name, as the Scribes and Phariſees did. There were thoſe indeed, that did in Chriſt's Name caſt out Devils, and yet in other Reſpects were workers of Iniquity, but they did not ſpeak evil of Chriſt. (2.) Becauſe thoſe that differ'd in Communion, while they agreed to fight againſt Satan, under the Banner of Chriſt, ought to look upon one another as on the ſame ſide, notwithſtanding that Difference. He that is not againſt us, is on our Part. As to the great Controverſie between Chriſt and Beelzebub, he had ſaid, He that is not with me, is againſt me, Mat. 12. 30. He that will not own Chriſt, owns Satan: But among thoſe that own Chriſt, tho' not in the ſame Circumſtances, that follow him, tho' not with us, we muſt reckon, that tho' theſe differ from us, they are not againſt us, and therefore are on our Part, and we muſt not be any hindrance to their Uſefulneſs.

41 For whoſoever ſhall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, becauſe ye belong to Chriſt, verily I ſay unto you, he ſhall not loſe his reward.
42 And whoſoever ſhall offend one of theſe little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a milſtone were hanged about his neck, and he were caſt into the Sea. 43 And if thy hand offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two hands, to go into hell, into the fire that never ſhall be quenched: 44 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched. 45 And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, than having two feet to be caſt into hell, into the fire that never ſhall be quenched: 46 Where their worm dieth not, and their fire is not quenched.
47 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be caſt into hellfire: 48 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched: 49 For every one ſhall be ſalted with fire, and every ſacrifice ſhall be ſalted with ſalt.
50 Salt is good: but if the ſalt have loſt his ſaltneſs, wherewith will you ſeaſon it? Have ſalt in your ſelves, and have peace one with another.

Here, 1. Chriſt promiſeth a Reward to all thoſe, that are any way kind to his Diſciples, v. 41. Whoſoever ſhall give you a Cup of Water when you need it, and it will be a Refreſhment to you, becauſe ye belong to Chriſt, and are of his Family, he ſhall not loſe his Reward. Note, (1.) It is the Honour and Happineſs of Chriſtians that they belong to Chriſt, they have joined themſelves to him, and are owned by him; they wear his Livery as Retainers to his Family, nay, they are more nearly related, they are Members of his Body. (2.) They who belong to Chriſt, may ſometimes be reduc'd to ſuch Straights as to be glad of a Cup of cold Water. (3.) The Relieving of Chriſt's Poor in their Diſtreſſes is a good Deed, and will turn to a good Account; He accepts it, and will reward it. (4.) What Kindneſs is done to Chriſt's Poor, muſt be done them for his ſake, and becauſe they belong to him; for that's it that ſanctifies the Kindneſs, and puts a Value upon it in the ſight of God. (5.) This is a Reaſon, why we muſt not diſcountenance and diſcourage thoſe who are ſerving the Intereſts of Chriſt's Kingdom, tho' they are not in every Thing of our Mind and Way. It comes in here as a Reaſon, why thoſe muſt not be hinder'd that caſt out Devils in Chriſt's Name, tho' they did not follow him; for (as Dr. Hammond Paraphraſeth it) "'Tis not only the great, eminent "Performances which are done by you my conſtant Attendants "and Diſciples, that are accepted by me, but every the leaſt De- "gree of ſincere Faith and Chriſtian Performance, proportionable "but to the expreſſing the leaſt Kindneſs, as giving a Cup of Water "to a Diſciple of mine for being ſuch, ſhall be accepted and re- "warded." If Chriſt reckons Kindneſſes to us, Services to him, we ought to reckon Services to him, Kindneſſes to us, and to encourage them, tho' done by thoſe that follow not with us.

2. He threatens thoſe that offend his little ones, that wilfully are the occaſion of Sin or Trouble to them, v. 42. whoſoever ſhall grieve any true Chriſtians, tho' they be of the Weakeſt, ſhall oppoſe their entrance into the Ways of God, or diſcourage and obſtruct their Progreſs in thoſe Ways, ſhall either reſtrain them from doing Good, or draw them in to commit Sin, it were better for him, that a milſtone were hang'd about his Neck, and he were caſt into the Sea, his Puniſhment will be very great, and the Death and Ruin of his Soul, more terrible than ſuch a Death and Ruin of his Body would be. See Mat. 18. 6.

3. He warns all his Followers, to take heed of ruining their own Souls. This Charity muſt begin at home; if we muſt take heed of doing any Thing to hinder others from Good, and to occaſion their Sin; much more careful muſt we be to avoid every Thing, that will take us off from our Duty, or lead us to Sin; and that which doth ſo, we muſt part with it, tho' it be never ſo dear to us. This we had twice in Matthew, Chap. 5. 29, 30. and Chap. 18. 8, 9. It is here urg'd ſomewhat more largely and preſſingly; certainly this requires our ſerious Regard, which is ſo much inſiſted upon. Obſerve,

1. The Caſe ſuppos'd, that our own Hand, or Eye, or Foot offends us, that the impure Corruption we indulge, is as dear to us as an Eye or a Hand; or that which is to us as an Eye or a Hand, is become an invincible Temptation to Sin, or Occaſion of it. Suppoſe the Beloved is become a Sin, or the Sin a Beloved. Suppoſe we cannot keep that which is dear to us, but it will be a Snare and a ſtumbling Block; ſuppoſe we muſt part with it, or part with Chriſt and a good Conſcience.

2. The Duty preſcrib'd in that Caſe, pluck out the Eye, cut off the Hand and Foot, mortifie the darling Luſt, kill it, crucifie it, ſtarve it, make no Proviſion for it. Let the Idols that have been delectable Things, be caſt away as deteſtable Things; keep at a Diſtance from that which is a Temptation, tho' never ſo pleaſing. 'Tis neceſſary the part that's Gangreen'd ſhould be taken off, for the Preſervation of the whole. Immedicabile vulnus enſe recidendum eſt, ne pars ſincera trahatur. We muſt put our ſelves to Pain, that we may not bring our ſelves to Ruin; ſelf muſt be deny'd, that it may not be deſtroy'd.

3. The neceſſity of doing this. The Fleſh muſt be mortified, that we may enter into Life, v. 43, 45. into the Kingdom of God, v. 47. Tho' by abandoning Sin, we may for the preſent feel our ſelves, as if we were halt and maim'd, it may ſeem to be a force put upon our ſelves, and may create us ſome Uneaſineſs, yet it is for Life, and all that Men have they will give for their Lives: It is for a Kingdom, the Kingdom of God, which we cannot otherwiſe obtain; theſe Halts and Maims will be the Marks of the Lord Jeſus, will be in that Kingdom Scars of Honour.

4. The Danger of not doing this. The Matter is brought to this Iſſue, that either Sin muſt die, or we muſt die; if we will lay this Delilah in our Boſom, it wil betray us; if we be rul'd by Sin, we ſhall inevitably be ruin'd by it. If we muſt keep our two Hands, and two Eyes, and two Feet, we muſt with them be caſt into Hell. Our Saviour often preſs'd our Duty upon us, from the Conſideration of the Torments of Hell, which we run our ſelves into if we continue in Sin. With what an Emphaſis of Terror are thoſe Words repeated Three times here, Where their Worm dieth not, and their Fire is not quenched, which is quoted from Iſa. 66. 24. (1.) The Reflections and Reproaches of the Sinner's own Conſcience, are the Worm that dieth not; which will cleave to the damned Soul, as the Worms do to the dead Body, and prey upon it, and never leave it till 'tis quite devour'd. Son, remember, will ſet this Worm a gnawing, and how terribly will it bite with that Word, Prov. 5. 12, 13. How have I hated Inſtruction! The Soul that is Food to this Worm dies not, and the Worm is bred in it, and one with it, and therefore neither doth that die. Damned Sinners will be to Eternity accuſing, condemning and upbraiding themſelves with their own Follies, which, how much ſoever they are now in Love with them, will at the laſt bite like a Serpent, and ſting like an Adder. (2.) The Wrath of God faſtning upon a guilty and polluted Conſcience, is the Fire that is not quenched; for it is the Wrath of the living God, the Eternal God, into whoſe Hands it is a fearful Thing to fall. There are no Operations of the Spirit of Grace upon the Souls of damned Sinners, and therefore there is nothing to alter the Nature of the Fuel, which muſt remain for ever combuſtible; nor is there any Application of the Merit of Chriſt to them, and therefore there is nothing to appeaſe or quench the Violence of the Fire. Dr. Whitby ſhews, that the Eternity of the Torments of Hell was not only the conſtant Faith of the Chriſtian Church, but had been ſo of the Jewiſh Church. Joſephus ſaith, that the Phariſees held, that the Souls of the Wicked were to be puniſhed with perpetual Puniſhment; and that there was appointed for them a perpetual Priſon. And Philo ſaith, the Puniſhment of the Wicked is, to live for ever dying, and to be for ever in Pains and Griefs that never ceaſe.

The two laſt Verſes are ſomewhat difficult, and Interpreters agree not in the Senſe of them; for every one in general, or rather, every one of them that are caſt into Hell, ſhall be ſalted with Fire, and every Sacrifice ſhall be ſalted with Salt. Therefore have Salt in your ſelves. (1.) It was appointed by the Law of Moſes, that every Sacrifice ſhould be ſalted with Salt, not to preſerve it, for it was to be immediately conſum'd, but becauſe it was the Food of God's Table, and no Fleſh is eaten without Salt; it was therefore particularly requir'd in the Meat-offerings, Lev. 2. 12. (2.) The Nature of Man being corrupt, and as ſuch being call'd Fleſh, (Gen. 6. 3. Pſalm 78. 39.) ſome way or other muſt be ſalted, in order to its being a Sacrifice to God. The Salting of Fiſh (and I think of other Things) they call the curing of it. (3.) Our chief Concern is to preſent our ſelves living Sacrifices to the Grace of God, Rom. 12. 1. and in order to our Acceptableneſs, we muſt be ſalted with Salt, i. e. our corrupt Affections muſt be ſubdued and mortified, and we muſt have in our Souls a ſavour of Grace. Thus the offering up, or ſacrificing of the Gentiles, is ſaid to be acceptable, being ſanctified by the Holy Ghoſt, as the Sacrifices were ſalted, Rom. 15. 16. (4.) Thoſe that have the Salt of Grace, muſt make it appear that they have it; that they have Salt in themſelves, a living Principle of Grace in their Hearts, which works out all corrupt Diſpoſitions, and every Thing in the Soul that tends to Putrefaction, and would offend our God, or our own Conſciences, as unſavoury Meat doth. Our Speech muſt be always with Grace, ſeaſon'd with this Salt, that no corrupt Communication may proceed out of our Mouth, but we may loath it as much as we would to put ſtinking Meat into our Mouths. (5.) As this gracious Salt will keep our own Conſciences void of Offence, ſo it will keep our Converſation with others ſo, that we may not offend any of Chriſt's little ones, but may be at Peace one with another. (6.) We muſt not only have this Salt of Grace, but we muſt always retain the Reliſh and Savour of it; for if this Salt loſe its Saltneſs, if a Chriſtian revolt from his Chriſtianity, if he loſe the Savour of it, and be no longer under the Power and Influence of it, what can recover him? Or wherewith will ye ſeaſon him? This was ſaid, Matt. 5. 13. (7.) Thoſe that preſent not themſelves living Sacrifices to God's Grace, ſhall be made for ever dying Sacrifices to his Juſtice, and ſince they would not give Honour to him, he will get him Honour upon them; they would not be ſalted with the Salt of Divine Grace, would not admit that to ſubdue their corrupt Affections, no, they would not ſubmit to the Operation, could not bear the Corroſives that were neceſſary to eat out the proud Fleſh; 'twas to them like cutting off a Hand, or plucking out an Eye; and therefore in Hell, they ſhall be ſalted with Fire; Coals of Fire ſhall be ſcatter'd upon them, Ezek. 10. 2. as Salt upon the Meat, and Brimſtone, Job 18. 15. as Fire and Brimſtone were rain'd on Sodom; the Pleaſures they have liv'd in, ſhall eat their Fleſh, as it were Fire, James 5. 3. The Pain of mortifying the Fleſh now, is no more to be compar'd with the Puniſhment for not mortifying it, than ſalting with burning. And ſince he had ſaid, that the Fire of Hell ſhall not be quenched, but it might be objected, that the Fuel will not laſt always, he here intimates, that by the Power of God, it ſhall be made to laſt always; for thoſe that are caſt into Hell, will find the Fire to have not only the corroding Quality of Salt, but its preſerving Quality; from whence it is us'd to ſignifie that which is laſting; a Covenant of Salt, is a perpetual Covenant. And Lot's Wife being turn'd into a Pillar of Salt, made her a remaining Monument of Divine Vengeance. Now ſince this will certainly be the Doom of thoſe that do not crucifie the Fleſh with its Affections and Luſts; let us, knowing this Terror of the Lord, be perſwaded to do it.

CHAP. X.

In this Chapter we have (1.) Chriſt's Diſpute with the Phariſees, concerning Divorce, v. 1—12. (2.) The kind Entertainment he gave to the little Children that were brought to him to be bleſſed, v. 13—16. (3.) His Trial of the Rich Man, that enquired what he muſt do to get to Heaven, v. 17—22. (4.) His Diſcourſe with his Diſciples upon that Occaſion, concerning the Peril of Riches, v. 23—27. and the Advantage of being impoveriſh'd for his Sake, v. 28—31. (5.) The repeated Notice he gave his Diſciples of his Sufferings and Death approaching, v. 32—34. (6.) The Counſel he gave to James and John, to think of ſuffering with him, rather than of reigning with him, v. 35—45. (7.) The Cure of Bartimeus, a poor blind Man, v. 46—52. All which Paſſages of Story, we had the Subſtance of before, Matt. 19, and 20.

AND he aroſe from thence, and cometh into the coaſts of Judea, by the farther ſide of Jordan, and the people reſort unto him again: And as he was wont, he taught them again. 2 And the Phariſees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him. 3 And he anſwered and ſaid unto them, What did Moſes command you? 4 And they ſaid, Moſes ſuffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away. 5 And Jeſus anſwered and ſaid unto them, For the hardneſs of your heart, he wrote you this precept: 6 But from the beginning of the creation, God made them male and female. 7 For this cauſe ſhall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife; 8 And they twain ſhall be one fleſh: ſo then they are no more twain, but one fleſh. 9 What therefore God hath joyned together, let no man put aſunder. 10 And in the houſe his diſciples asked him again of the ſame matter. 11 And he ſaith unto them, Whoſoever ſhall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery againſt her. 12 And if a woman ſhall put away her husband, and be married to another, ſhe committeth adultery.

Our Lord Jeſus was an Itinerant Preacher; did not continue long in a Place, for the whole Land of Canaan was his Pariſh or Dioceſs, and therefore he would viſit every Part of it, and give Inſtruction to thoſe in the remoteſt Corners of it. Here we have him in the Coaſts of Judea, by the further ſide of Jordan Eaſtward, as we found him not long ſince, in the utmoſt borders Weſtward, near Tyre and Sidon. Thus was his Circuit like that of the Sun, from whoſe Light and Heat nothing is hid. Now here we have him,

1. Reſorted to by the People; v. 1. where-ever he was, they flock'd after him in Crowds; they came to him again, as they had done, when he had formerly been in theſe Parts, and as he was wont, he taught them again. Note, Preaching was Chriſt's conſtant Practice; 'twas what he was us'd to, and where-ever he came, he did as he was wont. In Matthew, 'tis ſaid, he healed them, here 'tis ſaid, he taught them; His Cures were to confirm his Doctrine, and to recommend it, and his Doctrine was to explain his Cures, and illuſtrate them. His Teaching was healing to poor Souls, He taught them again. Note, Even thoſe whom Chriſt hath taught, have need to be taught again. Such is the Fulneſs of the Chriſtian Doctrine, that there is ſtill more to be learn'd, and ſuch our Forgetfulneſs, that we need to be minded of what we do know.

2. We have him diſputed with by the Phariſees, who envy'd the Progreſs of his ſpiritual Arms, and did all they could to obſtruct and oppoſe it; to divert him, to perplex him, and to prejudice the People againſt him.

Here's, 1. A Queſtion they ſtarted concerning Divorce, v. 2. Is it lawful for a Man to put away his Wife? This was a good Queſtion, if it had been well put, and with an humble Deſire to know the Mind of God in this Matter; but they propos'd it tempting him, ſeeking an Occaſion againſt him, and an Opportunity to expoſe him, which ſide ſoever he ſhould take of the Queſtion. Miniſters muſt ſtand upon their Guard, leſt under Pretence of being adviſ'd with, they be enſnar'd.

2. Chriſt's Reply to them with a Queſtion, v. 3. What did Moſes command you? This he ask'd them, to teſtifie his Reſpect to the Law of Moſes, and to ſhew that he came not to deſtroy it, and to engage them to an univerſal impartial Reſpect for Moſes's Writings, and to compare one Part of them with another.

3. The fair Account they give of what they found in the Law of Moſes, expreſly concerning Divorce, v. 4. Chriſt asked, What Moſes commanded, they own Moſes only ſuffer'd or permitted a Man to write his Wife a Bill of Divorce, and to put her away; Deut. 24. 1. If you will do it, you muſt do it in Writing, deliver'd into her own Hand, and ſo put her away, and never return to her again.

4. The Anſwer that Chriſt gave to their Queſtion, in which he abides by the Doctrine he had formerly laid down in this Caſe, Matt. 5. 32. That whoſoever puts away his Wife, except for Fornication, cauſeth her to commit Adultery. And to clear this, he here ſhews,

1. That the Reaſon why Moſes in his Law permitted Divorce was ſuch, as that they ought not to make uſe of that Permiſſion; for it was only for the Hardneſs of their Hearts, v. 5. leſt if they were not permitted to divorce their Wives, they ſhould murther them; ſo that none muſt put away their Wives, but ſuch as were willing to own, that their Hearts were ſo hard as to need this Permiſſion.

2. That the Account which Moſes in this Hiſtory gives of the Inſtitution of Marriage, affords ſuch a Reaſon againſt Divorce, as amounts to a Prohibition of it. So that if the Queſtion be, What did Moſes command? v. 3. it muſt be anſwer'd, tho' by a temporary Proviſo he allow'd Divorce to the Jews, yet by an Eternal Reaſon he forbad it to all the Children of Adam and Eve, and that's it we muſt abide by.

Moſes tells us, (1.) That God made Man Male and Female; one Male and one Female; ſo that Adam could not put away his Wife and take another, for there was no other to take, which was an Intimation to all his Sons, that they muſt not. (2.) When this Male and this Female were by the Ordinance of God joined together in Holy Marriage, the Law was, that a Man muſt leave his Father and Mother, and cleave to his Wife, v. 7. which intimates not only the Nearneſs of the Relation, but the Perpetuity of it; he ſhall ſo cleave to his Wife, as not to be ſeparated from her. (3.) The Reſult of the Relation is, that tho' they are Two, yet they are One, they are one Fleſh, v. 8. The Union between them is the moſt intimate that can be, and as Dr. Hammond expreſſeth it, a ſacred Thing that muſt not be violated. (4.) God himſelf has join'd them together. He has not only as Creator, fitted them to be Comforts and Help-meets for each other, but he has in Wiſdom and Goodneſs appointed them, who are thus join'd together, to live together in Love, till Death parts them. Marriage is not an Invention of Men, but a Divine Inſtitution; and therefore is to be religiouſly obſerv'd, and the more, becauſe it is a Figure of the myſtical inſeparable Union between Chriſt and his Church.

Now from all this he inferrs, That Men ought not to put their Wives aſunder from them, whom God has put ſo near to them. The Bond which God himſelf has ty'd, is not to be lightly unty'd. They who are for divorcing their Wives for every Offence, would do well to conſider what would become of them, if God ſhould in like manner deal with them. See Iſa. 50. 1. Jer. 3. 1.

5. Chriſt's Diſcourſe with his Diſciples in private about this Matter, v. 10, 11. It was an Advantage to them, that they had Opportunity of perſonal Converſe with Chriſt, not only about Goſpel Myſteries, but about moral Duties, for their further Satisfaction. No more is here related of this private Conference, but the Law Chriſt laid down in this Caſe. That it is Adultery for a Man to put away his Wife and marry another, 'tis Adultery againſt the Wife he puts away, it is a wrong to her, and a breach of his Contract with her, v. 11. He adds, If a Woman ſhall put away her Husband, i. e. elope from him, leave him by Conſent, and be married to another, ſhe commits Adultery, v. 12. and it will be no Excuſe at all to her to ſay, that it was with the Conſent of her Husband. Wiſdom and Grace, Holineſs and Love reigning in the Heart, will make thoſe Commands eaſie, which to the Carnal Mind may be as a heavy Yoke.

13 And they brought young children to him, that he ſhould touch them; and his diſciples rebuked thoſe that brought them. 14 But when Jeſus ſaw it, he was much diſpleaſed, and ſaid unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of ſuch is the kingdom of God. 15 Verily I ſay unto you, Whoſoever ſhall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he ſhall not enter therein. 16 And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and bleſſed them.

It is look'd upon as the Indication of a kind and tender Diſpoſition, to take Notice of little Children, and this was remarkable in our Lord Jeſus; which is an Encouragement not only to little Children to apply themſelves to Chriſt when they are very young, but to grown People, who are conſcious to themſelves of Weakneſs and Childiſhneſs, and of being through manifold Infirmities helpleſs, and uſeleſs like little Children. Here we have,

1. Little Children brought to Chriſt, v. 13. Their Parents, or whoever they were that had the nurſing of them, brought them to him that he ſhould touch them, in Token of his commanding and conferring a Bleſſing on them. It doth not appear, they needed any bodily Cure, nor were they capable of being taught: But it ſeems, (1.) They that had the Care of them were moſtly concern'd about their Souls, their better Part, which ought to be the principal Care of all Parents for their Children; for that's the principal Part, and it's well with them, if it be well with their Souls. (2.) They believ'd that Chriſt's Bleſſing would do their Souls good, and therefore to him they bring them, that he might touch them, knowing that he could reach their Hearts, when nothing their Parents could ſay to them, or do for them, would reach them. We may preſent our Children to Chriſt now he is in Heaven, for from thence he can reach them with his Bleſſing, and therein we may act Faith upon the Fulneſs and Extent of his Grace, the kind Intimations he hath always given of Favour to the Seed of the Faithful, the Tenor of the Covenant with Abraham, and the Promiſe to us and to our Children, eſpecially that great Promiſe of pouring his Spirit upon our Seed, and his Bleſſing upon our Off-ſpring, Iſa. 44. 3.

2. The Diſcouragement which the Diſciples gave to the bringing of Children to Chriſt. They rebuked them that brought them; as if they had been ſure, they knew their Maſter's Mind in this Matter, whereas he had lately caution'd them not to deſpiſe the little Ones.

3. The Encouragement Chriſt gave to it. (1.) He took it very ill at his Diſciples for keeping them off: When he ſaw it, he was much diſpleaſed, v. 14. What do you mean? Will you hinder me from doing good, from doing good to the riſing Generation, to the Lambs of the Flock? Chriſt is very angry with his own Diſciples, if they diſcountenance any in coming to him themſelves, or in bringing their Children to him. (2.) He order'd that they ſhould be brought to him, and nothing ſaid or done to hinder them. Suffer little Children, as ſoon as they are capable, to come to me, to offer up their Supplications to me, and to receive Inſtructions from me. Little Children are welcome betimes to the Throne of Grace with their Hoſanna's. (3.) He own'd them as Members of his Church, as they had been of the Jewiſh Church. He came to ſet up the Kingdom of God among Men, and took this Occaſion to declare, that that Kingdom admitted little Children to be the Subjects of it, and gave them a Title to the Privileges of Subjects. Nay, the Kingdom of God is to be kept up by ſuch: They muſt be taken in, when they are little Children, that they may be ſecur'd for hereafter to bear up the Name of Chriſt. (4.) That there muſt be ſomething of the Temper and Diſpoſition of little Children found in all that Chriſt will own and bleſs. We muſt receive the Kingdom of God as little Children, v. 15. That is, we muſt ſtand affected to Chriſt and his Grace, as little Children do to their Parents, Nurſes, and Teachers. We muſt be inquiſitive as Children, muſt learn as Children, that's the Learning Age, and in Learning muſt believe, Oportet diſcentem credere. The Mind of a Child is white Paper (Tabula raſa) you may write upon it what you will, ſo muſt our Minds be to the Pen of the Bleſſed Spirit. Children are under Government, ſo muſt we be, Lord, What wilt thou have me to do? We muſt receive the Kingdom of God as the Child Samuel did, Speak, Lord, for thy Servant hears. Little Children depend upon their Parent's Wiſdom and Care, and are carry'd in their Arms, go where they ſend them, and take what they provide for them; and thus muſt we receive the Kingdom of God, with an humble Reſignation of our ſelves to Jeſus Chriſt, and an eaſie Dependance upon him both for Strength and Righteouſneſs, for Tuition, Proviſion, and a Portion. (5.) He receiv'd the Children, and gave them what was deſir'd, v. 16. He took them up in his Arms, in Token of his affectionate Concern for them, put his Hands upon them, as was deſir'd, and bleſſed them. See how he out-did the Deſires of theſe Parents; they begg'd he would touch them, but he did more. 1. He took them in his Arms. Now the Scripture was fulfill'd, Iſa. 40. 11. He ſhall gather the Lambs in his Arms, and carry them in his Boſom. Time was when Chriſt himſelf was taken up in old Simeon's Arms, Luke 2. 28. And now he took up theſe Children, not complaining of the Burthen, as Moſes did, when he was bid to carry Iſrael (that peeviſh Child) in his Boſom, as a nurſing Father bears the ſucking Child, Numb. 11. 12. but pleas'd with it. If we in a right manner bring our Children to Chriſt, he will take them up not only in the Arms of his Power and Providence, but in the Arms of his Pity and Grace, as Ezek. 16. 8. underneath them are the Everlaſting Arms. 2. He put his Hands upon them, noting the beſtowing of his Spirit upon them, (for that's the Hand of the Lord) and his ſetting them apart for himſelf. 3. He bleſſed them with the ſpiritual Bleſſings he came to give. Our Children are happy, if they have but the Mediator's Bleſſing for their Portion. 'Tis true, we do not read that he baptized theſe Children, Baptiſm was not fully ſettled, as the Door of Admiſſion into the Church, till after Chriſt's Reſurrection, but he aſſerted their viſible Church-memberſhip, and by another Sign beſtow'd thoſe Bleſſings upon them, which are now appointed to be convey'd and conferr'd by Baptiſm, the Seal of the Promiſe, which is to us and our Children.

17 And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Maſter, what ſhall I do that I may inherit eternal life? 18 And Jeſus ſaid unto him, Why calleſt thou me good? There is none good, but one, that is God. 19 Thou knoweſt the Commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not ſteal, Do not bear falſe witneſs, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother. 20 And he anſwered and ſaid unto him, Maſter, all theſe have I obſerved from my youth. 21 Then Jeſus beholding him, loved him, and ſaid unto him, One thing thou lackeſt: go thy way, ſell whatſoever thou haſt, and give to the poor; and thou ſhalt have treaſure in heaven; and come, take up the croſs, and follow me. 22 And he was ſad at that ſaying, and went away grieved: for he had great poſſeſſions. 23 And Jeſus looked round about, and ſaith unto his diſciples, How hardly ſhall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God? 24 And the diſciples were aſtoniſhed at his words. But Jeſus anſwereth again, and ſaith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that truſt in riches, to enter into the kingdom of God! 25 It is eaſier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God. 26 And they were aſtoniſhed out of meaſure, ſaying among themſelves, Who then can be ſaved? 27 And Jeſus looking upon them, ſaith, With men it is impoſſible, but not with God: for with God all things are poſſible. 28 Then Peter began to ſay unto him; Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee. 29 And Jeſus anſwered and ſaid, Verily I ſay unto you, There is no man that hath left houſe, or brethren, or ſiſters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my ſake and the goſpels, 30 But he ſhall receive an hundredfold now in this time, houſes, and brethren, and ſiſters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with perſecutions; and in the world to come, eternal life. 31 But many that are firſt, ſhall be laſt: and the laſt, firſt.

Here's, 1. A hopeful Meeting between Chriſt and a young Man, ſo he is ſaid to be, Mat. 19. 20, 22. and a Ruler, Luke 18. 18. a Perſon of Quality. Some Circumſtances here are, which we had not in Matthew, which make his Addreſs to Chriſt very promiſing.

(1.) He came running to Chriſt, which was an Indication of his Humility; he laid aſide the Gravity and Grandeur of a Ruler, when he came to Chriſt: And of his Earneſtneſs and Importunity: He ran as one in haſte, and longing to be in Converſation with Chriſt. He had now an Opportunity of conſulting this great Prophet, in the Things that belong'd to his Peace, and he would not let ſlip the Opportunity.

(2.) He came to him when he was in the Way, in the midſt of Company; he did not inſiſt upon a private Conference with him by Night, as Nicodemus did, tho' like him he was a Ruler, but when he ſhall find him without, will embrace that Opportunity of adviſing with him, and not be aſham'd, Cant. 8. 1.

(3.) He kneel'd to him, in Token of the great Value and Veneration he had for him, as a Teacher come from God, and his earneſt Deſire to be taught by him. He bow'd the Knee to the Lord Jeſus, as one that would not only do obeiſance to him now, but would yield Obedience to him always; he bow'd the Knee, as one that meant to bow the Soul to him.

(4.) His Addreſs to him was ſerious and weighty. Good Maſter, What ſhall I do, that I may inherit Eternal Life? Eternal Life was an Article of his Creed, tho' then deny'd by the Sadducees a prevailing Party; he thinks it a Thing poſſible, that he may inherit Eternal Life, looking upon it not only as ſet before us, but offer'd to us; he asks, What he ſhall do now that he may be happy for ever? Moſt Men enquire for Good to be had in this World, Pſalm 4. 6. Any Good, he asks for Good to be done in this World, in order to the Enjoyment of the greateſt Good in the other World; not who will make us to ſee Good, but to do Good; he enquires for Happineſs in the way of Duty; the Summum Bonum, which Solomon was in Queſt of, was that Good for the Sons of Men which they ſhould do, Eccl. 2. 3. Now this was, (1.) A very ſerious Queſtion in it ſelf, 'twas about Eternal Things, and his own Concern in thoſe Things. Note, Then there begins to be ſome Hopes of People, when they begin to enquire ſolicitouſly, what they ſhould do to get to Heaven. (2.) It was propos'd to a right Perſon one that was every Way fit to anſwer it, being himſelf the Way, the Truth, and the Life, the true Way to Life, to Eternal Life; who came from Heaven on purpoſe, firſt to lay open for us, and then to lay open to us; firſt to make, and then to make known the way to Heaven. Note, Thoſe who would know what they ſhall do to be ſaved, muſt apply themſelves to Chriſt, and enquire of him; 'tis peculiar to the Chriſtian Religion both to ſhew eternal Life, and to ſhew the way to it. (3.) 'Twas propos'd with a good Deſign, to be inſtructed. We find this ſame Queſtion put by a Lawyer, not kneeling, but ſtanding up, Luke 10. 25. with a bad Deſign, to pick Quarrels with him; he tempted him, ſaying, Maſter, What ſhall I do? 'tis not ſo much the good Words, as the good Intention of them that Chriſt looks at.

(5.) Chriſt encouraged this Addreſs, (1.) By aſſiſting his Faith, v. 17. He call'd him, Good Maſter, and Chriſt would have him mean thereby, that he look'd upon him to be God, ſince there is none Good but one, that is God, who is one, and his Name one; Zech. 14. 9. Our Engliſh Word God, doubtleſs hath affinity with Good; as the Hebrews Name God by his Power, Elohim, the ſtrong God, ſo we by his Goodneſs, the Good God. (2.) By directing his Practice, v. 19. Keep the Commandments, and thou knoweſt what they are; he mentions the Six Commandments of the ſecond Table, which preſcribe our Duty to our Neighbour, he inverts the Order, putting the Seventh Commandent before the Sixth, to intimate that Adultery is a Sin no leſs heinous, than Murther it ſelf. The Fifth Commandment is here put laſt, as that which ſhould eſpecially be remember'd and obſerved, to keep us to all the reſt. Inſtead of the Tenth Commandment, Thou ſhalt not covet, our Saviour here puts, Defraud not. Μὴ ἀποστερήσῃς, That is, ſaith Dr. Hammond, Thou ſhalt reſt contented with thy own, and not ſeek to increaſe it by the Diminution of other Mens. 'Tis a Rule of Juſtice, not to advance or enrich our ſelves, by doing Wrong or Injury to any other.

(6.) The Young Man bid fair for Heaven, having been free from any open groſs Violations of the Divine Commands. Thus far he was able to ſay in ſome meaſure, v. 20. Maſter, all theſe have I obſerved from my Youth; he thought he had, and his Neighbours thought ſo too. Note, Ignorance of the extent and ſpiritual Nature of the Divine Law, makes People think themſelves in a better Condition than really they are. Paul was alive without the Law. But when he ſaw that to be ſpiritual, he ſaw himſelf to be carnal, Rom. 7. 9, 14. However, he that could ſay, he was free from ſcandalous Sin, went further than many in the way to Eternal Life. But tho' we know nothing by our ſelves, yet are we not thereby juſtified.

(7.) Chriſt had a Kindneſs for him. Jeſus beholding him, loved him, v. 21. He was pleas'd to find that he had liv'd inoffenſively, and pleas'd to ſee, that he was inquiſitive how to live better than ſo. Chriſt particularly loves to ſee young People, and rich People, asking the way to Heaven, with their Faces thitherward.

2. Here's a ſorrowful Parting between Chriſt and this young Man.

1. Chriſt gave him a Command of Trial, by which it would appear whether he did in Sincerity aim at eternal Life, and preſs towards it: He ſeem'd to have his Heart much upon it, and if ſo, he is what he ſhould be, but has he indeed his Heart upon it? Bring him to the Touchſtone. (1.) Can he find in his Heart to part with his Riches for the Service of Chriſt; He hath a good Eſtate, and now ſhortly at the firſt founding of the Chriſtian Church, the Neceſſity of the Caſe will require, that thoſe that have Lands ſell them, and lay the Money at the Apoſtles Feet, and how will he diſpenſe with that? Acts 4. 34. After a while Tribulation and Perſecution will ariſe, becauſe of the World; and he muſt be forc'd to ſell his Eſtate, or have it taken from him, and how will he like that? Let him know the worſt, now if he will not come up to theſe Terms, let him quit his Pretenſions; as good at firſt as at laſt. Sell whatſoever thou haſt over and above what is neceſſary for thy Support; probably he had no Family to provide for; let him therefore be a Father to the Poor, and make them his Heirs. Every Man according to his Ability muſt relieve the Poor, and be content, when there's Occaſion, to ſtraiten himſelf to do it. Worldly Wealth is given us not only as Maintenance to bear our Charges through this World according to our Place in it, but as a Talent, to be us'd and employ'd for the Glory of our great Maſter, in the World, who hath ſo order'd it, that the poor we ſhould have always with us, as his Receivers. (2.) Can he find in his Heart to go through the hardeſt coſtlieſt Services he may be call'd to as a Diſciple of Chriſt, and depend upon him for a Recompence in Heaven. He asks Chriſt what he ſhall do more than he has done to obtain Eternal Life, and Chriſt puts it to him, whether he has indeed that firm Belief of, and that high Value for Eternal Life, that he ſeems to have. Doth he really believe there is a Treaſure in Heaven ſufficient to make up all he can leave, or loſe, or lay out for Chriſt? Is he willing to deal with Chriſt upon Truſt? Can he give him Credit for all he is worth: And be willing to bear a preſent Croſs in expectation of a future Crown.

2. Upon this he flew off, v. 22. He was ſad at that ſaying, was ſorry he could not be a Follower of Chriſt upon any eaſier Terms than leaving all to follow him; that he could not lay hold on eternal Life, and keep hold of his temporal Poſſeſſions too. But ſince he could not come up to the Terms of Diſcipleſhip, he was ſo fair as not to pretend to it, He went away griev'd. Here appear'd the Truth of that, Matt. 6. 24. Ye cannot ſerve God and Mammon, while he held to Mammon he did in effect deſpiſe Chriſt, as all thoſe do who prefer the World before him. He that bids for what he has a Mind of in the Market, yet goes away griev'd, and leaves it, becauſe he cannot have it at his own Price. Two Words to a Bargain. Motions are not Marriages. That which ruin'd this young Man was, he had great Poſſeſſions: Thus the Proſperity of Fools deſtroys them, and thoſe who ſpend their Days in Wealth, are tempted to ſay to God, depart from us, or to their Hearts depart from God.

3. Here's Chriſt's Diſcourſe with his Diſciples. We are tempted to wiſh that Chriſt had mollified that Saying which frighten'd this young Gentleman from following him, and by any Explanation taken of the Harſhneſs of it: But he knew all Men's Hearts, he would not court him to be his Follower, becauſe he was a rich Man, and a Ruler; but if he will go, let him go; Chriſt will keep no Man againſt his Will; and therefore we do not find that Chriſt called him back, but took this Occaſion to inſtruct his Diſciples, in two Things.

Firſt, The Difficulty of the Salvation of thoſe that have an Abundance of this World; becauſe there are few who have a deal to leave that can be perſuaded to leave it for Chriſt, or to lay it out in doing Good.

1. Chriſt aſſerts this here. He look'd about upon his Diſciples, becauſe he would have them all take Notice of what he ſaid, that by it they might have their Judgments rightly inform'd, and their Miſtakes rectified concerning worldly Wealth, which they were apt to over-rule. How hardly ſhall they that have Riches enter into the Kingdom of God, v. 23. They have many Temptations to grapple with, and many Difficulties to get over, which lie not in the Way of poor People. But he explains himſelf, v. 24. where he calls the Diſciples Children, becauſe as ſuch they ſhould be taught by him, and portion'd by him with better Things than this young Man left Chriſt to cleave to; and whereas he had ſaid how hardly thoſe that have Riches will get to Heaven; here he tells them that the Danger aroſe not ſo much from their having Riches as from their truſting to them, and placing their Confidence in them expecting Protection, Proviſion, and a Portion from them; ſaying that to their Gold which they ſhould ſay only to their God, Thou art my Hope, Job. 31. 24. They that have ſuch a Value as this for the Wealth of the World, will never be brought to put a right Value upon Chriſt and his Grace. They that have never ſo much Riches, but do not truſt in them, that ſee the Vanity of them, and their utter Inſufficiency to make a Soul happy, have got over the Difficulty, and can eaſily part with them for Chriſt: But they that have never ſo little, if they ſet their Hearts upon that little, and place their Happineſs in it, 'twill keep them from Chriſt. He enforceth this Aſſertion with, v. 25. It is eaſier for a Camel to go through the Eye of a Needle than for a rich Man that truſts in Riches, or inclines to do ſo, to enter into the Kingdom of God. The Diſproportion here ſeems ſo great (tho' the more ſo, the more it anſwers the Intention) that ſome have labour'd to bring the Camel and the Eye of the Needle a little nearer together. (1.) Some imagine there might (be ſome Wicket-Gate or Door at Jeruſalem, commonly known by the Name of the Needle's Eye for its ſtraitneſs, thro' which a Camel could not be got, unleſs he were unloaded, and made to kneel, as thoſe Camels, Gen. 24. 11. So a rich Man cannot get to Heaven unleſs he be willing to part with the Burthen of his worldly Wealth and ſtoop to the Duties of a humble Religion, and ſo enter in at the ſtrait Gate. (2.) Others ſuggeſt that the Word we tranſlate a Camel ſometimes ſignifies a Cable-Rope, which tho' not to be got thro' a Needle's Eye, yet is of greater Affinity to it. A rich Man compar'd with the Poor, is as a Cable to a ſingle Thread, ſtronger but not ſo pliable, and 'twill not go thro' the Needle's Eye unleſs it be untwiſted; ſo the rich Man muſt be looſed and diſentangled from his Riches, and then there is ſome hopes of him, that Thread by Thread he may be got thro' the Eye of the Needle, otherwiſe he is good for nothing but to caſt Anchor in the Earth.

2. This Truth was very ſurprizing to the Diſciples, they were aſtoniſh'd at his Words, v. 24. they were aſtoniſh'd out of Meaſure, and ſaid among themſelves, Who then can be ſaved? They knew what were generally the Sentiments of the Jewiſh Teachers, that the Spirit of God chuſeth to reſide upon rich Men, nay, they knew what abundance of Promiſes there were in the Old Teſtament of temporal good Things: They knew likewiſe that all either are rich, or fain would be ſo, and that they who are Rich have ſo much the larger Opportunities of doing Good, and therefore were amazed to hear that it ſhould be ſo hard for rich People to go to Heaven.

3. Chriſt reconcil'd them to it by referring it to the Almighty Power of God to help even rich People over the Difficulties that lie in the Way of their Salvation, v. 23. He look'd upon them, to engage their Attention, and ſaid, with Men it is impoſſible; rich People cannot by their own Skill or Reſolution get over theſe Difficulties, but the Grace of God can do it, for with him all things are poſſible. If the Righteous ſcarcely are ſaved, much more may we ſay ſo of the Rich; and therefore when any get to Heaven they muſt give all the Glory to God, who worketh in them both to will and to do.

Secondly, The Greatneſs of the Salvation of thoſe that have but a little of this World, and leave it for Chriſt. This he ſpeaks of upon Occaſion of Peter's mentioning what he and the reſt of the Diſciples had left to follow him. Behold, (ſaith he) we have left all to follow thee, v. 28. You have done well, ſaith Chriſt, and it will prove in the End that you have done well for your ſelves, you ſhall be abundantly recompens'd, and not only you ſhall be re-imburs'd who have left but a little, but thoſe that have never ſo much, tho' it were ſo much as this young man had that could not perſuade himſelf to quit it for Chriſt; yet they ſhall have much more than an equivalent for it. (1.) The Loſs is ſuppos'd to be very great; he inſtanceth, (1.) in worldly Wealth, Houſes are here put firſt, and Lands laſt: If a Man quit his Houſe, which ſhould be for his Habitation, and his Land, which ſhould be for his Maintenance, and ſo makes himſelf a Beggar and an Out-caſt; this has been the choice of ſuffering Saints, farewel Houſes and Lands, tho' never ſo convenient and deſirable, tho' the Inheritance of Father, for the Houſe which is from Heaven, and the Inheritance of the Saints in Light, where are many Manſions. (2.) In dear Relations, Father and Mother, Wife and Children, Brethren and Siſters; in theſe, as much as in any temporal Bleſſing the Comfort of Life is bound up, without theſe the World would be a Wilderneſs, yet when we muſt either forſake theſe, or Chriſt, we muſt remember, that we ſtand in nearer Relation to Chriſt, than we do to any Creature; and therefore to keep in with him, we muſt be content to break with all the World, and ſay to Father and Mother, as Levi did, I have not known you. The greateſt Trial of a good Man's Conſtancy is, when his Love to Chriſt comes to ſtand in Competition with a Love that is lawful, nay, that is his Duty. 'Tis eaſie to ſuch a one to forſake a Luſt for Chriſt, for he hath that within him that riſeth againſt it: But to forſake a Father, a Brother, a Wife for Chriſt, whom he knows he muſt love, is hard. And yet he muſt do ſo, rather than deny or diſown Chriſt. Thus great is the Lord ſuppos'd to be, but it is for Chriſt's ſake, that he may be honour'd, and the Goſpel's that may be promoted and propagated. It is not the Sufferings, but the Cauſes that makes the Martyr. And therefore, (2.) The Advantage will be great. (1.) They ſhall receive a hundred-fold in this Time, Houſe and Brethren and Siſters; not in Specie, but that which is equivalent. He ſhall have abundance of Comfort, while he lives, ſufficient to make up all his Loſſes; his Relation to Chriſt, his Communion with the Saints, and his Title to Eternal Life, ſhall be to him Brethren, and Siſters, and Houſes, and all. God's Providence gave Job double to what he had had, but ſuffering Chriſtians ſhall have a hundred-fold in the Comforts of the Spirit ſweetning their Creature Comforts. But obſerve, 'tis added here in Mark, with Perſecutions. Even when they are Gainers by Chriſt, let them ſtill expect to be ſufferers for him; and not to be out of the reach of Perſecution, till they come to Heaven. Nay, The Perſecution ſeems to come in here among the Receivings in this preſent Time, for unto you it is given, not only to believe in Chriſt, but alſo to ſuffer for his Name, yet this is not all. (2.) They ſhall have Eternal Life in the World to come. If they receive an hundred-fold in this World, one would think they ſhould not be encouraged to expect any more. Yet as if that were a ſmall Matter, they ſhall have Life Eternal into the Bargain; which is more than Ten thouſand-fold, Ten thouſand Times told, for all their Loſſes. But becauſe they talk'd ſo much, and really more than became them of leaving all for Chriſt, he tells them, tho' they were firſt called, yet there ſhould be Diſciples call'd after them, that ſhould be preferr'd before them, as St. Paul, who was one born out of due Time, and yet labour'd more abundanty than all the reſt of the Apoſtles, 1 Cor. 15. 10. Then the firſt were laſt, and the laſt firſt.

32 And they were in the way going up to Jeruſalem. and Jeſus went before them: and they were amazed, and as they followed, they were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things ſhould happen unto him. 33 Saying, Behold, we go up to Jeruſalem, and the Son of man ſhall be delivered unto the chief prieſts, and unto the ſcribes; and they ſhall condemn him to death, and ſhall deliver him to the Gentiles; 34 And they ſhall mock him, and ſhall ſcourge him, and ſhall ſpit upon him, and ſhall kill him: and the third day he ſhall riſe again. 35 And James and John the ſons of Zebedee come unto him, ſaying, Maſter, we would that thou ſhouldſt do for us whatſoever we ſhall deſire. 36 And he ſaid unto them, What would ye that I ſhould do for you? 37 They ſaid unto him, Grant unto us that we may ſit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy Glory. 38 But Jeſus ſaid unto them, Ye know not what ye ask: can ye drink of the cup that I drink of? and be baptized with the baptiſm that I am baptized with? 39 And they ſaid unto him, We can. And Jeſus ſaid unto them, Ye ſhall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the baptiſm that I am baptized withal, ſhall ye be baptized: 44 But to ſit on my right hand and on my left hand, is not mine to give, but it ſhall be given to them for whom it is prepared. 41 And when the ten heard it, they began to be much diſpleaſed with James and John. 42 But Jeſus called them to him, and ſaith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles, exerciſe lordſhip over them; and their great ones exerciſe authority upon them. 43 But ſo ſhall it not be among you: but whoſoever will be great among you, ſhall be your miniſter: 44 And whoſoever of you will be the chiefeſt, ſhall be ſervant of all. 45 For even the Son of man came not to be miniſtred unto, but to miniſter, and to give his life a ranſom for many.

Here's Firſt, Chriſt's Prediction of his own Sufferings; this String he harped much upon, tho' in the Ears of his Diſciples it ſounded very harſh and unpleaſing.

1. See here how bold he was, when they were going up to Jeruſalem, Jeſus went before them, as the Captain of our Salvation, that was now to be made perfect through Sufferings, v. 32. Thus he ſhew'd himſelf forward to go on with his Undertaking, even when he came to the hardeſt part of it; now the Time was at hand, he ſaid, Lo I come, ſo far from drawing back, that now more than ever he preſs'd forwards. Jeſus went before them, and they were amaz'd. They began now to conſider what imminent Danger they run themſelves into, when they went to Jeruſalem, how very malicious the Sanhedrim which ſat there was againſt their Maſter and them, and they were ready to tremble at the Thought of it. To hearten them therefore, Chriſt went before them: Come, ſaith he, ſure you will venture where your Maſter ventures. Note, When we ſee our ſelves entring upon Sufferings, it is encouraging to ſee our Maſter go before us. Or, he went before them, and therefore they were amaz'd, they admir'd to ſee with what Chearfulneſs and Alacrity he went on, tho' he knew he was going to ſuffer and die. Note, Chriſt's Courage and Conſtancy in going on with his Undertaking for our Salvation, is, and will be the wonder of all his Diſciples.

2. See here how timorous and faint-hearted his Diſciples were. As they followed they were afraid, afraid for themſelves, as being apprehenſive of their own Danger; and juſtly might they be aſham'd of their being thus afraid. Their Maſter's Courage ſhould have put Spirit into them.

3. See here what Method he took to ſilence their Fears: He did not go about to make the Matter better than it was, nor to feed them with Hopes that he might eſcape the Storm, but told them again what he had often told them before, the Things that ſhould happen to him. He knew the worſt of it, and therefore went on thus boldly, and he will let them know the worſt of it. Come, be not afraid; for, (1.) There's no Remedy, the Matter is determin'd, and cannot be avoided. (2.) 'Tis only the Son of Man that ſhall ſuffer, their Time of Suffering was not at Hand; he will now provide for their Security. (3.) He ſhall riſe again; the iſſue of his Sufferings will be glorious to himſelf, and advantageous to all that are his, v. 33, 34. The Method and Particulars of Chriſt's Sufferings are more largely foretold here, than in any other of the Predictions; that he ſhall firſt be deliver'd up by Judas, to the chief Prieſts and the Scribes; that they ſhall condemn him to Death; but not having Power to put him to Death, they ſhall deliver him to the Gentiles, to the Roman Powers, and they ſhall mock him, and ſcourge him, and ſpit upon him, and kill him. Chriſt had a perfect foreſight, not only of his own Death, but of all the aggravating Circumſtances of it, and yet he thus went forth to meet it.

Secondly, The check he gave to Two of his Diſciples for their ambitious Requeſt. This Story is much the ſame here, as we had it, Matt. 20. 20. only there they are ſaid to have made their Requeſt by their Mother, here they are ſaid to make it themſelves; ſhe introduc'd them, and preſented their Petition, and then they ſeconded it, and aſſented to it. Note, 1. As on the one hand, there are ſome that do not uſe, ſo on the other hand, there are ſome that do abuſe the great Encouragements Chriſt has given us in Prayer. He hath ſaid, Ask, and it ſhall be given you; and it is a commendable Faith to ask for the great Things he has promis'd: But it was a culpable Preſumption in theſe Diſciples to make ſuch a boundleſs Demand upon their Maſter. We would that thou ſhouldſt do for us, whatſoever we ſhall deſire; we had much better leave it to him to do for us what he ſees fit, and he will do more than we can deſire, Eph. 3. 20.

2. We muſt be cautious how we make general Promiſes; Chriſt would not engage to do for them whatever they deſir'd, but would know from them what it was they did deſire. What would ye that I ſhould do for you? He would have them go on with their Suit, that they might be made aſham'd of it.

3. Many have been led into a Snare by falſe Notions of Chriſt's Kingdom, as if it were of this World, and like the Kingdoms of the Potentates of this World. James and John conclude if Chriſt riſe again he muſt be a King, and if he be a King his Apoſtles muſt be Peers, and one of theſe would willingly be the Primus par Regni, and the other next him, like Joſeph in Pharaoh's Court, or Daniel in Darius's.

4. Worldly Honour is a glittering Thing, with which the Eyes of Chriſt's own Diſciples have many a Time been dazled. Whereas to be Good ſhould be more our Care than to look Great, or to have the Preheminence.

5. Our Weakneſs and Short-ſightedneſs appears as much in our Prayers, as in any Thing. We cannot order our Speech when we ſpeak to God, by reaſon of Darkneſs, both concerning him and concerning our ſelves. 'Tis Folly to preſcribe to God, and Wiſdom to ſubſcribe.

6. It is the Will of Chriſt that we ſhould prepare for Sufferings, and leave it to him to recompence us for them. He needs not be put in Mind, as Ahaſuerus did, of the Services of his People; nor can he forget their work of Faith and Labour of Love. Our Care muſt be, that we may have Wiſdom and Grace to know how to ſuffer with him, and then we may truſt him to provide in the beſt manner how we ſhall reign with him, and when and where, and what the Degrees of our Glory ſhall be.

Thirdly, The Check he gave to the reſt of the Diſciples, for their uneaſineſs at it. They began to be much diſpleaſed, to have Indignation about James and John, v. 41. They were angry at them for affecting Precedency, not becauſe it did ſo ill become the Diſciples of Chriſt, but becauſe each of them hoped to have it themſelves. When the Cynick trampled on Alexander's Foot-cloth, with Calco faſtum Alexandri, Now I tread on Alexander's Pride, he was ſeaſonably check'd with ſed majori faſtu, but with greater Pride of thine own; ſo theſe diſcover'd their own Ambition in their Diſpleaſure at the Ambition of James and John; and Chriſt took this occaſion to warn them againſt it, and all their Succeſſors in the Miniſtry of the Goſpel, v. 42, 43. He call'd them to him in a familiar Way, to give them an Example of Condeſcenſion, that when he was reproving their Ambition, and to teach them never to bid their Diſciples keep their Diſtance. He ſhews them,

1. That Dominion was generally abus'd in the World, v. 42. They which ſeem to rule over the Gentiles, that have the Name and Title of Rulers, they exerciſe Lordſhip over them, that's all they Study and Aim at, not ſo much to protect them, and provide for their Welfare, as to exerciſe Authority upon them; they will be obey'd, aim to be Arbitrary, and to have their Will in every Thing. Sic volo, ſic jubeo, ſtat pro ratione voluntas. Their Care is what they ſhall get by their Subjects, to ſupport their own Pomp and Grandeur, not what they ſhall do for them.

2. That therefore it ought not to be admitted into the Church; it ſhall not be ſo among you; thoſe that ſhall be put under your Charge, muſt be as Sheep under the Charge of the Shepherd; who is to tend them and feed them, and be a Servant to them, not as Horſes under the Command of the Driver, that works them and beats them, and gets his Pennyworths out of them. He that affects to be Great and Chief, that thruſts himſelf into a ſecular Dignity and Dominion, he ſhall be Servant of all, he ſhall be mean and contemptible in the Eyes of all that are Wiſe and Good; He that exalteth himſelf ſhall be abaſed. Or rather, He that would be truly Great, and Chief, he muſt lay out himſelf to do Good to all, muſt ſtoop to the meaneſt Services, and labour in the hardeſt Services. Thoſe not only ſhall be moſt honour'd hereafter, but are moſt honourable now, who are moſt uſeful. To convince them of this, he ſets before them his own Example, v. 45. The Son of Man ſubmits firſt to the greateſt Hardſhips and Hazards, and then enters into his Glory, and can you expect to come to it any other way; or to have more eaſe and honour than he has? (1.) He takes upon him the Form of a Servant, comes not to be miniſtred to, and waited upon, but to Miniſter, and waits to be gracious. (2.) He becomes obedient to Death, and to its Dominion, for he gives his Life a Ranſom for many: Did he die for the Benefit of good People, and ſhall not we ſtudy to live for their Benefit?

46 And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his diſciples, and a great number of people, blind Bartimeus, the ſon of Timeus, ſat by the high-way ſide, begging. 47 And when he heard that it was Jeſus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and ſay, Jeſus, thou ſon of David, have mercy on me. 48 And many charged him that he ſhould hold his peace: but he cried the more a great deal, Thou ſon of David, have mercy on me. 49 And Jeſus ſtood ſtill, and commanded him to be called: and they call the blind man, ſaying unto him, Be of good comfort, riſe; he calleth thee. 50 And he caſting away his garment, roſe, and came to Jeſus. 51 And Jeſus anſwered and ſaid unto him: What wilt thou that I ſhould do unto thee? The blind man ſaid unto him, Lord, that I might receive my ſight. 52 And Jeſus ſaid unto him, Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his ſight, and followed Jeſus in the way.

This Paſſage of Story agrees with that, Matt. 20. 29, &c. only that there we were told of Two Blind Men, here and Luke 18. 35. only of One; but if there were Two, there was One: this One is named here, being a blind Beggar that was much talk'd of; Bartimeus, that is, the Son of Timeus; which ſome think ſignifies, the Son of a Blind Man; He was the blind Son of a blind Father, which made the Caſe the worſe, and the Cure the more wonderful, and the more proper to typifie the ſpiritual Cures wrought by the Grace of Chriſt, on thoſe that not only are born Blind, but are born of thoſe that are Blind.

1. This Blind Man ſate begging; as they do with us. Note, Thoſe who by the Providence of God are diſabled to get their livelihood by their own Labour, and have not any other way of ſubſiſting, are the moſt proper Objects of Charity; and particular Care ought to be taken of them.

2. He cried out to the Lord Jeſus for Mercy. Have Mercy on me, O Lord, thou Son of David; Miſery is the Object of Mercy, his own miſerable Caſe he recommends to the Compaſſion of the Son of David, of whom it was foretold, That when he ſhould come to ſave us, the Eyes of the Blind ſhould be open'd, Iſa. 35. 5. In coming to Chriſt for Help and Healing, we ſhould have an Eye to him as the promiſed Meſſiah, the Truſtee of Mercy and Grace.

3. Chriſt encouraged him to Hope that he ſhould find Mercy, for he ſtood ſtill, and commanded him to be called. We muſt never reckon it a hindrance to us in our way to ſtand ſtill, when it is to do a good Work. Thoſe about him, who had diſcourag'd him at firſt, perhaps were now the Perſons that handed to him the gracious Call of Chriſt. Be of good Comfort, riſe, he calls thee, and if he call thee he will cure thee. Note, The gracious Invitations Chriſt gives us to come to him, are great Encouragements to our Hope, that we ſhall ſpeed well, if we come to him, and ſhall have what we come for. Let the Guilty, the Empty, the Tempted, the Hungry, the Naked be of good Comfort, for he calls them to be pardon'd, to be ſupply'd, to be ſuccour'd, to be fill'd, to be cloath'd, to have all that done for them, which their Caſe calls for.

4. The poor Man hereupon made the beſt of his Way to Chriſt. He caſt away his looſe upper Garment, and came to Jeſus, v. 50. He caſt away every Thing that might be in danger of throwing him down, or might any way hinder him in coming to Chriſt, or retard his Motion. Thoſe who would come to Jeſus, muſt caſt away the Garment of their own Sufficiency, muſt ſtrip themſelves of all Conceit of that, and muſt free themſelves from every weight, and the Sin that like long Garments doth moſt eaſily beſet them, Heb. 12. 1.

5. The particular Favour he begg'd was, that his Eyes might be open'd; that ſo he might be able to work for his Living, and might be no longer Burthenſome to others. It is a very deſirable Thing to be in a Capacity of Earning our own Bread; and where God has given Men their Limbs and Senſes, 'tis a ſhame for Men, by their Fooliſhneſs and Slothfulneſs, to make themſelves in effect Blind and Lame.

6. This Favour he receiv'd, his Eyes were open'd, v. 52. and two Things Mark here adds; which intimates, (1.) How Chriſt made it a double Favour to him, by putting the Honour of it upon his Faith. Thy Faith has made thee whole; Faith in Chriſt as the Son of David, and in his Pity and Power. Not thy Importunity, but thy Faith, ſetting Chriſt on Work, or rather Chriſt ſetting thy Faith on Work. Thoſe Supplies are moſt comfortable, that are fetch'd in by our Faith. (2.) How he made it a double Favour to himſelf; when he had received his ſight, he follow'd Jeſus by the Way; by this he made it appear, that he was throughly cured, that he no more needed one to lead him, but could go himſelf; and by this he evidenc'd the grateful Senſe he had of Chriſt's Kindneſs to him, that when he had his Sight, he made this uſe of it. It is not enough to come to Chriſt for ſpiritual Healing, but when we are heal'd, we muſt continue to follow him; that we may do Honour to him, and receive Inſtruction from him. Thoſe that have ſpiritual Eye-ſight ſee that Beauty in Chriſt, as will effectually draw them to run after him.

CHAP. XI.

We are now come to the Paſſion-Week, the Week in which Chriſt dy'd; and the great Occurrences of that Week. (1.) Chriſt's riding in Triumph into Jeruſalem, v. 1,--11. (2.) His curſing the barren Fig-Tree, v. 12,--14. (3.) His driving thoſe out of the Temple that turn'd it into an Exchange, v. 15,--19. (4.) His Diſcourſe with his Diſciples concerning the Power of Faith, and Efficacy of Prayer, on occaſion of the withering of the Fig-Tree he curſed, v. 20,--26. (5.) His Reply to thoſe who queſtioned his Authority, v. 27,--33.

AND when they came nigh to Jeruſalem, unto Bethphage, and Bethany, at the mount of Olives, he ſendeth forth two of his diſciples, 2 And ſaith unto them, Go your way into the village over againſt you; and aſſoon as ye be enter'd into it, ye ſhall find a colt tied, whereon never man ſat; looſe him, and bring him. 3 And if any man ſay unto you, Why do ye this? Say ye that the Lord hath need of him; and ſtraightway he will ſend him hither. 4 And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the door without, in a place where two ways met: and they looſe him. 5 And certain of them that ſtood there, ſaid unto them, What do ye looſing the colt? 6 And they ſaid unto them even as Jeſus had commanded: and they let them go. 7 And they brought the colt to Jeſus, and caſt their garments on him; and he ſat upon him. 8 And many ſpread their garments in the way: and others cut down branches off the trees, and ſtrewed them in the way. 9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, ſaying, Hoſanna, bleſſed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord. 10 Bleſſed be the kingdom of our Father David, that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hoſanna in the higheſt. 11 And Jeſus entred into Jeruſalem, and into the temple; and when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the even-tide was come, he went out into Bethany with the twelve.

We have here the Story of the publick Entry Chriſt made into Jeruſalem, four or five Days before his Death. And he came into Town thus remarkably. (1.) To ſhew that he was not afraid of the Power and Malice of his Enemies in Jeruſalem: He did not ſteal into the City incognito, as one that durſt not ſhew his Face; no, they needed not ſend Spies to ſearch for him, he comes in with Obſervation. This would be an Encouragement to his Diſciples that were timorous, and cow'd at the Thought of their Enemies Power and Rage; let them ſee how bravely their Maſter ſets them all at defiance. (2.) To ſhew that he was not caſt down, or diſquieted at the Thoughts of his approaching Sufferings, he not only came publickly, but came in Chearfully, and with Acclamations of Joy. Tho' he was now but taking the Field, and girding on the Harneſs, yet being fully aſſured of a compleat Victory, he thus Triumphs as tho' he had put it off.

Firſt, The out-ſide of this Triumph was very mean; he rode upon an Aſſes Colt, that being an Aſs look'd Contemptible, and made no Figure; and being but a Colt, whereon never Man ſat, we may ſuppoſe was rough and untrim'd; and not only ſo, but rude and ungovernable, and would diſturb and diſgrace the Solemnity. This Colt was borrow'd too. Chriſt went upon the Water in a borrow'd Boat, eat the Paſſover in a borrow'd Chamber, was bury'd in a borrow'd Sepulchre, and here rode on a borrow'd Aſs. Let not Chriſtians ſcorn to be beholden one to another, and when Need is, to go a borrowing, for our Maſter did not. He had no rich Trappings, they threw their Clothes upon the Colt, and ſo he ſate upon him, v. 7. The Perſons that attended were mean People; and all the ſhew they could make, was by ſpreading their Garments in the way, and ſtrewing Branches of Trees in the way, v. 8. as they us'd to do at the Feaſt of Tabernacles. All theſe were Marks of his Humiliation; even when he would be taken Notice of, he would be taken Notice of for his Meanneſs; and they are Inſtructions to us not to mind high Things, but to condeſcend to them of low Eſtate: How ill doth it become Chriſtians to take State, when Chriſt was ſo far from affecting it.

Secondly, The in-ſide of this Triumph was very great, not only as it was the fulfilling of the Scripture, which is not taken Notice of here, as it was in Matthew, but as there were ſeveral Rays of Chriſt's Glory ſhining forth in the midſt of all this Meanneſs. (1.) Chriſt ſhew'd his Knowledge of Things diſtant, and his Power over the Wills of Men, when he ſent his Diſciples for the Colt, v. 1, 2, 3, 4. By this it appears he can do every Thing, and no Thought can be withholden from him. (2.) He ſhew'd his Dominion over the Creatures, in riding on a Colt that was never Back'd. The Subjection of the inferior Part of the Creation to Man is ſpoken of, Pſal. 8. 5, 6. with Application to Chriſt, Pſal. 8. 5, 6. compar'd with Heb. 2. 8. For to him it was owing, and to his Mediation, that we have any remaining Benefit by that Grant God made to Man of a Soveraignty in this lower World, Gen. 1. 28. And perhaps Chriſt in riding the Aſſes Colt, would give a Shadow of his Power over the Spirit of Man, who is born as the wild Aſſes Colt, John 11. 12. (3.) The Colt was brought from a Place where two Ways met, v. 4. as if Chriſt would ſhew that he came to direct thoſe into the right Way who had two Ways before them, and were in danger of taking the wrong. (4.) Chriſt receiv'd the joyful Hoſanna's of the People: that is, both the Welcome they gave him, and their good Wiſhes to the Proſperity of his Kingdom, v. 9. It was God that put it into the Hearts of theſe People to cry Hoſanna, who were not by Art and Management brought to it, as thoſe were who afterwards cry'd, Crucify, Crucify. Chriſt reckons himſelf honour'd by the Faith and Praiſes of the Multitude, and it is God that brings People to do him this Honour, beyond their own Intentions.

1. They welcom'd his Perſon, v. 9. Bleſſed is he that cometh, the word is ὁ ἐρχόμενος, He that ſhould come, ſo often promis'd, ſo long expected; he comes in the Name of the Lord, as God's Embaſſador to the World, Bleſſed be he: Let him have our Applauſes, and beſt Affections; he is a Bleſſed Saviour, and brings Bleſſings to us, and Bleſſed be He that ſent him. Let him be bleſſed in the Name of the Lord, and let all the Nations and Ages call him Bleſſed, and think and ſpeak highly and honourably of him.

2. They wiſh'd well to his Intereſt, v. 10. They believ'd that as mean a Figure as he made, he had a Kingdom, which ſhould ſhortly be ſet up in the World, that it was the Kingdom of their Father David, (that Father of his Country) the Kingdom promis'd to him and his Seed for ever; a Kingdom that came in the Name of the Lord, ſupported by a Divine Authority. Bleſſed be this Kingdom; let it take Place, let it get Ground, let it come in the Power of it, and let all oppoſing Rule, Principality and Power be put down; let it go on Conquering and to Conquer. Hoſanna to this Kingdom; Proſperity be to it; all Happineſs attend it. The proper Signification of Hoſanna is that which we find, Rev. 7. 10. Salvation to our God that ſitteth on the Throne, and to the Lamb, i. e. Succeſs to Religion, both natural and reveal'd. Hoſanna in the higheſt. Praiſes be to our God, who is in the higheſt Heavens over all, God bleſſed for ever; or, let him be praiſed by his Angels that are in the higheſt Heavens, let our Hoſanna's be an Echo to theirs.

Chriſt thus attended, thus applauded, came into the City, and went directly to the Temple. Here was no Banquet of Wine prepar'd for his Entertainment, nor the leaſt Refreſhment, but he immediately apply'd himſelf to his Work, for that was his Meat and Drink. He went to the Temple that the Scripture might be fulfill'd: The Lord whom ye ſeek ſhall ſuddenly come to his Temple, without ſending any immediate Notice before him; he ſhall ſurprize you with a Day of Viſitation, for he ſhall be like a Refiner's Fire, and like Fuller's Soap, Mal. 3. 1, 2, 3. He came to the Temple, and took a View of the preſent State of it, v. 11. He looked round about upon all Things, but as yet ſaid nothing. He ſaw many diſorders there, but kept Silence, Pſal. 50. 21. Tho' he intended to ſuppreſs them, he would not go about the doing of all on a ſudden, leſt he ſhould ſeem to have done it raſhly; but let Things be as they were for this Night, intending the next Morning to apply himſelf to the neceſſary Reformation, and to take the Day before him. We may be confident that God ſees all the Wickedneſs that is in the World, tho' he do not preſently reckon for it, nor caſt it out. Chriſt having made his Remarks upon what he ſaw in the Temple, retir'd in the Evening to a Friend's Houſe at Bethany, becauſe there he would be more out of the Noiſe of the Town, and out of the way of being ſuſpected as deſigning to head a Faction.

12 And on the morrow, when they were come from Bethany, he was hungry. 13 And ſeeing a fig-tree afar off, having leaves, he came, if haply he might find any thing thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for the time of figs was not yet. 14 And Jeſus anſwered and ſaid unto it, No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. And his diſciples heard it. 15 And they come to Jeruſalem; and Jeſus went into the temple, and began to caſt out them that ſold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money changers, and the ſeats of them that ſold doves; 16 And would not ſuffer that any man ſhould carry any veſſel through the temple. 17 And he taught, ſaying unto them, Is it not written, My houſe ſhall be called of all nations the houſe of Prayer? but ye have made it a den of thieves. 18 And the Scribes and chief Prieſts heard it, and ſought how they might deſtroy him: for they feared him, becauſe all the people was aſtoniſhed at his doctrine. 19 And when even was come, he went out of the city. 20 And in the morning, as they paſſed by, they ſaw the fig-tree dried up from the roots. 21 And Peter calling to remembrance, ſaith unto him, Maſter, behold, the fig-tree which thou curſedſt is withered away. 22 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaith unto them, Have faith in God. 23 For verily I ſay unto you, that whoſoever ſhall ſay unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou caſt into the ſea, and ſhall not doubt in his heart, but ſhall believe that thoſe things which he ſaith ſhall come to paſs, he ſhall have whatſoever he ſaith. 24 Therefore I ſay unto you, What things ſoever ye deſire when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye ſhall have them. 25 And when ye ſtand, praying, forgive, if ye have ought againſt any, that your Father alſo, which is in heaven, may forgive you your treſpaſſes. 26 But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven, forgive your treſpaſſes.

Here's, (1.) Chriſt's curſing the fruitleſs Fig-tree. He had a convenient reſting Place at Bethany, and therefore thither he went at reſting Time, but his Work lay at Jeruſalem, and thither therefore he return'd in the Morning, at working Time; and ſo intent was he upon his Work, that he went out from Bethany without Breakfaſt, which, before he was gone far, he found the want of, and was hungry, v. 12. for he was ſubject to all the ſinful Infirmities of our Nature. Finding himſelf in want of Food, he went to a Fig-tree, which he ſaw at ſome Diſtance, that being well adorn'd with Green Leaves, he hoped to find enrich'd with ſome ſort of Fruit. But he found nothing but Leaves; he hoped to find ſome Fruit, for the Time of gathering in Figs, tho' it was near, yet it was not yet; ſo that it could not be pretended, that it had had Fruit, but it was gather'd and gone; for it was not come to that yet. Or, he found none, for indeed it was not a Seaſon of Figs, it was no good Fig-year. But this was worſe than any other Fig-Tree, for there was not ſo much as one Fig to be found upon it, tho' it was ſo full of Leaves. However, Chriſt was willing to make an Example of it, not to the Trees, but to the Men of that Generation, and therefore curſed it, with that Curſe which is the Reverſe of the firſt Bleſſing, Be fruitful; He ſaid unto it, Never let any Man eat Fruit of thee hereafter for ever, v. 14. Sweetneſs and Good Fruit is in Jotham's Parable the Honour of the Fig-tree, Judg. 9. 11. and it's ſerviceableneſs therein to Man, preferable to the Preferment of being promoted over the Trees; now to be depriv'd of that was a grievous Curſe. This was intended to be a Type and Figure of the Doom paſt upon the Jewiſh Church, to which he came ſeeking Fruit but found none, Luke 13. 6, 7. and tho' it was not according to the Doom in the Parable, immediately cut down, yet according to this in the Hiſtory, Blindneſs and Hardneſs befel them, Rom. 11. 8, 25. So that they were from henceforth good for nothing. The Diſciples heard what Sentence Chriſt paſs'd on this Tree, and took Notice of it. Woes from Chriſt's Mouth are to be obſerv'd and kept in Mind, as well as Bleſſings.

2. His clearing the Temple of the Market People, that frequented it, and of thoſe that made it a Thorow-fair. We do not find that Chriſt met with Food elſewhere, when he miſs'd of it on the Fig-tree, but the Zeal of God's Houſe ſo eat him up, and made him forget himſelf, that he came hungry as he was to Jeruſalem, and went ſtrait to the Temple, and began to reform thoſe Abuſes, which the Day before he had mark'd out; to ſhew, that when the Redeemer came to Zion, his Errand was to turn away Ungodlineſs from Jacob, Rom. 11. 26. and that he came not, as he was falſly accus'd, to deſtroy the Temple, but to purifie and refine it, and reduce his Church to its Primitive Rectitude.

1. He caſt out the Buyers and Sellers, overthrew the Tables of the Money-changers, (and threw the Money to the Ground, the fitter Place for it) and threw down the Seats of them that ſold Doves. This he did as one having Authority, as a Son in his own Houſe. The Filth of the Daughter of Zion is purged away, not by Might, nor by Power, but by the Spirit of Judgment, and the Spirit of Burning; and he did it without Oppoſition, for what he did was manifeſted to be right and good, even in the Conſciences of thoſe that had conniv'd at it, and countenanc'd it; becauſe they got Money by it. Note, It may be ſome Encouragement to zealous Reformers, that many times the purging out of Corruptions, and the correcting of Abuſes, proves an eaſier Piece of Work than was apprehended. Prudent Attempts ſometimes prove ſucceſsful be-beyond Expectation, and there are not thoſe Lyons found in the Way that were fear'd to be.

2. He would not ſuffer that any Man ſhould carry any Veſſel, any ſort of Goods or Wares, through the Temple, or any of the Courts of it; becauſe it was the nearer Way, and would ſave them the Labour of going about, v. 16. The Jews own'd it was one of the Inſtances of Honour due to the Temple, not to make the Mountain of the Houſe, or the Court of the Gentiles a Road or common Paſſage, or to come into it with any Bundle.

3. He gave a good Reaſon for this; becauſe it was written, My Houſe ſhall be called of all Nations, The Houſe of Prayer, v. 17. So it is written, Iſa. 56. 7. It ſhall paſs among all People under that Character. It ſhall be the Houſe of Prayer to all Nations, it was ſo in the firſt Inſtitution of it; When Solomon dedicated it, 'twas with an Eye to the Sons of the Strangers, 1 Kings 8. 41. And it was propheſied, that it ſhould be yet more ſo; Chriſt will have the Temple as a Type of the Goſpel Church to be, (1.) A Houſe of Prayer; after he had turn'd out the Oxen and Doves, which were Things for Sacrifice, he reviv'd the Appointment of it as a Houſe of Prayer, to teach us, that when all Sacrifices and Offerings ſhould be aboliſh'd, the ſpiritual Sacrifices of Prayer and Praiſe ſhould continue and remain for ever. (2.) That it ſhould be ſo to all Nations, and not to the People of the Jews only; for whoſoever ſhall call on the Name of the Lord ſhall be ſaved, tho' not of the Seed of Jacob, according to the Fleſh. It was therefore inſufferable for them to make it a Den of Thieves, which would Prejudice thoſe Nations againſt it, whom they ſhould have invited to it. When Chriſt drove out the Buyers and Sellers at the beginning of his Miniſtry, he only charged them with making the Temple a Houſe of Merchandize, John 2. 16. But now he chargeth them with making it a Den of Thieves, becauſe ſince then, they had twice gone about to ſtone him in the Temple, John 8. 10, 31. or becauſe the Traders there were grown notorious for cheating their Cuſtomers, and impoſing upon the Ignorance and Neceſſity of the Country People, which is no better than down-right Thievery. Thoſe that ſuffer vain worldly Thoughts to lodge within them, when they are at their Devotions; turn the Houſe of Prayer into a Houſe of Merchandize: But they that make long Prayers for a Pretence to devour Widows Houſes, turn it into a Den of Thieves.

4. The Scribes and the chief Prieſts were extreamly nettled at this, v. 18. They hated him, and hated to be reform'd by him, and yet they fear'd him, leſt he ſhould next overthrow their Seats, and expel them, being conſcious to themſelves of the prophaning and abuſing of their Power. They found he had a great Intereſt, and that all the People were aſtoniſh'd at his Doctrine, and every Thing he ſaid was an Oracle, and a Law to them; and what durſt he not Attempt, what could he not Effect being thus ſupported? they therefore ſought not how they might make their Peace with him, but how they might deſtroy him: A deſperate Attempt, and which one would think, they themſelves could not but fear was fighting againſt God. But they care not what they do, to ſupport their own Power and Grandeur.

3. His Diſcourſe with his Diſciples, upon occaſion of the Fig-tree's withering away which he had curſed. At Even, as uſual, he went out of the City, v. 19. to Bethany, but 'tis probable it was in the dark, ſo that they could not ſee the Fig-tree; but the next Morning as they paſſed by, they obſerv'd the Fig-tree dried up from the Roots, v. 20. more is included many Times in Chriſt's Curſes than is expreſſed, as appears by the Effects of them. The Curſe was no more, but that it ſhould never bear Fruit again, but the Effect goes further, 'tis dried up from the Roots. If it bear not Fruit, it ſhall bear no Leaves to cheat People. Now obſerve,

1. How the Diſciples were affected with it. Peter remember'd Chriſt's Words, and ſaid with Surprize, Maſter, behold, the Fig-tree which thou curſedſt is wither'd away, v. 21. Note, Chriſt's Curſes have wonderful Effects; and make thoſe to wither preſently, that flouriſh'd like the Green Bay-tree, Thoſe whom he curſeth; they are curſed indeed. This repreſented the Character and State of the Jewiſh Church, which from hence-forward was as a Tree dried up from the Roots; no longer fit for Food, but for Fuel only. The firſt Eſtabliſhment of the Levitical Prieſthood, was ratified and confirm'd by the Miracle of a Dry Rod, which in one Night budded and bloſſom'd, and brought forth Almonds, Numb. 17. 8. a happy Omen of the Fruitfulneſs and Flouriſhing of that Prieſthood: And now, by a contrary Miracle, the Expiration of that Prieſthood was ſignified by a flouriſhing Tree dried up in a Night; the juſt Puniſhment of thoſe Prieſts that had abus'd it. And this ſeem'd very ſtrange to the Diſciples, and ſcarce credible that the Jews that had been ſo long God's own, his only profeſſing People in the World, ſhould be thus abandon'd. They could not imagine, how that Fig-tree ſhould ſo ſoon wither away, but this comes of rejecting Chriſt, and being rejected by him.

2. The good Inſtructions Chriſt gave them from it, for of thoſe even this wither'd Tree was fruitful.

1. Chriſt teacheth them from hence to pray in Faith, v. 22. Have Faith in God. They admir'd the Power of Chriſt's Word of Command, why, ſaith Chriſt, a lively active Faith would put as great a Power into your Prayers, v. 23, 24. Whoſoever ſhall ſay to this Mountain, this Mount of Olives, Be removed, and be caſt into the Sea: If he has but any Word of God, general or particular, to build his Faith upon, and if he ſhall not doubt in his Heart, but ſhall believe that thoſe Things which he ſaith, according to the warrant he has from what God hath ſaid, ſhall come to paſs, he ſhall have whatſoever he ſaith; through the Strength and Power of God in Chriſt, the greateſt Difficulty ſhall be got over, and the Thing ſhall be effected. And therefore, v. 24. What Things ſoever ye deſire when ye pray, believe that ye ſhall receive them; nay, believe that ye do receive them, and he that has Power to give them, ſaith, ye ſhall have them. I ſay unto you, you ſhall, v. 24. Verily I ſay unto you, ye ſhall, v. 23. Now this is to be applied, (1.) To that Faith of Miracles, which the Apoſtles and firſt Preachers of the Goſpel were endued with, which did Wonders in Things natural, healing the Sick, raiſing the Dead, caſting out Devils; theſe were in Effect the removing of Mountains. The Apoſtle ſpeaks of a Faith which would do that, and yet might be found where Holy Love was not, 1 Cor. 13. 2. (2.) It may be applied to that Miracle of Faith, which all true Chriſtians are endued with, which doth Wonders in Things ſpiritual. It juſtifies us, Rom. 5. 1. and ſo removes Mountains of Guilt, and caſts them into the Depths of the Sea, never to riſe up in Judgment againſt us, Mic. 7. 19. It purifies the Heart, Acts 15. 10. and ſo removes Mountains of Corruption, and makes them plain before the Grace of God, Zech. 4. 7. 'Tis by Faith that the World is conquer'd, Satan's Fiery Darts quenched, a Soul is crucified with Chriſt, and yet lives; by Faith we ſet the Lord always before us, and ſee him that is Inviſible, and have him preſent to our Minds, and this is Effectual to remove Mountains; for at the Preſence of the Lord, at the Preſence of the God of Jacob, the Mountains were not only moved, but removed, Pſalm 114. 6, 7.

2. To this is added here that neceſſary Qualification of the prevailing Prayer, that we freely forgive thoſe who have been any way injurious to us, and be in Charity with all Men, v. 25, 26. When ye ſtand Praying, forgive. Note, Standing is no improper Poſture for Prayer; 'twas generally us'd among the Jews; hence they call'd their Prayers, their Standings; when they would ſay how the World was kept up by Prayer, they expreſs'd it thus, Stationibus ſtat mundus: But the primitive Chriſtians generally us'd the more humble and reverent Geſture of Kneeling, eſpecially on Faſting-Days, tho' not on Lord's-Days. When we are at Prayer we muſt remember to pray for others, particularly for our Enemies, and thoſe that have wrong'd us; now we cannot pray ſincerely that God would do them good, if we bear Malice to them, and wiſh them Ill. If we had injur'd others before we pray, we muſt go and be reconciled to them, Matt. 5. 23. But if they have injur'd us, we go a nearer Way to work, and muſt immediately from our Hearts forgive them. (1.) Becauſe this is a good Step towards obtaining the Pardon of our own Sins: Forgive, that your Father may forgive you, i. e. That you may be qualified to receive Forgiveneſs; that he may forgive you without Injury to his Honour, as it would be if he ſhould ſuffer thoſe to have ſuch Benefit by his Mercy as are ſo far from being conformable to the Pattern of it. (2.) Becauſe the want of this is a certain Bar to the obtaining of the Pardon of our Sins. If ye do not forgive thoſe who have injur'd you, if you hate their Perſons, bear them a Grudge, meditate Revenge, and take all Occaſions to ſpeak ill of them, neither will your Father forgive your Treſpaſſes. This ought to be remembred in Prayer, becauſe one great Errand we have to the Throne of Grace, is to pray for the Pardon of our Sins: And Care about it ought to be our daily Care, becauſe Prayer is a Part of our daily Work. Our Saviour often inſiſts on this, for it was his great Deſign to engage his Diſciples to love one another.

27 And they come again to Jeruſalem: And as he was walking in the Temple, there come to him the chief prieſts, and the ſcribes, and the elders, 28 And ſay unto him, By what authority doſt thou theſe Things? And who gave thee this Authority to do theſe Things? 29 And Jeſus anſwered and ſaid unto them, I will alſo ask of you one queſtion, and anſwer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do theſe Things. 30 The Baptiſm of John, was it from Heaven, or of men? anſwer me. 31 And they reaſoned with themſelves, ſaying, If we ſhall ſay from Heaven, he will ſay, Why then did ye not believe him? 32 But if we ſhall ſay, Of men, they feared the People: for all Men counted John, that he was a prophet indeed. And they anſwered and ſaid unto Jeſus, We cannot tell. And Jeſus anſwering, ſaith unto them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do theſe things.

We have here Chriſt examin'd by the Great Sanhedrim concerning his Authority; for they claim'd a Power to call Prophets to an Account concerning their Miſſion. They came to him when he was walking in the Tenple, not for his Diverſion, but teaching the People, firſt one Company, and then another. The Peripatetick Philoſophers were ſo call'd from the Cuſtom they had of walking when they taught. The Cloyſters or Piazza's in the Courts of the Temple, were fitted for this Purpoſe: The great Men were vex'd to ſee him follow'd, and heard with Attention, and therefore came to him with ſome Solemnity, and did as it were arraign him at the Bar with this Queſtion, By what Authority doſt thou theſe Things? v. 28. Now obſerve,

1. How they deſign'd hereby to run him a-ground, and to embarraſs him; if they could make it out before the People, that he had not a legal Miſſion, that he was not duly ordain'd, tho' he was never ſo well-qualified, and preach'd never ſo profitably and well, they would tell the People they ought not to hear him. And this they made the laſt Refuge of an obſtinate Unbelief, becauſe they were reſolv'd not to receive his Doctrine, they were reſolv'd to find ſome Flaw or other in his Commiſſion, and will conclude it invalid if it be not produc'd and ratified in their Court. Thus the Papiſts reſolve their Controverſy with us very much into the Miſſion of our Miniſters, and if they have but any Pretence to overthrow that, they think they have gain'd their Point, tho' we have the Scripture never ſo much on our Side. But this is indeed a Queſtion which all that act either as Magiſtrates or Miniſters, ought to be furniſh'd with a good Anſwer to, and often put it to themſelves, By what Authority do I theſe Things? For how can Men preach except they be ſent? Or how can they act with Comfort or Confidence, or hope of Succeſs, except they be authoriz'd? Jer. 33. 32.

2. How he effectually run them aground, and embarraſs'd them with a Queſtion, what their Thoughts were concerning the Baptiſm of John, was it from Heaven, or of Men? By what Authority did John preach, and baptize, and gather Diſciples? Anſwer me, v. 30. Deal fairly and ingenuouſly, and give a categorical Anſwer either one Way or t'other. By the reſolving of their Queſtion into this, our Saviour intimates how near akin his Doctrine and Baptiſm was to John's; they had the ſame Original, and the ſame Deſign and Tendency to introduce the Goſpel Kingdom. Chriſt might with the better Grace put this Queſtion to them, becauſe they had ſent a Committee of their own Houſe to examine John, John 1. 19. Now, ſaith Chriſt, What was the Reſult of your Enquiries concerning him?

They knew what they thought of this Queſtion; they could not but think that John Baptiſt was a Man ſent of God. But, the Difficulty was, what they ſhould ſay to it now: And Men that oblige not themſelves to ſpeak as they think, which is a certain Rule, cannot avoid perplexing themſelves thus:

1. If they own the Baptiſm of John to be from Heaven, as really it was, they ſhame themſelves, for Chriſt will preſently turn it upon them, why did ye not then believe him, and receive his Baptiſm? They could not bear that Chriſt ſhould ſay this, but they could bear it that their own Conſciences ſhould ſay ſo, becauſe they had an Art of ſtifling, and ſilencing them, and becauſe what Conſcience ſaid, tho' it might gall and grate them a little, it would not ſhame them, and then they would do well enough, who look'd no further than Saul's Care when he was convicted, Honour me now before this People, 1 Sam. 15. 30.

2. If they ſay it is of Men, that he was not ſent of God, but his Doctrine and Baptiſm were Inventions of his own, they expoſe themſelves, the People will be ready to do them a Miſchief, or at leaſt clamor upon them; for all Men counted John that he was a Prophet indeed, and therefore they could not bear that he ſhould be reflected on. Note, There is a carnal ſlaviſh Fear, which not only wicked Subjects, but wicked Rulers likewiſe are liable to, which God makes uſe of as a Means to keep the World in ſome Order, and to ſuppreſs Violence, that it ſhall not always grow up into a Rod of Wickedneſs. Now by this Dilemma, to which Chriſt brought them, (1.) They were confounded and baffled, and forc'd to make a diſhonourable Retreat; to pretend Ignorance, we cannot tell, (and that was Mortification enough to thoſe proud Men) but really to diſcover the greateſt Malice and Wilfulneſs. What Chriſt did by his Wiſdom, we muſt labour to do by our Well-doing, put to ſilence the Ignorance of fooliſh Men, 1 Pet. 2. 15. (2.) Chriſt came off with Honour, and juſtified himſelf in denying to give them an Anſwer to their imperious Demand, Neither tell I you by what Authority I do theſe Things. They did not deſerve to be told; who, 'twas plain, did not contend for Truth but Victory; Nor did he need to tell them, for the Works which he did, told them plainly that he had Authority from God to do what he did; ſince no Man could do thoſe Miracles which he did unleſs God were with him. Let them wait but three or four Days, and his Reſurrection ſhall tell them who gave him his Authority, for by that he will be declar'd to be the Son of God with Power, as by their rejecting him, notwithſtanding they will be declar'd to be the Enemies of God.

CHAP. XII.

In this Chapter we have, (1.) The Parable of the Vineyard let out to unthankful Husbandmen, repreſenting the Sin and Ruin of the Jewiſh Church, v. 1,—12. (2.) Chriſt's ſilencing thoſe who thought to enſnare him with a Queſtion about paying Tribute to Cæſar, v. 13,—17. (3.) His ſilencing the Sadducees, who attempted to perplex the Doctrine of the Reſurrection, v. 18,—27. (4.) His Conference with a Scribe about the firſt and great Command of the Law, v. 28,—34. (5.) His puzling the Scribes with a Queſtion about Chriſt's being the Son of David, v. 35,—37. (6.) The Caution he gave the People to take heed of the Scribes, v. 38,—40. (7.) His Commendation of the poor Widow that caſt her two Mites into the Treaſury, v. 41,—44.

AND he began to ſpeak unto them by parables. A certain man planted a Vineyard, and ſet an hedge about it, and digged a place for the wine-fat, and built a tower, and let it out to Husbandmen, and went into a far country. 2 And at the ſeaſon he ſent to the husbandmen a ſervant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the Vineyard. 3 And they caught him, and beat him, and ſent him away empty. 4 And again he ſent unto them another ſervant; and at him they caſt ſtones, and wounded him in the head, and ſent him away ſhamefully handled. 5 And again, he ſent another, and him they killed: and many others, beating ſome, and killing ſome. 6 Having yet therefore one ſon, his well-beloved, he ſent him alſo laſt unto them, ſaying, They will reverence my ſon. 7 But thoſe husbandmen ſaid amongſt themſelves, This is the Heir; come, let us kill him, and the Inheritance ſhall be ours. 8 And they took him, and kill'd him, and caſt him out of the Vineyard. What ſhall therefore the Lord of the Vineyard do? he will come and deſtroy the Husbandmen, and will give the Vineyard unto others.

10 And have ye not read this ſcripture? The ſtone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner. 11 This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes. 12 And they ſought to lay hold on him, but feared the people; for they knew that he had ſpoken the parable againſt them: and they left him, and went their way.

Chriſt had formerly in Parables ſhew'd how he deſign'd to ſet up the Goſpel Church, now he begins in Parables to ſhew how he would lay aſide the Jewiſh Church, which it might have been grafted into the Stock of, but was built upon the Ruins of. This Parable we had juſt as we have it here, Matt. 21. 33. We may obſerve here,

1. They that enjoy the Privileges of the viſible Church, have a Vineyard let out to them, which is capable of great Improvement, and from the Occupiers of which, Rent is juſtly expected. When God ſhow'd his Word unto Jacob, his Statutes and Judgments unto Iſrael, Pſalm 147. 19. When he ſet up his Temple among them, his Prieſthood, and other his Ordinances, then he let out to them the Vineyard he had planted; which he hedg'd, and in which he built a Tower, v. 1. Members of the Church are God's Tenants, and they have both a good Landlord, and a good Bargain, and may live well upon it if it be not their own Fault.

2. Thoſe whom God lets out his Vineyard to, he ſends his Servants to, to put them in mind of his juſt Expectations from them, v. 2. He was not haſty in his Demands, nor high, for he did not ſend for the Rent till they could make it, at the Seaſon; nor did he put them to the Trouble of making Money of it, but was willing to take it in Specie.

3. 'Tis ſad to think what baſe Uſage God's faithful Miniſters have met with in all Ages from thoſe that have enjoy'd the Privileges of the Church, and have not brought forth Fruit anſwerable. The Old-Teſtament Prophets were perſecuted even by thoſe that went under the Name of the Old-Teſtament Church. They beat them, and ſent them empty away, v. 3. that was bad; they wounded them, and ſet them away ſhamefully intreated, v. 4. that was worſe: Nay, at length they came to ſuch a pitch of Wickedneſs, that they kill'd them, v. 5.

4. It was no wonder if thoſe who abus'd the Prophets, abus'd Chriſt himſelf. God did at length ſend them his Son, his Well-belov'd; it was therefore ſo much the greater Kindneſs in him to ſend him; as in Jacob to ſend Joſeph to viſit his Brethren, Gen. 37. 14. And it might be expected that he whom their Maſter lov'd, they alſo ſhould reſpect and love, v. 6. They will reverence my Son, and in reverence to him will pay their Rent. But inſtead of reverencing him becauſe he was the Son and Heir, they therefore hated him, v. 7. Becauſe Chriſt in calling to Repentance and Reformation, made his Demands with more Authority than the Prophets had done, they were the more enrag'd againſt him, and determin'd to put him to Death, that they might engroſs all Church Power to themſelves, and all the Reſpects and Obedience of the People might be paid to them only. The Inheritance ſhall be ours, we will be Lords Paramount, and bear all the Sway. There is an Inheritance which if they had duly reverenc'd the Son, might have been theirs, a heavenly Inheritance, but they ſlighted that, and would have their Inheritance in the Wealth and Pomp and Powers of this World. So they took him, and kill'd him, they had not done it yet, but they would do it in a little Time; and they caſt him out of the Vineyard, i. e. they refus'd to admit his Goſpel when he was gone; it would by no Means agree with their Scheme, and ſo they threw it out with Diſdain and Deteſtation.

5. For ſuch ſinful ſhameful doings nothing can be expected but a fearful Doom, v. 9. What ſhall therefore the Lord of the Vineyard do? 'Tis eaſie to ſay what, for nothing could be done more provoking. 1. He will come and deſtroy the Husbandmen, whom he would have ſav'd. When they only deny'd the Fruit, he did not diſtrain upon them for the Rent, nor diſſeize them and diſpoſſeſs them for Non-Payment; but when they killed his Servants, and his Son, he determin'd to deſtroy them; and this was fulfilled when Jeruſalem was laid waſte, and the Jewiſh Nation extirpated, and made a Deſolation.

2. He will give the Vineyard to others. If he have not the Rent from them, he will have it from another People, for God will be no Loſer by any. This was fulfill'd in the taking in of the Gentiles, and the Abundance of Fruit which the Goſpel brought forth in all the World, Col. 1. 6. Note, If ſome from whom we expected well prove bad, it doth not follow but that others will be better. Chriſt encouraged himſelf with this in his Undertaking, Tho' Iſrael be not gather'd, not gather'd to him, but gather'd againſt him, yet ſhall I be glorious, Iſa. 49. 5, 6. as a Light to lighten the Gentiles.

3. Their Oppoſition to Chriſt's Exaltation ſhall be no Obſtruction to it, v. 10, 11. The Stone which the Builders rejected, notwithſtanding that, is become the Head of the Corner, is highly advanc'd as the Head-Stone, and of neceſſary Uſe and Influence as the Corner-Stone. God will ſet Chriſt as his King upon his Holy Hill of Zion, in ſpite of their Project who would break his Bands aſunder. And all the World ſhall ſee and own this to be the Lord's doing, in Juſtice to the Jews, and in Compaſſion to the Gentiles. The Exaltation of Chriſt was the Lord's doing, and it is his doing to exalt him in our Hearts, and to ſet up his Throne there, and if it be done, it cannot but be marvellous in our Eyes.

Now, what Effect had this Parable upon the Chief Prieſts and Scribes, whoſe Conviction was deſign'd by it? They knew he ſpake this Parable againſt them, v. 12. They could not but ſee their own Faces in the Glaſs of it; and one would think it ſhew'd them their Sin ſo very heinous, and their Ruin ſo certain and great, that it ſhould have frighten'd them into a Compliance with Chriſt and his Goſpel, ſhould have prevail'd to bring them to Repentance, at leaſt to make them deſiſt from their malicious Purpoſe againſt him; but inſtead of that, (1.) They ſought to lay hold on him, and make him their Priſoner immediately, and ſo to fulfil what he had juſt now ſaid they would do to him, v. 8. (2.) Nothing reſtrain'd them from it but the Awe they ſtood in of the People; they did not reverence Chriſt, nor had any Fear of God before their Eyes, but were afraid if they ſhould publickly lay hold on Chriſt, the Mob would ariſe, and lay hold on them and reſcue him. (3.) They left him and went their Way; if they could not do Hurt to him, they reſolv'd he ſhould not do Good to them, and therefore they got out of the Hearing of his powerful Preaching, leſt they ſhould be converted and heal'd. Note, If Mens Prejudices be not conquer'd by the Evidence of Truth, they are but confirm'd; and if the Corruptions of the Heart be not ſubdued by faithful Reproofs, they are but enrag'd and exaſperated. If the Goſpel be not a Savour of Life unto Life, it will be a Savour of Death unto Death.

13 And they ſend unto him certain of the Phariſees, and of the Herodians, to catch him in his words. 14 And when they were come, they ſay unto him, Maſter, we know that thou art true, and careſt for no man: for thou regardeſt not the perſon of men, but teacheſt the way of God in truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Ceſar, or not? 15 Shall we give, or ſhall we not give? But he knowing their hypocriſie, ſaid unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a penny, that I may ſee it. 16 And they brought it: and he ſaith unto them, Whoſe is this image and ſuperſcription? And they ſaid unto him, Ceſars. 17 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid unto them, Render to Ceſar the things that are Ceſars, and to God the things that are Gods. And they marvelled at him.

When the Enemies of Chriſt, who thirſted for his Blood, could not find Occaſion againſt him from what he ſaid againſt them, they try'd to enſnare him by putting Queſtions to him. Here we have him tempted, or attempted rather with a Queſtion about the Lawfulneſs of paying Tribute to Ceſar: We had this Story, Matt. 22. 15.

1. The Perſons they employ'd were the Phariſees and the Herodians, Men that in this Matter were contrary to one another, and yet concurr'd againſt Chriſt, v. 13. The Phariſees were great Sticklers for the Jews Liberty, and if he ſhould ſay it was lawful to give Tribute to Ceſar, they would incenſe the common People againſt him, and the Herodians would underhand aſſiſt them in it: The Herodians were great Sticklers for the Roman Power, and if he ſhould diſcountenance the paying of Tribute to Ceſar, they would incenſe the Governour againſt him, yea, and the Phariſees againſt their own Principles would join with them in it. 'Tis no new Thing for thoſe that are at Variance in other Things, to join in a Confederacy againſt Chriſt.

2. The Pretence they made was, That they deſir'd him to reſolve them a Caſe of Conſcience, which was of great Importance in the preſent Juncture; and they take on them to have a mighty Opinion of his Ability to reſolve it, v. 14. They complimented him at a high Rate, call'd him Maſter, own'd him for a Teacher of the Way of God, a Teacher of it in Truth, he taught what was good, and upon Principles of Truth, that he would not be brought by Smiles or Frowns to depart a Step from the Rules of Equity and Goodneſs; thou careſt for no Man, nor regardeſt the Perſon of Men, thou art not afraid of offending either the jealous Prince on one hand, or the jealous People on the other; thou art right, and always in the right, and doſt in a right Manner declare Good and Evil, Truth and Falſhood. If they ſpoke as they thought concerning Chriſt, when they ſaid we know that thou art right, their perſecuting him and putting him to Death as a Deceiver, was a Sin againſt Knowledge; they knew him, and yet crucified him. However, a Man's Teſtimony ſhall be taken moſt ſtrongly againſt himſelf, and out of their own Mouths are they judged; they knew that he taught the Way of God in Truth, and yet rejected the Council of God againſt themſelves. The Profeſſions and Pretences of Hypocrites will be produc'd in Evidence againſt them, and they will be ſelf-condemn'd: But if they did not know or believe it, they ly'd unto God with their Mouth, and flatter'd him with their Tongue.

3. The Queſtion they put was, Is it lawful to give Tribute to Ceſar or not? They would be thought deſirous to know their Duty; As a Nation that did Righteouſneſs, they ask of God the Ordinances of Juſtice, when really they deſired nothing but to know what he would ſay, in hopes that which Side ſoever he took of the Queſtion, they might take Occaſion from it to accuſe him. Nothing more likely to enſnare Miniſters than bringing them to meddle with Controverſies about Civil Rights, and to ſettle the Land-marks between the Prince and the Subject, which 'tis fit ſhould be done, but not at all fit that they ſhould have the doing of it. They ſeem'd to refer the determining of this Matter to Chriſt, and he indeed was fit to determine it, for by him Kings reign, and Princes decree Juſtice; for they put the Queſtion fairly, Shall we give, or ſhall we not give? They ſeem'd reſolv'd to ſtand to his Award; if thou ſayeſt we muſt pay Tribute, we will do it, tho' we be made Beggars by it: If thou ſayeſt we muſt not, we will not, tho' we be made Traitors for it. Many ſeem deſirous to know their Duty that are no ways diſpos'd to do it, as thoſe proud Men, Jer. 42. 20.

4. Chriſt determin'd the Queſtion, and evaded the Snare, by referring them to their national Conceſſions, already made, by which they were precluded from diſputing this Matter, v. 15, 16, 17. He knew their Hypocriſy, the Malice that was in their Hearts againſt him, while with their Mouth they ſhew'd all this Love. Hypocriſy, tho' never ſo artfully managed, cannot be conceal'd from the Lord Jeſus: he ſees the Potſherd that's cover'd with the Silver Droſs: He knew they intended to enſnare him, and therefore contriv'd the Matter ſo as to enſnare them, and to oblige them by their own Words to do what they were unwilling to do, which was to pay their Taxes honeſtly and quietly, and yet at the ſame Time, to skreen himſelf againſt their Exceptions. He made them acknowledge that the current Money of their Nation was Roman Money, had the Emperor's image on one Side, and his Superſcription on the Reverſe; and if ſo, (1.) Cæſar might command their Money, for the Publick Benefit, becauſe he has the Cuſtody and Conduct of the State, wherein he ought to have his Charges born; Render unto Cæſar the Things that are Cæſar's. The Circulation of the Money is from him as the Fountain, and therefore it muſt return to him. As far as it is his, ſo far it muſt be render'd to him, and how far it is his, and may be commanded by him is to be judg'd by the Conſtitution of the Government, according as it is and hath ſettled the Prerogative of the Prince, and the Property of the Subject. (2.) Cæſar might not command their Conſciences, nor did he pretend to it; he offer'd not to make any Alteration in their Religion. Pay your Tribute therefore without murmuring or diſputing, but be ſure to render unto God the Things that are God's. Perhaps referring to the Parable he had juſt now put forth, in which he had condemn'd them for not rendring the Fruits to the Lord of the Vineyard, v. 2. Many that ſeem careful to give to Men their Due, are in no Care to give unto God, the Glory due to his Name; whereas our Hearts and beſt Affections are as much due to him as ever Rent was to a Landlord, or a Tribute to a Prince. All that heard Chriſt marvelled at the Diſcretion of his Anſwer, and how ingeniouſly he avoided the Snare; but I doubt none were brought by it as they ought to be to render to God themſelves and their Devotions. Many will commend the Wit of a Sermon, that will not be commanded by the divine Laws of a Sermon.

18 Then come unto him the Sadducees, which ſay
there is no reſurrection; and they asked him, ſaying, 19 Maſter, Moſes wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave his wife behind him, and leave no children, that his brother ſhould take his wife, and raiſe up ſeed unto his brother. 20 Now there were ſeven brethren: and the firſt took a wife, and dying, left no ſeed. 21 And the ſecond took her and died, neither left he any ſeed: and the third likewiſe.
22 And the ſeven had her, and left no ſeed: laſt of all the woman died alſo. 23 In the reſurrection therefore, when they ſhall riſe, whoſe wife ſhall ſhe be of them? for the ſeven had her to wife. 24 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid unto them, Do ye not therefore err, becauſe ye know not the ſcriptures, neither the power of God? 25 For when they ſhall riſe from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage:
but are as the Angels which are in heaven.
26 And as touching the dead, that they riſe: have ye not read in the book of Moſes, how in the buſh God ſpake unto him, ſaying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Iſaac, and the God of Jacob: 27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living:
ye therefore do greatly err.

The Sadducees, that were the Deiſts of that Age, here attack our Lord Jeſus, it ſhould ſeem not as the Scribes and Phariſees, and Chief Prieſts with any malicious Deſign upon his Perſon; they were not Bigots and Perſecutors, but Scepticks and Infidels, and their Deſign was upon his Doctrine, to hinder the ſpreading of that: They deny'd that there was any Reſurrection, any World of Spirits, any State of Rewards and Puniſhments on t'other ſide Death: Now thoſe great and fundamental Truths which they had deny'd, Chriſt made it his Buſineſs to eſtabliſh and prove, and had carry'd the Notion of them much further than ever it was before carry'd; and therefore they ſet themſelves to perplex his Doctrine.

1. See here the Method they take to entangle it; they quote the ancient Law, by which if a Man dy'd without Iſſue, his Brother was oblig'd to marry his Widow, v. 19. They ſuppoſe a Caſe to happen, that according to that Law ſeven Brothers were ſucceſſively the Husbands of one Woman, v. 20. Probably theſe Sadducees according to their wonted Profaneneſs intended hereby to ridicule that Law, and ſo to bring the whole Frame of the Moſaick Inſtitution into Contempt, as abſurd and inconvenient in the Practice of it. Theſe who deny Divine Truths, commonly ſet themſelves to diſparage Divine Laws and Ordinances. But this only by the by; their Deſign was to expoſe the Doctrine of the Reſurrection; for they ſuppoſe that if there be a future State, it muſt be ſuch a one as this, and then the Doctrine they think is clogg'd either with this invincible Abſurdity, that a Woman in this State muſt have ſeven Husbands; or elſe with this unſolvable Difficulty, whoſe Wife ſhe muſt be. See with what Subtilty theſe Hereticks undermine the Truth; they do not deny it, nor ſay there can be no Reſurrection; Nay, they do not ſeem to doubt of it, nor ſay, If there be a Reſurrection, whoſe Wife ſhall ſhe be? As the Devil to Chriſt, If thou be the Son of God; but as tho' theſe Beaſts of the Field were more ſubtil than the Serpent himſelf; they pretend to own the Truth, as if they were not Sadducees, no not they, who ſaid they deny'd the Reſurrection? They take it for granted there is a Reſurrection, and would be thought to deſire Inſtruction concerning it, when they are really deſigning to give it a fatal Stab, and think they ſhall do it. Note, It is the common Artifice of Hereticks and Sadducees to perplex and entangle the Truth, which they have not the Impudence to deny.

2. See here the Method Chriſt takes to clear and eſtabliſh this Truth, which they attempted to darken and give a Shock to. This was a Matter of Moment, and therefore Chriſt doth not paſs it over lightly, but enlargeth upon it, that if they ſhould not be reclaim'd, yet others might be confirm'd.

1. He chargeth the Sadducees with Error, and chargeth that upon their Ignorance. They who banter the Doctrine of the Reſurrection, as ſome do in our Age, would be thought the only knowing Men, becauſe the only Free-Thinkers, when really they are the Fools in Iſrael, and the moſt enſlav'd and prejudic'd Thinkers in the World. Do ye not therefore err? Ye cannot but be ſenſible of it your ſelves, and that the Cauſe of your Error is, (1.) Becauſe ye do not know the Scriptures; not but that the Sadducees had read the Scriptures, and perhaps were ready in them, and yet they might be truly ſaid not to know the Scriptures, becauſe they did not know the Senſe and Meaning of them, but put falſe Conſtructions upon them, or they did not receive the Scriptures as the Word of God, but ſet up their own corrupt Reaſonings in Oppoſition to the Scripture, and would believe nothing but what they could ſee. Note, A right Knowledge of the Scripture, as the Fountain whence all reveal'd Religion now flows, and the Foundation on which it is built, is the beſt Preſervative againſt Error; keep the Truth, the Scripture Truth, and it ſhall keep thee. (2.) Becauſe you know not the Power of God. They could not but know that God is Almighty, but they would not apply that Doctrine to this Matter, but gave up the Truth to the Objections of the Impoſſibility of it, which would all have been anſwer'd if they had but ſtuck to the Doctrine of God's Omnipotence, to which nothing is impoſſible. This therefore which God hath ſpoken once, we are concern'd to hear twice, to hear and believe, to hear and apply, that Power belongs to God, Pſal. 62. 10. Rom. 4. 19, 20, 21. The ſame Power that made Soul and Body, and preſerv'd them while they were together, can preſerve the Body ſafe, and the Soul active, when they are parted, and can unite them together again; for, Behold the Lord's Arm is not ſhorten'd. The Power of God ſeen in the Return of the Spring, Pſal. 104. 30. In the reviving of the Corn, John 12. 24. In the reſtoring of an abject People to their Proſperity, Ezek. 37. 12, 13. 14. In the raiſing ſo many to Life miraculouſly both in the Old Teſtament and in the New, and eſpecially in the Reſurrection of Chriſt, Epheſ. 1. 19, 20. are all Earneſts of our Reſurrection by the ſame Power, Phil. 3. 21. according to the mighty working whereby he is able to ſubdue all Things to himſelf.

2. He ſets aſide all the Force of their Objection, by ſetting the Doctrine of the future State in a true Light, v. 25. When they ſhall riſe from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage. 'Tis Folly to ask, Whoſe Wife ſhall ſhe be of the Seven? When the Relation between Husband and Wife, tho' inſtituted in the earthly Paradiſe, will not be known in the heavenly one. Turks and Infidels expect ſenſual Pleaſures in their Fools Paradiſes, but Chriſtians know better Things, That Fleſh and Blood ſhall not inherit the Kingdom of God, 1 Cor. 15. 50. And expect better Things, even a full Satisfaction in God's Love and Likeneſs, Pſal. 17. 14, 15. They are as the Angels of God in Heaven, and we know they have neither Wives nor Children. It is no Wonder if we confound our ſelves with endleſs Abſurdities, when we meaſure our Idea's of the World of Spirits, by the Affairs of this World of Senſe.

4. He builds the Doctrine of the future State, and of the Bleſſedneſs of the Righteous in that State upon the Covenant of God with Abraham, which God was pleas'd to own, being after Abraham's Death, v. 26, 27. He appeals to the Scriptures, Have ye not read in the Book of Moſes? We have ſome Advantage in dealing with thoſe that have read the Scriptures, tho' many that have read them wreſt them as theſe Sadducees did to their own Deſtruction. Now that which he refers them to, is what God ſaid to Moſes at the Buſh, I am the God of Abraham; not only I was ſo, but I am ſo; I am the Portion and Happineſs of Abraham, a God all-ſufficient to him. Note, It is abſurd to think that God's Relation to Abraham ſhould be continued, and thus ſolemnly recogniz'd, if Abraham was annihilated, or that the Living God ſhould be the Portion and Happineſs of a Man that's dead, and muſt be for ever ſo; and therefore you muſt conclude, (1.) That Abraham's Soul exiſts and acts in a State of Separation from the Body. (2.) That therefore ſome time or other the Body muſt riſe again, for there is ſuch an innate Inclination in a human Soul towards its Body, as would make a total and everlaſting Separation inconſiſtent with the Eaſe and Repoſe, much more with the Bliſs and Joy of thoſe Souls, that have the Lord for their God. Upon the whole Matter he concludes, ye therefore do greatly Err. Thoſe that deny the Reſurrection greatly Err, and ought to be told ſo.

28 And one of the Scribes came, and having heard them reaſoning together, and perceiving that he had anſwered them well, asked him, Which is the firſt commandment of all? 29 And Jeſus anſwered him, The firſt of all the commandments is, Hear, O Iſrael, The Lord our God is one Lord; 30 And thou ſhalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy ſoul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy ſtrength: this is the firſt commandment. 31 And the ſecond is like, namely this, Thou ſhalt love thy neighbour as thy ſelf: there is none other commandment greater than theſe. 32 And the Scribe ſaid unto him, Well, Maſter, thou haſt ſaid the truth: for there is one God, and there is none other but he. 33 And to love him with all the heart, and with all the underſtanding, and with all the ſoul, and with all the ſtrength, and to love his neighbour as himſelf, is more than all whole burnt-offerings and ſacrifices. 34 And when Jeſus ſaw that he anſwered diſcreetly, he ſaid unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durſt ask him any queſtion.

The Scribes and Phariſees were (however bad otherwiſe, yet) Enemies to the Sadducees; now one would have expected, that when they heard Chriſt argue ſo well againſt the Sadducees, they ſhould have countenanc'd him, as they did Paul, when he appear'd againſt the Sadducees, Acts 23.9. but it had not that Effect; becauſe he did not fall in with them in the Ceremonials of Religion, his agreeing with them in the Eſſentials, gain'd him no manner of Reſpect with them. Only we have here an Account of one of them, a Scribe, who had ſo much Civility in him as to take notice of Chriſt's Anſwer to the Sadducees, and to own that he had anſwered well, and much to the Purpoſe, v. 28. and we have reaſon to hope he did not join with other the Scribes, in perſecuting Chriſt; for here we have his Application to Chriſt for Inſtruction, and it was ſuch as became him, not tempting Chriſt, but deſiring to improve his Acquaintance with him.

1. He enquir'd Which is the firſt Commandment of all, v. 28. He doth not mean the firſt in Order, but the firſt in Weight and Dignity; which is that Command, which we ought to have in a ſpecial manner an Eye to, and our Obedience to which, will lay a Foundation for our Obedience to all the reſt. Not that any Commandment of God is little, they are all the Commands of a Great God, but ſome are greater than others, Moral Precepts than Rituals, and of ſome we may ſay, they are the greateſt of all.

2. Chriſt gave him a direct Anſwer to this Enquiry, v. 29, 30, 31. Thoſe that ſincerely deſire to be inſtructed concerning their Duty, Chriſt will guide in Judgment, and teach his Way. He tells him,

(1.) That the Great Commandment of all, which is indeed incluſive of all, is, that of loving God with all our Hearts; (1.) Where this is the commanding Principle in the Soul, there is a Diſpoſition to every other Duty. Love is the leading Affection of the Soul, the Love of God is the leading Grace in the renewed Soul. (2.) Where this is not, nothing elſe that's good is done, or not done aright, or not accepted, or not done long. Loving God with all our Heart, will effectually take us off from, and arm us againſt all thoſe Things that are Rivals with him for the Throne in our Souls, and will engage us to every Thing by which he may be honour'd, and with which he will be pleas'd. And no Commandment will be grievous, where this Principle commands, and has the Aſcendant. Now here in Mark, our Saviour prefixeth to this Command, the great Doctrinal Truth upon which it is built, v. 29. Hear, O Iſrael, The Lord our God is one Lord; if we firmly believe this, it will follow, that we ſhall love him with all our Hearts; He is Jehovah, who has all amiable Perfections in himſelf; He is our God, to whom we ſtand related, and oblig'd; and therefore we ought to love him, to ſet our Affections on him, let out our Deſire towards him, and take a Delight in him; and he is one Lord, therefore he muſt be lov'd with our whole Heart; he has the ſole Right to us, and therefore ought to have the ſole Poſſeſſion of us. If he be one, our Hearts muſt be one with him, and ſince there is no God but he, no Rival muſt be admitted with him upon the Throne.

(2.) That the Second great Commandment is, To love our Neighbour as our ſelves, v. 31. as truly and ſincerely as we love our ſelves, and in the ſame Inſtances, and we muſt ſhew it by doing as we would be done by. As we muſt therefore love God better than our ſelves, becauſe he is Jehovah, a Being infinitely better than we are; and muſt love him with all our Heart, becauſe he is one Lord, and there is no other like him; ſo we muſt love our Neighbour as our ſelves, becauſe he is of the ſame Nature with our ſelves; our Hearts are faſhion'd alike, and my Neighbour and my ſelf are of one Body, of one Society, that of the World of Mankind; and if a Fellow Chriſtian, and of the ſame ſacred Society, the Obligation is the ſtronger. Has not one God created us? Mal. 2. 10. Has not one Chriſt redeemed us?—Well might Chriſt ſay, There is no other Commandment greater than theſe; for in theſe all the Law is fulfill'd; and if we make Conſcience of Obedience to theſe, all other Inſtances of Obedience will follow of Courſe.

3. The Scribe conſented to what Chriſt ſaid, and deſcanted upon it, v. 32, 33. (1.) He commends Chriſt's Deciſion of this Queſtion; Well, Maſter, Thou haſt ſaid the Truth. Chriſt's Aſſertions needed not the Scribe's Atteſtations; but this Scribe being a Man in Authority, that it would put ſome Reputation upon what Chriſt ſaid, to have it commended by him; and it ſhall be brought in Evidence againſt thoſe who perſecuted Chriſt as a Deceiver, that one of themſelves, even a Scribe of their own, confeſs'd that he ſaid the Truth, and ſaid it well. And thus muſt we ſubſcribe to Chriſt's Sayings, muſt ſet to our Seal that they are true. (2.) He Comments upon it; Chriſt had quoted that great Doctrine, That the Lord our God is one Lord; and this he not only aſſented to, but added, and there is none other but he; and therefore we muſt have no other God but him. This excludes all Rivals with him, and ſecures the Throne in the Heart intire for him. Chriſt had laid down that great Law of loving God with all our Heart: And this alſo he explains, that 'tis loving him with the Underſtanding, as thoſe that know what abundant Reaſon we have to love him; our Love to God, as it muſt be an intire, ſo it muſt be an intelligent Love: We muſt love him with all the Underſtanding, ἐξ ὅλης τῆς συνέσεως, out of the whole Underſtanding, our rational Powers and Faculties muſt all be ſet on Work to lead out the Affections of our Souls towards God. Chriſt had ſaid, That to love God and our Neighbour is the greateſt Commandment of all, yea, ſaith the Scribe, it is better, it is more than all whole Burnt-Offerings and Sacrifices; more acceptable to God, and will turn to a better Account to our ſelves. There were thoſe who held, That the Law of Sacrifices was the greateſt Commandment of all, but this Scribe readily agreed with our Saviour in this, That the Law of Love to God and our Neighbour is greater than that of Sacrifice, even than that of whole Burnt-Offerings, which were intended purely for the Honour of God.

4. Chriſt approv'd of what he ſaid, and encouraged him to proceed in his Enquiries of him, v. 34. (1.) He own'd that he underſtood himſelf well as far as he went; ſo far, ſo good; Jeſus ſaw that he anſwer'd diſcreetly, and was the more pleas'd with it, becauſe he had of late met with ſo many, even of the Scribes, Men of Letters, that anſwer'd indiſcreetly, not as thoſe that had no Underſtanding, nor deſir'd to have any. He anſwer'd νουνεχῶς, as one that had a Mind, as a rational intelligent Man, as one that had his Wits about him. As one whoſe Reaſon was not blinded, whoſe Judgment was not biaſs'd, and whoſe fore-thought was not fetter'd by the Prejudices, which other Scribes were ſo much under the Power of. He anſwer'd as one that allow'd himſelf Liberty and Leiſure to conſider, and as one that had conſider'd. (2.) He own'd that he ſtood fair for a further advance; Thou art not far from the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of Grace and Glory; thou art in a likely way to be a Chriſtian, a Diſciple of Chriſt. For the Doctrine of Chriſt inſiſts moſt upon theſe Things, and is deſign'd, and has a Tendency direct to bring thee to this. Note, There is hopes of thoſe who make a good uſe of the Light they have, and go as far as that will carry them, that by the Grace of God, they will be led further, by the clearer Diſcoveries God has to make to them. What came of this Scribe we are not told, but would willingly hope that he took the Hint Chriſt hereby gave him, and that having been told by him ſo much to his Satisfaction, what was the great Commandment of the Law, he proceeded to enquire of him, or his Apoſtles, what was the great Commandment of the Goſpel too! yet if he did not, but took up here, and went no further, we are not to think it ſtrange, for there are many who are not far from the Kingdom of God, and yet never come thither. Now one would think, this ſhould have invited many to conſult him; But it had a contrary Effect, no Man after that durſt ask him any Queſtion; every Thing he ſaid was ſpoken with ſuch Authority and Majeſty, that every one ſtood in awe of him; thoſe that deſir'd to learn were aſham'd to ask, and thoſe that deſign'd to cavil were afraid to ask.

35 And Jeſus anſwered and ſaid, while he taught in the temple, How ſay the Scribes that Chriſt is the ſon of David? 36 For David himſelf ſaid by the holy Ghoſt, The Lord ſaid to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footſtool. 37 David therefore himſelf calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his ſon? And the common people heard him gladly. 38 And he ſaid unto them in his doctrine, Beware of the Scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love ſaluta-tions in the market-places, 39 And the chief ſeats in the ſynagogues, and the uppermoſt rooms at feaſts: 40 Which devour widows houſes, and for a pretence make long prayers: theſe ſhall receive greater damnation.

Here, 1: Chriſt ſhews the People, how weak and defective the Scribes were in their Preaching, and how unable to ſolve the Difficulties that occurr'd in the Scriptures of the Old Teſtament, which they undertook to expound. Of this he gives an Inſtance, which is not ſo fully related here, as 'twas in Matthew. Chriſt was teaching in the Temple, and many Things he ſaid which were not written; but Notice is taken of this, becauſe it will ſtir us up to enquire concerning Chriſt, and to enquire of him: For none can have the right Knowledge of him but from himſelf; it is not to be had from the Scribes, for they will ſoon be run a-ground.

1. They told the People, that the Meſſiah was to be the Son of David, v. 35. and they were in the right; he was not only to deſcend from his Loins, but to fill his Throne, Luke 1. 32. The Lord God ſhall give him the Throne of his Father David. The Scripture ſaid it often, but the People took it, as what the Scribes ſaid, whereas the Truths of God ſhould rather be quoted from our Bibles than from our Miniſters; for there's the Original of them; Dulcius ex ipſo fonte bibuntur Aquæ.

2. Yet they could not tell them how, notwithſtanding that it was very proper for David in Spirit, the Spirit of Prophecy, to call him his Lord, as he doth, Pſal. 110. 1. They had taught the People, that concerning the Meſſiah which would be for the Honour of their Nation, that he ſhould be a Branch of their Royal Family; but had not taken Care to teach them, that which was the Honour of the Meſſiah himſelf, that he ſhould be the Son of God, and as ſuch, and not otherwiſe, David's Lord; thus they held the Truth in Unrighteouſneſs, and were Partial in the Goſpel, as well as in the Law of the Old Teſtament. They were able to ſay it, and prove it, That Chriſt was to be David's Son; but if any ſhould object, How then doth David himſelf call him Lord, they would not know how to avoid the force of the Objection. Note, Thoſe are unworthy to ſit in Moſes's Seat, who, tho' they are able to preach the Truth, are not in ſome Meaſure able to defend it, when they have preach'd it, and to convince Gain-ſayers.

Now this gall'd the Scribes, to have their Ignorance thus expos'd, and no doubt incens'd them more againſt Chriſt; but the common People heard him gladly, v. 37. What he preach'd was ſurprizing and affecting, and tho' it reflected upon the Scribes, 'twas inſtructive to them, and they had never heard ſuch Preaching. Probably there was ſomething more than ordinary commanding and charming in his Voice and way of Delivery, which recommended him to the Affections of the common People; for we do not find, that any were wrought upon to believe in him, and to follow him, but he was to them as a lovely Song of one that could play well on an Inſtrument, as Ezekiel was to his Hearers, Ezek. 33. 32. And perhaps ſome of theſe cry'd crucifie him, as Herod heard John Baptiſt gladly, and yet cut off his Head.

2. He cautions the People to take heed of ſuffering themſelves to be impos'd upon by the Scribes, and of being infected with their Pride and Hypocriſie. He ſaid unto them in his Doctrine, Beware of the Scribes, v. 38. ſtand upon your Guard, that you neither imbibe their peculiar Opinions nor the Opinions, of the People concerning them. 'Twas a long Charge drawn up againſt them in the parallel Place, Mat 23. 'tis here contracted.

1. They affect to appear very Great; for they go in long clothing, with Veſtures down to their Feet, and in thoſe they walk about the Streets, as Princes, or Judges, or Gentlemen of the Long Robe. Their going in ſuch Clothing was not ſinful, but their loving to go in it, priding themſelves in it, valuing themſelves by it, commanding Reſpect by it, ſaying to their long Cloaths, as Saul to Samuel, Honour me now before this People; this was a Product of Pride. Chriſt would have his Diſciples go with their Loins girt.

2. They affect to appear very Good; for they pray, they make long Prayers, as if they were very intimate with Heaven, and had a deal of Buſineſs there. They took Care it ſhould be known that they pray'd, that they pray'd long, which ſome think intimates, that they pray'd not for themſelves only, but for others, and therein were very particular and very large; this they did for a Pretence, that they might ſeem to love Prayer, not only for God's ſake, whom thereby they pretended to glorifie; but for their Neighbour's ſake, whom hereby they pretended to be ſerviceable to.

3. They herein aim'd to Advance themſelves; they coveted Applauſe, and were fond of it: they lov'd Salutations in the Market places, and the chief Seats in the Synagogues, and the uppermoſt Rooms at Feaſts, theſe pleas'd a vain Fancy; to have theſe given them, they thought expreſs'd the value they had for them that did know them, and gain'd them Reſpect from thoſe that did not.

4. They herein aim'd to Enrich themſelves. They devour'd Widow's Houſes, made themſelves Maſters of their Eſtates by ſome Trick or other, and it was to ſcreen themſelves from the Suſpicion of Diſhoneſty, that they put on the Maſk of Piety; and that they might not be thought as bad as the worſt, they were ſtudious to ſeem as good as the beſt. Let Fraud and Oppreſſion be thought the worſe of for their having prophan'd and diſgrac'd long Prayers; but let not Prayers, no, nor long Prayers, be thought the worſe of, if made in Humility and Sincerity, for their having been by ſome thus abus'd. But as Iniquity, thus diſguis'd with a ſhew of Piety is double Iniquity, ſo its Doom will be doubly heavy; theſe ſhall receive greater Damnation, greater than thoſe that live without Prayer; greater than they ſhould have receiv'd for the Wrong done to the poor Widows, if it had not been thus diſguis'd. Note, The Damnation of Hypocrites, will be of all other the greateſt Damnation.

41 And Jeſus ſate over againſt the treaſury, and beheld how the people caſt money into the treaſury: and many that were rich caſt in much. 42 And there came a certain poor widow, and ſhe threw in two mites, which make a farthing. 43 And he called unto his diſciples, and ſaith unto them, Verily I ſay unto you, that this poor widow hath caſt more in, than all they which have caſt into the treaſury: 44 For all they did caſt in of their abundance: but ſhe of her want, did caſt in all that ſhe had, even all her living.

This Paſſage of Story was not in Matthew, but is here, and in Luke; 'tis Chriſt's Commendation of the poor Widow, that caſt Two Mites into the Treaſury, which our Saviour, as buſie as he was in Preaching, found Leiſure to take notice of. Obſerve,

1. There was a publick Fund for Charity, into which Contributions were brought, and out of which Diſtributions were made; a Poor's Box, and this in the Temple; for Works of Charity and Works of Piety very fitly go together; where God is honour'd by our Worſhip, 'tis proper he ſhould be honour'd by the Relief of his Poor; and we often find Prayers and Alms in Conjunction, as Acts 20. 1, 2. 'Tis good to erect publickly Receptacles of Charity, for the inviting and directing of private Hands in giving to the Poor; nay, it is good for thoſe who are of Ability to have Funds of their own, to lay by has God as proſpered them, 1 Cor. 16. 2. that they may have ſomething ready to give, when an Object of Charity offers it ſelf, which is before dedicated to ſuch Uſes.

2. Jeſus Chriſt had an Eye upon it. He ſate over againſt the Treaſury, and beheld how the People caſt Money into it; not grudging either that he had none to caſt in, or had not the diſpoſal of that which was caſt in, but obſerving what was caſt in. Note, Our Lord Jeſus takes Notice, what we contribute to pious and charitable Uſes; whether we give liberally, or give ſparingly; whether Chearfully, or with Reluctancy and Ill-will; nay, he looks at the Heart; he obſerves what Principles we act upon, and what our Views are in giving Alms; and whether we do it as unto the Lord, or only to be ſeen of Men.

3. He ſaw many that were Rich caſt in much; and it was a good ſight, to ſee rich People charitable, to ſee many rich People ſo, and to ſee them not only caſt in, but caſt in much; Note, Thoſe that are Rich ought to give richly; if God give abundantly to us, he expects we ſhould give abundantly to the Poor, and it is not enough for thoſe that are rich to ſay, They give as much as others do, who perhaps have much leſs of the World than they have, but they muſt give in Proportion to their Eſtates; and if Objects of Charity do not preſent themſelves that require ſo much, they ought to enquire them out, and to deviſe liberal Things.

4. There was a poor Widow that caſt in Two Mites, which make a Farthing, v. 42. And our Lord Jeſus highly commended her; call'd his Diſciples to him, and bid them take notice of it, v. 43. tells them ſhe could very ill ſpare that which ſhe gave, ſhe had ſcarce enough for her ſelf, it was all her Living, all ſhe had to live upon for that Day, and perhaps a great part of what ſhe had earn'd by her Labour the Day before; and that foraſmuch as he knew, ſhe did it from a truly charitable Diſpoſition, he reckon'd it more than all that put together, which the rich People threw in; for they did caſt in of their abundance, but ſhe of her want, v. 44. Now many would have been ready to cenſure this poor Widow, and to think ſhe did ill; why ſhould ſhe give to others, when ſhe had little enough for her ſelf? Charity begins at home; or, if ſhe would give it, why did ſhe not beſtow it upon ſome poor Body that ſhe knew, what need ſhe bring it to the Treaſury, to be diſpos'd of by the chief Prieſts, who we have reaſon to fear were partial in the Diſpoſal of it. 'Tis ſo rare a Thing to find any that would not blame this Widow, that we cannot expect to find any that will imitate her, and yet our Saviour commends her, and therefore we are ſure ſhe did very well and wiſely; if Chriſt ſaith well-done, no Matter who ſaith otherwiſe; and we muſt from hence learn, (1.) That giving Alms is an excellent good Thing, and highly pleaſing to the Lord Jeſus; and if we be humble and ſincere in it, he will graciouſly accept of it, tho' in ſome Circumſtances there may not be all the Diſcretion in the World. (2.) Thoſe that have but a little, yet ought to give Alms out of their little. Thoſe that live by their Labour, from Hand to Mouth, yet muſt give thoſe that need; Eph. 4. 28. (3.) It is very good for us to ſtraiten and deny our ſelves, that we may be able to give the more to the Poor; not only to deny our ſelves Superfluities, but even Conveniencies for the ſake of Charity; we ſhould in many Caſes pinch our ſelves, that we may ſupply others Neceſſities; this is loving our Neighbours as our ſelves. (4.) Publick Charities ſhould be encouraged, for they bring upon a Nation publick Bleſſings; and tho' there may be ſome Miſmanagement of them, yet that is not a good Reaſon, why he ſhould not bring in our quota to them. (5.) Tho' we can give but a little in Charity, yet if it be according to our Ability, and be given with an upright Heart, it ſhall be accepted of by Chriſt, who requires according to what a Man has, and not according to what he has not; Two Mites ſhall be put upon the Score and brought to Account, if given in a right Manner, as if it had been Two Pounds. (6.) It is much to the Praiſe of Charity, when we give not only to our Power, but beyond our Power, as the Macedonian Churches, whoſe deep Poverty abounded to the riches of their Liberality, 2 Cor. 8. 2, 3. When we can chearfully provide for others, out of our own neceſſary Proviſion, as the Widow of Sarepta for Elijah, and Chriſt for his Five Thouſand Gueſts, and truſt God to provide for us ſome other way, this is Thank-worthy.

CHAP. XIII.

We have here the Subſtance of that Prophetical Sermon, which our Lord Jeſus preached, pointing at the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, and the Conſummation of all Things; it was one of the laſt of his Sermons, and not ad Populum, but ad Clerum; it was Private, preach'd only to Four of his Diſciples, with whom his Secret was. Here's, 1. The Occaſion of his Prediction, his Diſciples admiring the Buildings of the Temple, v. 1, 2. and their Enquiry, concerning the Time of the Deſolation of them, v. 3, 4. 2. The Predictions themſelves, (1.) Of the Riſe of Deceivers, v. 5, 6, 21, 22, 23. (2.) Of the Wars of the Nations, v. 7, 8. (3.) Of the Perſecution of Chriſtians, v. 9,—13. (4.) Of the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, v. 14,—20. (5.) Of the End of the World, v. 24,—27. (3.) Some general Intimations concerning the Time of them, v. 28,—32. (4.) Some practical Inferences from all, v. 33,—37.

AND as he went out of the Temple, one of his diſciples ſaith unto him, Maſter, ſee what manner of ſtones, and what buildings are here. 2 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid unto him, Seeſt thou theſe great buildings? there ſhall not be left one ſtone upon another, that ſhall not be thrown down. 3 And as he ſat upon the mount of Olives, over againſt the Temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew asked him privately; 4 Tell us, when ſhall theſe things be? And what ſhall be the ſign when all theſe things ſhall be fulfilled?

We may here ſee,

1. How apt many of Chriſt's own Diſciples are to idolize Things that look great, and have been long look'd upon as ſacred; they had heard Chriſt complain of thoſe who had made the Temple a Den of Thieves, and yet, when he quitted it for the Wickedneſs that remain'd in it, they court him to be as much in love, as they were, with the ſtately Structure and adorning of it. One of them ſaid to him, Look Maſter, what manner of Stones, and what Buildings are here, v. 1. We never ſaw the like in Galilee; O do not leave this fine Place.

2. How little Chriſt values external Pomp, where there is not real Purity; ſeeſt thou theſe great Buildings, ſaith Chriſt, and thou admireſt them, I tell thee, the Time is at Hand, when there ſhall not be left one Stone upon another, that ſhall not be thrown down, v. 2. And the Sumptuouſneſs of the Fabrick ſhall be no Security to it, no, nor move any Compaſſion in the Lord Jeſus towards it. He looks with Pity upon the Ruin of precious Souls, and weeps over them, for on them he has put a great Value; but we do not find him look with any Pity upon the Ruin of a magnificent Houſe, when he is driven out of it by Sin, for that's of ſmall Value with him. With what little concern doth he ſay, not one Stone ſhall be left on another! Much of the Strength of the Temple lay in the largeneſs of the Stones, and if theſe be thrown down, no Footſtep, no Remembrance of it will remain. While any Part remain'd ſtanding, there might be ſome Hopes of the Repair of it, but what Hope is there, when not one Stone is left upon another.

3. How natural it is to us to deſire to know Things to come, and the Times of them; more inquiſitive we are apt to be about that, than about our Duty. His Diſciples knew not how to digeſt this Doctrine of the Ruin of the Temple, which they thought muſt be their Maſter's Royal Palace, and in which they expected their Preferment, and to have the Poſts of Honour; and therefore were in pain till they got him alone, and got more out of him concerning this Matter. As he was returning to Bethany therefore, he ſat upon the Mount of Olives, over againſt the Temple, where he had a full View of it; and there Four of them agreed to ask him privately, what he meant by the deſtroying of the Temple, which they underſtood no more than they did the Predictions of his own Death, ſo inconſiſtent was it with their Scheme. Probably, tho' theſe Four propos'd the Queſtion, yet Chriſt's Diſcourſe in anſwer to it, was in the hearing of the reſt of the Diſciples, yet privately, i. e. apart from the Multitude. Their Enquiry is, When ſhall theſe Things be? They will not Queſtion, at leaſt not ſeem to Queſtion whether they ſhall be or no, for their Maſter has ſaid they ſhall, but are willing to hope, 'tis a great way off. Yet they ask not preciſely the Day and Year, therein they were modeſt, but tell us, What ſhall be the Sign, when all theſe Things ſhall be fulfill'd? What Preſages ſhall there be of them, and how may we Prognoſticate their Approach?

5 And Jeſus anſwering them, began to ſay, Take heed leſt any man deceive you. 6 For many ſhall come in my name, ſaying, I am Chriſt: and ſhall deceive many. 7 And when ye ſhall hear of wars, and rumors of wars, be ye not troubled: For ſuch things muſt needs be; but the end ſhall not be yet. 8 For nation ſhall riſe againſt nation, and kingdom againſt kingdom: and there ſhall be earthquakes in divers places, and there ſhall be famines and troubles: theſe are the beginnings of ſorrows. 9 But take heed to your ſelves: for they ſhall deliver you up to councils; and in the Synagogues ye ſhall be beaten, and ye ſhall be brought before rulers and kings for my ſake, for a teſtimony againſt them. 10 And the goſpel muſt firſt be publiſhed among all nations. 11 But when they ſhall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought before hand what ye ſhall ſpeak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatſoever ſhall be given you in that hour, that ſpeak ye: for it is not ye that ſpeak, but the holy Ghoſt. 12 Now the brother ſhall betray the brother to death, and the Father the ſon; and children ſhall riſe up againſt their parents, and ſhall cauſe them to be put to death. 13 And ye ſhall be hated of all men for my name's ſake: but he that ſhall endure unto the end, the ſame ſhall be ſaved.

Our Lord Jeſus, in Reply to their Queſtion, ſets himſelf not ſo much to ſatisfie their Curioſity, as to direct their Conſciences: leaves them ſtill in the dark, concerning the Times and Seaſons, which the Father has kept in his own Power, and which it was not for them to know: But gives them the Cautions which were needful, with Reference to the Events that ſhould now ſhortly come to paſs.

1. They muſt take heed, that they be not deceiv'd by the Seducers and Impoſtors that ſhould now ſhortly ariſe, v. 5, 6. Take heed, leſt any Man deceive you, leſt having found the true Meſſiah, you loſe him again in the Crowd of Pretenders; or be inveigled to embrace others in rivalſhip with him. Many ſhall come in my Name, not in the Name of Jeſus, but ſaying, I am Chriſt, and ſo claiming the Dignities which I only am intitled to. After the Jews had rejected the true Chriſt, they were impos'd upon, and ſo expos'd by many falſe Chriſts, but never before; thoſe falſe Chriſts deceiv'd many, therefore take heed leſt they deceive you. Note, When many are deceiv'd, we ſhould thereby be awakened to look to our ſelves.

2. They muſt take heed, that they be not diſturb'd at the noiſe of Wars, which they ſhould be alarm'd with, v. 7, 8. Sin introduc'd Wars, and they come from Mens Luſts. But at ſome times the Nations are more diſtracted and waſted with Wars, than at other times; ſo it ſhall be now. Chriſt was born into the World when there was a general Peace, but ſoon after he went out of the World, there were general Wars; Nation ſhall riſe againſt Nation, and Kingdom againſt Kingdom. And what will become of them then, who are to preach the Goſpel to every Nation? Inter Arma ſilent Leges. But be not troubled at it. (1.) Let it be no Surprize to you, you are bid to expect it, and ſuch Things muſt needs be, for God has appointed them, in Order to the further Accompliſhment of his Purpoſes, and by the Wars of the Jews (which Joſephus has given us a large Account of) God will puniſh the Wickedneſs of the Jews. (2.) Let it be no Terrour to you, as if your Intereſt were in danger of being overthrown, or your work obſtructed, by theſe Wars; you have no Concern in them, and therefore need not be apprehenſive of any Damage by them. Note, Thoſe that deſpiſe the Smiles of the World, and do not court and covet them, may deſpiſe the Frowns of the World, and need not fear them. If we ſeek not to riſe with them that riſe in the World, why ſhould we dread falling with them that fall in the World? (3.) Let it not be look'd upon as an Omen of the approaching Period of the World, for the End is not yet, v. 7. Think not that theſe Wars will bring the World to a Period; no, there are other intermediate Counſels to be fulfill'd betwixt, and the End of all Things, which are deſign'd to prepare you for the End, but not to haſten it out of due Time. (4.) Let it not be look'd upon as if in them God had done his worſt: No, he has more Arrows in his Quiver, and they are ordain'd againſt the Perſecutors; be not troubled at the Wars you ſhall hear of, for they are but the Beginning of Sorrows; and therefore inſtead of being diſturb'd at them, you ought to prepare for worſe; for there ſhall alſo be Earthquakes in divers Places, which ſhall bury Multitudes in the Ruins of their own Houſes; and there ſhall be Famines, by which many of the Poor ſhall periſh for want of Bread; and Troubles and Commotions, ſo that there ſhall be no Peace to him that goes out, or comes in. The World ſhall be be full of Troubles, but be not ye troubled; without are fightings, within are fears, but fear not ye their fear. Note, The Diſciples of Chriſt, if it be not their own Fault, may enjoy a Holy Security and Serenity of Mind, when all about them is in the greateſt Diſorder.

3. They muſt take heed that they be not drawn away from Chriſt, and from their Duty to him by the Sufferings they ſhould meet with for Chriſt's ſake. Again, he ſaith take heed to your ſelves, v. 9. Tho' you may eſcape the Sword of War, better than ſome of your Neighbours, becauſe you Intereſt not your ſelf in the publick Quarrels, yet be not ſecure; you will be expos'd to the Sword of Juſtice more than others, and the Parties that contend with one another will unite againſt you. Take heed therefore leſt you deceive your ſelves with the hopes of outward Proſperity, and ſuch a temporal Kingdom as you have been dreaming of, when 'tis through many Tribulations that you muſt enter into the Kingdom of God. Take heed leſt you needleſly expoſe your ſelves to Trouble, and pull it upon your own Head: Take heed what you ſay and do, for you'll have many Eyes upon you. Obſerve,

1. What the Trouble is they muſt expect.

(1.) They ſhall be hated of all Men; Trouble enough! The Thoughts of being hated, are grievous to a tender Spirit, and the Fruits of that Hatred muſt needs be a conſtant Vexation; thoſe that are Malicious will be Miſchievous. 'Twas not for any Thing amiſs in them, or done amiſs by them, that they were hated, but for Chriſt's Name ſake, becauſe they were called by his Name, called upon his Name, preach'd his Name, and wrought Miracles in his Name. The World hated'em becauſe he lov'd 'em.

(2.) Their own Relations ſhall betray them, thoſe to whom they were moſt nearly ally'd, and on whom therefore they depended for Protection; they ſhall betray you, ſhall inform againſt you, and be your Proſecutors: If a Father has a Child that is a Chriſtian, he ſhall become void of natural Affection, it ſhall all be ſwallow'd up in Bigottry, and he ſhall betray his own Child to the Perſecutors, as if he were a worſhipper of other Gods, Deut. 13. 6.

(3.) Their Church Rulers ſhall inflict their Cenſures upon them. You ſhall be deliver'd up to the great Sanhedrin at Jeruſalem, and to the inferiour Courts and Conſiſtories in other Cities, and ſhall be beaten in the Synagogues with forty Stripes at a time, as Offenders againſt the Law which was read in the Synagogue. 'Tis no new Thing for the Church's Artillery through the Treachery of its Officers to be turn'd againſt ſome of its beſt Friends.

(4.) Governours and Kings ſhall uſe their Power againſt them: Becauſe the Jews have not Power to put them to Death, they ſhall incenſe the Roman Powers againſt them, as they did Herod againſt James and Peter, and they ſhall cauſe you to be put to Death, as Enemies to the Empire. They muſt reſiſt unto Blood, and ſtill reſiſt.

2. What they ſhall have to comfort themſelves with in the midſt of theſe great and ſore Troubles.

1. That the Work they were call'd to ſhould be carry'd on and proſper, notwithſtanding all this Oppoſition they ſhould meet with in it, v. 10. The Goſpel ſhall for all this, be publiſhed among all Nations, and before the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem the ſound of it ſhall go forth into all the Earth; not only through all the Nation of the Jews, but to all the Nations of the Earth. 'Tis Comfort to thoſe who ſuffer for the Goſpel, that tho' they may be cruſh'd, and born down, the Goſpel cannot; it ſhall keep its Ground and carry the Day.

2. That their Sufferings, inſtead of obſtructing their Work ſhould forward it; your being brought before Governours and Kings ſhall be for a Teſtimony to them, ſo ſome read it, v. 9. It ſhall give you an Opportunity of preaching the Goſpel to thoſe before whom you are brought as Criminals, to whom otherwiſe you could not have acceſs. Thus St. Paul's being brought before Felix and Feſtus, and Agrippa, and Nero, was a Teſtimony to them concerning Chriſt and his Goſpel. Or, as we read it, it ſhall be for a Teſtimony againſt them, againſt both the Judges and the Proſecutors, who purſue thoſe with the utmoſt Rage that appear upon Examination to be not only Innocent, but excellent Perſons. The Goſpel is a Teſtimony to us concerning Chriſt and Heaven; if we receive it, it will be a Teſtimony for us, 'twill juſtifie and ſave us; if not, 'twill be a Teſtimony againſt us in the great Day.

3. That when they were brought before Kings and Governours for Chriſt's ſake, they ſhould have ſpecial Aſſiſtance from Heaven, to plead Chriſt's Cauſe and their own, v. 11, Take no thought before hand what you ſhall ſpeak, be not ſollicitous how to addreſs your ſelves to great Men, ſo as to obtain their Favour, your Cauſe is Juſt and Glorious, and needs not to be ſupported by premeditated Speeches and Harangues: But whatſoever ſhall be given you in that Hour, whatſoever ſhall be ſuggeſted to you, and put into your Minds, and into your Mouths, pro re natâ, that ſpeak you, and fear not the Succeſs of it, becauſe it is off Hand, for it is not ye that ſpeak purely by the Strength of your own Wiſdom, Conſideration and Reſolution, but it is the Holy Ghoſt. Note, Thoſe whom Chriſt calls out to be Advocates for him, ſhall be furniſh'd with full Inſtructions: And when we are engag'd in the Service of Chriſt, we may depend upon the Aids of the Spirit of Chriſt.

4. That Heaven at laſt would make amends for all. You will meet with a great deal of Hardſhip in your way, but have a good Heart on it, your Warfare will be accompliſh'd, and your Teſtimony finiſh'd, and he that ſhall endure to the end, the ſame ſhall be ſaved, v. 13. Perſeverance gains the Crown. The Salvation here promis'd is more than a Deliverance from Evil, 'tis an Everlaſting Bleſſedneſs, which will be an abundant Recompence for all their Services and Sufferings. All this we have, Matt. 10. 17. &c.

14 But when ye ſhall ſee the abomination of deſolation ſpoken of by Daniel the prophet, ſtanding where it ought not, (let him that readeth underſtand) then let them that be in Judea, flee to the mountains: 15 And let him that is on the houſe-top, not go down into the houſe, neither enter therein, to take any thing out of his houſe. 16 And let him that is in the field, not turn back again for to take up his garment. 17 But wo to them that are with child, and to them that give ſuck in thoſe days. 18 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter. 19 For in thoſe days ſhall be affliction, ſuch as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created, unto this time, neither ſhall be. 20 And except that the Lord had ſhortned thoſe days, no fleſh ſhould be ſaved: but for the elects ſake whom he hath choſen, he hath ſhortned the days. 21 And then if any man ſhall ſay to you, Lo, here is Chriſt, or lo, he is there: believe him not. 22 For falſe Chriſts, and falſe prophets ſhall riſe, and ſhall ſhew ſigns and wonders, to ſeduce, if it were poſſible, even the elect. 23 But take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.

The Jews in rebelling againſt the Romans, and in perſecuting the Chriſtians, were haſtening their own Ruin apace, both efficiently and meritoriouſly were ſetting both God and Man againſt them, ſee 1 Theſ. 2. 15. Now here we have a Prediction of that Ruin which came upon them, within leſs than forty Years after this: We had it before, Matt. 24. 15, &c. Obſerve,

1. What is here foretold concerning it.

(1.) That the Roman Armies ſhould make a Deſcent upon Judea, and inveſt Jeruſalem, the Holy City. Theſe were the abomination of Deſolation, which the Jews did abominate, and by which they ſhould be made deſolate. The Country of thine Enemy is called the Land which thou abhorreſt, Iſa. 7. 16. Therefore it was an Abomination, becauſe it brought with it nothing but Deſolation. They had rejected Chriſt as an Abomination, who would have been their Salvation, and now God brought upon them an Abomination that would be their Deſolation, thus ſpoken of by Daniel the Prophet, Chap. 9. 27. as that by which this Sacrifice and Offering ſhould be made to ceaſe. This Army ſtood where it ought not, in and about the Holy City, which the Heathen ought not to have approach'd, nor ſhould have been ſuffer'd to do, if Jeruſalem had not firſt profan'd the Crown of their Holineſs. This the Church complains of, Lam. 1. 10. The Heathen enter'd into her Sanctuary, whom thou didſt command that they ſhould not enter into the Congregation; but Sin made the Breach, at which the Glory went out, and the Abomination of Deſolation broke in and ſtood where it ought not. Now, let him that readeth this underſtand it, and endeavour to take it right. Prophecies ſhould not be too plain, and yet intelligible to thoſe that ſearch them; and they are beſt underſtood, by comparing them firſt with one another, and at laſt with the Event.

(2.) That when the Roman Army ſhould come into the Country, there would be no Safety any where but by quitting the Country, and that with all poſſible Expedition; 'twill be in vain to fight, the Enemies will be too hard for them, in vain to abſcond, the Enemies will find them out, and in vain to capitulate, the Enemies will give them no Quarter; a Man cannot have ſo much as his Life given him for a Prey, but by fleeing to the Mountains, out of Judea, and let him take the firſt Alarm, and make the beſt of his way. If he be on the Houſe-top, trying from thence to diſcover the Motions of the Enemy, and ſpies them coming, let him not go down to take any Things out of the Houſe, for it will loſe time, which is more precious than his beſt Goods, and will but encumber him, and embarraſs his Flight; if he be in the Field, and there diſcovers the Approach of the Enemy, let him get away as he is, and not turn back again to take up his Garment, v. 16. If he can ſave his Life, let him reckon it a good Bargain, tho' he can ſave nothing elſe; and be thankful to God, that tho' he is cut ſhort, he is not cut off.

(3.) That it would go very hard at that time with poor Mothers and Nurſes, v. 17. Wo to them that are with Child, that dare not go into ſtrange Places, that cannot ſhift for themſelves, nor make haſte as another can. And wo to them that give ſuck, that know not how either to leave the tender Infants behind them, or to carry them along with them. Such is the Vanity of the Creature, that the Time may often be, when the greateſt Comforts may prove the greateſt Burthens. It would likewiſe be very uncomfortable, if they ſhould be forc'd to flee in the Winter, v. 18. when the Weather and Ways were bad, when the Roads would be ſcarce paſſable, eſpecially in thoſe Mountains to which they muſt flee. If there be no Remedy but that Trouble muſt come, yet we may deſire and pray, That if it be God's Will, the Circumſtances of it may be ſo order'd, as to be a Mitigation of the Trouble; and when Things are bad, we ought to conſider they might have been worſe. 'Tis bad to be forc'd to flee, but it would have been worſe if it had been in the Winter.

(4.) That throughout all the Country of the Jews, there ſhould be ſuch Deſtruction and Deſolation made, as could not be parallell'd in any Hiſtory, v. 19. In thoſe Days ſhall be Affliction, ſuch as was not from the beginning of Time, that is, of the Creation which God created, for Time and Creation are of equal date unto this Day, neither ſhall be to the end of Time. Such a Complication of Miſeries, and of ſuch Continuance. The Deſtruction of Jeruſalem by the Chaldeans was very terrible, but this exceeded it. It threaten'd an univerſal Slaughter of all the People of the Jews, ſo barbarouſly did they devour one another, and the Romans devour them all; that if their Wars had continued a little longer, no Fleſh could have been ſaved, not one Jew could have been left alive; but in the midſt of Wrath, God remember'd Mercy; and, (1.) He ſhorten'd the Days, he let fall his Controverſie before he had made a full end. As a Church and Nation the Ruin was compleat, but many particular Perſons had their Lives gain'd them for a prey, by the Storm taken up when it did. (2.) It was for the Elect's ſake, that thoſe Days were ſhorten'd; many among them fared the better, for the ſake of the few among them that believ'd in Chriſt, and were faithful to him. There was a Promiſe, that a Remnant ſhould be ſav'd, Iſa. 10. 22. and that God would not, for his Servants ſakes deſtroy them all, Iſa. 56. 9. and theſe Promiſes muſt be fulfill'd; God's own Elect cry Day and Night to him, and their Prayers muſt be anſwer'd, Luke 18. 7.

2. What Directions are given to the Diſciples with reference to it.

1. They muſt ſhift for the Safety of their Lives; when you ſee the Country invaded, and the City inveſted, flatter not your ſelves with Thoughts that the Enemy will retire, or that you may be able to make your Part good with them; but without further Deliberation or Delay, let them which be in Judea flee to the Mountains, v. 14. Meddle not with Strife that belongs not to you; let the Potſherds ſtrive with the Potſherds of the Earth, but do you go out to the Ship when you ſee it ſinking, that you die not the Death of the uncircumciſed in Heart.

2. They muſt provide for the Safety of their Souls; Seducers will be buſie at that time, for they love to fiſh in troubled Waters, and therefore then you muſt double your Guard: then if any Man ſhall ſay unto you, Lo, here is Chriſt, or, Lo, he is here, you know he is in Heaven, and will come again at the end of Time to judge the World, and therefore believe them not; having receiv'd Chriſt, be not drawn into the Snares of any Antichriſt; for falſe Chriſts, and falſe Prophets ſhall ariſe, v. 22. When the Goſpel Kingdom was in the ſetting up, Satan muſter'd all his force to oppoſe it, and made uſe of all his Wiles; and God permitted it for the Trial of the Sincerity of ſome, and the Diſcovery of the Hypocriſie of others, and the Confuſion of thoſe who rejected Chriſt, when he was offered to them. Falſe Chriſts ſhall riſe, and falſe Prophets that ſhall preach them up; or ſuch, as tho' they pretend not to be Chriſts, ſet up for Prophets, and undertake to foretel Things to come, and they ſhall ſhew Signs and lying Wonders; ſo early did the Myſtery of Iniquity begin to work; 2 Theſ. 1. 7. They ſhall ſeduce, if it were poſſible, the very Elect; ſo plauſible ſhall their Pretences be, and ſo induſtrious ſhall they be to impoſe upon People, that they ſhall draw away many that were forward and zealous Profeſſors of Religion, many that were very likely to have perſever'd, for nothing will be effectual to ſecure Men but that Foundation of God which ſtands immoveably ſure, The Lord knows them that are his, who ſhall be preſerv'd when the Faith of ſome is overthrown; 2 Tim. 2. 18, 19. They ſhall ſeduce, if it were poſſible, the very Elect; but it is not poſſible to ſeduce them; the Election ſhall obtain, who-ever are blinded, Rom. 11. 7. But in Conſideration hereof, let the Diſciples be Cautious who they give Credit to, v. 23. But take ye heed, Chriſt knew they were of the Elect, who could not poſſibly be ſeduc'd, and yet he ſaid to them, take heed. An Aſſurance of perſevering, and Cautions againſt Apoſtacy will very well conſiſt. Tho' Chriſt ſaid to them, take heed, it doth not therefore follow, that their Perſeverance was doubtful, for they were kept by the Power of God; and tho' their Perſeverance was ſecur'd, yet it doth not therefore follow, that this Caution was needleſs, becauſe they muſt be kept in the uſe of proper Means: God will keep them, but they muſt keep themſelves. I have foretold you all Things; have foretold you of this Danger, that being forewarn'd, you may be fore-arm'd; I have foretold all Things, which you needed to have foretold to you, and therefore take heed of hearkning to ſuch as pretend to be Prophets, and to foretel more than I have foretold. The ſufficiency of the Scripture is a good Argument againſt liſtning to ſuch as pretend to Inſpiration.

24 But in thoſe days after that Tribulation, the ſun ſhall be darkned, and the moon ſhall not give her light: 25 And the ſtars of heaven ſhall fall, and the powers that are in heaven ſhall be ſhaken. 26 And then ſhall they ſee the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory. 27 And then ſhall he ſend his angels, and ſhall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermoſt part of the earth to the uttermoſt part of heaven.

Theſe Verſes ſeem to point at Chriſt's ſecond coming to judge the World; the Diſciples in their Queſtion, had confounded the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, and the End of the World, Mat. 24. 3. which was built upon a Miſtake, as if the Temple muſt needs ſtand as long as the World ſtands; this Miſtake Chriſt rectifies, and ſhews, that the End of the World, in thoſe Days, thoſe other Days you enquire about, the Day of Chriſt's coming, and the Day of Judgment ſhall be after that Tribulation, and not coincident with it; let thoſe that live to ſee the Jewiſh Nation deſtroy'd, take heed of thinking that becauſe the Son of Man doth not viſibly come in the Clouds then, he will never ſo come; no, he will come after that. And here he foretells,

1. The final Diſſolution of the preſent Frame and Fabrick of the World: even of that Part of it which ſeems leaſt liable to change, even the upper Part; the purer and more refined Part; the Sun ſhall be darken'd, and the Moon ſhall no more give her Light; for they ſhall be quite out ſhone by the Glory of the Son of Man, Iſa. 24, 23. The Stars of Heaven, that from the beginning had kept their Place, and regular Motion, ſhall fall as Leaves in Autumn; and the Powers that are in Heaven, the heavenly Bodies, the fixed Stars, ſhall be ſhaken.

2. The viſible Appearance of the Lord Jeſus, to whom the Judgment of that Day ſhall be committed, v. 26. Then ſhall they ſee the Son of Man coming in the Clouds. Probably over that very Place where he ſate when he ſaid this; for the Clouds are in the lower Region of the Air. He ſhall come with great Power and Glory, ſuch as will be ſuited to the Errand on which he comes. Every Eye ſhall then ſee him.

3. The gathering together of all the Elect to him, v. 27. He ſhall ſend his Angels, and gather together his Elect to him to meet him in the Air, 1 Theſ. 4. 17. They ſhall be fetch'd from one end of the World to the other, ſo that none ſhall be miſſing from that general Aſſembly; they ſhall be fetch'd from the uttermoſt Parts of the Earth, moſt remote from the Place where Chriſt's Tribunal ſhall be ſet, and ſhall be brought to the uttermoſt Part of Heaven; ſo ſure, ſo ſwift, ſo eaſie ſhall their Conveyance be, that there ſhall none of them miſcarry, tho' they were to be brought from the uttermoſt Part of the Earth one way, to the uttermoſt Part of the Heaven another way. A faithful Iſraelite ſhall be carry'd ſafely, tho' it were from the utmoſt border of the Land of Bondage, to the utmoſt border of the Land of Promiſe.

28 Now learn a parable of the fig-tree: when her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that ſummer is near. 29 So ye in like-manner, when ye ſhall ſee theſe things come to paſs, know that it is nigh, even at the doors. 30 Verily I ſay unto you, That this generation ſhall not paſs, till all theſe things be done. 31 Heaven and earth ſhall paſs away: but my words ſhall not paſs away. 32 But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father. 33 Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is. 34 For the Son of man is, as a man taking a far journey, who left his houſe, and gave authority to his ſervants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch. 35 Watch ye therefore, (for ye know not when the maſter of the houſe cometh, at even, or at mid-night, or at the cock-crowing, or in the morning) 36 Leſt coming ſuddenly, he find you ſleeping. 37 And what I ſay unto you, I ſay unto all, Watch.

We have here the Application of this Prophetical Sermon; now learn, to look forward in a right Manner.

1. As to the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, expect it to come very ſhortly; as when the Branch of the Fig-tree becomes ſoft, and the Leaves ſprout forth, ye expect that Summer will come ſhortly, v. 28. When ſecond Cauſes begin to work, you expect their Effects in their proper Order and Time. So when ye ſee theſe Things come to paſs, when you ſee the Jewiſh Nation embroil'd in Wars, diſtracted by falſe Chriſts, and Prophets, and drawing upon them the Diſpleaſure of the Romans, eſpecially when you ſee them perſecuting you for your Maſter's ſake, and thereby ſtanding to what they did, when they put him to Death, and repeating it, and ſo filling up the Meaſure of their Iniquity, then ſay, that their Ruin is nigh, even at the Door, and provide for your ſelves accordingly. The Diſciples themſelves were indeed of all them, except John, taken away from the Evil to come, but the next Generation whom they were to train up would live to ſee it; And by theſe Inſtructions Chriſt left behind him, would be kept from ſharing in it. This Generation that's now riſing up, ſhall not all be worn off before all theſe Things come to paſs, which I have told you of relating to Jeruſalem, and they ſhall begin to take Effect now ſhortly. And as this Deſtruction is near and within Ken, ſo it is ſure: The Decree is gone forth, 'tis a Conſumption determined, Dan. 9. 27. Chriſt doth not ſpeak theſe Things only to frighten them; no, they are the Declarations of God's fixed Purpoſe; Heaven and Earth ſhall paſs away, at the end of Time: But my words ſhall not paſs away, v. 31. not one of theſe Predictions ſhall fail of a punctual Accompliſhment.

2. As to the End of the World, do not enquire when it will come, for it is not a Queſtion fit to be aſk'd, for of that Day, and that Hour, knoweth no Man; 'tis a Thing at a great Diſtance, the exact Time is fix'd in the Council of God, but is not reveal'd by any Word of God, either to Men on Earth, or to Angels in Heaven; the Angels ſhall have timely Notice to prepare to attend in that Day, and it ſhall be publiſh'd when it comes to the Children of Men with ſound of Trumpet; but at preſent Men and Angels are kept in the Dark, concerning the preciſe time of it, that they both attend to their proper Services in the preſent Day. But it follows, neither the Son; but is there any Thing which the Son is ignorant of? We read indeed of a Book which was ſeal'd till the Lamb open'd the Seals, But did not he know what was in it before the Seals were open'd? Was not he conſcious to the writing of it? There were thoſe in the primitive Times who thought from this Text, that there were ſome Things that Chriſt as Man was ignorant of, and from thence were call'd Agnoetæ; they ſaid it was no more abſurd to ſay ſo, than to ſay that his humane Soul ſuffer'd Grief and Fear; and many of the Orthodox Fathers approv'd of this. Some would evade it by ſaying that Chriſt ſpoke this in a Way of prudential Oeconomy, to divert the Diſciples from further Enquiry: But to this one of the Ancients anſwers, That it is not fit to ſpeak too nicely in this Matter, ὐ δεῖ πάνυ ἀκριβολογεῖν, ſo Leontius in Dr. Hammond. "'Tis certain (ſaith Arch-Biſhop Tillotſon) that Chriſt, as God, " could not be ignorant of any Thing; but the Divine Wiſdom " which dwelt in our Saviour did communicate it ſelf to his " human Soul according to the Divine Pleaſure; ſo that his hu- " man Nature might at ſometimes not know ſome Things; there- " fore Chriſt is ſaid to grow in Wiſdom, Luke 2. 52. Which he could " not be ſaid to do, if the human Nature of Chriſt did neceſſarily " know all Things by Vertue of its Union with the Divinity." Dr. Lightfoot explains it thus: Chriſt calls himſelf the Son as Meſſiah. Now the Meſſiah as ſuch was the Father's Servant, Iſa 42. 1. ſent, and deputed by him, and as ſuch a one he refers himſelf often to his Father's Will and Command, and owns he did nothing of himſelf, John 5. 19. and in like Manner he might be ſaid to know nothing of himſelf. The Revelation of Jeſus Chriſt was what God gave unto him, Rev. 1. 1. He thinks therefore we are to diſtinguiſh between thoſe Excellencies and Perfections of his which reſulted from the perſonal Union between the Divine and Human Nature, and thoſe which flow'd from the Anointing of the Spirit; from the former flow'd the infinite Dignity of his Perſon, and his perfect Freedom from all Sin; but from the latter flow'd his Power of working Miracles, and his Fore-knowledge of Things to come: What therefore (ſaith he) were to be reveal'd by him to his Church, he was pleas'd to take, not from the Union of the Human Nature with the Divine, but from the Revelation of the Spirit, by which he yet knew not this. But the Father only knows it; that is, God only, the Deity; for (as Arch-Biſhop Tillotſon explains it) it is not us'd here perſonally in Diſtinction from the Son and the Holy Ghoſt, but as the Father is, Fons & Principium Deitatis.

3. As to both, their Duty is to watch and pray. Therefore the Time is kept a Secret, that we might be engag'd to ſtand always upon our guard, v. 33. Take ye heed of every Thing that would indiſpoſe you for your Maſter's coming, and would render your Accounts perplex'd, and your Spirits ſo too; watch for his coming, that it may not at any Time be a Surprize to you, and pray for that Grace which is neceſſary to qualify you for it, for ye know not when the Time is; and we are concern'd to be ready for that every Day, which may come any Day. This he illuſtrates in the Cloſe by a Parable.

1. Our Maſter is gone away, and left us ſomething in truſt, in charge, which we muſt give account of, v. 34. He is as a Man taking a far Journey, for he is gone to be away a great while, he has left his Houſe on Earth, and left his Servants in their Offices, gave Authority to ſome who were to be Overſeers, and Work to others that were to be Labourers; they that have Authority given them, in that had Work aſſign'd them, for thoſe that have the greateſt Power have the moſt Buſineſs; and to them to whom he gave Work, he gave ſome ſort of Authority to do that Work. And when he took his laſt leave, he appointed the Porter to watch, to be ſure to be ready to open to him at his Return; and in the mean Time to take Care to whom he open'd his Gates, not to Thieves and Robbers, but only to his Maſter's Friends and Servants. Thus our Lord Jeſus, when he aſcended on high, left ſomething for all his Servants to do, expecting they ſhould all do him Service in his Abſence, and be ready to receive him at his Return. All are appointed to work, and ſome authoriz'd to rule.

2. We ought to be always upon our Watch, in Expectation of his Return, v. 35, 36, 37. (1.) Our Lord will come, and will come as the Maſter of the Houſe, to take Account of his Servants, and of their Work, and of the Improvement they have made. (2.) We know not when he will come; and he has very wiſely kept up at uncertainty, that we might be always ready. We know not when he will come, juſt at what preciſe Time; the Maſter of the Houſe perhaps will come at Even, at Nine at Night, or it may be at Midnight, or at Cock-crowing at the Three in the Morning, or perhaps not till Six. This is applicable to his coming to us in particular at our Death, as well as to the general Judgment. Our preſent Life is a Night, a dark Night compar'd with the other Life, we know not in which Watch of the Night our Maſter will come, whether in the Days of Youth, or middle Age, or old Age, but as ſoon as we are born we begin to die; and therefore as ſoon as we are capable of expecting any Thing, we muſt expect Death. (3.) Our great Care muſt be, that whenever our Lord comes he do not find us ſleeping; ſecure in our ſelves, off our guard, indulging our ſelves in Eaſe and Sloth, mindleſs of our Work and Duty, and thoughtleſs of our Lord's coming; ready to ſay he will not come, and unready to meet him. (4.) His coming will indeed be coming ſuddenly, 'twill be a great Surprize and Terror to thoſe that are careleſs and aſleep, 'twill come upon them as a Thief in the Night. (5.) It is therefore the indiſpenſible Duty of all Chriſt's Diſciples to watch, to be awake, and keep awake. What I ſay unto you Four, v. 3. I ſay unto all the Twelve, or rather to you Twelve, I ſay unto all my Diſciples and Followers; what I ſay to you of this Generation, I ſay to all that ſhall believe in me through your Word in every Age, Watch, Watch, expect my ſecond Coming, prepare for it, that you may be found in Peace, without Spot and Blameleſs.

CHAP. XIV.

At this Chapter begins the Account which this Evangeliſt gives of the Death and Sufferings of our Lord Jeſus, which we are all concerned to be acquainted not only with the Hiſtory of, but with the Myſtery of. Here's, (1.) The Plot of the Chief Prieſts and Scribes againſt Chriſt, v. 1, 2. (2.) The Anointing of Chriſt's Head at a Supper in Bethany two Days before his Death, v. 3,—9. (3.) The Contract Judas made with the Chief Prieſts to betray him, v. 10, 11. (4.) Chriſt's eating the Paſſover with his Diſciples, his inſtituting the Lord's Supper, and his Diſcourſe with his Diſciples, at, and after Supper, v. 12,—31. (5.) Chriſt's Agony in the Garden, v. 32,—42. (6.) The betraying of him by Judas, and the apprehending of him by the Chief Prieſt's Agents, v. 43,—52. (7.) His Arraignment before the High Prieſt, his Conviction, and the Indignities done him at that Bar, v. 53,—65. (8.) Peter's denying him, v. 66,—72. Moſt of which Paſſages we had before, Matt. 26.

AFter two days, was the feaſt of the paſſover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief prieſts and the ſcribes ſought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death. 2 But they ſaid, Not on the feaſt-day, leſt there be an uproar of the people. 3 And being in Bethany, in the houſe of Simon the leper, as he ſat at meat, there came a woman, having an alabaſter-Box of ointment of ſpikenard, very precious; and ſhe brake the Box, and poured it on his head. 4 And there were ſome that had indignation within themſelves, and ſaid, Why was this waſte of the ointment made? 5 For it might have been ſold for more than three hundred pence, and have been given to the Poor. And they murmured againſt her. 6 And Jeſus ſaid, Let her alone, why trouble ye her? ſhe hath wrought a good work on me. 7 For ye have the poor with you always, and whenſoever ye will, ye may do them good: but me ye have not always. 8 She hath done what ſhe could: ſhe is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying. 9 Verily I ſay unto you, Whereſoever this goſpel ſhall be preach'd throughout the whole World, this alſo that ſhe hath done ſhall be ſpoken of for a memorial of her. 10 And Judas Iſcariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief prieſts, to betray him unto them. 11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promis'd to give him money. And he ſought how he might conveniently betray him.

We have here Inſtances,

Firſt, Of the Kindneſs of Chriſt's Friends, and the Proviſion made of Reſpects and Honours for him: And ſome Friends he had, even in and about Jeruſalem, that lov'd him, and never thought they could do enough for him, among whom, tho' Iſrael be not gather'd, he is and will be glorious.

1. Here was one Friend that was ſo kind as to invite him to ſup with him, and he was ſo kind as to accept the Invitation, v. 3. Tho' he had a Proſpect of his Death approaching, yet he did not abandon himſelf to a melancholy Retirement from all Company, but convers'd as freely with his Friends as uſual.

2. Here was another Friend that was ſo kind as to anoint his Head with very precious Ointment as he ſat at Meat. This was an extraordinary piece of Reſpect paid him by a good Woman that thought nothing too good to beſtow upon Chriſt, and to do him honour; now the Scripture was fulfill'd, when the King ſits at his Table, my Spikenard ſendeth forth the Smell thereof, Cant. 1. 12. Let us anoint Chriſt as our Beloved, kiſs him with a Kiſs of Affection; and anoint him as our Sovereign, kiſs him with a Kiſs of Allegiance.

Did he pour out his Soul unto Death for us, and ſhall we think any Box of Ointment too precious to pour out upon him? And it is obſervable ſhe took Care to pour it all out upon Chriſt's Head; ſhe brake the Box, ſo we read it; but becauſe it was an Alabaſter Box, not eaſily broken, nor was it neceſſary it ſhould be broken to get out the Ointment; ſome read it ſhe ſhook the Box, or knock'd it to the Ground, to looſen what was in it, that it might be got out the better; or ſhe rubb'd and ſcrap'd out all that ſtuck to the Sides of it. Chriſt muſt be honour'd with all we have, and we muſt not think to keep back any Part of the Price. Do we give him the precious Ointment of our beſt Affections, let him have them all; love him with all the Heart.

Now, 1. There were thoſe that put a worſe Conſtruction upon this than it deſerv'd. They call'd it a Waſte of the Ointment, v. 4. Becauſe they could not have found in their Hearts to put themſelves to ſuch an Expence for the honouring of Chriſt, they thought ſhe was prodigal that did. Note, as the vile Perſon ought not to be call'd liberal, nor the Churl ſaid to be bountiful, Iſa. 32. 5. So the Liberal and Bountiful ought not to be call'd waſteful. They pretended it might have been ſold, and given to the Poor, v. 5. But as a common Piety to the Corban, will not excuſe from a particular Charity to a poor Parent, Chap. 7. 11. ſo a common Charity to the Poor will not excuſe from a particular Act of Piety to the Lord Jeſus. What thy Hand finds to do that is good, do it with thy Might.

2. Our Lord Jeſus put a better Conſtruction upon it than for ought appears was deſign'd. Probably ſhe intended no more but to ſhew the great Honour ſhe had for him before all the Company, and to compleat his Entertainment. But Chriſt makes it to be an Act of great Faith, as well as great Love, v. 8. ſhe is come aforehand to anoint my Body to the Burying, as if ſhe foreſaw that my Reſurrection would prevent her doing it afterwards. This Funeral Rite was a Kind of Preſage of, or Prælludium to his Death approaching. See how Chriſt's Heart was fill'd with the Thoughts of his Death, how every Thing was conſtrued with a Reference to that, and how familiarly he ſpoke of it upon all Occaſions. 'Tis uſual for thoſe who are condemn'd to die to have their Coffins prepar'd, and other Proviſion made for their Funerals, while they are yet alive; and ſo Chriſt accepted this. Chriſt's Death and Burial were the loweſt Steps of his Humiliation, and therefore tho' he chearfully ſubmitted to them, yet he would have ſome Marks of Honour to attend them, which might help to take off the Offence of the Croſs, and be an Intimation how precious in the Sight of the Lord the Death of his Saints is. Chriſt never rode in Triumph into Jeruſalem, but when he came thither to ſuffer, nor had ever his Head anointed but for his Burial.

3. He recommended this Piece of Heroick Piety to the Applauſe of the Church in all Ages. Wherever this Goſpel ſhould be preach'd, it ſhall be ſpoken of for a Memorial of her, v. 9. Note, The Honour which attends well-doing even in this World is ſufficient to balance the Reproach and Contempt that's caſt upon it. The Memory of the Juſt is bleſſed, and they that had Tryal of cruel Mockings, yet obtained a good Report, Heb. 11. 36, 39. Thus was this good Woman repaid for her Box of Ointment, nec oleum perdidit, nec operam; ſhe got it by that good Name which is better than precious Ointment. Thoſe that honour Chriſt he will honour.

Secondly, Of the Malice of Chriſt's Enemies, and the Preparation made by them to do him Miſchief.

1. The Chief Prieſts, his open Enemies, conſulted how they might put him to Death, v. 1, 2. The Feaſt of the Paſſover was now at Hand, and at that Feaſt he muſt be crucified. (1.) That his Death and Sufferings might be the more publick, and that all Iſrael, even thoſe of the Diſperſion, who came from all Parts to the Feaſt, might be Witneſſes of it, and of the Wonders that attended it. (2.) That the Anti-Type might anſwer the Type. Chriſt our Paſſover was ſacrific'd for us, and brought us out of the Houſe of Bondage, at the ſame Time that the Paſchal Lamb was ſacrific'd, and Iſrael's Deliverance out of Egypt was commemorated.

Now ſee, (1.) How ſpiteful Chriſt's Enemies were, they did not think it enough to baniſh or impriſon him, for they aim'd not only to ſilence him and ſtop his Progreſs for the future, but to be reveng'd on him for all the Good he had done. (2.) How Subtil they were: Not on the Feaſt-Day, when the People are together, they do not ſay, leſt they ſhould be diſturb'd in their Devotions, and diverted from them, but leſt there ſhould be an uproar, v. 2. leſt they ſhould riſe and reſcue him, and fall foul upon thoſe that attempt any Thing againſt him. They who deſir'd nothing more than the Praiſe of Men, dreaded nothing more than the Rage and Diſpleaſure of Men.

2. Judas, his diſguis'd Enemy, contracted with them for the betraying of him, v. 10, 11. He is ſaid to be one of the Twelve, that were Chriſt's Family, intimate with him, train'd up for the Service of his Kingdom, and he went to the chief Prieſts to tender his Service in this Affair.

1. That which he propos'd to them was to betray Chriſt to them; to give them Notice when and where they might find him, and ſeize him without making an Uproar among the People, which they were afraid of, if they ſhould ſeize him when he appear'd in Publick, in the Midſt of his Admirers. Did he know then what help it was they wanted, and where they were run a ground in their Councils? It's like he did not, for the Debate was held in their cloſe Cabal. Did they know that he had a Mind to ſerve them and make court to him? No, they could not imagine that any of his Intimates ſhould be ſo baſe; but Satan who was enter'd into Judas knew what Occaſion they had for him, and could guide him to be Guide to them, who were contriving to take Jeſus. Note, The Spirit that works in all the Children of Diſobedience, knows how to bring them in to the Aſſiſtance of one another in a wicked Project, and then to harden them in it, with the Fancy that Providence favours them.

2. That which he propos'd to himſelf was, to get Money by the Bargain; he had what he aim'd at when they promis'd to give him Money. Covetouſneſs was Judas's Maſter Luſt, his own Iniquity, and that betray'd him to the Sin of betraying his Maſter; the Devil ſuited his Temptation to that, and ſo conquer'd him; 'tis not ſaid they promis'd him Preferment, he was not ambitious of that, but they promis'd him Money. See what need we have to double our Guard againſt the Sin that moſt eaſily beſets us. Perhaps it was Judas's Covetouſneſs that brought him at firſt to follow Chriſt, having a Promiſe that he ſhould be Caſh-Keeper or Purſer to the Society, and he lov'd in his Heart to be fingering Money; and now there was Money to be got on t'other Side, he was as ready to betray him, as ever he had been to follow him. Note, Where the Principle of Mens Profeſſion of Religion is carnal and worldly, and the ſerving of a ſecular Intereſt, the very ſame Principle, whenever the Wind turns, will be the bitter Root of a vile and ſcandalous Apoſtacy.

3. Having ſecur'd the Money, he ſet himſelf to make good his Bargain. He ſought how he might conveniently betray him, how he might ſeaſonably deliver him up, ſo as to anſwer the Intention of thoſe who had hired him. See what need we have to be careful that we do not enſnare our ſelves in ſinful Engagements: If at any Time we be ſo enſnar'd in the Words of our Mouths, we are concern'd to deliver our ſelves by a ſpeedy Retreat, Prov 6. 1—5. It is a Rule in our Law, as well as in our Religion, that an Obligation to do an evil Thing is null and void; it binds to Repentance, not to Performance. See how the Way of Sin is down-hill, when Men are in they muſt on; and what wicked Contrivances many have in their ſinful Purſuits, to compaſs their Deſigns conveniently; but ſuch Conveniencies will prove Miſchiefs in the End.

12 And the firſt day of unleavened bread, when they killed the paſſover, his diſciples ſaid unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayeſt eat the paſſover? 13 And he ſendeth forth two of his diſciples, and ſaith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there ſhall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him. 14 And whereſoever
he ſhall go in, ſay ye to the good man of the houſe,
The maſter ſaith, Where is the gueſt-chamber, where I ſhall eat the paſſover with my diſciples? 15 And he will ſhew you a large upper room furniſhed and prepared: there make ready for us. 16 And his diſciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had ſaid unto them: and they made ready the paſſover. 17 And in the evening he cometh with the twelve. 18 And as they ſat, and did eat, Jeſus ſaid, Verily I ſay unto you, one of you that eateth with me, ſhall betray me. 19 And they began to be ſorrowful, and to ſay unto him one by one, Is it
I? and another ſaid, Is it I? 20 And he anſwered and ſaid unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me in the diſh. 21 The ſon of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but wo to that man by whom the ſon of man is betrayed: good were it for that man if he had never been born.
22 And as they did eat, Jeſus took bread, and bleſſed, and brake it, and gave to them, and ſaid, Take, eat: this is my body. 23 And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them:
and they all drank of it. 24 And he ſaid unto them,
This is my blood of the New Teſtament, which is ſhed for many. 25 Verily I ſay unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God. 26 And when they had ſung an hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives. 27 And Jeſus ſaith unto them, All ye ſhall be offended becauſe of me this night:
for it is written, I will ſmite the ſhepherd, and the ſheep ſhall be ſcattered. 28 But after that I am riſen, I will go before you into Galilee. 29 But Peter ſaid unto him, Although all ſhall be offended, yet will not I. 30 And Jeſus ſaith unto him, Verily
I ſay unto thee, that this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou ſhalt deny me thrice.

31 But he ſpake the more vehemently, If I ſhould die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wiſe. Likewiſe alſo ſaid they all.

In theſe Verſes we have,

Firſt, Chriſt's eating the Paſſover with his Diſciples, the Night before he dy'd, with the Joys and Comforts of which Ordinance he prepar'd himſelf for his approaching Sorrows; the full Proſpect of which did not indiſpoſe him for that Solemnity. Note, No Apprehenſion of Trouble, come or coming, ſhould put us by, or put us out of Frame for our Attendance on Holy Ordinances, as we have Opportunity for it.

1. Chriſt eat the Paſſover at the uſual Time, when the other Jews did, as Dr. Whitby has fully made out, and not as Dr. Hammond would have it the Night before. It was on the firſt Day of that Feaſt, which (taking in all the Eight Days of the Feaſt) was call'd The Feaſt of unleavened Bread, even that Day when they killed the Paſſover, v. 12.

2. He directed his Diſciples how to find the Place where he intended to eat the Paſſover; and hereby gave ſuch another Proof of his infallible Knowledge of Things diſtant and future, which to us ſeem altogether contingent, as he had given when he ſent them for the Aſs on which he rode in Triumph, Chap. 11. 6. Go into the City (for the Paſſover muſt be eaten in Jeruſalem) and there ſhall meet you a Man bearing a Pitcher of Water, a Servant ſent for Water to clean the Rooms in his Maſter's Houſe, follow him, go in where he goes, enquire for his Maſter, the good Man of the Houſe, v. 14. and deſire him to ſhew you a Room; no doubt the Inhabitants of Jeruſalem had Rooms fitted up to be let out for this Occaſion to thoſe that came up out of the Country to keep the Paſſover, and one of thoſe Chriſt made uſe of; not any Friend's Houſe, nor any Houſe he had formerly frequented, for then he would have ſaid, go to ſuch a Friend, or you know where we us'd to be, go thither and prepare: Probably he went where he was not known, that he might be undiſturb'd with his Diſciples. Perhaps he notify'd it by a Sign to conceal it from Judas, that he might not know till he came to the Place; and by ſuch a Sign to intimate that he will dwell in the clean Heart, that's waſhed as with pure Water. Where he deſigns to come, a Pitcher of Water muſt go before him. See Iſa. 1. 16, 17, 18.

3. He eat the Paſſover in an upper Room furniſhed, ἐςρωμένον, laid with Carpets. So Dr. Hammond; it would ſeem to have been a very handſome dining Room; Chriſt was far from affecting any Thing that look'd ſtately in eating his common Meals; on the contrary, he choſe that which was homely, ſat down on the Graſs; but when he was to keep a ſacred Feaſt, in Honour of that, he would be at the Expence of as good a Room as he could get. God looks not at outward Pomp, but he looks at the Tokens and Expreſſions of inward Reverence for a Divine Inſtitution, which 'tis to be fear'd thoſe want, who, to ſave Charges, deny themſelves Decencies in the Worſhip of God.

4. He eat it with the Twelve, who were his Family, to teach thoſe who have the Charge of Families, not only Families of Children, but Families of Servants, or Families of Scholars or Pupils, to keep up Religion among them, and worſhip God with them. If Chriſt came with the Twelve, then Judas was with them, tho' he was at this Time contriving to betray his Maſter, and 'tis plain by what follows, v. 20. that he was there: He did not abſent himſelf, leſt he ſhould have been ſuſpected; had his Seat been empty at this Feaſt, they would have ſaid as Saul of David, He is not clean, ſurely he is not clean, 1 Sam. 20. 26. Hypocrites tho' they know it is at their Peril, yet crowd into ſpecial Ordinances, to keep up their Repute, and palliate their ſecret Wickedneſs. Chriſt did not exclude him from the Feaſt, tho' he knew his Wickedneſs, for it was not as yet become publick and ſcandalous; Chriſt deſigning to put the Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven into the Hands of Men, who can but judge according to outward Appearance; he would hereby both direct and encourage them in their Admiſſions to his Table to be ſatisfy'd with a juſtifiable Profeſſion, becauſe they cannot diſcern the Root of Bitterneſs till it ſprings up.

Secondly, Chriſt's Diſcourſe with his Diſciples as they were eating the Paſſover. 'Tis likely they had Diſcourſe, according to the Cuſtom of the Feaſt, of the Deliverance of Iſrael out of Egypt, and the Preſervation of the Firſt-born, and were as pleaſant as they us'd to be together on this Occaſion, till Chriſt told them that which would mix Trembling with their Joys.

1. They were pleaſing themſelves with the Society of their Maſter; but he tells them they muſt now preſently loſe him; The Son of Man is betray'd, and they knew, for he had often told them, what followed; If he be betray'd, the next News you'll hear of him is, that he is crucified and ſlain; God hath determin'd it concerning him, and he agrees to it, The Son of Man goes, as it is written of him, v. 21. 'Twas written in the Counſels of God, and written in the Prophecies of the Old Teſtament, not one Jot or Tittle of either of which can fall to the Ground.

2. They were pleaſing themſelves with the Society one of another, but Chriſt caſts a Damp upon the Joy of that by telling them, One of you that eateth with me ſhall betray me, v. 18. Chriſt ſaid this, if it might be to ſtartle the Conſcience of Judas, and to awaken him to repent of his Wickedneſs, and to draw back (for it was not yet too late) from the Brink of the Pit. But for ought appears, he who was moſt concern'd in the Warning, was leaſt concern'd at it. All the reſt were affected with it. (2.) They began to be ſorrowful. As the Remembrance of our former Falls into Sin, ſo the Fear of the like again, doth oftentimes much embitter the Comfort of our ſpiritual Feaſts, and damp our Joy. Here were the bitter Herbs with which this Paſſover Feaſt was taken. (2.) They began to be ſuſpicious of themſelves; they ſaid one by one, Is it I? And another ſaid, Is it I? They are to be commended for their Charity, that they were more jealous of themſelves than of one another. 'Tis the Law of Charity to hope the beſt, 1 Cor. 13. 5, 7. Becauſe we aſſuredly know, therefore we may juſtly ſuſpect more Evil by our ſelves than by our Brethren. They are alſo to be commended for their Acquieſcence in what Chriſt ſaid; they truſted more to his Words than to their own Hearts; and therefore do not ſay, I am ſure it is not I, but, Lord, Is it I? See if there be ſuch a Way of Wickedneſs in us, ſuch a Root of Bitterneſs, and diſcover it to us, that we may pluck up that Root, and ſtop up that Way.

Now in Anſwer to their Enquiry, Chriſt ſaith that (1.) which would make them eaſy; 'tis not you, nor you; 'Tis this Man that now dips with me in the Diſh, the Adverſary and Enemy is this wicked Judas. (2.) Which one would think ſhould make Judas very uneaſy. If he go on in his Undertaking, 'tis upon the Sword's Point, for Wo to that Man by whom the Son of Man is betray'd; He is undone, for ever undone; his Sin will ſoon find him out; and it were better for him he had never been born, had never had a Being, than ſuch a miſerable one as he muſt have. 'Tis very probable Judas encourag'd himſelf in it with this Thought, that his Maſter had often ſaid he muſt be betray'd, and if it muſt be done, ſurely God will not find Fault with him that doth it, for who has reſiſted his Will? as that Objector argues, Rom. 9. 19. But Chriſt tells him, this will be no Shelter or Excuſe to him; The Son of Man indeed goes, as it is written of him, as a Lamb to the Slaughter, but wo to that Man by whom he is betray'd. God's Decrees, to permit the Sins of Men and bring Glory to himſelf out of them, do neither neceſſitate their Sins, nor determine to them, nor will they be any Excuſe of the Sin or Mitigation of the Puniſhment. Chriſt was deliver'd indeed by the determinate Council and Fore-knowledge of God; but notwithſtanding that, 'tis with wicked Hands that he is crucified and ſlain; Acts 2. 23.

Thirdly, The Inſtitution of the Lord's Supper.

1. It was inſtituted in the Cloſe of a Supper, when they were ſufficiently fed with the Paſchal Lamb, to ſhew that in the Lord's Supper there is no bodily Repaſt intended; to preface it with ſuch a Thing, is to revive Moſes again.' But it is Food for the Soul only, and therefore a very little of that which is for the Body, as much as will ſerve for a Sign, is enough, 'Twas at the Cloſe of the Paſſover Supper, which by this was evangeliz'd, and then ſuperſeded and ſet aſide. Much of the Doctrine and Duty of the Euchariſt is illuſtrated to us by the Law of the Paſſover, Exod. 12. For the Old Teſtament Inſtitutions, tho' they do not bind us, yet inſtruct us, by the Help of a Goſpel Key to them. And theſe Two Ordinances lying here ſo near together, it may be good to compare them, and obſerve how much ſhorter and plainer the Inſtitution of the Lord's Supper is, than that of the Paſſover was: Chriſt's Yoke is eaſie in Compariſon with that of the Ceremonial Law, and his Ordinances more ſpiritual.

2. It was inſtituted by the Example of Chriſt himſelf; not with the Ceremony and Solemnity of a Law, as the Ordinance of Baptiſm was after Chriſt's Reſurrection, Matt. 28. 19. with, Be it enacted by the Authority aforeſaid, by a Power given to Chriſt in Heaven and on Earth, v. 18. But by the Practice of our Maſter himſelf, becauſe intended for thoſe who are already his Diſciples, and taken into Covenant with him: But it has the Obligation of a Law, and was intended to remain in full Force, Power and Virtue, till his ſecond Coming.

3. It was inſtituted with Bleſſing and giving of Thanks; the Gifts of common Providence are to be ſo receiv'd, 1 Tim. 4. 4, 5. much more the Gifts of ſpecial Grace. He bleſſed, v. 22. and gave Thanks, v. 23. At his other Meals he was wont to bleſs and give Thanks, Mark 6. 41. 8. 7. ſo remarkably, that he was known by it, Luke 24. 30, 31. And he did the ſame at this Meal.

4. It was inſtituted to be a Memorial of his Death; and therefore he broke the Bread, to ſhew how it pleas'd the Lord to bruiſe him: And he call'd the Wine, which is the Blood of the Grape, the Blood of the New Teſtament. The Death Chriſt dy'd, was a bloody Death, and frequent mention is made of the Blood, the precious Blood, as the Price of our Redemption; for the Blood is the Life, and made Atonement for the Soul, Lev. 17. 11, 14. The pouring out of the Blood was the moſt ſenſible Indication of the pouring out of his Soul, Iſa. 53. 12. Blood has a Voice, Gen. 4. 10. and therefore the Blood is ſo often mention'd becauſe it was to ſpeak, Heb. 12. 24. 'Tis call'd the Blood of the New Teſtament, for the Covenant of Grace became a Teſtament, and of Force by the Death of Chriſt the Teſtator, Heb. 9. 16. 'Tis ſaid to be ſhed for many, to juſtify many, Iſa. 53. 12. To bring many Sons to Glory, Heb. 2. 10. It was ſufficient for many, being of infinite Value; it has been of uſe to many; we read of a great Multitude which no Man could number, that had all waſhed their Robes, and made them white in the Blood of the Lamb, Rev. 7. 9, 14. And ſtill it is a Fountain open'd. How comfortable is this to poor repenting Sinners, that the Blood of Chriſt is ſhed for many, and if for many, why not for me? If for Sinners, Sinners of the Gentiles, the chief of Sinners, then why not for me?

5. It was inſtituted to be a Ratification of the Covenant made with us in him, and a Sign of the Conveyance of thoſe Benefits to us, which were purchas'd for us by his Death: And therefore he broke the Bread to them, v. 22. and ſaid, Take, Eat of it; He gave the Cup to them, and order'd them to drink of it, v. 23. Apply the Doctrine of Chriſt crucified to your ſelves, and let it be Meat and Drink to your Souls, ſtrengthening, and nouriſhing, and refreſhing to you, and the Support and Comfort of your Spiritual Life.

6. It was inſtituted with an Eye to the Happineſs of Heaven, and to be an Earneſt and Fore-taſte of that, and thereby to put our Mouths out of taſte to all the Pleaſures and Delights of Senſe, v. 25. I will drink no more of the Fruit of the Vine, as it is a bodily Refreſhment: I have done with it, no one having taſted Spiritual Delights, ſtraightway deſires ſenſitive Ones, for he ſaith, the Spiritual is better, Luke 5.39. But every one that hath taſted ſpiritual Delights, ſtraightway deſires eternal Ones, for he ſaith thoſe are better ſtill; and therefore let me drink no more of the Fruit of the Vine, 'tis dead and flat to thoſe that have been made to drink of the River of God's Pleaſures; but Lord haſten the Day, when I ſhall drink it new and freſh in the Kingdom of God, where it ſhall be for ever new, and in Perfection.

7. It was cloſ'd with a Hymn, v. 26. Tho' Chriſt was in the midſt of his Enemies yet he did not for fear of them baulk this ſweet Duty of ſinging Pſalms. Paul and Silas ſung, when the Priſoners heard them. This was an Evangelical Song, and Goſpel Times are often ſpoken of in the Old Teſtament, as Times of Rejoycing and Praiſe expreſs'd by ſinging. This was Chriſt's Swan-like Song, which he ſung juſt before he enter'd upon his Agony; probably that which was uſually ſung, Pſalm 114, to Pſalm 119.

Fourthly, Chriſt's Diſcourſe with his Diſciples as they were returning to Bethany, by Moon-light. When they had ſung the Hymn preſently they went out. It was now pretty near Bed-time, but our Lord Jeſus had his Heart ſo much upon his Suffering, that he would not come into the Tabernacle of his Houſe, nor go up into his Bed, nor give ſleep to his Eyes, when that work was to be done, Pſalm 132. 3, 4. The Iſraelites were forbidden to go out of their Houſes that Night that they eat the Paſſover, for fear of the Sword of the deſtroying Angel, Exod. 12. 22, 23. But becauſe Chriſt the great Shepherd was to be ſmitten, he went out purpoſely to expoſe himſelf to the Sword as a Champion; they evaded the Deſtroyer, but Chriſt conquer'd him, and brought Deſtructions to a perpetual End.

1. Chriſt here foretells, that in his Sufferings he ſhould be deſerted by all his Diſciples. You will all be offended becauſe of me this Night. I know you will, v. 27. and what I tell you now, is no other but what the Scripture has told you before, I will ſmite the Shepherd, and then the Sheep will be ſcatter'd. Chriſt knew this before, and yet welcom'd them at his Table; he foreſees the Falls and Miſcarriages of his Diſciples, and yet doth not refuſe them. Nor ſhould we be diſcourag'd from coming to the Lord's-Supper, by the fear of relapſing into Sin afterward; but the greater our Danger is, the more need we have to fortifie our ſelves by the diligent conſcientious Uſe of Holy Ordinances. Chriſt tells them, they would be offended in him, would begin to Queſtion, Whether he were the Meſſiah or no, when they ſaw him over-power'd by his Enemies. Hitherto they had continued with him in his Temptations, tho' they had ſometimes offended him, yet they had not been offended in him, nor turn'd the back upon him: But now the Storm would be ſo Great, that they would all ſlip their Anchors, and be in danger of Shipwrack. Some Trials are more particular, as Rev. 2. 10. The Devil ſhall caſt ſome of you into Priſon, but others are more general, an Hour of Temptation, which ſhall come upon all the World, Rev. 3, 10. The ſmiting of the Shepherd, is often the ſcattering of the Sheep: Magiſtrates, Miniſters, Maſters, of Families, if theſe are as they ſhould be Shepherds to thoſe under their Charge, when any Thing comes amiſs to them, the whole Flocks ſuffers for it, and is endanger'd by it.

But Chriſt encourages them with a Promiſe that they ſhall rally again, ſhall return both to their Duty, and to their Comfort; v. 28. After I am riſen, I will gather you in from all the Places whither you are ſcatter'd, Ezek. 34. 12. And will go before you into Galilee, will ſee our Friends, and enjoy one another there.

2. He foretells, that he ſhould be deny'd particularly by Peter. When they went out to go to the Mount of Olives, we may ſuppoſe they dropt Judas, he ſtole away from them, whereupon the reſt began to think highly of themſelves, that they ſtuck to their Maſter when Judas quitted him. But Chriſt tells them that tho' they ſhould be kept by his Grace from Judas's Apoſtacy, yet they would have no Reaſon to boaſt of their Conſtancy. Note, Tho' God keep us from being as bad as the worſt, yet we may well be aſham'd to think that we are not better than we are.

1. Peter is confident, that he ſhould not do ſo ill as the reſt of the Diſciples, v. 29. Tho' all ſhould be offended, all his Brethren here preſent, yet will not I. He ſuppoſeth himſelf not only ſtronger than others, but ſo much ſtronger as to be able to receive the ſhock of a Temptation, and bear up againſt it, all alone; to ſtand tho' no Body ſtood by him; it's bred in the Bone with us to think well of our ſelves, and truſt to our own Hearts.

2. Chriſt tells them, he will do worſe than any of them: They will all deſert him but he will deny him; not once, but thrice; and that preſently; this Day, even this Night before the Cock crow'd twice, thou wilt deny that ever thou hadſt any Knowledge of me, or Acquaintance with me, as one aſham'd and afraid to own me.

3. He ſtands to his Promiſe; If I ſhould die with thee, I will not deny thee. I'll ſtick to thee, tho' it coſt me my Life, and no doubt he thought as he ſaid. Judas ſaid nothing like this, when Chriſt told him he would betray him. He ſinn'd by Contrivance. Peter by ſurprize; He deviſ'd the Wickedneſs, (Mic. 2. 1.) Peter was overtaken in this Fault, Gal. 6. 1. 'Twas ill done of Peter to contradict his Maſter, if he had ſaid with fear and trembling, Lord give me Grace to keep me from denying thee, lead me not into this Temptation, deliver me from this Evil, it might have been prevented: But they were all thus confident; they who ſaid, Lord, is it I? Now ſaid, It ſhall never be I. Being acquitted from their Fear of betraying Chriſt, they were now ſecure. But he that thinks he ſtands, muſt learn to take heed leſt he fall; and he that girdeth on the Harneſs, not boaſt as tho' he had put it off.

32 And they came to a place which was named Gethſemane: and he ſaith to his diſciples, Sit ye here while I ſhall pray. 33 And he taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and began to be ſore amazed, and to be very heavy, 34 And ſaith unto them, My ſoul is exceeding ſorrowful unto death: tarry ye here and watch, 35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed, that if it were poſſible the hour might paſs from him. 36 And he ſaid, Abba, Father, all Things are poſſible unto thee, take away this Cup from me: Neverthèleſs, not what I will, but what thou wilt. 37 And he cometh and findeth them ſleeping, and ſaith unto Peter, Simon, ſleepeſt thou? couldſt not thou watch one hour? 38 Watch ye, and pray, leſt ye enter into temptation: the ſpirit truly is ready, but the fleſh is weak. 39 And again he went away and prayed, and ſpake the ſame words. 40 And when he returned, he found them aſleep again (for their eyes were heavy) neither wiſt they what to anſwer him. 41 And he cometh the third time, and ſaith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your reſt: it is enough, the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of ſinners. 42 Riſe up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

Chriſt is here entring upon his Sufferings, and begins with theſe which were the ſoreſt of all his Sufferings in his Soul. Here we have him in his Agony; this Melancholy Story we had in Matthew; this Agony in Soul was the Wormwood and the Gall in the Affliction and Miſery; and thereby it appear'd no Sorrow was forc'd upon him, but 'twas what he freely admitted.

1. He retired for Prayer. Sit ye here (ſaith he to his Diſciples) while I go a little further, and pray. He had lately pray'd with them, John 17. and now he appoints them to withdraw, while he goes to his Father, upon an Errand peculiar to himſelf. Note, Our Praying with our Families, will not excuſe our neglect of ſecret Worſhip. When Jacob enter'd into his Agony, he firſt ſent over all that he had, and was left alone, and then there wreſtled a Man with him, Gen. 32. 23, 24. tho' he had been at Prayer before, v. 9. 'tis likely with his Family.

2. Even into that Retirement, he took with him Peter and James and John, v. 33. Three Competent Witneſſes of this Part of his Humiliation, and tho' great Spirits care not how few knew any Thing of their Agonies, he was not aſham'd they ſhould ſee. Theſe Three had bragg'd moſt of their Ability and Willingneſs to ſuffer with him, Peter here in this Chapter, and James and John, Chap. 10. 39. and therefore Chriſt takes them to ſtand by, and ſee what a ſtruggle he had with the bloody Baptiſm, and the bitter Cup, to convince them they knew not what they ſaid. 'Tis fit that they who are moſt confident ſhould be firſt tried, that they may be made ſenſible of their Folly and Weakneſs.

3. There he was in a mighty Toſs, v. 33. He began to be ſore amaz'd, ἐκθαμβεῖσθαι, a Word not us'd in Matthew, but very ſignificant; it ſpeaks ſomething like that horrour of great Darkneſs, which fell upon Abraham, Gen. 15. 12. or rather, ſomething much worſe, and more frightful. The Terrours of God ſet themſelves in array againſt him, and he allow'd himſelf the actual and intent Contemplation of them. Never was Sorrow like unto his at that Time; never any had ſuch Experience, as he had had from Eternity of Divine Favours, and therefore never any had, or could have ſuch a Senſe as he had of Divine Favours. Yet there was not the leaſt Diſorder or Irregularity in this Commotion of his Spirits; his Affections roſe not tumultuouſly, but under Direction, and as they were call'd up, for he had no corrupt Nature to mix with them, as we have. If Water have a Sediment at the Bottom, tho' it may be pretty clear while it ſtands ſtill, yet ſhake it, and it goes muddy, ſo it is with our Affections; but pure Water in a clean Glaſs, tho' never ſo much ſtirr'd continues clear, and ſo it was with Chriſt. Dr. Lightfoot thinks it very probable, that the Devil did now appear to our Saviour in a viſible Shape, in his own Shape and proper Colour to terrrifie and affright him, and to drive him from his Hope in God, (which he aim'd at in perſecuting Job, a Type of Chriſt, to make him Curſe God and die) and to deter him from the further Proſecution of his Undertaking; and whatever hinder'd him from that, he look'd upon as coming from Satan, Matt. 16. 23. When the Devil had tempted him in the Wilderneſs, 'tis ſaid he departed from him for a Seaſon, Luke 4. 3. intending another grapple with him, and in another way; finding that he could not by his Flatteries allure him into Sin, he would try by his Terrors to affright him into it, and ſo make void his Deſign.

4. He made a ſad Complaint of this Toſs he was in. He ſaid, My Soul is exceeding ſorrowful. (1.) He was made Sin for us, and therefore was thus ſorrowful; He fully knew the Malignity of the Sins he was to ſuffer for, and having the higheſt Degrees of Love to God, who was offended by them, and of Love to Man, who was damag'd and endanger'd by them, now theſe were ſet in order before him, no marvel, that his Soul was exceeding ſorrowful. Now he was made to ſerve with our Sins, and was thus wearied with our Iniquities. (2.) He was made a Curſe for us, the Curſes of the Law were transferr'd to him, as our Surety and Repreſentative, not as originally Bound with us, but as Bail to the Action: And when his Soul was thus exceeding ſorrowful, he did as it were yield to them, and lie down under the Load, until by his Death he had ſatisfied for Sin, and ſo for ever aboliſh'd the Curſe. He now taſted Death, as he is ſaid to do, Heb. 2. 9. Which is not an extenuating Expreſſion, as if he did but taſte it, no, he drunk up even the Dregs of the Cup; but 'tis rather aggravating, it did not go down by wholeſale, but he taſted all the Bitterneſs of it. This was that Fear the Apoſtle ſpeaks of, Heb. 5. 7. a natural Fear of Pain and Death, which 'tis natural to human Nature to ſtartle at.

Now the Conſideration of Chriſt's Sufferings in his Soul, and his Sorrows for us, ſhould be of uſe to us.

(1.) To embitter our Sins: Can we ever think a favourable, or ſo much as a ſlight Thought of Sin, when we ſee what Impreſſion Sin (tho' but imputed) made upon the Lord Jeſus? Shall that ſit light upon our Souls, which ſate ſo heavy upon his? Was Chriſt in ſuch an Agony for our Sins, and ſhall we never be in Agony about them? How ſhould we look upon him whom we have preſſed, whom we have pierced, and mourn, and not be in Bitterneſs. It becomes us to be exceeding ſorrowful for Sin, becauſe Chriſt was ſo, and never to make a mock at it. If Chriſt thus ſuffer'd for Sin, let us arm our ſelves with the ſame Mind.

(2.) To ſweeten our Sorrows; if our Souls be at any time exceeding ſorrowful, through the Afflictions of this preſent Time, let us remember that our Maſter was ſo before us, and the Diſciple is not greater than his Lord. Why ſhould we affect to drive away Sorrow, when Chriſt for our ſakes courted it, and ſubmitted to it, and thereby not only took out the Sting of it, and made it tolerable; but put Vertue into it, and made it profitable, for by the ſadneſs of the Countenance the Heart is made better; nay, and put ſweetneſs into it, and made it comfortable. Bleſſed Paul was ſorrowful, and yet always rejoycing. If we be exceeding ſorrowful, it is but unto Death; that will be the Period of all our Sorrows if Chriſt be ours; when the Eyes are clos'd, all Tears are wiped away from them.

5. He ordered his Diſciples to ſtick to him, not becauſe he needed their Help, but becauſe he would have them to look upon him, and receive Inſtruction. He ſaid to them, tarry ye here and watch: He had bid the other Diſciples only ſit ye here, v. 32. but theſe Three he bids to tarry and watch, as expecting more from them than from the reſt.

6. He addreſs'd himſelf to God by Prayer, v. 35. He fell on the Ground and pray'd. 'Twas but a little before this, that in Prayer he lift up his Eyes, John 17. 1. but here being in an Agony, he fell upon his Face, accommodating himſelf to his preſent Humiliation, and teaching us thus to abaſe our ſelves before God; it becomes us to be low when we come into the Preſence of the moſt High. (1.) As Man he deprecated his Sufferings, that if it were poſſible the Hour might paſs from him, v. 35. This ſhort, but ſharp Affliction. That which I am now this Hour to enter upon, let Man's Salvation be, if poſſible, accompliſhed without it. We have his very Words, v. 36. Abba, Father. The Syriac Word is here retain'd which Chriſt us'd, and which ſignifies Father, to intimate what an Emphaſis our Lord Jeſus in his Sorrows laid upon it, and would have us to lay. 'Tis with an Eye to this, that St. Paul retains this Word, putting it into the Mouths of all that have the Spirit of Adoption, they are taught to cry Abba, Father, Rom. 8. 15. Gal. 4. 6. Father, All things are poſſible to thee. Note, Even that which we cannot expect ſhould be done for us, we ought yet to believe God is able to do. And when we ſubmit to his Will, and refer our ſelves to his Wiſdom and Mercy, it muſt be with a believing Acknowledgment of his Power, that all Things are poſſible to him. (2.) As Mediator, he acquieſced to the Will of God concerning them; nevertheleſs, not as I will, but what thou wilt. I know the Matter is ſettled, and cannot be alter'd, I muſt ſuffer and die, and I bid it welcome.

7. He rous'd his Diſciples, who were dropp'd aſleep while he was at Prayer, v. 37, 38. He comes to look after them, ſince they did not look after him, and he findeth them ſleeping, ſo little affected were they with his Sorrows, his Complaints and Prayers. This Careleſneſs of theirs, was a Preſage of their further Offence in deſerting him; and it was an Aggravation of it, that he had ſo lately commended them for continuing with him in his Temptations, tho' they had not been without their Faults; was he ſo willing to make the beſt of them, and were they ſo indifferent in approving themſelves to him: They had lately promis'd not to be offended in him, what? and yet mind him ſo little. He particularly upbraided Peter with his Drowſineſs, Simon, ſleepeſt thou, καὶ σὺ τέκνον, What thou, my Son? Thou that didſt ſo poſitively promiſe thou wouldſt not deny me, doſt thou ſlight me thus? From thee I expected better Things. Couldſt thou not watch one Hour? He did not require him to watch all Night with him, only for one Hour. It aggravates our faintneſs and ſhort-ſpiritedneſs in Chriſt's Service, that he doth not over-task us, nor weary us with it, Iſa. 43. 23. He puts upon us no other Burthen, but to hold faſt till he comes, Rev. 2. 24, 25. and behold he comes quickly, Rev. 3. 11.

As thoſe whom Chriſt loves he rebukes when they do amiſs, ſo thoſe whom he rebukes he counſels and comforts. (1.) 'Twas a very wiſe and faithful Word of Advice, which Chriſt here gave to his Diſciples; watch and pray, leſt ye enter into Temptation, v. 38. 'Twas bad to ſleep when Chriſt was in his Agony, but they were entring into further Temptation, and if they did not ſtir up themſelves, and fetch in Grace and Strength from God by Prayer, they would do worſe; and ſo they did, when they all forſook him and fled. (2.) 'Twas a very kind and tender Excuſe that Chriſt made for them, the Spirit truly is willing, I know it is, 'tis ready, 'tis forward, you would willingly keep awake, but you cannot. This may be taken as a Reaſon for that Exhortation, watch and pray, becauſe tho' the Spirit is willing, I grant it is, you have ſincerely reſolv'd never to be offended in me, but the Fleſh is weak; and if you do not watch and pray, and uſe the Means of Perſeverance, you may be overcome notwithſtanding. The Conſideration of the Weakneſs and Infirmity of our Fleſh, ſhould engage and quicken us to Prayer and Watchfulneſs, when we are entring into Temptation.

8. He repeated his Addreſs to the Father, v. 39. He went again, and prayed, ſaying τὸν αὐτὸν λόγον, the ſame Word, or Matter, or Buſineſs; he ſpoke to the ſame Purpoſe, and again the third Time. This teacheth us, that Men ought always to pray, and not to faint, Luke 18. 1. Tho' the Anſwers to our Prayers do not come quickly, yet we muſt renew our Requeſts, and continue inſtant in Prayer; for the Viſion is for an appointed Time, and at the End it ſhall ſpeak and not lye, Hab. 2. 3. Paul, when he was buffeted by a Meſſenger of Satan, beſought the Lord thrice, as Chriſt did here, before he obtain'd an Anſwer of Peace, 2 Cor. 12. 8. A little before this, when Chriſt, in the Trouble of his Soul pray'd, Father, glorifie thy Name, he had an immediate Anſwer by a Voice from Heaven, I have both glorified it, and I will glorifie it yet again; but now he muſt come a ſecond, and third Time, for the Viſits of God's Grace in Anſwer to Prayer, come ſooner or later, according to the Pleaſure of his Will, that we may be kept depending.

9. He repeated his Viſits to his Diſciples. Thus he gave a Specimen of his continued Care for his Church on Earth, even when 'tis half aſleep, and not duly concern'd for it ſelf, while he ever lives, making Interceſſion with his Father in Heaven. See how, as became a Mediator, he paſſeth and repaſſeth between both. He came the ſecond Time to his Diſciples, and found them aſleep again, v. 40. See how the Infirmities of Chriſt's Diſciples return upon them, notwithſtanding their Reſolutions, and over-power them notwithſtanding their Reſiſtance; and what Clogs thoſe Bodies of ours are to our Souls, which ſhould make us long for that bleſſed State, in which they ſhall be no more our Encumbrance. This ſecond Time he ſpoke to them as before, but they wiſt not what to anſwer him; they were aſhamed of their Drowſineſs, and had nothing to ſay in Excuſe for it. Or, they were ſo over-power'd with it, that, like Men between Sleep and Wake, they knew not where they were, or what they ſaid. But the third Time, they were bid to ſleep if they could, v. 41. Sleep on now, and take your Reſt. I have now no more Occaſion for your watching, you may ſleep if you will for me. It is enough; we had not that Word in Matthew. You have had Warning enough to keep awake, and would not take it, and now you ſhou'd ſee what little Reaſon you had to be ſecure: 'Ἀπέχει, I diſcharge you from any further Attendance; ſo ſome underſtand it; now the Hour is come in which I knew you would all forſake me, and e'en take your Courſe, as he ſaid to Judas, What thou doſt, do quickly. The Son of Man is now betray'd into the Hands of Sinners, the Chief Prieſts and Elders, thoſe worſt of Sinners; becauſe they made a Profeſſion of Sanctity. Come, Riſe up, do not lie dozing there. Let us go and meet the Enemy, for Lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand, and I muſt not now think of making an Eſcape; when we ſee Trouble at the Door, we are concern'd to ſtir up our ſelves to get ready for it.

43 And immediately, while he yet ſpake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with ſwords and ſtaves, from the chief prieſts, and the ſcribes, and the elders. 44 And he that betrayed him, had given them a token, ſaying, Whomſoever I ſhall kiſs, that ſame is he; take him, and lead him away ſafely. 45 And aſſoon as he was come, he goeth ſtraightway to him, and ſaith, Maſter, maſter; and kiſſed him. 46 And they laid their hands on him, and took him. 47 And one of them that ſtood by, drew a ſword, and ſmote a ſervant of the high prieſt, and cut off his ear. 48 And Jeſus anſwered and ſaid unto them, Are ye come out as againſt a thief, with ſwords and with ſtaves, to take me? 49 I was daily with you in the temple, teaching, and ye took me not: but the ſcriptures muſt be fulfilled. 50 And they all forſook him, and fled. 51 And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth caſt about his naked body; and the young men laid hold on him. 52 And he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

We have here the ſeizing of our Lord Jeſus, by the Officers of the Chief Prieſts. This was what his Enemies had long aim'd at, they had often ſent to take him, but he had eſcaped out of their Hands, becauſe his Hour was not come; nor could they now have taken him, had he not freely ſurrender'd himſelf. He began firſt to ſuffer in his Soul, but afterwards ſuffer'd in his Body, that he might ſatisfie for Sin, which begins in the Heart, but afterwards makes the Members of the Body Inſtruments of Unrighteouſneſs.

1. Here's a parcel of rude Miſcreants employ'd to take our Lord Jeſus, and make him a Priſoner; a great Multitude with Swords and Staves. There is no Wickedneſs ſo black, no Villany ſo horrid, but there may be found among the children of Men fitting Tools to be us'd in it, that will not boggle at it, ſo miſerably deprav'd and vitiated is Mankind. At the Head of this Rabble is Judas, one of the twelve, one of thoſe that had been many Years intimately converſant with our Lord Jeſus, had propheſied in his Name, and in his Name caſt out Devils, and yet betray'd him. It is no new Thing for a very fair and plauſible Profeſſion, to end in a ſhameful and fatal Apoſtaſie. How art thou fallen, O Lucifer.

2. Men of no leſs Figure than the Chief Prieſts, and the Scribes, and and the Elders, ſent them, and ſet them on Work, who pretended to expect the Meſſiah, and to be ready to welcome him, and yet when he is come, and has given undeniable Proofs, that it is he that ſhould come, yet becauſe he doth not make Court to them, nor Countenance and Support their Pomp and Grandeur; becauſe he appears not as a temporal Prince, but ſets up a ſpiritual Kingdom, and preacheth Repentance, Reformation, and a Holy Life, and directs Men's Thoughts, and Affections, and Aims to another World, they ſet themſelves againſt him, and, without giving the Credentials he produceth an impartial Examination, reſolve to run him down.

3. Judas betray'd him with a Kiſs; abuſing the Freedom Chriſt us'd to allow his Diſciples, of kiſſing his Cheek at their Return, when they had been any Time abſent. He call'd him Maſter, Maſter, and kiſs'd him. Rabbi, Rabbi, as if he had been now more reſpectful to him than ever. 'Tis enough to put one for ever out of Conceit with being called of Men Rabbi, Rabbi, (Mat. 23. 7.) when it was with this Compliment that Chriſt was betray'd. He bid them take him, and lead him away ſafely. Some think he ſpoke this Ironically, knowing that they could not ſecure him unleſs he pleas'd, this Sampſon could break their Bonds aſunder, as Threads of Tow, and make his eſcape, and then he ſhould get the Money, and Chriſt the Honour, and no Harm done; and I ſhould think ſo too, but that Satan was enter'd into him, ſo that the worſt and moſt malicious Intention of this Action is not too black to be ſuppos'd. Nay, he had often heard his Maſter ſay, That being betray'd, he ſhould be crucified, and had no other Reaſon to think otherwiſe.

4. They arreſted him and made him their Priſoner, v. 46. They laid their Hands on him, rude and violent Hands, and took him into Cuſtody; triumphing, 'tis likely, that they had done that which had been often before attempted in vain.

5. Peter laid about him in defence of his Maſter, and wounded one of the Aſſailants, being for the preſent mindful of his Promiſe to venture his Life with his Maſter. He was one of them that ſtood by, of them that were with him, ſo the Word ſignifies, of them three Diſciples that were with him in the Garden; he drew a Sword, and aim'd it's likely to cut off the Head, but miſs'd his Blow, and only cut off the Ear of a Servant of the High Prieſt, v. 47. It's eaſier to fight for Chriſt, than to die for him; but Chriſt's good Soldiers overcome not by taking away other People's Lives, but by laying down their own, Rev. 12. 11.

6. Chriſt argues with them that had ſeiz'd him, and ſhews them the Abſurdity of their Proceedings againſt him. (1.) That they came out againſt him as againſt a Thief, whereas he was innocent of any Crime; he taught daily in the Temple, and if he had had any wicked Deſign there, it would ſome time or other have been diſcover'd; nay, the Officers of theſe Chief Prieſts being Retainers to the Temple, may be ſuppos'd to have heard his Sermons there, (I was with you in the Temple) and had he not taught them an excellent Doctrine, even his Enemies themſelves being Judges, were not all the Words of his Mouth in Righteouſneſs? Was there any thing froward or perverſe in them? Prov. 8. 8. By his Fruits he was known to be a good Tree; why then did they come out againſt him as a Thief? (2.) That they came to take him thus privately, whereas he was neither aſhamed or afraid to appear publickly in the Temple. He was none of thoſe Evil-doers that hate the Light, neither come to the Light, John 3. 20. If their Maſters had any thing to ſay to him, they might meet him any Day in the Temple, where he was ready to anſwer all Challenges, all Charges: And there they might do as they pleas'd with him, for the Prieſts had the Cuſtody of the Temple, and the Command of the Guards about it; but to come upon him thus at Midnight, and in the Place of his Retirement, was baſe and cowardly, This was to do as David's Enemy, that ſate in the lurking Places of the Villages to murther the Innocent, Pſalm 10. 8. But this was not all, (3.) They came with Swords and Staves, as if he had been in Arms againſt the Government, and muſt have the Poſſe Comitatus rais'd to reduce him. There was no occaſion for thoſe Weapons, but they made this ado, (1.) To ſecure themſelves from the Rage of ſome; they came arm'd, becauſe they feared the People; but thus were they in great Fear, where no fear was, Pſalm 53. 5. (2.) To expoſe him to the Rage of others. By coming with Swords and Staves to take him, they repreſented him to the People (who are apt to take Impreſſions this way) as a dangerous, turbulent Man, and ſo endeavour'd to incenſe them againſt him, and make them cry out, Crucifie him, Crucifie him, having no other way to gain their Point.

7. He reconcil'd himſelf to all this injurious, ignominious Treatment, by referring himſelf to the Old Teſtament Predictions of the Meſſiah. I am hardly us'd, but I ſubmit, for the Scriptures muſt be fulfill'd, v. 49. (1.) See here what a Regard Chriſt had to the Scriptures; he would bear any Thing, rather than the leaſt Jot or Tittle of the Word of God ſhould fall to the Ground; and as he had an Eye to them in his Sufferings, ſo he has in his Glory; for what is Chriſt doing in the Government of the World, but fulfilling the Scriptures. (2.) See what uſe we are to make of the Old Teſtament, we muſt ſearch for Chriſt, the true Treaſure hid in that Field; as the Hiſtory of the New Teſtament expounds the Prophecies of the Old, ſo the Prophecies of the Old Teſtament illuſtrate the Hiſtory of the New.

8. All Chriſt's Diſciples hereupon deſerted him, v. 50. they all forſook him and fled. They were very confident they ſhould ſtick to him, but even good Men know not what they will do till they are try'd. It was ſuch a Comfort to him, as he had lately intimated, that they had hitherto continued with him in his leſſer Trials, Luke 22. 28. We may well imagine what a Grief it was to him, that they deſerted him now in the greateſt, when they might have done him ſome Service, when he was abus'd, to protect him, and when accus'd, to witneſs for him. Let not thoſe that ſuffer for Chriſt, think it ſtrange if they be thus deſerted, and if all the Herd ſhun the wounded Deer; they are not better than their Maſter, nor can expect to be better us'd either by their Enemies, or by their Friends. When St. Paul was in Peril none ſtood by him, but all Men forſook him, 2 Tim. 4. 16.

9. The Noiſe diſturb'd the Neighbourhood, and ſome of the Neighbours were brought into Danger by the Riot, v. 51, 52. This Paſſage or Story we have not in any other of the Evangeliſts. Here's an Account of a certain Young Man, that as it ſhould ſeem was no Diſciple of Chriſt, nor as ſome have imagin'd, a Servant of the Houſe wherein Chriſt had eaten the Paſſover, who follow'd him to ſee what would become of him, as the Sons of the Prophets, when they underſtood that Elijah was to be taken up, went to view afar off, 2 Kings 2. 7. But ſome young Man that liv'd near the Garden, perhaps in the Houſe to which the Garden belong'd. Now obſerve concerning him,

1. How he was frighten'd out of his Bed, to be a Spectator of Chriſt's Sufferings. Such a Multitude ſo arm'd, and coming with ſo much Fury, in the dead of the Night, and in a quiet Village, could not but make a mighty Hubbub, this alarm'd our Young Man, who perhaps thought there was ſome Tumult or riſing in the City, ſome uproar among the People, and had the Curioſity to go and ſee what the Matter was; and was in ſuch haſte to inform himſelf, that he could not ſtay to dreſs himſelf, but threw a Sheet about him, as if he would appear like a walking Ghoſt, in grave Clothes, to frighten thoſe who had frighten'd him, and run in among the thickeſt of them with this Queſtion, What's to do here? And being told, had a mind to ſee the Iſſue; having no doubt heard much of the Fame of this Jeſus, and therefore when all his Diſciples had quitted him, he continued to follow him, deſirous to hear what he would ſay, and ſee what he would do. Some think his having no other Garment but this Linen Cloth upon his naked Body, intimates, that he was one of thoſe Jews who made a greater Profeſſion of Piety than their Neighbours; and in Token of that, among other Inſtances of Auſterity and Mortification of the Body, they us'd no Cloaths but one Linen Garment, which, tho' contriv'd to be modeſt enough, was thin and cold. But I rather think, this was not his conſtant wear.

2. See how he was frighten'd into his Bed again, when he was in danger of being made a Sharer in Chriſt's Sufferings. His own Diſciples had out-run him; but this young Man having no Concern for him, thought he might ſecurely attend him, eſpecially being ſo far from being arm'd, that he was not ſo much as cloath'd; but the Young Men, the Roman Soldiers, who were call'd in to aſſiſt, laid hold of him, for all was Fiſh that came to their Net. Perhaps they were now vex'd at themſelves, that they had ſuffer'd the Diſciples to run away, and they being got out of their Reach, they reſolv'd to ſeize the firſt they could lay their Hands on; tho' this young Man was perhaps one of the ſtricteſt Sect of the Jewiſh Church, yet the Roman Soldiers made no Conſcience of abuſing him upon this Occaſion. Finding himſelf in Danger, he left the Linnen Cloth by which they had caught hold of him, and fled away naked. This Paſſage is recorded, to ſhew what a barbarous Crew this was that was ſent to ſeize Chriſt, and what a narrow Scape the Diſciples had of falling into their Hands, out of which nothing could have kept them but their Maſter's Care of them, If ye ſeek me, let theſe go their Way, John 18. 8. It alſo intimates that there's no Hold of thoſe who are led by Curioſity only, and not by Faith and Conſcience to follow Chriſt.

53 And they led Jeſus away to the high prieſt: and with him were aſſembled all the chief prieſts, and the elders, and the ſcribes. 54 And Peter followed him afar off, even into the Palace of the high prieſt: and he ſat with the Servants, and warmed himſelf at the Fire. 55 And the chief prieſts, and all the council ſought for witneſs againſt Jeſus to put him to death; and found none. 56 For many bare falſe witneſs againſt him, but their witneſs agreed not together. 57 And there aroſe certain, and bare falſe witneſs againſt him, ſaying, 58 We heard him ſay, I will deſtroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands. 59 But neither ſo did their witneſs agree together. 60 And the high prieſt ſtood up in the mids, and asked Jeſus, ſaying, Anſwereſt thou nothing? what is it which theſe witneſs againſt theee? 61 But he held his peace, and anſwered nothing. Again the high prieſt asked him, and ſaid unto him, Art thou the Chriſt, the Son of the bleſſed? 62 And Jeſus ſaid, I am: and ye ſhall ſee the Son of man ſitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven. 63 Then the high prieſt rent his clothes, and ſaith, What need we any further Witneſſes? 64 Ye have heard the blaſphemy: what think ye? and they all condemned him to be guilty of death. 65 And ſome began to ſpit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to ſay unto him, Propheſie: and the ſervants did ſtrike him with the palms of their hands.

We have here Chriſt's Arraignment, Trial, Conviction and Condemnation in the Eccleſiaſtical Court before the Great Sanhedrin, of which the High Prieſt was Preſident, or Judge of the Court; the ſame Caiaphas that had lately adjudg'd it expedient he ſhould be put to death, guilty, or not guilty, John 11. 50. And therefore might juſtly be excepted againſt as partial.

1. Chriſt was hurry'd away to his Houſe, his Palace it is call'd, ſuch State did he live in. And there, tho' in the dead of the Night, all the Chief Prieſts, and Elders, and Scribes that were in the Secret, were aſſembled ready to receive the Prey; ſo ſure were they of it.

2. Peter follow'd at a Diſtance, ſuch a Degree of Cowardice was his late Courage dwindled into, v. 54. But when he came to the Chief Prieſt's Palace, he ſneakingly went and ſate with the Servants, that he might not be ſuſpected to belong to Chriſt. The High Prieſt's Fire-ſide was no proper Place, nor his Servants proper Company for Peter, but it was his Entrance into a Temptation.

3. Great Diligence was us'd to procure for Love or Money falſe Witneſſes againſt Chriſt. They had ſeiz'd him as a Malefactor, and now they had him they had no Indictment to prefer againſt him, no Crime to lay to his Charge, but they ſought for Witneſſes againſt him, pump'd ſome with enſnaring Queſtions, offer'd Bribes to others if they would accuſe him, and endeavour to frighten others if they would not, v. 55, 56. The Chief Prieſts and Elders were by the Law intruſted with the proſecuting and puniſhing of falſe Witneſſes, Deut. 19. 16. Yet thoſe were now Ringleaders in a Crime that tends to the Overthrow of all Juſtice. It's time to cry help Lord, when the Phyſicians of a Land are its Troublers, and thoſe that ſhould be the Conſervators of Peace and Equity, are the Corrupters of both.

4. He was at length charg'd with Words ſpoken ſome Years ago, which as they were repreſented ſeem'd to threaten the Temple, which they had made no better than an Idol of, v. 57, 58. But the Witneſſes to this Matter did not agree, v. 59. For one ſwore that he ſaid, I am able to deſtroy the Temple of God, and to build it in three Days, ſo 'tis in Matthew; the other ſwore that he ſaid, I will deſtroy this Temple, that is made with Hands, and within three Days I will build not it, but another made without Hands; now theſe two differ much from each other οὐδὲ ἴση ἦν ἡ μαρτυρία. Their Teſtimony was not ſufficient, nor equal to the Charge of a Capital Crime; ſo Dr. Hammond; they did not accuſe him of that upon which a Sentence of Death might be founded, no not by the utmoſt Stretch of their Law.

5. He was urg'd to be his own Accuſer, v. 60. The High Prieſt ſtood up in a Heat, and ſaid, anſwereſt thou nothing? This he ſaid under Pretence of Juſtice and fair Dealing, but really with a Deſign to enſnare him, that they might accuſe him, Luke 11. 53, 54. and 20. 20. We may well imagine with what an Air of Haughtineſs and Diſdain this proud High-Prieſt brought our Lord Jeſus to this Queſtion: Come you the Priſoner at the Bar, you hear what's ſworn againſt you, what have you now to ſay for your ſelf? Pleas'd to think that he ſeem'd ſilent who had ſo often ſilenc'd thoſe that pick'd Quarrels with him. Still Chriſt anſwered nothing, that he might ſet us an Example, (1.) Of Patience under Calumnies, and falſe Accuſations; when we are revil'd, let us not revile again, 1 Pet. 2. 22. And (2.) Of Prudence; when a Man ſhall be made an Offender for a Word, Iſa. 29. 21. and our Defence made our Offence: 'Tis an evil Time indeed when the Prudent ſhall keep Silence, (leſt they make ill worſe) and commit their cauſe to him that judgeth righteouſly.

But, 6. When he was ask'd, whether he was the Chriſt, he confeſs'd and deny'd not, that he was, v. 16, 62. He ask'd art thou the Son of the Bleſſed? (i. e.) The Son of God, for as Dr. Hammond obſerves, The Jews, when they nam'd God, generally added, bleſſed for ever, and thence the Bleſſed is the Title of God, a peculiar Title, and apply'd to Chriſt, Rom. 9. 5. And for the Proof of his being the Son of God he binds them over to his ſecond Coming, ye ſhall ſee the Son of Man ſitting on the right Hand of Power,—That Son of Man that now appears ſo mean and deſpicable, whom you ſee and trample upon, Iſa. 53. 2, 3. you ſhall ſhortly ſee and tremble before. Now one would think ſuch a Word as this, which our Lord Jeſus ſeems to have ſpoken with a Grandeur and Majeſty not agreeable to his preſent Appearance (for tho' the thickeſt Cloud of his Humiliation ſome Rays of Glory were ſtill darted forth) ſhould have ſtartled the Court, and at leaſt in the Opinion of ſome of them ſhould have amounted to a Demurrer, or Arreſt of Judgment, and that they ſhould have ſtaied Proceſs 'till they had conſider'd further of it; when Paul at the Bar reaſon'd of the Judgment to come, the Judge trembled, and adjourn'd the Trial, Acts 24. 25. But theſe Chief Prieſts were ſo miſerably blinded with Malice and Rage, that like the Horſe ruſhing into the Battle, they mocked at Fear, and were not afrighted, neither believ'd they that it was the Sound of the Trumpet, Job 39. 22, 23. And ſee Job 15. 25, 26.

7. The High Prieſt upon this Confeſſion of his, convicted him as a Blaſphemer, v. 63. He rent his Cloaths, χιτῶνας αὐτοῦ, ſome think the Word ſignifies his Pontifical Veſtments, which for the greater State he had put on, tho' in the Night, upon this Occaſion. As before in his Enmity to Chriſt, he ſaid he knew not what, John 11. 51, 52. So now he did he knew not what. If Saul's rending Samuel's Mantle was made to ſignifie the rending of the Kingdom from him, 1 Sam. 15. 27, 28. Much more did Caiaphas's rending his own Cloaths ſignifie the rending of the Prieſthood from him, as the rending of the Vail at Chriſt's Death ſignify'd the throwing of all open. Chriſt's Cloaths even when he was crucify'd, were kept entire, and not rent; for when the Levitical Prieſthood was rent in Pieces, and done away, This Man becauſe he continues ever, has an unchangeable Prieſthood.

1. They agreed he was a Blaſphemer, and as ſuch was guilty of a Capital Crime, v. 64. The Queſtion ſeem'd to be put fairly what think ye? But it was really prejudg'd, for the High Prieſt had ſaid, ye have heard the Blaſphemy; He gave Judgment firſt, who, as Preſident of the Court, ought to have voted laſt. So they all condemn'd him to be guilty of Death; what Friends he had in the great Sanhedrim did not appear, 'tis likely they had not Notice.

9. They ſet themſelves to abuſe him, and as the Philiſtines with Sampſon, to make Sport with him, v. 65. It ſhould ſeem ſome of the Prieſts themſelves that had condemn'd him, ſo far forgot the Dignity as well as Duty of their Place, and the Gravity which became them, that they help'd their Servants in playing the Fool with a condemn'd Priſoner. This they made their Diverſion, while they waited for the Morning to compleat their Villany. That Night of Obſervations (as the Paſſover Night was call'd) they made a merry Night of. If they did not think it below them to abuſe Chriſt, ſhall we think any Thing below us by which we may do him Honour?

66 And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of the maids of the high prieſt. 67 And when ſhe ſaw Peter warming himſelf, ſhe looked upon him, and ſaid, And thou alſo waſt with Jeſus of Nazareth. 68 But he denied, ſaying, I know not, neither underſtand I what thou ſayeſt. And he went out into the porch; and the cock crew. 69 And a maid ſaw him again, and began to ſay to them that ſtood by, This is one of them. 70 And he denied it again. And a litle after, they that ſtood by ſaid again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art a Galilean, and thy ſpeech agreeth thereto. 71 But he began to curſe and to ſwear, ſaying, I know not this man of whom ye ſpeak. 72 And the ſecond time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word that Jeſus ſaid unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou ſhalt deny me thrice. And when he thought thereon, he wept.

We have here the Story of Peter's denying Chriſt.

1. It began in keeping at a Diſtance from him. Peter had followed afar off, v. 54. and now was beneath in the Palace, at the lower End of the Hall. Thoſe that are ſhy of Chriſt are in a fair Way to deny him, that are ſhy of attending on Holy Ordinances, ſhy of the Communion of the Faithful, and loth to be ſeen on the Side of deſpis'd Godlineſs.

2. It was occaſion'd by his aſſociating with the High-Prieſt's Servants, and ſitting among them. They that think it dangerous to be in Company with Chriſt's Diſciples, becauſe thence they may be drawn in to ſuffer for him, will find it much more dangerous to be in Company with his Enemies, becauſe there they may be drawn in to ſin againſt him.

3. The Temptation was, his being charg'd as a Diſciple of Chriſt; Thou alſo waſt with Jeſus of Nazareth, v. 67. This is one of them, v. 69. for thou art a Galilean, one may know that by thy ſpeaking broad, v. 70. It doth not appear that he was challeng'd upon it, or in Danger of being proſecuted as a Criminal for it, but only banter'd upon it, and in Danger of being ridicul'd as a Fool for it. While the Chief Prieſts were abuſing the Maſter, the Servants were abuſing the Diſciples. Sometimes the Cauſe of Chriſt ſeems to fall ſo much on the loſing Side, that every Body has a Stone to throw at it, and even the Abjects gather themſelves together againſt it. When Job was on the Dunghil, he was had in Deriſion of thoſe that were the Children of baſe Men, Job 30. 8.— Yet all things conſider'd, the Temptation could not be call'd formidable; 'Twas only a Maid that caſually caſt her Eye upon him, and for ought appears without Deſign of giving him any Trouble, ſaid, Thou art one of them. To which he needed not to have made any Reply, or might have ſaid, and if I be, I hope that's no Treaſon.

4. The Sin was very great; He deny'd Chriſt before Men, at a Time when he ought to have confeſs'd and own'd him, and to have appear'd in Court a Witneſs for him. Chriſt had often given Notice to his Diſciples of his own Sufferings, yet when they came, they were to Peter as great a Surprize and Terror, as if he had never heard of them before. He had often told them that they muſt ſuffer for him, muſt take up their Croſs and follow him, and yet Peter is ſo terribly afraid of ſuffering, upon the very firſt Alarm of it, that he will lye and ſwear, and do any Thing to avoid it.— When Chriſt was admir'd and flock'd after, he could readily own him, but now he is deſerted, and deſpis'd, and run down, he is aſham'd of him, and will own no relation to him.

5. His Repentance was very ſpeedy. He repeated his Denial Thrice, and the third was worſt of all, for then he curs'd and ſwore to confirm his Denial; and that third Blow, which one would think ſhould have ſtunn'd him, and knock'd him down, ſtartled him, and rouz'd him up. Then the Cock crew the ſecond time, which put him in mind of his Maſter's Words, the Warning he had given him, with that particular Circumſtance of the Cock crowing twice, and by recollecting that he was made ſenſible of his Sin and the Aggravations of it; and when he thought thereon he wept. Some obſerve, that this Evangeliſt, who wrote, as ſome have thought, by St. Peter's Direction, ſpeaks as fully of Peter's Sin as any of them, but more briefly of his Sorrow, which Peter in Modeſty would not have to be magnify'd, and becauſe he thought he could never ſorrow enough for ſo great a Sin. His Repentance here is thus expreſs'd, ἐπιβαλὼν ἔκλαιε, where ſomething muſt be ſupply'd. He added, to weep, ſo ſome, making it a Hebraiſm; He wept, and the more he thought of it, the more he wept: He continued weeping: He flung out and wept: Burſt out into Tears: Threw himſelf down and wept: He cover'd his Face and wept, ſo ſome: Caſt his Garment about his Head, that he might not be ſeen to weep. He caſt his Eyes upon his Maſter, who turn'd, and look'd upon him, ſo Dr. Hammond ſupplies it, and 'tis a probable Conjecture. Or, as we underſtand it, fixing his Mind upon it, he wept. 'Tis not a tranſient Thought of that which is humbling that will ſuffice, but we muſt dwell upon it: Or, what if this Word ſhould mean his laying Load upon himſelf, throwing Confuſion into his own Face; he did as the Publican that ſmote his Breaſt in Sorrow for Sin; and this amounts to his weeping bitterly.

CHAP. XV.

What we read of the Sufferings of Chriſt in the foregoing Chapter, was but the Prologue or Introduction; here we have the compleating of them. We left him condemn'd by the Chief Prieſts, but they could only ſhow their Teeth, they could not bite. Here we have him, (1.) Arraign'd and accus'd before Pilate the Roman Governour, v. 1,—5. (2.) Cry'd out againſt by the common People at the Inſtigation of the Prieſts, v. 6,—14. (3.) Condemn'd to be crucified immediately, v. 15. (4.) Banter'd and abus'd as a Mock-King by the Roman Soldiers, v. 16,—19. (5.) Led out to the Place of Execution, with all poſſible Ignominy and Diſgrace, v. 20,—24. (6.) Nail'd to the Croſs between two Thieves, v. 25,—28. (7.) Revil'd and abus'd by all that paſs'd by, v. 29,—32. (8.) Forſaken for a Time by his Father, v. 33,—36. (9.) Dying and rending the Vail, v. 37, 38. (10.) Atteſted and witneſſed to by the Centurion, and others, v. 39,—41. (11.) Buried in the Sepulchre of Joſeph of Arimathea, v. 42,—47.

AND ſtraightway in the morning the chief prieſts held a conſultation with the elders and ſcribes, and the whole Council, and bound Jeſus, and carried him away, and deliver'd him to Pilate. 2 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the king of the Jews?
And he anſwering, ſaid unto him, Thou ſayeſt it.
3 And the chief Prieſts accuſed him of many things:
but he anſwered nothing. 4 And Pilate asked him again, ſaying, Anſwereſt thou nothing? Behold how many things they witneſs againſt thee. 5 But Jeſus yet anſwered nothing; ſo that Pilate marvelled.
6 Now at the feaſt he releaſed unto them one priſoner whomſoever they deſired. 7 And there was one named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that had made inſurrection with him, who had committed murther in the inſurrection. 8 And the multitude crying aloud, began to deſire him to do as he had ever done unto them. 9 But Pilate anſwered them, ſaying, Will ye that I releaſe unto you the king of the Jews? 10 (For he knew that the chief prieſts had delivered him for envy) 11 But the chief prieſts moved the people, that he ſhould rather releaſe Barabbas unto them. 12 And Pilate anſwered, and ſaid again unto them, What will ye then that I ſhall do unto him whom ye call the king of the Jews? 13 And they cryed out again, Crucifie him. 14 Then Pilate ſaid unto them, Why, what evil hath he done? And they cryed out the more exceedingly, Crucifie him.

Here we have,

1. A Conſultation held by the Great Sanhedrin, for the effectual Proſecution of our Lord Jeſus. They met early in the Morning about it, and went into a Grand Committee, to find out Ways and Means to get him put to Death; they loſt no Time, but follow'd their Blow in good Earneſt, leſt there ſhould be an uproar among the People. The unwearied Induſtry of wicked People in doing that which is Evil, ſhould ſhame us for our backwardneſs and ſlothfulneſs in that which is Good. They that War againſt Chriſt and thy Soul are up early, How long then wilt thou ſleep, O Sluggard?

2. The delivering of him up a priſoner to Pilate, they bound him. He was to be the great Sacrifice, and Sacrifices muſt be bound with Cords, Pſal. 118. 27. Chriſt was bound to make Bonds eaſie to us, and to enable us, as Paul and Silas, to ſing in Bonds. 'Tis good for us often to remember the Bonds of the Lord Jeſus, as bound with him who was bound for us. They led him through the Streets of Jeruſalem, to expoſe him to Contempt, who, whilſt he taught in the Temple but a Day or two before, was had in Veneration; and we may well imagine how miſerably he look'd, after ſuch a Night's Uſage as he had; ſo buffeted, ſpit upon, and abus'd. Their delivering him to the Roman Power, was a Type of the Ruin of their Church, which hereby they merited and brought upon themſelves; it ſignified that the Promiſe, and the Covenant, and the Oracles of God, and the viſible Church-State, which were the Glory of Iſrael, and had been ſo long in their Poſſeſſion, ſhould now be deliver'd up to the Gentiles. By delivering up the King, they do in Effect deliver up the Kingdom of God, which is therefore as it were by their own Conſent taken from them, and given to another Nation. If they had deliver'd up Chriſt to gratifie the Deſires of the Romans, or to ſatisfie any Jealouſies of theirs concerning him, it had been another Matter, but they voluntarily betray'd him that was Iſrael's Crown, to them that were Iſrael's Yoke.

3. The examining of him by Pilate upon Interrogatories, v. 2. Art thou King of the Jews? Doſt thou pretend to be ſo, to be that Meſſiah whom the Jews expect as a temporal Prince? Yea, ſaith Chriſt, it is as thou ſayeſt, I am that Meſſiah, but not ſuch a one as they expect. He is the King that rules and protects his Iſrael according to the Spirit, that are Jews inwardly by the Circumciſion of the Spirit, and the King that will reſtrain and puniſh the carnal Jews that continue in Unbelief.

4. The Articles of Impeachment exhibited againſt him, and his Silence under the Charge and Accuſation. The Chief Prieſts forgot the Dignity of their Place when they turn'd Informers, and did in Perſon accuſe Chriſt of many Things, v. 3. and witneſs againſt him, v. 4. Many of the Old Teſtament Prophets charge the Prieſts of their Times with great Wickedneſs, in which well did they Propheſy of theſe Prieſts, ſee Ezek. 22. 26. Hoſ. 5. 1.—6. 9. Mic. 3. 11. Zeph. 3. 4. Mal. 1. 6.—2. 8. The Deſtruction of Jeruſalem by the Chaldeans is ſaid to be for the Iniquity of the Prieſts that ſhed the Blood of the Juſt, Lam. 4. 13. Note, Wicked Prieſts are generally the worſt of Men. The better any Thing is, the worſe it is when it is corrupted. Lay-Perſecutors have been generally found more compaſſionate than Eccleſiaſticks. Theſe Prieſts were very eager and noiſy in their Accuſation; but Chriſt anſwered nothing, v. 3. When Pilate urg'd him to clear himſelf, and was deſirous he ſhould, v. 4. Yet he ſtood mute, v. 5. He anſwered nothing, which Pilate thought very ſtrange: He gave Pilate a direct Anſwer, v. 2. But would not anſwer the Proſecutors and Witneſſes, becauſe the Things they alledg'd were notoriouſly falſe, and he knew Pilate himſelf was convinc'd they were ſo. Note, As Chriſt ſpoke to Admiration, ſo he kept ſilence to Admiration.

5. The Propoſal Pilate made to the People to have Jeſus releaſed to them, ſince it was the Cuſtom of the Feaſt to grace the Solemnity with the Releaſe of one Priſoner. The People expected and demanded that he ſhould do as he had ever done to them, v. 1. 'Twas an ill Uſage, but they would have it kept up. Now Pilate perceiv'd that the chief Prieſts deliver'd up Jeſus for Envy; becauſe he had got ſuch a Reputation among the People, as eclips'd their's; v. 10. It was eaſie to ſay, comparing the Eagerneſs of the Perſecutors, with the ſlenderneſs of their Proofs, that it was not his Guilt but his Goodneſs; not any Thing miſchievous or ſcandalous, but ſomething meritorious and glorious that they were provoked at. And therefore hearring how much he was the Darling of the Crowd, he thought he might ſafely appeal from the Prieſts to the People, and that they would be proud of reſcuing him out of the Prieſt's Hands; and he propoſeth an Expedient for their doing it, without danger of an uproar; let them demand him to be releas'd, and Pilate will readily do it, and ſtop the Mouths of the Prieſts with it, that the People inſiſted upon his Releaſe. There was indeed another Priſoner, one Barabbas, that had an Intereſt, and would have ſome Votes, but he queſtion'd not but Jeſus would out-poll him.

6. The unanimous outragious Clamours of the People to have Chriſt put to Death, and particularly to have him crucified. 'Twas a great Surprize to Pilate, when he found the People ſo much under the Influence of the Prieſts, that they all agreed to deſire that Barabbas might be releas'd, v. 11. Pilate oppos'd it all he could, What will ye that I ſhall do to him, whom ye call the King of the Jews? Would not you then have him releas'd too? v. 12. No, ſay they, Crucifie him; the Prieſts having put that in their Mouths, they inſiſt upon it; when Pilate objected, why, what Evil has he done? A very material Queſtion in ſuch a Caſe; they do not pretend to anſwer it, but cried out the more exceedingly, as they were more and more inſtigated and irritated by the Prieſts, Crucifie him, Crucifie him. Now the Prieſts, who were very buſy, diſperſing themſelves and their Creatures among the Mob, to keep up the Cry, promis'd themſelves that it would influence Pilate two Ways to condemn him. (1.) It might incline him to believe Chriſt guilty, when there was ſo general an Out-cry againſt him; ſurely, might Pilate think, he muſt needs be an ill man whom all the World is weary of; He would now conclude he had been miſinform'd, when he was told what an Intereſt he had in the People, and that the Matter was not ſo. But the Prieſts had hurried on the Proſecution with ſo much Expedition, that we may ſuppoſe they that were Chriſt's Friends, and would have oppos'd this Cry, were at t'other end of the Town, and knew nothing of the Matter. Note, It has been the common Artifice of Satan, to put Chriſt and his Religion into an ill Name, and ſo to run them down. When once this Sect, as they call'd it, comes to be every where ſpoken againſt, tho' without Cauſe, then that is look'd upon as Cauſe enough to condemn it. But let us judge of Perſons and Things by their Merits, and the Standard of God's Word, and not prejudge by common Fame, and the Cry of the Country. (2.) It might induce him to condemn Chriſt to pleaſe the People, and indeed for fear of diſpleaſing them. Tho' he was not ſo weak as to be govern'd by their Opinion to believe him guilty, yet he was ſo wicked, as to be ſway'd by their Outrage to condemn him, tho' he believ'd him innocent; induced thereunto by Reaſons of State, and the Wiſdom of this World. Our Lord Jeſus dying as a Sacrifice for the Sins of many, he fell a Sacrifice to the Rage of many.

15 And ſo Pilate willing to content the people, releaſed Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jeſus, when he had ſcourged him, to be crucified. 16 And the ſoldiers led him away into the hall, called Pretorium; and they called together the whole band. 17 And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head. 18 And began to ſalute him, Hail King of the Jews. 19 And they ſmote him on the head with a reed, and did ſpit upon him, and bowing their knees, worſhipped him. 20 And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucifie him. 21 And they compel one Simon a Cyrenian, who paſſed by, coming out of the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to bear his croſs.

Here, 1. Pilate, to gratifie the Jews Malice, delivers Chriſt to be crucified; v. 15. Willing to content the People, to do enough for them, ſo the Word is, and make them eaſie, that he might keep them quiet, releas'd Barabbas unto them, that was the Scandal and Plague of their Nation, and deliver'd Jeſus to be crucified, who was the Glory and Bleſſing of their Nation. Tho' he had ſcourged him before, hoping that would content them, and then not deſigning to crucifie him, yet he went on to that; for he that could perſwade himſelf to chaſtiſe one that was innocent, (Luke 23. 16.) no wonder he could by degrees perſwade himſelf to crucifie him.

Chriſt was crucified, for that was (1.) A Bloody Death, and without Blood no Remiſſion, Heb. 9. 22. The Blood is the Life, Gen. 9. 4. 'tis the Vehicle of the Animal Spirits, which connect the Soul and Body, ſo that the exhauſting of the Blood, is the exhauſting of the Life. Chriſt was to lay down his Life for us, and therefore ſhed his Blood. Blood made atonement for the Soul, Lev. 17. 11. and therefore in every Sacrifice of Propitiation, ſpecial Order was given for the pouring out of the Blood, and the ſprinkling of that before the Lord. Now, that Chriſt might anſwer all theſe Types, he ſhed his Blood. (2.) 'Twas a painful Death; the Pains were exquiſite and acute, for Death made its Aſſaults upon the Vitals, by the exterior Parts, which are quickeſt of Senſe. Chriſt dy'd, ſo as that he might feel himſelf die, becauſe he was to be both the Prieſt and the Sacrifice; ſo as that he might be active in dying, becauſe he was to make his Soul an Offering for Sin. Tully calls Crucifixion, Teterrimum ſupplicium; Chriſt would meet Death in its greateſt Terror, and ſo conquer it. (3.) 'Twas a ſhameful Death, the Death of Slaves, and the vileſt Malefactors; ſo it was accounted among the Romans. The Croſs and the Shame are put together; God having been injur'd in his Honour by the Sin of Man, 'tis in his Honour that Chriſt makes him Satisfaction, not only by denying himſelf in, and diveſting himſelf of the Honours due to his Divine Nature, for a Time, but by ſubmitting to the greateſt Reproach and Ignominy the Human Nature was capable of being loaded with. Yet this was not the worſt. (4.) 'Twas a curſed Death; thus it was branded by the Jewiſh Law, Deut. 21. 23. He that is hang'd is accurſed of God, is under a particular Mark of God's Diſpleaſure. 'Twas the Death that Saul's Sons were put to, when the Guilt of their Father's Bloody Houſe was to be expiated, 2 Sam. 21. 6. Haman and his Sons were hang'd, Eſth. 7. 10: 9. 13. We do not read of any of the Prophets of the Old Teſtament that were hang'd; but now Chriſt has ſubmitted to be hang'd upon a Tree, the Reproach and Curſe of that kind of Death is quite roll'd away, ſo that it ought not to be any hindrance to the Comfort of thoſe, who die either innocently or penitently, nor any Diminution from, but rather an Addition to the Glory of thoſe who die Martyrs for Chriſt, to be as he was hang'd upon a Tree.

2. Pilate, to gratifie the gay Humour of his Roman Soldiers, deliver'd him to them to be abus'd and ſpitefully treated, while they were preparing for the Execution. They call'd together the whole Regiment that was then in waiting, and they went into an Inner Hall, where they ignominiouſly abus'd our Lord Jeſus as a King, juſt as in the High Prieſt's Hall, his Servants had ignominiouſly abus'd him as a Prophet and Saviour. (1.) Do Kings uſe to wear Robes of Purple and Scarlet? They clothed him with Purple. This Abuſe done to Chriſt in his Apparel, ſhould be an Intimation to Chriſtians not to make the putting on of an Apparel their adorning, 1 Pet. 3. 4. Shall a Purple or Scarlet Robe be matter of Pride to a Chriſtian, which was matter of Reproach and Shame to Chriſt? (2.) Do Kings wear Crowns? they platted a Crown of Thorns, and put it on his Head. A Crown of Straw and Ruſhes would have been banter enough, but this was Pain alſo. He wore the Crown of Thorns which we had deſerv'd, that we might wear the Crown of Glory which he merited. Let us be taught by theſe Thorns, as Gideon taught the Men of Succoth, to hate Sin, and be uneaſie under it, and to be in Love with Jeſus Chriſt, who is here a Lilly among Thorns. If we be at any Time afflicted with a Thorn in the Fleſh, let it be our Comfort, that our Great High Prieſt is touched with the feeling of our Infirmities, having himſelf known what Thorns in the Fleſh meant. (3.) Are Kings attended with the Acclamations of their Subjects, O King, live for ever! that alſo is mimick'd, they ſaluted him with, Hail King of the Jews, ſuch a Prince and ſuch a People, e'en good enough for one another. (4.) Kings uſe to have Scepters put into their Hand, Marks of Dominion, as the Crown is of Dignity; and to reſemble that, they put a Reed in his right Hand. Thoſe who deſpiſe the Authority of the Lord Jeſus, as not to be obſerv'd and obey'd, that regard not either the Precepts of his Word, or the Threatnings of his Wrath, do in Effect put a Reed in his Hand; nay, and as theſe here ſmite him on the Head with it, ſuch is the Indignity they do him. (5.) Subjects, when they ſware Allegiance, were wont to kiſs their Sovereign, and this they offer'd to do, but inſtead of that, ſpit upon him. (6.) Kings us'd to be addreſs'd to upon the Knee, and this alſo they brought into the Jeſt, they bowed the Knee, and worſhipped him; this they did in ſcorn, to make themſelves and one another laugh. We were by Sin become liable to everlaſting Shame and Contempt; to deliver us from which, our Lord Jeſus ſubmitted to this Shame and Contempt for us. He was thus mock'd, not in his own Clothes, but in another's, to ſignifie that he ſuffer'd not for his own Sin; the Crime was our's, the Shame his. Thoſe who pretend Subjection to Chriſt, but at the ſame Time give themſelves up to the Service of the World and the Fleſh, do in Effect the ſame that they did, who bow'd the Knee to him in Mockery, and abus'd him with, Hail King of the Jews, when they ſaid, We have no King but Cæſar. Thoſe that bow the Knee to Chriſt, but do not bow the Soul; that draw nigh to him with their Mouths, and Honour him with their Lips, but their Hearts are far from him, put the ſame Affront upon him, that theſe here did.

3. The Soldiers at the Hour appointed, led him away from Pilate's Judgment Hall to the Place of Execution, v. 20. as a Sheep to the Slaughter; He was led forth with the Workers of Iniquity, tho' he did no Sin. But leſt his Death under the Load of his Croſs, which he was to carry, ſhould prevent the further Cruelties they intended, they compelled one Simon of Cyrene to carry his Croſs for him. He paſſed by, coming out of the Country, or out of the Fields, not thinking of any ſuch Matter. Note, We muſt not think it ſtrange, if Croſſes come upon us ſuddenly, and we be ſurpriz'd by them. The Croſs was a very troubleſome unweildly Load, but he that carry'd it a few Minutes, had the Honour to have his Name upon Record in the Book of God, tho' otherwiſe an obſcure Perſon: So that where-ever this Goſpel is preach'd, there ſhall this be told for a Memorial of him; ſo, tho' no Affliction, no croſs for the preſent be joyous, but grievous, yet afterwards it yields a Crown of Glory to them that are exercis'd thereby.

22 And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, the place of a ſcull.
23 And they gave him to drink, wine mingled with myrrh: but he received it not. 24 And when they had crucified him, they paarted his garments, caſting lots upon them, what every man ſhould take. 25 And it was the third hour, and they crucified him.
26 And the ſuperſcription of his accuſation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS. 27 And with him they crucified two thieves; the one on his right hand, and the other on his left. 28 And the ſcripture was fulfilled, which ſaith, And he was num-bred with the tranſgreſſours. 29 And they that paſſed by, railed on him, wagging their heads, and ſaying, Ah, thou that deſtroyeſt the temple, and buildeſt it in three days, 30 Save thy ſelf, and come down from the croſs. 31 Likewiſe alſo the chief prieſts, mocking, ſaid among themſelves, with the ſcribes, He ſaved others, himſelf he cannot ſave. 32 Let Chriſt the king of Iſrael deſcend now from the croſs, that we may ſee and believe. And they that were crucified with him, reviled him.

We have here the Crucifixion of our Lord Jeſus.

1. The Place where he was crucified, 'twas called Golgotha, the Place of a Scull. Some think, becauſe of the Heads of Malefactors that were there cut off; 'twas the common Place of Execution, as Tyburn, for he was in all Reſpects numbred with the Tranſgreſſours. I know not how to give any Credit to it, but divers of the Ancients mention it as a current Tradition, that in this Place our firſt Father Adam was buried, and they think it highly congruous that there Chriſt ſhould be crucified; for as in Adam all die, ſo in Chriſt ſhall all be made alive. Tertullian, Origen, Chryſoſtom, and Epiphanius, (great Names) take Notice of it; nay, Cyprian adds, Creditur à piis, many good People believe that the Blood of Chriſt crucified, did trickle down upon the Scull of Adam, who was buried in the ſame Place. Some think more credible is the Tradition, that this Mount Calvary was that Mountain in the Land of Moriah, (and in the Land of Moriah 'tis certain it was, for ſo the Country about Jeruſalem was call'd) on which Iſaac was to be offer'd, and the Ram was offer'd inſtead of him, and then Abraham had an Eye to this Day of Chriſt, when he call'd the Place Jehovah jireh, The Lord will provide, expecting that ſo 'twould be ſeen in the Mount of the Lord.

2. The Time when he was crucified; it was the third Hour, v. 25. He was brought before Pilate about the ſixth Hour (John 19. 14.) according to the Roman way of reckoning, which John uſeth, with which ours at this Day agrees, that is, at Six a Clock in the Morning; and then at the third Hour, according to the Jews way of reckoning, that is, about Nine of the Clock in the Morning, or ſoon after, they nail'd him to the Croſs. Dr. Lightfoot thinks, the Third Hour is here mention'd, to intimate an Aggravation of the Wickedneſs of the Prieſts, that they were here proſecuting Chriſt to the Death, tho' it was after the Third Hour, when they ought to have been attending the Service of the Temple, and offering the Peace-offerings, it being the firſt Day of the Feaſt of unleavened Bread, when there was to be a Holy Convocation. At that very Time, when they ſhould have been, according to the Duty of their Place, preſiding in the Publick Devotions, were they here venting their Malice againſt the Lord Jeſus; yet theſe were the Men that ſeem'd ſo zealous for the Temple, and condemn'd Chriſt for ſpeaking againſt it; Note, There are many who pretend to be for the Church, who yet care not how ſeldom they go to Church.

3. The Indignities that were done him, when he was nail'd to the Croſs; as if that had not been ignominious enough, they added ſeveral Things to the Ignominy of it.

1. It being the Cuſtom to give Wine to Perſons that were to be put to Death, they mingled his with Myrrh, which was bitter and made it nauſeous; he taſted it, but would not drink it; was willing to admit the Bitterneſs of it, but not the Benefit of it.

2. The Garments of thoſe that were crucified, being as with us the Executioner's Fee, the Soldiers caſt Lots upon his Garments, v. 24. threw Dice (as our Soldiers uſe to do upon a Drum Head) for them. So making themſelves merry with his Miſery, and ſitting at their Sport, while he was hanging in Pain.

3. They ſet a Superſcription over his Head, by which they intended to reproach him, but really did him both Juſtice and Honour, The King of the Jews, v. 26. Here was no Crime alledg'd, but his Sovereignty own'd. Perhaps Pilate meant to caſt Diſgrace upon Chriſt, as a baffled King, or upon the Jews, who by their Importunity had forc'd him againſt his Conſcience to condemn Chriſt, as a People that deſerv'd no better a King than he ſeem'd to be. However God intended it to be the proclaiming even of Chriſt upon the Croſs, the King of Iſrael; tho' Pilate knew not what he wrote, no more than Caiaphas what he ſaid, John 21. 51, Chriſt crucified, is King of his Church, his ſpiritual Iſrael; and even then when he hung on the Croſs he was like a King conquering his and his Peoples Enemies, and triumphing over them, Col. 2. 15. Now he was writing his Laws in his own Blood, and preparing his Favours for his Subjects. Whenever we look unto Chriſt crucified, we muſt remember the Inſcription over his Head, that he is a King, and muſt give up our ſelves to be his Subjects, as Iſraelites indeed.

4. They crucified two Thieves with him, one on his right Hand, the other on his left, and he in the Midſt, as the worſt of the Three, v. 27. So great a Degree of Diſhonour did they hereby intend him. And no doubt it gave him Diſturbance too: Some that have been impriſon'd in the common Goals for the Teſtimony of Jeſus, have complain'd of the Company of curſing ſwearing Priſoners, more than of any other of the Grievances of their Priſon: Now in the midſt of ſuch our Lord Jeſus was crucified: While he liv'd, he had, as there was Occaſion, aſſociated with Sinners to do them good, and now when he dy'd he was for the ſame Purpoſe joyn'd with them, for he came into the World, and went out of it to ſave Sinners, even the Chief. But this Evangeliſt takes particular Notice of the fulfilling of the Scriptures in it, v. 28. In that famous Prediction of Chriſt's Sufferings, Iſa. 53. 12. it was foretold that he ſhould be number'd with the Tranſgreſſors, becauſe he was made Sin for us.

5. The Spectators, that is, the Generality of them, inſtead of condoling his Miſery, added to it by inſulting over him. Surely never was ſuch an Inſtance of barbarous Inhumanity towards the vileſt Malefactor: But thus the Devil ſhew'd the utmoſt Rage againſt him, and thus he ſubmitted to the greateſt Diſhonours that could be done him.

1. Even they that paſſed by, that were no way concern'd, yet rail'd on him, v. 29. If their Hearts were ſo hardned, that their Compaſſions were not moved with ſuch a Spectacle, yet they ſhould have thought it enough to have their Curioſity gratified, but that will not ſerve, as if they were not only diveſted of all Humanity, but were Devils in human Shape; they taunted him, and expreſs'd themſelves with the utmoſt Deteſtation of him, and Indignation at him, and ſhot thick at him their Arrows, even bitter Words. The chief Prieſts no doubt put theſe Sarcaſms into their Mouths, Thou that deſtroyeſt the Temple, and buildeſt it in three days, now, if thou canſt, ſave thy ſelf and come down from the Croſs. They triumph as if now they had got him to the Croſs, there were no Danger of his deſtroying the Temple, whereas the Temple of which he ſpoke he was now deſtroying, and did within three days build it up: And the Temple of which they ſpake, he did by Men, that were his Sword, and his Hand, deſtroy not many Years after. When ſecure Sinners think the Danger is over, it is then moſt ready to ſeize them: The Day of the Lord comes as a Thief upon thoſe that deny his Coming, and ſay, Where is the Promiſe of it? Much more upon thoſe that defy his Coming, and ſay, Let him make Speed, and haſten his Work.

3. Even the chief Prieſts, who being taken from among Men, and ordain'd for Men, ſhould have Compaſſion even on thoſe that are out of the Way, ſhould be tender of thoſe that are ſuffering and dying, Heb. 5. 1, 2. Yet they poured Vinegar inſtead of Oil into his Wounds, they talk'd to the Grief of him whom God had ſmitten, Pſal. 69. 26. they mocked him, they ſaid he ſaved others, heal'd and helped them, but now it appears it was not by his own Power, for himſelf he cannot ſave. They challenge him to come down from the Croſs if he could, v. 32. Let them but ſee that, and they would believe; whereas they would not believe when he gave them a more convincing Sign than that, when he came up from the Grave. Theſe Chief Prieſts, one would think, might now have found themſelves other Work to do: If they would not go to do their Duty in the Temple, yet they might have been imploy'd in an Office not foreign to their Profeſſion; tho' they would not offer any Counſel or Comfort to the Lord Jeſus, yet they might have given ſome Help to the Thieves in their dying Moments; (the Monks and Prieſts in Popiſh Countries are very officious about Criminals broken upon the Wheel, a Death much like that of the Croſs) but they did not think that their Buſineſs.

3. Even they that were crucified with him reviled him, v. 32. one of them did, ſo wretchedly was his Heart harden'd even in the Depth of Miſery, and at the Door of Eternity.

33 And when the ſixth hour was come, there was darkneſs over the whole land, until the ninth hour.
34 And at the ninth hour Jeſus cried with a loud voice, ſaying, Eloi, Eloi, lama ſabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? 35 And ſome of them that ſtood by,
when they heard it, ſaid, Behold, he calleth Elias.
36 And one ran, and filled a ſpunge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, ſaying, Let alone; let us ſee whether Elias will come to take him down. 37 And Jeſus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghoſt. 38 And the vail of the temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottom. 39 And when the centurion which ſtood over againſt him, ſaw that he ſo cried out, and gave up the ghoſt, he ſaid, Truly this man was the Son of God. 40 There were alſo women looking on afar off: among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the leſs, and of Joſes, and Salome; 41 Who alſo when he was in Galilee; followed him, and miniſtred unto him; and many other women which came up with him unto Jeruſalem.

Here we have an Account of Chriſt's Dying, how his Enemies abus'd him, and God honour'd him at his Death.

1. There was a thick Darkneſs over the whole Land, (ſome think over the whole Earth) for three Hours from Noon, till three of the Clock. Now the Scripture was fulfill'd, Amos 8. 9. I will cauſe the Sun to go down at Noon, and will darken the Earth in the clear Day, and Jer. 15. 9. Her Sun is gone down while it was yet Day. The Jews had often demanded of Chriſt a Sign from Heaven, and now they had one, but ſuch a one as ſignified the blinding of their Eyes. 'Twas a Sign of the Darkneſs that was come and coming upon the Jewiſh Church and Nation. They were doing their utmoſt to extinguiſh the Son of Righteouſneſs which was now ſetting, and the riſing again of which they would never own; and what then might be expected among them but a worſe than Egyptian Darkneſs. This intimated to them that the Things which belong'd to their Peace were now hid from their Eyes, and that the Day of the Lord was at Hand, which ſhould be to them a Day of Darkneſs and Gloomineſs, Joel 2. 1, 2. 'Twas the Power of Darkneſs they were now under, the Works of Darkneſs they were now doing, and ſuch as this ſhould their Doom juſtly be who loved Darkneſs rather than Light.

2. Towards the Cloſe of this Darkneſs, our Lord Jeſus in the Agony of his Soul cried out, My God, my God, why haſt thou forſaken me? v. 34. The Darkneſs ſignified the preſent Cloud which the human Soul of Chriſt was under, when he was making it an Offering for Sin. Mr. Fox in his Acts and Monuments, Vol. 3. p. 160. tells of one Mr. Hunter, a Martyr in Queen Mary's Time, that being faſten'd to the Stake to be burnt, he put up this ſhort Prayer, Son of God ſhine upon me; and immediately the Sun in the Firmament ſhone out of a dark Cloud ſo full in his Face, that he was forced to look another way, which was very comfortable to him: But our Lord Jeſus on the contrary was denied the Light of the Sun when he was in his Sufferings, to ſignifie the withdrawing of the Light of God's Countenance. And this he complained of more than any thing; he did not complain of his Diſciples forſaking him, but of his Father's, (1.) Becauſe this wounded his Spirit; and that's a Thing hard to bear, Prov. 18. 14. This brought the Waters into his Soul, Pſal. 69. 1, 2, 3. (2.) Becauſe in this eſpecially he was made Sin for us; our Iniquities had deſerved Indignation and Wrath upon the Soul, Rom. 2. 7. and therefore Chriſt being made a Sacrifice, underwent as much of it as he was capable of; and it could not but bear hard indeed upon him who had lain in the Boſom of the Father from Eternity, and was always his Delight. Theſe Symptoms of Divine Wrath which Chriſt was under in his Sufferings, were like that Fire from Heaven, which had been ſent ſometimes in extraordinary Caſes to conſume the Sacrifices, as Lev. 9. 24. 2 Chron. 7. 1. 1 Kings 18. 38. and it was always a Token of God's Acceptance; the Fire that ſhould have fallen upon the Sinner, if God had not been pacified, fell upon the Sacrifice, as a Token that he was ſo; therefore it now fell upon Chriſt, and extorted from him this loud and bitter Cry. When Paul was to be offer'd as a Sacrifice for the Service of Saints, he could joy and rejoyce, Phil. 2. 17. But it is another Thing to be offer'd as a Sacrifice for the Sins of Sinners. Now at the ſixth Hour, and ſo to the ninth, the Sun was darken'd by an extraordinary Eclipſe; and if it be true, as ſome Aſtronomers compute, that in the Evening of this Day on which Chriſt dy'd, there was an Eclipſe of the Moon that was natural and expected, in which Seven Digits of the Moon were darken'd, and it continued from Five a Clock till Seven; 'tis remarkable, and yet farther ſignificant of the Darkneſs of the Time that then was. When the Sun ſhall be darken'd, the Moon alſo ſhall not give her Light.

3. Chriſt's Prayer was banter'd by them that ſtood by, v. 35, 36. Becauſe he cry'd, Eli, Eli, or (as Mark has it according to the Syriac Dialect) Eloi, Eloi, they ſaid, he calls for Elias, tho' they knew very well what he ſaid, and what it ſignified, My God, my God. Thus did they repreſent him as praying to Saints, either becauſe he had abandoned God, or God had abandoned him; and hereby they would make him more and more odious to the People: One of them fill'd a Spunge with Vinegar, and reach'd it up to him upon a Reed; let him cool his Mouth with that, 'twas Drink good enough for him, v. 36. This was intended for a further Affront and Abuſe to him; and whoever it was that check'd him who did it, did but add to the Reproach; Let him alone, he has call'd for Elias, Let us ſee whether Elias will come to take him down, and if not we may conclude that he alſo hath abandoned him.

4. Chriſt did again cry with a loud Voice, and ſo gave up the Ghoſt, v. 37. He was now commending his Soul into his Father's Hands, and tho' God is not mov'd with any bodily Exerciſe, yet this loud Voice ſignified that great Strength and Ardency of Affection wherewith he did it, to teach us in every Thing wherein we have to do with God, to put forth our utmoſt Vigour, and to perform all the Duties of Religion, particularly that of Self-Reſignation with our whole Heart and our whole Soul; and then tho' Speech fails that we cannot cry with a loud Voice as Chriſt did, yet if God be the Strength of the Heart, that will not fail. Chriſt was really and truly dead, for he gave up the Ghoſt, his human Soul departed to the World of Spirits, and left his Body a breathleſs Clod of Clay.

5. Juſt at that Inſtant that Chriſt dy'd upon Mount Calvary, the Veil of the Temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottom, v. 38. This ſpoke a great deal, (1.) of Terror to the unbelieving Jews, for it was a Preſage of the utter Deſtruction of their Church and Nation which followed not long after; 'twas like the cutting aſunder of the Staff of Beauty, (for this Veil was exceeding ſplendid and glorious, Exod. 26. 31.) and that was done, at the ſame time when they gave for his Price thirty Pieces of Silver, Zech. 11. 10, 12. to brake the Covenant which he had made with that People. Now it was time to cry Ichabod, The Glory is departed from Iſrael. Some think that Story which Joſephus relates of the Temple Door opening of its own Accord with that Voice, let us depart hence, ſome Years before the Deſtruction of Jeruſalem, is the ſame with this here, but that's not probable; however this had the ſame Signification, according to that, Hoſ. 5. 14. I will tear and go away. (2.) It ſpeaks a deal of Comfort to all believing Chriſtians, for it ſignified the conſecrating and laying open to us a new and living Way into the Holieſt by the Blood of Jeſus.

6. The Centurion who commanded that Detachment which had the Overſight of the Execution, was convinced and confeſs'd that this Jeſus was the Son of God, v. 39. One Thing that ſatisfy'd him was, that he ſo cry'd out and gave up the Ghoſt: That one who was ready to give up the Ghoſt, ſhould be able to cry out ſo was very ſurprizing. Of all the ſad Spectacles of this Kind, he never obſerv'd the like; and that one who had Strength to cry ſo loud, ſhould yet immediately give up the Ghoſt, this alſo made him wonder; and he ſaid to the Honour of Chriſt and the Shame of thoſe that abus'd him, Truly this Man was the Son of God. But what Reaſon had he to ſay ſo? I anſwer (1.) He had Reaſon to ſay that he ſuffer'd unjuſtly, and had a great deal of Wrong done him: Note, He ſuffer'd for ſaying, he was the Son of God; and it was true he did ſay ſo, ſo that if he ſuffer'd unjuſtly, as it was plain by all the Circumſtances of his Sufferings he did, then what he ſaid was true, and he was indeed the Son of God. (2.) He had Reaſon to ſay that he was a Favourite of Heaven, and one for whom the Almighty Power was particularly engaged, ſeeing how Heaven did him Honour at his Death, and frown'd upon his Perſecutors. Surely thinks he, this muſt be ſome Divine Perſon, highly beloved of God. This he expreſſeth by ſuch Words as ſpeak his eternal Generation as God, and his ſpecial Deſignation to the Office of Mediator, tho' he meant not ſo. Our Lord Jeſus even in the Depth of his Sufferings and Humiliation was the Son of God, and was declared to be ſo with Power.

7. There were ſome of his Friends, the good Women eſpecially, that attended him, v. 40, 41. There were Women looking on afar off: The Men durſt not be ſeen at all, the Mob was ſo very outrageous, (Currenti cede furori, they thought was good Counſel now). The Women durſt not come near, but ſtood at a Diſtance, overwhelm'd with Grief: Some of theſe Women are here nam'd, Mary Magdalen was one, ſhe had been his Patient, and ow'd all her Comfort to his Power and Goodneſs, which reſcued her out of the Poſſeſſion of Seven Devils, in Gratitude for which ſhe thought ſhe could never do enough for him. Mary the Mother of James the little, (Jacobus Parvus) ſo the Word is, probably he was ſo call'd becauſe he was like Zacheus, little of Stature. This Mary was the Wife of Cleophas, or Alpheus, Siſter to the Virgin Mary. Theſe Women had followed Chriſt from Galilee, tho' they were not required to attend the Feaſts as the Men were; but 'tis likely they came in Expectation that his temporal Kingdom would now ſhortly be ſet up, and big with Hopes of Preferment for themſelves and their Relations under him. 'Tis plain the Mother of Zebedee's Children was ſo, Mat. 20. 21. And now to ſee him upon a Croſs, whom they thought to have ſeen upon a Throne, could not but be a great Baulk to them. Note, Thoſe that follow Chriſt in Expectation of great Things in this World by him, and by the Profeſſion of his Religion, may probably live to ſee themſelves ſadly diſappointed.

42 And now when the even was come, (becauſe it was the preparation, that is, the day before the ſabbath) 43 Joſeph of Arimathea, an honourable counſellour, which alſo waited for the kingdom of God, came, and went in boldly unto Pilate, and craved the body of Jeſus. 44 And Pilate marvelled, If he were already dead: and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he had been any while dead. 45 And when he knew it of the centurion, he gave the body to Joſeph. 46 And he bought fine linen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen, and laid him in a ſepulchre which was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a ſtone unto the door of the ſepulchre. 47 And Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of Joſes, beheld where he was laid.

We are here attending the Funeral of our Lord Jeſus, a ſolemn mournful Funeral. O that we may by Grace be planted in the Likeneſs of it. Obſerve,

1. How the Body of Chriſt was, begg'd. It was as the dead Bodies of Malefactors uſe to be, at the diſpoſe of the Government. Thoſe that hurried him to the Croſs, deſign'd he ſhould make his Grave with the Wicked, but God deſign'd he ſhould make it with the rich, Iſa. 53. 9. and ſo he did. We are here told,

1. When the Body of Chriſt was begg'd, in order to its being buried, and why ſuch haſte was made with the Funeral; the Even was come, and it was the Preparation, that is, The Day before the Sabbath, v. 42. The Jews were more ſtrict in the Obſervation of the Sabbath, than of any other Feaſt; and therefore, tho' this Day was it ſelf a Feaſt-Day, yet they obſerv'd it more religiouſly, as the Eve of the Sabbath; when they prepared their Houſes and Tables, for the ſplendid and joyful ſolemnizing of the Sabbath-Day. Note, The Day before the Sabbath ſhould be a Day of Preparation for the Sabbath, not of our Houſes and Tables, but of our Hearts, which as much as poſſible ſhould be freed from the Cares and Buſineſs of the World, and fix'd, and put in Frame for the Service and Enjoyment of God. Such Work is to be done, and ſuch Advantages gain'd on the Sabbath Day, that 'tis requiſite we ſhould get ready for it a Day before; nay, the whole Week ſhould be divided between the Improvement of the foregoing Sabbath, and Preparation for the following Sabbath.

2. Who it was that begg'd the Body, and took Care for the decent Interment of it; 'twas Joſeph of Arimathea, who is here call'd an honourable Counſellor, v. 43. A Perſon of Character and Diſtinction, and in an Office of publick Truſt; ſome think in the State, and that he was one of Pilate's Privy-Council; his Poſt rather ſeems to have been in the Church, he was one of the Great Sanhedrin of the Jews; or one of the High Prieſts Council. He was ἐυσχήμων βȣλευτὴς, A Counſellor that carry'd himſelf in his Place as it became him. Thoſe are truly honourable, and thoſe only, in Places of Power and Truſt, that make Conſcience of their Duty, and whoſe Deportment is agreeable to their Preferment. But here is a more ſhining Character put upon him, he was one that waited for the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of Grace on Earth, and of Glory in Heaven; the Kingdom of the Meſſiah. Note, Thoſe who wait for the Kingdom of God, and hope for an Intereſt in the Privileges of it, muſt ſhew it by their forwardneſs to own Chriſt's Cauſe and Intereſt, even then when it ſeems to be cruſh'd and run down. Obſerve, Even among the honourable Counſellors, there were ſome, there was one at leaſt, that waited for the Kingdom of God, whoſe Faith will condemn the Unbelief of all the reſt. This Man God rais'd up for this neceſſary Service, when none of Chriſt's Diſciples could or durſt undertake it, having neither Purſe, nor Intereſt, nor Courage for it. Joſeph went in boldly to Pilate; though he knew how much it would affront the Chief Prieſts, who had loaded him with ſo much Reproach, to ſee any Honour done him, yet he put on Courage; perhaps at firſt he was a little afraid, but τολμήσας, taking Heart on it, he determin'd to ſhew this Reſpect to the Remains of the Lord Jeſus, let the worſt come to the worſt.

3. What a ſurprize it was to Pilate to hear that he was dead, perhaps expecting that he would have ſav'd himſelf, and come down from the Croſs; eſpecially that he was already dead, that one who ſeem'd to have a more than ordinary Vigour ſhould ſo ſoon yield to Death. Every Circumſtance of Chriſt's dying was marvellous, for from firſt to laſt his Name was call'd Wonderful. Pilate doubted (ſo ſome underſtand it) whether he were yet dead or no, fearing leſt he ſhould be impos'd upon, and the Body ſhould be taken down alive, and recover'd, whereas the Sentence was, as with us, to hang till the Body be dead. He therefore call'd the Centurion, his own Officer, and ask'd him, Whether he had been any while dead, v. 44. Whether it was ſo long ſince they perceiv'd any Sign of Life in him, any Breath or Motion, that they might conclude he was dead paſt recal. The Centurion could aſſure him of this, for he had particularly obſerv'd how he gave up the Ghoſt, v. 39. There was a ſpecial Providence in it, that Pilate ſhould be ſo ſtrict in examining this, that there might be no Pretence to ſay he was bury'd alive, and ſo to take away the Truth of his Reſurrection; and ſo fully was this determin'd, that that Objection was never ſtarted. Thus the Truth of Chriſt gains Confirmation, ſometimes even from the Enemies of it.

2. How the Body of Chriſt was buried. Pilate gave Joſeph leave to take down the Body, and do what he pleas'd with it. 'Twas a wonder the Chief Prieſts were not too quick for him, and had not firſt begg'd the Body of Pilate, to expoſe it, and drag it about the Streets, but that remainder of their Wrath did God reſtrain, and gave that invaluable Prize to Joſeph, who knew how to value it; and the Hearts of the Prieſts were ſo influenc'd, that they did not oppoſe it. Sit Divus modo non ſit vivus.

1. Joſeph bought fine Linen to wrap the Body in, tho' in ſuch a Caſe Old Linen that had been worn might have been thought ſufficient. In paying Reſpects to Chriſt, it becomes us to be generous, and to ſerve him with the beſt that can be got, not with that which can be got at the beſt Hand.

2. He took down the Body, mangled and macerated as it was, and wrapt it in the Linen, as a Treaſure of great worth. Our Lord Jeſus hath himſelf commanded to be delivered to us, Sacramentally in the Ordinance of the Lord's Supper, which we ſhould receive in ſuch a manner as may beſt expreſs our Love to him, who loved us and died for us.

3. He laid it in a Sepulchre of his own, in a private Place. We ſometimes find it ſpoken of in the Story of the Kings of Judah, as a Slur upon the Memory of the wicked Kings, that they were not bury'd in the Sepulchres of the Kings; our Lord Jeſus, tho' he did no Evil, but much Good, and to him was given the Throne of his Father David, yet was bury'd in the Graves of common People, for it was not in this World, but in the other, that his Reſt was glorious. This Sepulchre belong'd to Joſeph; Abraham, when he had no other Poſſeſſion in the Land of Canaan, yet had a Burying-Place, but Chriſt had not ſo much as that. This Sepulchre was hewn out of a Rock, for Chriſt dy'd to make the Grave a Refuge and Shelter to the Saints, and being hewn out of a Rock, it is a ſtrong Refuge. O that thou wouldſt hide me in the Grave! Chriſt himſelf is a hiding Place to his People, that is, as the Shadow of a great Rock.

4. He roll'd a Stone to the Door of the Sepulchre, for ſo the manner of the Jews was to bury. When Daniel was put into the Lions Den, a Stone was laid to the Mouth of it, to keep him in, as here to the Door of Chriſt's Sepulchre, but neither of them could keep off the Angels viſits to the Priſoners.

5. Some of the good Women attended the Funeral, and beheld where he was laid, that they might come after the Sabbath to anoint the dead Body, becauſe they had not Time to do it now. When Moſes the Mediator and Lawgiver of the Jewiſh Church was bury'd, care was taken that no Man ſhould know of his Sepulchre, Deut. 34. 6. becauſe the Reſpects of the People towards his Perſon, were to die with him; but when our great Mediator and Lawgiver was bury'd, ſpecial Notice was taken of his Sepulchre, becauſe he was to riſe again: And the care taken of his Body ſpeaks the Care which he himſelf will take concerning his Body the Church, even then when it ſeems to be a dead Body, and as a Vally full of dry Bones, it ſhall be preſerv'd in order to a Reſurrection; as ſhall alſo the dead Bodies of the Saints, with whoſe Duſt there is a Covenant in force which ſhall not be forgotten. Our Meditations on Chriſt's Burial ſhould lead us to think of our own, and ſhould help to make the Grave familiar to us, and ſo to make that bed eaſy, which we muſt ſhortly make in the Darkneſs. Frequent Thoughts of it would not only take off the Dread and Terror of it, but quicken us, ſince the Graves are always ready for us, to get ready for the Graves, Job 17. 1.

CHAP. XVI.

In this Chapter we have a ſhort Account of the Reſurrection and Aſcenſion of the Lord Jeſus, and the Joys and Triumphs which it furniſheth all Believers with, will be very acceptable to thoſe who ſympathiz'd and ſuffer'd with Chriſt in the foregoing Chapters. Here's (1.) Chriſt's Reſurrection notify'd by an Angel to the Women that came to the Sepulchre to anoint him, v. 1—8. (2.) His Appearance to Mary Magdalen, and the Account ſhe gave of it to the Diſciples, v. 9—11. (3.) His Appearance to the Two Diſciples going to Emmaus, and the Report they made of it to their Brethren, v. 12, 13. (4.) His Appearance to the Eleven, with the Commiſſion he gave them to ſet up his Kingdom in the World, and full Inſtructions, and Credentials in order thereunto, v. 14—18. (5.) His Aſcenſion into Heaven, and the Apoſtles cloſe Application to their Work, and God's owning them in it, v. 19, 20.

AND when the Sabbath was paſt, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought ſweet ſpices, that they might come and anoint him. 2 And very early in the morning, the firſt day of the week, they came unto the ſepulchre, at the riſing of the ſun. 3 And they ſaid among themſelves, Who ſhall roll us away the ſtone from the door of the ſepulchre? 4 (And when they looked, they ſaw that the ſtone was rolled away) for it was very great. 5 And entring into the ſepulchre, they ſaw a young man ſitting on the right ſide, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted. 6 And he ſaith unto them, Be not affrighted; ye ſeek Jeſus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is riſen, he is not here: behold the place where they laid him. 7 But go your way, tell his Diſciples and Peter, that he goeth before you into Galilee: there ſhall ye ſee him, as he ſaid unto you. 8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the ſepulchre; for they trembled, and were amazed: neither ſaid they any thing to any man; for they were afraid.

Never was there ſuch a Sabbath, ſince the Sabbath was firſt inſtituted, as this was, which the firſt Words of this Chapter tell us was now paſt; during all this Sabbath our Lord Jeſus lay in the Grave. 'Twas to him a Sabbath of reſt, but a ſilent Sabbath; 'twas to his Diſciples a melancholy Sabbath, ſpent in Tears and Fears: Never were the Sabbath-Services in the Temple ſuch an abomination to God, tho' they had been often ſo, as they were now, when the Chief Prieſts that preſided in them had their Hands full of Blood, the Blood of Chriſt. Well, this Sabbath is over, and the firſt Day of the Week is the firſt Day of the New World. We have here,

1. The affectionate Viſit which the good Women that had attended Chriſt now made to his Sepulchre, not a Superſtitious one, but a Pious one. They ſet out from their Lodgings very early in the Morning, at break of Day, or ſooner; but either they had a long Walk, or met with ſome Hindrance, ſo that it was Sun-riſing by that time they got to the Sepulchre. They had bought ſweet Spices too, and come not only to bedew the dead Body with their Tears, for nothing could more renew their Grief than this, but to perfume it with their Spices, v. 1. Nicodemus had bought a very large Quantity of dry Spices, Myrrh and Aloes, which ſerv'd to dry the Wounds, and dry up the Blood, John 19. 39. But theſe good Women did not think that enough, they bought Spices, perhaps of another kind, ſome perfum'd Oils to anoint him. Note, The Reſpects which others have ſhew'd to Chriſt's Name, ſhould not hinder us from ſhewing our Reſpects to it.

2. The Care they were in about the rolling away of the Stone, and the ſuperſeding of that Care, v. 3, 4. They ſaid among themſelves, as they were coming a long, and now drew near the Sepulchre, who ſhall roll us away the Stone from the Door of the Sepulchre? For it was very great, more than they with their united Strength could move. They ſhould have thought of this before they came out, and then Diſcretion would have bid them not go, unleſs they had thoſe to go with them who could do it. And there was another Difficulty much greater than this to be got over which they knew nothing of, to wit, a Guard of Soldiers ſet to keep the Sepulchre; who, had they come before they were frighten'd away, would have frighten'd them away. But their gracious Love to Chriſt carry'd them to the Sepulchre, and ſee how by that time they came thither both thoſe Difficulties were remov'd, both the Stone which they knew of, and the Guard which they knew not of. They ſaw that the Stone was roll'd away, which was the firſt Thing that amaz'd them. Note, They who are carried by a Holy Zeal to ſeek Chriſt diligently, will find the Difficulties that lie in their Way ſtrangely to vaniſh, and themſelves help'd over them beyond their Expectation.

3. The Aſſurance that was given them by an Angel that the Lord Jeſus was riſen from the Dead, and had taken Leave of his Sepulchre, and had left him there to tell thoſe ſo who came thither to enquire after him.

1. They enter'd into the Sepulchre, at leaſt a little Way in, and ſaw the Body of Jeſus was not there where they left it the other Night. He who by his Death undertook to pay our Debt, in his Reſurrection took out our Acquittance, for it was his Diſcharge out of Priſon, and it was a fair and legal Diſcharge, by which it appear'd that his Satisfaction was accepted to all the Purpoſes for which it was intended, and the Matter in Diſpute was determin'd by an unconteſtable Evidence that he was the Son of God.

2. They ſaw a young Man ſitting on the right Side of the Sepulchre: The Angel appear'd in the Likeneſs of a Man, of a young Man, for Angels tho' created in the Beginning grew not old, but are always in the ſame Perfection of Beauty and Strength, and ſo ſhall glorified Saints be when they are as the Angels. This Angel was ſitting on the right Hand, as they went into the Sepulchre, cloath'd with a long white Garment, a Garment down to the Feet, ſuch as great Men were array'd with. The Sight of him might juſtly have encourag'd them, but they were affrighted. Thus many Times that which ſhould be matter of Comfort to us, through our own Miſtakes and Miapprehenſions, proves a Terror to us.

3. He ſilenceth their Fears by aſſuring them here was Cauſe enough for Triumph, but none for Trembling, v. 6. He ſaith to them, be not affrighted. Note, Angels as they rejoyce in the Converſion of Sinners, ſo they do alſo in the Conſolation of Saints. Be not affrighted, for (1) You are faithful Lovers of Jeſus Chriſt, and therefore inſtead of being confounded ought to be comforted. Ye ſeek Jeſus of Nazareth which was crucified. Note, The Enquiries of believing Souls after Chriſt, have a particular Regard to him as crucified, 1 Cor. 2. 2. that they may know him and the Fellowſhip of his Sufferings. His being lifted up from the Earth, is that which draws all Men unto him. Chriſt's Croſs is the Enſign to which the Gentiles ſee. Obſerve he ſpeaks of Jeſus as one that was crucified; the Thing is paſt, that Scene is over, you muſt not dwell ſo much upon the ſad Circumſtances of his Crucifixion as to be unapt to believe the joyful News of his Reſurrection. He was crucified in Weakneſs, yet that doth not hinder but that he may be rais'd in Power, and therefore ye that ſeek him be not afraid of miſſing of him: He was crucified, but he is glorified; and the Shame of his Sufferings is ſo far from leſſening the Glory of his Exaltation, that that Glory perfectly wipes away all the Reproach of his Sufferings. And therefore after his Entrance upon his Glory he never drew any Veil over his Sufferings, nor was ſhy of having his Croſs ſpoken of: The Angel here that proclaims his Reſurrection calls him Jeſus that was crucified. He himſelf owns, Rev. 1. 18. I am he that liveth and was dead; and he appears in the Midſt of the Praiſes of the heavenly Hoſt as a Lamb that had been ſlain, Rev. 5. 6.

(2.) It will therefore be good News to you to hear, that inſtead of anointing him dead, you may rejoyce in him living. He is riſen, he is not here, not dead but alive again; we cannot as yet ſhew you him, hereafter you will ſee him, but you may here ſee the Place where they laid him, and you ſee he is gone hence, not ſtollen either by his Enemies or by his Friends, but riſen.

4. He orders them to give ſpeedy Notice of this to his Diſciples: Thus they were made the Apoſtles of the Apoſtles, which was a Recompence of their Affection and Fidelity to him, in attending him on the Croſs, to the Grave, and in the Grave: They firſt came and were firſt ſerv'd; no other of the Diſciples durſt come near his Sepulchre, or enquire after him; ſo little Danger was there of their coming by Night to ſteal him away, that none came near him but a few Women, who were not able ſo much as to roll away the Stone.

(1.) They muſt tell the Diſciples that he is riſen: It's a diſmal Time with them, their dear Maſter is dead, and all their Hopes and Joys are buried in his Grave; they look upon their Cauſe as ſunk, and themſelves ready to fall an eaſie Prey into the Hands of their Enemies, ſo that there remains no more Spirit in them, they are perfectly at their Wits end, every one is contriving how to ſhift for himſelf: O go quickly to them, ſaith the Angel, tell them their Maſter is riſen, that will put ſome Life and Spirit into them, and keep them from ſinking into Deſpair. Note, (1.) Chriſt is not aſham'd to own his poor Diſciples, no not now he is in an exalted State; his Preferment doth not make him ſhy of them, for he took early Care to have it notified to them. (2.) Chriſt is not extreme to mark what they do amiſs whoſe Hearts are upright with him. The Diſciples had very unkindly deſerted him, and yet he teſtified this Concern for them. (3.) Seaſonable Comforts ſhall be ſent to thoſe that are lamenting after the Lord Jeſus, and he will find a time to manifeſt himſelf to them.

(2.) They muſt be ſure to tell Peter. This is particularly taken Notice of by this Evangeliſt, who is ſuppos'd to have written by Peter's Direction. If it were told the Diſciples, it would be told Peter, for, as a Token of his Repentance for diſowning his Maſter, he ſtill aſſociated with his Diſciples; yet he is particularly nam'd, tell Peter, for (1) it will be good News to him, more welcome to him than to any of them, for he is in Sorrow for Sin, and no Tydings can be more welcome to true Penitents than to hear of the Reſurrection of Chriſt, becauſe he roſe again for their Juſtification. (2) He will be afraid leſt the Joy of this good News do not belong to him. Had the Angels ſaid only, go tell the Diſciples, poor Peter would have been ready to ſigh and ſay, But I doubt I cannot look upon my ſelf as one of them, for I diſown'd him, and deſerv'd to be diſown'd by him; to obviate that, Go to Peter by Name, and tell him he ſhall be as welcome as any of the reſt to ſee him in Galilee. Note, A Sight of Chriſt will be very welcome to a true Penitent, and a true Penitent ſhall be very welcome to a Sight of Chriſt, for there is Joy in Heaven concerning him.

(3.) They muſt appoint them all, and Peter by Name, to give him the Meeting in Galilee, as he ſaid unto you, Matt. 26. 32. In their Journey down into Galilee they would have Time to recollect themſelves, and call to mind what he had often ſaid to them there, That he ſhould ſuffer and die, and the third Day be rais'd again, whereas while they were at Jeruſalem, among Strangers and Enemies, they could not recover themſelves from the Fright they had been in, nor compoſe themſelves to the due Entertainment of better Tydings. Note, 1. All the Meetings between Chriſt and his Diſciples are of his own appointing. 2. Chriſt never forgets his Appointment, but will be ſure to meet his People with the promis'd Bleſſing in every Place where he records his Name. 3. In all Meetings between Chriſt and his Diſciples, he is the moſt for ward; He goes before you.

4. The Account which the Women did bring of this to the Diſciples, v. 8. They went out quickly, and ran from the Sepulchre, to make all the haſte they could to the Diſciples, trembling and amaz'd. See how much we are Enemies to our ſelves and our own Comfort, in not conſidering and mixing Faith with what Chriſt hath ſaid to us; Chriſt had often told them that the third Day he would riſe again, had they given that its due Notice and Credit, they would have come to the Sepulchre expecting to have found him riſen, and would have receiv'd the News of it with a joyful Aſſurance, and not with all this Terror and Amazement. But being order'd to tell the Diſciples, becauſe they were to tell it to all the World, they would not tell it to any one elſe, they ſhewed not any thing of it to any Man that they met by the Way, for they were afraid, afraid it was too good News to be true. Note, Our diſquieting Fears often hinder us from doing that Service to Chriſt, and to the Souls of Men, which, if Faith and the Joy of Faith were ſtrong, we might do.

9 Now when Jeſus was riſen early, the firſt day of the week, he appeared firſt to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had caſt ſeven devils. 10 And ſhe went and told them that had been with him, as they mourned and wept. 11 And they, when they had heard that he was alive, and had been ſeen of her, believed not.
12 After that he appeared in another form unto two of them, as they walked, and went into the countrey.
13 And they went and told it unto the reſidue: neither believed they them.

We have here a very ſhort Account of two of Chriſt's Appearances, and the little Credit which the Report of them gain'd with the Diſciples.

1. He appear'd to Mary Magdalen, to her firſt in the Garden, which we have a particular Narrative of, John 20. 14. 'Twas ſhe out of whom he had caſt ſeven Devils, much was forgiven her, and much was given her, and done for her, and ſhe loved much; and this Honour Chriſt did her, that ſhe was the firſt that ſaw him after his Reſurrection. The cloſer we cleave to Chriſt, the ſooner we may expect to ſee him, and the more to ſee of him.

Now, (1.) She brings Notice of what ſhe had ſeen to the Diſciples; not only to the Eleven, but to the reſt that followed him, as they mourned and wept, v. 10. Now was the Time of which Chriſt had told them, that they ſhould mourn and lament, John 16. 20. And it was an Evidence of their great Love to Chriſt, and the deep Senſe they had of their Loſs of him. But when their weeping had endur'd a Night or two, Comfort return'd, as Chriſt had promis'd them, I will ſee you again, and your Heart ſhall rejoyce. Better News cannot be brought to Diſciples in Tears, than to tell them of Chriſt's Reſurrection. And we ſhould ſtudy to be Comforters to Diſciples that are Mourners, by communicating to them our Experiences, and what we have ſeen of Chriſt.

(2.) They could not give Credit to the Report ſhe brought them. They heard that he was alive, and had been ſeen of her. The Story was plauſible enough, and yet they believed not; they would not ſay that ſhe made the Story her ſelf, or deſigned to deceive them, but they fear ſhe is impos'd upon, and it was but a Fancy that ſhe ſaw him. Had they believ'd the frequent Predictions of it from his own Mouth, they would not have been now ſo incredulous of the Report of it.

2. He appear'd to two of the Diſciples as they went into the Country, v. 12. This refers no doubt to that which is largely related, Luke 24. 13. of what paſs'd between Chriſt and the two Diſciples, going to Emmaus. He is here ſaid to have appear'd to them in another Form, in another Dreſs than what he uſually wore, in the Form of a Traveller; as in the Garden in ſuch a Dreſs, that Mary Magdalen took him for the Gardener; but that he had really his own Countenance appears by this, that their Eyes were holden that they ſhould not know him, and when that Reſtraint on their Eyes was taken off, immediately they knew him, Luke 24. 16, 31. Now,

1. Theſe two Witneſſes gave in their Teſtimony to this Proof of Chriſt's Reſurrection. They went and told it to the Reſidue, v. 13. being ſatisfied themſelves, they were deſirous to give their Brethren the Satisfaction they had, that they might be comforted as they were.

2. This did not gain Credit with all, neither believed they them. They ſuſpected that their Eyes alſo deceiv'd them. Now there was a wiſe Providence in it, that the Proofs of Chriſt's Reſurrection were given in thus gradually, and admitted thus cautiouſly, that ſo the Aſſurance with which the Apoſtles preach'd this Doctrine afterwards, when they ventured their All upon it, might be the more ſatisfying; we have the more Reaſon to believe thoſe who did themſelves believe ſo ſlowly; had they ſwallowed it preſently, they might have been thought credulous, and their Teſtimony the leſs to be regarded; but their disbelieving at firſt, ſhews that they did not believe it afterwards but upon a full Conviction.

14 Afterward he appeared unto the eleven, as they ſat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief, and hardneſs of heart, becauſe they believed not them which had ſeen him after he was riſen. 15 And he ſaid unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the goſpel to every creature. 16 He that believeth and is baptized ſhall be ſaved; but he that believeth not, ſhall be damned. 17 And theſe ſigns ſhall follow them that believe; In my name ſhall they caſt out devils, they ſhall ſpeak with new tongues. 18 They ſhall take up ſerpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it ſhall not hurt them; they ſhall lay hands on the ſick, and they ſhall recover.

Here's, 1. The Conviction which Chriſt gave his Apoſtles of the Truth of his Reſurrection, v. 14. He appear'd to them himſelf, when they were all together, as they ſat at Meat, which gave him an Opportunity to eat and drink with them for their full Satisfaction, ſee Acts 10. 41. And ſtill when he appear'd to them, he upbraided them with their Unbelief, and Hardneſs of Heart, for even at the general-Meeting in Galilee, ſome doubted, as we find Matt. 28. 17. Note, The Evidences of the Truth of the Goſpel are ſo full, that thoſe who receive it not may juſtly be upbraided with their Unbelief; and it is owing not to any Weakneſs or Deficiency in the Proofs, but to the Hardneſs of the Heart, and the Senſeleſneſs and Stupidity of that: Tho' they had not till now ſeen him themſelves, they are juſtly blam'd becauſe they believ'd not them which had ſeen him after he was riſen; and perhaps it was owing in part to the Pride of their Hearts that they did not; for they thought, if indeed he were riſen, to whom ſhould he delight to do the Honour of ſhewing himſelf but to them. And if he paſs them by, and ſhew himſelf to others firſt, they cannot believe 'tis he. Thus many disbelieve the Doctrine of Chriſt, becauſe they think it below them to give Credit to ſuch as he had choſen to be the Witneſſes and Publiſhers of it. Obſerve, It will not ſuffice for an Excuſe of our Infidelity in the great Day, to ſay we did not ſee him after he was riſen, for we ought to have believ'd the Teſtimony of thoſe who did ſee him.

2. The Commiſſion which he gave them to ſet up his Kingdom among Men by the Preaching of his Goſpel, the glad Tidings of Reconciliation to God through a Mediator. Now obſerve,

1. To whom they were to preach the Goſpel. Hitherto they had been ſent only to the loſt Sheep of the Houſe of Iſrael, and were forbidden to go into the Way of the Gentiles, or into any City of the Samaritans: But now their Commiſſion is enlarged, and they are authoriz'd to go into all the World, into all Parts of the World, the habitable World, and to preach the Goſpel of Chriſt to every Creature, to the Gentiles as well as to the Jews; to every human Creature that is capable of receiving it. Inform them concerning Chriſt, the Hiſtory of his Life, and Death, and Reſurrection; inſtruct them in the Meaning and Intention of theſe, and of the Advantages which the Children of Men have, or may have hereby; and invite them without Exception to come and ſhare in them. This is Goſpel, let this be preach'd in all Places, to all Perſons: Theſe eleven Men could not themſelves preach it to all the World, much leſs to every Creature in it, but they and the other Diſciples, Seventy in Number, with thoſe who ſhould afterwards be added to them, muſt diſperſe themſelves ſeveral Ways, and wherever they went, carry the Goſpel along with them. They muſt ſend others to thoſe Places, whither they could not go themſelves; and in ſhort make it the Buſineſs of their Lives to ſend thoſe glad Tidings up and down the World, with all poſſible Fidelity and Care, not as an Amuſement or Entertainment, but as a ſolemn Meſſage from God to Man, and an appointed Means of making Men happy. Tell as many as you can, and bid them tell others, 'tis a Meſſage of univerſal Concern, and therefore ought to have an univerſal Welcome, becauſe it gives an univerſal Welcome.

2. What is the Summary of the Goſpel they are to preach, v. 16. Set before the World Life and Death, Good and Evil. Tell the Children of Men that they are all in a State of Miſery and Danger, condemn'd by their Prince, and conquer'd and enſlav'd by their Enemies. This is ſuppos'd in their being ſav'd, which they would not need to be if they were not loſt. Now go and tell them, (1.) That if they believe the Goſpel, and give up themſelves to be Chriſt's Diſciples; if they renounce the Devil, the World, and the Fleſh, and be reconcil'd to Chriſt as their Prophet, Prieſt, and King, and to God in Chriſt as their God in Covenant, and evidence by their conſtant Adherence to this Covenant their Sincerity herein, they ſhall be ſav'd from the Guilt and Power of Sin, it ſhall not rule them, it ſhall not ruin them. He that is a true Chriſtian ſhall be ſav'd thro' Chriſt. Baptiſm was appointed to be the inaugurating Rite, by which thoſe that embrac'd Chriſt own'd him; but it is here put rather for the Thing ſignified than for the Sign, for Simon Magus believ'd and was baptiz'd, yet not ſav'd, Acts 8. 13. Believing with the Heart, and confeſſing with the Mouth the Lord Jeſus, Rom. 10. 9. ſeems to be much the ſame with this here. Or thus, we muſt aſſent to Goſpel Truths, and conſent to Goſpel Terms. (2.) If they believe not, if they receive not the Record God gives concerning his Son, they cannot expect any other Way of Salvation, but muſt inevitably periſh, they ſhall be damned, by the Sentence of a deſpiſed Goſpel, added to that of a broken Law. And even this is Goſpel, 'tis good News, that nothing elſe but Unbelief ſhall damn Men, which is a Sin againſt the Remedy. Dr. Whitby here obſerves, That they who hence infer, “ That the Infant Seed of Believers are not capable of “ Baptiſm becauſe they cannot believe, muſt hence alſo infer that “ they cannot be ſav'd; Faith being here more expreſly requir'd “ to Salvation than to Baptiſm. And that in the latter Clauſe Ba- “ ptiſm is omitted, becauſe it is not ſimply the Want of Baptiſm, “ but the contemptuous Neglect of it, which makes Men guilty of “ Damnation, otherwiſe Infants might be damn'd for the Miſtakes “ or Profaneneſs of their Parents.

3. What Power they ſhould be endow'd with for the Confirmation of the Doctrine they were to preach, v. 17. Theſe Signs ſhall follow them that believe; not that all who believe ſhall be able to produce theſe Signs, but ſome, even as many as were employed in propagating the Faith, and bringing others to it; for Signs are intended for them that believe not, ſee 1 Cor. 14. 22. It added much to the Glory and Evidence of the Goſpel, that the Preachers not only wrought Miracles themſelves, but conferr'd upon others a Power to work Miracles, which Power followed ſome of them that believed where-ever they went to preach. They ſhall do Wonders in Chriſt's Name, the ſame Name into which they were baptiz'd, in the Virtue of Power derived from him, and fetch'd in by Prayer: Some particular Signs are mention'd; (1.) They ſhall caſt out Devils; this Power was more common among Chriſtians than any other, and laſted longer, as appears by the Teſtimonies of Juſtin Martyr, Origen, Irenæus, Tertullian, Minutius Felix, and others, cited by Grotius on this Place. (2.) They ſhall ſpeak with new Tongues, which they had never learn'd or been acquainted with; and this was both a Miracle (a Miracle upon the Mind) for the confirming of the Truth of the Goſpel, and a Means of ſpreading the Goſpel among thoſe Nations that had not heard it. It ſaved the Preachers a vaſt Labour in learning the Languages; and no doubt they who by Miracle were made Maſters of Languages, were compleat Maſters of them, and of all their native Elegancies which were proper both to inſtruct and affect, which would very much recommend them and their preaching. (3.) They ſhall take up Serpents: This was fulfill'd in Paul, who was not hurt by the Viper that faſten'd on his Hand, which was acknowledg'd a great Miracle by the barbarous People, Acts 28. 5, 6. They ſhall be kept unhurt by that Generation of Vipers, among whom they live, and by the Malice of the Old Serpent. (4.) If they be compell'd by their Perſecutors to drink any deadly poiſonous Thing, it ſhall not hurt them. Of which very Thing ſome Inſtances are found in Eccleſiaſtical Hiſtory. (5.) They ſhall not only be preſerved from Hurt themſelves, but they ſhall be enabled to do Good to others; they ſhall lay Hands on the Sick, and they ſhall recover, as Multitudes had done by their Maſter's healing Touch. Many of the Elders of the Church had this Power, as appears by Jam. 5. 14. whereas an inſtituted Sign of this miraculous Healing, they are ſaid to anoint the Sick with Oil in the Name of the Lord: With what Aſſurance of Succeſs might they go about the executing of their Commiſſion, when they had ſuch Credentials as theſe to produce?

19 So then after the Lord had ſpoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and ſat on the right hand of God. 20 And they went forth and preached every where, the Lord working with them; and confirming the word with ſigns following. Amen.

Here's 1. Chriſt welcomed into the upper World, v. 19. after the Lord had ſpoken what he had to ſay to his Diſciples, he went up into Heaven in a Cloud; which we have a particular Account of Acts 1. 9. and he had not only an Admiſſion, but an abundant Entrance into his Kingdom there; he was received up, received in State with loud Acclamations of the heavenly Hoſts; and he ſat on the Right Hand of God: Sitting is a Poſture of Reſt, for now he had finiſhed his Work, and a Poſture of Rule, for now he took Poſſeſſion of his Kingdom; he ſate at the Right Hand of God, which notes the Sovereign Dignity he is advanced to, and the univerſal Agency he is intruſted with. Whatever God doth concerning us, gives to us, or accepts from us, 'tis by his Son. Now he is glorified with the Glory he had before the World.

2. Chriſt welcomed in this lower World; his being believed on in the World, and received up into Glory are put together, 1 Tim. 3. 16. (1) We have here the Apoſtles working diligently for him; they went forth and preathed every where far and near; tho' the Doctrine they preach'd was ſpiritual and heavenly, and directly contrary to the Spirit and Genius of the World, tho' it met with Abundance of Oppoſition, and was utterly deſtitute of all ſecular Supports and Advantages, yet the Preachers of it were neither afraid nor aſham'd; they were ſo induſtrious in ſpreading the Goſpel, that within a few Years the Sound of it went forth into the Ends of the Earth, Rom. 10. 18. (2.) We have here God working effectually with them, to make their Labours ſucceſsful, by confirming the Word with Signs following, partly by the Miracles that were wrought upon the Bodies of People, which were Divine Seals to the Chriſtian Doctrine, and partly the Influence it had upon the Minds of People, through the Operation of the Spirit of God, ſee Heb. 2. 4. Theſe were properly Signs following the Word, the Reformation of the World, the Deſtruction of Idolatry, the Converſion of Sinners, the Comfort of Saints; and theſe Signs ſtill follow it, and that they may do ſo more and more, for the Honour of Chriſt and the Good of Mankind, the Evangeliſt prays and teaches us to ſay Amen. Father in Heaven, thus let thy Name be hallowed, and let thy Kingdom come.

OF THE
Goſpel according to St. LVKE.
WITH PRACTICAL OBSERVATIONS.

We are now entring into the Labours of another Evangeliſt; his Name Luke; which ſome take to be a Contraction of Lucilius; born at Antioch, ſo St. Jerom: Some think the only one of all the Penmen of the Scripture that was not of the Seed of Iſrael: He was a Jewiſh Proſelyte, and as ſome Conjecture, converted to Chriſtianity by the Miniſtry of St. Paul at Antioch; and after his coming into Macedonia, Acts 16. 10. he was his conſtant Companion. He had employ'd himſelf in the Study and Practice of Phyſick, hence Paul calls him Luke the beloved Phyſician, Col. 4. 14. And ſome of the pretended Ancients tell you he was a Painter, and drew a Picture of the Virgin Mary. But Doctor Whitby thinks there is nothing certain to the contrary; and that therefore 'tis probable he was one of the ſeventy Diſciples, and a follower of Chriſt when he was here upon Earth; and if ſo, he was a Native Iſraelite: And I ſee not what can be objected againſt this, except ſome uncertain Traditions of the Ancients, which we can build nothing upon; and againſt which may be oppos'd the Teſtimonies of Origen and Epiphanus, who both ſay, That he was one of the ſeventy Diſciples. He is ſuppos'd to have written this Goſpel when he was Aſſociate with St. Paul in his Travels, and by Direction from him: And ſome think this is the Brother whom Paul ſpeaks of, 2 Cor. 8. 18. Whoſe Praiſe is in the Goſpel, throughout all the Churches of Chriſt; as if the meaning of it were, That he was celebrated in all the Churches for writing this Goſpel; and that St. Paul means this, when he ſpeaks ſometimes of his Goſpel, as Rom. 2. 16. But there's no ground at all for that. Dr. Cave obſerves, that his way and manner of Writing is accurate and exact, his Stile polite and elegant, ſublime and lofty, yet perſpicuous; and that he expreſſeth himſelf in a vein of purer Greek than is to be found in the other Writers of the Holy Story: Thus he relates divers Things more copiouſly than the other Evangeliſts; and thus he eſpecially treats of thoſe Things which relate to the Prieſtly Office of Chriſt. 'Tis uncertain when, or about what time this Goſpel was written: Some think it was written in Achaia during his Travels with Paul, ſeventeen Years, twenty two Years ſay others, after Chriſt's Aſcenſion; others, That it was written at Rome, a little before he wrote his Hiſtory of the Acts of the Apoſtles, (which is a Continuation of this) when he was there with Paul, while he was a Priſoner, and preaching in his own hir'd Houſe, with which the Hiſtory of the Acts concludes; and then Paul ſaith, only Luke was with him, 2 Tim. 4. 11. When he was under that voluntary Confinement with Paul, he had leiſure to compile theſe two Hiſtories: And many excellent Writings the Church has been indebted to a Priſon for: If ſo, 'twas written about twenty ſeven Years after Chriſt's Aſcenſion, and about the fourth Year of Nero. Jerom ſaith he dy'd when he was Eighty four Years of Age, and was never marry'd. Some write, That he ſuffer'd Martyrdom; but if he did, where and when is uncertain. Nor indeed is there much more Credit to be given to the Chriſtian Traditions concerning the Writers of the New Teſtament, than to the Jewiſh Traditions concerning thoſe of the Old Teſtament.

CHAP. I.

The Narrative which this Evangeliſt gives us, (or rather God by him) of the Life of Chriſt, begins earlier than either Matthew or Mark; we have reaſon to thank God for them all, as we have for all the Gifts and Graces of Chriſt's Miniſters, which in one, make up what is wanting in the other, while all put together make a Harmony. In this Chapter we have (1.) Luke's Preface to his Goſpel, or his Epiſtle Dedicatory to his Friend Theophilus, v. 1,—4. (2.) The Propheſie and Hiſtory of the Conception of John Baptiſt, who was Chriſt's Forerunner, v. 5,—25. (3.) The Annunciation of the Virgin Mary, or the Notice given to her, that ſhe ſhould be the Mother of the Meſſiah, v. 26,—38. (4.) The Interview between Mary the Mother of Jeſus, and Eliſabeth the Mother of John, when they were both with Child of thoſe pregnant Births, and the Propheſies they both utter'd upon that Occaſion, v. 39,—56. (5.) The Birth and Circumciſion of John Baptiſt, ſix Months before the Birth of Chriſt, v. 57,—66. (6.) Zacharias's Song of Praiſe, in thankfulneſs for the Birth of John, and in proſpect of the Birth of Jeſus, v. 67,—69. (7.) A ſhort Account of John Baptiſt's Infancy, v. 80. And theſe do more than give us an entertaining Narrative; they will lead us into the underſtanding of the Myſtery of Godlineſs, God manifeſt in the Fleſh.

FOraſmuch as many have taken in hand to ſet forth in order a declaration of thoſe things which are moſt ſurely believed amongſt us. 2 Even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eye-witneſſes, and miniſters of the word: 3 It ſeemed good to me alſo, having had perfect underſtanding of things from the very firſt, to write to thee in order, moſt excellent Theophilus. 4 That thou mighteſt know the certainty of thoſe things wherein thou haſt been inſtructed.

Complemental Prefaces and Dedications, the Language of Flattery, and the Food and Fuel of Pride, are juſtly condemn'd by the Wiſe and Good; but it doth not therefore follow, that ſuch as are Uſeful and Inſtructive are to be run down; ſuch is this here, in which St. Luke dedicates his Goſpel to his Friend Theophilus, not as to his Patron, tho' he was a Man of Honour to protect it, but as to his Pupil to learn it, and hold it faſt. 'Tis not certain who this Theophilus was; the Name ſignifies a Friend of God, and ſome think it doth not mean any particular Perſon, but every one that is a Lover of God; and Dr. Hammond quotes ſome of the Ancients underſtanding it ſo: And then it teaches us, That thoſe who are truly Lovers of God, will heartily welcome the Goſpel of Chriſt, the Deſign and Tendency of which is to bring us to God. But it is rather to be underſtood of ſome particular Perſon, probably a Magiſtrate; becauſe Luke gives him here the ſame Title of Reſpect which St. Paul gave to Feſtus the Governour, κρατίϛε, Acts 26. 25. which we there tranſlate moſt Noble Feſtus, and here moſt Excellent Theophilus. Note, Religion doth not deſtroy Civility and good Manners, but teaches us, according to the Uſages of our Country, to give Honour to them to whom Honour is due.

Now obſerve here,

1. Why St. Luke wrote his Goſpel; 'tis certain, he was moved by the Holy Ghoſt, not only to the Writing, but in the Writing of it; but in both he was moved as a reaſonable Creature, and not as a meer Machine; and he was made to conſider,

(1.) That the Things he wrote of, were Things that were moſt ſurely believed among all Chriſtians, and therefore Things which they ought to be inſtructed in, that they may know what they believe; and Things which ought to be tranſmitted to Poſterity, who are as much concerned in them as we are; and in order to that, to be committed to Writing, which is the ſureſt way of Conveyance to the Ages to come. He will not write about Things of doubtful Diſputations: Things about which Chriſtians may ſafely differ from one another, and heſitate within themſelves; but the Things which are and ought to be moſt ſurely believed, πράγματα πεπληροφορημένα; the Things which were perform'd, ſo ſome, which Chriſt and his Apoſtles did, and did with ſuch Circumſtance, as gave a full Aſſurance that they were really done; ſo that they have gain'd an eſtabliſh'd laſting Credit. Note, Tho' it is not the Foundation of our Faith, yet it is a Support to it, that the Articles of our Creed are Things that have been long moſt ſurely believed. The Doctrine of Chriſt is what Thouſands of the wiſeſt and beſt of Men have ventur'd their Souls upon, with the greateſt Aſſurance and Satiſfaction.

(2.) That 'twas requiſite there ſhould be a Declaration made in order of thoſe Things; That the Hiſtory of the Life of Chriſt ſhould be Methodiz'd, and committed to Writing, for the greater Certainty of the Conveyance. When Things are put in Order, we know the better where to find them, for our own Uſe, and how to keep them for the Benefit of others.

(3.) That there were many who had undertaken to publiſh Narratives of the Life of Chriſt; many well-meaning People that deſign'd well, and did well, and what they publiſh'd had done good, tho' not none by Divine Inſpiration, nor ſo well done as might be, nor intended for Perpetuity. Note, 1. The Labours of others in the Goſpel of Chriſt, if Faithful and Honeſt, we ought to commend and encourage, and not to deſpiſe, tho' chargeable with many Deficiencies. (2.) Others Services to Chriſt muſt not be reckon'd to ſuperſede ours, but rather to quicken them.

(4.) That the Truth of the Things he had to Write, was confirm'd by the concurring Teſtimony of thoſe that were competent and unexceptionable Witneſſes of them; what had been publiſh'd in Writing already, and what he was now about to publiſh, agreed with that which had been deliver'd by Word of Mouth, over and over, by thoſe who from the beginning were Eye-witneſſes and Miniſters of the Word, v. 2. Note, (1.) The Apoſtles were Miniſters of the Word of Chriſt, who is the Word, ſo ſome underſtand it, or of the Doctrine of Chriſt, they having received it themſelves, miniſtred it to others, 1 John 1. 1. They had not a Goſpel to make as Maſters, but a Goſpel to preach as Miniſters. (2.) The Miniſters of the Word were Eye-Witneſſes of the Things which they preach'd, and which is alſo included Ear-Witneſſes; They did themſelves hear the Doctrine of Chriſt, and ſee his Miracles, and had them not by Report, at ſecond hand; and therefore could not but ſpeak with the greateſt Aſſurance the Things they had ſeen and heard, Acts 4. 20. (3.) They were ſo from the beginning of Chriſt's Miniſtry, v. 2. He had his Diſciples with him when he wrought his firſt Miracle, John 2. 11. They companied with him all the Time that he went in and out among them, Acts 1. 21. So that they not only heard, and ſaw all that which was ſufficient to confirm their Faith, but if there had been any Thing to ſhock it, they had an Opportunity to diſcover it. (4.) The written Goſpel which we have to this Day, exactly agrees with the Goſpel that was preach'd in the firſt Days of the Church. (5.) That he himſelf had a perfect Underſtanding of the Things he wrote of from the firſt, v. 3. Some think here is a tacit Reflection upon thoſe that had written before him, that they had not a perfect Underſtanding of what they wrote, and therefore here am I, ſend me; (—facit indignatio verſum) or rather without reflecting on them, he aſſerts his own Ability for this Undertaking; it ſeemed good to me, having attain'd to the exact Knowledge of all Things, ἄνωθεν, from above, ſo I think it ſhould be rendred; for if he meant the ſame with from the beginning, v. 2. as our Tranſlation intimates, he would have uſed the ſame Word. (1.) He had diligently ſearch'd into theſe Things, had follow'd after them; ſo the Word is, as the Old Teſtament Prophets are ſaid to have enquir'd and ſearch'd diligently, 1 Pet. 1. 10. He had not taken Things ſo eaſily and ſuperficially, as others who had written before him, but made it his Buſineſs to inform himſelf concerning Particulars. (2.) He had receiv'd his Intelligence not only by Tradition, as others had done, but by Revelation, confirming that Tradition, and ſecuring him from any Error or Miſtake in the recording of it. He ſought it from above, ſo the Word intimates, and from thence he had it; thus, like Elihu, he fetch'd his Knowledge from afar. He wrote his Hiſtory, as Moſes wrote his, of Things reported by Tradition, but ratified by Inſpiration. (3.) He could therefore ſay, That he had a perfect Underſtanding of theſe Things: He knew them ἀκριβῶς, accurately, exactly. Now having received this from above, it ſeemed good to me to communicate it, for ſuch a Talent as this ought not to be bury'd.

2. Obſerve why he ſent it to Theophilus: I wrote unto thee theſe Things in order, not that thou may'ſt give Reputation to the Work, but thou may'ſt be edified by it; v. 4. That thou mighteſt know the certainty of thoſe Things wherein thou haſt been inſtructed. (1.) It is imply'd, that he had been inſtructed in theſe Things either before his Baptiſm, or ſince, or both, according to the Rule, Matt. 28. 19, 20. Probably Luke had baptized him, and knew how well inſtructed he was; περὶ ὧν κατηχήθης, concerning which thou haſt been Catechiz'd, ſo the Word is; the moſt knowing Chriſtians began with being Catechiz'd. Theophilus was a Perſon of Quality, perhaps of Noble Birth, and ſo much the more Pains ſhould be taken with ſuch, when they are young, to teach them the Principles of the Oracles of God, that they may be fortified againſt the Temptations, and furniſh'd for the Opportunities of a high Condition in the World. (2.) It was intended that he ſhould know the certainty of thoſe Things, ſhould underſtand them more clearly, and believe them more firmly. There is a certainty in the Goſpel of Chriſt, there is that in them which we may build upon: And thoſe who have been well inſtructed in the Things of God when they were Young, ſhould afterwards give Diligence to know the Certainty of thoſe Things; to know not only what we believe, but why we believe it, that we may be able to give a Reaſon of the Hope that is in us.

5 ¶ THere was in the days of Herod the King of Judea, a certain Prieſt named Zacharias, of the courſe of Abia, and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Eliſabeth. 6 And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord, blameleſs. 7 And they had no child, becauſe that Eliſabeth was barren, and they both were now well ſtricken in years. 8 And it came to paſs, that while he executed the prieſts office before God in the order of his courſe, 9 According to the cuſtom of the prieſts office, his lot was to burn incenſe when he went into the temple of the Lord. 10 And the whole multitude of the People were praying without, at the time of incenſe. 11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord, ſtanding on the right ſide of the altar of incenſe. 12 And when Zacharias ſaw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him. 13 But the angel ſaid unto him, Fear not Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife Eliſabeth ſhall bear thee a ſon, and thou ſhalt call his name John. 14 And thou ſhalt have joy and gladneſs, and many ſhall rejoyce at his birth. 15 For he ſhall be great in the ſight of the Lord, and ſhall drink neither wine nor ſtrong drink; and he ſhall be filled with the holy Ghoſt, even from his mothers womb. 16 And many of the children of Iſrael ſhall he turn to the Lord their God. 17 And he ſhall go before him in the ſpirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the diſobedient to the wiſdom of the juſt, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord. 18 And Zacharias ſaid unto the angel, Whereby ſhall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well ſtricken in years. 19 And the angel anſwering, ſaid unto him, I am Gabriel, that ſtand in the preſence of God: and am ſent to ſpeak unto thee, and to ſhew thee theſe glad tidings. 20 And behold, thou ſhalt be dumb, and not able to ſpeak, until the day that theſe things ſhall be performed, becauſe thou believeſt not my words, which ſhall be fulfilled in their ſeaſon. 21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried ſo long in the temple. 22 And when he came out, he could not ſpeak unto them: and they perceived that he had ſeen a viſion in the temple: for he beckened unto them, and remained ſpeechleſs. 23 And it came to paſs, that aſſoon as the days of his miniſtration were accompliſhed, he departed to his own houſe. 24 And after thoſe days his wiſe Eliſabeth conceiv'd, and hid her ſelf five months, ſaying, 25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to take away my reproach among men.

The two preceeding Evangeliſts had agreed to begin the Goſpel with the Baptiſm of John, and his Miniſtry; which commenc'd about Six Months before our Saviour's Publick Miniſtry, (and now Things were near a Criſis, Six Months was a deal of time, which before was but a little) and therefore this Evangeliſt deſigning to give a more particular Account than had been given of our Saviour's Conception and Birth, determines to do ſo of John Baptiſt; for in both he was his Harbinger and Fore-runner, the Morning-Star to the Sun of Righteouſneſs; not only becauſe it is commonly reckon'd a Satisfaction, and an Entertainment, to know ſomething of the Original Extraction, and early Days of thoſe who afterwards prove great Men, but becauſe in the beginning of theſe, there were many Things Miraculous, and preſages of what they afterwards prov'd; in theſe Verſes our inſpir'd Hiſtorian begins as early as the Conception of John Baptiſt.

Now obſerve here,

Firſt, The Account given of his Parents, v. 5. They liv'd in the Days of Herod the King, who was a Foreigner, and a Deputy for the Romans, who had lately made Judæa a Province of the Empire: This is taken Notice of, to ſhow that the Scepter was quite departed from Judah, and therefore now was the Time for Shiloh to come, according to Jacob's Propheſie, Gen. 49. 10. The Family of David was now ſunk, when it was to riſe and flouriſh again in the Meſſiah. Note, None ought to deſpair of the reviving and flouriſhing of Religion, even then when Civil Liberties are loſt: Iſrael is enſlav'd, yet then comes the Glory of Iſrael.

Now the Father of John Baptiſt was a Prieſt, a Son of Aaron, his Name Zacharias. No Families in the World were ever ſo honour'd of God, as thoſe of Aaron and David; with one was made the Covenant of Prieſthood, with the other that of Royalty; they had both forfeited their Honour, yet the Goſpel again puts Honour upon both in their latter Days, on that of Aaron in John Baptiſt, on that of David in Chriſt, and then they were both extinguiſh'd and loſt. Chriſt was of David's Houſe, his Fore-runner of Aaron's, for his Prieſtly Agency and Influence opened the way to his Kingly Authority and Dignity. This Zacharias was of the Courſe of Abia; when in David's time the Family of Aaron was multiply'd, he divided them into Twenty four Courſes, for the more regular Performance of their Office, that it might never be either neglected for want of Hands, or engroſs'd by a few. The Eighth of thoſe was that of Abia, 1 Chron. 24. 10. who was deſcended from Eleazar, Aaron's eldeſt Son: But Doctor Lightfoot ſuggeſts, That many of the Families of the Prieſts were loſt in the Captivity, ſo that after their return, they took in thoſe of other Families, but retaining the Names of the Heads of the reſpective Courſes. The Wife of this Zacharias was of the Daughters of Aaron too, and her Name Elizabeth, the very ſame Name with Eliſheba the Wife of Aaron, Exod. 6. 23. The Prieſts (Joſephus ſaith) were very careful to marry within their own Family, that they might maintain the Dignity of the Prieſthood, and keep it without Mixture.

Now that which is obſerv'd concerning Zacharias and Elizabeth is,

1. That they were a very Religious Couple, v. 6. They were both Righteous before God; they were ſo in his ſight, whoſe Judgment we are ſure is according to Truth; they were ſincerely and really ſo. They are Righteous indeed that are ſo before God, as Noah in his Generation, Geneſis 7. 1. They approv'd themſelves to him, and he was graciouſly pleaſed to accept them. It's a happy Thing, when thoſe that are joyn'd to each other in Marriage, are both joyn'd to the Lord: And it is eſpecially requiſite that the Prieſts, the Lord's Miniſters, ſhould with their Yoke-fellows be Righteous before God, that they may be Examples to the Flock, and rejoyce their Hearts. They walked in all the Commandments and Ordinances of the Lord blameleſs. (1.) Their being Righteous before God was evidenc'd by the Courſe and Tenor of their Converſations; they ſhew'd it not by their Talk, but by their Works; by the Way they walked in, and the Rule they walked by. (2.) They were of a piece with themſelves; for their Devotions and their Converſations agreed. They walk'd not only in the Ordinances of the Lord, which related to Divine Worſhip, but in the Commandments of the Lord, which have Reference to all the Inſtances of a good Converſation, and muſt be regarded. (3.) They were univerſal in their Obedience, not that they never did in any Thing come ſhort of their Duty, but it was their conſtant Care and Endeavour to come up to it. (4.) Herein, tho' they were not Sinleſs, yet they were Blameleſs; no Body could charge them with any open ſcandalous Sin; they liv'd Honeſtly and Inoffenſively, as Miniſters and their Families are in a ſpecial Manner concern'd to do, that the Miniſtry be not blam'd in their Blame.

2. That they had been long Childleſs, v. 7. Children are a Heritage of the Lord. But there are many of his Heirs in a marry'd State, that yet are deny'd this Heritage; they are valuable, deſervable Bleſſings; yet many there are who are Righteous before God, and if they had Children, would bring them up in his Fear, that yet are not thus Bleſſed, while the Men of this World are full of Children, Phil. 17. 14. And ſent forth their little Ones like a Flock, John 21. 11. Elizabeth was barren, and they began to deſpair of ever having Children, for they were both now well ſtricken in Years, when the Women that have been moſt Fruitful leave off bearing. Many Eminent Perſons were born of Mothers that had been long Childleſs, as Iſaac, Jacob, Joſeph, Samſon, Samuel, and ſo here John Baptiſt, to make their Birth the more Remarkable, and the Bleſſing of it the more Valuable to their Parents; and to ſhew that when God keeps his People long waiting for a Mercy, he ſometimes is pleaſed to recompence them for their Patience, by doubling the Worth of it when it comes.

Secondly, The appearing of an Angel to his Father Zacharias, as he was Miniſtring in the Temple, v. 8, 11. Zacharias the Prophet was the laſt of the Old Teſtament that was converſant with Angels, and Zacharias the Prieſt, the firſt in the New Teſtament.

Obſerve,

1. How Zacharias was employ'd in the Service of God, v. 8. He executed the Prieſts Office before God in Order of his Courſe; it was his Week of waiting, and he was upon Duty. Tho' his Family was not built up, or made to grow, yet he made Conſcience of doing the Work of his own Place and Day. Tho' we have not deſired Mercies, yet we muſt keep cloſe to enjoyned Services; and in our diligent and conſtant Attendance on them, we may hope that Mercy and Comfort will come at laſt. Now it fell to Zacharias's Lot to burn incenſe Morning and Evening, for that Week of his waiting, as other Services fell to other Prieſts by lot likewiſe. The Services were directed by Lot, that ſome might not decline them, and others engroſs them; and that the diſpoſal of the Lot being from the Lord, they might have the Satisfaction of a Divine Call to the Work. This was not the High Prieſt's burning Incenſe on the Day of Attonement, as ſome have fondly imagin'd, and thought by that to find out the Time of our Saviour's Birth; but it is plain, 'twas the burning of the daily Incenſe at the Altar of Incenſe, v. 11. which was in the Temple, v. 9. not in the moſt Holy Place, into which the High Prieſt enter'd. The Jews ſay, That one and the ſame Prieſt burn'd not Incenſe twice in all his Days, there were ſuch a Multitude of them; at leaſt, never more than one Week: It is very probable that this was upon the Sabbath Day, becauſe there was a Multitude of People attending, v. 10. which ordinarily was not on a Week Day; and thus God uſually puts Honour upon his own Day. And then if Doctor Lightfoot reckon, with the help of the Jewiſh Calendars, that this Courſe of Abia fell on the Seventeenth Day of the Third Month, the Month Sivan, anſwering to part of May and part of June; it is worth obſerving, That the Portions of the Law and the Prophets, which were read this Day in the Synagogues, were very agreeable to that which was doing in the Temple; namely the Law of the Nazarites, Numb. 6. and the Conception of Samſon, Judges 13.

While Zacharias was burning Incenſe in the Temple, the whole Multitude of the People were praying without, v. 10. Dr. Lightfoot ſaith, there were conſtantly in the Temple, at the Hour of Prayer, the Prieſts of that Courſe that then ſerv'd, and if it were the Sabbath Day, thoſe of that Courſe alſo, that had been in waiting the Week before; and the Levites that ſerv'd under the Prieſts, and the Men of the Station, as the Rabbins call them, who were the Repreſentatives of the People in putting their Hands upon the Head of the Sacrifices, and many beſides, who, mov'd by Devotion, left their Employments for that Time, to be preſent at the Service of God; and thoſe would make up a great Multitude, eſpecially on Sabbaths and Feaſt-Days: Now theſe all addreſs'd themſelves to their Devotions (in Mental Prayer, for their Voice was not heard) when by the Tinkling of a Bell they had Notice that the Prieſt was gone in to burn Incenſe. Now obſerve here, (1.) That the true Iſrael of God, always were a praying People; and Prayer is the Great and Principal Piece of Service, by which we give Honour to God, and fetch in Favours from him, and keep up our Communion with him. (2.) That then when Ritual and Ceremonial Appointments were in full Force, as this of burning Incenſe, yet moral and ſpiritual Duties were requir'd to go along with them, and were principally look'd at. David knew that when he was at a Diſtance from the Altar, his Prayer might be heard without Incenſe, for it might be directed before God as Incenſe, Pſalm 141. 2. But when he was compaſſing the Altar, the Incenſe could not be accepted without Prayer, no more than the Shell without the Kernel. (3.) That it is not enough for us to be where God is worſhipped, if our Hearts do not joyn in the Worſhip, and go along with the Miniſter in all the Parts of it. If he burn the Incenſe never ſo well, in the moſt penitent, judicious, lively Prayer, if we be not at the ſame Time praying in Concurrence with him, what will it avail us? (2.) All the Prayers we offer up to God here, in his Courts, are acceptable and ſucceſsful only in the Virtue of the Incenſe of Chriſt's Interceſſion, in the Temple of God above. To this Uſage in the Temple-Service, there ſeems to be an Alluſion, Rev. 8. 1, 3, 4. where we find that there was Silence in Heaven, as there was in the Temple, for half an hour, while the People were ſilently lifting up their Hearts to God in Prayer; and that there was an Angel, the Angel of the Covenant, who offer'd up much Incenſe, with the Prayers of all Saints, before the Throne. We cannot expect an Intereſt in Chriſt's Interceſſion, if we do not pray, and pray with our Spirits, and continue inſtant in Prayer. Nor can we expect that the beſt of our Prayers ſhould gain Acceptance, and bring in an Anſwer of Peace, but through the Mediation of Chriſt, who ever lives making Interceſſion.

2. How, when he was thus employ'd, he was honour'd with a Meſſenger, a ſpecial Meſſenger ſent from Heaven to him, v. 11. There appear'd unto him an Angel of the Lord. Some obſerve, That we never read of an Angel appearing in the Temple with a Meſſage from God, but only this one to Zacharias; becauſe there God had other Ways of making known his Mind, as the Urim and Thummim, and by a ſtill ſmall Voice from between the Cherubims; but the Ark and the Oracle were wanting in the ſecond Temple, and therefore when an Expreſs is to be ſent to a Prieſt in the Temple, an Angel was to be employ'd in it, and thereby the Goſpel was to be introduc'd, for that, as the Law, was given at firſt very much by the Miniſtry of Angels, the Appearance of which we often read of in the Goſpel and the Acts, tho' the Deſign both of the Law and of the Goſpel, when brought to Perfection, was, to ſettle another Way of Correſpondence, more ſpiritual, between God and Man. This Angel ſtood on the right Side of the Altar of Incenſe, the North-ſide of it, ſaith Doctor Lightfoot, on Zacharias's right Hand; compare this with Zech. 3. 1. where Satan ſtands at the right Hand of Joſhua the Prieſt, to reſiſt him; but Zacharias has a good Angel ſtanding at his right Hand to encourage him. Some think this Angel appear'd, coming out of the moſt Holy Place, which led him to ſtand at the right Side of the Altar.

3. What Impreſſion this made upon Zacharias, v. 12. When Zacharias ſaw him, 'twas a Surprize upon him, even to a Degree of Terror, for he was troubled, and Fear fell upon him, v. 12. Tho' he was righteous before God, and blameleſs in his Converſation, yet he could not be without ſome frightful Apprehenſions at the Sight of one, whoſe Viſage and ſurrounding Luſtre ſpoke him more than Humane. Ever ſince Man ſinn'd, his Mind has been unable to bear the Glory of ſuch Revelations, and his Conſcience afraid of evil Tydings brought by them; even Daniel himſelf could not bear it, Dan. 10. 8. And for this Reaſon God chuſeth to ſpeak to us by Men like our ſelves, whoſe Terror ſhall not make us afraid.

Thirdly, The Meſſage which the Angel had to deliver to him, v. 13. He began his Meſſage as Angels generally did, with, Fear not. Perhaps it had never been Zacharias's Lot to burn Incenſe before, and being a very ſerious, conſcientious Man, we may ſuppoſe him full of Care to do it well, and perhaps when he ſaw the Angel, was afraid leaſt he came to rebuke him for ſome Miſtake or Miſcarriage; no, ſaith the Angel, Fear not, I have no ill Tydings to bring thee from Heaven. Fear not, but compoſe thy ſelf, that thou may'ſt with a ſedate and even Spirit receive the Meſſage I have to deliver to thee.

Let us ſee what that is,

1. The Prayers he has often made, ſhall now receive an Anſwer of Peace. Fear not Zacharias, for thy Prayer is heard. (1.) If he means his particular Prayer for a Son, to build up his Family, it muſt be the Prayers he has formerly made for that Mercy, when he was likely to have Children, but we may ſuppoſe, now he and his Wife were both well ſtricken in Years, as they had done expecting it, ſo they had done praying for it: Like Moſes, it ſufficeth them, and they ſpeak no more to God of that Matter, Deut. 3. 26. But God will now, in giving this Mercy, look a great Way back, to the Prayers that he had made long ſince, for and with his Wife, as Iſaac for and with his, Geneſ. 25. 21. Note, Prayers of Faith are filed in Heaven, and are not forgotten, tho' the Thing pray'd for is not preſently given in. Prayers made when we were young and coming into the World, may be anſwer'd when we are old and going out of the World. But (2.) If he means the Prayers he was now making, and offering up with his Incenſe, we may ſuppoſe thoſe were, according to the Duty of his Place, for the Iſrael of God, and their Welfare, and the Performance of the Promiſes made to them concerning the Meſſiah, and the coming of his Kingdom; this Prayer of thine is now heard; for thy Wife ſhall now ſhortly conceive him that is to be the Meſſiah's Forerunner. Some of the Jewiſh Writers themſelves ſay, That the Prieſt, when he burnt Incenſe, pray'd for the Salvation of the whole World, and now that Prayer ſhall be heard. Or (3.) In general, The Prayers thou now makeſt, and all thy Prayers, are accepted of God, and come up for a Memorial before him, as the Angel ſaid to Cornelius, when he viſited him at Prayer, Acts 10. 30, 31. And this ſhall be the Sign that thou art accepted of God, Elizabeth ſhall bear thee a Son. Note, It is very comfortable to praying People, to know that their Prayers are heard; and thoſe Mercies are doubly ſweet that are given in anſwer to Prayer.

2. He ſhall have a Son in his old Age, by Elizabeth his Wife, who had been long barren, that by this Birth, which was next Door to miraculous, People might be prepar'd to receive and believe a Virgin's bringing forth a Son, which was perfectly miraculous. He is directed what Name to give his Son, Call him John; in Hebrew Johanan, a Name we often meet with in the Old Teſtament: It ſignifies Gracious. The Prieſts muſt beſeech God that he will be Gracious, Mal. 1. 9. and muſt ſo bleſs the People, Numb. 6. 25. Zacharias was now praying thus, and the Angel tells him his Prayer is heard, and he ſhall have a Son, whom, in Token of an Anſwer to his Prayer, he ſhall call Gracious; or, the Lord will be Gracious, Iſa. 30. 18, 29.

3. This Son ſhall be the Joy of his Family, and of all his Relations, v. 14. he ſhall be another Iſaac, thy Laughter; and ſome think that is partly intended in his Name, John; he ſhall be a welcome Child. Thou for thy Part ſhalt have Joy and Gladneſs. Note, Mercies that have been long waited for, when they come at laſt are the more acceptable. He ſhall be ſuch a Son as thou ſhalt have Reaſon to rejoyce in; many Parents, if they could foreſee what their Children will prove, inſtead of rejoycing at their Birth, would wiſh they had never been; but I'll tell thee what thy Son will be; and then thou wilt not need to rejoyce with Trembling at his Birth, as the beſt muſt do, but may'ſt rejoyce with Triumph at it. Nay, and many ſhall rejoyce at his Birth; all the Relations of the Family will rejoyce in it, and all its Well-wiſhers, becauſe 'tis for the Honour and Comfort of the Family, v. 58. All good People will rejoyce, that ſuch a religious Couple as Zacharias and Elizabeth have a Son, becauſe they will give him a good Education, ſuch as it may be hoped will make him a publick Bleſſing to his Generation. Yea, and perhaps many ſhall rejoyce by an unaccountable Inſtinct, as a Preſage of the joyous Days the Goſpel will introduce.

4. This Son ſhall be a mighty Favourite of Heaven, and a mighty Bleſſing to the Earth. The Honour of having a Son is nothing to the Honour of having ſuch a Son.

1. He ſhall be great in the Sight of the Lord; and thoſe are great indeed that are ſo in God's Sight, not thoſe that are ſo in the Eye of a vain and carnal World. God will ſet him before his Face continually, will employ him in his Work, and ſend him on his Errands, and that ſhall make him truly great and honourable. He ſhall be a Prophet, yea, more than a Prophet, and upon that Account, as great as any that ever were born of Women, Matt. 11. 11. He ſhall live very much retir'd from the World, out of Mens Sight; and when he makes a publick Appearance, it will be very mean, but he ſhall be much, he ſhall be great in the Sight of the Lord.

2. He ſhall be a Nazarite, ſet apart to God from every thing that is polluting; and in Token of that, according to the Law of Nazariteſhip, he ſhall drink neither Wine nor ſtrong Drink, or rather, neither old Wine nor new; for moſt think the Word here tranſlated ſtrong Drink, ſignifies ſome ſort of Wine; perhaps thoſe that we call made Wines, or any thing that is intoxicating. He ſhall be as Sampſon was by the Divine Precept, Judg. 13. 7. and Samuel by his Mother's Vow, 1 Sam. 1. 11. a Nazarite for Life. 'Tis ſpoken of, as a great Inſtance of God's Favour to his People, that he raiſed up of their Sons for Prophets, and their young Men for Nazarites, Amos 2. 11. as if thoſe that were deſign'd for Prophets were train'd up under the Diſcipline of the Nazarites; Samuel and John Baptiſt were; which intimates that thoſe that would be eminent Servants of God, and employ'd in eminent Services, muſt learn to live a Life of Self-Denial and Mortification, muſt be dead to the Pleaſures of Senſe, and keep their Minds from every thing that is darkning and diſturbing to them.

3. He ſhall be abundantly fitted and qualified for thoſe great and eminent Services, to which in due Time he ſhall be called, He ſhall be filled with the Holy Ghoſt, even from his Mothers Womb, and as ſoon as it is poſſible, he ſhall appear to have been ſo. Obſerve (1.) Thoſe that would be filled with the Holy Ghoſt, muſt be ſober and temperate, and very moderate in the Uſe of Wine and ſtrong Drink; for that's it that fits him for this: Be not drunk with Wine, but be filled with the Spirit, with which that is not conſiſtent, Eph. 5. 18. (2.) It is poſſible that Infants may be wrought upon by the Holy Ghoſt, even from their Mother's Womb, for John Baptiſt even then was fill'd with the Holy Ghoſt, who took Poſſeſſion of his Heart betimes; and an early Specimen was given of it, when he leaped in his Mother's Womb for Joy, at the Approach of the Saviour; and afterwards it appeared very early that he was ſanctified. God has promis'd to pour out his Spirit upon the Seed of Believers, Iſa. 44. 3. and their firſt ſpringing up, in a Dedication of themſelves betimes to God, is the Fruit of it, v. 4, 5. Who then can forbid Water that they ſhould not be baptiz'd, who, for ought we know (and we can ſay no more of the Adult, witneſs Simon Magus) have received the Holy Ghoſt as well as we, and have the Seeds of Grace ſown in their Hearts, Acts 10. 47.

3. He ſhall be Inſtrumental for the Converſion of many Souls to God, and the preparing of them to receive and entertain the Goſpel of Chriſt, v. 16, 17.

1. He ſhall be ſent to the Children of Iſrael, to the Nation of the Jews, to whom the Meſſiah alſo was firſt ſent, and not to the Gentiles; to the whole Nation, and not to the Family of the Prieſts only, with which, tho' he was himſelf of that Family, we do not find he had any particular Intimacy, nor Influence upon them.

2. He ſhall go before the Lord their God, i. e. before the Meſſiah, whom they muſt expect to be not their King, in the Senſe wherein they commonly take it, a Temporal Prince to their Nation, but their Lord and their God, to rule and defend, and ſerve them in a Spiritual Way, by his Influence on their Hearts. Thomas knew this when he ſaid to Chriſt, my Lord, and my God, better than Nathaniel did, when he ſaid, Rabbi, Thou art the King of Iſrael. John ſhall go before him, a little before him, to give Notice of his Approach, and to prepare People to receive him.

3. He ſhall go in the Spirit and Power of Elias. That is, (1.) He ſhall be ſuch a Man as Elias was, and do ſuch Work as Elias did; ſhall like him, wear a Hairy Garment, and a Leathern Girdle, and live retir'd from the World; ſhall like him Preach the Neceſſity of Repentance and Reformation to a very Corrupt and Degenerate Age; ſhall like him be Bold and Zealous in reproving Sin, and witneſſing againſt it even in the greateſt; and be hated and perſecuted for it, by a Herod and his Herodias, as Elijah was by an Ahab, and his Jezebel. He ſhall be carried on in his Works as Elijah was, by a Divine Spirit and Power, which ſhall Crown his Miniſtry with wonderful Succeſs. As Elias went before the writing Prophets of the Old Teſtament, and did as it were uſher in that ſignal Period of the Old Teſtament Diſpenſation by a little Writing of his own, 2 Chron. 21. 12. So John Baptiſt went before Chriſt and his Apoſtles, and introduc'd the Goſpel Diſpenſation, by preaching the Subſtance of the Goſpel Doctrine and Duty, Repent, with an Eye to the Kingdom of Heaven. (2.) He ſhall be that very Perſon who was propheſied of by Malachi, under the Name of Elijah, Mal. 4. 5. who ſhould be ſent before the coming of the Day of the Lord. Behold! I ſend you a Prophet, even Elias, not Elias the Tiſhbite, as the Setpuagint have corruptly read it, to favour the Jews Traditions, but a Prophet in the Spirit and Power of Elias, as the Angel here expounds it.

4. He ſhall turn many of the Children of Iſrael to the Lord their God, i. e. ſhall incline their Hearts to receive the Meſſiah, and bid him Welcome, by awakening them to a Senſe of Sin, and a Deſire of Righteouſneſs. Whatever has a Tendency to turn us from Iniquity, as John's Preaching and Baptiſm had, will turn us to Chriſt as our Lord and our God: For thoſe who through Grace are wrought upon to ſhake off the Yoke of Sin, that is, the Dominion of the World and the Fleſh, will ſoon be perſuaded to take upon them the Yoke of the Lord Jeſus.

5. Hereby he ſhall turn the Hearts of the Fathers to the Children, i. e. of the Jews to the Gentiles; ſhall help to Conquer the rooted Prejudices which the Jews have againſt the Gentiles, which was done by the Goſpel, as far as it prevail'd: and was began to be done by John Baptiſt, who came for a Witneſs that all through him might believe, who baptiz'd and taught Roman Soldiers, as well as Jewiſh Phariſees, and who cur'd the Pride and Confidence of thoſe Jews who gloried in their having Abraham to their Father; and told them, That God would out of Stones raiſe up Children unto Abraham, Matt. 3. 9. which would tend to cure their Enmity to the Gentiles. Dr. Lightfoot obſerves, that it is the conſtant Uſage of the Prophets to ſpeak of the Church of the Gentiles, as Children to the Jewiſh Church, Iſa. 54. 5, 6. 13.—60. 4. 9.—62. 5.—66. 12. When the Jews that embrac'd the Faith of Chriſt were brought to joyn in Communion with the Gentiles, that did ſo too, then the Heart of the Fathers was turn'd to the Children. And he ſhall turn the Diſobedient to the Wiſdom of the Juſt, i. e. He ſhall introduce the Goſpel, by which the Gentiles that are now Diſobedient ſhall be turn'd, not ſo much to their Fathers, the Jews, but to the Faith of Chriſt, here called the Wiſdom of the Juſt, in Communion with the believing Jews; or thus, He ſhall turn the Hearts of the Fathers with the Children, i. e. of Old and Young; ſhall be inſtrumental to bring ſome of every Age to be Religious, to work a great Reformation in the Jewiſh Nation, to bring them off from a ritual Traditional Religion, which they had reſted in, and to bring them up to ſubſtantial ſerious Godlineſs: And the Effect of this will be, that Enmities will be ſlain, and Diſcord made to ceaſe; and they that are at variance being united in his Baptiſm, will be better reconcil'd one to another. And this agrees with the account Joſephus gives of John Baptiſt, Antiq. Lib. 18. Cap. 7. "That he was a good Man, and taught the "Jews the Exerciſe of Virtue, in Piety towards God and Righteouſ-"neſs towards one another, and that they ſhould convene and knit "together in Baptiſm." And he ſaith. "The People flock'd af-"ter him, and were exceedingly delighted in his Doctrine." Thus he turn'd the Hearts of Fathers and Children to God, and one another, by turning the Diſobedient to the Wiſdom of the Juſt. Obſerve, (1.) True Religion is the Wiſdom of Juſt Men, in diſtinction from the Wiſdom of this World: It is both our Wiſdom, and our Duty to be Religious, there is both Equity and Prudence in it. (2.) It is not impoſſible but that thoſe who have been unbelieving and diſobedient, may be turn'd to the Wiſdom of the Juſt; Divine Grace can conquer the greateſt Ignorances and Prejudices. (3.) The great Deſign of the Goſpel is, to bring People home to God, and to bring them nearer to one another; and on this Errand John Baptiſt is ſent. And in the mention that is twice made of his turning People, there ſeems to be an Alluſion to the Name of the Tiſbite, which is given to Elijah, which ſome think doth not denote the Country, or City he was of, but has an appellative Signification, and therefore they render it Elijah the Converter; one that was much employ'd, and very ſucceſsful in Converſion Work: The Elias of the New Teſtament is therefore ſaid to turn, or convert many to the Lord their God.

6. Hereby he ſhall make ready a People prepared for the Lord; ſhall diſpoſe the Minds of People to receive the Doctrine of Chriſt, that thereby they may be prepared for the Comforts of his Coming. Note, 1. All that are to be devoted to the Lord, and made happy in him, muſt firſt be prepar'd and made ready for him. We muſt be prepar'd by Grace in this World, for Glory in the other; by the Terrors of the Law, for the Comforts of the Goſpel; by the Spirit of Bondage, for the Spirit of Adoption. 2. Nothing has a more direct Tendency to prepare People for Chriſt, than the Doctrine of Repentance receiv'd and ſubmitted to: When Sin is thereby made grievous, Chriſt will become very precious.

Fourthly, Zacharias's Unbelief of the Angel's Prediction, and the Rebuke he was laid under for that Unbelief. He heard all that the Angel had to ſay, and ſhould have bow'd his Head, and worſhipped the Lord, ſaying, Be it unto thy Servant according to the Word which thou haſt ſpoken, but it was not ſo: We are here told,

1. What his Unbelief ſpoke, v. 18. He ſaid to the Angel, Whereby ſhall I know this? This was not an humble Petition for the confirming of his Faith, but a peeviſh Objection againſt what was ſaid to him, as altogether incredible; as if he ſhould ſay, I can never be made to believe this. He could not but perceive that it was an Angel that ſpake to him; the Meſſage deliver'd having Reference to the Old Teſtament Prophecies, carry'd much of its own Evidence along with it. There are many Inſtances in the Old Teſtament, of thoſe that had Children when they were Old, yet he cannot believe he ſhall have this Child of Promiſe, for I am an old Man, and my Wife has not only been all her Days barren, but is now well ſtricken in Years, and not likely ever to have Children; therefore he muſt have a Sign given him, or he will not believe. Tho' the Appearance of an Angel, which had been long diſus'd in the Church, was Sign enough; tho' he had this Notice given him in the Temple, the Place of God's Oracles, where he had Reaſon to think no evil Angel would be permitted to come; tho' it was given him when he was praying and burning Incenſe: And tho' a firm Belief of that great Principle of Religion, That God has an Almighty Power, and with him nothing is impoſſible, which he ought not only to know, but to teach others, was enough to ſilence all Objections; yet conſidering his own Body, and his Wives too, much unlike a Son of Abraham, he ſtagger'd at the Promiſe, Rom. 4. 19, 20.

2. How his Unbelief was ſilenc'd, and he ſilenc'd for it.

1. The Angel ſtops his Mouth by aſſerting his Authority; doth he ask whereby ſhall I know this? Let him know it by this, I am Gabriel, v. 19. He puts his Name to his Propheſie, doth as it were Sign it with his own Hand, teſte meipſo; take my Word for it. Angels have ſometimes refus'd to tell their Names, as to Manoah and his Wife; but this Angel readily ſaith, I am Gabriel, which ſignifies the Power of God; or the mighty One of God, intimating, That the God who bid him ſay this, was able to make it good. He alſo makes himſelf known by this Name, to put him in mind of the Notices of the Meſſiah's Coming ſent to Daniel by the Man Gabriel, Dan. 8. 16.—9. 21. I am the ſame that was ſent then, and am ſent now in purſuance of the ſame Intention. He is Gabriel that ſtands in the Preſence of God, an immediate Attendant upon the Throne of God. The prime Miniſters of State in the Perſian Court are deſcrib'd by this, That they ſaw the King's Face, Eſther 1. 14. Tho' I am now talking with thee here, yet I ſtand in the Preſence of God: I know his Eye is upon me, and I dare not ſay any more than I have Warrant to ſay. But, I declare I am ſent to ſpeak to thee, ſent on purpoſe, to ſhew thee theſe glad Tydings, which being ſo well worthy of all acceptation, thou oughteſt to have receiv'd chearfully.

2. The Angel ſtops his Mouth indeed, by exerting his Power, that thou mayeſt object no more, behold thou ſhalt be Dumb, v. 20. If thou wilt have a Sign for the Support of thy Faith, it ſhall be ſuch a one as ſhall be alſo the Puniſhment of thine Unbelief, thou ſhalt not be able to ſpeak 'till the Day that theſe Things ſhall be performed, v. 20. Thou ſhalt be both Dumb and Deaf, the ſame Words ſignify both; and it is plain, that he loſt his Hearing as well as his Speech, for his Friends made Signs to him, v. 26. as well as he to them, v. 22. Now in ſtriking him Dumb, (1.) God dealt juſtly with him, becauſe he had objected againſt God's Word: And from hence we may take occaſion to admire the Patience of God, and his Forbearance towards us, that we, who have ſo often ſpoke to his Diſhonour, yet have not been ſtruck Dumb, as Zacharias was, as we had been if God had dealt with us according to our Sins.

(2.) God dealt kindly with him, and very tenderly and graciouſly. For (1.) Thus he prevented his ſpeaking any more ſuch diſtruſtful, unbelieving Words. If he have thought Evil, and will not himſelf lay his Hand upon his Mouth, nor keep it as with a Bridle, God will: 'Tis better not to ſpeak at all, than to ſpeak wickedly. (2.) Thus he confirmed his Faith; and by his being diſabled to ſpeak, he is enabled to think the better: If by the Rebukes we are under for our Sin, we be brought to give more Credit to the Word of God, we have no reaſon to complain of them. (3.) Thus he was kept from divulging the Viſion, and boaſting of it, which otherwiſe he would have been apt to do, whereas 'twas deſign'd for the preſent to be lodg'd as a Secret with him. (4.) It was a great Mercy that God's Word ſhould be fulfill'd in its Seaſon, notwithſtanding his ſinful diſtruſt. The unbelief of Man ſhall not make the Promiſes of God of none effect, they ſhall be fulfilled in their Seaſon, and he ſhall not be for ever dumb, but only 'till the Day that theſe things ſhall be performed, and then thy Lips ſhall be opened, that thy Mouth may ſhew forth God's Praiſe. Thus, though God chaſten the Iniquity of his People with the Rod, yet his loving Kindneſs he will not take away.

Fifthly, The Return of Zacharias to the People, and at length to his Family, and the Conception of this Child of Promiſe, the Son of his old Age.

1. The People ſtaid expecting Zacharias to come out of the Temple, becauſe he was to pronounce the Bleſſing upon them, in the Name of the Lord; and though he ſtaid beyond the uſual time, yet they did not, as is too common in Chriſtian Congregations, hurry away without the Bleſſing, but waited for him, marvelling that he tarry'd ſo long in the Temple, and afraid leſt ſomething was amiſs, v. 21.

2. When he came out he was Speechleſs, v. 22. He was now to have diſmiſs'd the Congregation with a Bleſſing, but is Dumb, and not able to do it, that the People may be minded to expect the Meſſiah who can command the Bleſſing, who bleſſeth indeed, and in whom all the Nations of the Earth are bleſſed, Aaron's Prieſthood is now ſhortly to be ſilenc'd, and ſet aſide, to make way for the bringing in of a better Hope.

3. He made a ſhift to give them to underſtand that he had ſeen a Viſion, by ſome awful Signs he made, for he becken'd to them, and remain'd ſpeechleſs, v. 22. This repreſents to us the Weakneſs and Deficiency of the Levitical Prieſthood, in compariſon with Chriſt's Prieſthood, and the Diſpenſation of the Goſpel. The Old Teſtament ſpeaks by Signs, gives us ſome Intimations of Divine and Heavenly Things, but imperfect and uncertain; it beckens to us, but remains ſpeechleſs; 'tis the Goſpel that ſpeaks to us articulately, and gives us a clear view of that which in the Old Teſtament was ſeen through a Glaſs darkly.

4. He ſtaid out the Days of his Miniſtration; for his Lot being to burn Incenſe, he could do that, though he was Dumb and Deaf. When we cannot perform the Service of God ſo well as we would, yet if we perform it ſo well as we can, God will accept of us in it.

5. He then returned to his Family, and his Wife conceived, v. 23, 24. She conceived by vertue of the Promiſe, and being ſenſible of it, ſhe hid her ſelf five Months; ſhe kept Houſe, and kept it private, and did not go Abroad ſo much as ſhe us'd to do, (1.) Leſt ſhe ſhould do her ſelf any prejudice, ſo as might occaſion her miſcarrying, or any hurt to the Conception. (2.) Leſt ſhe ſhould contract any Ceremonial Pollution, which might intrench upon the Nazariteſhip of her Child, remembring the Command given to Samſon's Mother in a like Caſe; and applying it to her ſelf, ſhe muſt not touch any unclean Thing while ſhe is with Child of a Nazarite, Judges 13. 14. And tho' Five Months are mention'd, becauſe of what follows in the Sixth Month, yet we may ſuppoſe, ſhe did in like manner take Care of her ſelf during the whole Time of her being with Child. (3.) Some think 'twas in an exceſs of Modeſty that ſhe hid her ſelf, aſhamed it ſhould be ſaid that one of her Age ſhould be with Child: Shall ſhe have Pleaſure being old, her Lord being old alſo? Gen. 18. 12. Or, 'twas in Token of her Humility, that ſhe might not ſeem to boaſt of the Honour God had put upon her. (4.) She hid her ſelf for Devotion, that ſhe might ſpend her Time in Prayer and Praiſe. The Saints are God's hidden ones; ſhe gives this Reaſon for her Retirement, for thus hath the Lord dealt with me; not only thus graciouſly, in giving me a Child, but thus honourably, in giving me ſuch a Child as is to be a Nazarite, for ſo her Husband might by Writing ſignifie to her. He hath taken away my reproach among Men. Fruitfulneſs was look'd upon to be ſo great a Bleſſing among the Jews, becauſe of the Promiſes of the Increaſe of their Nation, and the riſing of the Meſſiah among them, that it was a great Reproach to be barren; and thoſe who were ſo, though never ſo blameleſs, yet were concluded to be guilty of ſome great Sin unknown, for which they were ſo puniſhed: Now Elizabeth triumphs, that not only this Reproach is taken away, but great Glory is put upon her inſtead of it; Thus hath the Lord dealt with me beyond any thought or expectation of mine in the Days wherein he looked on me. Note, In God's gracious Dealings with us, we ought to obſerve his gracious Regards to us. He has look'd on us with Compaſſion and Favour, and therefore hath thus dealt with us.

26 And in the ſixth month, the angel Gabriel was ſent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin eſpouſed to a man whoſe name was Joſeph, of the houſe of David; and the virgins name was Mary. 28 And the angel came in unto her, and ſaid, Hail thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: bleſſed art thou among women. 29 And when ſhe ſaw him, ſhe was troubled at his ſaying, and caſt in her mind what manner of ſalutation this ſhould be. 30 And the angel ſaid unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou haſt found favour with God. 31 And behold, thou ſhalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a ſon, and ſhalt call his name Jeſus. 32 He ſhall be great, and ſhall be called the Son of the Higheſt; and the Lord God ſhall give unto him the throne of his father David. 33 And he ſhall reign over the houſe of Jacob for ever, and of his kingdom there ſhall be no end. 34 Then ſaid Mary unto the angel, How ſhall this be, ſeeing I know not a man? 35 And the angel anſwered and ſaid unto her, The holy Ghoſt ſhall come upon thee, and the power of the Higheſt ſhall overſhadow thee: therefore alſo that holy thing which ſhall be born of thee, ſhall be called the Son of God. 36 And behold, thy couſin Eliſabeth, ſhe hath alſo conceived a ſon in her old age: and this is the ſixth month with her who was called barren. 37 For with God nothing ſhall be impoſſible. 38 And Mary ſaid, Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

We have here Notice given us of all 'twas fit we ſhould know concerning the Incarnation and Conception of our bleſſed Saviour, Six Months after the Conception of John. The ſame Angel, Gabriel, that was employ'd in making known to Zacharias God's purpoſe concerning his Son, is employ'd in this alſo; for in this, the ſame glorious Work of Redemption, which was begun in that, is carried on. As bad Angels are none of the Redeemed, ſo good Angels are none of the Redeemers, yet they are employ'd by the Redeemer, as his Meſſengers, and they go chearfully on his Errands, becauſe they are his Father's humble Servants, and his Childrens hearty Friends and Well-wiſhers.

Firſt, We have here an Account given of the Mother of our Lord, of whom he was to be born, whom tho' we are not to pray to, yet we ought to praiſe God for.

1. Her Name was Mary, the ſame Name with Miriam, the Siſter of Moſes and Aaron; the Name ſignifies exalted, and a great Elevation it was to her indeed, to be thus favour'd above all the Daughters of the Houſe of David.

2. She was a Daughter of the Royal Family, lineally deſcended from David, and ſhe her ſelf, and all her Friends knew it, for ſhe went under the Title and Character of the Houſe of David, tho' ſhe was poor and low in the World: And ſhe was enabled, by God's Providence, and the Care of the Jews to preſerve their Genealogies, to make it out; and as long as the Promiſe of the Meſſiah was to be fulfilled, 'twas worth keeping; but for thoſe now, who are brought low in the World, to have deſcended from Perſons of Honour, is not worth mentioning.

3. She was a Virgin, a pure unſpotted one, but eſpouſed to one of the ſame Royal Stock, but, like her, of low Eſtate; ſo that upon both accounts, there was (as 'tis fit there ſhould be) an equality between them; his Name Joſeph, he alſo was of the Houſe of David, Matt. 1. 20. Chriſt's Mother was a Virgin, becauſe he was not to be born by ordinary Generation, but miraculouſly; 'twas neceſſary he ſhould be ſo, that tho' he muſt partake of the Nature of Man, yet not the Corruption of that Naure: But he was born of a Virgin eſpouſed, made up to be Married, and contracted, to put Honour upon the married State, That that might not be brought into Contempt, (which was an Ordinance in Innocency) by the Redeemer's being born of a Virgin.

4. She liv'd in Nazareth, a City of Galilee, a remote Corner of the Country, and in no Reputation for Religion or Learning, but it border'd upon the Heathen, and therefore was called Galilee of the Gentiles; Chriſt's having his Relations Reſident there, intimates Favour in reſerve for the Gentile World. And Dr. Lightfoot obſerves, That Jonah was by Birth a Galilean, and Elijah and Eliſha very much converſant in Galilee, who were all Famous Prophets of the Gentiles. The Angel was ſent to her to Nazareth. Note, No diſtance, or diſadvantage of Place, ſhall be a Prejudice to thoſe whom God has Favours in Store for. The Angel Gabriel carries his Meſſage as chearfully to Mary at Nazareth in Galilee, as to Zacharias in the Temple at Jeruſalem.

Secondly, The Addreſs of the Angel to her, v. 28. We are not told what ſhe was doing, or how employ'd, when the Angel came unto her; but he ſurpriz'd her with this Salutation, Hail, thou that art highly favour'd: This was intended to raiſe in her, (1.) A Value for her ſelf; and tho' 'tis very rare, that any need to have any Sparks ſtruck into their Breaſt with ſuch Deſign, yet in ſome, who, like Mary, pore only upon their low Eſtate, there is Occaſion for it. (2.) An Expectation of great News, not from Abroad, but from Above. Heaven deſigns, no doubt, uncommon Favours for one whom an Angel makes Court to with ſuch Reſpect. Hail thou, Χαῖρε, rejoyce thou; 'twas the uſual Form of Salutation; it expreſſeth an Eſteem of her, and Good-will to her and her Proſperity.

1. She is dignified: Thou art highly favour'd; God in his Choice of thee to be the Mother of the Meſſiah, has put an Honour upon thee, peculiar to thy ſelf, above that of Eve, who was the Mother of all Living. The vulgar Latin tranſlates this Gratia plena, and from thence gathers, That ſhe had more of the inherent Graces of the Spirit than ever any had; whereas 'tis certain, this ſpeaks no other than the ſingular Favour done her, in preferring her to conceive and bear our Bleſſed Lord; an Honour, which ſince he was to be the Seed of the Woman, ſome Woman muſt have, not for perſonal Merit, but purely for the ſake of free Grace, and ſhe is pitch'd upon; Even ſo Father, becauſe it ſeemed good unto thee.

2. She has the Preſence of God with her; The Lord is with thee, tho' poor and mean, and perhaps now forecaſting how to get a Livelihood, and maintain a Family in the marry'd State. The Angel with this Word rais'd the Faith of Gideon, Judg. 6. 12. The Lord is with thee. Nothing is to be deſpair'd of, not the Performance of any Service, not the obtaining of any Favour, tho' never ſo great, if we have God with us. This Word might put her in mind of the Immanuel, God with us, which a Virgin ſhall conceive, and bear, Iſa. 7. 14. and why not ſhe?

3. She has the Bleſſing of God upon her; Bleſſed art thou among Women; not only thou ſhalt be accounted ſo by Men, but thou ſhalt be ſo. Thou that art ſo highly favour'd in this Inſtance, may'ſt expect in other Things to be bleſſed: She explains this her ſelf, v. 48. All Generations ſhall call me bleſſed; compare it with that which Deborah ſaith of Jael, another that was the Glory of her Sex, Judg. 5. 24. Bleſſed ſhall ſhe be above Women in the Tent.

Thirdly, The Conſternation ſhe was in upon this Addreſs, v. 29. when ſhe ſaw him, and the Glories with which he was ſurrounded, ſhe was troubled at the Sight of him, and much more at his ſaying. Had ſhe been a proud, ambitious young Woman, that aim'd high, and flattered her ſelf with the Expectation of great Things in the World, ſhe would have been pleas'd at his ſaying, would have been puffed up with it, and (as we have Reaſon to think, ſhe was a young Woman of very good Senſe) would have had an Anſwer ready, ſignifying ſo much: But inſtead of that, ſhe is confounded at it, as not conſcious to her ſelf of any thing that either merited, or promiſed any ſuch great Things: And ſhe caſt in her Mind what manner of Salutation this ſhould be; was it from Heaven or of Men, was it to amuſe her, was it to enſnare her, was it to banter her, or was there ſomething Subſtantial and Weighty in it? But of all the Thoughts ſhe had what manner of Salutation it ſhould be, I believe ſhe had not the leaſt Idea of its being ever intended, or us'd for a Prayer, as it is, and has been for many Ages, by the corrupt, degenerate, and Anti-Chriſtian Ages of the Church, and to be ten times repeated for the Lord's-Prayer once; ſo it is in the Church of Rome. But her Thoughtfulneſs upon this Occaſion, gives a very uſeful Intimation to young People of her Sex, when Addreſſes are made to them, to conſider and caſt in their Minds, what manner of Salutations they are; whence they come, and what their Tendency is, that they may receive them accordingly, and may always ſtand on their Guard.

Fourthly, The Meſſage it ſelf which the Angel had to deliver to her. Some Time the Angel gives her to pauſe; but obſerving that That did but increaſe her Perplexity, he went on with his Errand, v. 30. To what he had ſaid ſhe made no Reply, he therefore confirms it, Fear not Mary, I have no other Deſign but to aſſure thee, that thou haſt found Favour with God more than thou thinkeſt of, as there are many who think they are more favour'd of God than really they are. Note, Thoſe that have found Favour with God, ſhould not give way to diſquieting diſtruſtful Fears. Doth God favour thee? Fear not though the World frown upon thee. Is he for thee? No matter who is againſt thee.

1. Tho' ſhe is a Virgin, ſhe ſhall have the Honour of being a Mother; thou ſhalt conceive in thy Womb, and bring forth a Son, and thou ſhalt have the naming of him, thou ſhalt call his Name Jeſus, v. 31. It was the Sentence upon Eve, that tho' ſhe ſhould have the Honour to be the Mother of all living, yet this Mortification ſhall be an Allay to that Honour, that her Deſire ſhall be to her Husband, and he ſhall rule over her, Gen. 3. 17. But Mary has the Honour without the Allay.

2. Tho' ſhe lives in Poverty and Obſcurity, yet ſhe ſhall have the Honour to be the Mother of the Meſſiah; her Son ſhall be named Jeſus, a Saviour, ſuch a one as the World needs, rather than ſuch a one as the Jews expect.

1. He will be very nearly ally'd to the upper World; He ſhall be great, truly great, unconteſtably great, for he ſhall be called the Son of the Higheſt, the Son of God, who is the Higheſt; of the ſame Nature, as the Son is of the ſame Nature with the Father; and very dear to him, as the Son is to the Father. He ſhall be called, and not miſcalled the Son of the Higheſt, for he is himſelf God over all, Bleſſed for evermore, Rom. 9. 3. Note, Thoſe who are the Children of God, tho' but by Adoption, and Regeneration, are truly great, and therefore are concern'd to be very good, 1 John 3. 1, 2.

2. He will be very highly preferr'd in the lower World; for tho' born under the moſt diſadvantageous Circumſtances poſſible, and appearing in the Form of a Servant, yet the Lord God ſhall give unto him the Throne of his Father David, v. 32. He puts her in mind that ſhe was of the Houſe of David; and that therefore ſince neither the Salique Law, nor the Right of Primogeniture took Place in the Entail of his Throne, it was not impoſſible but that ſhe might bring forth an Heir to it, and therefore might the more eaſily believe it, when ſhe was told by an Angel from Heaven, that ſhe ſhould do ſo: That after the Scepter had been long departed from that Ancient and Honourable Family, it ſhould now at length return to it again, to remain in it; not by Succeſſion, but in the ſame Hand to Eternity. His People will not give him that Throne, will not acknowledge his Right to rule them; but the Lord God ſhall give him a Right to rule them, and ſet him as his King upon the Holy Hill of Zion. He aſſures her, (1.) That his Kingdom ſhall be Spiritual; he ſhall reign over the Houſe of Jacob, not Iſrael according to the Fleſh, for they neither came into his Intereſts, nor did they continue long a People; it muſt therefore be a Spiritual Kingdom, the Houſe of Iſrael, according to Promiſe, that he muſt rule over. (2.) That it ſhall be Eternal: He ſhall reign for ever, and of his Kingdom there ſhall be no End, as there had been long ſince of the Temporal Reign of David's Houſe, and would ſhortly be of the State of Iſrael: Other Crowns endure not to every Generation, but Chriſt's doth, Prov. 27. 4. The Goſpel is the laſt Diſpenſation, we are to look for no other.

Fifthly, The further Information given her, upon her Enquiry concerning the Birth of this Prince.

1. 'Tis a juſt Enquiry which ſhe makes, How ſhall this be? v. 34. How can I now preſently conceive a Child, (for ſo the Angel meant) when I know not a Man; muſt it therefore be otherwiſe than by ordinary Generation? If ſo, let me know how? She knew that the Meſſiah muſt be born of a Virgin, and if ſhe muſt be his Mother, ſhe deſires to know how. This was not the Language of her Diſtruſt, or any Doubt of what the Angel ſaid, but of a Deſire to be further inſtructed.

2. 'Tis a ſatisfactory Anſwer that is given to it, v. 35. (1.) She ſhall conceive by the Power of the Holy Ghoſt, whoſe proper Work and Office it is to Sanctifie; and therefore to ſanctifie the Virgin for this Purpoſe, the Holy Ghoſt is called the Power of the Higheſt; doth ſhe ask how this ſhall be? This is enough to help her over all the Difficulty there appears in it; a Divine Power will undertake it, not the Power of an Angel imploy'd in it, as in other Works of Wonder, but the Power of the Holy Ghoſt himſelf.

(2.) She muſt ask no Queſtions concerning the Way and Manner how it ſhall be wrought; for the Holy Ghoſt, as the Power of the Higheſt, ſhall over-ſhadow her, as the Cloud cover'd the Tabernacle, when the Glory of God took Poſſeſſion of it, to conceal it from thoſe that would too curiouſly obſerve the Motions of it, and pry into the Myſtery of it. The Formation of every Babe in the Womb, and the Entrance of the Spirit of Life into it, is a Myſtery in Nature; none knows the way of the Spirit, nor how the Bones are form'd in the Womb of her that is with Child, Eccleſ. 11. 5. We were made in ſecret, Pſalm 139. 15, 16. Much more was the Formation of the Child Jeſus a Myſtery; without Controverſie, great was the Myſtery of Godlineſs, God manifeſted in the Fleſh, 1 Tim. 3. 16. 'Tis a New Thing created in the Earth, Jer. 31. 22. Concerning which, we muſt not covet to be Wiſe above what is written.

(3.) The Child ſhe ſhall conceive is a Holy Thing, and therefore muſt not be conceiv'd by ordinary Generation, becauſe he muſt not ſhare in the common Corruption and Pollution of the Human Nature; He's ſpoken of emphatically, That Holy Thing, ſuch as never was: And he ſhall be called the Son of God, as the Son of the Father by Eternal Generation, and as an Indication of that, he ſhall now be form'd by the Holy Ghoſt in the preſent Conception. His Human Nature muſt be ſo produced, as 'twas fit that ſhould be, which was to be taken into Union with the Divine Nature.

3. 'Twas a further Encouragement to her Faith, to be told that her Couſin Elizabeth, tho' ſtricken in Years, was with Child, v. 36. Here's an Age of Wonders beginning, and therefore be not ſurpriz'd: Here's one among thy own Relations truly great, though not altogether ſo great as this; 'tis uſual with God to advance in working Wonders. Greater Works than theſe ſhall ye do. Though Elizabeth was on the Father's Side of the Daughters of Aaron, ver. 5. yet on the Mother's Side ſhe might be of the Houſe of David, for thoſe Two Families often intermarry'd, as an earneſt of the uniting of the Royalty, and the Prieſthood in the Meſſiah. This is the ſixth Month with her that was called barren: This intimates, as Dr. Lightfoot thinks, That all the Inſtances in the Old Teſtament, of thoſe having Children that had been long barren, which was above Nature, were deſign'd to prepare the World for the Belief of a Virgin's bearing a Son, which was againſt Nature. And therefore, even in the Birth of Iſaac, Abraham ſaw Chriſt's Day, foreſaw ſuch a Miracle in the Birth of Chriſt: The Angel aſſures Mary of this, to encourage her Faith, and concludes with that great Truth of undoubted Certainty and univerſal Uſe, for with God nothing ſhall be impoſſible, v. 37. And if nothing, then not this: Abraham therefore ſtagger'd not at the Belief of the Divine Promiſe, becauſe he was ſtrong in his Belief of the Divine Power, Rom. 4. 20, 21. No Word of God muſt be incredible to us, as long as no Word of God is impoſſible to him.

Sixthly, Her acquieſcence in the Will of God concerning her, v. 38. She owns her ſelf, 1. A believing Subject to the Divine Authority. Behold the Hand-maid of the Lord; Lord, I am at thy Service, at thy Diſpoſe, to do what thou commandeſt me. She objects not the Danger of ſpoiling her Marriage, and blemiſhing her Reputation, but leaves the Iſſue with God, and ſubmits entirely to his Will. 2. A believing expectant of the Divine Favour: She is not only content it ſhould be ſo, but humbly deſires it may be ſo; be it unto me according to thy Word: Such a Favour as this, it was not for her to ſlight, or be indifferent to; and for what God has promis'd, he will be ſought unto by Prayer; we muſt put our Amen, or ſo be it, to the Promiſe. Remember, and perform thy Word unto thy Servant, upon which thou haſt cauſed me to hope. We muſt, as Mary here, guide our Deſires by the Word of God, and ground our Hopes upon it. Be it unto me according to thy Word; juſt ſo, and no otherwiſe.

Hereupon the Angel departed from her; having compleated the Errand he was ſent upon, return'd to give Account of it, and receive new Inſtructions. Converſe with Angels was always a tranſient Thing, and ſoon over, 'twill be conſtant and permanent in the future State. And it is generally ſuppos'd, that juſt at this Inſtant the Virgin conceiv'd, by the over-ſhadowing Power of the Holy Ghoſt: But the Scripture being decently ſilent concerning that, it doth not become us to be inquiſitive, much leſs poſitive.

39 And Mary aroſe in thoſe days, and went into the hill-country with haſte, into a city of Juda, 40 And entered into the houſe of Zacharias, and ſaluted Eliſabeth. 41 And it came to paſs, that when Eliſabeth heard the ſalutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb: and Eliſabeth was filled with the holy Ghoſt. 42 And ſhe ſpake out with a loud voice, and ſaid, Bleſſed art thou among women, and bleſſed is the fruit of thy womb. 43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord ſhould come to me?
44 For lo, aſſoon as the voice of thy ſalutation ſounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.
45 And bleſſed is ſhe that believed: for there ſhall be a performance of thoſe things which were told her from the Lord. 46 And Mary ſaid, My ſoul doth magnifie the Lord; 47 And my ſpirit hath rejoyced in God my Saviour. 48 For he hath regarded the low eſtate of his handmaiden: for behold, from henceforth all generations ſhall call me bleſſed. 49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things, and holy is his name. 50 And his mercy is on them that fear him, from generation to generation. 51 He hath ſhewed ſtrength with his arm, he hath ſcattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts. 52 He hath put down the mighty from their ſeats, and exalted them of low degree. 53 He hath filled the hungry with good things, and the rich he hath ſent empty away.
54 He hath holpen his ſervant Iſrael, in remembrance of his mercy, 55 As he ſpake to our fathers, to Abraham and to his ſeed for ever. 56 And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned to her own houſe.

We have here an Interview between the two happy Mothers, Elizabeth and Mary: The Angel, by intimating to Mary the Favour beſtowed on her Couſin Elizabeth, v. 36. gave Occaſion for it; and ſometimes it may prove a better piece of Service than we think, to bring good People together, to compare Notes. Here's,

Firſt, The Viſit which Mary made to Elizabeth; Mary was the younger, and younger with Child; and therefore, if they muſt come together, 'twas fitteſt that Mary ſhould take the Journey, not inſiſting on the Preference which the greater Dignity of her Conception gave her, v. 39. She aroſe, and left her Affairs, to attend this greater Matter: In thoſe Days, i. e. at that Time, (as 'tis commonly explain'd, Jer. 33. 15. — 50. 4.) in a Day or two after the Angel had viſited her, taking ſome Time firſt, as 'tis ſuppos'd, for her Devotion, or rather, haſtening away to her Couſins, where ſhe would have more Leiſure, and better Help in the Family of a Prieſt. She went, μετὰ σπουδῆς, with Care, and Diligence, and Expedition; not as young People commonly go Abroad, and viſit their Friends, to divert her ſelf, but to inform her ſelf: She went to a City of Judah in the Hill-Country; 'tis not named, but by comparing the Deſcription of it here with Joſhua 21. 10, 11. it appears to be Hebron, for that is there ſaid to be in the Hill-Country of Judah, and to belong to the Prieſts the Sons of Aaron: Thither Mary haſtened, tho' it was a long Journey, ſome Scores of Miles.

1. Dr. Lightfoot offers a Conjecture, that ſhe was to conceive of our Saviour there at Hebron, and perhaps had ſo much intimated to her by the Angel, or ſome other way; and therefore ſhe made ſuch Haſte thither. He thinks it probable, that Shiloh of the Tribe of Judah, and the Seed of David, ſhould be conceived in a City of Judah and of David, as he was to be born in Bethlehem, another City which belonged to them both. In Hebron the Promiſe was given of Iſaac, Circumciſion was inſtituted: Here (ſaith he) Abraham had his firſt Land, and David his firſt Crown: Here lay interr'd the Three Couple, Abraham and Sarah, Iſaac and Rebecca, Jacob and Leah, and, as Antiquity has held, Adam and Eve: He therefore thinks it ſuits ſingularly with the Harmony and Conſent which God uſeth in his Works, that the Promiſe ſhould begin to take Place by the Conception of the Meſſiah, even among thoſe Patriarchs to whom it was given. I ſee no Improbability in the Conjecture, but add this for the Support of it, That Elizabeth ſaid, v. 45. There ſhall be a Performance; as if it were not performed yet, but was to be performed there.

2. It is generally ſuppos'd, That ſhe went thither for the confirming of her Faith, by the Sign which the Angel had given her, her Couſin's being with Child; and to rejoyce with her Siſter Favourite. And beſides, ſhe went thither, perhaps, that ſhe might be more retired from Company, or elſe might have more agreeable Company than ſhe could have in Nazareth. We may ſuppoſe ſhe did not acquaint any of her Neighbours at Nazareth, with the Meſſage ſhe had received from Heaven, yet longed to talk over a Thing ſhe had a Thouſand Times thought over, and knew no Perſon in the World with whom ſhe could freely converſe concerning it, but her Couſin Elizabeth, and therefore ſhe haſtened to her. Note, It is very beneficial and comfortable, for thoſe that have a good Work of Grace begun in their Souls, and Chriſt in the forming there, to conſult thoſe who are in the ſame Caſe, that they may communicate Experiences one to another; and they will find that as in Water, Face anſwers to Face, ſo doth the Heart of Man to Man, of Chriſtian to Chriſtian.

Secondly, The Meeting between Mary and Elizabeth; Mary enter'd into the Houſe of Zacharias, but he being Dumb and Deaf, 'tis likely he kept his Chamber, and ſaw no Company, and therefore ſhe ſaluted Elizabeth, v. 90. told her ſhe was come to make her a Viſit, to know her State, and rejoyce with her in her Joy.

Now at their firſt coming together, for the Confirmation of the Faith of both of them, there was ſomething very extraordinary: Mary knew that Elizabeth was with Child, but it doth not appear that Elizabeth had been told any thing of her Couſin Mary's being deſign'd for the Mother of the Meſſiah; and therefore, what Knowledge ſhe appears to have had of it, muſt come by a Revelation, which would be a great Encouragement to Mary.

1. The Babe leaped in her Womb: 'Tis very probable ſhe had been ſeveral Weeks quick, for ſhe was Six Months gone, and that ſhe had often felt the Child ſtir; but this was a more than ordinary Motion of the Child, and which alarm'd her to expect ſomething very extraordinary, ἐσκίρτησε. 'Tis the ſame Word that is us'd by the Seventy, Gen. 25. 22. for the ſtruggling of Jacob and Eſau in Rebecca's Womb, and the Mountains skipping, Pſalm 114. 4. The Babe leap'd, as it were to give a Signal to his Mother, that he was now at Hand, whoſe Forerunner he was to be, about Six Months in Miniſtry, as he was in Being; or, it was the Effect of ſome ſtrong Impreſſion made upon the Mother. Now began to be fulfill'd what the Angel ſaid to his Father, v. 15. That he ſhould be filled with the Holy Ghoſt even from his Mother's Womb; and perhaps he himſelf had ſome Reference to this, when he ſaid, John 3. 29. The Friend of the Bridegroom rejoyceth greatly, becauſe of the Bridegroom's Voice heard, tho' not by him, yet by his Mother.

2. Elizabeth was her ſelf filled with the Holy Ghoſt, or a Spirit of Prophecy; by which, as well as by the particular Suggeſtions of the Holy Ghoſt, ſhe was fill'd with, ſhe was given to underſtand, That the Meſſiah was at hand, in whom Prophecy ſhould revive, and by whom the Holy Ghoſt ſhould be more plentifully poured out than ever, according to the Expectations of thoſe who waited for the Conſolation of Iſrael. The uncommon Motion of the Babe in her Womb, was a Token of the extraordinary Emotion of her Spirit under a Divine Impulſe.

Note, Thoſe whom Chriſt graciouſly viſits, may know it by their being filled with the Holy Ghoſt, for if any Man hath not the Spirit of Chriſt, he is none of his.

Thirdly, The Welcome which Elizabeth, by the Spirit of Prophecy, gave to Mary the Mother of our Lord; not as to a common Friend, making a common Viſit, but as to one of whom the Meſſiah was to be born.

1. She congratulates her Honour, and though perhaps ſhe knew not of it till juſt now, ſhe acknowledged it with the greateſt Aſſurance and Satisfaction. She ſpoke with a loud Voice, which doth not at all intimate (as ſome think) that there was a Floor or a Wall between them, but that ſhe was in a Tranſport or Exaltation of Joy, and ſaid, what ſhe car'd not who knew. And this ſhe ſaid, Bleſſed art thou among Women, the ſame Word that the Angel had ſaid, v. 28. for thus this Will of God concerning honouring the Son, ſhould be done on Earth, as it is done in Heaven. But Elizabeth adds a Reaſon, therefore Bleſſed art thou, becauſe Bleſſed is the Fruit of thy Womb, thence it was that ſhe deriv'd this excellent Dignity. Elizabeth was the Wife of a Prieſt, and in Years, yet ſhe grudgeth not that her Kinſwoman, who was many Years younger than ſhe, and every way her inferior, ſhould have the Honour of conceiving in her Virginity, and being the Mother of the Meſſiah; whereas the Honour put upon her was much leſs; but rejoyceth in it, and is well pleas'd, as her Son was afterwards, that ſhe that cometh after her, is preferr'd before her, John 1. 27. Note, While we cannot but own that we are more favour'd of God than we deſerve, let us by no means envy that others are more highly favour'd than we are.

2. She acknowledgeth her Condeſcenſion in making her this Viſit, v. 43. Whence is this to me, that the Mother of my Lord ſhould come to me? Obſerve, (1.) She calls the Virgin Mary the Mother of her Lord, for David in Spirit call'd the Meſſiah Lord, his Lord, for ſhe knew he was to be Lord of All. (2.) She not only bids her welcome to her Houſe, tho' perhaps ſhe came but in mean Circumſtances, but reckons this Viſit a great Favour, which ſhe thought herſelf unworthy of. Whence is this to me? 'Tis in Reality and not in Compliment that ſhe ſaith, This was a greater Favour than ſhe could have expected. Note, Thoſe that are filled with the Holy Ghoſt, have low Thoughts of their own Merits, and high Thoughts of God's Favours. Her Son the Baptiſt ſpoke to the ſame Purpoſe with this, when he ſaid, Comeſt thou to me? Matt. 3. 14.

3. She acquaints her with the Concurrence of the Babe in her Womb, in this Welcome to her, v. 44. Thou certainly bringeſt ſome extraordinary Tydings, ſome extraordinary Bleſſing with thee, for as ſoon as the Voice of thy Salutation ſounded in mine Ears, not only my Heart leaped for Joy, tho' I knew not immediately why or wherefore, but the Babe in my Womb, who was not capable of knowing it, did ſo too. He leaped as it were for Joy, that the Meſſiah, whoſe Harbinger he was to be, would himſelf come ſo ſoon after him. This would ſerve very much to ſtrengthen the Faith of the Virgin, that there were ſuch Aſſurances as theſe given to others; and it would be in part the Accompliſhment of what had been ſo often foretold, That there ſhould be a Univerſal Joy before the Lord when he cometh, Pſalm 98. 8, 9.

4. She commends her Faith, and encourageth it, v. 45. Bleſſed is ſhe that believeth, believing Souls, are bleſſed Souls will be found ſo at laſt; this Bleſſedneſs cometh through Faith, even the Bleſſedneſs of being related to Chriſt, and having him formed in the Soul. They are bleſſed who believe the Word of God, for that Word will not fail them; there ſhall without doubt be a Performance of thoſe things which are told her from the Lord. Note, The inviolable Certainty of the Promiſe, is the undoubted Felicity of thoſe that build upon it, and expect their All from it. The Faithfulneſs of God is the Bleſſedneſs of the Faith of the Saints. Thoſe that have experienc'd the Performance of God's Promiſes themſelves, ſhould encourage others to hope that he will be as good as his Word to them alſo; I'll tell you what God has done for my Son.

Fourthly, Mary's Song of Praiſe upon this Occaſion. Elizabeth's Prophecy was an Echo to the Virgin Mary's Salutation, and this Song is yet a ſtronger Echo to that Prophecy, and ſhews her to be no leſs filled with the Holy Ghoſt than Elizabeth was. We may ſuppoſe the Bleſſed Virgin to come in, very much fatigu'd with her Journey, yet ſhe forgets that, and is inſpir'd with New Life, and Vigour and Joy, upon the Confirmation ſhe here meets with of her Faith; and ſince by this ſudden Inſpiration and Tranſport, ſhe finds that this was deſign'd to be her Errand hither, as weary as ſhe is, like Abraham's Servant, ſhe would neither eat nor drink till ſhe had told her Errand.

1. Here are the Expreſſions of Joy and Praiſe, and God alone the Object of the Praiſe and Centre of the Joy. Some compare this Song with that which her Name-ſake Miriam, the Siſter of Moſes, ſung, upon the triumphant Departure of Iſrael out of Egypt, and their triumphant Paſſage thro' the Red-Sea; others think it better compared with the Song of Hannah, upon the Birth of Samuel, which, like this, paſſeth from a Family Mercy, to a publick and general one. This begins like that, My heart rejoyceth in the Lord, 1 Sam. 2. 1. Obſerve how Mary here ſpeaks of God.

1. With great Reverence of him, as the Lord. My Soul doth magnify the Lord; I never ſaw him ſo great, as now I find him ſo good. Note, Thoſe and thoſe only are advanc'd in Mercy, who are thereby brought to think the more highly and honourably of God; whereas there are thoſe whoſe Proſperity and Preferment makes them ſay, What is the Almighty, that we ſhould ſerve him? The more Honour God has any Ways put upon us, the more Honour we muſt ſtudy to give to him: And then only are we accepted in magnifying the Lord, when our Souls magnify him, and all that is within us. Praiſing-Work muſt be Soul-Work.

2. With great Complacency in him, as her Saviour. My Spirit rejoyceth in God my Saviour. This ſeems to have reference to the Meſſiah, whom ſhe was to be the Mother of; ſhe calls him God her Saviour, for the Angel had told her, That he ſhould be the Son of the Higheſt, and that his Name ſhould be Jeſus, a Saviour; this ſhe faſten'd upon, with the Application to her ſelf, he is God my Saviour, Even the Mother of our Lord had need of an Intereſt in him as her Saviour, and would have been undone without it. And ſhe glories more in that Happineſs, which ſhe had in common with all Believers, than in being his Mother, which was an Honour peculiar to her ſelf; which agrees with the Preference Chriſt gave to obedient Believers, above his Mother and Brethren, ſee Matt. 12. 50. Luke 11. 27, 28. Note, Thoſe that have Chriſt for their God and Saviour, have a great deal of Reaſon to rejoyce, to rejoyce in Spirit, that's rejoycing as Chriſt did, Luke 10. 21. with ſpiritual Joy.

3. Here are juſt Cauſes aſſign'd for this Joy and Praiſe, 1. Upon her own Account, v. 48, 49. (1.) Her Spirit rejoyceth in the Lord, becauſe of the kind things he had done for her; His Condeſcenſion and Compaſſion to her; he has regarded the low Eſtate of his Handmaiden, i. e. he has look'd upon her with Pity, for ſo the Word is commonly us'd. He has choſen me to this Honour, notwithſtanding my great Meanneſs, Poverty and Obſcurity; nay, the Expreſſion ſeems to intimate not only (to allude to that of Gideon, Judges 6. 12.) that her Family was poor in Judah, but that ſhe was the leaſt in her Father's Houſe, as if ſhe were under ſome particular Contempt and Diſgrace among her Relations, was unjuſtly neglected, and the Outcaſt of the Family, and God put this Honour upon her to balance abundantly that Contempt. I the rather ſuggeſt this, for we find ſomething toward ſuch Honour as this put upon others, on the like Conſideration. Becauſe God ſaw that Leah was hated, he open'd her Womb, Gen. 29. 31. Becauſe Hannah was provoked and made to fret, and inſulted over by Peninah, therefore God gave her a Son, 1 Sam. 1. 19. Whom Men wrongfully depreſs and deſpiſe, God ſometimes, in Compaſſion towards them, eſpecially if they have born it patiently, doth prefer and advance; ſee Judges 11. 7. So in Mary's Caſe. And if God regard her low Eſtate, he not only thereby gives a Specimen of his Favour to the whole Race of Mankind, whom he remembers in their low Eſtate, as the Pſalmiſt ſpeaks, Pſal. 136. 23. but ſecures a laſting Honour to her (for ſuch the Honour is that God beſtows, Honour that fades not away) from henceforth all Generations ſhall call me Bleſſed, i. e. ſhall think me a happy Woman, and highly advanc'd. All that embrace Chriſt and his Goſpel will ſay, Bleſſed was the Womb that bore him, and the Paps which he ſucked, Luke 11. 27. Elizabeth had once and again called her Bleſſed, but that is not all, ſaith ſhe, all Generations, of Gentiles as well as Jews, ſhall call me ſo. (2.) Her Soul magnifies the Lord, becauſe of the wonderful things he has done for her, v. 49. He that is mighty has done to me great things. A great thing indeed, that a Virgin ſhould conceive. A great thing indeed, that Meſſiah, who had been ſo long ago promis'd to the Church, and ſo long expected by the Church, ſhould now at length be born. 'Tis the Power of the Higheſt that appears in this. She adds, and holy is his Name, for ſo Hannah ſaith in her Song, There is none holy as the Lord, which ſhe explains in the next Words, for there is none beſide thee, 1 Sam. 2. 2. God is a Being by himſelf, and he manifeſts himſelf to be ſo, eſpecially in the Work of our Redemption. He that is mighty, even he whoſe Name is Holy, has done to me great Things. Glorious things may be expected from him that is both mighty and holy; who can do every thing, and will do every thing well and for the beſt.

4. Upon the Account of others. The Virgin Mary, as the Mother of the Meſſiah, is become a kind of publick Perſon, wears a publick Character, and is therefore preſently endu'd with another Spirit, a more publick Spirit, than before ſhe had, and therefore looks abroad, looks about her, looks before her, and takes Notice of God's various Dealings with the Children of Men, v. 50. &c. as Hannah, 1 Sam. 2. 3. and in this ſhe has eſpecially an Eye to the Coming of the Redeemer, and God's manifeſting himſelf therein.

1. It is a certain Truth, That God has Mercy in Store, Mercy in Reſerve, for all that have a Reverence for his Majeſty, and a due Regard to his Sovereignty and Authority: But never did this appear ſo, as in ſending his Son into the World to ſave us, v. 50. His Mercy is on them that fear him, it has always been ſo, he has ever look'd upon them with an Eye of peculiar Favour, who have look'd up to him with an Eye of Filial Fear. But he hath manifeſted this Mercy, ſo as never before in ſending his Son to bring in an Everlaſting Righteouſneſs, and work out an Everlaſting Salvation for them that fear him; and this from Generation to Generation, for there are Goſpel Privileges tranſmitted by entail, and intended for Perpetuity. Thoſe that fear God, as their Creator and Judge, are encourag'd to hope for Mercy in him, through their Mediator and Advocate; and in him Mercy is ſettled upon all that fear God, pardoning Mercy, healing Mercy, accepting Mercy, crowning Mercy, from Generation to Generation, while the World ſtands. In Chriſt he keepeth Mercy for Thouſands.

2. It has been a common Obſervation, That God in his Providence doth put Contempt upon the haughty, and Honour upon the humble, and this he has done remarkably in the whole Oeconomy of the Work of Man's Redemption. As God had with his Mercy to her ſhew'd himſelf mighty alſo, v. 48, 49. ſo he had with his Mercy on them that fear him, ſhewed Strength likewiſe with his Arm. (1.) In the Courſe of his Providence, it is his uſual Method to croſs the Expectations of Men, and proceed quite otherwiſe than they promiſe themſelves. Proud Men expect to carry all before them, to have their Way, and have their Will, but he ſcatters them in the Imagination of their Hearts; breaks their Meaſures, blaſts their Projects, nay, and brings them low, and brings them down, by thoſe very Counſels with which they thought to advance and eſtabliſh themſelves. The Mighty think to ſecure themſelves by Might in their Seats, but he puts them down, and overturns their Seats; while on the other Hand, thoſe of low Degree, who deſpair'd of ever advancing themſelves, and thought of no other but of being very low, are wonderfully exalted. And this Obſervation concerning Honour, holds likewiſe concerning Riches; many that were ſo poor, that they had not Bread for themſelves and their Families, by ſome ſurprizing Turn of Providence in Favour of them, come to be filled with good Things; while on the other Hand, thoſe that were rich, and thought no other but that to Morrow ſhould be as this Day, that their Mountain ſtood ſtrong and ſhould never be moved, are ſtrangely impoveriſh'd and ſent away empty. Now this is the ſame Obſervation that Hannah had made, and enlarg'd upon in her Song, with Application to the Caſe of herſelf and her Adverſary, 1 Sam. 2. 4, 5, 6, 7. which very much illuſtrates this here. And compare alſo Pſalm 107. 33, — 41. and Pſalm 113. 7, 8, 9. and Eccl. 9. 11. God takes a Pleaſure in diſappointing their Expectations that promiſe themſelves great Things in the World, and in out-doing the Expectations of thoſe that promiſe themſelves but a little. As a righteous God, it is his Glory to abaſe thoſe that exalt themſelves, and ſtrike Terror on the ſecure; and as a good God, it is his Glory to exalt thoſe that humble themſelves, and to ſpeak Comfort to thoſe that fear before him. (2.) This doth eſpecially appear in the Methods of Goſpel-Grace.

(1.) In the Spiritual Honours it diſpenſeth. When the proud Phariſees were rejected, and Publicans and Sinners went into the Kingdom of Heaven before them; when the Jews that followed after the Law of Righteouſneſs, did not attain it, and the Gentiles that never thought of it, attained to Righteouſneſs, Rom. 9. 30, 31. When God choſe not the wiſe Men after the Fleſh, not the mighty or the noble, to preach the Goſpel and plant Chriſtianity in the World, but the fooliſh and weak things of the World, and things that were deſpiſed, 1 Cor. 1. 26, 27. then he ſcattered the proud, and put down the mighty, but exalted them of low Degree. When the Tyranny of the Chief Prieſts and Elders was brought down, who had long Lorded it over God's Heritage, and hoped always to do ſo; and Chriſt's Diſciples, a Company of poor deſpiſed Fiſhermen, by the Power they were clothed with, were made to ſit on Thrones judging the Twelve Tribes of Iſrael; when the Power of the Four Monarchies was broken, and the Kingdom of the Meſſiah, that Stone cut out of the Mountain without Hands, is made to fill the Earth, then are the proud ſcatter'd, and thoſe of low Degree exalted.

(2.) In the ſpiritual Riches it diſpenſeth, v. 53. (1.) Thoſe that ſee their need of Chriſt, and are importunately deſirous of Righteouſneſs and Life in him, he fills thoſe with good Things, with the beſt Things, he gives liberally to them, and they are abundantly ſatisfied with the Bleſſings he gives. They that are weary and heavy laden ſhall find Reſt with Chriſt, and thoſe that thirſt are call'd to come to him and drink; for they only know how to value his Gifts; to the hungry Soul every bitter Thing is ſweet, Manna is Angels Food, and to the thirſty fair Water is Honey out of the Rock. (2.) Thoſe who are rich, who are not hungry, who like Laodicea think they have need of nothing, are full of themſelves and their own Righteouſneſs, and think they have a Sufficiency in themſelves, thoſe he ſends away from his Door, they are not welcome to him, he ſends them empty away, they come full of ſelf, and are all ſent away empty of Chriſt. He ſends them to the Gods whom they ſerv'd, to their own Righteouſneſs and Strength which they truſted to.

3. It was always expected, that the Meſſiah ſhould be in a ſpecial Manner the Strength and Glory of his People Iſrael, and ſo he is in a peculiar Manner, v. 54. He hath holpen his Servant Iſrael, ἀντελάβετο. He hath taken them by the Hand, and helped them up that were fallen, and could not help themſelves. Thoſe that were ſunk under the Burdens of a broken Covenant of Innocency, are help'd up by the Bleſſings of a renewed Covenant of Grace. The ſending of the Meſſiah, on whom Help was laid for poor Sinners, was the greateſt Kindneſs that could be done, the greateſt Help that could be provided for his People Iſrael; and that which magnifies it, is,

1. That it is in Remembrance of the Mercy; the Mercifulneſs of his Nature, the Mercy he has in Store for his Servant Iſrael. While this Bleſſing was deferr'd, his People, who waited for it, were often ready to aſk, Has God forgotten to be gracious? But now he made it appear, That he had not forgotten, but remember'd his Mercy. He remember'd his former Mercy, and repeated that to them in ſpiritual Bleſſings, which he had done formerly to them in temporal Favours. He remember'd the Days of old; where is he that brought them out of the Sea; out of Egypt? Iſa. 1. 63, 11. and therefore he will do the like again; which that was a Type of.

2. That it is in Performance of his Promiſe; 'tis a Mercy not only deſign'd, but declar'd, v. 55. 'twas what he ſpake to our Fathers, that the Seed of the Woman ſhould break the Head of the Serpent; that God ſhould dwell in the Tents of Shem: And particularly to Abraham, that in his Seed all the Families of the Earth ſhall be bleſſed, with the beſt of Bleſſings, with the Bleſſings that are for ever, and to the Seed that ſhall be for ever, that is, his ſpiritual Seed, for his carnal Seed were cut off, a little after this. Note, What God has ſpoken he will perform; what he has ſpoken to the Fathers, will be performed to their Seed; to their Seed's Seed; in Bleſſings that ſhall laſt for ever.

Laſtly, Mary's Return to Nazareth, v. 56. after ſhe had continued with Elizabeth about three Months; ſo long as to be fully ſatisfy'd concerning herſelf, that ſhe was with Child, and to be confirm'd therein by her Couſin Elizabeth. Some think, though her Return is here mentioned before Elizabeth's being deliver'd, becauſe the Evangeliſt would finiſh this Paſſage concerning Mary, before he proceeded with the Story of Elizabeth, yet that Mary ſtaid till her Couſin was (as we ſay) down and up again; that ſhe might attend on her, and be with her in her lying-in, and have her own Faith confirm'd by the full Accompliſhment of the Promiſe of God concerning Elizabeth. But moſt bind themſelves to the Order of the Story as it lies, and think ſhe return'd again when Elizabeth was near her Time, becauſe ſhe ſtill affected Retirement, and therefore would not be there, when the Birth of this Child of Promiſe would draw a great deal of Company to the Houſe. Thoſe in whoſe Hearts Chriſt is form'd, take more Delight than they us'd to do in ſitting alone, and keeping Silence.

57 Now Eliſabeth's full time came, that ſhe ſhould be delivered; and ſhe brought forth a ſon. 58 And her neighbours and her couſins heard how the Lord had ſhewed great mercy upon her; and they rejoyced with her. 59 And it came to paſs, that on the eighth day they came to circumciſe the child; and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father. 60 And his mother anſwered and ſaid, Not ſo; but he ſhall be called John. 61 And they ſaid unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this Name. 62 And they made ſigns to his father, how he would have him called. 63 And he aſked for a writing-table, and wrote, ſaying, His name is John. And they marvelled all. 64 And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue looſed, and he ſpake, and praiſed God. 65 And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all theſe ſayings were noiſed abroad throughout all the hill-countrey of Judea. 66 And all they that had heard them, laid them up in their hearts, ſaying, What manner of child ſhall this be? And the hand of the Lord was with him.

In theſe Verſes we have,

1. The Birth of John Baptiſt, v. 57. Tho' he was conceiv'd in the Womb by Miracle, he continued in the Womb according to the ordinary Courſe of Nature. So did our Saviour. Elizabeth's full Time came that ſhe ſhould be deliver'd, and then ſhe brought forth a Son. Promis'd Mercies are to be expected, when the full time for them is come, and not before.

2. The great Joy that was among all the Relations of the Family, upon this extraordinary Occaſion, v. 58. Her Neighbours and her Couſins heard of it, for it would be in every Body's Mouth, as next to miraculous: Doctor Lightfoot obſerves, that Hebron was inhabited by Prieſts of the Family of Aaron, and thoſe were the Couſins here ſpoken of; but the Fields and Villages about, by the Children of Judah, and thoſe were the Neighbours. Now theſe here diſcover'd, (1.) A pious Regard to God; they acknowledge that the Lord had magnified his Mercy to her, ſo the Word is. 'Twas a Mercy to have her Reproach taken away, a Mercy to have her Family built up, and the more being a Family of Prieſts, devoted to God, and employ'd for him. Many things concurr'd to make the Mercy great, that ſhe had been long barren, was now old, but eſpecially that the Child ſhould be great in the Sight of the Lord. (2.) A Friendly Regard to Elizabeth; when ſhe rejoyced, they rejoyced with her. We ought to take Pleaſure in the Proſperity of our Neighbours and Friends, and to be thankful to God for their Comforts, as for our own.

3. The Diſpute that was among them concerning the naming him, v. 59. On the eighth Day, as God had appointed, they came together to circumciſe the Child; and it was here in Hebron, that Circumciſion was firſt inſtituted, and Iſaac, who like John Baptiſt was born by Promiſe, was one of the firſt that ſubmitted to it, at leaſt the chief ey'd in the Inſtitution of it. They that rejoyced in the Birth of the Child, came together to the circumciſing of him. Note, The greateſt Comfort we can take in our Children, is in giving them up to God, and recognizing their Covenant Relation to him. The Baptiſm of our Children ſhould be more our Joy than their Birth.

Now it was the Cuſtom when they circumcis'd their Children, to name them; becauſe when Abram was circumcis'd, God gave him a New Name, and call'd him Abraham; and 'tis not unfit that they ſhould be left nameleſs, till they are by Name given up to God. Now,

1. Some propos'd that he ſhould be call'd by his Father's Name, Zacharias; of which we have not any Inſtance in the Scripture, that the Child ſhould bear the Father's Name, but perhaps it was of late come into Uſe among the Jews, as it is with us; and they intended hereby to do Honour to the Father, who was not likely to have another Child.

2. The Mother oppos'd it, and would have him call'd John; having learn'd either by Inſpiration of the Holy Ghoſt, (as is moſt probable) or by Information in Writing from her Husband, that God appointed that ſhould be his Name, v. 60. He ſhall be called Johanan, Gracious; becauſe he ſhall introduce the Goſpel of Chriſt, wherein God's Grace ſhines more bright than ever.

3. The Relations objected againſt that, v. 61. There is none of thy Kindred, none of the Relations of thy Family, that is called by that Name; and therefore, if he may not have his Father's Name, yet let him have the Name of ſome of his Kindred, that will take it as a piece of Reſpect to have ſuch a Child of Wonders as this named from them. Note, As thoſe that have Friends muſt ſhew themſelves Friendly, ſo thoſe that have Relations muſt be obliging to them, in all the uſual Regards that are paid to Kindred.

4. They appeal'd to the Father, and would try if they could poſſibly get to know his Mind, for it was his Office to name the Child, v. 62. They made Signs to him, by which it appears he was Deaf, as well as Dumb; nay, it ſhould ſeem mindleſs of any thing, elſe one would think, they ſhould at firſt have deſir'd him to write down his Child's Name, if he had ever yet communicated any Thing by Writing ſince he was ſtruck. However, they would carry the Matter as far as they could, and gave him to underſtand what the Diſpute was, which he only could determine; whereupon he made Signs to them to give him a Table-Book, ſuch as they then us'd; and with the Pencil he wrote theſe Words: His Name is John, v. 63. Not, it ſhall be ſo, or I would have it ſo; but it is ſo; the Matter is determin'd already; the Angel had given him that Name. Obſerve, When Zacharias could not ſpeak he wrote. When Miniſters have their Mouths ſtopp'd, that they cannot Preach, yet they may be doing good, as long as they have not their Hands ty'd, that they cannot write. Many of the Martyrs in Priſon wrote Letters to their Friends, which were of great Uſe; bleſſed Paul himſelf did ſo. Zacharias's pitching upon the ſame Name that Elizabeth had choſen, was a great Surpriſe to the Company, they marvell'd all; for they knew that though by Reaſon of his Deafneſs and Dumbneſs, they could not converſe together, yet they were both guided by one and the ſame Spirit: Or, perhaps they marvell'd that he wrote ſo diſtinctly, and intelligently, which (the Stroke he was under being ſomewhat like that of a Palſie) he had not done before.

He thereupon recover'd the Uſe of his Speech, v. 64. His Mouth was open'd immediately. The Time prefix'd for his being ſilenc'd, was till the Day that theſe Things ſhall be fulfilled, v. 20. not all the Things going before concerning John's Miniſtry, but thoſe which relate to his Birth and Name, v. 13. and that Time was now expir'd, whereupon the Reſtraint was taken off, and God gave him the opening of the Mouth again, as he did to Ezekiel, Chap. 3. 27. Doctor Lightfoot compares this Caſe of Zacharias with that of Moſes, Exod. 4. 24, 26. Moſes for Diſtruſt is in Danger of his Life, as Zacharias for the ſame Fault is ſtruck Dumb; but upon the circumciſing of his Child, and recovery of his Faith, there, as here, the Danger is removed. Infidelity clos'd his Mouth, and now Believing opens it again; he believes, therefore he ſpeaks: David lay under Guilt from the Conception of his Child, till a few Days after its Birth; then the Lord takes away his Sin; upon his Repentance, he ſhall not Dye, ſo here he ſhall be no longer Dumb; his Mouth was open'd, and he ſpake, and praiſed God. Note, When God opens our Lips, our Mouths muſt ſhew forth his Praiſe; as good be without our Speech, as not uſe it in praiſing God; for then our Tongue is moſt our Glory, when it is employ'd for God's Glory.

6. Theſe things were told all the Country over, to the great Amazement of all that heard them, v. 65, 66. The Sentiments of the People are not to be ſlighted, but taken Notice of. We are here told, (1.) That theſe Sayings were diſcours'd of, and were the common Talk all about the Hill Country of Judea, and it was pity but a Narrative of them had been drawn up, and publiſh'd in the World immediately. (2.) That moſt People who heard of theſe Things, were put in a Conſternation by them; Fear came on all them that dwelt round about there. If we have not a good Hope, as we ought to have, built upon the Goſpel, we may expect that the Tydings of it will fill us with Fear. They believed and trembled, whereas they ſhould have believ'd and triumph'd. (3.) It rais'd the Expectations of People concerning this Child, and oblig'd them to have their Eye upon him, to ſee what he would come to. They laid up theſe Preſages in their Hearts, treaſur'd them up in Mind and Memory, as foreſeeing they ſhould hereafter have occaſion to recollect them. Note, What we hear that may be of Uſe to us, we ſhould treaſure up, that we may be able to bring forth for the Benefit of others, things new and old; and when things come to perfection, may be able to look back upon the Preſages of it, and to ſay, 'twas what we might expect. They ſaid within themſelves, and ſaid among themſelves, What manner of Child ſhall this be? What will be the Fruit when theſe are the Buds, or rather, when the Root is out of ſuch a dry Ground? Note, When Children are born into the World, 'tis very uncertain what they will prove; yet ſometimes, there have been early Indications of ſomething great, as in the Birth of Moſes, Samſon, Samuel, and here of John. And we have Reaſon to think, that there were ſome of thoſe living at the Time when John began his publick Miniſtry, who could, and did remember theſe Things, and relate them to others, which contributed as much as any thing to the great flocking there was after him.

Laſtly, 'Tis ſaid, the Hand of the Lord was with him, i. e. He was taken under the ſpecial Protection of the Almighty from his Birth, as one deſign'd for ſomething great and conſiderable, and there were many Inſtances of it. It appear'd likewiſe, that the Spirit was at Work upon his Soul very early: As ſoon as he began to ſpeak, or go, you might perceive ſomething in him very extraordinary. Note, God has ways of operating upon Children in their Infancy, which we cannot account for. God never made a Soul, but he knew how to ſanctifie it.

67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the holy Ghoſt, and propheſied, ſaying, 68 Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, for he hath viſited and redeemed his people, 69 And hath raiſed up an horn of Salvation for us, in the houſe of his ſervant David; 70 As he ſpake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been ſince the world began; 71 That we ſhould be ſaved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us. 72 To perform the mercy promiſed to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant:
73 The oath which he ſware to our father Abraham, 74 That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hands of our enemies, might ſerve him without fear, 75 In holineſs and righteouſneſs before him, all the days of our life. 76 And thou, child, ſhalt be called the prophet of the Higheſt: for thou ſhalt go before the face of the Lord, to prepare his ways; 77 To give knowledge of ſalvation unto his people, by the remiſſion of their ſins, 78 Through the tender mercy of our God; whereby the day-ſpring from on high hath viſited us, 79 To give light to them that ſit in darkneſs, and in the ſhadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace. 80 And the child grew, and waxed ſtrong in ſpirit, and was in the deſerts till the day of his ſhewing unto Iſrael.

We have here the Song wherewith Zacharias praiſed God when his Mouth was open'd, in it he is ſaid to Propheſie; v. 67. and ſo he did, in the ſtricteſt Senſe of Propheſying, for he foretold Things to come concerning the Kingdom of the Meſſiah, to which all the Prophets are Witneſs. Obſerve,

1. How he was qualified for this: He was filled with the holy Ghoſt, was endued with more than ordinary Meaſures and Degrees of it, for this Purpoſe. He was Divinely inſpir'd. God not only forgave him his Unbelief and Diſtruſt, which was ſignified by diſcharging of him from the Puniſhment of it, but as a Specimen of the abounding of Grace towards Believers, he fill'd him with the Holy Ghoſt, and put this Honour upon him, to employ him for his Honour.

2. What the Matter of his Song was. Here's nothing ſaid of the private Concerns of his own Family, the rolling away the Reproach from it, and putting of a Reputation upon it by the Birth of this Child, though, no doubt, he found a Time to give Thanks to God for this, with his Family: But in this Song, he is wholly taken up with the Kingdom of the Meſſiah, and the publick Bleſſings to be introduc'd by it: He could have little Pleaſure in this fruitfulneſs of his Vine, and the hopefulneſs of his Olive Plant, if herein he had not foreſeen the good of Jeruſalem, Peace upon Iſrael, and Bleſſings on both out of Zion, Pſalm 121. 3, 5, 6. The Old Teſtament Propheſies are expreſs'd many times in Praiſes, and new Songs, ſo is this beginning of New Teſtament Prophecy, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael. The God of the whole Earth ſhall he be called; yet Zacharias, ſpeaking of the Work of Redemption, called him the Lord God of Iſrael, becauſe to Iſrael the Propheſies, Promiſes and Types of the Redemption had hitherto been given, and to them the firſt Proffers and Propoſals of it were now to be made. Iſrael as a choſen People, was a Type of the Elect of God out of all Nations, whom God had a particular Eye to, in ſending the Saviour; and therefore he is therein called the Lord God of Iſrael.

Now Zacharias here bleſſeth God,

Firſt, For the Work of Salvation that was to be wrought out by the Meſſiah himſelf, v. 68,—75. This is it that fills him, when he is filled with the Holy Ghoſt, and 'tis that which all that have the Spirit of Chriſt are full of.

1. In ſending the Meſſiah, God has made a gracious Viſit to his People, whom for many Ages he had ſeem'd to neglect, and to be eſtranged from; he hath viſited them, as a Friend, to take cognizance of their Caſe. God is ſaid to have viſited his People in Bondage, when he deliver'd them, Exod. 3. 16.—4. 31. to have viſited his People in Famine, when he gave them Bread, Ruth 1. 6. He had often ſent to them by his Prophets, and had ſtill kept up a Correſpondence with them, but now he himſelf made them a Viſit.

2. He has wrought out a Redemption for them; he hath redeem'd his People: This was the Errand on which Chriſt came into the World, to redeem thoſe that were ſold for Sin, and ſold under Sin; even God's own People, his Iſrael, his Son, his firſt born, his free born need to be Redeemed, and are undone if they be not. Chriſt redeems them by Price out of the Hands of God's Juſtice, and redeems them by Power out of the Hands of Satan's Tyranny, as Iſrael out of Egypt.

3. He has fulfill'd the Covenant of Royalty made with the moſt Famous Old Teſtament Prince, that was David: Glorious Things had been ſaid of his Family, that on him, as a mighty One, Help ſhould be laid, that his Horn ſhould be exalted, and his Seed perpetuated, Pſalm 89. 19, 20, 24, 29. But that Family had been long in a manner caſt off and abhorred, Pſalm 89. 38. Now here it is gloried in, that according to the Promiſe, the horn of David ſhould again be made to Bud, for Pſalm 132. 27. He hath raiſed up an Horn of Salvation for us, in the Houſe of his Servant David, v. 69. there where it was promis'd, and expected to ariſe. David is call'd God's Servant, not only as a good Man, but as a King that rul'd for God: And he was an Inſtrument of the Salvation of Iſrael, by being employ'd in the Government of Iſrael, ſo Chriſt is the Author of eternal Redemption to thoſe only that obey him. There is in Chriſt, and in him only Salvation for us, and it is a Horn of Salvation; for (1.) It is an honourable Salvation, 'tis rais'd up above all other Salvations, none of which are to be compar'd with it: In it the Glory both of the Redeemer, and of the Redeemed are advanc'd, and their Horn exalted with Honour. (2.) It is a plentiful Salvation; 'tis a Cornucopia, a Horn of Plenty, a Salvation, in which we are bleſſed with Spiritual Bleſſings in Heavenly Things abundantly. (3.) It is a powerful Salvation, the Strength of the Beaſt is in his Horn; he hath rais'd up ſuch a Salvation as ſhall pull down our Spiritual Enemies, and protect us from them. In the Chariots of this Salvation the Redeemer ſhall go forth, and go on conquering, and to conquer.

4. He hath fulfill'd all the precious Promiſes made to the Church by the moſt Famous Old Teſtament Prophets, v. 70. As he ſpake by the Mouth of his Holy Prophets. His Doctrine of Salvation by the Meſſiah is confirm'd by an Appeal to the Prophets, and the Greatneſs and Importance of that Salvation thereby evidenc'd and magnified; 'tis the ſame they ſpoke of, which therefore ought to be expected and welcom'd: 'Tis what they enquir'd and ſearch'd diligently after, 1 Peter 1. 10, 11. and therefore ought not to be ſlighted, or thought meanly of. God is now doing that which he has long ago ſpoken of, and therefore be ſilent, O all Fleſh, before him, and attend to him. See (1.) How ſacred the Propheſies of this Salvation were; the Prophets who deliver'd them were Holy Prophets, who durſt not deceive, and who aim'd at promoting Holineſs among Men; and it was the Holy God himſelf that ſpake by them. (2.) How ancient they were; ever ſince the World began; God having promis'd when the World began, That the Seed of the Woman ſhould break the Serpents Head; that Promiſe was eccho'd to when Adam call'd his Wife's Name Eve, Life, for the ſake of that Seed of hers: When Eve call'd her firſt Son Cain, ſaying, I have gotten a Man from the Lord; and another Son Seth, ſettled; when Noah was call'd Reſt, and foretold that God ſhould dwell in the Tents of Shem. And it was not long after the New World began in Noah, that the Promiſe was made to Abraham, that in his Seed the Nations of the Earth ſhould be bleſſed. (3.) What a wonderful Harmony and Concert there was among them; God ſpake the ſame thing by them all, and therefore 'tis ſaid to be διὰ στόματος, not by the Mouths, but by the Mouth of the Prophets, for 'they all ſpake of Chriſt as it were with one Mouth.

Now what is this Salvation which was propheſied of?

1. It is a Reſcue from the Malice of our Enemies. It is σωτηρίαν ἐξ ἐχθρῶν ἡμῶν, a Salvation out of our Enemies, from among them, and out of the Power of them that hate us, v. 71. 'Tis a Salvation from Sin, and the Dominion of Satan over us, both by Corruptions within, and Temptations without. The carnal Jews expected to be deliver'd from under the Roman Yoke, but Intimation was betimes given, that it ſhould be a Redemption of another Nature: He ſhall ſave his People from their Sins, that they may not have Dominion over them, Matt. 1. 21.

2. It is a Reſtoration to the Favour of God, 'tis to perform the Mercy promiſed to our Fore-fathers, v. 72. The Redeemer ſhall not only break the Serpent's Head, that was the Author of our Ruin, but he ſhall reinſtate us in the Mercy of God, and re-eſtabliſh us in his Covenant; he ſhall bring us as 'twere into a Paradiſe again, which was ſignified by the Promiſes made to the Patriarchs, and the Holy Covenant made with them; the Oath which he ſware to our Father Abraham, v. 73. Obſerve, (1.) That which was promis'd to the Fathers, and is perform'd to us, is Mercy, pure Mercy, nothing in it is owing to our Merit, we deſerve Wrath, and the Curſe, but all to the Mercy of God, which deſign'd us Grace and Life; ex mero Motu, he loved us becauſe he would love us. (2.) God herein had an Eye to his Covenant, his Holy Covenant, that Covenant with Abraham; I will be a God to thee and thy Seed. This his Seed had really forefeited by their Tranſgreſſions, this he ſeem'd to have forgotten in the Calamities brought upon them, but he will now remember it, will make it appear that he remembers it, for upon that is grounded all his Returns of Mercy, Levit. 26. 42. Then will I remember my Covenant.

3. It is a Qualification for, and an Encouragement to the Service of God. This was the Oath he ſware to our Father Abraham, That he would give us Power and Grace to ſerve him in an acceptable manner, and a comfortable Manner to our ſelves, v. 74, 75. Here ſeems to be an alluſion to the Deliverance of Iſrael out of Egypt, which God tells Moſes, was in purſuance of the Covenant he made with Abraham, Exod. 3. 6, 7, 8. and that this was the Deſign of his bringing them out of Egypt, that they might ſerve God upon this Mountain, Exod. 3. 12. Note, The great Deſign of Goſpel Grace is, not to diſcharge us from, but to engage us to, and encourage us in the Service of God. Under this Notion Chriſtianity was always to be look'd upon, as intended to make us truly religious, to admit us into the Service of God, to bind us in it, and to quicken us in it. We are therefore delivered from the Iron Yoke of Sin, that our Necks may be put under the ſweet and eaſie Yoke of the Lord Jeſus: The very Bonds which he has looſ'd, do bind us faſter unto him, Pſalm 116. 16. See Rom. 18. 19. We are hereby enabled, (1.) To ſerve God without Fear, ἀφόβως; we are therefore put into a State of holy Safety, that we might ſerve God with a holy Security, and Serenity of Mind, as thoſe that are quiet from the Fears of Evil. God muſt be ſerv'd with a filial Fear, a reverent obedient Fear, an awakening quickening Fear, but not with a ſlaviſh Fear, like that of the ſlothful Servant, who repreſented him to himſelf as a hard Maſter, and unreaſonable; not with that Fear that has Torment and Amazement in it; not with the Fear of a Legal Spirit, a Spirit of Bondage, but with the Boldneſs of an Evangelical Spirit, a Spirit of Adoption. (2.) To ſerve him in Holineſs and Righteouſneſs, which includes the whole Duty of Man towards God and our Neighbour. 'Tis both the Intention, and the direct Tendency of the Goſpel, to renew upon us that Image of God, in which Man was at firſt made, which conſiſted in Righteouſneſs and true Holineſs, Eph. 4. 24. Chriſt redeem'd us that we might ſerve God, not in the Legal Services of Sacrifice and Offerings, but in the ſpiritual Services of Holineſs and Righteouſneſs, Pſalm 50. 14. (3.) To ſerve him before him, in the Duties of his immediate Worſhip, wherein we preſent our ſelves before the Lord, to ſerve him as thoſe that have an Eye always upon him, and ſee his Eye always upon us, upon our inward Man; that's ſerving before him. (4.) To ſerve him all the Days of our Life: The Deſign of the Goſpel is to engage us to Conſtancy, and Perſeverance in the Service of God, by ſhewing us how much depends upon it, that we do not draw back; and by ſhewing us how Chriſt lov'd us to the End, and thereby engag'd us to love him to the End.

2. He bleſſeth God for the Work of Preparation, for this Salvation, which was to be done by John Baptiſt, v. 76. Thou Child, though now but a Child of eight Days old, ſhalt be called the Prophet of the Higheſt; Jeſus Chriſt is the Higheſt, for he is God over all, bleſſed for evermore, Rom. 9. 5. equal with the Father; John Baptiſt was his Prophet, as Aaron was Moſes's Prophet, Exod. 7. 1. What he ſaid was as his Mouth, what he did was as his Harbinger. Prophecy had now long ceaſed, but in John it reviv'd, as it had done in Samuel, who was born of an aged Mother, as John was, after a long Ceſſation. John's Buſineſs was,

1. To prepare People for the Salvation, by preaching Repentance and Reformation, as great Goſpel Duties; Thou ſhalt go before the Face of the Lord, and but a little before him, to prepare his Ways, to call People to make room for him, and get ready for his Entertainment. Let every Thing that may obſtruct his Progreſs, or embarraſs it, or may hinder People from coming to him, be taken away: See Iſa. 40. 3, 4. Let Valleys be fill'd, and Hills be brought low.

2. To give People a general Idea of the Salvation, that they might know not only what to do, but what to expect; for the Doctrine he preach'd, was, that the Kingdom of Heaven is at Hand. There are two Things in which you muſt know this Salvation conſiſts.

1. The Forgiveneſs of what we have done amiſs; 'tis Salvation by the Remiſſion of Sins, thoſe Sins which ſtand in the Way of the Salvation, and by which we were all become liable to Ruin and Condemnation, v. 77. John Baptiſt gave People to underſtand, that tho' their Caſe was ſad by Reaſon of Sin, it was not deſperate, for Pardon might be obtain'd through the tender Mercy of our God; the Bowels of Mercy, ſo the Word is: There was nothing in us but a piteous Caſe to recommend us to the Divine Compaſſion.

2. Direction to do better for the Time to come. The Goſpel-Salvation not only encourageth us to hope that the Works of Darkneſs ſhall be forgiven us, but ſets up a clear and true Light, by which we may order our Steps aright. In it the Day-Spring hath viſited us from on high, v. 78. and this alſo is owing to the tender Mercy of our God: Chriſt is ἀνατολὴ, the Morning Light, the Riſing-Sun, Mal. 4. 2. The Goſpel brings Light with it, John 3. 19. leaves us not to wander in Darkneſs of Pagan Ignorance, or in the Moon-Light of the Old Teſtament Types, or Figures, but in it the Day dawns; in John Baptiſt it began to break, but increas'd apace, and ſhone more and more to the perfect Day. We have as much Reaſon to welcome the Goſpel-Day, who enjoy it, as thoſe have to welcome the Morning who had long waited for it. (1.) The Goſpel is diſcovering, it ſhews us that which before we were utterly in the Dark about, v. 79. 'tis to give Light to them that ſit in Darkneſs, the Light of the Knowledge of the Glory of God in the Face of Jeſus Chriſt; the Day-Spring viſited this dark World to lighten the Gentiles, Acts 26. 18. (2.) It is reviving; it brings Light to them that ſit in the Shadow of Death, as condemn'd Priſoners in the Dungeon, to bring them the Tidings of a Pardon, at leaſt of a Reprieve, and Opportunity of procuring a Pardon; it proclaims the opening of the Priſon, Iſa. 61. 1. brings the Light of Life: How pleaſant is that Light! (3.) It is directing, 'tis to guide our Feet into the Way of Peace, into that Way which will bring us to Peace at laſt. 'Tis not only a Light to our Eyes, but a Light to our Feet, Pſal. 119. 105. It guides us into the Way of making our Peace with God, of keeping up a comfortable Communion; that Way of Peace, which as Sinners, we have wandred from, and have not known, Rom. 3. 17. nor could ever have known of ourſelves.

In the laſt Verſe we have a ſhort Account of the younger Years of John Baptiſt: Tho' he was the Son of a Prieſt, he did not like Samuel, go up when he was a Child, to miniſter before the Lord, for he was to prepare the Way for a better Prieſthood. But we are here told,

1. Of his Eminency, as to the inward Man. The Child grew in Parts, and the Capacities of his Mind much more than other Children; ſo that he waxed ſtrong in Spirit, had a ſtrong Judgment, and ſtrong Reſolution. Reaſon and Conſcience (both which are the Candle of the Lord) were ſo ſtrong in him, that he had the inferior Faculties of Appetite and Paſſion in compleat Subjection betimes. By this, it appear'd he was betimes fill'd with the Holy Ghoſt, for thoſe that are ſtrong in the Lord, are ſtrong in Spirit.

2. Of his Obſcurity, as to the outward Man: He was in the Deſarts; not that he liv'd a Hermite, cut off from the Society of Men; no, we have Reaſon to think he went up to Jeruſalem, at the Feaſts, and frequented the Synagogues on the Sabbath-Day, but his conſtant Reſidence was in ſome of thoſe ſcatter'd Houſes that were in the Wilderneſſes of Zuph, or Maon, which we read of in the Story of David. There he ſpent moſt of his Time in Contemplation, and Devotion, and had not his Education in the Schools, or at the Feet of the Rabbins. Note, There's many a one qualified for great Uſefulneſs, who yet is bury'd alive; and many are long ſo, who are deſign'd, and are thereby in the fitting for ſo much greater Uſefulneſs at laſt; as John Baptiſt, who was in the Deſart, only till the Day of his ſhewing to Iſrael, when he was in the 30th Year of his Age. Note, There is a Time fix'd for the ſhewing of thoſe Favours to Iſrael, which are reſerv'd: The Viſion of them is for an appointed Time, and at the End it ſhall Speak, and ſhall not Lye.

CHAP. II.

In this Chapter we have an Account of the Birth, and Infancy of our Lord Jeſus, having had Notice of his Conception, and of the Birth, and Infancy of his Fore-runner in the former Chapter. The Firſt-begotten is here brought into the World, let us go meet him with our Hoſanna's, Bleſſed is he that cometh. Here's (1.) The Place, and other Circumſtances of his Birth, which ſpake him the true Meſſiah, and ſuch a one as we needed, but not ſuch a one as the Jews expected, v. 1,—7. (2.) The notifying of his Birth to the Shepherds in that Neighbourhood by an Angel, the Song of Praiſe which the Angels ſung upon that Occaſion, and the Spreading of the Report of it by the Shepherds, v. 9.—20. (3.) The Circumciſion of Chriſt, and the naming of him, v. 21. (4.) The Preſenting of him in the Temple, v. 22,—24. (5.) The Teſtimonies of Simeon, and Anna the Propheteſs, concerning him, v. 25.—39. (6.) Chriſt's Growth and Pregnancy, v. 40. —52. (7.) His obſerving the Paſſover at twelve Years old, and his diſputing with the Doctors in the Temple, v. 41—51. And this, with what we have met with, Matth. 1, and 2. is all we have concerning our Lord Jeſus, till he enter'd upon his publick Work, in the 30th Year of his Age.

1 AND it came to paſs in thoſe days, that there went out a decree from Ceſar Auguſtus, that all the world ſhould be taxed. 2 (And this taxing was firſt made when Cyrenius was governour of Syria) 3 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. 4 And Joſeph alſo went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem (becauſe he was of the houſe and linage of David.) 5 To be taxed with Mary his eſpouſed wife, being great with child. 6 And ſo it was, that while they were there, the days were accompliſhed that ſhe ſhould be delivered. 7 And ſhe brought forth her firſt-born ſon, and wrapped him in ſwadling clothes, and laid him in a manger, becauſe there was no room for them in the inn.

The Fulneſs of Time was now come, when God would ſend forth his Son made of a Woman, and made under the Law; and it was foretold that he ſhould be born at Bethlehem: Now here we have an Account of the Time, Place, and Manner of it.

Firſt, The Time when our Lord Jeſus was born: And ſeveral Things may be gather'd out of theſe Verſes, which intimate to us that it was the proper Time.

1. He was born at the Time when the fourth Monarchy was in its Height, juſt when it was become more than any of the Three before it, a Univerſal Monarchy. He was born in the Days of Auguſtus Caeſar, when the Roman Empire extended itſelf further than ever, before or ſince, including Parthia one Way, and Britain another Way; ſo that it was then call'd Terrarum Orbis Imperium, and here that Empire is call'd all the World, v. 1. for there was ſcarce any Part of the civiliz'd World, but what was dependant on it: Now this was the Time when the Meſſiah was to be born, according to Daniel's Propheſy, Dan. 2. 44. In the Days of theſe Kings, the Kings of the fourth Monarchy, ſhall the God of Heaven ſet up a Kingdom which ſhall never be deſtroyed

2. He was born when Judea was become a Province of the Empire, and Tributary to it, as appears evidently by this, that when all the Roman Empire was taxed, the Jews were taxed among the reſt; Jeruſalem was taken by Pompey, the Roman General, about ſixty Years before this, who granted the Government of the Church to Hircanus, but not the Government of the State; and by degrees it was more and more reduc'd, till now at length it was quite ſubdu'd; for Judea was rul'd by Cyreneus, the Roman Governor of Syria, v. 2. The Roman Writers call him Sulpitius Quirinius. Now juſt at this Juncture the Meſſiah was to be born, for ſo was dying Jacob's Propheſy, That Shiloh ſhould come when the Scepter was departed from Judah, and the Law-giver from between his Feet, Gen. 49. 10. This was the firſt taxing that was made in Judea, the firſt Badge of their Servitude, therefore now Shiloh muſt come to ſet up his Kingdom.

3. There is another Circumſtance as to the Time, which is imply'd in this general Enrollment of all the Subjects of the Empire; which is, That there was now a Univerſal Peace in the Empire: The Temple of Janus was now ſhut, which it never us'd to be, if any Wars were on foot: And now it was fit for the Prince of Peace to be born, in whoſe Days Swords ſhould be beaten into Plow-Shares.

Secondly, The Place where our Lord Jeſus was born, is very obſervable; he was born at Bethlehem, ſo it was foretold, Mic. 5. 2. The Scribes ſo underſtood it, Mat. 2. 5, 6. ſo did the common People, John 7. 42. The Name of the Place was ſignificant, Bethlehem ſignifies The Houſe of Bread; a proper Place for him to be born in, who is the Bread of Life, the Bread that came down from Heaven. But that was not all, Bethlehem was the City of David, where he was born, and therefore there he muſt be born, who was the Son of David. Zion was alſo called the City of David, 2 Sam. 5. 7. yet Chriſt was not born there; for Bethlehem was that City of David, where he was born in Meaneſs, to be a Shepherd; and that our Saviour, when he give Thanks to God for this, with his Family: But in this Song, he is wholly taken up with the Kingdom of the Meſſiah, and the publick Bleſſings to be introduc'd by it: He could have little Pleaſure in this fruitfulneſs of his Vine, and the hopefulneſs of his Olive Plant, if herein he had not foreſeen the good of Jeruſalem, Peace upon Iſrael, and Bleſſings on both out of Zion, Pſalm 121. 3, 5, 6. The Old Teſtament Propheſies are expreſs'd many times in Praiſes, and new Songs, ſo is this beginning of New Teſtament Prophecy, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael. The God of the whole Earth ſhall he be called; yet Zacharias, ſpeaking of the Work of Redemption, called him the Lord God of Iſrael, becauſe to Iſrael the Propheſies, Promiſes and Types of the Redemption had hitherto been given, and to them the firſt Proffers and Propoſals of it were now to be made. Iſrael as a choſen People, was a Type of the Elect of God out of all Nations, whom God had a particular Eye to, in ſending the Saviour; and therefore he is therein called the Lord God of Iſrael.

Now Zacharias here bleſſeth God,

Firſt, For the Work of Salvation that was to be wrought out by the Meſſiah himſelf, v. 68,—75. This is it that fills him, when he is filled with the Holy Ghoſt, and 'tis that which all that have the Spirit of Chriſt are full of.

1. In ſending the Meſſiah, God has made a gracious Viſit to his People, whom for many Ages he had ſeem'd to neglect, and to be eſtranged from; he hath viſited them, as a Friend, to take cognizance of their Caſe. God is ſaid to have viſited his People in Bondage, when he deliver'd them, Exod. 3. 16.—4. 31. to have viſited his People in Famine, when he gave them Bread, Ruth 1. 6. He had often ſent to them by his Prophets, and had ſtill kept up a Correſpondence with them, but now he himſelf made them a Viſit.

2. He has wrought out a Redemption for them; he hath redeem'd his People: This was the Errand on which Chriſt came into the World, to redeem thoſe that were ſold for Sin, and ſold under Sin; even God's own People, his Iſrael, his Son, his firſt born, his free born need to be Redeemed, and are undone if they be not. Chriſt redeems them by Price out of the Hands of God's Juſtice, and redeems them by Power out of the Hands of Satan's Tyranny, as Iſrael out of Egypt.

3. He has fulfill'd the Covenant of Royalty made with the moſt Famous Old Teſtament Prince, that was David: Glorious Things had been ſaid of his Family, that on him, as a mighty One, Help ſhould be laid, that his Horn ſhould be exalted, and his Seed perpetuated, Pſalm 89. 19, 20, 24, 29. But that Family had been long in a manner caſt off and abhorred, Pſalm 89. 38. Now here it is gloried in, that according to the Promiſe, the horn of David ſhould again be made to Bud, for Pſalm 132. 27. He hath raiſed up an Horn of Salvation for us, in the Houſe of his Servant David, v. 69. there where it was promis'd, and expected to ariſe. David is call'd God's Servant, not only as a good Man, but as a King that rul'd for God: And he was an Inſtrument of the Salvation of Iſrael, by being employ'd in the Government of Iſrael, ſo Chriſt is the Author of eternal Redemption to thoſe only that obey him. There is in Chriſt, and in him only Salvation for us, and it is a Horn of Salvation; for (1.) It is an honourable Salvation, 'tis rais'd up above all other Salvations, none of which are to be compar'd with it: In it the Glory both of the Redeemer, and of the Redeemed are advanc'd, and their Horn exalted with Honour. (2.) It is a plentiful Salvation; 'tis a Cornucopia, a Horn of Plenty, a Salvation, in which we are bleſſed with Spiritual Bleſſings in Heavenly Things abundantly. (3.) It is a powerful Salvation, the Strength of the Beaſt is in his Horn; he hath rais'd up ſuch a Salvation as ſhall pull down our Spiritual Enemies, and protect us from them. In the Chariots of this Salvation the Redeemer ſhall go forth, and go on conquering, and to conquer.

4. He hath fulfill'd all the precious Promiſes made to the Church by the moſt Famous Old Teſtament Prophets, v. 70. As he ſpake by the Mouth of his Holy Prophets. His Doctrine of Salvation by the Meſſiah is confirm'd by an Appeal to the Prophets, and the Greatneſs and Importance of that Salvation thereby evidenc'd and magnified; 'tis the ſame they ſpoke of, which therefore ought to be expected and welcom'd: 'Tis what they enquir'd and ſearch'd diligently after, 1 Peter 1. 10, 11. and therefore ought not to be ſlighted, or thought meanly of. God is now doing that which he has long ago ſpoken of, and therefore be ſilent, O all Fleſh, before him, and attend to him. See (1.) How ſacred the Propheſies of this Salvation were; the Prophets who deliver'd them were Holy Prophets, who durſt not deceive, and who aim'd at promoting Holineſs among Men; and it was the Holy God himſelf that ſpake by them. (2.) How ancient they were; ever ſince the World began; God having promis'd when the World began, That the Seed of the Woman ſhould break the Serpents Head; that Promiſe was eccho'd to when Adam call'd his Wife's Name Eve, Life, for the ſake of that Seed of hers: When Eve call'd her firſt Son Cain, ſaying, I have gotten a Man from the Lord; and another Son Seth, ſettled; when Noah was call'd Reſt, and foretold that God ſhould dwell in the Tents of Shem. And it was not long after the New World began in Noah, that the Promiſe was made to Abraham, that in his Seed the Nations of the Earth ſhould be bleſſed. (3.) What a wonderful Harmony and Concert there was among them; God ſpake the ſame thing by them all, and therefore 'tis ſaid to be διὰ στόματος, not by the Mouths, but by the Mouth of the Prophets, for they all ſpake of Chriſt as it were with one Mouth.

Now what is this Salvation which was propheſied of?

1. It is a Reſcue from the Malice of our Enemies. It is σωτηρίαν ἐξ ἐχθρῶν ἡμῶν, a Salvation out of our Enemies, from among them, and out of the Power of them that hate us, v. 71. 'Tis a Salvation from Sin, and the Dominion of Satan over us, both by Corruptions within, and Temptations without. The carnal Jews expected to be deliver'd from under the Roman Yoke, but Intimation was betimes given, that it ſhould be a Redemption of another Nature: He ſhall ſave his People from their Sins, that they may not have Dominion over them, Matt. 1. 21.

2. It is a Reſtoration to the Favour of God, 'tis to perform the Mercy promiſed to our Fore-fathers, v. 72. The Redeemer ſhall not only break the Serpent's Head, that was the Author of our Ruin, but he ſhall reinſtate us in the Mercy of God, and re-eſtabliſh us in his Covenant; he ſhall bring us as 'twere into a Paradiſe again, which was ſignified by the Promiſes made to the Patriarchs, and the Holy Covenant made with them; the Oath which he ſware to our Father Abraham, v. 73. Obſerve, (1.) That which was promis'd to the Fathers, and is perform'd to us, is Mercy, pure Mercy, nothing in it is owing to our Merit, we deſerve Wrath, and the Curſe, but all to the Mercy of God, which deſign'd us Grace and Life; ex mero Motu, he loved us becauſe he would love us. (2.) God herein had an Eye to his Covenant, his Holy Covenant, that Covenant with Abraham; I will be a God to thee and thy Seed. This his Seed had really forefeited by their Tranſgreſſions, this he ſeem'd to have forgotten in the Calamities brought upon them, but he will now remember it, will make it appear that he remembers it, for upon that is grounded all his Returns of Mercy, Levit. 26. 42. Then will I remember my Covenant.

3. It is a Qualification for, and an Encouragement to the Service of God. This was the Oath he ſware to our Father Abraham, That he would give us Power and Grace to ſerve him in an acceptable manner, and a comfortable Manner to our ſelves, v. 74, 75. Here ſeems to be an alluſion to the Deliverance of Iſrael out of Egypt, which God tells Moſes, was in purſuance of the Covenant he made with Abraham, Exod. 3. 6, 7, 8. and that this was the Deſign of his bringing them out of Egypt, that they might ſerve God upon this Mountain, Exod. 3. 12. Note, The great Deſign of Goſpel Grace is, not to diſcharge us from, but to engage us to, and encourage us in the Service of God. Under this Notion Chriſtianity was always to be look'd upon, as intended to make us truly religious, to admit us into the Service of God, to bind us in it, and to quicken us in it. We are therefore delivered from the Iron Yoke of Sin, that our Necks may be put under the ſweet and eaſie Yoke of the Lord Jeſus: The very Bonds which he has looſ'd, do bind us faſter unto him, Pſalm 116. 16. See Rom. 18. 19. We are hereby enabled, (1.) To ſerve God without Fear, ἀφόβως; we are therefore put into a State of holy Safety, that we might ſerve God with a holy Security, and Serenity of Mind, as thoſe that are quiet from the Fears of Evil. God muſt be ſerv'd with a filial Fear, a reverent obedient Fear, an awakening quickening Fear, but not with a ſlaviſh Fear, like that of the ſlothful Servant, who repreſented him to himſelf as a hard Maſter, and unreaſonable; not with that Fear that has Torment and Amazement in it; not with the Fear of a Legal Spirit, a Spirit of Bondage, but with the Boldneſs of an Evangelical Spirit, a Spirit of Adoption. (2.) To ſerve him in Holineſs and Righteouſneſs, which includes the whole Duty of Man towards God and our Neighbour. 'Tis both the Intention, and the direct Tendency of the Goſpel, to renew upon us that Image of God, in which Man was at firſt made, which conſiſted in Righteouſneſs and true Holineſs, Eph. 4. 24. Chriſt redeem'd us that we might ſerve God, not in the Legal Services of Sacrifice and Offerings, but in the ſpiritual Services of Holineſs and Righteouſneſs, Pſalm 50. 14. (3.) To ſerve him before him, in the Duties of his immediate Worſhip, wherein we preſent our ſelves before the Lord, to ſerve him as thoſe that have an Eye always upon him, and ſee his Eye always upon us, upon our inward Man; that's ſerving before him. (4.) To ſerve him all the Days of our Life: The Deſign of the Goſpel is to engage us to Conſtancy, and Perſeverance in the Service of God, by ſhewing us how much depends upon it, that we do not draw back; and by ſhewing us how Chriſt lov'd us to the End, and thereby engag'd us to love him to the End.

2. He bleſſeth God for the Work of Preparation, for this Salvation, which was to be done by John Baptiſt, v. 76. Thou Child, though now but a Child of eight Days old, ſhalt be called the Prophet of the Higheſt; Jeſus Chriſt is the Higheſt, for he is God over all, bleſſed for evermore, Rom. 9. 5. equal with the Father; John Baptiſt was his Prophet, as Aaron was Moſes's Prophet, Exod. 7. 1. What he ſaid was as his Mouth, what he did was as his Harbinger. Prophecy had now long ceaſed, but in John it reviv'd, as it had done in Samuel, who was born of an aged Mother, as John was, after a long Ceſſation. John's Buſineſs was,

1. To prepare People for the Salvation, by preaching Repentance and Reformation, as great Goſpel Duties; Thou ſhalt go before the Face of the Lord, and but a little before him, to prepare his Ways, to call People to make room for him, and get ready for his Entertainment. Let every Thing that may obſtruct his Progreſs, or embarraſs it, or may hinder People from coming to him, be taken away: See Iſa. 40. 3, 4. Let Valleys be fill'd, and Hills be brought low.

2. To give People a general Idea of the Salvation, that they might know not only what to do, but what to expect; for the Doctrine he preach'd, was, that the Kingdom of Heaven is at Hand. There are two Things in which you muſt know this Salvation conſiſts.

1. The Forgiveneſs of what we have done amiſs; 'tis Salvation by the Remiſſion of Sins, thoſe Sins which ſtand in the Way of the Salvation, and by which we were all become liable to Ruin and Condemnation, v. 77. John Baptiſt gave People to underſtand, that tho' their Caſe was ſad by Reaſon of Sin, it was not deſperate, for Pardon might be obtain'd through the tender Mercy of our God; the Bowels of Mercy, ſo the Word is: There was nothing in us but a piteous Caſe to recommend us to the Divine Compaſſion.

2. Direction to do better for the Time to come. The Goſpel-Salvation not only encourageth us to hope that the Works of Darkneſs ſhall be forgiven us, but ſets up a clear and true Light, by which we may order our Steps aright. In it the Day-Spring hath viſited us from on high, v. 78. and this alſo is owing to the tender Mercy of our God: Chriſt is ἀνατολὴ, the Morning Light, the Riſing-Sun, Mal. 4. 2. The Goſpel brings Light with it, John 3. 19. leaves us not to wander in Darkneſs of Pagan Ignorance, or in the Moon-Light of the Old Teſtament Types, or Figures, but in it the Day dawns; in John Baptiſt it began to break, but increas'd apace, and ſhone more and more to the perfect Day. We have as much Reaſon to welcome the Goſpel-Day, who enjoy it, as thoſe have to welcome the Morning who had long waited for it. (1.) The Goſpel is diſcovering, it ſhews us that which before we were utterly in the Dark about, v. 79. 'tis to give Light to them that ſit in Darkneſs, the Light of the Knowledge of the Glory of God in the Face of Jeſus Chriſt; the Day-Spring viſited this dark World to lighten the Gentiles, Acts 26. 18. (2.) It is reviving; it brings Light to them that ſit in the Shadow of Death, as condemn'd Priſoners in the Dungeon, to bring them the Tidings of a Pardon, at leaſt of a Reprieve, and Opportunity of procuring a Pardon; it proclaims the opening of the Priſon, Iſa. 61. 1. brings the Light of Life: How pleaſant is that Light! (3.) It is directing, 'tis to guide our Feet into the Way of Peace, into that Way which will bring us to Peace at laſt. 'Tis not only a Light to our Eyes, but a Light to our Feet, Pſal. 119. 105. It guides us into the Way of making our Peace with God, of keeping up a comfortable Communion; that Way of Peace, which as Sinners, we have wandred from, and have not known, Rom. 3. 17. nor could ever have known of ourſelves.

In the laſt Verſe we have a ſhort Account of the younger Years of John Baptiſt: Tho' he was the Son of a Prieſt, he did not like Samuel, go up when he was a Child, to miniſter before the Lord, for he was to prepare the Way for a better Prieſthood. But we are here told,

1. Of his Eminency, as to the inward Man. The Child grew in Parts, and the Capacities of his Mind much more than other Children; ſo that he waxed ſtrong in Spirit, had a ſtrong Judgment, and ſtrong Reſolution. Reaſon and Conſcience (both which are the Candle of the Lord) were ſo ſtrong in him, that he had the inferior Faculties of Appetite and Paſſion in compleat Subjection betimes. By this, it appear'd he was betimes fill'd with the Holy Ghoſt, for thoſe that are ſtrong in the Lord, are ſtrong in Spirit.

2. Of his Obſcurity, as to the outward Man: He was in the Deſarts; not that he liv'd a Hermite, cut off from the Society of Men; no, we have Reaſon to think he went up to Jeruſalem, at the Feaſts, and frequented the Synagogues on the Sabbath-Day, but his conſtant Reſidence was in ſome of thoſe ſcatter'd Houſes that were in the Wilderneſſes of Zuph, or Maon, which we read of in the Story of David. There he ſpent moſt of his Time in Contemplation, and Devotion, and had not his Education in the Schools, or at the Feet of the Rabbins. Note, There's many a one qualified for great Uſefulneſs, who yet is bury'd alive; and many are long ſo, who are deſign'd, and are thereby in the fitting for ſo much greater Uſefulneſs at laſt; as John Baptiſt, who was in the Deſart, only till the Day of his ſhewing to Iſrael, when he was in the 30th Year of his Age. Note, There is a Time fix'd for the ſhewing of thoſe Favours to Iſrael, which are reſerv'd: The Viſion of them is for an appointed Time, and at the End it ſhall Speak, and ſhall not Lye.

CHAP. II.

In this Chapter we have an Account of the Birth, and Infancy of our Lord Jeſus, having had Notice of his Conception, and of the Birth, and Infancy of his Fore-runner in the former Chapter. The Firſt-begotten is here brought into the World, let us go meet him with our Hoſanna's, Bleſſed is he that cometh. Here's (1.) The Place, and other Circumſtances of his Birth, which ſpoke him the true Meſſiah, and ſuch a one as we needed, but not ſuch a one as the Jews expected, v. 1,—7. (2.) The notifying of his Birth to the Shepherds in that Neighbourhood by an Angel, the Song of Praiſe which the Angels ſung upon that Occaſion, and the Spreading of the Report of it by the Shepherds, v. 9.—20. (3.) The Circumciſion of Chriſt, and the naming of him, v. 21. (4.) The Preſenting of him in the Temple, v. 22,—24. (5.) The Teſtimonies of Simeon, and Anna the Propheteſs, concerning him, v. 25.—39. (6.) Chriſt's Growth and Pregnancy, v. 40.—52. (7.) His obſerving the Paſſover at twelve Years old, and his diſputing with the Doctors in the Temple, v. 41—51. And this, with what we have met with, Matth. 1, and 2. is all we have concerning our Lord Jeſus, till he enter'd upon his publick Work, in the 30th Year of his Age.

1 AND it came to paſs in thoſe days, that there went out a decree from Ceſar Auguſtus, that all the world ſhould be taxed. 2 (And this taxing was firſt made when Cyrenius was governour of Syria) 3 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. 4 And Joſeph alſo went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem (becauſe he was of the houſe and linage of David.) 5 To be taxed with Mary his eſpouſed wife, being great with child. 6 And ſo it was, that while they were there, the days were accompliſhed that ſhe ſhould be delivered. 7 And ſhe brought forth her firſt-born ſon, and wrapped him in ſwadling clothes, and laid him in a manger, becauſe there was no room for them in the inn.

The Fulneſs of Time was now come, when God would ſend forth his Son made of a Woman, and made under the Law; and it was foretold that he ſhould be born at Bethlehem: Now here we have an Account of the Time, Place, and Manner of it.

Firſt, The Time when our Lord Jeſus was born: And ſeveral Things may be gather'd out of theſe Verſes, which intimate to us that it was the proper Time.

1. He was born at the Time when the fourth Monarchy was in its Height, juſt when it was become more than any of the Three before it, a Univerſal Monarchy. He was born in the Days of Auguſtus Cæſar, when the Roman Empire extended itſelf further than ever, before or ſince, including Parthia one Way, and Britain another Way; ſo that it was then call'd Terrarum Orbis Imperium, and here that Empire is call'd all the World, v. 1. for there was ſcarce any Part of the civiliz'd World, but what was dependant on it: Now this was the Time when the Meſſiah was to be born, according to Daniel's Propheſy, Dan. 2. 44. In the Days of theſe Kings, the Kings of the fourth Monarchy, ſhall the God of Heaven ſet up a Kingdom which ſhall never be deſtroyed

2. He was born when Judea was become a Province of the Empire, and Tributary to it, as appears evidently by this, that when all the Roman Empire was taxed, the Jews were taxed among the reſt; Jeruſalem was taken by Pompey, the Roman General, about ſixty Years before this, who granted the Government of the Church to Hircanus, but not the Government of the State; and by degrees it was more and more reduc'd, till now at length it was quite ſubdu'd; for Judea was rul'd by Cyreneus, the Roman Governor of Syria, v. 2. The Roman Writers call him Sulpitius Quirinius. Now juſt at this Juncture the Meſſiah was to be born, for ſo was dying Jacob's Propheſy, That Shiloh ſhould come when the Scepter was departed from Judah, and the Law-giver from between his Feet, Gen. 49. 10. This was the firſt taxing that was made in Judea, the firſt Badge of their Servitude, therefore now Shiloh muſt come to ſet up his Kingdom.

3. There is another Circumſtance as to the Time, which is imply'd in this general Enrollment of all the Subjects of the Empire; which is, That there was now a Univerſal Peace in the Empire: The Temple of Janus was now ſhut, which it never us'd to be, if any Wars were on foot: And now it was fit for the Prince of Peace to be born, in whoſe Days Swords ſhould be beaten into Plow-Shares.

Secondly, The Place where our Lord Jeſus was born, is very obſervable; he was born at Bethlehem, ſo it was foretold, Mic. 5. 2. The Scribes ſo underſtood it, Mat. 2. 5, 6. ſo did the common People, John 7. 42. The Name of the Place was ſignificant, Bethlehem ſignifies The Houſe of Bread; a proper Place for him to be born in, who is the Bread of Life, the Bread that came down from Heaven. But that was not all, Bethlehem was the City of David, where he was born, and therefore there he muſt be born, who was the Son of David. Zion was alſo called the City of David, 2 Sam. 5. 7. yet Chriſt was not born there; for Bethlehem was that City of David, where he was born in Meaneſs, to be a Shepherd; and that our Saviour, when he humbled himſelf, choſe for the Place of his Birth; not Zion, where he rul'd in Power and Proſperity, That was to be a Type of the Church of Chriſt, that Mount Zion. Now when the Virgin Mary was with Child, and near her Time, Providence ſo order'd it, that by Order from the Emperor, all the Subjects of the Roman Empire were to be taxed; that is, they were to give in their Names to the proper Officers, and they were to be regiſter'd and enroll'd, according to their Families, which is the proper Signification of the Word here us'd, and their being tax'd was but Secondary; 'tis ſuppos'd they made Profeſſion of Subjection to the Roman Empire, either by ſome ſet Form of Words, or at leaſt, by Payment of ſome ſmall Tribute, a Penny ſuppoſe, in Token of their Allegiance, like a Man's atturning Tenant. Thus are they Vaſſals upon Record, and may thank themſelves.

Now according to this Decree, the Jews, (who were now nice in diſtinguiſhing their Tribes and Families) provided that in their Inrollments particular Care ſhould be had to preſerve the Memory of them. Thus fooliſhly are they ſollicitous to ſave the Shadow, when they had loſt the Subſtance.

Now that which Auguſtus deſign'd, was either to gratify his Pride, in knowing the Numbers of his People, and proclaiming it to the World; or he did it in Policy, to ſtrengthen his Intereſt, and make his Government appear the more formidable; but Providence had another Reach in it. All the World ſhall be at the Trouble of being enroll'd, only that Joſeph and Mary may; this brought them up from Nazareth in Galilee, to Bethlehem in Judea, becauſe they were of the Stock and Lineage of David, v. 4, 5. and perhaps being poor and low, they thought the Royalty of their Extraction rather a Burthen and Expence to them, than a Matter of Pride: Becauſe it is difficult to ſuppoſe, that every Jew (Women as well as Men) was oblig'd to repair to the City of which their Anceſtors were, and there be enroll'd. Now, at a Time when they kept not to the Bounds of their Tribes as formerly, it may be offer'd as a Conjecture, that this great Exactneſs was us'd only with the Family of David, concerning which 'tis probable the Emperor gave particular Orders, it having been the Royal Family, and ſtill talk'd of, as deſign'd to be ſo, that he might know the Number and Strength of that. And divers Ends of Providence was ſerv'd by this.

1. Hereby the Virgin Mary was brought big with Child to Bethlehem, to be deliver'd there, according to the Prediction; whereas ſhe had deſign'd to lye in at Nazareth. See how Man purpoſeth, and God diſpoſeth; and how Providence orders all Things for the fulfilling of the Scripture, and makes Uſe of the Projects Men have for the ſerving their own Purpoſes, quite beyond their Intention to ſerve his.

2. Hereby it appear'd, that Jeſus Chriſt was of the Seed of David, for elſe what brings his Mother to Bethlehem now, but becauſe ſhe was of the Stock and Lineage of David? And this was a material Thing to be prov'd, and requir'd ſuch an Authentick Proof as this. Juſtin Martyr and Tertullian, two of the moſt early Advocates for the Chriſtian Religion, appeal to theſe Rolls or Records of the Roman Empire, for the Proof of Chriſt's being born of the Houſe of David.

3. Hereby it appear'd that he was made under the Law, for he became a Subject of the Roman Empire as ſoon as he was born, a Servant of Rulers, Iſa. 49. 7. Many ſuppoſe that being born during the Time of the Taxing, he was enroll'd as well as his Father and Mother, that it might appear how he made himſelf of no Reputation, and took upon him the Form of a Servant; inſtead of having Kings Tributaries to him, when he came into the World he was himſelf a Tributary.

Thirdly, The Circumſtances of his Birth, which were very mean, and under all poſſible Marks of Contempt. He was indeed a Firſt-born Son, but it was poor Honour to be the Firſt-born of ſuch a poor Woman as Mary was, who had no Inheritance to which he might be entitled as Firſt-born, but what was in Nativity.

1. He was under ſome Abaſements in common with other Children; he was wrapped in ſwadling Clothes, as other Children are, when they are new born, as if he could be bound, or needed to be kept ſtraight. He that makes Darkneſs a ſwadling Band for the Sea, was himſelf wrapp'd in ſwadling Bands, Job. 38. 9. The Everlaſting Father became a Child of Time, and Men ſaid of him, whoſe Out-going were of Old from Everlaſting, We know this Man whence he is, Joh. 7. 27. The Ancient of Days became an Infant of a Span-long.

2. He was under ſome Abaſements peculiar to himſelf.

1. He was born at an Inn. That Son of David that was the Glory of his Father's Houſe, had no Inheritance that he could command, no, not in the City of David; no, nor a Friend that would accommodate his Mother in Diſtreſs, with Lodgings to be brought to Bed in. Chriſt was born in an Inn, to intimate, that he came into the World but to ſojourn here for a while, as in an Inn, and to teach us to do likewiſe. An Inn receives all Comers, and ſo doth Chriſt. He hangs out the Banner of Love for his Sign, and whoever comes to him, he will in no wiſe caſt out; only, unlike other Inns, he welcomes thoſe that come without Money and without Price. All on Free-Coſt.

2. He was born in a Stable; ſo ſome think the Word ſignifies, which we tranſlate a Manger; a Place for Cattle to ſtand to be fed in, becauſe there was no Room in the Inn; and for want of Conveniencies, nay, for want of Neceſſaries, he was laid in the Manger, inſtead of a Cradle. And the Word which we render ſwadling Clothes, ſome derive from a Word that ſignifies to rend or tear; and thence infer, that he was ſo far from having a good Suit of Childbed Linnen, that his very Swaddles were ragged and torn. His being born in a Stable, and laid in a Manger, was an Inſtance (1.) Of the Poverty of his Parents; had they been rich, Room would have been made for them, but being poor, they muſt ſhift as they could. (2.) Of the Corruption and Degeneracy of Manners in that Age; that a Woman in Reputation for Vertue and Honour, ſhould be us'd ſo barbarouſly. If there had been any common Humanity among them, they would not have turn'd a Woman in Travel into a Stable. (3.) 'Twas an Inſtance of the Humiliation of our Lord Jeſus. We were become by Sin like an out-caſt Infant, helpleſs and forlorn; and ſuch a one Chriſt was. Thus he would anſwer the Type of Moſes, the Great Prophet, and Law-giver of the Old Teſtament, who was in his Infancy caſt out in an Ark of Bulruſhes, as Chriſt in a Manger. Chriſt would hereby put a Contempt upon all Worldly Glory, and teach us to ſlight it. Since his own received him not, let us not think ſtrange if they receive us not.

8 And there were in the ſame country, ſhepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. 9 And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord ſhone round about them; and they were ſore afraid. 10 And the angel ſaid unto them, Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which ſhall be to all people. 11 For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Chriſt the Lord. 12 And this ſhall be a ſign unto you; Ye ſhall find the babe wrapped in ſwaddling clothes, lying in a manger. 13 And ſuddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly hoſt praiſing God, and ſaying, 14 Glory to God in the higheſt, and on earth peace, good will towards men. 15 And it came to paſs, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the ſhepherds ſaid one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and ſee this thing which is come to paſs, which the Lord hath made known unto us. 16 And they came with haſte, and found Mary and Joſeph, and the babe lying in the manger. 17 And when they had ſeen it, they made known abroad the ſaying which was told them concerning this child. 18 And all they that heard it, wonder'd at thoſe things which were told them by the ſhepherds. 19 But Mary kept all theſe things, and pondered them in her heart. 20 And the ſhepherds returned, glorifying and praiſing God for all the things that they had heard and ſeen, as it was told unto them.

The meaneſt Circumſtances of Chriſt's Humiliation, were all along attended with ſome Diſcoveries of his Glory to balance them, and take off the Offence of them; for even when he humbled himſelf, God did in ſome Meaſure exalt him, and gave him Earneſts of his future Exaltation. When we ſaw him wrap'd in ſwadling Clothes, and laid in a Manger, we were tempted to ſay, ſure this cannot be the Son of God; but ſee his Birth attended as it is here, with a Choir of Angels, and we ſhall ſay, ſurely it can be no other but the Son of God, concerning whom it was ſaid, when he was brought into the World, Let all the Angels of God worſhip him, Heb. 1. 6.

We had in Matthew an Account of the Notice given of the Arrival of this Embaſſador, this Prince from Heaven, to the wiſe Men who were Gentiles, by a Star; here we are told of the Notice given of it to the Shepherds, who were Jews, by an Angel: To each God choſe to ſpeak, in the Language they were moſt converſant with.

1. See here how the Shepherds were employ'd, they were abiding in the Fields adjoining to Bethlehem, and keeping Watch over their Flocks by Night, v. 5. The Angel was not ſent to the Chief Prieſts, or the Elders, they were not prepar'd to receive theſe Tidings, but to a Company of poor Shepherds, that were like Jacob, plain Men dwelling in Tents, not like Eſau, cunning Hunters. The Patriarchs were Shepherds, Moſes and David particularly were call'd from keeping Sheep to rule God's People; and by this Inſtance, God would ſhew that he had ſtill a Favour for thoſe of that innocent Employment. Tidings were brought to Moſes, of the Deliverance of Iſrael out of Egypt, when he was keeping Sheep, and to theſe Shepherds, who, 'tis probable were devout, pious Men; the Tidings were brought of a greater Salvation. Obſerve (1.) They were not ſleeping in their Beds when this News was brought them (tho' many had very acceptable Intelligence from Heaven in Slum- bring upon the Bed) but abiding in the Fields and watching. Thoſe that would hear from God, muſt ſtir up themſelves. They were broad awake, and therefore could not be deceiv'd in what they ſaw and heard, ſo as thoſe may who are half aſleep. (2.) They were not now employ'd in Acts of Devotion, but in the Buſineſs of their Calling; they were keeping watch over their Flock, to ſecure them from Thieves and Beaſts of Prey, it probably being in the Summer Time, when they kept their Cattel out all Night as we do now, and did not houſe them. Note, We are not out of the Way of divine Viſits, when we are ſenſibly employ'd in an honeſt Calling, and abide with God in it.

2. How they were ſurpriz'd with the Appearance of an Angel to them, v. 9. Behold an Angel of the Lord came upon them, of a ſudden, ἐπέστη, ſtood over them; moſt probably in the Air over their Heads, as coming immediately from Heaven: We read it, The Angel, as if it were the ſame that appear'd once and again in the Chapter before, the Angel Gabriel, that was cauſed to fly ſwiftly, but that is not certain. The Angel's coming upon them, intimates, that they little thought of ſuch a Thing, or expected it; for 'tis in a preventing Way that gracious Viſits are made us from Heaven, or ever we are aware. That they might be ſure 'twas an Angel from Heaven, they ſaw and heard the Glory of the Lord round about them, ſuch as made the Night as bright as Day; ſuch a Glory as uſed to attend God's Appearance, a heavenly Glory, or, an exceeding great Glory, ſuch as they could not bear the dazling Luſtre of. This made them ſore afraid, put them into a mighty Conſternation, as fearing ſome evil Tidings; while we are conſcious to ourſelves of ſo much Guilt, we have Reaſon to fear, leſt every Expreſs from Heaven be a Meſſenger of Wrath.

3. What the Meſſage was which the Angel had to deliver to the Shepherds, v. 10, 11, 12. (1.) He gives a ſupercedeas to their Fears; fear not, for we have nothing to ſay to you that needs be a Terror to you, you need not fear your Enemies, and ſhould not fear your Friends. (2.) He furniſhes them with abundant Matter for Joy. Behold, I evangelize to you great Joy, I ſolemnly declare it, and you have Reaſon to bid it Welcome, for it ſhall bring Joy to all People, and not to the People of the Jews only; That unto you is born this Day, at this Time, a Saviour, the Saviour that has been ſo long expected, which is Chriſt the Lord, in the City of David, v. 11. Jeſus is the Chriſt, the Meſſiah, the Anointed; he is the Lord, Lord of all; is a ſoveraign Prince: Nay, he is God, for the Lord, in the Old Teſtament, anſwers to Jehovah. He is a Saviour, and he will be a Saviour to thoſe only that accept of him for their Lord. The Saviour is born, he is born this Day; and ſince 'tis Matter of great Joy to all People, 'tis not to be kept ſecret, you may proclaim it, may tell it to whom you pleaſe. He is born in the Place where it was foretold he ſhould be born, in the City of David; and he is born to you, to you Jews he is ſent, in the firſt Place to bleſs you, to you Shepherds, tho' poor and mean in the World. This refers to Iſa. 9. 6. Unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given. To you Men, not to us Angels, he took not on him our Nature. This is Matter of Joy, indeed to all People, great Joy, long look'd for is come at laſt: Let Heaven and Earth rejoyce before this Lord, for he cometh. (3.) He gives them a Sign for the confirming of their Faith in this Matter. How ſhall we find out this Child in Bethlehem, which is now full of the Deſcendants from David? You'll find him by this Token, he is lying in a Manger, where ſure never any new born Infant was laid before. They expected to be told, you ſhall find him, tho' a Babe, dreſt up in Robes, and lying in the beſt Houſe in the Town, lying in State, with a numerous Train of Attendants, in rich Liveries; no, you'll find him wrap'd in Swadling Clothes, and laid in a Manger. When Chriſt was here upon Earth, he diſtinguiſh'd himſelf, and made himſelf remarkable, by nothing ſo much as the Inſtances of his Humiliation.

4. The Angels Doxology to God, and Congratulations of Men upon this ſolemn Occaſion, v. 13, 14. The Meſſage was no ſooner deliver'd by one Angel, that was ſufficient to go Expreſs, but ſuddenly there was with that Angel, a Multitude of the Heavenly Hoſts, enough we may be ſure to make a Chorus that were heard by the Shepherds praiſing God; and to be ſure their Song was not like that, Rev. 14. 3. which no man could learn, for it was deſign'd we ſhould all learn it. (1.) Let God have the honour of this Work, Glory to God in the Higheſt. God's Good-will to Men, manifeſted in ſending the Meſſiah, redounds very much to his Praiſe; and Angels in the higheſt Heavens, tho' not immediately intereſted in it themſelves, yet will celebrate it to his Honour, Rev. 5. 11, 12. Glory to God, whoſe Kindneſs and Love deſign'd this Favour, and whoſe Wiſdom contriv'd it in ſuch a way, as that one divine Attribute ſhould not be glorify'd at the Expence of another, but the Honour of all effectually ſecur'd and advanc'd. Other Works of God are for his Glory, but the Redemption of the World is for his Glory in the Higheſt. (2.) Let Men have the Joy of it; on Earth Peace, Good-will towards Men. God's Good-will in ſending the Meſſiah, intoduc'd Peace in this lower World, ſlew the Enmity that Sin had rais'd between God and Man, and reſettled a peacable Correſpondence. If God be at Peace with us, all Peace reſults from thence; Peace of Conſcience, Peace with Angels, Peace between Jew and Gentile; Peace is here put for all Good, all that Good which flows to us from the Incarnation of Chriſt: All the Good we have, or hope, is owing to God's Good-will; and if we have the Comfort of it, he muſt have the Glory of it. Nor muſt any Peace, any Good, be expected in a Way inconſiſtent with the Glory of God; therefore not in any Way of Sin, nor in any Way but by a Mediator. Here was the Peace proclaim'd with great Solemnity, whoever will, let them come and take the Benefit of it; 'tis on Earth Peace, to Men of Good Will, ſo ſome Copies read it, ἐν ἀνθρώποις εὐδοκίας; to Men that have a Good-will to God, and are willing to be reconcil'd; or, to Men whom God has a Good-will to, tho' Veſſels of his Mercy. See how well affected the Angels are to Man, and to his Welfare and Happineſs; how well pleas'd they were in the Incarnation of the Son of God, tho' he paſs'd by their Nature, and ought not we much more to be affected with it. This is a faithful ſaying, atteſted by an innumerable Company of Angels, and well worthy of all Acceptation, That the Good-will of God towards Men, is Glory to God in the Higheſt, and Peace on the Earth.

5. The Viſit which the Shepherds made to the new-born Saviour. (1.) They conſulted about it, v. 15. while the Angels were ſinging their Hymn, they could attend to that only, but when they were gone away from them into Heaven; for Angels when they appear'd, never made any long ſtay, but return'd as ſoon as they had diſpatch'd their Buſineſs, the Shepherds ſaid one to another, let us go to Bethlehem. Note, When extraordinary Meſſages from the upper World, are no more to be expected, we muſt ſet ourſelves to improve the Advantages we have for the confirming of our Faith, and the keeping up of our Communion with God in this lower World. And it is no Reflection upon the Teſtimony of Angels, no, nor upon a Divine Teſtimony itſelf, to get it corroborated by Obſervation and Experience. But obſerve, theſe Shepherds do not ſpeak doubtfully, let us go ſee whether it be ſo or no; but with Aſſurance, Let us go ſee this Thing which is come to paſs; for, what Room was left to doubt of it, when the Lord had thus made it known to them; the Word ſpoken by Angels was ſtedfaſt and unqueſtionably true. (2.) They immediately made the Viſit, v. 16. They loſt no Time, but came with Haſte to the Place, which probably, the Angel directed them to more particularly than is recorded: Go to the Stable of ſuch an Inn, and there they found Mary and Joſeph, and the Babe lying in the Manger; and the Poverty and Meanneſs in which they found Chriſt the Lord, was no Shock to their Faith, who themſelves knew what it was to live a Life of comfortable Communion with God, in very poor and mean Circumſtances. We have Reaſon to think, that the Shepherds told Joſeph and Mary of the Viſion of the Angels they had ſeen, and the Song of the Angels they had heard, which was a great Encouragement to them, more than if a Viſit had been made them by the beſt Ladies in the Town. And 'tis probable, Joſeph and Mary told the Shepherds what Viſions they had had concerning the Child; and ſo by communicating their Experiences to each other, they greatly ſtrengthned one another's Faith.

6. The Care which the Shepherds took to ſpread the Report of this, v. 17. when they had ſeen it, tho' they ſaw nothing in the Child, that ſhould induce them to believe that he was Chriſt the Lord, yet the Circumſtances, how mean ſoever they were, agreeing with the Sign that the Angel had given them, they were abundantly ſatisfy'd: And as the Lepers argued, 2 Kings 7. 9. This being a Day of good Tidings, they dare not hold their Peace, but make known Abroad the whole Story of what was told them, both by the Angels, and by Joſeph and Mary, concerning this Child, That he was the Saviour, even Chriſt the Lord, That in him there is Peace on Earth, and that he was conceiv'd by the Power of the Holy Ghoſt, and born of a Virgin. This they told to every Body, and agreed in their Teſtimony concerning it: And now, if when he is in the World, the World knows him not, it is their own Faults, for they have ſufficient Notice given them. And what Impreſſion did it make upon People? Why truly, All they that heard it, wonder'd at thoſe Things which were told them by the Shepherds, v. 18. The Shepherds were plain, down-right honeſt Men, and they could not ſuſpect them guilty of any Deſign to impoſe upon them; what they ſaid, therefore, it's likely might be true; and if it were true, they could not but wonder at it, That the Meſſiah ſhould be born in a Stable, and not in a Palace; that Angels ſhould bring News of it to poor Shepherds, and not to the chief Prieſts. They wonder'd, but never enquired any farther about the Saviour, their Duty to him, or Advantages by him, but let the Thing drop as a nine Days Wonder: O the amazing Stupidity of the Men of that Generation! Juſtly were the Things which belong'd to their Peace hid from their Eyes, when they thus wilfully ſhut their Eyes againſt them.

7 The Uſe which thoſe made of thoſe Things who did believe them, and receive the Impreſſion of them.

1. The Virgin Mary made them the Matter of her private Meditation. She ſaid little, but kept all theſe Things, and ponder'd them in her Heart, v. 19. She laid the Evidences together, and kept them in Reſerve, to be compared with the Diſcoveries that ſhould after be made her. As ſhe had ſilently left it to God to clear up her Honeſty, when that was ſuſpected, ſo ſhe ſilently leaves it to him to publiſh her Honour, now when it was vail'd; and 'tis Satisfaction enough to find, that if nobody elſe takes Notice of the Birth of her Child, Angels do. Note, The Truths of Chriſt are worth keeping; and the Way to keep them ſafe, is to ponder them: Meditation is the beſt Help to Memory.

2. The Shepherds made them the Matter of their more publick Praiſes. If others were not affected with thoſe Things, yet they themſelves were, v. 20. They return'd glorifying and praiſing God, in Concurrence with the Holy Angels: If others would not regard the Report they made to them, God would accept the Thankſgivings they offer'd to him. They praiſ'd God for what they had heard from the Angel, and for what they had ſeen, the Babe in the Manger; and juſt then in the Swadling, when they came in, as it had been ſpoken to them. They thanked God they had ſeen Chriſt, tho' in the Depth of his Humiliation, as afterwards the Croſs of Chriſt, ſo now his Manger, tho' to ſome it was Fooliſhneſs, and a Stumbling-Block, yet others ſaw in it, and admir'd, and praiſ'd the Wiſdom of God, and the Power of God.

21 And when eight days were accompliſh'd for the circumciſing of the child, his name was called Jeſus, which was ſo named of the Angel before he was conceived in the womb. 22 And when the days of her purification, according to the law of Moſes, were accompliſhed, they brought him to Jeruſalem, to preſent him to the Lord, 23 (As it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb ſhall be called holy to the Lord) 24 And to offer a ſacrifice acording to that which is ſaid in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons.

Our Lord Jeſus being made of a Woman, was made under the Law, Gal. 4. 4. He was not only as the Son of a Daughter of Adam, made under the Law of Nature, but as the Son of a Daughter of Abraham, he was made under the Law of Moſes; he puts his Neck under that Yoke, tho' it was a heavy Yoke, and a Shadow of good Things to come: And tho' its Inſtitutions were beggerly Elements, and Rudiments of this World, as the Apoſtle calls them, Chriſt ſubmitted to it, that he might with the better Grace cancel it, and ſet it aſide for us.

Now here we have two Inſtances of his being made under that Law, and ſubmitting to it.

1. He was circumciſ'd on the very Day that the Law appointed, v. 21. When eight Days were accompliſh'd, that Day Sevennight that he was born, they circumciſ'd him. (1.) Tho' it was a painful Operation, ſurely a bloody Husband thou art, ſaith Zipporah to Moſes, becauſe of the Circumciſion, Exod. 4. 25. yet Chriſt would undergo it for us; nay, therefore he ſubmitted to it, to give an Inſtance of his early Obedience, his Obedience unto Blood. Then he ſhed his Blood by Drops, which afterwards he pour'd out in purple Streams. (2.) Tho' it ſuppoſed him a Stranger, that was, by that Ceremony, to be admitted into Covenant with God, whereas he had always been his beloved Son: Nay, tho' it ſuppos'd him a Sinner, that needed to have his Filthineſs taken away, whereas he had no Impurity, or Superfluity of Naughtineſs to be cut off, yet he ſubmitted to it; nay, therefore he ſubmitted to it, becauſe he would be made in the Likeneſs not only of Fleſh, but of ſinful Fleſh, Rom. 8. 3. (3.) Tho' thereby he made himſelf a Debtor to the whole Law, Gal. 5. 3. yet he ſubmitted to it; nay, therefore he ſubmitted to it, becauſe he would take upon him the Form of a Servant, tho' he was Free-born. Chriſt was circumciſ'd, (1.) That he might own himſelf of the Seed of Abraham, and of that Nation of whom as concerning the Fleſh Chriſt came, and who was to take on him the Seed of Abraham, Heb. 2. 16. (2.) That he might own himſelf a Surety for our Sins, and an Undertaker for our Safety. Circumciſion (ſaith Dr. Goodwin) was our Bond whereby we acknowledg'd ourſelves Debtors to the Law; and Chriſt, by being circumciſ'd, did, as it were, ſet his Hand to it, being made Sin for us. The Ceremonial Law conſiſted much in Sacrifices, Chriſt hereby oblig'd himſelf to offer not the Blood of Bulls or Goats, but his own Blood, which none that ever were circumciſ'd could oblige themſelves to, but he only. (3.) That he might juſtify and put an Honour upon the Dedication of the Infant Seed of the Church to God by that Ordinance which is the inſtituted Seal of the Covenant, and of the Righteouſneſs which is by Faith, as Circumciſion was, (Rom. 4. 11.) and Baptiſm is. And certainly his being circumciſ'd at eight Days old, doth make much more for the dedicating of the Seed of the Faithful by Baptiſm, in their Infancy, then his being baptiz'd at thirty Years old doth for the deferring of it till they are grown up. The Change of the Ceremony alters not the Subſtance.

At his Circumciſion, according to the Cuſtom, he had his Name given him; he was called Jeſus, or Joſhua, for he was ſo named of the Angel to his Mother Mary, before he was conceiv'd in the Womb, Luke 1. 31. and to his ſuppos'd Father Joſeph after, Mat. 1. 21. (1.) It was a common Name among the Jews, as John was, (Col. 4. 11.) and in this he would be made like unto his Brethren. (2.) It was the Name of two eminent Types of him in the Old Teſtament, Joſhua, the Succeſſor of Moſes, that was Commander of Iſrael, and Conqueror of Canaan, and Joſhua the High Prieſt, who was therefore purpoſely crown'd, that he might prefigure Chriſt as a Prieſt upon his Throne, Zach. 6. 11, 13. (3.) It was very ſignificant of his Undertaking: Jeſus ſignifies a Saviour. He would be denominated not from the Glories of his divine Nature, but from his gracious Deſigns as Mediator, he brings Salvation.

2. He was preſented in the Temple: This was done with an Eye to the Law, and at the Time appointed by the Law, when he was forty Days old, when the Days of her Purification was accompliſh'd, v. 22. many Copies, and authentick ones, read αὐτῶν for αὐτῆς, the Days of their Purification, the Purification both of the Mother and of the Child, for ſo it was intended to be by the Law; and our Lord Jeſus, tho' he had no Impurity to be cleans'd from, yet ſubmitted to it, as he did to Circumciſion, becauſe he was made Sin for us; and that, as by the Circumciſion of Chriſt, we might be circumciſ'd in the Virtue of our Union, and Communion with him, with a Spiritual Circumciſion made without Hands, Col. 2. 11. So in the Purification of Chriſt, we might be ſpiritually purified from that Filthineſs and Corruption which we brought into the World with us. Now, according to the Law,

1. The Child Jeſus being a Firſt-born Son, was preſented to the Lord in one of the Courts of the Temple: The Law is here recited, v. 23. every Male that opens the Womb ſhall be called Holy to the Lord, becauſe by a ſpecial Writ of Protection, the Firſt-born of Iſrael were preſerv'd, when the Firſt-born of the Egyptians were ſlain by the deſtroying Angel; ſo that the Chriſt, as Firſt-born, was a Prieſt by a Title ſurer than that of Aaron's Houſe. Chriſt was the Firſt-born among many Brethren, and was called Holy to the Lord, ſo as never any other was, yet he was preſented to the Lord, as other Firſt-born were, and no otherwiſe. Tho' he was newly come out of the Boſom of the Father, yet he was preſented to him by the Hands of a Prieſt, as if he had been a Stranger that needed one to introduce him. His being preſented to the Lord, now ſignify'd his preſenting himſelf to the Lord as Mediator, when he was cauſed to draw near, and approach unto him, Jer. 30. 21. But according to the Law he was redeemed, Num. 18. 15. The Firſt-born of Man ſhalt thou redeem, and five Shekels was the Value, Lev. 27. 6. Num. 18. 16. But probably in caſe of Poverty, the Prieſt was allow'd to take leſs, or perhaps nothing, for no Mention is made of it here. Chriſt was preſented to the Lord, not to be brought back, for his Ear was bored to God's Door-Poſt, to ſerve him for ever; and tho' he is not left in the Temple as Samuel was, to miniſter there, yet, like him, he is given to the Lord as long as he lives, and miniſters to him in the true Temple not made with Hands.

2. The Mother brought her Offering, v. 24. when ſhe had preſented that Son of hers unto the Lord, who was to be the great Sacrifice, ſhe might have been excus'd from offering any other; but ſo it is ſaid in the Law of the Lord, that Law which was yet in force, and therefore ſo it muſt be done; ſhe muſt offer a Pair of Turtle-Doves, or two young Pigeons; had ſhe been of Ability, ſhe muſt have brought a Lamb for a Burnt Offering, and a Dove for a Sin Offering; but, being poor, and not able to reach the Price of a Lamb, ſhe brings two Doves, one for a Burnt Offering, and the other for a Sin Offering, See Lev. 12. 7, 8. To teach us in every Addreſs to God, and particularly in thoſe upon ſpecial Occaſions, both to give Thanks to God for his Mercies to us, and to acknowledge with Sorrow and Shame our Sins againſt him, and in both we muſt give Glory to him; nor do we ever want Matter for both. Chriſt was not conceived and born in Sin, as others are, ſo that there was not that Occaſion in his Caſe that is in others; yet, becauſe he was made under the Law, he comply'd with it, Thus it became him to fulfill all Righteouſneſs. Much more doth it become the beſt of Men to join in Confeſſions of Sin, for, who can ſay I have made my Heart clean?

25 And behold there was a Man in Jeruſalem, whoſe name was Simeon; and the ſame man was juſt and devout, waiting for the conſolation of Iſrael; and the holy Ghoſt was upon him. 26 And it was revealed unto him by the holy Ghoſt, that he ſhould not ſee death before he had ſeen the Lords Chriſt. 27 And he came by the ſpirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jeſus, to do for him after the cuſtom of the law. 28 Then took he him up in his arms, and bleſſed God, and ſaid, 29 Lord, now letteſt thou thy ſervant depart in peace, according to thy word. 30 For mine eyes have ſeen thy ſalvation: 31 Which thou haſt prepared before the face of all people: 32 A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Iſrael. 33 And Joſeph and his mother marvelled at thoſe things which were ſpoken of him.

him. 34 And Simeon bleſſed them, and ſaid unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is ſet for the fall and riſing again of many in Iſrael; and for a ſign which ſhall be ſpoken againſt: 35 (Yea, a ſword ſhall pierce through thy own ſoul alſo) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed. 36 And there was one Anna a propheteſs, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aſer; ſhe was of great age, and had lived with an huſband ſeven years from her virginity: And ſhe was a widow of about fourſcore and four years: which departed not from the temple, but ſerved God with faſtings and prayers night and day. 38 And ſhe coming in that inſtant, gave thanks likewiſe unto the Lord, and ſpake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jeruſalem. 39 And when they had perform'd all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth. 40 And the child grew, and waxed ſtrong in ſpirit, filled with wiſdom; and the grace of God was upon him.

Still Chriſt has Honour done him, then when he humbles himſelf, to ballance the Offence of it: That we might not be ſtumbled at the Meanneſs of his Birth, Angels than did him Honour; and now, that we may not be offended at his being preſented in the Temple, like other Children born in Sin, and without any manner of Solemnity peculiar to him; but ſilently, and in the Crowd of other Children, Simeon and Anna now do him Honour, by the Inſpiration of the Holy Ghoſt.

Firſt, A very honourable Teſtimony is born to him by Simeon, which was both a Reputation to the Child, and an Encouragement to the Parents, and might have been a happy introducing of the Prieſts into an Acquaintance with the Saviour, if thoſe Watch-men had not been blind. Now obſerve here,

1. The Account that is given us concerning this Simeon, or Simon. He dwelt now in Jeruſalem, and was eminent for his Piety and Communion with God: Some learned Men, that have been converſant with the Jewiſh Writers, find that there was at this Time one Simeon, a Man of great Note in Jeruſalem, the Son of Hillel, and the firſt to whom they gave the Title of Rabban, the higheſt Title that they gave to their Doctors, and which was never given but to Seven of them: He ſucceeded his Father Hillel as Preſident of the College which his Father founded, and of the great Senhedrin. The Jews ſay, he was endued with a Prophetical Spirit, and that he was turn'd out of his Place, becauſe he witneſſed againſt the common Opinion of the Jews concerning the temporal Kingdom of the Meſſiah; and they likewiſe obſerve, that there is no mention of him in their Miſhna, or Book of Traditions, which intimates that he was no Patron of thoſe Fooleries. One Thing objected againſt this Conjecture is, that at this Time his Father Hillel was living, and that he himſelf liv'd many Years after this, as appears by the Jewiſh Hiſtories; but as to that, he is not here ſaid to be Old; and his ſaying now let thy Servant depart, intimates, that he was willing to dye now, but doth not conclude, that therefore he did dye quickly. St. Paul liv'd many Years after he had ſpoken of his Death as near, Acts 20. 25. Another thing objected is, That the Son of Simeon was Gamaliel, a Phariſee, and an Enemy to Chriſtianity; but as to that, 'tis no new Thing for a faithful Lover of Chriſt, to have a Son a bigotted Phariſee.

The Account given of him here is, (1.) That he was Juſt and Devout, Juſt towards Men, and Devout towards God; theſe two muſt always go together, and each will befriend the other, but neither will attone for the Defect of the other. (2.) That he waited for the Conſolation of Iſrael, i. e. for the Coming of the Meſſiah, in whom alone the Nation of Iſrael that was now miſerably harraſs'd, and oppreſs'd, would find Conſolation. Chriſt is not only the Author of his Peoples Comfort, but the Matter and Ground of it, the Conſolation of Iſrael. He was long a coming, and they who believed he would come continued waiting, deſiring his coming, and hoping for it with Patience; I had almoſt ſaid with ſome Degree of Impatience, waiting till it came. He underſtood by Books, as Daniel, that the Time was at hand, and therefore was now, more than ever, big with Expectation of it. The unbelieving Jews, who ſtill expect that which is already come, uſe it as an Oath, or ſolemn Proteſtation, As ever I hope to ſee the Conſolation of Iſrael, ſo, and ſo it is. Note, The Conſolation of Iſrael is to be waited for, and 'tis worth waiting for, and it will be very welcome to thoſe who have waited for it, and continue waiting. (3.) The Holy Ghoſt was upon him, not only as a Spirit of Holineſs, but as a Spirit of Propheſy; he was filled with the Holy Ghoſt, and enabled to ſpeak Things above himſelf. (4.) He had a gracious Promiſe made him, that before he died he ſhould have a Sight of the Meſſiah, v. 26. He was ſearching what Manner of Time the Spirit of Chriſt, in the Old Teſtament Prophets, did ſignify, and whether it were not now at Hand; and he receiv'd this Oracle (for ſo the Word ſignifies) that he ſhould not ſee Death before he had ſeen the Meſſiah, the Lord's Anointed. Note, Thoſe, and thoſe only, can with Courage ſee Death, and look it in the Face without Terror, that have had by Faith a Sight of Chriſt.

2. The ſeaſonable coming of Simeon into the Temple, at the Time when Chriſt was preſented there, v. 27. Juſt then, when Joſeph and Mary brought in the Child to be regiſter'd, as it were, in the Church-Book, among the Firſt-born; Simeon came by Direction of the Spirit into the Temple. The ſame Spirit that had provided for the Support of his Hope, now provided for the Tranſport of his Joy. 'Twas whiſper'd in his Ear, Go to the Temple now, and you ſhall ſee what you have long'd to ſee. Note, Thoſe that would ſee Chriſt muſt go to his Temple, for there the Lord whom ye ſeek ſhall ſuddenly come to meet you, and there you muſt be ready to meet him.

3. The abundant Satisfaction wherewith he welcom'd this Sight; he took him up in his Arms, v. 28. he embrac'd him with the greateſt Affection imaginable, laid him in his Boſom, as near his Heart as he could, which is as full of Joy as it can hold. He took him up in his Arms to preſent him to the Lord, ſo ſome think, either to do the Parent's Part, or the Prieſt's Part; for divers of the Ancients ſay, he was himſelf a Prieſt. When we receive the Record which the Goſpel gives us of Chriſt, with a lively Faith, and the Offer it makes us of Chriſt, with Love and Reſignation, then we take Chriſt in our Arms. 'Twas promis'd him he ſhould have a Sight of Chriſt, but more is perform'd than was promis'd; he has him in his Arms.

4. The ſolemn Declaration he made hereupon: He bleſſed God, and ſaid, Lord now letteſt thou thy Servant depart in Peace, v. 29, 30, 31, 32.

1. He has a pleaſant Proſpect concerning himſelf, and (which is a great Attainment) is got quite above the Love of Life, and Fear of Death; nay, he is arriv'd to a holy Contempt of Life, and Deſire of Death; Lord now letteſt thou thy Servant depart, for mine Eyes have ſeen the Salvation I was promis'd a Sight of before I dy'd. Here's (1.) An Acknowledgment that God had been as good as his Word; there has not fail'd one Tittle of his good Promiſes as Solomon owns, 1 Kings 8. 56. Note, Never any that hop'd in God's Word were made aſham'd of their Hope. (2.) A Thankſgiving for it: He bleſſed God, that he ſaw that Salvation in his Arms which many Prophets and Kings deſired to ſee, and might not. (3.) A Confeſſion of this Faith, that this Child in his Arms, was the Saviour, the Salvation itſelf; thy Salvation, the Salvation of thine appointing; the Salvation which thou haſt prepared with a great deal of Contrivance. And while it has been thus long in the coming, it hath ſtill been in the preparing. (4.) It is a Farewell to this World, Now let thy Servant depart: Now mine Eyes have been bleſs'd with this Sight, let them be clos'd, and ſee no more in this World. The Eye is not ſatisfy'd with ſeeing, Eccl. 1. 8. till it hath ſeen Chriſt, and then it is. What a poor Thing doth this World look, to one that hath Chriſt in his Arms, and Salvation in his Eye. Now adieu to all my Friends and Relations, all my Enjoyments and Employments here, even the Temple itſelf. (5.) It is a Welcome to Death, Now let thy Servant depart. Note, Death is a Departure, the Soul's Departure out of the Body, from the World of Senſe to the World of Spirits. We muſt not depart till God gives us our Diſcharge, for we are his Servants, and muſt not quit his Service till we have accompliſh'd our Time. Moſes was promis'd that he ſhould ſee Canaan, and then dye, but he pray'd that that Word might be alter'd, Deut. 3. 24, 25. Simeon is promis'd that he ſhould not ſee Death, till he had ſeen Chriſt, and he is willing to conſtrue that beyond what was expreſs'd, as an Intimation, that when he had ſeen Chriſt, he ſhould dye; Lord be it ſo, ſaith he, Now let me depart. See here (1.) How Comfortable the Death of a good Man is; he departs as God's Servant from the Place of his Toil, to that of his Reſt. He departs in Peace. Peace with God, Peace with his own Conſcience; in Peace with Death, well reconcil'd to it, well acquainted with it; he departs according to God's Word, as Moſes at the Mouth of the Lord, Deut. 34. 5. The Word of Precept, Go up and dye. The Word of Promiſe, I will come again and receive you to myſelf. (2.) What is the Ground of this Comfort? For mine Eyes have ſeen thy Salvation. This ſpeaks more than a great Complacency in the Sight, like that of Jacob, Gen. 46. 30. Now let me dye, ſince I have ſeen thy Face; it ſpeaks a believing Expectation of a happy State on t'other Side Death, through this Salvation he now had a Sight of, which not only takes off the Terror of Death, but makes it Gain, Phil. 1. 21. Note, Thoſe that have welcom'd Chriſt, may welcome Death.

2. He has a pleaſant Proſpect concerning the World, and concerning the Church. This Salvation ſhall be,

1. A Bleſſing to the World. 'Tis prepair'd before the Face of all People, not to be hid in a Corner, but to be made known; to be a Light to lighten the Gentiles that now ſit in Darkneſs: They ſhall have the Knowledge of him, and of God, and another World through him: This has Reference to Iſa. 49. 6. I will give thee for a Light to the Gentiles, for Chriſt came to be the Light of the World, not a Candle in the Jewiſh Candleſtick, but the Son of Righteouſneſs.

2. A Bleſſing to the Church: The Glory of thy People Iſrael. It was an Honour to the Jewiſh Nation, that the Meſſiah ſprung out of one of their Tribes, and was born, and liv'd, and dy'd among them. And of thoſe who were Iſraelites indeed, of the ſpiritual Iſrael, he was indeed the Glory, and will be ſo to Eternity, Iſa. 60. 19. They ſhall glory in him, In the Lord ſhall all the Seed of Iſrael be juſtify'd, and ſhall glory, Iſa. 45. 25. When Chriſt order'd his Apoſtles to preach the Goſpel to all Nations, therein he made himſelf a Light to lighten the Gentiles; and when he added beginning at Jeruſalem, he made himſelf the Glory of his People Iſrael.

5. The Prediction concerning this Child, which he deliver'd with his Bleſſing to Joſeph and Mary. They marvell'd at theſe Things, which were ſtill more and more fully, and plainly ſpoken concerning this Child, v. 33. And becauſe they were affected with, and had their Faith ſtrengthned by that which was ſaid to them, here is more ſaid to them.

1. Simeon ſhews them what Reaſon they had to rejoyce; for he bleſſed them, v. 34. he pronounc'd them bleſſed who had the Honour to be related to this Child, and were intruſted with the bringing him up: He pray'd for them that God would bleſs them, and would have others do ſo too. They had Reaſon to rejoyce, for this Child ſhould be not only a Comfort, and Honour to them, but a publick Bleſſing: He is ſet for the Riſing again of many in Iſrael, i. e. for the Converſion of many to God that are dead and bury'd in Sin, and for the Conſolation of many in God, that are ſunk and loſt in Sorrow and Deſpair. And thoſe whom he is ſet for the Fall of, may be the ſame with thoſe whom he is ſet for the Riſing again of: He is ſet εἰς πτῶσιν ϗ ἀνάϛασιν, for their Fall in order to their Riſing again; to humble and abaſe them, and bring them off from all Confidence in themſelves, that they may be exalted by relying on Chriſt. Wounds, and then Heals. Paul falls and riſes again.

2. He ſhews them likewiſe what Reaſon they had to rejoyce with Trembling, according to the Advice given of old, with Reference to the Meſſiah's Kingdom, Pſal. 2. 11. Leſt Joſeph, and Mary eſpecially, ſhould be lifted up with the Abundance of the Revelations; here is a Thorn in the Fleſh for them, an Allay to their Joy, and 'tis what we ſometimes need.

1. It is true, Chriſt ſhall be a Bleſſing to Iſrael, but there are thoſe in Iſrael whom he is ſet for the Fall of, whoſe Corruptions will be provok'd, who will be prejudic'd and enrag'd againſt him, and offended, and whoſe Sin and Rnin will be aggravated by the Revelation of Jeſus Chriſt; many that will extract Poiſon to themſelves out of the Balm of Gilead, and ſplit their Souls on the Rock of Salvation, to whom this precious Foundation-Stone will be a Stone of Stumbling. This refers to that Propheſy, Iſa. 8. 14, 15. He ſhall be for a Sanctuary to ſome, and yet for a Snare to others, 1 Pet. 2. 7, 8. Note, As it is pleaſant to think how many there are to whom Chriſt and his Goſpel are a Savor of Life unto Life, ſo it is ſad to think how many there are to whom 'tis a Savor of Death unto Death. He is ſet for a Sign, to be admir'd by ſome, but by others, by many, ſpoken againſt. He had many Eyes upon him during the Time of his publick Miniſtry, he was a Sign, but he had many Tongues againſt him, the Contradiction and Reproach of Sinners; he was continually cavill'd at and abus'd; and the Effects of this will be, that the Thoughts of many Hearts will be reveal'd, v. 35. i. e. upon this Occaſion Men will ſhew themſelves, will diſcover, and ſo diſtinguiſh themſelves. The ſecret good Affections, and Diſpoſitions in the Minds of ſome, will be reveal'd by their embracing Chriſt, and cloſing with him; the ſecret Corruptions, and vicious Diſpoſitions of others, that otherwiſe would never have appear'd ſo bad, will be reveal'd by their Enmity to Chriſt, and their Rage againſt him. Men will be judg'd of by the Thoughts of their Hearts, their Thoughts concerning Chriſt; are they for him, or are they for his Adverſaries? The Word of God is a Diſcerner of the Thoughts and Intents of the Heart, and by it we are diſcover'd to ourſelves, and ſhall be judg'd hereafter.

2. It is true, Chriſt ſhall be a Comfort to his Mother, but be not thou too proud of it, for a Sword ſhall paſs through thine own Soul alſo. He ſhall be a Suffering Jeſus; and (1.) Thou ſhalt ſuffer with him, by Sympathy, more than other of his Friends, becauſe of the Nearneſs of thy Relation, and Strength of Affection to him. When he was abus'd, 'was a Sword in her Bones. When ſhe ſtood by his Croſs, and ſaw him dying, we may well think her inward Grief was ſuch, that it might truly be ſaid, a Sword pierced through her Soul, it cut her to the Heart. (2.) Thou ſhalt ſuffer for him; many underſtand it as a Prediction of her Martyrdom; and ſome of the Ancients ſay, it had its Accompliſhment in that. Note, In the midſt of our greateſt Delights, and Advancements in this World, 'tis good for us to know that Bonds and Afflictions abide us.

Secondly, He is taken Notice of by one Anna, or Ann a Propheteſs, that one of each Sex might bear Witneſs to him, in whom both Men and Women are invited to believe, that they may be ſaved. Obſerve

1. The Account here given of this Anna, who ſhe was; ſhe was (1.) A Propheteſs, the Spirit of Propheſy now began to revive, which had ceaſed in Iſrael above three Hundred Years. Perhaps no more is meant, but that ſhe was one who had Underſtanding in the Scriptures above other Women, and made it her Buſineſs to inſtruct the younger Women in the Things of God. Tho' 'twas a very degenerate Age of the Church, yet God left not himſelf without Witneſs. (2.) She was the Daughter of Phanuel; her Father's Name (ſaith Grotius) is mention'd, to put us in mind of Jacob's Phanuel, or Penuel, Gen. 32. 30. that now the Myſtery of that ſhould be unfolded, when in Chriſt we ſhould, as it were, ſee God Face to Face, and our Lives be preſerv'd; and her Name ſignifies Gracious. (3.) She was of the Tribe of Aſher, which was in Galilee, this, ſome think, is taken Notice of, to refute thoſe who ſaid out of Galilee ariſeth no Prophet, when no ſooner did Propheſy revive, but it appear'd from Galilee. (2.) She was of a great Age, a Widow of about eighty-four Years; ſome think ſhe had now been eighty-four Years a Widow, and then ſhe muſt be conſiderably above a Hundred Years old; others, rather than ſuppoſe that a Woman ſo very old ſhould be capable of Faſting and Praying, as ſhe did, ſuppoſe that ſhe was only eighty-four Years of Age, and had been long a Widow: Tho' ſhe was a young Widow, and had liv'd with her Husband but ſeven Years, yet ſhe never marry'd again, but continu'd a Widow to her dying Day, which is mention'd to her Praiſe. (5.) She was a conſtant Reſident in, or at leaſt Attendant on the Temple. Some think ſhe had Lodgings in the Courts of the Temple, either in an Alms-Houſe, being maintain'd by the Temple Charities, or, as a Propheteſs ſhe was lodg'd there, as in a proper Place to be conſulted, and adviſ'd with, by thoſe that deſired to know the Mind of God. Others think, her not departing from the Temple means no more, but that ſhe was conſtantly there at the Time of Divine Service: When any good Work was to be done, ſhe was ready to join with it. 'Tis moſt probable ſhe had an Apartment of her own among the Out-Buildings of the Temple; and beſides her conſtant Attendance on the publick Worſhip, abounded in private Devotions, for ſhe ſerved God with Faſtings and Prayers Night and Day: Having no ſecular Buſineſs to employ her ſelf in, or being paſt it, ſhe gave up her ſelf wholly to her Devotions, and not only faſted twice in the Week, but always liv'd a mortified Life, and ſpent that Time in Religious Exerciſes, which others ſpent in Eating, and Drinking, and Sleeping; ſhe not only obſerv'd the Hours of Prayer, but pray'd Night and Day; was always in a praying Frame, liv'd a Life of Prayer, gave herſelf to Prayer, frequent in Ejaculations, large in ſolemn Prayers, and very particular in her Interceſſions. And in thoſe ſhe ſerv'd God; that was it that put a Value upon them, and an Excellency into them: The Phariſees faſted oft, and made long Prayers, but they ſerv'd themſelves, and their own Pride and Covetouſneſs in their Faſtings and Prayers; but this good Woman not only did that which was good, but did it from a good Principle, and with a good End; ſhe ſerved God, and aim'd at his Honour, in Faſting and Prayers. Note, 1. Devotion is a Thing we ought to be conſtant in, other Duties are in Seaſon now and then, but we muſt Pray always. 2. It is a pleaſant Sight to ſee aged Chriſtians abounding in Acts of Devotion, as thoſe that are not weary of well-doing, that do not think themſelves above theſe Exerciſes, or paſt them, but that take more and more Pleaſure in them, and ſee more and more need of them, till they come to Heaven. 3. Thoſe who are diligent and faithful in improving the Light and Means they have, ſhall have further Diſcoveries made them. Anna is now at length abundantly recompenc'd for her Attendance ſo many Years in the Temple.

2. The Teſtimony ſhe bore to our Lord Jeſus, v. 38. She came in at that Inſtant, when the Child was preſented, and Simeon diſcours'd concerning him; ſhe who was ſo conſtant to the Temple, could not miſs the Opportunity.

Now (1.) She gave Thanks likewiſe to the Lord, juſt as Simeon, perhaps like him, wiſhing now to depart in Peace. Note, Thoſe to whom Chriſt is made known, have Reaſon enough to give Thanks to the Lord for ſo great a Favour; and we ſhould be excited to that Duty by the Praiſes and Thankſgivings of others; why ſhould not we give Thanks likewiſe, as well as they? Anna concurr'd with Simeon, and help'd to make up the Harmony. She confeſſed unto the Lord, ſo it may be read; ſhe made an open Profeſſion of her Faith concerning this Child.

(2.) She, as a Propheteſs, inſtructed others concerning him: She ſpake of him to all them that believ'd the Meſſiah would come, and with him look'd for Redemption in Jeruſalem. Redemption was the Thing wanted, waited for, and wiſh'd for; Redemption in Jeruſalem, for from thence the Word of the Lord was to go forth, Iſa. 2. 3. Some there were in Jeruſalem that looked for Redemption, yet but a few; for Anna, it ſhould ſeem, had Acquaintance with them all, that were joint Expectants with her of the Meſſiah; ſhe knew where to find them, or they where to find her, and ſhe told them all the good News, that ſhe had ſeen the Lord; and it was great News; this of his Birth now, as afterwards that of his Reſurrection. Note, Thoſe that have got an Acquaintance with Chriſt themſelves, ſhould do all they can to bring others acquainted with him.

Laſtly, Here's a ſhort Account of the Infancy and Childhood of our Lord Jeſus.

1. Where he ſpent it, v. 39. When the Ceremony of preſenting the Child, and purifying the Mother was all over, they returned into Galilee. Luke relates no more concerning them till they were returned into Galilee; but it appears by St. Matthew's Goſpel, Chap. 2. that from Jeruſalem they return'd to Bethlehem, where the Wiſe Men of the Eaſt found them, and there they continued till they were directed to flee into Egypt, to eſcape the Malice and Rage of Herod; and returning from thence when Herod was dead, they were directed to go to their old Quarters, in Nazareth, from whence they had been, perhaps, ſome Years abſent. 'Tis here call'd their own City, becauſe there they had lived a great while, and their Relations were there. He was order'd further from Jeruſalem, becauſe his Kingdom, and Prieſthood, were to have no Affinity with the preſent Government of the Jewiſh Church, or State. He is ſent into a Place of Obſcurity and Reproach, for in this, as in other Things, he muſt humble himſelf, and make himſelf of no Reputation.

2. How he ſpent it, v. 40. In all Things it behoved him to be made like unto his Brethren, and therefore he paſt through Infancy, and Childhood as other Children did, yet without Sin; nay, yet with manifeſt Indications of a divine Nature in him. As other Children, he grew in Stature of Body, and the Improvement of Underſtanding, in his humane Soul, that his natural Body might be a Figure of his myſtical Body, which tho' animated by a perfect Spirit, yet maketh Increaſe of it ſelf, till it comes to the perfect Man, Eph. 4. 13. 16. But (1.) Whereas other Children are weak in Underſtanding and Reſolution, he was ſtrong in Spirit. By the Spirit of God, his human Soul was endued with extraordinary Vigour, and all his Faculties perform'd their Offices in an extraordinary Manner, He reaſon'd ſtrongly, and his Judgment was penetrating. (2.) Whereas other Children have Fooliſhneſs bound in their Hearts, which appears in what they ſay or do, he was filled with Wiſdom, not by any Advantages of Inſtruction and Education, but by the Operation of the Holy Ghoſt; every thing he ſaid, and did, was wiſely ſaid, and wiſely done, above his Years. (3.) Whereas other Children ſhew that the Corruption of Nature is in them, and the Tares of Sin grow up with the Wheat of Reaſon, he made it appear, that nothing but the Grace of God was upon him, the Wheat ſprung up without Tares; and that whereas other Children are by Nature Children of Wrath, he was greatly beloved, and high in the Favour of God; that God lov'd him, and cheriſh'd him, and took a particular Care of him.

41 Now his parents went to Jeruſalem every year at the feaſt of the paſſover. 42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jeruſalem, after the cuſtom of the feaſt. 43 And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jeſus tarried behind in Jeruſalem; and Joſeph and his Mother knew not of it. 44 But they ſuppoſing him to have been in the company, went a days journey; and they ſought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance. 45 And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jeruſalem, ſeeking him. 46 And it came to paſs, that after three days, they found him in the temple, ſitting in the midſt of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them queſtions. 47 And all that heard him were aſtoniſhed at his underſtanding and anſwers. 48 And when they ſaw him, they were amazed: and his mother ſaid unto him, Son, why haſt thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have ſought thee ſorrowing. 49 And he ſaid unto them, How is it that ye ſought me? wiſt ye not that I muſt be about my fathers buſineſs? 50 And they underſtood not the ſaying which he ſpake unto them. 51 And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was ſubject unto them: but his mother kept all theſe ſayings in her heart. 52 And Jeſus increaſed in wiſdom and ſtature, and in favour with God and Man.

We have here the only Paſſage of Story recorded concerning our Bleſſed Saviour from his Infancy, to the Day of his ſhewing to Iſrael at Twenty nine Years old, and therefore we are concern'd to make much of this, for it's in vain to wiſh we had more. Here's Firſt, Chriſt's going up with his Parents to Jeruſalem, at the Feaſt of the Paſſover, v. 41, 42.

1. It was their conſtant Practice to attend there, according to the Law, tho' it was a long Journey, and they were poor and perhaps not well able, without ſtraitning themſelves, to bear the Expences of it. Note, Publick Ordinances muſt be frequented, and we muſt not forſake the aſſembling our ſelves together as the Manner of ſome is: Worldly Buſineſs muſt give way to Spiritual Concerns. Joſeph and Mary had a Son in the Houſe with them, that was able to teach them better than all the Rabbins at Jeruſalem, yet they went up thither after the Cuſtom of the Feaſt: The Lord loves the Gates of Zion more than all the Dwellings of Jacob, and ſo ſhould we. We have Reaſon to ſuppoſe that Joſeph went up likewiſe, at the Feaſts of Pentecoſt and Tabernacles, for all the Males were to appear there thrice a Year, but Mary only at the Paſſover, which was the greateſt of the three Feaſts, and had moſt Goſpel in it.

2. The Child Jeſus at twelve Years old went up with them: The Jewiſh Doctors ſay, that at twelve Years old, Children muſt begin to Faſt from Time to Time, that they may learn to Faſt on the Day of Atonement: And at thirteen Years old, a Child begins to be a Son of the Commandment, i. e. oblig'd to the Duties of adult Church Memberſhip, having been from his Infancy, by Vertue of his Circumciſion, a Son of the Covenant. It is not ſaid that this was the firſt time that Jeſus went up to Jeruſalem to Worſhip at the Feaſt, probably he had done it for ſome Years before, having Spirit and Wiſdom above his Years; and all ſhould attend on publick Worſhip that can bear with Underſtanding, Neh. 8. 2. Thoſe Children that are forward in other things, ſhould be put forward in Religion, 'Tis for the Honour of Chriſt, that Children ſhould attend on publick Worſhip, and he is pleaſed with their Hoſanna's. And thoſe Children that were in their Infancy dedicated to God, ſhould be call'd upon when they are grown up, to come to the Goſpel Paſſover, to the Lord's Supper, that they may make it their own Act and Deed to joyn themſelves to the Lord.

Secondly, Chriſt's tarrying behind his Parents at Jeruſalem, unknown to them, in which he deſign'd to give an early Specimen of what he was reſerv'd for.

1. His Parents did not return till they had fulfilled the Days; had ſtaid there all the ſeven Days at the Feaſt, tho' it was not abſolutely neceſſary they ſhould ſtay longer than the two firſt Days, after which many went home. Note, It is good to ſtay to the Concluſion of an Ordinance, as becomes thoſe who ſay, it is good to be here, and not to haſten away, as if we were like Doeg, detained before the Lord.

2. The Child tarried behind in Jeruſalem, not becauſe he was loth to go Home, or ſhy of his Parents Company, but becauſe he had Buſineſs to do there, and would let his Parents know that he had a Father in Heaven, whom he was to be obſervant of, more than of them; and Reſpect to him, muſt not be conſtru'd Diſrepect to them: Some conjecture that he tarry'd behind in the Temple, for it was the Cuſtom of the pious Jews, that Morning that they were to go home, to go firſt to the Temple to worſhip God, and there he ſtaid behind, and found Entertainment there till they found him again; or perhaps he ſtaid at the Houſe where they lodg'd, or ſome other Friend's Houſe, (and ſuch a Child as he was, could not but be the Darling of all that knew him, and every one would court his Company) and went up to the Temple only at Church-Time; but ſo it was that he ſtaid behind. 'Tis good to ſee young People willing to dwell in the Houſe of the Lord; they are then like Chriſt.

3. His Parents went the firſt Day's Journey without any Suſpicion that he was left behind, for they ſuppos'd him to have been in the Company, v. 44. On theſe Occaſions the Crowd was very great, eſpecially the firſt Day's Journey, and the Roads full of People, and they concluded he came along with ſome of their Neighbours, and they ſought him among their Kindred and Acquaintance, that were upon the Road going down; Pray did you ſee our Son? Or, did you ſee him? Like the Spouſes Enquiry, Saw you him whom my Soul loveth. This was a Jewel worth ſeeking after; they knew every one would be deſirous of his Company, and he would be willing to do Good among his Kinsfolks and Acquaintance, but among them they found him not, v. 45. There are many, too many, who are our Kinsfolks and Acquaintance, that we cannot avoid converſing with, among whom we find little or nothing of Chriſt. When they could not hear of him in this, and t'other Company upon the Road, yet they hoped they ſhould meet with him at the Place where they lodg'd at Night, but there they could learn no Tidings of him. Compare this with Job 23. 8, 9.

4. When they found him not at their Quarters at Night, they turn'd back again, next Morning, to Jeruſalem ſeeking him. Note, Thoſe that would find Chriſt, muſt ſeek till they find, for he will at length be found of thoſe that ſeek him, and will be found their bountiful Rewarder. They that have loſt their Comforts in Chriſt, and the Evidences of their Intereſt in him, muſt bethink themſelves where, and when, and how they loſt them, and muſt turn back again to the Place where they laſt had them; muſt remember whence they are fallen, and repent, and do their firſt Works, and return to their firſt Love, Rev. 2. 4, 5. Thoſe that would recover their loſt Acquaintance with Chriſt, muſt go to Jeruſalem, the City of our Solemnities, the Place which he has choſen to put his Name there; muſt attend upon him in his Ordinances, in the Goſpel Paſſover, there they may hope to meet him.

5. The third Day they found him in the Temple, in ſome of the Apartments belonging to the Temple, where the Doctors of the Law kept not their Courts, but their Conferences rather, ther, or their Schools for Diſputation, and there they found him ſitting in the midſt of them, v. 46. not ſtanding as a Catecumen to be examin'd, or inſtructed by them; for he had diſcover'd ſuch Meaſures of Knowledge and Wiſdom, that they admitted him to ſit among them as a Fellow, or Member of their Society. This is an Inſtance, not only that he was filled with Wiſdom, v. 40. but that he had both a Deſire to increaſe it, and a Readineſs to communicate it; and herein he is an Example to Children, and young People, who ſhould learn of Chriſt, to delight in the Company of thoſe they may get Good by, and chuſe to ſit in the midſt of the Doctors, rather than in the midſt of the Players. Let them begin at twelve Years Old, and ſooner, to enquire after Knowledge, and to aſſociate with thoſe that are able to inſtruct them; 'tis a hopeful and promiſing Preſage in Youth, to be deſirous of Inſtruction. Many a Youth at Chriſt's Age now, would been playing with the Children in the Temple, but he was ſitting with the Doctors in the Temple. (1.) He heard them: Thoſe that would learn muſt be ſwift to hear. (2.) He ask'd them Queſtions, whether as a Teacher, he had Authority ſo to ask, or, as a Learner, he had Humility ſo to ask, I know not; or, whether as an Aſſociate, or Joint-Searcher after Truth, which muſt be found out by mutual amicable Diſquiſitions. (3.) He return'd Anſwers to them, which were very ſurprizing and ſatisfactory, v. 47. And his Wiſdom and Underſtanding appear'd as much in the Queſtions he ask'd, as in the Anſwers he gave: ſo that all that heard him were aſtoniſhed. They never heard one ſo young, nor indeed any of their greateſt Doctors, talk Senſe at that Rate that he did; like David, he had more Underſtanding than all his Teachers, yea, than the Ancients, Pſal. 119. 99, 100. Now Chriſt ſhew'd forth ſome Rays of his Glory, which were preſently drawn in again: He gave them a Taſte (ſaith Calvin) of his Divine Wiſdom and Knowledge. Methinks this publick Appearance of Chriſt in the Temple as a Teacher, was like Moſes's early Attempt to deliver Iſrael, which Stephen put this Conſtruction upon, that he ſuppos'd his Brethren would have underſtood by that, how God by his Hand would deliver them, Acts 7. 24, 25. They might have taken the Hint, and been deliver'd then, but they underſtood not; ſo they here might have had Chriſt (for ought I know) to enter upon his Work now, but they were only aſtoniſhed, and underſtood not the Indication, and therefore like Moſes, he retires into Obſcurity again, and they hear no more of him of many Years after.

6. His Mother talk'd with him privately about it; when the Company broke up, ſhe took him aſide, and examin'd him about it with a deal of Tenderneſs and Affection, v. 48. Joſeph and Mary were both amaz'd to find him there, and to find that he had ſo much Reſpect ſhew'd him as to be admitted to ſit among the Doctors, and to be taken Notice of. His Father knew he had only the Name of a Father, and therefore ſaid nothing. But (1.) His Mother told him how ill they took it; Son, why haſt thou dealt thus with us? Why didſt thou put us into ſuch a Fright? They were ready to ſay as Jacob of Joſeph, a wild Beaſt has devour'd him; or, he is fallen into the Hands of ſome more cruel Enemy, who at length found out that he was that young Child, whoſe Life Herod had ſought ſome Years ago; a thouſand Imaginations, we may ſuppoſe they had concerning him, each more frightful than other. Now, why haſt thou given us Occaſion for theſe Fears, thy Father and I have ſought thee ſorrowing; not only troubled that we loſt thee, but vex'd at ourſelves that we did not take more Care of thee, to bring thee along with us. Note, Thoſe may have Leave to complain of their Loſſes, that think they have loſt Chriſt; but their weeping did not hinder his ſowing; they did not ſorrow, and ſit down in Deſpair, but ſorrow'd and ſought. Note, If we would find Chriſt, we muſt ſeek him ſorrowing; ſorrowing that we have loſt him, that we have provok'd him to withdraw, and that we have ſought him no ſooner. They that thus ſeek him in Sorrow, ſhall find him at length with ſo much the greater Joy. (2.) He gently reprov'd their inordinate Sollicitude about him, v. 49. How is it that ye ſought me? You might have depended upon it, I would have follow'd you Home when I had done the Buſineſs I have to do here; I could not be loſt in Jeruſalem: Wiſt ye not that I ought to be ἐν τοῖς τȣ̃ πατρὸς μȣ, in my Father's Houſe, ſo ſome read it, where elſe ſhould the Son be, who abideth in the Houſe for ever. I ought to be, (1.) Under my Father's Care and Protection, and therefore you ſhould have caſt the Care of me upon him, and not have burthen'd yourſelves with it. Chriſt is a Shaft hid in his Father's Quiver, Iſa. 49. 2. He takes Care of his Church likewiſe, and therefore let not us ever deſpair of its Safety. (2.) At my Father's Work, ſo we take it, I muſt be about my Father's Buſineſs, and therefore could not go Home ſo ſoon as you might. Wiſt ye not? Have you not already perceiv'd that concerning me, that I have devoted myſelf to the Service of Religion, and therefore muſt employ myſelf in the Affairs of it. Herein he hath left us an Example, for it becomes the Children of God, in Conformity to Chriſt, to attend their Heavenly Father's Buſineſs, and to make all other Buſineſs give Way to it. This Word of Chriſt we now think we underſtand very well, for he hath explain'd it in what he hath done, and ſaid; 'twas his Errand into the World, and his Meat and Drink in the World, to do his Father's Will, and finiſh his Work? And yet at that Time, his Parents underſtood not this Saying, v. 50. They did not underſtand what Buſineſs he had to do then in the Temple for his Father: They believ'd him to be the Meſſiah, that ſhould have the Throne of his Father David, but they thought that ſhould rather bring him to the Royal Palace, than to the Temple. They underſtood not his Prophetical Office, and he was to do much of his Work in that.

Laſtly, Here's their Return to Nazareth. This Glimpſe of his Glory was to be ſhort, it was now over, and he did not urge his Parents either to come and ſettle at Jeruſalem, or to ſettle him there, tho' that was the Place of Improvement and Preferment, and where he might have the beſt Opportunities of ſhewing his Wiſdom; but very willingly retir'd into his Obſcurity at Nazareth, where, for many Years, he was as it were buried alive. Doubtleſs, he came up to Jeruſalem to worſhip at the Feaſts three Times a Year, but whether he ever went again into the Temple to diſpute with the Doctors there, we are not told; it is not improbable but he might. But here we are told,

1. That he was ſubject to his Parents; tho' once to ſhew that he was more than a Man, he withdrew himſelf from his Parents, to attend his Heavenly Father's Buſineſs, yet he did not, as yet, make that his conſtant Practice, nor of many Years after; but was ſubject to them, obſerv'd their Orders, and went and came as they directed; and, as it ſhould ſeem, work'd with his Father at the Trade of a Carpenter. Herein he hath given an Example to Children to be dutiful, and obedient to their Parents in the Lord. Being made of a Woman, he was made under the Law of the 5th Commandment, to teach the Seed of the Faithful thus to approve themſelves to him a faithful Seed. Tho' his Parents were poor and mean; tho' his Father, only his ſuppoſed Father, yet he was ſubject to them; tho' he was ſtrong in Spirit, and fill'd with Wiſdom; nay, tho' he was the Son of God, yet he was ſubject to his Parents; how then will they anſwer it, who, tho' fooliſh and weak, yet are diſobedient to their Parents.

2. That his Mother, tho' ſhe did not perfectly underſtand her Son's Sayings, yet kept them in her Heart, expecting that hereafter they would be explain'd to her, and ſhe ſhould fully underſtand them, and know how to make uſe of them. However we may neglect Mens Sayings becauſe they are obſcure, ſi non vis intelligi debes negligi, if it be not intelligible, it is not valuable; yet we muſt not think ſo of God's Sayings. That which at firſt is dark, and we know not what to make of it, may afterwards become plain and eaſy; we ſhould therefore lay it up for hereafter, ſee John 2. 22. We may find Uſe for that another Time, which now we ſee not how it can be made uſeful to us. A Scholar keeps thoſe Grammar Rules in Memory which at preſent he underſtands not the Uſe of, becauſe he is told they will hereafter be of Uſe to him, ſo we muſt do by Chriſt's Sayings.

3. That he improv'd, and came on to Admiration, v. 52. He increaſed in Wiſdom and Stature. In the Perfections of his Divine Nature there could be no Increaſe, but this is meant of his Humane Nature, his Body increaſed in Stature, and Bulk, he grew in the growing Age; and his Soul increaſed in Wiſdom, and in all the Endowments of a Human Soul. Tho' the eternal Word was united to the Human Soul from his Conception, yet the Divinity that dwelt in him, manifeſted itſelf to his Humanity by Degrees, ad modum recipientis; as the Faculties of his Human Soul grew more and more capable, the Gifts it received from the Divine Nature were more and more communicated. And he increaſed in Favour with God and Man, i. e. in all thoſe Graces that render'd him acceptable both to God and Man. Herein Chriſt accommodated himſelf to his Eſtate of Humiliation, that as he condeſcended to be an Infant, a Child, a Youth, ſo the Image of God ſhone brighter in him when he grew up to be a Youth, than it did, or could while he was an Infant and a Child. Note, Young People as they grown in Stature, ſhould grow in Wiſdom; and then as they grow in Wiſdom, they ſhall grow in Favour with God and Man.

CHAP. III.

Nothing is related concerning our Lord Jeſus from his Twelfth Year, to his Entrance on his Thirtieth Year, we oft think it would have been a Pleaſure and Advantage to us, if we had Journals, or at leaſt Annals of Occurrences concerning him; but we have as much as infinite Wiſdom thought fit to communicate to us, and if we improve not that, neither would we have improv'd none if we had had it. The great Intention of the Evangeliſts was, to give us an Account of the Goſpel of Chriſt, which we are to believe, and by which we hope for Salvation: Now that begun in the Miniſtry and Baptiſm of John, and therefore they haſten to give us an Account of that. We could wiſh, perhaps, that Luke had wholly paſt by what was related by Matthew and Mark, and had written only what was New, as he had done in his two firſt Chapters: But it was the Will of the Spirit, that ſome Things ſhould be eſtabliſh'd, not only out of the Mouth of Two, but of Three Witneſſes, and we muſt not reckon it a needleſs Repetition, nor will we do ſo, if we renew our Meditations upon theſe Things with ſuitable Affections. In this Chapter we have (1.) the Beginning of John's Baptiſm, and the Scope and Intention of it, v. 1---6. His Exhortation to the Multitude, v. 7.---9. And the particular Inſtructions he gave to thoſe who deſired to be told their Duty, v. 10,---14. (2.) The Notice he gave them of the Approach of the Meſſiah, v. 15,---18. To which is added (tho' it happen'd after what follows) the Mention of his Impriſonment, v. 19, 20. (3.) Chriſt coming to be baptiz'd of John, and his Entrance therein upon the Execution of his Prophetical Office, v. 21, 22. (4.) His Pedigree and Genealogy recorded up to Adam, v. 23,---38.

1 NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Ceſar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Iturea, and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lyſanias the tetrarch of Abilene. 2 Annas and Caiaphas being the high prieſts, the word of God came unto John the ſon of Zacharias in the wilderneſs. 3 And he came into all the country about Jordan, preaching the baptiſm of repentance for the remiſſion of ſins; 4 As it is written in the book of the words of Eſaias the prophet, ſaying, The voice of one crying in the wilderneſs, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths ſtraight. 5 Every valley ſhall be filled, and every mountain and hill ſhall be brought low; and the crooked ſhall be made ſtraight, and the rough ways ſhall be made ſmooth; 6 And all fleſh ſhall ſee the ſalvation of God. 7 Then ſaid he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, O generation of vipers, who have warned you to flee from the wrath to come? 8 Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance, and begin not to ſay within your ſelves, We have Abraham to our father: for I ſay unto you, that God is able of theſe ſtones to raiſe up children unto Abraham. 9 And now alſo the ax is laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewen down, and caſt into the fire. 10 And the people asked him, ſaying, What ſhall we do then? 11 He anſwereth and ſaith unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewiſe. 12 Then came alſo publicans to be baptized, and ſaid unto him, Maſter, what ſhall we do? 13 And he ſaid unto them, Exact no more than that which is appointed you. 14 And the ſouldiers likewiſe demanded of him, ſaying, And what ſhall we do? And, he ſaid unto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuſe any falſly, and be content with your wages.

John's Baptiſm introducing a new Diſpenſation, it was requiſite we ſhould have a particular Account of it. Glorious Things were ſaid of John, what a mighty Favourite of Heaven he ſhould be, and what a great Bleſſing to this Earth, Chap. 1. 15, 17. But we loſt him in the Deſarts, and there he remains until the Day of his ſhewing unto Iſrael, Chap. 1. 80. And now at laſt that Day dawns, and a welcome Day it was to them that waited for it, more than they that waited for the Morning. Obſerve here, Firſt, The Date of the Beginning of John's Baptiſm, when it was that he appeared; this is here taken Notice of, which was not by the other Evangeliſts, that the Truth of the Thing might be confirmed by the exact fixing of the Time. And it is dated,

1. By the Government of the Heathen, which the Jews were under, to ſhew that they were a conquer'd People, and therefore 'twas time for the Meſſiah to come, to ſet up a ſpiritual Kingdom, and an eternal one, upon the Ruins of all the temporal Dignity and Dominion of David and Judah.

(1.) 'Tis dated by the Reign of the Roman Emperor; it was in the fifteenth Year of Tiberius Cæſar, the third of the twelve Cæſars, a very ill Man, given to Covetouſneſs, Drunkenneſs, and Cruelty; ſuch a Man is mentioned firſt, (ſaith Dr. Lightfoot) as it were, to teach us what to look for from that cruel and abominable City, wherein Satan reigned in all Ages and Succeſſions. The People of the Jews, after a long Struggle, were of late made a Province of the Empire, and were under the Dominion of this Tiberius: And that Country, which when Time was, had made ſo great a Figure, and had many Nations Tributaries to it, in the Reigns of David and Solomon, is now itſelf an inconſiderable, deſpicable Part of the Roman Empire, and rather trampled upon than triumph'd in; en quo diſcordia cives perduxit miſeros! The Law-giver was now departed from between Judah's Feet; and, as an Evidence of that, their publick Acts are dated by the Reign of the Roman Emperor, and therefore now Shiloh muſt come.

(2.) 'Tis dated by the Governments of the Vice-Roys that rul'd in the ſeveral Parts of the Holy Land, under the Roman Emperor, which was another Badge of their Servitude, for they were all Foreigners, which ſpeaks a ſad Change with that People whoſe Governours us'd to be of themſelves, Jer. 30. 21. and it was their Glory. How is the Gold become dim! (1.) Pilate is here ſaid to be the Governor, Preſident, or Procurator of Judea: This Character is given of him by ſome other Writers, That he was a wicked Man, and one that made no Conſcience of a Lye. He reign'd ill, and at laſt was diſplac'd by Vitellius, Preſident of Syria, and ſent to Rome to anſwer for his Male-Adminiſtrations. (2.) The other three are called Tetrarchs, ſome think from the Countries which they had the Command of, each of them being over a Fourth Part of that which had been entirely under the Government of Herod the Great. Others think they are ſo called from the Poſt of Honour they were in in the Government; they had the Fourth Place, or were Fourth Rate Governors: The Emperor was the Firſt; the Proconſul that govern'd a Province, the Second; a King the Third; and a Tetrarch the Fourth. So Dr. Lightfoot.

2. By the Government of the Jews among themſelves, to ſhew that they were a corrupt People, and therefore 'twas time the Meſſiah ſhould come to reform them, v. 2. Annas and Caiphas were the High Prieſts; God had appointed that there ſhould be but one High Prieſt at a Time, but here were two to ſerve ſome ill Turn or other, one ſerv'd one Year, and tother the other Year, ſo ſome. One was the High Prieſt, and the other the Sagon, as the Jews call'd him, to officiate for him when he was diſabled; or, as others ſay, one was High Prieſt, and repreſented Aaron, and that was Caiaphas; Annas, the other, was Naſi, or Head of the Sanhedrin, and repreſented Moſes. But to us there is but one High Prieſt, one Lord of all, to whom all Judgment is committed.

Secondly, The Original and Tendency of John's Baptiſm.

1. The Original of it was from Heaven, the Word of the Lord came unto John, v. 2. He received full Commiſſion, and full Inſtructions from God, to do what he did; 'Tis the ſame Expreſſion that is uſed concerning the Old Teſtament Prophets, Jer. 1. 2. for John was a Prophet, yea, more than a Prophet, and in him Propheſy reviv'd, which had been long ſuſpended. We are not told how the Word of the Lord came to John, whether by an Angel, as to his Father, or by Dream, or Viſion, or Voice, but it was to his Satisfaction, and ought to be to ours. John is here called the Son of Zacharias, to refer us to what the Angel ſaid to his Father, when he aſſur'd him he ſhould have this Son. The Word of the Lord came to him in the Wilderneſs, for thoſe whom God fits, he will find out, whereever they are. As the Word of the Lord is not bound in a Priſon, ſo it is not loſt in a Wilderneſs. The Word of the Lord made its Way to Ezekiel among the Captives, by the River of Chebar, and to John in the Iſle Patmos. John was the Son of a Prieſt, now entring upon the thirtieth Year of his Age; and therefore, according to the Cuſtom of the Temple, he was now to be admitted into the Temple-Service, where he ſhould have attended as a Candidate five Years before: But God had called him to a more honourable Miniſtry, and therefore the Holy Ghoſt enrolls him here, ſince he was not enroll'd in the Archives of the Temple, John the Son of Zacharias began his Miniſtration ſuch a Time.

2. The Scope and Deſign of it was to bring all the People of his Country off from their Sins, and home to their God, v. 3. He came firſt into all the Country about Jordan, the Neighbourhood wherein he reſided, that Part of the Country which Iſrael took Poſſeſſion of firſt, when they enter'd the Land of Promiſe under Joſhua's Conduct, there was the Banner of the Goſpel firſt diſplay'd. John reſided in the moſt ſolitary Part of the Country, but when the Word of the Lord came to him, he quitted his Deſarts, and came into the inhabited Country. Thoſe that are beſt pleas'd in their Retirements, muſt chearfully exchange them when God calls them into Places of Concourſe. He came out of the Wilderneſs into all the Country, with ſome Marks of Diſtinction, preaching a new Baptiſm; not a Sect, or Party, but a Profeſſion, or diſtinguiſhing Badge; the Sign, or Ceremony, ſuch as was ordinarily us'd among the Jews, waſhing with Water, by which Proſelytes were ſometimes admitted, or Diſciples to ſome great Maſter: But the Meaning of it was, Repentance for the Remiſſion of Sins. That is, all that ſubmitted to his Baptiſm,

1. Were thereby oblig'd to repent of their Sins, to be ſorry for what they had done amiſs, and to go and do ſo no more; the former they profeſs'd, and were concern'd to be ſincere in their Profeſſions; the latter they promis'd, and were concern'd to make good what they promis'd. He bound them not to ſuch ceremonious Obſervances as were impoſed by the Tradition of the Elders, but to change their Mind, and change their Way, to caſt away from them all their Tranſgreſſions, and the make them new Hearts, and to live new Lives. The Deſign of the Goſpel which now began, was to make Men devout and pious, holy and heavenly, humble and meek, ſober and chaſt, juſt and honeſt, charitable and kind, and good in every Relation, who had been much otherwiſe; and this is to repent.

2. They were thereby aſſured of the Pardon of their Sins, upon their Repentance. As the Baptiſm he adminiſtred, bound them not to ſubmit to the Power of Sin, ſo it ſealed to them a gracious and pleadable Diſcharge from the Guilt of Sin. Turn yourſelves from all your Tranſgreſſions, ſo Iniquity ſhall not be your Ruin, agreeing with the Word of the Lord, by the Old Teſtament Prophets, Ezek. 18. 30.

Thirdly, The fulfilling of the Scripture, in the Miniſtry of John. The other Evangeliſts had referr'd us to the ſame Text that is here referr'd to, that of Eſaias, chap. 40. 3. 'Tis written in the Book of the Words of Eſaias the Prophet, which he heard from God, which he ſpoke for God, thoſe Words of his, which were written for the Generations to come. Among them it is found, that there ſhould be the Voice of one crying in the Wilderneſs, and John is that Voice; a clear diſtinct Voice, a loud Voice, an articulate one; he cries, Prepare ye the Way of the Lord, and make his Paths ſtraight. John's Buſineſs is to make way for the Entertainment of the Goſpel in the Hearts of People; to bring them into ſuch a Frame and Temper, as that Chriſt might be welcome to them, and they welcome to Chriſt. Luke goes further on with the Quotation, than Matthew and Mark had done, and applies the following Words likewiſe to John's Miniſtry, v. 5, 6. Every Valley ſhall be filled. Dr. Hammond underſtands this, as a Prediction of the Deſolation coming upon the People of the Jews for their Infidelity: The Land ſhould be made plain by the Pioneers for the Roman Army, and ſhould be laid waſte by it, and there ſhould then be a viſible Diſtinction made between the Impenitent on the one Side, and the Receivers of the Goſpel on the other Side. But it ſeems rather to be meant, of the immediate Tendency of John's Miniſtry, and of the Goſpel of Chriſt, which that was the Introduction of. (1.) The Humble ſhall by it be enrich'd with Grace, for every Valley that lies low and moiſt ſhall be filled and be exalted. (2.) The Proud ſhall by it be humbled; the Self-confident that ſtand upon their own Bottom, and the Self-conceited that lift up their own Top, ſhall have Contempt put upon them, for every Mountain and Hill ſhall be brought low; if they repent, they are brought to the Duſt; if not, to the loweſt Hell. (3.) Sinners ſhall be converted to God; for the crooked Ways, and the crooked Spirits, ſhall be made ſtreight; for tho' none can make that ſtreight, which God hath made crooked, Eccl. 7. 13. yet God by his Grace can make that ſtreight which Sin hath made crooked. (4.) Difficulties that were hindring and diſcouraging in the Way to Heaven, ſhall be removed; the rough ways ſhall be made ſmooth; and they that love God's Law, ſhall have great Peace, and nothing ſhall offend them. The Goſpel has made the Way to Heaven plain, and eaſy to be found; ſmooth and eaſy to be walk'd in. (5.) The Great Salvation ſhall be more fully diſcover'd than ever, and the Diſcovery of it ſhall ſpread further, v. 6. all Fleſh ſhall ſee the Salvation of God; not the Jews only, but the Gentiles. All ſhall ſee it, i. e. they ſhall have it ſet before them, and offer'd to them; and ſome of all Sorts ſhall ſee it, i. e. enjoy it, and have the Benefit of it. When Way is made for the Goſpel into the Heart, by the captivating of high Thoughts, and bringing them into Obedience to Chriſt, by the levying of the Soul, and the removing of all Obſtructions that ſtand in the Way of Chriſt and his Grace, then prepare to bid the Salvation of God welcome.

Fourthly, The General Warnings and Exhortations, which he gave to thoſe who ſubmitted to his Baptiſm, v. 7, 8, 9. In Matthew he is ſaid to have preach'd theſe ſame Things to many of the Phariſees and Sadduces that came to his Baptiſm, Mat. 3. 7, 8, 9, 10. but here he is ſaid to have ſpoken them to the Multitude, that came forth to be baptized of him, v. 7. This was the Purport of his Preaching to all that came to him, and he did not altar it in Complement to the Phariſees and Sadduces, when they came, but dealt as plainly with them as with any other of his Hearers. And as he did not flatter the Great, ſo neither did he complement the many, or make his Court to them, but gave the ſame Reproofs of Sin, and Warnings of Wrath to the Multitude, that he did to the Sadduces and Phariſees; for if they had not the ſame Faults, they had others as bad. Now obſerve here,

1. That the guilty, corrupted Race of Mankind, is become a Generation of Vipers, not only poiſoned, but poiſonous; hateful to God, hating one another. This magnifies the Patience of God in continuing the Race of Mankind upon the Earth, and not deſtroying that Neſt of Vipers. He did it once by Water, and will again by Fire.

2. This Generation of Vipers is fairly warned to flee from the Wrath to come, which is certainly before them, if they continue ſuch; and their being a Multitude, will not be at all their Security; for it will be neither Reproach, nor Loſs to God, to cut them off. We are not only warn'd of this Wrath, but are put into a Way to eſcape it, if we look about us in Time.

3. There is no Way of fleeing from the Wrath to come, but by Repentance. They that ſubmitted to the Baptiſm of Repentance, thereby evidenc'd that they were warn'd to flee from the Wrath to come, and took the Warning; and we by our Baptiſm profeſs to have fled out of Sodom, for fear of what's coming upon it.

4. Thoſe that profeſs Repentance, are highly concern'd to live like Penitents, v. 8. bring forth therefore Fruits meet for Repentance, elſe, notwithſtanding your Profeſſions of Repentance, you cannot eſcape the Wrath to come. By the Fruits of Repentance it will be known whether it be ſincere or no. By the Change of our Way, muſt be evidenc'd the Change of our Mind.

5. If we be not really holy both in Heart and Life, our Profeſſion of Religion, and Relation to God, and his Church, will ſtand us in no ſtead at all. Begin not now to frame Excuſes from this great Duty of Repentance, by ſaying within yourſelves we have Abraham to our Father; what will it avail us to be the Children of Godly Parent, if we be not Godly; to be within the Pale of the Church, if we be not brought into the Bond of the Covenant.

6. We have therefore no Reaſon to depend upon our external Privileges, and Profeſſions of Religion, becauſe God has no need of us, or of our Services, but can effectually ſecure his own Honour and Intereſt without us. If we were cut off and ruin'd, he could raiſe up to himſelf a Church out of the moſt unlikely; Children to Abraham, even out of Stones.

7. The greater Profeſſions we make of Repentance, and the greater Aſſiſtances and Encouragements are given us in Repentance, the nearer, and the ſorer will our Deſtruction be, if we do not bring forth Fruits meet for Repentance. Now the Goſpel begins to be preach'd, now the Kingdom of Heaven is at Hand, now the Ax is laid to the Root of the Tree; Threatnings to the Wicked and Impenitent, are now more terrible than before, as Encouragements to the Penitent, are now more comfortable. Now you are upon your Behaviour, look to yourſelves.

8. Barren Trees will be caſt into the Fire at length, 'tis the fitteſt Place for them. Every Tree that doth not bring forth Fruit, good Fruit, is hewn down, and caſt into the Fire. If it ſerve not for Fruit to the Honour of God's Grace, let it ſerve for Fuel to the Honour of his Juſtice.

Fifthly, The particular Inſtructions he gave to ſeveral Sorts of Perſons, that enquir'd of him concerning their Duty; the People, the Publicans, and the Soldiers. Some of the Phariſees and Sadduces came to his Baptiſm, but we do not find them asking, What ſhall we do? For they thought they knew what they had to do, as well as he could tell them; or were determin'd to do what they pleas'd, whatever he told them. But the People, the Publicans, and the Soldiers, that knew they had done amiſs, and knew they ſhould do better, and were conſcious to themſelves of great Ignorance, and Unacquaintedneſs with the Divine Law, were particularly inquiſitive, What ſhall we do? Note, 1 Thoſe that are baptiz'd muſt be taught, and thoſe that have baptiz'd them, are concern'd, as they have Opportunity, to teach them, Mat. 28. 19, 20. 2. Thoſe that profeſs and promiſe Repentance in general, muſt evidence it by particular Inſtances of Reformation, according as their Place and Condition is. 3. They that would do their Duty, muſt deſire to know their Duty, and enquire concerning it. The firſt good Word Paul ſaid when he was converted, was, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? Theſe here require, not what ſhall this Man do, but what ſhall we do? What Fruits meet for Repentance ſhall we bring forth? Now John gives Anſwer to each, according to their Place and Station.

1. He tells the People their Duty, and that is, to be charitable, v. 11. He that has two Coats, and conſequently one to ſpare, let him give, or lend at leaſt, to him that has none, to keep him warm. Perhaps he ſaw among his Hearers, ſome that were overloaded with Clothes, while others were ready to periſh in Rags; and he puts thoſe who had Superfluities, upon contributing to the Relief of thoſe that had not Neceſſaries. The Goſpel requires Mercy, and not Sacrifice; and the Deſign of it is, to engage us to do all the good we can. Food and Raiment are the two Supports of Life; he that hath Meat to ſpare, let him give to him that is deſtitute of Daily Food, as well as he that has Clothes to ſpare: What we have, we are but Stewards of, and muſt uſe it accordingly, as our Maſter directs.

2. He tells the Publicans their Duty, the Collectors of the Emperor's Revenue, v. 13. Exact no more than that which is appointed you. They muſt do Juſtice between the Government and the Merchant, and not oppreſs the People in levying the Taxes, nor any Way make them heavier, or more burthenſome, than the Law had made them. They muſt not think, that becauſe it was their Office, to take Care that the People did not defraud the Prince, they might therefore, by the Power they had, bear hard upon the People; as thoſe that had never ſo little a Branch of Power, are apt to abuſe it: No, keep to your Book of Rates, and reckon it enough, that you collect for Cæſar the Things that are Cæſar's, and do not enrich yourſelves by taking more. The Publick Revenues muſt be applied to the Publick Service, and not to gratify the Avarice of private Perſons. Obſerve, He doth not direct the Publicans to quit their Places, and to go no more to the Receipt of Cuſtom; the Employment is in itſelf Lawful, and Neceſſary, but let them be Juſt and honeſt in it.

3. He tells the Soldiers their Duty, v. 14. Some think theſe Soldiers were of the Jewiſh Nation and Religion, others think they were Romans; for it was not likely, either that the Jews would ſerve the Romans, or the Romans truſt the Jews in their Garriſons, in their own Nation; and then 'tis an early Inſtance of Gentiles embracing the Goſpel, and ſubmitting to it. Military Men ſeldom ſeem inclin'd to Religion, yet theſe ſubmitted even to the Baptiſt's ſtrict Profeſſion, and deſired to receive the Word of Command from him, What muſt we do? Thoſe, who more than other Men, have their Lives in their Hands, and are in Deaths oft, are concern'd to enquire what they ſhall do, that they may be found in Peace? In anſwer to this Enquiry, John doth not bid them lay down their Arms, and deſert the Service; but cautions them againſt the Sins that Soldiers were commonly guilty of; for this is Fruit meet for Repentance, to keep ourſelves from our Iniquity, (1.) They muſt not be injurious to the People among whom they were quarter'd, and over whom indeed they were ſet, Do Violence to no Man. Your Buſineſs is to keep the Peace, and prevent Men's doing Violence to one another, but do not you do Violence to any; ſhake no Man, ſo the Word ſignifies: Do not put People into Fear; for the Sword of War as well as that of Juſtice, is to be a Terror only to evil Doers, but a Protection to thoſe that do well. Be not rude in your Quarters; force not Money from People, by frightening them. Shed not the Blood of War, in Peace; offer no Incivility either to Man or Woman; nor have any Hand in the barbarous Devaſtations that Armies ſometimes make. Nor muſt they accuſe any falſly to the Government, thereby to make themſelves formidable, and get Bribes. (2.) They muſt not be injurious to their Fellow-Soldiers; for ſome think that Caution not to accuſe falſly, has ſpecial Reference to them; Be not forward to complain one of another to your ſuperior Officers, that you may be reveng'd on thoſe you have a Pique againſt, or undermine thoſe above you, and get into their Places. Do not oppreſs any, ſo ſome think the Word here ſignifies, as uſed by the Seventy in ſeveral Paſſages of the Old Teſtament. (3.) They muſt not be given to Mutiny, nor contend with their Generals about their Pay; be content with your Wages. While you have what you agreed for, do not murmur that it is not more. 'Tis Diſcontent with what they have, that makes Men oppreſſive and injurious: they that never think they have enough themſelves, will not ſtick at any the moſt irregular Practices, to make it more, by defrauding others. 'Tis a Rule to all Servants, that they be content with their Wages; for they that indulge themſelves in Diſcontents, expoſe themſelves to many Temptations, and 'tis Wiſdom to make the beſt of that which is.

15 And as the people were in expectation, and all men muſed in their hearts of John, whether he were the Chriſt or not; 16 John anſwered ſaying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water, but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whoſe ſhoes I am not worthy to unlooſe: he ſhall baptize you with the holy Ghoſt and with fire. 17 Whoſe fan is in his hand, and he will throughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable. 18 And many other things in his exhortation preached he unto the people. 19 But Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother Philips wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done, 20 Added yet this above all, that he ſhut up John in priſon.

We are now drawing near to the Appearance of our Lord Jeſus publickly; the Sun will not be long after the Morning-Star. We are here told,

Firſt, How the People took Occaſion, from the Miniſtry and Baptiſm of John, to think of the Meſſiah; and to think of him as at the Door, as now come. Thus the Way of the Lord was prepar'd, and People were prepar'd to bid Chriſt Welcome; for when Men's Expectations are raiſ'd, that which they are in Expectation of, becomes doubly acceptable. Now when they obſerv'd what an excellent Doctrine John Baptiſt preach'd, what a divine Power went along with it, and what a Tendency it had to reform the World:

1. They began preſently to conſider, that now was the Time for the Meſſiah to appear; the Scepter was departed from Judah, for they had no King but Cæſar; nay and the Law-giver too was gone from between his Feet, for Herod had lately ſlain the Sanhedrim; Daniel's ſeventy Weeks were now expiring, and therefore 'twas but three or four Years after this, that they looked that the Kingdom of Heaven ſhould appear preſently, Luke 19. 11. never did the corrupt State of the Jews more need a Reformation, nor their diſtreſſed State more need a Deliverance, than now.

2. Their next Thought was, Is not this he that ſhall come? All thinking Men muſed, or reaſon'd in their Hearts concerning John, whether he were the Chriſt or not. He had indeed nothing of that external Pomp and Grandeur in which they generally expected the Meſſiah to appear; but his Life was holy and ſtrict, his Preaching powerful, and with Authority, and therefore why may we not think him to be the Meſſiah, and that he will ſhortly throw of this Diſguiſe, and appear in more Glory? Note, That which puts People upon conſidering, reaſoning with themſelves, prepares the Way for Chriſt.

Secondly, How John diſown'd all Pretenſions to the Honour of being himſelf the Meſſiah, but confirm'd them in their Expectations of him that really was the Meſſiah, v. 16, 17. John's Office, as a Cryer or Herald, was to give notice that the Kingdom of God, and the King of that Kingdom, was at Hand; and therefore, when he had told all manner of People ſeverally, what they muſt do, you muſt do this, and you muſt do that; he tells them one thing more, which they muſt all do, they muſt expect the Meſſiah now ſhortly to appear. And this ſerves as an Anſwer to their Muſings and Debates concerning himſelf. Tho' he knew not their Thoughts, yet in declaring this, he anſwer'd them.

1. He declares, the utmoſt he could do was to baptize them with Water; he had no Acceſs to the Spirit, nor could command that, or work upon that; he could only oblige them to repent; and aſſure them of Forgiveneſs upon Repentance; he could not work Repentance in them, nor confer Remiſſion on them.

2. He conſigns them, and turns them over, as it were, to Jeſus Chriſt; for whom he was ſent to prepare the Way, and to whom he was ready to transfer all the Intereſt he had in the Affections of the People, and would have them no longer to debate whether John was the Meſſiah or no, but to look for him that was really ſo.

1. John owns the Meſſiah to have a greater Excellency than he had; and that he was in all things preferable to him; he is one, the Latchet of whoſe Shoe he doth not think himſelf worthy to unlooſe; he doth not think himſelf worthy to be the Meaneſt of his Servants, to help him on and off with his Shoes. John was a Prophet, yea more than a Prophet, more ſo, than any of the Old Teſtament Prophets; but Chriſt was a Prophet more than John; for it was both by the Spirit of Chriſt, and of the Grace of Chriſt, that all the Prophets prophecy'd, and John among the reſt, 1 Pet. 1. 10, 11. This was a great Truth, which John came to preach, but the Manner of his expreſſing it, ſpeaks his Humility; and in it he not only doth Juſtice to the Lord Jeſus, but doth him honour: He is one I am not worthy to approach, or draw nigh to, no not as a Servant. Thus highly doth it always become us to ſpeak of Chriſt, and thus humbly of our ſelves.

2. He owns him to have a greater Energy than he had. He is mightier than I, and doth that which I cannot do, both for the Comfort of the Faithful, and for the Terror of Hypocrites and Diſſemblers. They thought a wonderful Power went along with John, but what was that compar'd with the Power which Jeſus would come clothed with. (1.) John can do no more but baptize with Water, in Token of this, that they ought to purify and cleanſe themſelves; but Chriſt can and will baptize with the Holy Ghoſt, he can give the Spirit to cleanſe and purify the Heart, not only as Water waſhes off the Dirt on the Out-ſide, but as Fire purges out the Droſs that is within, and melts down the Metal, that it may be caſt into a new Mold. (2.) John can only preach a diſtinguiſhing Doctrine, and by Word and Sign ſeparate between the Precious and the Vile; but Chriſt hath his Fan in his Hand, with which he can, and will perfectly part between the Wheat and the Chaff, he will throughly purge his Floor, 'tis his own, and therefore he will purge it, and will caſt out of his Church the unbelieving, impenitent Jews, and confirm in his Church all that faithfully follow him. (3.) John can only ſpeak Comfort to thoſe that receive the Goſpel, and like other Prophets, ſay to the Righteous, that, it ſhall be well with them; but Jeſus Chriſt will give them Comfort. John can only promiſe them they ſhall be ſafe, but Chriſt will make them ſo, he will gather his Wheat into his Garner: Good, ſerious, ſolid People he will now gather into his Church on Earth, which ſhall be made up of ſuch, and he will ſhortly gather them into his Church in Heaven, where they ſhall be for ever ſhelter'd, (4.) John can only threaten Hypocrites, and tell the barren Trees that they ſhall be hewn down and caſt into the Fire; but Chriſt can execute that Threatning: thoſe that are as Chaff, light, and vain, and worthleſs, he will burn with Fire unquenchable. John refers here to Mal. 3. 18. 4. 1, 2. Then, when the Floor is purged, ye ſhall return and diſcern between the Righteous and the Wicked, for the Day comes that ſhall burn as an Oven.

The Evangeliſt concludes his Account of John's Preaching, with an et cætera, v. 8. Many other Things in his Exhortation preached he unto the People, which are not recorded. (1.) John was an affectionate Preacher; he was Παρακαλῶν, Exhorting, beſeeching, he preſs'd things home upon his Hearers, follow'd his Doctrine cloſe, as one in earneſt. (2.) He was a practical Preacher, much of his Preaching was Exhortation, quickning them to their Duty, and directing them in it, and not amuſing them with Matters of nice Speculation. (3.) He was a popular Preacher, tho' he had Scribes and Phariſees, Men of polite Learning, attending his Miniſtry, and Sadduces, Men of Free Thought, as they pretended, yet he adreſs'd himſelf to the People, πρὸς τὸν λαὸν, to the Laity, and accommodated himſelf to their Capacity, as promiſing himſelf beſt Succeſs among them. (4.) He was an Evangelical Preacher, for ſo the word here uſed ſignifies, εὐηγγελίζετο, he preached the Goſpel to the People; in all his Exhortations he directed People to Chriſt, and excited and encourag'd their Expectations of him. When we preſs Duty upon People, we muſt direct them to Chriſt both for Righteouſneſs and Strength. (5.) He was a copious Preacher; many other things he preach'd πολλὰ μὲν καὶ ἕτερα, many Things and different. He preach'd a great deal, ſhunn'd not to declare the whole Counſel of God; and he vary'd in his Preaching, that thoſe who were not reach'd, and touch'd and wrought upon by one Truth, might by another.

Thirdly, How a full Stop was put to John's Preaching, when he was in the midſt of his Uſefulneſs, going on thus ſucceſsfully he was impriſon'd by the Malice of Herod, v. 19, 20. Herod the Tetrarch being reproved by him, not only for living in Inceſt with his Brother Philip's Wife, but for the many other Evils which Herod had done; for thoſe that are wicked in one Inſtance, are commonly ſo in many other; he could not bear it, but contracted an Antipathy to him for his plain Dealing, and added this Wickedneſs to all the reſt which was indeed above all, that he ſhut up John in Priſon; put that burning and ſhining Light under a Buſhel: Becauſe he could not bear his Reproofs, others ſhould be deprived of the Benefit of his Inſtructions and Counſels. Some little Good he might do to thoſe who had Acceſs to him, when he was in Priſon; but nothing to what he might have done, if he had had Liberty to go about all the Country as he had done. We cannot think of Herod's doing this, without the greateſt Compaſſion and Lamentation; nor of God's permitting it, without admiring the depth of the divine Counſels, which we cannot account for; muſt he be ſilenc'd, who is the Voice of one crying in the Wilderneſs? Muſt ſuch a Preacher be ſhut up in Priſon, who ought to have been ſet up in the Courts of the Temple? But thus the Faith of his Diſciples muſt be try'd, the Unbelief of thoſe who rejected him muſt be puniſh'd.

Thus he muſt be Chriſt's Forerunner in Suffering as well as Preaching; and thus having been for about a Year and half preparing People for Chriſt, he muſt now give Way to him, and the Sun being riſen, the Morning-Star muſt of courſe diſappear.

21 Now when all the people were baptized, it came to paſs, that Jeſus alſo being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened: 22 And the holy Ghoſt deſcended in a bodily ſhape like a dove upon him, and a voice came from heaven, which ſaid, Thou art my beloved ſon, in thee I am well pleaſed. 23 And Jeſus himſelf began to be about thirty years of age, being (as was ſuppoſed) the ſon of Joſeph, which was the ſon of Heli, 24 Which was the ſon of Matthat, which was the ſon of Levi, which was the ſon of Melchi, which was the ſon of Janna, which was the ſon of Joſeph, 25 Which was the ſon of Mattathias, which was the ſon of Amos, which was the ſon of Naum, which was the ſon of Eſli, which was the ſon of Nagge, 26 Which was the ſon of Maath, which was the ſon of Mattathias, which was the ſon of Semei, which was the ſon of Joſeph, which was the ſon of Judah, 27 Which was the ſon of Joanna, which was the ſon of Rheſa, which was the ſon of Zorobabel, which was the ſon of Salathiel, which was the ſon of Neri, 28 Which was the ſon of Melchi, which was the ſon of Addi, which was the ſon of Coſam, which was the ſon of Elmodam, which was the ſon Er, 29 Which was the ſon of Joſe, which was the ſon of Eliezer, which was the ſon of Jorim, which was the ſon of Matthat, which was the ſon of Levi, 30 Which was the ſon of Simeon, which was the ſon of Juda, which was the ſon of Joſeph, which was the ſon of Jonan, which was the ſon of Eliakim, 31 Which was the ſon of Melea, which was the ſon of Menan, which was the ſon of Mattatha, which was the ſon of Nathan, which was the ſon of David, 32 Which was the ſon of Jeſſe, which was the ſon of Obed, which was the ſon of Booz, which was the ſon of Salmon, which was the ſon of Naaſſon, 33 Which was the ſon of Aminadab, which was the ſon of Aram, which was the ſon of Eſrom, which was the ſon of Phares, which was the ſon of Judah, 34 Which was the ſon of Jacob, which was the ſon of Iſaac, which was the ſon of Abraham, which was the ſon of Thara, which was the ſon of Nachor, 35 Which was the ſon of Saruch, which was the ſon of Ragau, which was the ſon of Phalec, which was the ſon of Heber, which was the ſon of Sala, 36 Which was the ſon of Cainan, which was the ſon of Arphaxad, which was the ſon of Sem, which was the ſon of Noe, which was the ſon of Lamech, 37 Which was the ſon of Mathuſala, which was the ſon of Enoch, which was the ſon of Jared, which was the ſon of Malaleel, which was the ſon of Cainan, 38 Which was the ſon of Enos, which was the ſon of Seth, which was the ſon of Adam, which was the ſon of God.

The Evangeliſt mention'd John's Impriſonment before Chriſt's being baptiz'd, tho' it was near a Year after it, becauſe he would finiſh the Story of John's Miniſtry, and then introduce that of Chriſt. Now here we have,

Firſt, A ſhort Account of Chriſt's Baptiſm, which had been more fully related by St. Matthew. Jeſus came to be baptiz'd of John, and he was ſo, v. 21, 22.

1. It is here ſaid, That, When all the People were baptized, then Jeſus was baptiz'd; all that were then preſent; Chriſt would be baptiz'd laſt, among the common People, and in the Rear of them; thus he humbled himſelf, and made himſelf of no Reputation, as one of the leaſt, nay, as leſs than the leaſt. He ſaw what Multitudes were hereby prepar'd to receive him, and then he appear'd.

2. Notice is here taken of Chriſt's Praying when he was baptiz'd, which was not in Matthew; being baptiz'd and praying. He did not confeſs Sin as others did, for he had none to confeſs, but he pray'd as others did, for he would thus keep up Communion with his Father. Note, The inward and ſpiritual Grace, which Sacraments are the outward and viſible Signs of, muſt be fetch'd in by Prayer; and therefore Prayer muſt always accompany them. We have Reaſon to think that Chriſt now pray'd for this Manifeſtation of God's Favour to him, which immediately follow'd; he pray'd for the Diſcovery of his Father's Favour to him, and the Deſcent of the Spirit. What was promis'd to Chriſt, he muſt obtain by Prayer; Ask of me, and I will give thee, &c. thus he would put an Honour upon Prayer, would tye us to it, and encourage us in it.

3. When he pray'd, the Heaven was open'd; he that by his Power parted the Waters, to make a Way through them to Canaan, now by his Power parted the Air, another fluid Element, to open a Correſpondence with the Heavenly Canaan. Thus was there open'd to Chriſt, and by him to us, a new and living Way into the Holieſt; Sin had ſhut up Heaven, but Chriſt's Prayer open'd it again. Prayer is an Ordinance that opens Heaven; Knock, and it ſhall be opened to you.

4. The holy Ghoſt deſcended in a bodily Shape like a Dove, upon him; our Lord Jeſus was now to receive greater Meaſures of the Spirit than before, to qualify him for his prophetical Office, Iſa. 61. 1. When he begins to preach, the Spirit of the Lord is upon him. Now this is here expreſs'd by a ſenſible Evidence for his Encouragement in his Work, and for the Satisfaction of John Baptiſt; for he was told before, that by this Sign it ſhould be notify'd to him, which was the Chriſt. Dr. Lightfoot ſuggeſts, that the Holy Ghoſt deſcended in a bodily Shape, that he might be reveal'd to be a perſonal Subſtance, and not merely an Operation of the Godhead: And thus (ſaith he) was made a full, clear, and ſenſible Demonſtration of the Trinity, at the Beginning of the Goſpel, and very fitly is this done at Chriſt's Baptiſm, who was to make the Ordinance of Baptiſm a Badge of the Profeſſion of that Faith, in the Doctrine of the Trinity, Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt.

5. There came a Voice from Heaven, from God the Father, from the excellent Glory, ſo 'tis expreſs'd, 2 Pet. 1. 17. Thou art my beloved Son. Here, and in Mark, 'tis expreſs'd as ſpoken to Chriſt; in Matthew, as ſpoken of him, This is my beloved Son; It comes all to one, 'twas intended to be a Notification to John, and as ſuch, properly expreſs'd by this is my beloved Son; and likewiſe an Anſwer to his Prayer, and ſo it is moſt fitly expreſſed by thou art. 'Twas foretold concerning the Meſſiah, I will be his Father, and he ſhall be my Son, 2 Sam. 7. 14. I will make him my Firſt-born, Pſal. 89. 27. that he ſhould be God's Elect, in whom his Soul delighted, Iſa. 42. 1. and accordingly 'tis here declar'd, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleaſed.

Secondly, A long Account of Chriſt's Pedegree, which had been more briefly related by St. Matthew. Here's

1. His Age. He now began to be about Thirty Years of Age. So old Joſeph was when he ſtood before Pharoah, Gen. 41. 46. David, when he began to reign, 2 Sam. 5. 4. and at this Age the Prieſts were to enter upon the full Execution of their Office, Numb. 4. 3. Dr. Lightfoot thinks it's plain by the Manner of the Expreſſion here, that he was juſt Twenty-nine Years old compleat, and entering upon his Thirtieth Year, in the Month Tiſri, after this he liv'd Three Years and a Half, and dy'd when he was Thirty-two Years old and a Half. Three Years and a Half, the Time of Chriſt's Miniſtry, is a Period of Time very remarkable in Scripture; Three Years and Six Months the Heavens were ſhut up in Elijah's Time, Luke 4. 25. Jam. 5. 17. This was the half Week in which the Meſſiah was to confirm the Covenant, Dan. 2. 27. This Period is expreſs'd in the Prophetical Writings by a Time, Times, and half a Time, Dan. 12. 7. Rev. 12. 14. and by Forty Two Months, and a Thouſand Two Hundred and Threeſcore Days, Rev. 11. 2, 3. where it is the Time fix'd for the Witneſſes propheſying in Sackcloth, in Conformity to Chriſt's Preaching in his Humiliation juſt ſo long.

2. His Pedigree, v. 23, &c. Matthew had given us ſomewhat of this, he goes on higher than Abraham, but Luke brings it as high as Adam; Matthew deſign'd to ſhew that Chriſt was the Son of Abraham, in whom all the Families of the Earth are bleſſed, and that he was Heir to the Throne of David, and therefore he begins with Abraham, and brings the Genealogy down to Jacob, who was the Father of Joſeph, an Heir Male of the Houſe of David; but Luke deſigning to ſhew that Chriſt was the Seed of the Woman, that ſhould break the Serpent's Head, traceth his Pedigree upwards as high as Adam, and begins it with Eli, or Heli, who was the Father, not of Joſeph, but of the Virgin Mary. And ſome ſuggeſt, that the Supply which our Tranſlators all along inſert here, is not right, and that it ſhould not be read which, i. e. which Joſeph was the Son of Heli, but which Jeſus; he was the Son of Joſeph, of Eli, of Matthat, &c. And he, i. e. Jeſus, was the Son of Seth, of Adam, of God, v. 38. The difference between the two Evangeliſts in the Genealogy of Chriſt, has been a ſtumbling Block to Infidels that cavil at the Word; but ſuch a one as has been removed by the Labours of learned Men, both in the early Ages of the Church, and in latter Times, to which we refer ourſelves. Matthew draws the Pedigree from Solomon, whoſe natural Line ended in Jechonias, the legal Right was transferr'd to Salathiel, who was of the Houſe of Nathan, another Son of David, which Line Luke here purſues, and ſo leaves out all the Kings of Judah. 'Tis well for us that our Salvation doth not depend upon our being able to ſolve all theſe Difficulties, nor is the Divine Authority of the Goſpels at all weaken'd by them; for the Evangeliſts are not ſuppos'd to write theſe Genealogies either of their own Knowledge, or by Divine Inſpiration, but to have copy'd them out of the Authentick Records of the Genealogies among the Jews, the Herald's Books, which therefore they were oblig'd to follow; and in them they found the Pedigree of Jacob, the Father of Joſeph, to be as it is ſet down in Matthew; and the Pedigree of Heli, the Father of Mary, to be as it is ſet down here in Luke; and this is the Meaning of ὡς ἐνομίζετο, v. 23. not as it was ſuppos'd, referring only to Joſeph, but uti ſancitum eſt lege, as it is enter'd into the Books, as we find it upon Record, by which it appear'd that Jeſus was both by Father and Mother's Side the Son of David, witneſs this Extract out of their own Records, which any one might at that Time have liberty to compare with the Original, and further the Evangeliſts needed not to go; nay, had they vary'd from that, they had not gain'd their Point. And its not being contradicted at that Time, is Satisfaction enough to us now, that it is a true Copy; as it is further worthy our obſerving, that when thoſe Records of the Jewiſh Genealogies had continu'd thirty or forty Years after theſe Extracts out of them, long enough to juſtify the Evangeliſts therein, they were all loſt and deſtroy'd with the Jewiſh State and Nation, for now there was no more Occaſion for them.

Here is one Difficulty occurrs between Abraham and Noah, which gives us ſome Perplexity, v. 35, 36. Sala is ſaid to be the Son of Cainan, and he the Son of Arphaxad, whereas Sala was the Son of Arphaxad, Gen. 10. 24.---11. 12. and there is no ſuch Man as Cainan found there. But as to that, its ſufficient to ſay that the Seventy Interpreters who before our Saviour's Time tranſlated the Old Teſtament into Greek, for Reaſons beſt known to themſelves, inſerted that Cainan; and St. Luke, writing among the Helleniſt Jews, was oblig'd to make Uſe of that Tranſlation, and therefore to take it as he found it.

The Genealogy concludes with this, who was the Son of Adam, the Son of God. (1.) Some refer it to Adam, he was in a peculiar Manner the Son of God, being more immediately than any of his Off-ſpring, the Off-ſpring of God by Creation. (2.) Others refer it to Chriſt, and ſo make the laſt Words of this Genealogy to ſpeak his Divine and Humane Nature: He was both the Son of Adam and the Son of God, that he might be a proper Mediator between God and the Sons of Adam, and might bring the Sons of Adam to be through him the Sons of God.

CHAP. IV.

We left Chriſt newly baptiz'd, and own'd by a Voice from Heaven, and the Deſcent of the Holy Ghoſt upon him. Now in this Chapter we have, 1. A further Preparation of him for his publick Miniſtry, by his being tempted in the Wilderneſs, which we had the ſame Account of before in Matthew, which we have here. (2.) His Entrance upon his publick Work in Galilee, v. 14, 15. particularly (1.) At Nazareth, the City where he had been bred up, ver. 16.---30. which we had no Account of before in Matthew. (2.) At Capernaum, where having preach'd to Admiration, v. 31, 32. he caſt the Devil out of a Man that was poſſeſſed, v. 33.---37. Cur'd Peter's Mother-in-law of a Fever, 38, 39. And many other that were ſick, and poſſeſs'd, v. 40, 41. And then went and did the ſame in other Cities of Galilee, v. 42.---44.

1 AND Jeſus being full of the Holy Ghoſt, returned from Jordan, and was led by the ſpirit into the wilderneſs, 2 Being forty days tempted of the devil; and in thoſe days he did eat nothing: and when they were ended, he afterward hungred. 3 And the devil ſaid unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this ſtone that it be made bread. 4 And Jeſus anſwered him, ſaying, It is written, That man ſhall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God. 5 And the devil taking him into an high mountain, ſhewing unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time. 6 And the devil ſaid unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them; for that is delivered unto me, and to whomſoever I will, I give it. 7 If thou therefore wilt worſhip me, all ſhall be thine. 8 And Jeſus anſwered and ſaid unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou ſhalt worſhip the Lord thy God, and him only ſhalt thou ſerve. 9 And he brought him to Jeruſalem, and ſet him on a pinacle of the temple, and ſaid unto him, If thou be the Son of God, caſt thy ſelf from hence. 10 For it is written, He ſhall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee. 11 And in their hands they ſhall bear thee up, leſt at any time thou daſh thy foot againſt a ſtone. 12 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid unto him, It is ſaid, Thou ſhalt not tempt the Lord thy God. 13 And when the devil had ended all temptation, he departed from him for a ſeaſon.

The laſt Words of the foregoing Chapter, that Jeſus was the Son of Adam, ſpeak him to be the Seed of the Woman; being ſo, we have him here according to the Promiſe breaking the Serpent's Head, baffling and foiling the Devil in all his Temptations, who by one Temptation had baffled and foil'd our firſt Parents. Thus in the Beginning of the War he made Repriſals upon him, and conquer'd the Conqueror.

In this Story of Chriſt's Temptation obſerve,

Firſt, How he was prepar'd and fitted for it. He that deſign'd him the Tryal, furniſh'd him accordingly; for tho' we knew not what Exerciſes may be before us, nor what Encounters we may be reſerv'd for, Chriſt did, and was provided accordingly; and God doth for us, and we hope will provide accordingly.

1. He was full of the Holy Ghoſt, who had deſcended on him like a Dove, had now greater Meaſures of the Gifts, Graces, and Comforts of the Holy Ghoſt than ever before. Note, Thoſe are well arm'd againſt the ſtrongeſt Temptations that are full of the Holy Ghoſt.

2. He was newly return'd from Jordan where he was baptized, and own'd by a Voice from Heaven to be the beloved Son of God, and thus he was prepared for this Combate. Note, When we have had the moſt comfortable Communion with God, and the cleareſt Diſcoveries of his Favour to us, we may expect that Satan will ſet upon us; the richeſt Ship is the Pyrate's Prize; and that God will ſuffer him to do ſo, that the Power of his Grace may be manifeſted and magnified.

3. He was led by the Spirit into the Wilderneſs, by the good Spirit who led him as a Champion into the Field, to fight the Enemy that he was ſure to conquer. His being led into the Wilderneſs, (1.) gave ſome Advantage to the Tempter, for there he had him alone, no Friend with him by whoſe Prayers and Advice he might be aſſiſted in the Hour of Temptation. Wo to him that is alone! He might give Satan Advantage who knew his own Strength; we may not, who know our own Weakneſs. (2.) He gain'd ſome Advantage to himſelf during his forty Days Faſting in the Wilderneſs, we may ſuppoſe that he was wholly taken up in proper Meditation, and in the Conſideration of his own Undertaking, and the Work he had before him, that he ſpent all this Time in immediate intimate Converſe with his Father, as Moſes in the Mount, without any Diverſion, Diſtraction, or Interruption. Of all the Days of Chriſt's Life in the Fleſh, theſe ſeem to come neareſt to the angelic Perfection, and the heavenly Life, and this prepar'd him for Satan's Aſſaults, and hereby he was fortified againſt them.

4. He continued Faſting, v. 2. In thoſe Days he did eat nothing. This Faſt was altogether miraculous, like thoſe of Moſes and Elijah, and ſhews him to be like them, a Prophet ſent of God; 'tis probable it was in the Wilderneſs of Horeb, the ſame Wilderneſs in which Moſes and Elijah faſted. As by retiring into the Wilderneſs, he ſhew'd himſelf perfectly indifferent to the World, ſo by this Faſting he ſhew'd himſelf perfectly indifferent to the Body; and Satan cannot eaſily take hold of thoſe who are thus looſen'd from, and dead to the World and the Fleſh. The more we keep under the Body, and bring it into Subjection, the leſs Advantage Satan has again us.

Secondly, How he was aſſaulted by one Temptation after another, and how he defeated the Deſign of the Tempter in every Aſſault, and became more than a Conqueror. During the Forty Day he was tempted of the Devil, v. 2. not by any inward Suggeſtions, for the Prince of this World had nothing in Chriſt, by which to inject any ſuch, but by outward Sollicitations, perhaps in the Likeneſs of a Serpent, as he tempted our firſt Parents. But at the End of the Forty Days he came nearer him, and did as it were cloſe with him, when he perceiv'd that he was an hungred, v. 2. probably our Lord Jeſus then began to look about among the Trees, to ſee if he could find any thing that was eatable, from whence the Devil took Occaſion to make the following Propoſal to him.

1. He tempted him to diſtruſt his Father's Care of him, and to ſet up for himſelf, and ſhift for Proviſion for himſelf in ſuch a Way as his Father had not appointed for him, v. 3. If thou be the Son of God, as the Voice from Heaven declar'd, command this Stone to be made Bread. (1.) I counſel thee to do it, for God, if he be thy Father, has forgotten thee, and it will be long enough, e'er he ſends either Ravens or Angels to feed thee. If we begin to think of being our own Carvers, and of living by our own Forecaſt, without depending upon Divine Providence, of getting Wealth by our Might, and Power of our Hands; we muſt look upon it as a Temptation of Satan's, and reject it accordingly, 'tis Satan's Counſel to think of an Independency upon God. (2.) I challenge thee to do it, if thou canſt; if thou doſt not do it, I will ſay thou art not the Son of God; for John Baptiſt ſaid lately, That God is able of Stones to raiſe up Children to Abraham, which is the greater; thou therefore haſt not the Power of the Son of God, if thou doſt not of Stones make Bread for thy ſelf when thou needeſt it, which is the leſſer. Thus was God himſelf tempted in the Wilderneſs; Can he furniſh a Table? Can he give Bread? Pſal. 78. 19, 20.

Now 1. Chriſt yielded not to the Temptation; he would not turn that Stone into Bread, no, not tho' he was hungry; (1.) Becauſe he would not do what Satan bid him do, for that would have look'd as if there had been indeed a Compact between him and the Prince of the Devils. Note, We muſt not do any thing that looks like giving Place to the Devil; Miracles were wrought for the confirming of Faith, and the Devil had no Faith to be confirm'd, and therefore he would not do it for him. He did his Signs in the Preſence of his Diſciples, John 20. 30. and particularly the Beginning of his Miracles, turning Water into Wine, which he did, that his Diſciples might believe on him, John 2. 11. but here in the Wilderneſs he had no Diſciples with him. (2.) He wrought Miracles for the Ratification of his Doctrine; and therefore, till he began to Preach, he would not begin to work Miracles. (3.) He would not work Miracles for himſelf, and his own Supply, leſt he ſhould ſeem impatient of Hunger; whereas he came not to pleaſe himſelf, but to ſuffer Grief, and that Grief among others; and becauſe he would ſhew that he pleaſed not himſelf, he would rather turn Water into Wine, for the Credit and Convenience of his Friends, than Stones into Bread for his own neceſſary Supply. (4.) He would reſerve the Proof of his being the Son of God, for hereafter, and would rather be upbraided by Satan, with being Weak and not able to do it, than be perſwaded by Satan to do that which it was not fit for him to do; thus he was upbraided by his Enemies, as if he could not ſave himſelf, and come down from the Croſs, when he could have come down, but would not, becauſe it was not fit he ſhould. (5.) He would not do any Thing that look'd like Diſtruſt of his Father, or acting ſeparately from him, or any Thing diſagreeable to his preſent State. Being in all Things made like unto his Brethren, he would like other the Children of God, live in a Dependance upon the Divine Providence and Promiſe, and truſt him, either to ſend him Supply into the Wilderneſs, or lead him to a City of Habitation, where there was Supply, as he us'd to do, Pſal. 107. 5, 6, 7. And in the mean Time would Support him, tho' he was Hungry, as he had done theſe Forty Days paſt.

2. He return'd a Scripture Anſwer to it, v. 4. It is written. This is the firſt Word recorded, as ſpoken by Chriſt, after his Inſtallment in his Prophetical Office, and it is a Quotation out of the Old Teſtament, to ſhew, that he came to Aſſert and Maintain the Authority of the Scripture, as uncontrolable even by Satan himſelf: And tho' he had the Spirit without Meaſure, and had a Doctrine of his own to Preach, and a Religion to found, yet it agreed with Moſes and the Prophets, whoſe Writings he therefore lays down as a Rule to himſelf, and recommends, to us as a Reply to Satan and his Temptations. The Word of God is our Sword, and Faith in that Word is our Shield; we ſhould therefore be mighty in the Scriptures, and go in that Might, go forth, and go on in our Spiritual Wareſare. Know what is written, for it is for our Learning, for our Uſe. The Text of Scripture he makes Uſe of, is quoted from Deut. 8. 3. Man ſhall not live by Bread alone; I need not turn the Stone into Bread, for God can ſend Manna for my Nouriſhment as he did for Iſrael; Man can live by every Word of God, i. e. by whatever God will appoint that he ſhall live. How had Chriſt liv'd, liv'd comfortably theſe Forty Days laſt paſt, not by Bread, but by the Word of God, by Meditation upon that Word, and Communion with it, and with God in and by it; and in like Manner he could live yet, tho' now he began to be an hungred. God has many Ways of providing for his People without the ordinary Means of Subſiſtence, and therefore he is not at any Time to be diſtruſted, but at all Times to be depended upon in the Way of Duty. If Meat be wanting, God can take away the Appetite, or give ſuch Degrees of Patience as will enable a Man even to laugh at Deſtruction and Famine, Job. 5. 22. or make Pulſe and Water more nouriſhing than all the Portion of the King's Meat, Dan. 1. 12, 13. and enable his People to rejoyce in the Lord, when the Fig-Tree doth not Bloſſom, Hab. 1. 12, 13. She was an active Believer that ſaid, ſhe had many a Meal's Meat of the Promiſes, when ſhe wanted Bread.

2. He tempted him to accept from him the Kingdom, which as the Son of God, he expected to receive from his Father, and to do him Homage for it, v. 5, 8, 7. This Evangeliſt put this Temptation ſecond, which Matthew had put laſt, and which it ſhould ſeem was really the laſt; but Luke was full of it, as the blackeſt and moſt violent, and therefore haſten'd to it. In the Devil's tempting our firſt Parents, he repreſented to them the forbidden Fruit, firſt as good for Food, and then as pleaſant to the Eyes, and they were overpower'd by both theſe Charms: Satan here firſt tempted Chriſt to turn the Stones into Bread, which would be good for Food, and then ſhew'd him the Kingdoms of the World, and the Glory of them, which was pleaſant to the Eyes; but in both theſe he overpower'd Satan, and perhaps with an Eye to that, Luke changeth the Order. Now obſerve,

1. How Satan manag'd this Temptation, to prevail with Chriſt to become a Tributary to him, and to receive his Kingdom by Delegation from him.

1. He gave him a Proſpect of all the Kingdoms of the World in a Moment of Time, an airy Repreſentation of them, ſuch as he thought moſt likely to ſtrike the Fancy, and ſeem a real Proſpect; and to humour the Thing, he took him up for this Purpoſe into a high Mountain; and becauſe we, next after the Temptation, find Chriſt on the other Side Jordan, ſome think it probable that it was to the Top of Piſgah, that the Devil took him, from whence Moſes had a Sight of Canaan. And that it was but a Phantaſm, that the Devil here preſented our Saviour with, as the Prince of the Power of the Air, is confirm'd by that Circumſtance, which Luke here takes Notice of, that it was done in a Moment of Time; whereas, if a Man take a Proſpect of but one Country, he muſt do it ſucceſſively, muſt turn himſelf round, and take a View firſt of one Part, and then of another. Thus the Devil thought to impoſe upon our Saviour with a Fallacy, a Deceptio viſus; and by making him believe that he could ſhew him all the Kingdoms of the World, would draw him into an Opinion that he could give him all thoſe Kingdoms.

(2.) He boldly alledg'd that theſe Kingdoms were all deliver'd to him, that he had Power to diſpoſe of them, and all their Glory, and to give it to whomſoever he would, v. 6. Some think herein he pretended to be an Angel of Light, and that as one of the Angels that was ſet over the Kingdoms, he had bought out, or fought out all the reſt, and ſo was intruſted with the Diſpoſal of them all; and in God's Name, would give them him, knowing they were deſign'd for him; but clog'd with this Condition, that he ſhould fall down and worſhip him; which a good Angel would have been ſo far from demanding, that he would not have admitted it, no, not upon ſhewing much greater Things than theſe, as appears Rev. 14. 10——22. 9. But I rather take it, that he claim'd this Power as Satan, and as deliver'd to him, not by the Lord, but by the Kings and People of theſe Kingdoms, who gave their Power and Honour to the Devil, Eph. 2. 2 Hence he is call'd the God of this World, and the Prince of this World. It was promiſ'd to the Son of God, that he ſhould have the Heathen for his Inheritance, Pſal. 2. 8. Why, ſaith the Devil, the Heathen are mine, are my Subjects and Votaries; but however, they ſhall be thine, I'll give them thee, upon Condition that thou worſhip me for them, and ſay they are the Rewards which I have given thee as others have done before thee, Hoſ. 2. 12. and conſent to have and hold them, by, from, and under me.

(3) He demanded of him Homage and Adoration. If thou wilt worſhip me, all ſhall be thine, v. 7. (1.) He would have him worſhip him himſelf; perhaps he doth not mean ſo as never to worſhip God, but let him worſhip him in Conjunction with God; for the Devil knows if he can but once come in a Partner, he ſhall ſoon be ſole Proprietor. (2.) He would indent with him, that when according to the Promiſe made to him, he had got Poſſeſſion of the Kingdoms of this World, he ſhould make no Alteration of Religions in them, but permit and ſuffer the Nations as they had done hitherto, to Sacrifice to Devils, 1 Cor. 10. 20. That he ſhould ſtill keep up Dæmon-Worſhip in the World, and then let him take all the Power and Glory of the Kingdoms if he pleaſ'd. Let who will take the Wealth and Grandeur of this Earth, Satan has all he would have, if he can but have Men's Hearts and Affections, and Adorations; can but work in the Children of Diſobedience, for then he effectually devours them.

2. How our Lord Jeſus triumph'd over this Temptation. He gave it a peremptory Repulſe, rejected it with Abhorrence, v. 8. Get thee behind me Satan, I cannot bear the mention of it; What! Worſhip the Enemy of God would I came to ſerve? And of Man whom I came to ſave? No, I'll never do it. Such a Temptation as this was not to be reaſon'd with, but immediately refus'd; it was preſently knock'd on the Head with one Word, It is written thou ſhalt worſhip the Lord thy God; and not only ſo, but him only, him, and no other. And therefore Chriſt will not worſhip Satan, nor when he has the Kingdoms of the World delivered to him by his Father, as he expects ſhortly to have, will he ſuffer any Remains of the Worſhip of the Devil to continue in them: No, it ſhall be perfectly rooted out and aboliſhed wherever his Goſpel comes: He will make no Compoſition with him, Polytheiſm and Idolatry muſt go down, as Chriſt's Kingdom gets up: Men muſt be turn'd from the Power of Satan unto God; from the Worſhip of Devils, to the Worſhip of the only Living and True God; this is the great Divine Law that Chriſt will re-eſtabliſh among Men, and by his Holy Religion reduce Men to the Obedience of, That God only is to be ſerv'd and worſhipped; and therefore whoever ſet up any Creature as the Object of religious Worſhip, tho' it were a Saint, or an Angel, or the Virgin Mary herſelf, they directly thwart Chriſt's Deſign, and relapſe into Heatheniſm.

3. He tempted him to be his own Murtherer, in a preſumptuous Confidence of his Father's Protection, ſuch as he had no Warrant for. Obſerve,

1. What he deſign'd in this Temptation: If thou be the Son of God caſt thy ſelf down, v. 4. (1.) He would have him ſeek for a new Proof of his being the Son of God, as if that which his Father had given him by the Voice from Heaven, and the Deſcent of the Spirit upon him, were not ſufficient, which would have been a Diſhonour to God, as if he had not choſen the moſt proper Way of giving him the Aſſurance of it; and it would have argued a Diſtruſt of the Spirits dwelling in him, which was the great and moſt convincing Proof to himſelf of his being the Son of God, Heb. 1, 8, 9. (2.) He would have him ſeek a new Method of proclaiming and publiſhing this to the World. The Devil in effect ſuggeſts, That it was in an obſcure Corner that he was atteſted to be the Son of God, among a Company of ordinary People, who attended John's Baptiſm, that his Honours were proclaim'd; but if he would now declare from the Pinnacle of the Temple, among all the great People who attended the Temple-Service, That he was the Son of God, and then for Proof of it, throw himſelf down unhurt, he would preſently be received by every Body as a Meſſenger ſent from Heaven. Thus Satan would have him ſeek Honours of his deviſing, in Contempt of thoſe which God had put on him, and manifeſt himſelf in the Temple at Jeruſalem, whereas God deſign'd he ſhould be more manifeſt among John's Penitents, to whom his Doctrine would be more welcome than to the Prieſts. (3.) 'Tis likely he had ſome Hopes, that tho' he could not throw himſelf down to do him the leaſt Miſchief, yet if he would but throw himſelf down, the Fall might be his Death, and then he ſhould have got him finely out of the Way.

2. How he back'd and enforc'd this Temptation. He ſuggeſted, It is written, v. 10. Chriſt had quoted Scripture againſt him, and he thought he would be quits with him, and would ſhew that he could quote Scripture as well as he. It has been uſual with Hereticks and Seducers, to pervert Scripture, and to preſs the ſacred Writings into the Service of the worſt of Wickedneſſes. He ſhall give his Angels charge over thee, if thou be his Son, and in their Hands they ſhall bear the up. And now he was upon the Pinnacle of the Temple, he might eſpecially expect this Miniſtration of Angels; for if he were the Son of God, the Temple was the proper Place for him to be in, Luke 2. 41. and if any Place under the Sun had a Guard of Angels conſtantly, it muſt needs be that, Pſal. 68. 17. It is true, God has promis'd the Protection of Angels to encourage us to truſt him, not to tempt him; as far as the Promiſe of God's Preſence with us, ſo far the Promiſe of the Angel's Miniſtration goes, but no further; they ſhall keep thee when thou goeſt on the Ground, where thy Way lies, but not if thou wilt preſume to fly in the Air.

3. How he was baffled and defeated in the Temptation, v. 12. Chriſt quoted Deut. 6. 16. where it is ſaid, Thou ſhalt not tempt the Lord thy God, by deſiring a Sign for the Proof of Divine Revelation, when he has already given that which is ſufficient, for ſo Iſrael did when they tempted God in the Wilderneſs, ſaying, He gave us Water out of the Rock, but can he give Fleſh alſo? This Chriſt would be guilty of, if he ſhould ſay, He did indeed prove me to be the Son of God, by ſending the Spirit upon me, which is the greater; but can he alſo give his Angels a Charge concerning me, which is the leſſer?

Thirdly, What was the Reſult and Iſſue of this Combate, v. 13. Our victorious Redeemer kept his Ground, and came off a Conqueror, not for himſelf only, but for us alſo.

1. The Devil emptied his Quiver, he ended all the Temptation; Chriſt gave him Opportunity to ſay and do all he could againſt him, he let him try all his Force, and yet defeated him. Did Chriſt ſuffer being tempted, till all the Temptation was ended; and muſt not we expect alſo to paſs all our Tryals, to go through the Hour of Temptation aſſign'd us?

2. He then quitted the Field, he departed from him, he ſaw it was to no Purpoſe to attack him; he had nothing in him for his fiery Darts to faſten upon; he had no blind Side, no weak or unguarded Part in his Wall, and therefore gave up the Cauſe. Note, If we reſiſt the Devil, he will flee from us.

3. Yet he continued his Malice againſt him, and departed with a Reſolution to attack him again; he departed but for a Seaſon, ἄχρι καιρȣ̃ till a Seaſon, or, till the Seaſon when he was again to be let looſe upon him, not as a Tempter, to draw him to Sin, and ſo to ſtrike at his Head, which was what he now aim'd at, and was wholly defeated in it; but as a Perſecutor, to bring him to ſuffer, by Judas, and the other wicked Inſtruments whom he employ'd, and ſo to bruiſe his Heel, which it was told him, Gen. 3. 15. he ſhould have power to do, and would do, tho' it would be the breaking of his own Head. He departed now, till that Seaſon came which Chriſt calls the Power of Darkneſs, Luke 22. 53. and when the Prince of this World would again come, John 14. 30.

14 ¶ And Jeſus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about. 15 And he taught in their ſynagogues, being glorified of all. 16 ¶ And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and, as his cuſtom was, he went into the ſynagogue on the ſabbath day, and ſtood up for to read. 17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Eſaias; and when he had opened the book, he found the place were it was written, 18 The ſpirit of the Lord is upon me, becauſe he hath anointed me to preach the goſpel to the poor, he hath ſent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of ſight to the blind, to ſet at liberty them that are bruiſed. 19 To preach the acceptable year of the Lord. 20 And he cloſed the book, and he gave it again to the miniſter, and ſat down: and the eyes of all them that were in the ſynagogue were faſtened on him. 21 And he began to ſay unto them, This day is this ſcripture fulfilled in your ears. 22 And all bare him witneſs, and wondred at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they ſaid, Is not this Joſeph's ſon? 23 And he ſaid unto them, Ye will ſurely ſay unto me this proverb, Phyſician, heal thy ſelf: whatſoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do alſo here in thy country. 24 And he ſaid, Verily I ſay unto you, No prophet is accepted in his own country. 25 But I tell you of a truth, Many widows were in Iſrael in the days of Elias, when the heaven was ſhut up three years and ſix months, when great famine was throughout all the land: 26 But unto none of them was Elias ſent, ſave unto Serepta, a city of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow. 27 And many lepers were in Iſrael in the time of Eliſeus the prophet: and none of them was cleanſed, ſaving Naaman the Syrian. 28 And all they in the ſynagogue, when they heard theſe things, were filled with wrath. 29 And roſe up, and thruſt him out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill (whereon their city was built) that they might caſt him down headlong. 30 But he paſſed through the midſt of them, went his way:

After Chriſt had vanquiſh'd the evil Spirit, he made it appear how much he was under the Influence of the good Spirit; and having defended himſelf againſt the Devil's Aſſaults, he now begins to act offenſively, and to make thoſe Attacks upon him by his Preaching and Miracles, which he could not reſiſt or repel. Obſerve,

1. What is here ſaid in general of his Preaching, and the Entertainment it met with in Galilee, a remote Part of the Country, diſtant from Jeruſalem; 'twas a Part of Chriſt's Humiliation that he began his Miniſtry there. But (1.) Thither he came in the Power of the Spirit: The ſame Spirit that qualified him for the Exerciſe of his Prophetical Office, ſtrongly inclin'd him to it. He was not to wait for a Call from Men, for he had Light and Life in himſelf. (2.) There he taught in their ſynagogues, their Places of publick Worſhip, where they met, not as in the Temple, for Ceremonial Services, but for the moral Acts of Devotion, to read and expound, and apply the Word, to pray and praiſe; and for Church Diſcipline; theſe came to be more frequented ſince the Captivity, when the Ceremonial Worſhip was near expiring. (3.) This he did ſo, as that he gain'd a great Reputation, a Fame of him went through all that Region, v. 14. and it was a good Fame; for v. 15. he was glorified of all: Every Body admir'd him, and cry'd him up, they never heard ſuch Preaching in all their Lives. Now at firſt he met with no Contempt, or Contradiction, all glorified him, and there were none as yet that vilified him.

2. Of his Preaching at Nazareth, the City where he was brought up, and the Entertainment it met with there. And here we are told, how he preach'd there, and how he was perſecuted

Firſt, How he preach'd there. And in that obſerve, (1.) The Opportunity he had for it. He came to Nazareth, when he had gain'd a Reputation in other Places, in Hopes that thereby ſomething, at leaſt, of the Contempt and Prejudice with which his Countrymen would look upon him, might be worn off. There he took Occaſion to preach (1.) In the Synagogue, the proper Place, where it had been his Cuſtom to attend, when he was a private Perſon, v. 16. We ought to attend on the publick Worſhip of God as we have Opportunity. But now he was enter'd upon his publick Miniſtry, there he preach'd. Where the Multitudes of Fiſh were, there this wiſe Fiſherman would caſt his Net. (2.) On the Sabbath-Day, the proper Time, which the pious Jews ſpent, not in a mere ceremonial Reſt from worldly Labour, but in the Duties of God's Worſhip, as of old they frequented the Schools of the Prophets, on the New Moons and the Sabbaths. Note, It is good to keep Sabbaths in ſolemn Aſſemblies.

(2.) The Call he had to it. (1.) He ſtood up for to read; they had in their Synagogues ſeven Readers every Sabbath, the firſt a Prieſt, the ſecond a Levite, and the other five Iſraelites of that Synagogue. We often find Chriſt preaching in other Synagogues, but never reading, but only in this Synagogue at Nazareth, of which he had been many Years a Member; now he offer'd his Service, as he had, perhaps, often done, he read one of the Leſſons out of the Prophets, Acts 13. 15. Note, Reading the Scriptures is very proper Work to be done in religious Aſſemblies; and Chriſt himſelf did not think it any Diſparagement to him to be employed in it. (2.) The Book of the Prophet Iſaias was deliver'd to him, either by the Ruler of the Synagogue, or by the Miniſter mentioned, v. 20. ſo that he was no Intruder, but duly authoriz'd pro hac vice. The ſecond Leſſon for that Day being in the Prophecy of Eſaias, they gave him that Volume to read in.

(3.) The Text he preach'd upon. He ſtood up to read, to teach us Reverence in reading and hearing the Word of God. When Ezra open'd the Book of the Law, all the People ſtood up, Neh. 8. 5. So did Chriſt here, when he read in the Book of the Prophets. Now the Book being deliver'd to him; (1.) He opened it. The Books of the Old Teſtament were in a Manner ſhut up, till Chriſt open'd them, Iſa. 29. 11. Worthy is the Lamb that was ſlain, to take the Book and open the Seals, for he can open, not the Book only, but the Underſtanding. (2.) He found the Place that was appointed to be read that Day in Courſe, which he needed not be directed to; he ſoon found it, ~~and~~ read it, and took it for his Text: Now his Text was taken out of Iſa. 61. 1, 2. which is here quoted at large, v. 18, 19. There was a Providence in it, that that Portion of Scripture ſhould be read that Day, which ſpeaks ſo very plainly of the Meſſiah, that they might be left inexcuſable, who knew him not, tho' they heard the Voices of the Prophets read every Sabbath Day, which bear Witneſs of him, Acts 13. 27. This Text gives a full Account of Chriſt's Undertaking, and the Work he came into the World to do. Obſerve,

1. How he was qualify'd for the Work; the Spirit of the Lord is upon me; all the Gifts and Graces of the Spirit were conferr'd upon him, not by Meaſure, as upon other Prophets, but without Meaſure, Joh. 3. 34. He now came, in the Power of the Spirit, v. 14.

2. How he was commiſſion'd, becauſe he has anointed me, and ſent me. And his extraordinary Qualification amounted to a Commiſſion; his being anointed ſignifies both his being fitted for the Undertaking, and called to it. Thoſe whom God appoints to any Service, he anoints for it; becauſe he hath ſent me, he hath ſent his Spirit along with me.

3. What his Work was; he was qualify'd and commiſſion'd,

1. To be a great Prophet, he was anointed to preach, that's three times mentioned here, for that was the Work he was now entering upon. Obſerve, (1.) To whom he was to preach; to the Poor; to thoſe that were poor in the World, whom the Jewiſh Doctors diſdain'd to undertake the Teaching of, and ſpoke of with Contempt. To thoſe that were poor in Spirit, to the Meek and Humble, and to thoſe that are truly ſorrowful for Sin. To them the Goſpel and the Grace of it will be welcome, and they ſhall have it, Mat. 11. 5. (2.) What he was to preach; in general, he muſt preach the Goſpel. He is ſent εὐαγγελίζεσθαι, to evangelize them: Not only to preach to them, but to make that Preaching effectual; to bring it not only to their Ears, but to their Hearts, and to deliver them into the Mold of it.

Three Things he is to preach;

1. Deliverance to the Captives; the Goſpel is a Proclamation of Liberty, like that to Iſrael in Egypt, in Babylon. By the Merit of Chriſt, Sinners may be looſed from the Bonds of Guilt, and by his Spirit and Grace, from the Bondage of Corruption. 'Tis a Deliverance from the worſt of Thraldoms, which all thoſe ſhall have the Benefit of, that are willing to make Chriſt their Head, and are willing to be ruled by him.

2. Recovering of Sight to the Blind; he came not only by the Word of his Goſpel to bring Light to them that ſate in the Dark; but by the Power of his Grace, to give Sight to them that were blind; not only the Gentile World, but every unregenerate Soul, that is not only in Bondage, but in Blindneſs, like Sampſon and Zedekiah. Chriſt came to tell us that he has Eye-Salve for us, which we may have for the asking, That if our Prayer be, Lord that our Eyes may be opened, his Anſwer ſhall be, Receive your Sight.

3. The acceptable Year of the Lord, v. 19. He came to let the World know, that the God whom they had offended, was willing to be reconcil'd to them, and to accept of them upon new Terms; that there was yet a Way of making their Services acceptable to him; that there is now a Time of Good-will towards Men. It alludes to the Year of Releaſe, or that of Jubilee, which was an acceptable Year to Servants, that were then ſet at Liberty, to Debtors, againſt whom all Actions then drop'd, and to thoſe who had mortgag'd their Lands, for then they return'd to them again. Chriſt came to ſound the Jubilee Trumpet, and bleſſed were they that heard the joyful Sound, Pſal. 89. 15. 'twas an accepted Time, for it was a Day of Salvation.

2. Chriſt came to be a great Phyſician, for he was ſent to heal the broken hearted, to comfort and cure afflicted Conſciences, and to give Peace to thoſe that were troubled and humbled for Sins, and under a Dread of God's Wrath againſt them for them; and to bring them to Reſt, who were weary and heavy laden, under the Burthen of Guilt and Corruption.

3. To be a great Redeemer, he not only proclaims Liberty to the Captives, as Cyrus did to the Jews in Babylon, whoever will may go up; but he ſets at Liberty them that are bruiſed, he doth by his Spirit incline and enable them to make uſe of the Liberty granted, as then none did, but thoſe whoſe Spirits God ſtirred up, Ezra 1. 5. He came in God's Name to diſcharge poor Sinners, that were Debtors and Priſoners to Divine Juſtice; the Prophets could but proclaim Liberty, but Chriſt, as one having Authority, as one that had Power on Earth to forgive Sins, came to ſet at Liberty, and therefore this Clauſe is added here; and Dr. Lightfoot thinks, that according to a Liberty the Jews allow'd their Readers, to compare Scripture with Scripture in their Reading, for the Explication of the Text, Chriſt added it from Iſa. 58. 6. where it is made the Duty of the acceptable Year, to let the Oppreſſed go free, where the Phraſe the LXX uſe, is the ſame with this here.

(4.) Here is Chriſt's Application of this Text to himſelf, v. 21. When he had read it, he rolled up the Book, and gave it again to the Miniſter or Clark that attended, and ſate down, according to the Cuſtom of the Jewiſh Teachers; he ſate daily in the Temple teaching, Mat. 26. 55. Now he began his Diſcourſe thus, This Day is this Scripture fulfilled in your Ears. This which Iſaiah wrote by way of Propheſy, I have now read to you by way of Hiſtory. It now began to be fulfilled in Chriſt's Entrance upon his publick Miniſtry. Now, in the Report they heard of his Preaching and Miracles in other Places; now, in his Preaching to them in their own Synagogue. 'Tis more probable Chriſt went on, and ſhew'd particularly how this Scripture was fulfilled, in the Doctrine he preach'd concerning the Kingdom of Heaven at Hand, that that was preaching Liberty, and Sight, and Healing, and all the Bleſſings of the exceptable Year of the Lord; many other gracious Words proceeded out of his Mouth, which theſe were but the Beginning of; for Chriſt often preach'd long Sermons, which we have but a ſhort Account of. This was enough to introduce a great deal, This Day is this Scripture fulfilled. Note, 1. All the Scriptures of the Old Teſtament, that were to be fulfilled in the Meſſiah, had their full Accompliſhment in the Lord Jeſus, which abundantly proves that this was he that ſhould come. 2. In the Providences of God, it is fit to obſerve the fulfilling of the Scriptures. The Works of God are not only the Accompliſhment of his ſecret Word, but of his Word reveal'd; and it will help us to underſtand both the Scriptures, and the Providences of God, to compare them one with another.

(5.) Here's the Attention and Admiration of the Auditors.

1. Their Attention, v. 20. The Eyes of all them that were in the Synagogue, and probably there were a great many, were faſten'd on him, big with Expectation what he would ſay, having heard ſo much of late concerning him. Note, It is good in hearing the Word, to keep the Eye fix'd upon the Miniſter, by whom God is ſpeaking to us; for as the Eye affects the Heart, ſo uſually the Heart follows the Eye, and is wandering or fix'd as that is. Or rather, let us learn hence, to keep the Eye fix'd upon Chriſt ſpeaking to us in and by the Miniſter. What ſaith my Lord unto his Servants?

2. Their Admiration, v. 22. They all bare him Witneſs, that he ſpoke admirably well, and to the Purpoſe; they all commended him, and wonder'd at the gracious Words that proceeded out of his Mouth; and yet, as appears by what follows, they did not believe in him. Note, It is poſſible, that thoſe who are Admirers of good Miniſters and good Preaching, may yet be themſelves no true Chriſtians. Obſerve (1.) What it was they admir'd; the gracious Words which proceeded out of his Mouth. The Words of Grace; good Words, and ſpoken in a winning, melting way. Note, Chriſt's Words are Words of Grace, for Grace being pour'd into his Lips, Pſal. 45. 2. Words of Grace pour'd from them; and theſe Words of Grace are to be wonder'd at; Chriſt's Name was Wonderful, and in nothing was he more ſo, than in his Grace, in the Words of his Grace, and the Power that went along with thoſe Words. We may well wonder that he ſhould ſpeak ſuch Words of Grace to ſuch graceleſs Wretches as we are. (2.) What it was that encreas'd their Wonder; and that was, the Conſideration of his Original; they ſaid, is not this Joſeph's Son? and therefore his Extraction mean, and his Education mean. Some from this Suggeſtion took Occaſion perhaps ſo much the more to admire his gracious Words, concluding he muſt needs be taught of God, for they knew no one elſe had taught him; while others perhaps with this Conſideration corrected their Wonder at his gracious Words, and concluded there could be nothing really admirable in them, whatever appear'd, becauſe he was the Son of Joſeph. Can any Thing great, or worthy our Regard, come from one ſo mean?

(6.) Chriſt's anticipating an Objection, which he knew to be in the Minds of many of his Hearers. Obſerve

1. What the Objection was, v. 23. Ye will ſurely ſay to me, Phyſician heal thy ſelf, i. e. Becauſe ye know that I am the Son of Joſeph, your Neighbour, you will expect that I ſhould work Miracles among you, as I have done in other Places; as one wou'd expect that a Phyſician, if he be able, ſhould heal not only himſelf, but thoſe of his own Family and Fraternity. Moſt of Chriſt's Miracles were Cures, now why ſhould not the Sick in thine own City be heal'd, as well as thoſe in other Cities? They were deſign'd to cure People of their Unbelief, now why ſhould not the Diſeaſe of Unbelief, if it be indeed a Diſeaſe, be cur'd in thoſe of thine own City, as well as in thoſe of others? Whatſoever we have heard done in Capernaum, that has been ſo much talk'd of, do here alſo in thine own Country. They were pleas'd with Chriſt's gracious Words, only becauſe they hoped they were but the Introduction to ſome wondrous Works of his; they wanted to have their lame, and blind, and ſick, and lepers heal'd and help'd, that the Charge of their Town might be eas'd; and that was the chief thing they look'd at. They thought their own Town as worthy to be the Stage of Miracles as any others; and why ſhould not he rather draw Company to that, than to any other? And why ſhould not his Neighbours and Acquaintance have the Benefit of his preaching and Miracles, rather than any other?

2. How he anſwers this Objection againſt the Courſe he took.

1. By a plain and poſitive Reaſon why he wou'd not make Nazareth his Head-Quarters, v. 24. becauſe it generally holds true, That no Prophet is accepted in his own Country, at leaſt not ſo well, nor with ſuch Probability of doing good, as in ſome other Country; Experience ſeals to this. When Prophets have been ſent with Meſſages and Miracles of Mercy, few of their own Countrymen, that have known their Extraction and Education have been fit to receive them: So Dr. Hammond. Familiarity breeds Contempt; and we are apt to think meanly of thoſe whoſe Converſation we have been accuſtomed to; and they will ſcarce be duly honour'd as Prophets, who were well known when they were in the Rank of private Men. That is moſt eſteem'd that is far fetch'd and dear bought, above what is home bred, tho' really more excellent. This ariſeth likewiſe from the Envy which Neighbours commonly have towards one another, ſo that they cannot endure to ſee him their Superior, whom a while ago they took to be every Way their Inferior. For this Reaſon, Chriſt declin'd working of Miracles or doing any Thing extraordinary at Nazareth, becauſe of the rooted Prejudices they had againſt him there.

2. By pertinent Examples of two of the moſt famous Prophets of the Old Teſtament, who choſe to diſpenſe their Favours among Foreigners, rather than among their own Countrymen, and that no doubt by divine Direction.

1. Elijah maintain'd a Widow of Sarepta, a City of Sidon, one that was a Stranger to the Commonwealth of Iſrael, when there was a Famine in the Land, v. 25, 26. The Story we have 1 King. 17. 9. It is ſaid here, that the Heaven was ſhut up three Years and ſix Months, whereas it is ſaid, 1 King. 18. 1. that in the third Year Elijah ſhew'd himſelf to Ahab, and there was Rain; but that was not the third Year of the Drought, but the third Year of Elijah's ſojourning with the Widow at Sarepta. As God would hereby ſhow himſelf a Father to the Fatherleſs, and a Judge of the Widows, ſo he would ſhew, that he was rich in Mercy to all, even to the Gentiles.

2. Eliſha cleans'd Naaman the Syrian of his Leproſy, tho' he was a Syrian, and not only a Foreigner, but an Enemy to Iſrael, v. 27. Many Lepers were in Iſrael in the Days of Elizeus, four particularly, that brought the News of the Syrians raiſing the Siege of Samaria with Precipitation, and leaving the Plunder of their Tents to enrich Samaria, when Eliſha was himſelf in the beſieg'd City, and this was the Accompliſhment of his Prophecy too, ſee 2 King. 7. 1, 3, &c. And yet we do not find that Eliſha cleans'd them, no, not for a Reward of their Service, and the good Tidings they brought, but only this Syrian, for none but he had Faith to apply himſelf to the Prophet for a Cure. Chriſt himſelf often met with greater Faith among the Gentiles than in Iſrael. And here he mentions both theſe Inſtances, to ſhew, that he did not diſpence the Favour of his Miracles by private Reſpects, but according to God's wiſe Appointment. And the People of Iſrael might as juſtly have ſaid to Elijah or Eliſha, as the Nazarenes to Chriſt, Phyſician heal thy ſelf; nay, Chriſt wrought his Miracles, tho' not among his Townſmen, yet among Iſraelites; whereas theſe great Prophets wrought theirs among the Gentiles. The Examples of the Saints, tho' they will not make a bad Action good, yet will help to free a good Action from the Blame of exceptious People.

Secondly, How he was perſecuted at Nazareth.

1. That which provok'd them was, his taking Notice of the Favour which God by Elijah and Eliſha ſhew'd to the Gentiles. When they heard theſe Things they were filled with Wrath, v. 28. they were all ſo; a great Change ſince, v. 22. when they wonder'd at the gracious Words that proceeded out of his Mouth; thus uncertain are the Opinions and Affections of the Multitude, and ſo very fickle. If they had mix'd Faith with thoſe gracious Words of Chriſt, which they wonder'd at, they would have been awaken'd by theſe latter Words of his, to take Heed of ſinning away their Opportunities; but thoſe only pleas'd the Ear, and went no farther, and therefore theſe grated on the Ear, and irritated their Corruptions. They were angry that he ſhould compare himſelf, whom they knew to be the Son of Joſeph, with thoſe great Prophets, and compare them with the Men of that corrupt Age, when all had bow'd the Knee to Baal. But that which eſpecially exaſperated them was, that he intimated ſome Kindneſs God had in Reſerve for the Gentiles, which the Jews could by no means bear the Thoughts of; Acts 22. 21. Their pious Anceſtors pleas'd themſelves with the Hopes of adding the Gentiles to the Church, witneſs many of David's Pſalms, and Iſaiah's Propheſies; but this degenerate Race, when they had forfeited the Covenant themſelves, hated to think that any others ſhould be taken in.

2. They were provok'd to that Degree, that they made an Attempt upon his Life. This was a ſevere Trial, now at his ſetting out, but a Specimen of the Uſage he met with, when he came to his own and they receiv'd him not. (1.) They roſe up in a tumultuous Manner againſt him, interrupted him in his Diſcourſe, and themſelves in their Devotions, for they could not ſtay till their Synagogue Worſhip was over. (2.) They thruſt him out of the City, as one not worthy to have a Reſidence among them, tho' there he had had a Settlement ſo long. They thruſt from them the Saviour and the Salvation, as if he had been the Off-ſcouring of all Things. How juſtly might he have call'd for Fire from Heaven upon them, but this was the Day of his Patience. (3.) They led him to the Brow of the Hill, with a Purpoſe to throw him down Head-long, as one not fit to live. Tho' they knew how inoffenſively he had for ſo many Years liv'd among them, how ſhining his Converſation had been, tho' they had heard ſuch a Fame of him, and had but juſt now themſelves admir'd his gracious Words, tho' in Juſtice he ought to have been allow'd a fair Hearing, and Liberty to explain himſelf, yet they hurry'd him away in a popular Fury or Frenzy rather, to put him to Death in a moſt barbarous Manner. Sometimes they were ready to ſtone him for the good Works he did, Joh. 10. 32. here, for not doing the good Works they expected from him. To ſuch a Height of Wickedneſs was Violence ſprung up.

3. Yet he eſcap'd, becauſe his Hour was not yet come. He paſſed through the midſt of them unhurt; either he blinded their Eyes, as the Sodomites and Syrians were, or he bound their Hands or fill'd them with Confuſion, ſo that they could not do what they deſign'd; for his Work was not done, 'twas but juſt begun; his Hour was not yet come, when it was come he freely ſurrender'd himſelf. They drove him from them, and he went his Way. He would have gather'd Nazareth, but they would not, and therefore their Houſe is left to them deſolate. This added to the Reproach of his being Jeſus of Nazareth, that not only it was a Place whence no good Thing was expected, but that it was ſuch a wicked, rude Place, and ſo unkind to him. Yet there was a Providence in it, that he ſhould not be much reſpected by the Men of Nazareth, for that would have look'd like a Colluſion between him and his old Acquaintance; but now tho' they reciev'd him not, there were thoſe that did.

31 And he came down to Capernaum a city of Galilee, and taught them on the ſabbath-days. 32 And they were aſtoniſhed at his doctrine: for his word was with power. 33 ¶ And in the ſynagogue there was a man which had a ſpirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice, 34 Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jeſus of Nazareth? art thou come to deſtroy us? I know thee who thou art; the holy one of God. 35 And Jeſus rebuked him, ſaying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the Devil had thrown him in the mids, he came out of him, and hurt him not. 36 And they were all amazed, and ſpake among themſelves, ſaying, What a word is this? for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean ſpirits, and they come out. 37 And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about. 38 ¶ And he aroſe out of the ſynagogue, and entred into Simons houſe: now Simons wives mother was taken with a great fever; and they beſought him for her. 39 And he ſtood over her, and rebuked the fever, and it left her. And immediately ſhe aroſe and miniſtred unto them. 40 ¶ Now when the ſun was ſetting, all they that had any ſick with divers diſeaſes, brought them unto him: and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them. 41 And devils came out of many, crying out, and ſaying, Thou art Chriſt the Son of God. And he rebuking them, ſuffered them not to ſpeak: for they knew that he was Chriſt. 42 And when it was day, he departed, and went into a deſert place: and the people ſought him, and came unto him, and ſtayed him, that he ſhould not depart from them. 43 And he ſaid unto them, I muſt preach the kingdom of God to other cities alſo: for therefore am I ſent. 44 And he preached in the ſynagogues of Galilee.

When Chriſt was expell'd Nazareth, he came to Capernaum, another City of Galilee; the Account we have in theſe Verſes, of his Preaching and Miracles there, we had before, Mark 1. 21. &c. Obſerve,

1. His Preaching. He taught them on the Sabbath-Days, v. 31. In hearing the Word preach'd, as an Ordinance of God, we worſhip God, and it is a proper Work for Sabbath-Days. Chriſt's Preaching much affected People, v. 31. they were aſtoniſh'd at his Doctrine, there was Weight in every Word he ſaid, and admirable Diſcoveries were made to them by it. The Doctrine it ſelf was aſtoniſhing, and not only as it came from one that had not had a liberal Education; his Word was with Power: There was a commanding Force in it, and a working Power went along with it to the Conſciences of Men. The Doctrine Paul preach'd, hereby prov'd itſelf to be of God, that it came in Demonſtration of the Spirit and of Power.

2. His Miracles. Of theſe we have here

1. Two particularly inſtanc'd in, ſhewing Chriſt to be

1. A Controller and Conqueror of Satan, in the World of Mankind, and in the Souls of People, by his Power to caſt them out of the Bodies of thoſe he had taken Poſſeſſion of; for for this Purpoſe was he manifeſted, that he might deſtroy the Works of the Devil.

Obſerve, (1.) The Devil is an unclean Spirit, his Nature directly contrary to that of the pure and holy God, and degenerated from what it was at firſt. (2.) This unclean Spirit works in the Children of Men; in the Souls of many, as then in Men's Bodies. (3.) It is poſſible, that thoſe who are very much under the Power and Working of Satan, may yet be found in the Synagogue among the Worſhippers of God. (4.) Even the Devils know and believe that Jeſus Chriſt is the Holy one of God, is ſent of God, and is a Holy one. (5.) They believe and tremble; this unclean Spirit cry'd out with a loud Voice, under a certain fearful looking for of Judgment, and apprehenſive that Chriſt was now come to deſtroy him. Unclean Spirits are ſubject to continual Frights. (6.) The Devils have nothing to do with Jeſus Chriſt, nor deſire to have any Thing to do with him, for he took not on him the Nature of Angels. (7.) Chriſt has the Devil under Check; he rebuk'd him, ſaying, Hold thy Peace, and this Word he ſpake with Power, Φιμώθητι, be muzzel'd; Chriſt did not only enjoin him Silence, but ſtopt his Mouth, and forc'd him to be ſilent againſt his Will. (8.) In the breaking of Satan's Power, both the Enemy that's conquer'd ſhews his Malice, and Chriſt the Conqueror ſhews his over-ruling Grace. Here (1.) The Devil ſhew'd what he would have done, when he threw the Man in the midſt, with Force and Fury, as if he would have daſh'd him to Pieces. But (2.) Chriſt ſhew'd what a Power he had over him, in that he not only forc'd him to leave him, but to leave him without ſo much as hurting him, without giving him a parting Blow, a parting Gripe. Whom Satan cannot deſtroy, he will do all the Hurt he can to; but this is a Comfort, he can harm them no farther than Chriſt permits; nay, he ſhall not do them any real Harm. He came out and hurt him not, i. e. the poor Man was perfectly well in an Inſtant, tho' the Devil left him with ſo much Rage, that all that were preſent thought he had torn him to Pieces. (9.) Chriſt's Power over Devils was univerſally acknowledg'd and ador'd, v. 36. No one doubted of the Truth of the Miracle, 'twas evident beyond Contradiction, nor was any Thing ſuggeſted to diminiſh the Glory of it, for they were all amaz'd, ſaying, What a Word is this! They that pretended to caſt out Devils, did it with Abundance of Charms and Spells, to pacify the Devil, and lull him aſleep as it were; but Chriſt commanded them with Authority and Power, which they could not gainſay or reſiſt. Even the Prince of the Power of the Air is his Vaſſal, and trembles before him. (10.) This, as much as any Thing, gain'd Chriſt a Reputation, and ſpread his Fame. This Inſtance of his Power, which many now-a-days make light of, was then, by them that were Eye-Witneſſes of it, and thoſe no Fools neither, but Men of Penetration, magnify'd, and was look'd upon as greatly magnifying him, v. 37. upon the Account of this, the Fame of him went out more than ever, into every Place of the Country round about. Our Lord Jeſus when he ſet out at firſt in his publick Miniſtry, was mightily talk'd of, more than afterwards, when Peoples Admiration wore off with the Novelty of the Thing.

2. Chriſt ſhew'd himſelf to be a Healer of Diſeaſes; in the former he ſtruck at the Root of Man's Miſery, which was Satan's Enmity, the Origin of all the Miſchief: In this he ſtrikes at one of the moſt ſpreading Branches of it, one of the moſt common Calamities of human Life, and that is, Bodily Diſeaſes, which came in with Sin, are the moſt common and ſenſible Corrections for it in this Life, and contribute as much as any Thing towards the making our few Days full of Trouble. Theſe our Lord Jeſus came to take away the Sting of, and as an Indication of that Intention, when he was on Earth, choſe to confirm his Doctrine by ſuch Miracles moſtly, as took away the Diſeaſes themſelves. Of all bodily Diſeaſes none more common or fatal to grown People, than Fevers, theſe come ſuddenly, and ſuddenly cut off the Number of Mens Months in the midſt; are ſometimes Epidemical, and ſlay their Thouſands in a little Time. Now here we have Chriſt's curing of a Fever, with a Word ſpeaking; the Place was in Simon's Houſe, his Patient was Simon's Wife's Mother, v. 38, 39. Obſerve (1.) Chriſt is a Gueſt that will pay well for his Entertainment; thoſe that bid him welcome into their Hearts and Houſes, ſhall be no Loſers by him; he comes with healing. (2.) Even Families that Chriſt viſits, yet may be viſited with Sickneſs. Houſes that are bleſs'd with his diſtinguiſhing Favours, yet are liable to the common Calamities of this Life. Simon's Wife's Mother was ill of a Fever; Lord behold he whom thou loveſt is ſick. (3.) Even good People may ſometimes be exercis'd with the ſharpeſt Afflictions, mor grievous than others; ſhe was taken with a great Fever, very acute, and high, and threatning; perhaps it ſeiz'd her Head, and made her delirious. The moſt gentle Fevers may by Degrees prove dangerous, but this was at firſt a great Fever. (4.) No Age can exempt from Diſeaſes. 'Tis likely Peter's Mother-in-law was in Years, and yet in a Fever. (5.) When our Relations are ſick, we ought to apply ourſelves to Chriſt by Faith and Prayer on their Account. They beſought him for her; and there is a particular Promiſe, that the Prayer of Faith ſhall benefit the Sick. (6.) Chriſt has a tender Concern for his People, when they are in Sickneſs and Diſtreſs; he ſtood over her, as one concern'd for her, and compaſſionating her Caſe. (7.) Chriſt had and ſtill has, a ſovereign Power over bodily Diſeaſes, he rebuked the Fever, and with a Word ſpeaking commanding it away, and it left her. He ſaith to Diſeaſes, Go, and they go, come, and they come; and can ſtill rebuke Fevers, even great Fevers. (8.) This proves Chriſt's Cures to be miraculous, that they were done in a Inſtant, immediately ſhe aroſe. (9.) Where Chriſt gives a new Life, in Recovery from Sickneſs, he deſigns and expects that it ſhou'd be a new Life indeed, ſpent more than ever in his Service, to his Glory. If Diſtempers be rebuk'd, and we ariſe from a Bed of Sickneſs, we muſt ſet ourſelves to miniſter to Jeſus Chriſt. (10.) Thoſe that miniſter to Chriſt, muſt be ready to miniſter to all that are his, for his Sake. She miniſter'd to them, not only to him that had cur'd her, but to them that had beſought him for her. We muſt ſtudy to be grateful to them that have pray'd for us.

2. A general Account given by wholeſale, of many other Miracles of the ſame Kind, which Chriſt did.

1. He cur'd many that were diſeaſed, even all without Exception that made their Application to him, v. 40. 'Twas when the Sun was ſetting, v. 40. in the Evening of that Sabbath Day which he had ſpent in the Synagogue. Note, It's good to do a full Sabbath Day's Work, to abound in the Work of the Day, in ſome good Work or other, even 'till Sun ſet; as thoſe that call the Sabbath and the Buſineſs of it, a Delight. Obſerve, he cur'd all that were ſick, Poor as well as Rich, and tho' they were ſick of divers Diſeaſes; ſo that there was no Room to ſuſpect that he had only a Specifick for ſome one Diſeaſe; he had a Remedy for every Malady. The Sign he us'd in healing was, laying his Hands on the Sick; not lifting up his Hands for them, for he heal'd as having Authority. He heal'd by his own Power. And thus he would put Honour upon that Sign which was afterwards us'd in conferring the Holy Ghoſt.

2. He caſt the Devil out of many that were poſſeſs'd, v. 41. Confeſſions were extorted from the Demoniacks, they ſaid, Thou art Chriſt the Son of God, but they ſaid it crying with Rage and Indignation, 'twas a Confeſſion upon the Rack, and therefore was not admitted in Evidence; Chriſt rebuked them, and did not ſuffer them to ſay, that they knew him to be the Chriſt, that it might appear beyond all Contradiction, that he had obtain'd a Conqueſt over them, and not a Compact with them.

3. Here is his Removal from Capernaum, v. 42, 43.

1. He retir'd for a while into a Place of Solitude; 'twas but a little while that he allow'd himſelf for Sleep; not only becauſe a little ſerv'd him, but becauſe he was content with a little, and never indulg'd himſelf in Eaſe; but when it was Day he went into a Deſart Place; not to live conſtantly like an Hermite; but to be ſometimes alone with God, as even thoſe ſhould be, and contrive to be, that are moſt engag'd in publick Work, or elſe their Work will go on but poorly, and they will find themſelves never leſs alone, than when thus alone.

2. He return'd again to the Places of Concourſe, and to the Work he had to do there. Tho' a Deſart Place may be a convenient Retreat, yet it is not a convenient Reſidence, becauſe we were not ſent into this World to live to ourſelves, no not to the beſt Part of ourſelves only, but to glorify God, and do good in our Generation.

1. He was extremely courted to Capernaum again. The People were mighty fond of him, I doubt more becauſe he had heal'd their Sick, than becauſe he had preach'd Repentance to them; they ſought him, enquir'd which Way he went, and tho' it was in a Deſart Place, they came unto him. A Deſart is no Deſart, if we be with Chriſt there; and they ſtay'd him, that he ſhould not depart from them, ſo that if he wou'd go, it ſhould not be for Want of Invitation. His old Neighbours at Nazareth, had driven him from them, but his new Acquaintance at Capernaum were very importunate for his Continuance with them. Note, It ought not to diſcourage the Miniſters of Chriſt, that ſome reject them, for they will meet with others, that will welcome them and their Meſſage.

2. He choſe rather to diffuſe the Light of his Goſpel to many Places, than to fix it to one, that no one might pretend to be a Mother Church to the reſt. Tho' he was welcome at Capernaum, and had done abundance of good there, yet he is ſent to preach the Goſpel to other Cities alſo; and Capernaum muſt not inſiſt upon his Stay there. They that enjoy the Benefit of the Goſpel, muſt be willing that others alſo ſhould ſhare in that Benefit, and not covet the Monopoly of it. And thoſe Miniſters who are not driven from one Place, may yet be drawn to another, by a Proſpect of greater Uſefulneſs. Chriſt, tho' he preach'd not in vain in the Synagogue at Capernaum, yet wou'd not be ty'd to that, but preach'd in the Synagogues of Galilee, v. 44. Bonum eſt ſui diffuſivum. 'Tis well for us, that our Lord Jeſus has not ty'd himſelf to any one Place or People, but wherever two or three are gather'd in his Name, he will be in the midſt of them: And even in Galilee of the Gentiles, his ſpecial Preſence is in the Chriſtian Synagogues.

CHAP. V.

In this Chapter we have, (1.) Chriſt's preaching to the People out of Peter's Ship, for want of a better Pulpit, v. 1,---3. (2.) The Recompence he made to Peter for the Loan of his Boat, in a miraculous Draught of Fiſhes; by which he intimated to him and his Partners his Deſign to make them as Apoſtles, Fiſhers of Men, v. 4, 11. (3.) His cleanſing the Leper, v. 12,---15. (4.) A ſhort Account of his private Devotion, and publick Miniſtry, v. 16, 17. (5.) His Cure of the Man ſick of the Palſy, v. 18, 26. (6.) His calling Levi the Publican, and converſing with Publicans on that Occaſion, v. 27,---32. (4.) His juſtifying his Diſciples, in not faſting ſo frequently as the Diſciples of John and the Phariſees did, v. 33, ad fin.

1 AND it came to paſs, that as the people preſſed upon him to hear the word of God, he ſtood by the lake of Genneſareth, 2 And ſaw two ſhips ſtanding by the lake: but the fiſhermen were gone out of them, and were waſhing their nets. 3 And he entered into one of the ſhips, which was Simons, and prayed him that he would thruſt a little out from the land: and he ſat down, and taught the people out of the ſhip. 4 Now when he had left ſpeaking, he ſaid unto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught. 5 And Simon anſwering ſaid unto him, Maſter, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: Nevertheleſs at thy word I will let down the net. 6 And when they had this done, they encloſed a great multitude of fiſhes; and their net brake. 7 And they beckened unto their partners which were in the other ſhip, that they ſhould come and help them. And they came and filled both the ſhips, ſo that they began to ſink. 8 When Simon Peter ſaw it, he fell down at Jeſus knees, ſaying, Depart from me, for I am a ſinful man, O Lord. 9 For he was aſtoniſhed, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fiſhes which they had taken: 10 And ſo was alſo James and John the ſons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jeſus ſaid unto Simon, Fear not; from henceforth thou ſhalt catch men. 11 And when they had brought their ſhips to land, they forſook all, and followed him.

This Paſſage of Story, fell in Order of Time, before the two Miracles we had in the Cloſe of the foregoing Chapter, and is the ſame with that which was more briefly related by Matthew and Mark, of Chriſt's calling Peter and Andrew to be Fiſhers of Men, Mat. 4. 18. and Mark 1. 16. They had not related this miraculous Draught of Fiſhes at that Time, having only in View the Calling of his Diſciples, but Luke gives us that Story, as one of the many Signs which Jeſus did in the Preſence of his Diſciples, which had not been written in the foregoing Books, Joh. 20. 30, 31. Obſerve here

1. What vaſt Crowds attended Chriſt's Preaching; the People preſſed upon him to hear the Word of God, v. 1. Inſomuch that no Houſe would contain them; but he was forc'd to draw them out to the Strand, that they might be minded of the Promiſe made to Abraham, that his Seed ſhould be as the Sand upon the Sea-Shore, Gen. 22. 17. and yet of them but a Remnant ſhall be ſaved, Rom. 9. 27. The People flock'd about him, ſo the Word ſignifies; they ſhow'd Reſpect to his Preaching; tho' not without ſome Rudeneſs to his Perſon, which was very excuſable, for they preſs'd upon him. Some wou'd reckon this a Diminution to him, to be thus cry'd up by the Vulgar, when none of the Rulers or of the Phariſees believed on him; but he reckoned it an Honour to him, for their Souls were as precious as the Souls of the Grandees; and it is his Aim to bring not ſo much the Mighty as the many Sons to God; and it was foretold concerning him, that to him ſhould the gathering of the People be. Chriſt was a popular Preacher, and tho' he was able at twelve to diſpute with the Doctors, yet he choſe at thirty to preach to the Capacity of the Vulgar. See how the People reliſh'd good Preaching, tho' under all external Diſadvantages; they preſs'd to hear the Word of God; they could perceive it to be the Word of God, by the Divine Power and Evidence that went along with it, and therefore they coveted to hear it.

2. What poor Conveniencies Chriſt had for preaching, he ſtood by the Lake of Genneſareth, v. 1. upon the Level with the Crowd, ſo that they could not ſee him, or hear him; he was loſt among them, and every one ſtriving to get near him, he was crowded, and in Danger of being crowded into the Water. What muſt he do? It doth not appear that his Hearers had any Contrivance to give him Advantage, but there were two Ships or Fiſher-Boats brought to Shore, one belong'd to Simon and Andrew, the other to Zebedee and his Sons, v. 2. At firſt Chriſt ſaw Peter and Andrew Fiſhing at ſome Diſtance, ſo Matthew tells us, chap. 4. 18. but he waited till they came to Land, and till the Fiſhermen, that is, the Servants, were gone out of them, having waſh'd their Nets and thrown them by for that Time; ſo Chriſt enter'd into that Ship that belong'd to Simon, and beg'd of him, that he would lend it him for a Pulpit; and tho' he might have commanded him, yet for Love's Sake he rather pray'd him that he would thruſt out a little from the Land, which would be the worſe for his being heard, but Chriſt would have it ſo, that he might the better be ſeen; and it is his being lifted up that draws Men to him. Wiſdom cries in the Top of High Places, Prov. 8. 2. It intimates, that Chriſt had a ſtrong Voice, ſtrong indeed, for he made the Dead to hear it, and that he did not deſire to favour himſelf. There he ſate down and taught the People the good Knowledge of the Lord.

3. What a particular Acquaintance Chriſt hereupon fell into with theſe Fiſhermen. They had had ſome Converſation with him before, which began at John's Baptiſm, Joh. 1. 40, 41. they were with him at Cana of Galilee, Joh. 2. 2. and in Judea, Joh. 4. 2. but as yet they were not call'd to attend him conſtantly, and therefore here we have them at their Calling; and now it was that they were called into a more intimate Fellowſhip with Chriſt.

1. When Chriſt had done preaching, he order'd Peter to apply himſelf to the Buſineſs of his Calling again. Launch out into the Deep, and let down your Nets, v. 4. It was not the Sabbath-day, and therefore as ſoon as the Lecture was over, he ſet them to Work. Time ſpent on Week-Days in the publick Exerciſes of Religion, may be but little Hindrance to us in Time, and a great Furtherance to us in Temper of Mind, in our worldly Buſineſs. With what Chearfulneſs may we go about the Duties of our Calling, when we have been in the Mount with God, and from thence fetch a double Bleſſing into our worldly Employments, and thus have them ſanctified to us, by the Word and Prayer. It is our Wiſdom and Duty, ſo to manage our Religious Exerciſes, as that they may befriend our worldly Buſineſs, and ſo to manage our worldly Buſineſs, as that it may be no Enemy to our Religious Exerciſes.

2. Peter having attended upon Chriſt in his Preaching, Chriſt will accompany him in his Fiſhing; he ſtaid with Chriſt at the Shore, and now Chriſt will launch out with him into the Deep. Note, Thoſe that will be conſtant Followers of Chriſt, ſhall have him a conſtant Guide to them.

3. Chriſt orders Peter and his Ships Crew to caſt their Nets into the Sea, which they do in Obedience to him, tho' they had been hard at it all Night, and had caught nothing, v. 4, 5.

We may obſerve here

1. How melancholy their Buſineſs had now been. Maſter we have toiled all the Night, when we ſhou'd have been aſleep in our Bed, and have taken nothing, but have had our Labour for our

Pains; one wou'd have thought, that ſhould have excus'd them from hearing the Sermon, but ſuch a Love had they to the Word of God, that it was more refreſhing and reviving to them after a weariſom Night, than the ſofteſt Slumbers. But they mention it to Chriſt when he bids them go a Fiſhing again. Note, (1.) Some Callings are much more toilſom than others are, and more perillous; yet Providence has ſo order'd it for the common Good, that there is no uſeful Calling ſo diſcouraging, but ſome or other have a Genius for it. Thoſe that follow their Buſineſs, and yet abundance by it, with a great deal of Eaſe, ſhou'd think with Compaſſion of thoſe who cannot follow theirs, but with a great Fatigue, and hardly get a bare Livelihood by it. When we have reſted all Night, let us not forget thoſe who have toiled all Night, as Jacob when he kept Laban's Sheep. (2.) Be the Calling never ſo laborious, 'tis good to ſee People diligent in it, and make the beſt of it: Theſe Fiſhermen that were thus induſtrious, Chriſt ſingled out for his Favourites. They were fit to be preferr'd as good Soldiers of Jeſus Chriſt, that had thus learn'd to endure Hardneſs. (3.) Even thoſe that are moſt diligent in their Buſineſs, yet often meet with Diſappointments; they that toil'd all Night yet caught nothing; for the Race is not always to the ſwift. God will have us to be diligent, purely in Duty to his Command, and Dependance upon his Goodneſs, rather than with an Aſſurance of worldly Succeſs. We muſt do our Duty, and then leave the Event to God. (4.) When we are tir'd with our worldly Buſineſs, and croſs'd in our worldly Affairs, we are welcome to come to Chriſt and ſpread our Caſe before him, who will take Cognizance of it.

2. How ready their Obedience was to the Command of Chriſt, Nevertheleſs at thy Word I will let down the Net. 1. Tho' they had toil'd all Night, yet if Chriſt bid them, they will renew their Toil, for they know, that they that wait on him ſhall renew their Strength, as Work is renew'd upon their Hands; for every freſh Service, they ſhall have a freſh Supply of Grace ſufficient. 2. Tho' they have taken nothing, yet if Chriſt bid them let down for a Draught, they will hope to take ſomething. Note, We muſt not preſently quit the Callings wherewith we are called, becauſe we have not the Succeſs in them we promis'd our ſelves. The Miniſters of the Goſpel muſt continue to let down that Net, tho' they have perhaps toil'd long and caught nothing; and this is thank-worthy, to continue unwearied in our Labours, tho' we ſee not the Succeſs of them. 3. In this they have an Eye to the Word of Chriſt, and a Dependance upon that; at thy Word I will let down the Net, becauſe thou doſt enjoin it, and thou doſt encourage it. We are then likely to ſpeed well, when we follow the Conduct of Chriſt's Word.

3. The Draught of Fiſh they caught, was ſo much beyond what was ever known, that it amounted to a Miracle, v. 6. They incloſ'd a great Multitude of Fiſhes, ſo that their Net brake, and yet, which is ſtrange, they did not loſe their Draught; 'Twas ſo great a Draught, that they had not Hands enow to draw it up; but they were fain to becken to their Partners, who were at a Diſtance, out of Call, to come and help them, v. 7. But the greateſt Evidence of the Vaſtneſs of the Draught was, that they filled both the Ships with Fiſh, to that Degree, that they over-loaded them, and they began to ſink, ſo that the Fiſh had like to have been loſt again, with their own Weight; as many an over-grown Eſtate rais'd out of the Water, returns to the Place from whence it came. Suppoſe theſe Ships were but five or ſix Tuns a-piece; What a vaſt Quantity of Fiſh muſt there be to load, nay to over-load them both!

Now by this vaſt Draught of Fiſhes, (1.) Chriſt intended to ſhew his Dominion in the Seas as well as on the Dry-Land; over its Wealth as over its Waves; thus he would ſhew that he was that Son of Man, under whoſe Feet all Things were put, and particularly the Fiſh of the Sea, and whatſoever paſſeth through the Paths of the Sea, Pſal. 8. 8. (2.) He intended hereby to confirm the Doctrine he had juſt now preach'd out of Peter's Ship. We may ſuppoſe that the People on the Shore who heard the Sermon, having a Notion that the Preacher was a Prophet ſent of God, carefully attended his Motions afterwards, and ſtaid halting about there, to ſee what he would do next, that this Miracle immediately following, wou'd be a Confirmation to their Faith, and of his being at leaſt a Teacher come from God. (3.) He intended hereby to repay Peter for the Loan of his Boat, for Chriſt's Goſpel now, as his Ark formerly in the Houſe of Obed-Edom, will be ſure to make amends, rich amends, for its kind Entertainment. None ſhall ſhut a Door, or kindle a Fire in God's Houſe for Naught, Mal. 1. 10. Chriſt's Recompences for Services done to his Name, are abundant, they are ſuper-abundant. (4.) He intended hereby, to give a Specimen, to thoſe who were to be his Embaſſadors to the World, of the Succeſs of their Embaſſy, that tho' they might for a Time, and in one particular Place toil, and catch nothing, yet that they ſhould be inſtrumental to bring in many to Chriſt, and incloſe many in the Goſpel Net.

5. The Impreſſion which this miraculous Draught of Fiſhes made upon Peter, was very remarkable.

1. All concern'd were aſtoniſh'd, and the more aſtoniſh'd for their being concern'd: All the Boat's Crew were aſtoniſh'd at the Draught of Fiſhes which they had taken, v. 9. they were all ſurpriz'd; and the more they conſider'd it, and all the Circumſtances of it, the more they were Wonder-ſtruck, I had almoſt ſaid Thunder-ſtruck at the Thought of it, And ſo were alſo James and John, which were Partners with Simon, v. 10. and who for ought appears, were not ſo well acquainted with Chriſt before this, as Peter and Andrew were. Now they were the more affected with it. (1.) Becauſe they underſtood it better than others did: They that were all acquainted with this Sea, and 'tis likely had ply'd upon it many Years, had never ſeen ſuch a Draught of Fiſhes fetch'd out of it, nor any thing like it, any thing near it, and therefore could not be tempted to diminiſh it as others might, by ſuggeſting that it was accidental at this Time, and what might as well have happened at any Time. It greatly corroborates the Evidence of Chriſt's Miracles, that thoſe who were beſt acquainted with them, moſt admir'd them. (2.) Becauſe they were moſt intereſted in it, and benefited by it. Peter and his Part-owners were Gainers by this great Draught of Fiſhes, 'twas a rich Booty for them, and therefore it tranſported them, and their Joy was a Helper to their Faith. Note, When Chriſt's Works of Wonder are to us in particular, Works of Grace, then eſpecially they command our Faith in his Doctrine.

2. Peter above all the reſt was aſtoniſh'd to ſuch a Degree, that he fell down at Jeſus's Knees as he ſate in the Stern of his Boat, and ſaid, as one in an Eſtaſy or Tranſport that knew not where he was, or what he ſaid, Depart from me, for I am a ſinful Man, O Lord, v. 8. not that he fear'd the Weight of the Fiſh would ſink him, becauſe he was a ſinful Man, but that he thought himſelf unworthy of the Favour of Chriſt's Preſence in his Boat, and worthy that it ſhould be to him a Matter rather of Terror than of Comfort. This Word of Peter's came from the ſame Principle with theirs, that under the Old Teſtament ſo often ſaid they did exceedingly fear and quake at the extraordinary Diſplays of the Divine Glory and Majeſty. 'Twas the Language of Peter's Humility and Self-denial, and had not the leaſt Tincture of the Devil's Dialect, What have we to do with thee, Jeſus thou Son of God. (1.) His Acknowledgement was very juſt, and what becomes us all to make: I am a ſinful Man, O Lord. Note, Even the beſt Men are ſinful Men, and ſhould be ready upon all Occaſions to own it, and eſpecially to own it to Jeſus Chriſt; for to whom elſe, but to him who came into the World to ſave Sinners, ſhould ſinful Men apply themſelves. (2.) His Inference from it was, what might have been juſt, tho' really it was not ſo. If I be a ſinful Man, as indeed I am, I ought to ſay, Come to me, O Lord, or let me come to thee, or I am undone, for ever udone: But conſidering what Reaſon ſinful Men have to tremble before the holy Lord God, and to dread his Wrath, Peter may well be excus'd, if in a Senſe of his own Sinfulneſs and Vileneſs he cry'd out on a ſudden, Depart from me. Note, Thoſe whom Chriſt deſigns to admit to the moſt intimate Acquaintance with him, he firſt makes ſenſible that they deſerve to be ſet at the greateſt Diſtance from him. We muſt all own ourſelves ſinful Men, and that therefore Jeſus Chriſt might juſtly depart from us, but we muſt therefore fall down at his Knees, to pray him that he would not depart; for Wo unto us if he leave us, if the Saviour depart from the ſinful Man.

6. The Occaſion which Chriſt took from hence, to intimate to Peter, v, 10. and ſoon after to James and John, Matt. 4. 21. his Purpoſe to make them his Apoſtles, and Inſtruments of his planting Religion in the World: He ſaid unto Simon, who was in the greateſt Surprize of any of them, at this prodigious Draught of Fiſhes, Thou ſhalt both ſee, and do greater Things than theſe; fear not, let not this aſtoniſh thee, be not afraid, that after having done this Honour, 'tis ſo great that I ſhall never do thee more; No, from henceforth thou ſhalt catch Men, by incloſing them in the Goſpel Net, and that ſhall be a greater Inſtance of the Redeemer's Power, and his Favour to thee than this is. That ſhall be a more Aſtoniſhing Miracle, and infinitely more Advantagious than this. When by Peter's Preaching three thouſand Souls were in one Day added to the Church, then the Type of this great Draught of Fiſhes was abundantly anſwer'd.

Laſtly, The Fiſhermen's Farewell to their Calling, in order to their conſtant Attendance on Chriſt, v. 11. When they had brought their Ships to Land, inſtead of going to ſeek for a Market for their Fiſh, that they might make the beſt Hand they could of this Miracle, they forſook all and follow'd him, being more ſolicitous to ſerve the Intereſts of Chriſt, than to advance any ſecular Intereſts of their own. It is obſervable, that they left all to follow Chriſt, when their Calling proſper'd in their Hands more than ever it had done, and they had had uncommon Succeſs in it. When Riches increaſe, and we are therefore moſt in Temptation to ſet our Hearts upon them, then to quit them for the Service of Chriſt, this is Thank-worthy.

12 ¶ And it came to paſs, when he was in a certain city, behold, a man full of leproſy: who ſeeing Jeſus, fell on his face, and beſought him, ſaying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canſt make me clean. 13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, ſaying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately the leproſy departed from him. 14 And he charged him to tell no man: but go and ſhew thy ſelf to the prieſt, and offer for thy cleanſing, according as Moſes commanded, for a teſtimony unto them. 15 And ſo much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their Infirmities. 16 ¶ And he withdrew himſelf into the wilderneſs, and prayed.

Here's 1. The cleanſing of a Leper, v. 12,—14. This Story we had both in Matthew and Mark; 'tis here ſaid to have been in a certain City, v. 12. 'twas in Capernaum: But the Evangeliſt would not name it, perhaps becauſe it was a Reflection upon the Government of the City, that a Leper was ſuffer'd to be in it. This Man is ſaid to be full of Leproſy, he had that Diſtemper in a high Degree, which doth the more fitly repreſent our natural Pollution by Sin; we are full of that Leproſy, from the Crown of the Head, to the Sole of the Foot, there is no Soundneſs in us. Now let us learn here,

1. What we muſt do in the Senſe of our ſpiritual Leproſy. (1.) We muſt ſee Jeſus, enquire after him, and acquaint our ſelves with him, and reckon the Diſcoveries made us of Chriſt by the Goſpel, the moſt acceptable and welcome Diſcoveries that could be made us. (2.) We muſt humble our ſelves before him; and this Leper ſeeing Jeſus, fell on his Face. We muſt be aſham'd of our Pollution, and in the Senſe of it, bluſh to lift up our Faces before the Holy Jeſus. (3.) We muſt earneſtly deſire to be cleanſed from the Defilement, and cur'd of the Diſeaſe of Sin, which renders us unfit for Communion with God. (4.) We muſt firmly believe Chriſt's Ability and Sufficiency to cleanſe us; Lord, Thou canſt make me clean, tho' I be full of Leproſy; no Doubt is to be made of the Merit and Grace of Chriſt. (5.) We muſt be importunate in Prayer for pardoning Mercy, and renewing Grace, he fell on his Face and beſought him; they that would be cleanſed muſt reckon it a Favour worth wreſtling for. (6.) We muſt refer our ſelves to the Good-will of Chriſt; Lord, if thou wilt, thou canſt: This is not ſo much the Language of his Diffidence, or Diſtruſt of the Good-will of Chriſt, as of his Submiſſion, and Reference of himſelf and his Caſe to the Will, to the Good-will of Jeſus Chriſt.

2. What we may expect from Chriſt, if we thus apply our ſelves to him. (1.) We ſhall find him very condeſcending, and forward to take Cognizance of our Caſe, v. 13. He put forth his Hand and touched him. When Chriſt viſited this Leprous World, unask'd, unſought unto, he ſhew'd how low he could ſtoop to do Good. His touching the Leper was wonderful Condeſcenſion; but 'tis much greater to us when he is himſelf touch'd with the Feeling of our Infirmities. (2.) We ſhall find him very Compaſſionate, and ready to relieve us; he ſaid, I will, never doubt of that; whoſoever comes to me to be heal'd, I will in no wiſe caſt out; he is as willing to cleanſe Leprous Souls, as they can be to be cleanſed. (3.) We ſhall find him All-ſufficient, and able to heal and cleanſe us, tho' we be never ſo full of this loathſome Leproſy. One Word, one Touch from Chriſt did the Buſineſs, immediately the Leproſy departed from him. If Chriſt ſaith, I will, be thou juſtified, be thou ſanctified, it is done; for he has Power on Earth to forgive Sin, and Power to give the Holy Spirit, 1 Cor. 6. 11.

3. What he requires from thoſe that are cleanſed, v. 14. Has Chriſt ſent his Word and healed us? (1.) We muſt be very humble, v. 12. He charg'd him to tell no Man: It ſhould ſeem this did not forbid him telling it to the Honour of Chriſt, but he muſt not tell it to his own Honour. Thoſe whom Chriſt hath heal'd and cleans'd, muſt know that he hath done it in ſuch a Way as doth for ever exclude Boaſting. (2.) We muſt be very Thankful, and make a grateful Acknowledgement of the Divine Grace; Go, and offer for thy cleanſing. Chriſt did not require him to give him a Fee, but bring the Sacrifice of Praiſe to God, ſo far was he from uſing his Power to the Prejudice of the Law of Moſes. (3.) We muſt keep cloſe to our Duty; go to the Prieſt, and thoſe that attend him. The Man whom Chriſt had made whole he found in the Temple, John 5. 14. Thoſe that by any Affliction have been detain'd from publick Ordinances, when the Affliction is remov'd, ſhould attend on them the more diligently, and adhere to them the more conſtantly.

2. Chriſt's Publick Serviceableneſs to Men, and his Private Communion with God; theſe are put together here to give Luſtre to each other.

1. Tho' never any had ſo much Pleaſure in his Retirements as Chriſt had, yet he was much in a Crowd to do Good, v. 15. Tho' the Leper ſhould altogether hold his Peace, yet the Thing could not be hid, ſo much the more went there a Fame abroad of him; the more he ſought to conceal himſelf under a Vail of Humility, the more Notice did People take of him; for Honour is like a Shadow which flies from thoſe that purſue it, for a Man to ſeek his own Glory, is not Glory; but it follows thoſe that decline it, and draw from it. The leſs Good, Men ſay of themſelves, the more will others ſay of them. But Chriſt reckon'd it a ſmall Honour to him that his Fame went abroad, it was much more ſo, that hereby Multitudes were brought to receive Benefit by him. (1.) By his Preaching; they came together to hear him, and to receive Inſtruction from him concerning the Kingdom of God. (2.) By his Miracles; they came to be healed by him of their Infirmities, and that invited them to come to hear him, confirm'd his Doctrine, and recommended it.

2. Tho' never any did ſo much Good in Publick, yet he found Time for Pious and Devout Retirements, v. 16. He withdrew himſelf into the Wilderneſs, and pray'd, not that he needed to avoid either Diſtraction, or Oſtentation, but he would ſet us an Example, who need to order the Circumſtances of our Devotion, ſo as to guard againſt both. It is likewiſe our Wiſdom, ſo to order our Affairs, as that our publick Work, and our ſecret Work may not intrench upon, or interfere with one another. Note, Secret Prayer muſt be perform'd ſecretly; and thoſe that have never ſo much to do of the beſt Buſineſs in this World, muſt keep up conſtant ſtated Times for it.

17 And it came to paſs on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Phariſees and doctors of the law ſitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jeruſalem: and the power of the Lord was preſent to heal them. 18 ¶ And behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with the palſy: and they ſought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him. 19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in, becauſe of the multitude, they went upon the houſe-top, and let him down through the tiling with his couch, into the midſt before Jeſus. 20 And when he ſaw their faith, he ſaid unto him, Man, thy ſins are forgiven thee. 21 And the ſcribes and the Phariſees began to reaſon, ſaying, Who is this which ſpeaketh blaſphemies? Who can forgive ſins, but God alone? 22 But when Jeſus perceived their thoughts, he anſwering ſaid unto them, What reaſon ye in your hearts? 23 Whether is eaſier to ſay, Thy ſins be forgiven thee, or to ſay, Riſe up and walk? 24 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive ſins, (he ſaid unto the ſick of the palſy) I ſay unto thee, Ariſe, and take up thy couch, and go into thine houſe. 25 And immediately he roſe up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own houſe, glorifying God. 26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, ſaying, We have ſeen ſtrange things to day.

Here's 1. A general Account of Chriſt's Preaching and Miracles, v. 17. (1.) He was teaching on a certain Day, not on the Sabbath-day, then he would have ſaid ſo, but on a Week-Day; ſix Days ſhalt thou labour, not only for the World, but for thy Soul, and the Welfare of that. Preaching and Hearing the Word of God is good Work, if it be done well, any Day in the Week, as well as on Sabbath-days. 'Twas not in the Synagogue, but in a private Houſe; for even there, where we ordinarily Converſe with our Friends, it is not improper to give and receive good Inſtruction. (2.) There he taught, he heal'd, as before, v. 15. and the Power of the Lord was to heal them, ἦν εἰς τὸ ἰᾶσθαι αὐτοὺς; it was mighty to heal them, 'twas exerted and put forth to heal them: To heal them whom he taught; we may underſtand it ſo; to heal their Souls, to cure them of their Spiritual Diſeaſes, and to give them a New Life, a New Nature. Note, Thoſe who receive the Word of Chriſt in Faith, will find a Divine Power going along with that Word to heal them; for Chriſt came with his Comforts to heal the broken hearted, Chap. 4. 18. The Power of the Lord is preſent with the Word, preſent to thoſe that pray for it, and ſubmit to it, preſent to heal them: Or it may be meant (and ſo 'tis generally taken) of the healing of thoſe that were diſeaſed in Body, who came to him for Cures. Whenever there was Occaſion, Chriſt was not to ſeek for his Power, it was preſent to heal. (3.) There were ſome Grandees preſent in this Aſſembly, and as it ſhould ſeem more than uſually, There were Phariſees and Doctors of the Law ſitting by, not ſitting at his Feet to learn of him, then I ſhould have been willing to take the following Clauſe as referring to them, who were ſpoken of, immediately before, the Power of the Lord was preſent to heal them, and why might not the Word of Chriſt teach their Hearts; But by what follows, v. 21. it appears they were not heal'd, but cavill'd at Chriſt, which forceth us to make that to refer to others, not to them; for they ſate by, as Perſons unconcern'd, as if the Word of Chriſt were nothing to them. They ſate by as Spectators, and Cenſors, and Spies, to pick up ſomething on which to ground a Reproach, or Accuſation. How many are there in the midſt of our Aſſemblies, where the Goſpel is preach'd, that do not ſit under the Word, but ſit by? It is to them as a Tale that is told them, not as a Meſſage that is ſent them; they are willing we ſhould preach before them, not that we ſhould preach to them. Theſe Phariſees and Scribes (or Doctors of the Law) came out of every Town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jeruſalem, they came from all Parts of the Nation; 'tis likely they appointed to meet at this Time, and Place, to ſee what Remarks they could make upon Chriſt, and what he ſaid and did: They were in a Confederacy, as thoſe that ſaid, Come and let us deviſe Devices againſt Jeremiah, and agree to ſmite him with the Tongue, Jer. 18. 18. Report, and we will report it, Jer. 20. 10. Obſerve, Chriſt went on with his Work of Preaching and Healing, tho' he ſaw theſe Phariſees and Dons of the Jewiſh Church ſitting by, who he knew deſpis'd him, and watch'd to enſnare him.

2. A particular Account of the Cure of the Man ſick of the Palſy, which was related much as it is here, by both the foregoing Evangeliſts; let us therefore only obſerve in ſhort,

1. The Doctrines that are taught us, and confirm'd to us by the Story of this Cure. (1.) That Sin is the Fountain of all Sickneſs, and the Forgiveneſs of Sin is the only Foundation upon which a Recovery from Sickneſs can comfortably be built. They preſented the ſick Man to Chriſt, and he ſaid, Man, thy Sins are forgiven thee, v. 20. That's the Bleſſing thou art moſt to prize and ſeek; for if thy Sins be forgiven thee, tho' the Sickneſs be continued, 'tis in Mercy; if they be not, tho' the Sickneſs be remov'd, 'tis in Wrath. They are the Cords of our Iniquity, that are the Bands of our Affliction. (2.) That Jeſus Chriſt has Power on Earth to forgive Sins, and his healing Diſeaſes was an unconteſtable Proof of it. This was the Thing intended to be prov'd, v. 24. That ye may know and believe that the Son of Man, tho' now upon Earth, in his State of Humiliation, hath Power to forgive Sins, and to releaſe Sinners upon Goſpel Terms from the eternal Puniſhment of Sin, he ſaith to the Sick of the Palſy, Ariſe and walk, and he is cur'd immediately. Chriſt claims one of the Prerogatives of the King of Kings, when he undertakes to forgive Sin, and 'tis juſtly expected he ſhould produce a good Proof of it: Well, ſaith he, I'll put it upon this Iſſue, here's a Man ſtruck with a Palſy, and for his Sin, if I do not with a Word's ſpeaking cure his Diſeaſe in an Inſtant, which cannot be done by Nature or Art, but purely by the immediate Power and Efficacy of the God of Nature, then ſay, I am not entitled to the Prerogative of forgiving Sin, am not the Meſſiah, am not the Son of God, and King of Iſrael: But if I do, you muſt own I have Power to forgive Sins: Thus was it put upon a fair Tryal, and one Word of Chriſt determin'd it. He did but ſay Ariſe, take up thy Couch, and that chronical Diſeaſe had an inſtantaneous Cure, immediately he aroſe before them; they muſt all own there could be no Cheat or Fallacy in it; they that brought him could atteſt how perfectly lame he was before; they that ſaw him could atteſt how perfectly well he was now; inſomuch that he had Strength enough to take up, and carry away the Bed he lay upon. How well is it for us, that this moſt comfortable Doctrine of the Goſpel, That Jeſus Chriſt, our Redeemer and Saviour, has Power to forgive Sin, has ſuch a full Atteſtation. (3.) That Jeſus Chriſt is God. He appears to be ſo, (1.) By knowing the Thoughts of the Scribes and Phariſees, v. 21. which 'tis God's Prerogative to do; tho' thoſe Scribes and Phariſees knew as well how to conceal their Thoughts, and keep their Countenances as moſt Men, and probably were induſtrious to do it at this Time, for they lay in wait ſecretly. (2.) By doing that which their Thoughts own'd none could do but God only, v. 21. Who can forgive Sins, ſay they, but only God? I'll prove, ſaith Chriſt that I can forgive Sins; and what follows then, but that he is God? What horrid Wickedneſs then were they guilty of, who charg'd him with ſpeaking the worſt of Blaſphemies, then when he ſpoke the beſt of Bleſſings, Thy Sins be forgiven thee!

2. The Duties that are taught us, and recommended to us by this Story. (1.) In our Applications to Chriſt, we muſt be very preſſing and urgent; that's an Evidence of Faith, and is very pleaſing to Chriſt, and prevailing with him. They that were the Friends of this ſick Man, ſought Means to bring him in before Chriſt, v. 28. and when they were baffled in their Endeavour, yet did not give up the Cauſe; but when they could not get in by the Door, it was ſo crouded, they untyl'd the Houſe, and let the poor Patient down through the Roof, into the midſt before Jeſus, v. 19. In this Jeſus Chriſt ſaw their Faith, v. 19. Now here he has taught us (and 'twere well if we could learn the Leſſon) to put the beſt Conſtruction upon Words and Actions that they will bear. When the Centurion, and the Woman of Canaan, were in no Care at all to bring the Patients they interceded for, into Chriſt's Preſence, but believ'd that he could Cure them at a Diſtance, he commended their Faith: But tho' in theſe there ſeem'd to be a different Notion of the Thing, and an Apprehenſion that it was requiſite the Patient ſhould be brought into his Preſence, yet he did not cenſure and condemn their Weakneſs, did not ask them what need you give this Diſturbance to the Aſſembly? Are you under ſuch a Degree of Infidelity, as to think I could not have cur'd him tho' he had been out of Doors? But he made the beſt of it, and even in this he ſaw their Faith. It is a Comfort to us that we ſerve a Maſter that is willing to make the beſt of us. (2.) When we are Sick we ſhould be more in Care to get our Sins pardon'd, than to get our Sickneſs remov'd. Chriſt in what he ſaid to this Man, taught us when we ſeek to God for Health, to begin with ſeeking to him for Pardon. (3.) The Mercies which we have the Comfort of, God muſt have the Praiſe of. The Man departed to his own Houſe glorifying God, v. 25. To him belong the Eſcapes from Death, and in them therefore he muſt be glorified. (4.) The Miracles which Chriſt wrought were amazing to them that ſaw them, and we ought to glorify God in them, v. 26. They ſaid, We have ſeen ſtrange Things to Day, ſuch as we never ſaw before, nor our Fathers before us, they are altogether New. But they glorified God, who had ſent into their Country ſuch a Benefactor to it; and were filled with Fear, with a Reverence of God, with a Jealouſy that this was the Meſſiah, and that he was not treated by their Nation as he ought to be, which might prove in the End the Ruin of their State; perhaps they were ſome ſuch Thoughts as theſe that fill'd them with Fear, and a Concern likewiſe for themſelves.

27 ¶ And after theſe things he went forth, and ſaw a publicane named Levi, ſitting at the receipt of cuſtom: and he ſaid unto him, Follow me. 28 And he left all, roſe up, and followed him. 29 And Levi made him a great feaſt in his own houſe: and there was a great company of publicans, and of others that ſat down with them. 30 But the ſcribes and phariſees murmured againſt his diſciples, ſaying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and ſinners? 31 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid unto them, They that are whole need not a phyſician: but they that are ſick. 32 I came not to call the righteous, but ſinners to repentance. 33 ¶ And they ſaid unto him, Why do the diſciples of John faſt often, and make prayers, and likewiſe the diſciples of the Phariſees; but thine eat and drink? 34 And he ſaid unto them, Can ye make the children of the bride-chamber faſt, while the bridegroom is with them? 35 But the days will come, when the bridegroom ſhall be taken away from them, and then they ſhall faſt in thoſe days. 36 ¶ And he ſpake alſo a parable unto them, No man putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old: if otherwiſe, then both the new maketh a Rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new, agreeth not with the old. 37 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; elſe the new wine will burſt the bottles, and be ſpilled, and the bottles ſhall periſh. 38 But new wine muſt be put into new bottles; and both are preſerved. 39 No man alſo having drunk old wine, ſtraitway deſireth new: for he ſaith, The old is better.

All this, except the laſt Verſe, we had before in Matthew and Mark; 'tis not the Story of any Miracle in Nature wrought by our Lord Jeſus; but 'tis an Account of ſome of the Wonders of his Grace, which to thoſe who underſtand Things aright, are no leſs cogent Proofs of Chriſt's being ſent of God, than the other.

1. It was a Wonder of his Grace, that he would call a Publican from the Receipt of Cuſtom to be his Diſciple and Follower, v. 27. 'Twas a wonderful Condeſcenſion that he would admit poor Fiſhermen to that Honour. Men of the loweſt Rank; but much more wonderful that he would admit Publicans, Men of the worſt Reputation, Men of ill Fame; in this Chriſt humbled himſelf, and appear'd in the Likeneſs of ſinful Fleſh; by this he expos'd himſelf, and got the invidious Character of a Friend of Publicans and Sinners.

2. It was a Wonder of his Grace, that that Call was made effectual, became immediately ſo, v. 28. This Publican, tho' thoſe of that Employment commonly had little Inclination to Religion, yet for his Religion's Sake he left a good Place in the Cuſtom-houſe, which probably was his Livelyhood, and where he ſtood fair for better Preferment, and roſe up and followed Chriſt. There is no Heart too hard for the Spirit and Grace of Chriſt to work upon, nor any Difficulties in the Way of a Sinner's Converſion inſuperable to his Power.

3. It was a Wonder of his Grace, that he would not only admit a converted Publican into this Family, but would keep Company with unconverted Publicans, that he might have an Opportunity of doing their Souls good; and juſtified himſelf in it, as agreeing with the great Deſign of his coming into the World. Here's a Wonder of Grace indeed, that Chriſt undertakes to be the Phyſician of Souls diſtemper'd by Sin, and ready to dye of the Diſtemper, v. 31. He is a Healer by Office: That he has a particular Regard to the Sick, to Sinners, as his Patients, convinced, awakened Sinners, that ſee their Need of their Phyſician: That he came to call Sinners, the worſt of Sinners to Repentance, and to aſſure them of Pardon upon Repentance, v. 32. This is glad Tydings of great Joy indeed.

4. It was a Wonder of his Grace, that he did ſo patiently bear the Contradiction of Sinners againſt himſelf and his Diſciples, v. 30. He did not expreſs his Reſentments of the Cavils of the Scribes and Phariſees, as he juſtly might have done, but anſwer'd them with Reaſon and Meekneſs; and inſtead of taking that Occaſion to ſhew his Diſpleaſure againſt the Phariſees, as afterwards he did, or of recriminating upon them, he took that Occaſion to ſhew his Compaſſion to poor Publicans, another Sort of Sinners, and to encourage them.

5. It was a Wonder of his Grace, that in the Diſcipline which he train'd his Diſciple up under, he conſider'd their Frame, and proportion'd their Services to their Strength and Standing, and to the Circumſtances they were in. It was objected, as a Blemiſh upon his Conduct, that he did not make his Diſciples to faſt ſo often as thoſe of the Phariſees, and John Baptiſt did, v. 33. He inſiſted moſt upon that which is the Soul of Faſting, the Mortification of Sin, the Crucifying of the Fleſh, and living a Life of Self-denial, which is as much better than Faſting and corporal Penances, as Mercy is, than Sacrifice.

6. It was a Wonder of his Grace, that Chriſt reſerv'd the Trials of his Diſciples for their latter Times, when by his Grace, they were in ſome good Meaſure better prepar'd, and fitted for them, than they were at firſt. Now they were as the Children of the Bride-Chamber, when the Bridegroom is with them, when they have Plenty, and Joy, and every Day is a Feſtival; Chriſt was welcom'd wherever he came, and they for his Sake, and as yet they met with little or no Oppoſition: But this will not laſt always, the Days will come when the Bridegroom ſhall be taken away from them, v. 35. When Chriſt ſhall leave them with their Hearts full of Sorrow, their Hands full of Work, and the World full of Enmity and Rage againſt them, then ſhall they faſt, ſhall not be ſo well fed as they are now, We both hunger and thirſt, and are naked, 1 Cor. 4. 11. Then they ſhall keep many more religious Faſts than they do now, for Prodence will call them to it, they will then ſerve the Lord with Faſtings, Acts 13. 2.

7. It was a Wonder of his Grace, that he proportion'd their Exerciſes to their Strength. He would not put new Cloth upon an old Garment, v. 36. nor new Wine into old Bottles, v. 37, 38. would not, aſſoon as ever he had call'd them out of the World, put them upon the Strictneſſes and Auſterities of Diſcipleſhip, leſt they ſhould be tempted to fly off: When God brought Iſrael out of Egypt, he would not bring them by the Way of the Philiſtines, leſt they ſhould repent when they ſaw War, and return into Egypt, Exod. 13. 17. So Chriſt would train up his Followers gradually to the Diſcipline of his Family; for no Man having drank old Wine, will of a ſudden, ſtraitway deſire new, or reliſh it, but will ſay the old is better, becauſe he has been uſed to it, v. 39. The Diſciples will be tempted to think their old Way of living better, till they are by Degrees train'd up to this Way whereunto they are call'd: Or, turn it the other Way; let them be accuſtom'd a while to religious Exerciſes, and then they will abound in them as much as you do, but we muſt not be too haſty with them. Calvin takes it as an Admonition to the Phariſees not to boaſt of their Faſting, and the Noiſe and Shew they made with it; nor to diſpiſe his Diſciples, becauſe they did not in like manner ſignalize themſelves; for the Profeſſion the Phariſees made, was, indeed, pompous and gay, like new Wine that's brisk and ſparkling, whereas all wiſe Men ſay, the old is better; which tho' it doth not give its Colour ſo well in the Cup, yet is more warming in the Stomach, and more wholſome. Chriſt's Diſciples, tho' they had not ſo much of the Form of Godlineſs, yet they had more of the Power of it.

CHAP. VI.

In this Chapter we have Chriſt's Expoſition of the Moral Law, which he came not to deſtroy, but to fulfill, and to fill up by his Goſpel. (1.) Here is a Proof of the Lawfulneſs of Works of Neceſſity, and Mercy on the Sabbath-day; the former in Vindication of his Diſciples plucking the Ears of Corn, the latter, in Vindication of himſelf healing the wither'd Hand on that Day, v. 1.---11. (2.) His Retirement for ſecret Prayer, v. 12. (3.) His calling his twelve Apoſtles, v. 13.-----16. (4.) His curing the Multitudes of thoſe under various Diſeaſes, who made their Application to him, v. 17.---19. (5.) The Sermon that he preach'd to his Diſciples and the Multitude, inſtructing them in their Duty both to God and Man, v. 25.-----49.

1 AND it came to paſs on the ſecond ſabbath after the firſt, that he went through the cornfields: and his diſciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands. 2 And certain of the Phariſees ſaid unto them, Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the ſabbath-day? 3 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid, Have ye not read ſo much as this, what David did, when himſelf was an hungred, and they which were with him: 4 How he went into the houſe of God, and did take and eat the ſhew-bread, and gave alſo to them that were with him, which is not lawful to eat, but for the prieſts alone? 5 And he ſaid unto them, That the Son of Man is Lord alſo of the ſabbath. 6 And it came to paſs alſo on another ſabbath, that he entred into the ſynagogue and taught: and there was a man whoſe right hand was withered. 7 And the ſcribes and Phariſees watched him, whether he would heal on the ſabbath-day; that they might find an accuſation againſt him. 8 But he knew their thoughts, and ſaid to the man which had the withered hand, Riſe up, and ſtand forth in the mids. And he aroſe, and ſtood forth. 9 Then ſaid Jeſus unto them, I will ask you one thing, Is it lawful on the ſabbath-days to good, or to do evil? to ſave life, or to deſtroy it? 10 And looking round about upon them all, he ſaid unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did ſo: and his hand was reſtored whole as the other. 11 And they were filled with madneſs; and communed one with another what they might do to Jeſus.

Theſe two Paſſages of Story we had both in Matthew and Mark, and they were there laid together, Matt. 12. 1. Mark 2. 23.—3. 1. becauſe, tho' happening at ſome Diſtance of Time from each other, yet both were deſign'd to rectify the Miſtakes of the Scribes and Phariſees concerning the Sabbath-day, on the bodily Reſt of which, they laid greater Streſs, and requir'd greater Strictneſs, than the Lawgiver intended. Here

1. Chriſt juſtifies his Diſciples in a Work of Neceſſity for themſelves on that Day, and that was plucking the Ears of Corn, when they were hungry, on that Day. This Story here has a Date, which we had not in the other Evangeliſts, it was on the ſecond Sabbath after the firſt, v. 1. that is, as Dr. Whitby thinks is pretty clear, the firſt Sabbath after the ſecond Day of unleavened Bread, from which Day they reckon'd the ſeven Weeks to the Feaſt of Pentecoſt; the firſt of which the call'd Σάββατον δευτερόπρωτον, the ſecond δευτεροδεύτερον, and ſo on. Bleſſed be God we need not be critical in this Matter: Whether this Circumſtance be mention'd, to intimate, that this Sabbath was thought to have ſome peculiar Honour upon it, which aggravated the Offence of the Diſciples, or only to intimate, that being the firſt Sabbath after the Offering of the firſt Fruits 'twas the Time of the Year when Corn was near ripe, is not material. We may obſerve,

(1.) Chriſt's Diſciples ought not to be nice and curious in their Diet, not at any Time, eſpecially not on Sabbath-days, but take up with what is eaſieſt got, and be thankful. Theſe Diſciples pluck'd the Ears of Corn, and did eat, v. 1, 2. a little ſerv'd them, and that which had no Delicacy in it.

(2.) Many that are themſelves guilty of the greateſt Crimes, are forward to cenſure others for the moſt innocent and inoffenſive Actions, v. 2. The Phariſees quarrel'd with them as doing that which it was not lawful to do on the Sabbath-days, when it was their own Practice to feed deliciouſly on Sabbath-days, more than on all other Days.

(3.) Jeſus Chriſt will juſtify his Diſciples when they are unjuſtly cenſur'd, and will own and accept of them in many a Thing, which Men tell them it is not lawful for them to do: How well is it for us that Men are not to be our Judges, and that Chriſt will be our Advocate!

(4.) Ceremonial Appointments may be diſpens'd with in Caſes of Neceſſity; as the appropriating of the Shew-bread to the Prieſts was diſpens'd with, when David was by Providence brought into ſuch a Strait, that he muſt either have that, or none, v. 3, 4. And if God's own Appointments might be thus ſet aſide for a greater Good, much more many the Traditions of Men.

(5.) Works of Neceſſity are particularly allowable on the Sabbath-day; but we muſt take head that we turn not this Liberty into Licentiouſneſs, and abuſe God's favourable Conceſſions and Condeſcenſions, to the Prejudice of the Work of the Day.

(6.) Jeſus Chriſt, tho' he allow'd Works of Neceſſity on the Sabbath-day, yet will have us to know, and remember, that it is his Day, and therefore is to be ſpent in his Service, and to his Honour, v. 5. The Son of Man is Lord alſo of the Sabbath, i. e. In the Kingdom of the Redeemer, the Sabbath-day is to be turn'd into a Lord's-Day; the Property of it is, in ſome Reſpects, to be alter'd, and it is to be obſerv'd chiefly in Honour of the Redeemer, as it had been before in Honour of the Creator, (Jer. 16. 14, 15.) and in Token of this, it ſhall not only have a New Name, the Lord's-Day, (yet not forgetting the Old, for it is a Sabbath of Reſt ſtill) but ſhall be transferred to a New Day, the firſt Day of the Week.

2. He juſtifies himſelf in doing Works of Mercy for others, on the Sabbath-day. Obſerve in this,

1. That Chriſt on the Sabbath-day enter'd into the Synagogue. Note, It is our Duty, as we have Opportunity, to ſanctify Sabbaths in Religious Aſſemblies: On the Sabbath there ought to be a Holy Convocation; and that our Place muſt not be empty, without very good Reaſon.

2. In the Synagogue on the Sabbath-day he Taught. Giving and receiving Inſtruction from Chriſt is very proper Work for a Sabbath-Day, and for a Synagogue. Chriſt took all Opportunities to teach, not only his Diſciples, but the Multitude.

3. That Chriſt's Patient was one of his Hearers. There was a Man whoſe right Hand was wither'd, he came to learn from Chriſt; whether he had any Expectation to be heal'd by him, doth not appear: But thoſe that would be cur'd by the Grace of Chriſt, muſt be willing to learn the Doctrine of Chriſt.

4. That among thoſe that were the Hearers of Chriſt's excellent Doctrine, and the Eye-witneſſes of his glorious Miracles, there were ſome who came with no other Deſign but to pick Quarrels with him, v. 7. The Scribes and Phariſees would not, as became generous Adverſaries, give him fair Warning, That if he did heal on the Sabbath-day, they would conſtrue it a Violation of the Fourth Commandment, which they ought in Honour and Juſtice to have done, becauſe it was a Caſe without Precedent, none having ever cured as he did, and therefore could not be an adjudg'd Caſe; but baſely watch'd him, as the Lion doth his Prey, whether he would heal on the Sabbath-day, that they might find an Accuſation againſt him, and ſurprize him with a Proſecution.

5. That Jeſus Chriſt was neither aſham'd, nor afraid to own the Purpoſes of his Grace, in the Face of thoſe whom he knew confronted them, v. 8. He knew their Thoughts, and what they deſign'd, and he bid the Man riſe and ſtand forth, hereby to try the Patient's Faith and Boldneſs,

6. He appeal'd to his Adverſaries themſelves, and to the Convictions of Natural Conſcience, whether it was the Deſign of the Fourth Commandment to reſtrain Men from doing good on the Sabbath-day, that Good which their Hand finds to do, which they have an Opportunity for, and which cannot ſo well be put off to another Time, v. 9. Is it lawful to do Good, or Evil on the Sabbath-days? No wicked Men are ſuch abſurd and unreaſonable Men, as Perſecutors are, who ſtudy to do Evil to Men for doing Good.

7. He heal'd the poor Man, and reſtor'd him to the preſent Uſe of his right Hand with a Word's ſpeaking, tho' he knew his Enemies would not only take Offence at it, but take Advantage againſt him for it, v. 10. Let us not be drawn off either from Duty or Uſefulneſs, by the Oppreſſion we meet with in it.

8. His Adverſaries were hereby enrag'd ſo much the more againſt him, v. 11. inſtead of being convinc'd by this Miracle, as they ought to have been, that he was a Teacher come from God,; inſtead of being brought to be in love with him as a Benefactor to Mankind, they were filled with Madneſs, vex'd that they could not frighten him from doing good, nor hinder the Growth of his Intereſt in the Affections of the People. They were mad at Chriſt, mad at the People, mad at themſelves: Anger is a ſhort Madneſs, Malice is a long one; impotent Malice, eſpecially, diſappointed Malice, ſuch was theirs. When they could not prevent his working this Miracle, they communed one with another what they might do to Jeſus, what other Way they might take to run him down. We may well ſtand amaz'd at it, that the Sons of Men ſhould be ſo wicked as to do thus, and that the Son of God ſhould be ſo patient as to ſuffer it.

12 And it came to paſs in thoſe days, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God. 13 ¶ And when it was day, he called unto him his diſciples: and of them he choſe twelve, whom alſo he named Apoſtles: 14 Simon (whom he alſo named Peter) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew. 15 Matthew and Thomas, James the ſon of Alpheus, and Simon called Zelotes, 16 And Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iſcariot, which alſo was the traitor. 17 ¶ And he came down with them, and ſtood in the plain, and the company of his diſciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Judea and Jeruſalem, and from the ſea-coaſt of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diſeaſes; 18 And they that were vexed with unclean ſpirits: and they were healed. 19 And the whole multitude ſought to touch him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.

In theſe Verſes we have our Lord Jeſus in Secret, in his Family, and in Publick, and in all three acting like himſelf.

1. In Secret we have him praying to God, v. 12. This Evangeliſt takes frequent Notice of Chriſt's Retirements, to give us an Example of ſecret Prayer, by which we muſt keep up our Communion with God daily, and without which 'tis impoſſible the Soul ſhould proſper. In thoſe Days, when his Enemies were filled with Madneſs againſt him, and were contriving what to do to him, he went out to pray; that he might anſwer the Type of David, Pſalm 104. 4. For my Love they are my Adverſaries, but I give myſelf unto Prayer. Obſerve, (1.) He was alone with God; He went out into a Mountain to pray, where he might have no Diſturbance or Interruption given him; we are never leſs alone than when we are thus alone. Whether there was any convenient Place built upon this Mountain, for devout People to retire to, for their private Devotions, as ſome think, and that that Oratory, or Place of Prayer is meant here by ἡ προσευχὴ τοῦ Θεοῦ, to me ſeems very uncertain: He went into a Mountain for Privacy, and therefore probably would not go to a Place frequented by others. (2.) He was long alone with God: He continued all Night in Prayer. We think one half Hour a great deal to ſpend in the Duties of the Cloſet, but Chriſt continued a whole Night in Meditation and ſecret Prayer. We have a great deal of Buſineſs at the Throne of Grace, and we ſhould take a great Delight in Communion with God, and by both theſe may be kept ſometimes long at Prayer.

2. In his Family we have him nominating his immediate Attendants, that ſhould be the conſtant Auditors of his Doctirne, and Eye-witneſſes of his Miracles, that hereafter they might be ſent forth as Apoſtles, his Meſſengers to the World, to preach his Goſpel to it, and plant his Church in it, v, 13. After he had continued all Night in Prayer, one would have thought that when it was Day he ſhould have repos'd himſelf, and got ſome Sleep: No, aſſoon as any body was ſtirring, he call'd unto him his Diſciples. In ſerving God, our great Care ſhould be not to loſe Time, but to make the End of one good Duty the Beginning of another. Miniſters are to be ordain'd with Prayer, more than ordinarily ſolemn. The Number of the Apoſtles was twelve; their Names are here recorded, and it is the third time we have met with them, and in each of the three Places, the Order of them differs; to teach both Miniſters and Chriſtians not to be nice in Precedency, not in giving it, much leſs in taking it, but looking upon it as a Thing not worth taking Notice of, let it be as it lights. He that in Mark was called Thaddeus, in Matthew Lebbeus, whoſe Sirname was Thaddeus, is here call'd Judas the Brother of James, the ſame that wrote the Epiſtle of Jude. Simon, that in Matthew and Mark was called the Canaanite, is here called Simon Zelotes, perhaps for his great Zeal in Religion. Concerning theſe twelve here named, we have Reaſon to ſay, as the Queen of Sheba did of Solomon's Servants, Happy are thy Men, and happy are theſe thy Servants that ſtand continually before thee, and hear thy Wiſdom; never were Men ſo priviledg'd, and yet one of them had a Devil, and prov'd a Traitor, v. 16. yet Chriſt when he choſe him was not deceiv'd in him.

3. In Publick we have him preaching and healing, the two great Works between which he divided his Time, v. 17. He came down with the Twelve from the Mountain, and ſtood in the Plain, ready to recieve thoſe that reſorted to him; and there were preſently gather'd about him not only the Company of his Diſciples, who uſed to attend him, but alſo a great Multitude of People, a mixt Multitude out of all Judea and Jeruſalem, tho' it was ſome Scores of Miles from Jeruſalem, to that Part of Galilee where Chriſt now was; though at Jeruſalem they had abundance of famous Rabbins that had great Names, and bore a mighty Sway, yet they came to hear Chriſt. They came alſo from the Sea-Coaſt of Tyre and Sidon, tho' they, who liv'd there, were generally Men of Buſineſs, and tho' they border'd upon Canaanites, yet there were ſome well-affected to Chriſt, ſuch there were diſpers'd in all Parts, here and there, one.

1. They came to hear him, and he preach'd to them. Thoſe that have not good preaching near them, had better travel far for it than be without it. It's worth while to go a great Way to hear the Word of Chriſt, and to go out of the Way of other Buſineſs for it.

2. They came to be cur'd by him, and he healed them; ſome were troubled in Body, and ſome in Mind; ſome had Diſeaſes, ſome had Devils, but both the one and the other upon their Application to Chriſt were heal'd, for he has Power over Diſeaſes and Devils, v. 17, 18. over the Effects, and over the Cauſes. Nay, it ſhould ſeem, thoſe that had no particular Diſeaſes to complain of, yet found it a great Confirmation and Renovation to their bodily Health and Vigour, to partake of the Virtue that went out of him, for v. 19. the whole Multitude ſought to touch him, thoſe that were in Health as well as thoſe that were Sick, and they were all, one Way or other, the better for him, he heal'd them all; and who is there that doth not need, upon ſome Account or other, to be heal'd? Note, There is a Fulneſs of Grace in Chriſt, and healing Vertue in him, and ready to go out from him, that is enough for all, enough for each.

20 ¶ And he lifted up his eyes on his diſciples, and ſaid, Bleſſed be ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God. 21 Bleſſed are ye that hunger now: for ye ſhall be filled. Bleſſed are ye that weep now: for ye ſhall laugh. 22 Bleſſed are ye when men ſhall hate you, and when they ſhall ſeparate you from their company, and ſhall reproach you, and caſt out your name as evil, for the Son of mans ſake. 23 Rejoyce ye in that day, and leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets. 24 But wo unto you that are rich: for ye have received your conſolation. 25 Wo unto you that are full: for ye ſhall hunger. Wo unto you that laugh now: for ye ſhall mourn and weep. 26 Wo unto you when all men ſhall ſpeak well of you: for ſo did their fathers to the falſe prophets.

Here begins a practical Diſcourſe of Chriſt, which is continu'd to the End of the Chapter, moſt of which is found in the Sermon upon the Mount, Matt. 5. and 7. Some think this was preach'd at ſome other Time and Place, and there are other Inſtances of Chriſt's preaching the ſame Things, or to the ſame Purpoſe at different Times: But it is probable, that this is only the Evangeliſt's Abridgment of that Sermon, and perhaps that in Matthew too is but an Abridgment; the Beginning and the Concluſion is much the ſame; and the Story of the Cure of the Centurion's Servant follows preſently upon it, both there and here; but it is not material.

In theſe Verſes we have,

1. Bleſſings pronounc'd upon ſuffering Saints, as happy People, tho' the World pities them, v. 20. He lift up his Eyes upon his Diſciples, not only the twelve, but the whole Company of them, v. 17. and directed his Diſcourſe to them; for when he had heal'd the Sick in the Plain, he went up again to the Mountain to preach; there he ſate, as one having Authority, and thither they came to him, Matt. 5. 1. and to them he directed his Diſcourſe, to them he apply'd it, and taught them to apply it to themſelves. When he had laid it down for a Truth, Bleſſed are the Poor in Spirit, he added, Bleſſed are ye Poor. All Believers that take the Precepts of the Goſpel to themſelves, and live by them, may take the Promiſes of the Goſpel to themſelves, and live upon them. And the Application as it is here, ſeems eſpecially deſign'd to encourage the Diſciples, with Reference to the Hardſhips and Difficulties they were likely to meet with in following Chriſt.

1. You are Poor, you have left all to follow me, are content to live upon Alms with me, are never to expect any worldly Preferment in my Service; you muſt work hard, and fare hard as poor People do; but you are bleſſed in your Poverty, it ſhall be no Prejudice at all to your Happineſs; nay, you are bleſſed for it, all your Loſſes ſhall be abundantly made up to you, for yours is the Kingdom of God, all the Comforts and Graces of his Kingdom here, and all the Glories and Joys of his Kingdom hereafter; yours it ſhall be, nay, yours it is. Chriſt's Poor are rich in Faith, Jam. 2. 5.

2. You Hunger now, v. 21. you are not fed to the full as others are; many Times riſe hungry, your Commons are ſo ſhort, or are ſo intent upon your Work, that you have not Time to eat Bread, are glad of a few Ears of Corn for a Meals Meat; thus you hunger now in this World, but in the other World you ſhall be fill'd, ſhall hunger no more, nor thirſt any more.

3. You Weep now, are often in Tears, Tears of Repentance, Tears of Sympathy, you are of them that mourn in Zion. But bleſſed are ye, your preſent Sorrows are no Prejudices to, but Preparatories for your future Joy, ye ſhall laugh. You have Triumphs in reſerve, you are but ſowing in Tears, and ſhall ſhortly reap in Joy, Pſalm 126. 5, 6. They that now Sorrow after a godly ſort, are treaſuring up Comforts for themſelves, or rather, God is treaſuring up Comforts for them; and the Day is coming when their Mouth ſhall be filled with laughing, and their Lips with rejoycing, Job. 8. 21.

4. You now undergo the World's Ill-Will; you muſt expect all the baſe Treatment that a ſpiteful World can give you, for Chriſt's Sake, becauſe you ſerve him and his Intereſts, you muſt expect that wicked Men will hate you, becauſe your Doctrine and Life convicts and condemns them; and thoſe that have Church-Power in their Hands will ſeparate you, will force you to ſeperate your ſelves, and then Excommunicate you for ſo doing, and lay you under the moſt ignominious Cenſures, will pronounce Anathema's againſt you, as ſcandalous and incorrigible Offenders; and will do this with all poſſible Gravity and Solemnity, and the Pomp and Pageantry of Appeals to Heaven, to make the World believe, and almoſt you your ſelves too, that 'tis ratify'd in Heaven; thus will they endeavour to make you odious to others, and a Terror to your ſelves. This is ſuppos'd to be the proper Notion of ἀφορίσωσιν ὑμᾶς, they ſhall caſt you out of their Synagogues. And they that have not this Power, will not fail to ſhew their Malice to the utmoſt of their Power, for they ſhall reproach you, ſhall charge you with the blackeſt Crimes, which you are perfectly innocent of, ſhall faſten upon you the blackeſt Characters which you do not deſerve; they ſhall caſt out your Name as Evil, your Name as Chriſtians, as Apoſtles, they ſhall do all they can to render theſe Names odious. This is the Application of the eighth Beatitude, Matt. 5. 10, 11, 12.

Such Uſage as this ſeems hard, but bleſſed are ye when ye are ſo us'd; 'tis ſo far from depriving you of your Happineſs, that it will greatly add to it; 'tis an Honour to you, as it is to a brave Hero to be employ'd in the Wars, in the Service of his Prince, and therefore rejoyce ye in that Day, and leap for Joy, v. 23. Do not only bear it, but triumph in it: For 1. You are hereby highly dignify'd in the Kingdom of Grace; for you are treated as the Prophets were before you, and therefore not only need not be aſham'd of it, but may juſtly rejoyce in it, for it will be an Evidence for you that you walk in the ſame Spirit, and in the ſame Steps, are engag'd in the ſame Cauſe, and employ'd in the ſame Service with them. 2. You will for this be abundantly recompens'd in the Kingdom of Glory, not only your Services for Chriſt, but your Sufferings will come into the Account; your Reward is great in Heaven. Venture upon your Sufferings, in a full Belief that the Glory of Heaven will abundantly Countervail all theſe Hardſhips; ſo that tho' you may be loſers for Chriſt, you ſhall not be Loſers by him in the End.

2. Woes denounc'd againſt proſpering Sinners as miſerable People, tho' the World envies them. Theſe we had not in Matthew. It ſhould ſeem the beſt Expoſition of theſe Woes, compar'd with the foregoing Bleſſings, is the Parable of the rich Man and Lazarus; Lazarus had the Bleſſedneſs of thoſe that are poor, and hunger, and weep now, for in Abraham's Boſom all the Promiſes made to them who did ſo, were made good to him; but the rich Man had the Woes that follow here, as he had the Character of thoſe on whom theſe Woes are entail'd.

1. Here's a Woe to them that are Rich, that is, that truſt in Riches, that have abundance of this World's Wealth, and inſtead of ſerving God with it, ſerve their Luſts with it; woe to them, for they have receiv'd their Conſolation, that which they plac'd their Happineſs in, and were willing to take up with for a Portion, v. 24. They in their Life-time receiv'd their good Things, which in their Account were the beſt Things, and all the good Things they are ever likely to receive from God. You that are Rich are in Temptation to ſet your Hearts upon a ſmiling World, and to ſay, Soul take thine Eaſe in the Embraces of it, This is my Reſt for ever, here will I dwell; and then Woe unto you. (1.) It is the Folly of carnal Worldlings that they make the Things of this World their Conſolation, which were only intended for their Convenience; they pleaſe themſelves with them, pride themſelves in them, and make them their Heaven upon Earth; and to them the Conſolations of God are ſmall, and of no Account. (2.) It is their Miſery that they are put off with them, as their Conſolation; let them know it to their Terror, when they are parted from theſe Things, there's an End of all their Comfort, a final End of it, and nothing remains to them but everlaſting Miſery and Torment.

2. Here's a Woe to them that are full, v. 25. that are fed to the full, and have more than Heart could wiſh, Pſalm 73. 7. that have their Bellies fill'd with the hid Treaſures of this World, Pſalm 17. 14. that when they have abundance of theſe, are full, and think they have enough, they need no more, they deſire no more, Rev. 3. 17. Now ye are full, now ye are rich, 1 Cor. 4. 8. they are full of themſelves without God and Chriſt: Woe to ſuch for they ſhall hunger, they ſhall ſhortly be ſtript and emptied of all thoſe Things they are ſo proud of; and when they ſhall have left behind them in the World all thoſe things which are their Fulneſs, they ſhall carry away with them ſuch Appetites and Deſires, as the World they remove to will afford them no Gratifications of; for all the Delights of Senſe which they are now ſo full of, will in Hell be deny'd and in Heaven ſuperſeded.

3. Here's a Woe to them that laugh now, that have always a Diſpoſition to be merry, and always ſomething to make merry with; that know no other Joy but that which is carnal and Senſual, and know no other Uſe of this World's Good, but purely to endulge that carnal ſenſual Joy; that baniſhes Sorrow, even godly Sorrow from their Minds, and are always entertaining themſelves with the Laughter of the Fool; Woe unto ſuch, for it is but now; for a little Time that they laugh, they ſhall mourn and weep ſhortly, ſhall mourn and weep eternally, in a World where there is nothing but weeping and wailing, endleſs, eaſeleſs, and remedileſs Sorrow.

4. Here's a Woe to them whom all Men ſpeak well of, i. e. that make it their great and only Care to gain the Praiſe and Applauſe of Men, that value themſelves by that, more than by the Favour of God and his Acceptance, v. 26. Woe unto you, i. e. it would be a bad Sign that you were not Faithful to your Truſt, and to the Souls of Men, if you preach'd ſo as that no Body would be diſguſted; for your Buſineſs is to tell People of their Faults, and if you do that as you ought, you will get that Ill-Will which never ſpeaks well. The falſe Prophets indeed that flatter'd your Fathers in their wicked Ways, that propheſied ſmooth Things to them, were careſs'd and ſpoken well of; and if you be in like manner cry'd up, you will be juſtly ſuſpected to deal deceitfully as they did. We ſhould deſire to have the Approbation of thoſe that are Wiſe and Good, and not be indifferent what People ſay of us; but as we ſhould deſpiſe the Reproaches, ſo we ſhould alſo deſpiſe the Praiſes of the Fools in Iſrael.

27 ¶ But I ſay unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you: 28 Bleſs them that curſe you, and pray for them which deſpitefully uſe you. 29 And unto him that ſmiteth thee on the one cheek, offer alſo the other: and him that taketh away thy cloke, forbid not to take thy coat alſo. 30 Give to every man that asketh of thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods, ask them not again. 31 And as ye would that men ſhould do to you, do ye alſo to them likewiſe. 32 For if ye love them which love you, what thank have ye? for ſinners alſo love thoſe that love them. 33 And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye? for ſinners alſo do even the ſame. 34 And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? for ſinners alſo lend to ſinners, to receive as much again. 25 But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again: and your reward ſhall be great, and ye ſhall be the children of the Higheſt: for he is kind unto the unthankful, and to the evil. 36 Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father alſo is merciful.

Theſe Verſes agree pretty much with Matt. 5. 38. to the End of that Chapter; I ſay unto you which hear, v. 27. to all you that hear, and not to Diſciples only, for theſe are Leſſons of univerſal Concern. He that has an Ear let him hear. Thoſe that diligently hearken to Chriſt, ſhall find he has ſomething to ſay to them well worth their Hearing. Now the Leſſons Chriſt here teacheth us, are,

1. That we muſt render to all their Due, and be honeſt and juſt in all our Dealings, v. 31. As ye would that Men ſhould do to you, do ye alſo to them likewiſe, for this is loving our Neighbour as ourſelves; what we would expect in Reaſon to be done to us, either in Juſtice or Charity by others, if they were in our Condition, and we in theirs, that, as the Matter ſtands, we muſt do to them. We muſt put our Souls into their Souls Stead, and then pity and ſuccour them, as we would deſire, and juſtly expect to be ourſelves pity'd and ſuccour'd.

2. That we muſt be free in giving to them that need, v. 30. Give to every Man that asketh of thee, to every one that is a proper Object of Charity, that wants Neceſſaries, which thou haſt wherewithal to ſupply out of thy Superfluities. Give to thoſe that are not able to help themſelves, to thoſe that have not Relations in a Capacity to help them. Chriſt would have his Diſciples ready to diſtribute, and willing to communicate to their Power in ordinary Caſes, and beyond their Power in extraordinary.

3. That we muſt be generous in forgiving thoſe that have been any Way injurious to us.

1. We muſt not be extreme in demanding our Right, when it is deny'd us. Him that taketh away thy Cloak, either forcibly or fraudulently, forbid him not, by any violent Means, to take thy Coat alſo, v. 29. Let him have that too, rather than fight for it. And v. 30. of him that taketh thy Goods, ſo Dr. Hammond thinks it ſhould be read, that borrows them, or that takes them up from thee upon Truſt, of ſuch do not exact them; if Providence have made ſuch inſolvent, do not take the Advantage of the Law againſt them, but rather loſe it, than take them by the Throat, Matt. 18. 28. If a Man run away in thy Debt, and take away thy Goods with him, do not perplex thy ſelf, nor be incens'd againſt him.

2. We muſt not be rigorous in revenging a Wrong when it is done us; unto him that ſmiteth thee on the one Cheek, inſtead of bringing an Action againſt him, or ſending for a Writ for him, or bringing him before a Juſtice, offer alſo the other, i. e. paſs it by, tho' thereby thou ſhouldſt be in Danger of bringing upon thy ſelf another like Indignity; which is commonly pretended in Excuſe of taking the Advantage of the Law in ſuch a Caſe. If any one ſmite thee on the Cheek, rather than give another Blow to him, be ready to receive another from him; that is, leave it to God to plead thy Cauſe, and do thou ſit down ſilent under the Affront; and when we do thus, God will ſmite our Enemies, as far as they are his, upon the Cheek Bone, ſo as to break the Teeth of the Ungodly, Pſal. 3. 7. for he hath ſaid, Vengeance is mine, and he will make it appear that it is ſo, when we leave it to him to take Vengeance.

3. Nay, we muſt do Good to them that do Evil to us. This is that which our Saviour in theſe Verſes chiefly deſigns to teach us, as a Law peculiar to his Religion, and a Branch of the Perfection of it.

1. We muſt be kind to thoſe from whom we have receiv'd Injuries. We muſt not only love our Enemies, and bear a good Will to them, but we muſt do good to them, be as ready to do any good Office to them as to any other Perſon, if their Caſe call for it, and it be in the Power of our Hands to do it. We muſt ſtudy to make it appear by poſitive Acts, if there be an Opportunity for them, that we bear them no Malice, nor ſeek Revenge. Do they curſe us, ſpeak ill of us, and wiſh ill to us? Do they deſpitefully uſe us in Word or Deed? Do they endeavour to make us contemptable or odious? Let us bleſs them, and pray for them, ſpeak well of them, the beſt we can, wiſh well to them, eſpecially to their Souls, and be Interceſſors with God for them. This is repeated, v. 35. Love ye your Enemies and do them good. To recommend this difficult Duty to us, 'tis repreſented as a generous Thing, and an Attainment few arrive to. To love thoſe that love us, has nothing uncommon in it, nothing peculiar to Chriſt's Diſciples, for Sinners will love thoſe that love them; there's nothing Self-denying in that, 'tis but following Nature, even in its corrupt State, and puts no Force at all upon it, v. 32. 'tis no Thanks to us, to love thoſe that ſay and do juſt as we wou'd have them. And v. 33. If ye do good to them which do good to you, and return their Kindneſſes, 'tis from a common Principle of Cuſtom, Honour, and Gratitude, and therefore What Thank have ye? What Credit are ye to the Name of Chriſt, or what Reputation do you bring to it? For Sinners alſo, that know nothing of Chriſt and his Doctrine, do even the ſame. But it becomes you to do ſomething more Excellent and Eminent, herein to out-do your Neighbours, to do that which Sinners will not do, and which no Principle of theirs can pretend to reach to; you muſt render Good for Evil; not that any Thanks is due to us, but then we are to our God for a Name and a Praiſe, and he will have the Thanks.

2. We muſt be kind to thoſe from whom we expect no Manner of Advantage, v. 35. lend, hoping for nothing again. 'Tis meant of the Rich lending to the Poor a little Money for their Neceſſity, to buy daily Bread for themſelves and their Families, or to keep them out of Priſon; in ſuch a Caſe we muſt lend, with a Reſolution not to demand Intereſt for what we lend, as we may moſt juſtly from thoſe that borrow Money to make Purchaſes withal, or to trade with; but that's not all, we muſt lend, tho' we have Reaſon to ſuſpect, that what we lend we loſe. Lend to thoſe that are ſo poor, that 'tis not probable they will be able to pay us again. This Precept will be beſt illuſtrated by that Law of Moſes, Deut. 15. 7, 8, 9, 10. which obliges them to lend to a poor Brother as much as he needed, tho' the Year of Releaſe was at Hand.

Here are two Motives to this generous Charity.

1. It will redound to our Profit, for our Reward ſhall be great, v. 35. what is given, or laid out, or lent, and loſt on Earth, from a true Principle of Charity, it will be made up to us in the other World, unſpeakably to our Advantage. You ſhall not only be repaid, but rewarded, greatly rewarded; 'twill be ſaid to you, Come ye bleſſed, inherit the Kingdom.

2. It will redound to our Honour, for herein we ſhall reſemble God in his Goodneſs, which is his greateſt Glory. Ye ſhall be the Children of the Higheſt; ſhall be own'd by him as his Children, being like him. It is the Glory of God, that he is kind to the Unthankful and to the Evil; beſtows the Gifts of common Providence even upon the worſt of Men, who are every Day provoking him, and rebelling againſt him, and uſing thoſe very Gifts to his Diſhonour. Hence he infers, v. 36. Be merciful as your Father is merciful; this explains Mat. 5 48. Be perfect as your Father is perfect. Imitate your Father in thoſe Things that are his brighteſt Perfections. Thoſe that are merciful as God is merciful, even to the Evil and the Unthankful, are perfect as God is perfect; ſo he is pleaſed graciouſly to accept it, tho' infinitely falling ſhort. Charity is call'd the Bond of Perfectneſs, Col. 3. 14. And this ſhould ſtrongly engage us to be merciful to our Brethren, even ſuch as have been injurious to us; not only that God is ſo to others, but that he is ſo to us, tho' we have been, and are Evil and Unthankful; 'tis of his Mercies that we are not conſum'd.

37 Judge not, and ye ſhall not be judged: condemn not, and ye ſhall not be condemned: forgive, and ye ſhall be forgiven: 38 Give, and it ſhall be given unto you; good meaſure, preſſed down, and ſhaken together, and running over, ſhall men give into your boſom. For with the ſame meaſure that ye mete withall, it ſhall be meaſured to you again. 39 And he ſpake a parable unto them, Can the blind lead the blind? ſhall they not both fall into the ditch? 40 The diſciple is not above his maſter: but every one that is perfect ſhall be as his maſter. 41 And why beholdeſt thou the mote that is in thy brothers eye, but perceiveſt not the beam that is in thine own eye? 42 Either how canſt thou ſay to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyſelf beholdeſt not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, caſt out firſt the beam out of thine own eye, and then ſhalt thou ſee clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brothers eye. 43 For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit: neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. 44 For every tree is known by his own fruit: for of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble-buſh gather they grapes. 45 A good man out of the good treaſure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is good: and an evil man out of the evil treaſure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is evil; for of the abundance of the heart his mouth ſpeaketh. 46 ¶ And why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I ſay? 47 Whoſoever cometh to me, and heareth my ſayings, and doeth them, I will ſhew you to whom he is like. 48 He is like a man which built an houſe, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood aroſe, the ſtream beat vehemently upon that houſe, and could not ſhake it: for it was founded upon a rock. 49 But he that heareth and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an houſe upon the earth againſt which the ſtream did beat vehemently and immediately it fell, and the ruin of that houſe was great.

All theſe Sayings of Chriſt we had before, in Matthew, ſome of them, Chap. 7. others in other Places. They were Sayings Chriſt often uſ'd, they needed only to be mentioned, 'twas eaſy to apply them: Grotius thinks we need not be critical here in ſeeking for the Coherence: They are golden Sentences, like Solomon's Proverbs, or Parables. Let us obſerve here,

1. That we ought to be very candid in our Cenſures of others, becauſe we need Grains of Allowance our ſelves: Therefore judge not others, becauſe then you your ſelves ſhall not be judged; therefore condemn not others, becauſe then you your ſelves ſhall not be condemn'd, v. 37. Exerciſe towards others that Charity which thinketh no Evil, which bears all Things, believes and hopes all Things; and then others will exerciſe that Charity towards you; God will not judge and condemn you, Men will not. They that are Merciful to other People's Names, ſhall find others Merciful to theirs.

2. That if we are of a giving and a forgiving Spirit, we ſhall ourſelves reap the Benefit of it; forgive and ye ſhall be forgiven. They that forgive others Injuries, others will forgive them their Inadvertencies. They that forgive others Treſpaſſes againſt them, God will forgive them their Treſpaſſes againſt him. And he will be no leſs mindful of the Liberal, that deviſe liberal Things, v. 38. Give, and it ſhall be given to you. God in his Providence will recompenſe it to you; 'tis lent to him, and he is not unrighteous, to forget it, Heb. 6. 10 but he will pay it again. Men ſhall return it into your Boſom; for God makes uſe of Men many Times as Inſtruments, not only of his avenging, but of his rewarding Juſtice. If we in a right Manner give to others when they need, God will incline the Hearts of others to give to us when we need, and to give liberally, good Meaſure, preſſed down and ſhaken together. They that ſow plentifully ſhall reap plentifully. Whom God recompenſeth he abundantly recompenſeth.

3. That we muſt expect to be dealt with our ſelves, as we deal with others. With the ſame Meaſure that ye mete, it ſhall be meaſur'd to you again. Thoſe that deal hardly with others, muſt acknowledge as Adoni-bezek did, Jud. 1. 7. that God is Righteous, if others deal hardly with them, and they may expect to be paid in their own Coin; but they that deal kindly with others, have Reaſon to hope that when they have Occaſion, God will raiſe them up Friends that will deal kindly with them. Tho' Providence doth not always go by this Rule, becauſe the full and exact Retributions are reſerv'd for another World, yet ordinarily it obſerves a Proportion ſufficient to deter us from all Acts of Rigour, and to encourage us in all Acts of Beneficence.

4. That thoſe who put themſelves under the Conduct of the Ignorant and Erroneous, are likely to periſh with them, v. 39. Can the blind lead the blind? Can the Phariſees that are blinded with Pride, and Prejudice, and Bigottry, lead the blind People into the right Way, ſhall not both fall together into the Ditch? How can they expect any other? Thoſe that are led by the common Opinion, Courſe, and Cuſtom of this World, are themſelves blind, and are led by the Blind, and will periſh with the World that ſits in Darkneſs. They that ignorantly, and at a Venture follow the Multitude to do Evil, follow the Blind in the broad Way that leads the many to Deſtruction.

5. That Chriſt's Followers cannot expect better Treatment in the World than their Maſter had, v. 40. Let them not promiſe themſelves more Honour, or Pleaſure in the World than Chriſt had, nor aim at that worldly Pomp and Grandeur which he never was ambitious of, but always declin'd; nor affect that Power in ſecular Things, which he would not aſſume: But every one that would ſhew himſelf perfect, an eſtabliſh'd Diſciple, let him be as his Maſter, dead to the World, and every Thing in it, as his Maſter is; let him live a Life of Labour and Self-denial, as his Maſter doth, and make himſelf a Servant of all; let him ſtoop, and let him toil, and do all the Good he can, and then he will be a compleat Diſciple.

6. That thoſe who take upon them to rebuke and reform others, are concern'd to look to it, that they be themſelves blameleſs, and harmleſs, and without Rebuke, v. 41, 42. (1.) Thoſe with a very ill Grace cenſure the Faults of others, who are not aware of their own Faults. 'Tis very abſurd for any to pretend to be ſo quick-ſighted as to ſpy ſmall Faults in others, like a Mote in the Eye, when they are themſelves ſo perfectly paſt feeling, as not to perceive a Beam in their own Eye, (2.) Thoſe are altogether unfit to help to reform others, whoſe reforming Charity doth not begin at Home. How can'ſt thou offer thy Service to thy Brother to pull out the Mote from his Eye, which requires a good Eye as well as a good Hand, when thou thy ſelf haſt a Beam in thine own Eye, and makeſt no Complaint of it? (3.) Thoſe therefore that would be ſerviceable to the Souls of others, muſt firſt make it appear that they are ſollicitous about their own Souls. To help to pull the Mote out of our Brother's Eye is a good Work, but then we muſt qualify our ſelves for it by beginning with our ſelves; and our reforming our own Lives, may, by the Influence of Example, contribute to others reforming theirs.

7. That we may expect Men's Words and Actions will be according as they are, according as their Hearts are, and according as their Principles are.

1. The Heart is the Tree, and the Words and Actions are Fruit according to the Nature of the Tree, v. 43, 44. If a Man be really a good Man, if he has a Principle of Grace in his Heart, and the prevailing Bent and Biaſs of the Soul be towards God and Heaven, tho' perhaps he may not abound in Fruit, tho' ſome of his Fruits be blaſted, tho' he may be ſometimes like a Tree in Winter, yet he doth not bring forth corrupt Fruit, tho' he may not do you all the Good he ſhould, yet he will not in any material Inſtance do you hurt: If he cannot reform ill Manners, he will not corrupt good Manners. If the Fruit that a Man brings forth be corrupt, if a Man's Devotion tends to debauch the Mind and Converſation, if a Man's Converſation be vicious, if he be a Drunkard or Fornicator, if he be a Swearer or Lyar, if he be in any Inſtance unjuſt, or unnatural, his Fruit is corrupt, and you may be ſure he is not a good Tree. On the other Hand, a corrupt Tree doth not bring forth good Fruit, tho' he may bring forth green Leaves, for of Thorns Men do not gather Figs, nor of a Bramble do they gather Grapes. You may if you pleaſe ſtick Figs upon Thorns, and hang a Bunch of Grapes upon a Bramble, but they neither are, nor can be the natural Product of the Trees; ſo neither can you expect any good Carriage from thoſe that have juſtly an ill Character. If the Fruit be good, you may conclude the Tree is ſo; if the Converſation be holy and heavenly, and regular, tho' you cannot infallibly know the Heart, yet you may charitably hope that that is upright with God, for every Tree is known by its own Fruit: But the vile Perſon will ſpeak Villany, Iſa. 32. 6. and the Experience of the Moderns herein, agrees with the Proverb of the Ancients, that Wickedneſs proceedeth from the Wicked, 1 Sam. 24. 13.

2. The Heart is the Treaſure, and the Words and Actions are the Expences or Produce from that Treaſure, v. 45. This we had, Matt. 12. 34, 35. The reigning Love of God and Chriſt in the Heart, denominates a Man a good Man, and it is a good Treaſure in the Heart, it enricheth a Man, it furniſheth him with a good Stock to ſpend upon, for the Benefit of others; out of ſuch a good Treaſure a Man may bring forth that which is good; but where the Love of the World and the Fleſh reign, there's an evil Treaſure in the Heart, out of which an evil Man is continually bringeth forth that which is Evil, and by what is brought forth, you may know what is in the Heart; as you may know what is in the Veſſel, Water or Wine, by what is drawn out from it; Joh. 2. 8. Of the Abundance of the Heart the Mouth ſpeaks; what the Mouth doth ordinarily ſpeak, doth ſpeak with Reliſh and Delight, generally agrees with what is innermoſt and uppermoſt in the Heart; he that ſpeaks of the Earth is earthly, Joh. 3. 31. Not but that a good Man may poſſibly drop an ill Word, and a wicked Man make uſe of a good Word to ſerve an ill Turn: But, for the moſt Part, the Heart is, as the Words are, vain or ſerious; it therefore concerns us to get our Hearts fill'd, not only with good, but with Abundance of it.

8. That it is not enough to hear the Sayings of Chriſt, but we muſt do them; not enough to profeſs Relation to him, as his Servants, but we muſt make Conſcience of obeying him.

1. It is putting an Affront upon him, to call him Lord, Lord, as if we were wholly at his Command, and had devoted ourſelves to his Service, if we do not make Conſcience of conforming to his Will, and ſerving the Intereſts of his Kingdom. We do but mock Chriſt, as they that in Scorn ſaid, Hail King of the Jews, if we call him never ſo often, Lord, Lord, and yet walk in the Way of our own Hearts, and in the Sight of our own Eyes. Why do we call him Lord, Lord, in Prayer, (compare Matt. 7. 21, 22.) if we do not obey his Commands: He that turns away his Ear from hearing the Law, his Prayer ſhall be an Abomination.

2. It is putting a Cheat upon ourſelves, if we think that a bare Profeſſion of Religion will ſave us, that hearing the Sayings ings of Chriſt will bring us to Heaven without doing them. This he illuſtrates by a Similitude, v. 47, 48, 49. which ſhews,

1. That thoſe only make ſure Work for their Souls and Eternity, and take the Courſe that will ſtand them in ſtead in a trying Time, who do not only come to Chriſt as his Scholars, and hear his Sayings, but do them; who think and ſpeak and act in every Thing, according to the eſtabliſh'd Rules of his Holy Religion. They are like a Houſe built on a Rock; theſe are they that take Pains in Religion, as they do that build on a Rock; that begin low, as they do that dig deep; that found their Hope upon Chriſt who is the Rock of Ages, and other Foundation can no Man lay; theſe are they who provide for hereafter, who get ready for the worſt, who lay up in Store a good Foundation for the Time to come, for the Eternity to come, 1 Tim. 6. 19. They that do thus, do well for themſelves; for (1.) They ſhall keep their Integrity in Times of Temptation and Perſecution; when others fall from their own Stedfaſtneſs, as the Seed on the ſtony Ground, they ſhall ſtand faſt in the Lord. (2.) They ſhall keep their Comfort, and Peace, and Hope, and Joy, in the midſt of the greateſt Diſtreſſes. The Storms and Streams of Affliction ſhall not ſhock them, for their Feet are ſet upon a Rock, a Rock higher than they. (3.) Their everlaſting Welfare is ſecur'd. In Death and Judgment they are ſafe. Obedient Believers are kept by the Power of Chriſt, thro' Faith, unto Salvation, and ſhall never periſh.

2. That thoſe who reſt in a bare Hearing of the Sayings of Chriſt, and do not live up to them, are but preparing for a fatal Diſappointment. He that heareth and doth not, that knows his Duty, but lives in the Neglect of it; he is like a Man that built a Houſe without a Foundation. He pleaſeth himſelf with Hopes that he has no Ground for, and his Hopes will fail him, when he moſt needs the Comfort of them, and when he expects the crowning of them, when the Stream beats vehemently upon his Houſe, it's gone, the Sand it is built upon is waſh'd away, and immediately it falls. Such is the Hope of the Hypocrite, tho' he has gain'd when God takes away his Soul; 'tis as the Spider's Web, and the giving up of the Ghoſt.

CHAP. VII.

In this Chapter we have (1.) Chriſt confirming the Doctrine he had preached in the former Chapter, with two glorious Miracles, The Curing of one at a Diſtance, and that was the Centurion's Servant, v. 1,----10. and the raiſing of one to Life that was dead, the Widow's Son at Naim, v. 11,---18. (2.) Chriſt confirming the Faith of John, who was now in Priſon, and of ſome of his Diſciples, by ſending him a ſhort Account of the Miracles he wrought, in anſwer to a Queſtion he rceiv'd from him, v. 19,----23. To which he adds, an honourable Teſtimony concerning John, and a juſt Reproof to the Men of that Generation, for the Contempt they put upon him and his Doctrine, v. 24,---35. (3.) Chriſt comforting a poor Penitent, that apply'd herſelf to him all in Tears of godly Sorrow for Sin, aſſuring her, that her Sins were pardon'd; and juſtifying himſelf in the Favour he ſhew'd her, againſt the Cavils of a proud Phariſee.

1 NOW when he had ended all his ſayings in the audience of the people, he enter'd into Capernaum.
2 And a certain centurions ſervant, who was dear unto him, was ſick, and ready to die. 3 And when he heard of Jeſus, he ſent unto him the elders of the Jews, beſeeching him that he would come and heal his ſervant. 4 And when they came to Jeſus, they beſought him inſtantly, ſaying, That he was worthy for whom he ſhould do this. 5 For he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a ſynagogue. 6 Then Jeſus went with them. And when he was now not far from the houſe, the centurion ſent friends to him, ſaying unto him, Lord, trouble not thy ſelf, for I am not worthy that thou ſhouldeſt enter under my roof.
7 Wherefore neither thought I my ſelf worthy to come unto thee: but ſay in a word, and my ſervant ſhall be healed. 8 For I alſo am a man ſet under authority, having under me ſouldiers, and I ſay unto one, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my ſervant, Do this, and he doeth it. 9 When Jeſus heard theſe things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and ſaid unto the people that followed him, I ſay unto you,
I have not found ſo great faith, no, not in Iſrael. 10
And they that were ſent, returning to the houſe, found the ſervant whole that had been ſick.

Some Difference there is between this Story of the Cure of the Centurion's Servant, as it is related here, and as we had it, Matt. 8. 5, &c. for there it was ſaid, that the Centurion came to Chriſt, here it is ſaid, that he ſent to him, firſt ſome of the Elders of the Jews, v. 3. and afterwards ſome other Friends, v. 6. But it is a Rule, that we are ſaid to do that, which we do by another; Quod facimus per aleum, id ipſum facere Judicamur. The Centurion might be ſaid to do that which he did by his Proxies; as a Man takes Poſſeſſion by his Attorney. But 'tis probable the Centurion himſelf came at laſt, when Chriſt ſaid to him, Matt. 8. 13. as thou haſt believed, ſo be it done unto thee.

This Miracle is here ſaid to have been wrought by our Lord Jeſus, when he had ended all his Sayings in the Audience of the People, v. 1. What Chriſt ſaid, he ſaid publickly; whoever would might come and hear him; in Secret have I ſaid nothing, Joh. 18. 20. Now to give an undeniable Proof of the Authority of his preaching Word, he here gives an unconteſtable Proof of the Power and Efficacy of his healing Word. He that had ſuch a commanding Empire in the Kingdom of Nature, as that he could command away Diſeaſes, no doubt has ſuch a Sovereignty in the Kingdom of Grace, as to enjoyn Duties diſpleaſing to Fleſh and Blood, and bind under the higheſt Penalties to the Obſervance of them. This Miracle was wrought in Capernaum, where moſt of Chriſt's mighty Works were done, Matt. 11. 23.

Now obſerve

1. That the Centurion's Servant that was ſick, was dear to his Maſter, v. 2. 'Twas the Praiſe of the Servant, that by his Diligence and Faithfulneſs, and a manifeſt Concern for his Maſter and for his Intereſt, as for himſelf and for his own, he recommended himſelf to his Maſter's Eſteem and Love. Servants ſhould ſtudy to endear themſelves to their Maſters. 'Twas likewiſe the Praiſe of the Maſter, that when he had a good Servant, he knew how to value him. Many Maſters that are haughty and imperious, think it Favour enough to the beſt Servants they have, not to rate 'em, and beat 'em, and be cruel to 'em, whereas they ought to be kind to them, and tender of them, aud ſollicitous for their Welfare and Comfort.

2. That the Maſter when he heard of Jeſus, was for making Application to him, v. 3. Maſters ought to take particular Care of their Servants when they are ſick; and not to neglect them then. This Centurion begg'd that Chriſt would come and heal his Servant; we may now by faithful and fervent Prayer apply ourſelves to Chriſt in Heaven, and ought to do ſo when Sickneſs is in our Families; for Chriſt is ſtill the great Phyſician.

3. That he ſent ſome of the Elders of the Jews to Chriſt, to repreſent the Caſe, and ſollicit for him, thinking that a greater Piece of Reſpect to Chriſt, than if he had come himſelf, becauſe he was an uncircumcis'd Gentile, whom he thought, Chriſt, being a Prophet, would not care for converſing with. For that Reaſon he ſent Jews, whom he acknowledg'd to be Favourites of Heaven, and not ordinary Jews neither, but Elders of the Jews, Perſons in Authority, that the Dignity of the Meſſengers might give Honour to him to whom they were ſent; Balak ſent Princes to Balaam.

4. That the Elders of the Jews were hearty Interceſſors for the Centurion, they beſought him inſtantly, v. 4. were very urgent with him, pleading for the Centurion, that which he wou'd never have pleaded for himſelf, That he was worthy for whom he ſhould do this. If any Gentile was qualify'd to receive ſuch a Favour, ſure he was. The Centurion ſaid, I am not ſo much as worthy of a Viſit, Matt. 8. 8. but the Elders of the Jews thought him worthy of the Cure; thus Honour ſhall uphold the humble in Spirit. Let another Man praiſe thee, and not thy own Mouth. But that which they inſiſted upon in particular was, that tho' he was a Gentile, yet he was a hearty Well-wiſher to the Jewiſh Nation and Religion, v. 5. they thought there needed as much with Chriſt, as there did with them, to remove the Prejudices againſt him, as a Gentile, and a Roman, and an Officer of the Army, and therefore mention this; (1.) That he was well affected to the People of the Jews; he loveth our Nation, which few of the Gentiles did. Probably he had read the Old Teſtament, from whence it was eaſy to advance a very high Eſteem of the Jewiſh Nation, as favour'd by Heaven above all People. Note, Even Conquerors, and thoſe in Power, ought to keep up an Affection for the conquer'd, and thoſe they have Power over. (2.) That he was well affected to their Worſhip; he built them a new Synagogue at Capernaum, finding that what they had, was either gone to Decay, or not large enough to contain the People; and that the Inhabitants were not of Ability to build one for themſelves. Hereby he teſtify'd his Veneration for the God of Iſrael, and his Belief of his being the one only, living and true God, and his Deſire, like that of Darius, to have an Intereſt in the Prayers of God's Iſrael, Ezr. 6. 10. This Centurion built a Synagogue at his own proper Coſts and Charges, and probably employ'd his Soldiers that were in Garriſon there, in the Building, to keep them from Idleneſs. Note, Building of Places of meeting for religious Worſhip, is a very good Work, is an Inſtance of Love to God and his People, and thoſe who do good Works of that kind, are worthy of double Honour.

5. That Jeſus Chriſt was very ready to ſhew Kindneſs to the Centurion. He preſently went with them, v. 6. tho' he was a Gentile; for is he the Saviour of the Jews only? Is he not alſo of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles alſo, Rom. 3. 29. The Centurion did not think himſelf worthy to viſit Chriſt, v. 7. Yet Chriſt thought him worthy to be viſited by him; for thoſe that humble themſelves, ſhall be exalted.

6. That the Centurion when he heard that Chriſt was doing him the Honour to come to his Houſe, gave further Proofs, both of his Humility and of his Faith. Thus the Graces of the Saints, are quickened by Chriſt's Approaches towards them. When he was now not far from the Houſe, and the Centurion had Notice of it, inſtead of ſetting his Houſe in Order for his Reception, he ſends Friends to meet him with freſh Expreſſions, (1.) Of his Humility; Lord trouble not thy ſelf, for I am unworthy of ſuch an Honour, becauſe I am a Gentile; this ſpeaks not only his low Thoughts of himſelf, notwithſtanding the Greatneſs of his Figure, but his high Thoughts of Chriſt, notwithſtanding the Meanneſs of his Figure in the World. He knew how to honour a Prophet of God, tho' he was deſpis'd and rejected of Man. (2.) Of his Faith, Lord trouble not thyſelf, for I know it doth not need, thou canſt cure my Servant without coming under my Roof, by that Almighty Power from which no Thought can be withholden. Say in a Word and my Servant ſhall be healed; ſo far was this Centurion from Naaman's Fancy, that he ſhould come to him, and ſtand and ſtrike his Hand over the Patient, and ſo recover him, 2 King. 5. 11. He illuſtrates this Faith of his, by a Compariſon taken from his own Profeſſion, and is confident Chriſt can as eaſily command away the Diſtemper, as he can command any of his Soldiers; can as eaſily ſend an Angel, with Commiſſion to cure this Servant of his, as he can ſend a Soldier on an Errand, v. 8. Chriſt hath a Sovereign Power over all the Creatures, and all their Actions, and can change the Courſe of Nature as he pleaſeth, can rectify its Diſorders, and repairs its Decaies in human Bodies, for all Power is given to him.

7. That our Lord Jeſus was wonderfully well pleaſed with the Faith of the Centurion, and the more ſurpriz'd at it, becauſe he was a Gentile; and the Centurion's Faith having thus honour'd Chriſt, ſee how he honour'd it, v. 9. he turn'd him about, as one amaz'd, and ſaid to the People that follow'd him, I have not found ſo great Faith, no not in Iſrael. Note, Chriſt will have thoſe that follow him, to obſerve and take Notice of the great Examples of Faith, that are ſometimes ſet before them, eſpecially when any ſuch are found among thoſe that do not follow Chriſt ſo cloſely, as they do in Profeſſion; that we may be ſham'd by the Strength of their Faith, out of the Weakneſſes and Waverings of ours.

8. That the Cure was preſently and perfectly wrought, v. 10. They that were ſent knew they had their Errand, and therefore went back, and found the Servant well, and under no Remains at all of his Diſtemper. Chriſt will take Cognizance of the diſtreſſed Caſe of poor Servants and be ready to relieve them, for there is no Reſpect of Perſons with him. Nor was the Gentiles excluded from the Benefit of his Grace; nay, this was a Specimen of that much greater Faith, which would be found among the Gentiles, when the Goſpel would be publiſh'd, than among the Jews.

11 ¶ And it came to paſs the day after, that he went into a city called Naim; and many of his diſciples went with him, and much people. 12 Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only ſon of his mother, and ſhe was a widow, and much people of the city was with her. 13 And when the Lord ſaw her, he had compaſſion on her, and ſaid unto her, Weep not. 14 And he came and touched the biere, (and they that bare him ſtood ſtill) and he ſaid, Young man I ſay unto thee, Ariſe. 15 And he that was dead ſat up, and began to ſpeak: and he delivered him to his mother. 16 And there came a fear on all: and they glorify'd God, ſaying, That a great prophet is riſen up among us; and, That God hath viſited his people. 17 And this rumour of him went out throughout all Judea, and throughout all the region round about. 18 And the diſciples of John ſhewed him of all theſe things.

We have here the Story of Chriſt's raiſing to Life a Widow's Son at Naim, that was dead, and in the carrying out to be bury'd; which Matthew and Mark had made no Mention of; only in the general, Matthew had recorded it in Chriſt's Anſwer to the Diſciples [illegible] John, that the Dead were raiſed up, Matt. 11. 5.

Obſerve [illegible] Where and when this Miracle was wrought. It was the next Day after [illegible] had cur'd the Centurion's Servant, v. 11. Chriſt was doing [illegible] every Day, and never had Cauſe to complain that he had [illegible] a Day. It was done at the Gate of a ſmall City, or Town, call'd Naim; not far from Capernaum. Probably the ſame with a City call'd Nais, which Jerom ſpeaks of.

2. Who were the Witneſſes of it; 'tis as well atteſted as can be, for it was done in the Sight of two Crowds, that met in or near the Gate of the City. There was a Croud of Diſciples and other People attending Chriſt, v. 11. and a Crowd of Relations and Neighbours attending the Funeral of the young Man, v. 12. Thus there were a ſufficient Number to atteſt the Truth of this Miracle, for it was a greater Proof of Chriſt's divine Authority than his healing of Diſeaſes, for by no Power of Nature, or any Means, can the Dead be rais'd.

3. How it was wrought by our Lord Jeſus.

1. The Perſon rais'd to Life was a young Man, cut off by Death in the Beginning of his Days; a common Caſe; Man comes forth like a Flower, and is cut down. That he was really dead, was univerſally agreed; there could be no Colluſion in the Caſe, for Chriſt was entring into the Town, and had not ſeen him, 'till now that he met him upon the Bier. He was carried out of the City, for the Jews Burying-Places were without their Cities, and at ſome Diſtance from them. This young Man was the only Son of his Mother, and ſhe a Widow. She depended upon him to be the Staff of her old Age, but he proves a broken Reed; every Man at his beſt Eſtate is ſo. How numerous, how various, how very calamitous are the Afflictions of the afflicted in this World? What a Vale of Tears is it; What a Bochim, a Place of Weepers. We may well think how deep the Sorrow of this poor Mother was, for her only Son; that's us'd to expreſs the greateſt Grief, Zech. 12. 10. and the deeper, in that ſhe was a Widow, broken with Breach upon Breach, a full End made of her Comforts. Much Poople of the City was with her, by condoling her Loſs, to comfort her.

2. Chriſt ſhew'd both his Pity and his Power in raiſing him to Life, that he might give a Specimen of both, which ſhine ſo bright in Man's Redemption.

1. See how tender his Compaſſions are towards the Afflicted, v. 13. When the Lord ſaw the poor Widow following her Son to the Grave, he had Compaſſion on her. Here was no Application made to him for her, not ſo much as that he would ſpeak ſome Words of Comfort to her, but ex mero motu, purely from the Goodneſs of his Nature, he was troubled for her. The Caſe was piteous, and he look'd upon it with Pity. His Eye affected his Heart; and he ſaid unto her, Weep not. Note, Chriſt has a Concern for the Mourners, for the Miſerable, and often prevents them with the Bleſſings of his Goodneſs. He undertook the Work of our Redemption and Salvation, in his Love and in his Pity, Iſa. 63. 9. What a pleaſing Idea doth this give us of the Compaſſions of the Lord Jeſus, and the Multitude of his tender Mercies, which may be very comfortable to us, when at any Time we are in Sorrow. Let poor Widows comfort themſelves in their Sorrows with this, that Chriſt pities them, and knows their Souls in Adverſity; and if others deſpiſe their Grief, he does not. Chriſt ſaid, Weep not; and he could give her a Reaſon for it, which no one elſe could; weep not for a dead Son, for he ſhall preſently become a living one. This was a Reaſon peculiar to her Caſe; yet there is a Reaſon common to all who ſleep in Jeſus, which is of equal Force againſt inordinate and exceſſive Grief for their Death; that they ſhall riſe again, ſhall riſe in Glory, and therefore we muſt not Sorrow, as thoſe that have no Hope, 1 Theſſ. 4. 13. Let Rachel that weeps for her Children, refrain her Eyes from Tears, for there is Hope in thine End, ſaith the Lord, that thy Children ſhall come again to their own Border, Jer. 31. 17. And let our Paſſion at ſuch a Time be check'd and calm'd by the Conſideration of Chriſt's Compaſſion.

2. See how triumphant his Commands are, over even Death itſelf, v. 14. He came and touch'd the Bier or Coffin, in or upon which the dead Body lay; for to him it would be no Pollution; hereby he intimated to the Bearers, that they ſhould not proceed; he had ſomething to ſay to the dead young Man; Deliver him from going down to the Pit, I have found a Ranſom, Job. 32. 24. Hereupon, they that bare him ſtood ſtill, and probably let down the Bier from their Shoulders to the Ground, and open'd the Coffin, if it were clos'd up; and then, with Solemnity, as one that had Authority, and to whom belong'd the Iſſues from Death, he ſaid, young Man, I ſay unto thee, Ariſe. The young Man was dead, and cou'd not ariſe by any Power of his own, no more can thoſe that are ſpiritually dead in Treſpaſſes and Sins; yet it was no Abſurdity at all for Chriſt to bid him ariſe, when a Power went along with that Word to put Life into him. The Goſpel Call to all People, to young People particularly, is Ariſe, ariſe from the Dead, and Chriſt ſhall give you Light and Life. Chriſt's Dominion over Death, was evidenc'd by the immediate Effect of his Word, v. 15. He that was dead ſate up without any Help. When Chriſt put Life into him, he made it to appear by his ſitting up. Have we Grace from Chriſt, let us ſhew it. Another Evidence of Life was, that he began to ſpeak; for whenever Chriſt gives us ſpiritual Life, he opens the Lips, in Prayer and Praiſe. And laſtly, he wou'd not oblige this young Man, to whom he had given a new Life, to go along with him, either as his Diſciple to miniſter to him, tho' he ow'd him even his own ſelf; much leſs as a Trophy, or a Shew to get Honour by him, but deliver'd him to his Mother, to attend her, as became a dutiful Son; for Chriſt's Miracles were Miracles of Mercy; and a great Act of Mercy this was to this Widow; now ſhe was comforted, according to the Time in which ſhe had been afflicted; and much more; for ſhe could now look upon this Son, as a particular Favourite of Heaven, with more Pleaſure than if he had not dy'd.

4. What Influence it had upon the People, ver. 16. There came a Fear on all; it frightned them all to ſee a dead Man ſtart up alive out of his Coffin in the open Street, at the Command of a Man; they were all ſtruck with Wonder at this Miracle, and glorified God. The Lord and his Goodneſs, as well as the Lord and his Greatneſs, are to be feared. The Inference they drew from it was, That a great Prophet is riſen up among us; the great Prophet that we have been long looking for, doubtleſs he is one divinely inſpired, who can thus breath Life into the Dead: And that in him God had viſited his People to redeem them, as was expected, Luke 1. 68. This would be Life from the Dead indeed, to all them that waited for the Conſolation of Iſrael. When dead Souls are thus rais'd to ſpiritual Life by a Divine Power going along with the Goſpel, we muſt glorify God, and look upon it as a gracious Viſit to his People. The Report of this Miracle was carry'd (1.) In general, all the Country over, v. 17. This Rumour of him, that he was the great Prophet, went forth upon the Wings of Fame through all Judea, which lay a great Way off, and throughout all Galilee, which was the Region round about. Moſt got this Notion of him, yet few believed in him, and gave up themſelves to him. Many have the Rumour of Chriſt's Goſpel in their Ears, that have not the Savour and Reliſh of it in their Souls. (2.) In particular, it was carefully brought to John Baptiſt, who was now in Priſon, v. 18. His Diſciples came and gave him an Account of all Things, that he might know, that tho' he was bound, yet the Word of the Lord was not bound; God's Work was going on tho' he was laid aſide.

19 ¶ And John calling unto him two of his diſciples, ſent them unto Jeſus, ſaying, Art thou he that ſhould come, or look we for another? 20 When the men were come unto him, they ſaid, John Baptiſt hath ſent us unto thee, ſaying, Art thou he that ſhould come, or look we for another? 21 And in that ſame hour he cured many of their infirmities, and plagues, and of evil ſpirits, and unto many that were blind he gave ſight. 22 Then Jeſus anſwering, ſaid unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have ſeen and heard, how that the blind ſee, the lame walk, the lepers are cleanſed, the deaf hear, the dead are raiſed, to the poor the goſpel is preached. 23 And bleſſed is he whoſoever ſhall not be offended in me. 24 ¶ And when the meſſengers of John were departed, he began to ſpeak unto the people concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderneſs for to ſee? A reed ſhaken with the wind? 25 But what went ye out for to ſee? a man clothed in ſoft rayment? Behold, they that are gorgeouſly apparell'd, and live delicately, are in kings courts. 26 But what went ye out for to ſee? A prophet? Yea, I ſay unto you, and much more than a prophet. 27 This is he of whom it is written, Behold, I ſend my meſſenger before thy face, which ſhall prepare thy way before thee. 28 For I ſay unto you, Among thoſe that are born of women, there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptiſt: but he that is leaſt in the kingdom of God, is greater than he. 29 And all the people that heard him, and the publicans juſtified God, being baptized with the baptiſm of John. 30 But the Phariſees and lawyers rejected the Counſel of God againſt themſelves, being not baptized of him. 31 ¶ And the Lord ſaid, Whereunto then ſhall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like? 32 They are like unto children ſitting in the market-place, and calling one to another, and ſaying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced: we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept. 33 For John the Baptiſt came neither eating bread, nor drinking wine; and ye ſay, He hath a devil. 34 The Son of Man is come eating and drinking; and ye ſay, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a wine-bibber, a friend of publicans and ſinners. 35 But Wiſdom is juſtified of all her children.

All this Diſcourſe concerning John Baptiſt, occaſion'd by his ſending to aſk whether he was the Meſſiah or no, we had, much as it is here related, Matt. 11. 2,--19.

Firſt, We have here the Meſſage John Baptiſt ſent to Chriſt, and the Return he made to it. Obſerve,

1. The great Thing we are to enquire concerning, is, whether he be he that ſhould come to redeem and ſave Sinners, or whether we are to look for another, v. 19, 20. We are ſure God has promis'd that a Saviour ſhall come, an anointed Saviour; we are as ſure, that what he has promis'd he will perform in its Seaſon: If this Jeſus be that promis'd Meſſias, we will receive and will look for no other; but if not, we will continue our Expectations, and tho' he tarry, we will wait for him.

2. The Faith of John Baptiſt himſelf, or at leaſt of his Diſciples, wanted to be confirm'd in this Matter; for Chriſt had not yet publickly declar'd himſelf to be indeed the Chriſt, nay, he would not have his Diſciples, who knew him to be ſo, to ſpeak of it, 'till the Proofs of his being ſo were compleated in his Reſurrection. The great Men of the Jewiſh Church had not own'd him, nor had he gain'd any Intereſt that was like to ſet him upon the Throne of his Father David. Nothing of that Power and Grandeur was to be ſeen about him, in which it was expected the Meſſiah would appear. And therefore it is not ſtrange that they ſhould aſk, Art thou the Meſſiah? not doubting but that if he were not, he would direct them what other to look for.

3. Chriſt left it to his own Works to praiſe him in the Gates, to tell what he was and to prove it. While John's Meſſengers were with him he wrought many miraculous Cures, in that ſame Hour; which perhaps intimates, that they ſtaid but an Hour with him; and what a deal of good Work did Chriſt do in a little Time! ver. 21. He cured many of their Infirmities, and Plagues in Body, and of evil Spirits that affected the Mind, either with Frenzy or Melancholy; and unto many that were blind, he gave Sight. He multiply'd the Cures, that their might be no Ground left to ſuſpect a Fraud. And then, v. 22. he bid them go tell John what they had ſeen. And he and they might eaſily argue, as even the common People did, John 7. 31. When Chriſt cometh, will he do more Miracles than theſe, which this Man has done? Theſe Cures which they ſaw him work, were not only Confirmations of his Commiſſion, but Explications of it. The Meſſiah much come to cure a diſeaſed World, to give Light and Sight to them that ſit in Darkneſs, and to reſtrain and conquer evil Spirits; you ſee that Jeſus doth this to the Bodies of People, and therefore muſt conclude, This is he that ſhould come to do it to the Souls of People; and you are to look for no other. To his Miracles in the Kingdom of Nature, he adds this in the Kingdom of Grace, v. 22. To the Poor the Goſpel is preached; which they knew was to be done by the Meſſiah, for he was anointed to preach the Goſpel to the Meek, Iſa. 61. 1. and to ſave the Souls of the Poor and Needy, Pſal. 72. 13. Judge therefore whether you can look for any other that will more fully anſwer the Characters of the Meſſiah, and the great Intentions of his Coming.

4. He gave them an Intimation of the Danger People were in of being prejudic'd againſt him, notwithſtanding theſe evident Proofs of his being the Meſſiah, v. 23. Bleſſed is he whoſoever ſhall no be offended in me, or ſcandaliz'd at me. We are here in a State of Trial and Probation, and it is agreeable to ſuch a State, that as there are ſufficient Arguments to confirm the Truth to thoſe that are honeſt and impartial in ſearching after it, and have their Minds prepar'd to receive it; ſo there ſhould be alſo Objections to cloud the Truth, to thoſe that are careleſs, and worldly, and ſenſual; Chriſt's Education at Nazareth, his Reſidence in Galilee, the Meanneſs of his Family and Relations, his Poverty, and the the Deſpicableneſs of his Followers, theſe and the like, were Stumbling-Blocks to many, which all the Miracles he wrought, could not help them over: He is bleſſed, for he is wiſe, and humble, and well-diſpos'd, that is not overcome by theſe Prejudices: It is a Sign God bleſſeth him, for 'tis by his Grace that he is help'd over theſe Stumbling-Stones; and he ſhall be bleſſed indeed, bleſſed in Chriſt.

Secondly, We have here the high Encomium which Chriſt gave of John Baptiſt; not while his Meſſengers were preſent, leaſt he ſhould ſeem to flatter him, but when they were departed, v. 24. to make the People ſenſible of the Advantages they had enjoy'd in John's Miniſtry, and were deprived of by his Impriſonment. Let them now conſider, What they went out into the Wilderneſs to ſee? Who that was, about whom their had been ſo much Talk, and ſuch a great and general Amazement. Come, ſaith Chriſt, I'll tell you.

1. He was a Man of unſhaken Self-Conſiſtence; a Man of Steadineſs and Conſtancy; he was not a Reed ſhaken with the Wind, firſt in one Way, and then in another, ſhifting with every Wind, he was firm as a Rock, not fickle as a Reed; if he could have bow'd like a Reed to Herod, and have complied with the Court, he might have been a Favourite there; but none of theſe Things mov'd him.

2. He was a Man of unparallell'd Self-Denial; a great Example of Mortification and Contempt of the World; he was not a Man clothed in ſoft Raiment, nor did he live delicately, v. 25. But on the contrary, he liv'd in a Wilderneſs, and was clad and fed accordingly; inſtead of adorning and pampering the Body, he brought it under, and kept it in Subjection.

3. He was a Prophet, had his Commiſſion and Inſtructions immediately from God, and not of Man, or by Man. He was by Birth a Prieſt, but that is never taken Notice of; for his Glory as a Prophet, eclips'd the Honour of his Prieſthood; nay, he was more, he was much more than a Prophet, v. 26. than any of the Prophets of the Old Teſtament, for they ſpake of Chriſt as at a Diſtance, he ſpake of him as at the Door.

4. He was the Harbinger and Fore-runner of the Meſſiah, and he was himſelf propheſied of in the Old Teſtament, v. 27. This is he of whom it is written, Mal. 3. 1. Behold I ſend my Meſſenger before thy Face. Before he ſent the Maſter himſelf, he ſent a Meſſenger to give Notice of his Coming, and prepare People to receive him: Had the Meſſiah been to appear as a temporal Prince, under which Character the carnal Jews expected him, his Meſſenger would have appear'd either in the Pomp of a General, or the Gaiety of a Herald at Arms; but it was a previous Indication, plain enough, of the Spiritual Nature of Chriſt's Kingdom, that the Meſſenger he ſent before him to prepare his Way, did it by preaching Repentance, and Reformation of Men's Hearts and Lives, certainly that Kingdom was not of this World, which was thus uſher'd in.

5. He was upon this Account ſo great, that really there was not a greater Prophet than he. Prophets were really the greateſt that were born of Women, more honourable than Kings and Princes, and John was the greateſt of all the Prophets; the Country was not ſenſible what a valuable, what an invaluable Man it had in it, when John Baptiſt went about preaching and baptizing. And yet he that is leaſt in the Kingdom of God is greater than he. The leaſt Goſpel Miniſter that has obtain'd Mercy of the Lord, to be skilful and faithful in his Work; or the meaneſt of the Apoſtles and firſt Preachers of the Goſpel, being employ'd under a more excellent Diſpenſation, are in a more honourable Office than John Baptiſt. The meaneſt of thoſe that follow the Lamb, far excel the greateſt of thoſe that went before him. Thoſe therefore who live under the Goſpel Diſpenſation, have ſo much the more to anſwer for.

Thirdly, We have here the juſt Cenſure of the Men of that Generation, that were not wrought upon by the Miniſtry either of John Baptiſt, or of Jeſus Chriſt himſelf.

1. Chriſt here ſhews what Contempt was put upon John Baptiſt, while he was preaching and baptizing. (1.) Thoſe that did ſhew him any Reſpect, were but the common ordinary Sort of People; that in the Eye of the gay Part of Mankind, were rather a Diſgrace to him than any Credit, v. 29. The People indeed, the vulgar Herd, of whom it was ſaid, This People who knows not the Law, are curſed, Joh. 7. 49. And the Publicans, Men of ill Fame, as being generally Men of ill Morals, or taken to be ſo, theſe were baptiz'd with his Baptiſm, and became his Diſciples; and theſe, tho' glorious Monuments of Divine Grace, yet did not magnify John in the Eye of the World; but by their Repentance and Reformation they juſtified God, juſtified his Conduct, and the Wiſdom of it, in appointing ſuch a one as John Baptiſt to be the Forerunner of the Meſſiah; they hereby made it to appear, that it was the beſt Method that could be taken, for it was not in vain to them, whatever it was to others. (2.) The Great Men of their Church and Nation, the Polite and the Politicians, that wou'd have done him ſome Credit in the Eye of the World, did him all the Diſhonour they cou'd; they heard him indeed, but they were not baptiz'd of him, v. 30. the Phariſees that were moſt in Reputation for Religion and Devotion, and the Lawyers that were celebrated for their Learning, eſpecially their Knowledge of the Scriptures, they rejected the Counſel of God againſt themſelves, they fruſtrated it, they received the Grace of God in the Baptiſm of John in vain. God in ſending that Meſſenger among them, had a kind Purpoſe of good to them, deſign'd their Salvation by it, and if they had clos'd with the Counſel of God, it had been for themſelves, they had been made for ever; but they rejected it, wou'd not comply with it, and it was againſt themſelves, it was to their own Ruin; they came ſhort of the Benefit intended them, and not only ſo, but forfeited the Grace of God, put a Bar in their own Door, and by refuſing that Diſcipline, which was to fit them for the Kingdom of the Meſſiah, ſhut themſelves out of it, and they not only excluded themſelves, but hinder'd others, and ſtood in their Way.

2. He here ſhews the ſtrange Perverſeneſs of the Men of that Generation, in their Cavils both againſt John and Chriſt, and the Prejudices they conceiv'd againſt them.

1. They made but a jeſting Matter of the Methods God took to do them good, v. 31. Whereunto ſhall I liken the Men of this Generation? What can I think of, abſurd enough to repreſent them by? They are then, like Children ſitting in the Market-Place, that mind nothing that's ſerious, but are as full of Play as they can hold; as if God were but in Jeſt with them, in all the Methods he takes to do them good, as Children are with one another in the Market-Place, v. 32. they turn it all off with a Banter, and are no more affected with it than a Piece of Pageantry. This is the Ruin of Multitudes, they can never perſwade themſelves to be ſerious in the Concerns of their Souls: Old Men ſitting in the Sanhedrin, were but as Children ſitting in the Market-Place; and no more affected with the Things that belong'd to their everlaſting Peace, than People are with Children's Play. O the amazing Stupidity and Vanity of the blind and ungodly World! The Lord awaken them out of their Security!

2. They ſtill found ſomething or other to carp at.

1. John Baptiſt was a reſerv'd auſtere Man, liv'd much in Solitude, and ought to have been admir'd for being ſuch a humble, ſober, ſelf-denying Man, and hearken'd to, as a Man of Thought and Contemplation; but this which was his Praiſe, was turn'd to his Reproach; becauſe he came neither eating nor drinking, ſo freely, and plentifully, and chearfully, as others did, ye ſay, he has a Devil, he's a melancholy Man, he's poſſeſs'd as the Demoniack, whoſe Dwelling was among the Tombs, tho' he be not all out ſo wild.

2. Our Lord Jeſus was of a more free and open Converſation, he came eating and drinking, v. 34. he wou'd go and dine with Phariſees, tho' he knew they did not care for him; and with Publicans, tho' he knew they were no Credit to him; yet in hopes of doing good both to the one and the other, he convers'd familiarly with them. By this it appears that the Miniſters of Chriſt may be of very different Tempers and Diſpoſitions, very different Ways of Preaching and Living, and yet all good and uſeful; Diverſity of Gifts, but each given to profit withal; therefore none muſt make themſelves a Standard to all others, nor judge hardly of thoſe that do not do juſt as they do. John Baptiſt bore Witneſs to Chriſt, and Chriſt applauded John Baptiſt, tho' they were the Reverſe of each other in their Way of Living. But the common Enemies of them both, reproach'd them both. The very ſame Men that had repreſented John as craz'd in his Intellectuals, becauſe he came neither eating nor drinking, repreſented our Lord Jeſus as corrupt in his Morals, becauſe he came eating and drinking; he is a gluttonous Man and a Wine-bibber. Ill-will never ſpeaks well. See the Malice of wicked People, and how they put the worſt Conſtruction upon every thing they meet with in the Goſpel, and in the Preachers and Profeſſors of it; and hereby they think to diminiſh them; but really deſtroy themſelves.

Laſtly, He ſhews, that notwithſtanding this, God will be glorified in the Salvation of a choſen Remnant, v. 35. Wiſdom is juſtified of all her Children. There are thoſe who are given to Wiſdom as her Children, and they ſhall be brought by the Grace of God, to ſubmit to Wiſdom's Conduct and Government, and thereby to juſtify Wiſdom in the Ways ſhe takes of bringing them to that Submiſſion; for to them they are effectual, and thereby appear well-choſen. Wiſdom's Children are herein unanimous, one and all, they have all a Complacency in the Methods of Grace, which divine Wiſdom takes; and think never the worſe of 'em, for their being ridicul'd by ſome.

36 ¶ And one of the Phariſees deſired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Phariſee's houſe, and ſat down to meat. 37 And behold, a woman in the city, which was a ſinner, when ſhe knew that Jeſus ſat at meat in the Phariſee's houſe, brought an alablaſter box of ointment, 38 And ſtood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to waſh his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kiſſed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment. 39 Now when the Phariſee which had bidden him, ſaw it, he ſpake within himſelf ſaying, This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that touched him: for ſhe is a ſinner. 40 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid unto him, Simon, I have ſomewhat to ſay unto thee. And he ſaith, Maſter, ſay on. 41 There was a certain creditor which had two debtors: the one owed five hundred pence, and the other fifty. 42 And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him moſt? 43 Simon anſwered and ſaid, I ſuppoſe that he to whom he forgave moſt. And he ſaid unto him thou haſt rightly judged. 44 And he turned to the woman, and ſaid unto Simon, Seeſt thou this woman; I entred into thine houſe, thou gaveſt me no water for my feet: but ſhe hath waſhed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head. 45 Thou gaveſt me no kiſs: but this woman, ſince the time I came in, hath not ceaſed to kiſs my feet. 46 Mine head with oyl thou didſt not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment. 47 Wherefore I ſay unto thee, Her ſins, which are many, are forgiven; for ſhe loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the ſame loveth little. 48 And he ſaid unto her, Thy ſins are forgiven. 49 And they that ſat at meat with him, began to ſay within themſelves, Who is this that forgiveth ſins alſo? 50 And he ſaid to the woman, thy faith hath ſaved thee; go in peace.

When and where this Paſſage of Story happen'd, doth not appear; this Evangeliſt doth not obſerve Order of Time in his Narratives, ſo much as the other Evangeliſts do; but it comes in here upon Occaſion of Chriſt's being reproach'd as a Friend to Publicans and Sinners, to ſhew that it was only for their Good, and to bring them to Repentance, that he convers'd with them; and that thoſe he admitted near him were reform'd, or in a hopeful Way to be ſo. Who this Woman was, that here teſtified ſo great an Affection for Chriſt, doth not appear; 'tis commonly ſaid to be Mary Magdalen, but I find no Ground in Scripture for it; ſhe is deſcrib'd, Chap 8. 2. and Mark 16. 9. to be one, out of whom Chriſt had caſt ſeven Devils; but that is not mentioned here; and therefore, 'tis probable, it was not ſhe.

Now obſerve here,

1. The civil Entertainment which a Phariſee gave to Chriſt, and his gracious Acceptance of that Entertainment, v. 36. one of the Phariſees deſired him, that he would eat with him; either becauſe he thought it would be a Reputation to him to have ſuch a Gueſt at his Table, or becauſe his Company would be an Entertainment to him, and his Family, and Friends. It appears that this Phariſee did not believe in Chriſt, for he will not own him to be a Prophet, v. 36. and yet our Lord Jeſus accepted his Invitation, went into his Houſe and ſat down to Meat; that they might ſee he took the ſame Liberty with Phariſees that he did with Publicans, in hopes of doing them good. And thoſe may venture further into the Society of ſuch as are prejudic'd againſt Chriſt and his Religion, who have Wiſdom and Grace ſufficient to inſtruct and argue with them, than others may.

2. The great Reſpects which a poor penitent Sinner ſhew'd him, when he was at Meat in the Phariſees Houſe. 'Twas a Woman in the City that was a Sinner, a Gentile, I doubt a Harlot, known to be ſo, and infamous; ſhe knew that Jeſus ſat at Meat in the Phariſee's Houſe, and having been converted from her wicked Courſe of Life, by his Preaching, ſhe came to acknowledge her Obligations to him (having no Opportunity of doing it any other Way) by waſhing his Feet, and anointing them with ſome ſweet Ointment that ſhe brought with her for that Purpoſe. The Way of ſitting at Table then was ſuch as that their Feet were partly behind them. Now this Woman did not look Chriſt in the Face, but came behind him, and did the Part of the Maid-Servant, whoſe Office it was to waſh the Feet of the Gueſts, 1 Sam. 25. 41. and to prepare the Ointments, 1 Sam. 8. 13.

Now in what this good Woman did, We may obſerve,

(1.) Her deep Humiliation for Sin; ſhe ſtood behind him weeping, her Eyes had been the Inlets and Outlets of Sin, and now ſhe makes them Fountains of Tears. Her Face is now blubber'd that perhaps us'd to be painted. Her Hair now made a Towel of, which before had been plaited and adorn'd. We have Reaſon to think ſhe had before ſorrow'd for Sin, but now ſhe had an Opportunity of coming into the Preſence of Chriſt, the Wound bled afreſh, and her Sorrow renew'd. Note, It well becomes Penitents, upon all their Approaches to Chriſt to renew their godly Sorrow and Shame for Sin; when he is pacified, Ezek. 16. laſt.

(2.) Her ſtrong Affection to the Lord Jeſus; this was it that our Lord Jeſus took ſpecial Notice of, that ſhe loved much, v. 42, 47. She waſhed his Feet in Token of her ready Submiſſion to the meaneſt Office in which ſhe might do him Honour. Nay, ſhe waſh'd them with her Tears, Tears of Joy, ſhe was in a Tranſport to find herſelf ſo near her Saviour, whom her Soul loved. She kiſſed his Feet, as one unworthy of the Kiſſes of his Mouth, which the Spouſe coveted, Cant. 1. 2. 'Twas a Kiſs of Adoration, as well as Affection; ſhe wiped them with her Hair, as one entirely devoted to his Honour; her Eyes ſhall yeild Water to waſh them, and her Hair be a Towel to wipe them; and ſhe anointed his Feet with the Ointment; owning him hereby to be the Meſſiah, the anointed,; ſhe anointed his Feet, in Token of her Conſent to God's Deſign in anointing his Head with the Oil of Gladneſs. Note, All true Penitents have a dear love to the Lord Jeſus.

3. The Offence which the Phariſee took at Chriſt, for admitting the Reſpects which this poor Penitent paid him, v. 39. He ſpake within himſelf, little thinking that Chriſt knew what he thought, This Man, if he were a Prophet, would then have ſo much Knowledge as to perceive that this Woman is a Sinner, is a Gentile, is a Woman of ill Fame; and ſo much Sanctity as therefore not to ſuffer her to come ſo near him, for can one of ſuch a Character approach a Prophet, and his Heart not riſe at it? See how apt proud and narrow Souls are to think that others ſhould be as haughty and cenſorious as themſelves. Simon, if ſhe had touch'd him, would have ſaid, Stand by thy ſelf, Come not near me, I am holier than thou, Iſa. 65. 5. and he thought Chriſt ſhould ſay ſo too.

4. Chriſt's Juſtification of the Woman, in what ſhe did to him, and of himſelf, in admitting it. Chriſt knew what the Phariſee ſpake within himſelf, and made Anſwer to it. Simon I have ſomewhat to ſay unto thee, v. 41. Tho' he was kindly entertain'd at his Table, yet even there he reprov'd him for what he ſaw amiſs in him, and would not ſuffer Sin upon him. Thoſe whom Chriſt hath ſomething againſt, he hath ſomething to ſay to, for his Spirit ſhall reprove. Simon is willing to give him the Hearing, he ſaith, Maſter, ſay on. Tho' he could not believe him to be a Prophet, becauſe he was not ſo nice and preciſe as he was, yet he can complement him with the Title of Maſter among thoſe that cry, Lord, Lord, but do not the Things which he ſaith. Now Chriſt in his Anſwer to the Phariſee, reaſons thus; 'tis true, this Woman has been a Sinner, he knows it; but ſhe is a pardon'd Sinner, which ſuppoſeth her to be a penitent Sinner; that what ſhe did to him was an Expreſſion of her great Love to her Saviour, by whom her Sins were forgiven; that if ſhe was pardon'd who had been ſo great a Sinner, it might reaſonably be expected that ſhe ſhould love her Saviour more than others, and ſhould give greater Proofs of it than others; and if this was the Fruit of her Love, and flowing from a Senſe of the Pardon of her Sins, it became him to accept of it, and it ill became the Phariſee to be offended at it. Now Chriſt has a further Reach in this; the Phariſee doubted whether he was a Prophet or no, nay, he did in Effect deny it, but Chriſt ſhews that he was more than a Prophet, for he is one that has Power on Earth to forgive Sins, and to whom are owing the Affections and thankful Acknowledgments of penitent, pardon'd Sinners.

Now in his Anſwer,

1. He doth by a Parable force Simon to acknowledge that the greater Sinner this Woman had been, the greater Love ſhe ought to ſhew to Jeſus Chriſt when her Sins are pardon'd, v, 41, 42, 43. A Man had two Debtors that were both Inſolvent, but one of them ow'd him ten times more than the other; he very freely forgave them both, and did not take the Advantage of the Law againſt them, did not order them and their Children to be Sold, or deliver them to the Tormentors: Now they were both ſenſible of the great Kindneſs they had receiv'd, but which of them will love him moſt? Certainly ſaith the Phariſee, he to whom he forgave moſt, and herein he rightly judg'd. Now we being oblig'd to forgive, as we are and hope to be forgiven, we may from hence learn the Duty between Debtor and Creditor. (1.) The Debtor if he have any thing to pay, ought to make Satisfaction to his Creditor. No Man can reckon that his own, or have any comfortable Enjoyment of it, but that which is ſo when all his Debts are paid. (2.) If God in his Providence hath diſabled the Debtor to pay his Debt, the Creditor ought not to be ſevere with him, nor to go to the utmoſt Rigour of the Law with him, but freely to forgive him. Summum jus eſt ſumma injuria. Let the unmerciful Creditor read that Parable, Mat. 18. 23, &c. and tremble, for they ſhall have Judgment without Mercy that ſhew no Mercy. (3.) The Debtor that has found his Creditors merciful, ought to be very grateful to them; and if he cannot otherwiſe recompenſe them, ought to love them. Some inſolvent Debtors inſtead of being grateful, are ſpiteful to their Creditors that loſe by them, and cannot give them a good Word, only becauſe they Complain, whereas Loſers may have Leave to ſpeak: But this Parable ſpeaks of God as the Creditor, (or rather the Lord Jeſus himſelf, for he it is that forgives, and is beloved by the Debtor) and Sinners are the Debtors: And ſo we may learn here,

1. That Sin is a Debt, and Sinners are Debtors to God Almighty. As Creatures, we owe a Debt of Obedience to the Precept of the Law, and for non-payment of that as Sinners, we become liable to the Penalty. We have not paid our Rent, nay, we have waſted our Lord's Goods, and ſo we become Debtors. God has an Action againſt us for the Injury we have done him, and the Omiſſion of our Duty to him.

2. That ſome are deeper in Debt to God by Reaſon of Sin than others are; one ow'd five Hundred Pence, the other Fifty. The Phariſee was the leſs Debtor, yet he a Debtor too, which was more than he thought himſelf, but rather that God was his Debtor, Luke 18. 10, 11. This Woman that had been a ſcandalous notorious Sinner was the greater Debtor. Some Sins are in themſelves greater Debts than others, and ſome Sinners by Reaſon of divers aggravating Circumſtances greater Debtors. As thoſe that have ſin'd moſt openly and ſcandalouſly, that have ſin'd againſt greater Light and Knowledge, more Convictions and Warnings, and more Mercies and Means.

3. That whether our Debt be more or leſs, 'tis more than we are able to pay. They had nothing to pay, nothing at all to make a Compoſition with, for the Debt is great, and we have nothing at all to pay it with; Silver and Gold will not pay our Debt, nor will Sacrifice and Offering, no not thouſands of Rams. No Righteouſneſs of our own will pay it, no not our Repentance, and Obedience for the future; for it is what we are already bound to, and 'tis God that works it in us.

4. That the God of Heaven is ready to forgive, franckly to forgive poor Sinners upon Goſpel Terms, tho' their Debt be never ſo great. If we repent and believe in Chriſt, our Iniquity ſhall not be our Ruin, it ſhall not be laid to our Charge. God has proclaim'd his Name Gracious and Merciful, and ready to forgive Sin; and his Son having purchas'd Pardon for penitent Believers, his Goſpel promiſeth it to them, and his Spirit ſeals it, and gives them the Comfort of it.

5. That thoſe who have their Sins pardon'd, are oblig'd to love him that pardon'd them; and the more is forgiven them, the more they ſhould love him. The greater Sinners any have been before their Converſion, the greater Saints they ſhould be after; the more they ſhould Study to do for God, and the more their Hearts ſhould be enlarged in Obedience. When a perſecuting Saul became a preaching Paul, he labour'd more abundantly.

2. He applies this Parable to the different Temper and Carriage of the Phariſee, and the Sinner towards Chriſt. Tho' the Phariſee would not allow Chriſt to be a Prophet, Chriſt ſeems ready to allow him to be in a juſtify'd State; and that he was one forgiven, tho' to him leſs was forgiven. He did indeed ſhew ſome Love to Chriſt in inviting him to his Houſe, but nothing to what this poor Woman ſhew'd. Look thee, ſaith Chriſt to him, ſhe is one that has much forgiven her, and therefore according to thine own Judgment, it might be expected ſhe ſhould love much more than thou doſt, and ſo it appears, v. 44. See'ſt thou this Woman? Thou lookeſt upon her with Contempt, but conſider what a kinder Friend ſhe is to me than thou art; ſhould I then accept thy Kindneſs, and refuſe hers?

1. Thou didſt not ſo much as order a Baſon of Water to be brought to waſh my Feet in, when I came in weary'd and dirty'd with my Walk, which would have been ſome Refreſhment to me; but ſhe has done much more, ſhe hath waſh'd my Feet with Tears, Tears of Affection to me, Tears of Affliction for Sin, and has wiped them with the Hairs of her Head, in Token of her great Love to me.

2. Thou didſt not ſo much as kiſs my Cheek, which was an uſual Expreſſion of a hearty and affectionate Welcome to a Friend, but this Woman hath not ceaſed to kiſs my Feet, v. 45. thereby expreſſing both a humble and an affectionate Love.

3. Thou didſt not provide me a little common Oyl as uſual to anoint my Head with, but ſhe has beſtow'd a Box of precious Ointment upon my Feet, v. 46. ſo far hath ſhe out-done thee. The Reaſon why ſome People blame the Pains and Expence of zealous Chriſtians in Religion is, becauſe they are not willing themſelves to come up to it, but reſolve to reſt in a cheap and eaſie Religion.

3. He ſilenc'd the Phariſee's Cavil, v. 47. I ſay unto thee, Simon, her Sins which are many are forgiven. He owns ſhe had been guilty of many Sins, but they are forgiven her, and therefore it is no way unbecoming me to accept her Kindneſs. They are forgiven, for ſhe loved much. It ſhould be render'd, therefore ſhe loved much; for it is plain, by the Tenor of Chriſt's Diſcourſe, that her loving much was not the Cauſe, but the Effect of her Pardon, and of her comfortable Senſe of it; for we love God, becauſe he firſt loved us; he did not forgive us becauſe we firſt loved him. But to whom little is forgiven, as is to thee, the ſame loveth little, as thou doſt. Hereby he intimates to the Phariſee that his Love to Chriſt was ſo little, that he had Reaſon to queſtion whether he lov'd him at all in Sincerity; and conſequently whether indeed his Sins, tho' comparatively little were forgiven him. Inſtead of grudging great Sinners the Mercy they find with Chriſt upon their Repentance, we ſhould be ſtirr'd up by their Example to examine our ſelves, whether we be indeed forgiven, and do love Chriſt.

4. He ſilenc'd her Fears, who probably was diſcourag'd by the Phariſee's Offence, and yet would not ſo far yield to the Diſcouragement as to fly off. (1.) Chriſt ſaid unto her, Thy Sins are forgiven, v. 48. Note, The more we expreſs our Sorrow for Sin, and our Love to Chriſt, the clearer Evidence we have of the Forgiveneſs of our Sin; for 'tis by the Experience of a Work of Grace wrought in us, that we obtain the Aſſurance of an Act of Grace wrought for us. How well was ſhe paid for her Pains and Coſt, when ſhe was diſmiſs'd with this Word from Chriſt, thy Sins are forgiven, and what an effectual Prevention would this be of her Return to ſin again.

(2.) Tho' there were thoſe preſent who quarrel'd with Chriſt in their own Minds for preſuming to forgive Sin, and pronounce Sinners abſolv'd, v. 49. as thoſe had done, Matt. 9. 3. yet he ſtood to what he had ſaid; for as he had there prov'd that he had Power to forgive Sin, by curing the Man ſick of the Palſie, and therefore would not here take Notice of the Cavil, ſo he would now ſhew that he had Pleaſure in forgiving Sin, and it was his Delight; he loves to ſpeak Pardon and Peace to Penitents, v. 50. He ſaid to the Woman, Thy Faith hath ſav'd thee. This would confirm and double her Comfort in the Forgiveneſs of her Sin, that ſhe was juſtify'd by her Faith. All theſe Expreſſions of Sorrow for Sin, and Love to Chriſt, were the Effects and Products of Faith; and therefore as Faith of all Graces doth moſt honour God, ſo Chriſt doth of all Graces put moſt Honour upon Faith. Note, They who know their Faith hath ſaved them, may go in Peace, may go on their Way rejoycing.

CHAP. VIII.

Moſt of this Chapter is a Repetition of divers Paſſages of Chriſt's Preaching and Miracles, which we had before in Matthew and Mark, and they are all of ſuch Weight, that they are worth repeating, and therefore they are repeated, that out of the Mouth not only of two, but of three Witneſſes every Word may be eſtabliſh'd. Here's (1.) A general Account of Chriſt's Preaching, and how he had Subſiſtence for himſelf and his numerous Family, by the charitable Contributions of good People, v. 1.------3. (2.) The Parable of the Sower, and the four Sorts of Ground, with the Expoſition of it, and ſome Inferences from it, v. 4.---18. (3.) The Preference which Chriſt gave to his Obedient Diſciples, before his neareſt Relations according to the Fleſh, v. 19.-------21. (4.) His ſtilling a Storm at Sea with a Word's ſpeaking, v. 22---25. (5.) His caſting a Legion of Devils out of a Man that was poſſeſs'd by them, v. 26.------40. (6.) His healing the Woman that had the bloody Iſſue, and raiſing Jairus's Daughter to Life, v. 41,----56.

AND it came to paſs afterward, that he went throughout every city and village preaching, and ſhewing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him; 2 And certain women which had been healed of evil ſpirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went ſeven devils, 3 And Joanna the wife of Chuza Herods ſteward, and Suſanna, and many others, which miniſtred unto him of their ſubſtance.

We are here told,

1. What Chriſt made the conſtant Buſineſs of his Life, and that was preaching; in that Work he was indefatigable, and went about doing Good, v. 1. afterwards, ἐν τῷ καθεξῆς, ordine, in the proper Time or Method. Chriſt took his Work before him, and went about it regularly; he obſerv'd a Series, or Order of Buſineſs, ſo as that the End of one good Work was the Beginning of another. Now obſerve here, (1.) Where he preach'd; he went about, διώδευε, peragrabat. He was an itinerant Preacher, did not confine himſelf to one Place, but diffus'd the Beams of his Light. Circumibat, he went his Circuit as a Judge, having found his Preaching perhaps moſt acceptable where it was new. He went about through every City, that none might plead Ignorance. Hereby he ſet an Example to his Diſciples; they muſt traverſe the Nations of the Earth, as he did the Cities of Iſrael. Nor did he confine himſelf to the Cities, but went into the Villages among the plain Country People to preach, to the Inhabitants of the Villages, Jud. 5. 11.

(2.) What he preach'd. He ſhew'd the glad Tidings of the Kingdom of God, that it was now to be ſet up among them. Tidings of the Kingdom of God are glad Tidings, and thoſe Jeſus Chriſt came to bring; to tell the Children of Men that God was willing to take all thoſe under his Protection, that were willing to return to their Allegiance; 'twas glad Tidings to the World, that there was Hopes of it's being reform'd and reconcil'd.

(3.) Who were his Attendants. The twelve were with him, not to preach if he were preſent, but to learn from him what, and how to preach hereafter; and if Occaſion were, to be ſent to Places where he could not go. Happy were theſe his Servants that heard his Wiſdom.

2. Whence he had the neceſſary Supports of Life, he liv'd upon the Kindneſs of his Friends. There were certain Women who frequently attended his Miniſtry, that miniſtred to him of their Subſtance, v. 2, 3. Some of them are nam'd, but there were many others, who were zealouſly affected to the Doctrine of Chriſt, and thought themſelves bound in Juſtice to encourage it, having themſelves found Benefit; and in Charity, hoping that many others might find Benefit by it too.

1. They were ſuch for the moſt Part as had been Chriſt's Patients, and were the Monuments of his Power and Mercy; they had been heal'd by him of evil Spirits and Infirmities. Some of them had been troubled in Mind and Melancholy, others of them afflicted in Body, and he had been to them a powerful Healer: He is the Phyſician both of Body and Soul, and thoſe who have been heal'd by him, ought to ſtudy what they ſhall render to him. We are bound in Intereſt to attend him, that we may be ready to apply our ſelves to him for Help in Caſe of a Relapſe; and we are bound in Gratitude to ſerve him and his Goſpel, who hath ſav'd us, and ſav'd us by it.

2. One of them was Mary Magdalen, out of whom had been caſt ſeven Devils; a certain Number for an uncertain. Some think ſhe was one that had been very wicked, and then we may ſuppoſe her to be the Woman that was a Sinner, mention'd juſt before, Chap. 7. and Dr. Lightfoot finding in ſome of the Talmudiſts Writings that Mary Magdalen, ſignified Mary the Plaiter of Hair, thinks it applicable to her, ſhe having been noted in the Days of her Iniquity and Infamy, for that plaiting of Hair, which is oppos'd to modeſt Apparel, 1 Tim. 2. 9. But tho' ſhe had been an immodeſt Woman, upon her Repentance and Reformation ſhe found Mercy, and became a zealous Diſciple of Chriſt. Note, The greateſt of Sinners muſt not deſpair of Pardon; and the worſe any have been before their Converſion, the more they ſhould ſtudy to do for Chriſt after. Or rather, ſhe was one that had been very Melancholy, and then probably it was Mary, the Siſter of Lazarus, who was a Woman of a ſorrowful Spirit; might be originally of Magdala, but removed to Bethany. This Mary Magdalen was attending on Chriſt's Croſs and his Sepulchre, and if ſhe were not Mary the Siſter of Lazarus, either that particular Friend and Favourite of Chriſt's did not attend then, or the Evangeliſts did not take Notice of her, neither of which we can ſuppoſe; thus Dr. Lightfoot argues; yet there is this to be objected againſt it, that Mary Magdalen is reckon'd among the Women that followed Jeſus from Galilee, Matt. 27. 55, 56. whereas Mary the Siſter of Lazarus had her Reſidence in Bethany.

3. Another of them was Joanna the Wife of Chuza Herod's Steward; ſhe had been his Wife, ſo ſome, but was now a Widow, and left in good Circumſtances; if ſhe was now his Wife, we have Reaſon to think that her Husband, tho' preferr'd in Herod's Court, had receiv'd the Goſpel, and was very willing that his Wife ſhould be both a Hearer of Chriſt, and a Contributor to him.

4. There were many of them that miniſter'd to Chriſt of their Subſtance. 'Twas an Inſtance of the Meaneſs of that Condition to which our Saviour humbled himſelf that he needed it, and his great Humility and Condeſcention that he accepted of it. Tho' he was rich, yet for our Sakes he became poor and liv'd upon Alms. Let none ſay, they ſcorn to be beholden to the Charity of their Neighbours, when Providence has brought them into Straits: but let them ask it, and be thankful for it as a Favour. Chriſt would rather be beholden to his known Friends for a Maintenance for himſelf and his Diſciples, than be burthenſom to Strangers in the Cities and Villages whither he came to preach. Note, It is the Duty of thoſe who are taught in the Word, to communicate to them who teach them in all good Things: And thoſe who are herein liberal and chearful, honour the Lord with their Subſtance, and bring a Bleſſing upon it.

¶ And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he ſpake
by a parable: 5 A ſower went out to ſow his ſeed, as he ſowed ſome fell by the ways ſide, and it was trodden-down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.
6 And ſome fell upon a rock, and aſſoon as it was ſprung up, it withered away, becauſe it lacked moiſture.
7 And ſome fell among thorns, and the thorns ſprang up with it, and choaked it. 8 And other fell on good ground, and ſprung up, and bare fruit an hundred fold. And when he had ſaid theſe things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear. 9 And his diſciples asked him, ſaying, What might this parable be? 10 And he ſaid, Unto you it is given to know the myſteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables; that ſeeing they might not ſee, and hearing they might not underſtand, 11 Now the parable is this: The ſeed is the word of God. 12 Thoſe by the way-ſide, are they that hear: then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, leſt they ſhould believe and be ſaved. 13 They on the rock, are they, which when they hear, receive the word with joy; and theſe have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away: 14 And that which fell among thorns, are they, which when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares, and riches, and pleaſures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection. 15 But that on the good ground, are they which in an honeſt and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.
16 ¶ No man when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a veſſel, or putteth it under a bed: but ſetteth it on a candleſtick, that they which enter in may ſee the light. 17 For nothing is ſecret, that ſhall not be made manifeſt: neither any thing hid, that ſhall not be known, and come abroad. 18 Take heed therefore how ye hear: for whoſoever hath, to him ſhall be given:
and whoſoever hath not, from him ſhall be taken even that which he ſeemeth to have. 19 ¶ Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the preſs. 20 And it was told him by certain, which ſaid, Thy mother and thy brethren ſtand without deſiring to ſee thee. 21 And he anſwered and ſaid unto them, My mother and my brethren are theſe which hear the word of God and do it.

The former Paragraph began with an Account of Chriſt's Induſtry in preaching, v. 1. This begins with an Account of the People's Induſtry in Hearing, v. 4. He went into every City to preach; ſo they, one would think, ſhould have contented themſelves to hear him when he came to their own City, we know thoſe that would: But there were thoſe here that came to him out of every City, would not ſtay till he came to them, nor think they had enough when he left them, but met him when he was coming towards them, and followed him when he was going from them. Nor did he excuſe himſelf with this, from going to the Cities, that there were ſome from the Cities that came to him; for tho' there were, yet the moſt had not Zeal enough to bring them to him, and therefore ſuch is his wonderful Condeſcenſion, that he will go to them; for he is found of thoſe that ſought him not, Iſa. 65. 1.

Here was, it ſeems, a vaſt Concourſe, much People were gathered together, abundance of Fiſh to caſt the Net among; and he was as ready, and willing to teach, as they were to be taught. Now in theſe Verſes we have,

Firſt, Neceſſary and excellent Rules and Cautions for hearing the Word in the Parable of the Sower, and the Reddition and Application of it, all which we had twice before more largely. When Chriſt had put forth this Parable, (1.) The Diſciples were inquiſitive concerning the Meaning of it, v. 9. they ask'd him, what might this Parable be? Note, We ſhould covet earneſtly to know the true Intent, and full Extent of the Word we hear, that we may neither be miſtaken in our own Knowledge, nor defective in it. (2.) Chriſt made them ſenſible of what great Advantage it was to them, that they had Opportunity of acquainting themſelves with the Myſtery and Meaning of his Word, which others had not, v. 10. Unto you it is given. Note, Thoſe who would receive Inſtruction from Chriſt, muſt know and conſider what a Privilege it is to be inſtructed by him, what a diſtinguiſhing Privilege to be led into the Light, ſuch a Light; when others are left in Darkneſs, ſuch a Darkneſs. Happy are we, and for ever indebted to free Grace, if the ſame Thing that is a Parable to others, with which they are only amus'd, is a plain Truth to us, by which we are enlighten'd and govern'd, and into the Mold of which we are deliver'd.

Now from the Parable itſelf, and the Explication of it. Obſerve,

1. The Heart of Man is as Soil to the Seed of God's Word; it is capable of receiving it, and bringing forth the Fruits of it; but unleſs that Seed be ſown in it, it will bring forth nothing valuable, our Care therefore muſt be to bring the Seed and the Soil together. To what Purpoſe have we the Seed in the Scripture, if it be not ſown: And to what Purpoſe have we the Soil in our own Hearts, if it be not ſown with that Seed.

2. The Succeſs of the Seedneſs is very much, according to the Nature and Temper of the Soil, and as that is, or is not diſpos'd to receive the Seed. The Word of God is to us as we are, a Savour of Life unto Life, or of Death unto Death.

3. The Devil is a ſubtle and ſpiteful Enemy, that makes it his Buſineſs to hinder our profiting by the Word of God. He takes the Word out of the Hearts of careleſs Hearers, v. 12. leſt they ſhould believe and be ſav'd; that's added here to teach us, 1. That we cannot be ſav'd unleſs we believe: The Word of the Goſpel will not be a ſaving Word to us, unleſs it be mix'd with Faith. 2. That therefore the Devil doth all he can to keep us from believing, to make us not heed the Word when we read and hear it; or if we heed it for the preſent, to make us forget it again, and let it ſlip, (Heb. 2. 1.) or if we remember it, to create Prejudices in our Mind againſt it, or direct our Minds from it to ſomething elſe; and all is, leſt we ſhould believe and be ſav'd, leſt we ſhould believe and rejoyce, while he believes and trembles.

4. Where the Word of God is heard careleſly, there is commonly a Contempt put upon it too. It is added here in the Parable, that the Seed which fell by the Way-ſide was trodden down, v. 5. They that wilfully ſhut their Ears againſt the Word, do, in Effect, trample it under their Feet; they deſpiſe the Commandment of the Lord.

5. Thoſe on whom the Word makes ſome Impreſſions, but they are not deep and durable ones, will ſhew their Hypocriſy in a Time of Tryal; as the Seed ſown upon the Rock where it gains no Root, v. 13. theſe, for a while, believe; a little while; their Profeſſion promiſeth ſomething, but in Time of Temptation they fall away from their good Beginnings; whether the Temptation ariſe from the Smiles, or from the Frowns of the World they are eaſily overcome by it.

6. That the Pleaſures of this Life are as dangerous, and miſchievous Thorns to choke the good Seed of the Word, as any other. That's added here, v. 14. which was not in the other Evangeliſts. Thoſe that are not entangled in the Cares of this Life, nor inveigled with the Deceitfulneſs of Riches, but boaſt that they are dead to them, yet may be kept from Heaven by an affected Indolence, and the Love of Eaſe and Pleaſure. The Delights of Senſe may ruin the Soul, even lawful Delights endulg'd, and too much delighted in.

7. That it is not enough that the Fruit be brought forth, but it muſt be brought to Perfection, it muſt be fully ripen'd; if it be not, it is as if there was no Fruit at all brought forth; for that which in Matthew and Mark is ſaid to be unfruitful, is the ſame that here is ſaid to bring forth none to Perfection: For factum non dicitur, quod non perſeverat.

8. The good Ground which brings forth good Fruit, is an honeſt and good Heart, well diſpos'd to receive Inſtruction and Commandment, v. 19. a Heart free from ſinful Pollutions, and firmly fix'd for God and Duty, an upright Heart, a tender Heart, and a Heart that trembles at the Word, is an honeſt and good Heart; that having heard the Word, underſtands it, ſo 'tis in Matthew; receives it, ſo 'tis in Mark; and keeps it, ſo 'tis here, as the Soil not only receives, but keeps the Seed; and the Stomach not only receives, but keeps the Food or Phyſick.

9. Where the Word is well kept, there is Fruit brought forth with Patience; that alſo is added here; there muſt be both bearing Patience, and waiting Patience; Patience to ſuffer the Tribulation and Perſecution which may ariſe becauſe of the Word: Patience to continue to the End in Well-doing.

10. In Conſideration of all this, we ought to take heed how we hear, v. 18 take heed of thoſe Things that will hinder our profiting by the Word we hear, watch over our Hearts in Hearing, and take heed leſt they betray us. Take heed leſt we hear careleſly, and ſlightly, leſt we entertain Prejudices againſt the Word we hear upon any Account; and take heed to the Frame of our Spirits after we have heard the Word, leſt we loſe what we have gain'd.

2. Needful Inſtructions given to thoſe that are appointed to preach the Word, and to thoſe alſo that have heard it.

(1.) Thoſe that have received the Gift, muſt miniſter the ſame: Miniſters that have the diſpenſing of the Goſpel committed to them, People that have profited by the Word, and are thereby qualify'd to profit others, muſt look upon themſelves as lighted Candles; Miniſters muſt in ſolemn authoritative Preaching, and People in brotherly familiar Diſcourſe, diffuſe their Light: For a Candle muſt not be cover'd with a Veſſel, or put under a Bed, v. 16. Miniſters and Chriſtians are to be Lights in the World, holding forth the Word of Life, their Light muſt ſhine before Men; they muſt not only be good, but do good.

(2.) We muſt expect that what is now done in ſecret, and from unſeen Springs, will ſhortly be manifeſted and made known, v. 17. What is committed to you in ſecret, ſhould be made manifeſt by you; for your Maſter did not give you Talents to be bury'd, but to be traded with: Let that which is now hid, be made known; for if it be not manifeſted by you, it will be manifeſted againſt you, will be produc'd in Evidence of your Treachery.

(3.) The Gifts we have, will either be continued to us, or taken from us according as we do or do not make Uſe of them for the Glory of God and the Edification of our Brethren, v. 18. Whoſoever hath, to him ſhall be given; he that hath Gifts, and doth good with them, ſhall have more; he that buries his Talent ſhall loſe it. From him that has not, ſhall be taken away even that which he hath, ſo it is in Mark, that which he ſeemeth to have, ſo it is in Luke. Note, The Grace that is loſt, was but ſeeming Grace, was never true. Men do but ſeem to have what they do not uſe, and Shews of Religion will be loſt and forfeited; they went out from us, becauſe they were not of us, 1 Joh. 2. 19. Let us ſee to it that we have Grace in Sincerity, the Root of the Matter found in us, and that's a good Part which ſhall never be taken away from thoſe that have it.

3. Great Encouragement given to thoſe that prove themſelves faithful Hearers of the Word, by being Doers of the Work, in a particular Inſtance of Chriſt's Reſpect to his Diſciples, in preferring them even before his neareſt Relations, v. 19, 20, 21. which Paſſage of Story we had twice before. Obſerve, (1.) What crowding there was after Chriſt, there was no coming near for the Throng of People that attended him; who, tho' they were crowded never ſo much, would not be crowded out from his Congregation. (2.) That ſome of his neareſt Kindred were leaſt ſollicitous to hear him Preach. Inſtead of getting within, as they might eaſily have done, if they had come in Time, deſiring to hear him, they ſtood without deſiring to ſee him; and probably out of a fooliſh Fear leſt he ſhould ſpend himſelf with too much ſpeaking, deſigning nothing but to interrupt him, and oblige him to break off. (3.) That Jeſus Chriſt would rather be buſy at his Work, than converſing with his Friends. He would not leave his Preaching to ſpeak with his Mother and his Brethren, for it was his Meat and Drink to be ſo employ'd. (4.) That Chriſt is pleas'd to own thoſe as his neareſt and deareſt Relations, that hear the Word of God, and do it; they are to him more than his Mother and Brethren.

22 ¶ Now it came to paſs on a certain day, that he went into a ſhip with his diſciples: and he ſaid unto them, Let us go over unto the other ſide of the lake. And they lanched forth. 23 But as they ſailed, he fell aſleep: and there came down a ſtorm of wind on the lake, and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy. 24 And they came to him, and awoke him, ſaying, Maſter, maſter, we periſh. Then he aroſe, and rebuked the wind, and the raging of the water: and they ceaſed, and there was a calm. 25 And he ſaid unto them, Where is your faith? And they being afraid, wondred, ſaying one to another, What manner of man is this? for he commanded even the winds and water, and they obey him. 26 ¶ And they arrived at the country of the Gadarenes, which is over againſt Galilee. 27 And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city, a certain man which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any houſe, but in the tombs. 28 When he ſaw Jeſus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice ſaid, What have I to do with thee, Jeſus, thou Son of God moſt high? I beſeech thee torment me not. 29 (For he had commanded the unclean ſpirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him: and he was kept bound with chains, and in fetters; and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devil into the wilderneſs) 30 And Jeſus asked him, ſaying, What is thy name? And he ſaid, Legion: becauſe many devils were entred into him. 31 And they beſought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep. 32 And there was there an herd of many ſwine feeding on the mountain: and they beſought him that he would ſuffer them to enter into them. And he ſuffered them. 33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entred into the ſwine: and the herd ran violently down a ſteep place into the lake, and were choked. 34 When they that fed them ſaw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country. 35 Then they went out to ſee what was done; and came to Jeſus, and found the man out of whom the devils were departed, ſitting at the feet of Jeſus, clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid. 36 They alſo which ſaw it, told them by what means he that was poſſeſſed of the devils, was healed. 37 ¶ Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gadarenes round about, beſought him to depart from them; for they were taken with great fear: and he went up into the ſhip, and returned back again. 38 Now the man out of whom the devils were departed, beſought him that he might be with him: but Jeſus ſent him away, ſaying, 39 Return to thine own houſe, and ſhew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and publiſhed throughout the whole city, how great things Jeſus had done unto him.

We have here two illuſtrious Proofs of the Power of our Lord Jeſus, which we had before: His Power over the Winds, and his Power over the Devils.

Firſt, His Power over the Winds, thoſe Powers of the Air that are ſo much a Terror to Men, eſpecially upon Sea, and occaſion the Death of ſuch Multitudes. Obſerve,

1. Chriſt order'd his Diſciples to put to Sea, that he might ſhew his Glory upon the Water in ſtilling the Waves, and might do an Act of Kindneſs to a poor poſſeſſed Man on t'other ſide the Water, v. 22. He went into a Ship with his Diſciples. They that obſerve Chriſt's Orders, may aſſure themſelves of his Preſence. If Chriſt ſends his Diſciples, he goes with them: And thoſe may ſafely and boldly venture any where, that have Chriſt accompanying them. He ſaid, Let us go over unto the other ſide, for he had a Piece of good Work to do there. He might have gone by Land, a little Way about, but he choſe to go by Water; that he might ſhew his Wonders in the Deep.

2. Thoſe that put to Sea in a Calm, yea, and at Chriſt's Word, yet muſt prepare for a Storm, and for the utmoſt Peril in that Storm, v. 23. There came down a Storm of Wind on the Lake, as if 'twere there and no where elſe, and preſently their Ship was ſo toſs'd, that it was fill'd with Water, and they were in Jeopardy of their Lives. Perhaps the Devil, who is the Prince of the Power of the Air, and who raiſeth Winds by the Permiſſion of God, had ſome Suſpicion, perhaps from ſome Words that Chriſt might let fall, that he was coming over the Lake now, on purpoſe to caſt that Legion of Devils out of the poor Man, on the other Side, and therefore pour'd this Storm upon the Ship he was in, deſigning, if poſſible, to have ſunk him, and prevented that Victory.

3. Chriſt was aſleep in the Storm, v. 23. Some bodily Refreſhment he muſt have, and choſe to take it then when it would be leaſt a Hindrance to him in his Work. The Diſciples of Chriſt may really have his gracious Preſence with them at Sea, and in a Storm, and yet he may ſeem as if he were aſleep; may not preſently appear for their Relief, no not when Things ſeem to be brought even to the laſt Extremity. Thus he will try their Faith and Patience, and quicken them by Prayer to awake, and make their Deliverance the more welcome when it comes at laſt.

4. A Complaint to Chriſt of our Danger, and the Diſtreſs his Church is in, is enough to engage him to awake, and appear for us, v. 24. They cry'd Maſter, Maſter, we periſh. The Way to have our Fears ſilenc'd, is to bring them to Chriſt, and lay them before him. Thoſe that in Sincerity call Chriſt Maſter, and with Faith and Fervency call upon him as their Maſter, may be ſure he will not let them periſh. No Relief for poor Souls that are under Senſe of Guilt, and Fear of Wrath, like this, to go to Chriſt and call him Maſter, and ſay, I am undone if thou do not help me.

5. Chriſt's Buſineſs is to lay Storms, as 'tis Satan's Buſineſs to raiſe them. He can do it, he has done it, he delights to do it, for he came to proclaim Peace on Earth, v. 24. He rebuked the Wind and the Raging of the Water, and immediately they ceaſed; not as at other Times by Degrees, but all of a ſudden there was a great Calm. Thus Chriſt ſhew'd, that tho' the Devil pretends to be the Prince of the Power of the Air, yet even there he has him in a Chain.

6. When our Dangers are over, it becomes us to take to our ſelves the Shame of our own Fears, and to give to Chriſt the Glory of his Power. When Chriſt had turn'd the Storm into a Calm, then were they glad becauſe they were quiet, Pſal. 107. 30. And then (1.) Chriſt gives them a Rebuke for their inordinate Fear, v. 25. Where is your Faith? Note, Many that have true Faith, have it to ſeek when they have Occaſion to uſe it; they tremble, and are diſcourag'd if ſecond Cauſes frown upon them, a little Thing diſheartens them, and where is their Faith then? (2.) They give him the Glory of his Power; they being afraid, wonder'd. Thoſe that had fear'd the Storm, now the Danger was over, with good Reaſon fear'd him that had ſtill'd it; and ſaid one to another, what manner of Man is this? They might as well have ſaid, Who is a God like unto thee? For it is God's Prerogative to ſtill the Noiſe of the Sea, the Noiſe of the Waves, Pſalm 65. 7.

Secondly, His Power over the Devil, the Prince of the Power of the Air: In the next Paſſage of Story, he comes into a cloſer Grapple with him than he did when he commanded the Winds. Preſently after the Winds were ſtill'd, they were brought to their deſired Haven, and arriv'd at the Country of the Gadarenes, and there went aſhore, v. 26, 27. and he ſoon met with that which was his Buſineſs over, and thought it worth his while to go through a Storm to it.

We may learn a great deal out of this Story, concerning the World of infernal malignant Spirits, which tho' not working now ordinarily, in the ſame Way as here, yet we are all concern'd, at all Times, to ſtand upon our Guard againſt.

1. Theſe malignant Spirits are very numerous. They that had taken Poſſeſſion of this one Man call'd themſelves Legion, v. 30. becauſe many Devils had entred into him: He had had Devils along time, v. 27. But perhaps thoſe that had been long in Poſſeſſion of him, upon ſome Foreſight of our Saviour's coming to make an Attack upon them, and finding they could not prevent it by the Storm they had rais'd, ſent for Recruits, intending this to be a deciſive Battle, and hoping now to be too hard for him that had caſt out ſo many unclean Spirits, and to give him a Defeat; and either were, or at leaſt would be thought to be a Legion of them, formidable as an Army with Banners; and now at leaſt, to be was the twentieth Legion of the Roman Army which was long quarter'd at Cheſter was ſtill'd, Legio Victrix, a Victorious Legion.

2. They have an inveterate Enmity to Man, and all his Conveniences and Comforts. This Man in whom the Devil had got Poſſeſſion, and kept it long, being under his Influence, wore no Cloaths, neither abode in any Houſe, v. 27. tho' Clothing, and a Habitation, are two of the neceſſary Supports of this Life. Nay, and becauſe Men has a natural Dread of the Habitations of the Dead, he forc'd this Man to abide in the Tombs, to make him ſo much the more a Terror to himſelf and to all about him, ſo that his Soul had as much Cauſe as ever any Man's had to be weary of his Life, and to chuſe Strangling and Death rather.

3. They are very ſtrong and fierce, and unruly, and hated and ſcorn'd to be reſtrain'd, v. 29. He was kept bound with Chains and in Fetters, that he might not be miſchievous either to others or to himſelf, but he brake the Bands. Note, Thoſe that are ungovernable by any other, thereby ſhew that they are under Satan's Government: And this is the Language of thoſe that are ſo, even concerning God and Chriſt their beſt Friends, that would not either bind them from, or bind them to any Thing but for their own Good, Let us brake their Bands in ſunder. He was driven of the Devil; thoſe that are under Chriſt's Government, are ſweetly led with the Cords of a Man, and the Bands of Love; thoſe that are under the Devil's Government, are furiouſly driven.

4. They are much enrag'd againſt our Lord Jeſus, and have a great Dread and Horror of him. When the Man whom they had Poſſeſſion of, and who ſpake as they would have him, ſaw Jeſus, he roar'd out as one in an Agony, and fell down before him, to deprecate his Wrath, and own'd him to be the Son of God moſt High, that was infinitely above him, and quite too hard for him; but proteſted againſt having any League, or Confederacy with him, (which might ſufficiently have ſilenc'd the blaſphemous Cavils of the Scribes and Phariſees) What have I to do with thee? The Devils have neither Inclination to do Service to Chriſt, nor Expectation to receive Benefit by him; What have we to do with thee? But they dreaded his Power and Wrath, I beſeech thee torment me not. They do not ſay, I beſeech thee ſave me, but only torment me not. See whoſe Language they ſpeak, that have only a Dread of Hell as a Place of Torment, but no Deſire of Heaven as a Place of Holineſs and Love.

5. They are perfectly at the Command, and under the Power of our Lord Jeſus, and they knew it, for they beſought him that he would not commanded them to go εἰς τὸν ἄβυσσον, into the Deep, the Place of their Torment, which they acknowledge he could eaſily and juſtly do. O what a Comfort is this to the Lord's People, that all the Powers of Darkneſs are under the Check and Controul of the Lord Jeſus! He has them all in a Chain, He can ſend them to their own Place when he pleaſeth.

6. They delight in doing Miſchief. When they found there was no Remedy, but they muſt quit their Hold of this poor Man, they beg'd they might have leave to take Poſſeſſion of a Herd of Swine, v. 32. When the Devil at firſt brought Man into a miſerable State, he brought a Curſe likewiſe upon the whole Creation, and that became Subject to Enmity. And here as an Inſtance of that extenſive Enmity of his, when he could not deſtroy the Man, he would deſtroy the Swine. If he could not hurt them in their Bodies, he would hurt them in their Goods, which ſometimes proves a great Temptation to Men, to draw them from Chriſt, as here. Chriſt ſuffer'd them to enter into the Swine, to convince the Country what Miſchief the Devil could do in it, if he ſhould ſuffer him. No ſooner had the Devils Leave, but they enter'd into the Swine; and no ſooner had they enter'd into them, but the Herd ran violently down a ſteep Place into the Lake, and were drown'd. For it is a Miracle of Mercy, if thoſe whom Satan poſſeſſeth are not brought to Deſtruction and Perdition. This, and other Inſtances, ſhew that that roaring Lyon, and red Dragon, ſeeks what, and whom he may devour.

7. When the Devil's Power is broke in any Soul, that Soul recovers itſelf, and returns into a right Frame; which ſuppoſeth, that thoſe whom Satan gets Poſſeſſion of, are put out of the Poſſeſſion of themſelves. The Man out of whom the Devils were departed, ſate at the Feet of Jeſus, v. 35. while he was under the Devil's Power, he was ready to fly in the Face of Jeſus, but now he ſits at his Feet; which is a Sign that he is come to his right Mind. If God have Poſſeſſion of us, he preſerves to us the Government and Enjoyment of ourſelves, but if Satan have Poſſeſſion of us, he robs us of both; let his Power therefore in our Souls be overturn'd, and let him come, whoſe Right our Hearts are, and give them him; for we are never more our own, than when we are his.

Let us now ſee what was the Effect of this Miracle, of caſting the Legion of Devils out of this Man.

1. What Effect it had upon the People of that Country, who had loſt their Swine by it. The Swineherds went and told it both in the City and Country, v. 34. perhaps with a Deſign to incenſe People againſt Chriſt; they told by what Means he that was poſſeſs'd of the Devils was heal'd, v. 36. that it was by ſending the Devils into the Swine, which was capable of an invidious Repreſentation; as if Chriſt could not otherwiſe have deliver'd the Man out of their Hands, but by delivering the Swine into them. The People came out to ſee what was done, and to enquire into it, and they were afraid, v. 35. they were taken with great Fear, v. 37. they were ſurpriz'd and amaz'd at it, and knew not what to ſay to it; they thought more of the Deſtruction of the Swine, than of the Deliverance of their poor afflicted Neighbour, and of the Country from the Terror of his Frenzy, for it was become a publick Nuſance; and therefore the whole Multitude beſought Chriſt to depart from them, for fear he ſhou'd bring ſome other Judgment upon them; whereas indeed, none need to be afraid of Chriſt, that are willing to forſake their Sins, and give up themſelves to him. But Chriſt took them at their Word; he went up into the Ship, and returned back again. Thoſe loſe their Saviour and their Hopes in him, that love their Swine better.

2. What Effect it had upon the poor Man, who had recover'd himſelf by it. He deſir'd Chriſt's Company as much as others dreaded it, he beſought Chriſt that he might be with him, as others were, that had been healed by him of evil Spirits and Infirmities, v. 2. that Chriſt might be to him a Protector, and Teacher, and that he might be to Chriſt for a Name and a Praiſe. He was loth to ſtay among thoſe rude and brutiſh Gadarenes, that deſir'd Chriſt to depart from them. O gather not my Soul with theſe Sinners! But Chriſt would not take him along with him, but ſent him Home, to publiſh among thoſe that knew him, the great Things God had done for him, and ſo might be a Bleſſing to his Country as he had been a Burden to it. We muſt ſometimes deny our ſelves the Satisfaction even of Spiritual Benefits and Comforts, to gain an Opportunity of being ſerviceable to the Souls of others. Perhaps Chriſt knew that when the Reſentment of the Loſs of their Swine was a little over, they would be better diſpoſed to conſider the Miracle, and therefore left the Man among them to be a ſtanding Monument, and Monitor to them of it.

40 And it came to paſs, that when Jeſus was returned, the people gladly received him: for they were all waiting for him. 41 ¶ And behold there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the ſynagogue: and he fell down at Jeſus feet, and beſought him that he would come into his houſe: 42 For he had one only daughter, about twelve years of age, and ſhe lay a dying. (But as he went, the people thronged him.
43 ¶ And a woman having an iſſue of blood twelve years, which had ſpent all her living upon phyſicians, neither could be healed of any. 44 Came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediately her iſſue of blood ſtanched. 45 And Jeſus ſaid, Who touched me? When all denied, Peter, and they that were with him, ſaid, Maſter, the multitude throng thee, and preſs thee, and ſayeſt thou, Who touched me? 46 And Jeſus ſaid, Some body hath touched me: for I perceive that vertue is gone out of me. 47 And when the woman ſaw that ſhe was not hid, ſhe came trembling, and falling down before him, ſhe declared unto him before all the people, for what cauſe ſhe had touched him, and how ſhe was healed immediately. 48 And he ſaid unto her, daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace. 49 ¶ While he yet ſpake, there cometh one from the ruler of the ſynagogues houſe, ſaying to him, Thy daughter is dead; trouble not the Maſter. 50 But when Jeſus heard it, he anſwered him, ſaying, Fear not: believe only, and ſhe ſhall be made whole. 51 And when he came into the houſe, he ſuffered no man to go in, ſave Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden. 52 And all wept, and bewailed her: but he ſaid, Weep not; ſhe is not dead, but ſleepeth. 53 And they laughed him to ſcorn, knowing that ſhe was dead. 54 And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, ſaying, Maid, ariſe. 55 And her ſpirit came again, and ſhe aroſe ſtraightway: and he commanded to give her meat. 56 And her parents were aſtoniſhed: but he charged them that they ſhould tell no man what was done.

Chriſt was driven away by the Gadarenes, they were weary of him, and willing to be rid of him: But when he had croſs'd the Water, and return'd to the Galileans, they gladly receiv'd him; wiſh'd and waited for his Return, and welcom'd him with all their Hearts when he did return, v. 40. If ſome will not accept the Favours Chriſt offers them, others will. If the Gadarenes be not gather'd, yet there are many, among whom Chriſt ſhall be glorious. When Chriſt had done his Work on the other Side the Water, he return'd and found Work to do in the Place whence he came, freſh Work. They that will lay out themſelves to do good ſhall never want Occaſion for it. The Wanting you have always with you.

We have here two Miracles interwoven, as they were in Matthew and Mark: The raiſing of Jairus's Daughter to Life, and the Cure of the Woman that had an Iſſue of Blood, as he was going in a Crowd to Jairus's Houſe. We have here, Firſt, A publick Addreſs made to Chriſt by a Ruler of the Synagogue, whoſe Name was Jairus, on the Behalf of a little Daughter of his that was very ill, and, in the Apprehenſion of all about her, lay a dying. This Addreſs was very humble and reverent; Jairus, tho' a Ruler, fell down at Jeſus's Feet, as owning him to be a Ruler above him. It was very importunate, he beſought him that he would come into his Houſe; not having the Faith, at leaſt not having the Thought of the Centurion, that deſir'd Chriſt only to ſpeak the healing Word at a Diſtance. But Chriſt comply'd with his Requeſt, he went along with him; ſtrong Faith ſhall be applauded, and yet weak Faith ſhall not be rejected. In the Houſes where Sickneſs and Death is, 'tis very deſireable to have the Preſence of Chriſt. When Chriſt was going, the People throng'd him, ſome out of Curioſity to ſee him, others out of an Affection to him. Let us not complain of a Crowd, and a Throng, and a Hurry, as long as we are in the Way of our Duty, and doing good; but otherwiſe, 'tis what every wiſe Man will keep himſelf out of, as much as he can.

Secondly, Here's a ſecret Application made to Chriſt by a Woman ill of a bloody Iſſue, which had been the Conſumption of her Body, and the Conſumption of her Purſe too, for ſhe had ſpent all her Living upon Phyſicians, and was never the better, v. 43. The Nature of her Diſeaſe was ſuch, that ſhe did not care for making a publick Complaint of it, 'twas agreeable to the Modeſty of her Sex to be very ſhy of ſpeaking of it, and therefore ſhe took this Opportunity of coming to Chriſt in a Crowd; and the more People were preſent, the more likely ſhe thought it was that ſhe ſhould be conceal'd. Her Faith was very ſtrong, for ſhe doubted not but by the Touch of the Hem of his Garment, ſhe would derive from him healing Virtue ſufficient for her Relief, looking upon him to be ſuch a full Fountain of Mercies that ſhe could ſteal a Cure, and he not miſs it. Thus there's many a poor Soul heal'd and help'd, and ſav'd by Chriſt, that's loſt in a Crowd, and that nobody takes Notice of. The Woman found an immediate Change for the better in herſelf, and that her Diſeaſe was cur'd, v. 44. As Believers have comfortable Communion with Chriſt, ſo they have comfortable Communications from him incognito; Meat to eat, that the World knows not of, and Joy, that a Stranger doth not intermeddle with.

Thirdly, Here's a Diſcovery of this ſecret Cure, to the Glory both of the Phyſician and the Patient.

1. Chriſt takes Notice that there is a Cure wrought, Virtue is gone out of me, v. 46. Thoſe that have been heal'd by Virtue deriv'd from Chriſt, muſt own it, for he knows it. He ſpeaks of it here not in a Way of Complaint, as if he were hereby either weaken'd or wrong'd, but in a Way of Complaſency; it was his Delight that Virtue was gone out of him to do any good, and he did not grudge it to the meaneſt, they were as welcome to it as to the Light and Heat of the Sun; nor had he the leſs Virtue in him, for the going out of Virtue from him, for he is an over-flowing Fountain.

2. The poor Patient owns her Caſe, and the Benefit ſhe had receiv'd, v. 47. When ſhe ſaw that ſhe was not hid, ſhe came and fell down before him. Note, The Conſideration of this that we cannot be hid from Chriſt, ſhould engage us to pour out our Hearts before him, and to ſhew before him all our Sin, and all our Trouble. She came trembling, and yet her Faith ſav'd her, v. 48. Note, There may be trembling, where yet there is ſaving Faith. She declar'd before all the People for what Cauſe ſhe had touched him, becauſe ſhe believ'd that a Touch would cure her, and it did ſo. Chriſt's Patients ſhould communicate their Experiences to one another.

3. The great Phyſician confirms her Cure, and ſends her away with the Comfort of it, v. 48. Be of good Comfort, thy Faith hath made thee whole. Jacob got the Bleſſing from Iſaac clandeſtinely, and by a Wile; but when the Fraud was diſcover'd, Iſaac ratify'd it deſignedly; 'twas obtain'd ſurreptitiouſly and under-hand, but it was ſecur'd and ſeconded above Board, ſo was the Cure here. He is bleſſed and he ſhall be bleſſed; ſo here ſhe is healed, and ſhe ſhall be healed.

Fourthly, Here's an Encouragement to Jairus not to diſtruſt the Power of Chriſt, tho' his Daughter was now dead, and they that brought him the Tydings, adviſ'd him not to give the Maſter any farther trouble about her; fear not, ſaith Chriſt, believe only. Note, Our Faith in Chriſt ſhould be bold and daring, as well as our Zeal for him. And they that are willing to do any Thing for him, may depend upon his doing great Things for them, above what they are able to ask or think. When the Patient is dead there is no Room for Prayer, or the Uſe of Means; but here, tho' the Child is dead, yet believe, and all ſhall be well. Poſt Mortem Medicus is an Abſurdity, but not Poſt Mortem Chriſtus.

Fifthly, The Preparatives for the raiſing of her to Life again. (1.) The Choice Chriſt made of Witneſſes that ſhould ſee the Miracle wrought. A Crowd follow'd him, but perhaps they were rude and noiſy; however it was not fit to let ſuch a Multitude come into a Gentlemans Houſe, eſpecially now they were all in Sorrow, and therefore he ſent them back; and not becauſe he was afraid to let the Miracle paſs their Scrutiny, for he rais'd Lazarus and the Widow's Son publickly. He took none with him but Peter, and James, and John, that Triumvirate of his Diſciples that he was moſt intimate with, deſigning them three, with the Parents, to be the only Spectators of the Miracle, they being a competent Number to atteſt the Truth of it. (2.) The Check he gave to the Mourners; they all wept and bewail'd her; for it ſeems ſhe was a very agreeable hopeful Child, and dear not only to the Parents, but to all the Neighbours. But Chriſt bid them not weep, for ſhe is not dead but ſleepeth. He means, as to her peculiar Caſe, that ſhe was not dead for good and all, but that ſhe ſhould now ſhortly be rais'd to Life, ſo that it would be to her Friends but as if ſhe had been but a few Hours a ſleep. But it is applicable to all that dye in the Lord, therefore we ſhould not ſorrow for them as thoſe have no Hope, becauſe Death is but a Sleep to them; not only as it is a Reſt from all the Toils of the Days of Time, but as there will be a Reſurrection, a waking and riſing again to all the Glories of the Days of Eternity. This was a comfortable Word which Chriſt ſaid to theſe Mourners, yet they wickedly ridicul'd it, and laugh'd him to Scorn for it; here was a Pearl caſt before Swine. They were ignorant of the Scriptures of the Old Teſtament, who banter'd it as an abſurd Thing to call Death a Sleep; yet this Good came out of that Evil, that hereby the Truth of the Miracle was evinc'd, for they knew that ſhe was dead, they were certain of it, and therefore nothing leſs than a Divine Power could reſtore her to Life. We find not any Anſwer that he made them, but he ſoon explain'd himſelf, I hope to their Conviction, and that they would never again laugh at any Word of his. But he put them all out, v. 54. They were unworthy to be the Witneſſes of this Work of Wonder; they, who in the midſt of their Mourning were ſo merrily diſpos'd as to laugh at him for what he ſaid, would, it may be, have found ſomewhat to laugh at in what he did, and therefore are juſtly ſhut out.

Sixthly, Her return to Life, after a ſhort Viſit to the Congregation of the Dead, v. 55. He took her by the Hand, as we do by one that we would awake out of ſleep, and help up, and he call'd, ſaying, Maid ariſe: Thus the Hand of Chriſt's Grace goes along with the Calls of his Word, to make them effectual. Here it is expreſs'd what was only imply'd in the other Evangeliſts, that her Spirit came again; her Soul return'd again to animate her Body. This plainly proves that the Soul exiſts and acts in a State of Separation from the Body, and therefore is immortal; that Death doth not extinguiſh this Candle of the Lord, but take it out of a dark Lanthorn. It is not, as Grotius well obſerves, the κρᾶσις or Temperament of the Body, or any Thing that dies with it; but it is αὐθυπόστατόν τι, ſomething that ſubſiſts by it ſelf, which after Death is ſomewhere elſe than where the Body is. Where the Soul of this Child was in this Interval we are not told, 'twas in the Hand of the Father of Spirits, to whom all Souls at Death return. When her Spirit came again ſhe aroſe, and made it appear ſhe was alive by her Motion, as ſhe did alſo by her Appetite, for Chriſt commanded to give her Meat. As Babes new born, ſo thoſe that are newly raiſ'd deſire ſpiritual Food, that they may grow thereby. In the laſt Verſe we need not wonder to find her Parents aſtoniſh'd, but if that implies that they only were ſo, and not the other By-ſtanders, who had laugh'd Chriſt to ſcorn, we may well wonder at their Stupidity, which perhaps was the Reaſon why Chriſt would not have it proclaim'd, as well as to give an Inſtance of his Humility.

CHAP. IX.

In this Chapter we have (1.) The Commiſſion Chriſt gave his twelve Apoſtles to go out for ſome Time to preach the Goſpel, and confirm it by Miracles, v. 1.-----6. (2.) Herod's Terror at the growing Greatneſs of our Lord Jeſus, v. 7.-----9. (3.) The Apoſtle's Return to Chriſt, his Retirement with them into a Place of Solitude; the great Reſort of People to them notwithſtanding, and his feeding five thouſand Men with five Loaves and two Fiſhes, v. 10.-----17. (4.) His Diſcourſe with his Diſciples concerning himſelf, and his own Sufferings for them, and theirs for him, v. 18.----27. (5.) Chriſt's Tranſfiguration, v. 28.-----36. (6.) The Cure of a lunatick Child, v. 37.----42. (7.) The repeated Notice Chriſt gave his Diſciples of his approaching Sufferings, v. 43.-----45. (8.) His Check to the Ambition of the Diſciples, v. 46.-----48. and to their monopolizing of their Power over Devils to themſelves, v. 49, 50. (9.) The Rebuke he gave them for an over-due Reſentment of an Affront given him by a Village of the Samaritans, v. 51.-----56. (10.) The Anſwers he gave to ſeveral that were inclin'd to follow him, but not conſiderately, or not zealouſly, and heartily ſo inclin'd, v. 57.----62.

1 THEN he called his twelve diſciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diſeaſes. 2 And he ſent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the ſick. 3 And he ſaid unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither ſtaves, nor ſcrip, neither bread, neither money; neither have two coats apiece. 4 And whatſoever houſe ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart. 5 And whoſoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, ſhake off the very duſt from your feet for a teſtimony againſt them. 6 And they departed and went through the towns, preaching the goſpel, and healing every where. 7 ¶ Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he was perplexed, becauſe that it was ſaid of ſome, that John was riſen from the dead: 8 And of ſome, that Elias had appeared: and of others, that one of the old prophets was riſen again. 9 And Herod ſaid, John have I beheaded: but who is this of whom I hear ſuch things? And he deſired to ſee him.

Here's 1. The Method Chriſt took to ſpread his Goſpel; to diffuſe and enforce the Light of it. He had travell'd about himſelf preaching and healing, but he could be only in one Place at a time; and therefore now he ſent his twelve Diſciples abroad, who by this Time were pretty well inſtructed in the Nature of the preſent Diſpenſation, and able to inſtruct others, and to deliver to them what they had received from the Lord: Let them diſperſe themſelves ſome one Way, and ſome another, to preach the Kingdom of God, as it was now about to be ſet up by the Meſſiah; to bring People acquainted with the ſpiritual Nature and Tendency of it, and to perſwade them to come into the Intereſts and Meaſures of it. And for the confirming of their Doctrine becauſe it was new and ſurprizing, and very different from what they had been taught by the Scribes and Phariſees, and becauſe ſo much depended upon Men's riceiving, or not receiving it, he empower'd them to confirm it by Miracles, v. 1, 2. He gave them Authority over all Devils, to diſpoſſeſs them, and caſt them out, tho' never ſo numerous, ſo ſubtil, ſo fierce, ſo obſtinate. Chriſt deſign'd a total Rout and Ruin to the Kingdom of Darkneſs, and therefore gave them Power over all Devils. He authoriz'd and appointed them likewiſe to cure Diſeaſes, and to heal the Sick, which would make them welcome wherever they came; and not only convince People's Judgments, but gain their Affections.

This was their Commiſſion: Now obſerve,

1. What Chriſt directed them to do, in Proſecution of this Commiſſion at this Time, when they were not to go far, or be out long.

(1.) They muſt not be ſollicitous to recommend themſelves to People's Eſteem by their outward Appearance. Now they begin to ſet up for themſelves, they muſt have no Dreſs, nor ſtudy to make any other Figure than what they had made while they followed him; they muſt go as they were, and not change their Clothes, or ſo much as put on a Pair of new Shoes.

(2.) They muſt depend upon Providence, and the Kindneſs of their Friends to furniſh them with what was convenient for them. They muſt not take with them either Bread, or Money, and yet believe they ſhould not want. Chriſt would not have his Diſciples ſhy of receiving the Kindneſſes of their Friends, but rather to expect them: Yet St. Paul ſaw Cauſe not to go by this Rule, when he labour'd with his Hands rather than be Burthenſome.

(3.) They muſt not change their Lodgings, as ſuſpecting that thoſe that entertain'd them were weary of them; they have no Reaſon to be ſo, for the Ark is a Gueſt that always pays well for its Entertainment, v. 4. Whatſoever Houſe ye enter into, there abide, that People may know where to find you; that your Friends may know you are not backward to ſerve them, and your Enemies may know you are not aſham'd, or afraid to face them, there abide, till you depart out of that City; ſtay with thoſe you are us'd to.

(4.) They muſt put on Authority, and ſpeak Warning to thoſe who refus'd them, as well as Comfort to thoſe that receiv'd them, v. 5. If there be any Place that will not entertain you, if the Magiſtrates deny you Admiſſion, and threaten to treat you as Vagrants, leave them, do not force your ſelves upon them, nor run your ſelves into Danger among them, but at the ſame Time bind them over to the Judgment of God for it; ſhake off the Duſt of your Feet, for a Teſtimony againſt them, that will as it were be produc'd in Evidence againſt them, that the Meſſengers of the Goſpel had been among them to make them a fair Offer of Grace and Peace, for this Duſt they left behind there; ſo that when they periſh at laſt in their Infidelity, this will lay and leave their Blood upon their own Heads. Shake off the Duſt of your Feet, as much as to ſay, you abandon their City, and will have no more to do with them.

2. What they did in Proſecution of this Commiſſion, v. 6. They departed, tho' from their Maſter's Preſence, yet having ſtill his Spiritual Preſence with them, his Eye and his Arm going along with them, and thus born up in their Work, they went through the Towns ſome or other of them, all the Towns within the Circuit appointed them, preaching the Goſpel, and healing every where: Their Work was the ſame with their Maſter's, doing good both to Souls and Bodies.

3. Here's Herod's Perplexity and Vexation at this. The deriving of Chriſt's Power to thoſe who were ſent forth in his Name, and acted by Authority from him, was an amazing and convincing Proof of his being the Meſſiah, above any thing elſe; that he could not only work Miracles himſelf, but empower others to work Miracles too; this ſpread his Fame more than any Thing, and made the Raies of this Sun of Righteouſneſs the ſtronger by the Reflection of them, even from the Earth, from ſuch mean illiterate Men as the Apoſtles were, who had nothing elſe to recommend them, or to raiſe any Expectation from them, but that they had been with Jeſus, Acts 4. 13. When the Countrey ſees ſuch as thoſe healing the Sick in the Name of Jeſus, it gives it an Alarm. Now obſerve,

1. The various Speculations it raiſ'd among the People; who tho' they thought not rightly, yet could not but think honourably of our Lord Jeſus, and that he was an extraordinary Perſon, one come from the other World; that either John Baptiſt who was lately perſecuted and ſlain for the Cauſe of God, or one of the Old Prophets that had been perſecuted and ſlain long ſince in that Cauſe, was riſen again, to be recompens'd for their Sufferings by this Honour put upon them. Or that Elias who was taken alive to Heaven in a fiery Chariot, had appear'd as an Expreſs from Heaven, v. 7, 8.

2. The great Perplexity it created in the Mind of Herod; when he had heard of all that was done by Chriſt, his guilty Conſcience flew in his Face, and he was ready to conclude with them that ſaid John was riſen from the dead. He thought he had got clear of John, and ſhould be never more troubled with him, but it ſeems he is miſtaken; either John is come to Life again, or here's another in his Spirit and Power, for God will never leave himſelf without Witneſs. What ſhall I do now? Saith Herod, John have I beheaded, but who is this? Is he carrying on John's Work, or is he come to avenge John's Death? John baptiz'd, but he doth not; John did no Miracle, but he doth; and therefore appears more formidable than John. Note, Thoſe who oppoſe God will find themſelves more and more embaraſs'd. However he deſir'd to ſee him whether he reſembled John or no; but he might ſoon have been put out of this Pain, if he would but have inform'd himſelf of that which thouſands knew, that Jeſus preach'd and wrought Miracles a great while before John was beheaded, and therefore could not be John raiſed from the dead. He deſir'd to ſee him, and why did he not go and ſee him? 'Tis likely, becauſe he thought it below him either to go to him, or to ſend for him; he had enough of John Baptiſt, and cared not for having to do with any more ſuch Reprovers of Sin. He deſir'd to ſee him, but we do not find that he ever did, till he ſaw him at his Bar, and then he, and his Men of War ſet him at naught, Luke 23. 11. Had he proſecuted his Convictions now, and gone to ſee him, who knows but a happy Change might have been wrought in him; but delaying it now, his Heart was harden'd; and when he did ſee him, he was as much prejudic'd againſt him as any other.

10 ¶ And the Apoſtles, when they were returned, told him all they had done. And he took them, and went aſide privately into a deſert place, belonging to the city called Bethſaida. 11 And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and ſpake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing. 12 And when the day began to wear away, then came the twelve and ſaid unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are in a deſert place. 13 But he ſaid unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they ſaid, We have no more but five loaves and two fiſhes; except we ſhould go and buy meat for all this people. 14 For they were about five thouſand men. And he ſaid to his diſciples, Make them ſit down by fifties in a company. 15 And they did ſo, and made them all ſit down. 16 Then he took the five loaves, and the two fiſhes, and looking up to heaven, he bleſſed them, and brake, and gave to the diſciples to ſet before the multitude. 17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them, twelve baskets.

Here's 1. The Account which the twelve gave their Maſter of the Succeſs of their Miniſtry. They were not long out, but when they return'd, they told him all that they had done, as became Servants who were ſent on an Errand. They told him what they had done, that if they had done any thing amiſs, they might mend it next Time.

2. Their Retirement for a little Breathing. He took them and went aſide privately into a deſert Place, that they might have ſome Relaxation from Buſineſs, and not be always upon the Stretch. Note, He that hath appointed our Man-Servant and Maid-Servant to reſt, would have his Servants to reſt too. Thoſe in the moſt publick Stations, and that are moſt publickly uſeful, yet muſt ſometimes go aſide privately, both for the Repoſe of their Bodies to recruit them, and for the furniſhing of their Minds by Meditation for farther publick Work.

3. The Reſort of the People to him, and the kind Reception he gave them. They follow'd him, tho' it were in a deſert Place; for that's no Deſert where Chriſt is. And tho' they hereby diſturb'd the Repoſe he deſign'd here for himſelf and his Diſciples, yet he welcom'd them, v. 11. Note, Pious Zeal may excuſe a little Rudeneſs, it did with Chriſt, and ſhould with us. Tho' they came unſeaſonably, yet Chriſt gave them what they came for. (1.) He ſpake unto them of the Kingdom of God, the Laws of that Kingdom with which they muſt be bound, and the Privileges of that Kingdom with which they might be bleſs'd. (2.) He healed them that had need of healing, and in a Senſe of their Need, made their Application to him: Tho' the Diſeaſe was never ſo inveterate, and incurable by the Phyſicians, tho' the Patient was never ſo poor and mean, yet Chriſt healed them. There is Healing in Chriſt for all that need it, whether for Soul or Body. Chriſt hath ſtill a Power over bodily Diſeaſes, and heals his People that need healing. Sometimes he ſees that we need the Sickneſs for the Good of our Souls, more than the Healing, for the Eaſe of our Bodies, and then we muſt be willing for a Seaſon, becauſe there is need to be in Heavineſs; but when he ſees we need healing, we ſhall have it. Death is his Servant, to heal the Saints of all Diſeaſes. He heals Spiritual Maladies by his Graces, by his Comforts, and has for each what their Caſe calls for; Relief for every Exigence.

4. The plentiful Proviſion Chriſt made for the Multitude that attended him; with five Loaves of Bread, and two Fiſhes, he fed five thouſand Men. This Story we had twice before, and ſhall meet with it again; and it is the only Miracle of our Saviour's that is recorded by all the four Evangeliſts.

Let us only obſerve out of it,

1. That thoſe who diligently attend upon Chriſt in the Way of Duty, and therein deny, or expoſe themſelves, or are made to forget themſelves and their outward Conveniencies, by their Zeal for God's Houſe, are taken under his particular Care, and may depend upon Jehovah jireh, the Lord will provide. He will not ſee thoſe that fear him, and ſerve him faithfully, want any good Thing.

2. That our Lord Jeſus was of a free and generous Spirit. His Diſciples ſaid, Send them away, that they may get Victuals; but Chriſt ſaid, no, give ye them to eat; let what we have go as far as it will reach, and they are welcome to it. Thus he has taught both Miniſters and Chriſtians to uſe Hoſpitality without Grudging, 1 Pet. 4. 9. Thoſe that have but a little, let them do what Good they can with that little, and that's the Way to make it more. There is that ſcatters, and yet increaſes.

3. Jeſus Chriſt has not only Phyſick, but Food for all thoſe that by Faith apply themſelves to him; he not only heals them that need healing, cures the Diſeaſes of the Soul, but feeds them too that need feeding, ſupports the Spiritual Life, relieves the Neceſſities of it, and ſatisfies the Deſires of it. Chriſt has provided not only to ſave the Soul from periſhing by its Diſeaſes, but to nouriſh the Soul unto Life Eternal, and ſtrengthen it for all Spiritual Exerciſes.

4. All the Gifts of Chriſt are to be receiv'd by the Church in a regular orderly Manner: Make them ſit down by Fifties in a Company. The Number of each Company is taken Notice of here, v. 14. which Chriſt appointed for the better Diſtribution of the Meat, and the eaſier Computation of the Number of the Gueſts.

5. When we are receiving our Creature-Comforts, we muſt look up to Heaven; Chriſt did ſo, to teach us to do ſo. We muſt acknowledge that we receive them from God, and that we are unworthy to receive them; that we owe them all, and all the Comfort we have in them, to the Mediation of Chriſt, by whom the Curſe is remov'd, and the Covenant of Peace ſettled; that we depend upon God's Bleſſing upon them to make them ſerviceable to us, and deſire that Bleſſing.

6. The Bleſſing of Chriſt will make a little to go a great Way, and the Little that the righteous Man has, better than the Riches of many Wicked, a Dinner of Herbs better than a ſtalled Ox.

7. Thoſe whom Chriſt feeds, he fills; to whom he gives, he gives enough; as there is in him enough for all, ſo there is enough for each. He repleniſhes every hungry Soul, abundantly ſatisfies it with the Goodneſs of his Houſe. Here were Fragments taken up, to aſſure us, that in our Father's Houſe there is Bread enough and to ſpare. We are not ſtraiten'd, or ſtinted in him.

18 ¶ And it came to paſs as he was alone praying, his diſciples were with him: and he asked them, ſaying, Whom ſay the people that I am? 19 They anſwering, ſaid, John the baptiſt: but ſome ſay, Elias: and others ſay, that one of the old prophets is riſen again. 20 He ſaid unto them, but whom ſay ye that I am? Peter anſwering, ſaid, The Chriſt of God. 21 And he ſtraitly charged them, and commanded them to tell no man that thing, 22 Saying, the Son of man muſt ſuffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and chief prieſts, and ſcribes, and be ſlain, and be raiſed the third day. 23 ¶ And he ſaid to them all, if any man will come after me, let him deny himſelf, and take up his croſs daily, and follow me. 24 For whoſoever will ſave his life ſhall loſe it: but whoſoever will loſe his life for my ſake, the ſame ſhall ſave it. 25 For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and loſe himſelf, or be caſt away? 26 for whoſoever ſhall be aſhamed of me and of my words, of him ſhall the ſon of man be aſhamed, when he ſhall come in his own glory and in his father's, and of the holy angels. 27 But I tell you of a truth, there be ſome ſtanding here which ſhall not taſte of death till they ſee the kingdom of God.

In theſe Verſes we have Chriſt diſcourſing with his Diſciples, about the great Things that pertained to the Kingdom of God; and one Circumſtance of this Diſcourſe is taken Notice of here, which we had not in the other Evangeliſts, that Chriſt was alone praying, and his Diſciples with him, when he enter'd into this Diſcourſe, v. 18. Obſerve (1.) Tho' Chriſt had much publick Work to do, yet he found ſome Time to be alone in Private, for Converſe both with himſelf, and with his Father, and with his Diſciples. (2.) When Chriſt was alone he was Praying. 'Tis good for us to improve our Solitudes for Devotion, that when we alone, we may not be alone, but may have the Father with us. (3.) When Chriſt was alone praying, his Diſciples were with him, to join with him in his Prayer; ſo that this was a Family Prayer. Houſe-keepers ought to pray with their Houſeholds, Parents with their Children, Maſters with their Servants, Teachers and Tutors with their Scholars and Pupils. (4.) Chriſt pray'd with them before he examin'd them, that they might be directed and encourag'd to anſwer him, by his Prayers for them. Thoſe we give Inſtructions to, we ſhould put up Prayers for and with. He diſcourſeth with them,

1. Concerning himſelf: And enquires,

(1.) What the People ſaid of him. Whom ſay the People that I am? Chriſt knew better than they did, but would have his Diſciples made ſenſible by the Miſtakes of others, concerning him, how happy they were that were led into the Knowledge of him, and of the Truth concerning him. We ſhould take Notice of others Ignorances and Errors, that we may be the more thankful to him who has manifeſted himſelf to us, and not unto the World, and may pity them, and do what we can to help them, and to teach them better.

They tell him what Conjectures concerning him, they had heard in their Converſe with the common People: And Miniſters would know how the better to ſuit their Inſtructions, Reproofs, and Counſels, to the Caſe of ordinary People, if they did but converſe more frequently and familiarly with them; they would then be the better able to ſay what is proper to rectify their Notions, and correct their Irregularities, and remove their Prejudices. The more converſant the Phyſician is with his Patient, the better he knows what to do for him. Some ſaid he was John Baptiſt, who was beheaded but t'other Day; others Elias, or one of the old Prophets; any thing but what he was.

(2.) What they ſaid of him. Now ſee what an Advantage you have by your Diſcipleſhip, you know better Things; ſo we do, ſaith Peter, thanks be to our Maſter for it, we know that thou art the Chriſt of God, the anointed of God, the Meſſiah promis'd. 'Tis Matter of unſpeakable Comfort to us, that our Lord Jeſus is God's Anointed, for then he has an unqueſtionable Authority and Ability for his Undertaking; for his being anointed, ſignifies his being both appointed to it, and qualify'd for it.

Now one would have expected that Chriſt ſhould have charg'd his Diſciples who were ſo fully appriz'd and aſſur'd of this Truth, to publiſh it to every one they met with, no, he ſtraitly charged them to tell no Man that Thing, as yet, becauſe there is a Time for all Things: After his Reſurrection, which compleated the Proof of it, Peter made the Temple ring of it, that God has made this ſame Jeſus both Lord and Chriſt, Acts 2. 36. But, as yet, the Evidence was not ready to be ſumm'd up, and therefore it muſt be conceal'd; and while it was ſo, we may conclude that the believing of it was not neceſſary to Salvation.

2. Concerning his own Sufferings and Death, of which he had yet ſaid little. But now his Diſciples were well eſtabliſh'd in the Belief of his being the Chriſt, and able to bear it, he ſpeaks of them expreſly, and with great Aſſurance, v. 22. It comes in as a Reaſon, why they muſt not yet preach that he was the Chriſt, becauſe the Wonders that would attend his Death and Reſurrection, would be the moſt convincing Proof of his being the Chriſt of God. It was by his Exaltation to the right Hand of the Father, that he was fully declar'd to be the Chriſt, and by the ſending of the Spirit thereupon, Acts 2. 33. and therefore wait till that is done.

3. Concerning their Suffering for him: So far muſt they be from thinking how to prevent his Sufferings, that they muſt rather prepare for their own.

1. We muſt accuſtom ourſelves to all Inſtances of Self-denial and Patience, v. 23. This is the beſt Preparative for Martyrdom: We muſt live a Life of Self-denial, and Mortification, and Contempt of the World; we muſt not indulge our Eaſe and Appetite, for then it will be hard to bear Toil, and Wearineſs, and Want for Chriſt. We are daily ſubject to Affliction, and we muſt accommodate ourſelves to it, and acquieſce in the Will of God in it, and muſt learn to endure Hardſhip. We frequently meet with Croſſes in the Way of Duty, tho' we muſt not pull them upon our own Heads; yet when they are laid for us, we muſt take them up, carry them after Chriſt, and make the beſt of them.

2. We muſt prefer the Salvation and Happineſs of our Souls before any ſecular Concern whatſoever. Reckon upon it, (1.) That he, who, to preſerve his Liberty or Eſtate, his Power or Preferment, nay, or to ſave his Life, denies Chriſt and his Truths, wilfully wrongs his Conſcience, and ſins againſt God; will not only be not a Saver, but and unſpeakable Loſer in the Iſſue, when the Profit and Loſs come to be ballanc'd. He that will ſave his Life upon thoſe Terms will loſe it, ſhall loſe that which is of infinitely more Value, his precious Soul. (2.) We muſt firmly believe, alſo, That if we loſe our Lives for cleaving to Chriſt and our Religion, we ſhall ſave them to our unſpeakable Advantage; for it ſhall be abundantly recompenc'd in the Reſurrection of the Juſt, when we ſhall have it again a new and eternal Life. (3.) That the Gain of all the World, if we ſhould forſake Chriſt, and fall in with the Intereſts of the World, would be ſo far from countervailing the eternal Loſs and Ruin of the Soul, that it would bear no Manner of Proportion to it, v. 25. If we could be ſuppos'd to gain all the Wealth, Honour, and Pleaſure in the World by denying Chriſt, yet, when by ſo doing we loſe ourſelves to all Eternity, and are caſt away at laſt, what good will our worldly Gain do us? Obſerve, in Matthew and Mark the dreadful Iſſue is a Man's loſing his own Soul, here it is loſing himſelf; which plainly intimates that our Souls are our ſelves; Animus cujuſque, is eſt quiſque. The Soul is the Man; and it is well or ill with us, according as it is well or ill with our Souls. If they periſh for ever under the Weight of their own Guilt and Corruption, 'tis certain we are undone; the Body cannot be happy, if the Soul be miſerable in t'other World; but the Soul may be happy, tho' the Body be greatly afflicted and oppreſs'd in this World. If a Man be himſelf caſt away, ἢ ζημιωθεὶς; if he be damag'd; or if he be puniſh'd; ſi mulctetur, if he have a Mulct put upon his Soul by the righteous Sentence of Chriſt, whoſe Cauſe and Intereſt he has treacherouſly deſerted; if it be adjudg'd a Forfeiture of all his Bleſſedneſs, and the Forfeiture be taken, Where is his Gain? What is his Hope?

3. We muſt therefore never be aſham'd of Chriſt and his Goſpel, nor of any Diſgrace or Reproach that we may undergo for our faithful Adherence to him and it. For v. 26. Whoſoever ſhall be aſhamed of me and of my Words, of him ſhall the Son of Man be aſham'd, and juſtly. When the Service and Honour of Chriſt call'd for his Teſtimony and Agency, he deny'd them, becauſe the Intereſt of Chriſt was a deſpiſed Intereſt, and every where ſpoken againſt; and therefore he can expect no other, but that in the Great Day, when his Caſe calls for Chriſt's Appearance on his Behalf, Chriſt will be aſham'd to own ſuch a cowardly, worldly, ſneaking Spirit, and will ſay, He is none of mine, he belongs not to me. As Chriſt had, ſo his Cauſe has a State of Humiliation and of Exaltation; they, and they only that are willing to ſuffer with it, when it ſuffers, ſhall reign with it, when it reigns: But thoſe that cannot find in their Hearts to ſhare with it in its Diſgrace, and to ſay, If this be to be vile, I will be yet more vile; 'tis certain they ſhall have no Share with it in its Triumphs. Obſerve here, how Chriſt, to ſupport himſelf and his Followers, under preſent Diſgraces, ſpeaks magnificently of the Luſtre of his ſecond Coming, in Proſpect of which, he endur'd the Croſs, deſpiſing the Shame. (1.) He ſhall come in his own Glory. This was not mention'd in Matthew and Mark. He ſhall come in the Glory of the Mediator, all that Glory which the Father reſtor'd to him, which he had with God before the Worlds were, which he had depoſited and put in Pledge, as it were, for the accompliſhing of his Undertaking, and demanded up again, when he had gone thro' it: Now, O Father, glorify thou me, Joh. 17. 4, 5. He ſhall come in all that Glory which the Father conferred upon him when he ſet him at his own right Hand, and gave him to be Head over all Things to the Church. In all the Glory that is due to him, as the Aſſerter of the Glory of God, and the Author of the Glory of all the Saints. This is his own Glory. (2.) He ſhall come in his Father's Glory; the Father will judge the World by him, having committed all Judgment to him; and therefore will publickly own him in the Judgment, as the Brightneſs of his Glory, and the expreſs Image of his Perſon. (3.) He ſhall come in the Glory of the Holy Angels; they ſhall all attend him, and miniſter to him, and add every Thing they can to the Luſtre of his Appearance. What a Figure will the bleſſed Jeſus make in that Day! Did we believe it, we would never be aſham'd of him or his Words now.

Laſtly, To encourage them in ſuffering for him, he aſſures them that the Kingdom of God would now, ſhortly, be ſet up, notwithſtanding the great Oppoſition that was made to it, v. 27. Tho' the ſecond Coming of the Son of Man is at a great Diſtance, the Kingdom of God ſhall come in its Power in the preſent Age, while ſome here preſent are alive. They ſaw the Kingdom of God when the Spirit was pour'd out, when the Goſpel was preach'd to all the World, and Nations brought to Chriſt by it; they ſaw the Kingdom of God triumph over the Gentile Nations in their Converſion, and over the Jewiſh Nation in its Deſtruction.

28 ¶ And it came to paſs about an eight days after theſe ſayings, he took Peter, and John, and James, and went up into a mountain to pray. 29 And as he prayed, the faſhion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and gliſtering. 30 And behold, there talked with him two Men, which were Moſes and Elias. 31 Who appeared in glory, and ſpake of his deceaſe which he ſhould accompliſh at Jeruſalem. 32 But Peter, and they that were with him, were heavy with ſleep: and when they were awake, they ſaw his glory, and the two men that ſtood with him. 33 And it came to paſs, as they departed from him, Peter ſaid unto Jeſus, Maſter, it is good for us to be here; let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moſes, and one for Elias: not knowing what he ſaid. 34 While he thus ſpake, there came a cloud and overſhadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud. 35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, ſaying, This is my beloved ſon, hear him. 36 And when the voice was paſt, Jeſus was found alone: and they kept it cloſe, and told no man in thoſe days any of thoſe things which they had ſeen.

We have here the Story of Chriſt's Transfiguration, which was deſign'd for a Specimen of that Glory of his, in which he will come to judge the World, of which he had lately been ſpeaking, and conſequently an Encouragement to his Diſciples to ſuffer for him, and never to be aſham'd of him. We had this Story before in Matthew and Mark, and it is well worthy to be repeated to us, and re-conſider'd by us, for the Confirmation of our Faith in the Lord Jeſus, as the Brightneſs of his Father's Glory, and the Light of the World; for the filling of our Minds with high and honourable Thoughts of him, notwithſtanding his being clothed with a Body, and the giving of us ſome Idea of the Glory which he enter'd into at his Aſcenſion, and in which he now appears within the Veil; and the raiſing and encouraging of our Hopes and Expectations concerning the Glory reſerv'd for all Believers in the future State.

1. Here is one Circumſtance of the Story, that ſeems to differ from the other two Evangeliſts that related it. They ſaid it was ſix Days after the foregoing Sayings, Luke ſaith it was about eight Days after, that is, 'twas that Day Sennight; ſix whole Days intervening, and it was the eighth Day. Some think 'twas in the Night that Chriſt was transfigur'd, becauſe the Diſciples were ſleepy, as in his Agony, and in the Night, his Appearance in Splendor wou'd be the more illuſtrious; and if in the Night, the Computation of the Time would be the more doubtful and uncertain; probably in the Night, between the ſeventh and eighth Day, and ſo about eight Days.

2. Here are divers Circumſtances added and explain'd, which are very material.

1. We are here told, that Chriſt had this Honour put upon him when he was praying. He went up into the Mountain to pray, as he frequently did, v. 28. and as he prayed he was transfigured; when Chriſt humbled himſelf to pray, he was thus exalted. He knew before, that this was deſign'd for him at this Time, and therefore ſeeks it by Prayer; Chriſt himſelf muſt ſue out the Favours that were purpos'd for him, and promis'd to him; Ask of me and I will give thee, Pſal. 2. 8. And thus he intended to put an Honour upon the Duty of Prayer, and to recommended it to us. It is a transfiguring, transforming Duty; if our Hearts be elevated and enlarg'd in it, ſo as in it to behold the Glory of the Lord, we ſhall be chang'd into the ſame Image, from Glory to Glory, 2 Cor. 3. 18. By Prayer we fetch in that Wiſdom and Grace, and Joy, which makes the Face to ſhine.

2. Luke doth not uſe the Word transfigur'd μεταμορφώθη, which Matthew and Mark us'd, perhaps, becauſe it had been us'd ſo much in the Pagan Theology, but makes Uſe of a Phraſe equivalent, τὸ εἶδος τοῦ προσώπου ἕτερον, the Faſhion of his Countenance was another Thing from what it had been; his Face ſhone far beyond what Moſes's did when he came down from the Mount; and his Raiment was white and gliſtering; 'twas ἐξαστράπτων, a Word uſed only here; bright like Lightning; ſo that he ſeem'd to be array'd all with Light, to cover himſelf with Light as with a Garment.

3. 'Twas ſaid in Matthew and Mark, that Moſes and Elias appear'd to them; here it is ſaid, they appear'd in Glory; to teach us, that Saints departed are in Glory; are in a glorious State; they ſhine in Glory, he being in Glory, they appear'd with him in Glory, as all the Saints ſhall ſhortly do.

4. We are here told what was the Subject of the Diſcourſe between Chriſt and the two great Prophets of the Old Teſtament, they ſpake of his Deceaſe, which he ſhould accompliſh at Jeruſalem. Ἔλεγον τὴν ἔξοδον αὐτοῦ — his Exodus, his Departure; that is, his Death. (1.) The Death of Chriſt is here call'd his Exit, his going out, his leaving the World. Moſes and Elias ſpoke of it to him under that Notion, to reconcile him to it, and to make the Foreſight of it the more eaſy to his human Nature. The Death of the Saints is their Exodus, their Departure out of the Egypt of this World, their Releaſe out of a Houſe of Bondage. Some think the Aſcenſion of Chriſt is included here in his Departure, for the Departure of Iſrael out of Egypt, was a Departure in Triumph; ſo was his, when he went from Earth to Heaven. (2.) This Departure of his he muſt accompliſh, for thus it was determin'd, the Matter was immutably fix'd in the Counſel of God, and could not be alter'd. (3.) He muſt accompliſh it at Jeruſalem, tho' his Reſidence was moſtly in Galilee; for his moſt ſpiteful Enemies were at Jeruſalem, and there the Sanhedrin ſate, that took upon them to judge of Prophets. (4.) Moſes and Elias ſpake of this, to intimate, that the Sufferings of Chriſt and his Entrance into his Glory, was what Moſes and the Prophets had ſpoken of; ſee Luke 24. 26, 27. 1 Pet. 1. 11. (5.) Our Lord Jeſus, even in his Transfiguration, was willing to enter into a Diſcourſe concerning his Death and Sufferings; to teach us, that Meditations on Death, as it is own Departure out of this World to another, are never unſeaſonable, but in a ſpecial Manner ſeaſonable, when at any time we are advanc'd, leſt we ſhou'd be lifted up above Meaſure. In our greateſt Glories on Earth, let us remember, that here we have no continuing City.

5. We are here told, which we were not before, that the Diſciples were heavy with Sleep, v. 32. when the Viſion firſt began, Peter, and James, and John, were drowſy, and inclin'd to Sleep; either it was late, or they were weary, or had been diſturb'd in their Reſt the Night before, or perhaps a charming compoſing Air; or ſome ſweet melodious Sounds which diſpos'd them to ſoft and gentle Slumbers, were a Preface to the Viſion; or perhaps it was owing to a ſinful Careleſneſs, when Chriſt was at Prayer with them, they did not regard his Prayers as they ſhou'd have done, and to puniſh them for that, they were left to ſleep on now, when he began to be transfigur'd, and ſo ſlipt an Opportunity of ſeeing how that Work of Wonder was wrought. Theſe three were now aſleep, when Chriſt was in his Glory, as afterwards they were, when he was in his Agony; ſee the Weakneſs and Frailty of Human Nature, even in the beſt, and what Need they have of the Grace of God. Nothing could be more affecting to theſe Diſciples, one would think, than the Glories and the Agonies of their Maſter, and both in the higheſt Degree, and yet neither the one nor the other would ſerve to keep them awake. What need have we to pray to God for quickening Grace, to make us not only alive, but lively. Yet that they might be competent Witneſſes of this Sign from Heaven, to thoſe that demanded one, after a while they recover'd themſelves, and became perfectly awake; and then they took an exact View of all thoſe Glories, ſo that they were able to give a particular Account, as we find one of them doth, of all that paſs'd when they were with Chriſt in the holy Mount, 2 Pet. 1. 17.

6. It is here obſerv'd, that it was when Moſes and Elias were now about to depart, that Peter ſaid, Lord, it is good to be here, let us make three Tabernacles; thus many Times we are not ſenſible of the Worth of our Mercies, 'till we are about to loſe 'em; nor covet and court their Continuance, till they are upon the Departure. Peter ſaid this, not knowing what he ſaid. Thoſe know not what they ſay, that talk of making Tabernacles on Earth for glorify'd Saints in Heaven, who have better Manſions in the Temple there, and long to return to them.

7. It is here added concerning the Cloud that overſhadow'd them, that they fear'd as they entered into the Cloud. The Cloud was a Token of God's more peculiar Preſence, 'twas in a Cloud that God of old took Poſſeſſion of the Tabernacle and Temple, and when the Cloud cover'd the Tabernacle, Moſes was not able to enter, Exod. 40. 34, 35. and when it fill'd the Temple, the Prieſts cou'd not ſtand to miniſter by Reaſon of it, 2 Chron. 5. 14. ſuch a Cloud was this, and then no Wonder the Diſciples were afraid to enter into it. But never let any be afraid to enter into a Cloud with Jeſus Chriſt, for he will be ſure to bring them ſafe through it.

8. The Voice which came from Heaven, is here and in Mark related not ſo fully as in Matthew; this is my beloved Son, hear him; tho' theſe Words, in whom I am well pleas'd, which we have both in Matthew and Peter, are not expreſs'd, they are imply'd in that, this is my beloved Son; for whom he loves, and in whom he is well pleaſed, comes all to one; we are accepted in the Beloved.

Laſtly, The Apoſtles are here ſaid to have kept this Viſion private, they told no Man in theſe Days; reſerving the Diſcovery of it for another Opportunity; when the Evidences of Chriſt's being the Son of God were compleated, in the pouring out of the Spirit, and that Doctrine was to be publiſh'd to all the World. As there is a Time to ſpeak, ſo there is a Time to keep Silence. Every Thing is beautiful and uſeful in its Seaſon.

37 ¶ And it came to paſs, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him, 38 And behold, a man of the company cried out, ſaying, Maſter, I beſeech thee, look upon my ſon, for he is mine only child. 39 And lo, a ſpirit taketh him, and he ſuddenly crieth out, and it teareth him that he fometh again, and bruiſing him, hardly departeth from him. 40 And I beſought thy diſciples to caſt him out, aud they could not. 41 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid, O faithleſs and perverſe generation, how long ſhall I be with you, and ſuffer you? Bring thy ſon hither. 42 And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him: and Jeſus rebuked the unclean ſpirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

This Paſſage of Story in Matthew and Mark, follows immediately upon that of Chriſt's Transfiguration, and his Diſcourſe with his Diſciples after it; but here it is ſaid to be on the next Day, as they were coming down from the Hill; which confirms the Conjecture, that Chriſt was transfigur'd in the Night, and it ſhould ſeem, tho' they did not make Tabernacles as Peter propos'd, yet they found ſome Shelter to repoſe themſelves in, all Night, for it was not till next Day, that they came down from the Hill; and then he found Things in ſome Diſorder among his Diſciples, tho' not ſo bad as Moſes did when he came down from the Mount. When wiſe and good Men are in their beloved Retirements, they would do well to conſider whether they are not wanted in their publick Stations.

In this Story here, obſerve,

1. How forward the People were to receive Chriſt, at his return to them, tho' he had been but a little while abſent, much People met him, as at other Times, much People follow'd him; for ſo it was foretold concerning him, that to him ſhould the Gathering of the People be.

2. How importunate the Father of the Lunatick Child was with Chriſt, for Help for him, v. 38. I beſeech thee look upon my Son; that's his Requeſt, and it is a very modeſt one; one compaſſionate Look from Chriſt, is enough to ſet every thing to rights. Let us bring ourſelves and our Children to Chriſt to be look'd upon. His Plea is, he is mine only Child; they that have many Children, may ballance their Affliction in one, with their Comfort in the reſt; yet if it be an only Child that is a Grief, the Affliction in that may be balanc'd with the Love of God, in giving his only begotten Son for us.

3. How deplorable the Caſe of the Child was, v. 39. He was under the Power of an evil Spirit, that took him; and Diſeaſes of that Nature are more frightful, than ſuch as ariſe merely from natural Cauſes; when the Fit ſeiz'd him, without any Warning given, he ſuddenly cry'd out, and many a Time his Shrieks had pierc'd the Heart of his tender Father. This malicious Spirit tare him, and bruis'd him, and departed not from him, but with great Difficulty, and a deadly Gripe at parting. O the Afflictions of the Afflicted in this World! And what Miſchief doth Satan do, where he gets Poſſeſſion! But happy they that have Acceſs to Chriſt.

4. How defective the Diſciples were in their Faith. Tho' Chriſt had given them Power over unclean Spirits, yet they could not caſt out this evil Spirit, v. 40. Either they diſtruſted the Power they were to fetch in Strength from, or the Commiſſion given to them, or did not exert themſelves in Prayer as they ought, for this Chriſt reprov'd them. O faithleſs and perverſe Generation. Dr. Clark underſtands this as ſpoken to his Diſciples; "will ye be yet ſo faithleſs and full of Diſtruſt, that ye cannot "execute the Commiſſion I have given you?

5. How effectually the Cure was which Chriſt wrought upon this Child, v. 42. Chriſt can do that for us, which his Diſciples cannot. Jeſus rebuked the unclean Spirit, then when he raged moſt. The Devil threw the Child down and tare him, diſtorted him, ſo as if he would have pulled him to Pieces. But one Word from Chriſt healed the Child, and made good the Damage the Devil had done him. And it is here added, that he deliver'd him again to his Father. Note, When our Children are recover'd from Sickneſs, we muſt receive them as deliver'd to us again, receive them as Life from the Dead, and as when we firſt receiv'd them. 'Tis comfortable to receive them from the Hand of Chriſt, to ſee him delivering them to us again, Here, take this Child and be thankful; take it, and bring it up for me, for thou haſt it again from me. Take it, and do not ſet thy Heart too much upon it. With ſuch Cautions as theſe, Parents ſhould receive their Children from Chriſt's Hands, and then with Comfort put them again into his Hands.

43 ¶ And they were all amaz'd at the mighty power of God: but while they wondred every one at all things which Jeſus did, he ſaid unto his diſciples, 44 Let theſe ſayings ſink down into your ears: for the ſon of man ſhall be delivered into the hands of men. 45 But they underſtood not this ſaying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that ſaying. 46 ¶ Then there aroſe a reaſoning among them, which of them ſhould be greateſt. 47 And Jeſus perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and ſet him by him, 48 And ſaid unto them, Whoſoever ſhall receive this child in my name, receiveth me: and whoſoever ſhall receive me, receiveth him that ſent me: for he that is leaſt among you all, the ſame ſhall be great. 49 ¶ And John anſwered and ſaid, Maſter, we ſaw one caſting out devils in thy name; and we forbad him, becauſe he followeth not with us. 50 And Jeſus ſaid unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not againſt us, is for us.

We may obſerve here,

1. The Impreſſion which Chriſt's Miracles made upon all that beheld them, v. 43. They were all amaz'd at the mighty Power of God, which they could not but ſee in all the Miracles Chriſt wrought. Note, The Works of God's Almighty Power are amazing, eſpecially thoſe that were wrought by the Hand of the Lord Jeſus; for he is the Power of God, and his Name is Wonderful. Their Wonder was univerſal, they wonder'd every one, and ſo were the Cauſes of it, they wonder'd at all Things which Jeſus did, all his Actions had ſomething uncommon and ſurprizing in them.

2. The Notice Chriſt gave to his Diſciples of his approaching Sufferings; the Son of Man ſhall be delivered into the Hands of Men, wicked Men, Men of the worſt Character; they ſhall be permitted to abuſe him at their Pleaſure. That's here imply'd which is expreſs'd by the other Evangeliſts, they ſhall kill him. But that which is peculiar here, is (1.) The Connexion of this with what goes next before, of the Admiration with which the People were ſtruck, at beholding of Chriſt's Miracles, v. 43. while they all wonder'd at all things which Jeſus did, he ſaid this to his Diſciples. They had a fond Conceit of his temporal Kingdom, and that he ſhou'd reign, and they with him, in ſecular Pomp and Power; and now they thought this mighty Power of his wou'd eaſily effect the Thing, and his Intereſt gain'd by his Miracles in the People, wou'd contribute to it; and therefore Chriſt, who knew what was in their Hearts, takes this Occaſion to tell them again, what he had told them before, that he was ſo far from having Men deliver'd into his Hands, that he muſt be deliver'd into the Hands of Men; ſo far from living in Honour, that he muſt die in Diſgrace; and all his Miracles, and the Intereſt he has by them gain'd in the Hearts of the People, will not be able to prevent it. (2.) The ſolemn Preface with which it is introduc'd; Let theſe Sayings ſink down into your Ears, i. e. take ſpecial Notice of what I ſay, and mix Faith with it; let not the Notions you have of the temporal Kingdom of the Meſſiah, ſtop your Ears againſt it, nor make you unwilling to believe it. Admit what I ſay, and ſubmit to it. Let it ſink down into your Hearts; ſo the Syriac and Arabick read it: The Word of Chriſt doth us no good, unleſs we let it ſink down into our Heads and Hearts. (3.) The unaccountable Stupidity of the Diſciples, with Reference to this Prediction of Chriſt's Sufferings. 'Twas ſaid in Mark, they underſtood not that Saying, 'twas plain enough, but they wou'd not underſtand it in the literal Senſe, becauſe it agreed not with their Notions; and they cou'd not underſtand it in any other, and were afraid to ask him, leſt they ſhou'd be undeceiv'd and awak'd out of their pleaſing Dream; but it is here added, that it was hid from them, that they perceived it not, thro' the Weakneſs of Faith, and the Power of Prejudice. We cannot think it was in Mercy hid from them, leſt they ſhould be ſwallow'd up with overmuch Sorrow at the Proſpect of it; but that it was a Paradox, becauſe they made it ſo to themſelves.

3. The Rebuke Chriſt gave to his Diſciples, for their diſputing among themſelves which ſhou'd be greateſt, v. 46,---48. This Paſſage we had before, and, the more's the Pity, ſhall meet with the like again. Obſerve here,

(1.) That Ambition of Honour, and Strife for Superiority and Precedency, is a Sin that doth moſt eaſily beſet the Diſciples of our Lord Jeſus, for which they deſerve to be ſeverely rebuk'd, and it flows from Corruptions, which they are highly concern'd to ſubdue and mortify, v. 46. They that expect to be great in this World, commonly aim high, and nothing will ſerve them ſhort of being greateſt; which expoſeth them to a great deal of Temptation and Trouble, which they are ſafe from, that are content to be little, to be leaſt, to be leſs than the leaſt.

(2.) That Jeſus Chriſt is perfectly acquainted with the Thoughts and Intents of our Hearts, v. 47. he perceiv'd their Thoughts; they are Words to him, and whiſpers loud Cries. 'Tis a good Reaſon why we ſhou'd keep up a ſtrict Government of our Thoughts, becauſe Chriſt takes a ſtrict Cognizance of them.

(3.) That Chriſt will have his Diſciples to aim at that Honour that is to be obtain'd by a quiet and condeſcending Humility, and not at that which is to be obtain'd by a reſtleſs and aſpiring Ambition. Chriſt took a Child and ſet him by him, v. 47. for he always expreſs'd a Tenderneſs and Kindneſs for little Children; and he propos'd this Child to them for an Example; (1.) Let them be of the Temper of this Child, humble, and quiet, and eaſy to itſelf; let them not affect worldly Pomp or Grandeur, or high Titles, but be as dead to them as this Child; let them bear no more Malice to their Rivals and Competitors, than this Child did. Let them be willing to be the leaſt, if that would contribute any thing to their Uſefulneſs, to ſtoop to the meaneſt Office, whereby they might do good. (2.) Let them aſſure themſelves, that this was the Way to Preferment; for this wou'd recommend them to the Eſteem of their Brethren, they that lov'd Chriſt, wou'd therefore receive them in his Name, becauſe they did moſt reſemble him; and they would likewiſe recommend themſelves to his Favour, for Chriſt would take the Kindneſſes done to them, as done to himſelf. Whoſoever ſhall receive one ſuch Child, a Preacher of the Goſpel, that is of ſuch a Diſpoſition as this, he placeth his Reſpects aright, and receiveth me; and whoſoever receiveth me in ſuch a Miniſter, receives him that ſent me: And what greater Honour can any Man attain to in this World, than to be received by Men as a Meſſenger of God and Chriſt, and to have God and Chriſt own themſelves receiv'd and welcom'd in him; this Honour have all the humble Diſciples of Jeſus Chriſt, and thus they ſhall be truly great that are leaſt among them.

4. The Rebuke Chriſt gave to his Diſciples for diſcouraging one that honour'd him, and ſerv'd him, but was not of their Communion, not only not one of the twelve, or one of the Seventy, but not one of thoſe that ever aſſociate with them, or attend on them; but upon occaſional Hearing of Chriſt, believ'd in him, and made Uſe of his Name with Faith and Prayer, in a ſerious Manner, for the caſting out of Devils. Now

(1.) This Man they rebuk'd and reſtrain'd; they would not let him pray and preach, tho' it was to the Honour of Chriſt, tho' it did good to Men, and weaken'd Satan's Kingdom, becauſe he did not follow Chriſt with them; he ſeparated from their Church, was not ordained as they were, paid them no Reſpect, nor gave them the right Hand of Fellowſhip. Now if ever any Society of Chriſtians in this World, had Reaſon to ſilence thoſe that were not of their Communion, the twelve Diſciples at this Time had, and yet (2.) Jeſus Chriſt chid them for what they did, and warn'd them not to do the like again, nor any that profeſs to be the Succeſſors of the Apoſtles; Forbid him not, v. 50. but rather encourage him, for he is carrying on the ſame Deſign that you are, tho' for Reaſons beſt known to himſelf, he doth not follow with you; and he will meet you in the ſame End, tho' he doth not accompany you in the ſame Way. You do well to do as you do, but it doth not therefore follow that he doth ill to do as he doth, and that you do well to put him under an Interdict; for he that it not againſt us, is for us, and therefore ought to be countenanc'd by us. We need not loſe any of our Friends, while we have ſo few, and ſo many Enemies. Thoſe may be found faithful Followers of Chriſt, and as ſuch may be accepted of him, tho' they do not follow with us. See Mark 9. 38, 39. O what a great deal of Miſchief to the Church, even from thoſe that boaſt of Relation to Chriſt, and pretend to envy for his Sake, wou'd be prevented, if this Paſſage of Story were but duly conſider'd.

51 ¶ And it came to paſs, when the time was come that he ſhould be received up, he ſtedfaſtly ſet his face to go to Jeruſalem, 52 And ſent meſſengers before his face: and they went, and enter'd into a village of the Samaritans to make ready for him. 53 And they did not receive him, becauſe his face was as though he would go to Jeruſalem 54 And when his diſciples James and John ſaw this, they ſaid, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven and conſume them, even as Elias did? 55 But he turned, and rebuked them, and ſaid, Ye know not what manner of ſpirit ye are of 56 For the Son of man is not come to deſtroy men lives, but to ſave them. And they went to another village.

This Paſſage of Story we have not in any other of the Evangeliſts, and it ſeems to come in here, for the Sake of its Affinity with that next before, for in this alſo Chriſt rebuk'd his Diſciples, becauſe they envy'd for his Sake; there under Colour of Zeal for Chriſt, they were for ſilencing and reſtraining Separatiſts, here under the ſame Colour they were for putting Infidels to Death, and as for that, ſo for this alſo, Chriſt reprimanded them; for a Spirit of Bigottry and Perſecution is directly contrary to the Spirit of Chriſt and Chriſtianity.

Obſerve here,

1. The Readineſs and Reſolution of our Lord Jeſus in proſecuting his great Undertaking, for our Redemption and Salvation. Of this we have an Inſtance, v. 51. When the Time was come that he ſhould be received up, he ſtedfaſtly ſet his Face to go to Jeruſalem. Obſerve (1.) There was a Time fix'd for the Sufferings and Death of our Lord Jeſus, and he knew well enough when it was, and had a clear and certain Foreſight of it, and yet was ſo far from keeping out of the Way, that then he appear'd moſt publickly of all, and was moſt buſy, knowing that his Time was ſhort. (2.) When he ſaw his Death and Sufferings approaching, he look'd through them, and beyond them to the Glory that ſhould follow; he look'd upon it as the Time when he ſhould be receiv'd up into Glory, 1 Tim. 3. 16. reciev'd up into the higheſt Heavens to be enthron'd there. Moſes and Elias ſpoke of his Death as his Departure out of this World, which made it not formidable, but he went farther, and look'd upon it as his Tranſlation to a better World, which made it very deſireable. All good Chriſtians may frame to themſelves the ſame Notion of Death, and may call it their being receiv'd up, to be with Chriſt where he is; and when the Time of their being receiv'd up is at Hand, let them lift up their Heads, knowing that their Redemption draws nigh. (3.) On this Proſpect of the Joy ſet before him, he ſtedfaſtly ſet his Face to go to Jeruſalem, the Place where he was to ſuffer and die. He was fully determin'd to go, and would not be diſuaded; he went directly to Jeruſalem, becauſe there now his Buſineſs lay, and he did not go about to other Towns, or fetch a Compaſs, which if he had done, as commonly he did, he might have avoided going through Samaria. He went cearfully and courageouſly thither, tho' he knew the Things which ſhould befall him there. He did not fail, or was diſcourag'd, but ſet his Face as a Flint, knowing that he ſhould be not only juſtify'd but glorify'd, Iſa. 50. 7. not only not run down, but receiv'd up. How ſhould this ſhame us for, and ſhame us out of our Backwardneſs to do and ſuffer for Chriſt; we draw back, and turn our Faces another Way from his Service, who ſtedfaſtly ſet his Face againſt all Oppoſition, to go through with the Work of our Salvation.

2. The Rudeneſs of the Samaritans in a certain Village, not nam'd, not deſerving to be ſo, who would not receive him, nor ſuffer him to bait in their Town, tho' his Way lay through it. Obſerve here (1.) How civil he was to them. He ſent Meſſengers before his Face, ſome of his Diſciples, that went to take up Lodgings, and to know whether he might have Leave to accomodate himſelf and his Company among them; for he wou'd not come to give Offence; or if they took any Umbrage at the Number of his Followers. He ſent ſome to make ready for him, not for State, but Convenience, and that his coming might be no Surprize. (2.) How uncivil they were to him, v. 53. they did not receive him, wou'd not ſuffer him to come into their Village, but order'd their Watch to keep him out: He wou'd have paid for all he beſpoke, and been a generous Gueſt among them, wou'd have done them good, and preach'd the Goſpel to them, as he had done ſome Time ago to another City of the Samaritans, Joh. 4. 41. He would have been, if they pleas'd, the greateſt Bleſſing that ever came to their Village, and yet they forbid him Entrance. Such Treatment his Goſpel and Miniſters have often met with. Now the Reaſon was becauſe his Face was as tho' he would go to Jeruſalem, they obſerv'd by his Motions, that he was ſteering his Courſe that Way. The great Controverſy between the Jews and the Samaritans, was about the Place of Worſhip, whether Jeruſalem or Mount Gerizzim near Sychar; ſee Joh. 4. 20. And ſo hot was the Controverſy between them, that the Jews would have no Dealings with the Samaritans, nor they with them, Joh. 4. 9. Yet we may ſuppoſe they did not deny other Jews Lodgings among them, no not when they went up to the Feaſts, for if that had been their conſtant Practice, Chriſt would not have attempted it; and it wou'd have been a great Way about, for ſome of the Galileans to go to Jeruſalem any other Way, but through Samaria, but they were particularly incens'd againſt Chriſt, who was a celebrated Teacher, for owning and adhering to the Temple at Jeruſalem, when the Prieſts of that Temple were ſuch bitter Enemies to him, which they hop'd would have driven him to come and worſhip at their Temple, and bring that into Reputation; but when they ſaw he wou'd go forward to Jeruſalem, notwithſtanding this, they wou'd not ſhew him the common Civility, which probably they us'd formerly to ſhew him, in his Journey thither.

3. The Reſentment which James and John had of this Affront, v. 54. When theſe two heard this Meſſage brought, they were all in a Flame preſently, and nothing will ſerve them but Sodom's Doom upon this Village; Lord, ſay they, give us Leave to command Fire to come down from Heaven, not to frighten them only, but to conſume them. Here indeed they ſhow'd (1.) A great Confidence in the Power they had receiv'd from Jeſus Chriſt; tho' this had not been particularly mention'd in their Commiſſion, yet they could with a Word's ſpeaking fetch Fire from Heaven. Θέλεις εἴπωμεν, wilt thou that we ſpeak the Word, and the Thing will be done. (2.) A great Zeal for the Honour of their Maſter; they took it very heinouſly, that he who did good wherever he came, and found hearty Welcome, ſhou'd be deny'd the Liberty of the Road by a parcel of paltry Samaritans; they could not think of it without Indignation, that their Maſter ſhould be thus ſlighted. (3.) A Submiſſion notwithſtanding, to their Maſter's good Will and Pleaſure; they will not offer to do ſuch a Thing, unleſs Chriſt give Leave; Wilt thou that we do it? (4.) A Regard to the Examples of the Prophets that were before them; 'tis doing as Elias did; they would not have thought of ſuch a Thing, if Elijah had not done it upon the Soldiers that came to take him, once and again, 2 King. 1. 10, 12. They thought this Precedent would be their Warrant; ſo apt are we to miſapply the Examples of good Men, and to think to juſtify ourſelves by them in the irregular Liberties we give ourſelves, when the Caſe is not parallel.

But tho' there was ſomething well in what they ſaid, yet there was much more amiſs. (1.) This was not the firſt Time, by a great many, that our Lord Jeſus had been in like Manner affronted, witneſs the Nazarenes thruſting him out of their City, and the Gadarenes deſiring him to depart out of their Coaſt, and yet he never call'd for any Judgment upon them, but patiently put up the Injury. (2.) Theſe were Samaritans, from whom better was not to be expected, and perhaps they had heard that Chriſt had forbidden his Diſciples to enter into any of the Cities of the Samaritans, Matt. 10. 5. and therefore it was not ſo bad in them as in others, that knew more of Chriſt, and had receiv'd ſo many Favours from him. (3.) Perhaps it was only ſome few of the Town, that knew any Thing of the Matter, or that ſent that rude Meſſage to him, while for ought they knew, there were many in the Town, who, if they had heard of Chriſt's being ſo near them, wou'd have gone to meet him, and welcom'd him; and muſt the whole Town be laid in Aſhes for the Wickedneſs of a few? Will they have the Righteous deſtroy'd with the Wicked? (4.) Their Maſter had never yet, upon any Occaſion, call'd for Fire from Heaven, nay, he had refus'd to give the Phariſees any Sign from Heaven, when they demanded it, Matt. 16. 1, 2. and why ſhould they think to introduce it. James and John were the two Diſciples whom Chriſt had call'd Boanerges, Sons of Thunder, Mark 3. 17. and will not that ſerve them, but they muſt be Sons of Lightning too? (5.)

The Example of Elias did not reach the Caſe. Elijah was ſent to diſplay the Terrors of the Law, and to give Proof of that, and to witneſs, as a bold Reprover, againſt the Idolatries and Wickedneſſes of the Court of Ahab, and it was agreeable enough to him to have his Commiſſion thus prov'd, but it is a Diſpenſation of Grace that is now to be introduc'd, to which ſuch a terrible Diſplay of Divine Juſtice will not be at all agreeable. Archbiſhop Tillotſon ſuggeſts, that their being now near Samaria, where Elijah call'd for Fire from Heaven, that might help to put it in their Heads; perhaps at the very Place; but tho' the Place was the ſame, the Times were alter'd.

4. The Reproof he gave to James and John for their fiery, furious Zeal, v. 55. He turued with a juſt Diſpleaſure, v. 55. and rebuked them, for as many as he loves he rebukes and chaſtens, particularly for what they do that's irregular and unbecoming them, under Colour of Zeal for him.

1. He ſhews them in particular their Miſtake. Ye know not what manner of Spirit ye are of, that is (1.) Ye are not aware what an evil Spirit and Diſpoſition you are of; how much there is of Pride and Paſſion, and perſonal Revenge cover'd under this Pretence of Zeal for your Maſter. Note, There may be much Corruption lurking, nay, and ſtirring too in the Hearts of good People, and they themſelves not be ſenſible of it. (2.) Ye do not conſider what a good Spirit, directly contrary to this, ye ſhould be of. Surely you are yet to learn, tho' you have been ſo long learning, what the Spirit of Chriſt, and Chriſtianity is: Have you not been taught to love your Enemies, and to bleſs them that curſe you, and to call for Grace from Heaven, not Fire from Heaven, upon them. You know not how contrary your Diſpoſition herein is, to that which it was the Deſign of the Goſpel you ſhould be deliver'd into. You are not now under the Diſpenſation of Bondage, and Terror, and Death, but under the Diſpenſation of Love, and Liberty, and Grace, which was uſher'd in with a Proclamation of Peace on Earth, and Good-will towards Men; to which you ought to accommodate yourſelves, and not by ſuch Imprecations as theſe oppoſe yourſelves.

2. He ſhews them the general Deſign and Tendency of his Religion, v. 56. The Son of Man is not himſelf come, and therefore doth not ſend you abroad to deſtroy Men's Lives, but to ſave them. He deſign'd to propagate his holy Religion by Love and Sweetneſs, and every thing that's inviting and endearing, not by Fire and Sword, and Blood and Slaughter; by Miracles of Healing, not by Plagues and Miracles of Deſtruction, as Iſrael was brought out of Egypt. Chriſt came to ſlay all Enmities, not to foſter them. Thoſe are certainly deſtitute of the Spirit of the Goſpel, that are for anathematizing and rooting out by Violence and Perſecution all that are not of their Mind and Way, that cannot in Conſcience ſay as they ſay, and do as they do. Chriſt came not only to ſave Men's Souls, but to ſave their Lives too, witneſs the many Miracles he wrought for the Healing of Diſeaſes that would otherwiſe have been mortal. By which, and a thouſand other Inſtances of Benificence, it appears that Chriſt wou'd have his Diſciples do good to all, to the utmoſt of their Power, but Hurt to none; to draw Men into his Church with the Cords of a Man, and the Bands of Love, but not think to drive Men into it with a Rod of Violence, or the Scourge of the Tongue.

5. His Retreat from this Village; Chriſt wou'd not only not puniſh them for their Rudeneſs, but wou'd not inſiſt upon his Right of travelling the Road, which was as free to him as to other his Neighbours; wou'd not attempt to force his Way, but quietly and peaceably went to another Village, where they were not ſo ſtingy and bigotted, and there refreſh'd himſelf, and went on his Way. Note, When a Stream of Oppoſition is ſtrong, 'tis Wiſdom to get out of the Way of it, rather than to contend with it. If ſome be very rude, inſtead of revenging it, we ſhou'd try whether others will not be more civil.

57 ¶ And it came to paſs that as they went in the way, a certain man ſaid unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whitherſoever thou goeſt. 58 And Jeſus ſaid unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have neſts, but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head. 59 And he ſaid unto another, Follow me: But he ſaid, Lord, ſuffer me firſt to go and bury my father. 60 Jeſus ſaid unto him, Let the dead bury their dead; but go thou and preach the kingdom of God. 61 And another alſo ſaid, Lord, I will follow thee: but let me firſt go bid them farewel which are at my houſe. 62 And Jeſus ſaid unto him, No man having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

We have here an Account of three ſeveral Perſons that offer'd themſelves to follow Chriſt, and the Anſwers that Chriſt gave to each of them: The two former we had an Account of, Matt. 19. 21.

Firſt, Here's one that is extremely forward to follow Chriſt immediately, but ſeems to have been too raſh, and haſty, and inconſiderate, and not to have ſitten down, and counted the Coſt.

1. He makes Chriſt a very large Promiſe, v. 57. As they went in the Way, going up to Jeruſalem, where it was expected Chriſt wou'd firſt appear in his Glory, one ſaid to him, Lord, I will follow thee whitherſoever thou goeſt; this muſt be the Reſolution of all that will be found Chriſt's Diſciples indeed; they follow the Lamb whitherſoever he goes, Rev. 14. 4. tho' it be thro' Fire and Water, to Priſons and Deaths.

2. Chriſt gives him a neceſſary Caution, not to promiſe himſelf great Things in the World, in following him; but on the contrary, to count upon Poverty and Meaneſs, for the Son of Man has not where to lay his Head.

We may look upon this, (1.) As ſetting forth the very low Condition that our Lord Jeſus was in, in this World. He not only wanted the Delights and Ornaments that great Princes uſe to have, but even ſuch Accommodations for mere Neceſſity, as the Foxes have, and the Birds of the Air. See what a Depth of Poverty our Lord Jeſus ſubmitted to for us, to encreaſe the Worth and Merit of his Satisfaction, and to purchaſe for us a larger Allowance of Grace, that we thro' his Poverty might be rich, 2 Cor. 8. 9. He that made all, did not make a Dwelling-Place for himſelf, nor a Houſe of his own to put his Head in, but what he was beholden to others for. He here calls himſelf the Son of Man, a Son of Adam, Partaker of Fleſh and Blood. He glories in his Condeſcenſion towards us, not only to the Meaneſs of our Nature, but to the meaneſt Condition in that Nature, to teſtify his Love to us, and to teach us a holy Contempt of the World, and of great Things in it; and a continual Regard to another World. Chriſt was thus poor, to ſanctify and ſweeten Poverty to his People; the Apoſtles had no certain Dwelling-Place, 1 Cor. 4. 11. which they might the better bear, when they knew their Maſter had not, allud. 2 Sam. 11. 11. we may well be content to fare as Chriſt did. (2.) As propoſing this to the Conſideration of thoſe who intend to be his Diſciples. If we mean to follow Chriſt, we muſt lay aſide the Thoughts of great Things in the World, and not reckon upon making any Thing more than Heaven of our Religion, as we muſt reſolve not to take up with any Thing leſs. Let us not go about to compound the Profeſſion of Chriſtianity with ſecular Advantages; Chriſt has put them aſunder, let not us think of joining them together; on the contrary, we muſt expect to enter into the Kingdom of Heaven through many Tribulations, muſt deny ourſelves and take up our Croſs. Chriſt tells this Man what he muſt count upon, if he follow'd him, to lie cold, and uneaſy, to fare hard, and live in Contempt; if he cou'd not ſubmit to that, let him not pretend to follow Chriſt. This Word ſent him back, for ought appears, but it will be no Diſcouragement to any, that know what there is in Chriſt and Heaven to ſet in the Scale againſt this.

Secondly, Here's another that ſeems reſolv'd to follow Chriſt, but he begs Day, v. 59. To this Man Chriſt firſt gave the Call, he ſaid to him, Follow me. He that propos'd the Thing of himſelf, fled off when he heard of the Difficulties that attended it; but this Man to whom Chriſt gave a Call, tho' he heſitated at firſt, yet as it ſhould ſeem, afterwards yielded; ſo true was that of Chriſt, you have not choſen me, but I have choſen you, Joh. 15. 16. It is not of him that willeth, and of him that runneth, as that forward Spark in the foregoing Verſes, but of God that ſheweth Mercy, that gives the Call, and makes it effectual. As to this Man here. Obſerve

1. The Excuſe he made; Lord, ſuffer me firſt to go and bury my Father. I have an aged Father at home, who cannot live long, and will need me while he doth live; let me go and attend on him, 'till he is dead, and I have perform'd my laſt Office of Love to him, and then I'll do any Thing. We may here ſee three Temptations, by which we are in Danger of being drawn and kept from following Chriſt; which therefore we ſhould guard againſt. (1.) We are tempted to reſt in a Diſcipleſhip at large, in which we may be at a looſe End, and not to come cloſe, and give up ourſelves to be ſtrict and conſtant. (2.) We are tempted to defer the doing of that which we know to be our Duty, and to put it off to ſome other Time: When we have got clear of ſuch a Care and Difficulty, when we have diſpatch'd ſuch a Buſineſs, rais'd an Eſtate to ſuch a Pitch, then we will begin to think of being religious; and ſo we are cozen'd of all our Time, by being cozen'd of the preſent Time. (3.) We are tempted to think, that our Duty to our Relations will excuſe us from our Duty to Chriſt; 'tis a plauſible Excuſe, indeed, let me go bury my Father, let me take Care of my Family, and provide for my Children, and then I'll think of ſerving Chriſt; whereas the Kingdom of God, and the Righteouſneſs thereof, muſt be ſought and minded in the firſt Place

2. Chriſt's Anſwer to it, v. 60. Let the dead bury their dead, Suppoſe (which is not likely) that there were none but the dead to bury their dead, or none but thoſe that are themſelves aged and dying, who are as good as dead, and fit for no other Service, yet thou haſt other Work to do: Go thou and preach the Kingdom of God. Not that Chriſt wou'd have his Followers or his Miniſters to be unnatural; our Religion teaches us to be kind and good in every Relation, to ſhew Piety at Home, and to requite our Parents: But we muſt not make theſe Offices an Excuſe from our Duty to God. If the neareſt and deareſt Relations we have in the World, ſtand in our Way to keep us from Chriſt, 'tis neceſſary we have a Zeal that will make us forget Father and Mother, as Levi did, Deut. 33. 9. This Diſciple was call'd to be a Miniſter, and therefore muſt not entangle himſelf with the Affairs of this World, 2 Tim. 2. 4. And it is a Rule, That whenever Chriſt calls to any Duty, we muſt not conſult with Fleſh and Blood, Gal. 1. 15, 16. No Excuſes muſt be admitted, againſt a preſent Obedience to the Call of Chriſt.

Thirdly, Here's another that's willing to follow Chriſt, but he muſt have a little Time to talk with his Friends about it.

Obſerve,

1. His Requeſt for a Diſpenſation, v. 61. He ſaid, Lord, I will follow thee, I deſign no other, I am determin'd to do it, but let me firſt go bid them farewell that are at Home. This ſeem'd reaſonable, it was what Eliſha deſir'd when Elijah call'd him, Let me kiſs my Father and my Mother; and it was allow'd him: But the Miniſtry of the Goſpel is preferable, and the Service of it more urgent than that of the Prophets, and therefore here it wou'd not be allow'd. Suffer me ἀποτάξασθαι τοῖς εἰς τὸν οἶκόν μου, let me go and ſet in Order my Houſhold Affairs, and give Direction concerning them: So ſome underſtand it. Now that which was amiſs in this, is (1.) That he look'd upon his following Chriſt as a melancholy, troubleſome, dangerous Thing, 'twas to him as if he were going to die, and therefore he muſt take dear Leave of all his Friends, never to ſee them again, or never with any Comfort; whereas in following Chriſt he might be more a Comfort and Bleſſing to them, than if he had continued with them. (2.) That he ſeem'd to have his worldly Concerns more upon his Heart than he ought to have, and than would conſiſt with a cloſe Attendance to his Duty as a Follower of Chriſt. He ſeem'd to hanker after his Relations and Family Concerns, and he could not part eaſily and cleverly from them, but they ſtuck to him. It may be, he had bidden them farewell once, but loth to depart, bids oft Farewell, and therefore he muſt bid them farewell once more, for they are at Home, at my Houſe. (3.) That he was willing to enter into a Temptation, from his Purpoſe of following Chriſt. To go bid them farewell that were at Home at his Houſe, would be to expoſe himſelf to the ſtrongeſt Sollicitations imaginable, to alter his Reſolution, for they wou'd all be againſt it, and would beg and pray that he would not leave them. Now it was Preſumption in him to thruſt himſelf into ſuch a Temptation. Thoſe that reſolve to walk with their Maker, and follow their Redeemer, muſt reſolve that they will not ſo much as parley with their Tempter.

2. The Rubuke which Chriſt gave him for this Requeſt, v. 62. No Man having put his Hand to the Plough, and deſigning to make good Work of his Ploughing, will look back, or look behind him, for then he makes Balks with his Plough, and the Ground he ploughs is not fit to be ſown; ſo thou, if thou hadſt deſign'd to follow me, and to reap the Advantages of thoſe that do ſo, if thou lookeſt back to a worldly Life again, and hankereſt after that, if thou lookeſt back as Lot's Wife did to Sodom, which ſeems to be alluded to here, thou art not fit for the Kingdom of God. (1.) Thou art not Soil fit to receive the good Seed of the Kingdom of God, if thou art thus plough'd by the Halves, and not gone thro' with. (2.) Thou art not a Sower fit to ſcatter the good Seed of the Kingdom, if thou canſt hold the Plough no better. Ploughing is in Order to ſowing. As thoſe are not fit to be ſown with Divine Comforts, whoſe fallow Ground is not firſt broken up; ſo thoſe are not fit to be imploy'd in Sowing, that know not how to break up the fallow Ground; but when they have laid their Hand to the Plough, upon every Occaſion look back, and think of quitting it. Note, Thoſe who begin with the Work of God, muſt reſolve to go on with it, or they will make nothing of it. Looking back inclines to drawing back, and drawing back is to Perdition. Thoſe are not fit for Heaven, who having ſet their Faces Heavenward, face about. But he, and he only that endures to the End ſhall be ſaved.

CHAP. X.

In this Chapter we have (1.) The ample Commiſſion which Chriſt gave to the Seventy Diſciples to preach the Goſpel, and to confirm it by Miracles; and the full Inſtructions he gave them how to manage themſelves in the Execution of their Commiſſions, and great Encouragements therein, v. 1.-----16. (2.) The Reports which the Seventy Diſciples made to their Maſter of the Succeſs of their Negotiation, and his Diſcourſe thereupon, v. 17.---24. (3.) Chriſt's Diſcourſe with a Lawyer concerning the Way to Heaven, and the Inſtructions Chriſt gave him by a Parable, to look upon every one as his Neighbour whom he had Occaſion to ſhew Kindneſs to, or receive Kindneſs from, v. 25.---37. (4.) Chriſt's Entertainment at Martha's Houſe, the Reproof he gave to her for her Care about the World, and his Commendation of Mary for her Care about her Soul, v. 38.----42.

1 AFter theſe things, the Lord appointed other ſe-venty alſo, and ſent them two and two before his face into every city, and place, whither he himſelf would come. 2 Therefore ſaid he unto them,
The harveſt truly is great, but the labourers are few:
pray ye therefore the Lord of the harveſt, that he would ſend forth labourers into his harveſt. 3 Go your ways: behold, I ſend you forth as lambs among wolves. 4 Carry neither purſe, nor ſcrip, nor ſhoes: and ſalute no man by the way. 5 And into whatſoever houſe ye enter, firſt ſay, Peace be to this houſe. 6 And if the Son of Peace be there, your peace ſhall reſt upon it: if not, it ſhall turn to you again. 7 And in the ſame houſe remain, eating and drinking ſuch things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from houſe to houſe. 8 And into whatſoever houſe ye enter, and they receive you, eat ſuch things as are ſet before you. 9 And heal the ſick that are therein, and ſay unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. 10 But into whatſoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the ſtreets of the ſame, and ſay, 11 Even the very duſt of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off againſt you; notwithſtanding, be ye ſure of this,
that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you:
12 But I ſay unto you, that it ſhall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, then for that city. 13 Wo unto thee Chorazin, wo unto thee Bethſaida: for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, ſitting in ſackcloth and aſhes. 14 But it ſhall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the Judgment, then for you. 15 And thou Capernaum, which art exalted to heaven, ſhalt be thruſt down to hell. 16 He that heareth you, heareth me: and he that deſpiſeth you, deſpiſeth me: and he that deſpiſeth me, deſpiſeth him that ſent me.

We have here the ſending forth of ſeventy Diſciples two and two, into divers Parts of the Country to preach the Goſpel, and to work Miracles in thoſe Places which Chriſt himſelf deſign'd to viſit, to make Way for his Entertainment. This is not taken Notice of by the other Evangeliſts; but the Inſtructions here given them, are much the ſame with thoſe given to the twelve. Obſerve,

1. Their Number: They are Seventy. As in the Choice of twelve Apoſtle, Chriſt had an Eye to the twelve Patriarchs, the twelve Tribes, and the twelve Princes of thoſe Tribes, ſo here he ſeems to have an Eye to the ſeventy Elders of Iſrael. So many went up with Moſes and Aaron to the Mount, and ſaw the Glory of the God of Iſrael, Exod. 24. 1, 9. And ſo many were afterwards choſen to be aſſiſting to Moſes in the Government, in order to which the Spirit of Propheſy came upon them, Num. 11. 24, 25. The twelve Wells of Water, and the ſeventy Palm-Trees that were at Elim, were a Figure of the twelve Apoſtles and the ſeventy Diſciples, Exod. 15. 27. They were ſeventy Elders of the Jews, that were employ'd by Ptolomy King of Egypt, in turning the Old Teſtament into Greek, whoſe Tranſlation is thence call'd the Septuagint. The great Sanhedrin conſiſted of this Number. Now

(1.) We are glad to find that Chriſt had ſo many Followers fit to be ſent forth; his Labour was not altogether in vain, tho' he met with much Oppoſition. Note, Chriſt's Intereſt is a growing Intereſt, and his Followers, like Iſrael in Egypt, tho' afflicted, ſhall multiply. Theſe Seventy, tho' they did not attend him ſo cloſely and conſtantly as the Twelve did, yet they were the conſtant Hearers of his Doctrine, and Witneſſes of his Miracles, and believ'd in him. Thoſe three mentioned in the cloſe of the foregoing Chapter, might have been of theſe Seventy, if they would have apply'd themſelves in good Earneſt to their Buſineſs. Theſe Seventy were thoſe whom Peter ſpeaks of, as the Men which companied with us, all the Time that the Lord Jeſus went in and out among us, and were Part of the one hundred and twenty there ſpoken of, Acts 1. 15, 21. Many of thoſe that were the Companions of the Apoſtles, whom we read of in the Acts and the Epiſtles, we may ſuppoſe were of theſe Seventy Diſciples.

(2.) We are glad to find there was Work for ſo many Miniſters; Hearers for ſo many Preachers: Thus the Grain of Muſtard-Seed began to grow, and the Savor of the Leven to diffuſe itſelf in the Meal, in order to the Leavening of the whole.

2. Their Work and Buſineſs. He ſent them two and two, that they might ſtrengthen and encourage one another. If one fall, the other will help to raiſe him up. He ſent them, not to all the Cities of Iſrael, as he did the Twelve, but only to every City and Place whither he himſelf would come, v. 1. as his Harbingers; and we muſt ſuppoſe, tho' it be not recorded, that Chriſt did ſoon after come to all thoſe Places whither he now ſent them, tho' he could ſtay but a little while in a Place. Two Things they were order'd to do, the ſame that Chriſt did wherever he came, (1.) They muſt heal the Sick, v. 9. heal them in the Name of Jeſus, which wou'd make People to long to ſee that Jeſus, and ready to entertain him whoſe Name was ſo powerful. (2.) They muſt publiſh the Approach of the Kingdom of God, its Approach to them; tell them this, The Kingdom of God is come nigh to you, and you now ſtand fair for an Amiſſion into it, if you will but look about you. Now is the Day of your Viſitation, know and underſtand it. 'Tis good to be made ſenſible of our Advantages and Opportunities, that we may lay hold on them. When the Kingdom of God comes nigh us, it concerns us to go forth to meet it.

3. The Inſtructions he gives them.

1. They muſt ſet out with Prayer, v. 2. and in Prayer, (1.) They muſt be duly affected with the Neceſſities of the Souls of Men, which call'd for their Help. They muſt look about and ſee how great the Harveſt was, what abundance of People there where that wanted to have the Goſpel preach'd to them, and were willing to receive it; nay, that had at this Time their Expectations rais'd of the coming of the Meſſiah, and of his Kingdom. There was Corn ready to ſhed and be loſt for want of Hands to gather it in. Note, Miniſters ſhould apply themſelves to their Work under a deep Concern for precious Souls, looking upon them as the Riches of this World, which ought to be ſecur'd for Chriſt. They muſt likewiſe be concern'd that the Labourers were ſo few. The Jewiſh Teachers were indeed many, but they were not Labourers; they did not gather in Souls to God's Kingdom, but to their own Intereſt and Party. Note, Thoſe that are good Miniſters themſelves, wiſh there were more good Miniſters, for there's Work for more. 'Tis common for Tradeſmen not to care how few there are of their own Trade? But Chriſt would have the Labourers in his Vineyard reckon it a Matter of Complaint when the Labourers are few.

(2.) They muſt earneſtly deſire to receive their Miſſion from God; that he would ſend them forth as Labourers into his Harveſt, who is the Lord of the Harveſt; and that he would ſend others forth; for if God ſend them forth, they may hope he will go along with them, and give them Succeſs. Let them therefore ſay as the Prophet, Iſa. 6. 8. Here I am, ſend me. 'Tis deſireable to receive our Commiſſion from God, and then we may go on boldly.

2. They muſt ſet out with an Expectation of Trouble and Perſecution, Behold I ſend you forth as Lambs among Wolves, but Go your Ways and reſolve to make the beſt of it. Your Enemies will be as Wolves, bloody and cruel, and ready to pull you to Pieces; in their Threatnings and Revilings they will be as howling Wolves to terrify you; in their Proſecutions of you, they will be as ravening Wolves to tear you. But you muſt be as Lambs, peaceable and patient, tho' made an eaſy Prey of. It wou'd have been very hard thus to be ſent forth, as Sheep among Wolves, if he had not endued them with his Spirit and Courage.

3. They muſt not encumber themſelves with a Load of Proviſions, as if they were going a long Voyage, but depend upon God and their Friends, to provide what was convenient for them; carry neither a Purſe for Money, nor a Scrip or Knap-ſack for Clothes or Victuals, nor new Shoes, as before to the twelve, Chap. 9. 3. and ſalute no Man by the Way: This Command Eliſha gave to his Servant, when he ſent him to ſee the Shunamite's dead Child, 2 King. 4. 29. Not that Chriſt would have his Miniſters to be rude, and moroſe, and miſmanner'd; but (1.) They muſt go as Men in Haſte, that had their particular Places aſſign'd them, where they muſt deliver their Meſſage; and in their Way directly to thoſe Places, muſt not hinder or retard themſelves with needleſs Ceremonies or Complements. (2.) They muſt go as Men of Buſineſs, Buſineſs that relates to another World, which they muſt be intent in, and intent upon, and therefore muſt not entangle themſelves with Converſation about ſecular Affairs. Miniſter Verbi es, hoc age. (3.) They muſt go as ſerious Men, and Men in Sorrow; it was the Cuſtom of Mourners, in the ſeven firſt Days of their Mourning, not to ſalute any, Job 2. 13. Chriſt was a Man of Sorrows and acquainted with Grief, and it was fit that by this and other Signs, his Meſſengers ſhould reſemble him, and likewiſe ſhew themſelves affected with the Calamities of Mankind, which they came to relieve, and touch'd with a Feeling of them.

4. They muſt ſhew not only their good Will, but God's good Will, to all to whom they came, and leave the Iſſue and Succeſs to him that knows the Heart, v. 5, 6.

1. The Charge given them was, Whatſoever Houſe they enter'd into, They muſt ſay, Peace be to this Houſe. Here (1.) They are ſuppos'd to enter into private Houſes, for being not admitted into the Synagogues, they were forc'd to preach where they could have Liberty. And as their publick Preaching was driven into Houſes, ſo thither they carry'd it: Like their Maſter, wherever they viſited, they preach'd, from Houſe to Houſe, Act. 5. 42. 20. 20. Chriſt's Church was at firſt very much a Church in the Houſe. (2.) They are inſtructed to ſay Peace be to this Houſe, to all under this Roof, to this Family, and all that belong to it. Peace be to you, was the common Form of Salutation among the Jews; they muſt not uſe it in Formality, according to Cuſtom, to thoſe they meet on the Way, becauſe they muſt uſe it with Solemnity, to thoſe whoſe Houſes they enter'd into; ſalute no Man by the Way in Complement, but thoſe into whoſe Houſe ye enter, ſay to them, Peace be to you, with Seriouſneſs, and in Reality; for this is intended to be more than a Complement. Chriſt's Miniſters go into all the World, to ſay in Chriſt's Name Peace be to you. (2.) We are to propoſe Peace to all; to preach Peace by Jeſus Chriſt, to proclaim the Goſpel of Peace, the Covenant of Peace, Peace on Earth, and to invite the Children of Men to come and take the Benefit of it. (2.) We are to pray for Peace to all. We muſt earneſtly deſire the Salvation of the Souls of thoſe we preach to, and offer up thoſe Deſires to God in Prayer, and it may be well to let them know we do thus pray for them, and bleſs them in the Name of the Lord.

2. The Succeſs was different, according to the different Diſpoſition of thoſe they preach'd to and pray'd for. According as the Inhabitants are, Sons of Peace or not, accordingly our Peace will or will not reſt upon the Houſe; recipitur ad modum recipientis. (1.) You will meet with ſome that are the Sons of Peace, that by the Operations of the Divine Grace, purſuant to the Deſignations of the Divine Counſel, are ready to admit the Word of the Goſpel in the Light and Love of it, and have their Hearts made as ſoft Wax to receive the Impreſſions of it. Thoſe are qualify'd to receive the Comforts of the Goſpel, in whom there is a good Work of Grace wrought. And as to thoſe, your Peace ſhall find them out, and reſt upon them, your Prayers for them ſhall be heard, the Promiſes of the Goſpel ſhall be confirm'd to them, the Privileges of it conferr'd on them, and the Fruit of both ſhall remain and continue with them; a good Part that ſhall not be taken away. (2.) You will meet with others that are no Ways diſpos'd to hear or heed your Meſſage; whole Houſes that have not one Son of Peace in them: Now it is certain, our Peace ſhall not come upon them, they have no Part or Lot in the Matter; the Bleſſing that reſts upon the Sons of Peace, ſhall never come upon the Sons of Belial; nor can any expect the Bleſſings of the Covenant, that will not come under the Bonds of it. But it ſhall return to us again, that is, we ſhall have the Comfort of having done our Duty to God, and diſcharg'd our Truſt. Our Prayers, like David's, ſhall return into our own Boſom, Pſalm 35. 13. and we ſhall have Commiſſion to go on in the Work. Our Peace ſhall return to us again, not only to be enjoy'd by ourſelves, but to be communicated to others, to the next we meet, with them that are Sons of Peace.

5. They muſt receive the Kindneſſes of thoſe that did entertain them, and bid them welcome, v. 7, 8. Thoſe that receive the Goſpel, will receive you that preach it, and give you Entertainment; you muſt not think to raiſe Eſtates, but you may depend upon a Subſiſtence; and (1.) Be not ſhy; do not ſuſpect your Welcome, nor be afraid of being troubleſome, but eat and drink heartily ſuch Things as they give; for whatever Kindneſs they ſhow you, it is but a ſmall Return for the Kindneſs you do them, in bringing the glad Tidings of Peace. You well deſerve it, for the Labourer is worthy of his Hire, the Labourer in the Work of the Miniſtry is ſo, if he be indeed a Labourer; and it is not an Act of Charity, but of Juſtice in them, who are taught in the Word to communicate to them that teach them. (2.) Be not nice and curious in your Diet, eat and drink ſuch Things as they give, v. 7. ſuch Things as are ſet before you, v. 8. Be thankful for plain Food, and do nor find Fault, tho' it be not dreſs'd according to Art. It ill becomes Chriſt's Diſciples to be deſirous of Dainties. As he had not ty'd them up to the Phariſees ſuperſtitious Faſts, ſo he has not allow'd them the luxurious Feaſts of the Epicures. Probably Chriſt here refers to the Traditions of the Elders about their Meat, which were ſo many, that thoſe who obſerv'd them were extreamly critical; you could hardly ſet a Diſh of Meat before them, but there was ſome Scruple or other concerning it; but Chriſt would not have them to regard thoſe Things, but eat what was given them, asking no Queſtion for Conſcience ſake.

6. They muſt denounce the Judgments of God againſt thoſe who rejected them and their Meſſage. If you enter into a City, and they do not receive you, if there be none their diſpos'd to hearken to your Doctrine, leave them, v. 10. If they will not give you welcome into their Houſes, do you give them Warning in their Street; he orders them to do as, Chap. 9. 5. he had order'd the Apoſtles to do, ſay to them, not with Rage, or Scorn, or Reſentment, but with Compaſſion to their poor periſhing Souls, and a holy Dread of the Ruin which they are bringing upon themſelves, even the Duſt of your City which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off againſt you, v. 11. from them do not receive any Kindneſſes at all, be not beholden to them; it coſt that Prophet of the Lord dear, who accepted a Meals Meat with a Prophet in Bethel, 1 King 13. 21, 22. Tell them you will not carry away with you the Duſt of their City, let them take it to themſelves, for Duſt they are. It ſhall be a Witneſs for Chriſt's Meſſengers, that they had been their according to their Maſter's Order; Tender and Refuſal was a Diſcharge of their Truſt: But it ſhall be a Witneſs againſt the Recuſants, that they wou'd not give Chriſt's Meſſengers any Entertainment, no, not ſo much as Water to waſh their Feet with, but they were forc'd to wipe off the Duſt. But tell them plainly, and bid them be ſure of it, The Kingdom of God is come nigh unto you. Here's a fair Offer made you, if you have not the Benefit of it, 'tis your own Fault. The Goſpel is brought to your Doors, if you ſhut your Doors againſt it, your Blood is upon your own Head. Now the Kingdom of God is come nigh unto you, if you will not come up to it, and come into it, your Sin will be inexcuſable, and your Condemnation intolerable. Note, The fairer Offers we have of Grace and Life by Chriſt, the more we ſhall have to anſwer for another Day, if we ſlight theſe Offers. It ſhall be more tolerable for Sodom, than for that City, v. 12. The Sodomites indeed rejected the Warning given them by Lot, but rejecting the Goſpel is a more heinous Crime, and will be puniſh'd accordingly in that Day; he means the Day of Judgment, v. 14. but calls it by Way of Emphaſis that Day, becauſe it is the Laſt and Great Day, the Day when we muſt account for all the Days of Time, and have our State determin'd for the Days of Eternity.

Upon this Occaſion the Evangeliſt repeats

1. The particular Doom of thoſe Cities wherein moſt of Chriſt's mighty Works were done, which we had Mat. 11. 21, &c. Chorazin, and Bethſaida, and Capernaum, all bordering upon the Sea of Galilee, where Chriſt was moſt converſant, are the Places here mention'd. (1.) They enjoy'd greater Privileges; Chriſt's mighty Works were done in them, and they were all gracious Works, Works of Mercy. They were hereby exalted to Heaven, not only dignified and honour'd, but put into a fair Way of being happy; they were brought as near Heaven as external Means could bring them. (2.) God's Deſign in favouring them thus, was to bring them to Repentance and Reformation of Life; to ſit in Sackcloth and Aſhes, both in Humiliation for the Sins they had committed, and in Humility, and a meek Subjection to God's Government. (3.) Their fruſtrating this Deſign, and their receiving the Grace of God therein in vain; it is imply'd, that they repented not, they were not wrought upon by all the Miracles of Chriſt, to think the better of him, or the worſe of Sin. They did not bring forth Fruits agreeable to the Advantages they enjoy'd. (4.) There was Reaſon to think, morally ſpeaking, that if Chriſt had gone to Tyre and Sidon, Gentile Cities, and had preach'd the ſame Doctrine to them, and wrought the ſame Miracles among them that he did in theſe Cities of Iſrael, they would have repented long ago, ſo ſpeedy would their Repentance have been; and that in Sackcloth and Aſhes, ſo deep would it have been. Now to underſtand the Wiſdom of God, in giving the Means of Grace to thoſe who wou'd not improve them, and denying them to thoſe that wou'd, we muſt wait for the great Day of Diſcovery. (5.) The Doom of thoſe who thus receiv'd the Grace of God in vain, will be very fearful; they that were thus exalted, not making uſe of their Elevation, will be thruſt down to Hell; thruſt down with Diſgrace and Diſhonour; they will thruſt in to get into Heaven, in the Crowd of Profeſſors, but in vain, they ſhall be thruſt down to their everlaſting Grief and Diſappointment, into the loweſt Hell, and Hell will be Hell indeed to them. (6.) In the Day of Judgment Tyre and Sidon will fare better, and it will be more tolerable for them than for theſe Cities.

2. The general Rule which Chriſt would go by, as to thoſe to whom he ſent his Miniſters; he will reckon himſelf treated according as they treated his Miniſters, v. 16. What is done to the Embaſſador, is done, as it were, to the Prince that ſends him. (1.) He that heareth you, and regardeth what you ſay, heareth me, and therein doth me Honour. But (2.) He that deſpiſeth you, doth, in Effect, deſpiſe me, and ſhall be reckon'd with, as having put an Affront upon me; nay, he deſpiſeth him that ſent me. Note, Thoſe that contemn the Chriſtian Religion, do, in Effect, put a Slight upon natural Religion, which it is perfective of. And they who deſpiſe the faithful Miniſters of Chriſt, who, tho' they do not hate and perſecute them, yet think meanly of them, look ſcornfully upon them, and turn their Backs upon their Miniſtry, will be reckon'd with as Deſpiſers of God and Chriſt.

17 ¶ And the ſeventy return'd again with joy, ſaying, Lord, even the devils are ſubject unto us thro' thy name. 18 And he ſaid unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven. 19 Behold I give unto you power to tread on ſerpents and ſcorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing ſhall by any means hurt you. 20 Notwithſtanding in this rejoyce not, that the ſpirits are ſubject unto you: but rather rejoyce becauſe your names are written in heaven. 21 ¶ In that hour Jeſus rejoyced in ſpirit, and ſaid, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou haſt hid theſe things from the wiſe and prudent, and haſt revealed them unto babes: even ſo, Father, for ſo it ſeemed good in thy ſight. 22 All things are delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the ſon is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the ſon, and he to whom the ſon will reveal him. 23 ¶ And he turned him unto his diſciples, and ſaid privately, Bleſſed are the eyes which ſee the things that ye ſee. 24 For I tell you, that many prophets and kings have deſir'd to ſee thoſe things which ye ſee, and have not ſeen them; and to hear thoſe things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

Chriſt ſent forth the ſeventy Diſciples as he was going up to Jeruſalem, to the Feaſt of the Tabernacles, when he went up not openly, but as it were in ſecret, John 7. 10. having ſent Abroad ſo great a Part of his ordinary Retinue; and Dr. Lightfoot thinks it was before his Return from that Feaſt, and while he was yet at Jeruſalem or Bethany, which was hard by, for there he was, v. 38. that they, or at leaſt ſome of them, return'd to him. Now here we are told,

1. What Account they gave him of the Succeſs of their Expedition, v. 17. They returned again with Joy; not complaining of the Fatigue of their Journies, or of the Oppoſition and Diſcouragement they met with, but rejoycing in their Succeſs, eſpecially in caſting out unclean Spirits; Lord, even the Devils are ſubject unto us through thy Name; tho' the Healing of the Sick only was mention'd in their Commiſſion, v. 16. yet no doubt the caſting out of Devils was included, and in this they had wonderful Succeſs: (1.) They give Chriſt the Glory of this: 'Tis through thy Name. Note, All our Victories over Satan are obtain'd by Power deriv'd from Jeſus Chriſt: We muſt in his Name enter the Liſt with our Spiritual Enemies, and whatever Advantages we gein, he muſt have all the Praiſe; if the Work be done in his Name, the Honour is due to his Name. (2.) They entertain themſelves with the Comfort of it; they ſpeak of it with an Air of Exultation, even the Devils, thoſe potent Enemies are ſubject to us. Note, The Saints have no greater Joy or Satisfaction in any of their Triumphs than in thoſe over Satan. If Devils are ſubject to us, what can ſtand before us?

2. What Acceptance they found with him, and how he entertain'd this Account.

1. He confirm'd what they ſaid, as agreeing with his own Obſervation, v. 18. My Heart and Eye went along with you; I took Notice what Succeſs you had, and I ſaw Satan fall as Lightning from Heaven. Note, Satan and his Kingdom fell before the preaching of the Goſpel; I ſee how it is, ſaith Chriſt, as you get Ground, the Devil loſeth Ground. He falls as Lightning falls from Heaven, ſo ſuddenly, ſo irrecoverably, ſo viſibly, that all may perceive it, and ſay, ſee how Satan's Kingdom totters, ſee how it tumbles. They triumph'd in the caſting of Devils out of the Bodies of People; but Chriſt ſees and rejoyces in the Fall of the Devil, from the Intereſt he has in the Souls of Men; which is call'd his Power in high Places, Eph. 6. 12. He foreſees this to be but an Earneſt of what ſhould now be ſhortly done, and was already begun, the deſtroying of Satan's Kingdom in the World, by the extirpating of Idolatry, and the turning of the Nations to the Faith of Chriſt. Satan falls from Heaven, when he falls from the Throne in Mens Hearts, Acts 26. 18. And Chriſt foreſaw that the Preaching of the Goſpel, which would fly like Lightning through the World, would, where-ever it went, pull down Satan's Kingdom. Now is the Prince of this World caſt out. Some have given another Senſe of this, as looking back to the Fall of the Angels, and deſign'd for a Caution to theſe Diſciples, leſt their Succeſs ſhould puff them up with Pride: I ſaw Angels turn'd into Devils by Pride, that was the Sin for which Satan was caſt down from Heaven; where he had been an Angel of Light; I ſaw it, and give you an Intimation of it, leſt you being lifted up with Pride, ſhould fall into that Condemnation of the Devil, who fell by Pride, 1 Tim. 3. 6.

2. He repeated, ratify'd, and enlarg'd their Commiſſion, v. 19. Behold I give you Power to tread on Serpents. Note, To him that hath, and uſeth well what he hath, more ſhall be given. They had employ'd their Power vigorouſly againſt Satan, and now Chriſt entruſts them with greater Power. (1.) An Offenſive Power, Power to tread on Serpents and Scorpions, i. e. Devils, malignant Spirits, the old Serpents; you ſhall bruiſe their Heads in my Name, according to the firſt Promiſe, Gen 3. 15. Come ſet your Feet on the Necks of theſe Enemies; you ſhall tread upon theſe Lions and Adders wherever you meet with them, you ſhall trample them under Foot, Pſal. 91. 13. You ſhall tread upon all the Power of the Enemy, and the Kingdom of the Meſſiah ſhall be every where ſet up upon the Ruins of the Devil's Kingdom; as the Devils have now been ſubject to you, ſo they ſhall ſtill be. (2.) A Defenſive Power; nothing ſhall by any Means hurt you; not Serpents or Scorpions, if you ſhall be chaſtiſed with them, or thrown into Priſons and Dungeons among them; you ſhall be unhurt by the moſt venomous Creatures, as St. Paul was, Acts 28. 5. and as is promis'd, Mat. 16. 18. If wicked Men be as Serpents to you, and you dwell among thoſe Scorpions, as Ezek. 2. 6. you may deſpiſe their Rage, and tread upon it, it needs not diſturb you, for they have no Power againſt you but what is given them from above; they may Hiſs, but they cannot Hurt. You may play upon the Hole of the Aſp, for Death it ſelf ſhall not Hurt or Deſtroy, Iſa. 11. 8, 19. 25. 8.

3. He directed them to turn their Joy into the right Channel, v. 20. Notwithſtanding, in this rejoyce not, that the Spirits are ſubject unto you, that they have been ſo, and ſhall be ſtill ſo; Do not rejoyce in this only as it is your Honour, and a Confirmation of your Miſſion, and as it ſets you a Degree above other good People, do not rejoyce in this only, or in this cheifly, but rather rejoyce, becauſe your Names are written in Heaven, i. e. becauſe you are choſen of God to eternal Life, and are the Children of God through Faith. Chriſt, who knew the Counſels of God, could tell them, that their Names were written in Heaven, for it is the Lamb's Book of Life that they are written in. All Believers are, through Grace, entitled to the Inheritance of Sons, and have receiv'd the Adoption of Sons, and the Spirit of Adoption, which is the Earneſt of that Inheritance, and ſo are enroll'd among his Family; now this is Matter of Joy, greater Joy than caſting out Devils. Note, Power to become the Children of God, is to be valu'd more than a Power to work Miracles: For we read of thoſe who did in Chriſt's Name caſt out Devils, as Judas did, and yet will be diſown'd by Chriſt in the Great Day; but they whoſe Names are written in Heaven, ſhall never Periſh, they are Chriſt's Sheep, to whom he will give eternal Life. Saving Graces are more to be rejoyc'd in than Spiritual Gifts; Holy Love is a more excellent Way than ſpeaking with Tongues.

4. He offer'd up a ſolemn Thankſgiving to his Father, for employing ſuch mean People as his Diſciples were, in ſuch high and honourable Services, v. 21, 22. this we had before, Mat. 11. 25, 26, 27. only here it is prefix'd, that in that Hour Jeſus rejoyc'd, 'twas fit particular Notice ſhould be taken of that Hour, becauſe there were ſo few ſuch, for he was a Man of Sorrows, in that Hour he ſaw Satan fall, and heard of the good Succeſs of his Miniſters, in that Hour he rejoyced. Note, Nothing rejoyceth the Heart of the Lord Jeſus ſo much, as the Progreſs of the Goſpel, and its getting Ground of Satan, by the Converſion of Souls to Chriſt. Chriſt's Joy was a ſolid ſubſtantial Joy, an inward Joy, He rejoyced in Spirit; but his Joy, like deep Waters, made no Noiſe; 'twas Joy that a Stranger did not intermeddle with; before he apply'd himſelf to thank his Father, he ſtirred up himſelf to rejoyce; for as thankful Praiſe is the genuine Language of holy Joy, ſo holy Joy is the Root and Spring of thankful Praiſe. Two Things he gives Thanks for.

(1.) For what was revealed by the Father through the Son, v. 21. I thank thee, O Father, Lord of Heaven and Earth. In all our Adorations of God we muſt have an Eye to him, both as the Maker of Heaven and Earth, and as the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and in him our Father. Now, that which he gives Thanks for is, (1.) That the Counſels of God concerning Man's Reconciliation to himſelf, were reveal'd to ſome of the Children of Men, who might be fit alſo to teach others, and it is God that by his Son hath ſpoken theſe Things to us, and by his Spirit has reveal'd them in us; he hath revealed that which had been kept ſecret from the Beginning of the World. (2.) That they were reveal'd to Babes, to thoſe that were of mean Parts and Capacities, whoſe Extraction and Education had nothing in it promiſing, who were but Children in Underſtanding, till God by his Spirit elevated their Faculties, and furniſh'd them with this Knowledge, and an Ability to communicate it. We have Reaſon to thank God, not ſo much for the Honour he has hereby put upon the Babes, as for the Honour he has hereby done himſelf in perfecting Strength out of Weakneſs. (3.) That at the ſame Time when he revealed them unto Babes, he hid them from the Wiſe and Prudent, the Gentile Philoſophers, the Jewiſh Rabbins. He did not reveal the Things of the Goſpel to them, nor employ them in preaching up his Kingdom, Thanks be to God that the Apoſtles were not fetch'd from their Schools: For, (1.) They would have been apt to mingle their Notions with the Doctrine of Chriſt, which would have corrupted it, as afterwards it prov'd. For Chriſtianity was much corrupted by the Platoniſt's Philoſophy, in the firſt Ages of it, and by the Peripatetick in its latter Ages, and by the Judaizing Teachers at the firſt Planting of it. (2.) If Rabbins and Philoſophers had been made Apoſtles, the Succeſs of the Goſpel would have been aſcrib'd to their Learning and Wit, and the Force of their Reaſonings and Eloquence, and therefore they muſt not be emyloy'd leſt they ſhould have taken too much to themſelves, and others ſhould have attributed too much to them; they were paſt by for the ſame Reaſon that Gideon's Army was reduc'd, The People are yet too many, Jud. 7. 4. Paul indeed was bred a Scholar among the Wiſe and Prudent, but he became a Babe when he became an Apoſtle, and laid aſide the enticing Words of Man's Wiſdom, forgot them all, and made neither Shew nor Uſe of any other Knowledge, but that of Chriſt and him crucified, 1 Cor. 2. 2, 4. (4.) That God herein acted in it by Way of Sovereignty, even ſo, Father, for ſo it ſeemed good in thy Sight. If God gives his Grace and the Knowledge of his Son to ſome that are leſs likely, and do not give it to others whom we would think better able to deliver it with Advantage, this muſt ſatisfy, ſo it pleaſeth God, whoſe Thoughts are infinitely above ours. He chuſeth to entruſt the diſpenſing of his Goſpel in the Hands of thoſe, who with a Divine Energy, will give it the ſetting on; rather than in theirs, who with humane Art will give it the ſetting off.

(2.) For what was ſecret between the Father and the Son, v. 22. (1.) The vaſt Confidence that the Father puts in the Son. All Things are delivered to me of my Father: All Wiſdom and Knowledge; all Power and Authority; all that Grace and Comfort which is intended for the choſen Remnant, 'tis all deliver'd into the Hands of the Lord Jeſus; in him all Fulneſs muſt dwell, and from him it muſt be deriv'd: He is the great Truſtee that manageth all the Concerns of God's Kingdom. (2.) The good Underſtanding that there is between the Father and the Son, and their mutual Conſciouſneſs, ſuch as no Creature can be admitted to. No Man knows who the Son is, nor what his Mind is, but the Father, who poſſeſſed him in the Beginning of his Ways, before his Works of old, Prov. 8. 22. Nor who the Father is, and what his Counſels are, but the Son, who lay in his Boſom from Eternity, was by him as one brought up with him, and was daily his Delight, Prov. 8. 20. And he to whom the Son, by the Spirit, will reveal him. The Goſpel is the Revelation of Jeſus Chriſt, and to him we owe all the Diſcoveries made us of the Will of God for our Salvation, and here he ſpeaks of it as that which was a great Pleaſure to himſelf, and for which he was very thankful to his Father to be ſo intruſted.

5. He told his Diſciples how well it was for them that they had theſe Things revealed to them, v. 23, 24. Having addreſs'd himſelf to his Father, he turned him to his Diſciples, deſigning to make them ſenſible how much it was for their Happineſs, as well as for the Glory and Honour of God, that they knew the Myſteries of the Kingdom, and were employed to lead others into the Knowledge of them, conſidering (1.) What a Step it is towards ſomething better, tho' the bare Knowledge of theſe Things is not ſaving, yet it puts us in the Way of Salvation; bleſſed are the Eyes which ſee the Things which ye ſee. God therein bleſſeth them, and if it be not their own Fault, it will be an eternal Beſſedneſs to them. (2.) What a Step it is above thoſe that went before them, even the greateſt Saints, and thoſe that were moſt the Favourites of Heaven, many Prophets and righteous Men, ſo it is, Mat. 13. 17. many Prophets and Kings, ſo it is here, have deſir'd to ſee and hear thoſe Things which you are daily and intimately converſant with, and have not ſeen and heard them. The Honour and Happineſs of the New Teſtament Saints, far exceeds that even of the Prophets and Kings of the Old Teſtament, tho' they alſo were highly favour'd. The general Ideas which the Old Teſtament Saints had, according to the Intimations given them of the Graces and Glories of the Meſſiah's Kingdom, made them wiſh a thouſand Times, that their Lot had been reſerv'd for thoſe bleſſed Days, and that they might ſee the Subſtance of thoſe Things which they had faint Shadows of. Note, The Conſideration of the great Advantages which we have in the New Teſtament Light, above what they had who liv'd in Old Teſtament Times, ſhould awaken our Diligence in the Improvement of it, for if it do not, 'twill aggravate our Condemnation for the Non-improvement of it.

25 ¶ And behold, a certain lawyer ſtood up, and tempted him, ſaying, Maſter, what ſhall I do to inherit eternal life? 26 He ſaid unto him, What is written in the law? how readeſt thou? 27 And he anſwering, ſaid, Thou ſhalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy ſoul, and with all thy ſtrength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbour as thy ſelf. 28 And he ſaid unto him, Thou haſt anſwered right: this do, and thou ſhalt live. 29 But he willing to juſtify himſelf, ſaid unto Jeſus, And who is my neighbour? 30 And Jeſus anſwering, ſaid, A certain man went down from Jeruſalem to Jericho, and fell among theives, which ſtripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead. 31 And by chance there came down a certain prieſt that way; and when he ſaw him, he paſs'd by on the other ſide. 32 And likewiſe a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and paſſed by on the other ſide. 33 But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he ſaw him, he had compaſſion on him. 34 And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oyl and wine, and ſet him on his own beaſt, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him. 35 And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the hoſt, and ſaid unto him, Take care of him; and whatſoever thou ſpendeſt more, when I come again, I will repay thee. 36 Which now of theſe three, thinkeſt thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves? 37 And he ſaid, He that ſhewed mercy on him. Then ſaid Jeſus unto him, Go, and do thou likewiſe.

We have here Chriſt's Diſcourſe with a Lawyer about ſome Points of Conſcience, which we are all concern'd to be rightly inform'd in, and are ſo here from Chriſt, though the Queſtions were propos'd with no good Intention.

Firſt, We are concern'd to know what that Good is which we ſhould do in this Life, in order to our attaining eternal Life: A Queſtion to this Purpoſe was propos'd to our Saviour, by a certain Lawyer, or Scribe, only with a Deſign to try him; not with a Deſire to be inſtructed by him, v. 25. The Lawyer ſtood up, and asked him, Maſter, what ſhall I do to inherit eternal Life? If Chriſt had any thing peculiar to preſcribe, by this Queſtion he would get it out of him, and perhaps expoſe him for it; if not, he would expoſe his Doctrine as needleſs, ſince it would give no other Direction for obtaining Happineſs than what they had already receiv'd: Or, perhaps he had no malicious Deſign againſt Chriſt, as ſome of the Scribes had, only he was willing to have a little Talk with him, juſt as People go to Church to hear what the Miniſter will ſay. This was a good Queſtion, What ſhall I do to inherit eternal Life? But it loſt all its Goodneſs when it was propos'd with an ill Deſign, or a very mean one. Note, It is not enough to ſpeak of the Things of God, and to enquire about them, but we muſt do it with an agreeable Concern. If we ſpeak of eternal Life, and the Way to it in a careleſs Manner, merely as Matter of Diſcourſe, eſpecially as Matter of Diſpute, we do but take the Name of God in vain, as the Lawyer here did.

Now this Queſtion being ſtarted, obſerve,

1. How Chriſt turn'd him over to the Divine Law, and bid him follow the Direction of that: Though he knew the Thoughts and Intents of his Heart, he doth not anſwer him according to the Folly of that, but according to the Wiſdom and Goodneſs of the Queſtion he ask'd. He anſwer'd him with a Queſtion, What is written in the Law, how readeſt thou? v. 26. He came to catechize Chriſt, and to know him, but Chriſt will catechize him, and make him know himſelf. He talks to him as a Lawyer, as one converſant in the Law, the Studies of his Profeſſion would inform him; let him practiſe according to his Knowledge, and he ſhould not come ſhort of eternal Life. Note, It will be of great Uſe to us in our Way to Heaven, to conſider what is written in the Law, and what we read there. We muſt have Recourſe to our Bibles, to the Law, as 'tis now in the Hand of Chriſt, and walk in the Way that is ſhew'd us there. 'Tis a great Mercy that we have the Law written, that we have it thereby reduc'd to a Certainty, and that thereby 'tis capable of ſpreading the further, and laſting the longer. Having it written, it is our Duty to read it, and to read it with Underſtanding, and to treaſure up what we read, ſo that when there is Occaſion, we may be able to tell what is written in the Law, and how we read. And to this we muſt appeal, by this we muſt try Doctrines, and end Diſputes; this muſt be our Oracle, our Touch-ſtone, our Rule, our Guide: What is written in the Law, how do we read? If there be Light in us, 'twill have Regard to this Light.

2. What a good Account he gave of the Law, of the principal Commandments of the Law, which we muſt bind ourſelves to the Obſervance of, if we would inherit eternal Life. He did not like a Phariſee, refer himſelf to the Tradition of the Elders, but like a good Textuary faſten'd upon the two firſt and greateſt Commandments of the Law, as thoſe which he thought muſt be moſt ſtrictly obſerv'd in Order to the obtaining of eternal Life, and which included all the reſt, v. 27. (1.) We muſt love God with all our Hearts; muſt look upon him as the beſt of Beings in himſelf, moſt amiable, and infinitely perfect and excellent, as one whom we lye under the greateſt Obligations to, both in Gratitude and Intereſt. We muſt prize him, and value our ſelves by our Relation to him; muſt pleaſe ourſelves in him, and devote ourſelves intirely to him. Our Love in him muſt be ſincere and hearty, and fervent; it muſt not only be a ſuperlative Love, a Love that's as ſtrong as Death, but an intelligent Love, and ſuch as we can give a good Account of the Grounds and Reaſons of. It muſt be an intire Love, he muſt have our whole Souls, and muſt be ſerv'd with all that is within us. We muſt love nothing beſide him, but what we love for him, and in ſubordination to him. (2.) We muſt love our Neighbours as our ſelves, which we ſhall eaſily do, if (as we ought) we love God better than our ſelves. We muſt wiſh well to all, and ill to none; muſt do all the Good we can in the World, and no Hurt, and muſt fix it as a Rule to our ſelves to do to others as we would they ſhould do to us, and this is to love our Neighbour as ourſelves.

3. Chriſt's Approbation of what he ſaid, v. 28. Though he came to tempt him, yet what he ſaid that was good, Chriſt commended; thou haſt anſwer'd right. Chriſt himſelf faſten'd upon thoſe as the Two great Commandments of the Law, Matt. 22. 37. both Sides agreed in this. Thoſe who do well ſhall have Praiſe of the ſame, and ſo all thoſe have that ſpeak well; ſo far is Right: But the hardeſt Part of this Work yet remains, this do, and thou ſhalt live; thou ſhalt inherit eternal Life.

4. His Care to avoid the Conviction which was now ready to faſten upon him. When Chriſt ſaid, This do, and thou ſhalt live, he began to be aware that Chriſt intended to draw from him an Acknowledgment that he had not done this, and therefore an Enquiry what he ſhould do, and which Way he ſhould look to get his Sins pardon'd; and likewiſe an Acknowledgment that he could not do this perfectly, for the Future, by any Strength of his own, and therefore an Enquiry which Way he might fetch in Strength to enable him to do it; but he was willing to juſtifie himſelf, and therefore cared not for carrying on that Diſcourſe, but ſaith, in Effect, as another did, Mat. 19. 20. All theſe Things have I kept from my Youth up. Note, Many ask good Queſtions with a Deſign rather to juſtify themſelves, than to inform themſelves; rather proudly to ſhew what is good in them, than humbly to ſee what is bad in them.

Secondly, We are concern'd to know who is our Neighbour; whom by the Second Great Commandment we are oblig'd to Love. And this is another of this Lawyer's Queries, which he ſtarted only that he might drop the former, leſt Chriſt ſhould have forc'd him in the Proſecution of it to condemn himſelf, when he was reſolv'd to juſtify himſelf. As to loving God he was willing to ſay no more of it, but as to his Neighbour, he was ſure there he had come up to the Rule; for he had always been very kind and reſpectful to all about him. Now obſerve,

1. What was the corrupt Notion of the Jewiſh Teachers in this Matter: Dr. Lightfoot quotes their own Words to this Purpoſe, where he ſaith, Thou ſhalt love thy Neighbour, he excepts all Gentiles, for they are not our Neighbours, but thoſe only that are of our own Nation and Religion. They would not put an Iſraelite to Death for killing a Gentile, for he was not his Neighbour: Indeed they ſay, they ought not to kill a Gentile, that they were not at War with; but if they ſaw a Gentile in Danger of Death, they thought themſelves under no Obligation to help to ſave his Life. Such wicked Inferences did they draw from that holy Covenant of Peculiarity, which God had diſtinguiſh'd them by; and by abuſing it thus they had forfeited it; and God juſtly took the Forfeiture, and transferr'd Covenant Favours to the Gentile World, to whom they brutiſhly deny'd common Favours.

2. How Chriſt corrected this inhumane Notion, and ſhew'd by a Parable, that whoever we have need to receive Kindneſs from, and find ready to ſhew us the Kindneſs we need, we cannot but look upon as our Neighbour; and therefore ought to look upon all thoſe as ſuch who need our Kindneſs, and to ſhew them Kindneſs accordingly, though they be not of our own Nation and Religion. Now obſerve,

1. The Parable it ſelf, which repreſents to us a poor Jew in diſtreſs'd Circumſtances, ſuccour'd and reliev'd by a good Samaritan. Let us ſee here,

1. How he was abus'd by his Enemies: The honeſt Man was travelling peaceably upon his lawful Occaſions in the Road, and it was a great Road that leads from Jeruſalem to Jericho, v. 30. The mentioning of thoſe Places intimates that it was Matter of Fact, and not a Parable, and probably it happen'd lately, juſt as it is here related. The Occurrences of Providence would yield us many good Inſtructions, if we would carefully obſerve and improve them; and would be equivalent to Parables fram'd on purpoſe for Inſtruction, and be more affecting. This poor Man fell among Thieves. Whether they were Arabians, Rapparees that liv'd by Spoil, or ſome profligate Wretches of his own Nation, or ſome of the Roman Soldiers, who notwithſtanding the ſtrict Diſcipline of their Army did this Villany, doth not appear; but they were very barbarous, they not only took his Money, but ſtrip'd him of his Clothes; and that he might not be able to purſue them, or only to gratify a cruel Diſpoſition (for otherwiſe what profit was there in his Blood?) they wounded him, and left him half dead, ready to dye of his Wounds. We may here conceive a juſt Indignation at Highwaymen, that have diveſted themſelves of all Humanity, and are as natural Brute-Beaſts, Beaſts of Prey, made to be taken and deſtroyed; and at the ſame Time we cannot but think with Compaſſion on thoſe that fall into the Hands of ſuch wicked and unreaſonable Men, and be ready when it is in our Power to help them. And what Reaſon have we to thank God for our Preſervation from Perils by Robbers!

2. How he was ſlighted by thoſe that ſhould have been his Friends, who were not only Men of his own Nation and Religion, but one a Prieſt, and t'other a Levite, Men of a publick Character and Station: Nay, they were Men of profeſs'd Sanctity, whoſe Offices oblig'd them to Tenderneſs and Compaſſion, Heb. 5. 2. who ought to teach others their Duty in ſuch a Caſe as this, which was to deliver them that were drawn unto Death, yet they would not themſelves do it. Dr. Lightfoot tells us that many of the Courſes of the Prieſts had their Reſidence in Jericho, and from thence came up to Jeruſalem, when it was their turn to officiate there, and ſo back again, which occaſion'd abundance of paſſing and repaſſing of Prieſts that Way, and Levites, their Attendants; they came this Way, and ſaw the poor wounded Man, 'tis likely they heard his Groans, and could not but perceive that if he were not help'd he muſt quickly periſh. The Levite not only ſaw him, but came and look'd on him, v. 32. but they paſſed by on the other Side; when they ſaw his Caſe they got as far off him as ever they could, as if they would have had a Pretence to ſay, Behold, we knew it not. 'Tis ſad when thoſe who ſhould be Examples of Charity, were Prodigies of Cruelty; and who ſhould, by diſplaying the Mercies of God, open the Bowels of others Compaſſion, ſhut up their own.

3. How he was ſuccour'd and reliev'd by a Stranger, a certain Samaritan, of that Nation, which, of all other, the Jews deſpis'd and deteſted, and would have no Dealings with, this Man had ſome Humanity in him, v. 33. The Prieſt had his Heart harden'd againſt one of his own People, but the Samaritan had his open'd towards one of another People; when he ſaw him he had Compaſſion on him, and never took into Conſideration what Countrey he was of: Though he was a Jew, he was a Man, and a Man in Miſery, and he has learn'd to honour all Men: He knows not how ſoon this poor Man's Caſe may be his own, and therefore pities him, as he himſelf would deſire and expect to be pity'd in the like Caſe. That ſo great Love ſhould be found in a Samaritan, was, perhaps, thought as great as that Faith which Chriſt admir'd in a Roman, in a Woman of Canaan; but really was not ſo, for Pity is the Work of a Man, but Faith is the Work of Divine Grace.

The Compaſſion of this Samaritan was not an idle Compaſſion; he did not think it enough to ſay, be healed, be help'd (Jam. 2. 16.) but when he drew out his Soul, he reach'd forth his Hand alſo to this poor needy Creature, Iſa. 58. 7. 10. Prov. 31. 20. See how friendly this good Samaritan was, (1.) He went to the poor Man, whom the Prieſt and Levite kept at a Diſtance from; he enquir'd, no doubt, how he came into this deplorable Condition, and condol'd him. (2.) He did the Surgeon's Part, for want of a better; he bound up his Wounds, making Uſe of his own Linnen, 'tis likely for that Purpoſe; and pour'd in Oil and Wine, which, perhaps, he had with him; Wine to waſh the Wound, and Oil to mollify it, and cloſe it up: He did all he could to eaſe the Pain, and prevent the Peril of his Wounds, as one whoſe Heart bled with them. (3.) He ſet him on his own Beaſt, and went on Foot himſelf, and brought him to an Inn. And a great Mercy it is to have Inns upon the Road, where we may be furniſh'd for our Money with all Conveniences for Food and Reſt. Perhaps the Samaritan, if he had not met with this Hindrance, would have got that Night to his Journey's End, but in Compaſſion to that poor Man he takes up ſhort at an Inn. Some think the Prieſt and Levite pretend they could not ſtay to help the poor Man, becauſe they were in Haſte to go and attend the Temple-Service at Jeruſalem. We ſuppoſe this Samaritan went upon Buſineſs; but he underſtood that both his own Buſineſs and God's Sacrifice too muſt give Place to ſuch an Act of Mercy as this. (4.) He took care of him in the Inn, got him to Bed, had Food for him that was proper, and due Attendance, and it may be, pray'd with him. Nay, (5.) As if he had been his own Child, or one he was oblig'd to look after, when he left him next Morning, he left Money with the Landlord to be laid out for his Uſe, and paſs'd his Word for what he ſhould ſpend more. Two Pence of their Money was about Fifteen-pence of ours, which, according to the Rate of Things then, would go a great Way; however here 'twas an Earneſt of Content to the full of all Demands. Now all this was kind and generous, and as much as one could have expected from a Friend or a Brother; and yet here it is done by a Stranger and Foreigner.

Now this Parable is applicable to another Purpoſe than that for which 'twas intended; and doth excellently ſet forth the Kindneſs and Love of God our Saviour towards ſinful, miſerable Man. We were like this poor diſtreſſed Traveller; Satan, our Enemy, had rob'd us, ſtripp'd us, wounded us, ſuch is the Miſchief that Sin hath done us; we are by Nature more than half dead, twice dead in Treſpaſſes and Sins; utterly unable to help our ſelves, for we were without Strength. The Law of Moſes, like, the Prieſt and Levite, the Miniſters of that Law, looks upon us, but has no Compaſſion on us, gives us no Relief, it paſſeth by on the other Side, as having neither Pity nor Power to help us: But then comes the bleſſed Jeſus, that good Samaritan, (and they ſaid of him by Way of Reproach, He is a Samaritan) he has Compaſſion on us, he binds up our bleeding Wounds, (Pſ. 147. 3. Iſa. 6. 1.) pours in, not Oil and Wine, but that which is infinitely more precious, his own Blood: He takes Care of us, and bids us put all the Expence of our Cure upon his Account; and all this, tho' he was none of us, till he was pleas'd by his voluntary Condeſcention to make himſelf ſo, but infinitely above us. This magnifies the Riches of his Love, and obligeth us all to ſay, How much are we indebted, and what ſhall we render?

2. The Reddition or Application of the Parable.

1. The Truth contained in it is extorted from the Lawyer's own Mouth. Now tell me, ſaith Chriſt, Which of thoſe three was Neighbour to him that fell among Thieves, v. 36. the Prieſt, the Levite, or the Samaritan? Which of theſe did the Neighbour's Part? To this the Lawyer would not Anſwer as he ought to have done, doubtleſs the Samaritan was; but he that ſhewed Mercy on him, doubtleſs he was a good Neighbour to him, and very neighbourly, and he could not but ſay it was a good Work thus to ſave an honeſt Jew from Periſhing.

2. The Duty inferr'd from it is preſs'd home upon the Lawyer's own Conſcience; Go and do thou likewiſe. The Duty of Relations is mutual and reciprocal; the Titles of Friends, Brethren, Neighbours, are, as Grotius here ſpeaks, τῶν πρός τι, equally binding on both Sides: If one Side be bound, the other cannot be looſe, as is agreed in all Contracts. If a Samaritan doth well that helps a diſtreſſed Jew, certainly a Jew doth not well, if he do not in like Manner help a diſtreſſed Samaritan. Petimuſque damuſque viciſſim. And therefore go thou and do as the Samaritan did, whenever Occaſion offers; ſhew Mercy to thoſe that needs thy Help, and do it freely, and with Concern and Compaſſion, though they be not of thy own Nation, and thy own Profeſſion, Opinion and Communion in Religion. Let thy Charity be thus extenſive before thou boaſteſt of having conform'd thy ſelf to that great Commandment of loving thy Neighbour. This Lawyer valued himſelf much upon his Learning, and his Knowledge of the Laws, and in that he thought to have puzzled Chriſt himſelf, but Chriſt ſends him to School to a Samaritan to learn his Duty; go and do like him. Note, It is the Duty of every one of us, in our Places, and according to our Ability, to ſuccour, help, and relieve all that are in Diſtreſs and Neceſſity, and of Lawyers particularly, and herein we muſt ſtudy to excel many that are proud of their being Prieſts and Levites.

38 ¶ Now it came to paſs, as they went, he entred into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha, received him into her houſe. 39 And ſhe had a ſiſter called Mary, which alſo ſat at Jeſus feet, and heard his word. 40 But Martha was cumbred about much ſerving, and came to him, and ſaid, Lord, doſt thou not care that my ſiſter hath left me to ſerve alone? bid her therefore that ſhe help me. 41 And Jeſus anſwer'd, and ſaid unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful, and troubled about many things: 42 But one thing is needful. And Mary hath choſen that good part, which ſhall not be taken away from her.

We may obſerve in this Story,

Firſt, The Entertainment which Martha gave to Chriſt and his Diſciples at her Houſe, v. 38. Obſerve, 1. Chriſt's coming to the Village where Martha liv'd. As they went (Chriſt and his Diſciples together) he and they with him enter'd into a certain Village. This Village was Bethany, nigh to Jeruſalem, whither Chriſt was now going up, and he took this in his Way. Note, 1. Our Lord Jeſus went about doing good, Acts 10. 38. ſcattering his benign Beams and Influences as the true Light of the World. 2. Wherever Chriſt went, his Diſciples went along with him. 3. Chriſt honour'd the Country Villages with his Preſence and Favour, and not the great and populous Cities only, for as he choſe Privacy, ſo he countenanc'd Poverty.

2. His Reception at Martha's Houſe. A certain Woman nam'd Martha receiv'd him into her Houſe, and bid him welcome, for ſhe was the Houſe-keeper. Note, 1. Our Lord Jeſus when he was here upon Earth, was ſo poor, that he was neceſſitated to be beholden to his Friends for a Subſiſtence. Though he was Sion's King, he had no Houſe of his own, either in Jeruſalem or near it. 2. There were ſome that were Chriſt's particular Friends, whom he lov'd more than other of his Friends, and them he viſited moſt frequently. He lov'd this Family, Joh. 11. 5. and often invited himſelf to them. Chriſt's Viſits are the Token of his Love, Joh. 14. 22. 3. There were thoſe who kindly receiv'd Chriſt into their Houſes, when he was here upon Earth. 'Tis call'd Martha's Houſe, for probably ſhe was a Widow, and was the Houſe-keeper. Though it was chargeable to entertain Chriſt, for he did not come alone, but brought his Diſciples with him, yet ſhe would not ſtick at the Expence of it: How can we ſpend what we have better than in Chriſt's Service? Nay, though at this Time it was grown dangerous to entertain him, eſpecially ſo near Jeruſalem, yet ſhe car'd not what Hazard ſhe run, for his Name's Sake, though there were many that rejected him, and would not entertain him, yet there was one that bid him welcome. Though Chriſt is every where ſpoken againſt; yet there is a Remnant to whom he is dear, and that are dear to him.

Secondly, The Attendance which Mary, the Siſter of Martha gave upon the Word of Chriſt, v. 20. (1.) She heard his Word. It ſeems our Lord Jeſus as ſoon as he came into Martha's Houſe, even before Entertainment was got for him, addreſs'd himſelf to his great Work of preaching the Goſpel: He preſently took the Chair with Solemnity, for Mary ſat to hear him, which intimates that it was a continu'd Diſcourſe. Note, A good Sermon is never the worſe for being preach'd in a Houſe; and the Viſits of our Friends ſhould be ſo manag'd, as to make them turn to a ſpiritual Advantage. Mary having this Price put into her Hands, ſate herſelf to improve it, not knowing when ſhe ſhould have ſuch another. Since Chriſt is forward to ſpeak, we ſhould be ſwift to hear. 2. She ſate to hear, which notes a cloſe Attention; her Mind was compos'd, and ſhe reſolv'd to abide by it; not to catch a Word now and then, but to receive all that Chriſt deliver'd. She ſate at his Feet, as Scholars at the Feet of their Tutors when they read their Lectures; hence Paul is ſaid to be brought up at the Feet of Gamaliel. Our ſitting at Chriſt's Feet, when we hear his Word, ſignifies a Readineſs to receive his Word, and a Submiſſion, and entire Reſignation of ourſelves to the Conduct of it. We muſt either ſit at Chriſt's Feet, or be made his Foot-ſtool; but if we ſit with him at his Feet now, we ſhall ſit with him on his Throne ſhortly.

Thirdly, The Care of Martha about her domeſtick Affairs. But Martha was cumber'd about much ſerving, v. 40. and that was the Reaſon why ſhe was not where Mary was, ſitting at Chriſt's Feet to hear his Word. She was providing for the Entertainment of Chriſt, and thoſe that came with him. Perhaps ſhe had no Notice before of his coming, and ſhe was unprovided, but was in Care to have every Thing handſome upon this Occaſion, ſhe had not ſuch Gueſts every Day. And Houſe-keepers know what Care and Buſtle there muſt be, when a great Entertainment is to be made. Obſerve here,

1. Something commendable, which muſt not be overlook'd. (1.) Here was a commendable Reſpect to our Lord Jeſus, for we have Reaſon to think 'twas not for Oſtentation, but purely to teſtifie her good Will to him that ſhe made this Entertainment for. Note, Thoſe who truly love Chriſt, will think that well beſtow'd that is laid out for his Honour. (2.) Here was a commendable Care of her Houſhold Affairs. It appears by the Reſpects ſhew'd to this Family among the Jews, (Joh. 11. 19.) that they were Perſons of ſome Quality and Diſtinction, and yet Martha herſelf did not think it a Diſparagement to her to lay her Hand even to the Service of the Family, when there was Occaſion for it. Note, It is the Duty of thoſe who have the Charge of Families, to look well to the Ways of their Houſhold. The Affectation of State, and the Love of Eaſe, makes many Families neglected.

2. Here was ſomething culpable, which we muſt take Notice of too. (1.) She was for much Serving; her Heart was upon it, to have a very ſumptuous and ſplendid Entertainment; great Plenty, great Variety, and great Exactneſs, according to the Faſhion of the Place. She was in Care, περὶ πολλὴν διακονίαν concerning much Attendance. Note, It doth not become the Diſciples of Chriſt to affect much Serving, to affect Varieties, Dainties, and Superfluities in Eating and Drinking; what needs much Serving, when much leſs will ſerve? (2.) She was cumber'd about it περιεσπᾶτο. She was juſt diſtracted with it. Note, Whatever Cares the Providence of God caſts upon us, we muſt not be cumber'd with them, nor be diſquieted and perplex'd by them. Care is good, and Duty, but Cumber is Sin and Folly. (3.) She was then cumber'd about much Serving, when ſhe ſhould have been with her Siſter ſitting at Chriſt's Feet, to hear his Word. Note, Worldly Buſineſs is then a Snare to us, when it hinders us from ſerving God, and getting Good to our Souls.

Fourthly, The Complaint which Martha made to Chriſt, againſt her Siſter Mary, for not aſſiſting her upon this Occaſion in the Buſineſs of the Houſe, v. 40. Lord, doſt thou not care that my Siſter, who is concern'd as well as I to have Things done well, has left me to ſerve alone; therefore diſmiſs her from attending thee and bid her come help me.

Now, 1. This Complaint of Martha's may be conſider'd as a Diſcovery of her Worldlineſs: It was the Language of her inordinate Care and Cumber. She ſpeaks as one in a mighty Paſſion with her Siſter, elſe ſhe would not have troubled Chriſt with the Matter. Note, The Inordinancy of Worldly Cares and Purſuits is often the Occaſion of Diſturbance in Families, and of Strife and Contention among Relations. And thoſe that are eager upon the World themſelves, are apt to blame and cenſure thoſe that are not ſo too; and while they juſtify themſelves in their Worldlineſs, and judge of others by their Serviceableneſs to them in their worldly Purſuits, they are ready to condemn thoſe who addict themſelves to the Exerciſes of Religion, as if they neglected the main Chance, as they call it. Martha being angry at her Siſter, appeal'd to Chriſt, and would have him to ſay, ſhe did well to be angry. Lord, doſt not thou care that my Siſter has left me to ſerve alone? It ſhould ſeem as if Chriſt had ſometimes expreſs'd himſelf tenderly concern'd for her, and her Eaſe and Comfort, and would not have her go thro' ſo much Toil and Trouble, and ſhe expected he ſhould now bid her Siſter take her Share in it. When Martha was caring, ſhe muſt have Mary and Chriſt, and all to care too, or elſe ſhe is not pleas'd. Note, Thoſe are not always in the Right, that are moſt forward to appeal to God; we muſt therefore take Heed leſt we at any Time expect that Chriſt ſhould eſpouſe our unjuſt and groundleſs Quarrels. The Cares he caſts upon us, we may chearfully caſt upon him, but not thoſe which we fooliſhly draw upon ourſelves. He will be the Patron of the poor and injur'd, but not of the turbulent and injurious.

2. It may be conſider'd as a Diſcouragement of Mary's Piety and Devotion. Her Siſter ſhould have commended her for it; ſhould have told her that ſhe was in the Right; but inſtead of that ſhe condemns her as wanting in the Duty. Note, It is no ſtrange Thing for thoſe that are zealous in Religion, to meet with Hindrances and Diſcouragements from thoſe that are about them, not only with Oppoſition from Enemies, but with Blame and Cenſure from their Friends; David's Faſting, and his Dancing before the Ark, were turn'd to his Reproach.

Fifthly, The Reproof which Chriſt gave to Martha, for her inordinate Care, v. 41. ſhe appeal'd to him, and he gives Judgment againſt her. Martha, Martha, Thou art careful and troubled about many Things, whereas but one Thing is needful.

1. He reprov'd her, tho' he was at this Time her Gueſt, and her Fault was her over Solicitude to entertain him, and ſhe expected he ſhould juſtify her in it, yet he publickly check'd her for it. Note, As many as Chriſt loves he rebukes and chaſtens. Even thoſe that are dear to Chriſt, if any Thing be amiſs in them, ſhall be ſure to hear of it. Neverthleſs, I have ſomething againſt thee.

2. When he reprov'd her, he call'd her by her Name, Martha. For Reproofs are then moſt likely to do good, when they are particular, apply'd to particular Perſons and Caſes, as Nathan's to David: Thou art the Man. He repeated her Name, Martha, Martha; he ſpeaks as one in earneſt, and deeply concern'd for her Welfare. Thoſe that are entangled in the Cares of this Life, are not eaſily diſentangled. To them we muſt call again and again, O Earth, Earth, Earth, hear the Word of the Lord.

3. That which he reprov'd her for, was her being careful and troubled about many Things. He was not pleas'd that ſhe ſhould think to pleaſe him with a rich and ſplendid Entertainment, and with perplexing herſelf to prepare it for him; whereas he would teach us, as not to be ſenſual in uſing ſuch Things, ſo not to be ſelfiſh in being willing others ſhould be troubled, no Matter who, or how many, ſo we may be gratify'd. Chriſt reproves her both for the Intenſeneſs of her Care; thou art careful and troubled, divided and diſturb'd by thy Care; and for the Extenſiveneſs of it, about many Things: Thou doſt graſp at many Enjoyments, and ſo art troubled at many Diſappointments. Poor Martha, thou haſt many Things to fret at, and that puts thee out of Humour, whereas leſs ado would ſerve. Note, Inordinate Care and Trouble about many Things in this World, is a common Fault among Chriſt's Diſciples, and is very diſpleaſing to Chriſt, and 'tis that for which they often come under the Rebukes of Providence. If they fret for no juſt Cauſe, 'tis juſt with him to order them ſomething to fret at.

4. That which aggravated the Sin and Folly of her Care was, that but one Thing is needful. 'Tis a low Conſtruction which ſome put upon this, that whereas Martha was in Care to provide many Diſhes of Meat, there was Occaſion but for one; one would be enough. There is need but of one Thing, ἑνὸς δέ ἐστι χρεία. If we take it ſo, it furniſheth us with a Rule of Temperance, not to affect Varieties and Dainties, but content to ſit down to one Diſh of Meat, to half one, Prov. 23. 1, 2, 3. 'Tis a forc'd Conſtruction which ſome of the Antienrs put upon it, but Oneneſs is needful, in Oppoſition to Diſtractions: There is need of one Heart to attend upon the Word, not divided and hurry'd to and fro, as Martha's was at this Time. But the one Thing needful is certainly meant of that which Mary made her Choice, ſitting at Chriſt's Feet to hear his Word. She was troubl'd about many Things, when ſhe ſhould have apply'd herſelf to one; Godlineſs unites the Heart which the World had divided. The many Things ſhe was troubled about were needleſs, while the one Thing ſhe neglected was needful. Martha's Care and Work was good in its proper Seaſon and Place, but now ſhe had ſomething elſe to do, which was unſpeakably more needful, and therefore ſhould be done firſt, and moſt minded. She expected Chriſt to have blamed Mary for not doing as ſhe did, but he blamed her for not doing as Mary did; and we are ſure the Judgment of Chriſt is according to Truth. And the Day will come, when Martha will wiſh ſhe had ſitten where Mary did.

Sixthly, Chriſt's Approbation and Commendation of Mary for her ſerious Piety, Mary hath choſen the good Part. Mary ſaid nothing in her own Defence; but ſince Martha has appeal'd to the Maſter, to him ſhe is willing to refer it, and will abide by his Award; and here we have it.

1. She had juſtly given the Preference to that which beſt deſerv'd it. For one Thing is needful, this one Thing that ſhe has done to give up herſelf to the Conduct of Chriſt, and receive the Law from his Mouth. Note, Serious Godlineſs is a needful Thing, it is the one Thing needful, for nothing without this, will do us any real Good in this World, and nothing but this, will go with us into another World.

2. She had herein wiſely done well for herſelf. Chriſt juſtify'd Mary againſt her Siſter's Clamours; however we may be cenſur'd and condemn'd by Men for our Piety and Zeal, our Lord Jeſus will take our Part; but thou ſhalt anſwer, Lord, for me. Let not us then condemn the pious Zeal of any, leſt we ſet Chriſt againſt us; never be diſcourag'd if we be cenſur'd for our pious Zeal. for we have Chriſt for us. Note, Sooner or later, Mary's Choice will be juſtify'd, and all thoſe who make that Choice, and abide by it. But this was not all, he applauded her for her Wiſdom, ſhe hath choſen the Part, for ſhe choſe to be with Chriſt, to take her Part with him; ſhe choſe the better Buſineſs, and the better Happineſs, and took the better Way of honouring Chriſt, and of pleaſing him, by receiving his Word into her Heart, than Martha did by providing for his Entertainment in her Houſe. Note, (1.) A Part with Chriſt is a good Part, 'tis a Part for the Soul and Eternity, the Part Chriſt gives to his Favourites, Job. 13. 8. who are Partakers of Chriſt, Heb. 3. 14. and Partakers with Chriſt, Rom. 8. 17. (2.) It is a Part that ſhall never be taken away from thoſe that have it. A Portion in this Life will certainly be taken away from us, at the fartheſt, when we ſhall be taken away from it: But nothing ſhall ſeparate us from the Love of Chriſt, and our Part in that Love. Men and Devils cannot take it away from us, and God and Chriſt will not. (3.) It is the Wiſdom and Duty of every one of us to chuſe this good Part, to chuſe the Service of God for our Buſineſs, and the Favour of God for our Happineſs, and an Intereſt in Chriſt in order to both. In particular Caſes we muſt chuſe that which has a Tendency to Religion; and reckon that beſt for us, that's beſt for our Souls. Mary was at her Choice whether ſhe would partake with Martha in her Care, and get the Reputation of a fine Houſekeeper, or ſit at the Feet of Chriſt, and approve herſelf a zealous Diſciple; and by her Choice in this Particular, Chriſt judgeth of her general Choice. (4.) Thoſe who chuſe this good Part, ſhall not only have what they chuſe, but ſhall have their Choice commended in the Great Day.

CHAP. XI.

In this Chapter, (1.) Chriſt teacheth his Diſciples to pray, and quickens and encourageth them to be frequent, and inſtant, and importunate in Prayer, v. 1.---33. (2.) He fully anſwereth the blaſphemous Imputation of the Phariſees, who charg'd him with caſting out Devils by Vertue of a Compact and Confederacy with Belzebub, the Prince of the Devils; and ſhews the Abſurdity and Wickedneſs of it, v. 14.----26. (3.) He ſhews the Honour of obedient Diſciples to be greater than that of his own Mother, v. 27, 28. (4.) He upbraids the Men of that Generation for their Infidelity and Obſtinacy, notwithſtanding all the Means of Conviction offered to them, v. 29.---36. (5.) He ſeverely reproved the Phariſees and Lawyers for their Hypocriſy, Pride, and their oppreſſing the Conſciences of thoſe that ſubmitted to them, and their hating and perſecuting thoſe that witneſſed againſt their Wickedneſs, v. 37.—54.

1 AND it came to paſs, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceaſed, one of his diſciples ſaid unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John alſo taught his Diſciples. And he ſaid unto them, When ye pray, ſay, Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, Thy Will be done, as in heaven, ſo in earth. 3 Give us day by day our daily bread. 4 And forgive us our Sins; for we alſo forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. 5 And he ſaid unto them, Which of you ſhall have a friend, and ſhall go unto him at midnight, and ſay unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves: 6 For a friend of mine in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to ſet before him: 7 And he from within ſhall anſwer and ſay, Trouble me not: the door is now ſhut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot riſe and give thee. 8 I ſay unto you, Though he will not riſe and give him, becauſe he is his friend: yet becauſe of his importunity, he will riſe and give him as many as he needeth. 9 And I ſay unto you, Aſk, and it ſhall be given you: ſeek, and ye ſhall find: knock, and it ſhall be opened unto you. 10 For every one that aſketh, receiveth: and he that ſeeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it ſhall be opened. 11 If a ſon ſhall aſk bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a ſtone? or if he aſk a fiſh, will he for a fiſh give him a ſerpent? 12 Or if he ſhall aſk an egg, will he give him a ſcorpion? 13 If ye then being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more ſhall your heavenly Father give the holy ſpirit to them that aſk him?

Prayer is one of the great Laws of natural Religion: That Man is a Brute, is a Monſter, that never Prays; that never gives Glory to his Maker, nor feels his Favour, nor owns his Dependance upon him. One great Deſign therefore of Chriſtianity is, to aſſiſt us in Prayer; to enforce the Duty upon us, and to inſtruct us in it, and encourage us to expect Advantage by it. Now here,

1. We find Chriſt himſelf praying in a certain Place, probably where he uſed to pray, v. 1. As God he was pray'd to, as Man he pray'd, and tho' he were a Son, yet learned he this Obedience. This Evangeliſt has taken particular Notice of Chriſt's praying often, more than other of the Evangeliſts, when he was baptiz'd, Chap. 3. 21. he was praying: He withdrew into the Wilderneſs and pray'd, Chap. 5. 16. He went out into a Mountain to pray, and continued all Night in Prayer. He was alone praying, Chap. 9. 18. And ſoon after, he went up into a Mountain to pray, and as he prayed, he was transfigured, Chap. 9. 28, 29. And here he was praying in a certain Place. Thus like a genuine Son of David, he gave himſelf unto Prayer, Pſal. 109. 4. whether Chriſt was now alone praying, and the Diſciples only knew that he was ſo, or whether he pray'd with them, is uncertain; 'tis moſt probable they were joyning with him.

2. His Diſciples apply'd themſelves to him for Direction in Prayer; when he was praying, they aſk'd, Lord, teach us to pray. Note, The Gifts and Graces of others ſhould excite us to covet earneſtly the ſame: Their Zeal ſhould provoke us to a holy Imitation and Emulation, Why ſhould not we do as well as they? Obſerve, They came to him with this Requeſt when he ceaſed; for they would not diſturb him when he was at Prayer, no, not with this good Motion. Every Thing is beautiful in its Seaſon. One of his Diſciples, in the Name of the reſt, and perhaps by their Appointment, ſaid, Lord, teach us. Note, Tho' Chriſt is apt to teach, yet he will for this be enquir'd of, and his Diſciples muſt attend him for Inſtruction.

Now, (1.) Their Requeſt is, Lord, teach us to pray; give us a Rule or Model by which to go in Praying, and put Words into our Mouths. Note, It becomes the Diſciples of Chriſt to apply themſelves to him for Inſtruction in Prayer. Lord, teach us to pray, is it ſelf a good Prayer, and a very needful one, for it is a hard Thing to pray well; and it is Jeſus Chriſt only that can teach us by his Word and Spirit how to pray. Lord, teach me what it is to pray; Lord excite and quicken me to the Duty; Lord, direct me what to pray for; Lord, give me praying Graces, that I may ſerve God acceptably in Prayer; Lord, teach me to pray in proper Words; give me a Mouth and Wiſdom in Prayer, that I may ſpeak as I ought; teach me what I ſhall ſay.

(2.) Their Plea is, as John alſo taught his Diſciples. He took Care to inſtruct his Diſciples in this neceſſary Duty, and we would be taught as they were, for we have a better Maſter than they had. Dr. Lightfoot's Notion of this is, That whereas the Jews Prayers were generally Adorations and Praiſes of God, and Doxologies, John taught his Diſciples ſuch Prayers as were more fill'd up with Petitions and Requeſts; for it is ſaid of them that they did δεήσεις ποιεῖν, make Prayers, Luke. 5. 33. The Word ſignifies ſuch Prayers as are properly Petitionary: Now, Lord, teach us thoſe, to be added to thoſe Benedictions of the Name of God, which we have been accuſtom'd to from our Childhood. And according to this Senſe, Chriſt did there teach them a Prayer conſiſting wholly of Petitions, and even omitting the Doxology which had been affix'd; and the Amen which was uſually ſaid in the giving of Thanks, 2 Cor. 14. 16. and in the Pſalms is added to Doxologies only. This Diſciple needed not to have urg'd John Baptiſt's Example: Chriſt was more ready to teach than ever John Baptiſt was, and particularly taught to pray better than John did or cou'd teach his Diſciples.

3. Chriſt gave them Direction; much the ſame that he had given them before in his Sermon upon the Mount, Mat. 6. 9. We cannot think that they had forgot it, but they thought to have had further and fuller Inſtructions, and he did not as yet think fit to give them any; when the Spirit ſhould be poured out upon them from on High, they would find all their Requeſts couch'd in theſe few, and would be able, in Words of their own, to expatiate and enlarge upon them. In Matthew he had directed them to pray after this Manner: Here, when ye pray, ſay; which intimates that the Lord's Prayer was intended to be uſed both as a Form of Prayer and a Directory.

1. There are ſome Differences between the Lord's Prayer in Matthew and in Luke, by which it appears it was not the Deſign of Chriſt that we ſhould be ty'd up to theſe very Words, for then there would have been no Variation. Here is one Difference in the Tranſlation only, which ought not to have been, when there is none in the Original, and that's in the third Petition; as in Heaven, ſo in Earth; whereas the Words are the very ſame, and in the ſame Order as in Matthew; but there's a Difference in the 4th Petition; in Matthew we pray, give us daily Bread this Day; here, give it us Day by Day, καθ' ἡμέραν, Day by Day is, give us each Day the Bread our Bodies require, as they call for it: Not give us this Day Bread for many Days to come; but as the Iſraelites had Manna, let us have Bread to Day for to Day, and to Morrow for to Morrow, that thus we may be kept in a continual Dependance upon God, as Children upon their Parents, and may have our Mercies freſh from his Hand daily, and may find our ſelves under freſh Obligations to do the Work of every Day in the Day, according as the Duty of the Day requires, becauſe we have from God the Supplies of every Day in the Day, according as the Neceſſity of the Day requires.

Here is likewiſe ſome Difference in the 5th Petition: In Matthew it is forgive us our Debts, as we forgive: Here it is forgive us our Sins, which prove that our Sins are our Debts, for we forgive; not that our forgiving thoſe that have offended us can merit Pardon from God, or be an Inducement to him to forgive us; he forgives for his own Name's Sake, and his Son's Sake; but this is a very neceſſary Qualification for Forgiveneſs; and if God have wrought it in us, we may plead that Work of his Grace for the enforcing of our Petitions for the Pardon of our Sins; Lord, forgive us, for thou haſt thyſelf inclined us to forgive others. Here is another Addition here; we plead not only in general, we forgive our Debtors, but in particular we profeſs to forgive every one that is indebted to us, without Exception. We ſo forgive our Debtors, as not to bear Malice or Ill-will to any, but true Love to all, without any Exception whatſoever.

Here alſo the Doxology in the Cloſe is wholly omitted, and the Amen; for Chriſt would leave them at Liberty to uſe that or any other Doxology fetch'd out of David's Pſalms; or rather he left a Vacuum here for to be fill'd up by a Doxology more peculiar to the Chriſtian Inſtitutes, aſcribing Glory to Father, Son, and Holy Ghoſt.

2. Yet it is for Subſtance the ſame; and we ſhall therefore here only gather up ſome general Leſſons from it.

1. That in Prayer we ought to come to God, as Children to a Father, a common Father to us and all Mankind, but in a peculiar Manner a Father to all the Diſciples of Jeſus Chriſt. Let us therefore in our Requeſts, both for others, and for ourſelves, come to him with an humble Boldneſs, confiding in his Power and Goodneſs.

2. That at the ſame Time, and in the ſame Petitions wherein we addreſs to God for ourſelves, we ſhould take in with us all the Children of Men, as God's Creatures, and our Fellow-Creatures. A rooted Principle of Catholick Charity, and of Chriſtian ſanctified Humanity ſhould go along with us, and dictate to us throughout this Prayer, which is ſo worded as to be accommodated to that noble Principle.

3. That in order to the confirming of the Habit of Heavenly-mindedneſs in us, which ought to act and govern us in the whole Courſe of our Converſation, we ſhou'd in all our Devotions with an Eye of Faith look Heavenwards, and eye the God we pray to as our Father in Heaven, that we may make the upper World more familiar to us, and may ourſelves become better prepar'd for the future State.

4. That in Prayer, as well as in the Tenor of our Lives, we muſt ſeek firſt the Kingdom of God, and the Righteouſneſs thereof, by aſcribing Honour to his Name, his holy Name, and Power to his Government, both that of his Providence in the World, and that of his Grace in the Church. O! that both the one and the other may be more manifeſted, and we and others more manifeſtly brought into Subjection to both.

5. That the Principles and Practices of the upper World, the unſeen World (which therefore by Faith only we are appriz'd of) are the great Original (the Ἀρχέτυπον) to which we ſhould deſire the Principles and Practices of this lower World, both in others, and in ourſelves may be more conformable. Thoſe Words, As in Heaven, ſo on Earth, refer to all the Three firſt Petitions; Father, let thy Name be ſanctified and glorified, and thy Kingdom prevail, and thy Will be done on this Earth, that is now alienated from thy Service as it is in yonder Heaven, that is intirely devoted to thy Service.

6. That thoſe who faithfully and ſincerely mind the Kingdom of God and the Righteouſneſs thereof, may humbly hope that all other Things, as far as to infinite Wiſdom ſeems good, ſhall be added to them, and they may in Faith pray for them. If our firſt chief Deſire and Care be that God's Name may be ſanctified, and his Kingdom come, and his Will be done, we may then come boldly to the Throne of Grace for our daily Bread, which will then be ſanctified to us, when we are ſanctified to God, and God is ſanctified by us.

7. That in our Prayers for temporal Bleſſings we muſt moderate our Deſires, and confine them to a Competency. The Expreſſion here uſed of Day by Day, is the very ſame with our daily Bread, and therefore ſome think we muſt look for another Signification of the Word ἐπιούσιος, than that of daily, which we give it, and that it means our neceſſary Bread; that Bread that is ſuited to the Cravings of our Nature: The Fruit that is brought out of the Earth for our Bodies that are made of the Earth, and are earthly, Pſal. 104. 14.

8. That Sins are Debts we are daily contracting, and which therefore we ſhould every Day pray for the Forgiveneſs of. We are not only going behind of our Rent every Day, by Omiſſions of Duty, and in Duty, but are daily incurring the Penalty of the Law, as well as the Forfeiture of our Bond, by our Commiſſions; every Day adds to the Score of our Guilt, and it is a Miracle of Mercy, that we have ſo much Encouragement given us to come every Day to the Throne of Grace, to pray for the Pardon of our Sins of daily Infirmity. God multiplies to Pardon beyond ſeventy Times ſeven.

9. That we have no Reaſon to expect, nor can with any Confidence pray, that God would forgive our Sins againſt him, if we do not ſincerely, and from a truly Chriſtian Principle of Charity, forgive thoſe that have at any Time affronted us, or been injurious to us. Tho' the Words of our Mouth be even this Prayer to God, if the Meditation of our Heart at the ſame Time be, as often as it is, Malice and Revenge to our Brethren, we are not accepted, nor can we expect an Anſwer of Peace.

10. That Temptations to Sin ſhould be as much dreaded and deprecated by us as Ruin by Sin; and it ſhould be as much our Care and Prayer to get the Power of Sin broken in us, as to get the Guilt of Sin removed from us; and tho' Temptation may be a charming, fawning, flattering Thing, we muſt be as earneſt with God that we may not be led into that, as that we may not be led by that to Sin, and by Sin to Ruin.

Laſtly, That God is to be depended upon, and ſought unto for our Deliverance from all Evil; and we ſhould pray not only that we may not be left to ourſelves to run into Evil, but that we may not be left to Satan to bring Evil upon us. Dr. Lightfoot underſtands it of being deliver'd from the evil one, that is, the Devil, and ſuggeſts that we pray particularly againſt the Apparitions of the Devil and his Poſſeſſions. The Diſciples were employ'd to caſt out Devils, and therefore were concern'd to pray that they might be guarded againſt the particular Spite he would always be ſure to have againſt them.

4. He ſtirs up and encourageth Importunity, Fervency, and Conſtancy in Prayer; by ſhewing,

1. That Importunity will go far in our Dealings with Men, v. 5, 6, 7, 8. Suppoſe a Man upon a ſudden Emergency goes to borrow a Loaf or two of Bread of a Neighbour, at an unſeaſonable Time of Night, not for himſelf, but for his Friend that came unexpectedly to him: His Neighbour will be loth to accommodate him, for he has waken'd him with his Knocking, and put him out of Humour, and he has a great deal to ſay in his Excuſe; the Door is ſhut and lock'd, his Children are aſleep, in Bed in the ſame Room with him, and if he make a Noiſe he ſhall diſturb them; his Servants are aſleep, and he cannot make them hear, and for his own Part he ſhall catch Cold if he riſe to give him: But his Neighbour will have no Nay, and therefore he continues knocking ſtill, and tells him he will do ſo, till he has what he comes for; ſo that he muſt give it him to be rid of him; he will riſe and give him as many as he needs, becauſe of his Importunity. He ſpeaks this Parable with the ſame Intent that he ſpeaks that, Luke 18. 1. That Men ought always to pray, and not to faint. Not that God can be wrought upon by Importunity, we cannot be troubleſome to him, nor by being ſo change his Counſels: We prevail with Men by Importunity, becauſe they are diſpleas'd with it, but with God, becauſe he is pleas'd with it. Now this Similitude may be of Uſe to us,

(1.) To direct us in Prayer. (1.) We muſt come to God with Boldneſs and Confidence, for what we need, as a Man doth to the Houſe of his Neighbour or Friend, who he knows loves him, and is inclin'd to be kind to him. (2.) We muſt come for Bread, for that which is needful, and which we cannot be without. (3.) We muſt come to him by Prayer for others, as well as for ourſelves. This Man did not come for Bread for himſelf, but for his Friend. The Lord accepted Job when he pray'd for his Friends, Job 42. 10. We cannot come to God upon a more pleaſing Errand, than when we come to him for Grace to enable us to do good, to feed many with our Lips; to entertain and edify thoſe that come to us. (4.) We may come with the more Boldneſs to God in a Strait, if it be a Strait that we have not brought ourſelves into by our own Folly and Careleſsneſs, but Providence has led us into it. This Man would not have wanted Bread if his Friend had not come in unexpectedly. The Care which Providence caſts upon us, we may with Cheerfulneſs caſt back upon Providence. (5.) We ought to continue inſtant in Prayer, and watch in the ſame with all Perſeverance.

(2.) To encourage us in Prayer. If Importunity could prevail thus with a Man that was angry at it, much more with a God who is infinitely more kind and ready to do good to us than we are to one another, and is not angry at our Importunity, but accept it, eſpecially when it is for ſpiritual Mercies that we are importunate. If he do not anſwer our Prayers preſently, yet he will in due Time, if we continue to pray.

2. That God hath promiſed to give us what we aſk of him. We have not only the Goodneſs of his Nature to take Comfort from, but the Word which he hath ſpoken, v. 9, 10. Aſk and it ſhall be given you; either the Thing itſelf you ſhall aſk, or that which is equivalent; either the Thorn in the Fleſh removed, or Grace ſufficient given in. We had this before, Matt. 7. 7, 8. I ſay unto you. We have it from Chriſt's own Mouth, who knows his Father's Mind, and in whom all Promiſes are Yea and Amen. We muſt not only aſk, but we muſt ſeek in the Uſe of Means, muſt ſecond our Prayers with our Endeavours: And in aſking and ſeeking, we muſt continue preſſing, ſtill knocking at the ſame Door, and we ſhall at length prevail, not only by our Prayers in Concert, but by our particular Prayers, every one that asketh receiveth, even the meaneſt Saint that aſks in Faith. This poor Man cried, and the Lord heard him, Pſal. 34. 6. When we aſk of God thoſe Things which Chriſt had juſt now directed us to aſk, that his Name may be ſanctified, that his Kingdom may come, and his Will be done; in theſe Requeſts we muſt be importunate, muſt never hold our Peace Day or Night; we muſt not keep Silence, nor give God any Reſt, until he eſtabliſh, until he make Jeruſalem a Praiſe on the Earth, Iſa. 62. 6.

5. He gives both Inſtruction and Encouragement in Prayer, from the Conſideration of our Relation to God as a Father. Here is,

1. An Appeal to the Bowels of Earthly Fathers. Let any of you that is a Father, and knows the Heart of a Father, a Father's Affection to a Child, and Care for a Child, tell me, if his Son aſk Bread for his Break-faſt, will he give him a Stone to break-faſt on? If he aſk a Fiſh for his Dinner (when, it may be, 'tis a Fiſh-day) will he for a Fiſh give him a Serpent that will poyſon and ſting him? Or if he ſhall aſk an Egg for his Supper, an Egg and to Bed, will he offer him a Scorpion? You know you could not be ſo unnatural to your own Children, v. 11, 12.

2. An Application of this to the Bleſſings of our heavenly Father, v. 13. If ye then being Evil, give, and know how to give good Gifts to your Children, much more ſhall God give you the Spirit: He ſhall give good Things; ſo 'tis in Matthew. Obſerve,

1. The Direction he gives us, what to pray for; we muſt aſk for the Holy Spirit, not only as neceſſary in order to our praying well, but as incluſive of all the good Things we are to pray for, we need no more to make us happy, for the Spirit is the Worker of Spiritual Life, and the Earneſt of Eternal Life. Note, The Gift of the Holy Ghoſt is a Gift we are every one of us concern'd earneſtly and conſtantly to pray for.

2. The Encouragement he gives us to hope that we ſhall ſpeed in this Prayer; your heavenly Father will give. It is in his Power to give the Spirit; he has all good Things to beſtow, wrapt up in that one, but that is not all, it is in his Promiſe; the Gift of the Holy Ghoſt is in the Covenant, Acts 2. 3. And it is here inferred from Parents Readineſs to ſupply their Childrens Needs, and gratify their Deſires, when they are natural and proper. If the Child aſk for a Serpent or the Scorpion, the Father in Kindneſs denies him, but not if he aſks for what's needful and will be nouriſhing. When God's Children aſk for the Spirit, they do in Effect aſk for Bread, for the Spirit is the Staff of Life; nay, he is the Author of the Soul's Life. If our earthly Parents, tho' evil, be yet ſo kind; if they, tho' weak, be yet ſo knowing, they not only give, but give with Diſcretion, give what is beſt, in the beſt Manner and Time, much more ſhall your heavenly Father, who infinitely excells the Fathers of our Fleſh both in Wiſdom and Goodneſs, give you his Holy Spirit. If earthly Parents are willing to lay out for the Education of their Children, to whom they deſign to leave their Eſtates, much more will your heavenly Father give the Spirit of Sons to all thoſe whom he has predeſtinated to the Inheritance of Sons.

14 ¶ And he was caſting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to paſs, when the devil was gone out, the dumb ſpake: and the people wondred. 15 But ſome of them ſaid, He caſteth out devils through Belzebub, the chief of the devils. 16 And others tempting him, ſought of him a ſign from heaven. 17 But he knowing their thoughts, ſaid unto them, Every kingdom divided againſt itſelf, is brought to deſolation: and a houſe divided againſt a houſe, falleth. 18 If Satan alſo be divided againſt himſelf, how ſhall his kingdom ſtand? becauſe ye ſay, that I caſt out devils thro' Belzebub. 19 And if I by Belzebub caſt out devils, by whom do your Sons caſt them out: therefore ſhall they be your judges. 20 But if I with the finger of God caſt out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you. 21 When a ſtrong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace. 22 But when a ſtronger than he ſhall come upon him, and overcometh him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he truſted, and divideth his ſpoils. 23 He that is not with me is againſt me: and he that gathereth not with me, ſcattereth. 24 When the unclean ſpirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, ſeeking reſt: and finding none, he ſaith, I will return unto my houſe whence I came out. 25 And when he cometh, he findeth it ſwept and garniſhed. 26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him ſeven other ſpirits more wicked than himſelf, and they enter in, and dwell there: and the laſt ſtate of that man is worſe than the firſt.

The Subſtance of theſe Verſes we had, Mat. 12. 22. and Chriſt is here giving a general Proof of his Divine Miſſion, by a particular Proof of his Power over Satan; his Conqueſt of whom, was an Indication of his great Deſign in coming into the World, which was to deſtroy the Works of the Devil; and an Earneſt of the Succeſs of that Undertaking. He is here caſting out a Devil that made the poor poſſeſſed Man dumb, in Matthew we are told that he was blind and dumb: And when the Devil was forced out by the Word of Chriſt, the dumb ſpake immediately, eccho'd to Chriſt's Word, and the Lips were open'd to ſhew forth his Praiſe. Now,

1. Some were affected with this Miracle: The People wondered; they admir'd the Power of God, and eſpecially that it ſhould be exerted by the Hand of one who made ſo ſmall a Figure, that one who did the Work of the Meſſiah, ſhould have ſo little of that Pomp of the Meſſiah they expected.

2. Others were offended at it; and to juſtify their Infidelity, ſuggeſted that it was by Virtue of a League with Belzebub, the Prince of the Devils, that he did this, v. 15. It ſeems in the Devil's Kingdom there are Chiefs, which ſuppoſeth that there are Subalterns. Now they would have it thought or ſaid at leaſt, that there was a Correſpondence ſettled between Chriſt and the Devil, that the Devil ſhould have the Advantage in the Main, and be victorious at laſt, but that in Order hereto in particular Inſtances he ſhould yield Chriſt the Advantage, and retire by Conſent. And ſome to corroborate this Suggeſtion, and confront the Evidence of Chriſt's miraculous Power, challeng'd him to give them a Sign from Heaven, v. 16. To confirm his Doctrine by ſome Appearance in the Clouds, ſuch as was upon Mount Sinai, when the Law was given; as if a Sign from Heaven, not diſproveable by any Sagacity of theirs, could not have been given them as well by a Compact and Colluſion with the Prince of the Power of the Air, who works with Power and lying Wonders, as the caſting out of a Devil; nay that would not have been any preſent Prejudice to his Intereſt, which this manifeſtly was. Note, Obſtinate Infidelity will never be to ſeek for ſomething to ſay in its own Excuſe, tho' never ſo frivolous and abſurd.

Now Chriſt here returns a full and direct Anſwer to this Cavil of theirs: In which he ſhews,

1. That it can by no Means be imagin'd that ſuch a ſubtil Prince as Satan is, ſhould ever give into Meaſures that had ſuch a direct Tendency to his own Overthrow, and the undermining of his own Kingdom, v. 17, 18. What they objected they kept to themſelves, afraid to ſpeak it, leſt it ſhould be anſwer'd and baffled; but Jeſus knew their Thoughts, even when they induſtriouſly ſought to conceal them, and he ſaid, You yourſelves cannot but ſee the Groundleſſneſs, and conſequently the Spitefulneſs of this Charge, for it is an allow'd Maxim, confirm'd by every Day's Experience, that no Intereſt can ſtand that is divided againſt itſelf; not the more publick Intereſt of a Kingdom; not the private Intereſt of a Houſe or Family, if either the one or the other be divided againſt itſelf, it cannot ſtand. Satan would herein act againſt himſelf, not only by the Miracle, which turn'd him out of Poſſeſſion of the Bodies of People, but much more in the Doctrine which the Miracle was wrought for the Explication and Confirmation of, which had a direct Tendency to the Ruin of Satan's Intereſt in the Minds of Men, by mortifying Sin, and turning Men to the Service of God: Now if Satan ſhould thus be divided againſt himſelf, he would haſten his own Overthrow, which you cannot ſuppoſe an Enemy to do, that acts ſo ſubtily for his own Eſtabliſhment, and is ſo ſollicitous to have his Kingdom ſtand.

2. That it was a very partial ill-natur'd Thing for them to impute that in him to a Compact with Satan, which yet they applauded and admir'd in others that were of their own Nation, v. 19. By whom do your Sons caſt them out? Some of their own Kindred as Jews, nay, and ſome of their own Followers as Phariſees, have undertaken in the Name of the God of Iſrael to caſt out Devils, and they were never charg'd with ſuch a helliſh Combination as I am charg'd with. Note, It is groſs Hypocriſy to condemn that in thoſe who reprove us, which yet we allow of, in thoſe that flatter us.

3. That in oppoſing the Conviction of this Miracle, they were Enemies to themſelves, ſtood in their own Light, and put a Bar in their own Door, for they thruſt from them the Kingdom of God, v. 20. If I with the Finger of God caſt out Devils, as you may aſſure yourſelves I do, no Doubt the Kingdom of God is come upon you; the Kingdom of the Meſſiah offers itſelf and all its Advantages to you, and if you receive it not, 'tis at your Peril. In Matthew 'tis by the Spirit of God, here by the Finger of God; the Spirit is the Arm of the Lord, Iſa. 53. 1. His moſt great and mighty Works were wrought by his Spirit; but if the Spirit in this Work is ſaid to be the Finger of the Lord, which perhaps may intimate how eaſily Chriſt did and could conquer Satan, even with the Finger of God; the exerting of the Divine Power in a leſs and lower Degree than in many other Inſtances. He needed not make bare his everlaſting Arm, that Roaring Lyon, when he pleaſeth, is cruſh'd like a Moth with the Touch of a Finger. Perhaps here's an Alluſion to the Acknowledgment of Pharaoh's Magicians, when they were run aground, Exod. 8. 19. This is the Finger of God. Now if the Kingdom of God be herein come to you, and you be found by thoſe Cavils and Blaſphemies fighting againſt it, it will come upon you, as a victorious Force which you cannot ſtand before.

4. That his caſting out of Devils was really the deſtroying of them and their Power, for it confirm'd a Doctrine which had a direct Tendency to the ruining of his Kingdom, v. 21, 22. Perhaps there had been ſome who had caſt out the inferiour Devils by Compact with Belzebub their Chief; but that was without any real Damage or Prejudice to Satan and his Kingdom; what he loſt one Way he gain'd another. The Devil and ſuch Exorciſts play'd Booty, as we ſay, and while the forlorn Hope of his Army gave Ground, the main Body thereby gain'd Ground; the Intereſt of Satan in the Souls of Men was not weaken'd by it in the leaſt. But when Chriſt caſt out Devils, he needed not do it by any Compact with them, for he was ſtronger than they, and could do it by Force, and did it ſo as to ruin Satan's Power, and blaſt his great Deſign by a Doctrine and Grace that breaks the Power of Sin, and ſo routs Satan's main Body, takes from him all his Armour, and divides his Spoils, which no one Devil ever did to another, or ever will. Now this is applicable to Chriſt's Victories over Satan, both in the World, and in the Hearts of particular Perſons, by that Power which went along with the Preaching of his Goſpel, and doth ſtill. And ſo we may obſerve here,

1. The miſerable Condition of an unconverted Sinner: In his Heart, which was fitted to be a Habitation of God, the Devil has his Palace, and all the Powers and Faculties of the Soul being employ'd by him in the Service of Sin, are his Goods. Note, 1. The Heart of every unconverted Sinner is the Devil's Palace, where he reſides, and where he rules; he works in the Children of Diſobedience. The Heart is a Palace; a noble Dwelling; but the unſanctified Heart is the Devil's Palace. His Luſts are done, his Intereſts are ſerv'd, and the Militia is in his Hands; he uſurps the Throne in the Soul. 2. The Devil, as a ſtrong Man arm'd, keeps this Palace, does all he can to ſecure it to himſelf, and to teſtify it againſt Chriſt. All the Prejudices with which he hardens Men's Hearts againſt Truth and Holineſs, are the ſtrong Holds which he erects for the keeping of his Palace; this Palace is his Garriſon. 3. There is a kind of Peace in the Palace of an unconverted Soul, while the Devil, as a ſtrong Man armed, keepeth it. The Sinner has a good Opinion of himſelf, is very ſecure, and merry, has no Doubt concerning the Goodneſs of his State, nor any Dread of the Judgment to come; he flatters himſelf it his own Eyes, and cries Peace to himſelf. Before Chriſt appear'd, all was quiet, becauſe all went one Way; but the Preaching of the Goſpel diſturb'd the Peace of the Devil's Palace.

2. The wonderful Change that is made in Converſion, which is Chriſt's Victory over this Uſurper: Satan is as a ſtrong Man armed; but our Lord Jeſus is ſtronger than he, as God, as Mediator: If we ſpeak of Strength, he is ſtrong; more are with us, than againſt us.

Obſerve 1. The Manner of this Victory. He comes upon him by Surprize, when his Goods are in Peace, and the Devil thinks it's all his own for ever, and overcomes him. Note, The Converſion of a Soul to God, is Chriſt's Victory over the Devil, and his Power in that Soul, reſtoring the Soul to its Liberty, and recovering his own Intereſt in it, and Dominion over it.

2. The Evidences of this Victory. (1.) He taketh from him all his Armour wherein he truſted. The Devil is a confident Adverſary, he truſts to his Armour, as Pharaoh to his Rivers, Ezek. 29. 3. But Chriſt diſarms him. When the Power of Sin and Corruption in the Soul is broken, when the Miſtakes are rectify'd, the Eyes open'd, the Heart humbled and changed, and made ſerious and ſpiritual, then Satan's Armour is taken away. (2.) He divideth the Spoils: he takes Poſſeſſion of them for himſelf, all the Endowments of Mind or Body, the Eſtate, Power, Intereſt, which before were made Uſe of in the Service of Sin and Satan, are now converted to Chriſt's Service, and employ'd for him, yet that is not all, he makes a Diſtribution of them among his Followers, and having conquer'd Satan, gives to all Believers the Benefit of that Victory.

Now from hence he infers, that ſeeing the whole Drift of his Doctrine and Miracles was to break the Power of the Devil, that great Enemy of Mankind, it was the Duty of all to join with him, and to follow his Conduct, to receive his Goſpel, and come heartily into the Intereſts of it, for otherwiſe they would juſtly be reckon'd as ſiding with the Enemy, v. 23. He that is not with me is againſt me. Thoſe therefore who rejected the Doctrine of Chriſt, and ſlighted his Miracles, were look'd upon as Adverſaries to him, and in the Devil's Intereſt.

5. That there was a vaſt Difference between the Devil's going out by Compact, and his being caſt out by Compulſion. Thoſe out of whom Chriſt caſt him, he never enter'd into again, for ſo was Chriſt's Charge, Mark 9. 25. Whereas if he had gone out whenever he ſaw fit, he would have made a Re-entry, for that's the Way of the unclean Spirit, when he voluntarily, and with Deſign goes out of a Man, v. 24, 25, 26. The Prince of the Devils may give Leave, nay, may give Order to his Forces to Retreat, or make a Feint, to draw the poor deluded Soul into an Ambuſh; but Chriſt as he gives a total, ſo he gives a final Defeat to the Enemy.

And in this Part of the Argument he has a further Reach, which is to repreſent the State of thoſe who have had fair Offers made them, among whom, and in whom, God has begun to break the Devil's Power, and overthrow his Kingdom, but they reject his Counſel againſt themſelves, and relapſe into a State of Subjection to Satan. Here we have,

1. The Condition of a formal Hypocrite, his bright Side, and his dark Side; his Heart ſtill remains the Devil's Houſe, he calls it his own, and he retains his Intereſt in it; and yet (1.) the unclean Spirit is gone out; he was not driven out by the Power of converting Grace, there was none of that Violence which the Kingdom of Heaven ſuffers; but he went out, withdrew for a Time, ſo that the Man ſeems not to be under the Power of Satan as formerly, nor ſo follow'd with his Temptations; Satan is gone, or has turn'd himſelf into an Angel of Light. (2.) The Houſe is ſwept from common Pollutions, by a forced Confeſſion of Sin, as Pharaoh's, a feigned Contrition for it, as Ahab's, and a partial Reformation, as Herod's: There are thoſe that have eſcap'd the Pollutions of the World, and yet are ſtill under the Power of the God of this World, 2 Pet. 2. 20. The Houſe is ſwept, but 'tis not waſh'd, and Chriſt hath ſaid, If I waſh thee not, thou haſt no Part with me; the Houſe muſt be waſh'd, or 'tis none of his. Sweeping takes off only the looſe Dirt, while the Sin that beſets the Sinner, the beloved Sin, is untouch'd. 'Tis ſwept from the Filth that lies open to the Eye of the World, but it is not ſearch'd and ranſack'd for ſecret Filthineſs, Matt. 23. 25. 'Tis ſwept, but the Leproſy is in the Wall, and will be, 'till ſomething more be done. (3.) The Houſe is garniſh'd with common Gifts and Graces. 'Tis not furniſh'd with any true Grace, but garniſh'd with the Pictures of all Graces. Simon Magus was garniſh'd with Faith; Balaam with good Deſires; Herod with a Reſpect for John; the Phariſees with many external Performances; it's garniſh'd, but it's like a Potſherd cover'd with Silver Droſs, it's all Paint and Varniſh, not real, not laſting. The Houſe is garniſh'd, but the Property is not alter'd, it was never ſurrender'd to Chriſt, nor inhabited by the Spirit. Let us therefore take Heed of reſting in that which a Man may have, and yet come ſhort.

2. Here's the Condition of a final Apoſtate, into whom the Devil returns after he had gone out, v. 26. Then goes he and takes ſeven other Spirits more wicked than himſelf; a certain Number for an uncertain, as ſeven Devils are ſaid to be caſt out of Mary Magdalen; ſeven wicked Spirits are oppoſed to the ſeven Spirits of God, Rev. 3. 1. theſe are ſaid to be more wicked than himſelf: It ſeems even Devils are not all alike wicked; probably the Degrees of their Wickedneſs now they are fallen, are as the Degrees of their Holineſs were while they ſtood. When the Devil would do Miſchief moſt effectually, he employs thoſe that are more miſchievous than himſelf. Theſe enter in without any Difficulty or Oppoſition, they are welcom'd, and they dwell there, there they work, there they rule, and the laſt State of that Man is worſe than the firſt. Note, 1. Hypocriſy is the High Road to Apoſtacy. If the Heart remains in the Intereſt of Sin and Satan, the Shews and Shadows will come to nothing; thoſe that have not ſet that right, will not long be ſteadfaſt; where ſecret Haunts of Sin are kept up under the Cloak of a viſible Profeſſion, Conſcience is debauch'd, God is provok'd to withdraw his reſtraining Grace, and the cloſe Hypocrite commonly proves an open Apoſtate. 2. The laſt State of ſuch is worſe than the firſt, in Reſpect both of Sin and Puniſhment. Apoſtates are uſually the worſt of Men, the moſt vain and profligate, the moſt bold and daring; their Conſciences are ſear'd, and their Sins of all others the moſt aggravated. God often ſets Marks of his Diſpleaſure upon them in this World, and in the other World they will receive the greater Damnation. Let us therefore hear and fear, and hold faſt our Integrity.

27 ¶ And it came to paſs, as he ſpake theſe things, a certain woman of the company lift up her voice, and ſaid unto him, Bleſſed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou haſt ſucked. 28 But he ſaid, Yea, rather bleſſed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.

We had not this Paſſage in the other Evangeliſts, nor can we tack it as Dr. Hammond doth, to that of Chriſt's Mother and Brethren, deſiring to ſpeak with him, for this Evangeliſt alſo had related that ſome Time ago, Chap. 8. 19. but it contains an Interruption much like that, and like that, Occaſion is taken from it for an Inſtruction.

1. The Applauſe which an effectionate, honeſt, well-meaning Woman gave to our Lord Jeſus, upon hearing his excellent Diſcourſes: While the Scribes and Phariſees deſpis'd and blaſphem'd them, this good Woman, (and probably ſhe was a Perſon of ſome Quality) admir'd them, and the Wiſdom and Power with which he ſpake, v. 27. as he ſpake theſe Things, with a convincing Force and Evidence, a certain Woman of the Company was ſo pleas'd to hear how he had confounded the Phariſees, and conquered them, and put them to Shame, and clear'd himſelf from their vile Inſinuations, that ſhe could not forbear crying out, Bleſſed is the Womb that bare thee. What an admirable, what an excellent Man is this, ſurely never was there a greater or better born of a Woman! Happy the Woman that hath him for her Son. I ſhould have thought myſelf very happy to be the Mother of one that ſpeaks as never Man ſpake; that hath ſo much of the Grace of Heaven in him, and is ſo great a Bleſſing to this Earth. This was well ſaid, as it expreſſed her high Eſteem of Chriſt, and that for the Sake of his Doctrine; and it was not amiſs that it reflected Honour upon the Virgin Mary his Mother, for it agreed with what ſhe herſelf had ſaid, Chap. 1. 48. All Generations ſhall call me Bleſſed; ſome even of this Generation, as bad as it was. Note, To all that believe the Word of Chriſt, the Perſon of Chriſt is precious, and he is an Honour, 1 Pet. 2. 7. Yet we muſt be careful, leſt, as this good Woman, we too much magnify the Honour of his natural Kindred, and ſo know him after the Fleſh, whereas we muſt now henceforth know him ſo no more.

2. The Occaſion which Chriſt took from thence to pronounce them more happy who are his faithful and obedient Followers than ſhe was who bare and nurs'd him. He doth not deny what this Woman ſaid, nor refuſe her Reſpects to him and his Mother, but leads her from this to that which was of a higher Conſideration, and which more concern'd her, Yea rather bleſſed are they that hear the Word of God, and keep it, v. 28. He thinks them ſo, and his ſaying they are ſo, makes them ſo, and ſhou'd make uſe of his Mind. This is intended partly as a Check to her, for doting ſo much upon his bodily Preſence, and his humane Nature, partly as an Encouragement to her to hope that ſhe might be as happy as his own Mother, whoſe Happineſs ſhe was ready to envy, if ſhe would hear the Word of God and keep it. Note, Tho' it is a great Privilege to hear the Word of God, yet thoſe only are truly bleſſed, that is, bleſſed of the Lord, that hear it and keep it; that keep it in Memory, and keep to it as their Way and Rule.

29 ¶ And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to ſay, This is an evil generation: they ſeek a ſign, and there ſhall no ſign be given it, but the ſign of Jonas the prophet. 30 For as Jonas was a ſign unto the Ninevites, ſo ſhall alſo the ſon of man be to this generation. 31 The queen of the ſouth ſhall riſe up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for ſhe came from the utmoſt parts of the earth, to hear the wiſdom of Solomon; and behold a greater than Solomon is here. 32 The men of Nineve ſhall riſe up in the judgment with this generation, and ſhall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas; and behold a greater than Jonas is here 33 No man when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a ſecret place, neither under a buſhel; but on a candleſtick, that they which come in may ſee the light. 34 The light of the body is the eye; therefore when thine eye is ſingle, thy whole body alſo is full of Light: but when thine eye is evil, thy body alſo is full of darkneſs. 35 Take heed therefore, that the light which is in thee be not darkneſs. 36 If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole ſhall be full of light, as when the bright ſhining of a candle doth give thee light.

Chriſt's Diſcourſe in theſe Verſes ſhews two Things,

1. What is the Sign we may expect from God, for the Confirmation of our Faith: The great and moſt convincing Proof of Chriſt's being ſent of God, and which they were yet to wait for, after the many Signs that had been given them, was the Reſurrection of Chriſt from the Dead. Here is,

1. A Reproof to the People for demanding other Signs than what had already been given them in great Plenty, v. 29. The People were gathered thick together, a vaſt Crowd of them, expecting not ſo much to have their Conſciences inform'd by the Doctrine of Chriſt, as to have their Curioſity gratify'd by his Miracles: And Chriſt knew what brought ſuch a Multitude together, they came ſeeking a Sign, they came to gaze, to have ſomething to talk of when they came Home; and it is an evil Generation which nothing will awaken and convince, no not the moſt ſenſible Demonſtrations of Divine Power and Goodneſs.

2. A Promiſe that yet there ſhould be one Sign more given them, different from any that had yet been given them, even the Sign of Jonas the Prophet, which in Matthew is explain'd, as meaning the Reſurrection of Chriſt. As Jonas being caſt into the Sea, and lying there three Days, and then coming up alive, and preaching Repentance to the Ninevites, was a Sign to them, upon which they turned from their evil Way, ſo ſhall the Death and Reſurrection of Chriſt, and the preaching of his Goſpel immediately after to the Gentile World, be the laſt Warning to the Jewiſh Nation; if they be provoked to a holy Jealouſy by that, well and good; but if that do not work upon them, let them look for nothing elſe but utter Ruin. The Son of Man ſhall be a Sign to this Generation, v. 30. A Sign, ſpeaking to them, tho' a Sign ſpoken againſt by them.

3. A Warning to them to improve this Sign, for it was at their Peril if they did not.

1. The Queen of Sheba would riſe up in Judgment again them, and condemn their Unbelief, v. 31. She was a Stranger to the Common-wealth of Iſrael, and yet ſo readily gave Credit to the Report ſhe heard of the Glories of a King of Iſrael, that notwithſtanding the Prejudices we are apt to conceive againſt Foreigners, ſhe came from the uttermoſt Parts of the Earth to hear his Wiſdom; not only to ſatisfy her Curioſity, but to inform her Mind, eſpecially in the Knowledge of the true God, and his Worſhip, which is upon Record to her Honour; and behold a greater than Solomon is here, πλεῖον Σολομῶντος, more than a Solomon is here; that is, ſaith Dr. Hammond, more of Wiſdom, and more heavenly divine Doctrine than ever was in all Solomon's Words or Writings; and yet theſe wretched Jews will give no manner of Regard to what Chriſt ſaith to them, tho' he be in the Midſt of them.

2. The Ninevites would riſe up in Judgment againſt them, and condemn their Impenitency, v. 32. They repented at the Preaching of Jonas, but here is Preaching which far exceeds that of Jonas, is more powerful and awakening, and threatens a much ſorer Ruin than that of Nineve, and yet none are ſtartled by it to turn from their evil Way, as the Ninevites did.

2. He ſhews what is the Sign that God expects from us for the evidencing of our Faith; and that is the ſerious Practice of that Religion which we profeſs to believe, and a Readineſs to entertain all divine Truths, when brought to us in their proper Evidence. Now obſerve,
